Decided: December 20, 2017

Before VAUGHN, SEITZ, and TRAYNOR, Justices.

ORDER

This 20th day of December 2017, having considered the notice to show cause and the appellant's response, it appears to the Court that:

(1) On December 5, 2017, the appellant, Robert Piper, filed a notice of appeal from an August 25, 2017 Court of Common Pleas order sentencing him for a violation of probation. The Senior Court Clerk issued a notice directing Piper to show cause why his appeal should not be dismissed based on this Court's lack of jurisdiction to consider an appeal directly from the Court of Common Pleas. In his response to the notice to show cause, Piper argues the merits of his appeal, but does not address the Court's lack of jurisdiction.

(2) Piper should have filed his notice of appeal in the Superior Court within fifteen days of sentencing.¹ This Court has no jurisdiction to consider a criminal appeal directly from the Court of Common Pleas.² Piper's appeal must therefore be dismissed.

NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS ORDERED, under Supreme Court Rule 29(b), that this appeal is DISMISSED.
