

ARKANSAS COURT OF APPEALS

DIVISION II

No. CA09-350

ALPHONSO REID,

APPELLANT

V.

ARKANSAS DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES,

APPELLEE

Opinion Delivered 18 NOVEMBER 2009

APPEAL FROM THE MILLER
COUNTY CIRCUIT COURT,
[NO. JV-2008-262-1]

HONORABLE JOE E. GRIFFIN, JUDGE

AFFIRMED

D. P. MARSHALL JR., Judge

Alphonso Reid appeals from an order adjudicating his daughters, A.R. and C.R., dependent-neglected after DHS took them and other children into emergency custody from the Tony Alamo Christian Ministries compound in Fouke, Arkansas, in September 2008. At this adjudication hearing, the circuit court also heard the evidence concerning the daughters of Brian Broderick, and it considered some video-deposition testimony that another circuit court admitted at an adjudication hearing for the daughters of Greg Seago.

The circuit court adjudicated Reid's and Broderick's daughters dependent-neglected for the same reasons, and it imposed the same requirements on Reid as it did on Broderick. The circuit court hearing the Seago case made similar findings and reached the same result. Today, we are affirming the circuit courts' decisions in the appeals brought by Seago and Broderick. For the same reasons expressed in those opinions, we affirm the circuit court's decision finding Reid's daughters dependent-neglected.

Affirmed.

VAUGHT, C.J., and GLADWIN, J., agree.
