withdraw and filed a brief under Anders v. California, 386 U.S. 738 (1967), suggesting that the district court abused its discretion in declining to sentence Robinson to a prison term below the advisory Guidelines range.

Upon careful review, this court concludes that the district court did not abuse its discretion in sentencing Robinson. See United States v. Feemster, 572 F.3d 455, 460-62 (8th Cir. 2009) (en banc) (describing appellate review of sentencing decisions). This court independently reviewed the record pursuant to Penson v. Ohio, 488 U.S. 75 (1988), and found no nonfrivolous issues for appeal. Counsel's motion to withdraw is granted, and the judgment of the district court is affirmed.
