PER CURIAM:

Kwamane Monte Everett, a federal prisoner, appeals the district court's order denying relief on Everett's 28 U.S.C. § 2241 (2012) petition. The district court referred this case to a magistrate judge pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1)(B) (2012). The magistrate judge recommended dismissing Everett's petition and advised him that failure to file timely, specific objections to the recommendation could waive appellate review of a district court order based upon the recommendation.

The timely filing of specific objections to a magistrate judge's recommendation is necessary to preserve appellate review of the substance of that recommendation when the parties have been warned of the consequences of noncompliance. See Massey v. Ojaniit, 759 F.3d 343, 352 (4th Cir. 2014); see also Thomas v. Arn, 474 U.S. 140, 155 (1985). Here, Everett has waived appellate review by failing to file objections. Accordingly, we grant leave to proceed in forma pauperis and affirm the judgment of the district court. We dispense with oral argument because the facts and legal contentions are adequately presented in the materials before this court and argument would not aid the decisional process.
