

SUPREME COURT OF ARKANSAS

No. CR 12-433

CHARIELL ALI GLAZE

PETITIONER

V.

HON. DAVID REYNOLDS, CIRCUIT
JUDGE

RESPONDENT

Opinion Delivered November 15, 2012

PRO SE PETITION FOR WRIT OF
MANDAMUS [FAULKNER COUNTY
CIRCUIT COURT, 23CR 09-454, 23CR
09-1138]

REMANDED.

PER CURIAM

Petitioner Chariell Ali Glaze, proceeding pro se, sought a writ of mandamus and other relief on claims that the respondent, the Honorable David Reynolds, Circuit Judge, had failed to promptly act on pro se pleadings in two criminal cases filed against petitioner in the Faulkner County Circuit Court. We previously disposed of some of those claims, but requested an amended response on petitioner's claims concerning the disposition of certain pro se pleadings in one of the two cases, CR 09-454. Glaze v. Reynolds, 2012 Ark. 330 (per curiam).

Judge Reynolds's amended response includes an order of findings and conclusions of law that relies on a new sentencing order entered May 8, 2012, in CR 09-454. The problem, however, is that we deemed that order and the one entered in CR 09-1138 invalid.¹ See Glaze, 2012 Ark. 330. We therefore remand the matter to the circuit court for entry of a sentencing order reflecting an appropriate disposition in CR 09-454 and request the circuit court provide ¹The May 8, 2012 order's invalidity stems from the fact that it reflects a negotiated plea of guilty. Glaze, however, was convicted following a jury trial, and we affirmed his convictions on appeal, while reversing and remanding solely for resentencing. See Glaze v. State, 2011 Ark. 464, ___ S.W.3d ___.
