UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

Plaintiff-Appellee

v.

KALI LORD,

Defendant-Appellant

Appeal from the United States District Court for the Northern District of Texas
USDC No. 6:17-CR-57-1

Before BENAVIDES, HIGGINSON, and ENGELHARDT, Circuit Judges.

PER CURIAM:*

Kali Lord appeals the 57-month, within-guidelines sentence imposed following her guilty plea conviction for being a felon in possession of a firearm. She argues that the district court failed to adequately explain the reason for the sentence in light of the nonfrivolous arguments she presented in favor of a lower sentence.

* Pursuant to 5TH CIR. R. 47.5, the court has determined that this opinion should not be published and is not precedent except under the limited circumstances set forth in 5TH CIR. R. 47.5.4.

No. 18-10387

We review Lord's arguments for plain error. See United States v. Gerezano-Rosales, 692 F.3d 393, 399-400 (5th Cir. 2012). To establish plain error, Lord must show that the district court committed a clear or obvious error that affected her substantial rights. See Puckett v. United States, 556 U.S. 129, 135 (2009). Even if she succeeds, this court will correct the error only if it seriously affects the fairness, integrity, or public reputation of the proceedings. See id.

The district court's justification for imposing the particular terms of imprisonment and supervised release in this case implicitly acknowledged that Lord made 18 U.S.C. § 3553(a) arguments, and the court rejected them. See United States v. Mondragon-Santiago, 564 F.3d 357, 362–63 (5th Cir. 2009). Thus, there is no clear or obvious error. See Puckett, 556 U.S. at 135. Further, her speculative arguments that the court likely would have imposed a lower sentence had it given more explanation fails to show an effect on substantial rights. See, e.g., Mondragon-Santiago, 564 F.3d at 364-65.

AFFIRMED.
