MEMORANDUM*

On Petition for Review of an Order of the Board of Immigration Appeals

Submitted October 15, 2013**

substantial evidence the agency's factual findings, applying the standards governing adverse credibility determinations created by the REAL ID Act. Shrestha v. Holder, 590 F.3d 1034, 1039 (9th Cir. 2010). We deny in part and dismiss in part the petition for review.

Substantial evidence supports the agency's adverse credibility determination based on the difference between Wang's statement and testimony regarding her alleged past abortion, and the discrepancies in her testimony regarding her employment at Quilin. See id. at 1045-48 (adverse credibility determination was reasonable under "totality of the circumstances"). Wang's explanations, including memory problems, do not compel a contrary result. See Lata v. INS, 204 F.3d 1241, 1245 (9th Cir. 2000). In the absence of credible testimony, Wang's asylum and withholding of removal claims based on her alleged past abortion fail. See Farah v. Ashcroft, 348 F.3d 1153, 1156 (9th Cir. 2003).

We lack jurisdiction to consider any argument Wang now makes about a future fear of sterilization because she did not raise this to the BIA. See Barron v. Ashcroft, 358 F.3d 674, 678 (9th Cir. 2004).
