UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT DISTRICT OF NEVADA

MICHAEL J. GHIORZI,

Plaintiff,

vs.

WHITEWATER POOLS & SPAS, INC., et al.,

Defendant.

Case No. 2:10-cv-01778-JCM-PAL

ORDER

(Emg. Mot to Strike - Dkt. #70)

Before the court is Defendant Pentair Water Pool and Spa, Inc.’s Emergency Motion to Strike Dr. Joseph Schifini as an Expert Witness (Dkt. #70). The court has considered the Motion, the Supplemental Declaration of George Stephan in Support of Motion (Dkt. #75), Plaintiff’s Opposition (Dkt. 83), Pentair’s Reply (Dkt. #85), and the arguments of counsel at a hearing conducted October 18, 2011.

BACKGROUND

Pentair Water Pool and Spa, Inc. (“Pentair”) seeks an order striking the testimony of Dr. Joseph Schifini as an expert witness and to preclude him from testifying to opinions on causation, appropriateness of past care, or the reasonableness and cost for past and future care. The motion was filed on an emergency basis because the discovery cutoff ran October 6, 2011.

Plaintiff did not disclose experts on April 19, 2011, the deadline established by the court’s Discovery Plan and Scheduling Order (Dkt. #34). After prior counsel was permitted to withdraw, and Mr. Winner indicated he would substitute in as counsel of record for the Plaintiff if he received an extension, the court granted an extension of the discovery plan and scheduling order, and directed Plaintiff to designate his experts by July 25, 2011. Plaintiff designated liability experts, John Manning

1 and Alison Osinski, prior to the extended expert disclosure deadline. However, Plaintiff did not 2 designate any medical experts. On September 8, 2011, Plaintiff filed an Emergency Motion to Extend 3 the Discovery Deadlines (Dkt. #62). The district judge denied Plaintiff's request for a ninety-day 4 extension of the discovery plan and scheduling order deadlines, but extended the discovery cutoff an 5 additional fifteen days.

6 On September 13, 2011, Plaintiff served Pentair with a report prepared by Dr. Schifini along 7 with a written summary of medical records and also listed Dr. Schifini as a treating physician in 8 interrogatory responses served September 12, 2011. Plaintiff testified at his deposition that he was 9 referred to Dr. Schifini by his attorney, Robert Winner, and first saw Dr. Schifini August 15, 2011, 10 three weeks after the deadline for designating experts. Dr. Schifini gave Plaintiff an injection for pain.

11 The report Plaintiff served on Pentair consists of a forensic summary of medical records 12 reviewed from 2007 to present and a letter stating Dr. Schifini's opinions. The report did not provide a 13 list of prior testimony, the doctor's fees and rates, or a curriculum vitae. Pentair argues Dr. Schifini 14 was designated as an expert too late for Pentair to designate its own rebuttal medical expert.
15 Additionally, Dr. Schifini's report mentions records relating to his independent medical evaluation but 16 did not produce records of that evaluation. Thus, Pentair does not have the necessary records to 17 counter-designate a rebuttal expert. Plaintiff also failed to make Dr. Schifini available for deposition.
18 On September 26, 2011, Pentair noticed the deposition of Dr. Schifini for the last day of the discovery 19 cutoff, October 6, 2011. However, Dr. Schifini's office refused to accept the subpoena, and counsel for 20 Plaintiff did not respond to a letter inquiring whether Dr. Schifini had been advised of his 21 responsibilities to make himself available prior to the discovery cutoff. The evening before this motion 22 was filed, Plaintiff's counsel sent Pentair's counsel a letter stating that he would contact Dr. Schifini 23 and get back to Pentair about his availability for a deposition, noting that doctors are busy and cannot be 24 scheduled on short notice.

25 Pentair argues that Dr. Schifini has been designated to provide expert testimony outside his role 26 as a treating physician, and he should be stricken as an expert because of Plaintiff's failure to comply 27 with the requirements of Rule 26(a)(2)(B). Pentair contends that Dr. Schifini's report does not contain 28 a complete statement of all opinions to be expressed and the bases for those opinions, the data or other

1 information considered by him in forming his opinions, any exhibits he used to support his opinions, his 2 qualifications, including any publications he authored in the prior ten years, or the compensation he was 3 to be paid and a list of cases in which has previously testified in deposition or at trial in the prior four 4 years. Additionally, Pentair argues Dr. Schifini's report is deficient in several other respects. Although 5 it summarizes medical records, Pentair cannot tell whether the records are complete, or whether the 6 opinions he provides are complete. No medical records were provided concerning a medical evaluation 7 Dr. Schifini performed.

8 Dr. Schifini also directly contradicts records and conclusions of Plaintiff's treating physicians.
9 His report does not explain how he arrives at his conclusions and "purports simply to vouch for the 10 Plaintiff." Specifically, he appears to vouch for Plaintiff's credibility in terms of how the accident 11 happened. His report also assesses the reasonableness of costs Plaintiff incurred for medical services 12 and suggests Plaintiff will incur future costs for medical treatment without laying a foundation for his 13 opinion. Dr. Schifini is an anesthesiologist; however, his opinions relate to future treatment outside of 14 his specialty. He also appears to be offered to "shore up" the injuries Plaintiff claims as causally related 15 to the accident involved in this case. For all these reasons, Pentair asks that Dr. Schifini be stricken as 16 an expert and that he be precluded from offering the opinions provided in his report.

17 On October 6, 2011, counsel for Pentair filed a Supplemental Declaration of George Stephan in 18 support of the Motion (Dkt. #75). The Supplemental Declaration reports the result of a personal 19 consultation with Plaintiff's counsel, Mr. Winner, on September 29, 2011, concerning this motion. Mr.
20 Stephan avers that he asked Mr. Winner "if he had any agreement to propose concerning Dr. Schifini" 21 but that Mr. Winner did not propose any agreement or disagreement. Mr. Stephan indicated that Pentair 22 would stipulate that Dr. Schifini gave Plaintiff a pain injection, that the injection was reasonably 23 necessary, and that Dr. Schifini stated cost was reasonable. Id. ¶ 4. Mr. Stephan agreed to stipulate to 24 these facts to avoid additional time and expense to either party to bring Dr. Schifini for trial. Id.
25 However, he expressed his concern that Plaintiff was really trying to bring Dr. Schifini to trial as a late-
26 designated expert witness, without complying with the court's scheduling order and the Federal Rules
27 regarding designation of expert witnesses. Id. Mr. Winner responded that he had not read Pentair's 28 motion and would get back to Mr. Stephan. Id. Mr. Stephan confirmed Pentair's offer in an October 3,

1 2011 e-mail, a copy of which is attached as Exhibit “A” to his declaration. Id. ¶ 5. Pentair’s counsel
2 also asked for alternative dates for the deposition of Dr. Schifini before the discovery cutoff. Id. ¶ 6.
3 However, Plaintiff did not provide any dates to take Dr. Schifini’s deposition before the October 6, 4 2011, discovery cutoff. Id. Plaintiff’s only communication on taking Dr. Schifini’s deposition was to 5 advise that Dr. Schifini would not be available on October 6, 2011, the date Pentair initially requested.
6 Id.

7 Plaintiff opposes the motion asserting it should be denied on several grounds. First, the Plaintiff
8 is receiving ongoing medical treatment. His decision to see Dr. Schifini is because of his dissatisfaction
9 with the Veterans Affairs healthcare system, and Plaintiff cannot be expected to cease treatment 10 because discovery was nearly closed. Second, Dr. Schifini is a treating physician who does not have a 11 duty to prepare a report under Rule 26(a)(2). Alternatively, if the court finds Dr. Schifini had a duty to 12 prepare a report under Rule 26(a)(2), substantial justification exists for his late designation, specifically, 13 problems related to the VA health care system and its billing practices. Finally, Plaintiff argues that 14 permitting Dr. Schifini’s deposition to be taken after the close of discovery would remedy any possible 15 harm to Defendant resulting from his late disclosure as a witness near the end of discovery.

16 Plaintiff emphasizes that Dr. Schifini is the Plaintiff’s treating physician. Mr. Winner referred 17 the Plaintiff to Dr. Schifini in a letter dated August 8, 2011, which gave Dr. Schifini a brief synopsis of 18 the accident involved in this case and explained the Plaintiff’s discontent with the VA treatment he was 19 receiving. Mr. Winner also provided Dr. Schifini with the Plaintiff’s medical records to review so that 20 he would have the Plaintiff’s prior medical history before treating him. Mr. Winner asked Dr. Schifini 21 to estimate the reasonable value of the VA services provided to date because the VA had no billing 22 records and delayed providing counsel with the requested estimates for the value of the services 23 provided by the VA.

24 The Plaintiff acknowledges he initially consulted with Dr. Schifini on August 15, 2011.
25 Plaintiff disputes that Dr. Schifini was retained to perform an independent medical evaluation, 26 conceding that Dr. Schifini’s August 22, 2011, letter refers to his initial consultation as an independent 27 medical examination. When Plaintiff starting treating with Dr. Schifini, he disclosed Dr. Schifini as a 28 witness in a fourth supplement to his initial disclosures. As soon as Plaintiff received Dr. Schifini’s

1 medical records, he immediately disclosed them to Defendant in Plaintiff's fifth supplement to his 2 initial disclosures. Plaintiff also served Dr. Schifini's report on September 12, 2011, as an attachment 3 to his responses to requests for production. Plaintiff represents Dr. Schifini was out of town and 4 unavailable on the date Pentair noticed his deposition on unreasonably short notice. However, Plaintiff 5 offered to make Dr. Schifini available for deposition after the discovery cut-off and argues that his 6 deposition will eliminate any prejudice to Pentair. Plaintiff offered Dr. Schifini for deposition October 7 19 and 26, 2011, and was awaiting Defendant's response at the time this opposition was filed.

8 Plaintiff argues that any records and testimony regarding his ongoing treatment are relevant to 9 his past and future damages and are admissible at trial even if they are only disclosed before or after the 10 close of discovery. As a treating physician, Dr. Schifini is not required to provide a Rule 26(a)(2)(B)
11 compliant report. Citing Piper v. Harnishfeger Corp., 150 F.R.D. 173, 174-75 (D. Nev. 1997), Plaintiff 12 argues that as a treating physician, he may testify on matters such as "causation, future treatment, extent 13 of disability and the like" as part of the ordinary care a treating physician provides. Plaintiff disputes 14 that he specially retained Dr. Schifini to render a medical opinion based on factors not learned in the 15 course of his treatment. Plaintiff also relies on the Ninth Circuit's decision in Goodman v. Staples the 16 Office Superstore, LLC, 644 F.3d 817 (9th Cir. 2011). This recent decision discusses the situation of 17 "hybrid" experts and provides further guidance when a treating physician must prepare a Rule 18 26(a)(2)(B) written report. The decision confirms that a Rule 26(a)(2)(B) report is not required to the 19 extent a treating physician's opinions are formed during the course of treatment and that a report is only 20 required "when a treating physician morphs into a witness hired to render opinions that go beyond the 21 usual scope of a treating physician's testimony." Goodman at 819-20. In this case, Dr. Schifini will 22 only provide opinions formed during the course of treating the Plaintiff. He reviewed the Plaintiff's 23 prior medical records as a reasonable treating physician to learn about his patient's prior medical history 24 as a reasonable physician would in determining what past treatment his patient had received and what 25 did and did not work.

26 Plaintiff stresses that he only saw Dr. Schifini because of his dissatisfaction with the VA health 27 care system that was delaying his treatment and not resolving his increasing pain. Plaintiff's counsel, 28 Mr. Winner and Mainor Eglet, have both contacted the VA on multiple occasions to obtain billing

1 estimates for Plaintiff's treatment, but the VA has delayed providing them, despite promises that they 2 will be forwarded. The only amount the VA provided was a lien which, Plaintiff emphasizes, is not the 3 reasonable value of services the VA provided to the Plaintiff. Because of these problems, Plaintiff 4 needed a doctor to take over the unsuccessful treatment he was receiving from the VA and to estimate 5 the reasonable value of services that the VA system provided. These unusual circumstances, it is 6 argued, provide substantial justification for the disclosure of Dr. Schifini as a witness after the deadline 7 for disclosing expert witnesses. Plaintiff maintains Defendant should not receive a windfall because 8 Plaintiff cannot sufficiently assess his medical special damages because of the VA's failure to provide 9 bills. For all of these reasons, Plaintiff asks that the court deny the motion to strike and allow Dr.
10 Schifini's deposition to be taken after the close of discovery to provide opinions concerning Plaintiff's 11 injuries and medical treatment and his estimate of the reasonable value of the VA services to the 12 Plaintiff.

13 Pentair replies Dr. Schifini is clearly offered as an expert witness for whom a Rule 26(a)(2)(B) 14 compliant report is required. Pentair cites cases from other districts in support of its argument that there 15 is no absolute treating physician exception to the expert disclosure requirement of Rule 26. Pentair also 16 argues that the Ninth Circuit's recent decision in Goodman supports its arguments that an expert report 17 was required from Dr. Schifini where, as here: 1) Plaintiff's own deposition testimony confirms he was 18 referred to Dr. Schifini by counsel; 2) Plaintiff's opposition brief concedes Dr. Schifini is not billing 19 Plaintiff for his services, which is unusual for a treating physician; 3) Dr. Schifini produced a report and 20 forensic summary of medical records of other physicians; and 4) Dr. Schifini's opinions are not for 21 treatment, but clearly for purposes of supporting Plaintiff's litigation position. Pentair argues that 22 Plaintiff's late designation is neither substantially justified nor harmless, and it requests that the court 23 strike Dr. Schifini as an expert and preclude him from testifying.

24 DISCUSSION

25 I. Disclosure of Expert Witnesses.

26 Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26 requires parties to disclose the identity of any person who 27 may be used as an expert witness. Fed.R.Civ.P. 26(a)(2)(B). Rule 26 provides that, "[t]hese 28 disclosures shall be made at the times and in the sequence directed by the court." Fed.R.Civ.P.

1 26(a)(2)(C). Local Rule LR 26-1(e)(3) provides:

2 Unless the discovery plan otherwise provides and the court so orders, the time 3 deadlines specified in Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(a)(2)(C) for 4 disclosure concerning experts are modified to require that the disclosures be 5 made sixty (60) days before the discovery cut-off date and that disclosures 6 respecting rebuttal experts be made thirty (30) days after the initial disclosure 7 of experts.

6 LR 26-1(e)(3).

7 For each disclosed expert, Rule 26(a)(2)(B) requires that an expert witness disclosure be 8 accompanied by a written report prepared and signed by the witness containing: (1) a complete 9 statement of all opinions and the basis and reasons therefor; (2) the data or other information considered 10 by the witness in forming the opinions; (3) any exhibits to be used as a summary of or support for the 11 opinions; (4) the qualifications of the witness, including a list of all publications authored by the 12 witness within the preceding ten years; (5) the compensation to be paid for the study and testimony; and 13 (6) a listing of any other cases in which the witness has testified as an expert at trial or by deposition 14 within the preceding four years. Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(a)(2)(B). An expert’s report must be “detailed and 15 complete.” Elgas, 179 F.R.D. at 300 (quoting Sierra Club v. Cedar Point Oil Co., Inc., 73 F.3d 546, 16 571 (5th Cir. 1996)). Expert reports are required in order to eliminate “unfair surprise to the opposing 17 party and [to conserve] resources.” Elgas, 179 F.R.D. at 299 (quoting Reed v. Binder, 165 F.R.D. 424, 18 429 (D.N.J. 1996)). In Elgas, the court struck the designation of an expert because he had not listed the 19 cases in which he had testified as an expert in his report. Id. at 300.

20 Fed. R. Civ. P. 37 authorizes sanctions for a party’s failure to make disclosures or cooperate in 21 discovery. Rule 37(c)(1) provides, in relevant part:

22 A party that without substantial justification fails to disclose information 23 required by Rule 26(a) or 26(e)(1), or to amend a prior response to discovery
24 as required by Rule 26(e)(2), is not, unless such failure is harmless, permitted 25 to use as evidence at a trial, at a hearing, or on a motion any witness or 26 information not so disclosed.

25 Fed. R. Civ. P. 37(c)(1). Rule 37 “gives teeth” to the disclosure requirements of Rule 26 by forbidding 26 the use at trial of any information that is not properly disclosed. Goodman, 644 F.3d at 827. Rule 27 37(c)(1) is a “self-executing, automatic” sanction designed to provide a strong inducement for 28 disclosure. Id. Rule 37(a)(3) explicitly provides that an evasive or incomplete disclosure, answer, or

1 response to a discovery obligation “is to be treated as a failure to disclose, answer, or respond.” Id.

2 Applying Rule 37(a)(3) and (c)(1) compels the conclusion that an expert’s trial testimony should 3 be automatically excluded if a party fails to strictly comply with the requirements of Rule 26(a)(2)(B) 4 unless the court finds that there was a substantial justification for the failure to make complete 5 disclosure, or that the failure to disclose is harmless. Id.; Elgas, 179 F.R.D. at 299 (citing Sullivan v.
6 Glock, Inc., 175 F.R.D. 497, 503 (D. Md. 1997)). In the Ninth Circuit, “[t]he district court is given 7 broad discretion in supervising the pretrial phase of litigation” Continental Lab., 195 F.R.D. at 8 677 (quoting Miller v. Safeco Title Ins. Co., 758 F.2d 364, 369 (9th Cir. 1985)). If full compliance with 9 Rule 26(a) is not made, Rule 37(c)(1) mandates some sanction, “the degree and severity of which are 10 within the discretion of the trial judge.” Keener v. United States, 181 F.R.D. 639, 641 (D. Mont. 1998).

11 The Ninth Circuit reviews a district court’s decision to sanction for a violation of the discovery 12 rules for abuse of discretion which gives “particularly wide latitude to a district court’s discretion to 13 issue sanctions under Rule 37(c)(1).” Yeti by Molly Ltd. v. Deckers Outdoor Corp., 259 F.3d 1101, 14 1106 (citing Ortiz-Lopez v. Sociedad Espanola de Auxilio Mutuo Y Beneficiencia de Puerto Rico, 248 15 F.3d 29, 34 (1st Cir. 2001)). The burden is on the party facing discovery sanctions under Rule 37(c)(1) 16 to prove harmlessness. Id. at 1107. Exclusion of an expert’s testimony for failure to comply with the 17 requirements of Rule 26(a) is a sanction available to the trial court within its wide discretion under Rule 18 37(c)(1) even in the absence of showing a bad faith or willfulness. Id. at 1106.

19 The district court also has discretion to exclude expert witnesses who have not been timely 20 disclosed in compliance with the court’s scheduling order. Wong v. Regents of the University of 21 California, 410 F.3d 1052, 1062 (9th Cir. 2005). As the Ninth Circuit recognized, courts enter 22 scheduling orders “to permit the court and the parties to deal with cases in a thorough and orderly 23 manner, and they must be allowed to enforce them, unless there are good reasons not to.” Id.
24 Therefore, when a party fails to identify expert witnesses, and provide the disclosures required by Rule 25 26(a)(2) in accordance with the court’s scheduling order, “[d]isruption to the schedule of the court and 26 other parties in that manner is not harmless.” Id. The Ninth Circuit has affirmed exclusion of expert 27 testimony when the expert was disclosed twenty days late, and the expert reports were six weeks late.
28 See Quevedo v. Trans-Pacific Shipping, Inc., 143 F.3d 1255 (9th Cir. 1998).

1 II. Treating Physicians and Rule 26(a)(2).

2 Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(a)(2)(B) limits required expert witness disclosures to “a 3 witness who is retained or specially employed to provide expert testimony in the case.” Fed. R. Civ. P.
4 26(a)(2)(B). While a treating physician is often called as an expert witness at trial, he or she is not 5 generally retained or specially employed for this purpose, but rather to treat a plaintiff for his or her 6 medical complaints. This district has long recognized that a treating physician may be deposed or 7 called to testify at trial without providing a written report. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(a), Advisory 8 Committee Notes to 1993 Amendments. In Piper v Harnischfeger, Magistrate Judge McQuaid rejected 9 a defendant’s argument that a treating physician’s opinions on matters such as causation, future
10 treatment, extended disability and the like, required compliance with the requirements of Rule 11 26(a)(2)(B) observing:

12 It is common place for a treating physician during, and as part of, the course 13 of treatment of a patient to consider things such as the cause of the medical 14 condition, the diagnosis, the prognosis and the extent of disability caused by 15 the condition, if any. Opinions such as these are part of the ordinary care of 16 the patient and do not subject the treating physician to the extensive reporting 17 requirement of Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(a)(2)(B).

18 170 F.R.D. 173, 174-75 (D. Nev. 1997).

19 Similarly, in Kirkland v. Union Pacific Railroad, Judge Hunt concurred with Piper stating:

20 Furthermore, treating physicians can appropriately have opinions as to the 21 cause of an injury, based on their examination of the patient, or to the degree 22 of injury, or the extent of disability, in the future. The prognosis of the patient 23 and what tasks a patient will be able to perform are legitimate opinions which 24 come within the parameters of opinions required to be made by treating 25 physicians without subjecting them to the requirements of Rule 26(a)(2)(B).

26 189 F.R.D. 604, 608 (D. Nev. 1999) (citation omitted). See also Elgas, 179 F.R.D. at 299; Hall v.
27 Sykes, 164 F.R.D. 46, 48 (E.D. Va. 1995); Shapardon v. West Beach Estates, 172 F.R.D. 415, 417 (D.
28 Haw. 1997).

29 In a case of first impression in the circuit, the Ninth Circuit recently addressed, when, if ever, a 30 treating physician is required to prepare an expert report compliant with Rule 26(a)(2)(B) in Goodman, 31 644 F.3d 817. There, the Plaintiff tripped and fell in an Arizona office supply store and filed a 32 complaint in state court alleging the store negligently allowed an unreasonably dangerous condition to

1 exist which resulted in her fall and serious injuries. The case was removed to federal court based on 2 complete diversity between the parties. Under Arizona law, causation is an essential element of a 3 negligence claim. The district judge prohibited Plaintiff's medical experts from testifying about 4 causation in plaintiff's case-in-chief because she did not comply with her Rule 26(a)(2)(B) report
5 disclosure obligations. On appeal, the Ninth Circuit held that "when a treating physician morphs into a 6 witness hired to render expert opinions that go beyond the usual scope of a treating doctor's testimony, 7 the proponent of the testimony must comply with Rule 26(a)(2)." Id. at 819-20. However, because the 8 law regarding "hybrid experts" was not settled, and because treating physicians are usually exempt from 9 the requirement of providing written report, the Ninth Circuit exercised its discretion to apply this 10 clarification prospectively. Id.

11 In Goodman, the Ninth Circuit recognized that the general rule is that a treating physician is a 12 percipient witness of the treatment rendered rather than an expert retained or specially employed to 13 provide expert testimony. For this reason, a treating physician is ordinarily not subject to the written 14 report requirements of Rule 26(a)(2)(B). Id. at 824 (citing Fed.R.Civ.P. 26(a)(2) Advisory Committee 15 Note (1993)). However, the Ninth Circuit noted that district courts in the circuit have limited treating 16 physician testimony to opinions formed during the course of treatment when the party seeking 17 admission of the testimony disclosed no expert report. Id. at 825. Joining the Sixth, Seventh and 18 Eighth Circuits, the Ninth Circuit held "that a treating physician is only exempt from Rule 26(a)(2)(B)'s 19 written report requirement to the extent that his opinions were formed during the course of treatment.
20 Id. at 826. The court found that the Plaintiff had retained a number of her treating physicians to render 21 expert testimony beyond the scope of the treatment rendered, and that to form these opinions these 22 doctors had reviewed information provided by Goodman's attorney that had not been reviewed during 23 the course of their treatment. For these reasons, the Ninth Circuit agreed with the district court that 24 these doctors fell outside the scope of the "treating physician" exception, and under Rule 26(a)(2)(B), 25 written reports were required.

26 III. Analysis.

27 In this case, the court finds that Plaintiff retained Dr. Schifini to provide expert opinion 28 testimony beyond the scope of opinions formed during the course of his treatment of the Plaintiff.

1 According to his August 22, 2011, letter, which is attached as Exhibit “E” to Defendant’s emergency 2 motion, Dr. Schifini received records from counsel for Plaintiff by hand delivery August 8, 2011. He 3 was asked to review these records and summarize his opinions and conclusions following his review of 4 the records, as well as the results of his independent medical evaluation of August 15, 2011. He 5 understood that the Plaintiff was frustrated with the delay in treatment through the Veterans 6 Administration hospitals, as well as his increase in pain “which prompted the referral to my office.” He 7 was provided with approximately 800 pages of medical records to review by Plaintiff’s counsel, 8 approximately 150 of which were VA medical records. The remaining categories of records he 9 reviewed were from Advanced Medical Center, Las Vegas Fire & Rescue, Nevada Imaging Centers, 10 and University Medical Center.

11 After reviewing these records “which followed the date of loss of April 25, 2007,” he 12 formulated several opinions and conclusions. The court finds that these opinions and conclusions were 13 not formed during the course of treatment of the Plaintiff. Rather, in the doctor’s own words, they were 14 clearly formed for the purpose of providing medical legal causation testimony and “opinions regarding 15 the care, appropriateness of care, necessity of care and relatedness of care provided to Mr. Ghiorzi as a 16 result of this April 25, 2007 pool filter accident.” For example, he opines that the Plaintiff’s historical 17 recollection of the events of April 25, 2007, are fairly consistent, and the Plaintiff suffered injuries in 18 the form of “a closed head injury, a concussion, bi-lateral shoulder pain, lacerations possibly brachial 19 plexus versus cervical nerve root injury, and avulsion chip of the left coracoid process, right periorbital 20 ecchymosis, as well as facial and nasal fractures” as a result of the pool filter explosion involved in this 21 case. He also opines that the Plaintiff “has had tremendous pain and suffering” as a result of the April 22 25, 2007 accident. He opines that “at some point” the Plaintiff may be in need of spine surgery 23 consultation due to his ongoing complaints, although he is unable to determine “on a more likely or not 24 basis” whether the Plaintiff will need a spine surgery referral. He also opines that, other than a few 25 primary care visits, all treatment Plaintiff has received to date is directly related to the events of April 26 25, 2007, based on his review of the medical records provided.

27 His letter report goes on to opine about the value of services provided by Veterans 28 Administration medical facilities which did not provide specific billing information. He opines that a

1 new consultation is valued at $600.00 per visit and that typical office visits should be billed at $200.00
2 per visit. Based on his own experience, he believes the shoulder surgery Plaintiff had is typically 3 “assigned a value of $30,000.00 to $40,000.00.” He was not able to provide an estimate of the cost for 4 the Plaintiff’s nasal surgery. His report goes on to provide detailed dollar amounts for reasonable costs 5 for a number of different diagnostic tests. His report concludes:

6 Based on my review of all provided records, it is clear that Mr. Ghiorzi’s 7 claimed injuries are a direct result of the events of April 25, 2007. If it were 8 not for the pool filter explosion which occurred on April 25, 2007, it is my 9 opinion that Mr. Ghiorzi would not be suffering from the painful condition 10 he is presently describing. The treatment recommendations and future 11 treatment needs for Mr. Ghiorzi are also a direct result and causally related 12 to the events of April 25, 2007. All future medical needs have not been 13 accounted for at this point. Many of the needs in reference to the cervical 14 spine and upper extremities will be determined after his updated MRIs and 15 following the performance of injection therapy. I will be continuing to see 16 Mr. Ghiorzi on an ongoing basis to determine his ongoing and future needs.

17 Plaintiff filed an Emergency Motion to Extend Discovery Deadlines (Dkt. #62) on September 8, 18 2011. The motion listed the discovery that remained to be completed. Counsel for Plaintiff indicated 19 that he had been obtaining medical records on the injuries suffered by the Plaintiff, and there was no 20 medical information in the file when he took it over in late May 2011. He stated it had been difficult 21 obtaining information from the VA and that counsel had received records but had not received any of 22 the billing records. The motion also represented that Plaintiff was continuing to treat for his medical 23 condition and needs surgery. The motion stated that the primary reason why discovery was not 24 completed within the time allowed “was an over-optimistic Plaintiff attorney and an overwhelmed 25 Plaintiff attorney.” Plaintiff proposed that because basic medical records and billing records had not yet 26 been received and because of Plaintiff’s continued treatment and likely surgery, that he be given a 27 ninety-day extension of the deadlines for medical expert disclosures.

28 The district judge decided Plaintiff’s emergency motion to extend in the undersigned’s absence.
29 He granted a fifteen-day extension of the discovery cutoff but denied Plaintiff’s request for a further 30 ninety-day extension. He rejected Plaintiff’s argument that the additional time was warranted because 31 of Plaintiff’s continued treatment and likely surgeries finding that “[i]f the court were to grant the 32 emergency motion to continue on this rather inchoate basis, the discovery cut-off date would become an 33 ever-moving target, following the medical progress of the Plaintiff. This would not clearly and 1 expeditiously further the ends of justice.” See Order (Dkt. #63).

2 Dr. Schifini was disclosed as a treating physician in supplemental Rule 26(a) disclosures.
3 According to Plaintiff’s deposition testimony, and Dr. Schifini’s report, he did see Plaintiff until August 4 15, 2011. Dr. Schifini’s August 22, 2011, letter to counsel for Plaintiff indicates he did treat the 5 Plaintiff for pain by providing an epidural injection. He also ordered additional MRIs of the Plaintiff’s 6 spine on August 15, 2011, and states that the Plaintiff will need at least quarterly re-evaluations by a 7 physician to re-evaluate his status. The court finds Dr. Schifini’s testimony should be limited to the 8 results of his single examination of the Plaintiff on August 15, 2011, the results of the MRIs he ordered 9 provided the results of those MRIs have been disclosed to Defendant in discovery, and the medical 10 necessity and reasonableness of the cost of the epidural injection he gave the Plaintiff. Beyond that, Dr.
11 Schifini was clearly specially retained to provide expert testimony for which a Rule 26(a)(2)(B) report 12 was required. He was contacted by Plaintiff’s counsel, not the Plaintiff, well after the deadline for 13 disclosing expert reports. Plaintiff’s emergency motion clearly indicates Plaintiff was seeking a ninety-14 day extension of the deadline to make medical expert disclosures. Counsel for Plaintiff clearly 15 recognized that Plaintiff needed a medical expert to support his injury and damages claims. The district 16 judge denied this request. Plaintiff has not met his burden of establishing that the failure to timely 17 disclose Dr. Schifini as a medical expert is substantially justified or harmless.

18 Accordingly,

19 IT IS ORDERED Defendant’s Emergency Motion to Strike Dr. Schifini as an Expert Witness 20 (Dkt. #70) is GRANTED. However, Plaintiff may call Dr. Schifini as a percipient witness/treating 21 physician whose testimony shall be limited to his own examination and treatment of the Plaintiff.
