PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

In March 2020, the SEC brought this action against Defendant Bradley
 C. Reifler and Relief Defendants Forefront Partners, LLC, Forefront Capital Services, LLC, and Port Royal-NCM, LLC (collectively, "Defendant and Relief Defendants" and collectively with the SEC, the "Parties"). See Ecf No. 1.

2. After Defendant and Relief Defendants answered the SEC's Complaint, in February 2021, the United States Department of Justice ("DOJ") filed an unopposed motion to Intervene and to Stay Proceedings ("Motion to Stay"). See Ecf No. 39. On February 24, 2021, the Court granted the Motion to Stay and, among other things, stayed this proceeding until resolution of the criminal case, including all appeals, or until further order of this Court.¹

3. During May 2022, Mr. Reifler reached a plea agreement with DOJ to resolve the criminal litigation. During November 2022, the criminal court entered a final judgment against Mr. Reifler and sentenced him to a prison term of five years, three years supervised release, and ordered him to pay $20,322,220 in restitution. Mr. Reifler reported to prison during January 2023 and is presently incarcerated in a federal correctional institution located in Otisville, New York.

3. After the Court lifted the stay and requested a Joint Status Report, the Parties filed the Joint Status Report. See Ecf No. 45. After receiving it, the Court ordered the Parties to file a Second Joint Status Report by the end of March 2023. See Ecf No. 46.

4. The day before the Second Joint Status Report was due, counsel representing Reifler and Relief Defendants filed a Motion to Withdraw. See Ecf No.
47.

5. On March 31, 2023, the Parties filed the Second Status Report and requested that the Court allow them three weeks from when the Motion to Withdraw is ruled upon to confer and jointly file a new scheduling order and the SEC requested that if the parties are unable to timely file a proposed joint scheduling order, the SEC may file its own proposed scheduling order. See Ecf No. 48. On April 7, 2023, the Court issued a Minute Order, which granted both requests and indicated that the Magistrate Judge would rule on the Motion to Withdraw. See Ecf No. 46.

6. On May 5, 2023, the Magistrate Judge granted defense counsel's Motion to Withdraw and ordered Mr. Reifler and the Relief Defendants to file a notice with the Court on or before June 5, 2023 regarding whether: (a) Mr. Reifler will retain new counsel or proceed pro se; and (b) the Relief Defendants will retain new counsel. See Ecf No. 54.

7. Based on the April 7th Minute Order and the Magistrate Judge's ruling on the Motion to Withdraw, the present deadline to file a Scheduling Report is May 26, 2023.

LEGAL MEMORANDUM

8. For several reasons, the SEC is requesting that the Court extend the current deadline of May 26, 2023 to file a Scheduling Order to June 26, 2023, which is three weeks after the June 5, 2023 deadline for Mr. Reifler and the Relief Defendants to inform the Court whether new defense counsel will represent some or all of them.

9. First, the Court should extend the May 26th deadline until after Mr. Reifler and the Relief Defendants inform the Court whether new defense counsel will represent them. The time necessary for discovery will depend on whether the Relief Defendants (who are entities that Mr. Reifler cannot represent)² retain new defense counsel and remain in the case. If the Relief Defendants are unrepresented and default, the Parties will need less time for discovery. Therefore, it is a more efficient use of party and judicial resources for the Court to consider the new scheduling order after it is known whether the Relief Defendants will remain in this litigation.

10. Second, if Mr. Reifler or the Relief Defendants do retain new counsel, any proposed Scheduling Order agreed upon would likely need to be revised and resubmitted to accommodate new defense counsel's schedule. Thus, it is a more efficient use of party and judicial resources for the Court to consider the new scheduling order after the SEC knows whether it needs to take into account defense counsel's schedule.

As properly found by the Magistrate Judge "[b]ecause they are corporations, [the Relief Defendants] must be represented by counsel." (Ecf No. 54 at 1-2, citations omitted).

11. Lastly, in an abundance of caution, the SEC prefers to confer with Mr. Reifler and the Relief Defendants (if needed) after the SEC knows whether new defense counsel will represent Mr. Reifler or the Relief Defendants. Simply stated, SEC counsel would prefer to not communicate with Mr. Reifler or the Relief Defendants regarding this litigation until the SEC knows whether new defense counsel will represent some or all of them.

NO CONFERRAL

12. Due to the SEC's present inability to confer with Mr. Reifler (either individually or on behalf of the Relief Defendants) in a timely fashion (because he is incarcerated and the SEC currently does not have a way to communicate with him via electronic communications and the SEC's request to speak to Mr. Reifler by telephone has not been acted upon) the SEC has not conferred with Mr. Reifler prior to filing this Motion. However, we do not believe that Mr. Reifler or the Relief Defendants would be prejudiced if the Court granted the SEC's requested relief, since the relief would simply give additional time for Mr. Reifler and the Relief Defendants to confer with the SEC and jointly file a new proposed scheduling order.

In conclusion, for good cause shown and not for the purpose of delay, the Court should extend the current deadline to file a Scheduling Order to on or before June 26, 2023.

A proposed Order is submitted herewith.
