

IN THE TENTH COURT OF APPEALS

No. 10-15-00426-CR

IN RE STEVEN JAMES PEREZ

Original Proceeding

MEMORANDUM OPINION

In this original proceeding Steven James Perez seeks mandamus relief against the district clerk. Emmett states that the clerk refused to file Perez’s “Motion for Speedy Trial documentation.” A court of appeals has no jurisdiction to issue a writ of mandamus against a district clerk except to protect or enforce the court’s jurisdiction. See TEX. GOV’T CODE ANN. § 22.221 (West 2004); In re Simmonds, 271 S.W.3d 874, 879 (Tex. App.—Waco 2008, orig. proceeding). We dismiss Perez’s writ of mandamus against the clerk for want of jurisdiction.
