SANTIAGO DIAZ,
Plaintiff-Appellant,

v.

EVELYN BLANCHARD, et al.,
Defendants-Appellees.

Appeal from the United States District
Court for the Southern District of Illinois.

No. 18-cv-1426-RJD

Reona J. Daly,
Magistrate Judge.

ORDER

Santiago Diaz, an Illinois prisoner, sued state prison officials and medical personnel at Lawrence Correctional Center for deliberate indifference in treating his broken hand. See 42 U.S.C. § 1983. The district court dismissed certain defendants early in the litigation and ultimately entered summary judgment for the remaining defendants, concluding that Diaz produced no evidence that they had acted with deliberate indifference.

* We have agreed to decide the case without oral argument because the appeal is frivolous. FED. R. APP. P. 34(a)(2)(A).

Diaz has filed an appellate brief that does not engage with the district court's reasoning for granting summary judgment. Rather, he requests that we review the dismissal of his complaint, the amended version of which he appends to his brief. Although we construe pro se filings liberally, an appellate brief must contain a discernible argument with citations to supporting authority. FED. R. APP. P. 28(a)(8); ShIPLEY v. CHI. Bd. of Election Comm'rs, 947 F.3d 1056, 1062–63 (7th Cir. 2020). His failure to develop any argument results in dismissal. See Anderson v. Hardman, 241 F.3d 544, 545–46 (7th Cir. 2001).
