PETTIGREW, J.

In this case, petitioner, an inmate in the custody of the Department of Public Safety and Corrections ("DPSC"), sought review of Administrative Remedy Procedure No. ALN-2004-216, which had denied petitioner's appeal of the DPSC Disciplinary Board's decision to sentence him to a loss of twenty-four weeks of incentive pay and a custody change to maximum status, working cellblock, for a rule violation.¹ Following a de novo review of the record herein, including the traversal by petitioner and the Commissioner's Report, the trial court maintained the decision by DPSC, dismissing petitioner's suit with prejudice. This appeal followed. After a thorough review of the record and relevant jurisprudence, we find no error of law or abuse of discretion by the trial court. Therefore, we affirm the trial court's judgment in accordance with Uniform Rules--Courts of Appeal, Rule 2-16.2A(5), (6), (7), and (8). All costs associated with this appeal are assessed against petitioner, Vernon C. Shields.

AFFIRMED.

¹ According to the record, petitioner was in possession of a letter, the contents of which, if circulated among the other inmates, could tend to threaten the safety, security, and orderly operation of the prison.
