RENEE TILLMAN, et al.,	)	ORDER DENYING DEFENDANT'S
	)	MOTION FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT
Defendants.)	)

The Court has received and considered all papers filed in support of, and opposition to, Defendant Renee Tillman's ("Defendant") motion for summary judgment ("Motion"), and has considered the arguments of counsel at the hearing on the Motion held on August 23, 2010. For the reasons set forth below, the Court DENIES the Motion.

I. BACKGROUND

A. Uncontroverted Facts

The following material facts are supported adequately by admissible evidence and are uncontroverted. They are

24
25
26
27
28

1 "admitted to exist without controversy" for the purposes
2 of this Motion. See Local Rule 56-3.

4 On January 19, 2002, Timmy Wayne Tillman ("Decedent")
5 died in a single-vehicle accident in Riverside County
6 when he became trapped inside his truck after it caught
7 fire. (Second Am. Compl. ("SAC") ¶ 4; Answer ¶ 4; Second
8 Am. Third Party Compl. ("SATPC") ¶ 10; Answer to SATPC ¶
9 10.) Decedent was survived by his wife Renee Tillman
10 ("Defendant"), as well as Sean Tillman, his son by a
11 previous marriage, and his stepdaughters Brittani Melissa
12 Rose and Briana Tucker.<sup>1</sup>

13
14 Defendant filed a lawsuit in 2002 in this Court, Case
15 No. 5:03-cv-78 VAP (SGL), against Freightliner, LLC<sup>2</sup> for, 16 inter alia, product liability and wrongful death (the 17 "Underlying Action"). Defendant ultimately obtained a
18 judgment of $8,010,000.00 against Freightliner, later
19 reduced to $4,010,368.00 by the Ninth Circuit on appeal.

22 <sup>1</sup>Although Third Party Defendants Panish, Shea & Boyle
23 LLP (the "Panish Firm") and Kevin Boyle ("Third Party
24 Defendants") dispute the existence of Decedent's child
25 and stepchildren, arguing that Defendant has not provided 26 sufficient evidence of their existence, (see Stmt. of 27 Genuine Issues ("SGI") ¶ 1), the Court hereby takes 28 judicial notice of the existence of Sean Tillman – who is also Plaintiff in this action – and Brittani Melissa Rose and Briana Tucker as facts not subject to reasonable dispute. See Fed. R. Evid. 201(b).

<sup>2</sup>Freightliner, LLC is now known as Daimler Trucks
North America LLC ("Daimler").

1 No party to the Underlying Action joined Plaintiff
2 Sean Tillman as a party.<sup>3</sup> Evidence concerning Plaintiff
3 was presented to the jury in the Underlying Action.

6 B. Procedural History

7 On March 24, 2009, Plaintiff filed his Original
8 Complaint against Renee Tillman ("Defendant"); Rheingold, 9 Valet, Rheingold, Shkolnik & McCartney, LLP (the 10 "Rheingold Firm"); Paul Rheingold; Hunter J. Shkolnik;
11 and Freightliner, LLC.
12

13 On September 14, 2009, Plaintiff filed his First
14 Amended Complaint against the above-mentioned Defendants, 15 as well as Defendant Terrence McCartney (together with 16 the Rheingold Firm, Hunter J. Shkolnik, and Paul
17 Rheingold, the "Rheingold Defendants"). On October 26,
18 2010, the Court granted the Rheingold Defendants' motion
19 to dismiss the First Amended Complaint, and granted
20 Plaintiff leave to file a Second Amended Complaint.
21

22 Plaintiff filed his Second Amended Complaint on 23 November 6, 2009, asserting claims against Defendant for 24 "fraud, deceit and/or concealment" and "intentional

28 a matter of public record, of which the Court can – and does – take judicial notice.

1 breach of duty," and against Daimler<sup>4</sup> for wrongful death,
2 product liability, and negligence. On December 17, 2009,
3 the Court granted Defendant's motion to dismiss
4 Plaintiff's claim for "fraud, deceit, and/or 5 concealment." On July 6, 2010, Plaintiff and Daimler
6 filed a notice of settlement of Plaintiff's claims
7 against Daimler, and on July 16, 2010, the Court approved
8 a stipulation of dismissal of Plaintiff's claims against 9 Daimler. On August 10, 2010, the Court granted the 10 Panish Firm's motion for summary judgment and dismissed
11 Plaintiff's sole remaining claim with prejudice.

12
13 Defendant separately filed a Third Party Complaint
14 against her attorneys in the Underlying Action, the 15 Rheingold Firm; the Panish Firm; Greene, Broillet, &
16 Wheeler, LLP (the "Greene Firm"); and Kevin Boyle.
17 Defendant filed a First Amended Third Party Complaint on 18 February 9, 2010, and a Second Amended Third Party
19 Complaint on May 24, 2010, asserting claims against these 20 same third party defendants for (1) negligence - legal 21 malpractice; (2) return of an unconscionable fee; and (3)
22 fiduciary fraud. Defendant's claim for legal malpractice
23 arises out of the failure to join Plaintiff as a party to 24 the Underlying Action.

25
26
27 <sup>4</sup>Plaintiff again named "Freightliner, LLC" in his 28 Second Amended Complaint despite the change in that entity's name.

1 On June 28, 2010, Defendant filed this Motion for 2 Summary Judgment ("Motion"), and noticed a hearing for 3 August 23, 2010. The Greene and Panish Firms'
4 Oppositions and Defendant's Reply were filed timely.<sup>5</sup>

6 II. LEGAL STANDARD

7 A motion for summary judgment shall be granted when 8 there is no genuine issue as to any material fact and the 9 moving party is entitled to judgment as a matter of law.
10 Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(c); Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, Inc., 11 477 U.S. 242, 247-48 (1986). The moving party must show
12 that "under the governing law, there can be but one 13 reasonable conclusion as to the verdict." Anderson, 477
14 U.S. at 250.
15

16 Generally, the burden is on the moving party to 17 demonstrate that it is entitled to summary judgment.
18 Margolis v. Ryan, 140 F.3d 850, 852 (9th Cir. 1998);
19 Retail Clerks Union Local 648 v. Hub Pharmacy, Inc., 707
20 F.2d 1030, 1033 (9th Cir. 1983). The moving party bears 21 the initial burden of identifying the elements of the 22 claim or defense and evidence that it believes
23 demonstrates the absence of an issue of material fact.
24 Celotex Corp. v. Catrett, 477 U.S. 317, 323 (1986).
25

26 <sup>5</sup>Defendant additionally filed objections to evidence
27 submitted by the Panish Firm in opposition to Defendant's 28 Motion. The Court does not rely on any such evidence in considering the Motion, however. Accordingly,
Defendant's objections are moot.

1           Where the non-moving party has the burden at trial,
2 however, the moving party need not produce evidence
3 negating or disproving every essential element of the 4 non-moving party's case. Id. at 325. Instead, the 5 moving party's burden is met by pointing out that there
6 is an absence of evidence supporting the non-moving 7 party's case. Id. The burden then shifts to the non-8 moving party to show that there is a genuine issue of 9 material fact that must be resolved at trial. Fed. R.
10 Civ. P. 56(e); Celotex, 477 U.S. at 324; Anderson, 477
11 U.S. at 256. The non-moving party must make an 12 affirmative showing on all matters placed in issue by the 13 motion as to which it has the burden of proof at trial.
14 Celotex, 477 U.S. at 322; Anderson, 477 U.S. at 252. See 15 also William W. Schwarzer, A. Wallace Tashima & James M.
16 Wagstaffe, Federal Civil Procedure Before Trial § 14:144
17 (2010). A defendant has the burden of proof at trial
18 with respect to any affirmative defense. Payan v.
19 Aramark Mgmt. Servs. Ltd. P'ship, 495 F.3d 1119, 1122
20 (9th Cir. 2007).

21
22           A genuine issue of material fact will exist "if the 23 evidence is such that a reasonable jury could return a 24 verdict for the nonmoving party." Anderson, 477 U.S. at 25 248. In ruling on a motion for summary judgment, the 26 Court construes the evidence in the light most favorable
27 to the non-moving party. Barlow v. Ground, 943 F.2d
28

1 1132, 1135 (9th Cir. 1991); T.W. Elec. Serv. Inc. v. Pac.
2 Elec. Contractors Ass'n, 809 F.2d 626, 630-31 (9th Cir.
3 1987).

4 5 III. DISCUSSION

6 Through this Motion, Defendant seeks (1) summary
7 judgment of Plaintiff's claims against her; (2) summary
8 adjudication of the question of whether the Green and 9 Panish Firms breached their duty to her; and (3) summary
10 adjudication of Daimler's "waiver of the one action
11 rule." The Court already has dismissed Plaintiff's 12 Second Amended Complaint with prejudice; accordingly, to 13 the extent Defendant seeks summary judgment as to 14 Plaintiff's claims against her, her Motion is moot.
15 Furthermore, Defendant has not asserted any claims
16 against Daimler, and the Court has already dismissed
17 Daimler's cross-claims against her without leave to 18 amend. (Docket No. 109.) Accordingly, no claims or 19 defenses exist between Defendant and Daimler for the 20 Court to adjudicate. Therefore, the only issue presented
21 to the Court in this Motion is whether or not the Third
22 Party Defendants were negligent in their representation
23 of Defendant in the Underlying Action.

24
25 "A legal malpractice action is . . . composed of the 26 same elements as any other negligence claim, i.e., 'duty,
27 breach of duty, proximate cause, and damage.'" Osornio

28

1 v. Weingarten, 124 Cal. App. 4th 304, 319 (2004). "In 2 negligence cases arising from the rendering of 3 professional services, as a general rule the standard of 4 care against which the professional's acts are measured
5 remains a matter peculiarly within the knowledge of 6 experts. Only their testimony can prove it, unless the 7 lay person's common knowledge includes the conduct
8 required by the particular circumstances." Unigard Ins.
9 Group v. O'Flaherty & Belgum, 38 Cal. App. 4th 1229, 1239
10 (1995); see also Wilkinson v. Rives, 116 Cal. App. 3d
11 641, 648 (1981) (holding that where there was no expert
12 testimony on the standard of care and an attorney's 13 performance in relation to that standard, there was "no
14 evidence from which the trier of fact could have found 15 negligence").

16

17 Defendant has provided the Court with no expert
18 testimony concerning either the standard of care or the 19 Third Party Defendants' performance in relation to that 20 standard. Accordingly, she fails to meet her burden of 21 showing she is entitled to summary adjudication on the 22 issue of whether or not these firms breached their duty
23 of care in representing her in the Underlying Action.

24

25 Defendant's argument that she is not required to 26 present expert testimony because the Third Party
27 Defendants' breach of duty is so clear that as to be

28

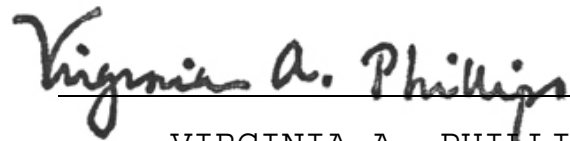

1 easily understood by a lay person is unpersuasive. (See
2 Reply at 7:15-8:16.) A lay person's common knowledge
3 includes neither the duty to join all heirs in a single 4 action for wrongful death, nor the steps that reasonably
5 competent counsel should undertake in performing that 6 duty. Accordingly, expert testimony is necessary as to 7 both the standard of care and whether or not the Panish
8 and Greene Firms' conduct breached that standard. See 9 Unigard, 38 Cal. App. 4th at 1239; Wilkinson, 116 Cal.
10 App. 3d at 648 .
