MEMORANDUM*

Appeal from the United States District Court for the Northern District of California
Edward M. Chen, District Judge, Presiding

Submitted March 8, 2017**

Before: LEAVY, W. FLETCHER, and OWENS, Circuit Judges.

Michael B. Williams, a pre-trial civil detainee under California's Sexually Violent Predators Act ("SVPA"), appeals pro se from the district court's judgment dismissing his 42 U.S.C. § 1983 action alleging federal and state law violations. dismissal under 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2)(ii), Hufile v. Miccio-Fonseca, 410 F.3d 1136, 1138 (9th Cir. 2005), and we affirm.

The district court properly dismissed Williams’s action because Williams failed to allege facts sufficient to state a plausible claim. See Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009) (setting forth pleading standard); see also Jones v. Blanas, 393 F.3d 918, 936 (9th Cir. 2004) (setting forth elements of access-to-courts claim); People v. Fraser, 42 Cal. Rptr. 3d 424, 435 (Ct. App. 2006) (no right to self-representation in civil commitment proceedings under the SVPA).

The district court did not abuse its discretion by declining to exercise supplemental jurisdiction over Williams’s state law claim after dismissing Williams’s federal claims. See Satey v. JPMorgan Chase & Co., 521 F.3d 1087, 1090-91 (9th Cir. 2008) (setting forth standard of review and explaining that district court may decline to exercise supplemental jurisdiction over state law claims after all federal claims have been dismissed).

The district court did not abuse its discretion by denying Williams leave to amend because Williams cannot cure the deficiencies in his complaint. See Cervantes v. Countrywide Home Loans, Inc., 656 F.3d 1034, 1041 (9th Cir. 2011) (setting forth standard of review and explaining that “a district court may dismiss without leave where . . . amendment would be futile”).

The district court did not abuse its discretion by denying Williams’s motion for reconsideration because Williams failed to state any grounds warranting relief.

See Sch. Dist. No. 1J, Multnomah Cty., Or. v. ACandS, Inc., 5 F.3d 1255, 1262-63 (9th Cir. 1993) (setting forth standard of review and grounds for relief under Fed.
R. Civ. P. 59(e)).
