Assistant United States Attorney, Baltimore, Maryland, for Appellee.

Unpublished opinions are not binding precedent in this circuit.

PER CURIAM:

Regina Juanita Fletcher seeks to appeal the magistrate judge's final order* upholding the Commissioner of Social Security's denial of benefits. In civil cases like Fletcher's, parties are accorded sixty days after entry of the district court's final judgment or order to note an appeal. Fed. R. App. P. 4(a)(1)(B). The order that Fletcher seeks to appeal was entered on September 24, 2012. Fletcher thus had sixty days, or until Friday, November 23, 2012, to file a notice of appeal. Nevertheless, Fletcher did not file a notice of appeal until December 7, 2012 – two weeks too late.

Because "the timely filing of a notice of appeal in a civil case is a jurisdictional requirement," we lack jurisdiction to consider Fletcher's claims. Bowles v. Russell, 551 U.S. 205, 214 (2007). Accordingly, we dismiss this appeal for lack of jurisdiction. We deny leave to proceed in forma pauperis. We dispense with oral argument because the facts and legal contentions are adequately presented in the materials before this court and argument would not aid the decisional process.

DISMISSED

* Fletcher consented to the exercise of jurisdiction by the magistrate judge, as permitted by 28 U.S.C. § 636(c) (2006).
