

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE EASTERN DISTRICT OF VIRGINIA
RICHMOND DIVISION

JERMAINE A. MACK,

Petitioner,

v.

Civil Action No. 3:09CV03

CHESAPEAKE,

Respondent.

MEMORANDUM OPINION

Petitioner, a Virginia inmate proceeding pro se, submitted a 28 U.S.C. § 2254 petition. Prior to seeking federal habeas relief, Petitioner is required to exhaust his available state remedies. See 28 U.S.C. § 2254(b)(1)(A). The United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit has admonished that, “[u]ntil the State has been accorded a fair opportunity by any available procedure to consider the issue and afford a remedy if relief is warranted, federal courts in habeas proceedings by state [inmates] should stay their hand.” Durkin v. Davis, 538 F.2d 1037, 1041 (4th Cir. 1976) (internal quotation marks omitted); see 28 U.S.C. § 2254(c) (“An applicant shall not be deemed to have exhausted the remedies available in the courts of the State . . . if he has the right under the law of the State to raise, by any available procedure, the question presented.”). Here, Petitioner states that he has not been sentenced. Thus, it appears that Petitioner has an abundance of state court remedies still available. Accordingly, by Memorandum Order entered on February 19, 2008, Petitioner was directed to show cause why the action should not be dismissed without prejudice until he exhausts his available state remedies.
