

The "officially released" date that appears near the beginning of each opinion is the date the opinion will be published in the Connecticut Law Journal or the date it was released as a slip opinion. The operative date for the beginning of all time periods for filing postopinion motions and petitions for certification is the "officially released" date appearing in the opinion. In no event will any such motions be accepted before the "officially released" date.

All opinions are subject to modification and technical correction prior to official publication in the Connecticut Reports and Connecticut Appellate Reports. In the event of discrepancies between the electronic version of an opinion and the print version appearing in the Connecticut Law Journal and subsequently in the Connecticut Reports or Connecticut Appellate Reports, the latest print version is to be considered authoritative.

STATE v. BROWN—SECOND CONCURRENCE

PALMER, J., concurring. I agree with all of the substantive points that Justice Katz raises in her concurrence. For the reasons set forth therein, as well as for the reasons set forth in her concurrence in State v. Kitchens, 299 Conn. 447, 500, A.3d (2011) (Katz, J., concurring), and in my concurrence in Kitchens; id., 530 (Palmer, J., concurring); I also concur.
