SHERRY TERIACO and DAVID TERIACO,

UNPUBLISHED

Plaintiffs-Appellants,

v

No. 195526

Jackson Circuit Court

LC No. 95-727422

DAVID B. MUNRO, M.D., P.C., and GALE
SANDOVAL, Nurse Practitioner,

Defendants-Appellees.

---

Before: Hood, P.J., and McDonald and White, JJ.

WHITE, J. (concurring)

I concur on the basis that Drs. Forrester and Engleberg did not provide causation testimony, and Dr. Dickinson's testimony was insufficient regarding the time period when intravenous antibiotic treatment would likely have been effective, as that time period relates to the date malpractice was established. Plaintiff's standard of care expert identified June 23, 1994 as the date malpractice was established. Dr. Dickinson's testimony did not establish that Sandoval's conduct on or after June 23 (the date on which Sandoval received the test results indicating that plaintiff had an elevated sedimentation rate) was a proximate cause of the injury (the need for surgery).
