PER CURIAM:

Monica Serwaah, a native and citizen of Ghana, seeks review of an order of the Board of Immigration Appeals dismissing her appeal of the Immigration Judge's decision denying relief from removal. We have reviewed the administrative record and find that Serwaah's procedural due process claim, her challenge to the denial of voluntary departure, and her claim that the time period calculation for the relief sought was miscalculated were not properly exhausted before the Board, and thus are not subject to review. See 8 U.S.C. § 1252(d)(1) (2006). Next, we have considered Serwaah's challenge to the agency finding that she failed to qualify for cancellation of removal and find her claims to be without merit. See 8 U.S.C. § 1229b(b)(1)(B) (2006).

Accordingly, we dismiss in part and deny in part the petition for review. We dispense with oral argument because the facts and legal contentions are adequately presented in the materials before the court and argument would not aid the decisional process.
