UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

Plaintiff-Appellee

v.

ALBERTO RIVERA-NEVAREZ,

Defendant-Appellant

_____
Appeal from the United States District Court for the Northern District of Texas
USDC No. 5:14-CR-57-1
_____

Before STEWART, Chief Judge, and PRADO and HAYNES, Circuit Judges.

PER CURIAM:*

Alberto Rivera-Nevarez appeals the 27-month within-guidelines sentence he received following his guilty plea to illegal reentry, in violation of 8 U.S.C. § 1326. For the first time on appeal, he contends that his sentence is procedurally unreasonable because the district court failed to adequately explain the reasons for the sentence imposed, specifically failing to address his mitigation argument.

* Pursuant to 5TH CIR. R. 47.5, the court has determined that this opinion should not be published and is not precedent except under the limited circumstances set forth in 5TH CIR. R. 47.5.4.

No. 14-11156

Because Rivera-Nevarez did not raise the objection below, review is for plain error only. See United States v. Mondragon-Santiago, 564 F.3d 357, 361 (5th Cir. 2009). To establish plain error, Rivera-Nevarez must show a forfeited error that is clear or obvious and that affects his substantial rights. Puckett v. United States, 556 U.S. 129, 135 (2009). Even if he makes such a showing, this court has the discretion to correct the error but will do so only if it seriously affects the fairness, integrity, or public reputation of judicial proceedings. Id.

Given that the sentence imposed was within the guidelines range, little explanation of the sentence was required, and the district court's statement, in response to Rivera-Nevarez's plea for a more lenient sentence, that a sentence at the high end of the guidelines range was necessary for just punishment and deterrence was sufficiently explanatory. See Rita v. United States, 551 U.S. 338, 356-57 (2007). Moreover, even if it is assumed that the district court's statement amounted to clear or obvious error, the error is not reversible given that Rivera-Nevarez has not shown that his substantial rights were affected. See United States v. Whitelaw, 580 F.3d 256, 262-63 (5th Cir. 2009); Mondragon-Santiago, 564 F.3d at 365. To the extent that Rivera-Nevarez argues that Whitelaw was wrongly decided, the argument is unavailing. See United States v. Walker, 302 F.3d 322, 325 (5th Cir. 2002).

The judgment of the district court is AFFIRMED.
