MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER

This matter comes before the Court on the defendant's motion in limine seeking to exclude introduction at trial of any evidence that is responsive to but was not produced in response to certain discovery requests. [R. 23]. This motion was filed on September 4, 2015. The discovery deadline in this case is 90 days before trial—originally December 30, 2015 but now the end of March 2016. [R. 14, Scheduling Order, R. 28, Agreed Order Continuing Trial]. Trial is not scheduled until June 28, 2016. In light of the procedural posture of the case, the defendant's motion in limine is premature. Trial is nearly ten months away and discovery is long from complete. The defendant's motion [R. 23] is therefore Denied without prejudice to refiling closer to trial.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
