counsel has moved for leave to withdraw and has filed a brief challenging the substantive reasonableness of the sentence.

We conclude that the sentence was not an abuse of discretion. See United States v. Valure, 835 F.3d 789, 790 (8th Cir. 2016) (observing that the district court’s revocation sentencing decisions are reviewed for an abuse of discretion). There is no indication that the district court failed to consider a relevant factor, gave significant weight to an improper or irrelevant factor, or committed a clear error of judgment. See United States v. Larison, 432 F.3d 921, 923 (8th Cir. 2006) (setting forth the considerations for the substantive reasonableness of a sentence); see also United States v. Michels, 49 F.4th 1146, 1148-49 (8th Cir. 2022) (concluding that a revocation sentence above the Guidelines range was not an abuse of discretion).

Accordingly, we grant counsel’s motion to withdraw, and affirm the judgment.
