No. 12-50823

Powell now seeks leave to proceed in forma pauperis (IFP) on appeal to challenge the denial of his motion for a reduction of sentence pursuant to § 3582(c). By so moving, Powell challenges the district court's certification that his appeal was not taken in good faith. See Baugh v. Taylor, 117 F.3d 197, 202 & n.24 (5th Cir. 1997).

Powell contends that the provisions of the Fair Sentencing Act (FSA), which amended the amounts of crack needed to trigger statutory minimum sentences, should apply to him. Powell's argument fail. The district court lacked authority to reduce his sentence below the statutory minimum sentence of 10 years. See United States v. Carter, 595 F.3d 575, 578-81 (5th Cir. 2010). His argument that he is entitled to a reduction in light of the FSA is without merit. Cf. Dorsey v. United States, 132 S. Ct. 2321, 2335-36 (2012) (“[I]n federal sentencing the ordinary practice is to apply new penalties to defendants not yet sentenced.”).

Powell has failed to demonstrate a nonfrivolous issue for appeal. Accordingly, his motion for leave to proceed IFP is denied, and the appeal is dismissed as frivolous. See Baugh, 117 F.3d at 202 & n.24; 5TH CIR. R. 42.2.

IFP MOTION DENIED; APPEAL DISMISSED.
