For the Eighth Circuit

No. 13-3623

Joshua D. McEntire

Plaintiff - Appellant

v.

Carolyn W. Colvin, Acting Commissioner of the Social Security Administration

Defendant - Appellee

Appeal from United States District Court for the Western District of Arkansas - Harrison

Submitted: June 19, 2014

Before GRUENDER, BOWMAN, and SHEPHERD, Circuit Judges.

PER CURIAM.

Joshua D. McEntire appeals from an order of the District Court¹ affirming the denial of disability insurance benefits and supplemental security income. Upon de novo review, we find that the denial of benefits is supported by substantial evidence on the record as a whole. See Myers v. Colvin, 721 F.3d 521, 524 (8th Cir. 2013). Specifically, we find no merit to McEntire’s challenges to the administrative law judge’s (ALJ’s) credibility determination, see Halverson v. Astrue, 600 F.3d 922, 931–32 (8th Cir. 2010) (noting that ALJ may discount claimant’s subjective complaints if there are inconsistencies in the record as whole); or to the ALJ’s residual functional capacity (RFC) findings, see Perks v. Astrue, 687 F.3d 1086, 1092 (8th Cir. 2012) (noting that medical records, physician observations, and claimant’s subjective statements about his capabilities are considerations in RFC findings and that RFC findings must also be supported by some medical evidence). Accordingly, we affirm the judgment of the District Court.

¹The Honorable Erin Setser, United States Magistrate Judge for the Western District of Arkansas, to whom the case was referred for final disposition by consent of the parties pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 636(c).
