Eleventh Court of Appeals

No. 11-16-00352-CR

JEREMY DALTON STAMBAUGH, Appellant

V.

THE STATE OF TEXAS, Appellee

On Appeal from the 266th District Court
Erath County, Texas
Trial Court Cause No. CR14580

MEMORANDUM OPINION

Jeremy Dalton Stambaugh pleaded guilty to the state jail felony offense of possession of less than one gram of a controlled substance, namely methamphetamine. See TEX. HEALTH & SAFETY CODE ANN. § 481.115(a), (b) (West 2017). Pursuant to the terms of the plea agreement, the trial court convicted Appellant, assessed his punishment, and placed him on community supervision. The State subsequently filed a motion to revoke Appellant's community supervision. At the revocation hearing, Appellant pleaded true to two of the State's allegations in the motion to revoke. The trial court found nine of the State's allegations to be true, revoked Appellant's community supervision, and imposed the original sentence of confinement for two years, with no fine. We dismiss the appeal.

Appellant's court-appointed counsel has filed a motion to withdraw. The motion is supported by a brief in which counsel professionally and conscientiously examines the record and applicable law and states that he has concluded that the appeal is frivolous and without merit. Counsel has provided Appellant with a copy of the brief, a copy of the motion to withdraw, an explanatory letter, and a motion for pro se access to the appellate record. Counsel also advised Appellant of his right to review the record and file a response to counsel's brief. Appellant has not filed a pro se response.¹

Court-appointed counsel has complied with the requirements of Anders v. California, 386 U.S. 738 (1967); Kelly v. State, 436 S.W.3d 313 (Tex. Crim. App. 2014); In re Schulman, 252 S.W.3d 403 (Tex. Crim. App. 2008); Stafford v. State, 813 S.W.2d 503 (Tex. Crim. App. 1991); High v. State, 573 S.W.2d 807 (Tex. Crim. App. [Panel Op.] 1978); Currie v. State, 516 S.W.2d 684 (Tex. Crim. App. 1974); Gainous v. State, 436 S.W.2d 137 (Tex. Crim. App. 1969); and Eaden v. State, 161 S.W.3d 173 (Tex. App.—Eastland 2005, no pet.). In addressing an Anders brief and pro se response, a court of appeals may only determine (1) that the appeal is wholly frivolous and issue an opinion explaining that it has reviewed the record and finds no reversible error or (2) that arguable grounds for appeal exist and remand the cause to the trial court so that new counsel may be appointed to brief the issues. Schulman, 252 S.W.3d at 409; Bledsoe v. State, 178 S.W.3d 824, 826–27 (Tex. Crim. App.

¹By letter, this court granted Appellant thirty days in which to exercise his right to file a response to counsel's brief.

2005). Following the procedures outlined in Anders and Schulman, we have independently reviewed the record, and we agree that the appeal is without merit and should be dismissed. See Schulman, 252 S.W.3d at 409.

We note that counsel has the responsibility to advise Appellant that he may file a petition for discretionary review with the clerk of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals seeking review by that court. TEX. R. APP. P. 48.4 (“In criminal cases, the attorney representing the defendant on appeal shall, within five days after the opinion is handed down, send his client a copy of the opinion and judgment, along with notification of the defendant’s right to file a pro se petition for discretionary review under Rule 68.”). Likewise, this court advises Appellant that he may file a petition for discretionary review pursuant to TEX. R. APP. P. 68.

The motion to withdraw is granted, and the appeal is dismissed.
