THE STATE OF TEXAS, Appellant

V.

EARL SCOTT CHESNUT, Appellee

On Appeal from the 8th District Court
Hopkins County, Texas
Trial Court No. 1021767

Before Morriss, C.J., Carter and Moseley, JJ.
Memorandum Opinion by Justice Moseley

MEMORANDUM OPINION

On July 27, 2010, a grand jury indicted Earl Scott Chesnut for unauthorized use of a vehicle. Chestnut properly made application for the final disposition of the indictment, pursuant to the Interstate Agreement on Detainers Act. See TEX. CODE CRIM. PROC. ANN. art. 51.14 (West 2006). Chesnut's request triggered the State's requirement that he be tried "within 180 days after he shall have caused to be delivered to the prosecuting officer and the appropriate court of the prosecuting officer's jurisdiction written notice of . . . his request for a final disposition." TEX. CODE CRIM. PROC. ANN. art. 51.14, art. III(a). Because the trial court found that the State failed to bring Chesnut to trial within 180 days after the prosecutor's office actually received the request for disposition, the trial court employed the mandatory remedy of dismissal of the untried indictment.

The State appeals the dismissal of its indictment. The State has filed a single brief in which it raises an issue common to all of its appeals.<sup>1</sup> It argues that because the request for final disposition was not received by the court until the hearing on Chesnut's motion to dismiss, the 180-day time period set forth in the statute had not expired, and, therefore, the trial court erred in dismissing the indictment. We addressed this issue in detail in our opinion of this date on the State's appeal in cause number 06-13-00107-CR. For the reasons stated therein, we likewise conclude that the trial court's dismissal of the indictment in this case was proper.

We affirm the trial court's judgment.
