Submitted: March 22, 2010

Filed: March 25, 2010

Before WOLLMAN, RILEY, and GRUENDER, Circuit Judges.

PER CURIAM.

In this appeal after remand, Rhonda and Keith Thompson challenge the district court’s¹ denial of their motion to award a statutory penalty, attorney fees, and prejudgment interest against their insurer, Southern Farm Bureau Casualty Insurance Company. After careful review, we find no basis for reversal. See All-Ways Logistics, Inc. v. USA Truck, Inc., 583 F.3d 511, 518 (8th Cir. 2009) (district court’s denial of prejudgment interest reviewed for abuse of discretion); Dupps v. Travelers

¹The Honorable James M. Moody, United States District Judge for the Eastern District of Arkansas.

Ins. Co., 80 F.3d 312, 313 (8th Cir. 1996) (de novo review of district court's application of state law); Running M Farms, Inc. v. Farm Bureau Mut. Ins. Co., 265 S.W.3d 740, 745 (Ark. 2007); State Farm Mut. Ins. Co. v. Thomas, 871 S.W.2d 571, 573 (Ark. 1994). Accordingly, we affirm. See 8th Cir. R. 47B.
