the district court's¹ interlocutory order denying their motion for summary judgment based on qualified immunity. Upon careful de novo review, we agree with the district court that the existence of a genuine issue of material fact precluded qualified immunity. See Nance v. Sammis, 586 F.3d 604, 609 (8th Cir. 2009) (denial of qualified immunity is reviewed de novo; denial of qualified immunity will be affirmed if genuine issue of material fact exists as to whether reasonable officer could have believed his actions were lawful); see also Plumhoff v. Rickard, 134 S. Ct. 2012, 2019-20 (2014) (court of appeals had interlocutory jurisdiction where officers contended their conduct did not violate Fourth Amendment and, in any event, did not violate clearly established law). Accordingly, we affirm.

¹The Honorable Robert T. Dawson, United States District Judge for the Western District of Arkansas.
