UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT CENTRAL DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

T-MOBILE USA, INC., a Delaware Corporation,

Plaintiff,

v.

WIRELESS RUSH, INC., a California Corporation, et al.,

Defendants.

) Case No. CV-11-07001 MMM-(AGRx)

) Final Judgment and Permanent Injunction

1 Plaintiff T-Mobile USA, Inc. (“T-Mobile”), brought the above-captioned
2 lawsuit against Defendants Wireless Rush, Inc. and Sean Golshani (“Defendants”), 3 alleging that Defendants are engaged in, and knowingly facilitate and encourage 4 others to engage in the unlawful bulk purchase, computer hacking, and trafficking in 5 T-Mobile-branded Subscriber Identity Module (“SIM”) cards that have been 6 improperly loaded with stolen airtime, trafficking in and/or using the confidential and 7 proprietary T-Mobile codes that are required to access T-Mobile’s proprietary 8 activation system and wireless telecommunications network, selling methods and 9 processes to defraud T-Mobile, and illegally accessing T-Mobile’s computers for the 10 purpose of defrauding T-Mobile. Plaintiff further alleges that this is part of a larger 11 scheme involving the unauthorized and unlawful bulk purchase, trafficking, 12 advertising, and resale of T-Mobile Prepaid Handsets, including the resale of 13 Handsets to buyers in foreign countries, unauthorized and unlawful computer
14 unlocking of T-Mobile Prepaid Handsets, alteration of proprietary software computer 15 codes installed in the Handsets to permit T-Mobile to subsidize the cost of the 16 Handset, and trafficking of the Handsets and SIM cards for profit (collectively, the 17 “Subsidy Theft and Activation Fraud Scheme”).

18 T-Mobile alleges that the Subsidy Theft and Activation Fraud Scheme involves 19 the acquisition of large quantities of T-Mobile Prepaid Handsets including SIM cards, 20 from retail stores, and the solicitation of individuals (“Runners”) to purchase T-
21 Mobile Prepaid Handsets with SIM cards in large quantities. The T-Mobile Prepaid
22 Handsets are then removed from their original packaging, along with the accessories,
23 including copies of the written warranties and ownership manuals, and the Handsets 24 are shipped, unlocked or to be unlocked, and the accompanying activation materials, 25 including but not limited to SIM cards, are allegedly resold by Defendants at a 26 substantial profit. The T-Mobile Prepaid Handsets are acquired with the knowledge 27 and intent that they will not be activated for use on the T-Mobile prepaid wireless 28

1 network, as required by the terms of the T-Mobile contracts. Instead, T-Mobile
2 alleges that the T-Mobile Prepaid Handsets are computer-hacked and that the purpose 3 of this hacking, known as “unlocking,” is to erase, remove, and/or disable the 4 proprietary software installed in the Handsets by the manufacturers at the request and 5 expense of T-Mobile, which enables the use of the T-Mobile Prepaid Handsets 6 exclusively on T-Mobile’s prepaid wireless system. The unlocked Handsets are 7 trafficked and resold by Defendants, at a premium, under the T-Mobile trademarks.
8 T-Mobile alleges that the SIM cards are sold for use in connection with fraudulent 9 activations on the T-Mobile network.

10 As a result of the Defendants’ alleged active participation in the Subsidy
11 Theft and Activation Fraud Scheme, T-Mobile brought claims against Defendants 12 for breach of contract, federal trademark infringement and false advertising under 13 15 U.S.C. § 1125(a)(1)(A) and (B), contributory trademark infringement, 14 violations of the federal Computer Fraud and Abuse Act, 18 U.S.C. § 1030, et seq., 15 common law fraud, unjust enrichment, conversion, violation of California Anti-16 Phishing Act of 2005, false advertising in violation of California Business &
17 Professions Code §17500, unfair competition in violation of California Business &
18 Professions Code §17200, harm to T-Mobile’s goodwill and business reputation, 19 tortious interference with business relationships and prospective advantage, civil 20 conspiracy, and conspiracy to induce breach of contract.

21 Based on the respective positions of the parties and having reviewed the 22 Complaint and file and being otherwise duly and fully advised in the premises, it is 23 hereby

25 ORDERED, ADJUDGED and DECREED that:

26 1. This Court has jurisdiction over all the parties and all of the claims set 27 forth in T-Mobile’s Complaint.
28

1           2.     The Court finds that T-Mobile has the right to use and enforce said
2 rights in the standard character mark T-Mobile and a stylized T-Mobile Mark
3 (collectively, the “T-Mobile Marks”), as depicted below:

6 T-Mobile uses the T-Mobile Marks on and in connection with its 7 telecommunications products and services. T-Mobile alleges that Defendants’ use
8 of the T-Mobile Marks without authorization in connection with the Subsidy Theft 9 and Activation Fraud Scheme has caused, and will further cause, a likelihood of 10 confusion, mistake and deception as to the source of origin of the counterfeit 11 products, and the relationship between T-Mobile and Defendants. T-Mobile 12 alleges that Defendants’ activities constitute false designation of origin, false 13 descriptions and representations, and false advertising in commerce in violation of 14 § 43(a) of the Lanham Act, 15 U.S.C. §1125(a)(1)(A) and (B). T-Mobile alleges 15 that Defendants knew or should have known that T-Mobile is the exclusive 16 licensee of the T-Mobile Marks and that Defendants had no legal right to use the 17 T-Mobile Marks on infringing products.

18           3.     The Court finds that Defendant Wireless Rush’s conduct constitutes 19 violations of 15 U.S.C. § 1125(a)(1)(A) and (B) (federal trademark infringement 20 and false advertising). The Court further finds that Defendant Wireless Rush’s 21 conduct constitutes breach of contract, contributory trademark infringement, unjust
22 enrichment, false advertising in violation of California Business & Professions
23 Code §17500, unfair competition in violation of California Business & Professions 24 Code §17200, harm to T-Mobile’s goodwill and business reputation, and has 25 caused substantial and irreparable harm to T-Mobile, and will continue to cause 26 substantial and irreparable harm to T-Mobile unless enjoined.

1           4. Final judgment is hereby entered against Defendant Wireless Rush, 2 Inc. and in favor of the Plaintiff T-Mobile USA, Inc., in the principal amount of 3 One Million Dollars and Zero Cents ($1,000,000.00 (U.S.)), which shall bear 4 interest at the legal rate, for which let execution issue forthwith.

5           5. Defendants Wireless Rush, Inc. and Sean Golshani, and each of their 6 respective partners, agents, representatives, employees, servants, heirs, personal 7 representatives, beneficiaries, relatives, contractors, corporations, past and present 8 respective officers, directors, successors, assigns, parents, subsidiaries, affiliates, 9 related companies, predecessors-in-interest, companies, and all other persons 10 acting on behalf of or for the benefit of any Defendant or who are in active concert
11 or participation with any Defendant, including but not limited to any corporation, 12 partnership, association, proprietorship or entity of any type that is in any way
13 affiliated or associated with a Defendant or a Defendant's representatives, agents, 14 assigns, employees, servants, affiliated entities, and any and all persons and entities 15 in active concert and participation with any Defendant who receive notice of this 16 Order, shall be and hereby are PERMANENTLY ENJOINED from:

18 using, and/or shipping, directly or indirectly, any T-Mobile
19 "Activation Materials," which consist of SIM cards, PIN

21 mechanism, process or materials used to activate service or 22 acquire airtime in connection with an activation on the T-
23 Mobile network;

19 hacking, altering, erasing, tampering with, deleting or otherwise 20 disabling the software installed in T-Mobile Handsets;
- 21 g. supplying T-Mobile Activation Materials or Handsets to or 22 facilitating or in any way assisting other persons or entities who 23 Defendants know or should know are engaged in any of the acts 24 prohibited under this Permanent Injunction, including, without 25 limitation, the buying and/or selling of T-Mobile Activation 26 Materials or Handsets; and
- 27
28

1 h. knowingly using the T-Mobile Marks or any other trademark,

3 T-Mobile now or in the future, or that is likely to cause
4 confusion with T-Mobile's marks, without T-Mobile's prior 5 written consent.

6 6. The purchase, sale, trafficking, use, or shipment of any T-Mobile 7 Handsets, SIM cards, or Activation Materials without T-Mobile's prior written 8 consent within and/or outside of the continental United States is and shall be 9 deemed a presumptive violation of this permanent injunction.

10 7. The address of Defendants Wireless Rush, Inc. and Sean Golshani is 11 3380 Livonia Avenue, Los Angeles, California 90034.

12 8. The address of Plaintiff, T-Mobile USA, Inc., is 12920 S.E. 38th

17 action to enforce any violation of the terms of this Permanent Injunction by a 18 finding of contempt and an order for payment of compensatory damages. The 19 Court also retains jurisdiction to enter a subsequent Judgment for damages against 20 Defendant Sean Golshani.

21 11. The Court hereby finds, pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 54(b), that there is 22 no just reason for delay and orders that Judgment shall be entered as set forth 23 herein.
