PER CURIAM:

Yawa Mawuse Beatrice Agbenu, a native and citizen of Togo, petitions for review of an order of the Board of Immigration Appeals ("Board") dismissing her appeal from the immigration judge's decision denying her requests for asylum, withholding of removal and withholding under the Convention Against Torture ("CAT").¹ We have thoroughly reviewed the record, including Agbenu's testimony, her documentary exhibits, and her supporting statements and conclude that the record evidence does not compel a ruling contrary to any of the administrative findings of fact, see 8 U.S.C. § 1252(b)(4)(B) (2012), and that substantial evidence supports the Board's decision. See Figeroa v. INS, 886 F.2d 76, 78 (4th Cir. 1989); INS v. Elias-Zacarias, 502 U.S. 478, 481 (1992). Accordingly, we deny the petition for review for the reasons stated by the Board.² See In re: Agbenu (B.I.A. Jan. 3, 2014). We dispense with oral argument because the facts and legal contentions are adequately presented in the materials before this court and argument would not aid the decisional process.

¹ This case has returned to the court after we granted the Attorney General's unopposed motion to remand to the Board.

² Agbenu does not challenge the Board's finding that she waived review of the denial of relief under the CAT. Accordingly, review of that issue is waived. Ngarurih v. Ashcroft, 371 F.3d 182, 189 n.7 (4th Cir. 2004).
