8 UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
9 AT SEATTLE

10 DELTA WESTERN, INC.,

11 Plaintiff,

12 v.

13 BONANZA FUEL, INC.,

14 Defendant.

CASE NO. C12-325 MJP

ORDER GRANTING MOTION FOR PROTECTIVE ORDER

16 This matter comes before the Court on Plaintiff's motion for a protective order. (Dkt.
17 No. 17.) Having reviewed the motion, the response (Dkt. No. 20), the reply (Dkt. No. 22), and 18 all related papers, the Court GRANTS the motion.

19 The Court finds good cause to issue a protective order in this case, and GRANTS
20 Plaintiff's motion. The Court largely adopts the revised protective order Plaintiff filed. The 21 Court has amended it to ensure the parties comply with Local Rule CR 5(g) when filing materials
22 under seal. All information gained during the pretrial discovery process is subject to this
23 Protective Order, which is as follows:
24

1 1. This Protective Order applies to information or documents that Delta Western,
2 Inc. or Bonanza Fuel, Inc. designate as Confidential Information. The designation
3 “Confidential” shall be limited to information that the designating party reasonably and in good
4 faith believes contains personal, private, proprietary, financial, or trade secret information of the 5 nature identified in Delta Western’s Motion for Protective Order and subsequent Reply to 6 Response of Bonanza Fuel, Inc. to Delta Western, Inc.’s Motion for Protective Order, which
7 includes but is not limited to documents containing confidential financial, pricing, accounting,
8 cost, marketing, strategic planning, customer and/or business practice information, the disclosure
9 of which might competitively disadvantage the designating party but for the “Confidential”
10 designation.

11 2. Information designated as “Confidential Information” shall be used solely for the 12 prosecution or defense of this litigation. Any Party in possession of information designated by a
13 party as Confidential Information shall maintain it in a reasonably secure manner so as to avoid 14 improper disclosure.

15 3. To designate information as Confidential Information, the designating party shall 16 mark it, as "Confidential – Subject to Protective Order" in a manner not interfering with 17 legibility of any document. The designating party must mark each page of each document, or 18 each component of any object, containing Confidential Information.

19 4. If either party produces or has produced Confidential Information without 20 marking it as such, that party may advise the other Party or Parties in writing that specified
21 documents or information containing information that is “Confidential” and the Parties shall 22 thereafter treat such specified documents or information as Confidential Information in 23 accordance with this Protective Order.

1 5. A Party may challenge a party’s designation(s) of Confidential Information by 2 filing a motion with the Court requesting that any information or document(s) be excluded from
3 the provisions of this Protective Order. Before filing any such motion, the challenging Party
4 shall in good faith meet and confer with the other party to seek to reasonably resolve the disputed
5 designations informally.

6 6. Information and documents designated as “Confidential” may be disclosed to and 7 used only by:

8 a. The Parties, but limited to employees having responsibilities with respect
9 to the prosecution or defense of the claims brought in this litigation;

10 b. The Parties' counsel of record, including their attorneys, legal assistants
11 and staff;

12 c. The Court and its staff in this action;

13 d. Any discovery referee, special master, referee or mediator as the Court
14 may assign, and any mediator mutually selected by the Parties, in this action;

17 production services engaged by any Party in connection with this action;

18 g. Witnesses in this action, including but not limited to consulting or 19 testifying expert witnesses whose opinions in this action will be based in whole or in part on 20 Confidential Information, provided that the Parties or their counsel obtain, before disclosing any 21 Confidential Information to a witness (other than a witness who is the author of, or was a
22 recipient in the ordinary course of business of, a document that is designated as Confidential
23

1 Information), that witness' written agreement, in the form attached as Exhibit "A" to Plaintiff's
2 motion for a protective order, to be bound by the terms of this Protective Order; and

3 h. Other persons that are specifically identified and authorized by the 4 disclosing party.

5 7. Any Party may use information designated as Confidential Information during a 6 deposition in this action provided that, prior to his or her examination, the deposition witness is 7 furnished with a copy of this Protective Order and executes a copy of Exhibit "A" to this
8 Protective Order. All deposition testimony and exhibits shall be treated as Confidential
9 Information for a period of ten days after the delivery to the Parties of a draft of the transcript by 10 the court reporter. Not later than ten days after such delivery, the designating party shall 11 designate any testimony or exhibits containing confidential information if applicable by page and 12 line number and exhibit number, identifying the designated pages as "Confidential," transmit
13 such designation(s) to the deposition reporter and the other Party, and ask the deposition reporter
14 to prepare the official transcript as follows:

15 a. The entire transcript shall have sequential page and line numbers as in the 16 ordinary course;

17 b. Testimony and exhibits that have been designated as Confidential
18 Information shall be separately bound in one or more volumes marked "CONFIDENTIAL -
19 SUBJECT TO PROTECTIVE ORDER," retaining the sequential page and line numbers and 20 exhibit numbers that were assigned, in the ordinary course, prior to the preparation of the 21 separately bound volume(s); and

22 c. Testimony and exhibits not designated as Confidential Information shall 23 be bound as in the ordinary course, but with blank pages, redactions or other notations that 24

1 reasonably identify portions of testimony or exhibits that have been extracted and separately
2 bound as Confidential Information.

3 8. Any Confidential Information that is attached to, referred to or quoted in 4 pleadings, affidavits, deposition transcripts, hearing transcripts or any other paper filed with the 5 Court by any Party shall be redacted with the following legend: "Contains Confidential
6 Information Subject to Protective Order" on the privilege log.

7 9. This Protective Order shall be without prejudice to the right of any Party to use or 8 object to the introduction of any Confidential Information at trial. The Parties shall address the 9 handling and use of Confidential Information at trial in connection with Final Pre-Trial
10 Conference proceedings.

11 10. Should any party wish to file materials on the docket under seal that are subject to 12 this order, they must comply with Local Rule 5(g). That is, the party must file either a motion or 13 stipulation to file materials under seal, as required by Local Rule CR 5(g)(3) and 5(g)(4). Merely 14 referencing this order will not suffice. The standards required to have any matter kept under seal
15 are set forth in Local Rule 5(g)(2).

16 11. Within 30 days following final resolution of this action, including all appeals, (a)
17 all Confidential Information of a disclosing Party shall be returned to or destroyed; and (b) each
18 Party shall make reasonable efforts to have witnesses return or destroy any Confidential
19 Information that they have received. Both parties or their counsel shall provide to the disclosing
20 Party a written certification of compliance with this paragraph.

21 12. This Protective Order shall not be admissible at trial in this action.

22 13. If any Party to whom Confidential Information has been disclosed is served, in 23 any action or proceeding other than this action, with a subpoena or request for the production or 24

1 disclosure of Confidential Information, that Party shall provide written notice to the disclosing
2 Party, enclosing a copy of the subpoena or request. The Party subject to the subpoena or request
3 shall not produce or disclose the Confidential Information without the consent of the disclosing
4 party or until ordered to do so by a Court of competent jurisdiction, provided that the disclosing
5 Party makes a timely motion or other application for relief from the subpoena.

6 14. This Protective Order shall survive any settlement, judgment or other disposition
7 or conclusion of this action, and all appeals therefrom, and this Court shall retain continuing 8 jurisdiction to enforce it.

9 The clerk is ordered to provide copies of this order to all counsel.

10 Dated this 7th day of August, 2012.
