MEMORANDUM DECISION AND ORDER

Before the court is Plaintiff’s Bill of Costs (Doc. # 85) and Motion for Attorney’s Fees and Costs (Doc. # 86).<sup>1</sup> Defendant objected to the bill of costs (Doc. # 87) and Plaintiff replied (Doc. # 88). Defendant moved to strike Plaintiff’s reply to Defendant’s objection to the bill of costs (Doc. # 89). Plaintiff opposed the motion to strike (Doc. # 91). Defendant also opposed the motion for attorney’s fees (Doc. # 90) and Plaintiff replied (Doc. # 92). After a thorough review, the court grants the motion for attorney’s fees in part, and denies the motion in part. The court denies Defendant’s motion to strike Plaintiff’s reply in support of the bill of costs. The court also grants the bill of costs in part, and denies it in part.

I. BACKGROUND

On April 3, 2007, Plaintiff Gerald W. Marshall (Plaintiff) filed his complaint for personal injury naming as defendants: (1) Lieutenant Bruce Kirby; (2) then Chief of Police, Michael Poehlman; (3) Reno Police Department; and (4) City of Reno. (Doc. # 1-1, ¶¶ 2- 5). The complaint originally contained claims for unlawful detention, use of excessive force, and arrest

1 without probable cause in violation of the Fourth Amendment, assault and battery, false
2 imprisonment, intentional infliction of emotional distress, and negligent hiring, training,
3 supervision and retention, as well as breach of the duty of due care. (Doc. # 1-1.) By the time
4 of trial, the only claims remaining were unlawful detention, use of excessive force, and arrest
5 without probable cause, all in violation of the Fourth Amendment and 42 U.S.C. § 1983 against 6 Defendant Bruce Kirby. (Doc. # 86 3.)

7 The matter went to trial in February 2009 and ended in a mistrial as a result of a
8 deadlocked jury. (See Doc. # 28-Doc. # 32.) Defendant Bruce Kirby filed an interlocutory
9 appeal based on the court's ruling on Defendant Kirby's motion for judgment as a matter of law
10 on the grounds of qualified immunity (Doc. # 43) which was dismissed by the Ninth Circuit and 11 remanded to the trial court for further proceedings (Doc. # 53).

12 A second jury trial commenced on August 30, 2010, resulting in a verdict in favor of the 13 Plaintiff on the excessive force claim and awarding Plaintiff $25,000.00 in actual damages. (See 14 Doc. # 70- Doc. # 80.) Judgment was entered on September 2, 2010. (Doc. # 84.) Plaintiff 15 has now filed a bill of costs and motion for attorney's fees which Defendant has opposed. (Doc.
16 # 83, Doc. # 85, Doc. # 86 - Doc. # 92.)

17 II. LEGAL STANDARD

18 The Civil Rights Attorney's Fees Award Act of 1976 provides for a prevailing plaintiff's
19 recovery of reasonable attorney's fees in civil rights actions. See 42 U.S.C. § 1988 ("In any action
20 or proceeding to enforce a provision of section...1983 of this title,...the court, in its discretion,
21 may allow the prevailing party...a reasonable attorney's fee as part of the costs..."). "The purpose
22 of § 1988 is to ensure 'effective access to the judicial process' for persons with civil rights
23 grievances." Hensley v. Eckerhart, 461 U.S. 424, 429 (1983) (citation omitted).

24 "A party need not prevail on all issues litigated, but must succeed on at least some of the 25 merits." Cummings v. Connell, 402 F.3d 936, 946 (9th Cir. 2005) (citation omitted). "Where 26 a plaintiff has obtained excellent results, his attorney should recover a fully compensatory fee," 27 and "the fee award should not be reduced simply because the plaintiff failed to prevail on every 28

1 contention raised in the lawsuit.” City of Riverside v. Rivera, 477 U.S. 561, 569 (1986) (quoting
2 Hensley, 461 U.S. at 435). “In short, a plaintiff ‘prevails’ when actual relief on the merits of [the 3 plaintiff’s] claim materially alters the legal relationship between the parties by modifying the 4 defendant’s behavior in a way that directly benefits the plaintiff.” Farrar v. Hobby, 506 U.S.
5 103, 111-12 (1992).

6       Once a party has established that it is entitled to an award of attorney’s fees, “[i]t remains 7 for the district court to determine what fee is ‘reasonable.’” Hensley v. Eckerhart, 461 U.S. 424, 8 433 (1983) (quoting Nadeau v. Helgemoe, 581 F.2d 275, 278-79 (1st Cir. 1978)). Under federal 9 law, reasonable attorney’s fees are generally based on the traditional “lodestar” calculation set
10 forth in Hensley. See Fischer v. SJB-P.D., Inc., 214 F.3d 1115, 1119 (9th Cir. 2000). The court 11 must determine a reasonable fee by multiplying “the number of hours reasonably expended on 12 the litigation” by “a reasonable hourly rate.” Hensley, 461 U.S. at 433. Second, the court must 13 decide whether to adjust the lodestar amount based on an evaluation of the factors articulated 14 in Kerr v. Screen Extras Guild, Inc., 526 F.2d 67, 70 (9th Cir. 1975), which have not been 15 subsumed in the lodestar calculation. See Fischer, 214 F.3d at 1119 (citation omitted).

16       The Kerr factors are:

17               (1) the time and labor required, (2) the novelty and difficulty of the 18               questions involved, (3) the skill requisite to perform the legal 19               service properly, (4) the preclusion of other employment by the 20               attorney due to acceptance of the case, (5) the customary fee, (6)
21               whether the fee is fixed or contingent, (7) time limitations imposed 22               by the client or other circumstances, (8) the amount involved and 23               the results obtained, (9) the experience, reputation, and ability of 24               the attorneys, (10) the “undesirability” of the case, (11) the nature
25               and length of the professional relationship with the client, and (12)
26               awards in similar cases.

27       Kerr, 526 F.2d at 70. Factors one through five have been subsumed in the lodestar calculation.
28       See Morales v. City of San Rafael, 96 F.3d 359, 364 n. 9 (9th Cir. 1996). Further, the Ninth
29       Circuit, extending City of Burlington v. Dague, 505 U.S. 557, 567 (1992), held that the sixth 30       factor, whether the fee is fixed or contingent, may not be considered in the lodestar calculation.
31       See Davis v. City & County of San Francisco, 976 F.2d 1536, 1549 (9th Cir. 1992), vacated in

1 part on other grounds, 984 F.2d 345 (9th Cir. 1993). To calculate the lodestar figure, a party
2 must submit “satisfactory evidence...that the requested rates are in line with those prevailing
3 in the community for similar services by lawyers of reasonably comparable skill, experience,
4 and reputation.” Blum v. Stenson, 465 U.S. 886, 895-96 n. 11 (1984). There is a strong
5 presumption that the lodestar figure represents a reasonable fee. Jordan v. Multnomah
6 County, 815 F.2d 1258, 1262 (9th Cir. 1987). However, upon considering the relevant Kerr
7 factors that may bear on reasonableness, the court may adjust the award from the lodestar
8 figure. Ballen v. City of Redmond, 466 F.3d 736, 746 (9th Cir. 2006). Only in rare instances 9 should the lodestar figure be adjusted on the basis of these considerations. Harris v.
10 Marhoefer, 24 F.3d 16, 18 (9th Cir. 1994).

11 III. DISCUSSION

12 A. ATTORNEY’S FEES

13 1. PREVAILING PARTY AND PROPORTIONALITY OF FEES TO 14 RECOVERY

15 Defendant argues that Plaintiff is not entitled to attorney’s fees because he did not allege 16 a Fourth Amendment violation against Defendant Kirby. (Doc. # 90 2-3.) Defendant further 17 argues that Plaintiff is not the prevailing party because the jury found for Defendant Kirby on 18 the claims of false arrest and false detention and in Plaintiff’s favor on only the excessive force
19 claim. (Id. at 3.) Specifically, Defendant contends that Plaintiff’s requested attorney’s fees
20 should be adjusted downward because Plaintiff’s attorney’s fees are grossly disproportionate
21 to the amount awarded Plaintiff by the jury. (Id. at 11-13.) Furthermore, Defendant argues 22 that Plaintiff’s success did not convey any significant public benefit. (Id. at 12-13.) Finally,
23 Defendant asserts that the court should not award more than $13,371.88 in total attorney’s fees.
24 (Id. at 13.)

25 Plaintiff counters that the verdict form clearly contradict’s Defendant’s assertion that 26 there was no Fourth Amendment violation against Defendant Kirby. (Doc. # 92 2.) Plaintiff
27 further contends that the excessive force claim was the crux of this action and that the $25,000
28

1 award was a very good result. (Id. at 7.) Finally, Plaintiff argues that a meaningful public
2 benefit was achieved because the Reno Police Department was sent a message that
3 unconstitutional excessive force is not an approved practice. (Id. at 7-8.)

4 First, Defendant claims Plaintiff did not allege a Fourth Amendment violation as to 5 Defendant. At trial, Plaintiff alleged that Defendant was liable for unlawful detention, unlawful 6 arrest, and excessive force, in violation of the Fourth Amendment and 42 U.S.C. § 1983. To that 7 end, the special verdict form set forth each of these claims against Defendant Bruce Kirby. (Doc.
8 # 79.) Moreover, Defendant offered jury instructions regarding 42 U.S.C. § 1983 and the Fourth 9 Amendment with respect to Defendant Bruce Kirby's actions. (Doc. # 65.) Therefore,
10 Defendant's contention that the Fourth Amendment violations did not pertain to him is not well 11 taken.

12 Next, Defendant claims that the attorney's fees be reduced in accordance with Hensley
13 v. Eckerhard, 461 U.S. 424, 429 (1983) and Kerr v. Screen Extras Guild, Inc., 526 F.2d 67, 14 70 (9th Cir. 195), because Plaintiff prevailed on only the excessive force claim. Defendant also 15 claims that no public benefit resulted from the verdict. (Doc. # 90 11-13.)

16 Under Hensley, the reasonableness of a fee award is determined by answering two 17 questions: "First, did the plaintiff fail to prevail on claims that were unrelated to the claims on 18 which he succeeded? Second, did the plaintiff achieve a level of success that makes the hours
19 reasonably expended a satisfactory basis for making a fee award?" Hensley, 461 U.S. at 434;
20 see also McCown v. City of Fontana, 565 F.3d 1097, 1103 (9th Cir. 2009). "A plaintiff is not 21 eligible to receive attorney's fees for time spent on unsuccessful claims that are unrelated to a 22 plaintiff's successful § 1983 claim." McCown, 565 F.3d at 1103. However, in a lawsuit where 23 the plaintiff presents different claims for relief that "involve a common core of facts" or are 24 based on "related legal theories," the district court should not attempt to divide the request for 25 attorney's fees on a claim-by-claim basis. Hensley, 461 U.S. at 435. Instead, the court must 26 proceed to the second part of the analysis and "focus on the significance of the overall relief 27 obtained by the plaintiff in relation to the hours reasonably expended on the litigation." Id.

1 Here, the answer to the first question is no. The claims that Plaintiff prevailed on and
2 did not prevail on are clearly related. The unlawful detention, unlawful arrest, and excessive
3 force claims all arise from the same common set of core facts.

4 Next, the court must determine whether Plaintiff achieved a level of success that makes 5 the hours reasonably expended a satisfactory basis for making a fee award. Hensley, 461 U.S.
6 at 434.

7 “[A]ttorney’s fees awarded under 42 U.S.C. § 1988 must be adjusted downward where 8 the plaintiff has obtained limited success on his pleaded claims, and the result does not confer
9 a meaningful public benefit.” McCown, 565 F.3d at 1103. “Although the Supreme Court has 10 disavowed a test of strict proportionality, it also suggested that a comparison of damages
11 awarded to damages sought is required.” Id. at 1104 (citing City of Riverside v. Rivera, 477 12 U.S. 561, 576 (1986) (Powell, J., concurring)). In civil rights cases, a rule of proportionality is 13 inappropriate “because it fails to recognize the nature of many, if not most civil rights cases, 14 in which damages may be limited by law, regardless of the importance of the civil rights at 15 issue.” Id. “For this reason, the district court must consider the excellence of the overall result,
16 not merely the amount of damages won.” Id. “[R]esults may not be measured solely in terms 17 of damages...[thus,] a court should consider not only the monetary results but also the 18 significant nonmonetary results [the plaintiff] achieved for himself and other members of 19 society.” Id. (quoting Morales v. City of San Rafael, 96 F.3d 359, 365 (9th Cir. 1996)(second 20 alteration in original).

21 Here, the jury found in favor of Plaintiff on the excessive force claim and awarded 22 Plaintiff $25,000.00 in actual damages. (See Doc. # 79 and Doc. # 84.) While Plaintiff
23 requested more than this amount at the conclusion of his case, the court agrees with Plaintiff
24 that this matter really turned on the excessive force claim, and that a $25,000.00 damages
25 award, in light of the fact that no special damages were sought, is an excellent result.

26 In considering the excellence of Plaintiff’s overall result, the court finds that Plaintiff’s
27 counsel provided a “meaningful public benefit.” Aside from obtaining a $25,000.00 judgment
28

1 in this case, Plaintiff established that Defendant violated his right to be free from 2 unconstitutional excessive force. In securing this ruling, Plaintiff established a significant non-
3 monetary result to members of society- alerting police that it is unacceptable to use excessive
4 force. The results Plaintiff obtained in this case serve the public interest by vindicating the 5 constitutional right to be free from excessive force, sending a message to the City of Reno and 6 its police department about the need to refrain from using such force. The verdict in Plaintiff's
7 favor puts police officers on notice of the consequences for constitutional violations. See Guy
8 v. City of San Diego, 608 F.3d 582, 588-89 (9th Cir. 2010) (concluding that even in the 9 absence of a damages award beyond nominal damages, a plaintiff achieved "tangible results"
10 by establishing that officers used excessive force, which logically would prompt the police
11 department to take a closer look at the level of force used by its officers). Because Plaintiff 12 obtained an excellent result and conferred a meaningful public benefit, the court declines to 13 reduce Plaintiff's attorney's fee award on this basis.

14 2. AMOUNT REQUESTED

15 Plaintiff's motion requests a total of $108,850 in attorney's fees, which he states is 16 calculated by multiplying the hourly rate of $350 by a total of 311.60 hours. (Doc. # 86 10, Ex.
17 1-2.) However, 311.60 hours multiplied by $350 is $109,060.00. The court will assume that 18 this was a typo and will consider Plaintiff's request for fees to be $109,060.00. Defendant
19 challenges the amount of Plaintiff's request on various grounds, each of which is discussed 20 below.

21 3. REASONABLE RATE

22 Plaintiff argues that a reasonable hourly rate for his attorney is $350 per hour. (Doc.
23 # 86 9:13-15, Ex. 2 ¶¶ 11-12.) In support of his position, Plaintiff's counsel states that he 24 normally charges $400 per hour (Doc. # 86-2 ¶ 11), and that his most recent award of fees was 25 in 2008 at $350 per hour (Id. at ¶ 12). Plaintiff's counsel also provides a copy of his curriculum
26 vitae setting forth his experience as a lawyer and law enforcement officer. (Doc. # 86-2 ¶ 14
27 and Doc. # 86-3.)

1 Defendant argues that the rate of $350 is not reasonable because: (1) Plaintiff failed to
2 attach a contract showing that Plaintiff agreed to pay counsel this rate; (2) Plaintiff's counsel
3 does not have a standard billing rate; and (3) Plaintiff's counsel's work in this matter was 4 substandard. (Doc. # 90 10-11.) Instead, Defendant submits that the hourly rate of $250 is 5 reasonable. (Id. at 11.)

6 In determining whether an hourly rate is reasonable, the court considers the experience,
7 skill, and reputation of the attorney requesting fees. See Webb v. Ada County, 285 F.3d 829,
8 840 (9th Cir. 2002). The reasonable hourly rate should reflect the prevailing market rates in 9 the community. Id.; see also Gates v. Deukmejian, 987 F.2d 1392, 1405 (9th Cir. 1992) (noting 10 that the rate awarded should reflect "the rates of attorneys practicing in the forum district").
11 In addition to their own statements, attorneys are required to submit additional evidence that 12 the rates charged are reasonable. See Jordan v. Multnomah County, 815 F.2d 1258, 1263 (9th 13 Cir. 1987).

14 "When a fee applicant fails to meet its burden of establishing the reasonableness of the 15 requested rates...the court may exercise its discretion to determine reasonable hourly rates
16 based on its experience and knowledge of prevailing rates in the community." Bademyan v.
17 Receivable Mgmt. Servs. Corp., 2009 WL 605789 at *5 (C.D. Cal. 2009). However, "[i]t is 18 an abuse of discretion to apply market rates in effect more than two years before the work was 19 performed." Bell v. Clackamas County, 341 F.3d 858, 869 (9th Cir. 2003).

20 Based on the information provided by Plaintiff's counsel and the court's experience and 21 knowledge of prevailing rates in the District of Nevada, the court finds that $350 per hour is 22 a reasonable rate for the work performed by Plaintiff's attorney. The court recently awarded 23 attorney's fees at this hourly rate in a similar action (3:06-cv-00717-RAM, Doc. # 90).
24 Moreover, Plaintiff's counsel was awarded fees at this rate in 2008. (Doc. # 86-2 ¶ 12.) As 25 discussed above, the court may not rely on the market rates in effect more than two years before
26 the work was performed, but based on the court's experience, it finds that the $350 hourly rate
27 remains reasonable for the work performed by Plaintiff's counsel.

1 1988, “[b]y and large, the court should defer to the winning lawyer’s professional judgment as 2 to how much time he was required to spend on the case; after all, he won, and might not have,
3 had he been more of a slacker.” Moreno v. City of Sacramento, 534 F.3d 1106, 1112 (9th Cir.
4 2008).

5 a. Plaintiff’s Criminal Case

6 Defendant argues that the costs incurred in handling the underlying criminal matter are 7 not associated with the civil rights matter and should not be allowed. (Doc. # 90 5-6.) Plaintiff 8 argues that the hours spent on the underlying criminal matter were necessary for the 9 advancement of the civil rights case. (Doc. # 92 5.) Plaintiff further contends that even if the 10 hours were used to prepare for the criminal case, they had to be spent preparing for the civil 11 rights case and were not double charged. (Id.)

12 Plaintiff seeks to recover attorney’s fees for 11.2 hours spent from November 30, 2005
13 to March 17, 2006, which includes work performed in connection with Plaintiff’s criminal 14 matter. (Doc. # 86-1.) The court finds that attorney’s fees incurred in handling the underlying 15 criminal matter are not allowed in connection with attorney’s fees sought pursuant to 42 U.S.C.
16 § 1988. Attorney’s fees “incurred in defending a prior criminal charge are not compensable
17 within the meaning of § 1988.” Borunda v. Richmond, 885 F.2d 1384, 1389 (9th Cir. 1988)
18 (referring to the holdings in Perkins v. Cross, 728 F.2d 1099 (8th Cir. 1984) and Greer v. Holt, 19 718 F.2d 206 (6th Cir. 1983)).<sup>2</sup> “The plain language of § 1988 supports [this] holding[ ].
20 Section 1988 provides that in actions brought ‘to enforce a provision of[42 U.S.C. § 1983], the 21 court, in its discretion, may allow the prevailing party, other than the United States, a reasonable
22 attorney’s fee.’” Id. at 1389 fn. 4 (emphasis and brackets original)(citing 42 U.S.C. § 1988

23
24
25 <sup>2</sup> The court in Borunda recognized that “[a] plaintiff who establishes liability for deprivations of 26 constitutional rights actionable under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 is entitled to recover compensatory damages for all injuries 27 suffered as a consequence of those deprivations,” which may include expenditures for legal representation during 28 a prior criminal proceeding. Borunda, 885 F.2d at 1389-90. However, at fn. 4, the court recognized the difference between seeking fees as an element of damages in a section 1983 action, which may be allowed, and seeking attorney’s fees pursuant to section 1988, which is not proper.

(1982)).<sup>3</sup> Therefore, the attorney’s fees incurred in connection with Plaintiff’s underlying criminal matter are not allowed. The court will allow Plaintiff to recover the 3.1 hours Defendant has objected to as part of the criminal matter that appear to have been incurred in connection with the civil manner as well and were not double charged. Specifically, the court finds that the award should be reduced by 8.1 hours spent on the criminal matter. The following fees objected to by Defendant will not be allowed:

DATE	DESCRIPTION	HOURS
11/30/05	Review criminal case	1.50
11/30/05	Review relevant case law	0.30
12/01/05	Meet with client to review narrative of arrest	1.50
12/01/05	Review and revise Authorization to Represent	1.50
12/01/05	Review and revise Notice of Appearance	0.10
12/1/05	Review and revise Motion to Continue	0.20
01/26/06	Appearance at Reno Municipal Court	3.00
	TOTAL	8.1

b. Attorney’s Fees Incurred on Appeal

Defendant argues that the fees incurred in connection with the Ninth Circuit appeal filed by Defendant in March 2009 are not allowed. (Doc. # 90 6-8.)

A district court is not authorized to rule on the request for appellate attorney’s fees unless the fee applicant has requested such fees from the circuit court. Cummings v. Connell, 402 F.3d 936, 948 (9th Cir. 2005). Ninth Circuit Rule 39-1.6 provides that a request for attorney’s fees must be filed with the circuit clerk within fourteen days from the expiration of the period within which a petition for rehearing may be filed. See Circuit Rule 39-1.6, 1.8. If a petition

<sup>3</sup> The court notes that the Central District of California reached a different result in Beltran Rosas v. County of San Bernadino, 260 F.Supp.2d 990 (C.D. Cal. 2003). There, the district court chose to disregard the Ninth Circuit’s language in fn. 4 of Borunda recognizing that section 1988 does not permit the recovery of fees from an underlying criminal matter. Beltran Rosas, 260 F.Supp.2d at 995 (citing Borunda, 885 F.2d at 1389 fn. 4). Here, the court disagrees with the court in Beltran Rosas, and instead agrees with the court in Borunda that the plain language of section 1988 does not support the recovery of attorney’s fees incurred in an underlying criminal matter.

1 for rehearing is filed, a request for attorney’s fees must be filed with the circuit clerk within 2 fourteen days after the court’s disposition of the petition. Id. The circuit rules allow for the 3 transfer of a fees-on-appeal request to the district court for consideration, but “the decision to 4 permit the district court to handle the matter rests with the court of appeals.” Cummings, 402
 5 F.3d at 948. Certain statutes allow for requests for appellate fees requests to be made to the 6 district court, but attorney’s fees-on-appeal requests pursuant to section 1988 must be filed in 7 the first instance in the circuit court. Compare Natural Resources Defense Council, Inc. v.
 8 Winter, 543 F.3d 1152, 1163-64 (9th Cir. 2008) (holding that a fee request under Equal Justice
 9 Act, 28 U.S.C. § 2412, allows for the district court to properly award fees at all levels of 10 litigation), with Cummings, 402 F.3d at 948 (holding that appellate fees requested pursuant 11 to 42 U.S.C. § 1983 must be filed with the Ninth Circuit clerk in the first instance).

12 Here, Plaintiff does not indicate that he made any requests for fees from the circuit court
 13 or that he filed any motion to transfer consideration of attorney’s fees on appeal.<sup>4</sup> The court
 14 recognizes that this may have been an oversight, and that this oversight is met with harsh
 15 results; however, the court is without authority to award any appellate fees. Therefore, the court
 16 finds that the Plaintiff is not entitled to attorney’s fees incurred in the course of the appeal. The 17 court finds that the following 58.25 hours were related to the appeal and will reduce Plaintiff’s 18 award of attorney’s fees accordingly:

c. Administrative or Secretarial Work

Defendant argues that Plaintiff unreasonably seeks attorney-level compensation for 4.3 hours of administrative or secretarial work. (Doc. # 90 8.) Defendant points out that he produced the exhibit books during the February 2009 trial which Plaintiff claims his counsel spent 4 hours preparing. (Id., Ex. 1 ¶ 6.)

Plaintiff argues that in the August 2010 trial, he produced the exhibit books into which the defense exhibits were placed and he did not have staff to perform this task. (Doc. # 92 5-6.) While Plaintiff argues that this task related to the August 2010 trial, the billing entry is from February 16, 2009 and clearly refers to the February 2009 trial. (Doc. # 86-1.) Therefore, the court finds that the attorney’s fee award should be reduced 4 hours.

Plaintiff does not address Defendant’s argument regarding the .3 hours spent drafting, reviewing, and revising a summons and civil cover sheet as being administrative or secretarial in nature. The court finds the preparation, review and revision of the summons and civil cover sheet to be administrative in nature and will reduce the fee award accordingly.

d. Unnecessary or Excessive Time Spent

i. Stipulation for Extension of Time to File JPTO

Defendant argues that the 4.5 hours spent on preparing a stipulation for extension of time to file a JPTO is excessive. (Doc. # 90 9.) Plaintiff concedes that this charge is in error

1 and states that the correct time should have been 0.2 hours. The court finds that the fee award
2 should be reduced accordingly, disallowing 4.3 hours.

3 ii. Jury Trial (1)

4 Defendant objects to the billing entries that account for 47 hours in jury trial, preparation
5 and debriefing in connection with the 2009 trial. (Doc. # 90 8-10.) Defendant argues that 10.5
6 hours for “preparation and debriefing” is excessive because it is above 10 hours per day for trial
7 work. (Id. at 10.) Defendant offers minimal rationale for reducing these hours. The court finds 8 it entirely reasonable for Plaintiff’s counsel to have spent 47 hours in jury trial, preparation, and 9 debriefing over a period of four days in connection with the 2009 trial and declines to reduce 10 the hours expended by Plaintiff’s counsel in this regard.

11 iii. Motion to Compel

12 Defendant argues that .3 hours spent on a motion to compel should be disallowed
13 because the description is inadequate for an “unidentified” motion to compel so that Defendant
14 cannot determine if the charges were actually and reasonably incurred. (Doc. # 90 9.)
15 Defendant need only cross-reference the date of the billing entry for the motion to compel,
16 March 3, 2009, with the court’s docket, to determine that the billing entry refers to an ex parte
17 motion to compel filed by Plaintiff on the same date (Doc. # 41). There is no indication that .3
18 hours is excessive, and the court declines to reduce Plaintiff’s attorney’s fee award.

19 iv. Letter to Poehlman Re Personnel Complaint

20 Defendant argues that .8 hours spent on drafting a letter to Michael Poehlman regarding 21 a personnel complaint was excessive because there is no further explanation for this charge it
22 should not be allowed. (Doc. # 90 9.) Defendant presents minimal rationale for reducing this 23 charge, and the court declines to exercise its discretion to reduce the award.

24 v. Trial Brief Re Admission of Acquittal

25 Defendant argues that the attorney’s fee award should be reduced the 2.5 hours spent 26 by Plaintiff’s counsel drafting and revising a trial brief in support of admission of the judgment
27 of acquittal because the motion was dismissed by the court. (Doc. # 90 9.) Even though the 28

1 court denied the motion, the court does not find that the 2.5 hours spent in drafting and revising
2 this trial brief were excessive and declines to reduce the fee award with respect to the time spent 3 on this brief.

4 vi. Jury Trial (2)

5 Defendant argues that 10.5 hours spent in preparation and debriefing is excessive because 6 it exceeds 10 hours per day for trial. (Doc. # 90 10.) However, the table included by Defendant
7 setting forth the time to which he objects (Doc. # 90 8-9) references 9.0 hours on August 28,
8 2010, spent preparing exhibits and reviewing the transcript and appeal in preparation for trial,
9 12.0 hours on August 30, 2010, in trial, debriefing, and researching jury instructions, and 11.50
10 hours on September 2, 2010, for trial, preparation, and waiting for the jury. (Doc. # 90 8-9.)
11 It is unclear whether Defendant objects to each of these entries because they exceed 10 hours
12 per day, or whether other bases exist for objecting to these entries. In any event, the court finds 13 that the hours spent by Plaintiff's counsel in trial and preparing for trial are reasonable and 14 declines to reduce the attorney's fee award in this regard.

15 vii. Motion in Limine Re Admission of Dispatch Tapes

16 Defendant argues that the attorney's fee award should be reduced by the 1.5 hours spent 17 by Plaintiff's counsel drafting, reviewing and revising a motion in limine regarding the 18 admission of dispatch tapes which was denied by the court. (Doc. # 90 9-10.)

19 Even though the court denied the motion in limine, the court does not find that the 1.5 20 hours spent in preparing the motion were excessive and declines to reduce the fee award with 21 respect to this motion.

22 viii. Motion for Fees

23 Defendant's table indicates that Defendant objects to the 18.5 hours spent by Plaintiff's
24 counsel in connection with the motion for fees but Defendant fails to include any substantive 25 argument regarding reducing the fee award in connection with the time spent on the fees
26 motion. (Doc. # 90 8-9.) Nonetheless, the court finds the 18.5 hours spent on the fees motion
27 to be excessive. While the court appreciates the fact that preparing the motion was no easy
28

1 undertaking, the court nevertheless concludes that 10 hours to prepare, review and revise a
2 motion for attorney's fees was reasonably necessary, and will reduce the fee award accordingly.

3 B. COSTS

4 Plaintiff seeks $948.06 in costs. (Pl.'s Bill of Costs (Doc. # 85).) Defendant objects to 5 Plaintiff's Bill of Costs. (Doc. # 87.) First, Defendant argues that Doc. # 85 was not verified 6 and does not indicate that the items are correct and that services and disbursements have been 7 actually and necessarily provided and made pursuant to LR 54-1. (Doc. # 87 2.) In addition,
8 Defendant argues that several of Plaintiff's itemized costs are not recoverable because: (1) there
9 is no itemization of exemplification of copies of papers as required under LR 54-6 (Doc. # 87
10 2); (2) Plaintiff offers no explanation of "other costs" in the amount of $12.24 (Doc. # 87 3); 11 and (3) $170.00 in witness fees and mileage fees should be denied because the witnesses were 12 never called to testify at either trial (Doc. # 87 3).

13 Plaintiff claims that the documents were submitted and electronically signed by Plaintiff's 14 counsel under penalty of perjury in compliance with LR 54-1. (Doc. # 88 2.) As to the 15 itemization for exemplification of copies of papers, Plaintiff asserts that this cost was incurred
16 for copies of Plaintiff's answering brief in connection with the appeal. (Doc. # 88 2.) Plaintiff
17 asserts that the "other costs" were for Federal Express delivery of the answering brief to the 18 Ninth Circuit. (Doc. # 88 2.) With respect to the witness fees and mileage, Plaintiff argues that 19 it was necessary to subpoena police officers, but concedes that the cost for Officer Primus was 20 not necessarily incurred. (Doc. # 88 2.)

21 Fed. R. Civ. P. 54(d)(1) provides that costs "shall be allowed...to the prevailing party."
22 Courts have interpreted this rule to create a presumption in favor of the award of costs in favor 23 of the prevailing party, but reserving for the district judge the discretion to deny costs in 24 appropriate circumstances. See Miles v. California, 320 F.3d 986, 988 (9th Cir. 2003); see 25 Crawford Fitting Co. v. J.T. Gibbons, Inc., 482 U.S. 437 (1987). The losing party has the 26 burden to "establish a reason to deny costs." Dawson v. City of Seattle, 435 F.3d 1054, 1070
27 (9th Cir. 2006).

1 Preliminarily, Defendant moved to strike (Doc. # 89) Plaintiff's reply to Defendant's
2 objection to Plaintiff's costs bill (Doc. # 88). Plaintiff correctly points out that LR 54-13 does 3 not prohibit a reply. The motion to strike Plaintiff's reply is denied.

4 As to Defendant's claim that the bill of costs was not properly verified, Plaintiff correctly
5 points out that the document was electronically signed under penalty of perjury and is in 6 compliance with LR 54-1(b).

7 Plaintiff admits that the $70.32 in fees for exemplification and the costs of making copies
8 and $12.24 in "other costs" were incurred in connection with the appeal. (Doc. # 88 2.) The 9 court therefore finds that these items should not be allowed for the reasons set forth above
10 relating to the recovery of fees and costs on appeal.

11 Plaintiff seeks to recover $495.00 in costs for witness fees, but concedes that the $25.00
12 fee for Officer Keith Primus should be disallowed. The court orders that the $25.00 fee for 13 Officer Primus is not allowed. As to the remaining witness fees, the court finds that it was 14 reasonable for Plaintiff to subpoena these officers even if they were not in fact actually called 15 at trial. The court declines to exercise its discretion to deny these costs.

16 Based on the foregoing and the court's review of the costs bill, the court finds that 17 Plaintiff is entitled to recover $840.50 in costs reasonably incurred.

18 C. TOTAL CALCULATION

19 In sum, the court finds that the total lodestar for Plaintiff's attorney's fees is $79,852.50
20 (228.15 hours multiplied by $350 per hour). The total amount of costs awarded is $840.50.
21 The total award is $80,693.00.

22 In reaching the total number of compensable hours, the court reduced the initial hours 23 requested (311.60) by the following:

- 24 • 8.1 hours in connection with the underlying criminal case;
- 25 • 58.25 hours in connection with the appeal;
- 26 • 4.3 hours deemed to be administrative or secretarial in nature;

- 4.3 hours deemed excessive in connection with the stipulation to extend time to file the JPTO; and

- 8.5 hours deemed excessive in connection with the motion for attorney’s fees.

In addition, the court reduced the total amount of costs requested ($948.06) as follows:

- $70.32 for copying costs incurred in connection with the brief on appeal;
- $12.25 in mailing costs incurred in connection with the brief on appeal;
- $25 witness fee for Officer Primus.

The court orders Defendant to pay this amount to Plaintiff no later than thirty (30) days from the date of this order.

IV. CONCLUSION

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that Plaintiff’s Motion for Attorney’s Fees (Doc. # 86) is GRANTED in part and DENIED in part as detailed above.

IT IS HEREBY FURTHER ORDERED that Plaintiff’s Bill of Costs (Doc. # 85) is GRANTED in part and DENIED in part as detailed above.

DATED: November 29, 2010.

UNITED STATES MAGISTRATE JUDGE
