Re: The Authors Guild v. Google, Inc. (13-4829-cv)

Dear Madame Clerk,

Please take notice that The National Press Photographers Association's description, listed in paragraph 5 of the Appendix to our Amicus Brief (ECF Docket # 69), has been updated as follows:

“The National Press Photographers Association (“NPPA”) is a 501(c)(6) non-profit organization dedicated to the advancement of visual journalism in its creation, editing and distribution. NPPA’s approximately 7,000 members include television and still photographers, editors, students and representatives of businesses that serve the visual journalism industry. Since its founding in 1946, the NPPA has vigorously promoted and defended the rights of photographers and journalists, including intellectual property rights and freedom of the press in all its forms, especially as it relates to visual journalism.”

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Respectfully,

s/Mary E. Rasenberger
