1 So to make sure they have adequate liquidity to meet their
2 obligations, particularly payroll, the state felt it
3 appropriate to make sure there was always $50,000,000 in 4 reserve if it turned out that the city had misestimated its 5 cash reserves, the state could step in and help.

6 Q Pardon me, but what was --

7 A The state could step in and release this money in an 8 emergency.

9 Q You say that revenues came in in a lumpy way. What does 10 that mean?

11 A Well, the city -- well, the city relies on four primary
12 streams of revenue. Gaming tax revenue, state revenue share,
13 property tax, and income tax.

14 Property tax income in particular comes in on a round
15 about quarterly basis because that's when assessments are 16 made. Income taxes come in likewise in a fairly irregular
17 fashion. The only revenue that is predictable and coherent is 18 gaming revenue. Because it is being collected by the casinos
19 on behalf of the city and remitted to the city pursuant to a
20 fairly complex set of accounts on a monthly basis.

21 Q And so there will be times when the city is more flush
22 than others?

23 A Correct.

24 Q Or more importantly less flush?

1 that's a leading question that is necessary.

2 THE COURT: The objection is sustained.

3 Q What were the terms of your engagement for the city at 4 that time? What were you asked to do, what did you set out to 5 do?

6 A We agreed to provide general financial advisory services.
7 There were no transactions contemplated or built into our
8 engagement. We were providing corporate financial advice only 9 for $150,000 a month.

10 Q When you say that -- when you distinguish between general
11 financial service and no transactional fees built in, what 12 difference does that make to an engagement for a firm such as 13 yours?

14 A Well, when we begin an engagement for a government or a 15 company and we don't know what we might have to do, we 16 normally agree to provide general financial advice, just 17 diagnosis, a set of recommendations with no presumption that 18 we are going be hired to do any transactions as a result of 19 that because not only does it protect the client from knowing
20 that our advice is in any way biased, it protects our firm.
21 Because we don't want to agree to provide a transaction
22 service unless we really believe A, we can execute it, and B,
23 it's actually needed.

24 Q So upon your appointment, what did you first do to get
25 your arms around the problem?

1 A Well, the first thing we did was refresh our
2 understanding of the city's financial condition and having
3 worked with Jack and Chris nine months earlier, we had a very
4 strong understanding of their condition. We wanted to revisit
5 that which we did.

6 We then sat down with the other advisors to the city at 7 that time, Ernst and Young and Conway, MacKenzie, and reviewed
8 together the city's reform program and quickly agreed on a
9 number of different projects that had to be done collectively
10 so we could form a coherent understanding of the city's short
11 term and long term financial condition.

12 Q From that point forward, what was the working 13 relationship between you and the other advisors, Ernst and 14 Young and Conway, MacKenzie?

15 A Very collaborative and close. We were on the phone with 16 them probably on a daily basis, either myself or my team.
17 Because it's a very integrated advisory challenge.

18 We as the financial strategists can't do our job unless 19 we have good information from the city which has to focus on 20 two primary areas. One, the short term liquidity position of 21 the city. We have to make sure that at all times the city can 22 operate in the ordinary course because it is pointless to try
23 to address the long term issues unless you have the cash to 24 give you the time to do so. That was a primary responsibility
25 of Ernst and Young.

1 Secondly, and also related again to the March 2012
2 agreement, we needed to understand exactly the costs and
3 timing of implementing the reform program. There had been no
4 budget created by the city during that period of time to 5 address any of the issues in Annex B.

6 And therefore in order to form a long term financial 7 strategy for the city, we needed to know how much capital we 8 would need to raise from whatever source for the city to 9 implement that program. And that was Conway, MacKenzie's
10 primary responsibility.

11 Q Were you the -- were you personally the leader of this 12 integrated team of restructuring professionals?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And you said before that this is a complex task and you
15 need specialized help. Did you come to a conclusion in their 16 respective fields as to whether you had the right help, in 17 E & Y, and Conway, MacKenzie?

18 A From a financial perspective, I thought we had an 19 excellent team that could adequately address all the financial 20 and operational issues of the city.

21 Q And as you went forward to make judgments and to give 22 strategic advice to the city, were you relying on the advice
23 and the work of Conway, MacKenzie and E & Y?

24 A Yes.

25 Q In terms of analyzing the finances of the city at that 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 753 of

1 time, what preliminary conclusions did you draw?

2 A Well, we were very concerned about the city's ability to
3 operate in the ordinary course for a number of reasons. The 4 first one which I was aware of because of my earlier work for 5 the city, was the default to the swap counter parties.

6 The city in 2009 had entered into a agreement with the 7 swap providers that were giving interest rate swap protection
8 to the certificate of participation bonds that had gone
9 against the city. That is the present value of those swap
10 contracts was a significant cost to the city, not a benefit.

11 In 2009, because of a default at that time, the city
12 settled that default by granting a collateral interest in the 13 gaming revenues to UBS and Bank of America, and Merrill Lynch.
14 However, because of another credit downgrade in March of 2012,
15 the city was again in default to those banks. I was very --

16 MS. GREEN: To the extent that he is testifying to 17 the legal conclusion of what was a benefit --

18 THE COURT: Speak into the mike.

19 MS. GREEN: I object to -- to the extent that he's 20 testifying to a legal conclusion of what constitutes an event
21 of default under the swap contracts.

22 THE COURT: Okay. I don't understand him to be
23 testifying to that, so the objection is overruled.

24 MS. GREEN: Thank you, Your Honor.

25 THE COURT: You may continue, sir.

1 A Thank you. I was very concerned about this uncured
2 default and the threat that at any moment the swap counter
3 parties could exercise their remedies and block the city's 4 access to its gaming revenues which was and still is the 5 highest quality source of revenue the city has. Approximately 6 $180,000,000 a year which represents close to 20% of its 7 annual budget.

8 And that was an immediate issue that we addressed and we 9 had to deal with in order to preserve the city's ability to 10 operate while we were trying to figure out what the long term
11 strategy should be.

12 Q Now, did you go about -- did you do anything to evaluate 13 the assets of the city?

14 A We did. Together with the city and again we had a lot of 15 familiarity with the city because of our earlier work.

16 Q I'm just talking about this -- in this initial phase.

17 A Oh, yeah.

18 Q When you were first getting yourself oriented.

19 A We had begun to do what we always do is to address the 20 city's assets and liabilities to understand what value did we 21 have to work with to settle with the city's creditors and 22 perhaps monetized to create incremental liquidity for the city
23 to operate.

24 So we began to examine all of the city's assets to

1 essential for city operations, and could be available for
2 sale. And if they were available for sale, how much could be
3 realized.

4 Q Okay. Did you at that point evaluate the time necessary
5 to effectuate a sale and turn an asset into cash?

6 A Yes.

7 Q Now at the time you came into your responsibilities as 8 head of this restructuring effort for the City of Detroit, was 9 there talk about the possibility of Chapter 9?

10 A Yes.

11 Q Could you describe that for me?

12 A Well, when a company or government is in default the 13 threat of bankruptcy is always real. The lack of cash is 14 normally what would push a company into a Chapter 11. In the 15 case of a government it's more complex.

16 But clearly we had to be concerned about that being a --
17 a necessary way of protecting the city given this uncured
18 default of the swap banks. And in January of this year that 19 was our primary concern.

20 Q What was your primary concern?

21 A That the swap banks could take unilateral action to 22 deprive of us of access to the gaming revenues and that would
23 cause the city incredible damage because it would immediately
24 have to make massive cut backs to services. And we weren't
25 sure what we would do about it. So we had to consider Chapter

1 9 as an alternative to protect the city.

2 Q As a result of your initial review of the city's
3 position, what was your first set of advice to the city about
4 what more they should do or what more you should do?

5 A Well, in addition to accelerating our analysis of the 6 city's financial condition, which we obviously had undertaken
7 to do, we recommended that the city consider bringing in a law
8 firm with the multi-disciplinary skills and experience to help
9 the city with contingency planning for whatever might occur.

10 Q And did you give specific instructions to either E & Y or 11 Conway, MacKenzie in terms of what they should try to 12 accomplish in the short term?

13 A I did.

14 Q Let's start with E & Y.

15 A With E & Y, I suggested to them even though their RFP had 16 only required them to do a five year forecast, that really we 17 should extend that to ten years. For a city or a government
18 to look at a long term financial picture, the longer you can
19 look out the safer you are in terms of understanding what you
20 need to do. Five years is simply too short a period for any 21 realistic appraisal of its performance.

22 And they agreed to extend out their analysis to ten years
23 even though that did impose a significantly higher burden on 24 them. And we also recommended to both Conway and E & Y that

25 we collectively try to form our conclusions about the 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 757 of

1 financial condition of the city as soon as possible given its
2 continued financial stress and the uncured nature of this
3 default. We needed to move as fast as we could to figure out
4 what the true picture of Detroit's condition was.

5 Q And to get a ten year picture of Detroit's condition,
6 what options were available to you at that time in terms of 7 resources in addition to or besides E & Y?

8 A Well, we had access to the city of course and they were
9 very cooperative in giving us information about their cost
10 structure in particular. But there really were no good
11 projections of revenues.

12 We had to go and do the best we could with information
13 that was available to us. In particular and it turned out
14 fortuitously Ernst and Young has a group in Washington which 15 is probably the country's leading experts in revenue, policy,
16 and tax analysis for municipalities and states.

17 So we were able to avail ourselves of that resource as 18 well in terms of developing a revenue forecast for the city,
19 particularly with respect to property and income tax
20 collections.

21 Q And did you feel that you had a competent team in E & Y
22 to do this?

23 A Yes.

24 Q Did you tell them what you were going to use it for?

25 A Yes.

1 Q Did you intend to rely on it?

2 A I did.

3 Q And did you rely on it?

4 A I did.

5 Q And do you, as you sit here now, feel justified in your 6 reliance upon it?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Did there come a time when Detroit turned its attention
9 to hiring legal counsel?

10 A Yes.

11 Q What was your involvement in that process?

12 A Well, about a week after we had been officially retained,
13 I met with the city and we concluded that at a minimum the 14 city needed to focus on strategies, particularly legal 15 strategies to protect itself from the swap banks in terms of 16 any actions they might take to take the gaming revenues away.

17 It was their conclusion that bringing in another law
18 firm, at least considering bringing another law firm in to 19 supplement other attorneys already working for the city was a
20 sensible thing to consider. They asked me to recommend firms
21 that might meet the qualifications required.

22 So we basically gave them a list of law firms that we 23 felt had all the qualifications to provide the full range of 24 services the city might require under any scenario.

25 Q And how many law firms were there?

1 A Well, I think we ended up with about 14 or 15 law firms.
2 Many of them were well known to the city having done work for
3 them before. The rest were so-called national law firms that 4 had had very little exposure to the city but did have the 5 experience in complex reorganizations, has had some experience
6 with Chapter 9's, had a lot of experience with out of Court
7 restructurings.

8 In addition to that had sufficient familiarity with 9 health care regulation and pension reform to deal with those 10 issues as well.

11 Q Was there a meeting at which these law firms presented
12 themselves?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Were you at that meeting?

15 A I was.

16 Q Who else was at that meeting?

17 A Well, we had a large group from both the state and the 18 city represented there for the purpose of interviewing the law
19 firms they did not know.

20 As I testified earlier, the city already knew quite a few
21 law firms, especially in Detroit that it was quite comfortable
22 with. They did not feel they needed to interview those firms
23 again. So they interviewed the firms they did not know.

24 And I was present at that meeting with Andrew Dillon,

1 Deputy Treasurer, Braum Stibitz, which is S-t-i-b-i-t-z who
2 was a Senior Advisor to the Treasurer. And Richard Baird who
3 my understanding at the time was he was the Governor's aid for 4 Human Resources and things like that.

5 And from the city we had Chris Andrews, Program Managing 6 Director, Jack Martin, CFO, and I believe we had somebody from 7 the legal department, but I can't recall their name. Oh, I
8 apologize, we had two members also from the financial advisory 9 board, Sandy Pierce and Ken Whipple.

10 Q In your understanding, who was to make the decision?

11 A The city.

12 Q And what was your input into this decision?

13 A After the interviews were over, the city asked us to put 14 together a comparison sheet laying out the qualifications of 15 all the law firms that have interviewed, and giving them for 16 lack of a better word, a qualitative assessment of their 17 relatives strengths and weaknesses which we did provide.

18 Q And was there another meeting after that at which the 19 actual selection was made?

20 A The initial presentations were on a Friday. I believe it 21 was January 29th. And then the selection meeting was the 22 following Friday.

23 Q Were you at that meeting?

24 A No. My plane was stuck on the ground at LaGuardia and 25 even though I had been invited, I didn't attend.

1 Q And do you know who -- do you know who was at that
2 meeting?

3 A I believe it was largely the same group that had done the 4 interviews.

5 Q And were you informed of the result?

6 A I was told that the city had selected Jones, Day.

7 Q Did you have any role in selecting or suggesting the 8 emergency manager?

9 A No.

10 THE COURT: All right, sir. Let's pause now for our 11 afternoon recess. It's 3:30, we'll resume at 3:45 please.

12 (WITNESS KENNETH BUCKFIRE WAS TEMPORARILY EXCUSED AT 3:28
13 P.M.)

14 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in recess.

15 (Court in Recess at 3:29 p.m.; Resume at 3:45 p.m.)

16 THE CLERK: Court is in session. Please be seated.

17 MR. CULLEN: Mr. Buckfire.

18 THE COURT: One second, please.

19 MR. CULLEN: I'm sorry.

20 THE COURT: It appears everyone's present. You may 21 proceed.

22 MR. CULLEN: Thank you.

23 (WITNESS KENNETH BUCKFIRE RESUMED THE STAND AT 3:45 P.M.)

24 BY MR. CULLEN:

25 Q Mr. Buckfire, as Ernst and Young worked on these cash
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 762 of

1 projections, did they keep you informed of their progress?

2 A Yes, they did.

3 Q Was there any particular one of these projections that
4 stands out in your mind as having significance to this matter?

5 A Yes. In early May of this year they showed me a draft 12
6 month cash flow forecast.

7 Q And what did that cash flow forecast indicate to you?

8 A Well, it indicated to me that the city's cash position
9 was far worse than I had ever feared. That the city would 10 effectively be operating with no cash by the end of that 11 period of time even on the current projections which 12 incorporated certain deferrals of expenses that in the 13 ordinary course they should not be making.

14 And I was very alarmed about this because I was acutely
15 aware of the fact we still had no solution to the default
16 under the swap agreements. And that at any moment the city's 17 ability to provide services could be eliminated.

18 Q How -- how would you describe the city's cash situation
19 at that time as presented in those projections?

20 A The city had minimal cash. They had a few tens of 21 millions of dollars. It was erratic. They had no real 22 ability to project because as I testified earlier cash would 23 come in in a somewhat lumpy and unpredictable manner. And so
24 at any given time the city could find itself with no cash.

25 Q Were those cash flow projections memorialized in a -- any 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 763 of

1 of the documents in this case?

2 A Yes.

3 Q If I could show you Exhibit 75 at Page 40. If you could 4 blow up the numbers there, please. And you could put the 5 thing below too. Are these the numbers that you just 6 testified to?

7 A Yes, they are.

8 Q Could you tell us what your understanding was at the time
9 based upon these numbers?

10 MR. SHERWOOD: Your Honor, I -- I object to this
11 witness' testifying about forecasted receipts for the period
12 set forth there. That is the -- the proper subject for expert
13 testimony and this is a lay witness.

14 MR. CULLEN: May I lay some foundational questions,
15 Your Honor?

16 THE COURT: Okay.

17 Q In your work as a restructuring analyst, do you normally
18 commission cash flow forecasts?

19 A Routinely.

20 Q Is it one of the ordinary tools of your trade?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Do you make decisions based on those cash flow forecasts?

23 A I make recommendations based on these forecasts, yes.

24 Q And when you make those forecasts, what kind of people do
25 you use to do them?

1 A We use -- well, we rely upon outside professionals such
2 as Ernst and Young and Conway, MacKenzie as well as the 3 finance staff of our client.

4 Q In this situation, did you think that a cash flow
5 forecast of this type was necessary for the city to have?

6 A Yes.

7 Q Was it necessary for you to make informed
8 recommendations?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And based upon these forecasts, did you indeed make 11 recommendations to the city about its strategy in the 12 restructuring?

13 A I did.

14 Q And did you have any other -- any better options
15 available to you at that time to make this kind of a cash flow
16 forecast which you said was necessary to your job on behalf of 17 the city?

18 A No.

19 MR. CULLEN: I'd -- I'd move the admission of this 20 cash flow forecast, Your Honor.

21 THE COURT: What's the exhibit number?

22 MR. CULLEN: The exhibit number is 75, Page 40.

23 It's the financial operating plan, Page 40 of -- of same.

24 (City's Exhibit 75 was identified)

1 specifically designed so that when a party offers testimony
2 requiring expertise, knowledge, tools of the trade, the trade
3 of this witness is not a simple trade. It requires expertise,
4 experience and so forth.

5 And just because he relied on these and he does, it does
6 not take this outside of the scope of -- of Rule 702 and --
7 and frankly I just think this is sort of an end run around the 8 Court's decision to deny the -- the testimony or not give 9 weight to the testimony with respect to the projections of 10 Ernst and Young.

11 MR. MONTGOMERY: Your Honor, could I join for a
12 moment if I might? May I join in the objection?

13 THE COURT: Of course you may. I'm not sure why you
14 think you need to do that, but okay.

15 MR. MONTGOMERY: I just wanted to point out one --
16 one foundation that was --

17 THE COURT: Oh, there's an additional argument you
18 want to make, okay.

19 MR. MONTGOMERY: -- missing, Your Honor. Very 20 simply that to the extent that the city was going to try to 21 rely on an officer, director, or owner type exception,
22 obviously this witness does not fall within that category.

23 THE COURT: Yeah, I don't -- I don't hear that quite 24 at issue here, but thank you. And just so the record is clear

1 A That's correct.

2 MR. CULLEN: Your Honor, if -- if I might.

3 THE COURT: And it's not otherwise in evidence at 4 this point?

5 MR. CULLEN: It is otherwise in evidence. The 6 Exhibit 75 as a whole is in evidence subject to the fight
7 about these parts of the exhibit and what they're in for and 8 what they're not in for.

9 THE COURT: All right. I -- I will admit the 10 document but for the limited purpose of establishing what this 11 witness relied upon for his work and not for purposes of 12 establishing the truth of anything in it.

13 (City's Exhibit 75 was admitted)

14 MR. CULLEN: I -- I take it, Your Honor, just to be 15 -- to be clear, that when we close up this matter depending on 16 how you rule on the motions tomorrow, that it is some 17 evidence, weight or not, of the state of the city that Mr.
18 Buckfire will testify that he believed this was the state of 19 the city. Mr. Orr will testify that he believed this was the 20 state of the city. And that they had a reasonable basis so to 21 believe. The reasonableness of their reliance on these 22 numbers is a separate issue from their -- their --

23 THE COURT: Well, it might -- it might go to good
24 faith, but on the substance of the issue for example of these 25 projections, it's not evidence of that.

1 MR. CULLEN: All right, Your Honor.

2 THE COURT: I don't know how more clear to be.

3 Q What -- what conclusions did you --

4 THE COURT: I will comment I have refrained from 5 making this comment till now, but I will make it now that 6 you've asked the question. It's actually hard for me to 7 comprehend why you didn't offer the Ernst and Young witnesses
8 who prepared these projections as experts. You may proceed.

9 MR. CULLEN: Thank you, Your Honor.

10 Q What impact did these numbers have upon your forward
11 planning and advise with respect to the Detroit restructuring?

12 A Well, we were extremely alarmed by these numbers.
13 Remember, we received these numbers in early May. We knew how 14 unpredictable the city's ability to collect property income
15 taxes were.

16 We immediately realized that in June of 2013, which was 17 only a month away from this forecast date, that the city was 18 operating on a razor's edge. If it were to make the 19 $40,000,000 bond payment on June 15th to the TOC bond holders, 20 that would only make sense if it indeed collected all of its 21 anticipated tax revenues on schedule in the amounts stipulated
22 here.

23 A $7,000,000 cushion on a budget of this magnitude is 24 almost effectively nothing. That also alarmed me because I

25 knew we still had a continuing problem with the swap banks,
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 768 of

1 Bank of America and UBS.

2 We knew we would have to negotiate some kind of agreement
3 with them to retain our access to the gaming revenues which
4 you'll see here for this short period of time is $105,000,000.
5 You'll notice how regularly it's projected to come in. And 6 that is a matter of historical record and is quite accurate.

7 The city has always been able to rely on those revenues
8 in the absence of anything else because they're collected by 9 the gaming casinos themselves. We realized that if it turned 10 out that our recommendation to the city in order to reserve --
11 to preserve cash was to not make the $40,000,000 bond payment,
12 that would be another default to the swap counter parties.

13 At that point we already had two defaults to them. The 14 original ratings downgrade of March of 2012 which had not been
15 cured, and indeed the appointment of Kevyn Orr as emergency
16 manager also in and of itself constituted an event of default.

17 The swap banks which were continuing to get paid, had not
18 shown any indication that they might change their minds.
19 Nonetheless it was a significant risk to the city. So we 20 immediately turned our attention in early May to deciding what 21 should we do about this in order to make sure the city
22 continued to have adequate cash to operate and provide 23 services.

24 Q Was there a -- were there any payments in the near future
25 that you had to decide whether to make or not?

1 A Yes. If you look at the schedule you'll notice under
2 June of '13 column -- second column to the left, there's a
3 line in the middle of the page called POC and debt related
4 payments. There's approximately a $40,000,000 payment due by 5 the city on June 15th.

6 Q And was there a decision to be made with respect to that
7 payment?

8 A There was. Given how tight the city's cash position was,
9 they only had even on the projections, 70,000,000 of cash if 10 they made that payment. We had to consider the necessity of 11 not making it in order to preserve liquidity.

12 Q Were there any other ways that you haven't discussed to 13 preserve or enhance the city's cash position in May of 2013?

14 A Well, as I testified earlier, we had looked at all of the 15 city's assets to find out if any of them could be marshaled to 16 create significant cash for the city. And that began in 17 January.

18 We revisited that in early May. We unfortunately came to 19 the same conclusion we came to in January that really there
20 was nothing that was readily convertible into cash. The city
21 effectively had mortgaged all of its real assets years before.

22 The city did have potentially $60,000,000 left in the 23 escrow account established with the state in 2012. I called 24 Senior Deputy Treasurer Saxton to ask whether that might be

25 available to the state if we really found ourselves in an

1 emergency. And he said that it would really depend on our
2 overall recommendation in dealing with the city's long term
3 financial problems.

4 Q Did you and the advisors ever come to a conclusion, a
5 consensus at any point as to whether or not the city was 6 insolvent?

7 A Yes.

8 MR. SHERWOOD: Objection. I -- I object to any 9 testimony about insolvency. This is not an expert witness and 10 it calls for a legal conclusion.

11 Q In the course of your work do you -- are you always or 12 often called upon to address that question and advise on that 13 issue?

14 A Yes.

15 Q What is your understanding of insolvency?

16 MR. SHERWOOD: Your Honor, I -- I renew the 17 objection. I assume that when this witness is called upon to 18 testify in other matters concerning insolvency, he's qualified
19 as an expert witness.

20 THE COURT: Hold on one second.

21 MR. CULLEN: Pardon me?

22 THE COURT: Hold on one second for me, please.

23 MR. CULLEN: Sure.

24 THE COURT: I do think it is appropriate to ask the

25 witness about the -- the facts that constitute insolvency

1 under 10132(c) of the Bankruptcy Code.

2 Q Did you come to the conclusion that the city was unable
3 to pay its debts as they came due?

4 A Yes.

5 Q What was the basis for that conclusion?

6 A Well, there were two sets of facts that we relied upon.
7 One was this schedule which was very short term in nature and 8 therefore we felt had to be relied upon because it wasn't very 9 long dated. And it clearly showed that the city was operating 10 on a razor's edge of liquidity.

11 Secondly, we knew because we were in constant
12 communication with the city's finance staff, that they were 13 routinely stretching out payables in an attempt to conserve
14 cash. They were not paying their trade creditors when due,
15 even at the date of the May 13 report.

16 Q In your view as of -- as of May of 19, '13, was the city
17 able to pay its debts as they came due?

18 A No. In fact they were continuing to stretch out and 19 defer payments wherever possible to conserve cash.

20 Q Was there any probability in your view of the city's 21 operations and cash flow of its remedying either of those 22 situations without aid in the foreseeable future?

23 A We didn't see a possibility of that. The city had 24 lost --

1 I object, calls for a lay opinion. Again, talking about that 2 what --

3 THE COURT: The objection is overruled. Go ahead,
4 sir.

5 A Well, as a banker the first thing we always evaluate is 6 whether a company or a government can borrow to cover a short
7 term financing requirement. And in the case of Detroit, its 8 access to the capital markets had been cut off long before.
9 The most recent downgrade made it impossible for the city to 10 borrow in the ordinary course on the markets.

11 And it in fact had nothing left to pledge to gain access
12 to capital markets. So that source of financing was closed.
13 And that's why indeed the prior year the state had to step in 14 and assist the city in raising even the 130,000,000 it did
15 raise because without that it would never have been able to do
16 it.

17 We then looked again at all of the so-called non-core
18 assets of the city and determined again whether any of those 19 could be readily converted to cash. We again came to the 20 conclusion that there was nothing of any significance that 21 could be converted to cash in the time frame required to avert
22 a cash crisis in June or July to this year.

23 Q Turning your attention now to the June 14th proposal to 24 creditors, did you have input into the strategy and concept of 25 that document?

1 A I did.

2 Q Could you tell me what your understanding of what that
3 proposal was meant to achieve was?

4 A Well, going back to the --

5 Q If it's an understandable sentence.

6 THE COURT: It's close enough.

7 A Well, going back to the consent decree of 2012 between
8 the city and the state, Annex B clearly -- the state expected
9 the city and the city agreed to review comprehensively all of 10 its operations and its long term financial stability in order
11 to come up with a strategy that would if implemented, result
12 in the rebirth and rejuvenation of the city as well as paying 13 its creditors what they were owed.

14 We were specifically tasked with working on that list of 15 activities, especially with regard to the long term
16 obligations. And when we got re-hired by the city in January 17 this year to assist with that project, we explained to the 18 city that the only way in which we could establish a proper 19 foundation to negotiate with our stakeholders, whenever that 20 deemed necessary to take advantage of, would require us to 21 give our stakeholders as much information about the city's 22 financial condition as we could.

23 And until they had as much information as we could 24 reasonably develop about the short term forecast as well as

25 the long term condition of the city, they could not be in a
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 774 of

1 position to properly evaluate whatever restructuring proposal
2 we ultimately made to them in consideration of their claims.

3 So in January when we first sat down with Ernst and Young
4 and Conway, MacKenzie, we all agreed that that would be the 5 goal toward which we would work. Would be to develop a set of 6 information that all policy makers and our stakeholders could 7 rely upon to evaluate whatever we deemed our strategy to be.
8 And that was our goal and that was our objective from January
9 until May of this year.

10 Q In terms of putting out all of the proposal and informing 11 the stakeholders of the state of the city, can you tell me
12 what your input was into the structure of the offer itself,
13 the structure of the plan?

14 A Well, the structure of the -- the restructuring proposal
15 being made in the June 14th document that was publicly made
16 available on that date, really relied upon the ten year
17 forecast that Ernst and Young had put together to show what a 18 realistic view of the city's revenues would be and that would 19 be assuming the impact of the reinvestment plan of over 20 $1,000,000,000 over the next ten years would allow the city to 21 stop its decline and set a foundation for renewal.

22 Based on the financial implications of that program, we 23 then were able to calculate what was available to give to our 24 stakeholders in consideration of their claims which in and of 25 itself was a very complicated analytical challenge because

1 until Ernst and Conway had really examined the off balance
2 sheet liabilities of the city, we really didn't know what the 3 real liabilities of the city were.

4 In our original review of 2012 we relied on publicly
5 available information which was accurate insofar as the funded
6 debt went, but we really did not know whether the projections
7 and liabilities associated with other liabilities, particular
8 health care and pension were accurate or could be relied upon.

9 And that was a very important focus of our analytical 10 work this year until the release of the June 14th plan. So our 11 role was after we received the information was to then review
12 with counsel the appropriate way to construct a offer to all
13 of our stakeholders which recognized what the city's true debt
14 capacity was and then decide what would be an appropriate way
15 of allocating that across our stakeholders.

16 Q Now, you talked about a level of services consistent with 17 sustaining the population and the tax flow revenues of the 18 city, did you not?

19 A I did.

20 Q How did you go about identifying that level of services?

21 A Well, again, going back to March of 2012, the city itself
22 had identified a long list of areas in which it felt it needed
23 to restore or invest services. Blight removal, police, fire,
24 lighting, there's a whole list of things.

1 what it would cost, nor did we know how long it would take to
2 implement any of those potential program areas.

3 And that was the primary focus of Conway, MacKenzie's
4 work together with the city's own staff was to identify 5 precisely how much it might cost to implement all of those 6 objectives.

7 Q And in terms of your previous discussions of time and
8 cash, how do they play into this June 14th proposal?

9 A Well, we had discussed with the city back in January of 10 this year what we would do once we came to a conclusion about 11 what the city really could afford in terms of its obligations
12 while reinvesting in rehabilitation. Then we explained to the 13 city that as long as we had cash, as long as we had liquidity,
14 we would be able to construct an out of Court negotiating
15 strategy that would with enough time, allow us to negotiate
16 with all of our creditors and not have to result in 17 immediately a Chapter 9 filing, although that would always 18 have to be considered if for no other reason that when 19 negotiating with creditors, if you don't let them know that 20 that's a possibility, it's hard to get them to take you
21 seriously in a negotiation to keep a country, or a city, or a
22 company out of Bankruptcy Court.

23 Q So could you make that concrete for me? How much cash
24 equals how much time?

25 A Well, normally you'd want to have enough cash to operate
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 777 of 2386

1 without interruption from the negotiations for at least six
2 months to a year.

3 Q All right. And how much money would that be in this
4 case?

5 A Several hundred million dollars.

6 Q Did the city have that?

7 A No.

8 Q If I could direct your attention to Page 41 of the --

9 A May I correct one thing? I apologize. The city did not 10 have the money, and the only way it could get the cash would 11 be not paying its unsecured obligations such as the POC bonds.

12 But that would have created another level of defaults
13 which would have brought us right back to the problem I had 14 with the swap counter parties which is they had the right
15 through their remedies to block our access to gaming revenues,
16 so if we did try to solve our liquidity problem by not paying 17 our unsecured creditors, we might immediately lose it because 18 we'd lose the gaming revenues.

19 Q Forty-one of this exhibit, Exhibit 43, Page 41.

20 A Sorry, I've lost you. What tab -- what exhibit are you 21 on?

22 Q I haven't -- I haven't asked a question yet.

23 A Oh.

24 Q All right.

1 Q It's on your screen.

2 A Oh, yes.

3 Q Does this accurately reflect what it purports to reflect,
4 the key objectives for the financial rehabilitation and
5 restructuring?

6 A Yes. These are the objectives set out to us by the city.

7 Q Were these objectives new in this report?

8 A No. These were all reflected in the consent agreement of 9 March of 2012.

10 Q Had substantial progress been made on any of these?

11 A No.

12 Q In terms of the discussions internally within the -- the 13 brain trust of the city, as I might call it that. The Mayor
14 and his advisors. What was the -- was there an intention to 15 make this proposal a take it or leave it proposition?

16 A No.

17 Q What was the intention?

18 A Well, the intention was to provide our stakeholders with 19 the best possible information about the city's true condition
20 that we could develop and we'd been working around the clock
21 on this for months.

22 We also wanted to make sure that when we did begin
23 discussing with stakeholders they would see what we thought
24 made sense for all of our stakeholders at the same time so

25 there would be no doubt the city was approaching this in the 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 779 of

1 most even handed and fair way possible.

2 Q And when you say even handed and fair, what aspect of the 3 proposal can you point to that reflects that determination or 4 that principle?

5 A Well, just to pick out one example. We felt it important
6 to start out by delineating our creditors into whether they
7 were secured or unsecured. And we proposed that our secured
8 creditors would receive 100 cent recoveries, our unsecured
9 creditors would share pro rata in what we believed was the 10 value available to them pursuant to our restructuring plan
11 which is $2,000,000,000 in notes.

12 THE COURT: Which was what?

13 A Two billion dollars of notes. That was all we calculated
14 the city could afford post this restructuring in terms of debt
15 capacity.

16 Q And have -- have you used the words in the past, pari
17 passu to explain that?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Model as well. Now, there's been a lot of discussion in 20 the case about asset sales. And you've discussed it some 21 today. But I would like to direct your attention to Pages 83
22 to 89 of Exhibit 43.

23 And take you through this list of assets so that you can
24 talk about, and I apologize for the nature of this question,

25 but I think it will move things along. So you can talk about

1 the nature of the consideration and effort given to each
2 asset, the values available, and the -- and the hurdles to be
3 overcome or -- or to be avoided in getting -- turning the 4 asset into money.

5 MR. CULLEN: If I can proceed that way, Your Honor,
6 with respect to each of the assets.

7 THE COURT: Yes, go ahead.

8 Q Detroit water and sewage.

9 A Well, Detroit -- the Detroit Water and Sewer Department
10 is a very complicated situation, had been operating under 11 Federal Court order for a very long time.

12 At the time of our engagement in January, it was still
13 operating under the supervision of the so-called Root Cause
14 Committee which was really effectively the governance body,
15 although the assets were owned by the city and are still owned 16 by the city. The city has never received any cash flow from 17 it's ownership stake.

18 The department has operated on the basis of zero profit.
19 It is allowed to recover its operating, maintenance, and debt
20 service costs from rate payers and that's all. So it's never 21 been a source of cash flow to the city.

22 And furthermore, in addition to that, we had no ability
23 to raise rates to generate cash. That would not be allowed
24 under the utilities laws of the State of Michigan.

1 overnight because as I mentioned before it was under a Court
2 order until March of this year. So we began to evaluate after
3 that Court order was, I guess, dismissed is the correct
4 phrase, whether or not we could in fact realize cash from the 5 system, but because of its public nature we recognized it
6 would be extremely complicated to do.

7 And that the only ways to do it really would be to either
8 sell it to its customers in exchange for a lease payment or a
9 pilot payment, or consider some version of a privatization.
10 We've been contacted by a number of private equity firms which 11 have expressed an interest in buying it if they could, but 12 only if they could charge higher rates to recover their own
13 costs as capital.

14 So we recognize even though this would be potentially a 15 source of great value to the city, it would be a long and 16 complex process with a low probability of success.

17 Q The Coleman Young Airport, next page. Keep going.

18 Coleman Young Airport.

19 A The airport is currently not being used for commercial
20 services. It's being used for so-called general aviation
21 only. It's a very small airport. Its runways are too -- too
22 short to allow regular commercial service by major carriers.

23 The airport itself is dilapidated and would require
24 reinvestment to bring it up to commercial standard. It's

25 effectively worth nothing. And likely not be worth anything

1 unless these reinvestments are made.

2 And we did explore it actively with one of my partners
3 who is an airlines expert. We came to the conclusion that,
4 you know, we'd have to pay someone to take it.

5 Q Move on to the Belle Isle Park if you would, please. Oh,
6 I'm sorry, Detroit Windsor Tunnel.

7 A Well, the city owns half the tunnel, Windsor owns the 8 other half. Under a prior administration, Detroit leased its 9 portion of the tunnel in exchange for a rent to equal 20% of 10 the annual revenues.

11 Last year, I believe, it collected $750,000. The city
12 has no ability to vacate the lease which runs through 2020.
13 There is no ready buyer for it. Given the lease which 14 encumbers the asset, there was no value to be realized there.
15 Indeed we recommended instead that the city audit the 16 operations of the operator to find out whether we'd be getting 17 a fair allocation of revenue. And that audit is still 18 ongoing.

19 Q Belle Isle Park.

20 A Belle Isle Park is a major park of the city. And we did
21 not believe that it would have any material value as any other
22 -- in any other application.

23 First of all, it would require re-zoning. Re-zonings
24 typically are long and complex undertakings. It is an 25 important social asset of the city.

1 Converting it into any kind of private use would again be
2 a long and contentious process. We did not believe it could
3 be converted into any form of cash at any time soon.

4 Q Next page, please. The Detroit Institute of the Arts.
5 The number of words understates the interest in the problem.
6 Could you tell us what investigations and efforts have been
7 done with respect to the Detroit Institute of Arts?

8 A Well, back in January when we first began our engagement,
9 we discovered, we had not known this before, that the City of 10 Detroit actually does own the building and the art collection
11 of the Detroit Institute of Arts which is operated on the 12 city's behalf by the DIA Corp. which is the founder society as 13 a contractor to the city.

14 We obviously were concerned about this and had to decide
15 whether or not this might be a source of value for the city.
16 I did meet with trustees and managers of the DIA in May and 17 explained to them that they should be concerned about the fact 18 that in the worst scenario the collection and the art might 19 need to be dealt with as part of a restructuring. And it
20 would be in their interest as trustees of the operator to try 21 to secure funding from whatever source they could to give to 22 the city in exchange for a protective covenant.

23 I thought that would be a clever way of realizing short 24 term cash for the city which would not necessarily require the

1 fire sale basis.

2 Q And what was the response?

3 A They told me that would be impossible, that no money was 4 available from anybody that they knew, and that it was not
5 something they would consider.

6 Q And subsequently did any office of the state weigh in on 7 this issue?

8 A Yes. The Attorney General issued an opinion that the art
9 was in a public trust and could not be used for any other
10 purpose despite the fact that a significant part of the 11 collection had been paid for by tax revenues of the City of
12 Detroit.

13 Q Has that progressed any further?

14 A Somewhat.

15 Q Has there been an attempt to value it?

16 A In our recommendation to the emergency manager,
17 Christie's, which is an internationally known auction house
18 with expertise in these matters, has been engaged in a
19 appraisal of that portion of the collection paid for by the 20 city. I expect to get a preliminary estimate from them in a 21 matter of weeks.

22 Q City owned land.

23 A Well, we originally hoped that this land could be quite
24 valuable. It's not everyday that 22 square miles within a

1 thought that should be of interest to some set of developers.

2 But again the land is in disparate parcels. It's held in
3 disparate hands. There are at last count five different
4 government entities that control different parts of the 5 property represented by this 22 square miles.

6 There is no coherent strategy for disposal, marshaling,
7 or re-development of this property. In addition, much of the 8 land is still encumbered with blight. It would require
9 significant investment to remove that blight.

10 And lastly, a lot of the land is subject to liens which 11 has not has been cleared. And the cost of clearing those 12 liens, it would not be insubstantial here. Again even though
13 individual parcels might be available for cash, there is no
14 substantial value to be realized from this today.

15 Q Parking operations.

16 A Again the city owns nine garages, many of which are being 17 operated by others. We actually are in the process of putting 18 together an auction to sell the rights to use those parking
19 garages to others.

20 I would note that many of the garages are in such a 21 dilapidated condition they are unsafe. Ironically enough the 22 garage supporting the DIA has been condemned. It has not been 23 used for any commercial purpose for a number of years because 24 it's in such bad condition. I'm not sure that anyone would

25 pay us for that.

1 Q Next one. The Joe Louis Arena.

2 A Again, you know, it's an old facility, currently
3 obsolete. We're entertaining alternatives for it, but we 4 haven't received any.

5 Q And with respect to all of these assets sale
6 possibilities, or asset monetization possibilities, had they
7 all to your knowledge been the subject of discussion before
8 they appeared in this report?

9 A Well, prior to our involvement, I can't testify to that.
10 But as we were engaged we immediately began to systemically
11 look at all these assets to find out whether any of them could 12 be turned into cash. And it was the subject of intensive 13 analysis by my firm beginning in January of this year.

14 Q All right. And --

15 MR. CULLEN: Pardon me, Your Honor.

16 Q In the -- in the proposal itself, was there any 17 discussion of what would happen to further unsecured payments
18 of debt going forward?

19 A Well, on June 14th we told the creditors, we had over 100
20 people show up at that meeting, that we had taken the decision
21 because of the city's dire cash position to not make the 22 $40,000,000 bond payment due on June 15th and that we would be 23 suspending all other unsecured debt payments for the 24 foreseeable future in order to conserve cash.

25 Q And did you view that as necessary in light of the 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 787 of

1 circumstances of the city?

2 A We did, but we also felt we could take that step because
3 we were able to negotiate an agreement in principal just prior 4 to that date with the swap banks which we felt would allow us
5 to continue to have access to our gaming revenues which is an 6 essential condition to allowing the city sufficient time to 7 negotiate with the stakeholders.

8 Q So again what was the relationship between the settlement
9 with the swap banks and the ability to negotiate?

10 A Well, the swap banks already had one uncured default, the 11 ratings downgrade, the appointment of Kevyn Orr was in and of 12 itself a default. And we knew that once we took the decision
13 to not make the bond payment, that would be another default.

14 At some point especially after the swap banks saw the 15 financial condition of the city, they might feel they had no
16 option but to be defensive in protecting their own position,
17 even if they didn't want to and block our access to gaming
18 revenues. So having an agreement with them in place prior to 19 taking a decision to not make that bond payment was crucial.

20 Q After the June 14th proposal in the public meeting at 21 which it was presented, did you make further efforts -- did
22 you make any efforts to generate counter proposals,
23 discussions, other -- other -- other interests?

24 A Yes.

25 Q What were -- could you describe generally those efforts?
2386

1 First, let me put up a -- on the screen Exhibit 44, the full
2 version of the creditor's proposal. Well, Pages 61 and 62.
3 Yeah, 61 and 62.

4 And is this the calendar that you set forth for your
5 efforts in the proposal?

6 A Yes.

7 Q Now what -- what did you personally do to try to talk to 8 contact various stakeholders?

9 A Well, we were fortunate in one respect. We had had a
10 very robust response to our invitation to the meeting on June 11 14. We had been able to identify all of the bond trustees and 12 all of the bond insurers that insured much of the city's debt.

13 They effectively could be relied upon to speak for if not
14 actually vote the interests of their underlying bond holders.
15 And so we were very happy that they all agreed to come and 16 hear our proposal because we knew we could begin our 17 discussions with them. They already were organized.

18 We also knew who could speak for the pension trusts and 19 they were invited. And we also invited union representatives
20 who we hoped could speak for both the active and retired
21 employees of the city. So they were all present on the 14th of 22 June.

23 Q And was it -- was it your desire to promote discussions
24 and counter proposals?

25 A That was the whole intent of the meeting. We had spent 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 789 of

1 months developing the financial information. We felt our
2 stakeholders deserved to be able to evaluate not only their
3 current conditions relative to the city, but evaluate the 4 proposal that we made to them at that meeting.

5 We wanted them to have exactly the same information that
6 we did. We wanted to make sure they could rely upon it to be 7 accurate. We wanted them to also understand that despite all
8 the promises had been made to both bond holders and others,
9 the city did not have the resources and likely would never 10 have the resources to honor those promises.

11 We felt they had to have information in order to 12 understand what we were asking them to do in terms of 13 compromising their claims to allow fair treatment for 14 everybody.

15 Q In the discussions you had with any of the stakeholders,
16 did you encounter any resistance to the idea of compromising
17 their claims at less than 100%?

18 A Nobody was willing to consider any proposal in which they 19 compromised their claims.

20 Q And you're saying nobody, who do you mean?

21 A Well, I was primary responsible for discussions with the 22 bond holders and other funded debt holders of the city. And I
23 would further break that down between the Detroit water and 24 sewer revenue bond holders and the general obligation and comp
25 the bond holders of the city.

1 Given our expertise as investment bankers and the fact we
2 had relationships with most of these people, that made sense.
3 So I took primary responsibility for those discussions.

4 The discussions with our other claim holders, primarily 5 the pension funds, and retirees, and active employees were led 6 by Conway, MacKenzie and Jones, Day as well as some of my 7 partners at Miller, Buckfire.

8 Q And what kind of a response did you get in those
9 discussions?

10 A Well, in speaking with the bond holders, and again I'm 11 using that between both the secured bond holders and the 12 unsecured bond holders, nobody was willing to consider any 13 compromise of their claims whatsoever.

14 In fact even the secured bond holders, that is those bond
15 holders who held debt of the Water and Sewer Department were 16 very unhappy because our plan contemplated that if we were to 17 create a new authority controlled by the customers of it, that 18 we would want to take advantage of the fact that that 19 authority could borrow at a much higher credit rating than 20 Detroit could, and even though we were going to give them 100
21 cent recovery, it would not be in the form of new bonds that 22 would have the same old interest rates.

23 In other words they wanted to have the benefit of a
24 strong investment grade rating, but retain bonds that were

1 like the proposal. I was not surprised by that, but I hoped
2 that they would at least counter with something else which 3 they did not do.

4 THE COURT: What -- what does the phrase double B
5 cost mean?

6 A It refers, Your Honor, to a credit rating. Cities as do
7 companies, borrow in the markets at a spread over the 8 so-called risk free rate, although some could argue to say,
9 I'm not sure what that is, but let's assume for the moment
10 that that's the treasury yield curve.

11 The double B cost would be perhaps a spread of 400 or 500
12 basis points over the treasury cost, whereas a single A cost
13 to borrowing might be only 100 basis points over. So the 14 difference would be obviously reflecting the risk of a lower
15 rate of credit.

16 Q Did -- did you receive any indications in your 17 discussions with any of these bond holders, that some of the 18 considerations in their negotiations or non-negotiations with 19 you, had to do with considerations that extended beyond the 20 City of Detroit?

21 A Yes. In discussions with the bond insurers who insured
22 the water and sewer debt, about five and a half billion
23 dollars of that, several of them also insured GO debt, general
24 obligation bonds of the city.

1 willing to consider any impairment of the GO bonds because
2 they believed that the GO pledge was so much more valuable in 3 every other jurisdiction of which they insured bonds, that 4 creating a precedent of impairment here would damage their 5 businesses elsewhere.

6 Q And when you say GO bonds, explain to the Court what you
7 mean.

8 A The city up until recent times, had been able to issue
9 unsecured debt that is not secured by a specific revenue
10 pledge, but secured instead by the full faith and credit
11 obligation to raise taxes sufficient to pay that debt when 12 due.

13 And there are two different kinds. Unlimited tax and 14 limited tax general obligation bonds, both of which have been
15 considered for many years to be of higher credit and less risk
16 than revenue bonds because a revenue bond is specifically
17 secured only by the revenues of a project or an authority or a
18 utility. Whereas bonds secured by taxing authority are 19 considered to be much safer because the city is required to 20 raise taxes in the ordinary course until that bond can be 21 repaid.

22 Now in the case of Detroit, of course, that's -- they've
23 come to the end of the road because on the property tax side
24 for a moment, we know that the property tax mileage that the

1 the city would have no ability to raise taxes or tax rates to
2 pay this debt.

3 That was anathema to the bond insurers because they had
4 operated, as does the municipal bond market, on the theory
5 that general obligation debts are higher -- higher credit and 6 less risky than revenue bonds.

7 We, on the other hand, when we did the math, recognized
8 the city could never begin to satisfy its unsecured
9 obligations which would include the general obligation bonds
10 and we had classified those bonds pari passu with the other 11 unsecured obligations of the city, in this case are under 12 funded pension claims and health care claims.

13 Q If I could have you take a look at Exhibit 37. Could you
14 blow that up a little bit, please? This is a set of meetings
15 that I won't go through completely. But if you'll just look
16 down the -- the left hand side and -- and across the top.

17 Can you tell me did you or representatives of Miller,
18 Buckfire participate in virtually all of these meetings?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Did the city ever receive a proposal from anybody?

21 A We did.

22 Q How many?

23 A We received I would say one and a half. One that was 24 actually written out and then to be responsive, the second was 25 really just a letter saying they'd like to come talk to us

1 again about something, but only if we would stipulate they'd
2 get 100 cent recovery.

3 Q And was that the one or the one and a half proposal that 4 was attractive enough to follow up on?

5 A No. Because they were linking any willingness to 6 negotiate on water and sewer debt to our treatment of the GO
7 bonds that they also insured.

8 Q What in your view is the alternative for the city if the 9 plan set forth in the June 14th proposal is not achieved?

10 A Well, first, the city will not be able to execute is 11 reinvestment program. It would simply not have the money.
12 That would mean the city would continue to be liquidated for 13 the benefit of its stakeholders. Revenues are likely to 14 continue to decline. Services will continue to deteriorate.
15 That would be the condition of the city in -- in the absence
16 of this plan.

17 Q Is that a long term sustainable future for Detroit?

18 A From a financial perspective, no. Because I don't 19 believe if you want to measure sustainable future as having 20 access to the capital markets, that under that scenario
21 Detroit would ever have access to capital markets. They would 22 have no credit.

23 MR. CULLEN: That's all I have, Your Honor.

24 MR. MONTGOMERY: If I may at this point. I would

1 testimony given by the witness for the last several questions
2 starting with how the capital markets are reacting, not
3 through conversations with the witness, but in general.

4 And I think this witness has given classic, wonderfully
5 prepared, rather wonderfully delivered, expert witness
6 testimony relying on hearsay, relying on specialized 7 knowledge, relying on years of accumulated talent and 8 education that this gentleman clearly has, but none of which 9 was offered prior to the pre-trial, or offered to Your Honor
10 as expert witness testimony. I believe it should be stricken.

11 MR. CIANTRA: UAW would join in that motion.

12 THE COURT: I wish you had objected at the time.

13 MR. CULLEN: Your Honor, part of our job here is to 14 set forth before the Court the story of the decisions that 15 were made and the reasons that they were made on behalf of the 16 City of Detroit.

17 This witness has done that. He was an operative figure
18 in real time. He has testified candidly as to the bases on 19 which his decisions were made, the things he looked at, the 20 advice he gave to the city as it faced these difficult
21 decisions.

22 The story cannot be -- this is a factual story. It may 23 need a man of rare experience to tell it, but it is 24 nonetheless a factual story about things that were done in

1 independent person to look at and -- a set of assumptions from
2 which to draw opinions.

3 This is the actor. This is the actor at the heart of the 4 story and he is telling his story. And as such, it has to be 5 admissible, if that as nothing else.

6 He is the man who made the recommendations. He is the 7 man who presided over the analyses. He has told that story
8 and told of the basis for making these. Because it's -- it's 9 somewhat upside down, a -- an expert witness is qualified by 10 his expertise and nothing else. That's why we let expert
11 witnesses testify only rarely and under certain circumstances,
12 but we let percipient witnesses testify all the time, all the 13 time to their experience, to what they saw and did, decided.

14 This man tells the story. And that story is a factual
15 story by a percipient witness of rare gifts, but a percipient
16 witness.

17 THE COURT: What -- what you say is good as far as 18 it goes, but it doesn't really meet the objection. Because 19 the objection is that beyond explaining what the witness did
20 and why he did it, is the question of whether that constitutes 21 proof of the truth of the facts on which he relied to -- to 22 make the decisions that he made.

23 MR. CULLEN: And -- and I would submit, Your Honor, 24 that the judgment of a sophisticated person in real time is

1 that happens in -- in virtually every -- every case.

2 THE COURT: Well, it strikes me that --

3 MR. CULLEN: Some level.

4 THE COURT: That this issue overlaps largely, if not
5 entirely, with the issue that you and your firm briefed here
6 this morning and that we're going to argue tomorrow morning.
7 So I would suggest that we hold the resolution of this until 8 then. Do you have any further questions of the witness?

9 MR. CULLEN: I -- I do not, Your Honor, at this
10 point.

11 THE COURT: All right. Counsel, do you want to 12 press ahead with cross examination at this time, or would you
13 prefer to break now and -- and resume in the morning?

14 MR. MONTGOMERY: Your Honor, my colleagues had 15 suggested that we should break until tomorrow.

16 MR. RUEGGER: Shocker.

17 THE COURT: Yeah. Apparently -- apparently there
18 was no vote for you in that, was there?

19 A I didn't want to suggest that.

20 THE COURT: Okay. Well, we will -- we will break
21 for now. It's fine. We're close enough to 5:00 and so we'll 22 reconvene at 9:00 tomorrow morning.

23 Regarding our argument tomorrow morning on the issues
24 raised here just now and by the -- the memorandum that was

1 your time to file a brief. If you want to, obviously I can't
2 prevent it. The sooner you file it, the more likely it is
3 we'll be able to read it and actually comprehend it.

4 So I would ask that if you do file something you do not
5 file it at ten minutes till 9:00 tomorrow morning, please.
6 But if there are authorities you want me to consider, feel
7 free to just bring them to Court tomorrow and we will deal as 8 best we can given the expedited nature of this.

9 MR. STEWART: Thank you, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: All right. So we'll be in recess.

11 MR. SHERWOOD: Thank you, Your Honor.

12 MR. CULLEN: Thank you, Your Honor.

13 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is adjourned.

1 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in session. Please
2 be seated. Case Number 13-53846, City of Detroit, Michigan.

3 THE COURT: Good morning, everybody.

4 ATTORNEYS: Good morning, your Honor.

5 THE COURT: I understand that the security lines
6 were long. Does anyone know of anyone we need to wait for 7 here this morning, or can we get underway?

8 MS. BRIMER: Your Honor, Ms. Patek is not here this
9 morning. I don't know if anyone --

10 THE COURT: Okay. She probably is intending to be 11 here. Let's see. She's not directly involved in this 12 evidentiary issue we were going to start with here this 13 morning, so maybe we can proceed with that. Okay. So let's
14 do that.

15 The first thing I want to place on the record is 16 that the Court did review, as necessary, the Jones Day
17 memoranda that were submitted to it in camera. The Court's 18 review of that material establishes really quite conclusively
19 that the material is attorney work product and that,
20 therefore, is not required to be disclosed by the city or its 21 counsel, and so the Court will so order.

22 In this regard, the Court will state for the record
23 that its review of that material was only cursory. That was 24 really all that was necessary, and certainly the Court will 25 not take into account anything it saw in those memoranda in

1 deciding the issue of eligibility. So, for the record, we
2 are going to return those materials to you, Mr. Stewart,
3 right now. Will you come forward and accept them from us?

4 MR. STEWART: Thank you.

5 THE COURT: Thank you. So the next order of 6 business will be for the Court to hear from counsel for the 7 objecting parties on the issue of lay versus expert testimony
8 here. And, once again, before I forget, I want to again
9 request, counsel, that -- to remind counsel really that the 10 so-called rough transcript that you all have arranged for is 11 not the official transcript. It is under no circumstances to 12 be cited in any pleading before the Court. You may cite the 13 official transcript when and if it's produced, but the rough
14 transcript is for your purposes only and is not to be cited.
15 And as a result, I'm going to ask each of you to file amended
16 memoranda that strike your references to the rough
17 transcript.

18 MR. PLECHA: Good morning, your Honor. Ryan Plecha
19 on behalf of the Retiree Association parties from Lippitt
20 O'Keefe. I just wanted to make clear on the record that 21 those objecting parties that are not making live objections
22 on the record or filing papers are relying on the evidentiary
23 objections made by those parties making those live
24 objections, and I just wanted to clarify that on the record.

25 THE COURT: Absolutely.

1 MR. PLECHA: Thank you, your Honor.

2 THE COURT: And for the record, Ms. Patek has
3 arrived, so we can proceed. Who would like to proceed?

4 MR. MONTGOMERY: Good morning. Claude Montgomery
5 for the Retiree Committee. I am rising first, your Honor,
6 because I believe today's motions -- two part. The city has 7 asked to reconsider your Honor's ruling with respect to the 8 exclusion of forecast testimony with respect to Mr. Malhotra,
9 and we have moved to strike the testimony of Mr. Buckfire as 10 having been unqualified expert testimony. And so if I may,
11 first, I would like to point out to the Court I think you
12 will -- you may remember that the -- Mr. Malhotra testified
13 that he both examined and relied on a team of people to 14 examine both bank records and relied upon departments of the 15 city within which he was not employed in order to determine
16 what cash levels were. Two, your Honor may recall that he 17 testified that he was not an officer or director,
18 shareholder, or owner of the city. Of course, he couldn't a 19 shareholder. Second -- third, your Honor may recall that 20 Mr. Buckfire, I believe, testified yesterday that they had 21 recourse to expert revenue and tax policy individuals that 22 were part of the forecasting team and that they -- I think
23 Mr. Buckfire testified yesterday that he was fortunate to 24 have had access to such people and that those individuals
25 participated in the generating of the forecasts. Fourth,

1 your Honor, I think intuitively, at least intuitively for me,
2 the mere notion that using an Excel spreadsheet somehow
3 transforms the compilation of thousands of lines and 4 different kinds of formulas from being simple arithmetic into
5 something that a layperson can do by looking at their own
6 checkbook or bank accounts, quite the contrary. I am not an 7 expert in using Excel. It took me some training to be able 8 to do it, and I know from multiple efforts with my 9 secretaries that it is not something that the ordinary 10 layperson can do with a high school education. And I, by the 11 way, think my secretaries are quite good. And so, your 12 Honor, I think this falls squarely within the Sixth Circuit's
13 JGR Industries decision and which the debtor, the city,
14 acknowledges holds against them, excludes testimony, and does 15 so because there was no basis absent the -- in effect, the 16 owner being a part of the business exception and absent
17 individual effort at verification and absent simple
18 mathematics to allow the testimony to go forward. And 19 perhaps, most importantly of all, there are cases where 20 historical records are allowed to be testified about. I
21 believe the Sixth Circuit has a decision along those same
22 lines, your Honor, but this is a forecast. This is 23 projecting into the future. This is using assumptions,
24 assumptions that had to be created and referenced to some 25 specialized knowledge or understanding of not only how the

1 cash got into the city but how it will get into the city in
2 the future and what would be a reasonable basis to make an
3 assumption for a going-forward prospect, so we think under 4 those circumstances the cases, in particular, that the city
5 seems to rely on just don't help it, and I think both Sixth
6 Circuit cases are either squarely against it -- that is, the 7 JGR case -- or clearly distinguishable on the ownership
8 basis, which is the Lativafter Liquidating Trust, and that we 9 suggest to you is the controlling authority.

10 We would note that the recitation by the city of 11 United States versus Madison, another Sixth Circuit case, 12 again, did not offer or involve a future forecast. The 13 analysis that was allowed in that case was retrospective
14 only. And, secondly, it was -- there were no complex
15 formulas and no assumptions, no assumptions applied in using 16 the work. It was purely, if you will, large scale 17 ministerial effort, and I think the Court allowed it in. And 18 interestingly I find and perhaps your Honor might that that 19 particular case also cites the DIJO versus Hilton Hotels case
20 and JGR as authority to support its holding where in the DIJO
21 case it was complex formulas that -- appraising economic 22 values of a lost contract that were excluded, so the Sixth
23 Circuit in the Madison case cites the boundaries of what 24 should be excluded, finds that it's retrospective only, it's 25 ministerial in its efforts and, therefore, says it's not an

1 abuse of discretion. It's permitted in. And I think here,
2 your Honor, this is clearly being addressed to your
3 discretion. It is well within the bounds and even the 4 directions under 701 to exclude such testimony, and,
5 therefore, we would ask you to adhere to your Honor's earlier
6 ruling and not permit the forecast testimony of Mr. Malhotra.

7 Now, if I may turn to Mr. Buckfire, yesterday at the 8 conclusion or near the conclusion --

9 THE COURT: One second.

10 MR. STEWART: Your Honor, I don't wish to interrupt
11 Mr. Montgomery; however, this motion on Mr. Buckfire is brand
12 new. It came to us this morning. I got it at 6:52 this 13 morning. I would suggest, no, that was not part of the 14 original motion. The original motion was made only by AFSCME
15 with respect to Mr. Malhotra. The Buckfire motion is new.
16 We would ask leave to just put in a paper on it lest we be 17 pulled into something we've not had time to prepare on.

18 THE COURT: There was a motion to strike at the 19 conclusion of the proceedings yesterday, and I --

20 MR. STEWART: A motion was --

21 THE COURT: -- and I deliberately deferred it to 22 this morning.

23 MR. STEWART: Right. I withdraw my --

24 THE COURT: All right.

25 MR. STEWART: Then I'll sit down.

1 THE COURT: Go ahead, sir.

2 MR. MONTGOMERY: Successfully thrown off my --

3 MR. STEWART: I'm sorry. I apologize. I apologize.

4 MR. MONTGOMERY: -- my game, your Honor.

5 THE COURT: I'm sure that was not the intent, but
6 you were about to talk about Mr. Buckfire.

7 MR. MONTGOMERY: I was. Now, although we do not
8 have a transcript on which we can rely, I would ask your 9 Honor to look at the -- your Honor's memory of the questions
10 beginning with an explanation of the GO bonds, the general
11 obligation bonds. You may recall that Mr. Buckfire then 12 launched into a fairly intriguing explanation of GO bonds and 13 matters that he tied to the marketplace and the nature of 14 risk and the nature of interest rate costs associated with 15 risk and the differences between interest rates for taxing
16 authorities and nontaxing authorities and how that all played
17 a role. And he concluded at the end of his testimony, if I
18 remember correctly, that -- with an opinion on long-term
19 sustainability for the future of New York, again, pure expert
20 testimony regarding access to capital markets, a subject in 21 which he was clearly an expert, clearly had gained knowledge
22 over time, and it was -- it is something that is quite often 23 the subject of admissible expert testimony. I think we 24 pointed out, your Honor, orally yesterday that this 25 individual was not identified as an expert in the pretrial.

1 In fact -- and I think the city made a quite conscious choice
2 that they weren't going to use experts at all in this case
3 and Mr. Buckfire just being the last and final manifestation
4 of that strategic or tactical decision, and we think that in
5 the case of Mr. Buckfire, while he put in a lot of factual
6 and historical information, those last questions that were
7 asked and answered beginning with the discussion of the GO
8 bonds are pure opinion, rely entirely on expert
9 understanding, rely entirely on information gathered that 10 would have been or is hearsay insofar as this Court is 11 concerned, and under 702, since he was not a qualified
12 expert, was not identified as an expert to be -- to testify,
13 that his testimony should be stricken.

14 THE COURT: Thank you.

15 MR. DECHIARA: Good morning, your Honor. Peter
16 DeChiara from the law firm of Cohen, Weiss & Simon, LLP, for 17 the UAW International Union. I'll begin with the Malhotra
18 piece of this issue. We agree entirely with the city's 19 reliance on the key case of JGR, a Sixth Circuit 2004 case.
20 And that case, we agree with the city, is squarely on point,
21 and it's squarely on point in our favor. The holding of that 22 case was remarkably similar to the facts here. In that case,
23 the Court held that the admission of lay opinion by an 24 accountant about the company's lost profits was not
25 admissible, not admissible, when two things: the accountant

1 was not the owner, officer, or director of the business, and,
2 two, relied for information principally on the business
3 itself. Here what do we have? We have Mr. Malhotra, who, as
4 I asked him at the very outset of my cross-examination
5 yesterday, I asked him whether he was an officer or whether 6 he had any elected or appointed position with the city, and 7 he indicated he was not, but then I went further, your Honor,
8 and I asked him was he directly involved in running the 9 business of the city, and Mr. Malhotra clearly indicated that 10 he was not directly involved in running the business of the 11 city.

12 Then the question becomes where did he get the 13 information he relied on. Well, let's look at Mr. Malhotra's
14 declaration. It's Exhibit 8 in the record, paragraph 14.
15 I'm going to start reading from the second sentence. His 16 declaration says, quote, "EY used the city's publicly
17 available historical financial data," and then I'll skip over
18 the piece of it that just refers to the 2012 CFR, and then 19 the sentence continues, "and other information provided by 20 the city and its other advisors. EY did not audit the city's 21 historical financial data. Rather, EY relied upon the raw 22 data provided by the city, including the underlying data that 23 the city used to prepare 2012 CAFR and previous financial 24 reports." So this case, the case of Malhotra, on this issue
25 is squarely on point with the binding decision and the

1 holding of the Sixth Circuit in the JGR case, and we think,
2 your Honor, that that is dispositive on the issue that
3 Mr. Malhotra's forecasts are inadmissible lay testimony.

4 There were a couple other points. I think they were
5 sort of tangential points that the city made in its brief,
6 and I'd just like to address those. In paragraph 7 of the 7 city's brief, it says that -- the city's brief says, "In any 8 event, even if the Court does not permit Mr. Malhotra to 9 provide lay testimony on the cash flow forecast he prepared
10 for the city, the economic projections offered in 11 Mr. Malhotra's testimony will still be probative of the 12 city's financial condition." Well, that's -- what the city
13 is arguing there is that his -- Mr. Malhotra's forecasts
14 should come in for the truth of the matter as to what the 15 city's financial condition is. That's exactly what it should 16 not be allowed to come in for. And I think your Honor made
17 that clear in your prior rulings, and we think that should be 18 upheld.

19 And then one last point on Mr. Malhotra. In 20 paragraph 8 of its brief the city argues that Mr. Malhotra's
21 forecasts were not prepared in anticipation of litigation.
22 Well, whether that's true or not is irrelevant. The guiding
23 Sixth Circuit precedent, the JGR case, doesn't incorporate 24 that as an issue or a deciding factor, but -- and I think 25 this is interesting, your Honor. It was interesting that in

1 arguing that Jones Day's memos were work product, the city
2 argued that going back months and months and months before
3 the bankruptcy filing that Jones Day was preparing these 4 memos because they knew something was going to happen. The 5 financial condition of Detroit meant there was going to be 6 some legal proceedings or lawsuits. So why is it consistent
7 for the city to argue that what Jones Day was doing was 8 somehow in anticipation of something related to litigation,
9 but Mr. Malhotra's forecasts, which were prepared in this 10 exact same time frame, why are those not in anticipation of 11 some legal proceedings? But be that as it may, whether or 12 not it's prepared for litigation is irrelevant. The key 13 points are he was -- it was inadmissible lay testimony by 14 someone who was not an officer or owner of the entity and who 15 relied on information obtained from the entity itself.

16 Let me now move to Mr. Buckfire. Mr. Buckfire was 17 asked questions such as -- and I'm relying on my notes. He 18 was asked during his direct whether it was economically
19 sensible, economically sensible, for the city to remove 20 blight. He was asked what, in his view, was the alternative
21 for the city if the June 14th creditors' proposal was not 22 accepted, what was the long-term sustainable -- whether the 23 city's current finances were sustainable in the long term.
24 Now, your Honor, those are all expert questions, and the 25 thing is it seemed natural to all of us when we were

1 listening to Mr. Buckfire answer those questions -- it seemed 2 natural to hear his opinion because the truth of the matter
3 is -- the real fact is he is an expert. He's an expert
4 investment banker who has a lot of experience in this area,
5 but for some unfathomable reason, the city has made a
6 decision not to use him and not to qualify him as an expert,
7 so for purposes of this proceeding, Mr. Buckfire's testimony
8 in response to those questions was no more deemed worthy of 9 credit than if we had taken a random person off the street.
10 If instead of putting on Mr. Buckfire the city had put on the 11 taxi driver who drove Mr. Buckfire here from the airport and 12 asked the taxi driver what is the -- is the city's finances
13 sustainable in the long term, does it make economic sense
14 to -- the Court would not have allowed the taxi driver to 15 answer those questions. For purposes of this proceeding,
16 because the city made that strategic decision, Mr. Buckfire
17 is no more qualified to answer those questions than the taxi
18 driver. Thank you.

19 MS. LEVINE: Good morning, your Honor. Sharon
20 Levine, Lowenstein Sandler, for AFSCME. Trying not to 21 duplicate but making similar arguments, with regard to both 22 E&Y and Miller Buckfire, these are expert witnesses. They're 23 relying on financial assumptions. They're scrubbing numbers.
24 They're getting in hearsay evidence that would not otherwise
25 be admissible before this Court in the form of publicly

1 available financial information prepared by the city to
2 audited financial statements prepared by other experts not
3 called upon to testify before your Honor. We would
4 respectfully suggest that it would be telling just to go back
5 to the statute itself. If you take a look at Rule 401, if a
6 witness is not testifying as an expert, testimony in the form
7 of an opinion is limited to one that is rationally based on 8 the witness' perception, helpful to clearly understand the 9 witness' testimony or determining facts in issue, and not 10 based on scientific, technical, or other specialized
11 knowledge within the scope of Rule 2002.

12 So then we turn to Rule 2002. A witness who is 13 qualified as an expert by knowledge, skill, experience,
14 training, education may testify to opinion. That's exactly 15 what we have here, your Honor. If you take a look at the 16 paragraph --

17 THE COURT: I think you're referring to Rules 701
18 and --

19 MS. LEVINE: 702.

20 THE COURT: -- 702.

21 MS. LEVINE: Right. To further assist in projecting 22 future economic trends -- and this is paragraph 16 of the E&Y
23 declaration; it's Docket Number 12 -- E&Y sought the advice
24 and input of its own internal team members with experience in 25 economic forecasts impacting the likely future property and

1 income tax revenues. The testimony on the stand, your Honor,
2 similarly relies on input from Milliman, input from audited
3 financial statements. In addition to that and with regard to 4 Ken Buckfire, same -- and I won't go through the examples.
5 Your Honor already has them. But it is not simply putting 6 somebody on the stand with a factual understanding of the 7 city's financial issues and giving testimony that any other
8 layperson could give. And more than that, your Honor,
9 neither of these are elected officials or city employees,
10 which means not only is it not a business owner exception,
11 but it's not a hearsay exception. In other words, there's 12 nobody who looks at these. Neither E&Y nor Miller Buckfire
13 review the City of Detroit's books and records in the 14 ordinary course of business. The way they come into every 15 single situation where they're an expert witness -- they're 16 brought in as an expert witness for that very purposes.
17 They're allowed to rely on the books and records of their 18 client, but this is not a business record exception. It's 19 not a business owner exception. It's not a hearsay
20 exception. What it is, your Honor, is disguised expert
21 testimony. If it's truly simple math, why do we have to hire
22 E&Y, Conway MacKenzie, and Miller Buckfire to do it for us?
23 Thank you.

24 THE COURT: Anyone else?

25 MR. STEWART: Thank you, your Honor. It's going to

1 take me a minute to get organized. So I submit that actually
2 this is a fairly easy question, not easy to resolve but easy
3 to analyze, and let me do so this way. We're talking about
4 what does Rule 701 mean and how is it to be applied. We
5 don't need to guess because the people that wrote it told us,
6 so let's put up the advisory committee -- while that's being 7 put up, I just want to deal with one issue in passing as to 8 Mr. Buckfire and also Mr. Malhotra. The suggestion was made
9 that because they have all this expertise, they could only
10 testify as expert witnesses. The paragraph -- keep that up,
11 if you'd like, Lauren. The advisory committee actually
12 answered that, too. This is not what's up on the screen.
13 It's the advisory committee comments to the 2000 amendments,
14 and I know these books come out every year, but mine is on 15 page 460. And the committee wrote, "The amendment does not 16 distinguish between expert and lay witnesses but, rather,
17 expert and lay testimony. Certainly it is possible for the 18 same witness to provide both lay and expert testimony in a
19 single case." And I said I'm just really dealing with that 20 in passing because I want to put to one side the proposition
21 that the fact that these witnesses have expertise means that 22 they were precluded from giving lay testimony, but the reason
23 now I put this up is this is what the advisory committee that 24 wrote the rule said. Although many cases have interpreted 25 it, what is useful about this is they told us what they

1 meant, and it says, "For example, most courts have permitted
2 the owner or officer of a business to testify to the value or 3 projected profits of the business, without the necessity of 4 qualifying the witness as an accountant, appraiser, or other
5 similar expert," and they cite a case called Lightning Lube,
6 Inc., which was from the Third Circuit. So what I think we 7 ought to do is go to Lightning Lube since the authors of this
8 looked at that case and obviously were -- thought it was what
9 they wished to implement here. Now, Lightning Lube -- and I
10 think I have copies of all -- of many of these, Judge, and if 11 you'd like I may pass them up. I have a copy also for 12 counsel. However --

13 THE COURT: It's not necessary, sir.

14 MR. STEWART: Okay. Thank you, your Honor.

15 THE COURT: If others would like them, that's fine,
16 but it's not necessary for me.

17 MR. STEWART: So what happened in Lightning Lube?
18 Lightning Lube involved a man named Venuto, and he was
19 starting a chain of -- I don't know what you call them --
20 centers like a Jiffy Lube. And he had a deal with one of the 21 lubricant oil companies, and the deal fell apart, and it
22 ended up in a large business failure case. And one of the 23 interesting facts about the Third Circuit opinion is just 24 the -- all the lawyers that appeared in it, but the Court
25 said Mr. Venuto could testify about the projected profits

1 from his business. It didn't say no forecast. It didn't say
2 you can't have projections. It said he was allowed to. And 3 by the way, not only was he allowed to testify about the 4 projected profits from his business, the Court also said it
5 was not a problem in affirming the admissibility of this 6 evidence that he had relied on -- in part on a report that
7 came from a third party, so it's not required that it be only
8 his knowledge. And, similarly, let me dispense with another
9 point. The advisory committee made a distinction in this 10 rule and carved out what other courts have sometimes called 11 the owner-officer exception to the rule, and so there's a
12 sub-body of a case law on this. There are other cases
13 involving criminal law and so on, but there's a line of cases
14 on owner-officers. Few things are clearer than the fact that 15 is a label, not a requirement, and any number of the cases
16 allow people who are not owners or officers to testify as lay
17 experts under Rule -- I mean lay -- give lay opinion under 18 Rule 701. The Sixth Circuit not long ago in a case I have 19 trouble pronouncing, but it seems to be something like
20 Lativafter, allowed an outside investor to do so, so I don't 21 think we should be confused by the name of the exception
22 since we know what it means.

23 So let's go back to Mr. Venuto, and Mr. Venuto --
24 this is -- I'm going to paraphrase or I could read from what
25 the Third Circuit said in Lightning Lube. It says Mr. Venuto

1 calculated future profits, so we're not talking about
2 historical; we're talking about future profits -- in two
3 ways. First, he calculated the profits he would have earned
4 on the 117 franchise contracts that he actually sold. Venuto
5 predicted that after four years in business, each center
6 would have been generating $28,000 in royalty fees. Given
7 this calculation plus the money the franchisees would have 8 earned in the first four years, Venuto predicted that he
9 would have earned $27,729,000 in future profits from the 117
10 existing contracts through 1996.

11 Next, Venuto calculated the lost profits on 12 franchises he expected to have sold based on projections he 13 developed with an accounting firm when he planned to take the 14 company public. Venuto predicted that he would have sold 370
15 more franchises over the ten-year period; that all of them
16 would have opened, parens, 37 each year, close parens, and 17 that he would have earned $43,821,000 from these franchises
18 using the formula discussed above.

19 Now, if this were simply one of the various cases
20 that go back and forth on the subject, we'd say, well, that's 21 an interesting case, let's look at the others, and we will 22 look at others, but to make the obvious point, this is the 23 case the advisory committee cited, and it is the only case
24 the advisory committee cited.

25 So now let's go to the cases that have been cited by

1 the objectors, and let's start with the one that they began
2 with, JGR, a Sixth Circuit opinion from 2004. In JGR there
3 was a lay witness who was put on the stand. His name was, I
4 think, Gornik. And his lay testimony was going to be about
5 the value of the business. He was excluded. The reason he 6 was excluded was not that a lay witness can't talk about 7 future events at a company. He was excluded because he 8 didn't know about it from firsthand knowledge. He didn't 9 happen to be an officer or employee of the company, but more
10 to the point, his information was cobbled together at the 11 last minute, and he failed the leg of this that he had to 12 prove, that he had particularized knowledge of it. And as is 13 so often the case, the footnotes tell us a lot about this,
14 and this is what the Court wrote in footnote three. It said,
15 "The district court's apparent assumption that Gornik was a
16 'factual witness'" -- that was in quotes -- "who, quote,
17 'does JGR's books,' unquote, is false. In fact, Gornik was 18 never an accountant for JGR and never did its books. His 19 first experience with JGR was in March 1999 when he was 20 contacted by JGR's trial counsel for the purpose of, quote,
21 'putting down on paper what the financial statements of 22 Gerald's Furniture would have looked like had Thomasville
23 support to the business continued and had the owners been 24 able to carry through on how they planned to operate the 25 business.'" So JGR does not stand for any broader principle

1 than this, and I would suggest, your Honor, that there are
2 two steps to our analysis. Step number one, does the witness
3 have personal particularized knowledge of the facts in 4 question? Two, is he using that personal particularized
5 knowledge to give his testimony?

6 Now, I'm going to come back to that, but I also want
7 to deal with the DIJO case -- D-I-J-O, and I'm pronouncing it
8 as DIJO, and I think various lawyers mentioned it. DIJO was 9 a hotel case of some sort, and there was -- this is a Fifth
10 Circuit case, but it's cited in the other cases. And there
11 there were two witnesses. There was a man named Skinner, and 12 Skinner didn't really work for the company, didn't know very 13 much. They were offering him, once again, to testify about 14 projections, and they said he doesn't have the particularized
15 knowledge that's necessary, so they didn't let him testify.
16 Stuck in the back of the opinion, though, is something else.
17 It turns out in DIJO there were two witnesses. There was a
18 man named Turner. Quoting from the Fifth Circuit opinion,
19 "The Defendants also contend that the District Court erred
20 when it permitted Turner to testify about DIJO's lost
21 profits. Turner testified that the proposed hotel would have 22 generated a net income of $633,000 a year. Based on that 23 projection, he offered his opinion that the business would 24 have been worth 5.45 million if sold in its fifth year.
25 Turner was one of DIJO's two principals, and his estimates

1 were based on his own involvement in developing the Project.
2 In light of the foregoing discussion of the boundaries of
3 Rule 701, we cannot conclude that the district court abused
4 its discretion in admitting Turner's lost profit testimony."

5 So these cases do not stand for a hard-and-fast rule
6 about ownership. They stand instead for the two steps that I
7 mentioned earlier.

8 Now, as to step one, did Mr. Malhotra have personal 9 and particularized knowledge of the city's finances and the 10 numbers that came out of the city's books and records? I
11 think his testimony establishes that. I had actually 12 excerpted all of it, but I did so from the transcript we are 13 not using, so I'm not going to go further in terms of 14 citations, but I think it was quite clear what his knowledge
15 was. He was hired in May of 2011, about 30 months ago if my 16 counting is right. He wasn't hired because of lawsuits nor 17 of impending bankruptcy. His retention preceded, I think,
18 even the financial stability board. It appears he was hired
19 because the city had laid off so many of its workers it
20 couldn't do this job itself, and so for the past two and a
21 half years Mr. Malhotra has accumulated information, he has 22 analyzed it, and that's where his work comes from. I think
23 it's apparent -- and I don't think anyone is challenging
24 seriously that he has the level of personal and 25 particularized knowledge that's required by Rule 701.

1 So then the question becomes the second leg of it,
2 and that is is he using that particularized knowledge in
3 giving his opinion. There was a case, for example, in the 4 Bankruptcy Court in New York, and it's cited, I believe, in 5 the objector's brief, called MarketXT. Like all these cases,
6 they all -- since they're fact-based, are all illuminating no
7 matter where they come out. And in MarketXT, there was a
8 witness -- and I don't remember his name, but I have the case
9 here, but it's not important -- who is a principal of -- I
10 guess it must have been the debtor. And he was there to 11 testify about the things we talked -- projections, future
12 profits, current value, all of the things that we see in this 13 line of cases. What they did, though, with this expert --
14 and I actually should dig it out because it's such an 15 interesting case -- they said, "You can't testify about that.
16 This model you've got has discounted cash flow values. It's 17 got all kinds of theoretical economic elements to it. And 18 that's not who you are, Mr. Witness, you are just the fellow
19 who worked for the company. So they said, "We're not going 20 to let you talk about it," but then the Court gratuitously
21 said, "You know, if they'd offered him as a 701 witness, we 22 would have received his testimony," because then he would
23 have been talking about what he knew and he could have used
24 the standard types of approaches that the other 701 cases
25 have talked about.

1 So when you look at where these cases fall out --
2 and I think in the end it becomes something like a question
3 of fact -- what you find, I think, is this. There's no hard-
4 and-fast rule that you have to be an owner or officer. There
5 are cases where that's not the case. There's no prohibition
6 on relying from information that comes from other people, and 7 there are any number of cases that certainly permit that to 8 be done. LTV is one. This case, Lativafter is one.
9 Lightning Lube itself was one. There's no prohibition on a
10 lay witness having specialized technical information provided
11 that's not what he's using or that's not what he's talking
12 about. He's not giving an expert opinion in that sense.
13 Instead, it is how does it relate to what he knows? And in 14 cases like the one I just mentioned, MarketXT -- there's 15 another one, I think, called Lifewise where a 701 witness was 16 asked to testify about a complicated econometric model, and 17 the Court didn't accept it for that reason. Where that's the 18 case, although the witness meets leg one, he or she doesn't 19 meet leg two. However, one thing is quite clear. Where the 20 witness is working from and has the particularized personal
21 knowledge and is using that to provide projections,
22 forecasts, and similar, the courts do allow it.

23 Now, I think one of the main objections we run into 24 here is, yes, that's true, but this is just a heck of a lot
25 of information, and it is a lot of information. I think when

1 we're dealing with an enterprise the size of Detroit, there's
2 no getting around that. The courts, though, never say this 3 rule only applies in narrow circumstances and when you're
4 dealing with a narrow data set. The rule is instead do you
5 have the knowledge, and is that what you're using. The fact
6 assumptions are used makes no difference. Every single one
7 of the cases I recited and the rest, the witness uses
8 assumptions. He or she has to. They're forecasting future
9 profits, and every one of these cases is a case about future
10 profits or future value or future this or future that, so
11 that is not a disability.

12 What it comes down to then is how then did he use
13 his particularized knowledge to prepare his analysis, so 14 let's start with what the particularized knowledge was. What 15 his particularized knowledge was -- hang on; I wrote it down
16 for myself so I wouldn't forget it -- the historical data
17 about the city, which he said in his declaration came from 18 the CAFR and many other publicly available sources; the 19 city's bank records; internal reports that he got from the 20 city; factual matters. And by the way, this is not hearsay.
21 I established a business record exception for that when I
22 asked him at the beginning of his testimony, "Were these 23 materials that the city prepared in the ordinary course of 24 its business? In your experience, do cities and other
25 enterprises prepare materials like these in the ordinary

1 course of their business?" And he said, "Yes," and that was
2 never challenged, and so he's not being used to get in
3 hearsay on that basis. These are business records, and I
4 don't think anyone ever contended otherwise.

5 What else did he add? He added known changes coming
6 in the future, the city's budgets, which are predictions;
7 cost of living clauses in contracts; information he did
8 receive from actuaries about changes in pensions. However,
9 the actuary in question was their actuary, Gabriel, Roeder.
10 Information about state revenue sharing, changes in tax
11 rates. What about assumptions given to him by others or that 12 he made, rate of growth or rate of decay in tax -- property
13 tax receipts, rate of growth or rate of decay in income tax
14 receipts, assumed rates of inflation, changes in population
15 of the city. Now, those are assumptions, but they are no
16 different qualitatively than what Mr. Venuto did when he 17 predicted how many franchises he thought he would be selling
18 in the next four years and how those franchises would do in 19 the next ten years. And the Court not only thought that it
20 was fine, so, too, did the advisory committee. What about 21 other things that went in? And let's, if we could, put up
22 Exhibit 9 I think it is, page 2. This is one of the 23 exhibits, your Honor, obviously we spent a lot of time on,
24 but it's illustrative. That tells you what is his 25 particularized knowledge, and there is a list of it on the

1 left-hand side, and we spent a lot of time going over what is
2 each of these things, but he has knowledge about things like
3 lumpiness of revenue receipts. They don't come in a smooth
4 way. Remember the testimony is you get a bunch and then
5 nothing happens for awhile. When is it that the city
6 receives -- it's every other month -- its revenue sharing so
7 he could put in the spreadsheet when that arrives? What is 8 the expected availability of the escrowed funds that came 9 from the state-sponsored financing that the city floated?
10 And perhaps also which of the numbers he gets from the city
11 are the most reliable? Maybe it's a personal judgment which 12 ones he finds most materially useful to him. So these are 13 all things that he gets as a result of his work.

14 Now, I think it was Mr. Montgomery raised the point
15 about using an Excel spreadsheet, so let me spend a minute on 16 that. I think if you're above a certain age, maybe it's 17 not -- I think you're younger than me -- it may be more of a
18 challenge. It comes preinstalled on every computer in this 19 courtroom. It is the way business is now run. It is the 20 standard method used not by experts but by everybody to 21 organize financial information. There's nothing suspect
22 about taking the city's information and putting it into a
23 spreadsheet.

24 Now, what does a spreadsheet do and the real
25 question, does using a spreadsheet convert Mr. Malhotra's

1 approach into one that used scientific or other technical or
2 specialized knowledge, which was the test under 702, and 702
3 gets imported into 701 by dint of 701(c), which is the very 4 thing -- added in 2000, which is the very thing the advisory
5 committee was talking about in the text we had on the screen.
6 So what does he bring into it? He brings in labels, which 7 tells us what information he's talking about. He brings in 8 dates, what period he is forecasting. He puts in the numbers
9 that he has, and they repeat either verbatim or they repeat
10 based on knowledge he has such as when does the revenue
11 sharing money come in, or they repeat because he's using some 12 kind of a metric to increase or decrease them over time.

13 Now, what he's doing here is addition and 14 subtraction, maybe division, probably multiplication. There
15 was no evidence and no one asked him this, that behind this
16 stood some kind of complicated econometric model of the sort
17 that other courts have rejected. He was there to be 18 examined. No one asked him that. In fact, I asked him how 19 he calculated, and he said it was arithmetic.

20 Now, there is in the tone of the papers -- and I'm 21 not criticizing counsel at all -- the suggestion that this 22 was some sort of stealth means of springing a surprise on the 23 objectors. The fact of the matter is that document was in 24 Mr. Malhotra's declaration, which the objectors have read
25 from this morning and has been in the public domain since

1 July 18. Ernst & Young, who we don't control, wrote a letter
2 to the objectors saying, "If you wish our back-up papers,
3 you'll have to subpoena them, but serve a subpoena on us, and
4 we will produce them." No subpoena was ever served. We 5 identified this document as a back-up for hearsay purposes as 6 a compilation under Federal Rule of Evidence 1006, and we 7 sent a letter to the objectors saying, "If you want to see
8 the back-up materials, they're available for examination.
9 Please call Ernst & Young." One objector called. No one
10 ever came.

11 Mr. Malhotra was deposed not once but twice. I was 12 there both times. The first time especially he was examined
13 at no small length about his spreadsheets. It went on for a 14 long time. He answered every single question put of him. If 15 after that first deposition there had been uncertainty, there
16 was a second deposition coming and an opportunity in the 17 meantime to go get any documents they might need if they
18 wanted to dig deeper with Mr. Malhotra. That did not happen.
19 So this is not a case where there was surprise. It's not a
20 case where this was concealment. It is, instead, I think, a
21 fairly classic case of everything was available.

22 Is this complex? Yes, it is. I don't deny it.
23 Does that mean that it can only be addressed by an expert
24 witness under Rule 702? The cases do not say that. Now, the 25 advisory committee rule and the cases that speak about it are

1 quite clear. A lay witness who has personal particularized
2 knowledge about facts may offer his opinion -- his opinion --
3 the rule says "opinion." He can offer his opinion about 4 future profits, forecasted value, and those other things that
5 go off into the future, and it is admissible. The issue
6 here, I think, is one only of magnitude when it comes to 7 Mr. Malhotra, but that was something we've all known from day
8 one. It was disclosed on day one. He's been deposed two 9 times. There's been opportunity for other discovery, and he 10 was here and cross-examined. I thank you, your Honor, for 11 your patience.

12 THE COURT: You want to turn your attention to the 13 Buckfire issue?

14 MR. STEWART: I will, your Honor. I think a lot of 15 that is the -- it's the same basic analysis, so I -- with the 16 rule, and so I won't repeat any of that. Mr. Buckfire
17 testified -- by the way, one other minor point here. Cases
18 also say just because someone has scientific, technical, or 19 other specialized knowledge and that makes it easier -- we 20 can keep that up if you'd like because I was going to point
21 to that in a moment -- and that makes it easier for them to 22 do things like pull all this together, it doesn't convert
23 them into a 702 witness. And they spoke at one -- it was one 24 of the cases, and I'm not sure I know it off the top of my
25 head, which spoke about a witness' computer knowledge making

1 it easier for that witness to put his or her projections
2 together, and there were others as well. So the fact
3 somebody has a lot of expertise doesn't disqualify them or 4 change things.

5 Now, with Mr. Buckfire, one thing was apparent.
6 He's a highly skilled, very experienced, highly intelligent
7 investment banker who's been in the business a long time and 8 has done restructurings a long time and knows an immense
9 amount about it. No question about that. And he -- that 10 came out in his background and otherwise. It's also clear
11 that when he was hired by the city, he began working very 12 hard to learn everything he could about the city, and he 13 relied, among other things, on Mr. Malhotra's work.

14 His subsequent testimony was about what that -- what 15 those -- how those projections fit into his other work and 16 what it was he did or felt he had to do based on the state of 17 the facts that he found when he came to this job. And as I
18 understand the particular objections that we're facing to his
19 testimony, one had to do with his statement about GO bonds
20 and the accessibility of the credit market to the city. I
21 think that somebody with his level of knowledge of the city
22 can say, "I'm looking at what their numbers are, and these 23 numbers will not allow you to borrow money on the bond market
24 because the numbers are negative." And there were other 25 parts of the testimony as well, your Honor, but I think, as

1 Mr. Cullen said, at the end of Mr. Buckfire's testimony, much
2 of what he was talking about and asked about and testified
3 was about his own conduct and that his conduct and 4 conclusions were in and of themselves operative facts in the 5 lead-up to the city's decision to file for bankruptcy, and 6 they were certainly probative of good faith, but I assume
7 that's not what we're here to talk about. And as a result,
8 Buckfire's testimony on the subject is also qualified lay
9 testimony because he was taking the facts that he had, which 10 were particularized and personal, and he was -- pardon me --
11 applying those looking forward as a projection as how this
12 affected the city's ability to borrow money, which is no
13 different than projecting an enterprise's ability to earn a
14 profit, and the city's ability to do other things.

15 One last point that troubled us on this -- and 16 actually on both, but I'll focus on Mr. Buckfire -- that 17 objection also came in a little late at the very end of his 18 testimony, and had it been made in a timely way, perhaps the 19 questioning could have taken a different course to avoid 20 this. I'm not trying to impugn motives of anyone, but, as a 21 practical matter, it did change how the examination of 22 Mr. Buckfire went and I think may have led to some of the 23 very issues that they now raise, and it would have been 24 easier for us all perhaps had the objection been made at the 25 time. And if the Court has no questions --

1 THE COURT: No. Thank you. Excuse me. Any brief
2 rebuttals, please?

3 MR. DECHIARA: Your Honor, I find it interesting
4 that the city begins its legal analysis by reliance on the 5 advisory committee notes to the rule as if the advisory 6 committee notes to the rule were somehow in opposition to the 7 JGR case, the governing Sixth Circuit case. Well, JGR quotes
8 from and discusses the advisory committee notes before it
9 reaches the holding that it does, so there's nothing
10 inconsistent between the advisory committee notes and the 11 Sixth Circuit's holding in the JGR case. It's the JGR case
12 which is -- which governs here.

13 It's also curious counsel cited in his oral argument
14 just now the JGR case, and I think he said it's something
15 that we cited, we, the objectors, but that is the lead case
16 in the city's papers. It's block quoted in paragraph 2 and 17 then cited throughout, so there's -- I don't think there's 18 any dispute between the parties here that JGR is the case
19 that's relevant here and that governs. We're not -- there
20 was lengthy discussion by counsel about a Third Circuit case,
21 and if this courtroom were in New Jersey or Pennsylvania,
22 that would probably be more interesting, but this is a
23 courtroom in Michigan in the Sixth Circuit, and we're bound
24 by Sixth Circuit law, the JGR case.

25 Then, having cited it as its lead case, the city now

1 tries to run away and distinguish the case, and how does it
2 try to distinguish the case? By citing facts in the 3 footnotes. Well, there's a reason a court puts facts in the 4 footnotes, and it's because they're marginal. The key facts,
5 the holding, is in the body of the decision, and let me just
6 read it. It says very simply -- and this is 370 F.3d 256,
7 quote, "Gornik has never been an owner, officer or director
8 of JGR. Additionally, the information upon which he relied 9 in making his calculations of lost profits and lost business
10 value came primarily from Yasowitz," who was someone -- a 11 principal of the company, "and Gornik admitted he did not 12 independently verify much of that information. Therefore --
13 therefore, Gornik has no basis upon which to offer lay
14 opinion testimony about JGR's lost profits or lost business
15 value, and the district court abused its discretion in 16 admitting that testimony." That's the holding of the case.
17 Counsel for the city comes up with his own formulation based 18 on his reading of a lot of case law, and he calors his own
19 standard. We don't need to do that here. We have the Sixth
20 Circuit telling us what the standard is and what the holding 21 is. It's the JGR case, and it's squarely on point.

22 MS. LEVINE: Your Honor, counsel spent some time
23 discussing the MarketX Holdings Corp. case. Respectfully,
24 that case specifically cites to Rule 701 as -- and to the 25 advisory committee note with regard to 701 and specifically

1 points out that Rule 701 allows the admission of nonexpert
2 opinion testimony from a witness within limitations designed
3 to prevent the simple expedient of proffering an expert in 4 lay witness clothing and then goes on from there to conclude
5 an analysis based on specialized knowledge is excludable
6 where the witness has not been qualified as an expert and 7 then goes on to cite the exception when somebody is actually
8 a business owner, won't rehash that, but specifically
9 provides that even if a person is a business owner, if you
10 still go outside what that business owner's area of expertise
11 could be, then you exclude that as well. Thank you.

12 MR. MONTGOMERY: Your Honor, just a couple of final
13 points, not on the law because I think there's no possibility
14 in my mind that your Honor has any doubt as to the law and 15 the scope of this Court's discretion, so instead I'd like to 16 simply remind -- ask the Court to remember that Mr. Buckfire
17 testified that the forecasts were prepared by a team of 18 experts in revenue and tax policy. Those are the same
19 forecasts that Mr. Malhotra said "we" many times. I remember
20 the Court even asked Mr. Malhotra to say please speak in the 21 personal, not in the collective, but Mr. Malhotra repeatedly 22 discussed collective, and I think the reason is 23 straightforward. We learned from Mr. Buckfire that, in fact,
24 a team was involved. The second -- the notion raised by 25 counsel that Mr. Malhotra could testify on the -- or use

1 reasonable assumptions on city population growth when he
2 wasn't an economist, he was not a population forecaster, he
3 had no -- didn't say anything about having skills in that
4 particular environment, sort of cuts back from the notion
5 that all he's doing is math, taking specific numbers, putting 6 them in cells on a spreadsheet and simply putting auto sum
7 for each column of the numbers.

8 And last but not least, in his own detailed work, he 9 repeatedly said he both looked at bank accounts and he looked 10 at documents prepared by others, which were the city
11 department budgets, in trying to assess whether identified 12 cash belonged in one column or another. Your Honor, that is 13 not ordinary math. It's not lay testimony. Thank you.

14 THE COURT: Thank you all. The Court will take this 15 under advisement until 10:15 and return with a decision at 16 that time.

17 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in recess.

18 (Recess at 10:00 a.m. until 10:15 a.m.)

19 THE CLERK: Court is in session. Please be seated.

20 THE COURT: The matter is before the Court on the 21 city's request for reconsideration of the Court's previous 22 exclusion of so much of its exhibits and its witnesses'
23 testimony, especially from Mr. Malhotra, that dealt with the 24 cash flow projections which have been excluded from evidence
25 and also the motion to strike so much of Mr. Buckfire's

1 testimony as appeared to present opinion testimony based on
2 his expertise.

3 The Court concludes that the motion for 4 reconsideration should be granted and that the motion to 5 strike Mr. Buckfire's testimony should be denied. These
6 decisions are controlled, as the parties suggest, by Rule 701
7 of the Federal Rules of Evidence, which provides that a lay
8 witness -- that is, one who is not testifying as an expert --
9 may only testify to, quote, "opinions or inferences which are 10 (a) rationally based on the perception of the witness; (b)
11 helpful to a clear understanding of the witness' testimony or 12 the determination of a fact in issue; and (c) not based on 13 scientific, technical, or other specialized knowledge within 14 the scope of Rule 7002 (sic)," close quote.

15 As has been noted here, Subsection (c) of Rule 701
16 was added to the rule in the year 2000 to eliminate the risk
17 that the reliability requirement set forth in Rule 702 would 18 be evaded through the simple expedient of proffering an 19 expert in lay witness clothing. The advisory committee note
20 suggests a second reason as well, which was to prevent
21 litigants from evading the mandatory pre-discovery disclosure
22 requirements for expert testimony as set out in Rule 26 of 23 the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

24 However, most significantly, the advisory committee
25 note for the 2000 amendment does further explain, quote,

1 "Most courts have permitted the owner or officer of a
2 business to testify to the value or projected profits of the 3 business, without the necessity of qualifying the witness as 4 an accountant, appraiser, or similar expert." And here the 5 note cites Lightning Lube, Inc. v. Witco Corp., 4 F.3d 1153,
6 Third Circuit, 1993, and the Court notes parenthetically that 7 that case held that there was no abuse of discretion in 8 permitting the plaintiff's owner to give lay opinion
9 testimony as to damages as it was based on his knowledge and 10 participation in the day-to-day affairs of the business. The 11 advisory committee note goes on to state, quote, "Such 12 opinion testimony is admitted not because of the experience,
13 training, or specialized knowledge within the realm of an 14 expert, but because of the particularized knowledge that the 15 witness has by virtue of his or her position in the business.
16 The amendment does not purport to change this analysis,"
17 close quote.

18 There are obviously a wide range of circumstances in 19 which the issue of whether lay opinion testimony will be 20 admitted arises, and it is certainly an appropriate
21 observation that ultimately the Court's decision on whether 22 to permit such testimony is highly fact-specific. The 23 parties here largely have argued this issue in the context of 24 lay opinion testimony on lost profits or projected profits,
25 and the Court agrees that those are the most pertinent cases.

1 Accordingly, the Court will review some of those.

2 Perhaps the most controlling case is that which the
3 parties have argued here, JGR, Inc. v. Thomasville Furniture
4 Industries, Inc., 370 F.3d 519, Sixth Circuit, 2004. In that 5 case, the Court stated, quote, "The primary issue in this
6 case concerns the admissibility of testimony by JGR witness
7 James Gornik, a certified public accountant and lawyer who
8 testified about the amount of lost profits and lost business
9 value that JGR allegedly suffered as a result of 10 Thomasville's breach of contract."

11 In the course -- close quote. In the course of the 12 opinion, the Sixth Circuit relied heavily on a prior decision
13 by the Fifth Circuit in DIJO, Inc. v. Hilton Hotels Corp., 14 351 F.3d 679, Fifth Circuit, 2003. The JGR court held that 15 was a strikingly similar case to the one before it, and the 16 Sixth Circuit stated in regard to DIJO, quote, "In DIJO, the 17 Fifth Circuit held that the district court abused its 18 discretion in permitting a, quote, 'financial consultant,' 19 close quote, to testify as a lay witness regarding the 20 company's lost profits. Although the witness was the 21 plaintiff's primary contact at a commercial lending facility
22 with which the plaintiff had a business relationship, he had 23 not served as an owner or officer of the plaintiff company.
24 Additionally, the witness's opinion was based primarily" --
25 excuse me -- preliminary -- "was based on preliminary income

1 figures and other information that he had received from the
2 plaintiff's founder, and his appraisal was not based upon his
3 own independent knowledge or observations."

4 And the Court further quoted from DIJO, "It is 5 telling that DIJO responds, not with evidence of the 6 witness's involvement with the plaintiff or the Project, but 7 only emphasizing his substantial business experience. Such 8 generic industry experience does not pass Rule 701 scrutiny.
9 The plaintiff never attempted to qualify the witness as an 10 expert, and a lay witness who was never employed by or 11 directly involved in a business is unlikely to have the type
12 of first-hand knowledge necessary to provide reliable
13 forecasts of future profits. The further removed a layman is 14 from a company's day-to-day operations, the less likely it is 15 that his opinion testimony will be admissible under Rule
16 701." And that's the Sixth Circuit's quote from DIJO, 351
17 F.3d at 686.

18 So the Sixth Circuit noted that in light of the 19 witness' lack of the requisite firsthand personal knowledge
20 of the company about which he testified, the Fifth Circuit
21 held that the District Court abused its discretion in 22 permitting the witness to give lay witness -- lay opinion
23 testimony under Rule 701.

24 In the JGR case, the Court of Appeals noted that the 25 District Court's apparent assumption that Gornik was a

1 factual witness who does JGR's books was false. The Court
2 noted that, in fact, Gornik was never an accountant of JGR
3 and never did its books. His first experience with JGR was 4 in March of 1999 when he was contacted by JGR's trial counsel
5 for the purpose of putting down on paper what the financial 6 statements of Gerald's Furniture would have looked like had
7 Thomasville -- had the Thomasville support to the business
8 continued and had the owners been able to carry through on 9 how they planned to operate the business.

10 Now, it is true, as has been pointed out here, that 11 this observation by the Court of Appeals is in a footnote.
12 Nevertheless, the Court cannot conclude that it is,
13 therefore, a marginal fact. It plainly formed a substantial
14 basis for the Court's ultimate disposition in the case.

15 And since the Sixth Circuit in JGR relied so heavily
16 on DIGO (sic) from the Fifth Circuit, the Court concludes 17 that it's appropriate to look further into what the Fifth
18 Circuit said in that case, so, for example, at 351 F.3d at 19 686 the Fifth Circuit stated -- the Fifth Circuit discussed
20 two other cases, these two from the Third Circuit, In re.
21 Merritt Logan, Inc., 901 F.2d 349, Third Circuit, 1990, as 22 well as Teen-Ed, Inc., v. Kimball International, Inc., 620
23 F.2d 399, F.3d, 1980. And so in regard to these two cases,
24 the Fifth Circuit stated, quote, "In In re. Merritt Logan,
25 Inc. the plaintiff's company -- the plaintiff company's

1 principal shareholder, Logan, was permitted to testify about
2 the company's lost profits. The facts recited in that
3 opinion demonstrate that Logan was not a passive outside
4 shareholder. He was intimately involved with the investments
5 and management of the business. Thus, the Third Circuit
6 correctly concluded that Logan could provide lay opinion
7 testimony given his personal knowledge of the enterprise.
8 Likewise, in Teen-Ed, Inc. v. Kimball International, the 9 Third Circuit decided that the appellant, Teen-Ed's, licensed
10 public accountant, Zeitz or Zeitz, could provide lost profits
11 opinion testimony. Zeitz's testimony was based on the 12 personal knowledge of Teen-Ed's balance sheets, which Zeitz
13 had acquired firsthand as Teen-Ed's accountant and 14 bookkeeper. Thus, the Court concluded -- this, the Court
15 concluded, qualified Zeitz as a witness eligible under Rule
16 701 to testify to his opinion of how lost profits could be 17 calculated and to inferences he could draw from his 18 perception of Teen-Ed's books.

19 Further supporting the Court's decisions on these
20 two matters is the Sixth Circuit's decision in Lativafter
21 Liquidating Trust v. Clear Channel Communications, Inc., 345
22 Federal Appendix 46, Sixth Circuit, 2009. In that case, the 23 Court stated, quote, "Grady Vanderhoofven is a venture
24 capitalist, the Executive Vice-President of Southern 25 Appalachian Fund, which invested in Eon, and was a member of

1 Eon's board. Vanderhoofven testified that Eon's value would
2 have been $57 million with the Clear Channel contract,
3 instead of the $17 million it sold for in 2006. As an
4 investor in Eon, Vanderhoofven in 2005 investigated Eon's
5 financials, retaining a market research firm to verify Eon's
6 market potential. When he became a member of Eon's board in 7 March 2005, he received Eon's monthly financial reports,
8 including income statements, balance sheets, and cash flow
9 statements. Vanderhoofven testified that between June 2004
10 and June 2005, the number of stations Eon was streaming
11 increased by over 500 percent. After June 2005, however, the 12 revenue from Clear Channel began to dwindle, and 13 Vanderhoofven determined that Clear Channel was moving its 14 streaming business to another company. Vanderhoofven based 15 his $57 million valuation on the revenue Clear Channel had 16 been generating for Eon prior to the discontinuation of their 17 business, and the projection for the 12-month period prior to 18 Eon's sale. As an investor who researched Eon's financial 19 condition, and later as a member of Eon's board,
20 Vanderhoofven had personal, particularized knowledge of Eon's
21 value. The district court did not abuse its discretion in 22 permitting him to testify about Eon's projected value if it
23 had retained Clear Channel's business. Moreover, contrary to 24 Clear Channel's assertions, Vanderhoofven's testimony rested
25 on a sufficient foundation - his personal research into Eon's

1 financial reports."

2 The Court's decision today is also consistent with
3 and supported by a Third Circuit decision in Donlin v.
4 Philips Lighting North American Corp., 581 F.3d 73, Third
5 Circuit, 2009. In that case, the Court stated that Rule 7001
6 (sic), quote, "does not mean that an expert is always 7 necessary whenever the testimony is of a specialized or 8 technical nature. When a lay witness has particularized
9 knowledge by virtue of her experience, she may testify - even 10 if the subject matter is specialized or technical - because 11 the testimony is based on the layperson's personal knowledge
12 rather than on specialized knowledge within the scope of Rule
13 702. At the same time, we have consistently required that 14 lay testimony requiring future projections of business or 15 operation come from someone who has intimate and thorough
16 knowledge of the business gathered from either a lengthy 17 tenure or a position of authority," close quote.

18 Most tellingly, the Court in Donlin stated, quote,
19 "A trial judge must rigorously examine the reliability of a
20 layperson's opinion by ensuring that the witness possesses
21 sufficient specialized knowledge or experience which is 22 germane to the opinion offered," close quote.

23 And, finally, just to cite some other opinions or
24 decisions that support this, Van der Ruhr v. Immtech
25 International, 570 F.3d 858, Seventh Circuit, 2009;

1 Securitron Magnalock Corp. versus Schnabolk, 65 F.3d 256,
2 Second Circuit, 1995; United States versus Valencia, 600 F.3d
3 389, Fifth Circuit, 2010; and MCI Telecommunications Corp. v.
4 Wanzer, 897 F.2d 703, Fourth Circuit, 1990.

5 Ultimately, it is for the Court to determine whether 6 the proffered testimony carries with it sufficient indicia of 7 reliability arising from the witness' personal relationship
8 with the proponent of the evidence. Accordingly, it is 9 certainly true that, as argued here, a taxicab driver would 10 not be permitted to testify to these matters, but that does 11 not mean that neither Mr. Malhotra nor Mr. Buckfire can 12 testify -- can't testify to the matters that they testified
13 to because of their personal knowledge of the city's 14 financial affairs, and in this regard, the Court will find
15 that both Mr. Malhotra and Mr. Buckfire had extensive
16 personal knowledge of the city's affairs that they acquired
17 during their -- the course of their consulting work with the 18 city and that formed the basis of their opinions and 19 conclusions.

20 Perhaps more fundamentally than any of this is this 21 key consideration in the Court's ultimate resolution of these 22 matters. What both Mr. Malhotra did and what Mr. Buckfire
23 did are a substantial part of the facts and circumstances
24 that led to the filing of this case and that are, therefore,
25 highly relevant to the issues of eligibility that are before

1 the Court at this time. Accordingly, not only what they did
2 but why they did what they did, as explained through the
3 documents and in the testimony that they have proffered, is,
4 in the Court's view, entirely admissible. Accordingly, the 5 motion to reconsider is granted. The documents that the 6 Court had previously admitted on a limited basis are now
7 admitted for all purposes, and the motion to strike is 8 denied.

9 We were about to begin the cross-examination of 10 Mr. Buckfire, I believe, so let's do that.

11 MR. STEWART: Yes.

12 THE COURT: Step forward, please, sir, and resume
13 the witness stand. And, sir, you understand you are still 14 under oath.

15 MR. BUCKFIRE: I do.

16 THE COURT: You may proceed.

17 KENNETH A. BUCKFIRE, DEBTOR'S WITNESS, PREVIOUSLY SWORN
18 CROSS-EXAMINATION

19 BY MR. MONTGOMERY:

20 Q Good morning, Mr. Buckfire.

21 A Good morning.

22 Q My name is Claude Montgomery. I believe we've met before
23 in connection with your deposition in this matter --

24 A Yes.

25 Q -- is that correct?

1 A That's right.

2 Q Good morning. Now, Mr. Buckfire, if for any reason I
3 speak too quickly or you do not understand my question, I
4 would ask that you let me know.

5 A Thank you.

6 Q Now, do you recall the date of your deposition that I
7 took of you in connection with this matter?

8 A Not specifically, no.

9 Q It was September 20 of this year, was it not?

10 A Okay.

11 Q Okay. Do you recall where the deposition took place?

12 A New York City.

13 Q Okay. Do you recall what time it started?

14 A I believe it was in the morning.

15 Q Would 8:30 be right?

16 THE COURT: You believe it was what, sir?

17 THE WITNESS: In the morning.

18 BY MR. MONTGOMERY:

19 Q Now, I believe you testified to the Court yesterday that 20 you're from this area or a native I think is the word you
21 used.

22 A Yes.

23 Q Okay. And what did you mean by "native," sir?

24 A I was born in Detroit. My family lived here until 1965.
25 They moved to Southfield, Michigan. Then I attended

1 Southfield-Lathrup Senior High School. My family still lives
2 in the area as does my wife's. Attended the University of 3 Michigan, and I come back here frequently.

4 Q You're quite connected to the Detroit area; is that
5 correct?

6 A Yes, I am.

7 Q Okay. Do you know Andy Dillon personally?

8 A Not personally, no.

9 Q Have you ever met him?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And when did you first meet him?

12 A I met him for the first time in January or February of 13 2010.

14 Q And in what connection?

15 A I had been introduced to him by a gentleman from the 16 Business Leaders for Michigan. I'd asked him to introduce me
17 to Treasurer Dillon in the ordinary course of my duties
18 trying to make sure he knew about our firm and that that 19 might be helpful sometime with respect to Detroit.

20 Q I believe you told the Court yesterday that starting in 21 about 2009 you engaged in an effort to make sure that your
22 firm's resources were known to potential players in the City
23 of Detroit drama; is that correct?

24 A No. We simply started paying attention to Detroit after 25 it was downgraded.

1 Q Okay. And was your introduction to Mr. Dillon part of
2 that paying attention to the City of Detroit after it was 3 downgraded?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Okay. Now, by any chance do you know the current 6 governor, Rick Snyder?

7 A I met him a few times.

8 Q Okay. And in what connection, sir?

9 A During the course of our discussions with the state and 10 the financial advisory board in 2012, I met with him once or 11 twice to present really on an educational basis, you know, a 12 description of what restructuring was and how it might be 13 employed in a corporate and governmental setting.

14 Q Okay. And do you recall when that was, sir?

15 A It might have been in the spring.

16 Q Of which year?

17 A April 2012.

18 Q And can you be more specific in what information you gave 19 to Governor Snyder at that time?

20 A We had put together a very brief presentation really 21 describing the techniques of restructuring, how we go about 22 analyzing the problems of a company or a government, and 23 describing the various techniques that could be employed to 24 deal with those issues in the course of creating a
25 comprehensive long-term financial strategy.

1 Q And among the information that you gave to the governor
2 at that time, did it specifically relate to municipal 3 restructurings as well as corporate restructuring?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Okay. And did it include in any -- a discussion of 6 Chapter 9 as a vehicle for a municipal restructuring?

7 A Only as one of many alternative techniques.

8 Q And what other alternative techniques did you tell the 9 governor existed in the spring of 2012?

10 A I told him the same thing I tell all of my clients, that 11 bankruptcy is to be avoided at all costs, but it's always 12 required to be studied as a last resort.

13 Q Okay. You are the city's financial strategist, are you
14 not?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Okay. Are you its chief financial strategist?

17 A I don't understand that question.

18 Q Okay. But you are its financial strategist?

19 A Miller Buckfire is the city's investment bank, and part 20 of our responsibilities is to formulate and develop and 21 execute financial strategy.

22 Q All right. And for Miller Buckfire, you are managing 23 this engagement?

24 A I am.

25 Q Okay. Now, is the June 14 proposal a public

1 manifestation of the city's financial strategies developed by 2 you, sir?

3 A Yes, it is.

4 Q Okay. Now, is the June 14 proposal something you were --
5 in which you had input into the strategy and concept of that
6 document?

7 A Yes.

8 Q I believe you told that to Mr. Cullen in response to a
9 question yesterday; is that correct?

10 A Yes.

11 Q Okay. In fact, the Court should expect you to have input
12 in strategy if you are the chief strategist; is that correct?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Okay. Why did you tell me you had no involvement in the 15 production of the June 14 proposal when I asked you that 16 question at the deposition?

17 A You asked me whether we had worked on or drafted or 18 formulated any part of that document, and I told you we had 19 not except for the portion that related specifically to the 20 restructuring plan and the development of the limited
21 recourse participation notes, so we did not develop that as a
22 work product of Miller Buckfire. It was a manifestation of 23 the overall strategy that we had formulated in conjunction 24 with the city's other advisors beginning in January of this 25 year.

1 Q But am I not correct, sir, that with respect to the June
2 14th proposal itself you told me that you did not participate
3 in its preparation?

4 A I just answered that question.

5 MR. STEWART: Objection, your Honor. If he wants to 6 read a question and answer, that would be the appropriate way
7 to proceed.

8 THE COURT: The objection is sustained.

9 BY MR. MONTGOMERY:

10 Q Mr. Buckfire, I'm going to ask you if on the 20th of 11 September of this year during your deposition I asked you a
12 question which began at page 37, line 22, "Mr. Buckfire,
13 I've handed you what has been marked as Buckfire Exhibit
14 Number 2. Have you seen this before?" Do you recall me
15 asking you that question?

16 A No.

17 Q Okay. Do you recall that at line 25 you said, "Yes"?

18 A No.

19 Q All right. That Mr. Buckfire said -- "Question: What is 20 it, sir?" Your answer at line 3 was, "It is the June 14
21 report and proposal to creditors." My question to you at 22 line 5 was, "Did you participate in its preparation?" And 23 your answer at line 7 was, "No." Do you remember giving that 24 answer, sir?

25 A No.

1 Q Is it true that you had no involvement in the 2 preparation?

3 A Neither myself or my firm drafted this presentation. The 4 entire effort to restructure Detroit has been since January a
5 multi-disciplinary, multi-firm effort. The financial 6 strategy incorporated in the June 14th plan was one that we
7 had helped to formulate. We didn't draft the June 14th
8 document except to participate in the drafting of the 9 description of the plan for the creditors and the description
10 of the limited recourse participation notes.

11 Q So your input into the June 14 proposal is the limited
12 participation notes?

13 A I didn't say that.

14 Q Okay. Tell me again, sir.

15 A It's a very lengthy document reflecting the work of five 16 months by many firms. It does, of course, rely upon and is 17 meant to address the financial strategy that we helped the 18 city formulate beginning in January from an informational
19 perspective. My firm did participate, as I testified
20 earlier, in the creation of the restructuring plan itself;
21 that is, the portion of the document reflecting proposed 22 treatment for the claims of the creditors of the City of 23 Detroit, and, in particular, the formulation of the terms of 24 the $2 billion of notes that we have identified as being 25 available for resolution of those claims.

1 Q So it's your testimony today that the treatment of
2 creditors was essentially your idea?

3 A As I said, it was a collaborative effort by multiple
4 firms. We participated actively in that portion of the plan.

5 THE COURT: Excuse me one second. Again, we're 6 having a slight difficulty with our audio, so pull your 7 microphone two inches closer but no more.

8 THE WITNESS: Yesterday it was too far.

9 THE COURT: Go ahead. Pull it closer. There.

10 THE WITNESS: Thank you, your Honor.

11 THE COURT: Try that.

12 BY MR. MONTGOMERY:

13 Q So, Mr. Buckfire, I take it you share all of the 14 recommendations that appear in the June 14 proposal.

15 A I don't understand that question.

16 Q I think you just told me it was a collaborative effort,
17 not necessarily your idea.

18 A That's correct.

19 Q Okay. And so I'm asking you, as you are sitting here
20 today advising the Court, do you share all of the 21 recommendations that -- in the treatment of creditors that 22 appears in the June 14 proposal?

23 A You're referring specifically to the proposed treatment
24 of creditors?

25 Q Yes, sir.

1 A Yes, I do.

2 Q Okay. Now, does that include the recommendation that
3 retiree pension and healthcare benefits must be significantly
4 reduced?

5 A I do.

6 Q Okay. And did you ever personally make that
7 recommendation to the emergency manager?

8 A No.

9 Q Since this was a collaborative effort, who made that
10 recommendation to the emergency manager?

11 A Well, it was a function of the city's insolvency and lack 12 of cash. There was no way for the city to satisfy its 13 unsecured creditors to the extent that their claims indicated
14 because the claims of the pension fund and healthcare
15 retirees are unsecured claims, therefore, pari passu with 16 those of the general obligation and COP bondholders, clearly 17 there wasn't enough value to satisfy them all, and they would 18 have to be reduced.

19 Q Mr. Buckfire, I believe the question I asked required
20 identification of a person. Who made the recommendation
21 since you didn't make it?

22 A Well, it was a function of the mathematics. I'm not sure
23 that there was any particular recommendation made. The math
24 and the financial condition of the city simply didn't support
25 continued satisfaction of all of its unsecured obligations as

1 previously promised.

2 Q Are you suggesting it was so self-evident no one had to
3 say it?

4 A Yes.

5 Q So, in fact, you didn't say it?

6 A I didn't have to. The mathematics indicates that was the 7 unfortunate result.

8 Q Did Conway MacKenzie say it?

9 A I don't know.

10 Q Did Ernst say it?

11 A I don't know.

12 Q Did Jones Day say it?

13 A I don't know.

14 Q So let's turn to the topic of how this no one had to say
15 it aspect of the proposal came to be pursued. When, sir, is 16 the first time you recall you and Mr. Orr discussing the 17 reduction of pension benefits and healthcare benefits if 18 ever?

19 A I don't recall.

20 Q Okay. It never happened?

21 A I said I don't recall.

22 Q Did it ever happen?

23 A I don't recall.

24 Q Okay. Change the topic. You were involved in the 25 negotiations -- strike that. What role, if any, did you have

1 in discussions or presentations to creditors following the
2 June 14 proposal?

3 A I was delegated by Mr. Orr with the responsibility of 4 negotiating and discussing with the funded debt creditors of 5 the city the June 14th proposal.

6 Q Did you, sir, personally have any involvement with any
7 current or former employee groupings of creditors?

8 A I was present at at least one or two meetings here in 9 Detroit with representatives of retirees, but I was not 10 taking a lead role in those discussions.

11 Q When you say "present," were you talking about the June 12 14th meeting itself?

13 A No, afterwards.

14 Q Afterwards. Are you talking about the June 20th meeting
15 that may have occurred?

16 A It may have been that week, but I know I was present at 17 at least one or two.

18 Q Okay. Are there any others other than that one that may 19 have occurred on June 20?

20 A Well, it was a very, very busy time for me. I was trying 21 to get the forbearance agreement done with the swap
22 counterparties, so after that initial set of meetings I
23 didn't directly participate. Other members of my firm, I
24 believe, did.

25 Q So you were not involved in a June 25 meeting; correct?

1 A I may have been. I just don't recall the dates.

2 Q Okay. And you were not involved in a July 10 meeting; is
3 that correct?

4 A I just don't recall.

5 Q And, again, same question with respect to July 11?

6 A I don't recall.

7 Q And July 12?

8 A I don't recall.

9 Q Okay. But do you recall participating in meetings with 10 funded debt creditors?

11 A Yes, I do.

12 Q Okay. And which days do you remember for that?

13 A I can't put specific dates to it. After the June 14th
14 presentation in which I participated, we gave all of the 15 city's creditors a week to study the plan and supporting 16 information, which obviously made sense because it was a
17 bombshell for them, and we immediately began discussions with 18 as many creditors as was willing to meet with us the week
19 after that, so that would be, I guess, the 20th or 21st. And 20 we began meeting with groups of the creditors primarily in 21 New York City all that week, and that extended into the week
22 following. At the same time, I was meeting or having 23 discussions almost every day with the swap counterparties.

24 Q Should I understand that you had a determination,
25 Mr. Buckfire, that it was more important for you to meet with

1 the funded debt creditors than with the retiree and employee
2 creditors?

3 A No. It was just a division of labor. The bondholders
4 and the bond insurers were organized. They told us that they
5 could rely upon them to represent the interests of the 6 underlying creditors, so because of the fact that we're an
7 investment bank and have long experience in managing creditor
8 relationships of that kind, it was determined that we should 9 take the lead in those discussions while the lead in 10 discussions with the retirees and other claim holders would 11 be taken by others.

12 Q And you participated in making that decision as the chief
13 financial strategist for the city; is that correct?

14 A Well, you keep saying I'm the chief financial strategist.
15 I am a financial strategist, and the city asked my opinion,
16 and that was my recommendation.

17 Q Okay. Thank you. Now, do you recall yesterday in 18 response to a question by Mr. Cullen indicating that you
19 regarded the June 14 proposal as even-handed and fair?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Okay. And as you sit here today, do you still think it
22 is even-handed and fair?

23 A Yes.

24 Q Now, I'm correct, am I not, that the June 14 proposal
25 provides for no cash payments to the Retirement Systems on

1 account of the city's promised pensions; is that correct?

2 A I'm not sure I understand what you're saying.

3 Q Are -- it's a simple question. Retiree creditors for 4 pensions, are there any cash payments at confirmation or
5 shortly thereafter that the June 14 proposal plans to be made
6 to the Retirement Systems?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Okay. And what are those, sir?

9 A They would receive their share on a pro rata basis with 10 the other unsecured creditors of the proposed $2 billion of 11 notes that would be provided upon exit from bankruptcy.

12 Q All right. But those are notes in which there is no
13 mandatory payment of principal required; is that correct?

14 A There's a mandatory payment of interest, and there's an 15 optional payment of principal if the city can afford it.

16 Q But my question was no mandatory requirement.

17 A That's correct.

18 Q Okay. And with respect to interest, it's one and a half
19 percent; is that correct?

20 A That's all the city can afford. That's correct.

21 Q But that's what it proposes, one and half percent?

22 A That's correct.

23 Q Okay. So no cash at confirmation, one and a half percent 24 interest over time, and no mandatory principal repayments; is
25 that correct?

1 A That's correct.

2 Q Now, the same is true for the healthcare creditors; is
3 that correct?

4 A No. The plan did propose a continued payment of 5 healthcare benefits to actives and retirees. I don't have
6 the plan in front of me, but I think you'll see a line item
7 in the financials that do assume continued payment of 8 healthcare premiums.

9 Q That's for actives, is it not?

10 A I don't recall exactly the distinction, but it's in the 11 plan.

12 Q In fact, the plan proposes for active employees defined
13 contribution payments for future pension accruals; is that
14 correct?

15 A Are you talking about healthcare or pension now?

16 Q Right now I switched back to pension because you
17 mentioned both.

18 A Okay.

19 Q It is correct that insofar as past pension entitlements
20 are concerned, the only recovery proposed under the plan is a
21 share of a note; is that correct?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Okay. And but for what the city may or may not be doing
24 right now, the only proposal for retiree -- existing retiree
25 healthcare is whatever funding is provided by the note; is

1 that correct?

2 A Well, the healthcare benefits for retirees would be
3 provided to an insurance exchange, and some of that would be
4 supplemented by payments made by the city.

5 Q The insurance -- okay. Insurance exchanges is not the 6 city, though, is it?

7 A No.

8 Q Okay. And there is no vehicle proposed in the plan for 9 delivering cash to retirees to participate in the exchange,
10 is there?

11 A Not to my knowledge, no.

12 Q All right. Now, are you familiar with the term "Dutch 13 auction"?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Would you tell the Court what a Dutch auction is?

16 A A Dutch auction is a technique used in the financial 17 markets to ensure that a company or a government when issuing 18 securities will always get the most favorable price for 19 itself. In other words, you don't want to have a situation
20 where you sell a bond or a note or a share of stock and it
21 turns out that after you've done so, the price has doubled
22 because you mispriced the security because you misjudged the 23 demand for that security, so a Dutch auction is intended to 24 allow interested buyers of securities to, in effect, make an 25 offer to sell into the tender securities at whatever price

1 they deem fair, and then the city or the government in that
2 case would look at the total tally of bids or offers and
3 decide what is the lowest price that will clear the entire
4 market. So anybody who made the mistake of offering to sell
5 a security for too high a price would not have its offer
6 accepted.

7 Q So, sir, it's basically creditors fight to see who can
8 make the lowest bid in order to get the greatest amount of 9 whatever distribution or security is being offered; is that
10 correct?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Okay. So in this particular context, your plan proposes 13 that pension creditors and healthcare creditors should 14 compete for the lowest possible price in order to be entitled
15 to a distribution under your notes; is that correct?

16 A It's an option. They don't have to take it if they don't 17 want to.

18 Q But if they don't take it, if any creditor offers to sell
19 their note for a distribution, that creditor will get it, and 20 the retiree creditors will get nothing; is that correct?

21 A It sets up a very interesting situation. If a creditor
22 offers to sell his note back to the city at too low a price,
23 then a rational other buyer -- for example, a well-advised
24 pension fund in this case -- would probably decide not to 25 sell. They would retain their notes. And as the pool of

1 other noteholders shrinks, having sold at too low a price,
2 they would benefit by a higher price later.

3 Q But in the context of this plan, if you needed cash
4 sooner rather than later, you'd have to bid rather than wait;
5 is that correct?

6 A No. You would have the option of selling your note into 7 the open market to presumably people who understand this 8 mechanic, who understand the city's credit, and they would be 9 offering you what they would deem is a fair market determined
10 price.

11 Q But the bottom line, sir, is basically creditors under 12 your proposal have to compete for the lowest price --

13 A No. They don't have to --

14 Q -- offered to the city?

15 A They don't have to sell. They can keep it and sell into 16 the market as an alternative to selling into a sinking fund
17 process run by the city. No mandatory requirement to do so
18 and no coercion.

19 Q But you can't get cash without participating in the bid?

20 A Or selling in the open market.

21 Q Can't get cash from the city, sir, without participating
22 in the bid?

23 A That's true.

24 Q And that's even-handed and fair insofar as retirees are 25 concerned?

1 A They are being treated no worse or no better than any
2 other unsecured creditor of the city.

3 Q Now, the note is -- that the June 14 proposal puts 4 forward is a $2 billion nominal value note; is that correct?

5 A Correct.

6 Q Okay. And it is proposed to be distributed among 7 unsecured creditors on a pro rata basis; is that correct?

8 A Yes.

9 Q So that if a creditor had a billion dollar note and there
10 were $11 billion of unsecured claims, that billion dollar
11 note would be 1/11th; is that correct?

12 A That's right.

13 Q Okay. Now --

14 MR. STEWART: Your Honor, if I may, I think we are 15 straying a little bit into plan as opposed to eligibility
16 issues.

17 THE COURT: I think the objection is relevance.

18 MR. MONTGOMERY: Your Honor, in order for the 19 debtor's proposal to have been made in good faith, it must be 20 one that manifests both subjective and objective standards
21 with respect to good faith, and how creditors are proposed to 22 be treated I think is quite relevant to whether or not, "A,"
23 a plan has been proposed, and, "B," whether or not it's in 24 good faith.

25 THE COURT: I agree. The objection is overruled.

1 BY MR. MONTGOMERY:

2 Q If a creditor -- if the city -- strike that. Under the 3 note proposal, asset sales by the city play a role in the 4 funding of that note; is that correct?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And it's on a formula basis; is that correct?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And with respect to asset dispositions, it's 75 percent
9 goes into the note pool, and 25 percent goes to the city?

10 A Yes.

11 Q But it's capped at an aggregate distribution of $2
12 billion; is that correct?

13 A That's correct.

14 Q So that if the city were to sell $2-1/2 billion worth of 15 assets, you would completely defease the $2 billion note and 16 the city would get a half a billion dollars; is that correct?

17 A That's correct.

18 Q If the city were to sell $5 billion of assets, the 19 creditors would get $2 billion and the city would get 3; is
20 that correct?

21 A After the bankruptcy, that's correct.

22 Q Is that fair and even-handed, sir?

23 A It was an opening offer. There are obvious things we 24 expected our creditors to come back and object to or ask to 25 negotiate.

1 Q Okay.

2 A But to answer your question, it was fair because it
3 treated our unsecured creditors exactly the same.

4 Q And for you that's the key indicia in fairness?

5 A Starting out a process like this, it's complicated, and 6 one must be very sensitive to the competing interests of all
7 of our creditors. Other cites that have tried to do
8 consensual out-of-court restructurings have tended to favor
9 one group of creditors over the other. That has not proven
10 to be a very successful strategy. We elected to treat
11 everyone exactly the same, and we obviously expected there to 12 be vigorous negotiation among all of our unsecured creditors
13 because clearly everybody wanted to be treated more specially 14 than everybody else. We decided because we didn't know where 15 this would go that the city should be viewed as being 16 impartial in how it would treat it's unsecured creditors.

17 Q And treating -- in your mind, sir, treating the pension
18 obligations of the city for accrued financial benefits or --
19 strike that -- for pension benefits, in your mind, it's fair
20 to treat those exactly the same as general unsecured
21 creditors, trade creditors?

22 A They're unsecured claims.

23 Q Okay. Isn't the city actually paying trade creditors
24 now, sir?

25 A They are.

1 Q The June 14 proposal that you made, there's some missing
2 information from it, is there not, if -- strike that. Let me
3 rephrase the question. Assume I'm a creditor, a hypothetical
4 creditor, and I want to make a decision on whether or not to 5 vote for your plan or not. If I was just looking at the June
6 14 proposal, there would be some missing information;
7 correct?

8 A I don't know what you're referring to.

9 Q Are there any asset values listed in the June 14
10 proposal?

11 A No.

12 Q There's absolutely no balance sheet information of any
13 kind anywhere in that document; is that correct?

14 A That's correct.

15 Q Is there any information regarding major disputes that 16 the city has that might yield future cash or assets?

17 A I don't understand your question.

18 Q Is there any information regarding disputes over
19 collection of past due contract debts?

20 A I believe we did make some references to that.

21 Q And do you recall what those references were?

22 A Well, the city has historically had a very difficult time
23 collecting delinquent property tax revenues. I believe the 24 past due on that particular line item is several hundred 25 million dollars. The city, from an administrative

1 perspective, has never been very good at collecting taxes,
2 and that's a potentially significant asset, but, again, the 3 ability of the city to collect on that has always been very,
4 very doubtful.

5 Q But the June 14 proposal doesn't actually say anything
6 like several hundred million dollars, does it?

7 A No. I think there's a reference to it -- I don't have it
8 in front of me -- to the past due income taxes the city has 9 not been able to collect, but I'd have to have it in front of 10 me to find the reference to it.

11 Q Understood. Now, as part of your information provision
12 strategies for creditors, you created a data room; is that
13 correct?

14 A My firm did organize one, yes.

15 Q Okay. And basically all creditor information is supposed
16 to show up there?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Okay. Is there any information in that data room
19 regarding the value of art?

20 A Not that I'm aware of.

21 Q Is there any information in that data room regarding the 22 value of the Department of Water and Sewer?

23 A Not that I'm aware of.

24 Q Okay. And there's no information on the value of either
25 of those two in the actual June 14 proposal, is there?

1 A It was not available at the time.

2 Q Okay. Is it available today?

3 A Well, they're both ongoing asset evaluations that the 4 city is managing. I've already testified that the city did
5 retain Christie's to do an evaluation of city-owned art, and 6 the results of that hopefully will be available soon.

7 Q Could you pause there for a second, sir? Have there been
8 any preliminary reports by Christie's?

9 A No.

10 Q Nothing of any kind?

11 A No.

12 Q Are you in the information trail between Christie and the 13 city, sir, meaning are -- strike that. What role, if any,
14 did you have in the selection of Christie's?

15 A I recommended that the city interview them for the role
16 of appraising the city-owned art.

17 Q And when did you make that recommendation?

18 A I believe it was in late May, early June of this year.

19 Q Would it have been before or after May 7?

20 A Oh, after.

21 Q Going back to information that's in the data room or in 22 the June 14 proposal itself, I asked you if there was any 23 information regarding the Department of Water and Sewer
24 there, and you said no.

25 A No. I didn't say -- I said I don't know.

1 Q Oh, you don't know?

2 A I don't have a record of every scrap of information
3 that's in the data room in my head.

4 Q Okay.

5 A I apologize.

6 Q But is there any in the June 14 proposal itself?

7 A We made reference to it as we've already testified to the 8 fact that we were working on it as potential source of value
9 to the city, but as is well-known, it is operated on a
10 nonprofit basis. The city has never received any cash from 11 the Water and Sewer Department through which it provides 12 services to the customers all through southeastern Michigan,
13 and there has been no business plan up until the time we 14 commissioned one on that department in order to determine 15 what the value could be.

16 Q Two follow-up questions perhaps. One, it's true, isn't 17 it, that the Department of Water and Sewer makes
18 contributions to the Retirement System -- the General
19 Retirement System on behalf of its employees and retirees; is 20 that correct?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And that's actually a substantial number, isn't it?

23 A I believe so.

24 Q Now, it's also true that the Department of Water and 25 Sewer pays retiree healthcare benefits for its former

1 employees; is that correct?

2 A With respect to its former employees?

3 Q Well, retirees.

4 A I don't know.

5 Q And those payments -- strike. Let me rephrase that.
6 You're familiar with the bonds that are secured by the 7 revenues of the Department of Water and Sewer, are you not?

8 A I am.

9 Q All right. That's actually part of your firm's special
10 charge here is to understand those values; is that correct?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Okay. And you understand that -- are you familiar with 13 the concept of a waterfall?

14 A Lower case or upper case? Yes.

15 Q Okay. In the context of a secured creditor's entitlement
16 to money, could you tell the Court what a waterfall is?

17 A In our technical vocabulary, a waterfall describes the 18 application of cash flows in terms of priority of creditor
19 claims, so if a creditor has a lien against revenues, that 20 lien is supposed to be satisfied before any money may be paid
21 to any other creditor who has an interest subordinate to that 22 lien.

23 Q So in the waterfall for the bonds secured by the 24 Department -- the assets belonging to the Department of Water
25 and Sewer, net operating expenses are paid first before the

1 bonds, are they not? Is that not correct?

2 A You know, it's a good question. The way the rate
3 agreement works in that context, it's not clear that it's a
4 strict waterfall in the context used in creditor documents.
5 It is -- we are allowed to seek reimbursement for operating,
6 maintenance, and debt service costs from our rate payers, but 7 I don't know whether it specifically says those costs are 8 senior to the payments made to the secured creditors.

9 Q Sir, isn't it true that the bondholders are entitled to 10 the revenues after payment of net operating expenses?

11 A Again, I'd have to read the agreement.

12 Q Sir, you understand this asset perhaps better than 13 anybody in this room. Are you telling me you don't know the 14 answer to the question?

15 A I'm saying I'd have to read specific language to give you
16 an accurate answer.

17 Q But as you're sitting here today, you don't know the
18 answer?

19 A I'd have to read the language to give you an accurate
20 answer.

21 Q Does that mean as you're sitting here today, you do not
22 know the answer without reading the document?

23 A It's a very technical provision, and I would want to make
24 completely sure I gave you an accurate answer by rereading
25 that language.

1 Q Okay. Are you familiar with the size of the operating
2 revenues that either the sewer fund or the water fund
3 receive?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Okay. And, sir, is it -- am I correct that the sewage
6 disposal fund had revenues in excess of $430 million a year?

7 A In fiscal 2012, that seems correct.

8 Q Okay. And same question with respect to the water fund,
9 in excess of $350 million a year?

10 A That sounds right.

11 Q Would you regard those numbers as being material?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Okay. But they are not mentioned in the June 14
14 proposal?

15 A No.

16 Q When thinking about asset values for purposes of being a
17 hypothetical creditor, is an understanding of the future
18 value of -- strike that. Is the understanding of a fair
19 market value of that asset something that a creditor would 20 like to know?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Is there any fair market value information anywhere in 23 the June 14 proposal?

24 A No.

25 Q Okay. Another way of understanding value for a creditor

1 is to understand historical costs; is that true?

2 A Yes.

3 Q Is there any historical cost information in the June 14
4 proposal?

5 A No.

6 Q And, lastly, another way is third-party appraisals. As 7 of June 14th, are there any third-party appraisals in the --
8 mentioned or described in the June 14 proposal?

9 A No.

10 Q As the city's financial strategist, has the city
11 commissioned any appraisals other than Christie's?

12 A Well, let's see. I testified yesterday we have requested
13 an audit be done of the Detroit-Windsor Tunnel.

14 Q I think I said appraisals, sir.

15 A No.

16 Q We'll get to audits. Appraisals.

17 A No.

18 Q No. Okay. So let's turn to audits. Is there any 19 information in the June 14 proposal with respect to audits of 20 any of the assets?

21 A Not as of that time.

22 Q And if I could for the purpose of this question consider
23 valuations, appraisals, and historical cost being asset value
24 information -- can I just use that as asset value
25 information?

1 A If you wish.

2 Q Okay. So there's no asset value information regarding
3 the City Airport in the June 14 proposal, is there?

4 A No outside appraisal? No.

5 Q No. The three buckets, appraisals, valuation, or 6 historical cost. I'm calling it asset value information.

7 A No.

8 Q Okay. Is there any on noncore real estate?

9 A No.

10 Q Is there any on the municipal parking system?

11 A No.

12 Q And I think you already testified there was nothing on 13 the Detroit-Windsor Tunnel; correct?

14 A Correct.

15 Q And you've also told me that there was no information on 16 potentially past due tax receivables; correct?

17 A Well, we identified, I believe, how large a number it
18 was. That's a matter of accounting entry.

19 Q But nothing else?

20 A That's right.

21 Q Okay. Has a business plan been developed by you or 22 somebody working with you for the Department of Water and 23 Sewer?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Okay. And what role, if any, did Miller Buckfire play in

1 the development of that business plan?

2 A None.

3 Q You did not give any assumptions or make any 4 recommendations with respect to how that business plan should 5 be developed?

6 A No.

7 Q Okay. So it's entirely the work of Conway MacKenzie?

8 A And other consultants who were brought in to review the 9 Water and Sewer Department's capital improvement plan.

10 Q Okay. And who were those consultants, sir?

11 A There was five or six firms involved. I don't have all
12 their names.

13 Q Are you speaking of engineering firms?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Oh, okay. Now, have you read the business plan?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Have you made it part of a proposal that you have made to 18 anyone?

19 A I don't understand.

20 Q Have you made any proposals since the presentation to you
21 of the Conway MacKenzie business plan for the Department of 22 Water and Sewer to any third parties?

23 A No.

24 Q Have you made a -- have you made a proposal to the
25 emergency manager?

1 A I don't understand what you mean by "proposal."

2 Q Let's try again. Have you been involved in any
3 negotiations regarding Department of Water and Sewer with 4 anybody not employed by the city or the emergency manager
5 since the Conway MacKenzie business plan was produced?

6 A Yes.

7 Q Okay. And can you tell me what you have done in that
8 regard?

9 MR. STEWART: I beg your pardon. Could I hear the 10 question again?

11 BY MR. MONTGOMERY:

12 Q The question was what have you done in that regard? Do
13 you understand the question, sir?

14 A Well --

15 Q Obviously not. Your eyes are wrinkling, and you can't 16 understand, so let me -- may I rephrase?

17 A Of course.

18 Q Thank you. You were in charge of monetization of the 19 Department of Water and Sewer as an asset of the city, were 20 you not?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Okay. And you've actually taken steps since the 23 production of the business plan to achieve that goal; is that
24 correct?

25 A Yes.

1 Q Okay. And that has involved formulating a proposal to
2 third parties; is that correct?

3 A Well, it's a very --

4 Q Is that a "yes" or a "no" you're about to give me and 5 then answer?

6 A Can you rephrase -- can you repeat the question?

7 Q Sure. I asked you if you had made a proposal to third
8 parties.

9 THE COURT: And I would only ask you to specify,
10 counsel, a time period.

11 MR. MONTGOMERY: Since the production of the Conway
12 MacKenzie business plan.

13 THE COURT: To today?

14 MR. MONTGOMERY: To today.

15 THE WITNESS: No.

16 BY MR. MONTGOMERY:

17 Q You've had no meetings with the regional water customers
18 of the city making a proposal to them?

19 A I have not made a proposal on behalf of the city yet.

20 Q Okay. Did you have a meeting with the regional water
21 customers for the Department of Water and Sewer after 22 production of the Conway MacKenzie business plan?

23 A We had a presentation of that plan after we met with our 24 creditors and presented the same information.

25 Q Okay. So you presented --

1 THE COURT: I have to ask for a pause here. I'm 2 concerned about the relevance of any of this information as 3 it may apply to work the witness has done since the case was 4 filed.

5 MR. MONTGOMERY: Your Honor, if I may, this is a
6 line of inquiry that's actually designed to show that there
7 was potentially disclosable value in the June 14 proposal
8 that simply was not.

9 THE COURT: Okay. You can certainly ask about that,
10 but I don't think it's appropriate to ask the witness about 11 specific activities that he has undertaken to monetize
12 property since the case was filed. The issue is was the --

13 MR. MONTGOMERY: I understand, your Honor.

14 THE COURT: -- city eligible on the date it filed.

15 MR. MONTGOMERY: Okay. Thank you, your Honor.

16 BY MR. MONTGOMERY:

17 Q Mr. Buckfire, a central part of the June 14 proposal is 18 to free the Department of Water and Sewer from the legacy
19 pension and healthcare costs. Is that not correct?

20 A No.

21 Q It's not correct, so --

22 A It's not correct.

23 Q Under the June 14 proposal, the city contemplates the 24 Department of Water and Sewer continuing to pay past pension
25 and healthcare obligations?

1 A That wasn't what you asked me. You asked me if we
2 contemplated freeing the department from legacy pension
3 liabilities. That was not contemplated. What was 4 contemplated was attempting to create a transaction that
5 might create value for the city but only if there was a buyer
6 on the other side willing to pay value for it.

7 Q So two questions. Does the June 14 proposal contemplate
8 that the retirees of the Department of Water and Sewer will 9 continue to have payments made by the city for either
10 pensions or healthcare?

11 A Well, there are two scenarios. In one case, the city
12 would continue to own the Department of Water and Sewer,
13 which is currently the most likely situation the city has,
14 and in that case the retirees would be treated exactly as we 15 identified in the plan with respect to their unsecured
16 claims --

17 Q No.

18 A -- in that scenario. In the scenario in which we are 19 successful in selling Water and Sewer to its customers, which 20 would only be done if it created value back to the city, then
21 the use of that value would be up to the plan.

22 Q When you say the use would be up to the plan, you mean
23 would be resolved as part of the plan of adjustment?

24 A It would be a very fortunate outcome if we, in fact, are 25 able to get our customers to pay something for the use of

1 these assets. What we do with that stream of value would
2 obviously be the subject of negotiation with our creditors
3 for whom benefit this is being done.

4 Q Okay. And am I not correct that the Conway MacKenzie
5 business plan identifies fairly significant streams of value
6 that are capable of being discussed?

7 A In theory, yes.

8 MR. STEWART: Objection, your Honor. The plan was 9 provided and its detail was provided in the -- under the 10 confidentiality order in connection with the mediation
11 ordered by the Court. I would object to any questioning
12 based upon that plan.

13 THE COURT: Was that the question?

14 MR. MONTGOMERY: No. That was not actually the 15 question, but --

16 THE COURT: All right. Let's rephrase the question,
17 and we'll see if there's still an objection.

18 BY MR. MONTGOMERY:

19 Q I think I asked you whether or not the Conway MacKenzie
20 business plan identified material streams of value.

21 MR. STEWART: Same objection, your Honor.

22 THE COURT: Was this Conway MacKenzie business plan
23 proffered to creditors or attorneys for creditors as part of 24 the mediation process?

25 MR. MONTGOMERY: I believe we and others received

1 it. That's why I was asking the question earlier whether or
2 not the witness had met with third parties.

3 THE COURT: It was proffered as -- and you've seen
4 it as part of the mediation process?

5 MR. MONTGOMERY: I have not asked -- yes.

6 THE COURT: Is that right?

7 MR. MONTGOMERY: Yes.

8 THE COURT: Then the objection is sustained.

9 MR. MONTGOMERY: Thank you.

10 BY MR. MONTGOMERY:

11 Q Change of topic, sir. You've been engaged twice in 12 connection with the City of Detroit; is that correct?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Okay. And the first time was in 2012?

15 A Yes.

16 Q I believe you told Mr. Cullen yesterday that your first
17 engagement started around March; is that correct?

18 A That's my recollection.

19 Q That's March of 2012. Do you recall telling me that your 20 first engagement was in July of 2012?

21 A Yes. I think I was wrong.

22 Q So the July -- what you referred to in your deposition
23 transcript as July you now mean as March?

24 A That's right.

25 Q Thank you. Were you involved with matters relating to

1 the city prior to March of 2012?

2 A Only in a very limited sense. We had tried to build a
3 relationship with the city and with the state obviously, as I
4 testified earlier, for about a year. In the context of that,
5 at some point in early 2012 -- I can't recall when -- I was 6 contacted by Treasurer Dillon, who asked me if there was any 7 relevant experience that he could look at that might guide
8 him in constructing a agreement with the city to provide
9 future funding, so we did a little research, and I sent him
10 some documents related to the creation of the New York City
11 Financial Control Board and Municipal Assistance Corporation,
12 both of which were done in the 1970s, and answered a few of 13 his questions about that.

14 Q Did you transmit to him any form of consent agreement?

15 A No.

16 Q Did you discuss these matters with Jones Day?

17 A I recall asking someone at Jones Day what they thought
18 about this example as a structure that could be used by the 19 State of Michigan and the City of Detroit.

20 Q And was that before or around March of 2012?

21 A It was sometime in early 2012. I can't recall the date.

22 Q Okay. Do you recall creating a model for use by 23 Treasurer Dillon?

24 A A financial model?

25 Q A model for a consent agreement?

1 A I might have given him a model in the strict sense of an
2 outline, but that's all.

3 Q Okay. And did you share that outline with anybody else?

4 A I don't recall.

5 Q Did you share it with Jones Day?

6 A I might have.

7 Q Specifically Corrine Ball?

8 A I might have.

9 Q You communicate a lot with Corrine Ball, do you not?

10 A I communicate with many attorneys.

11 Q Did you not tell me in your deposition that you have had 12 almost daily contact with her as a result of a totally 13 different case?

14 A That's true.

15 Q Okay. And were you having extensive contact with her in
16 March of 2012?

17 A On another matter, that's correct.

18 Q Okay. But you also did talk with her or communicate with 19 her regarding this matter, did you not?

20 A I did.

21 Q Okay. Do you recall communicating with Treasurer Dillon
22 about the possibility of repeal of PA 4?

23 A No.

24 Q No. Do you recall communicating with Jones Day about the 25 possibility that the voters in the State of Michigan might

1 repeal PA 4?

2 A No.

3 Q Sir, do you remember telling me that -- in 2013 that the 4 city's information was not reliable?

5 A That's correct.

6 Q Do you recall participating in a meeting with E&Y and the 7 emergency manager on or about May 7?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Okay. Do you recall telling me that that is the moment
10 in time in which you concluded the city was not solvent?

11 MR. STEWART: Your Honor, if I may, if he could 12 answer the question -- ask the question directly, and then if 13 he doesn't recall, he can refresh his recollection or impeach
14 him with the deposition. Asking whether he recalls the 15 deposition without the deposition in front of him is just an 16 improper way to proceed.

17 THE COURT: The objection is sustained. Just ask
18 the question.

19 BY MR. MONTGOMERY:

20 Q When did you decide that the city was insolvent?

21 A I didn't decide the city was insolvent.

22 Q When did you conclude in your own mind that the city was
23 insolvent?

24 A Well, if you use the definition of insolvency as the 25 inability to continue to pay debts when due, which I think is

1 relevant here, that's when it became, I think, factually
2 pretty evident to me that that would be a serious problem for 3 the city. The city could not, therefore, make the 4 representation that it could pay its debts when due in the 5 short term, and, therefore, if you want to call that
6 insolvency, I would agree with you.

7 THE COURT: The question was when did you come to 8 that conclusion?

9 THE WITNESS: Around May 7th when I first saw the 10 projection from Ernst & Young.

11 BY MR. MONTGOMERY:

12 Q That was the projection from Ernst & Young that --

13 A The short-term cash flow forecast, yes.

14 Q Okay. Sir, I'm going to change topics, if you don't 15 mind. I'd like to draw you back to a meeting that took place
16 at the City Airport, the law firm retention meetings, which I
17 believe you were in attendance at; is that correct?

18 A I think you mean Metropolitan Airport.

19 Q Metropolitan. Did I say City Airport?

20 A You did. No one would have a meeting there if they could 21 avoid it.

22 Q My apologies. My apologies. Even I know the difference
23 between the City Airport and the Metro Airport. At the Metro
24 Airport?

25 A Yes.

1 Q Okay. And were you in the room when Jones Day made its
2 presentation?

3 A I was in the room for all the presentations, including
4 Jones Day's.

5 Q Okay. Do you recall anyone at Jones Day during that
6 presentation making a statement to the effect that asset
7 monetization outside of a bankruptcy may implicate
8 eligibility requirement that city be insolvent?

9 A No.

10 Q Sir, do you recall anybody at Jones Day making a
11 statement that statutes, codes, case law may require that 12 funds received from disposition be allocated?

13 A No.

14 Q Do you recall anyone at Jones Day making a statement that 15 any transaction should be reviewed and structured to address
16 any eligibility issues by earmarking of funds?

17 A No.

18 Q Was there any conversation during that meeting regarding 19 asset dispositions?

20 A As I recall, the topic was addressed by all the law firms
21 that made presentations. I can't recall what specifically
22 any one law firm said about it.

23 Q In your experience as a financial strategist, leading up
24 to a Chapter 9, is asset monetization an issue that needs to 25 be watched closely for eligibility purposes?

1 A I think you're asking me for a legal conclusion. My
2 focus is purely and simply on cash, and we looked at all the 3 assets of the city with the objective of determining whether 4 any of the assets of the city could be converted into cash on
5 a fast basis because we needed the cash. I really wasn't 6 worried about eligibility implications of that.

7 Q Do you recall having any conversations with Emergency
8 Manager Moore (sic) regarding the timing of asset
9 monetizations prior to June 14, 2014 (sic)?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And when did that conversation -- first, was it one
12 conversation or more than one conversation?

13 A That was multiple conversation over many months.

14 Q Okay. And so when was the first time you discussed the 15 impact of asset monetization?

16 A Well, after he was appointed emergency manager -- I
17 believe it was close to the end of March. We had already 18 been engaged for several months before that. We briefed him
19 on our preliminary assessment of the situation, including
20 whether or not any assets were available for rapid conversion
21 to cash. I believe it was that time we went through our list
22 of what I would call non-core assets and helped him
23 understand what any of them might be worth in a sale
24 transaction.

25 Q But your conclusion was that nothing could be done in the 1 short term?

2 A Correct.

3 Q Okay. And did the emergency manager charge you to begin
4 the long-term effort as a result of those conversations?

5 A We continued to evaluate all of the city's assets after 6 that conversation as we have continued to do so to try to 7 maximize value for the city.

8 Q So did the emergency manager change your work plan with 9 respect to asset monetization in any way?

10 A No.

11 MR. MONTGOMERY: Your Honor, subject to conferring
12 with my colleagues, I believe I'm done with this witness.

13 THE COURT: All right. I'll give you a moment to do
14 that.

15 MR. MONTGOMERY: Your Honor, the Retiree Committee
16 has finished with Mr. Buckfire. Thank you.

17 THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

18 MR. MONTGOMERY: It'll take a moment to move my 19 papers from underneath the podium.

20 CROSS-EXAMINATION

21 BY MR. CIANTRA:

22 Q Good afternoon, Mr. Buckfire. Thomas Ciantra, Cohen,
23 Weiss & Simon. We're counsel for the UAW. I don't have a
24 lot, but I do want do -- did want to ask you about one of the 25 topics that you testified about in your direct examination,

1 and that was, as I understand it, you were tasked to
2 negotiate with the city's bondholders and specifically the 3 bond insurers. Is that correct?

4 A That we took the lead role in those negotiations, yes.

5 Q Okay. And just by way of -- just by way of background,
6 would it be correct that some of the city's debt, both the 7 secured debt and the unsecured debt, is insured by municipal 8 bond insurers?

9 A Substantially all of it is.

10 Q Substantially all of it, so can you put a percentage on
11 that?

12 A Well, there is approximately $6 billion of water and 13 sewer debt, and of that total about 5-1/2 billion, I believe,
14 is insured.

15 Q Okay.

16 A And of the city's general obligation debt, which includes 17 the certificate of pension payment debt, substantially all of 18 that is insured as well.

19 Q Okay. So how the insurance works -- would it be correct
20 that the insurers for the cost of the premium take on an 21 obligation to pay both interest payments when due and 22 repayment of principal in the event of a default?

23 A Yes.

24 Q So the bondholder, by purchasing the insurance,
25 essentially is reducing the credit risk of the underlying

1 bond?

2 A That's the theory, yes.

3 Q Right. And the theory would be the way the market would 4 function is the issuer then is able to charge a lower
5 interest rate for the underlying bond obligation because of 6 the insurance?

7 A The issuer, if it's done correctly, is supposed to be
8 able to borrow at a lower cost.

9 Q Got it. So in the proposal for creditors, there are 10 appendices that specify the various bond issues that are 11 outstanding?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And they identify the -- with respect to each bond issue,
14 the identity of the relevant insurer?

15 A I believe that information is in the document, yes.

16 Q Okay. And would I be correct that there are -- it looks 17 to me as though there are six bond insurers that are 18 identified?

19 A Yes.

20 Q MBIA, Assured Guaranty, FGIC -- looks like Berkshire
21 Hathaway might be involved with some of the FGIC issues --
22 Syncora and something called Ambac?

23 A That's correct.

24 Q Did I miss any?

25 A No.

1 Q So in terms of the city's negotiation with respect to the 2 bond debt, those negotiations could really effectively be
3 done by those six bond insurers?

4 A Well, it's not clear what would have ultimately happened
5 and what will happen in this case. Certainly we began with 6 them, but we did not expect to end with them.

7 Q Okay. But it would be correct that from your perspective
8 in terms of handling the negotiation, the bond debt was --
9 debt holders were organized through the insurers; correct?

10 A We could start there, yes.

11 Q Right. And the insurers could be effectively relied upon
12 to speak for the bondholders?

13 A Well, again, we were opening what we expected to be a
14 long series of negotiations. The bond insurers represented
15 themselves as holding the economic risk of these bonds
16 because of their insurance. Therefore, we began our 17 discussions with them.

18 Q Okay. And as we said, that's six entities --

19 A Correct.

20 Q -- that cover the substantial majority of the city's 21 outstanding secured and unsecured debt; correct?

22 A That's right.

23 Q Do you know whether the city's unsecured pension
24 liabilities are insured?

25 A I don't know.

1 Q Okay. So if I'm a bondholder -- let's say I'm a little
2 old lady in Pasadena who's relying on insured municipal bonds
3 from the City of Detroit for my retirement income. I would
4 have recourse with respect to that income to the bond
5 insurer; correct?

6 A Only if the bond insurer itself is solvent.

7 Q Okay. Assuming that they're solvent, is that --

8 A Can't make that assumption here because some of them
9 aren't.

10 Q I understand that some of them are having financial
11 difficulties, but at least it's possible. It was possible
12 for the bondholder to purchase an insured product; correct?

13 A In theory.

14 MR. CIANTRA: No further questions.

15 THE COURT: You may proceed, sir.

16 MR. SHERWOOD: Hello, your Honor.

17 CROSS-EXAMINATION

18 BY MR. SHERWOOD:

19 Q Mr. Buckfire, Jack Sherwood, Lowenstein Sandler. I'd
20 like to ask the technician to put up City Exhibit 7, which I
21 think you discussed yesterday on your direct. Do you
22 remember discussing this agreement yesterday, Mr. Buckfire?

23 A I do.

24 Q And this agreement was executed before you were retained.
25 Is that fair to say?

1 A Yes.

2 Q And one of the parties to this agreement is the 3 Department of Treasury of the State of Michigan; correct?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And the other is the City of Detroit. And I'd like to 6 ask you to clarify some of your testimony yesterday for me
7 about this agreement. I thought I heard you say that it was 8 pursuant to this agreement that -- or that there was 9 something about this agreement that led to your engagement.
10 Is that accurate?

11 A Yes, paragraph 1.

12 Q Paragraph 1. Is that the paragraph that talks about 13 restructuring assistance; correct?

14 A Correct.

15 Q And would you call yourself part of that restructuring
16 assistance that was agreed to for the city pursuant to this
17 agreement?

18 A Well, my firm was selected pursuant to this paragraph 1
19 requirement.

20 Q Okay. And is it your understanding that, in addition to 21 your firm, Ernst & Young and Conway were also selected
22 pursuant to this paragraph 1 to provide restructuring
23 assistance?

24 A No. Ernst & Young had already been working for the city
25 pursuant to the March 2012 consent agreement. I believe

1 paragraph 2 of this memorandum is the entry point for Conway
2 MacKenzie being awarded the contract to provide operational
3 assistance.

4 Q Okay. So you were engaged pursuant to paragraph 1,
5 Conway MacKenzie pursuant to paragraph 2, and Ernst & Young
6 was already on the scene; correct?

7 A Correct.

8 Q And did you -- so when was the exact date that you
9 actually got selected pursuant to this agreement? It was 10 January of 2013; right?

11 A Well, we signed our contract with the city on January the 12 5th, but we had been told we had won the award, as it were,
13 in December.

14 Q Okay. So you started work in earnest pursuant to this 15 agreement in January of 2013; is that right?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And same for Conway?

18 A I don't know when they began, but it was -- certainly the 19 first time I met with them was in January.

20 Q Okay. And do you know whether Conway began their 21 services in January? Maybe you just answered the question.
22 I'm sorry for asking it again. Just to be clear, you don't 23 know whether Conway actually began their work in January of 24 2013?

25 A I don't. That's just when I first met them.

1 Q Okay. But you met them in the context of you're both
2 working on your engagement for the City of Detroit; isn't
3 that right?

4 A Yes, because we both reported to the same city officers.

5 Q Now, if you turn to paragraph 8 of this agreement -- I
6 think it's on page 5. Can you -- it talks about milestones
7 for draws, and I think you testified a little bit yesterday
8 about -- and there has been some testimony over this money
9 that was loaned by the state and held in escrow. Do you
10 recall that testimony? Is that accurate?

11 A No, it's not accurate. I testified that the city had 12 been assisted by the state in raising $130 million on the 13 capital markets. I think it was in March or April of 2012.

14 Q Okay. And you understood that to be the case when you
15 came on board in January of 2013?

16 A Yes. I knew there was still some money in escrow from 17 that bond financing.

18 Q Okay. And do you know what the amount in escrow was 19 in -- I just heard yesterday numbers like 30 million, 80
20 million, 50 million. Do you know how -- let's see if we can 21 go date by date. Do you know how much was in escrow in 22 November of 2012, the date of this agreement?

23 A Well, paragraph 8 says there was $80 million, so I assume
24 it --

25 Q Okay.

1 A -- was $80 million.

2 Q And do you know how much was in escrow on the date that
3 the bankruptcy petition was filed?

4 A I believe it was around 60 million.

5 Q Okay. And do you know -- so at least 20 million was 6 distributed from that escrow between the period of November
7 2012 and July 2013; right?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And is this -- was it sort of like an advance and then a
10 repayment, or do you know how that worked?

11 A Well, it was meant to be a release from the escrow. I
12 don't really recall what the mechanism was. I don't recall
13 there being any requirement for the city to put it back
14 because the city would not have the ability to do that once
15 the money was spent.

16 Q Okay. So you don't know whether it was 80 and then it
17 was below 60 and then -- you don't know whether the city ever
18 paid any of that money back?

19 A I don't.

20 Q Okay. Do you know whether the city pays interest on that 21 money?

22 A I don't.

23 Q And is it true that that escrow money is releasable to 24 the city in the discretion of the state treasurer?

25 A That's my understanding.

1 Q So if the state treasurer wanted to release that money to
2 the City of Detroit, it could in the exercise of its 3 discretion?

4 A I assume so.

5 Q Now, the release of this -- would you agree that your
6 engagement and the engagement of Conway pursuant to this
7 agreement was sort of a condition of the city having access
8 to this escrow money?

9 A Well, that was part of the paragraph 1 and 2 requirements
10 of this agreement.

11 Q Right. So if the city didn't retain -- and I'm not 12 saying you personally, but a financial advisor and a business
13 advisor, then they couldn't get access to this money. Is 14 that your understanding?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Now, when this -- the date of this agreement was November
17 2012. That was the same time that PA 4 was repealed by the 18 voters of the State of Michigan; isn't that right?

19 A I don't know.

20 Q And in your conversations with the state concerning this
21 agreement, do you know whether there was any connection
22 between this agreement and the referendum with respect to PA
23 4?

24 A No.

25 Q Now, after you were engaged in January of this year along

1 with Miller Buckfire, your understanding is you were working
2 for the City of Detroit; isn't that right?

3 A That's who our contract is with. That's correct.

4 Q Okay. But you reported to a board which include
5 representatives from the state, for the State of Michigan?

6 A No. We reported to Kriss Andrews and Jack Martin.

7 Q Just the city?

8 A That's correct.

9 Q Okay. And I assume you tried to fulfill your duties as a
10 professional, and I'm sure, based on your observations, the 11 folks at Conway MacKenzie were doing what they could to 12 provide financial advice and restructuring advice and to 13 implement initiatives for the City of Detroit from January
14 2013 through the appointment of the emergency manager;
15 correct?

16 A As directed by the city. That's correct.

17 Q Let me just jump to your discussion earlier about your
18 communications with Jones Day. You talked about March 2012
19 being your engagement date. You made a mistake at your 20 deposition, so it was March 2012. So your initial engagement
21 by the city ended, because I think it was a 60-day
22 engagement, so did it end in May of 2012?

23 A I can't remember. It was only 60 days, and it was a very 24 limited scope, so it was around that time.

25 Q So just running the math -- and we don't have to be exact

1 here, but, generally speaking, you were really not -- you
2 were kind of on the sidelines during the period from, say,
3 May of 2012 through the end of the year when you were engaged
4 pursuant to this new deal; right?

5 A That's right. We had developed a relationship with the 6 city which we maintained during that period.

7 Q Now, during that period of time, you continued to 8 maintain contact with Jones Day and continued to exchange
9 information with Jones Day about the City of Detroit and 10 their financial issues; isn't that right?

11 A And other law firms. That's correct.

12 Q Let me stay on this topic because I want to try to do
13 this in some type of logical order. Let me jump now to the 14 meeting of the law firms at the airport on January 29th.
15 Isn't it true that you had a telephone conversation with the 16 Jones Day law firm on the day before that meeting?

17 A I did, along with all the other law firms.

18 Q You had a telephone conversation with all of the 14 or 15
19 law firms on the day before that meeting?

20 A Many of them called looking for last-minute advice and 21 guidance on how to conduct themselves in the presentation.

22 Q Okay. Do you recall in your conversation with Jones Day
23 in particular advising Jones Day to address the issue if 24 Miller Buckfire finds a way to monetize assets, how will that 25 affect eligibility?

1 A No.

2 Q You don't recall that, any discussions with Jones Day
3 about that particular topic?

4 A No.

5 Q Do you recall what you said to Jones Day in advance of 6 the meeting to help them prepare to give their pitch?

7 A I recall telling them the same thing I told all the other
8 law firms. In general, make sure that they presented as 9 thoughtful a range of alternatives to the city and the state
10 as they could; to emphasize, to the extent they could, their 11 deep connections to the City of Detroit and the State of 12 Michigan; if they could speak to it, their midwestern roots
13 and any other things that would indicate that they cared
14 about this assignment.

15 Q And just to be clear for the record, your testimony is 16 that you don't recall any discussions with Jones Day on 17 January 28th, 2013, asking them to address asset monetization
18 and the impact of that on eligibility under Chapter 9? Is 19 that your testimony here today?

20 A We might have talked about how we would handle an asset
21 monetization, but I don't recall any other implications of 22 that. Asset monetizations always have to be considered in 23 any restructuring process as a source of cash and recovery
24 for creditors.

25 Q Do you know discussing with them the impact of asset

1 monetization on eligibility for Chapter 9?

2 A No.

3 MR. SHERWOOD: Can I have one second, your Honor?

4 THE COURT: Yes, sir.

5 MR. SHERWOOD: Can we have Exhibit 860, please?

6 Your Honor, I don't think that this exhibit is in evidence.

7 I'm trying to use it to refresh the witness' recollection.

8 THE COURT: Well, if that's so, I would ask you to 9 take it off the screen and just hand him a paper copy.

10 MR. SHERWOOD: I'm sorry, your Honor. I don't have 11 a paper copy.

12 MS. GREEN: It's in the binder.

13 THE COURT: Did you say 860?

14 MR. SHERWOOD: Yes, sir.

15 THE COURT: My order says that it is admitted into
16 evidence.

17 MR. SHERWOOD: Then we can put it on the screen,
18 your Honor.

19 MR. STEWART: No. I think the -- don't we have the 20 objection on attorney privilege and on attorney work product
21 on that?

22 ATTORNEY: We had one, yes.

23 MR. STEWART: Did we recede from it?

24 ATTORNEY: Yes, we did.

25 MR. STEWART: Okay. I'm sorry. We receded from our

1 objection.

2 MR. SHERWOOD: All right. So can I put it back up,
3 your Honor?

4 THE COURT: Okay.

5 MR. SHERWOOD: I'm sorry. Now, if you can -- can I
6 ask that we go down to the text and sort of the line that
7 starts "Miller Buckfire" and blow that part up, please?

8 BY MR. SHERWOOD:

9 Q Bottom sentence in the block that says, "If MB finds a 10 way to monetize assets to create liquidity, how would that 11 impact eligibility?" And just for the -- just so we're 12 clear, Mr. Buckfire, you're not on this e-mail. This is an 13 e-mail in evidence, and it -- and take your time reading the 14 whole thing, but basically it describes, I think, a 15 conversation at Jones Day describing their conversation with 16 you, and, you know, the last question is, "If MB" -- I assume 17 that means Miller Buckfire -- "finds a way to monetize
18 assets, how would that impact eligibility?" Does that 19 refresh your recollection as to the content of your
20 conversation with Jones Day that day?

21 A This is not an e-mail that I'm part of.

22 Q Fair.

23 A May I read the whole thing? You're showing me one little 24 paragraph.

25 Q Yeah.

1 A This is an internal e-mail from Jones Day?

2 Q Yes, it is, sir.

3 A Yeah. I'm sorry. It's -- okay. Can you blow this up?
4 I can't even read it. Thank you.

5 Q Is that better?

6 A Thank you. Okay.

7 Q Does that refresh your recollection as to whether -- when 8 you had your conversation with Ms. Ball from Jones Day on the 9 28th, whether you told her to address the issue at the 10 meeting the next day if Miller Buckfire finds a way to 11 monetize assets, how would that impact eligibility?

12 A I simply pointed out to her, as I did to everybody else,
13 that we were looking at ways of creating value, and we needed
14 to consider whether that could be done inside or outside of a
15 bankruptcy. Obviously in the course of a normal bankruptcy,
16 Chapter 11 in particular, selling an asset prior to a
17 bankruptcy proceeding may often be challenged in hindsight by 18 creditors. If we did find a source of value, we'd want to 19 make sure it didn't happen that way.

20 Q So are you saying now that you recall the -- you
21 specifically --

22 A No.

23 Q -- recall the conversation, or are you just speculating
24 as to what you might have --

25 A I'm speculating as to what this means and what she

1 thought she was writing about.

2 Q All right. We can take that down now.

3 MR. STEWART: I'd move to strike the testimony, your
4 Honor.

5 THE COURT: I'm sorry. On what grounds, sir?

6 MR. STEWART: Speculation.

7 MR. SHERWOOD: I don't mind.

8 THE COURT: All right. It is so ordered.

9 BY MR. SHERWOOD:

10 Q Now, in your previous cross -- I don't want to take too
11 much time with this because you've been up there a long time
12 and everybody is (inaudible) to lunch, but -- and just so the 13 record is clear, you were asked about whether Jones Day at --
14 whether you recall at the meeting on the 28th whether Jones
15 Day actually made part of their pitch with Mr. Orr a 16 statement about the impacts of asset monetization and 17 eligibility, and just so we're clear, you don't recall any 18 such statements being made by Jones Day during the course of 19 their presentation, or do you?

20 A I don't.

21 Q Let me try to pick up on the whole even-handed and fair
22 discussion. I think you testified -- I'm sorry. Is it your 23 understanding that at $12 billion of total liabilities the 24 projected recovery for unsecured claims under the proposal
25 was 16 cents on the dollar?

1 A That's correct.

2 Q And in concluding that the plan, as presented, is even-
3 handed and fair, did you consider the argument that the 4 vested pension claims are protected by the Constitution of 5 the State of Michigan?

6 A I am aware of that argument.

7 Q Did you incorporate that argument into the proposal?

8 A No.

9 Q And do you consider that argument -- you don't give that 10 argument much value, do you, when you conclude that the 11 proposal made on June 14th is even-handed and fair; isn't
12 that right?

13 A We didn't give any weight to the obligation -- the 14 statement of the general obligation bondholders that their 15 tax pledge was important either. We regarded them both as 16 covenants that the city could not honor.

17 Q I'm sorry. I just asked you about the vested pension
18 benefits and their mention in the Constitution.

19 A They don't have --

20 Q I asked you -- I asked you whether you give the 21 constitutional protection any value in either the proposal --

22 A Um-hmm.

23 Q -- or your statement that the proposal was even-handed
24 and fair.

25 A They don't have a security interest, and, therefore, we

1 did give it weight, but we did not regard it as relevant to
2 our claims classification.

3 Q They didn't have a security interest, but -- so, in your
4 view, a security interest is more valuable than 5 constitutional protection?

6 A If a creditor has a security interest in an asset or 7 revenue stream, that gives them a claim on that revenue
8 stream or asset. What is a covenant?

9 Q Let me -- staying with the proposal, do you remember
10 looking at a page of the proposal that had a -- sort of a
11 timeline? Would you like to see that again?

12 A Yes, to make sure I understand which page --

13 Q Yeah. Can we pull up --

14 A Which exhibit is that?

15 Q It's 408, among others. We're going to pull it up.

16 A Are you referring to Exhibit 43?

17 Q Yeah. That's your number, yeah. The city's number is 18 403. That works.

19 A Okay.

20 Q Now, if you turn to page 113 of that -- and I believe
21 that is the page 113 that was on the original document. Yes.
22 That's it. Now, when this proposal -- I think you testified
23 yesterday that this was not a take it or leave it proposal;
24 correct?

25 A Correct.

1 Q And you and counsel referred to this calendar of contacts
2 and this page. Was this calendar and contacts information --
3 was that highlighted at the end of the meeting on June 14th?

4 A Yes, it was.

5 Q Okay. So there was a period for requests for additional 6 information June 17th to June 24th, and then initial round of 7 discussions. The initial round of discussions ends on July
8 2nd; correct?

9 ATTORNEY: July 12th?

10 THE WITNESS: July 2nd?

11 MR. SHERWOOD: July 12th. Thank you.

12 THE WITNESS: That was the plan, yes.

13 BY MR. SHERWOOD:

14 Q Right. And that was just to be the initial round of 15 discussions; correct?

16 A We had to start someplace.

17 Q Correct. And then there's an evaluation period July 15th
18 through July 19th. Do you see that?

19 A I do.

20 Q And the city filed bankruptcy on July 18th; isn't that
21 right?

22 A I believe that's right.

23 Q On this calendar and contacts, it doesn't say anything
24 like if we don't reach an agreement we're going to file on 25 July 18th, 2013; isn't that right?

1 A It doesn't say that.

2 Q And that wasn't said at the meeting, July 18th we're
3 going to file. Nobody said that?

4 A We hoped we didn't have to.

5 Q One of the big concerns from your perspective in the --
6 in regard to the swaps counterparties -- we can put that down
7 there. I think it was your testimony that you were really
8 concerned about these negotiations with the swaps. You were 9 involved in that.

10 A That's right.

11 Q And your big concern was that absent a deal with these 12 guys, the city could lose the casino revenue, and that's a
13 big part of the city's revenue; right?

14 A And then it got worse. That's correct.

15 Q Okay. Isn't it true that -- though, that on July 17th a 16 forbearance agreement was executed with the swap
17 counterparties?

18 A That's true.

19 MR. SHERWOOD: Can we put up Exhibit 558, please?
20 It's AFSCME 558. I'll move on to something else and see if I
21 can get back to that, your Honor.

22 THE COURT: I'm feeling like this is a good time to 23 break for lunch.

24 MR. SHERWOOD: Your Honor, I was hoping to get done
25 before lunch, which is -- I'm sorry about that, but --

1 THE COURT: I'd like to actually conduct a
2 referendum among counsel here. One hour, one hour and 15
3 minutes, or one hour and 30 minutes for lunch? How many vote
4 for one hour? Nobody. How many vote for an hour and 15
5 minutes? A couple people. How many an hour and 30?
6 Everybody else. All right. Fine. An hour and 30 it is.
7 We'll reconvene at 1:45.

8 MR. SHERWOOD: Your Honor, just --

9 THE COURT: Sir.

10 MR. SHERWOOD: -- for everybody's benefit, I'm 15
11 minutes from --

12 THE COURT: Okay.

13 MR. SHERWOOD: Just so everybody can plan.

14 THE COURT: We'll pick it up then.

15 MR. STEWART: Another question now?

16 THE COURT: Sir.

17 MR. STEWART: I would like to ask the Court's 18 guidance. We have Mr. Malhotra here, and I assume that for 19 fairness sake, since those exhibits are now in for the truth,
20 that there will be additional cross-examination of 21 Mr. Malhotra and probably brief additional direct.

22 THE COURT: Well, let's take this up at 1:45.

23 MR. STEWART: Okay.

24 THE COURT: Counsel, I want you to think about the 25 question whether you need further examination of Mr. Malhotra

1 or whether he can be excused as a witness.

2 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in recess.

3 (Recess at 12:15 p.m. until 1:45 p.m.)

4 THE CLERK: Court is back in session. Please be
5 seated. Recalling Case Number 13-53846, City of Detroit,
6 Michigan.

7 THE COURT: Looks like everyone is here. You may
8 proceed, sir.

9 BY MR. SHERWOOD:

10 Q Mr. Buckfire, before lunch I was trying to get ahold of 11 this exhibit that we've marked as 588. Can you see it on the 12 screen, or would you like a hard copy?

13 A If you could blow up the one I have here, that would be 14 helpful. Yes, I see it. There's only half the document. Do
15 you have a hard copy just if you don't mind?

16 MR. SHERWOOD: May I approach, your Honor?

17 THE COURT: Yes.

18 MR. SHERWOOD: Would the Court like a hard copy,
19 too?

20 THE COURT: No. That's all right.

21 THE WITNESS: Thank you.

22 THE COURT: Do you have a question for the witness?

23 MR. SHERWOOD: Oh, I'm sorry.

24 BY MR. SHERWOOD:

25 Q Have you reviewed the document? Do you recognize it?

1 A I do.

2 Q And did you write this e-mail to the governor, Treasurer
3 Dillon, and others on July 17th, 2013?

4 A I did.

5 Q And does it accurately describe the state of affairs with 6 respect to negotiations -- the negotiation of a forbearance
7 agreement with the swap counterparties?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Okay.

10 MR. SHERWOOD: Your Honor, I would move this
11 evidence into evidence. I don't think it's been stipulated
12 in. I think we've laid a proper foundation.

13 MR. STEWART: No objection, your Honor.

14 THE COURT: All right. The exhibit was 588, did you
15 say?

16 MR. SHERWOOD: Yes, sir.

17 THE COURT: Exhibit 588 is admitted.

18 (Exhibit 588 received at 1:47 p.m.)

19 BY MR. SHERWOOD:

20 Q Mr. Buckfire, just before lunch, just to follow up on 21 something I asked you, you indicated that one of the people
22 at the city that you reported to before the appointment of 23 the EM was a person by the name Jack Martin. Do you remember
24 that?

25 A Yes.

1 Q And isn't it true that Mr. Martin was hired pursuant to a
2 consent decree and appointed by Governor Snyder?

3 A Well, I know he was hired as chief financial officer
4 after the consent agreement was signed in March of 2012,
5 chief financial officer of the City of Detroit. I don't 6 recall him being appointed by the governor.

7 Q Isn't it true that he's now the EM for the Detroit Public
8 Schools?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And in that post, was he appointed by the governor? Do
11 you know?

12 A I don't know.

13 Q Let me ask you just about the artwork and the Christie's
14 appraisal. I think you said that you engaged them in either
15 May or June. Do you remember that?

16 A May.

17 Q Was it May?

18 A May 15th or so.

19 Q May 15th. Okay. So they've had all of June, July,
20 August, and September, and I mean it's been like five months
21 since their engagement.

22 A No. I didn't say that. I said I met with the DIA May
23 15th --

24 Q When were they --

25 A -- and I recommended to the emergency manager that an

1 appraisal be conducted sometime in June, and I contacted
2 Christie's on behalf of the city to find out if they had an
3 interest in taking on this assignment. As I recall, the 4 emergency manager did not sign their agreement until sometime
5 in August.

6 Q August. Okay. So they've only had August, September,
7 October to do their appraisal work. Is that what you're
8 saying?

9 A I believe they actually started in early September.

10 Q Okay. And in that time they haven't even produced a 11 preliminary report on valuation?

12 A No.

13 Q You testified yesterday about -- in connection with the 14 Coleman Young Airport. I think you said something about 15 consulting with one of your colleagues at Miller Buckfire who 16 had expertise in matters concerning to airports and financing
17 and so forth. Do you recall that?

18 A I do.

19 Q And what was the name of that individual?

20 A John McKenna. He's a managing director at Miller
21 Buckfire, a lot of experience with airlines. Among other
22 things, he had been a director of U.S. Airways at one point.

23 THE COURT: The question simply was who was that.

24 THE WITNESS: John McKenna.

25 BY MR. SHERWOOD:

1 Q And at Miller Buckfire, you guys have over 30
2 professionals. Do the professionals within your firm -- do
3 they specialize in specific industries?

4 A They don't set out to do so, but after you've worked with 5 one company and one industry, you tend to do others, so they 6 do acquire industry expertise.

7 Q And what other types of industry expertise would you say
8 that Miller Buckfire has as a strong part of their practice?

9 A Sovereign restructuring. We have one large country,
10 which has been a client of ours now for several years. We've 11 done other work for other municipalities in the United
12 States. In terms of private sector work, airlines, electric
13 utilities, merchant power companies, retailers, steel
14 companies, telecommunications companies, yeah. I could go
15 on, but those are the primary ones.

16 Q And in connection with your firm's work, do you testify
17 in court on behalf of your clients?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And in your experience testifying in court, have you been 20 qualified as an expert before?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Was it your decision to be a nonexpert witness in this
23 case?

24 A No.

25 Q Do you know whose it was?

1 A No.

2 MR. SHERWOOD: Thank you, Mr. Buckfire. Thank you,
3 your Honor. I have no further questions.

4 THE COURT: Anyone else have questions for the
5 witness?

6 THE WITNESS: You want this exhibit?

7 THE COURT: I guess just set it down there.

8 CROSS-EXAMINATION

9 BY MS. GREEN:

10 Q Good afternoon, Mr. Buckfire. My name is Jennifer Green.
11 I represent the General and Police and Fire Retirement
12 Systems for the City of Detroit. We've actually met before.
13 I was at your deposition. I just wanted to get the timeline
14 straight that you just testified about. You were initially 15 engaged by the State of Michigan in 2012; correct?

16 A Correct.

17 Q And at that time, your engagement was limited to the time
18 frame of March to April?

19 A It was 60 days.

20 Q And at that time, it was your job to identify assets of 21 the City of Detroit; correct?

22 A No. I didn't testify to that. I testified we were asked
23 to do a general financial review of the city's financial 24 condition based on public information.

25 Q Okay. And then in 2013 when you were reengaged, you

1 discovered that the artwork could be a potential asset?

2 A Among other things, yes.

3 Q And you did not know that during your engagement in 2012;
4 correct?

5 A No.

6 Q You met with Christie's in May of 2013?

7 A I first called them late May, and I believe I met with 8 them either late May or early June to ascertain whether they 9 might have an interest in appraising the art at the DIA.

10 Q And were you told by Christie's at that time how long it
11 would take to perform the valuation?

12 A They told me it would take several months.

13 Q You knew even if you started in May that it would not be 14 done until the end of summer; correct?

15 A Correct.

16 Q The meeting with the DIA, what date in May was that?

17 A May 15th.

18 Q Was that the only meeting you had with the DIA?

19 A No. It was the first meeting I had with the DIA.

20 Q What other meetings did you have with the DIA?

21 A Well, I met with representatives of the DIA and the 22 chairman of the trustees several times after that meeting to 23 again reiterate the city's position that the city owned the 24 art and the building and that it would be useful to everybody
25 to arrive at a consensual resolution that would create value

1 for the city. Those discussions did not prove fruitful.

2 Q And who is the chairman that you just mentioned?

3 A Gene Gargaro.

4 Q And who is Richard Manoogian? Is he also involved with 5 the DIA?

6 A I don't know. I assume he -- I've heard the name, but I
7 never met him.

8 Q And David Meador, how is he involved with the DIA?

9 A He's a trustee.

10 Q And did you meet with him as well in May or June?

11 A I did. I met him when DTE was working with the city on 12 the formation of the public lighting authority.

13 Q And when you met with Mr. Meador, did you discuss the 14 potential of a Chapter 9 filing on behalf of the City of
15 Detroit?

16 A I told him that it was certainly a risk given the city's 17 financial position.

18 Q Did you identify a particular date that the city may file
19 Chapter 9?

20 A No.

21 Q Did you share with any of the other trustees of the DIA
22 that there was a particular date or month that a Chapter 9
23 might be filed on behalf of the city?

24 A No.

25 Q Mr. Buckfire, do you remember receiving an e-mail from

1 David Meador, the Mr. Meador that we just spoke about, on
2 July 11th of 2013?

3 A I recall getting numerous e-mails from him. That sounds
4 like I might have gotten one on that date.

5 Q We'll pull up a copy of it for you to look at. Do you
6 recognize this as being the e-mail that you received from Mr.
7 Meador in July of 2013?

8 A Yes.

9 Q I'd like to direct your attention to the top of the e-
10 mail where it says "Ken, here's the outline that I provided 11 Gene." Is that Gene Gargaro, who we just spoke of?

12 A Yes.

13 Q "As a pre-read to our call, I don't think any action is 14 needed on your part. I just wanted you to be aware of what I
15 had shared with him."

16 A I see that.

17 Q Okay. The e-mail below has a date of, if you look down,
18 June 22nd. And if you scroll to the last page of the e-mail,
19 there's a bullet point list of topics that were discussed.

20 Bullet point number --

21 MR. CULLEN: Before we get into the topics, unless 22 we're going to refresh his recollection, I would like to have 23 a proper foundation for the rest of the e-mail or for his 24 ability to discuss the substance of this.

25 MS. GREEN: Your Honor, it's actually going to be

1 impeachment because he just said that he didn't tell them
2 something, and that's all I'm using it for.

3 THE COURT: Well, let's just get the record
4 straight. Is this e-mail an exhibit?

5 MS. GREEN: It is not yet an exhibit, your Honor.

6 THE COURT: Okay. Well, for identification
7 purposes, let's just put a number on it, and you'll tell me
8 what that number is.

9 MS. GREEN: It would be Exhibit 868.

10 THE COURT: 868. Okay. We'll put that number on
11 it.

12 (Exhibit 868 marked at 1:57 p.m.)

13 THE COURT: Is this an e-mail that the witness
14 received in the ordinary course?

15 MS. GREEN: I believe he just testified that he
16 generally recalls receiving an e-mail from Mr. Meador
17 following their meeting.

18 THE COURT: Did you receive this e-mail?

19 THE WITNESS: I did.

20 THE COURT: All right. You may proceed.

21 BY MS. GREEN:

22 Q Bullet point number five states the EFM has to have a
23 plan in place by mid-July.

24 A Um-hmm.

25 Q The second line states, "A bankruptcy filing will likely

1 be in July. The team would like to include a conceptual
2 framework for the DIA assets in that filing. A formal plan
3 will be submitted in the fall, November or earlier, and a
4 hearing next May." And as you recall, an e-mail that you
5 received stated, "I just wanted you to be aware of what I had 6 shared with him." Had you shared this information with a
7 board member of the DIA?

8 A Well, this is his e-mail to Gene Gargaro. It's not from 9 me to him.

10 Q I understand that. I'm asking if it's -- if it is your 11 testimony that you did not share at your meeting that a
12 bankruptcy filing will likely be in July.

13 A I never shared with anybody at DIA that a bankruptcy
14 filing was likely in mid-July, but at this point -- and this 15 is dated -- when was this dated again? When was it sent?

16 Q June 22nd.

17 A Okay. We had already had our meeting with creditors on 18 June 14th. All right. We were already in the middle of 19 discussions with them. He had called me to find out where 20 this left DIA, and I explained to him that, you know, given
21 where we were with the cash position of the city -- and this
22 is an important point -- we still didn't have a forbearance
23 agreement in place -- that that raised the risks of a
24 bankruptcy to a high level, and, therefore, it would be nice
25 to have something in place as soon as possible.

1 Q Did you respond to his e-mail and deny that you ever told
2 him a bankruptcy filing would be coming in July?

3 A I never said it was coming in July.

4 Q His e-mail --

5 A This is his e-mail.

6 Q I understand that. His e-mail says that a bankruptcy
7 filing will likely be in July, and you had just met with him.
8 And the e-mail to you said, "I wanted you to be aware of what
9 I had shared with him." Did you respond and say, "I didn't
10 share any information of this nature with you"?

11 A I'm confused. This is what he wrote to his colleagues
12 about what he believed would be the state of play.

13 Q Can we go back to the initial e-mail to Mr. Buckfire,
14 please?

15 A Can you hand me a hard copy because it's actually hard to 16 follow this from the screen?

17 Q Mine has writing, so --

18 A What?

19 Q Mine has writing.

20 MR. CULLEN: Don't you have a --

21 THE COURT: Do you have a clean copy?

22 MR. CULLEN: You don't have a clean copy?

23 MS. GREEN: Don't have a clean copy.

24 MR. CULLEN: Well, it's more important that he have 25 it than I do, your Honor.

1 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you, sir.

2 BY MS. GREEN:

3 Q I just wanted to direct your attention again to the
4 sentence that says -- it's an e-mail from Mr. Meador to you
5 saying, "I wanted you to be aware of what I had shared with 6 him."

7 A Um-hmm.

8 Q Had you shared that information?

9 A Well, he's referring to what he had shared with Gene, not 10 what I had shared with him. That's what it says.

11 Q My question to you was are you denying that you were the 12 one that told them that a bankruptcy filing would be coming
13 in July?

14 A I never told him that. I did, however, tell them that 15 the city was at great risk of action because we didn't have a
16 forbearance agreement. We just had our meeting with 17 creditors. I didn't know what was going to happen, and,
18 therefore, they should be concerned about doing something
19 about DIA as soon as possible.

20 Q Did the emergency manager himself have a meeting with Mr.
21 Meador or Gene Gargaro?

22 A Not to my knowledge.

23 Q Who all was in the meeting in May of 2013 with you and 24 Mr. Meador?

25 A Let's see. It was Mr. Gargaro, Richard Levin from

1 Cravath, Alan Schwartz from Honigman Miller, Bruce Bennett
2 from Jones Day, and myself.

3 Q Do you think it's possible that one of the other people
4 at that meeting shared with the representatives from the DIA
5 that a bankruptcy filing would be coming in July?

6 A Well, all the people at that meeting were from the DIA
7 except for Mr. Bennett and myself.

8 Q That's what I'm asking you. Did someone else at the 9 meeting, perhaps Mr. Bennett, share with the DIA
10 representatives that the emergency -- or I'm sorry -- that a
11 bankruptcy filing would be coming in July?

12 A I have no idea.

13 Q Do you recall any discussion about a formal plan that 14 would be submitted in November as the e-mail states? Do you
15 recall any discussions of that nature in your meeting?

16 A Yes. I explained to Mr. Meador that in the ordinary 17 course, if we were successful in crafting a plan with our 18 creditors, we would move this along as rapidly as we could,
19 and the earliest we could potentially file a plan would be 20 end of this year with a goal of having an exit from 21 bankruptcy, if necessary, by the end of next year.

22 Q And the portions regarding having a plan in place by July
23 or bankruptcy filing in July never came up?

24 A No. We were referring to having a plan with our
25 creditors.

1 Q And you never corrected this what you now say is an
2 inaccurate recollection or an inaccurate summary of your
3 meeting?

4 A This is not my meeting, and it's not my e-mail, so I
5 don't know what you're talking about.

6 Q You didn't correct his understanding that there was not
7 to be a bankruptcy filing in July?

8 A I didn't feel it necessary to respond to every e-mail I
9 receive because he's not an employee or officer --

10 THE COURT: "Yes" or "no," sir?

11 THE WITNESS: No.

12 BY MS. GREEN:

13 Q Thank you. I believe you testified earlier when Mr.
14 Montgomery was questioning you whether you had any
15 communications with Jones Day regarding the possibility of a
16 repeal of PA 4, and you answered, "No."

17 A Okay.

18 Q Do you consider e-mails a form of communication?

19 A Yes.

20 Q I'd like to direct your attention to Exhibit 842. Do you
21 recognize this document?

22 A No.

23 Q Do you recognize your e-mail address at the top of it?

24 A I do. It was sent to me. That's correct.

25 Q Correct. So you -- do you recall receiving it generally?

1 A No.

2 Q When it says at the top, "FYI ahead of your meeting,"
3 what meeting is that relating to in June of 2012?

4 A I can't recall which meeting that might be referring to.

5 Q Did you meet with the governor of the State of Michigan
6 in June of 2012?

7 A I may have, yes.

8 Q Who all was at the meeting with the governor in June of 9 2012?

10 A It was a meeting where we briefed him about restructuring
11 alternatives in general. I believe it was attended by 12 Treasurer Dillon, one of his aides, Brom Stibitz. Dennis
13 Muchmore, chief of staff, was there.

14 Q What was the substance of the conversations during this 15 meeting on June -- I think it would be June 6th? If it's the 16 following day, it would be June 6th.

17 A Yeah. Well, as I testified, they were interested in the 18 application of restructuring technique to the problems of the 19 City of Detroit, how these issues could be resolved, and they 20 asked me to come up and brief them about those things, which 21 I did.

22 Q Were any representatives of Jones Day at the meeting on 23 June 6th?

24 A I don't recall.

25 Q I'd like to draw your attention to another exhibit. It

1 is an e-mail dated June 5th, 2012. I believe it's 845, 844.

2 A This is dated March 24th?

3 Q Yeah. I think it's off one. It should be 844. Okay.

4 The next page of that e-mail -- I'll direct your attention to 5 the top line, and it says, "Guys, I'm going with Ken Buckfire
6 to talk to the governor in Michigan tomorrow," and it's an e-
7 mail from Heather Lennox. Does that refresh your
8 recollection at all about whether someone from Jones Day
9 joined you at the meeting?

10 A Yes.

11 Q Was Heather Lennox, indeed, there?

12 A She was.

13 Q Were there any other representatives of Jones Day at the
14 meeting?

15 A Not that I recall.

16 Q Do you recall if there were any discussions relating to a
17 Chapter 9 filing at that meeting?

18 A I'm sure we talked about it. It's something you have to 19 consider when you have a high level of insolvency.

20 Q Did you discuss Chapter 9 filing specifically in 21 connection with any particular sorts of liabilities such as 22 the pension liabilities of the City of Detroit?

23 A I don't recall that either.

24 Q Do you remember if there were any memos or reports
25 relating to constitutional protections of the pension

1 liabilities discussed at this meeting?

2 A No.

3 Q Do you recall if any -- do you recall being given at any
4 time memos from Jones Day relating to Chapter 9 filing issues
5 vis-a-vis the City of Detroit?

6 A In general, yes, but not specifically with respect to
7 Detroit.

8 Q I couldn't -- I didn't hear the last --

9 A Not specifically with respect to Detroit but in general,
10 yes.

11 Q Do you remember any discussion at the meeting with the 12 governor relating to the bankruptcy filing requirements under 13 109(c) (5) and negotiations and the good faith requirements --

14 A No.

15 Q -- listed thereunder? No? Do you remember any 16 memorandums being shared with the governor on that topic?

17 A No.

18 Q Do you remember, as stated in the e-mail, suggesting that 19 Jones Day put together all the memos that they had done for 20 Andy?

21 A I don't recall any of those memos.

22 Q No. Do you recall suggesting to them that they compile 23 the memos in advance of the meeting?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And what prompted you to do that?

1 A I thought that the state would find it helpful to see
2 their research.

3 Q And when it says "the memos we did for Andy," is that for 4 Andy Dillon?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And do you remember specifically what types of memos had
7 been requested by Mr. Dillon prior to this meeting?

8 A He didn't request any specific memo. He just wanted to 9 get an education on the issues.

10 Q So they prepared the memos on their own volition?

11 A Yes.

12 Q I'd like to go back to what I believe is Exhibit 843. We 13 talked a little while ago about your denial of any 14 communications relating to the repeal of PA 4. Do you
15 recognize this e-mail?

16 A No.

17 Q Do you see your name at the top as a recipient?

18 A I see my name as a recipient, but I don't recall reading
19 it.

20 Q So you just ignored the e-mail or you just --

21 A I guess.

22 Q -- generally don't recall getting it?

23 A I get a lot of e-mails. I don't recall reading this one
24 at the time.

25 Q Okay. Well, let's look at the context, and maybe that

1 will remind you whether or not you read it. The first bullet
2 point talks about the appeals court should soon rule on the
3 repeal efforts related to Public Act 4. Does that ring a
4 bell to you?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And the second paragraph talks about a separate challenge
7 to the state unrelated to the efforts to repeal PA 4.

8 A Yes.

9 Q Do you now remember getting the e-mail and having 10 communications about the repeal of PA 4?

11 A No.

12 Q What about Exhibit Number 846? Oh, these are all off
13 one. You know, it must be 8 -- I think it's 845.

14 MR. CULLEN: Is it copied on 846, counsel?

15 MS. GREEN: No. It's 845. They're all off by one
16 for some strange reason. There we go.

17 BY MS. GREEN:

18 Q Do you see this e-mail, and do you recognize it?

19 A I see the e-mail. I don't recall it, but I'm sure I
20 received it.

21 Q And you see your name at the top of the e-mail?

22 A I do.

23 Q And you see a discussion in paragraph 1 about the state
24 and city were concerned that PA 4 may not survive the 25 petition challenge?

1 A I do.

2 Q I direct your attention to the second page of this e-mail
3 where it states, "The state was likely looking at declaring
4 at emergency and appointing and EFM with a likely subsequent
5 step of a Chapter 9."

6 A Sorry. You lost me. Where are you reading from? Oh,
7 okay. Okay.

8 Q And then the following paragraph where it talks about if
9 PA 4 is pulled back at the end of April, is this another
10 example of communications relating to the repeal of PA 4?

11 A It seems to be.

12 Q I have several more, but I would -- I don't need to go
13 over them. Do you have a reason why you said before you had 14 no communications relating to the PA 4 repeal?

15 A I didn't send this e-mail.

16 Q You didn't what?

17 A I didn't send this e-mail.

18 Q But you received it.

19 A I don't remember it.

20 Q As part of your position with the team of E&Y, Conway
21 MacKenzie, and Miller Buckfire Advisors, were you privy to 22 any timelines or communication rollout plans prepared by 23 Kevyn Orr's staff?

24 A Are you referring to a public communication strategy?

25 Q I'm referring to any kind of timeline or communications

1 rollout plan that would have been shared with you in your
2 role as the lead advisor for the financial team.

3 A I might have received a document from his communications
4 director at some point this year laying out a proposed time
5 schedule for public communications, but I can't recall
6 specifically.

7 Q Do you recall when that would have been?

8 A No.

9 Q And his press secretary is Mr. Nowling?

10 A Yes.

11 Q Do you recall the substance of that timeline and what the 12 date was for the bankruptcy filing?

13 A No.

14 Q Did you not review the e-mail from Mr. Nowling for its 15 substance?

16 A I just don't remember it.

17 Q You were the lead advisor of the financial team, and you
18 don't remember an e-mail with the date for the bankruptcy
19 filing?

20 A No.

21 Q Do you think that would have been an important thing for 22 you to know as the lead negotiator on the swap transaction
23 and negotiating with the creditors?

24 A I had advised Mr. Orr that if he were to decide to seek 25 protection, he shouldn't do it until we had a forbearance

1 agreement executed.

2 Q And at the time leading up to the negotiation of the 3 forbearance agreement, you and Mr. Orr were in daily contact;
4 correct?

5 A Yes, up until the time we got the forbearance agreement
6 executed.

7 Q And that was executed on July 15th; correct?

8 A I think it was the 16th.

9 Q July 16th?

10 A July 16th. That's right.

11 Q Is it your testimony that as of July 16th, you didn't 12 know what the filing date, if any, would be for the City of
13 Detroit?

14 A That's correct.

15 Q How far in advance did you know that the bankruptcy was 16 going to be filed?

17 A Well, I knew after the forbearance agreement was executed
18 that the decision to seek a filing was being discussed
19 between Mr. Orr and the state. I was not part of any of 20 those discussions.

21 Q So as of the date of the forbearance agreement, you had 22 no idea that the bankruptcy petition would be filed two days
23 later?

24 A No.

25 Q Were you shared any -- I'm sorry. Were any timelines or

1 communications rollouts shared with you that were prepared by
2 the governor's staff?

3 A Not that I recall.

4 Q Was the one that was shared with you by Mr. Nowling by 5 any chance dated July 8th of 2013?

6 A I don't know.

7 Q Why don't we pull it up, and we'll see if you recognize
8 it? It would be Exhibit 831. And if you scroll to the next
9 page, there's a communications rollout plan. Can you tell me
10 if it looks like the one that you think you saw? There's a
11 document checklist, and the next --

12 A It looks familiar.

13 MR. CULLEN: Do you have a hard copy for the 14 witness, counsel?

15 MS. GREEN: There's a binder up there if you want me
16 to --

17 MR. CULLEN: Allow me.

18 MS. GREEN: I can give him the binder.

19 MR. CULLEN: May I, your Honor?

20 THE COURT: What are you doing?

21 MR. CULLEN: Giving him the exhibit, the hard copy
22 of the exhibit.

23 THE COURT: Okay.

24 BY MS. GREEN:

25 Q Have you reviewed it? Does that look like the one that

1 was shared with you?

2 A Yes. This was the contingency planning documents I knew
3 they were working on.

4 Q I think you have to speak into the microphone.

5 A I'm sorry. This is the contingency planning document
6 that they'd been working on. That's correct.

7 Q Okay. And on the next page, if you scroll through to the 8 timeline itself, the end, all the way to the end -- there we 9 go. There are various dates and there are various milestones
10 that are listed there.

11 A Okay.

12 Q And as of on the Friday, July 19th, date -- is that what 13 you're looking at?

14 A I'm sorry. You're at July 19th?

15 Q Yes.

16 A Yes, yes.

17 Q Okay. And do you see where it says "filing day" in big 18 capital letters?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And this is the document that you think you saw on July
21 8th?

22 A Yes. It's a contingency plan.

23 Q On the 18th, it talks about document preparation.

24 MS. GREEN: Your Honor, I'd ask to strike that last
25 part. I had no question pending when he offered that last --

1 THE COURT: The motion is granted.

2 BY MS. GREEN:

3 Q And it says, "make last-minute revisions to all key
4 documents." I don't see the words "contingency." Do you see
5 the words "contingency"?

6 A The whole thing is a contingency plan.

7 Q And the date -- the following date on the 19th says
8 "filing date, July 19th." Does it say "contingency"?

9 A No, but this document is dated July the 8th.

10 Q Are the words "contingency" anywhere on the document?

11 A No, but it says "draft document."

12 Q As of July 8th?

13 A Right.

14 Q Do you recall seeing an updated timeline shared with you 15 after that?

16 A No.

17 Q Were you ever told that the filing date of July 19th was 18 going to be changed?

19 A No.

20 Q When the filing came on the 18th, did it surprise you?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Do you know if the members of the Conway MacKenzie team
23 were also shared the timeline?

24 A I don't know.

25 Q What about the members of the Ernst & Young team?

1 A I don't know.

2 Q Do you know? I believe you testified at your deposition
3 that in May of 2013 you received a Milliman report?

4 A No. It was in April.

5 Q April. And at that time, you discovered that according
6 to Milliman, at least, the underfunding level was $3.5
7 billion?

8 A That's right.

9 Q And I believe you testified that you did not investigate
10 the Milliman report for accuracy or ask anyone else to verify
11 those numbers; correct?

12 A Correct.

13 Q And you testified that you just assumed they were true
14 based on Milliman's expertise.

15 A That was their job. I relied on their work.

16 Q What about all the caveats listed on the face of the 17 Milliman report? Did you read those?

18 A I believe I did.

19 Q Do you recall being cautioned that a more robust
20 projection model could vary the results?

21 A Yes.

22 Q You testified at your deposition that you thought before
23 the Milliman report came out that the underfunding might be 24 at a modest enough level where we could deal with it in a
25 different way. What other different options did you have in

1 mind prior to the Milliman report?

2 A Well, we thought if we had sufficient time to monetize
3 some of the city's assets, in particular, the Water and Sewer
4 Department, maybe we could use that as a funding source to 5 fully fund the pension underfunding.

6 Q Were any of these different options explored with the 7 Retirement Systems or any of the unions or retirees?

8 A At that time?

9 Q At any time.

10 A Well, they were well-aware of the fact that we were
11 exploring monetization of Water and Sewer as of the June 14th 12 report, but we hadn't been able to make any progress on it at 13 that point.

14 Q That wasn't my question. I asked you if you shared with 15 them your different options.

16 A Not on June 14th, no.

17 Q The data room that you put together, I believe you said
18 that you had been developing it for about five months prior 19 to its launch in June?

20 A I didn't say that.

21 Q How many months did it take you to put the data together?

22 A Well, the data began to be assembled by Ernst & Young,
23 Conway, and ourselves probably in early February because that 24 was part of our engagement. I can't recall exactly when we 25 set up the data room specifically, but I do know all the data

1 that went into it had been created by either our respective
2 firms or by the city itself.

3 Q My question was how long did it take?

4 A To do what?

5 Q To put the data together for the data room.

6 A Months.

7 Q Months. Can you give me a rough estimate of how many 8 months?

9 A Well, we began working in January. It took until June.

10 Q So six months?

11 A That's correct.

12 Q A little longer?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Because it was up on June 20th; correct?

15 A That sounds right.

16 Q And when it was initially launched, it was not fully 17 populated with all of the data; correct?

18 A I don't recall what was not in there at the time. I know
19 our intent was to put everything in there we could.

20 Q And the proposal for creditors was laid out on June 14th.

21 A Correct.

22 Q And then in June you were tasked with assisting in the 23 negotiation process; correct?

24 A That's right.

25 Q And you did not attempt to form a subgroup of any

1 retirees that you could negotiate with directly at that time,
2 did you?

3 A Well, no. We did meet with all of the representatives
4 that we could find, including the unions, pension trustees,
5 and the bond and note trustees and bond insurers.

6 Q My question was you did not attempt to form a subgroup of 7 retirees that you could negotiate with directly; correct?

8 A No.

9 Q And do you recall testifying that it was discussed but it
10 was reported back to you that it was impractical to do so?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And who was it that reported back to you that it would be 13 impractical to attempt to directly negotiate with smaller
14 groups of people?

15 A Jones Day.

16 Q So after being told that it would be impractical to 17 divide the constituencies into smaller subgroups, you did not 18 attempt do so; correct?

19 A I personally did not, no.

20 Q During these negotiations, you didn't even have authority
21 to actually bind the city; correct?

22 A Well, as the lead negotiator for the city, my 23 responsibility was to negotiate with our creditors. I don't 24 have any decision-making authority. I'm not an executive of 25 the city. I would take back whatever came to the city and

1 make a recommendation.

2 Q So your answer is, yes, you did not have authority to
3 bind the city?

4 A I wasn't given that authority, but I was authorized to 5 negotiate on behalf of the city.

6 THE COURT: All right. One second. Mr. Buckfire,
7 with all due respect, probably less than half the questions
8 that have been asked of you have you given a straight answer
9 that doesn't volunteer all kinds of information that wasn't
10 asked. In order for us to get through this, I'm going to ask
11 you from now on just to answer the questions and not
12 volunteer any information. Okay?

13 THE WITNESS: Thank you, your Honor.

14 MS. GREEN: I was actually done, but I appreciate --

15 THE COURT: Well, okay, but --

16 MS. GREEN: I appreciate the --

17 THE COURT: That's great, but are there going to be 18 any more?

19 MS. GREEN: Yes.

20 THE COURT: Who else? Three more? Three more? Can 21 I give you ten minutes each?

22 MR. WERTHEIMER: Fine.

23 THE COURT: Ten minutes. Start the clock.

24 MR. WERTHEIMER: Okay.

25 CROSS-EXAMINATION

1 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

2 Q Mr. Buckfire, my name is Bill Wertheimer. I represent
3 what's been called the Flowers plaintiffs. Those are five
4 retirees or employees who filed a lawsuit against the state
5 before the bankruptcy was filed, and I've got a few
6 questions. You had mentioned, I believe, that in June of 7 2012 you were involved in some discussions with state
8 officials having to do with the possibility of restructuring
9 the city or the city's finances; is that correct?

10 A Yes.

11 Q Did the governor participate in those discussions?

12 A Yes.

13 Q You indicated that in at least one of those discussions
14 you thought the possibility of a Chapter 9 filing came up; is 15 that correct?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Do you recall the governor being present at that 18 discussion?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And what, if anything, did he say about that?

21 A I don't recall him saying anything.

22 Q Do you recall who brought it up?

23 A I believe it was Treasurer Dillon.

24 Q I'm sorry.

25 A I believe it was Treasurer Dillon.

1 Q And what do you remember him saying, as best you recall?

2 A What does Chapter 9 mean?

3 Q Simple as that?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And someone explained what Chapter 9 meant?

6 A That's correct.

7 Q Okay. Was it -- that was about it?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Okay. You indicated that you had seen a document which 10 showed a rollout which was going to -- at least at one point
11 in the rollout there was going to be a bankruptcy filing
12 scheduled for the 19th. Do you recall?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And then we know, in fact, that the bankruptcy was filed
15 on the 18th; correct?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And you indicated in your testimony that you were 18 surprised by that change.

19 A Yes.

20 Q Would I be correct in understanding that the reason for 21 your surprise was that normally when you have a rollout as 22 detailed as this, you stick with it, particularly such a key
23 event as the filing itself?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Would that be fair?

1 A That's fair.

2 Q And did you talk to anyone after the filing to learn --
3 to try to learn why it was that the date had been changed
4 from the 19th to the 18th?

5 A No.

6 Q So you were surprised on the 18th; correct?

7 A Yes.

8 Q You never talked to Mr. Orr about why it was switched?

9 A No.

10 Q Never talked to anybody?

11 A I did later, but it just wasn't very important.

12 Q All right. Well, to you. Who did you talk to later?

13 A Counsel at Jones Day and my own colleagues.

14 Q And what did you learn?

15 MR. CULLEN: Objection, your Honor, to the extent it
16 calls for legal work of Jones Day.

17 MR. WERTHEIMER: Your Honor, that's hardly legal 18 advice after the fact if he's learning why something was 19 done. I don't think the privilege covers that.

20 THE COURT: Well, first, who did you speak to about 21 this question?

22 THE WITNESS: Mr. Heiman.

23 THE COURT: Anyone else?

24 THE WITNESS: Ms. Ball and Ms. Lennox.

25 THE COURT: Anyone who's not an attorney with Jones

1 Day?

2 THE WITNESS: I spoke with Mr. Orr at some point a
3 week later about this.

4 THE COURT: What did Mr. Orr tell you about that?

5 THE WITNESS: All he told me was that the decision
6 had been made to expedite the filing because they were 7 concerned about losing control of the process, and that's 8 what he told me.

9 THE COURT: In the circumstances, I will hold that 10 the witness' conversations with attorneys from Jones Day on 11 the subject are protected conversations.

12 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

13 Q The conversation you had with Mr. Orr when he talked 14 about losing -- the possibility of losing control of the 15 process, did he identify part of the reason for that 16 possibility of losing control being the fact that there were 17 lawsuits out there in state court dealing with the bankruptcy
18 issue?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Did he identify them as the lawsuits in front of Judge
21 Aquilina in Lansing or in any way pinpoint the lawsuits he 22 was talking about?

23 A If that judge is in Ingham County, then the answer is
24 yes.

25 Q She is in Ingham County.

1 A Then that's correct.

2 Q Okay. So Orr told you that one of the reasons for moving
3 up the filing was because of the litigation that was pending
4 in Ingham County?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Did he indicate that that litigation was in part an
7 effort to assure that if, in fact, the city filed bankruptcy,
8 that it would be done in a way that would protect the pension
9 rights under the state Constitution even generally? In other
10 words, I understand he wouldn't have necessarily used those 11 words.

12 MR. CULLEN: I'll object to the form of the
13 question.

14 THE COURT: Please rephrase.

15 MR. WERTHEIMER: Okay.

16 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

17 Q When you talked to Mr. -- well, just tell us. What 18 did -- how did Mr. Orr characterize those Ingham County
19 lawsuits?

20 A I don't recall he did. He simply said there were 21 lawsuits pending that might have made it very difficult for 22 us to move forward, and they had to expedite the filing.

23 Q In Ingham County? In other words, he at least gave you
24 that?

25 A Well, I knew they were in Ingham County, but that's --

1 Q Okay.

2 A But it was only because of the impact on the timetable.

3 Q What did you know about those lawsuits?

4 A Very little.

5 Q Did you know at least generally that they were efforts to 6 in some way protect the pensions of city employees based on 7 state law?

8 A I knew they had something to do with it, yes.

9 Q Okay. I believe you indicated it was on July 8 that you
10 saw the rollout or maybe that's the date of the rollout
11 document.

12 A Yes.

13 Q Okay. And the rollout anticipated a bankruptcy filing on 14 the 19th; correct?

15 A That's right.

16 Q Which was a Friday; correct?

17 A That's right.

18 Q I'll state to you that these Ingham County lawsuits were 19 filed on July 3rd. Do you recall on July 8 knowing about the 20 existence of those lawsuits at that time?

21 A No.

22 Q Do you recall knowing on July 8 that the Ingham County
23 judge had hearings already scheduled for July 22nd -- that
24 is, the Monday after the 19th -- in order to determine
25 whether she should issue injunctive relief?

1 A No.

2 Q Did you know anything about that as of July 8?

3 A No.

4 MR. WERTHEIMER: That's all I have, Mr. Buckfire.
5 Thank you.

6 THE COURT: Mr. Wertheimer, will you yield the 7 balance of your time to Ms. Brimer, who seems to think she 8 needs more than ten minutes?

9 MR. WERTHEIMER: I will.

10 THE COURT: All right.

11 CROSS-EXAMINATION

12 BY MS. PATEK:

13 Q Good afternoon, Mr. Buckfire. Barbara Patek. I
14 represent the Detroit Police Officers Association, the 15 Detroit Police Lieutenants & Sergeants Association, the 16 Detroit Police Command Officers Association, and the Detroit
17 Fire Fighters Association. You and I have not met before; is
18 that right?

19 A That's correct.

20 Q You told us in your testimony that becoming involved in 21 this case was somewhat personal for you; isn't that right?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And that was because you're from here, being Detroit, and 24 you care about the city?

25 A That's right.

1 Q And you have, in the course of your successful
2 professional career, been an expert in many bankruptcy
3 situations; is that right?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Most of those were probably Chapter 11 proceedings?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And some of them were Chapter 9; correct?

8 A Never in Chapter 9.

9 Q Never in Chapter 9. Have you -- you served as a
10 consultant in Stockton in Chapter -- in that Chapter 9
11 proceeding?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And as a restructuring expert, you certainly understand
14 that there are different rules that govern Chapter 9 and 15 Chapter 11 proceedings; isn't that right?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And one of the differences, you would agree with me,
18 between Chapter 11 and Chapter 9 is that there can't be a
19 liquidation in a Chapter 9; that is, that the City of Detroit
20 in these proceedings must continue to provide its core and 21 essential services; isn't that right?

22 A Yes.

23 Q You also told us -- and I'm going to condense, so you can 24 tell me if anything about my statement is inaccurate -- that 25 what drove the city's July 18th, 2013, filing was the need --

1 or the concern that it would run out of cash it needed to pay
2 for its core and essential services. Is that an accurate
3 summary?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And among those core and essential services you would
6 agree with me are police and fire protection?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And you would agree with me that the work of providing
9 police and fire protection in the City of Detroit is a 10 difficult and dangerous job?

11 A Yes, I would.

12 Q And, in fact, probably much more difficult and dangerous
13 than what you do or what I do for a living?

14 A Certainly.

15 Q And you told us -- well, strike that. In terms of the 16 June 14th proposal, that proposal lumped together in terms of 17 how it was going to treat the accrued vested constitutionally
18 protected pension benefits of Detroit workers and retirees;
19 isn't that right?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And that would include those active police and fire
22 fighters?

23 A That's correct.

24 Q And it's your testimony here today that it is fair to 25 treat the city's unsecured obligation, including the accrued

1 vested pension benefits of those active police and fire
2 fighters, the same as it is the other unsecured creditors,
3 including the bondholders?

4 A Yes.

5 MS. PATEK: That's all I have, your Honor.

6 THE COURT: Nineteen.

7 MS. PATEK: Thank you, your Honor. I will be as 8 quick as I can.

9 CROSS-EXAMINATION

10 BY MS. BRIMER:

11 Q Good afternoon, Mr. Buckfire. My name is Lynn Brimer. I
12 represent the Retired Detroit Police Members Association.
13 You and I have never met before; is that correct?

14 A That's correct.

15 Q And I did not attend either of your depositions; is that
16 correct?

17 A That's correct.

18 Q So with my limited time, I would like to step back a bit
19 and go back to some of the history of your relationship with 20 the City of Detroit and the State of Michigan in connection
21 with the City of Detroit. Now, sometime in -- you testified
22 earlier that sometime in the spring of 2012 you had some 23 discussions with the treasurer, Dillon, regarding the 24 financial condition of the City of Detroit; is that correct?

25 A Yes.

1 Q Okay. Was that before or after your engagement by the
2 city to perform a financial review?

3 A It was around the same time.

4 Q So your engagement in connection with the financial 5 review that you performed, was that pursuant to an RFP that 6 was issued by the state?

7 A Yes, it was.

8 Q Okay. And was it by a particular department of the 9 state? Was it Treasury or the Governor's Office, if you
10 recall?

11 A I believe it was Treasury.

12 Q Okay. And you testified that the scope of your work in 13 connection with the financial -- 60-day financial review was 14 limited. Can you identify or describe what the scope of your 15 work was?

16 A We had been asked actually together with another firm,
17 Huron Consulting, which was part of the same RFP, to review
18 the city's financial results and come up with a coherent
19 evaluation of the balance sheet and the city's ability to 20 sustain its obligations, which we did, based on public
21 information.

22 Q So in connection with that, you reviewed historical 23 public information of the city's financial records; correct?

24 A Correct.

25 Q Was there a particular time frame of records that you

1 reviewed?

2 A We went back and looked at the last five years as well as
3 the city's current budget, which was made available to us by
4 the city.

5 Q So you reviewed the records from approximately 2007
6 through 20 --

7 A '11.

8 Q -- 11?

9 A And then the current fiscal year budget.

10 Q Okay. And did you issue a written report in connection
11 with that review?

12 A We did.

13 Q Did you draw any conclusions in that report?

14 A Well, I'd have to go back and read it again. I think we 15 pointed out that the city continued to spend more than it was 16 taking in from revenues; that it had limited ability to raise
17 capital in the capital markets; and that without a long-term
18 financial forecast it would be hard to understand that the 19 city had the ability to continue to pay its obligations.

20 Q So at that point in time, you had already concluded that 21 the city could not pay its obligations on an ongoing basis;
22 is that correct?

23 A No, no. I didn't say that.

24 Q What was your conclusion?

25 A It was concluded that we didn't have enough information

1 to make that evaluation, but certainly it was a risk.

2 Q What additional information would you have needed in
3 order to reach that conclusion?

4 A Well, we would have needed a five- or ten-year financial
5 forecast that would accurately reflect the city's potential
6 revenues, and we'd also have to have an accurate
7 understanding of the city's long-term claims and requirements
8 to pay on those claims.

9 Q So at that point in time, you did not have an 10 understanding of the city's long-term obligations?

11 A We had an understanding of those obligations as publicly
12 reported.

13 Q Okay. And you performed that review with the -- with 14 Huron Consulting?

15 A Correct.

16 Q Were there any other consultants or advisors that were 17 engaged in connection with that review?

18 A No.

19 Q At any time was the scope of your engagement expanded?

20 A No.

21 Q Was your engagement ever expanded to include a review of 22 the consent agreement with the City of Detroit?

23 A No.

24 Q Did you have any role in connection with the drafting of 25 the consent agreement that was entered into with the City of

1 Detroit?

2 A I was asked for some comments on it, yes.

3 Q Who asked for comments?

4 A Brom Stibitz.

5 Q And who's that?

6 A A senior advisor to Treasurer Dillon.

7 Q Now, during the time frame that you were drafting the 8 financial report, do you know whether or not Jones Day had 9 been retained by the State of Michigan in any -- in 10 connection with any of the City of Detroit's financial 11 issues?

12 A They had not been retained, to my knowledge.

13 Q So did you work with anyone at Jones Day in connection
14 with the drafting of the consent agreement that was executed
15 by the City of Detroit?

16 A No.

17 MS. BRIMER: Your Honor, I'd like to show the 18 witness an exhibit that has not been entered into evidence.
19 If he has our binder, I could identify -- direct him to where 20 it is in the binder or, given the time frame, I could hand
21 him a copy.

22 THE COURT: Yeah. Why don't you just hand it to 23 him? What exhibit is it?

24 MS. BRIMER: I believe it's 202, your Honor.

25 THE COURT: Okay.

1 BY MS. BRIMER:

2 Q Do you see on that exhibit, Mr. Buckfire, your e-mail as 3 a carbon copy recipient of the e-mail? Do you see that?

4 A I do.

5 Q And have you had an opportunity to review the e-mail?

6 A Just now, yes.

7 Q Does it refresh your recollection with respect to whether 8 or not you had any involvement with the Jones Day law firm in 9 the drafting of the consent agreement that was provided to
10 the City of Detroit?

11 A They'd asked me for some comments. I knew they were 12 talking to the state and trying to find a role for 13 themselves. I apologize for going on about this, but, you
14 know, they had given them some comments, and I'd reviewed
15 them.

16 Q So that would be a "yes." You were --

17 A That's a "yes."

18 Q You had provided some comments to Jones Day in connection
19 with the consent agreement that was provided to the City of 20 Detroit?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And then you were aware that that consent agreement was 23 then provided to Treasurer Dillon for presentation to the 24 City of Detroit; correct?

25 A No.

1 Q Do you recall receiving this e-mail?

2 A Not specifically.

3 Q Have you reviewed the consent agreement that was
4 ultimately executed by the City of Detroit?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Is it the consent agreement that you had commented on 7 with the Jones Day law firm?

8 A No.

9 Q How is it different from the --

10 A I recall the one that I was shown by Jones Day as being 11 materially different from the one the state ultimately signed
12 with the city.

13 Q Can you identify some of the terms that were materially
14 different?

15 A I'd have to go back and look at it. I don't recall, but 16 I know it wasn't the same one.

17 Q But sitting here today, you can identify that it wasn't
18 the agreement you had worked with Jones Day on, and yet you
19 can't recall any of the specifics on why it was not the same
20 agreement?

21 A It wasn't the same agreement.

22 Q Okay. Just yes. You are sitting here today. You know
23 it was not, but you cannot recall any of the specifics?

24 A That's correct.

25 Q Okay. Now, you've also indicated that at some point in

1 time you became aware that the State of Michigan and Jones
2 Day -- and maybe -- I don't want to put words in your mouth,
3 but at some point in time you became aware that the State of 4 Michigan and the City of Detroit -- Jones Day had addressed
5 issues in connection with the filing of a Chapter 9 by the 6 City of Detroit; is that correct?

7 A I'm sorry. I don't understand the question.

8 Q Okay. So when did you first learn that the State of 9 Michigan was considering a Chapter 9 bankruptcy filing for
10 the City of Detroit?

11 A Well, it was on the table at all times really after June
12 14th. I don't know when specifically they began to discuss
13 it. It was always an option.

14 Q Was it on the table in 2012?

15 A Not that I recall.

16 MS. BRIMER: Your Honor, I think this exhibit is in 17 evidence. I believe it's 845.

18 BY MS. BRIMER:

19 Q Do you recall discussing this exhibit with Ms. Green just 20 a few minutes ago?

21 A Yes.

22 Q I'd like to direct your attention to the second page
23 perhaps midway down, the paragraph that begins, "The state
24 believes." And you were a recipient of this e-mail; correct?

25 A Yes.

1 Q And that paragraph reads, "The state believes it needs PA
2 4 or worst case PA 72 to file a Chapter 9 case based on law.
3 As such, state legal counsel and Jones Day provided guidance
4 on whether a Chapter 9 filing in April could be upheld if PA
5 4 is pulled back at the end of April." Is that what that
6 says?

7 A Yes, it does.

8 Q You were a recipient of this e-mail; correct?

9 A I am.

10 Q So is it fair to say that at least as early as March of 11 2012, the state and Jones Day were discussing a Chapter 9
12 filing for the City of Detroit?

13 A Yes.

14 THE COURT: What exhibit number did you say that 15 was?

16 MS. BRIMER: 846, your Honor.

17 ATTORNEYS: 845.

18 MS. BRIMER: Oh, 845.

19 BY MS. BRIMER:

20 Q So, now, later in 2012, in November of 2012 an RFP was 21 issued by the City of Detroit in connection with the consent
22 agreement; is that correct?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And you completed that RFP?

25 A We did.

1 Q And then you were ultimately engaged by the city in
2 December; correct?

3 A January of 2013.

4 Q But in December you were aware that you would --

5 A We'd been chosen, yes.

6 Q -- receive the contract?

7 A Right.

8 Q Do you recall the questions that were asked on that
9 request for production -- request for an offer?

10 A No.

11 Q Do you recall whether or not specifically you disclosed
12 to either Mayor Bing or the City Council that you were aware
13 that at least as early as March of 2012 the state and Jones
14 Day had been contemplating a bankruptcy filing on behalf of 15 the city?

16 A I don't understand that question.

17 Q Well, we just went over -- you were aware that at least
18 as early as March of 2012 --

19 A Um-hmm.

20 Q -- the State of Michigan and the law firm, Jones Day, had 21 been discussing a Chapter 9 filing on behalf of the city;
22 correct? We just went over that. Your answer was, "Yes."

23 A Yes.

24 Q So I'm asking you at the time you completed your RFP or 25 prior to executing a contract, did you ever disclose to the

1 City Council or Mayor Bing that you were aware that at least
2 as early as March 2012 the State of Michigan along with Jones
3 Day had discussed and were contemplating a Chapter 9 filing
4 on behalf of the city? It's a "yes" or "no" question.

5 A No.

6 Q Now, you were also involved in the interview process
7 sometime in January for the law firms that were selected by 8 the city; correct?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And it was the City Council and the mayor at that point
11 in time that were in place; is that correct?

12 A That's correct.

13 Q So Mr. Orr had not yet been selected at that point in 14 time; correct?

15 A Correct.

16 Q And one of those law firms was Jones Day; is that
17 correct?

18 A Correct.

19 Q At any point in time during the interview process for the 20 law firms, did you disclose to the mayor or the City Council
21 that you were aware that at least one of the law firms they 22 were interviewing had been discussing with the state and 23 providing guidance on the filing of a Chapter 9 by the City
24 of Detroit?

25 A No.

1 Q So now I want to go over a few issues in connection with
2 the fair and even-handed treatment of the bondholders vis-a-
3 vis the pension beneficiaries. And it's been your testimony
4 all along, if I understand correctly, that you think it is 5 fair and even-handed treatment to treat the bondholders, who
6 have insurance, in the same class or category as the pension
7 beneficiaries on the grounds that they're all unsecured
8 creditors; is that correct?

9 A Yes.

10 Q So isn't it true that when bondholders determine that 11 they will issue a bond or extend credit to the City of 12 Detroit, when they made that determination they had the 13 opportunity to review the financial data of the city and 14 evaluate the risk? Is that accurate?

15 A I hope so.

16 Q To the best of your knowledge, if you have any, do you
17 believe any of the pension beneficiaries have had an 18 opportunity prior to accepting employment to review the 19 financial data of the City of Detroit and evaluate the risk
20 of whether or not their pensions would be honored?

21 A Is that calling for a "yes" or "no"?

22 THE COURT: Yes.

23 THE WITNESS: No, I don't know.

24 BY MS. BRIMER:

25 Q Do you believe they would have been provided that

1 opportunity?

2 A I don't know.

3 Q Now, I believe you testified earlier that in connection
4 with the June 14th proposal the obligations owed to 5 pensioners that were employees of the Department of Water and
6 Sewage, their obligations were included in the $3.5 billion
7 underfunding and that their -- they were included in the 8 restructuring proposal for the underfunded pensions; is that
9 correct?

10 A Yes.

11 Q You also testified, though, that the revenue stream
12 generated by Department of Water and Sewage was not included
13 in the revenue that was reflected in the July -- the June 14
14 proposal; is that correct?

15 A It's a nomenclature issue. The Water and Sewer
16 Department collects revenues, but there is no net cash flow
17 to the city from those revenues.

18 Q But isn't it true that those revenues represent
19 contributions on behalf of their employees into the pension
20 fund? They use their own revenues. The Department of Water
21 and Sewage pays -- makes contributions to the pension fund on 22 behalf of its employees; correct?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And it uses the revenues it generates to make those 25 contributions; correct?

1 A Yes.

2 Q Now, you also talked about, I believe --

3 THE COURT: Your time is up. You're looking at me
4 like you want more time.

5 MS. BRIMER: Perhaps just a few questions, your 6 Honor. I have two brief areas I want to ask, and I'll be 7 brief.

8 THE COURT: Does that mean two questions? It's just 9 a question.

10 MS. BRIMER: Just a handful, your Honor. It may 11 depend on how he answers.

12 THE COURT: Five questions. Go ahead.

13 MS. BRIMER: Okay. All right. Let me think then.

14 BY MS. BRIMER:

15 Q So you testified yesterday that -- in connection with 16 reviewing Water and Sewage again, that one avenue of 17 generating additional revenue could not be increasing water
18 rates because -- well, let me stop there. Is that correct?
19 Do you recall? You testified that the city could not 20 increase water and sewage rates because of utility laws, that 21 it's a regulated industry, and so it just could not
22 arbitrarily increase rates; correct?

23 A Correct.

24 Q Okay. So at the time the June 14th proposal was put 25 together, did you take into consideration the fact that the

1 city did not have any authority under the Michigan
2 Constitution to impair the pension benefits?

3 A I don't understand the question.

4 Q So on the one hand, you certainly took into consideration
5 the legal -- the authority of the city to raise the utility
6 rates in connection with Water and Sewage; correct?

7 A Correct, not a source of cash.

8 Q But you did not take into consideration any constraints
9 on the city's ability to impair the pension rights?

10 A That's correct.

11 Q One other brief area. You also discussed that you did
12 not consider it a viable option, for example, to look at 13 avenues for increasing collection on the taxes as generating 14 a significant amount of -- or any amount of additional 15 revenue; is that correct?

16 A That's not what I testified to.

17 Q So what did you testify to in connection with the unpaid
18 tax obligation?

19 A That the city had been very ineffective in collecting its 20 unpaid taxes, and we didn't believe they would change anytime
21 soon and collect those taxes.

22 Q Was that in connection with both income taxes as well as 23 property taxes?

24 A Primarily property taxes.

25 Q Do you know or have -- can you estimate what the unpaid

1 income taxes are that are due to the city?

2 A No.

3 MS. BRIMER: I have nothing further, your Honor.

4 THE COURT: All right. We'll take our afternoon
5 break at this time. Well, let me just ask first will there
6 be any redirect?

7 MR. CULLEN: Three or four questions.

8 THE COURT: All right.

9 MR. CULLEN: Do you want to do it now, or do you
10 want to --

11 THE COURT: No. We'll take our recess now and 12 reconvene at 3:15.

13 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in recess.

14 (Recess at 3:01 p.m. until 3:16 p.m.)

15 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in session. Please
16 be seated.

17 THE COURT: It appears that everyone is here. You
18 may proceed, sir.

19 MR. CULLEN: Good afternoon, your Honor.

20 REDIRECT EXAMINATION

21 BY MR. CULLEN:

22 Q Very briefly, Mr. Buckfire, you talked about beginning
23 with the bond insurers, and you mentioned it was the 24 beginning and not the end. What would the end be?

25 A The end would have been an active negotiation with all

1 the bondholders and all the other unsecured creditors of the
2 city.

3 Q And what would have been the steps between the beginning
4 and the end?

5 A Well I would have expected after making our initial offer
6 we would have received responses that would have formed
7 effectively the counter-bid.

8 Q And when you said you'd have to go to all of the 9 individual bondholders, what does that mean?

10 A We would have to frame an offer supported by the bond
11 insurers that they would hopefully recommend to the bond
12 insurers and get their support for.

13 Q The bondholders, you mean?

14 A The bondholders themselves, yes.

15 Q Did the bond insurers have authority to either bind
16 the -- did the bond insurers have the authority to either
17 bind the bondholders or to change the terms of the bond?

18 A No.

19 MR. CULLEN: That's all I have, your Honor.

20 THE COURT: All right, sir. You may step down.

21 THE WITNESS: Thank you.

22 THE COURT: Thank you.

23 (Witness excused at 3:17 p.m.)

24 THE COURT: Sir.

25 MR. SCHNEIDER: Your Honor, Matthew Schneider on

1 behalf of the State of Michigan. When we earlier discussed
2 this in the last few days, we had planned on the governor
3 coming at 1 p.m. on Monday, and because of the pace of the 4 proceedings here, I want to just confirm with the Court that 5 that is still the case no matter what stage we're at.

6 THE COURT: A good question. Anyone object if the 7 governor appears at one o'clock on Monday regardless of where 8 we are otherwise in the case?

9 MR. WERTHEIMER: No, your Honor.

10 THE COURT: Hearing no objection, you may count on
11 it.

12 MR. SCHNEIDER: Thank you.

13 THE COURT: Sir.

14 MR. STEWART: Your Honor, Geoffrey Stewart, Jones
15 Day, for the city. Two matters. One is we would at this 16 stage ordinarily call Mr. Malhotra back in connection with 17 the matters that were resolved by your ruling; however, I was 18 only going to call him for the purpose of getting four
19 documents into evidence. Counsel for the objectors and I
20 have agreed that they'll stipulate to the admissibility of 21 those while retaining any objections they may have to your 22 ruling, but rather than me put words in their mouth, let me
23 have them put that on the record themselves.

24 THE COURT: What are the numbers of those four?

25 MR. STEWART: Number 9, 10, 11, and 38.

1 THE COURT: All right. Sir.

2 MR. RUEGGER: Arthur Ruegger from Dentons on behalf
3 of the Retiree Committee. Yes, your Honor, that is correct.
4 We've consulted with the other counsel for the objectors, and
5 we believe that those four exhibits fall within your Honor's
6 ruling. We want to preserve for the sake of the record our 7 objection and rights related to that ruling, but we --

8 THE COURT: Yes.

9 MR. RUEGGER: -- feel that is a fair interpretation,
10 and on that basis we have no objection to that admission.

11 THE COURT: All right. Thank you. The admission of 12 those four into evidence is granted.

13 (Debtor's Exhibits 9, 10, 11, and 38 received at 3:19
14 p.m.)

15 MR. STEWART: That being the case, your Honor,
16 unless there are questions the Court has or anyone else has,
17 I would suggest we excuse Mr. Malhotra as a witness.

18 THE COURT: Anyone have any questions for the 19 witness, or may we excuse him?

20 ATTORNEY: No questions for the witness, your Honor.

21 THE COURT: All right. He is excused.

22 (Mr. Malhotra excused at 3:19 p.m.)

23 MR. STEWART: A second housekeeping matter is Mr.
24 Ciantra had mentioned the other day that he would have a
25 motion to strike or similar vis-a-vis Mr. Moore. That motion

1 has not yet been made. Mr. Moore then has been kept on the
2 status of an active witness. We have been physically
3 sequestering witnesses --

4 THE COURT: Yes.

5 MR. STEWART: -- while they're on the stand. I
6 spoke earlier with counsel. He said he's still studying his 7 motion. I don't mean to put words in his mouth, but he has 8 no objection to us unsequestering Mr. Moore. However, we 9 will instruct Mr. Moore to not discuss his testimony with 10 anyone pending the filing and adjudication of Mr. Ciantra's
11 motion.

12 MR. CIANTRA: Yes, your Honor. I would intend to 13 bring that issue to the Court Monday morning --

14 THE COURT: Okay.

15 MR. CIANTRA: -- if that's acceptable.

16 THE COURT: Absolutely.

17 MR. CIANTRA: And I would have no objection to 18 releasing --

19 THE COURT: All right.

20 MR. CIANTRA: -- Mr. Moore.

21 MR. STEWART: Thank you, your Honor.

22 THE COURT: We'll unlock the doors to Mr. Moore's
23 confinement. I have one more housekeeping matter. Hold on 24 there. Based on some confusion that has been stated here on 25 the record about exhibits and exhibit numbers, I am concerned

1 about whether everyone's versions of the exhibit books
2 correspond with the exhibits and exhibit numbers in the 3 attachments to the joint final pretrial order, so I would
4 like to task someone with the responsibility of checking all
5 of the exhibit books and all of the lists and numbers of 6 exhibits that are attached to the joint final pretrial order.
7 Any volunteers?

8 MR. MONTGOMERY: Dentons will do so for the Retiree
9 Committee for the objectors, your Honor.

10 THE COURT: For all the objectors?

11 MR. MONTGOMERY: For all the objectors.

12 MR. IRWIN: Geoff Irwin, your Honor. We have the --
13 the city had the pleasure of putting together the 130- or 40-
14 page pretrial order, and we worked with the Dentons firm. I
15 would be happy to do that personally.

16 THE COURT: All right. So I'd like a report from 17 you Monday that this has been accomplished, please.

18 MR. MONTGOMERY: Yes, sir.

19 MR. IRWIN: Yes, your Honor.

20 THE COURT: And this task includes checking our 21 exhibits book up -- exhibit books up here as well, please.

22 MR. IRWIN: Of course.

23 MS. PATEK: While we're on housekeeping, Barbara
24 Patek for the Public Safety Unions. The Court asked and we 25 did provide the additional books, and in those additional

1 books is a marked version of the display, the demonstrative.
2 I've given copies to Jones Day, and we'll --

3 THE COURT: Good.

4 MS. PATEK: -- send them, so I just wanted to make
5 that clear for the record.

6 THE COURT: Thank you. Okay. Next witness.

7 MR. HERTZBERG: Yes, your Honor. Robert Hertzberg,
8 Pepper Hamilton. I'm going to call Chief Craig to the stand.

9 THE COURT: Okay.

10 MR. HERTZBERG: May I turn the podium a little bit?

11 THE COURT: If you'd like.

12 MR. HERTZBERG: Thank you.

13 THE COURT: Step forward, please, sir.

14 MR. CRAIG: Thank you.

15 THE COURT: And before you sit down, would you
16 please raise your right hand?

17 JAMES CRAIG, DEBTOR'S WITNESS, SWORN

18 THE COURT: Please sit down. And you may proceed.

19 DIRECT EXAMINATION

20 BY MR. HERTZBERG:

21 Q Could you state your name for the record, please?

22 A James Craig. Last name is spelled C-r-a-i-g.

23 Q And where do you reside currently?

24 A City of Detroit.

25 Q And are you employed by the City of Detroit?

1 A I am.

2 Q In what position are you employed?

3 A Police chief for the Detroit Police Department.

4 Q And when did you first commence your position as police
5 chief?

6 A July 1st, 2013.

7 THE COURT: Excuse me one second. Could you do me a
8 favor? If you're going to sit back like that, that's fine.
9 Just pull the microphone a little bit closer.

10 THE WITNESS: Okay.

11 THE COURT: That's good right there.

12 THE WITNESS: Okay.

13 THE COURT: Not too close, but that's good right
14 there. That's good.

15 BY MR. HERTZBERG:

16 Q Chief Craig, did you grow up in Detroit?

17 A I did.

18 Q Were you born in the city?

19 A I was.

20 Q And how long did you stay in the city?

21 A Twenty-four years.

22 Q Did you go to school at Cass Tech High School?

23 A I did.

24 Q Do you have any parents or siblings that live in the 25 city?

1 A I do.

2 Q And how many?

3 A Five siblings and both parents still alive.

4 Q Okay. Let's spend a minute and go over your educational
5 background. Where did you go to college?

6 A West Coast University in Los Angeles, but prior to that
7 Lawrence Institute of Technology here in -- I think it's 8 Dearborn. Also attended University -- well, Mercy College, 9 which is now U of D Mercy, while employed as a Detroit -- as
10 a Detroit police officer. Then later, after attending West
11 Coast University in Los Angeles, I attended the University of 12 Phoenix.

13 Q Before we get to that, when did you graduate from West
14 Coast University?

15 A I'm not absolutely certain on the date. I'd have to --

16 Q Approximately the year.

17 A Probably in the late '90s.

18 Q And did you receive a degree?

19 A I did.

20 Q And what type of degree?

21 A Business management.

22 Q And did you go to the FBI National Academy at Quantico?

23 A I did.

24 Q And when did you do that?

25 A At the rank of lieutenant, once again, probably late

1 '90s, early 2000s.

2 Q And you graduated from there?

3 A I did.

4 Q Have you ever received a master's degree?

5 A I did.

6 Q From where?

7 A University of Phoenix.

8 Q And when did you receive that degree?

9 A Possibly -- oh, 2010.

10 Q Have you ever studied for a doctoral degree?

11 A I did.

12 Q And what's the status of that?

13 A It's on hold right now. When I accepted the job with the 14 Detroit Police Department, that is when I placed the work on 15 hold.

16 Q How far along were you?

17 A I immediately entered after my -- obtaining my master's,
18 so a couple years, three years.

19 Q Was your first job as a police officer with the City of
20 Detroit?

21 A It was not my first job.

22 Q What was your first job?

23 A Delivering papers in high school.

24 Q No, but as a police officer, was that your first --

25 A Oh, my first police job was, yes, 1977 in the City of

1 Detroit.

2 Q And how long did you work for the City of Detroit?

3 A Roughly two and a half years until I was laid off in 4 1980.

5 Q And what position did you hold with the City of Detroit?

6 A Police officer.

7 Q After you were laid off by the City of Detroit, where did
8 you next seek employment?

9 A City of Los Angeles.

10 Q And were you employed there?

11 A Yes, as a police officer.

12 Q For what period of time did you work as a police officer
13 in Los Angeles?

14 A For 28 years starting in 1981 until the date I retired in 15 2009 after being selected as a police chief for Portland,
16 Maine.

17 Q I assume you held numerous positions while you were with 18 the police department in Los Angeles?

19 A I did.

20 Q Could you describe some of those positions that you held?

21 A Ranged from both administration, field. I, as a police
22 officer, worked in community relations, worked in a gang
23 unit, promoted to sergeant, worked as an internal affairs
24 investigator, also as an advocate, a grievance investigator
25 and advocate for the police chief, promoted to lieutenant,

1 ran a defense rep unit with the unit -- with the union. From
2 that I became an adjutant to the chief of police and after
3 that promoted into captain. I worked several positions as a
4 command level officer from juvenile division, specialized
5 division, then the Wilshire area, also southwest area twice
6 as a captain, later as the area commanding officer, and then
7 at that time I retired. Well, for one month prior to 8 retirement I was a commanding officer of West Los Angeles
9 area.

10 Q And you said you retired from Los Angeles when?

11 A In 2009.

12 Q And did you take a job after that?

13 A I did.

14 Q And where did you take a job?

15 A Portland, Maine, as the police chief.

16 Q And what were your duties as police chief of Portland,
17 Maine?

18 A Overall management, leadership of the police department.

19 Q And how big of a staff was that?

20 A Sworn and civilian staff of about 215.

21 Q And how long did you act as police chief of Portland,
22 Maine?

23 A Roughly two years.

24 Q And after that, did you take another job?

25 A I did.

1 Q And where was that?

2 A Cincinnati, Ohio, police chief.

3 Q And what was your start date, approximately, for that 4 job?

5 A 2010, August, I think. Stayed there two years.

6 Q August of 2010?

7 A Right, if my memory serves me correct.

8 Q And what was the general description of your duties as 9 police chief of Cincinnati?

10 A Basically the same, overall management, leadership of the 11 Cincinnati Police Department.

12 Q How big of a police force was Cincinnati?

13 A Sworn and civilian, roughly 1,700 employees.

14 Q What was the residential size, the people in City of 15 Cincinnati?

16 A The actual residential population was about 300,000, but 17 what makes unique -- a unique characteristic of Cincinnati is 18 it had a metropolitan statistical area of 2.2 million, which 19 is the largest in the State of Ohio.

20 Q When you talk about the metropolitan statistical area, do
21 you consider that part of your jurisdiction as the police
22 chief of Cincinnati?

23 A Yes, because of the people that will work, attend school
24 that live in the city represent that population.

25 Q How did you become the police chief of the City of

1 Detroit?

2 A A recruiter contacted me.

3 Q And when was that?

4 A Probably February, March, roughly, early part of the 5 year, of this year.

6 Q 2013?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And what did you do once you were contacted by the 9 recruiter? Did you meet with anyone at the City of Detroit?

10 A I did.

11 Q And who did you meet with?

12 A I met with a number of people through a series of 13 interviews. I met with the recruiter, of course, initially,
14 and from that I met with city officials, the mayor, the 15 emergency manager.

16 Q Being Kevyn Orr?

17 A Kevyn Orr.

18 Q Met with the monitor, federal monitor, at some point
19 during the process, Mr. Baird out -- who works for the 20 Governor's Office, State of Michigan, and that was it.

21 A At some point you were offered a job as the police chief
22 of Detroit?

23 Q I was.

24 Q And when was that?

25 A Started in July, possibly June.

1 Q And when did you actually -- when was your first day of
2 work?

3 A June -- I mean July 1st.

4 Q Why were you interested in taking the job as police chief
5 of Detroit when you were already police chief in Cincinnati?

6 A It was a great opportunity. I knew that the city was 7 facing a myriad of challenges. This was home, certainly the 8 place I started my policing career, so certainly when I look 9 across at -- this now is my third job as a police chief -- to 10 come back here was very significant to my career.

11 Q When you started as the new police chief of the City of 12 Detroit, what steps did you take to familiarize yourself with 13 the police department?

14 A As I do in the past in other departments that I held the 15 chief's position, I certainly tried to meet as many people as 16 I could, both internal and external to the police department.
17 As it relates to inside, certainly I met with a cross-section
18 of rank and file prior to starting, had a chance to attend a
19 union meeting, so I got to meet the union president from the 20 DPOA, met some of the members at that meeting. From that,
21 after I actually started, I continued to meet with the union
22 president, and I began to make my rounds, if you will, and 23 talking to a cross-section of people inside the department.

24 Q And what was that -- what did the cross-section consist 25 of, the people you met with inside of the department?

1 A I met with the executive management team. I met with
2 rank and file. I physically visited some of the stations,
3 some of the work locations where the specialized units were 4 housed.

5 Q When you said you met with the executive management team,
6 who consists or who was part of the executive management team
7 at the time you took the job?

8 A The deputy chiefs, assistant chiefs, commanders, then
9 inspectors. I've also met with the civilian counterparts,
10 the civilian deputy chiefs that held several positions in the 11 police department.

12 Q How many meetings do you figure you had when you first
13 took the job as police chief?

14 A Virtually met every day, still meet every day, many 15 meetings. I would be making a guess at how many meetings,
16 but depends on what time period.

17 Q Did you --

18 A From the beginning until now -- that's a difficult one --
19 in excess of 50 meetings.

20 Q Okay. Did you meet with any city officials after you
21 took the position as police chief?

22 A I have.

23 Q And who did you meet with?

24 A I have had a meeting or two with the mayor, certainly --

25 Q Mayor Bing?

1 A Mayor Bing. Certainly met and have been continuing to
2 meet with the emergency manager, Kevyn Orr, on a number of 3 occasions. I've met with several on the council, in 4 particular, the council president, Saunteel Jenkins. I have
5 met with the now president and former president of the police
6 commission.

7 Q Did you meet with any community business leaders before
8 or after you took the position as police chief?

9 A I did.

10 Q And what did you do to meet with the community business
11 leaders?

12 A There were several meet-and-greets, met business leaders.
13 There was a meet-and-greet at Comerica Park early during my 14 arrival, maybe within the first month, so I had a chance to 15 meet a variety of business leaders as well as community
16 stakeholders, Wayne County prosecutor, which I left out, had 17 a chance to meet with her. And then there's been several 18 other smaller meet-and-greets, one at Detroit Athletic Club
19 where, once again, I met with local business leaders.

20 Q Who's the Bratton Group?

21 A The Bratton Group is a consultant firm. Bratton is a
22 former police chief of Los Angeles, also former commissioner
23 of New York, Boston, and Boston Transit.

24 Q Were they providing -- when you started as police chief,
25 were they providing consulting services to the Detroit Police

1 Department?

2 A Yes, they were.

3 Q And what kind of services did you understand that they
4 were providing?

5 A Looking at the organizational structure, for the most
6 part, there were actually several consulting firms working
7 with the Detroit Police Department, but I actually had a
8 conversation with Bill Bratton prior to being selected.

9 Q Is he the CEO of the Bratton Group?

10 MS. LEVINE: Your Honor, objection. We don't have a 11 certification or a declaration from the police chief. I was 12 just wondering if we could get some understanding as to how 13 this is relevant to eligibility.

14 MR. HERTZBERG: Sure, your Honor. First, your 15 Honor, I'm laying a foundation for the witness, but, second,
16 one of the aspects, as cited in the brief that the city
17 filed, is one of the tests is service delivery insolvency.
18 And the chief is here to testify as to the public safety and 19 whether the services are being provided to the community,
20 being the --

21 THE COURT: Is this foundation for that?

22 MR. HERTZBERG: Yes. This is foundation.

23 THE COURT: All right. I'll permit it. Go ahead.

24 MR. HERTZBERG: Thank you.

25 BY MR. HERTZBERG:

1 Q So you met with the Bratton Group; correct?

2 A I did.

3 Q And what did they tell you about the state of the Detroit
4 Police Department?

5 A That -- if I just might summarize it in a very short way,
6 that everything is broken, deplorable conditions, crime is
7 extremely high, morale is low, the absence of leadership.

8 Q And after you took the job as police chief, did you meet
9 with anyone from Conway MacKenzie?

10 A I did.

11 Q And who did you meet with?

12 A Chris Gannon, one of the consultants.

13 Q What did you talk to -- or what subject did you cover
14 with him?

15 A Essentially the same as I did with the Bratton Group, the 16 staff, low morale, working conditions.

17 Q Did you review any reports that have been prepared or any 18 information when you joined the force as police chief?

19 A I had reviewed different reports, some in more detail
20 than others. I don't recall which. There was a lot written,
21 but there were no real reports from the consultants as it
22 related to the state of the department.

23 Q After you became police chief, did you -- you said you
24 went and saw some of the police stations. Did you go out at 25 crime scenes? Did you go out and meet officers in the field,

1 anything of that nature?

2 A I have, and I did.

3 Q Can you describe that please?

4 A I've had a chance to go by all of the precincts, and
5 certainly in most, if not all, the conditions of the stations
6 were in some instances deplorable. One comes to mind.
7 During a visit I had with one of our leased facilities where
8 our crime lab technicians work out of, a location where I'm 9 told by the staff the heat sometimes works, it's dirty,
10 deplorable working conditions, not a lot of space. Certainly 11 as I made my rounds, that was consistent. In fact, even as 12 recently as yesterday at a community meeting, community
13 members brought up the deplorable state of the police
14 stations and asked what I plan to do about that.

15 Q Let's talk about crime in the City of Detroit at the time
16 you took over as police chief and what we call clearance
17 rates. What is clearance rates on crime?

18 A Solving the crime basically. I knew coming in that the 19 homicide clearance rate for Detroit was roughly 11 percent.

20 Q Before we go there, let me ask you a few additional 21 questions. Do police departments ordinarily maintain
22 statistics on crime?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And where are those reported to?

25 A Reported to the FBI.

1 Q And does Detroit maintain these type of reports and
2 statistics?

3 A They do now.

4 Q When you started as police chief, did you consider
5 Detroit -- after you met with your commanders, met with 6 people, citizens, and moved around and looked at the 7 different police stations, met with people on your staff, did
8 you consider Detroit a violent city?

9 A I did.

10 Q How violent?

11 A Extremely violent. In comparison to cities I've worked,
12 primarily Los Angeles and Cincinnati, it was the most violent
13 city I've ever worked, so I knew that I would be facing a
14 significant challenge in focusing on reducing crime, violent
15 crime in particular.

16 Q You started to talk about the homicides in Detroit. How 17 many homicides were there in the city from the beginning of 18 the year until the time you took your job in June?

19 A I'm not certain what the exact number was at that time.

20 Q Were you aware of what it was in 2012?

21 A I was aware that it was, I think, 384. It was ranked,
22 according to a recent report by the FBI, as the second most 23 violent city in America only exceeded by Flint, so I was 24 aware of the homicide rate.

25 Q You started to talk about clearance rate, solving of

1 crimes. What was the clearance rate on the homicides in
2 Detroit?

3 A The information that I received was around 11 percent.

4 Q Is that a good clearance rate?

5 A It's deplorable.

6 Q What did you see as the clearance rate when you were 7 working in Los Angeles?

8 A Sixty-five to seventy percent. Cincinnati, 70 percent.

9 Q Seventy-percent clearance rate on homicides?

10 A Kind of fluctuates between 60 and 70.

11 Q Was the clearance rate similar on other violent crimes in
12 the City of Detroit?

13 A As low or lower. In fact, if my memory serves me, I
14 think like for using the crime of robbery, I think the crime
15 of robbery, the clearance rate was about eight percent.

16 Q Is that low?

17 A Extremely low.

18 Q What was the clearance rate, approximately, in Los 19 Angeles when were you employed there?

20 A As I recall, just looking at the one station, it would go
21 between 25-, 35-percent clearance rate.

22 Q In Cincinnati when you were chief?

23 A About the same. Robbery clearances tend not to be as 24 high. There are more reported crimes, but roughly about the 25 same, 25 to 35 percent.

1 Q You said -- you testified earlier that the police
2 department was having extreme problems. Was there problems
3 of accountability with police officers?

4 A Accountability was for the most part, in my judgment,
5 absent. The one thing that I acknowledge the department did
6 well in terms of -- and when I talk about accountability, I'm
7 talking about at the executive and management levels. I'm 8 not referring to the rank and file police officer. There was 9 an absence of accountability, but the department certainly
10 could be lauded for its success just recently two years ago
11 where the consent judgment -- they were at about 24-percent
12 compliant, and they rose to about 91, 92 percent over a two-13 year period. But when you look at the other areas of the 14 department, it didn't seem to be that certainly the executive
15 and managers were being held accountable.

16 Q Was there an urgency, in your mind, to drive down violent
17 crime?

18 A Both violent crime and raise morale of the police
19 officers.

20 Q What was the morale like for the everyday police officer
21 in the City of Detroit when you took over as chief?

22 A In my judgment, it was the lowest I have seen of any 23 police department I've ever worked, including when I worked
24 here in the '70s.

25 Q Do you have any idea what caused that?

1 A A number of factors. Certainly the fact that they had
2 lost ten percent pay; that they were forced into a 12-hour
3 work schedule. They had no real voice in the department, no
4 real decision-making, and as I met with officers through my
5 visits to different operational entities, the thing I heard
6 most was they just wanted to be police officers again, and 7 they felt that they didn't have leadership that would allow 8 them to do that.

9 Q Were police officers, in your mind, when you took over as 10 police chief being deployed in the correct way?

11 A They were not.

12 Q Can you explain that, please?

13 A It appeared and later found out that Detroit police
14 management had taken what I call a cookie cutter approach to 15 staffing or deployment, and there was no real science behind
16 how police officers were deployed. And specifically what I'm 17 talking about is looking at issues of calls for service,
18 crime, and population. And so it was after my staff started
19 to take a good look at -- we made some adjustments in 20 staffing because one indicator was the fact that not only was 21 the response time a big issue, but when officers came to 22 start their 12-hour work schedule, there were anywhere
23 between 40 and 60 calls being held to be answered.

24 Q Let's talk about response time. What is the average
25 response time on a call to a police station right at the time

1 you took over as police chief, approximately?

2 A What was reported out to me was roughly 50 minutes to an
3 emergency call.

4 Q And when you were in L.A. as a captain, what was the 5 normal response time you saw there?

6 A It was an average response time of seven minutes.

7 Q How about when you were chief in Portland, Maine?

8 A Three to four minutes.

9 Q And when you were chief in Cincinnati?

10 A Five to six minutes.

11 Q Do you think this 50-minute response time put residents
12 at risk of their safety?

13 A I did.

14 Q Why is that?

15 A Because if a community member is calling for police
16 services in an emergency situation, certainly the expectation
17 that police will get there as soon as possible, so what I
18 heard coming in from community members, what I heard before I
19 got here, is the fact that there were times when Detroit
20 police officers were called, and no one would ever show up.
21 In fact, we have two dispatchers now facing criminal charges
22 based on the allegation of not sending police officers to a
23 call for service, one where the allegations involving a woman
24 who died as a result of a domestic situation, and the other
25 one I think was a stabbing.

1 Q And the dispatchers never dispatched police officers to
2 the --

3 A It's a pending matter, but that's the allegation, yes.

4 Q Okay. Let's talk about where police officers were 5 working when you took over as police chief. Were some of 6 them working in non -- or jobs that were not on the street
7 policing crimes and stuff?

8 A It was very odd to me when I came in. First, I took a
9 look at my office, and, for example, one officer -- a full 10 duty officer was -- sole assignment was to gas and wash my 11 car.

12 Q And this was a police officer?

13 A A police officer. Then there were several other police
14 officers in my office that were performing clerical duties,
15 and so those individuals -- I took action to move them out,
16 and then we started to look at the rest of the department.

17 Q Well, before you go there, when you say "move them out,"
18 do you mean place them on the street patrolling?

19 A In a more -- in an operational assignment, which doesn't 20 necessarily mean they went back to a uniform patrol, but in 21 another operational, something where a police officer would 22 be assigned.

23 Q Let's talk about the mayor's personal protection force.
24 When you took over as the police chief in the City of 25 Detroit, was protection provided by the Detroit Police

1 Department to Mayor Bing?

2 A Yes, it was.

3 Q And how many police officers were used for that
4 protection?

5 A Twenty-three.

6 MS. LEVINE: Your Honor, objection, again, with 7 regard to relevance. I'm just not sure where this fits into 8 109.

9 MR. HERTZBERG: It's, as I said, service insolvency.
10 We're going to show that there were police officers not being 11 used correctly on the street, which jeopardized the safety of 12 the residents, and when he took over as chief the residents
13 were at risk because of this, and we were showing service
14 insolvency.

15 THE COURT: The relevance is arguable, so I'll
16 permit it.

17 MR. HERTZBERG: Thank you.

18 MS. LEVINE: Your Honor, just for the record --

19 THE COURT: Yes.

20 MS. LEVINE: -- our understanding is that solvency
21 we've determined here is whether or not the city can pay its 22 debts as they come due, and that's a financial mathematical 23 problem. So while this is sympathetic testimony, we would 24 respectfully submit it doesn't go to the issue of whether or 25 not this debtor is eligible.

1 MR. HERTZBERG: As I indicated to the Court, and
2 I'll just repeat --

3 THE COURT: You may proceed, Mr. Hertzberg.

4 MR. HERTZBERG: Okay. Thank you, your Honor.

5 BY MR. HERTZBERG:

6 Q You were telling us about the personal protection staff
7 on Mayor Bing. How many officers was it?

8 A Twenty-three officers.

9 Q And how many now are being used?

10 A Six.

11 Q And are you the one who reduced the staff?

12 A I was.

13 Q And where are those officers deployed now?

14 A They went back to operational assignments. Six remain
15 working for the mayor in executive protection, one was de-16 appointed, and the remaining were sent out to a variety of 17 assignments.

18 Q How many police officers were there when you took over as 19 police chief?

20 A Roughly 2,400.

21 Q In order for the city, in your mind, to be safe, how many 22 police officers do you need?

23 A In my estimation, if we had 3,000 police officers today,
24 that would help tremendously, but before I could put a hard
25 number to it, I need to make an evaluation on how we are

1 deploying current officers, and so when you talk about moving
2 staff from the mayor's executive protection detail, there's 3 also a move to civilianize some of the positions now held by 4 police officers, and one key example is our dispatch.
5 Dispatchers in the Detroit Police Department are sworn police
6 officers, and so I wanted to make sure that we were 7 effectively deploying sworn officers the best that we could
8 so I would have an idea of how many officers we actually
9 need.

10 Q Okay. Let's turn to the equipment. Do the officers get 11 as part of their -- or as police officers, are they given
12 bullet-proof vests?

13 A They are.

14 Q And what's the state of the bullet-proof vests when you
15 took over as police chief?

16 A Deplorable. There were roughly 350-plus vests, and I
17 think it's up now to roughly 400 -- it might even be higher;
18 I think it's 500 when we include our narcotics unit -- that 19 are expired. Even the police chief does not have a vest
20 except the one I brought with me from Cincinnati.

21 Q When you say "expired," bullet-proof vests have 22 expiration dates on them?

23 A Yes. Five years.

24 Q And after that they're not safe to wear?

25 A That's correct.

1 Q Let's talk about the vehicle, police vehicles. What
2 condition were the police vehicles in when you took over?

3 A I saw vehicles with obvious damage. I saw vehicles that
4 appeared to be unsafe. In fact, when I stopped one officer,
5 there was one vehicle that had -- the right front brake
6 wasn't working properly, so I directed him to turn the 7 vehicle in. Paint peeling off the vehicle. In fact, in the 8 field on one call where it was an officer needs help, a back-
9 up car that I responded to in the eastern district where they 10 were looking for a wanted suspect, which we ultimately 11 identified and arrested, as the officers were preparing to 12 leave, one of the police vehicles would not start up. The 13 officer proceeded to climb underneath the vehicle and jump-
14 started the vehicle to get it running. When I asked the 15 question, "Is this the norm?" several of the officers said
16 for the most case it is the norm, and either they jump it
17 that way or they push the car to get it started, not all 18 vehicles but some.

19 Q And what was the mileage on the vehicles? Was it normal
20 mileage for the year of the vehicle?

21 A I'm not certain on the mileage, but I am told that 66-
22 percent of our fleet has excessive wear, is well beyond the 23 normal -- I guess it's three years that police cars are 24 deployed.

25 Q The condition of the police cars, does this put citizens

1 at risk?

2 A It does.

3 Q Does it put visitors to the city at risk?

4 A It does.

5 Q And does it put the safety of people who work in the city
6 at risk?

7 A It does, including the police officers.

8 Q You received some new police cruisers once you took over
9 as police chief; is that correct?

10 A That's correct.

11 Q And where did you receive those from?

12 A Penske Corporation and a group of other local businesses
13 that were part of this effort to bring a hundred new police
14 cruisers.

15 Q So you received -- have you taken possession of the 16 hundred new police cruisers?

17 A We have.

18 Q Are all of them operating on the street right now?

19 A No, they're not.

20 Q How many are actually operating on the street?

21 A Roughly 20 or so. I'm not actually certain. I check
22 weekly. Some of them are still being outfitted by the 23 outfitter, and they're being pushed out, but we do have 24 possession of the 100 police vehicles.

25 Q Let's spend a minute and talk about the fire department

1 and EMS. You don't oversee those departments, do you?

2 A I do not.

3 Q Have you had an opportunity to observe as police chief
4 those departments and how they're operating?

5 A I have.

6 Q And what have you seen?

7 A The thing I've seen -- two things that would have been
8 most notable is the fact that Detroit police officers on a
9 routine basis I'm told transport injured victims to the 10 hospital and in all cases children.

11 Q Is this a normal function for the police department?

12 A Not anyplace I've worked.

13 Q And why is the police department in Detroit doing that?

14 A I'm told because EMS did not have vehicles or staff that 15 could respond in a timely manner, and so the decision was to 16 transport. And when I asked how long this has been going on,
17 it's certainly been more acute in the last five years, but 18 one of my staff as recent as this morning said that they've 19 been doing it since the '80s. Now, to what degree I am not
20 certain, but it is routine that Detroit police officers
21 transport injured youth victims of crimes or that have been 22 injured.

23 Q And do you work closely with the fire department?

24 A Work in the same building. We have communication. We 25 talk about a variety of issues.

1 Q Have you seen any issues that have caught your attention
2 with the fire department?

3 A Yes, one notable issue.

4 Q And what's that?

5 A The fact that there have been since I've been here two
6 occasions but this year four occasions where fire fighters
7 have responded to a fire and put out the fire, left the 8 location, and a deceased person was found in the location
9 later.

10 Q By the police department?

11 A By the police -- well, someone would call us and say
12 there was a dead body in the location. Police department
13 would respond out and start its investigation only to find
14 out that the fire department had been at the location and put 15 out the fire.

16 Q One more area I want to cover with you, blight. What is 17 blight in the city?

18 A Abandoned homes, streetlights out, traffic signals not
19 working, overgrown shrubbery.

20 Q Is that a safety issue?

21 A It is.

22 Q In which way?

23 A It affords someone who wants to engage in criminal
24 behavior to do it under the cloak of darkness. Certainly 25 abandoned homes are a key location where violent crimes take

1 place. And using the broken windows concept, certainly when
2 an area is deplorable or broken, it tends to attract criminal
3 behavior. So if an area is clean, it's well-lit, people take 4 pride in the neighborhood, crime seems to be lower.

5 Q Did you -- when you took over as police chief, did you
6 notice blight in the City of Detroit?

7 A I have.

8 Q And how bad was it, in your mind?

9 A Significant.

10 Q When you say "significant," could you describe it?

11 A Well, just blocks where it may be only one home, home
12 could be partially burned, certainly streetlights that were 13 not working, which certainly contribute to a safety issue
14 both for pedestrians and certainly a place where crime takes 15 place, traffic signals not working, which certainly puts 16 motorists at harm as they travel through the City of Detroit.

17 Q When you arrived as police chief and took over, do you
18 think that the residents, visitors, people who worked in the 19 city were at risk of violent crime?

20 A I did and do.

21 MR. HERTZBERG: I have no further questions, your
22 Honor.

23 THE COURT: Any questions for the witness?

24 CROSS-EXAMINATION

25 BY MS. PATEK:

1 Q Good afternoon, Chief Craig. Welcome back to Detroit --

2 A Thank you so much.

3 Q -- right in the eye of the storm. In spite of all the 4 challenges you've described, we can agree for those of us who 5 grew up here and have families here that this is a place with 6 some rich history and some wonderful things to offer; isn't
7 that right?

8 A Absolutely. I agree with that.

9 Q I want to start with your comments about the DFFA. I
10 take it you have no firsthand knowledge as to whether or not
11 the DFFA faces some of the same undermanning or morale
12 problems that are present in the Detroit Police Department?

13 A Only what I've heard from police officers and -- but I
14 have not firsthand, not like I have in the police department.

15 Q Is it your understanding that they're in a similar
16 situation as the Detroit Police --

17 A Yes.

18 Q -- Department? And in that respect, I heard you say, I
19 think, that the Detroit Police Department is currently 20 undermanned; correct?

21 A I would say so, yes.

22 Q And the individual officers are in many cases underpaid?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And the working conditions, as you described them,
25 were -- are deplorable?

1 A Yes.

2 Q And they -- as a consequence, when you came here in July,
3 you found a department in very low morale?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And I don't know how much research or how much you were 6 paying attention, but is it your understanding that there was 7 a series of chiefs before you that stepped down in a variety
8 of less than -- let's say less than auspicious circumstances?

9 A Yes. I'm aware.

10 Q And is it your understanding that that was, in large
11 part, what left the department leaderless?

12 A Yes. That certainly was a significant contributing 13 factor.

14 Q And as I understand it, since you've been here, you've 15 brought on new deputy and assistant chiefs?

16 A A new executive and management team with maybe one or two 17 exceptions.

18 Q Okay. And some of that executive management team has 19 been pulled directly from the command staff; that is, people
20 who are members of the Detroit Police Command Officers
21 Association?

22 A That's correct.

23 Q Because when you came here, in spite of the difficulty of 24 the situation, you found that there were dedicated 25 professional men and women there who you wanted to elevate to

1 be part of your new leadership team?

2 A Yes.

3 Q And with respect to the lieutenants and sergeants, some
4 of those who had actually been acting as inspectors have now
5 been formally appointed as inspectors?

6 A Yes, now called captains, yes.

7 Q And you also mentioned meeting with on a number of 8 occasions the president of the Detroit Police Officers
9 Association, Mark Diaz?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And in your meetings -- and I don't know if he's still 12 here. He was here earlier in the courtroom today. In your 13 meetings with Mr. Diaz, have you found him to be interested
14 in the restructuring and revitalization of the Detroit Police
15 Department?

16 A I have, yes.

17 Q And willing to be flexible with you in terms of trying to 18 try new things to better deployment, better strategy in terms
19 of getting more officers out on the street?

20 A Yes, in every instance.

21 Q And obviously I think it goes without saying from what 22 you described the work these officers do every day out on the 23 street is very dangerous work?

24 A Yes, it is.

25 Q And they're literally putting their lives at risk?

1 A Yes, they are.

2 Q And would it be fair to say that that would go for
3 probably the police and the fire fighters as well?

4 A Yes, it would.

5 Q And do you -- and if you don't know, it's a fair answer.
6 Do you know anything about the restructuring proposal that 7 has been made by the City of Detroit with respect to what is 8 to occur with the accrued vested pension benefits of the 9 active and retired Detroit police and fire fighters?

10 A I've heard. I don't have intimate understanding of it.

11 Q And would it be -- do you believe sitting there and even 12 understanding the financial challenges that it would be fair,
13 given what these officers face every day, to impair those 14 accrued vested and previously earned pension benefits?

15 A I do support the public service workers having their 16 pension, but I also understand the necessity to take some 17 very bold action as it relates to addressing this fiscal 18 crisis in the City of Detroit. I'm certainly not the expert
19 on what should happen or what the balancing would be to that,
20 but I am certainly concerned about pensions. I have the good
21 fortune of having served 28 years with the Los Angeles Police
22 Department, and I have my pension, so that certainly does
23 concern me.

24 Q And when you went to work for the Los Angeles Police
25 Department and you did the very hard work that you did for 28

1 years, you understood that you were earning that pension?

2 A That's correct.

3 Q And you had an expectation that at the end of the day it
4 would be paid to you?

5 A That's correct.

6 MR. HERTZBERG: Objection, your Honor. This is --

7 MS. PATEK: I have nothing further.

8 MR. HERTZBERG: Okay. I'll withdraw the objection
9 then. Let her testify.

10 CROSS-EXAMINATION

11 BY MS. LEVINE:

12 Q Good afternoon.

13 A Good afternoon.

14 Q Sharon Levine, Lowenstein Sandler, for AFSCME.

15 A Yes.

16 Q You mentioned there was a morale issue with regard to 17 lost pay, increased schedule, and a lack of leadership, I
18 believe; correct?

19 A All kind of combined in one.

20 Q Combined?

21 A All played varying roles in morale.

22 Q Isn't it true that reducing pensions and reducing health
23 benefits would also contribute to further morale loss?

24 A I am certain.

25 Q The city actually produced a lot of documents for us in

1 discovery in connection with this case. I don't recall --
2 and I may have just missed it -- a proposed budget with
3 regard to fixing the Detroit Police Department. Have you
4 provided that kind of a budget to the city?

5 A I have not.

6 Q Would you be -- would you be supportive of using existing
7 vested pension benefits to fund that kind of a budget?

8 MR. HERTZBERG: Objection, your Honor. Way beyond
9 the scope of direct examination.

10 THE COURT: Overruled. Please answer the question,
11 sir.

12 THE WITNESS: I would have to take a look at the 13 full picture. I mean there have been some steps I've taken
14 to reduce the fiscal liability. One such action I took was 15 dramatically reducing the command and executive team, thereby
16 resulting in a $1 million annual savings in salaries, so we 17 are in budget discussions talk right now, so I'm not prepared
18 to answer the question to the level of detail you're asking.

19 BY MS. LEVINE:

20 Q You mentioned using civilians for certain job functions,
21 including, for example, dispatchers. Just so I understand,
22 is that outsourcing those jobs? Is that what you're talking
23 about?

24 A Not outsource -- not outsourcing but redeploying sworn
25 officers that hold those jobs back into traditional policing

1 functions. Most police agencies across America use civilians
2 as dispatchers, and Detroit has used sworn dispatchers from 3 the time I was here now over 36 years ago, and so this was an 4 effort to more equitably deploy police officers back into the 5 field.

6 Q So it would either be hiring the citizens of Detroit at 7 probably a lower pay scale and/or outsourcing those jobs? Is 8 that -- do I --

9 A That's probably a strategy that could be used, but it
10 would definitely be hiring people from the city.

11 Q And from your time with the Los Angeles Police
12 Department, in addition to a pension, do you enjoy health
13 benefits?

14 MR. HERTZBERG: Objection, your Honor. It's 15 irrelevant.

16 THE COURT: No. I'll permit it. Go ahead, sir.

17 THE WITNESS: I do.

18 MS. LEVINE: Thank you.

19 THE COURT: Other questions for the witness?

20 MR. KING: Please, your Honor. Ron King on behalf
21 of the Pension Systems. I just didn't want to displace Ms.
22 Green. Sorry.

23 CROSS-EXAMINATION

24 BY MR. KING:

25 Q Thank you for your service.

1 A Thank you.

2 Q Chief Craig, are you aware that there are approximately 3 400 active duty officers that have less than ten years of 4 service in the department?

5 A I didn't know it was that few.

6 Q Are you concerned at all that if their pension benefits
7 are not vested, that you will have a difficult time retaining 8 those people?

9 A I am concerned about retention and hiring.

10 Q Do you think that impairing or diminishing pension
11 benefits will have an impact on your ability to recruit and 12 retain police officers?

13 A It could.

14 MR. KING: I don't have anything further.

15 THE COURT: Thank you.

16 CROSS-EXAMINATION

17 BY MS. BRIMER:

18 Q Good afternoon. My name is Lynn Brimer. I represent the 19 Retired Detroit Police Members Association. It's an 20 association of approximately 350 retired Detroit police
21 personnel, officers through chiefs. Now, I'm going to try
22 not to repeat anything that's already been put in the record,
23 but you did indicate you do receive a pension, and you do
24 receive healthcare benefits; is that correct?

25 A I do.

1 Q And when you accepted your position as a police officer
2 in Los Angeles, you considered those benefits, both the 3 pension and your healthcare benefits, to be part of your
4 compensation package; is that correct?

5 A That's correct.

6 Q Now, you indicated that there were a number of what
7 appear to be management problems with the police department
8 when you took over. For example, you indicated that the 9 mayor's personal protection at the time you took over
10 consisted of 23 officers; is that correct?

11 A That's correct.

12 Q And you've reduced that to six?

13 A Yes.

14 THE COURT: All right. Ms. Brimer, I am going to 15 ask you not --

16 MS. BRIMER: Okay.

17 THE COURT: -- to ask any more duplicative
18 questions.

19 MS. BRIMER: Okay.

20 BY MS. BRIMER:

21 Q Do you know --

22 THE COURT: Any question that begins with "you 23 testified that" --

24 MS. BRIMER: Okay.

25 THE COURT: -- is going to be a duplicative

1 question.

2 BY MS. BRIMER:

3 Q Do you know whether or not the decision to put -- well,
4 let me think of how I want to ask this. So the decision to 5 put 23 officers on the mayor's protection order was a
6 management decision, not a financial decision. Would you
7 agree with that? It was driven by management rather than the 8 amount of resources available to the department?

9 A It's both.

10 Q Okay. Why is it a financial decision?

11 A Police officers cost money. It's a financial resource.
12 So if you decide to put 23 officers on an executive
13 protection detail, that's the equivalent to a shift in a
14 Detroit police station, the precinct. So it's like me saying
15 I'm going to close the Tenth Precinct on the midnights.
16 That's why it's important.

17 Q So now you've freed up 18 to go back to shifts at a
18 precinct; correct?

19 A Not all went back to a precinct. Some did.

20 Q Okay.

21 MS. BRIMER: And I think, your Honor, I -- I will 22 say that everything else I was going to ask has been asked.
23 Thank you.

24 CROSS-EXAMINATION

25 BY MR. MONTGOMERY:

1 Q I'm Claude Montgomery from the law firm of Dentons. We
2 are representing the Official Committee of Retirees in this
3 case, so I have just a couple of quick questions. I think I
4 heard you say that you believe that bold action is required
5 on many levels?

6 A I may have said that, and I do agree that bold action has 7 to happen.

8 Q And you have a huge job in front of you to try to protect 9 700,000 people from what you found to be an incredibly 10 violent situation; is that correct?

11 A Absolutely.

12 Q All right. Do you think the governor should be playing a
13 role in that, in helping you tackle that job?

14 A I think that I don't see a problem or an issue with that.

15 Q Okay. Do you think that there should be any assets that 16 the City of Detroit has that should be blocked off from your 17 access to help the citizens of the City of Detroit?

18 A I'm not understanding your question.

19 Q Do you think there are any -- if the City of Detroit has 20 an asset that can be sold to help you, do you think it should 21 be sold to help you?

22 A It depends on the asset.

23 Q So there are some assets you think are less available to 24 you than others?

25 MR. HERTZBERG: Your Honor, I'm going to object.

1 This is beyond the scope of direct examination and far
2 afield. Asking the chief of --

3 THE COURT: It is that, but in the Court's
4 discretion, the Court will permit it, nonetheless. Go ahead,
5 sir.

6 THE WITNESS: Again, as I indicated, possibly some 7 assets could be sold to support, say, public safety.

8 BY MR. MONTGOMERY:

9 Q Thank you. And anything in that regard from your vantage
10 point has to be directed towards helping you keep people
11 alive inside the City of Detroit?

12 A Public safety is critical.

13 Q Okay. And, again, I think you said earlier that having a 14 police force of men and women that are dedicated and have 15 high morale is part of that?

16 A Absolutely.

17 Q Okay. And part of that is how their promise -- the 18 promises made to them are kept; is that correct?

19 A Promises are important, but also how they're treated is 20 important.

21 Q It's got to be fair?

22 A Fairness is important. Transparency is important.

23 MR. MONTGOMERY: No further questions.

24 THE COURT: Any others?

25 CROSS-EXAMINATION

1 BY MR. PLECHA:

2 Q Good afternoon, Chief Craig. I represent the Retiree
3 Association parties, which includes the Retired Detroit
4 Police and Fire Fighters Association.

5 THE COURT: Could you back off of the mike a bit,
6 please?

7 MR. PLECHA: Oh, I'm sorry.

8 BY MR. PLECHA:

9 Q I will be very brief. Would you support any plan or 10 initiative that could potentially increase blight?

11 A An initiative to increase blight? I wouldn't support an 12 initiative to increase blight. Did you say decrease blight?

13 Q No. I said increase blight.

14 A No. I wouldn't be supportive of it. I can't -- I don't 15 understand an initiative that would do that.

16 Q So if retirees were financially forced to leave their 17 home, vacating those homes, increasing blight, you would not 18 be in favor of that?

19 A I would not like to see retirees leave their homes. I
20 don't -- it's not my call, but I don't like the question.

21 Q Well, I appreciate that, but thank you. Would you agree
22 that the retiree community is a stable part of the Detroit
23 community?

24 A I would say that there are many retirees that offer
25 stability to the Detroit community. My dad is one.

1 MR. PLECHA: Thank you very much. No further
2 questions.

3 THE COURT: All right. Anything further for the 4 chief? Redirect?

5 MR. HERTZBERG: None, your Honor.

6 THE COURT: All right. Thank you very much for 7 coming today, sir, and also thank you for your service.

8 THE WITNESS: Thank you very much.

9 (Witness excused at 4:18 p.m.)

10 MR. IRWIN: Move this, your Honor?

11 THE COURT: Yes, sir.

12 MR. IRWIN: Your Honor, our next witness is Mr. Orr.
13 He is in the building. We would need to locate him, but 14 given the hour, we just didn't know how the Court wished to 15 proceed. We can --

16 THE COURT: I wish to proceed.

17 MR. IRWIN: That's fine. We will get him.

18 THE COURT: We'll wait here for him.

19 MR. IRWIN: He'll be here as soon as we can get him.

20 THE COURT: All right. Would everyone take their 21 seats as promptly as possible, please? One second, please.
22 Everyone sit down, please. Mr. Orr, would you raise your 23 right hand?

24 KEVYN ORR, DEBTOR'S WITNESS, SWORN

25 THE COURT: Please sit down.

1 THE WITNESS: Thank you.

2 MR. SHUMAKER: Good afternoon, your Honor. Greg
3 Shumaker of Jones Day for the City of Detroit.

4 DIRECT EXAMINATION

5 BY MR. SHUMAKER:

6 Q Good afternoon.

7 A Good afternoon, Mr. Shumaker.

8 Q Would you state your full name for the record?

9 A Kevyn Duane Orr.

10 Q Mr. Orr, what is your current occupation?

11 A My current occupation is the emergency manager for the 12 City of Detroit.

13 Q Where did you go to college, sir?

14 A The University of Michigan, Ann Arbor.

15 Q When did you graduate from there?

16 A December 1979.

17 Q And after college, did you proceed to employment or to 18 another post-graduate school?

19 A I took a little time off and went out west to do some 20 skiing but eventually went to graduate school.

21 Q And where did you go to graduate school?

22 A The University of Michigan Law School, Ann Arbor.

23 Q And when did you graduate from there?

24 A I graduated from law school in May 1983.

25 Q And for the Court, where did you grow up?

1 A I was born and grew upon Fort Lauderdale, Florida,
2 Broward County.

3 Q Your parents are from Florida?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Have any -- do they have any involvement with the State
6 of Michigan?

7 A My mother went to the University of Michigan graduate
8 school in education.

9 Q Could you give us a brief summary of your professional
10 background?

11 A Sure. After graduation from law school, I went back to 12 Florida in private practice with the law firm of Arky Fried,
13 which eventually became Stearns, Weaver, Miller, Weissler,
14 Alhadeff & Sitterson, where I specialized in litigation,
15 eventually became a bankruptcy trial practitioner with who is 16 now Chief Judge Robert Mark at that law firm. After five 17 years, I was voted into the partnership of that law firm in 18 1988.

19 I eventually took what I thought was going to be a
20 two-year leave of absence from that law firm in 1991 to go
21 into federal government first in the FDIC, Federal Deposit
22 Insurance Corporation, then into the Resolution Trust
23 Corporation in 1992. While at the RTC, I had a specialty
24 first as a line attorney, as a counsel, then a senior 25 counsel, in litigation and bankruptcy-related matters. I was

1 eventually promoted to assistant general counsel of complex
2 litigation and bankruptcy under then Deputy General Counsel
3 Jerry Patchan. I stayed there from '92 to '95.

4 Q Can I just stop you one second? You said you started at 5 the FDIC; is that correct?

6 A Yes.

7 Q What was your position there at the FDIC?

8 A At the FDIC I was counsel in the legal division.

9 Q Okay. And then you went to the Resolution Trust
10 Corporation?

11 A Yes. The Resolution Trust Corporation was originally 12 staffed by attorneys at FDIC, and then it got its own
13 independent hiring authority, and we were assigned there
14 permanently.

15 Q Did you have any particular responsibilities at the RTC?

16 A Yes.

17 Q What were they?

18 A While at the RTC, I not only had line responsibilities
19 for litigation and litigation-related matters, I also had 20 responsibilities as a liaison from the legal division with 21 the agencies, Office of Minority and Women Owned Business and 22 Women Owned Law Firms called MWOLF's and MWOB's. I was also,
23 during the course of that, assigned as the chief
24 restructuring officer of a bank holding company in New 25 Orleans for a period of time and eventually became

1 responsible for the agency's supervision and management of
2 all cases implicating federal preemption and the primacy of
3 the Financial Institutions Reform, Recovery and Enforcement
4 Act of 1989 over various state laws.

5 Q I'm sorry. You went on from the RTC to where?

6 A After the RTC, I was going to return to private practice
7 to my old firm in Miami. The supervisor that I had at the 8 RTC had moved on to become director of the Executive Office
9 for United States Trustees at the Department of Justice, a
10 retired bankruptcy judge by the name of Jerry Patchan. He 11 asked me to come over for what was then going to be a year or 12 two as his deputy, and I ended up staying there for 13 approximately six years.

14 Q And what did you do, if you could tell us, at the United 15 States Trustee program?

16 A I was initially the deputy director of the U.S. Trustee's
17 program where I was responsible as the -- more or less the 18 chief operating officer for the agency at the direction of 19 the -- at the direction of the director. The EOUST and the 20 U.S. Trustee's program is one of 36 ranking components within 21 the United States Department of Justice. It is responsible
22 for the administration and oversight regarding the integrity
23 of the bankruptcy practice in all 50 states with the 24 exception of North Carolina and Alabama.

25 Q Were there any specific duties that you had in that

1 position that you think translates into your role as the
2 emergency manager of the City of Detroit?

3 A Yes. I mean we had over 1,100 employees throughout the
4 United States, 93 offices throughout the United States. I
5 think our budget at that time was somewhere in the 6 neighborhood of over a hundred million dollars, which we
7 administered. In that capacity, we also had reporting
8 requirements for the -- to the Department of Justice through
9 the associate attorney general to the then Attorney General
10 Reno for most of the time that we were there. We also had 11 supervisory, administrative, and operational responsibility
12 for the 21 United States Trustees Offices. I was also 13 responsible for both preparing and giving oversight testimony
14 to the various oversight committees in Congress both on the 15 House side and the Senate side and coordinating budget
16 reviews on a regular basis during the regular budget season
17 but oftentimes one-offs as well with House Majority, House
18 Minority, and the U.S. House, Senate Majority, Senate
19 Minority, budgeting with the White House as well as budgeting
20 issues with respect to the Department of Justice's overall
21 annual budget.

22 Q During your time in the federal government from your
23 position at the FDIC, the RTC, and the United States Trustee
24 program, did you have any restructuring experiences?

25 A Yes.

1 Q And what were those?

2 A Well, because I'd had some experience as a bankruptcy
3 practitioner in South Florida, then in the Southern District
4 of Florida, principally in front of Judge Cristol but others,
5 I was initially selected to participate as the chief legal 6 officer with the Savings & Loan because a subsidiary down in 7 Atlanta was -- down in New Orleans was a -- had a large
8 holding company called the Landmark Land Company. At that 9 time, the Landmark Land Company held a series of golf courses
10 and country clubs, five of which were some of the most well-
11 regarded country clubs, highly rated ones in the nation at 12 the time, such as Kiowa, Mission Hills, PGA West, Oak Tree --
13 trying to think of the other ones -- Palm Beach Polo and 14 Country Club, places I typically couldn't have gone to, but 15 very significant clubs at that time, high-end properties, and 16 I initially became responsible for supervision of the 17 restructuring of the holding company, but I also ended up
18 becoming responsible for asset disposition during that
19 process.

20 Q After you left the federal government, where did you go?

21 A In 2000 I was selected by the Attorney General to 22 become -- go from being the deputy director to becoming the 23 director, and that went from being a career position to a
24 political appointee after White House vetting and approval
25 during President Clinton's administration. As a political

1 appointee -- most of the agency heads are -- it is typical
2 for the President of the United States, upon a new
3 election -- that was Bush v. Gore first election -- to put in 4 his own people, and I think the President gets, on average,
5 somewhere in the neighborhood of 60,000 appointments, U.S.
6 Attorneys, others, ambassadors, so on and so forth. So it
7 became clear that I was at the end of my tenure as a
8 political appointment in an agency, and I was going back to 9 my old law firm in Miami. I was approached by Jones, Day,
10 Reavis & Pogue to consider an overture to join them, and I
11 pursued that overture, and, much to my surprise, I ended up
12 staying with Jones Day in Washington, D.C., office.

13 Q Why did you select Jones Day?

14 A Jones Day had been an opponent when I was at the 15 Trustee's Office on the other side. We had met with a number 16 of different law firms in that capacity, as you might 17 imagine. In federal government you handle a number of 18 different matters, a number of law firms. We had always been 19 pretty strong adversaries but never enemies. They conducted
20 themselves in a very professional and honorable manner. I
21 could not have said the same for some of the firms that we 22 interfaced with. I felt that even though we had been
23 adversaries, we had a very professional relationship, and I
24 admired the way they conducted business. I felt that I could 25 do business with them on a handshake in any particular

1 litigation. They would keep their word. And, frankly, I was
2 somewhat surprised by the approach because I'd already hired
3 movers to go back to Miami, but after spending some time with 4 them, my initial impressions of the firm were borne out after 5 meeting with some of their leadership.

6 Q And you joined Jones Day in what year?

7 A I joined Jones Day May 2001.

8 Q And you said you had your bags packed for Miami, but you
9 didn't get to Miami?

10 A No, no. I had already gone back to my old firm and had 11 hired movers, and I was ready to go, but I changed my plans
12 and joined the firm, joined Jones Day.

13 Q Okay. And which office were you in?

14 A I was in the Washington, D.C., office.

15 Q And what practice area?

16 A I initially joined in the litigation practice of the firm
17 and within a year or two was assigned to the restructuring
18 practice.

19 Q And what kind of restructuring practice does Jones Day
20 have or did it have when you joined?

21 A Jones Day had and still has principally a fairly well-
22 regarded restructuring practice. The firm has usually been 23 rated in the top tier, if not the top, one, two, three, or 24 four of restructuring practices as well as the firm overall
25 consistently. Its practice focused largely on large

1 corporate matters, oftentimes precedent-setting, and
2 typically debtor side representations as opposed to creditor
3 representations.

4 Q Could you share with the Court some of the more
5 significant representations that you worked on?

6 A Sure. At the firm, the Laidlaw bankruptcy at that time
7 concerned one of the largest transportation companies, both
8 ambulances, busses. I think they owned both Trailways and 9 Greyhound. The Dana case. Renaissance Cruise Lines
10 concerned a series of seven cruise ships in Tahiti concerning
11 a cash security agreement which was negotiated in Paris, 12 France, as an economic development process with the EU, and 13 we had to negotiate the almost $7 billion in debt for that 14 one. I've handled very obviously the Chrysler case, which I
15 think everybody is fairly familiar with. I was the team
16 leader on the dealer team having to reject dealer franchise
17 state agreements as well as dealing with throughput and 18 rationalizing the dealer network and a number of other fairly
19 large cases.

20 Q You talked a little bit about the dealer network. What 21 did you do with regard to the dealer network in Chrysler?

22 A The company had been considering rationalizing -- that
23 is, downsizing its dealer network -- for the better part of a
24 decade. And with the advent of the financial crisis come to 25 bear full-borne in 2008, the company had to begin -- had

1 begun considering how it was going to rationalize the dealer
2 network so it could increase what was then called throughput;
3 that is, the ability to sell more vehicles through its dealer
4 network and increase profitability while at the same time
5 downsizing its dealer network so that it did not create
6 inefficiencies because of a very wide footprint, which is 7 very hard to maintain. The company took that project, and we
8 originally were in the company September 2008 discussing
9 alternative solutions, both out-of-court and in-court
10 solutions, with the company, including how we would 11 rationalize the dealer network in a very analytical and 12 scientific process. As you might recall, two of the auto
13 companies, GM and Chrysler, were both considering this 14 process. GM had a little bit more of a blanket process. I
15 think they established a certain line of profitability, and 16 all dealers below that line were cut. Chrysler examined a 17 fairly complex formula, almost a logarithm, to make that 18 determination as to which dealers would be candidates for 19 rejection.

20 Q Did you have to review financial records, statements, in 21 connection with that role on the Chrysler team?

22 A Yes. The Chrysler analysis was quite complex. They had 23 a spreadsheet, dealer spreadsheet, which was over three dozen
24 factors, a dealer location footprint; whether the dealer was 25 dueling, which is with other dealers; multi-dealer with other

1 brands and makes; the dealers' seasonal, annual, daily sales;
2 the dealers' longevity; notes a number of a different
3 factors. They knew their network quite well. And also for 4 each of those dealers, they had the financial information
5 both in regard to retail financing, wholesale financing,
6 operational costs, parts and servicing requirements, warranty
7 service under the dealer, everything you would think that
8 would go into a dealer, fleet sales, the percentage of sales
9 compared to their other dealers within their region,
10 everything that you would think would go into a fairly
11 complex and sophisticated analysis of a business vis-a-vis
12 its ability to put more vehicles out into the public and 13 increase profitability both for the dealer but as well as for 14 the manufacturer, which was the company.

15 Q At Jones Day, did you have any nonlegal, say,
16 administrative roles?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And what were they?

19 A I initially came into the firm not knowing anyone from 20 Adam's off ox but was eventually admitted to the partnership,
21 I believe, within two and a half, three years later. I was 22 asked to become initially the administrative partner for the 23 Washington, D.C., office, which is sort of chief operational
24 function for the entire office, which at that time had 200 --
25 approximately 220, 230 attorneys and 500 or so support

1 personnel. I then went on and was asked to become the
2 firmwide diversity partner for all of the firms. I think
3 there are 2,500 attorneys in 37 offices, and I performed that
4 firm -- that function for a number of years, and eventually I
5 was elected to be the firmwide hiring and diversity partner
6 responsible for all recruiting, hiring for the firm
7 throughout the firm's system both here and internationally.

8 Q And I'd like to ask you a few questions about how you
9 became the emergency manager of Detroit.

10 A Yes.

11 Q What indication did you have that you were being 12 considered as the emergency manager?

13 A We originally came out to pitch the restructuring --
14 legal restructuring work for the city in late January. I
15 believe it was January the 29th. And I think either later
16 that day or the next day I was informed by the firm's
17 managing partner, Steve Brogan, that he had received a call
18 from one of the review team members at the pitch who wanted
19 to talk to me about potentially pursuing the position of 20 emergency manager.

21 Q And what was your reaction to Mr. Brogan's call?

22 A I was surprised, flattered, but was very firmly resistant
23 and against taking the position.

24 Q Why was that?

25 A I was involved in several significant matters with the

1 firm, in the midst, as a matter of fact, of a very large case
2 that we were mediating with one of the largest private
3 investment banks in the world at the time. It appeared that 4 we were going to resolve that case quite successfully for the 5 firm. I was also very concerned about walking away from 6 other clients. I had been selected earlier that year to be 7 the new partner in charge -- to be the partner in charge of 8 the firm's new Miami, Florida, office, which was an
9 opportunity to go home, and we were in the midst of lease
10 negotiations and operation negotiations with several 11 landlords in Miami. There were also some fairly significant 12 personal hardships. My wife is a professional. She's a
13 surgeon, perinatology, high-risk obstetrics, at Johns
14 Hopkins. She has a very active practice and takes call at 15 night. We have two young children, seven and six, who are 16 the apples of my eye. I very much enjoy spending time with 17 my family, and the thought of being away from them for 18 extended periods of time was not attractive to me. And,
19 frankly, I was at a very good place both personally and with 20 my career, and I'd done secondments, if you will, or long-
21 term assignments away. They're quite trying, and they would 22 take me away from both family and my existing position for a
23 long period of time, which wasn't something I was either
24 asking for or expecting.

25 Q What made you change your mind?

1 A There was an initial overture that I -- when Steve
2 brought me into his office, said Mr. Baird has called, Rich
3 Baird, who had been one of the team members. There were six
4 of us during the pitch. There was me, Steve Brogan -- we
5 were the only firm to bring our managing partner -- Corrine
6 Ball, who is a fairly well-known bankruptcy practitioner.
7 Heather Lennox was in that group; Aaron Agenbroad, partner in 8 charge of the San Francisco office; and Bruce Bennett. And 9 we had given a fairly robust presentation of what we thought
10 were our credentials for the firm, and Steve called me in the 11 office and said, "We think we did a nice presentation, but 12 they want to talk to you about being the EM -- EFM" at that 13 time, emergency financial manager. And I said, "Steve, as 14 you know, I'm very excited about what we're doing in Miami,"
15 and, you know, I was also -- had just come back from Sao
16 Paulo. We were opening the Sao Paulo office, and we'd gone
17 to Rio. We had also -- I was also a member of the Jones Day
18 Foundation. It's a charitable foundation that does good
19 works throughout the world, and we had come back from Haiti,
20 both Cite du Soleil and Port-au-Prince. In Cite du Soleil, 21 which is one of the most poverty ridden areas certainly on 22 the face of the world if not the western hemisphere, the firm
23 was sponsoring two schools and a hospital, health facility
24 there, and I wanted to see that through. And so I told Steve 25 I'm not interested in becoming -- leaving the firm, becoming

1 emergency financial manager. I will talk to Rich and try to
2 explain to him that I'm very flattered, but I'm very dug in 3 here, would certainly be more than willing to work side by 4 side with anyone they wanted selected as the firm's -- as the 5 city's attorneys, but that I would respectfully decline.

6 Q So is Rich -- you may have identified him, but --

7 A Yes.

8 Q -- who is Rich?

9 A Rich Baird was the governor's -- I think his title was 10 transformation manager, and he was one of the members on the 11 review team on the 29th at the Detroit Westin Hotel at the 12 airport that was reviewing -- I think there were 12 to almost 13 20 law firms presenting their credentials that day.

14 Q And so you said that you would help Detroit find a
15 emergency financial manager?

16 A No, not so much help them find it, but that I would work
17 with whoever they -- I assumed they had a number of different
18 candidates they were looking at, and I would work with 19 whoever that person would -- in a legal capacity, but because 20 I had these other issues, family, professionally,
21 administratively, and commitments I had made, I was quite 22 happy in my position and had expected a different course for 23 this year.

24 Q So it sounds like you still haven't changed your mind.
25 What made you change your mind?

1 A After the initial entry, Mr. Baird said he understood.
2 Rich said, "Look, you know, we looked at your credentials,
3 your background and what you've done. Would you at least
4 talk to us? We have other candidates that we're looking at,
5 but we'd like to have the ability to speak with you." And I
6 said, "Well, let me give it some thought. I have to go talk
7 to my boss lady, my wife, and sort of get some feedback
8 there, and let me talk with my partners, and maybe we'll talk
9 again." I think I said in a day or two.

10 Q And I take it you did --

11 A Yes.

12 Q -- talk to Detroit?

13 A Yes. As part of this process, we've been through some e-
14 mails that show me having conversations I think on the 30th
15 and in early February about that process and that I was going
16 to take it under consideration.

17 Q And so you took it under consideration. What time frame
18 is that?

19 A That's January 30th into early February.

20 Q Okay. So what did you do next in the progression to 21 becoming the emergency financial manager?

22 A I went on and talked to my wife and said, "Hey, honey,
23 I've been approached about this crazy idea about me working 24 full-time, leaving the firm and working full-time in 25 Detroit," and I thought she would shut it down fairly

1 quickly.

2 Q She did not?

3 A She did not.

4 Q What did she say to you?

5 A Well, somewhat to my surprise, she said, "Honey, we 6 were" -- our first year of marriage she was doing a
7 fellowship in New Haven, and I was in D.C., so we spent our 8 first year of marriage actually apart. And she said, "Look,
9 this is a career opportunity for you. If you want to do
10 it -- you've done public service before." I left my law firm
11 in Miami for what I thought was going to be two years, and 12 that turned into ten years. And she said, "You know, you sit
13 around here Sunday morning like I suspect a lot of husbands
14 browsing about the Sunday morning talk shows and why doesn't 15 somebody do something about things," and she said this was a 16 call to action; that I had to look inside my own soul and 17 make a decision as far as if you're called to do something
18 and you turn it down, how are you going to feel later. And 19 she said we would be able to work it out, and she would find
20 a way to make the family obligations get met no matter what I
21 did.

22 Q So what was your next step then?

23 A I then came back and talked to Steve, Steve Brogan, the 24 managing partner, and said, "You know, I talked to my wife,
25 and, you know, she more or less has given me the green light

1 for me to make a decision."

2 Q And did you get back in touch with Mr. Baird?

3 A Yes. After talking to Steve, who essentially said
4 something very similar, that, "Kevyn, this is a call to 5 action. Yes, you'll have to step out of, you know, what 6 we're doing in the firm, but, you know, sometimes you have to 7 ask yourself and the question you have to answer is not how
8 you feel right now but in a year, five, ten years from now
9 when you're asked again what's going to be your response,
10 that you didn't step up," and that whatever happened he would 11 support me in whatever decision I decided to do, decided to 12 make, so I called Mr. Baird back.

13 Q And what did Mr. Baird ask you to do?

14 A You know, just generally summarizing, Mr. Baird said
15 great, why don't we have further talks. I think in -- he 16 started sending me some information. I started doing some 17 research on the emergency manager process and the history
18 behind the crisis that was going on in Detroit. I'd 19 obviously been aware of it, some of the criminal 20 investigations and what not, as well as the city's slide for 21 a period of time. I have a great deal of affinity having 22 gone -- gotten both degrees here, and I think I've come back
23 to the state or the city every year since I graduated in 1983
24 either recruiting for my law firm, a visit while I was in 25 federal government, or recruiting for my new law firm at

1 Jones Day, so I'd been coming to the city for the better part
2 of 33 years. And I told him, "Well, let's start talking
3 about what the job entails."

4 Q And did you do that over the phone? Did you visit
5 Detroit? What steps did you take?

6 A We initially had an e-mail exchange, and then he said,
7 "Well, I think the next step is for you to come and visit
8 with some of the executive members of the state, including
9 Andy Dillon; Brom Stibitz; Tom Saxton, who's deputy 10 treasurer; as well as the governor and Rich Baird and the 11 governor's chief of staff and his deputy chief of staff.

12 Q And did you do that?

13 A Yes, we did that in mid-February.

14 Q In those meetings, did you talk about Chapter 9?

15 A No.

16 Q At what point in time did you decide "I would be okay
17 with being a candidate"?

18 A I think at some point either just before or after those 19 meetings, I decided that I'd throw my hat into the ring, and 20 I think I sent out an e-mail to the firm and the rest of the 21 team recusing myself from the firm's consideration process as 22 a law -- I think I sent out two e-mails. I sent out an e-
23 mail to the immediate core team that was doing the pitch and 24 working on the analysis of the city, and then an associate
25 inadvertently sent me some more information, and I sent an e-

1 mail back to him just saying, "You may not have heard, but
2 I've recused myself from any involvement in the firm's pitch
3 and potential retention by the city because I'm being
4 considered for emergency financial manager."

5 Q Okay. And when was that about?

6 A Mid-February.

7 Q When did you learn that you were a finalist?

8 A I think there was a series of e-mail exchange with Rich,
9 and after the meeting with the governor I think the governor
10 would send me attaboy e-mails, "Hey, glad to meet you. Hope
11 you take this seriously. We're still looking at some other 12 candidates, but it seems like you're the odds-on favorite."
13 I think that was towards the end of February, maybe early 14 March.

15 Q When were you, in fact, appointed emergency manager or 16 emergency financial manager?

17 A I was appointed emergency financial manager effective
18 March 25th, 2013.

19 Q Was there any connection between your being considered as 20 emergency financial manager and Jones Day being retained as 21 Detroit's restructuring counsel?

22 A No.

23 ATTORNEY: Your Honor -- sorry. I was going to 24 object. That calls for speculation. Lack of foundation.

25 THE COURT: You understand that this question asks

1 you of your own knowledge and not speculation.

2 THE WITNESS: Yes, your Honor.

3 THE COURT: So to your own knowledge, was there any 4 such connection as counsel described?

5 THE WITNESS: No, your Honor. In fact, I think I
6 made it fairly clear. I think even in e-mails I said now
7 that I'm a candidate, I don't want this -- my candidacy to 8 either hurt or help the firm. In fact, if it would -- if it
9 would have hurt the firm, then I probably wouldn't consider,
10 but the firm will stand on its own.

11 BY MR. SHUMAKER:

12 Q Who did you tell that to?

13 A I think I told that to Mr. Dillon. I think I told that 14 to Rich Baird. I may have said that in my meeting with the 15 governor.

16 Q Did you accept the appointment of emergency financial 17 manager for the money?

18 A No. It's a -- no, no.

19 Q Was there ever any understanding between you and the 20 governor or any member of his staff that you met or anyone
21 that you ever came across that you would file for Chapter 9
22 on the city's behalf if you were named emergency manager?

23 A Not at all.

24 Q What was the first thing you did upon being appointed
25 emergency financial manager?

1 A Well, there were several things. One of the first things
2 I did -- the week before I was appointed, there was what
3 people called a rollout, which was a series of press events
4 and stakeholder meetings throughout that week. I think the 5 week prior to me actually taking office on the 25th I engaged
6 in somewhere in excess of five dozen meetings and pressers,
7 as I've come to know them, but immediately upon coming into
8 the office on the 25th, I went to City Hall, and I started
9 asking the various consultants and experts who had been hired
10 before I got there -- a number of them had been hired as a
11 result of a consent agreement that was entered into in March
12 2012 and then a memorandum of understanding that was entered 13 into with the city in November 2012, so they were already on 14 the ground. In fact, I think Ernst & Young had been on the 15 ground for a year prior to that. And so I began meeting with 16 them to try to get a sense of the city's financial condition
17 and operational --

18 Q Did you -- I'm sorry. Did you meet with anyone other
19 than the advisors, Ernst & Young and --

20 A Oh, yeah. Prior to taking office, I had met with Mayor
21 Bing a couple of times in D.C., and I met with stakeholders
22 throughout the city and with members of -- I believe I met
23 with members of Treasury during that first week, too.

24 Q Did you meet with any union members?

25 A Yes. I set up a series of stakeholder meetings in that

1 first week. I met with each councilperson individually. I
2 met with members of the various uniform unions, some
3 nonuniform, while I was there. And I think the first thing I
4 did was to issue an order under the statute 72, which was due
5 to be overtaken by statute 436, Public Act 436 -- the 6 compensation and benefits of the City Council and the mayor
7 were going to be extinguished, so I think the first order I
8 did was restore their compensation and benefits by EM Order
9 1.

10 Q Did you meet with any of the city's pension boards?

11 A I think -- not that first week, but I think I met with 12 both pension boards at some point later that month.

13 Q Did you meet with any citizens?

14 A Oh, God -- oh, yes. Oh, good, yes, met with lots of 15 citizens, numerous stakeholders, civic leaders, faith
16 community ministers, business leaders, CEO's, many of the 17 pedagogical institutes, the presidents of some of the 18 universities, a lot of stakeholder meetings.

19 Q Now, you mentioned that you reviewed a couple of 20 agreements. Did you -- were there generally financial 21 records that you took a look at?

22 A There were financial and restructuring agreements. After 23 my initial approach in January, I went and reviewed several 24 press reports that had made various statements about the 25 upcoming law, but then after I decided to throw my hat in the

1 ring and become a serious candidate, I started pulling down
2 the actual public documents, and there are a lot of them.
3 The city had been in some form of financial review or 4 financial crisis from at least 2009. It had taken out $250
5 million in addition to the 1.4 billion in 2005 and 2006. In 6 2009 it had taken out another -- 2010 it had taken out
7 another 250 million. In 2011 there was a Detroit review team
8 that was commissioned in December that issued a report the 9 following -- I believe the following January. The governor
10 issued another report, a lot of correspondence with Treasury.
11 I believe they entered into an escrow agreement in March of 12 2012, and then in -- later in April of 2012 they entered into 13 the financial stability agreement, also called the consent
14 agreement. There was a lot of correspondence going back and 15 forth since then. Subsequently, in November 2012, there was 16 a memorandum of understanding regarding the Detroit Reform
17 Program that was contained in the consent agreement. After 18 that in December 2012 another Detroit review team was 19 commissioned. They issued their report in 2013, I believe 20 February, and the governor issued his findings of fact in 21 March declaring a financial emergency. I hadn't looked at 22 all those -- the March document prior to taking the job, but 23 I looked at it -- I think maybe immediately prior to taking
24 the job, but my due diligence regarding the other documents
25 occurred between the January through early March time frame.

1 Q It sounds like you looked at a lot.

2 A I looked at a lot of documents. I found in each of those
3 documents there were two -- at least two review teams, and
4 each of them concluded that the review team process was a
5 precursor to the appointment of an emergency manager.

6 Q I'd like to ask you a few questions about those documents
7 in a little bit, but --

8 A Sure.

9 Q -- first I wanted to ask you, did you -- when you took 10 over the position, did you go out and visit the city when you
11 got here?

12 A Oh, yeah. I still do. I mean we -- there is quite a
13 robust outreach effort under the state's aegis and the MEDC
14 or others, Cadillac. Harvey Hollins in Urban Affairs helps
15 run that, and I would have meetings, sometimes two or three a
16 week, with various community groups and stakeholders.

17 Q And you went out and saw parts of the city?

18 A Yeah. Usually after work I'd ask to be driven around the 19 city. I sort of -- when I studied, the city had over 184
20 neighborhoods, in some of my briefing materials, and some of 21 the neighborhoods are very notable, Boston-Edison, East
22 Indian Village, Marina District, Milwaukee Junction. But the 23 city has a spoke system that goes out, Michigan, Grand River,
24 Woodward, Gratiot, and others, and I would sort of -- I've 25 done this when I've gone to other cities. I would sort of

1 methodically try to go through each neighborhood to get a
2 sense for the difference of the various neighborhoods and
3 their relationship to the city overall.

4 Q Based on those visits and the records that you were
5 looking at and your due diligence generally, what did you
6 come to learn about the services that the city was providing 7 to its residents?

8 A I had read that the services were substandard. As part
9 of my due diligence, if you'll call it, I had -- having been 10 an ex-federal government official, I went immediately to the 11 federal government resources, Bureau of Justice Statistics,
12 Department of Labor Statistics, Department of Commerce, the 13 census stats, some of which -- Michigan CRC or the State
14 Research Council, and it sort of compiled in my mind
15 academically a composite of the city and statistics about the 16 quality of service in addition to meeting with various 17 members, and the services reflected quite broadly in looking
18 at them what I had heard. They were substandard. Lights
19 were off in the city. I since came to know that almost half,
20 38,000 of 78,000 or so are off. Twenty percent of the city's 21 housing stock is in some form of blight, 78,000 dwellings out
22 of 390 roughly; that between the year 2000 and 2010 the city
23 lost 238,000 residents. That's the equivalent of a city the 24 size of Romulus, Allen Park, or Wyandotte leaving the city
25 every year. That was driving down tax revenue. That the

1 infrastructure not only appeared broken, but actually I'd
2 gone back and looked at some of the -- some of the press
3 reports about how the lights would go out, some during the 4 election in 2005, but other things along those lines.

5 Q I'm sorry. I didn't mean to interrupt, Mr. Orr, but what
6 did you -- what did you learn about the police department?

7 A Well, I'd known that the police department, like many,
8 New Orleans, L.A., and others, was under a consent decree --
9 actually, two, I think -- with the Department of Justice that 10 had spanned 12 years by the time I got here. I knew that 11 their fleet, roughly 1,300 vehicles, the majority of which 12 were quite old -- I had looked at BJ -- Bureau of Justice
13 Statistics stats, and typically a service vehicle runs three 14 years, 90,000 miles. Typically most police forces -- not 15 most but some lease those vehicles. Our fleet in some cases
16 had over 200,000 miles on them. Bumpers were literally
17 falling off. Paint was delaminating. They didn't have the 18 high tech that modern vehicles have. Our call rates -- our 19 response rates were low for a city that had been rated by 20 BJS, Bureau of Justice Statistics, as well as such sites like
21 Quizzle, which is an Internet neighborhood site, as being a
22 highly dangerous city subject to carjacking, violent crime in 23 the city and a highly armed populous. Basically everything
24 that I had read was substantiated in very stark relief once
25 you get out into the city. The call rates -- our officers

1 were on 12-hour shifts. When I met with the officers, DPLSA,
2 DPOA union, they explained to me how, you know, if you want
3 people to have court time to get at some of the perpetrators
4 and you keep them on a 12-hour shift, 24-hour day, they
5 barely have time to get home, take a shower, go to court, see
6 their families, and they're back on shift and that, as a
7 consequence, sometimes they miss shifts and that the 8 perpetrators, in addition to laughing at them as they drive
9 down the street, know that more than likely they're not going
10 to get the testimony they need and they're going to get off,
11 and they'll end up actually suing the city for false arrest
12 and recovering because the city settles many of its claims.
13 We don't have a very robust defense process in the city.

14 Q And how about the -- how about the fire department? Can 15 you give us some examples of what you learned there?

16 A Sure. I knew academically that the fire department had 17 an old fleet, but I've learned at 88 departments the 18 foundations were very poor. Our firemen were oftentimes
19 flowing the fires with inadequate equipment, equipment that 20 was broken, pumps on pumper trucks that didn't work, leaky
21 tanks in pumper trucks. Our ladders hadn't been certified
22 for a number of years because we didn't have the money to do
23 it. Since I was here, the mayor managed to get -- I think it
24 was State Farm to give us a donation to get our ladders
25 certified because otherwise you can't go to high-rise fires.

1 Many of our firemen had not been trained on the equipment, so
2 they were injuring themselves, such as standing on the ladder
3 as it went up and you cut your foot. Many of our firemen
4 were very frustrated both by lack of equipment and inadequate
5 training. In addition, they, too, were quite fatigued
6 because of the number of fire calls. I think it was 18,000
7 or so. Sixty percent are unnecessary. They're either to 8 abandon structures or blight or arson, so our firemen -- the 9 majority of our calls for our fire department are actually
10 false calls, but they're real because the buildings are 11 either on fire either through abandoned structure or through 12 intentional arson.

13 Q How about the --

14 THE COURT: Mr. Shumaker, we do have to stop now.
15 We're going to take a recess in a minute. I'm going to ask
16 everyone to remain seated while Mr. Orr leaves the courtroom,
17 so let's just sit here while he takes his leave, and we'll
18 see you Monday morning, sir. Stand by another moment,
19 please.

20 All right. So I'm going to take my leave now. Good
21 weekend, everyone. We'll see you Monday morning, 9 a.m.
22 until 5. I'm going to ask you to stay until our CSO's do
23 excuse you. I'm going to let you all go first, and my staff
24 and I will remain in chambers while you take your leave.

25 THE CLERK: All rise.

1 MR. SHUMAKER: Thank you, your Honor.

2 THE CLERK: Court is adjourned.

1 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in session. Please
2 be seated. Case Number 13-53846, City of Detroit, Michigan.

3 THE COURT: Looks like everybody is here. Sir.

4 MR. CIANTRA: Good morning, your Honor. Thomas
5 Ciantra, Cohen, Weiss & Simon, LLP, for the UAW. Before
6 bringing the evidentiary motion that I would like to present,
7 I just have one or two housekeeping matters. We will be
8 providing the Court with binders with the separate UAW
9 exhibits tomorrow morning, with the Court's indulgence. We 10 haven't been able to get that pulled together as of yet.

11 THE COURT: Okay.

12 MR. CIANTRA: And I would also indicate that I guess
13 there are one or two additional exhibits that will be 14 included, short documents, in the binder from what the Court
15 has presently in the stack. So with the Court's indulgence
16 then, I would like to discuss the motion that I presented
17 during Mr. Moore's testimony and provide some additional 18 argument and record citation with respect to that.

19 THE COURT: I wonder if, in light of our schedule
20 today, it would be okay with you if we considered this
21 tomorrow morning.

22 MR. CIANTRA: That would be fine, your Honor.

23 THE COURT: Thank you very much. I just need an 24 assurance from someone that the work that I requested
25 regarding the exhibits has all been taken care of and we're

1 all -- we all have the same exhibit books with reconciled
2 exhibits and exhibit numbers.

3 MR. IRWIN: Good morning, your Honor. Ms. Ramirez
4 and I were in the courtroom yesterday, and we did our best to 5 reconcile exhibits with the materials we had, and my
6 understanding is that other objectors have brought new books
7 this morning. I won't speak for them, but as of yesterday I
8 thought that we had moved this along as best we could.

9 THE COURT: Okay. Sir.

10 MR. ULLMAN: Yes, your Honor. For the Retiree
11 Committee, our understanding is that everything has been 12 done. Either we did it on behalf of other objectors or some 13 of them have come in themselves and done it with the 14 exception of the UAW, which Mr. Ciantra explained.

15 THE COURT: Okay. Good. Okay. You may proceed
16 with the direct examination of Mr. Orr.

17 MR. ORR: Good morning, your Honor.

18 THE COURT: Good morning.

19 MR. SHUMAKER: Good morning, your Honor. Greg
20 Shumaker of Jones Day for the City of Detroit.

22 DIRECT EXAMINATION (CONTINUING)

23 BY MR. SHUMAKER:

24 Q Good morning, Mr. Orr.

25 A Good morning, Mr. Shumaker.

1 Q Mr. Orr, on Friday afternoon when we last were here, I
2 believe you were sharing with the Court what you had
3 experienced regarding the city's provision of services upon
4 your arrival as the emergency manager. Do you recall that?

5 A Yes.

6 Q I believe I interrupted you, and you were sharing what 7 you had experienced in the area of emergency medical 8 services.

9 A Yes. I believe I was talking about an event at City Hall
10 where the president of one of the unions was late to a
11 meeting because since all of our ambulances were out
12 typically by 7:30, a citizen woman had a seizure in the 1st
13 floor, and he was the only one available to administer her.
14 That's anecdotal, but, more importantly, I think it's been
15 fairly well-reported that the EMS services have substandard
16 equipment. They are typically on a significant number of 17 calls every day. The policy of the unit is that if they're 18 called to an event, they are to transport the patient to a
19 medical facility. Oftentimes patients will call for things
20 such as, "I fell asleep, and my wrist is" -- "I feel asleep
21 on the couch, and my wrist is asleep," or, "I slipped, and I
22 hurt my ankle," to more serious injuries that are fairly
23 widely reported such as shootings and stabbings.

24 Q Thank you. What was the -- what did you learn about the 25 city's streetlight situation?

1 A Here again, as has been widely reported, as in our June
2 14th presentation, roughly 40 percent plus of our lights are 3 out, 38,000 over some 78,000 roughly. Large sloughs of the 4 city are unlighted. More importantly, it's not just that the 5 lights are out. The city infrastructure is somewhat
6 destroying it, I've been informed. There are lights that are 7 either above ground -- there are switches that are below
8 ground. To replace the switches sometimes below ground
9 requires excavation and a plan. It is significant. A lot of 10 our deferred maintenance has caused us to be, shall we say,
11 very much behind the technology curve in terms of the quality
12 of our lightings, whether they're still 1970s vintage
13 gaslights as opposed to LED, which provide more lights and 14 last for up to 15 years, for instance, therefore, reduce your 15 replacement cost. Our grid and our lighting is so old that 16 typically PLD is very -- Public Lighting Department is very 17 overworked, and, in fact, many private contractors' insurance
18 companies and policies won't allow them to work in our 19 lighting grid.

20 Q And how does that compare to other municipalities?

21 A We've done some analysis to other municipalities. I
22 don't think there's any other municipality considered a large 23 city, generally over 500,000 or so, that has as -- is as 24 unlit as we are citywide.

25 Q What were your observations about blight in the city?

1 A Blight is endemic. It's apparent. If you drive in on
2 94, take out the Lodge or go to any street in the city, it's
3 very clear, commercial and residential. We have 78,000
4 buildings. That's roughly 20 percent. 390,000 I think is
5 our total housing stock. That's roughly 20 percent of our
6 housing stock. No other city has that footprint. Our lots
7 are about 66,000, which are quite significant, and it's not 8 just the fact that there's blight. It's that the blight has 9 been here -- working its way here for 60 years but more
10 acutely in the past 15 to 20 years. There are trees growing
11 out, growing on top of roofs, growing out of roofs. They are 12 an attractive nuisance in the old language. Crime, rapes,
13 dead bodies, and not to mention the impact it has on our 14 residents and particularly our children. The Skillman
15 Foundation did a study of our schoolchildren and asked them
16 how they felt. Fifty percent responded they were afraid.
17 And when it asked them what they're afraid of, they said
18 everything. When they asked them how they coped with it,
19 they said they usually picked up a stick or a rod on their 20 way to school and on the way back because that's the way they 21 could protect themselves given what they had to walk through 22 to public school busses to get to school.

23 MR. DECHIARA: Objection. Hearsay.

24 THE COURT: Overruled. Go ahead, sir.

25 THE WITNESS: That's what they had to walk through

1 to get to the bus stop for school. It's been widely
2 reported.

3 BY MR. SHUMAKER:

4 Q Your impression of any of the other city services that
5 made an impact on you?

6 A Well, virtually all city services are generally
7 considered not where they should be. Our city workers work
8 very hard for the most part to try to work through the 9 substandard level of services, whether it's in tax
10 collection, assessments, blight remediation, lighting. Our 11 power grid -- we have a power grid that costs the city about 12 $30 million a year. There are 115 customers on that grid.
13 Only five of those customers are residential, so we subsidize
14 power for about a hundred commercial and institutional uses.
15 Our grid -- in fact, the grid in City Hall is so old that
16 most providers, such as DTE, will not allow their workers --
17 because of various pernicious effluent that's down there,
18 asbestos and the like, will not allow them to go down into 19 the grid because it's too dangerous. We have 38 stations and 20 one power factory, Mistersky, which is obsolete. Our 21 stations are sorely in need of repair. Our grid is a
22 patchwork of repairs that we tried even earlier this year --
23 the grid went out for a period of time, which was not
24 necessarily the grid. It was that we were running a test,
25 and the test tripped the grid because it is so sensitive that

1 it turned off the lights for two and a half days.

2 Q During this time, as you were becoming familiar with the 3 city's services, did anyone ever come up to you and say that
4 the services were adequate?

5 A No one has ever said that the services are adequate for
6 the City of Detroit.

7 Q Have you done anything to address the problems you've 8 described?

9 A Yes.

10 Q What are they? What are they?

11 A When we came in, we did an assessment in the first 30
12 days to try to get to the real meaning of things. I sat
13 down, as I said before, with a number of stakeholders,
14 including all the City Council people. I tried to restore a 15 sense of normalcy in the city by restoring compensation to 16 the mayor and the City Council and then delegating authority
17 to them to do most of the business of the city in the 18 ordinary course, and then we began our assessment of the city
19 operations. Many of the contractors -- in fact, all of them
20 with the exception of Jones Day, the principal restructuring
21 contractors -- Milliman, Ernst & Young, Conway MacKenzie, and 22 Miller Buckfire were hired before 2013 to start assessing the 23 city's needs and restructuring, and they were already well
24 along their way of preparing reports. I started reviewing 25 those reports and discussions, and I found out that much of

1 the city's structure needed to be reinvented, so we started
2 out looking at lighting. We have since authorized the Public
3 Lighting Authority. We found some money after the June 14th
4 default on the COPs payment. We have created a $12 million
5 fund to get the Lighting Authority stood up with cash. We 6 also found $1.8 million for them to have an operational
7 budget so they could run -- they are due to have two
8 demonstration projects up and running in terms of relighting
9 the city by the end of this year. We are going through the 10 process of a bond issuance to get them additional tranches of 11 money to provide a lighting plan for the entire city. We 12 stood up a Detroit Land Bank Authority and in conjunction 13 with MSHDA, the Michigan State Housing & Development
14 Authority, created a fast-track authority so that we could 15 deal with blight. One of the things we found was that on the 16 City Code for the better part of 30 years there was the 17 ability to declare a blight emergency in addition to the 18 powers that I have under 436, so under that existing 19 authority we put those two together, and we abolished for a 20 time, being through the rest of this year, the requirement
21 for Class B licenses -- that is, the demolition of structures
22 35 feet or lower -- so that we could get at residential 23 blight in an expedited basis, expedited process, and allow 24 other contractors who are licensed by the state, although not 25 licensed by the city, to come into the city to help us with

1 blight remediation as quickly as possible.

2 We also began looking at the same process for Class
3 A licenses -- that is usually commercial or higher
4 structures, 35 feet or higher -- so that we could fast-track
5 the blight. And most recently we appointed a chief land
6 officer in conjunction with the federal government to try to 7 use some of the hardest hit funds, which are funds designated
8 directly for blight, to get to blight.

9 We began looking at city services, and particularly 10 the revenue drivers, for tax collection. For instance,
11 cities like Albion, Michigan, have a memorandum of 12 understanding with the Department of Treasury whereby they 13 will assist the city to collect some of its taxes. That's 14 been in existence since 1997. One of the things in the 15 financial stability agreement and the MOU that the city
16 agreed to was that they would look at that. We've assigned a 17 taskforce to find ways to enter a similar situation so that 18 we can have enhanced tax collection.

19 We hired a new police chief, went through a fairly
20 long and competitive process to get him here. He has opened
21 up -- he may have testified -- I'm not sure, but I suspect he 22 testified that he's opened up eight precincts that were 23 closed. We had these virtual precincts where citizens after 24 dark would have to go to a blue phone in order to get 25 service. If there was an incident on the east side, for

1 instance, they may have to go as far as ten miles to file a
2 report in the dead of night, oftentimes a victim being chased
3 by a perpetrator or alleged perpetrator. We've opened up
4 those. We flowed new money to the police force in addition
5 to the hundred cars that the philanthropic and civic 6 community donated on March 25th, the day I started. We have 7 since purchased another 50 cars and have another 50 on order
8 for a total of a hundred, so we get new vehicles going to the 9 street. We recently restructured the police department so
10 that you have more line authority pushed down as opposed to a
11 third of the department being involved in clerical work.
12 We're getting more officers on the street.

13 We've looked at a number of remediation plans also 14 for city-owned property, city-owned land, parking lots. We 15 also issued a number of orders focused on dealing with 16 efficiency within the city and have a number of different
17 things in the works as we speak.

18 Q What level of services are you trying to get to with 19 these efforts?

20 A We're under no illusion that given the long term that 21 it's taken the city to get here and the fact that the 22 specifics of what's required by the city have been discussed
23 in detail since 2010, that we're going to get to an A+ or 24 honors level of services. We're trying to get to an average
25 level of services, one that's acceptable, a C, C+.

1 Q Okay. On Friday you shared with the Court your efforts
2 to get on top of the financial condition of the city and --

3 A Yes.

4 Q -- review of certain financial records. I want to ask
5 you is it fair to say that part of your job responsibilities
6 as the emergency manager is to understand the city's 7 financial condition?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And have you become familiar with the city's records --

10 A Yes.

11 Q -- financial records?

12 A Yes.

13 Q You understand how they operate?

14 A Yes.

15 Q You're in charge of implementing them?

16 A Yes.

17 Q One of the agreements that you referred to was something
18 called the consent agreement. Do you recall that?

19 A Yes.

20 Q I'd like to show you what is the consent agreement, which
21 is Exhibit 23, and it has been admitted into evidence. It
22 should appear on your screen there.

23 A Yeah. It's quite small.

24 Q Allow you to get your glasses on. Is that what you're 25 trying --

1 A Yeah. Okay.

2 Q And is that -- that document is entitled the "Financial
3 Stability Agreement"; correct?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And is that the agreement you understand as the consent
6 agreement that you've testified about?

7 A I'm assuming this is the May 4th, 2012, financial 8 stability agreement.

9 Q We can get you a copy.

10 A No. If that's the document, yes.

11 Q You recognize it?

12 A Yes, I do.

13 Q What was your understanding of the consent agreement?

14 A The city, starting with the 2009 collateral pledge
15 agreement, June 15th, 2009, had experienced a number of 16 financial upheavals, if you will, consistently throughout
17 2009 and 2010. The city again borrowed almost a quarter of a 18 billion dollars to try to stem those upheavals in addition to 19 the $1.4 billion that was borrowed in 2005 and 2006 and the 20 $250 million that was borrowed in 2006 in addition to the 21 1.4. And this document was a result of a financial review
22 team examination of the city that was begun in December 2011
23 and I believe in January or February 2012 found that the city
24 was in financial distress. That finding by the financial 25 review team also found that -- I think that finding or the

1 governor's recommendation in 2011 found that that finding was
2 a precursor to the appointment of an emergency manager. This
3 document grew out of the requirement that the city, as a
4 result of the finding by the financial review team, engage in 5 certain specified things to correct the endemic and
6 widespread problems -- financial problems of the city --
7 would be required to agree to certain metrics to correct
8 those on a very short time frame as embodied in this
9 document, and I think it has five appendices as well.

10 Q Let me ask you about that, but who signed this agreement?

11 A This agreement was signed by four parties. It was signed
12 by Deputy Mayor Kirk Lewis; the mayor, Dave Bing. It was 13 signed by the governor and the treasurer.

14 Q And do you have -- and when was this? When was that 15 signed?

16 A This was April 2012, April 5th, 2012, I believe. I think
17 it's on the document somewhere.

18 Q And what did you understand the state's obligations to be 19 under the consent agreement?

20 A In one of the appendices, it spells out -- I think the 21 last one maybe, the fifth one, DRE -- it spells out certain 22 specified obligations that the state is going to do in 23 consideration for the city meeting certain metrics, fairly
24 widespread, regarding both finances, revenue projections,
25 estimation and metrics, operations, and long-term

1 liabilities.

2 Q And what were the city's obligations under that
3 agreement?

4 A The city, in a series of appendices to the document,
5 undertook about 40 obligations. Oftentimes when this
6 document is referred to, people refer to the 21 obligations
7 in Appendix B, but that's incomplete. The city, in Appendix
8 C and D as well, I believe, undertook certain specified
9 obligations in detail. In Appendix B, for instance, for the 10 operational reforms, there were 21 specific requirements,
11 some having to do with payroll, having to do with collective 12 bargaining agreements, having to do with revenue estimation,
13 having to do with the Water Department, and then in the other
14 appendices there were obligations having to do with finance
15 and metrics and so on and so forth.

16 Q What was your understanding of whether the city complied
17 with those obligations specified in the appendices you
18 referred to?

19 A When I got here, the city had undertaken one of them. I
20 believe in November 2012 they entered into a four-year, $32
21 million, ADP contract. And I think there were one or two 22 more in Appendix B that were ongoing.

23 Q And those are the only ones that were complied with?

24 A Essentially, those were the only ones in any demonstrable
25 form that were ongoing, yes.

1 MR. SHUMAKER: Can you put up -- Laurie, can you put
2 up Annex B at the back of that exhibit?

3 BY MR. SHUMAKER:

4 Q Are these the obligations of the city that you were
5 referring to, Mr. Orr?

6 A Yes, they are.

7 Q And you indicated that the city had made progress on one
8 or two of these?

9 A Yes. I believe there were demonstrable ones. There was
10 a demolition effort. There was health and wellness
11 department changes. I believe a privatization effort was 12 ongoing. There was -- I believe I also said payroll was 13 involved. Those were the ones that were ongoing at the time.

14 Q Now, you -- and then you also were referred to Annex D.
15 Can you put that up?

16 A Yes. I would also say on Annex B there was an effort to 17 procure technical assistance from the federal Department of 18 Housing & Urban Development regarding grants management.

19 Q Here's Annex D.

20 A Yes.

21 Q These are some of the additional obligations of the city?

22 A Yes. Those are the ones I referred to about collective 23 bargaining agreements.

24 Q Now, you also testified on Friday about another
25 agreement. I believe you referred to it as the milestone

1 agreement.

2 A Yeah. That agreement is called the milestone agreement
3 or the memorandum of understanding regarding the Detroit
4 Reform Program.

5 Q And how did the milestone agreement and the consent
6 agreement relate?

7 A The consent agreement, which was entered into in April
8 2012, also had two phases for Detroit Reform and certain
9 specified metrics that the city was to undertake. Phase one
10 of Detroit Reform was specified in some of the appendices to 11 that agreement. Throughout that year apparently -- I wasn't 12 here, but as I understood through reading through the 13 documents and talking to people, the city had failed to meet
14 some of those requirements within six or seven months of 15 entering into the consent agreement, so the memorandum of 16 understanding was negotiated and designed as a consideration
17 for the city to get access to another $137 million in 18 financial stabilization bonds later that year, and that's 19 commonly referred -- I believe that was in November 2012, and 20 that's commonly referred to as the memorandum of 21 understanding.

22 Q I'd like to show you another document that's in evidence,
23 which is Exhibit 7, and ask you if you recognize -- that's 24 the cover page.

25 A Yes.

1 Q Do you recognize that document?

2 A Yeah. November 13th, 2012.

3 Q Is that the milestone agreement you referred to?

4 A Memorandum of understanding or milestone agreement.

5 Q And who signed the milestone agreement?

6 A Well, the milestone agreement had the signatures of the 7 treasurer, Andy Dillon; and then the finance director for the 8 city, Cheryl Johnson; the program director at that time for 9 Detroit Reform, Kriss Andrews; and the chief financial 10 officer, Jack Martin.

11 Q Did the Detroit City Council have anything to do with 12 this document?

13 A Yes. The Detroit City Council approved aspects of this 14 agreement in two resolutions, one by a vote of 6-0, and one
15 says by a vote of 9-0, but I noticed that there's no check --
16 I thought there was no check for the president pro tem.

17 Q And what was your understanding as to whether the city
18 had met its obligations under the milestone agreement?

19 A When I came on board on March 25th it had not. The city,
20 however -- all the understandings -- as a component for this
21 agreement, my understanding that is from 2010, 2011, and then
22 in stark relief starting in December 2011, it became apparent
23 that the city was in severe financial distress. This 24 agreement, I believe, was a result of the city failing to 25 comply with some of its obligations in the appendices to the

1 MOU. At this time, the city needed additional cash for 2 operations, so the state used some of its authority to
3 support the city in a bond issuance for 137 million. I
4 believe from time to time it's referred to as a net of 129
5 million or so less fees and costs. In order for the city to 6 have access to that cash, that cash was supposed to both fund
7 operations but also assist the city in going forward with 8 some of the reform that was specified in the MOU -- not MOU,
9 in the consent agreement. This agreement also had certain 10 specified obligations of the city to change some of its 11 procurement obligations but also to retain financial 12 professionals to assist the city and to use the proceeds of 13 that bond issuance in part, after the retention of those 14 professionals, as a condition to using the money.

15 Q And the city was unable to comply with the conditions of 16 this agreement?

17 A The city was able to comply with the conditions of the 18 agreement for the retention of an actuary, Milliman; for 19 Ernst & Young, who had already been doing work as a city --
20 as its accountant but also for a restructuring effort; for 21 Conway MacKenzie for operational restructuring; and, although 22 not specified by name, I believe by December of this year the 23 return of the Miller Buckfire firm. And it also retained
24 local counsel in the guise of Miller Canfield to assist with 25 the restructuring.

1 Q How about with regard to the rest of the agreement? How
2 is the city's compliance?

3 A The city had not complied with more or less the 4 balance -- as I understood it from reading the documents, the 5 balance of the rest of the agreement.

6 Q Did this lead to any consequences for the city?

7 A Yes. Less than approximately a month later, another
8 Detroit review team two was commissioned after finding the 9 city was in financial -- I think it went from financial 10 distress to severe financial crisis. That review team spent
11 the holiday season, I believe, December and January,
12 reviewing the city's restructuring efforts, and in February
13 2013 I think it issued a report to the governor finding that 14 the city was in a financial emergency.

15 Q And is it that financial emergency that led to your 16 appointment as emergency manager?

17 A Well, that February 2013 Detroit review team report,
18 again, as in the prior Detroit review team, report number
19 one, in 2012, specifies that the finding of that emergency is 20 a precursor to the appointment of an emergency manager.

21 Q Is that financial emergency still in effect?

22 A Yes.

23 Q I want to ask you about a couple of other things about 24 the city's finances aside from the consent agreement and the 25 milestone agreement. upon your arrival as emergency manager.

1 What did you learn about the city's cash situation when you
2 got here? When did you arrive? Let's start there.

3 A As I said, I took office March 25th under Public Act 72
4 as the emergency financial manager, and then effective March
5 28th I became the emergency manager under Public Act 436.

6 Q And on March 25th, March 28th, that time period, what did
7 you learn about the city's cash situation?

8 A The cash situation was dire. The city was on a billion
9 dollar budget roughly. The city was by, I believe, the 10 middle of June -- it gets a little bump in the year from cash
11 collections that it holds onto, but by the middle of June,
12 the city was going to have on hand somewhere in the 13 neighborhood of only $7 million.

14 Q How about the revenue situation upon your arrival?

15 A Revenue situation was, likewise, trying. The city's 16 revenues had seen a period of decline in the past ten years.
17 That's well-documented. I think it's in my June 14th report.
18 And, likewise, the revenue collections were still 19 challenging, and so there was no hope that the revenues were 20 going to in some fashion make up for the shortfall in terms
21 of the cash flow.

22 Q How about the city's liabilities at that time?

23 A The city's liabilities were significant. I had read as 24 part of my due diligence before taking the job that the 25 various statements of liability began in 2011 as all-in

1 liability, meaning both legacy costs and bond debt. At 12
2 billion in 2012, that grew to 14 billion. Between my
3 appointment and within a few weeks after that, it became that 4 the liability was approximately $4 billion larger than that,
5 about $18.5 billion total. That's the long-term capital
6 liabilities, but also the city's operational liabilities were 7 quite significant, and we were not taking in enough cash to 8 meet operational obligations.

9 Q Do you recall your general reaction upon learning all
10 this about the cash and the liabilities and the revenue?

11 A Yeah. I knew things were bad. It was somewhat shocking
12 just how dire it was. In fact, I think within a few weeks of 13 coming on board or just prior to the June 14th presentation,
14 I was informed that several of our employees had their checks
15 bounce. They negotiated them later that day, but our cash
16 flow on any given day was so tight that it was unclear we'd 17 have sufficient cash on hand to meet payroll; that some of 18 our obligations with regard to our contractors as well as our 19 other suppliers were routinely pushed out beyond what should 20 be an average 30-day or 45-day net period between the 21 invoicing to the payment, oftentimes 180 days or greater;
22 that there was no plan in place to remediate the situation
23 and that the city was bumping along in the ordinary course in 24 a very dire set of circumstances.

25 Q During this initial time frame, did the emergency manager

1 statute require anything of you?

2 A Yes. The emergency manager statute imposes upon me
3 certain obligations with regard to reporting. I think the 4 first report I had due was the 45-day report, and then I was 5 obligated to have a public meeting within 30 days of issuing
6 that report.

7 Q Let me show you an exhibit, which is Exhibit 75. It's in 8 evidence.

9 A Yes.

10 Q And you see that document, sir?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And is that the 45-day plan that you just referred to?

13 A Here again, assuming -- without reviewing the entire 14 document, yes, that's the May 12, 2013, financial and 15 operating plan.

16 Q Okay. Did you have anyone help you in putting together
17 that plan?

18 A Yes, absolutely.

19 Q And who was that?

20 A My entire team, restructuring team, as well as members of 21 the city staff working with them, so that would be the 22 accountants, the operational consultants, the investment
23 bankers, the attorneys, as well as people in the finance
24 department and operational departments of the city.

25 Q And this is a public document; correct?

1 A Yes, it is.

2 Q And obviously the document speaks for itself, but could
3 you summarize generally what you concluded in this initial 4 45-day plan?

5 A Generally, we gave a snapshot of what we thought was the 6 city's true financial condition. We both spoke to it in 7 terms of spreadsheets but also a series of charts as far as 8 demographic changes, crime rate, financial collections,
9 expenditures, a number of debt issuances over and above the 10 operational revenue collection in the document, and some of 11 the key operational issues such as public health, safety, and 12 welfare dealing with police, fire, EMS, and city operations.

13 Q And do you recall this plan containing cash flow
14 projections?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Who put those together for you?

17 A Those would have been put together by a combination of 18 the finance team and restructuring team, Ernst & Young,
19 probably Miller Buckfire to a degree, attorneys probably 20 lesser.

21 Q Okay. And were those put together at your direction?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Okay. I'd like to show you page 40 of this exhibit.

24 MR. SHUMAKER: If you could blow up the chart,
25 Laurie.

1 THE WITNESS: Thank you.

2 BY MR. SHUMAKER:

3 Q Mr. Orr, could you tell the Court what this is?

4 A Yes. This is a document that shows monthly cash flow as 5 a forecast -- that is, not actual numbers -- based upon
6 anticipated revenue collections and projections, property
7 tax, income tax, gaming revenue, municipal service fees from 8 casinos, state revenue share, other receipts and refinancing
9 proceeds. It also shows disbursements, which include
10 payroll, benefit costs, other distributions, summarizes total
11 disbursements. It shows what our net cash flow -- that is,
12 disbursements over revenue -- and then it shows what our cash
13 balances are going forward.

14 Q And that line near the bottom, cash net of distributions,
15 what is that?

16 A That line shows what cash we would have after all the 17 distributions were made. And as a forecast issue, it shows
18 what cash we would have at the end of the year, December
19 2013.

20 Q And your reaction upon receiving these cash flow
21 projections?

22 A A high degree of concern. Essentially, this document in 23 our analysis showed that we would have $900,000 at the end of 24 the year, which is below a margin of error for a billion
25 dollar budget, so it essentially showed that we either would

1 have no money or would be negative in terms of cash flow.

2 Q And this plan, again, was issued on May 12th; is that
3 right?

4 A On May 12th. It's my financial and operating plan on May
5 12th.

6 Q I'd ask you to turn -- I want to show you page 2 of that
7 plan. There's a paragraph right at the bottom that carries
8 over to page 3.

9 A Yes.

10 MR. SHUMAKER: And I'd ask if you'd put that up,
11 too, Laurie. If you could blow up that paragraph, please.

12 THE WITNESS: Thank you.

13 BY MR. SHUMAKER:

14 Q Mr. Orr, I'd like you to read that --

15 A Yes.

16 Q -- for the Court. This was your conclusion, correct, one
17 of --

18 A Yes.

19 Q -- your observations?

20 A Yes. As of --

21 Q What was that?

22 A Well, it says as of April 20 -- would you like me to 23 summarize it or --

24 Q Please do.

25 A -- actually read it?

1 Q You can read it.

2 A Okay. Okay. As of April 26, 2013, the city had actual
3 cash on hand of 64 million but had current obligations of 226
4 million to other funds and entities in the form of loans,
5 property tax distributions, and deferred pension
6 contributions and other payments. Therefore, the city's net
7 cash position was a negative $162 million as of April 26,
8 2013. The city has been deferring and will need to continue
9 to defer payments of its current obligations in order to 10 avoid running out of cash.

11 Q Is that an accurate summary of the city's cash flow
12 situation at that time?

13 A Yes.

14 MR. SHUMAKER: Let me ask you, Laurie, to put up
15 page 26, and that paragraph, if you could blow it up for 16 Mr. Orr, please.

17 BY MR. SHUMAKER:

18 Q Mr. Orr, do you recall this entry into the -- in the 19 plan?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Would you read that for the Court?

22 A The City of Detroit continues to incur expenditures in 23 excess of revenue despite cost reductions and proceeds from 24 long-term debt issuances. In other words, Detroit spends 25 more than it takes in. It is clearly insolvent on a cash

1 flow basis.

2 Q Was this your view as of May 12th of the city's cash
3 situation?

4 A Yes, it was.

5 Q And you indicated that this document was publicly
6 released. Did anyone after you released it come up to you in 7 any forum at any time and dispute whether the city was
8 insolvent?

9 A No one on a serious basis has ever disputed to me that 10 the city was insolvent.

11 Q Mr. Orr, do you recall giving an interview at or about 12 the time that this plan was released?

13 A I gave several interviews.

14 Q There was an interview by WWJ News Radio. Do you recall
15 talking to them?

16 A Yes.

17 Q I'm going to read you a quote that -- you were asked a
18 question, and you were quoted as saying, quote, "The public
19 can comment, but it is under the statute. It is my plan and 20 it is within my discretion and obligation to do it. This
21 isn't a plebiscite. We are not, like, negotiating the terms
22 of the plan. It's what I'm obligated to do," unquote. Do
23 you recall giving that quote?

24 A On May 12th?

25 Q On May 12th.

1 A Yes.

2 Q What plan were you referring to when you were saying that
3 it was a plebiscite?

4 A There's only been one plan. It's the financial and
5 operating plan.

6 Q The plan you issued on May 12th?

7 A Yes, the May 12th financial and operating plan. That's
8 the only document I've referred to as a plan.

9 Q And what did you mean when you said that?

10 A That it was my statutory obligation to issue the 11 financial and operating plan and that this wasn't a document
12 to be negotiated. It was supposed to be a true summary and 13 public disclosure of the city's true state of affairs.

14 Q You indicated that after releasing the 45-day plan that 15 the emergency manager statute obligated you to have a public
16 informational meeting; is that correct?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And how soon after the plan came out were you supposed to 19 do that?

20 A I was obligated to have that meeting within 30 days of 21 the publication of the financial and operating plan.

22 Q Did you conduct such a meeting?

23 A Yes.

24 Q When did you have that meeting?

25 A June 10th, 2013.

1 Q Where was it held?

2 A Wayne State University auditorium.

3 Q Who was in -- I'm sorry.

4 A The exact name of the auditorium escapes me, but it was a
5 large auditorium at Wayne State.

6 Q Who was invited?

7 A The public was invited.

8 Q And how many people attended?

9 A I believe it was perhaps 200. I know there was an 10 overflow crowd, and some people couldn't get in, but the 11 auditorium was full.

12 Q What was the thrust of your message at that meeting?

13 A The thrust of my message -- I think I took some of the 14 slides from the May 12th financial and operating plan and 15 used them as a slide deck in a presentation of the meeting to 16 take the community through the financial and operating plan
17 on a graphic basis as opposed to having to slough through the 18 narrative and the spreadsheets. But it was basically a 19 graphic depiction of the information we had contained in the 20 financial summary of the information we had contained in the 21 financial and operating plan. I also said that we would have 22 to be making some very difficult decisions within the next 30
23 to 60 days. I think I mentioned that there were some 24 powerful tools at my disposal, both the Public Act 436 as 25 well as Chapter 9, but I would prefer not to use Chapter 9;

1 that I was certainly making an overture -- I think I even
2 said an open hand -- for proposals from interested parties,
3 but that time was moving quite quickly, and I was going to 4 have to make some decisions because the city had been going
5 through this process in one form or another for the prior 6 almost two years.

7 Q You mentioned you showed some slides at that meeting; is
8 that correct?

9 A Yes.

10 Q Okay. I'd like to show you a document that is not in 11 evidence yet, so I don't want it to be shown on the screen,
12 but I would refer you to the book of the city's exhibits,
13 Exhibit 41.

14 A One marked "City"?

15 Q Yes, sir.

16 A Okay.

17 Q Again, that's 41.

18 A Okay. Yes, sir.

19 Q You have it?

20 A Yes, I do.

21 Q If you'd take a look at it, are you familiar with that
22 document?

23 A Yes.

24 Q Did you prepare it?

25 A Yes, with my team, yes.

1 Q Is that the one you showed at the meeting?

2 A Yes.

3 MR. SHUMAKER: Your Honor, we would move to 4 introduce Exhibit 41 into evidence.

5 THE COURT: Any objections?

6 MR. ULLMAN: Your Honor, to the extent that it
7 contains the projections, we have the same objections as
8 previously. I don't believe they were prepared by Mr. Orr
9 personally.

10 THE COURT: Right. I wonder, counsel, if you would 11 have any objection to me giving the objecting parties a 12 continuing objection on that issue so that they don't have to 13 rise and restate that every time.

14 MR. SHUMAKER: Certainly.

15 THE COURT: Is that all right with you, sir?

16 MR. ULLMAN: Thank you, your Honor.

17 THE COURT: All right. That objection is overruled.
18 This document is admitted into evidence.

19 (Debtor's Exhibit 41 received at 9:40 a.m.)

20 THE COURT: You may proceed.

21 MR. SHUMAKER: Thank you. Laurie, if you could put 22 41 up -- you've done that. Thank you.

23 BY MR. SHUMAKER:

24 Q Mr. Orr, what is the -- are there any differences between 25 this slide presentation and the 45-day plan that you were

1 just discussing?

2 A No. These graphs were generally contained in the 45-day
3 financial and operating plan with the exception of the graph
4 contained at page 8, which is a graphic depiction of the cash
5 flow projections we went over in the financial and operating
6 plan.

7 MR. SHUMAKER: Laurie, could you put up page 8,
8 please?

9 BY MR. SHUMAKER:

10 Q And could you tell the Court what this is, Mr. Orr?

11 A Yes. This is a graphic depiction of the short-term cash
12 flow projections from January 13 through December 13.

13 Actually, by the time this document was prepared, the ones
14 through approximately April, May, were actual numbers, and 15 the projections went forward as they did on the spreadsheet
16 on the financial and operating plan. The dark blue line
17 shows the cash balance with deferrals -- that is, the 18 payments we weren't making for either long-term liabilities
19 or pension contributions -- and the light blue line shows
20 what it would have been like -- the city's financial 21 condition would have been like if we had not made those 22 deferrals.

23 Q Okay. And when you say "deferrals," what do you mean?

24 A We weren't paying the money. When we say "deferral," 25 it's just another way of saying we weren't making the

1 payments.

2 Q And what weren't you paying?

3 A We weren't paying a hundred million dollars of pension
4 payments that year. I think there were some deferrals with 5 regard to some reimbursable accounts that we weren't paying.
6 There are a number of different things that we weren't paying
7 at that time.

8 MR. SHUMAKER: Laurie, could you put up page 1,
9 please?

10 BY MR. SHUMAKER:

11 Q Mr. Orr, could I ask you to take a look at -- this is 12 page 1.

13 A Yes, um-hmm.

14 Q Could you read that slide for the Court?

15 A Yes. Detroit spends more than it takes in. It is 16 insolvent. It has borrowed hundreds of millions of dollars
17 and has deferred just as much in obligations in order to 18 support city operations. This path is not sustainable.

19 Q Do you believe that statement was true and accurate when 20 made?

21 A Yeah. I think actually this was one of the slides that I
22 personally worked on, yes.

23 Q Okay.

24 MR. SHUMAKER: Can we go to page 13 of that, Laurie?

25 BY MR. SHUMAKER:

1 Q Do you recognize this page, Mr. Orr?

2 A Yes.

3 Q Could you tell us what that is --

4 A Well --

5 Q -- what you were intending to convey with that?

6 A What we were -- we were trying to say that we are 7 currently evaluating options to adjust -- in other words, to 8 either not pay or adjust our funded debt obligations to 9 better fit our cash flow projections, which include a number
10 of arrangements, such as rescheduling principal amortization
11 without reduction in principal; that is, how you would pay 12 the obligations that you owe without actually reducing the 13 total amount, permanently reducing the principal amount of 14 debt outstanding. That means giving someone a haircut.
15 We're not going to pay. If we owe you a dollar, we're not 16 paying a dollar. Reducing interest rates. If we owe you a
17 dollar at credit card interest rates of 23 percent, we're not 18 going to pay that to achieve cost savings or compensate for 19 loss, extended principal, and issuing debt to provide for 20 certain cash recoveries to other creditors; that is,
21 refinancing high-cost debt with lower-cost debt to reduce our
22 obligations.

23 Q And you presented each of these slides at the meeting?

24 A Yes, yes.

25 Q Was there an opportunity at the end of that meeting on

1 June 10th for the audience members to ask questions?

2 A Yes.

3 Q Did you answer them?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Did anyone at that time or any subsequent time come up to 6 you after the meeting or at the meeting and say that the city
7 wasn't insolvent?

8 A No. Most of the people who came up to me after the 9 meeting expressed a level of shock. They hadn't -- some of 10 them hadn't seen this before, and some actually expressed
11 some gratitude for finally disclosing the true state of 12 affairs. I think some of those comments I saw on video feeds
13 either in newspapers or on You Tube.

14 Q You had another meeting a few days later; correct?

15 A Yes.

16 Q June 14th?

17 A Friday, June -- yes. This meeting was Monday, June 10th,
18 and then we had the June 14th meeting for creditors.

19 Q Okay. I'd like to refer you to two documents in 20 evidence. One is Exhibit 43, and if you could refer to that 21 in your binder.

22 A Yes.

23 Q And then also 44, so one is entitled "City of Detroit
24 Proposal for Creditors," and the other one is entitled "City
25 of Detroit Proposal for Creditors Executive Summary."

1 A Yes.

2 Q Could you share with the Court what the difference is
3 between those documents?

4 A The substance of the documents is essentially the same.
5 44, the executive summary, is basically a shortened or 6 truncated version of Exhibit 43. We'd refer to them as the 7 small slide deck and the large slide deck, but they're both
8 the proposal for creditors that was presented to creditors on 9 Friday, June 14th. I believe we gave the executive summary
10 out either at or during the meeting and then gave the larger
11 deck out at the conclusion of the meeting.

12 Q Okay. And so during the meeting, the executive summary
13 slides is what was shown to the audience?

14 A Yes, I believe so.

15 Q Okay.

16 A Yes. I'm trying to think. Did we show the slides? I
17 think so.

18 Q Okay. What were the differences between the 45-day
19 report issued in May and the June 14th proposal to creditors?

20 A Yeah. What we were trying to do with the 45-day report
21 was to give a true report on the condition of the city
22 without any cant or any gloss. What we were trying to do
23 with the June 14th report, which is essentially a month
24 later, was to try to say, well, based upon this document, the 25 true state of the city, this is what we can offer you in the

1 nature of a proposal. This was not a plan. It's what we
2 were saying to creditors we would propose to deal with all
3 these obligations that we reported in the May 12th report.

4 Q Was there any update on cash flows?

5 A I believe so, yes.

6 Q Okay. Who was invited to the June 14th meeting?

7 A We tried to invite all record debt holders of the city,
8 according to their documents. We tried to invite all of the 9 labor partners for the city or representatives of the labor
10 partners. Occasionally there were parties who would call in 11 who also wanted to be invited or wanted their 12 representatives, either attorneys or financial advisors, to 13 attend the meeting, and we tried to accommodate them as well.

14 Q Okay. Do you know how they were invited?

15 A We invited them through a number of ways. We followed 16 the notice provisions of the actual debt instruments and 17 documents. I think we did e-mails. I think we did mail as 18 well, as well as phone calls.

19 Q I'm sorry. How many showed up?

20 A Oh, there were several hundred in the room.

21 Q Did this represent the entire universe of the city's 22 creditors?

23 A No.

24 Q Why do you say that?

25 A Well, there are individual bondholders in terms of the

1 city creditors as well as trade creditors as well as labor
2 unions as well as individual employees, both current active
3 employees and retirees. The potential creditor core of the 4 city probably numbers into the thousands, if not tens of 5 thousands.

6 Q Who presented at the meeting?

7 A Me and my team. There was a panel on a DS. I believe it
8 was David Heiman, who was a lead attorney, bankruptcy
9 attorney, at Jones Day; Ken Buckfire, our investment banker
10 at Miller Buckfire; Gaurav Malhotra at Ernst & Young. I
11 believe Chuck Moore for Conway MacKenzie was there, and I
12 also believe Bruce Bennett from the Jones Day law firm was 13 there.

14 Q And they all contributed to the presentation?

15 A Yes.

16 Q What were the highlights of the presentation to the 17 audience, as you recall?

18 A Well, generally, the presentation was designed to sort of 19 take all the parties through a summary of the city's 20 financial and operational condition, operational both health,
21 safety, and welfare, police, fire, EMS, operations,
22 obligations. Then we went through an analysis of more or 23 less the city's various buckets of assets, the bridge, the 24 tunnel, city-owned parking, city-owned land, DWSD, DIA,
25 whatever. I think there were approximately 12 to 15 buckets

1 of assets that we discussed. And then we went through an
2 explanation of how we were going to classify the various
3 creditor cores. Generally the way you do in any 4 restructuring is secured parties are treated in a different
5 way than unsecured parties are. That's just like your -- the 6 mortgage on your house has a different value to a lender as 7 opposed to your credit card as a secured party. And then we 8 concluded by both putting forward a proposal in exchange for 9 downsizing or not paying the unsecured portion of the debt
10 that we would create a note that all the parties in that pool
11 of unsecured, whether it was a creditor or labor or a GO
12 bond, whatever it was, would share in the note. And I think 13 on the last page of the document we set out a timetable for 14 both negotiations, evaluations, and decision-making.

15 Q Did you indicate anything about the city's payment plans
16 with regard to various creditors?

17 A Yes.

18 Q What were they?

19 A Well, we announced that going forward that we would 20 continue to pay our secured debt, the $6 billion or so, at 21 DWSD, but that we were not going to be paying our unsecured
22 debt, and some of the deferrals that had already been made on 23 the year, we would continue with those. And, in fact, that 24 day we were defaulting on our certificate of participation
25 payment.

1 Q And why were you doing that?

2 A We needed the money.

3 Q Now, the title of this document is a proposal for 4 creditors. Why did you call it a proposal?

5 A As we said at the meeting, and we tried to be quite clear
6 both on June 10th and June 14th, we had some difficult
7 decisions that we were going to have to make in a very short
8 time frame; that we wanted to see responses from creditors
9 quickly; that as we spelled out at the back of the document,
10 we were going to be making some decisions based upon those 11 responses. I think I said on June 10th and again on June 12 14th that if we saw proposals coming forward in the nature of 13 term sheets or agreements in principle or something
14 substantive and the like, we might extend our evaluation time
15 frame a little longer beyond the July 15th, July 19th time
16 frame, but if we did not, we were going to be making some 17 very difficult decisions.

18 Q Did you tell the audience that the proposal was not 19 negotiable?

20 A No.

21 Q Now, did you say anything about a reinvestment plan in
22 this document?

23 A Yes. We mentioned the fact that one of the reasons we 24 needed to go through this process quickly was to prepare for 25 a reinvestments plan into the city to deal with the critical

1 issues we had discussed in the proposal, blight remediation,
2 lighting, public safety, health and welfare, so on and so
3 forth, along those lines.

4 Q How much was that reinvestment plan going to cost the
5 city?

6 A Over the ten-year projection -- and the reason we indexed
7 at the ten years is under 436 I'm obligated upon exit to 8 provide a two-year budget and then a ten-year projection, so
9 we indexed it to that period of time. And all-in on average
10 over the ten years, it's $1.25 billion.

11 Q And how much of that was going to be spent on remediating
12 blight?

13 A Almost $500 million in the first five and a half years.
14 I think 50, 2014; 50, 2015; and then a hundred million
15 dollars or so for the next four years.

16 Q How did you, as emergency manager, come to decide on what
17 reinvestments were needed for the city?

18 A Well, it's been apparent for a long period of time, and 19 it's been memorialized in the consent agreement that all
20 parties on behalf of the city and the state agree to and the 21 memorandum of understanding that these priorities were key
22 priorities for the city. It's just that the city had not 23 gotten at them in a meaningful way during that time, but we 24 tracked what had already been agreed to by the city and the 25 state.

1 Q Did any of your advisors focus on that area?

2 A On blight?

3 Q No. On the reinvestments for the city.

4 A Oh, sure. Oh, yeah, absolutely, yeah.

5 Q And who was that?

6 A Oh, all of our advisors in some capacity. I mean Conway
7 MacKenzie had been hired at the end of 2012 to examine the 8 city's operations. They had been doing that before I came on 9 board. Ernst & Young I think had been on board prior in 10 2012. Milliman was doing its analysis based upon information
11 obtained from the pension fund's regular actuary, Gabriel,
12 Roeder, so they were examining obligations in that regard,
13 and Miller Buckfire, which I believe was retained in 2012,
14 began work almost -- I think they had been working informally
15 prior, but they began work in earnest around that time, so 16 all of them participated in some fashion on what we needed to 17 do.

18 Q Do you recall what Conway MacKenzie did with regard to 19 investigating reinvestment needs?

20 A Yes. There's another component in the financial 21 stability agreement is that the financial stability agreement
22 created what's called the FAB, Financial Advisory Board, and 23 they were supervising Conway's insertion of itself in all 24 operations of the city to examine ways to increase the 25 efficiency of the city, which they had been doing.

1 Q Why do you believe this reinvestment is necessary?

2 A Well, I think some of it is apparent. As I said before,
3 if you drive around the city -- this is not the way any major
4 city or any city in America, for that matter, should operate
5 or should look. The blight, while it has been tolerated for 6 a long time, is unacceptable. Our police response rates by 7 any objective measure, whether it's Bureau of Labor
8 Statistics, Department of Justice, BJS, Bureau of Justice
9 Statistics, or whether it's Quizzle on the Internet, show a
10 low level of services. Our violence is apparent. I don't 11 think any serious person -- I've heard no one say that this 12 is the way the city should operate or that the city is not in 13 need in some form of remediation.

14 Q Was the audience allowed to ask questions at this
15 meeting?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Did they?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Did you answer their questions?

20 A Yes.

21 Q All of them?

22 A Yes.

23 Q When you made that quote about the plan being a
24 plebiscite, were you talking about this one, the June 14th
25 proposal?

1 A Absolutely not. Anybody who says that is taking the
2 quote out of context.

3 Q Did you tell the audience that you would not negotiate
4 the proposal?

5 A Absolutely not. We said it was a proposal. We were 6 looking forward to having a series of meetings the next week.
7 We were looking forward to counterproposals or suggestions.
8 Quite frankly, given the fact that the city had been working
9 through two Detroit review teams, three findings of financial 10 distress, financial crisis, until March 1st, 2013, a full-
11 blown financial emergency, all interested parties certainly 12 had opportunity to all of those documents for over two years,
13 to all of the metrics and timetables contained in both the 14 MOU and the consent decree, and what was required in all
15 aspects, both debt and labor. We anticipated that certainly 16 very sophisticated and interested parties that were in that 17 room had already had over two years to consider the condition
18 of the city and would be coming forward to us with proposals.

19 MR. SHUMAKER: Laurie, could you put up page 61 of 20 the summary? Could you blow that up, please?

21 BY MR. SHUMAKER:

22 Q Mr. Orr, do you recognize this slide?

23 A Yes.

24 Q What is it?

25 A This is the page 61, Section 9, of the proposal, whether

1 it's the full deck or the executive summary, and it sets out
2 a timetable, as I said before, for how we're going to handle
3 requests for additional information; that we wanted to have
4 discussions with stakeholders throughout this time,
5 essentially a month; and that we were going to evaluate those
6 discussions following mid-July or so.

7 Q How much time did you say you had?

8 A I said I didn't have any time; that I felt at that point
9 that I was running out of time both under Public Act 436;
10 that my term and the powers that come with the emergency
11 manager expire in September 2014; that some of the work we 12 needed to get at, given that it had been discussed in detail
13 on a number of different documents with specificity -- and I
14 can only guess that it had been published throughout that 15 time quite apparently throughout the city; that anyone paying
16 attention knew that we had been working our way here
17 certainly throughout 2012 and 2011 and that the time had come
18 to make some very difficult decisions, to not delay, and that 19 the regular order of things, whether it was delay, whether it
20 was collective bargaining, whatever it was, that the regular 21 order of things was suspended, and we were in a financial 22 emergency and were going to have to move very quickly.

23 Q At this time, on June 14th, 2013, did you think that the 24 city had to file for Chapter 9?

25 A No.

1 Q Why not?

2 A No. I thought that given the state of affairs in the 3 city, given the amount of publicity surrounding the Financial
4 Advisory Board, the agreements we discussed, the apparent
5 condition of the city -- you know, if you live in a city
6 where the bumpers on your police cars are falling off and 7 every neighborhood, even the good ones, have some level of 8 blight, you cannot possibly reasonably think that something
9 doesn't need to be done, so I thought parties were going to 10 be coming in with a discussion. In addition, we were already 11 in discussions with other parties and had reached an 12 agreement in principle on the swap agreement with Bank of 13 America, Merrill Lynch.

14 Q I want to return to this time frame, but around this 15 time, which is mid-June, you were involved in the city's 16 budgeting process; is that correct?

17 A Yes. The budget is due June 30th. Yes.

18 Q Okay. And this is for the fiscal year budget; correct?

19 A Yes. July 1 through June 30 of each fiscal year.

20 Q Okay. Could you describe for the Court what the process
21 was in coming up with the city's budget?

22 A Sure. There's a budget estimation process. There's a
23 review of all the costs done by -- the city has 44
24 departments. Cost is done by departments, what the revenue
25 is. The budget director and finance director get to go --

1 get together and discuss it, look at possible collections.
2 The City Council then undertakes the mayor's budget. As he
3 puts that together, that's sent to the council. The council
4 makes recommendations and adjustment. The mayor gets to 5 review it. And ultimately under 436 I have to approve or 6 disapprove the budget.

7 Q Okay. So PA 436 requires you to look at the budget after 8 the City Council passes it; is that correct?

9 A Yeah. I don't think -- I don't know if I have to look at 10 it afterwards. I mean I could take it up, but I had 11 delegated to the mayor and the council the authority to 12 operate generally the city in the ordinary course, and that 13 was part of the process.

14 Q Okay. I'd like to show you an exhibit that's in 15 evidence. It's Exhibit 74. Take a look at that first page.
16 And that's your signature, Mr. Orr?

17 A Yes, it is.

18 Q Okay. And what is this document?

19 A This document is the quarterly report that's necessary
20 under 436 to the Treasury.

21 Q And does it include the city's fiscal year 2014 budget?

22 A I believe so, yes, a summary of it, not the entire budget
23 but a summary --

24 Q Right.

25 A -- of the budget, yes.

1 Q Right. I'd like to show you Appendix D of this report.

2 MR. SHUMAKER: Laurie, if you could blow up the
3 first three sentences maybe up at the top?

4 BY MR. SHUMAKER:

5 Q And is this what you were describing, Mr. Orr, about the
6 process?

7 A Yes, more or less. I mean we summarized it here, but I
8 have an obligation to approve the budget. The budget is 9 apprised -- comprised of input from the City Council as well
10 as their review of the mayor's cut and that to reconcile
11 those figures with new ten-year projections under our 12 projections and that this is the budget we're going to adopt.

13 Q Okay. If I could direct your attention to the middle of 14 that page with the revenues. Obviously we know what the 15 revenues are, but what were the total revenues at that point 16 in time?

17 A Well, the total revenues, if you look at the general fund
18 amount, are 988 million. If you include other funds, the 19 total goes down in the bottom right-hand corner about 2.4
20 billion.

21 Q How about below that, the expenditures? Could you
22 summarize that for us?

23 A Yes, yeah. Under the general fund it shows there are 24 expenditures of about $380 million above revenues in the 25 general fund.

1 Q Below there on the line under -- well, it says "total
2 expenditures before concessions."

3 A Yes.

4 Q What -- and then concessions below that of 379; is that
5 correct?

6 A Yes.

7 Q What are concessions?

8 A Well, concessions can mean both agreed to or unilaterally
9 imposed adjustments to obligations, things you're supposed to 10 pay.

11 Q And when you made the reference to concessions, what did
12 that -- what did that mean?

13 A That meant both payments perhaps to -- for deferred
14 obligations -- we knew we weren't paying a hundred million
15 that year to the pension funds -- payments to creditors that 16 we may not make, generally concessions we needed in that 17 amount in order to balance the budget, the 988 over and above
18 the 1.367.

19 Q Those are the payments that the city wouldn't be able to 20 make in fiscal year 2014?

21 A Those are payments that the city would not be able to 22 make as well as borrowings that the city was not going to 23 engage in again.

24 Q Are you aware of any payments that the city has not been 25 able to make in fiscal year 2014?

1 A Yes.

2 Q What are those?

3 A Oh, they're payments to trade creditors. We are still 4 behind on our payments, for instance, to parts supplies that 5 we have not made in several millions of dollars. There are 6 creditors that we have not paid in connection with supply
7 contracts, some of them in connection with the new police
8 station, for instance. There are a number of different
9 payments we have not made this year.

10 Q Let me return to --

11 MR. SHUMAKER: You can take that down, Laurie.

12 BY MR. SHUMAKER:

13 Q Let me return to the time frame after -- immediately
14 after the June 14th creditors' meeting, if you will.

15 A Yes.

16 Q At that meeting, I believe you indicated that one of the 17 topics discussed was the city's cash situation; correct?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Is one of the sources of the city's revenues or cash
20 referred to as the casino revenues?

21 A Yes. Casino and developer fees, casino revenue and 22 developer fees.

23 Q Now, what are the casino revenues as you understand them
24 to be?

25 A There are three casinos in the city, and in consideration

1 for some time ago passing legislation for the casinos, they
2 remit to us a portion of a tax that comes into the city in
3 the sum of approximately $180 million a year total. A
4 portion of that is used to pay certain creditors, and then a
5 portion of that comes back to the city.

6 Q Is that an important revenue source for the city?

7 A That is probably -- yes, and it's probably the most
8 stable source of revenue for the city.

9 Q Now, are those casino revenues freely available to the 10 city? Are there any restrictions on the casino revenues?

11 A In 2009 the city entered into a collateral pledge because 12 it was in default under the swap agreement. That collateral
13 pledge gave a security interest to the swap counterparties.
14 Under that collateral pledge, those counterparties, upon an 15 event of default, had the option to execute on the totality
16 of those payments, so they were not freely available to the 17 city until we entered into the Bank of America, Merrill Lynch
18 forbearance and optional termination agreement, which I
19 believe we announced in principle on June 14th.

20 Q Okay. Let me ask you, you referred to swap
21 counterparties.

22 A Yes.

23 Q Who were the swap counterparties?

24 A Bank of America, Merrill Lynch, and then U.S. Bank as 25 trustee generally.

1 Q So there was some restriction in the ability of the city
2 to get those revenues directly from the casinos?

3 A Yes. There was a mechanism by which the revenue was 4 paid. I think the revenue is paid on a daily basis, about
5 $500 million, into a holdback account. Then there's another
6 distribution account when it reaches a certain level that
7 that money is then -- about 4.2 million a month is then taken
8 away and put into another account for the counterparties, and 9 then every quarter that money, roughly a million or so, is 10 then paid over to the counterparties.

11 Q I think you said 500 million a day.

12 A 500,000 a day, roughly --

13 Q Okay.

14 A -- somewhere in that --

15 Q I wish it would be 500 million.

16 A I wish it were 500 million a day.

17 Q So -- and this arrangement, does it have a name, a
18 commonly referred to name?

19 A You mean the holdback account --

20 Q Yeah, the holdback account.

21 A -- or the swap? It's generally called a swap.

22 Q Have you heard of the phrase "lockbox arrangement"?

23 A Sure, yeah. That's a common term in financing, holdback
24 account, lockbox, and the like.

25 Q After the June 14th meeting, did anything happen with

1 regard to the casino revenues?

2 A Yes.

3 Q What was that?

4 A On the following Monday, one of the parties that was a
5 monoline insurer -- that is, insurer for some of these 6 obligations -- called Syncora claimed that they had an
7 interest in the swap agreement, which we very strongly
8 disputed, and sent a letter to counterparties alleging that 9 their interest prohibited them from performing on the 10 agreement in principle that we had announced on Friday, the
11 14th.

12 Q So they sent a letter to UBS and Bank of America, Merrill
13 Lynch?

14 A I think it was U.S. Bank --

15 Q Okay.

16 A -- and Bank of America, Merrill Lynch.

17 Q Okay. U.S. Bank, was U.S. Bank a swap counterparty, or 18 were they something else?

19 A They were like a trustee.

20 Q A trustee. Okay.

21 A Yeah. They were a trustee for the counterparties.

22 Q So you had the swap counterparties, which are UBS and --

23 A And Merrill Lynch.

24 Q -- Merrill Lynch?

25 A Then you have U.S. Bank, which is a trustee.

1 Q Okay.

2 A Um-hmm.

3 Q And why would they send a letter to U.S. Bank?

4 A Well, we didn't know. We interpreted them -- our 5 understanding was they had made a payment based upon our
6 default under the certificate of participation as an insurer
7 for the COPs, which is a separate structure. Under the 8 swaps, which they did not have an agreement in the collateral
9 pledge agreement, it appeared to us that they were trying to 10 assert some interest under the swaps to bolster their 11 position under the COPs. We thought that was inappropriate
12 and unfounded.

13 Q What did U.S. Bank do in response to the letter it
14 received from Syncora?

15 A Understandably, as a trustee, U.S. Bank more or less
16 froze, and they froze the account.

17 Q What did that freezing of the account mean for the city?

18 A Well, it actually meant the city was in worse condition
19 than it was on June 14th because not only were we getting 20 that -- not getting that portion of the revenue,
21 approximately $132 million that should come to us in the 22 course of a year, but we weren't getting the benefits of the 23 swap agreement that we had reached with them just that 24 Friday.

25 Q Had you been counting on the money, the casino revenues?

1 A Yes, absolutely.

2 Q What did you do in response to Syncora's actions?

3 A I think I instructed our legal team to reach out to them.
4 There was a letter. I think I wrote -- there was a series of
5 letter exchanges over the next couple of weeks. I think I
6 wrote back saying your position is unfounded to a -- to one
7 of the principals, I think a Mr. LeBlanc at Syncora. I think
8 he then wrote back to me, and this went on for about two
9 weeks, and then I wrote another letter or two back to him,
10 but there were a series of what we used to call nastygrams
11 going back and forth about the parties' respective interest
12 and how we felt they were unfounded and how they felt that 13 they had a right to assert them.

14 Q Were you asking Syncora to change its position?

15 A Yes. We were very -- we were telling Syncora they did
16 not have a position, that they were causing damage to the 17 city, and they needed to cease and desist immediately.

18 Q Did your letters or meetings with Syncora work?

19 A No.

20 Q What was the next step that you took --

21 A Well --

22 Q -- with regard to the casino revenues?

23 A Well, we were relying on the casino revenue strongly to 24 relieve the cash flow pressures that we were under from March
25 to June because we -- mid-June we were going flow pretty

1 skinny cash flow negative. They refused apparently to reach
2 some sort of accommodation. We told them if they didn't, we
3 would have to pursue our legal remedies, and I think in this 4 time frame we were also going through the discussion with the 5 counterparties, certainly in the next week -- we spent that
6 following week, the 17th through the 22nd -- 17th, 18th,
7 19th, 20th, 21st, 22nd -- yeah -- 17th through the 22nd
8 having plenary meetings with a number of interested parties.
9 We were writing these letters to Syncora. After several 10 weeks of this, we eventually decided that we were going to 11 have to sue them to stop, get a preliminary injunction -- or 12 TRO, temporary restraining order.

13 Q Was what Syncora was doing affecting your negotiations
14 with the swap counterparties --

15 A Yes.

16 Q -- the agreement you were talking about?

17 A Yes. It interfered with those negotiations quite 18 severely.

19 Q So you decided to pursue legal action?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And when you say "legal action," what do you -- what do
22 you mean?

23 A Well, after discussion with our team, we decided to sue
24 Syncora.

25 Q Okay. And how did you go about doing that?

1 A We filed a complaint for a temporary restraining order in
2 early July, July 5th, I believe.

3 Q Were you successful in obtaining the TRO?

4 A Yes, we were.

5 Q And what did that mean for the city?

6 A Well, that mean that Syncora had to cease and desist from 7 interfering with the settlement agreement we had reached with 8 Bank of America and Merrill Lynch and UBS; that the casino
9 revenue begin to flow again so we had some relief from the 10 financial pressures that we were feeling in terms of cash
11 flow and that we could refocus quite clearly with that relief
12 on trying to reach some agreements with other parties.

13 Q If the city hadn't gotten that TRO, what would it have 14 meant to the city?

15 A It would have been pretty catastrophic. Without the 16 casino revenue, even our projections for cash flow would not 17 have flowed. We would have been short, in addition to the 18 money we saw -- we lost on that blue graph that we discussed
19 on the June 10th presentation, we have lost another $132
20 million a year, which would have put the city in dire
21 straits. You could not cut enough city services to make up
22 for that difference. We couldn't go back to the financial 23 markets because we had exposed the true state of the city
24 affairs, and any lending at that time perceivably without 25 this revenue stream would have been very high. It would have

1 been very dire.

2 Q And you got this TRO on July 5th, you said?

3 A I believe it was July 5th.

4 Q Do you know how long a TRO typically lasts?

5 A In federal court it can last for a period of time, but I
6 think this was in state court, and it had a 14-day life, I
7 believe.

8 Q Mr. Orr, while you were dealing with the Syncora
9 situation after the June 14th meeting, were there subsequent 10 meetings between representatives of the city and its
11 creditors?

12 A Yes, throughout that week, the following week.

13 Q I'd like to show you Exhibit 104, which has been admitted
14 for demonstrative purposes. Do you see that, Mr. Orr?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And you see June 14th over on the left side of that 17 document?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Could you walk us through any meetings that you
20 participated in during this time period?

21 A Yes. I was at the June 10th meeting on the bottom, June
22 14th meeting, June 20th meeting. I believe -- I think at one
23 other meeting or one other one-off meeting at some point the 24 week after that, which would have been July 25th or so,
25 thereabouts.

1 Q Or June 25th?

2 A Yeah. June. I'm sorry. June 25th.

3 Q Now, at these meetings, Mr. Orr, what did you tell those 4 who came to them?

5 A I think at the June 20th meeting it was the afternoon
6 session that I attended. I told them that we were -- same
7 thing I said at June 14th essentially. We were working hard
8 to try to get some concessions; that we were fighting very 9 hard from a concession that we had obtained from Bank of 10 America, Merrill Lynch; that we were looking -- we thought
11 that that settlement as well as our willingness to default on 12 the COPs payment would have told all interested parties that 13 we were serious about trying to get some negotiations done
14 fairly quickly; that we were working on a very tight time
15 frame; and that we meant what we said in our June 14th
16 proposal for creditors; that that was the time frame we were 17 going to stick to.

18 Q Let me focus your attention on the meeting on June 20th
19 with the nonuniformed union and retiree representatives.

20 A Um-hmm.

21 Q At that meeting, did you tell them that you would not
22 negotiate with them?

23 A No. What I said was that we would not waive our rights
24 under 436; that collective bargaining was suspended for five
25 years under the statute, but that as long as everybody

1 understood we weren't engaging in collective bargaining, we'd
2 be willing to have discussions and other negotiations short
3 of calling it collective bargaining.

4 Q Did you tell the meeting participants in the afternoon
5 session with the uniformed union and retiree representatives
6 the same thing?

7 A Yes.

8 Q How about the meeting on June 25th with the nonunion
9 creditors and representatives from the Retirement System?

10 A You know, I don't -- I'm trying to see if I meant at that 11 meeting or if I had a separate one-off, but I think either
12 way I was trying to tell everyone that we were meeting with 13 the same message. We want to have discussions. We want to 14 have proposals. We want to have negotiations, but we are not 15 waiving our rights under the statute.

16 Q Did you tell the meeting participants that you -- the 17 city would not accept proposals or counterproposals to what 18 you had exhibited at the June 14th meeting?

19 A No. If anything, we kept telling people that we would 20 accept counterproposals and we were looking for them.

21 Q Now, you didn't go to all the meetings; correct?

22 A No, I did not.

23 Q How did you stay informed as to what was happening at 24 those meetings?

25 A My team kept me regularly informed. Typically either

1 during or after -- immediately after those meetings, they
2 would stop by my office. We would have daily telephone
3 calls. We have a number of standing calls called work in 4 progress calls beginning of the week. At the end of the week
5 we have team calls. During the middle of the week we have 6 various operational calls and other calls with all the 7 consultants. We have regular meetings and calls on a daily
8 basis. In addition, lead counsel, David Heiman, as well as 9 our investment banker, Ken Buckfire, speak to me essentially
10 almost daily, maybe Ken not as much daily, but David
11 certainly does on a regular basis. And any particular
12 taskforce like the pension taskforce with Evan Miller, Jones
13 Day, or Conway MacKenzie through Chuck Moore or Ernst & Young
14 or any of their other partners would meet with me daily.

15 Q Do you think that any important developments at those 16 meetings would have been reported to you?

17 A Without a doubt.

18 Q What was -- who was your team of -- who was the team that 19 you had that went to the meetings you did not attend?

20 A Well, we had various teams for different obligations.
21 For instance, on labor, we had a team headed up by Jones Day
22 attorneys on pension and benefits. We had a team with Jones
23 Day's attorneys, Conway MacKenzie, Ernst & Young on debt. We 24 had a team with various attorneys as well as our investment
25 bankers. Each sort of group between debt, labor, benefits,

1 employees would have members assigned to it who would attend
2 those meetings, have follow-up calls, exchange e-mails, come
3 back and forth with proposals. There were a number of 4 letters that were exchanged which would routinely be shared
5 with me.

6 Q Did you tell any of the members of your team not to 7 negotiate with those who came to the meetings?

8 A Absolutely not. What I said is if there any serious
9 proposals, I'm a phone call away. Typically what would 10 happen, they would relay those proposals to me, and we'd make 11 a consensual decision about how to respond or whether or not
12 they were proposals that we thought were moving us forward,
13 but, no, I was involved at every stage of that process.

14 Q Did you participate in these meetings in good faith?

15 A Yes, absolutely.

16 Q Do you believe your team did?

17 A Yes, I do.

18 Q Aside from the meetings that are set forth on Exhibit
19 104, were there other contacts with the city's creditors --

20 A Yes.

21 Q -- that you had?

22 A Yes.

23 Q What kinds of contacts?

24 A Various parties would routinely stop by my office, ask
25 for meetings, either drop by when they were in other meetings

1 or we'd have set-up meetings. To this day, I routinely meet
2 with various interested groups on behalf of the city. I
3 don't think there's a point at which I have turned down a
4 request for a meeting. Maybe if I'm busy, not immediately at 5 that moment, but I generally will try to make myself
6 available for any reasonable request for a meeting.

7 Q You believe you were available during this time?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Did any creditors submit proposals or counterproposals to 10 you after the June 14th meeting and before July 18th?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Who did?

13 A I think a group of creditors led by Ambac, I believe,
14 submitted a proposal, and then there was another sort of 15 proposal, a single-page letter that was admitted --
16 submitted.

17 Q Let me show you Exhibit 102 and ask you, if you could, to 18 identify it for the Court.

19 A I believe this was a letter that was submitted by Ambac
20 and NPF, National Public Finance Guarantee Corporation.

21 Q And it was a proposal made to you after the June 14th
22 meeting?

23 A Yes. I believe it was made roughly on the day that's 24 referenced, July 15th, Monday, July 15th.

25 Q Okay. Aside from this proposal and the other one that

1 you referenced, did you receive any proposals between June
2 14th and July 18th from the unions?

3 A Nothing I would call a proposal. I think there was 4 reference to -- may have been reference to a letter that
5 requested collective bargaining but not a proposal.

6 Q How about the bondholders?

7 A No.

8 Q The retirees?

9 A No.

10 Q Pension funds?

11 A No.

12 Q Any other stakeholders?

13 A No.

14 Q At some point after the June 14th meeting, did you
15 authorize your team to start preparing for a Chapter 9
16 filing?

17 A Yes.

18 Q When did you do that?

19 (Phone interruption at 10:24 a.m.)

20 THE COURT: I guess we have to pause our proceedings
21 for a second to address this. Okay. Hold on one second.
22 Letrice -- we're going to just pause in place here for a
23 moment while we get the phone working again.

24 MR. SHUMAKER: Your Honor, this is somewhat of a
25 breaking point if you would like to, or --

1 THE COURT: Ah, let's talk about that. Okay. Just
2 let me know when you're ready again, Letrice. Okay. On the 3 issue of a break, because of our commitment to hear the 4 governor's testimony beginning at one, it was my intent to 5 call for lunch at 11:30 since the vote was to have an hour-
6 and-a-half lunch, so in light of that, it was my intent to 7 just plow ahead until 11:30.

8 MR. SHUMAKER: Fine. That's wonderful.

9 THE COURT: Okay. And you may proceed.

10 MR. SHUMAKER: Thank you, your Honor.

11 BY MR. SHUMAKER:

12 Q Mr. Orr, I forget the question.

13 A Okay.

14 Q You indicated that at some point after the June 14th
15 meeting you authorized your team to start preparing a
16 potential Chapter 9 filing. I believe I'd asked you when you
17 thought that occurred.

18 A I think approximately late June, early July.

19 Q Okay.

20 A Maybe -- yeah, yeah.

21 Q Well, why did you need to start planning for a Chapter 9
22 filing at that point at the same time you were negotiating?

23 A It's basically contingency plan filing. I mean, you
24 know, pray for peace, prepare for war. Any prudent person
25 always prepares for the contingency that what you hope for

1 doesn't occur. To do so -- not do so would be irresponsible.

2 Q Do you believe these preparations for a possible Chapter
3 9 filing affected your ability to negotiate in good faith?

4 A Absolutely not.

5 Q How about your team?

6 A Absolutely not. We were willing to accept any agreement
7 that came over the transom.

8 Q About this time -- I'm talking now July -- July 5th was 9 the TRO.

10 A Yes.

11 Q And the negotiations that were on Exhibit 104 were -- the 12 meetings that were taking place were going on. Did you
13 become aware of any lawsuits filed around that time regarding 14 the emergency manager statute?

15 A Yeah. There had been filed prior to this whole time
16 frame lawsuits seeking to invalidate the statute. We were in 17 a running gun battle with Syncora with the exchange of 18 correspondence. We were trying to negotiate with a number of 19 parties, I think 48 or so, 49 bargaining units, 44 or so bond
20 issuers, 9 bond insurers. And also I believe that week, the 21 first week of July, just before the July 4th holiday -- I
22 think it was July 3rd -- two lawsuits -- two or three were 23 filed against us, not against me personally at that time. I
24 think they were filed against the state, the governor, and 25 the treasurer, the Flowers and Webster's lawsuits, and then

1 we went to court. July 4th, I think, was a Thursday, and
2 then we went to court to enjoin Syncora on the 5th, which I
3 believe was a Friday.

4 Q Okay. So you believe that the Flowers and the Webster
5 lawsuits were filed on July 3rd?

6 A Yes, I believe so.

7 Q Okay. What was your understanding of what these suits
8 were alleging?

9 A There had been a lot of discussion prior to filing the 10 suits as to whether or not the constitutional requirements of 11 the Michigan state Constitution prohibited the adjustment of 12 vested pension rights, and I thought these lawsuits were 13 seeking to prohibit a Chapter 9 filing if it would include
14 adjusting vested pension rights.

15 Q How did the filing of these lawsuits affect you in your 16 role as emergency manager?

17 A They initially didn't really concern me. I assumed that 18 parties were pursuing their legal rights. We were trying to 19 negotiate. Frankly, I ignored them when they were initially
20 filed and continued to try to reach some sort of negotiated
21 solution with our interested parties and labor partners.

22 Q Did they tell you anything about the negotiations?

23 A Well, they suggested to me that parties were pursuing a
24 litigation role or option as opposed to a sincere good faith
25 negotiation option when we had already said that time was

1 running out. We were coming to the end of our 30 days; that
2 they thought for whatever reason it was in their best
3 interest to pursue litigation as opposed to coming --
4 proposing some sort of agreement.

5 Q Did this concern you?

6 A Yes. It wasn't -- it certainly wasn't showing of a
7 willingness to enter into some sort of concessions or 8 agreements. It said they wanted to sue.

9 Q Now, there was another lawsuit filed after the Flowers
10 and Webster lawsuits; correct?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And when was that?

13 A I think that was the following week.

14 Q How did these lawsuits affect your negotiating posture?

15 A Well, from our perspective, we continued to say that we 16 would negotiate even in the sort of litigious -- what I mean,
17 we had been in a situation of opposition and some level of 18 conflict from the beginning. We expected that, and that 19 wasn't going to change our willingness to try to reach some 20 sort of agreement. In fact, even in the face of litigation
21 and some very contentious negotiations and statements, we 22 continued to try to move forward.

23 Q Now, you indicated that in the Flowers and Webster
24 lawsuits the governor and the treasurer were named as 25 defendants.

1 A Yes.

2 Q In the pension fund lawsuit that you referenced --

3 A Yes.

4 Q -- on July 15th --

5 A Yes.

6 Q -- were those the same defendants?

7 A No. In the pension lawsuit, GRS, I believe, sued me
8 along with some other parties, and they named me and the 9 governor, I believe.

10 Q Did you continue to meet with the pension funds after 11 they sued you?

12 A Yeah. We continue to meet with them now. We'll continue
13 to meet with them, yes.

14 Q Did these lawsuits affect your decision to seek the 15 governor's authorization to file for Chapter 9 bankruptcy?

16 A Yes, to some degree. It appeared --

17 Q How so?

18 A Well, between the Syncora litigation, that injunction was 19 only going to last for two weeks, I believe, through the 19th
20 or so, Friday, the 19th, I think it was -- the Webster and 21 Flowers litigation suggested to me that an agreement was not
22 going to be forthcoming. There was a lot of publicity
23 regarding those lawsuits and what I viewed to be chest
24 thumping, people saying what they were going to do and they 25 weren't going to make any movement until we agreed as a

1 condition -- it appeared to be as a condition to going
2 forward that we had to observe these sort of philosophical
3 differences, these sort of philosophical positions that you
4 couldn't touch vested pension rights. There was a lot of 5 discussion in the general obligation bond community that
6 unless we agreed to observe the implied full faith and credit
7 of the city beyond our GO bond debt, that they weren't going
8 to make any concessions. We had tried to tell them we could 9 not comply with the $12 billion of unfunded -- unsecured
10 liability, and the situation seemed to be growing more and 11 more precarious and somewhat out of control.

12 Q Let me show you Exhibit 28, which is in evidence.

13 Mr. Orr, do you recognize this document?

14 A Yes, I do.

15 Q And what is it?

16 A This is my recommendation to the governor, copying the 17 treasurer, that I be given authority to file Chapter 9.

18 Q And it's dated as of July 16th; is that correct?

19 A Yes, it is. I believe that was a Tuesday.

20 Q Why did you send the governor this letter on that date?

21 A Well, as I said, I believe at that time there was a
22 mounting level of conflict. There were a number of pieces of 23 litigation going on. There were a number of what appeared to 24 be conditions all parties were setting before we'd have 25 discussions that we'd have to agree to. I was running out of

1 time. I meant what I said on June 14th that we were going to
2 have to go through an evaluation period, and that was coming
3 to a close. We hadn't received any real counterproposals
4 from any parties. The only one actually we received in 5 writing was from Ambac Assured and National Public Finance.
6 We hadn't received any from the other parties, and time was
7 running out that we said we'd have to do an evaluation, and I
8 wanted to get the authority in hand to file Chapter 9 if we 9 weren't receiving any proposals.

10 Q And is that what you told the governor in this letter?

11 A Yes. I told him about the condition of the city, the 12 budget deficits, the growing liabilities, the ongoing
13 financial emergency that he had declared now back in March, I
14 believe March 1, 2013. We discussed our meeting with 15 creditors and why there were certain barriers to reaching 16 agreement and that it was time to make a decision.

17 Q Why did you recommend Chapter 9 bankruptcy for the city
18 at this time?

19 A Well, it seemed to me that after going through a series
20 of negotiations in the time frame that we said we would,
21 after standing by and suffering a number of different
22 lawsuits aimed at denuding us of the authority to make 23 decisions under 436, after parties taking strong
24 philosophical positions about what they would or wouldn't do
25 based upon our position; that I had made a pledge of the time

1 I was going to keep open; that nobody was coming forward --
2 and I said it was approximate within that time frame -- and
3 that I was running out of time. We had said for some of the 4 things that we needed to accomplish we had to make some
5 decisions, and, furthermore, given the amount of litigation,
6 it was clear to me that there was going to be no other way to 7 pursue a comprehensive and orderly resolution of the city's
8 problems in an expeditious way.

9 Q On July 16th when you sent this letter, were you aware of 10 any hearings in the Flowers or Webster or pension fund
11 lawsuits that were upcoming?

12 A There were hearings that were scheduled at that time for 13 the 22nd, I believe, the following week.

14 Q Were you aware of any other hearings on July 16th?

15 A Not on July 16th.

16 Q How long between concluding that bankruptcy was 17 appropriate and sending this letter to Governor Snyder?

18 A Well, I think I reached the final conclusion the prior 19 week, so drafts of the letter were probably prepared over the 20 weekend and that Monday, and when I sent it, I was prepared
21 to file.

22 Q Prior to sending this letter to the governor, did you
23 have any agreement with the governor regarding what his 24 response might be?

25 A No.

1 Q Did the governor respond to this letter?

2 A Yes.

3 Q I show you Exhibit 29, please. Do you recognize this 4 document, Mr. Orr?

5 A Yes, I do.

6 Q It's in evidence. Could you give an overview of what the 7 governor told you in this letter?

8 A The governor said that he had reviewed my recommendation;
9 that he looked at the obligation of the city first and 10 foremost to provide basic needs, basic obligations to its 11 citizens, which were not being met; that it could not meet
12 its basic obligations to creditors; that its failure to meet
13 these obligations prohibited it from providing basic needs to 14 the citizens and to its creditors; and that the only
15 reasonable path to resolving this would be the filing of a
16 bankruptcy.

17 Q And did he authorize you to file for a Chapter 9 --

18 A Yes.

19 Q -- bankruptcy?

20 A Yes, he did.

21 Q When on July 18th -- that's the date you received this 22 letter; correct?

23 A Yes, it is.

24 Q When on July 18th did you receive this letter?

25 A I believe I received this letter late morning, maybe

1 early afternoon.

2 Q How did you receive it?

3 A I think someone on my staff brought it to me at first.

4 Q Hard copy?

5 A Yeah. I think it was either e-mail or fax, yeah.

6 Q What did you do upon receiving this letter?

7 A I called the attorneys and instructed them to prepare to 8 file the bankruptcy case.

9 Q Why do you believe this Chapter 9 filing was in the best
10 interest of the citizens of Detroit?

11 A I believe that the city had been dealing with the issues,
12 as I said before, both on the creditors' side and some of its 13 city operations and work rules for a long time. I believe
14 that they had been agreed -- the city and the state and then
15 the city officers and the state had agreed over a long period
16 of time to resolve some of these issues. They had spelled
17 them out in detail; that for whatever reason they were not 18 being addressed in a timely fashion; that there are a number
19 of efforts and safeguards that the parties had agreed to to 20 redouble those efforts in specificity in the financial 21 stability agreement, Detroit Reform 1 and Detroit Reform 2;
22 that they failed to meet those obligations, so they started
23 to put milestones in place to try to achieve those 24 obligations. Those were not met; that the city had gone
25 through between 2012 and 2013 essentially three different

1 reviews that had all gone from financial distress to
2 financial crisis to financial emergency; that upon my
3 appointment we were trying to look at some of those very same
4 issues. We had specified to people that given this length of 5 time that those issues had been discussed, that after our
6 June 14th presentation we were going to take a certain period
7 of time to do evaluation for counterproposals, which we
8 thought were forthcoming; that they were not forthcoming;
9 that we were running out of time both in terms of what was 10 required in the statute and any reasonable period of time to 11 get through a bankruptcy filing; that I had to make a 12 difficult decision to try to resolve these issues once and 13 for all in a comprehensive and orderly way under the guise of 14 federal law so that they could be all resolved finally and 15 the city could move forward to deal with some of the 16 amazingly necessary reforms that have been agreed to by 17 everyone in the city for two years.

18 Q Do you still believe that this bankruptcy filing is in 19 the best interest of the citizens of Detroit?

20 A Yes.

21 Q If the city isn't eligible for Chapter 9, what's next?

22 A If the city isn't eligible for Chapter 9, there's either
23 free-fall crisis -- I mean this city -- and I'm certainly --
24 the people that live here have seen this. This city for ten
25 years, from 2000 to 2010, lost a city the size of Romulus or

1 Wyandotte every year, 24,000 people on average. That is
2 free-fall flight out of the city. The services have degraded
3 to a point that they are severely substandard, and they are 4 apparent. To put the city either back in the status quo,
5 which is clearly unacceptable -- and nobody of any serious
6 note disagrees with that. No one says that we should go back
7 to the way it is. No one says that our ability to meet our 8 creditors should continue to be deferred or we should borrow
9 more debt upon debt that for ten years averaged over a
10 hundred million dollars deficit; that we have $1.4 billion
11 that was supposed to resolve our pension obligations in 2005
12 and 2006. No one says that's an adequate way to proceed. If 13 we do not go through Chapter 9, this city --

14 MR. DECHIARA: Objection, your Honor.

15 THE WITNESS: -- will continue to fail.

16 MR. DECHIARA: I would just object.

17 THE COURT: What is your objection, sir?

18 MR. DECHIARA: Speculation. He's speculating about
19 events that are counterfactual and about the future.

20 THE COURT: The objection is overruled.

21 MR. SHUMAKER: Thank you, Mr. Orr. That's all I
22 have.

23 THE WITNESS: Yes, sir.

24 THE COURT: All right. Cross-examination. Okay.

25 MR. ULLMAN: Your Honor, may I tilt the lectern so

1 I'm more facing the witness?

2 CROSS-EXAMINATION

3 BY MR. ULLMAN:

4 Q Good morning, Mr. Orr.

5 A Good morning, Mr. Ullman.

6 Q Now, we've met before, haven't we?

7 A Yes. Yes, we have, several times.

8 Q Twice, I think. I'm going to -- just preliminarily let 9 me ask you a few questions. Now, apart from a college
10 degree, do you have any degree other than a law degree?

11 A No.

12 Q You're not a CPA?

13 A No.

14 Q You're not an actuary?

15 A No.

16 Q Okay. I believe you testified that you've been with 17 Jones Day since 2001; is that right?

18 A 2001 until March 15th, 2013.

19 Q Okay. So you were --

20 THE COURT: Excuse me. Would you point the 21 microphone more towards you?

22 MR. ULLMAN: Is this better?

23 THE COURT: Yes.

24 MR. ULLMAN: Sorry.

25 THE COURT: Thank you, sir.

1 MR. ULLMAN: Okay.

2 BY MR. ULLMAN:

3 Q So you were a practicing attorney at Jones Day for about
4 12 years prior to becoming the emergency manager; is that
5 right?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And I think you indicated you were primarily in the 8 bankruptcy and restructuring group?

9 A Yes, litigation at first and then bankruptcy and
10 restructuring.

11 Q Right. Now, you also mentioned that you'd been at the 12 U.S. Trustee's Office; is that right?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And that was from around 1995 through 2001, if I recall?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Okay. And while you were there, did you ever serve as an 17 actual trustee in a bankruptcy case?

18 A No.

19 Q And prior to the U.S. Trustee's Office, I believe you
20 indicated you were at the RTC?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Okay. And that would have been from about '92 to '95 if 23 I got the dateline right?

24 A Yeah. We originally came in as attorneys at FDIC. We 25 were then assigned to RTC. RTC then got authority to hire

1 its own attorneys, and I became an attorney at the RTC
2 proper.

3 Q Okay. So that's the general time frame, '92 to '95, that
4 you were there?

5 A Yes. '91 through '95.

6 Q Okay. And I believe you mentioned that while you were at 7 the RTC you served as the chief legal officer for a savings
8 and loan company that had a sub-subsubsidiary or holding company
9 called Landmark Land?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And you indicated that you ended up being responsible for 12 the disposition of the assets of that company?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Okay. And those, I think you said, were golf courses and 15 country clubs?

16 A There were a number -- golf courses, country clubs,
17 vacant land, financial assets, yes, number of assets.

18 Q Okay. And the golf courses and country clubs, of course,
19 are relatively high-value assets or --

20 A Yeah. They were at the time.

21 Q And that was all around 18 years ago; is that right?

22 A Whatever the math works out to, Mr. Ullman.

23 Q Okay. I think that's it.

24 A Um-hmm.

25 Q And is it correct that prior to becoming the emergency

1 manager, you never ran a city?

2 A No. Most governors haven't --

3 Q Okay.

4 A -- nor mayors.

5 Q Okay. And prior to becoming emergency manager, you never 6 had responsibility for budgeting all of the various 7 departments that are involved in running a city or a state;
8 is that right?

9 A That is correct.

10 Q And you've never been employed by a corporation, have 11 you, putting aside governmental like the RTC, in a private 12 company?

13 A Well, there were times in college jobs that I was 14 employed by corporations, but do you mean --

15 Q Well, after.

16 A -- during my professional career?

17 Q Yeah, in your professional career.

18 A I've been an attorney, then in government, and then an 19 attorney again, yes.

20 Q Okay. And is it fair to say that other than being a 21 bankruptcy and restructuring attorney, you have no particular
22 expertise in finance?

23 A Well, I've been either a litigator or a regulator, a
24 banking regulator, at FDIC, RTC, or an investigator when I
25 handled the Whitewater investigation on behalf of the RTC for

1 six years. Whatever that amounts to is what it amounts to.

2 Q Okay.

3 A But are you saying do I have any particularized degrees
4 or certifications?

5 Q I'm asking if you could answer my question, Mr. Orr,
6 because --

7 A Sure.

8 Q -- I really don't believe you did, and it was -- the 9 question was simply whether it's fair to say that other than 10 being a bankruptcy and restructuring attorney, you have no
11 particular expertise in finance?

12 A That's a broad question, but I'll grant you this. That's 13 what I've been throughout the balance of my career.

14 THE COURT: Excuse me one second. I need you to 15 move back from the microphone just a bit.

16 MR. ULLMAN: Okay.

17 THE COURT: Maybe not that much.

18 MR. ULLMAN: Okay.

19 THE COURT: Go ahead.

20 BY MR. ULLMAN:

21 Q Okay. So is the simple answer to my question "yes," that 22 what I said is true? That would be a fair statement?

23 A If that's your characterization -- and I don't mean to 24 joust with you, Mr. Ullman, but I think that accomplishes a
25 number of things, but to move forward, I'll say your question

1 a fair representation.

2 Q Thank you. Let's go back to your time at Jones Day.

3 Now, you indicated you were there as of 2012. Yes?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Okay. And Jones Day, of course, is the restructuring and 6 bankruptcy counsel to the city, of course; right?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And we know that Jones Day got that work following a
9 pitch that it made to various representatives of the city and 10 the State of Michigan in January 2013; is that right?

11 A That is correct.

12 Q And you were part of the Jones Day pitch team at that
13 time?

14 A Yes, I was.

15 Q And is it correct that one of the things that Jones Day
16 was pitching at that meeting, at that presentation was its 17 expertise and experience in municipal bankruptcy work?

18 A I think that's a fair statement.

19 Q And Jones Day prepared a pitch book, did it not?

20 A Yes, we did.

21 MR. ULLMAN: Can we put Exhibit 418 on the screen,
22 which is the common exhibit 418?

23 BY MR. ULLMAN:

24 Q And what we have here is the cover of that pitch book;
25 correct?

1 A I believe so.

2 Q And you were engaged in -- or you participated and took
3 part in the preparation of this pitch book; right?

4 A Yes, to some degree.

5 Q And among other things, this pitch book laid out Jones
6 Day's thoughts and insights on subjects, including municipal 7 bankruptcy; is that right?

8 A Yes, I believe so.

9 Q Okay. And it also addressed issues relating to the 10 appointment of an emergency manager; is that true?

11 A Yes, I believe it did.

12 Q Okay. And is it correct that the thoughts and insights
13 prepared by the Jones Day pitch team and addressed in this
14 pitch book included the possibility of a Chapter 9 bankruptcy
15 filing made by the emergency manager?

16 A Yes, I believe it did.

17 Q Okay. And is it also the case that the Jones Day
18 thoughts and insights specifically included using the 19 backdrop of a bankruptcy filing, a Chapter 9 filing, as a
20 tool for gaining leverage with creditors?

21 A I think it certainly contained -- if you're talking about
22 the presentation, it certainly contained the potential pros
23 and cons of Chapter 9, yes.

24 Q Okay.

25 MR. ULLMAN: And could we put up page 15?

1 BY MR. ULLMAN:

2 Q Okay. And so there's no question that it talked about
3 that specifically. This is page 15. The heading you see is 4 "Impact of Possible Emergency Manager Appointment." Do you
5 see that?

6 A Yes. Thank you for putting up the page. If that's what
7 you're talking about, that's what it says.

8 Q And the third bullet talks about the ability to commence
9 a Chapter 9 filing quickly if warranted?

10 A If warranted, yes.

11 Q And the next bullet point talks about how that can create
12 negotiating leverage, as they phrased it here, negotiating
13 with the backdrop of bankruptcy; is that right?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Okay. And that's one of the points that the Jones Day
16 team was making to the city and the state at this January
17 presentation; correct?

18 A Yes. That's a point I echoed during my June 10th
19 presentation.

20 Q Okay. And the Jones Day team also referred to this as,
21 quote, "negotiating in the shadow of Chapter 9." Is that 22 another phrase that you recall being used?

23 A It may have been used. This says "negotiating with the 24 backdrop of bankruptcy," but "shadow," "backdrop,"
25 essentially the same.

1 Q Okay. And if we turn to page 17 of this presentation, we
2 see right down there in the arrows that are following the
3 third bullet, "negotiating in the shadow of Chapter 9";
4 right?

5 A Yes. It's essentially the same.

6 Q That's spelled out expressly, isn't it?

7 A Yes. Shadow, backdrop.

8 Q And is it fair to say that Jones Day was recommending the 9 use of Chapter 9 as a threat in dealing with creditors?

10 A Your question implicates a threat. We will stand by -- 11 or, rather, we were trying to say here that this was an 12 alternative, as I said at June 10th.

13 Q Okay. So you'd rather stand by what's said in the pitch
14 book; is that right?

15 A Sure.

16 Q Okay. Well, let's go to page 18 of the pitch book.

17 Okay. And I'd like you to focus on the third paragraph, if 18 we can highlight, and it says, "Creditors understand that a
19 troubled municipality has greater leverage in a Chapter 9
20 case. Accordingly, developing an out-of-court restructuring
21 plan that can later be implemented in Chapter 9, if 22 necessary, can create leverage in favor of a negotiated
23 deal." It goes on and then says, "This is particularly the 24 case if an emergency manager is appointed because the threat
25 of a Chapter 9 filing -- threat of a Chapter 9 filing,

1 including potential moratorium on payments, will be more
2 tangible and possibly even more imminent." Did I read that
3 correctly?

4 A Yes, you did.

5 Q Okay. And didn't Jones Day, in fact, say that having a
6 viable threat of Chapter 9 was critical to Detroit's being
7 able to restructure its debt?

8 A If that's in the document, yes, that's what we said.

9 Q Okay. And just so we can confirm whether it is or not,
10 let's look at page 46. And if we look at the first bullet
11 point right on the top, that's exactly what it says, isn't
12 it?

13 A Yes.

14 Q So there's no question this is what Jones Day was telling
15 the city and state in January of 2013?

16 A Yes. It's in the document.

17 Q And is it correct that Jones Day was also specifically
18 recommending Chapter 9 as a way for Detroit to avoid payment
19 of vested pension benefits?

20 A I believe we were recommending possibly filing a Chapter
21 9 as a way to avoid a number of things, included pension
22 rights.

23 Q Okay. And isn't it correct that the Jones Day team
24 specifically told the city that, in their view, Chapter 9
25 could, in fact, be potentially used to get out of accrued

1 financial benefits that were otherwise protected under the
2 Michigan Constitution?

3 A You mean in the document?

4 Q The document.

5 A Yeah, I believe so.

6 Q And just so we can see whether that's right or not, can
7 we look at page 41? And, in fact, that language appears
8 there in what I've just highlighted; isn't that right?

9 A Yes. I said so.

10 Q Okay. Now, is it correct that the reference that we've 11 just seen here that's still on the screen where it says
12 cutting back or compromising the phrase "accrued financial 13 benefits otherwise protected under the Michigan
14 Constitution," that that's referring to accrued financial 15 benefits that are protected under what's known as the pension
16 clause of the Michigan Constitution?

17 A I believe so.

18 Q Okay. And were you aware of the -- and just for clarity,
19 the pension clause is Article IX, Section 24, of the Michigan
20 Constitution?

21 A I believe that's the appropriate section.

22 Q Okay. And were you aware of the pension clause prior to 23 becoming the emergency manager?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Okay. And on becoming emergency manager, you took an

1 oath, didn't you?

2 A Yes, I did.

3 Q Okay. And I'm going to read you something. I'd like you
4 to tell me whether it's correct that this is the oath you
5 gave. Quote, "I do solemnly swear that I will support the 6 Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of 7 this state and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of 8 the Office of Emergency Financial Manager, City of Detroit,
9 according to the best of my ability."

10 A I believe that's the oath I took, yes.

11 Q And were you speaking truthfully when you gave that oath?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And I believe you've previously indicated that you
14 understood that that same oath applied to your conduct as 15 emergency manager as well; is that right?

16 A I believe so.

17 Q And I believe you've testified that upon becoming the 18 emergency manager, you set about formulating a restructuring
19 plan -- let me withdraw that. I guess on becoming emergency 20 manager, you first put together a plan that showed the 21 financial situation of Detroit and also made some 22 observations or recommendations as to what you believe needed
23 to be done; is that right?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Okay. And that's the May 12th document that we looked at

1 earlier.

2 A The May 12th financial and operating plan.

3 Q Right.

4 MR. ULLMAN: And let's put the first page of that on 5 the screen.

6 BY MR. ULLMAN:

7 Q Okay. I'm just going to ask you a few questions about 8 this. If we can go to page 21 -- and just to give the 9 context, I think you've already testified this morning that a
10 lot of this document was spent detailing what you perceived
11 to be the financial situation of Detroit as it stood after 12 you assumed your post as emergency manager; right?

13 A Yes. I believe that's correct.

14 Q Okay. And is it correct that as part of the initial 15 review that you did, which was -- which culminated in the 16 document that we have on the screen, which is Exhibit 407,
17 that you made a determination that, in your view, accrued
18 rights to pensions -- to pension benefits had to be cut?

19 A I think it's fair to say that we came to that conclusion,
20 yes.

21 Q Okay. And you had come to that as of May 12th, 2013, the 22 date of this operating plan and proposal; is that right?

23 A I think as of May 12th we made a representation that all
24 stakeholders would have to be adjusted, yes.

25 Q Okay. So that we're clear, that at this point in time

1 you had made the determination that, in your view, vested
2 pension benefits of Detroit's retirees had to be cut back; is
3 that right?

4 A I think that's a fair characterization of what we're
5 saying.

6 Q Okay. And at the time that you made that determination,
7 you said you were aware of the pension clause in the Michigan
8 Constitution?

9 A I think I said -- yes.

10 Q Okay. So you were aware at the same time that you made
11 that determination that the pension clause specifically
12 provided against the diminution or impairment of accrued
13 financial benefits?

14 A Well, that's a conclusion. I think you'll remember, Mr.
15 Ullman, during my deposition I said that, you know, we might 16 either have concessions or we might have to go Chapter 9, but 17 I think your characterization is fair one way or the other.

18 Q Let's turn now to the proposal that you made to 19 creditors. That's the June 14 proposal.

20 MR. ULLMAN: Let's put the first page on the screen.

21 BY MR. ULLMAN:

22 Q And this is -- what we have here is common Exhibit 408.
23 It's just a different -- I think you were shown this earlier
24 today. I think the city used its exhibit number. We have 25 the same document, just a different exhibit number --

1 Q Yeah.

2 A -- but it's the same.

3 A If you tell me it's the same thing, that's fine.

4 Q It's the same. Okay. Now, this, of course, is the 5 proposal that you made to creditors in June -- on June 14,
6 2013.

7 A Yes.

8 Q And I believe it states expressly in here that, in your 9 view, there have to be significant cuts to vested pensions;
10 is that right?

11 A I believe so.

12 Q Okay. And just so we can see that, if we look at page
13 109 -- right -- we see the phrase that there must be 14 significant cuts in accrued vested pension amounts for both
15 active and currently retired persons; correct?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Okay. And is it correct that under this proposal, it
18 shows current employees being switched to a defined
19 contribution plan?

20 A That was our suggestion, yes.

21 Q Okay. And that would be a totally new plan from the one
22 that had been in effect up to this point in time; is that
23 right?

24 A We would be going from a defined benefit plan to a new 25 defined contribution plan, yes.

1 Q And is it correct that under the June 14 proposal there
2 would be some ongoing pension contributions for active
3 employees under the new defined contribution plan but no
4 pension contributions for active employees on account of 5 pension benefits that were already vested?

6 A I think so. In other words, you're talking about closing
7 the plan --

8 Q Yeah.

9 A -- the current plan? Yes.

10 Q Okay. So for the vested pension benefits, the 11 contributions for those would be cut entirely for actives; is
12 that right?

13 A I think the plan would be closed. I don't know if they'd 14 be cut in the entirety, but what you mean -- there would be 15 benefits under the existing plan that would continue to be 16 paid out in some portion.

17 Q Well, what I meant is that under this proposal, it shows
18 the city not making any more pension contributions for active
19 employees for vested pension rights; is that true?

20 A Yeah. I think we switched to a different plan and would 21 make contributions for a defined contribution plan as opposed
22 to defined benefit plan.

23 Q All right. And under the defined benefit plan, the 24 vested benefits, no more contributions being made by the 25 city?

1 A It would be a different plan. That is correct.

2 Q And is it correct that under the June 14 proposal the
3 pension contributions for retirees would be cut in their 4 entirety?

5 A You know, Mr. Ullman, you keep saying "cut in their 6 entirety." I don't want to give the wrong impression that 7 somehow there'd be no pensions under the prior plan. When 8 you say "cut in the entirety" --

9 Q Let me --

10 A -- if you mean -- let me finish my thought -- if you say
11 "cut in their entirety," you mean that that plan would no
12 longer continue, then your statement is accurate.

13 Q Well, I think what I was asking about was the pension
14 contributions which are made by the city. The city would 15 stop making pension contributions for retirees; correct?

16 A For retirees?

17 Q For retirees.

18 A Yes.

19 Q I've turned -- I'm asking about retirees now.

20 A Yes.

21 Q So what I said is true, that the pension contributions
22 that had previously been made by the city on account of 23 retirees are shown under this proposal as being cut in their 24 entirety; right?

25 A The city would no longer make contributions. Here again,

1 for purposes of public concession, I don't want to say there
2 are not going to be pensions for retirees. That's the only
3 difference.

4 Q Okay. So we're clear, I am not saying that there would
5 not be some ongoing pension amounts paid because of funds
6 that were already there. I'm talking about contributions for 7 vested pensions being made by the city. Under this proposal,
8 those are over; right?

9 A With that clarification, yes.

10 Q Okay. And is it also correct that this proposal is 11 showing health benefits for retirees being cut entirely; in 12 other words, under the financials that are shown in this 13 proposal, there's no more line item showing that the city is 14 going to be paying out health benefits for retirees?

15 A Well, it shows that the current benefit plan will be cut.
16 There will be payments made to some retirees with a stipend,
17 either 120 or $125 a month, but that plan will be cut, yes.

18 Q Okay. I was asking specifically about this document. Is 19 there anything in this document that shows anything other
20 than the health benefit payments to retirees being cut?

21 A No, but I want to be clear on the record and also clear
22 for the public. The fact that it's not in this document
23 doesn't mean that that hasn't evolved, so let's not give a 24 bad impression.

25 Q Mr. Orr --

1 A The reality -- let me finish my thought. The reality is 2 your statement is correct under this plan, but that has 3 evolved, and you know that.

4 Q Mr. Orr, I would request that you confine your answer to 5 asking -- your answer to responding directly to my
6 question --

7 A Um-hmm.

8 Q -- as opposed to volunteering information or providing 9 extraneous information.

10 MR. ULLMAN: Your Honor, if you could ask the 11 witness simply to respond, things would go more quickly.

12 THE COURT: Please just respond to the question.

13 THE WITNESS: Yes, your Honor.

14 MR. ULLMAN: Thank you, your Honor.

15 BY MR. ULLMAN:

16 Q So my question was that what's shown in this June 14
17 proposal shows healthcare payments that otherwise or in the 18 past had been made by the city to retirees being cut
19 completely; true?

20 A Yes. We would close a defined plan and change to a
21 different plan, yes.

22 Q We're talking about healthcare.

23 A Yeah, I understand.

24 Q Okay.

25 A I'm just saying -- I'm using those terms, yes.

1 Q And so we're really clear, does this -- this specific
2 document, this June 14 proposal, actually show the city in 3 the future making any payments to retirees on account of 4 healthcare?

5 A I don't believe it's contained in this document.

6 Q Thank you. And is it correct that under this proposal,
7 the June 14 proposal, that all the retirees would get is some
8 share of the notes that the -- the $2 billion or so in notes
9 that the City of Detroit would be issuing?

10 A Yes. That was the proposal.

11 Q And is it correct that under the June 14 proposal,
12 there's no way to tell how much in cash value any retiree
13 would actually get if this proposal were accepted or 14 otherwise went through?

15 A No. The proposal was a proposal, and we asked for 16 responses, so, no --

17 Q Again --

18 A -- in the proposal there's no way to tell.

19 Q Yeah. If you could just answer the question, Mr. Orr,
20 I'd appreciate it.

21 A I was doing that. Under the proposal the answer is yes.

22 Q Okay. "Yes" in the sense that there is no way that 23 anyone would know -- there's no way to tell how much the 24 retirees would get in cash value; is that correct?

25 A I think that's fair.

1 Q Okay. Now, this is June of 2013 that we're talking,
2 right, this proposal?

3 A Yes, June 14th, 2013.

4 Q And at this point in time, did you have any ability as 5 the emergency manager to actually impose the cuts on pension
6 benefits that we've shown are reflected in this proposal if 7 the retirees did not agree to it?

8 A Unilaterally?

9 Q Yes.

10 A I want to be responsive. I think it's fair to say --

11 THE COURT: If you can't answer the question "yes"
12 or "no," just say that.

13 THE WITNESS: Okay. Please repeat your question.

14 BY MR. ULLMAN:

15 Q As of this point in time -- and we're talking June 14,
16 June 2013 -- did you have any ability as the emergency
17 manager to actually impose the cuts on pension benefits that 18 are reflected in this proposal that we've discussed if the 19 retirees did not agree to it?

20 THE WITNESS: Your Honor, that may call for a legal 21 conclusion, and I don't want to be evasive.

22 MR. ULLMAN: I'm not --

23 THE WITNESS: Pardon me.

24 MR. ULLMAN: I'm not asking for his legal
25 conclusion. I asked him what he believed, what he understood

1 his authority to be as emergency manager.

2 THE WITNESS: Let me say this, Mr. Ullman. I
3 believe that my authority under 436 by itself would not give 4 me that authority.

5 BY MR. ULLMAN:

6 Q Is the answer to my question then "no"? It's not that 7 tough.

8 A No, it's not, but it implicates other things, but I'll 9 give a "no" --

10 THE COURT: Well, I would say it's an extremely 11 tough question.

12 THE WITNESS: Yeah. I mean it --

13 MR. ULLMAN: I never argue with the Court, your
14 Honor.

15 THE COURT: I've got mountains of briefs to prove
16 it.

17 THE WITNESS: Yeah.

18 BY MR. ULLMAN:

19 Q But, again, Mr. Orr, we're just talking as of June 2013.

20 A I understand the time frame we're talking, Mr. Ullman,
21 but the reason I'm -- I'm not trying to joust with you here.
22 The reason I'm trying to not follow your question with a
23 simple "yes" or "no" answer is because that's a large debate
24 as to what's required under 436, whether or not the 25 provisions of 436 somehow can be trumped or implicated by the

1 Constitution, and whether or not there's a federal law
2 overlay, so I want to be very careful. I understand what
3 you're trying to ask me --

4 Q Let me --

5 A -- but -- let me finish my thought, please. I understand
6 what you're trying to ask me, but I'm trying to relay to you
7 that it's a much more complex question.

8 Q Okay. And I'm specifically asking as of the June 2013
9 time frame because at this point in time the Chapter 9
10 petition had not been filed.

11 A Yes.

12 Q Okay. So at this point in time, when the Chapter 9
13 petition had not yet been filed, did you have the ability, as 14 you understood it, as emergency manager, to actually impose
15 the cuts on the pension benefits that are reflected in this 16 proposal if the retirees did not agree to it?

17 A I don't know.

18 MR. SHUMAKER: I'm going to object. Calls for a
19 legal conclusion.

20 THE COURT: That objection is overruled.

21 THE WITNESS: Yeah. I don't know.

22 BY MR. ULLMAN:

23 Q And did you address that question? Did you analyze it?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Okay. And did you take into account in your analysis the

1 pension clause?

2 A Yes.

3 Q Okay. And isn't it correct that you understood that as
4 of June '13, again, prior to the Chapter 9 filing, that you,
5 as emergency manager, during that time frame, did not have
6 the ability to actually impose the cuts on pension benefits
7 if the retirees didn't agree?

8 A I don't know.

9 Q Okay. Did you obtain legal advice on that from Jones
10 Day?

11 A Yes, from a number of different sources, yes.

12 Q Okay. And what did Jones Day tell you?

13 MR. SHUMAKER: Objection, your Honor. Calls for 14 attorney-client communications.

15 MR. ULLMAN: Fair enough.

16 THE COURT: All right. The objection is sustained.

17 BY MR. ULLMAN:

18 Q Isn't it correct, Mr. Orr, that absent a consensual
19 resolution, the only way that the proposal set out in the 20 June 14 document could be implemented, if at all, was in the 21 context of a Chapter 9 filing?

22 A No. I don't know if that's correct.

23 Q Okay. And what other avenues did you think were 24 available to you, if any, again, putting aside a consensual
25 resolution or a Chapter 9 filing?

1 A A court might conclude that under 436 I would have the
2 authority to achieve those results.

3 Q Okay. So was it your contention that under PA 436 you
4 were authorized without a Chapter 9 filing to take actions
5 that were in contravention of the pension clause of the 6 Michigan state Constitution?

7 A Mr. Ullman, you're trying to get at this a different way.
8 Here again, there are a number of different potential legal 9 outcomes, and I want to be very careful. Let me help you, if 10 I can, to try to move along. Okay. A bland reading of the 11 statute might get to your conclusion, but that ignores a 12 number of different factors that have to be analyzed and 13 concluded possibly by a court.

14 Q I'm just asking your position, Mr. Orr. Was it your 15 position, again, in the June 2013 time frame, that you had 16 some -- that the authorization that you had, the powers you
17 had under PA 436 enabled you to take actions that were in 18 contravention of the pension clause of the Michigan state
19 Constitution?

20 A It's my position that 436 might have given me that 21 authority.

22 Q Okay. And is it -- was it your position that the state
23 legislature could amend the state Constitution simply by 24 enacting legislature -- or legislation that authorized state
25 actors to do things in contravention of the pension clause?

1 A I don't know the answer to that question, Mr. Ullman.
2 That's a legal issue.

3 Q Okay. Now, nothing in -- but it was, nonetheless, your 4 position that you thought you could do things that were
5 specifically prohibited by the pension clause of the Michigan
6 Constitution; is that right?

7 A That's a conclusion that you're making. What I'm trying 8 to say to you is those were a number of legal issues that 9 were being analyzed, and sitting here today, I don't know
10 what the exact answer is.

11 Q Okay. Now, nothing in this document, this June 14
12 proposal, acknowledges -- well, let me ask you this question.
13 In the course of your analysis on that issue, did you
14 identify any case law that indicated to you that the 15 emergency manager had powers under PA 436 to take actions
16 that were prohibited by the Michigan Constitution?

17 A Mr. Ullman, I'm not acting as an attorney in this job,
18 so, no, I did not identify any case law.

19 Q Okay. Is there any other authority that you can identify 20 that you recall having looked at?

21 A Without getting into the content of the discussions,
22 there are discussions that I had with attorneys, but I would
23 not have done that research.

24 Q Okay. So I take it then at this point in time, the 25 implications and the restrictions of the pension clause in

1 the Michigan Constitution were something that you were
2 specifically focused on; is that right?

3 A I was aware of it, yes.

4 Q And you were aware that that was something that,
5 depending on how things ultimately turned out, could be 6 interpreted to prohibit your taking action that diminished or 7 impaired accrued financial benefits that were due to
8 retirees?

9 A Yes. I think that's a fair statement.

10 Q Now, there's nothing -- going back to the June 14
11 proposal, is there -- we've talked about the effect that the 12 restructuring that's shown in here would have on the 13 pensions. Is there anything in this June 14 proposal that 14 acknowledges that accrued pension benefits are protected
15 under the Michigan state Constitution?

16 A I don't think so.

17 Q Okay. Now, I think you made some reference in your 18 testimony to how potentially there could be, you know,
19 thousands of individual retirees that might be affected by 20 this?

21 A I think there are thousands of individual retirees.

22 Q And you said that in theory -- at least in theory they
23 could come and make proposals or talk to you about this June
24 14 proposal; is that right?

25 A Well, what we said was any party could come and make a

1 proposal, but we asked the unions early on would they
2 represent retirees. They declined to do so, and so we said
3 we needed a Retiree Committee.

4 Q Mr. Orr, you're really going well beyond what I asked
5 you, so I would just appreciate if you'd focus on my question
6 and answer it. If you think my question is confusing, let me
7 know, and I'll be glad to rephrase it.

8 A No. I'm just trying to give you a complete answer.

9 Q Okay. And I just -- I would appreciate if you'd give me
10 an answer to the direct question.

11 A I will.

12 Q So, now, with respect to the retirees, you understood
13 that this was a document the retirees themselves,
14 individuals, might well have access to and look at?

15 A We put it on the website, yes.

16 Q Okay. And you understand that retirees -- individual
17 retirees are not necessarily fully aware of all of the legal 18 provisions that exist in the State of Michigan?

19 A Some may be; some may not be.

20 Q Okay. And given that you envisioned that this document
21 might be read by individual retirees, you still didn't see
22 fit anywhere in here to mention that one of the things this
23 proposal was doing, if it went through, is taking away
24 pension rights that were protected under the Michigan
25 Constitution?

1 A I think we made a proposal and were offering solutions.
2 The proposal is what it is.

3 Q Um-hmm.

4 A I think the issue of retiree benefits had been fairly
5 widely discussed in a number of different forums.

6 Q Um-hmm.

7 A I think anybody could have come in with a
8 counterproposal.

9 Q Okay. And so in the interest of complete disclosure and 10 putting all the things on the table, you still didn't feel it
11 either necessary or appropriate to mention anywhere in 12 this -- is it a hundred-some-odd-page document that one of 13 the things that the proposal was proposing to take away were 14 pension rights that were specifically protected under the 15 Michigan Constitution?

16 A I think we said that in the highlighted portion.

17 Q That the pension rights were protected under the Michigan
18 Constitution?

19 A No. I think there must be significant cuts in accrued
20 vested pension rights.

21 Q That wasn't my question.

22 A If you're trying to get to the point as whether or not we
23 should have -- we should have said Michigan Constitution, I
24 think that was discussed quite broadly throughout this time
25 period.

1 Q You're really still not answering my question, Mr. Orr.
2 Given the fact that in this document, this some -- hundred-
3 some-odd-page document that you said could be, you know, seen
4 and reviewed by retirees, and given that this document -- the 5 proposal, if it went through, would be taking away protected
6 pension benefits, you didn't see fit anywhere in here to 7 mention at all, even in passing, that the pension rights that 8 this proposal shows as being cut in their entirety were 9 specifically protected under the Michigan Constitution?

10 A The protections of the Michigan Constitution are not
11 contained in this document.

12 Q And you didn't think that's something that ought to be 13 mentioned, did you?

14 A I think everybody knew that, Mr. Ullman.

15 Q Okay. So you didn't believe that that was something you
16 thought you needed or felt appropriate to mention in this 17 document; correct?

18 A Mr. Ullman, it was quite public at that time that the 19 attorney general had taken a position on that point. I think 20 everybody was aware of it.

21 Q Okay. And in light of that, is that the only reason you
22 didn't see fit to mention it?

23 A No. I think we mentioned what our proposal was, and 24 whether or not the intent to include the Constitution was a
25 decision that we made.

1 Q Now, Chapter 9 isn't mentioned anywhere in this June 14
2 proposal either, is it?

3 A I don't believe so.

4 Q And isn't it correct that this proposal was made against
5 the context that if an agreement on the proposal wasn't
6 reached, the city would, in fact, be filing for Chapter 9?

7 A I think I said on June 10th that I had a powerful
8 statute; that we have another powerful tool called Chapter 9,
9 but I don't want to use it, but we're going to have to make
10 some difficult decisions.

11 Q So to go back to my question, is it correct that this 12 proposal was made against the context that if agreement on 13 the proposal wasn't reached, the city would file for Chapter
14 9?

15 A No.

16 Q Okay.

17 A What we said was that the proposal was a proposal, and we 18 were looking for counteroffers and that we were going to have 19 to make some evaluations within the next 30 days; if we had 20 received agreements in principle and the like, we perhaps 21 might extend that, but the proposal does not say that if we
22 don't receive those agreements, we're going to file Chapter
23 9.

24 Q Well, hadn't you publicly stated around this time that
25 the June 14 proposal -- around the time the June 14 proposal

1 was made that you intended to try to use Chapter 9 to try to
2 trump the state Constitution?

3 A I think what I said at that time was that we had powerful
4 tools, as I said before on June 10th. Chapter 9 was one of 5 them, but I didn't want to use it.

6 Q Okay. And didn't you state that one of the -- that the 7 state Constitution provision that you were trying to trump
8 was the pension clause?

9 A I think I may have said at some point, either that time
10 or before, that I felt federal law would trump state law.

11 Q Yeah. Do you remember at your deposition I asked you
12 some questions about an interview you gave on June 14?

13 A Yes, I believe you did.

14 Q Okay.

15 A I don't remember exact -- if you want to refresh my
16 recollection.

17 Q Were you testifying truthfully when you gave your 18 testimony?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Okay. And do you recall giving the following testimony
21 when I deposed you about one of the -- some of the things you
22 said on June 14?

23 MR. ULLMAN: Do we have the clip? It's around lines
24 113.

25 (Videotape of deposition at 11:19 a.m. as follows:)

1 BY MR. ULLMAN:

2 "You gave an interview that I'm sure you're
3 familiar with with the Detroit Free Press on or 4 around June 14th. Do you remember? I'll just tell
5 you what I believe you said, and you can tell me --
6 I'm sure you remember this one, and you can tell
7 me -- if not, I have the quote.

8 Yeah. You can give me the quote. There's so
9 many interviews, but I'll trust your quote.

10 Okay. This is the quotation.

11 'Question: You said in this report, referring 12 to the June 14th proposal, that you don't believe
13 there is an obligation under our state Constitution
14 to pay pensions if the city can't afford it.

15 Answer: The reason we said it that way is to 16 quantify the bankruptcy question. We think federal 17 supremacy trumps state law.'

18 Yes.

19 Okay. You don't deny making that statement?

20 No. I think I've said that several times.

21 Okay. And the state law you were referring to 22 that you referred to as being trumped was Article
23 IX, Section 24, of the state Constitution; is that
24 right?

25 I believe so."

1 (Videotape concluded at 11:20 a.m.)

2 Q Do you recall that testimony, Mr. Orr?

3 A Yes, I do.

4 Q Now, we're talking here -- this is June 14, the date of 5 your proposal. Now, can you tell me -- refresh my
6 recollection. I think you mentioned, but when exactly was it
7 that you had given your oath to uphold the Michigan
8 Constitution?

9 A I think it was March 25th.

10 Q Okay. So that was within 90 days of June 14th; is that
11 right?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Now, prior to the June 14 proposal, did you make any 14 inquiries as to the size of the unfunded pension liability?

15 A Yeah, I believe we did.

16 Q Okay. And who did you ask?

17 A I believe I asked our consultants, principally Conway,
18 Ernst & Young, the entire crowd.

19 Q Okay. And who from Conway?

20 A There are a number of people from Conway. That team is 21 led by Chuck Moore, but I may have talked with Chris Gannon
22 and others. We had regular conversations.

23 Q Okay. And the amount of the -- the size of the unfunded
24 pension liability isn't something that you have any personal
25 knowledge of, is it?

1 A No. Those calculations are made both by Gabriel, Roeder
2 and Milliman's review of Gabriel, Roeder's information, and
3 since Milliman has made an independent calculation.

4 Q Okay. Mr. Orr -- and I believe my question really called
5 for a "yes" or "no." I simply asked whether the unfunded
6 pension liability was something you had personal knowledge
7 of.

8 A Okay.

9 MR. SHUMAKER: Again, your Honor, if he --

10 THE WITNESS: Well --

11 MR. SHUMAKER: -- could just say "yes" or "no" where 12 appropriate.

13 THE WITNESS: But to the extent I've read the 14 reports, I have personal knowledge.

15 THE COURT: Hold on. I've been --

16 THE WITNESS: Oh, I'm sorry.

17 THE COURT: I've been asked to do something here.
18 The question is ambiguous, and I'm going to ask you to 19 rephrase it.

20 MR. ULLMAN: Okay.

21 BY MR. ULLMAN:

22 Q Did you have personal knowledge, based on work that you
23 yourself had done, analysis you yourself had done, as to the 24 size of the unfunded pension liability?

25 A No.

1 Q And, now, you indicated that you made inquiries as to the 2 size of the unfunded pension liability prior to making the
3 June 14 proposal; right?

4 A Yes, I believe so.

5 Q Okay. And was there any further work on the actuarial
6 analysis that you recall being brought to your attention
7 between June 14th and the date of the Chapter 9 filing?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And what was the subsequent work that you recall being 10 done?

11 A I don't remember the exact dates, but the basic 12 chronology was that Gabriel, Roeder, as part of the 2012
13 report, had done an analysis; that Milliman had done an
14 analysis of Gabriel, Roeder's work, and that Milliman either
15 was in the process of doing its own independent analysis or 16 had completed that.

17 Q Okay. Do you recall -- do you recall hearing a figure 18 for the unfunded pension liability of 3.5 billion at any 19 point in time?

20 A Yes.

21 Q When do you recall first hearing that?

22 A I don't recall the exact date that I first heard that,
23 but I remember we had discussions in May, I believe.

24 Q I'm sorry.

25 A In May.

1 Q In May. Okay. And was that prior to the filing of the 2 May 12th report that we looked at previously?

3 A Yes, I believe so.

4 Q Okay. And as of May then -- that May report, based on 5 what you were told, did you believe that the 3.5 billion was 6 an accurate figure for the unfunded pension liability?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And did anything change on that between May and June 14?

9 A No, I don't think so.

10 Q Okay. And did you -- did what you wrote in the May 12th
11 report accurately reflect the state of your knowledge as of 12 that date regarding the size of the unfunded pension
13 liability?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Okay. So if we can turn back to Exhibit 407 -- okay.
16 Now, do you recall at the time that this proposal -- or this
17 report was written, do you recall whether this 3.5 billion
18 figure was being reported to you as something that was 19 preliminary in nature and not yet final or something that was 20 hard-fast and accurate?

21 A I think we felt at this time that that was an accurate
22 analysis of the amount of the unfunded pension liability, but 23 we certainly had said throughout that time that there were 24 factors that went into that calculation that would be subject
25 to discussion.

1 Q Um-hmm. So at this point in time, was it your
2 understanding that as a fact the liability -- the unfunded
3 liability was $3.5 billion and has been determined to be that
4 figure by the Milliman actuarial firm?

5 A Yes. Based upon reasonable calculations, yes.

6 Q Okay. So if we look at page 3 of this document -- okay.
7 In the first full paragraph I'd like you to focus on the last
8 sentence.

9 A Yes.

10 Q Okay. It goes on. It says, "In addition, the city's 11 pensions are underfunded by at least 0.6 billion and perhaps 12 significantly more once appropriate actuarial assumptions and 13 current data are considered."

14 A Yes.

15 Q Was that an accurate reflection of the state of how you
16 understood things to be regarding the unfunded pension
17 liability as of the date this document was written?

18 A Yes. I think at that time we thought it was at least 600
19 million but probably more once you consider certain factors.

20 Q Okay. And, in fact, this one says "perhaps significantly 21 more"; correct?

22 A Yes. As I said, I don't remember the exact dates that we 23 were getting the calculations in, but we were looking over
24 the reports that had been made by Gabriel, Roeder and doing
25 our own analysis.

1 Q Um-hmm. And if we look at page 37 -- okay. And if we
2 look at the top paragraph, there's a sentence that begins,
3 "As of June 30." Do you see that? We can pull that out,
4 just the "As of June 30" sentence.

5 A Yes.

6 Q All right. And what that says is, "As of June, 30, 2011,
7 the most recent actuarial reports provided to the city by the 8 pension funds showed the pension UAAL" -- that's unfunded
9 actuarially accrued liabilities; right?

10 A Yes. And to be accurate, I think you have to read the 11 sentence right after that as well.

12 Q I haven't -- I'm planning to.

13 A Good.

14 Q I just wanted to clarify what UAAL meant.

15 A Yes. That's what it means.

16 Q Okay. So it says the -- it showed the pension UAAL at 17 646 million. Then it continues -- and please highlight the 18 next sentence as well -- "Using more current data and/or more
19 conservative assumptions could cause that deficiency to rise
20 into the billions of dollars." You see that?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And does that also accurately reflect the state of your 23 knowledge as of the date that Exhibit 407 was prepared, which 24 is May 2003 (sic)?

25 A Yes. As I said before, I don't understand -- I don't

1 remember the specific dates that we were receiving data from
2 Milliman based upon Gabriel, Roeder or Milliman by itself,
3 but I think this is a fair characterization because that work
4 was ongoing.

5 Q Okay. And did -- what is --

6 MR. ULLMAN: By the way, I would like to move to 7 strike everything in his last answer after the word "yes,"
8 your Honor, because I think --

9 THE COURT: Any objections?

10 MR. SHUMAKER: Your Honor, I think he was clarifying
11 his answer.

12 THE COURT: The motion is granted. If you are 13 unable, Mr. Orr, to answer a question "yes" or "no," please
14 say that.

15 THE WITNESS: Okay.

16 THE COURT: Otherwise, if it's a yes/no question,
17 just answer "yes" or "no" or "I don't know."

18 THE WITNESS: Yes, your Honor.

19 THE COURT: All right. We're going to take our 20 break now for lunch, but before we do, please, I have to ask
21 you a question about your line of questioning of the witness
22 regarding the Michigan Constitution. Is it your position
23 that the Michigan Constitution prohibits a city from even 24 asking its retirees to negotiate its retirement benefits in 25 such a way that might work an impairment?

1 MR. ULLMAN: Subject to what my co-counsel says, no.
2 I don't --

3 THE COURT: The answer to that question is no?

4 MR. ULLMAN: No. If they can ask?

5 THE COURT: All right.

6 MR. ULLMAN: No.

7 THE COURT: We will break for lunch now. We are 8 going to remain in place for a few moments so that Mr. Orr
9 can make his exit, and then we'll all go, so we'll be in 10 recess now, and you may go, sir.

11 THE WITNESS: Thank you, your Honor.

12 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in recess.

13 (Recess at 11:30 a.m. until 1:00 p.m.)

14 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in session. Please
15 be seated. Case Number 13-53846, City of Detroit, Michigan.

16 THE COURT: All right. It appears that everyone is 17 here. Sir, would you please stand and raise your right hand?

18 GOVERNOR RICK SNYDER, WITNESS, SWORN

19 THE COURT: Please sit down. And just so the record
20 is clear, we are interrupting the city's case to allow the 21 objecting parties to call this witness.

22 MR. WERTHEIMER: Yes, your Honor.

23 THE COURT: And you may proceed, sir.

24 MR. WERTHEIMER: Thank you. William Wertheimer,
25 your Honor, appearing on behalf of the Flowers plaintiffs.

1 Your Honor, before I begin questioning the governor, I would
2 request permission of the Court to examine him under Federal
3 Rule of Evidence 611(c)(2) -- that is, to ask leading
4 questions -- as I believe he is clearly a party -- a
5 witness -- excuse me -- a witness identified with an adverse
6 party.

7 THE COURT: Any objections?

8 MR. SCHNEIDER: No objections.

9 MR. SHUMAKER: No objections, your Honor.

10 THE COURT: All right. Your motion is granted, sir.

11 DIRECT EXAMINATION

12 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

13 Q Good afternoon, Governor.

14 A Good afternoon.

15 Q Thank you for appearing here this afternoon. You are 16 appearing here pursuant to a subpoena that was issued by the 17 UAW, are you not?

18 A I believe so.

19 Q When were you elected governor?

20 A January 1st, 2011.

21 Q And when were you sworn in as governor?

22 A Oh, I'm sorry. I was sworn in January 1st, 2011.

23 Q Okay.

24 A I was actually elected in November of 2010.

25 Q Okay. And I've got in front of me the oath that I think

1 you swore. I'm going to read it to you and ask you if you
2 recall swearing to that oath. "I do solemnly swear that I
3 will support the constitution of the United States and the 4 constitution of this state, and that I will faithfully
5 discharge the duties of the office of governor according to 6 the best of my ability." Do you recall that as being the 7 oath you swore to?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Did you know anything about Article IX, Section 24, of 10 the Constitution, the one that we've now all heard so much
11 about, relating to pension benefits of municipal employees at 12 the time you were sworn in as governor?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Do you have an understanding, Governor, as to how a 15 constitutional provision like that could be amended just 16 generally? It's not a civics lesson, but -- and I'm --

17 A Yes.

18 Q Just generally. Would you tell us?

19 A Yeah. It could go to a vote of the people. It could be 20 an item that would be proposed as an amendment to the 21 Constitution and changed that way. It could be put on the 22 ballot either by petition or by vote of the legislature.

23 Q But you would agree with me that you do not have the 24 power to amend the state Constitution?

25 A That's correct.

1 Q Would it be fair to say, Governor, that at your
2 deposition and actually for some time before then, you have 3 taken the position publicly and at your deposition that while 4 you've been supportive of -- you've been supportive of 5 improved services for the citizens of the City of Detroit,
6 you have not been supportive of the notion of the repayment
7 of debts of the city, including any debt created by the 8 pension; is that correct?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And have you taken that position throughout your time as 11 governor?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And you've done so publicly?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Have you told Mr. Orr that that's your position in one
16 way, shape, or form? In other words, does he know that 17 that's your position?

18 A I couldn't speak to him -- I couldn't speak to his 19 presumption, but I had publicly made those statements.

20 Q Did you ever make them in the presence of Mr. Orr?

21 A I don't recall.

22 Q How many times have you met with Mr. Orr since he became 23 emergency manager either one on one or in groups?

24 A I would have to speculate. It would be a reasonably
25 significant number.

1 Q Well, let's try it this way. How often -- from the time
2 he became emergency manager, how often would you regularly
3 see him? Every week or two, every month? Can you
4 characterize it like that?

5 A Yeah. Typically weekly.

6 Q Weekly.

7 A In terms of not necessarily in person but on the phone or 8 in person.

9 Q Either on the phone or in person weekly?

10 A Yes.

11 Q Okay. In any of those conversations, did the subject
12 come up of your position being that you did not want the 13 state to be obligated to pay any of the pension benefits at 14 issue in this case?

15 A That would be a different question than my other
16 statements in the sense that I view that as a legal matter in 17 terms of if the court was deciding that we had a
18 constitutional obligation, then we would pay it.

19 Q My question, Governor, was whether you had ever
20 communicated that to Mr. Orr in any of these meetings that 21 you've had with him weekly since he became emergency manager.

22 A Those meetings would have had our legal counsel present,
23 where I was asking for their advice on topics such as that.

24 Q So do I take that to mean that you're asserting the 25 attorney-client privilege as to that question?

1 MR. SCHNEIDER: And I'm objecting on the grounds
2 that this question might implicate the attorney-client
3 privilege.

4 MR. SHUMAKER: The city joins the objection.

5 THE COURT: Well, no. I think the witness can
6 testify to what he told Mr. Orr on this question. Did you
7 ever tell Mr. Orr what your position was on whether the State
8 of Michigan has an obligation to pay the city's pension
9 obligations?

10 THE WITNESS: What I told him was is I viewed that 11 as a legal question that I thought best left to the courts to 12 decide because anything else on my part would have been 13 speculative in the fact if I had an opinion, it would get 14 reviewed anyway, and I would rather have the most competent 15 people make that decision to start with.

16 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

17 Q Fair enough. While we're on the issue of your 18 conversations with Mr. Orr during the period that he was 19 emergency manager, these weekly or so conversations, at your 20 deposition you refused to answer any questions related to 21 whether you discussed the specifics of Article IX, Section
22 24, of the Constitution in those meetings. Does that remain
23 your position?

24 A I think I made mention that it was an attorney-client
25 issue.

1 Q Again, Governor -- I'm getting confused, Judge,
2 Governor -- I just need to know whether you can -- I don't
3 want to go through all those questions if that remains your 4 position.

5 A It does, so the answer, yes.

6 Q All right. I believe you also asserted the attorney-
7 client privilege or your attorneys did at your deposition as
8 to those weekly meetings as it related to any discussions
9 between you and Mr. Orr relating to the potential filing of a
10 Chapter 9 proceeding; is that correct?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And that remains your position; that is, that because 13 attorneys were present either on the phone or in the room at 14 each of those meetings, as you recall, you are asserting the 15 attorney-client privilege?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Thank you. I'd like to ask you a couple of questions
18 about other -- well, let me start with your involvement. I
19 think we all know you have been involved since you became
20 governor with the financial problems that relate to the City
21 of Detroit. You inherited that as an issue. Would that be 22 fair?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And it was a big issue?

25 A I'd describe it as the largest issue in our country.

1 Q From day -- well, leaving aside the largest in our
2 country, it's been a big issue for you from day one.

3 A This has been a large issue for 60 years.

4 Q Okay. When did -- and I think we all know that then
5 Treasurer Dillon has been involved in assisting you on that 6 issue; is that correct?

7 A Yes.

8 Q When did his involvement begin --

9 A It would have --

10 Q -- approximately?

11 A It would have began when he became treasurer.

12 Q Which was?

13 A It would have been about the same time I took office or 14 shortly thereafter.

15 Q Early 2011?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Would that be fair? Okay. We also heard some testimony
18 here that a Mr. Buckfire, an investment person, has been 19 involved in this issue on your behalf; is that -- or on the 20 state's behalf; is that correct?

21 A I don't -- I wouldn't characterize it as on the state's 22 behalf. Mr. Buckfire came several times and presented
23 information, and in some of those cases I didn't ask for him
24 to come, and I'm not sure of all the grounds, whether it was 25 with the treasurer or not, that they made the decision to

1 come.

2 Q Who was he being compensated for for the work he was
3 doing at this early point, as far as you understood?

4 A My understanding is he wasn't necessarily getting
5 compensated.

6 Q He was just doing it?

7 A There were a number of parties that during the course of 8 this -- that first year, in particular, that offered
9 unsolicited advice on Detroit.

10 Q Okay. Without going further with that, would it be fair
11 to say that Mr. Buckfire and the people who work for his 12 company were offering advice to the state?

13 A They were presenting information to the state, yes.

14 Q Not to the city. As far as you knew, they were trying to 15 get your ear and Treasurer Dillon's ear. Would that be fair?

16 A I couldn't speak to that. I also know -- I also believe 17 they were potentially talking to the city also.

18 Q Well, but didn't you understand that they were talking to 19 the city as part of their efforts to help you out for the 20 state as opposed to being an independent actor for the city?

21 A The way I would perceive it at that point in time, I
22 perceived it as they were more presenting information to 23 potentially get themselves hired for an engagement most 24 likely --

25 Q Well, that's what I was getting to.

1 A -- but not necessarily by the state or by the city. I'm
2 not going to speculate on who.

3 Q Okay. Fair enough. The Jones Day law firm, when did
4 they first get involved in assisting the state in dealing
5 with the problems relating to Detroit?

6 A Again, you're making the statement in the same fashion
7 you did before. I believe they were presenting information
8 to the state. I don't believe -- they were not hired by the 9 state --

10 Q Well --

11 A -- to my knowledge.

12 Q So you would assume that they were looking for business
13 also?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Okay. And don't you think, as sophisticated as they 16 were, that they recognized, given all that was going on, that 17 it would be you or people at your end who would be calling
18 the shots relative to how the city's financial restructuring
19 ultimately took place?

20 MR. SCHNEIDER: Objection. Calls for speculation.

21 MR. WERTHEIMER: I don't think it does. It seems --

22 THE COURT: If you can answer that question from 23 your personal knowledge, I'll permit it.

24 THE WITNESS: I didn't believe that to be the case
25 because, in fact, the city ended up hiring Jones Day without

1 me making a statement.

2 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

3 Q You met with Jones Day and with Ken Buckfire in June of 4 2002 (sic), did you not?

5 A I don't recall the specific meeting.

6 MR. WERTHEIMER: Could you put up -- it's Retirement
7 Systems' Exhibit 844, the second page.

8 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

9 Q You should see this on your screen if it works, you know.
10 That's a letter that's in evidence in this case from Heather
11 Lennox at Jones Day to someone at her end where she's saying
12 that she's going with Ken Buckfire to talk to the governor in 13 Michigan tomorrow, and it's an e-mail dated June 5, 2012. Do
14 you recall meeting with Heather Lennox and Ken Buckfire in 15 June of 2012?

16 A I recall meeting with Mr. Buckfire. I apologize to Ms.
17 Lennox, but I literally do thousands of meetings, so I don't
18 recall the specific meeting.

19 Q Okay. I won't get into identifications. It's not that 20 kind of case. Do you recall there being one or more Jones
21 Day lawyers there with Mr. Buckfire?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And they were together talking to you about ways that the 24 state could deal with the problem that you, as the governor,
25 faced vis-a-vis the City of Detroit. Would that be fair?

1 A Yes.

2 Q If you look at that same document on the bottom where it
3 lists the attachments, there's an attachment -- a listing of 4 an attachment. I'll skip the numbers, but it says, "City of 5 Detroit - Memo on Michigan Constitutional Pension Plan
6 Protections.DOC." Do you see that?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Do you recall the Jones Day people or Buckfire at that 9 meeting talking to you about that issue?

10 A No.

11 Q That is, the constitutional pension plan protection?

12 A No.

13 Q You're not saying it didn't happen. You're saying you
14 don't recall one way or the other whether it did?

15 A Yeah. I believe that's how you stated your question.

16 Q It is. It is. It is. Do you recall whether or not the 17 Jones Day attorneys provided you or any of your -- let me
18 back up. Do you recall who was at this meeting?

19 A I don't recall all the participants. Generally the 20 treasurer, I believe --

21 Q Okay.

22 A -- and Ken Buckfire.

23 Q Okay. So Treasurer Dillon. Would any of -- either of 24 your aides have attended in the normal course?

25 A It would have been likely.

1 Q Likely. Okay. Do you recall whether the Jones Day
2 lawyers -- excuse me -- provided either you or any of your
3 people there with any legal documents? Did they share any 4 legal documents with you?

5 A I don't recall legal documents. I recall a PowerPoint
6 kind of presentation.

7 Q Made by Jones Day?

8 A No. More Ken Buckfire.

9 Q Okay. Do you recall whether in the PowerPoint
10 presentation Mr. Buckfire referenced the constitutional -- 11 the state constitutional provision relating to pensions in 12 any way, shape, or form?

13 A Don't recall.

14 Q Okay. Again, you don't recall one way or the other?

15 A That's correct.

16 Q Sometimes my questions aren't as clean as they should be,
17 and I'm just trying to make sure that --

18 A Okay.

19 Q You were involved in the selection of Mr. Orr as 20 emergency manager, were you not?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Can you approximate when the process began that ended up
23 with the hiring of Mr. Orr?

24 A The process generally would have started late '12, early
25 '13 in terms of looking for potential emergency manager

1 candidates as a contingency plan.

2 Q Did you interview Mr. Orr?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Did you interview him more than once?

5 A I believe so.

6 Q How many times?

7 A I recall a couple.

8 Q Okay. Did you interview anybody else?

9 A Yes.

10 Q How many people?

11 A At least one.

12 Q Okay. During the interview process with Mr. Orr -- when 13 I mean process, I mean not just the interviews but any 14 communications you had with him up to the point he became 15 emergency manager -- did you discuss whether vested pension
16 benefits could be reduced or modified in a Chapter 9
17 proceeding?

18 A I don't --

19 Q Did you discuss that issue?

20 A I don't recall.

21 Q Do you recall discussing -- or do you recall discussing
22 with Mr. Orr in any of these preliminary discussions before
23 he became emergency manager anything regarding vested pension
24 benefits?

25 A No.

1 Q No, or "I don't recall"?

2 A Again, I thought you --

3 Q Well, again, I'm trying to fine-tune my question, and now
4 I confused you. I'm sorry.

5 A Well, I thought you started, as I recall --

6 Q You don't recall any such conversations?

7 A I was trying to get better and just do "yes" or "no" --

8 Q Me, too.

9 A -- to show I was a good listener.

10 Q No. You were. Me, too, but we missed each other, you
11 know.

12 A Okay.

13 Q I switched, and you switched to say --

14 A "I don't recall" would be the summary answer.

15 Q Okay. Thank you. As part of the hiring of Mr. Orr, it's 16 true, is it not, that parts of his expenses are being
17 reimbursed by the NERD Fund, N-E-R-D Fund?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And what parts of his expenses?

20 MR. SCHNEIDER: Objection as to relevance.

21 THE COURT: What is the relevance?

22 MR. WERTHEIMER: I think it goes to the potential
23 conflict issue; that is, I think that Mr. Orr is in a 24 position where he has the state paying expenses for him and 25 at the same time he has to make decisions relative to the

1 position he should take as to whether or not the state should
2 be obligated to do something relative to the city's pension
3 problems under Article IX, Section 24, of the Constitution.

4 THE COURT: Is this fund a state fund?

5 THE WITNESS: No. It's a separate nonprofit that
6 was organized to help offset the cost of government.

7 THE COURT: The objection is sustained.

8 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

9 Q I'm going to direct your attention now, Governor, to June
10 of 2013, the point in time when Mr. Orr was -- specifically
11 June 14th when he made a proposal. You're familiar with the 12 June 14th proposal?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And I know you were asked about it at your deposition, so
15 you know what I'm talking about.

16 A Yes.

17 Q Okay. Did you participate in the development of that
18 proposal?

19 A I reviewed drafts of it.

20 Q And suggested -- either you or one of your people
21 suggested changes in it, I would assume?

22 A I don't recall.

23 Q Okay. But you do recall reviewing drafts of it?

24 A At least one draft.

25 Q And do you recall that that proposal included -- I'll

1 read from it -- apologize, Governor -- "Because the amounts
2 realized on the unfunding claims will be substantially less
3 than the underfunding amount, there must be significant cuts
4 in accrued vested pension amounts for both active and current 5 retired persons"? Do you recall that as being part of his 6 June 14th proposal?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And in your review, did you suggest any changes in that?

9 A No, because it was to be a mutual negotiation. It was a
10 preliminary proposal.

11 MR. WERTHEIMER: Your Honor, I would ask the witness
12 to simply respond to the question.

13 THE COURT: You may.

14 MR. WERTHEIMER: I didn't ask why. I don't mean to 15 make a big deal, but I think it would go smoother.

16 THE COURT: You may ask the witness that.

17 MR. WERTHEIMER: Thank you.

18 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

19 Q Do you understand -- did you understand, Governor, that 20 at the time this proposal was being made, that the 21 retirees -- the proposal was that the retirees would get
22 treated as the other unsecured creditors in the language --
23 in the legal language would, including bondholders? They'd
24 be treated the same way. Would that be fair?

25 A Yes.

1 Q Did you understand at the time you looked at -- or
2 reviewed this proposal that the guarantees of pension
3 benefits that there are in this country relate to private
4 employees only under the Pension Benefit Guarantee
5 Corporation? Did you understand that at the time?

6 A Yes.

7 Q In other words, you knew these people weren't being
8 protected by any federal program --

9 A Yes.

10 Q -- "these people" being the retirees and those with 11 vested benefits?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Did you also understand that the bondholders at least had 14 insurance, at least many of them did? They were insured
15 bonds?

16 A I was not clear on who had insurance and who did not.

17 Q Well, you were clear on the fact that the individual
18 retirees didn't have insurance, weren't you?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Did you have any sense as to the impact these cuts might 21 have on individual retirees at the time you reviewed the
22 proposal?

23 MR. SCHNEIDER: Objection. Calls for speculation.
24 It's also not relevant.

25 MR. WERTHEIMER: I'm just asking if he did or not,

1 your Honor.

2 THE COURT: Again, if you can speak from personal
3 knowledge, I will accept your answer.

4 THE WITNESS: I viewed that as speculation at that 5 point in time, in particular, that my understanding is the 6 funded part of the pension plan would not be involved, but 7 the unfunded was the part at issue.

8 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

9 Q Okay.

10 A And that was a matter still to be determined.

11 Q Did you understand what the range of the pensions were of 12 City of Detroit retirees; that is, how much money they would 13 receive if they were getting a full pension?

14 A Not specifically.

15 Q How did you understand it? How generally, if you could 16 just identify it in any way that is consistent with what you
17 understood?

18 A Well, they would get a monthly payment of so much per 19 month.

20 Q Did you have a sense as to whether there were many of 21 them who were getting monthly payments of $10,000 or anything
22 like that amount?

23 A That would be at the very high end.

24 Q Okay. Fair enough. I'll drop it. Did you know at 25 around this time -- I think it was before it, but I don't

1 have the time line in front of me. You recall Mr. Orr making
2 a statement to the Detroit Free Press that got publicized
3 pretty widely that federal law would trump Article IX,
4 Section 24, of the Constitution. Do you recall that being in 5 the papers?

6 A I recall that from the questions that you and your
7 colleagues asked me from the deposition.

8 Q Do you recall knowing that Orr had made a statement like 9 that at the point you were reviewing his -- what became his 10 June 14th proposal?

11 A I accepted the fact you were making a truthful assertion
12 when you told me that.

13 Q No, but did you know at the time?

14 A I don't recall.

15 Q You know, as you sit here, I suspect, that the Attorney
16 General has weighed in on this issue of the relationship
17 between the state constitutional provision and the bankruptcy
18 proceedings?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And you know that he has taken the position that in 21 bankruptcy Mr. Orr is obligated to honor Article IX, Section
22 24, in proposing a plan of adjustment, do you not?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And you know that Mr. Orr in no way, shape, or form has 25 indicated that he would be proposing any such plan of

1 adjustment, do you not?

2 A Well, no plan of adjustment has been presented, so that
3 would be just speculative.

4 Q Has Mr. Orr ever said anything either in your
5 conversations with him or that you've heard about secondhand
6 that would indicate that he has any intent to honor the state
7 constitutional provision when he proposes a plan?

8 MR. SCHNEIDER: I would object to the extent that 9 this calls for secondhand conversation. The governor would 10 not have firsthand knowledge of that.

11 THE COURT: The objection is overruled. What is 12 your answer, sir?

13 THE WITNESS: Could we repeat the question?

14 MR. WERTHEIMER: Can you repeat the question,
15 whoever is --

16 THE COURT: We don't have that ability.

17 MR. WERTHEIMER: Oh, I'm sorry. I'll ask it another
18 way.

19 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

20 Q Has Mr. Orr ever communicated anything to you either
21 directly or indirectly that would indicate to you that at the 22 point he is going to propose a plan, that he is going to 23 propose a plan which would not adversely impact the retirees?

24 A I have not discussed a specific plan with Mr. Orr in any
25 regard.

1 Q Let me ask it another way. Has Mr. Orr ever said
2 anything to you inconsistent with what he said to the Detroit
3 Free Press to the effect that he was going to use the federal
4 bankruptcy law to trump Article IX, Section 24, of the state
5 Constitution?

6 A The question is those discussions would have been with
7 counsel present.

8 Q So you're asserting the attorney-client privilege?

9 A The way you stated that, yes.

10 Q Okay.

11 MR. SCHNEIDER: I'm objecting on privilege grounds
12 as well.

13 MR. SHUMAKER: The city joins the objection.

14 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

15 Q When did you first learn that the attorney general was 16 going to take the position that he did?

17 A On a phone call a couple days --

18 Q And what --

19 A -- a day or so ahead.

20 Q A day or so ahead of his --

21 A Filing.

22 Q -- filing? Okay. And by "filing," to make sure we're 23 talking about the same thing, the filing he made in federal 24 court relative to his position at least on this issue?

25 A Yes.

1 Q Did you consult with the attorney general on this issue
2 of the interrelationship of Article IX, Section 24, of the 3 Constitution and bankruptcy anytime before this phone call?

4 A I did not personally.

5 Q Did you ask anybody on your behalf to do that?

6 A No.

7 Q Would it be fair to say that the call that he made to you
8 a day or two before was a courtesy call?

9 A Yes.

10 Q He was letting you know one politician to another that 11 I'm taking this position that may be adverse to you?

12 A I wouldn't describe it as one politician to the other. I
13 would describe it as the chief --

14 Q I knew you wouldn't, and I apologize for framing it that 15 way.

16 THE COURT: All right. So restate your question,
17 sir.

18 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

19 Q Why don't just tell us what was said between you and 20 Attorney General Schuette --

21 A Yeah. The chief legal officer of the state called the 22 chief executive of the state to --

23 Q Okay.

24 A -- let me know he was --

25 Q I accept your amendment.

1 A -- he was going to file a brief or a position on this
2 issue, and I appreciated that, that he had his constitutional
3 responsibilities, as did I, and we respect other and are good
4 working colleagues.

5 Q I'd like to move you now to a different subject, and that
6 is the Flowers and Webster lawsuits. Do you recall being 7 asked about that at your deposition?

8 A Yes.

9 Q I'm going to ask you hopefully fewer questions than at 10 your deposition about that.

11 A Thank you.

12 Q You're welcome. You learned of those lawsuits within a
13 day or so after they would -- let me back up. I'll state for 14 the record that they were filed on July 3rd. You learned
15 about their filings within a day or two, did you not?

16 A I would assume so. I know it was relative -- yes.

17 Q Okay. And you also learned at the same time or shortly
18 thereafter that the court had scheduled a hearing on 19 preliminary injunction requests in both of those two cases
20 for Monday, July 22nd, did you not?

21 A I didn't recognize it as simply about preliminary 22 injunctions. I believed it was simply a hearing on the 23 lawsuits, which could include preliminary injunctions.

24 Q Let me read to you a question and answer from your
25 deposition and see if it's accurate, and I'm at page 125,

1 line 21. "You did know" -- and I'm asking the question.
2 "You did know, did you not, shortly after those suits were
3 filed -- it was all over the papers -- that Judge Aquilina
4 was going to hold a hearing on whether to issue an injunction
5 Monday, July 22nd, did you not?" Your answer was, "Yes."

6 A No. I was simply stating I believed it included that. I
7 wasn't sure what else might have been in that hearing.

8 Q Okay. Fair enough. And I believe your counsel -- do you
9 recall at your deposition we asked for the transmission --
10 the e-mail transmission of your authorization to Mr. Orr, and 11 there were a bunch of questions because the only transmission
12 that we had at the time was late in the evening or like seven 13 something p.m.? Do you recall that?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And then later your counsel found the correct e-mail and 16 provided it to us. Do you recall that --

17 A I actually found it.

18 Q -- learning that? Oh, I'm sorry. You found it?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Okay. And at the end of the deposition, you said you
21 would, correct, that you would find it?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And you did?

24 A Took me about 30 seconds once I got on my computer.

25 Q Okay. And your counsel sent them to us or you instructed

1 your counsel, I assume, to do that?

2 A Yes.

3 Q And do you recall that that transmission occurred at 3:47
4 p.m.?

5 A Yes.

6 Q So it was not until 3:47 p.m. that Mr. Orr got written
7 authorization from you to file the bankruptcy; correct?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Okay. When did you first learn that Mr. Orr was 10 seriously considering filing Chapter 9? When I say
11 "seriously," I mean to the point of preparing papers as 12 opposed to just generally having it out there as a 13 possibility.

14 A It probably would have been about a week, in the time
15 frame of two or three to seven days or so before he sent his 16 letter to me.

17 Q And he sent his letter to you on the 16th, so sometime
18 maybe between July 6 and the 16th, somewhere in there?

19 A I couldn't speak to what specific day, but it was --

20 Q I understand.

21 A -- generally that time frame.

22 Q Okay. To your knowledge, did the state play any role in 23 drafting the request that Mr. Orr made?

24 A Not to my knowledge.

25 Q Do you know one way or another whether Mr. Orr sent a

1 draft of his request to somebody on your team to take a look
2 at and for input?

3 A That would have been at meetings that would have had
4 counsel present.

5 Q So you're asserting attorney-client privilege?

6 A Yes.

7 MR. SCHNEIDER: Objection based on attorney-client
8 privilege.

9 MR. SHUMAKER: The city joins the objection.

10 MR. WERTHEIMER: Your Honor, for the record, I
11 believe the privilege has been waived as to that based on a 12 document that the state voluntarily produced and waived the 13 privilege as to, but it is not a document to or from the 14 governor, so I'll delay examination relative to it.

15 THE COURT: Okay.

16 MR. SCHNEIDER: Of course, we object that there's 17 been no waiver.

18 MR. WERTHEIMER: Understood.

19 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

20 Q And I think we know from your deposition that as late as 21 July 7th -- and let me back up. I apologize. If we're in 22 this week that ends up the 19th, let's say earlier that week,
23 if I can put you back there -- 15th is Monday, if I'm doing
24 it right. You know that Judge Aquilina is going to hold a
25 hearing on an injunction request the following Monday, the

1 22nd; correct?

2 A Yes.

3 Q And you know -- without getting into all the legalese,
4 you know that the requests to Judge Aquilina are that she in
5 one way or another make sure that if you authorize a
6 bankruptcy, it will only be with a contingency that Article
7 IX, Section 24, be honored. Would that be fair as to your
8 knowledge?

9 A No, because I wouldn't speculate on what a judge is going 10 to do in doing the order or not doing the order or what they 11 might say in the order.

12 Q Well, you had been -- you were served on July 3rd with 13 the complaint, the motion for preliminary injunction, the 14 brief in support, and the order to show cause, were you not?

15 A I didn't personally receive all those documents.

16 Q Fair enough, but your office was served on that day. You
17 don't dispute that.

18 A Again, I can't confirm nor dispute. You have better
19 information on that than I do.

20 Q Okay. I mean for the record, we have documents showing
21 that that's the day, and we didn't serve you personally. It
22 was served at --

23 A My office.

24 Q -- the Romney Building at your office where you kindly 25 always accept service. Let me ask you this. Did you at

1 least look at the complaint or talk to somebody about the
2 contents of these complaints generally to get an idea what
3 they were about?

4 A That would have been subject to attorney-client
5 privilege.

6 Q Okay. Back to the beginning of the week. We're at 7 Monday, the 15th. If we move to Wednesday, the 17th, there's 8 a communications rollout document that we showed you at your 9 deposition. Do you recall that?

10 A Yes.

11 Q Three- or four-page document showing a rollout of the 12 bankruptcy filing that went into a lot of events that would 13 occur before the filing; correct?

14 A Yes.

15 Q A bunch of events that would occur after it; correct?

16 A Correct.

17 Q Down to, you know, who you were interviewing with the 18 following Monday and stuff like that. Am I -- is that 19 correct?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Okay. And that document that we showed you that was 22 dated -- was dated the 17th, do you recall that?

23 A Yes.

24 Q So that's Wednesday, and on Wednesday the rollout listed
25 that the filing would occur on the 19th; is that correct?

1 A Yes.

2 Q And it didn't occur on the 19th, did it?

3 A No.

4 Q And we know, do we not, that the filing -- the actual
5 physical paper filing the bankruptcy had a typed in nine that 6 Mr. Orr at his deposition indicated he switched to an eight.

7 A That's what you explained to me in the deposition.

8 Q And you have no reason to dispute it, but you don't know
9 it of your own knowledge?

10 A Yes.

11 Q Would it be fair to say that the fact that you, Mr. Orr,
12 and others knew that a state court judge would be considering
13 whether she should be imposing conditions on you authorizing
14 a bankruptcy played a role in when you transmitted your okay
15 to Mr. Orr at 3:47 on the 18th?

16 A I believe I explained this in my deposition that it was 17 more the filing of the lawsuits and the fact that bankruptcy
18 is a very last resort and that these actions showed that 19 there wasn't a meeting of the minds; that there was not going 20 to be a mutual understanding here to resolve this short of 21 bankruptcy. And that was part of my decision-making process
22 to say when I was comfortable to sign a letter authorizing 23 bankruptcy, which was a tremendously difficult decision to 24 make but the right one given the circumstances.

25 Q Fair enough. Just one other question, I think, related

1 to that. When you said "lawsuits" in that answer, would you
2 have been referring to the Flowers lawsuit, the Webster
3 lawsuit, and by that time the third lawsuit filed by the 4 Retirement System?

5 A Yes, and an expectation that there could be many other
6 lawsuits from debt holders and many other parties.

7 Q Okay. Fair enough. But no other specific lawsuits other
8 than the three I identified?

9 A Correct.

10 Q I'm going to have you identify some documents, and then 11 I've got some questions as to one, and then we're done,
12 Governor.

13 MR. WERTHEIMER: Could you put UAW 616 up?

14 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

15 Q Governor, can you confirm that this is an e-mail that you
16 received from Andy Dillon?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And that you read it on or around July 8?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And that it's part of the communications that went on 21 between you and your people relative to this issue of the 22 bankruptcy filing?

23 A I'm not sure. That last question, me and my people --

24 Q Well, I'm sorry. I apologize. It's an e-mail that 25 involves Mr. Dillon's role in helping you with the Detroit

1 problem.

2 A Yes.

3 MR. WERTHEIMER: Move for its admission. I believe
4 that was not admitted.

5 MR. SHUMAKER: Your Honor, the city objects on
6 hearsay grounds.

7 MR. WERTHEIMER: It goes to the state of mind of the 8 state officers, the back and forth. It's not being offered
9 for its truth as to any of the statements. It's being 10 offered as to their state of mind. Good faith is an issue.

11 MR. SHUMAKER: Your Honor, state of mind is not at 12 issue. This is for hearsay purposes.

13 THE COURT: Well, technically what's it --

14 MR. WERTHEIMER: I have one other point, your Honor,
15 and that is it's an admission. We have a common interest
16 privilege asserted when they want to keep documents from us,
17 but they are not agents of each other for purposes of the 18 hearsay rule, so it's -- not only is it offered as state of 19 mind, not for its truth, but even were it offered for its 20 truth, it should come in as an admission.

21 THE COURT: Well, what's at issue here in the 22 eligibility trial is the good faith of the city in filing the 23 case, so I would question how the good faith of the governor
24 is an issue at all.

25 MR. WERTHEIMER: Your Honor, we will present

1 through --

2 THE COURT: Could you do me a favor and pull that
3 microphone back closer to you? I think it got knocked
4 somewhere in the meantime.

5 MR. WERTHEIMER: Yeah. I'm sorry. We'll be
6 providing evidence indicating -- establishing that the state
7 helped Mr. Orr draft the July 16th request, so the idea that
8 we're going to in any way separate out state of minds here I
9 think just is counterfactual.

10 THE COURT: Well, but how does this memo bear upon
11 the city's good faith at all? That's the question.

12 MR. WERTHEIMER: Well, I think that the city, with 13 all due respect to Mr. Orr, was acting at the behest of the 14 state. I think that there is all kinds of evidence of that,
15 and there will be further evidence of it. And given that, we 16 think that if -- pulling the strings may be a little strong,
17 but if the state is involved in that decision-making, the 18 state of mind of the two principal state actors, by the 19 way -- we're not offering, you know, someone at Department of 20 Treasury whose name we've got to look up. This is Dillon to 21 Snyder.

22 THE COURT: All right. This is arguable. I'll 23 permit it.

24 MR. WERTHEIMER: Thank you.

25 MR. SCHNEIDER: Your Honor, I have an objection,

1 however. If this is to go to state of mind, this can't 2 possibly go to the governor's state of mind because this is
3 not a message sent from the governor. This is sent from the 4 treasurer. Not only that, but no one from the city is --

5 THE COURT: Well, but who received it?

6 MR. SCHNEIDER: The governor. He received --

7 THE COURT: Yeah. That objection is overruled.

8 MR. WERTHEIMER: Thank you.

9 THE COURT: The document is admitted. What's the 10 number again? 616?

11 MR. WERTHEIMER: 616, UAW 616.

12 THE COURT: 616 is admitted.

13 (Exhibit 616 received at 1:46 p.m.)

14 MR. WERTHEIMER: Would you now show 615?

15 MR. SCHNEIDER: Same objection, your Honor, on 16 hearsay grounds.

17 THE COURT: You're objecting to 615?

18 MR. SCHNEIDER: 615.

19 THE COURT: Okay. Hold that until it's actually 20 offered.

21 MR. SCHNEIDER: I'm sorry, your Honor.

22 MR. WERTHEIMER: Can you blow up that a little bit
23 at the top? Yeah, just there. That's great. Thank you.

24 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

25 Q Is that on your screen now, governor, the July 9 e-mail?

1 A Yes.

2 Q Okay. And this is Andy Dillon to you, a response to 3 the -- or a follow-up to the e-mail of the day before?

4 A Yes.

5 MR. WERTHEIMER: Move for its admission again for 6 the same reason, your Honor.

7 MR. SHUMAKER: Objection, your Honor. Hearsay. I'd 8 also like to ask if counsel is going to attempt to introduce
9 documents not in evidence already that they not be displayed
10 to you prior to you making a ruling as to their introduction.

11 THE COURT: Well, that's interesting because 12 sometimes I actually need to see the document to see if it's 13 relevant, so I will not ask him to make that request. And 14 you have your same objection, counsel?

15 MR. SCHNEIDER: Yes, your Honor.

16 THE COURT: All right. Both objections are 17 overruled, and this document -- 615, did you say --

18 MR. WERTHEIMER: Yes, your Honor.

19 THE COURT: -- is admitted.

20 MR. WERTHEIMER: Thanks.

21 (Exhibit 615 received at 1:47 p.m.)

22 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

23 Q I have just one other document to ask you about, and it's 24 not in evidence yet, so I'm going to -- we're going to do it
25 the old way. I'm going to show you a hard copy, and then

1 I'll come back here and ask you some questions about it. Do
2 you have that document in front of you, Governor?

3 A Yes, 625.

4 Q And who's Dennis Muchmore?

5 A He's my chief of staff.

6 Q And was he your chief of staff in July?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Okay. And who is Mike Gadola?

9 A He's the legal counsel to the governor.

10 Q And who is John Roberts?

11 A Deputy chief of staff.

12 Q And Greg Tedder?

13 A He's the state liaison to Kevyn Orr.

14 Q And do I read this document right that this is an e-mail
15 that Mr. Gadola sent to Mr. Muchmore and Roberts and that 16 Muchmore then sent on to you?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And you received it on July 12th?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And you read it?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Both Mr. Muchmore's message and the underlying message
23 from Mr. Gadola?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And it does relate to your decision-making relative to

1 the decision to authorize?

2 A I'm not sure I understand your question.

3 Q Well, I'll stop at this point.

4 MR. WERTHEIMER: I'd move for its admission at this
5 point, your Honor.

6 MR. SHUMAKER: Objection. Hearsay, your Honor.

7 THE COURT: And that's number what?

8 MR. WERTHEIMER: 625. And, again, I think we've got 9 the same arguments we had before, identical; that is --

10 MR. SCHNEIDER: Same objection.

11 MR. WERTHEIMER: Well, I won't repeat them, your 12 Honor, and I'd like to -- I mean obviously I'll be examining 13 the governor as to their content, but I thought it made sense
14 to move for their admission first. I'm happy to answer --
15 ask any follow-up questions the Court thinks it needs. And I
16 would also indicate for the record, your Honor, that --

17 THE COURT: One second.

18 MR. WERTHEIMER: I'm sorry.

19 THE COURT: So, Governor, have you seen this e-mail
20 before?

21 THE WITNESS: I've seen it before. I'd like time to 22 read it again --

23 THE COURT: Go ahead.

24 THE WITNESS: -- if possible.

25 THE COURT: Sure. Go ahead.

1 THE WITNESS: Thank you.

2 MR. WERTHEIMER: Your Honor, while he's doing that,
3 if I could inform the Court this was a document that was 4 withheld based on attorney-client privilege. It was
5 privilege log Number 6 of the state's log. It was produced
6 as part of the agreement that the state and I ended up making
7 relative to those privilege logs that we argued in front of 8 this Court a couple days ago, and in producing it, they 9 specifically waived in writing the attorney-client privilege.

10 THE COURT: Thank you, sir.

11 MR. WERTHEIMER: Yes.

12 THE COURT: Did you receive this e-mail?

13 THE WITNESS: Yes.

14 THE COURT: All right. The objections are
15 overruled, and Exhibit 625 is admitted into evidence.

16 (Exhibit 625 received at 1:52 p.m.)

17 THE COURT: Can we get a couple more copies of this,
18 please? Do you have --

19 MR. WERTHEIMER: Yes.

20 THE COURT: -- extras to provide?

21 MR. WERTHEIMER: Yes, you can. I've got a couple
22 here that are not marked 625.

23 THE COURT: All right. We'll take care of the 24 marking. Don't worry about that.

25 MR. DECHIARA: Your Honor, we're going to -- UAW is

1 going to submit binders tomorrow that will have multiple
2 copies of that exhibit.

3 THE COURT: Okay. That'll work, too. Thank you,
4 sir.

5 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

6 Q All right, Governor. My last round of questions is I'd 7 like to go through the contents of this e-mail, specifically
8 that part of it from Mr. Gadola ultimately to you, but 9 indirectly to you.

10 A Um-hmm.

11 Q Okay. On the third line he indicates, Mr. Gadola does,
12 that he spoke to Rich this morning. In context, would I be 13 right in suspecting that that would be Rich Baird?

14 A I would assume so.

15 Q Okay. And Andy would be Andy Dillon?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And LG would be the lieutenant governor?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And who is the lieutenant governor, for the record?

20 A Brian Calley.

21 Q And one of the things that Mr. Gadola is communicating to 22 you is that Baird is now in favor of a more deliberative
23 approach at your end; correct?

24 A He's stating what Rich Baird's view is.

25 Q Yes.

1 A Yes.

2 Q Fair enough. By the way, would it be correct -- if I
3 could move you off the document for just a minute, would I be
4 correct in recalling from your deposition that the only
5 investigation you did of the -- Orr's request on the 16th
6 related to assessing the lawsuits and taking his word for 7 some of the content of that letter; is that right?

8 MR. SCHNEIDER: Objection, your Honor. That's not a
9 correct statement, I believe, of what was taken at the 10 deposition.

11 MR. WERTHEIMER: Well, it may not be, your Honor.
12 If I can go back, I'll get the correct statement. I don't 13 want to -- I have no intention of misrepresenting.

14 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

15 Q I think I'm going to have to read a couple of questions
16 and answers to get this in context, if you'll bear with me,
17 because I want to make sure I'm accurate. There was a
18 question, and this is on page 77, line 20. "And did you
19 undertake any independent investigation or cause to be 20 undertaken any independent investigation to determine
21 whether, in fact, Mr. Orr's representation to you that there 22 had been" --

23 MR. SCHNEIDER: Your Honor, I object. There's no
24 foundation for this. If he wants to ask the governor a
25 question, that's fine, but that's not what's going on here.

1 THE COURT: The objection is sustained. Just ask
2 the governor a question.

3 MR. WERTHEIMER: All right.

4 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

5 Q Tell me what investigation you took between July 16th
6 when you received the Orr request and July 18 when you sent 7 the authorization back?

8 A I actually asked and built in additional time to think
9 about it because of the consequence of this in terms of 10 decision-making process, so I had them expand the calendar
11 originally through that process to give me an extra night or 12 so to sleep on something like this and to go through my 13 process. And I went back -- and I know you didn't care for 14 this last time, but literally I went back to since the time I
15 became governor walking through the entire process with Mayor
16 Bing about the prior review cycle at the end of 2011, 2012,
17 about the consent agreement. I reviewed the other financial 18 review team reports. I reviewed his 45-day report. I
19 reviewed his proposal to creditors. So I didn't go out and 20 find independent parties to do this, but I reviewed the file
21 and went back through the decision-making process to 22 recognize this was two and a half years of effort, and 23 basically then I made a decision.

24 Q Fair enough. And in fairness to you, I think I broadened
25 in my question what you were asked.

1 A Yeah.

2 Q And let me go down to the next question and answer, and I
3 think that --

4 A Um-hmm.

5 Q -- where we're only talking about -- or the question only
6 relates to the good faith negotiations, and I apologize for 7 being broader than I should have been. At page 78, line 14,
8 this is --

9 MR. SCHNEIDER: Same objection, your Honor. He's 10 just reading the transcript.

11 THE COURT: If you're trying to impeach the witness,
12 that's fine, but otherwise just ask a question.

13 MR. WERTHEIMER: Okay. Fair enough.

14 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

15 Q Would it be true, Governor, that the only thing you did
16 to check out the assertion that there had been -- there had 17 been good faith negotiations was to take a look at the 18 lawsuits or that issue and accept what Mr. Orr had in his 19 July 16th letter? Did you do anything else relative to the 20 assertion that there had been good faith negotiations?

21 A Well, I'd gone through multiple meetings where attorneys
22 were present where I would get updates on how meetings had 23 gone, and it wasn't just Mr. Orr. Mr. Dillon was present and 24 those -- and other people that were monitoring this process.

25 MR. WERTHEIMER: Well, your Honor, then I would

1 offer two questions and answers to impeach, and this is page
2 78, line 14, through 78, line 21.

3 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

4 Q "Question: So just so I understand your answer, your 5 acceptance of the truth of the assertion that there had been 6 good faith negotiations were based on what you read in the 7 July 16th letter" -- "Uh-huh" -- that was the answer --

8 "Question: -- and also the fact that certain lawsuits had 9 been filed?" "Answer: Yes." "Question: Was there anything
10 else that you relied on to conclude that there had been good
11 faith negotiations?" "Answer: No." Were those answers
12 truthful?

13 A Well, I don't see the difference because in the letter --

14 Q I'm not suggesting there is.

15 A Okay.

16 Q I'm just asking the question whether those answers were 17 truthful, Governor.

18 A Yeah, in the context of he cited meeting dates that were 19 during the process where we had other meetings going on, and 20 I got updates.

21 Q Fair enough. Let's go back to 625. The next sentence,
22 "Am I right in understanding that it's not just Baird, but
23 it's now Dillon and the lieutenant governor who are on board
24 with a more deliberative approach?"

25 A That's what this e-mail says.

1 Q And then what they suggest is you writing a letter back
2 to Mr. Orr and then the process continuing from there; is
3 that correct?

4 A That's, again, what this e-mail says.

5 Q Let's go to the next paragraph of the letter -- or I'm 6 sorry -- of the e-mail. Mr. Gadola then says, "I favor this
7 approach for a number of reasons, but primarily because I
8 think we should exercise the governor's ability under PA 436
9 to include conditions upon his authorization for a bankruptcy
10 filing." Do you recall receiving that opinion from your 11 attorney, Mr. Gadola, through this e-mail?

12 A I saw it through this e-mail, and I had other
13 confirmation of that.

14 Q In fact, it was your office that was instrumental in 15 getting the contingency language put into 436; isn't that 16 true? That is, the Governor's Office. I'm jumping around,
17 and I apologize. We took a -- we took a deposition of the 18 state official from Treasury, who was authorized to speak for 19 the state about the issue of who was doing what relative to 20 the passage of 436.

21 THE COURT: Counsel, it's not appropriate to advise
22 one witness of what another witness has said --

23 MR. WERTHEIMER: I'm just trying --

24 THE COURT: -- when they are sequestered.

25 MR. WERTHEIMER: I understand, your Honor. I'll

1 drop it.

2 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

3 Q Mr. Gadola specifically mentions vested pension benefits,
4 does he not?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And it's in the context of talking or recommending to you
7 that you put contingencies on a bankruptcy filing; correct?

8 A I'm not sure what sentence you're looking at. The one
9 I'm looking at said "could also include."

10 Q Yes.

11 A So it doesn't imply he's saying it has to but could 12 include.

13 Q That's right, could include, but what -- the overall --

14 A And it talks --

15 Q -- subject of this paragraph is the contingency issue;
16 isn't that right?

17 A It talks about vested pension benefits, GO debt,
18 disposition of assets, and assets greater than a certain
19 amount.

20 Q Fair enough. I didn't ask about those, but it does say
21 other things; correct?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Okay.

24 MR. WERTHEIMER: I have nothing further subject to 25 checking with my co-counsel. I have no further questions,

1 Governor. Again, thank you for your time.

2 MR. DECHIARA: Good afternoon, your Honor. Peter
3 DeChiara from the law firm of Cohen, Weiss & Simon, LLP, for
4 the UAW International Union.

5 DIRECT EXAMINATION

6 BY MR. DECHIARA:

7 Q Good afternoon, Governor.

8 A Good afternoon.

9 Q Governor, did Mr. Orr send a draft of his July 16th
10 letter to you before he sent the actual letter on July 16th?

11 A I don't recall that.

12 Q Do you know whether he sent a draft of the letter to your 13 staff?

14 A I don't recall.

15 Q Do you know whether he sent a draft of the letter to Mr.
16 Dillon?

17 A I don't recall.

18 Q Do you know if he sent a draft of the letter to Mr.
19 Dillon's staff?

20 A I don't recall.

21 Q Okay. Now, it's true that you were sent a draft of the 22 June 14th proposal to creditors; correct?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And you reviewed it?

25 A Yes.

1 Q And you gave feedback on it; correct?

2 A I don't recall much feedback on it.

3 Q Well, do you recall giving feedback?

4 A No. I don't recall specific feedback.

5 Q I'm not asking you whether you recall specific feedback.

6 Do you recall giving any feedback?

7 A I recall letting him know I read through it.

8 Q But no feedback?

9 A No.

10 Q Do you recall giving a deposition on October 9th, 2013,
11 in this proceeding?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And did you testify truthfully at that deposition?

14 A Yes.

15 Q I'd like to refer you to page 61 of the deposition, line
16 1.

17 "Question: Okay. Did you comment on the draft?

18 Answer: I generally reviewed it and just gave 19 general feedback."

20 Does that refresh your recollection about whether 21 you gave feedback on the draft?

22 A Yeah.

23 Q Did you give feedback on the draft?

24 A Well, again, just general comments, thanks for sending me
25 the draft.

1 Q And you saw in the proposal, did you not, that there was
2 language that said that there must be significant cuts to
3 accrued pension liabilities?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Okay. Did you raise any -- did you comment on that 6 language?

7 A No.

8 Q Okay. So by that answer, I assume you did not say to 9 Mr. Orr or to his staff that you opposed that position;
10 correct?

11 A In their presentation in the draft in the way they 12 described it to me, this was just the opening to describe the 13 factual situation to start a dialogue with creditors.

14 Q That's not my question. Let me ask this question. Did
15 you say to Mr. Orr or his staff that you opposed the position
16 that was laid out in the proposal that said that there must 17 be significant cuts to accrued pension liabilities?

18 MR. SCHNEIDER: I object to any question that might 19 be leading us into the area of attorney-client privilege,
20 which I believe this may be.

21 MR. DECHIARA: Your Honor, there's been absolutely
22 no testimony that there are any lawyers involved, and even if 23 there were, the governor commenting on the proposal --
24 there's already been testimony on it. And in any event, it's 25 not -- doesn't go to attorney-client privilege.

1 THE COURT: The objection is overruled, but having
2 said that, counsel, I would ask you and caution you not to 3 ask the very same questions that Mr. Wertheimer asked.

4 MR. DECHIARA: Your Honor, I'll try my best. I
5 really will.

6 THE COURT: I must insist on it.

7 MR. DECHIARA: I will try my best. Let me ask the 8 same question.

9 THE COURT: Okay. I'm going to assume you didn't 10 mean that.

11 MR. DECHIARA: Oh, your Honor, I don't believe there
12 was any -- this was asked on the prior examination, and I
13 think this is -- I don't recall --

14 THE COURT: Okay. I'll give you --

15 MR. DECHIARA: -- this being asked on the prior 16 examination.

17 THE COURT: I'll give you one more shot. Go ahead.

18 MR. DECHIARA: Okay. Thank you.

19 BY MR. DECHIARA:

20 Q Governor, did you say anything to Mr. Orr after you
21 reviewed the June 14th creditors' proposal that you objected
22 to the position that was set out there, namely that there
23 must be significant cuts to accrued pension liabilities?

24 A Again, there would have been attorneys present, but I'm 25 confused enough now where --

1 THE COURT: Well, if you are claiming the privilege,
2 we will deal with that. Is that your claim, sir?

3 MR. DECHIARA: Your Honor, I believe you overruled
4 counsel's attorney-client objection, so is -- are you
5 sustaining the governor's objection?

6 MR. SCHNEIDER: Renewing my objection, your Honor.

7 MR. DECHIARA: You're withdrawing it?

8 THE COURT: Okay.

9 MR. SCHNEIDER: I'll renew it.

10 THE COURT: Hang on. Hang on. All right. So I
11 already permitted testimony on this, and, if so, why are we 12 asking the question again?

13 MR. DECHIARA: The question has not been answered.
14 My recollection of the sequence of events was I asked the 15 question, counsel objected, you overruled the objection. I
16 asked the question again. The witness objected. So I think 17 that's where we are.

18 THE COURT: No, but when Mr. Wertheimer was 19 questioning, wasn't this exact question asked? In fact,
20 after the attorney-client privilege was overruled, I asked
21 the question. Let's move on here.

22 MR. DECHIARA: Should I not ask the question, your
23 Honor?

24 THE COURT: Let's move on.

25 MR. DECHIARA: Okay.

1 BY MR. DECHIARA:

2 Q Governor, do you support -- at the time you read that
3 language in the proposal, did you support -- do you agree
4 with that position that there must be significant cuts in
5 accrued pension liabilities?

6 A No.

7 Q You do not agree with that position?

8 A Again, I think it's speculation at this point in time.

9 Q I'm asking you at the time that you read the proposal,
10 did you agree with what was set out in the document?

11 A It used the word "must," and it was to go through a
12 negotiation process, so good faith parties could come up with 13 any arrangement they wanted to. Again, the numbers could be 14 difficult to get there, but to say it's impossible, I
15 couldn't say that.

16 Q Let me try to simplify it. Do you agree with the 17 position that there must be -- as you sit here today, do you
18 agree with the position that there must be significant cuts
19 to accrued pension liabilities?

20 A Again, that's one of the issues in Chapter 9. I view
21 this as not a matter of speculation. It depends on the plan
22 and the judge's approval.

23 Q I'm not asking for any speculation. I'm asking if you
24 agree with that position.

25 A Well, again, there's no plan been submitted yet.

1 Q I'm asking if you agree with that position, Governor.

2 A I don't necessarily know there have to be, and, again,
3 it's not my decision to make that call.

4 Q Did you believe -- when you received the July 16th
5 request by Mr. Orr for permission to file for bankruptcy,
6 there was reference to the June 14th creditors' proposal in 7 it, was there not?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Okay. And you approved the request to file for 10 bankruptcy; correct?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Okay. Did you undertake any investigation before you
13 approved the filing for bankruptcy of what impact that 14 proposal would have on the retirees of the City of Detroit?

15 A Yes.

16 Q What investigation did you undertake?

17 A Well, not investigation, but understanding from the 18 creditors' proposal it would have a dramatic impact, but also 19 the points in Mr. Orr's letter -- he pointed out why the 20 creditors' proposal didn't appear to be feasible.

21 Q Did you know the -- when you approved the bankruptcy
22 filing, did you know the extent of the cuts to pension
23 liabilities that were being proposed by Mr. Orr?

24 A Again, they were contingent, so it could have been any 25 amount of numbers, and it was subject to negotiation.

1 Q So you didn't know how much Mr. Orr -- when Mr. Orr said
2 there must be significant cuts, you didn't know what he had
3 in mind in terms of the extent of the cuts, if he had
4 anything in mind. Is that a fair statement?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Did you ask Mr. Orr before you approved the bankruptcy
7 filing how much he intended to cut people's -- retirees'
8 pensions?

9 A Those would have been in meetings subject to attorney-
10 client privilege.

11 Q So are you refusing to answer the question on attorney-
12 client privilege?

13 MR. SCHNEIDER: Objection based on attorney-client
14 privilege.

15 MR. DECHIARA: Your Honor, are you sustaining the 16 objection?

17 THE COURT: Would you like to be heard on whether 18 it's an appropriate claim of privilege?

19 MR. DECHIARA: Yes. I don't think just the fact
20 that there were attorneys present makes the communication
21 between the governor and the emergency manager privileged.
22 It doesn't deal with a legal issue. It's just a question
23 about whether he inquired of Mr. Orr. It goes directly to 24 the question of authorization.

25 THE COURT: Well, I assume it's relevant, but that

1 doesn't make it any less protected by the attorney-client
2 privilege. If there were attorneys there, I will sustain the 3 claim of privilege.

4 BY MR. DECHIARA:

5 Q Before you approved the bankruptcy filing, apart from
6 the --

7 THE COURT: By the way, as a matter of procedure,
8 counsel, when the witness claims privilege, there's no need
9 to object on the grounds of privilege. If counsel wishes the 10 witness to be compelled to answer in the face of the claim of 11 privilege, he will make such a motion, and then you'll be 12 heard.

13 MR. SCHNEIDER: That's fine, your Honor. Thank you.

14 BY MR. DECHIARA:

15 Q Did you understand that the proposal provided that in 16 exchange for the cuts in accrued pension liabilities the 17 retirees would get certain notes?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Okay. And did you know what the value of those notes
20 would be that the retirees would get?

21 A I knew the principal amount of the notes.

22 Q But did you know how much the value of the notes would be 23 that the retirees would get?

24 A Not to a specific number.

25 Q Okay. Did you have any idea?

1 A It would be a significant discount for the unfunded part
2 of the obligation.

3 Q Was it your understanding that the notes would be
4 interest only; in other words, that the retirees would not
5 have an entitlement to receive principal on the notes?

6 A I don't recall.

7 Q You didn't know that?

8 A That's different than "I don't recall."

9 Q Okay. So let me clarify the question. Did you know at 10 the time that you approved the bankruptcy filing whether or 11 not the notes would be interest only?

12 A Again, that's where I don't recall.

13 Q You don't recall whether you knew or not? Is that your
14 answer?

15 A I don't recall what the notes said specifically in terms
16 of their terms other than understanding there was a
17 contingent note.

18 Q Did you, before you approve the bankruptcy filing,
19 undertake -- apart from anything you said to Mr. Orr,
20 undertake any investigation or have any investigation
21 undertaken for you to assess how much the cuts in pension
22 liabilities would impact the retirees?

23 THE COURT: Asked and answered, your Honor, and I
24 believe Mr. Wertheimer also went into this area.

25 MR. DECHIARA: I'll strike that question.

1 BY MR. DECHIARA:

2 Q Did you investigate how much an average retiree of the 3 City of Detroit receives annually in retirement benefits?

4 MR. SCHNEIDER: Again, your Honor, asked and
5 answered. We're covering the same ground.

6 MR. DECHIARA: I don't believe it was, your Honor.

7 THE COURT: I'll permit this one. Go ahead, sir.
8 Please answer. Did you do such an investigation?

9 THE WITNESS: I had seen accounts in the press of 10 what pension benefits were for a number of the retirees.

11 BY MR. DECHIARA:

12 Q And did you rely on those accounts in the press?

13 A Some of them, yes.

14 Q Okay. Did you undertake any investigation -- given the 15 powers of your office and the resources at your disposal, did
16 you undertake or have an investigation undertaken to 17 determine the annual average pension benefits received by 18 retirees?

19 A No.

20 Q You just -- whatever -- you just read about it in the 21 newspaper. Is that your testimony?

22 A Again, there would have been meetings subject to
23 attorney-client privilege.

24 Q I'm not asking anything about meetings or attorney-client
25 privilege. I'm asking you did you rely on what you read in

1 the newspaper?

2 A I had other information that would have been in meetings
3 provided to me where attorneys were present.

4 Q And what was your understanding of the average annual
5 pension benefit received by a retiree?

6 A Again, it would have been in the thousand to $2,000-a-
7 month range.

8 Q Okay. So about 12,000 to 24,000 annually; is that -- am
9 I doing the math right?

10 A Sounds like it.

11 Q Okay. Did you do any investigation or cause any 12 investigation to be undertaken whether a retiree whose 13 pension is between 12 and $24,000 a year, if significant 14 amounts of that income was cut, whether the retirees would be 15 able to pay their mortgages or pay their rent necessary to 16 stay in their homes?

17 MR. SCHNEIDER: Objection. Relevance.

18 MR. DECHIARA: Your Honor, the governor approved the 19 bankruptcy filing based on -- he said he read the proposal --
20 based on the proposal. I'm trying to inquire into the state
21 of the governor's knowledge when he approved the bankruptcy
22 filing. I think to say -- let me just say this. To say
23 that -- these questions all go to the impact that these cuts
24 that Mr. Orr has proposed and that the governor knew about 25 and that the governor approved -- to say that the impact of

1 these cuts are going to have on the retirees and whether
2 they're going to be able to put food on the table and pay
3 their rent --

4 MR. SCHNEIDER: Objection, your Honor, to --

5 MR. DECHIARA: To say that's irrelevant to this
6 proceeding --

7 MR. SCHNEIDER: -- not only --

8 THE COURT: I need to hear the response to your 9 objection, sir.

10 MR. SCHNEIDER: I believe he's testified --

11 MR. DECHIARA: To say that's irrelevant to this
12 proceeding I think is incorrect.

13 THE COURT: Well, but your objection to eligibility
14 is that this bankruptcy will impair the pensions regardless
15 of their impact; right?

16 MR. DECHIARA: I'm sorry, your Honor.

17 THE COURT: Your objection to eligibility here is 18 that pensions will be impaired regardless of their impact.
19 Yes? Yes?

20 MR. DECHIARA: We object to any impairment of 21 accrued pension liabilities. That's correct.

22 THE COURT: All right. So it's not on the grounds
23 of impact. Its on the grounds of the Constitution. Yes?

24 MR. DECHIARA: Correct, but that's not our only --

25 THE COURT: All right. So the objection is

1 sustained.

2 BY MR. DECHIARA:

3 Q You testified earlier that since Mr. Orr has been 4 emergency manager, you've had regular meetings with him;
5 correct?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And those are both meetings in formal settings without 8 other advisors present, other staff and advisors present, and 9 also one-on-one meetings; correct?

10 A Yes.

11 Q In Mr. Orr's July 16th letter to you requesting 12 permission to file bankruptcy, he asserted, did he not, that 13 there were $3.5 billion in accrued pension liabilities that 14 the city had?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Okay. And you accepted that number as true?

17 A I --

18 Q It's a "yes" or "no" question.

19 A I took that as a number that he was presenting in his 20 letter. There's a variety of numbers out there.

21 Q My question is did you take that number that he presented
22 as true?

23 A I believed he was presenting a number he believed was a
24 true estimate.

25 Q And did you agree that it was true?

1 A I believe that there could be some reasonable range on
2 that, but it was within the reasonable range.

3 Q And when you received the July 16th letter, you knew that
4 the emergency manager had not completed an analysis of what
5 assets of the city could monetized; correct?

6 A Correct.

7 Q And when you approved the bankruptcy filing, you were 8 aware or were -- let me ask you. When you approved the 9 bankruptcy filing in your July 18th letter, were you aware
10 that a significant portion of the underfunded pension
11 liability of the City of Detroit was allocable to the Water
12 and Sewer Department?

13 A I didn't know what percentage, but there would be some 14 portion --

15 Q Did you know --

16 A -- to Water and Sewer.

17 Q Did you know that there was some percentage that was 18 allocatable?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Okay. Let me refer you back to your deposition. I'm 21 referring to page 59, line 2.

22 "Question: Do you know whether a significant 23 portion of Detroit's unfunded pension liability is 24 allocable to the city's Water and Sewer Department?

25 Answer: I'm not aware of that relationship."

1 Was that true at your deposition when you said you
2 were not aware of that relationship?

3 A At that time.

4 Q At the time of the deposition?

5 A Yeah.

6 Q And so since you -- so since then you've learned. Okay.
7 My question was not that. My question was at the time -- on 8 July 18th before your deposition, going back to July 18th --

9 A I'm sorry. I missed --

10 Q Okay. Okay.

11 A That would be correct.

12 Q We're not on the same page.

13 A Yes.

14 Q I think we are now. At the time of the July 18th letter
15 that you issued approving the bankruptcy filing, were you
16 aware then that a significant portion of the city's pension
17 liability was allocable to the Water and Sewer Department?

18 A Not at that time.

19 Q You were aware, were you not, that under law you could 20 have, had you chosen, put a contingency on your approval and 21 made the bankruptcy filing contingent on Mr. Orr not seeking 22 to impair accrued pension liabilities? Are you aware that 23 you had that power?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Okay. And you chose not to exercise it?

1 A Yes.

2 Q Did you speak to Mr. Orr at any time about using Chapter
3 9 to get -- to eliminate pension liabilities of the city?

4 A Those discussions would have been with attorneys.

5 Q Okay. So are you refusing to answer the question?

6 A Yes.

7 Q Okay. Did you speak to Mr. Orr at any time about the 8 timing of the bankruptcy filing?

9 A Those discussions would have been with attorneys present.

10 Q And you're refusing to answer that question?

11 A Yes.

12 MR. DECHIARA: Your Honor, I'm sorry if I'm taking 13 some time. I'm trying to eliminate so --

14 THE COURT: Okay.

15 MR. DECHIARA: -- I don't duplicate.

16 THE COURT: Take your time. Actually, while you're 17 doing that, I'm going to consult with my court security
18 officer here, so give me just a minute, please. You may 19 proceed whenever you are ready, sir.

20 MR. DECHIARA: Thank you, your Honor.

21 BY MR. DECHIARA:

22 Q Are you aware, Governor, that revenue sharing by the 23 state with the city -- in other words, monies given by the 24 state to the city -- have been reduced substantially over --
25 in recent years?

1 MR. SCHNEIDER: Objection to relevance.

2 THE COURT: No. That objection is overruled.
3 Please answer the question.

4 THE WITNESS: Yes.

5 BY MR. DECHIARA:

6 Q And is -- that's true, that it has been reduced
7 substantially over recent years?

8 A It has been reduced, yes.

9 Q Okay. Is it true, in your view, that if that state
10 revenue sharing had not been reduced, there might have been 11 monies to maintain the pensions of the Detroit retirees?

12 A That would be speculative.

13 Q Well, if the city had more money from the state, wouldn't 14 that -- wouldn't it not have more money available to pay for 15 pensions?

16 A Again, that's speculative because there are approximately 17 somewhere between 15 and $18 billion worth of debt and needs
18 in the services for better services -- excuse me -- the 19 citizens having better services within the city.

20 Q Did Mr. Orr at some point ask you whether his decision
21 whether or not to become emergency manager would impact the 22 decision on whether or not Jones Day would be hired as 23 restructuring counsel for the city?

24 A Would you repeat that again?

25 Q Sure. It was a little complicated. Did you -- excuse

1 me. Did Mr. Orr at any point when he was a candidate for
2 emergency manager -- did he ever have a conversation with you
3 where he said something to the effect of, "I don't want my
4 decision as to whether or not I accept the job to impact
5 Jones Day's chances of being hired as restructuring counsel
6 for the city"? Did Mr. Orr ever say anything to you --

7 A I don't recall.

8 Q -- along those lines?

9 A I don't recall that.

10 Q Did Mr. Orr ever come to you at any point since he's been 11 emergency manager asking whether or not the state would share
12 in the financial burden of some or all of Detroit's pension
13 liabilities?

14 A That would have been in meetings with attorneys present.

15 Q I'm just asking whether that conversation occurred.

16 A That particular question I don't recall being ever
17 brought up.

18 Q You don't recall whether it was ever brought up, but if 19 it did, it was -- it happened before attorneys? Is that your 20 testimony?

21 A Well, again, we had discussions on pensions, but 22 attorneys were present in those meetings.

23 Q Right, but this is a specific question. Did Mr. Orr ever
24 have discussions with you about the state sharing in the 25 financial burden in whole or in part of Detroit's financial

1 liabilities?

2 A I don't recall.

3 MR. DECHIARA: Nothing further, your Honor.

4 THE COURT: All right. Hang on. We're going to 5 take our afternoon break at this time for 15 minutes. Well,
6 actually until 2:45. I will, however, ask everyone to remain
7 seated until the governor can make his exit, and so give us a
8 couple minutes for that, and then we'll reconvene at 2:45. I
9 think the court security officer or one of them will show you
10 to the judges' conference room down the hall.

11 THE WITNESS: Okay. Just trying to show the right
12 etiquette, Judge.

13 THE COURT: I'm sorry, sir.

14 THE WITNESS: That you were leaving first.

15 THE COURT: No, no, no. I'm going to sit here with 16 everyone else, and then when you're all settled, we will go.
17 Okay. All right. We're going to be in recess.

18 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in recess.

19 (Recess at 2:27 p.m. until 2:45 p.m.)

20 THE COURT: You may proceed.

21 MS. LEVINE: Good afternoon, your Honor. Sharon
22 Levine, Lowenstein Sandler, for AFSCME. Just to clarify the 23 record, AFSCME also served a trial subpoena and appreciated
24 the acceptance of service by the state. Thank you.

25 DIRECT EXAMINATION

1 BY MS. LEVINE:

2 Q Good afternoon, Governor.

3 A Good afternoon.

4 Q Briefly, do you recall a coalition of unions negotiating
5 a tentative agreement with the City of Detroit back in -- in 6 or around February of 2012?

7 A I don't recall.

8 Q If I could try just to refresh your recollection for a
9 moment, there were about 30 unions that negotiated a
10 tentative agreement that was a concessionary agreement that 11 resulted in savings for the city. The unions ratified that 12 agreement and then were advised by the city that the state
13 asked them not to implement it. Are you familiar with that?

14 A I recall the general topic but no specifics.

15 Q Do you know why the state asked the city not to implement
16 the terms of the concessionary agreement, which would have 17 provided for savings to the city?

18 MR. SCHNEIDER: Objection to relevance.

19 THE COURT: Overruled. Please answer.

20 THE WITNESS: I don't recall.

21 BY MS. LEVINE:

22 Q Governor, it's true, is it not, that in a nonmunicipal
23 bankruptcy case, the Pension Benefit Guarantee Corp. or the 24 PBGC provides insurance coverage for retirees if their 25 pensions are terminated; correct?

1 A For private entities, I believe that's true.

2 Q For private entities with, for example, single employer
3 defined benefit plans; correct?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And the current level of protection provided by the PBGC
6 is $57,500; is that correct?

7 A I wouldn't be aware of that number.

8 Q Well, isn't it true that -- our understanding is that the 9 average pension in Detroit is approximately $18,000 a year,
10 but even using your figure of between one or $2,000 a month,
11 which is slightly higher, isn't it true that all of the 12 retirees in Detroit would fall within the limits of the PBGC
13 protections?

14 A Again, I'm relying on your statements.

15 Q So it's true, though, that all of the retirees would fall
16 within the limits of about $57,000, in fact, substantially
17 under $57,000 a year?

18 A Again, I don't know to a fact that every retiree is under 19 that number.

20 Q Okay. We'll try this a different way. You reviewed the 21 June 14th proposal prior to the time of the June 14
22 presentation; correct?

23 A Yes.

24 Q Were you present at the June 14 presentation?

25 A No.

1 Q Kevyn Orr was present at the June 14 presentation? Yes?

2 A Yes.

3 Q But he had discussions with you prior to that time?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And you reviewed the presentation before it was made;
6 correct?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And on page 109 of the presentation, which was Exhibit
9 43, and on page 59 of the executive summary of the 10 presentation, which is Exhibit 44, there is a comment with 11 regard to underfunded pension, and I'm just going to read it
12 so we don't have to find the document right now. "Because 13 the amounts realized on the underfunding claims will be 14 substantially less than the underfunding amount, there must 15 be significant cuts in accrued vested pension amounts for 16 both active and currently retired persons." Do you recall
17 that?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Did you read that before June 14?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Now, with regard to the amount of the underfunding, I
22 believe you previously testified today that you don't know
23 what it is, is that correct, as we sit here today?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And it would be speculative to guess what it would be as

1 you sit here today; correct?

2 A Yes. There could be a wide range on that.

3 Q So there is nothing in this so-called proposal to 4 creditors, for example, that would say to a retiree that if
5 they earn currently $18,000 a year, that after the proposal
6 was implemented, if it's implemented, their annual benefit
7 will drop to nine, five, four, or zero; correct?

8 A Well, that was a proposal subject to mutual negotiations,
9 so it didn't --

10 Q No, no, but under the proposal, regardless of what the 11 mutual negotiation is, if I'm a retiree -- Sharon Levine is 12 86 years old. I live in Detroit. I look at this proposal,
13 and I say to myself, okay, I currently get $18,000 a year.
14 After the proposal, my vested accrued pension benefit payment
15 will now drop to nine, five, seven, whatever the number is.
16 You can't tell that from this proposal; correct?

17 A I believe that would be difficult.

18 Q And in addition to that, it talks about a $2 billion note
19 for all of the unsecured creditors to share; correct?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And we don't know what the total universe of all
22 unsecured claims are, do we?

23 A I believe -- well, there's an estimate in the proposal to
24 creditors.

25 Q Right, but as we sit here today, exactly what that number

1 is going to be, we don't know what it is, do we?

2 A Correct.

3 Q And so any individual creditor doesn't really know, as we
4 sit here today, what their share of the $2 billion note will
5 be over the term of that note; correct?

6 A Well, you said "will be." You're assuming that will be 7 the case. That's past tense now that --

8 Q Let's go back.

9 A -- we're in bankruptcy.

10 Q Let's go back to June 14 again. I'll try it again.
11 Okay. On June 14 the city made a proposal that you read
12 before it was made.

13 A Yes.

14 Q Okay. And a retiree reading that proposal doesn't know
15 what their post-proposal, if it's implemented, retiree annual 16 benefit is going to be post-proposal. We just had that 17 conversation. We don't know if 18 is dropping to 9 or 4 or 7
18 or whatever the number is going to be; correct?

19 A I'm not trying to be difficult, but you're speaking in 20 the future tense.

21 Q No. I'm speaking in the past. In other words, one of 22 the things we're looking at --

23 A You said what it will be --

24 Q Okay. I'll rephrase it.

25 A -- or what it would have been.

1 Q I'll rephrase.

2 A Yeah.

3 Q I'll rephrase.

4 A I'm sorry. I'm just trying to make sure I'm answering --

5 Q I'll rephrase. Going back to June 14, we're making a
6 proposal; right? We have a proposal. It's the so-called
7 proposal to creditors. A retiree is a creditor; correct?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Okay. An individual retiree picks up the proposal or 10 takes it off the website or comes to one of the public
11 meetings. They currently get $18,000 a year. They take a
12 look at this proposal. There is nowhere in that proposal
13 that tells them what they're going to get if the proposal is 14 implemented on that -- what they now know to be their $18,000
15 a year; correct?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Okay. And in addition to that, whatever that
18 underfunding is would -- if I understood your testimony
19 correctly, would be part of what gets paid under the $2
20 billion note; correct?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Okay. Now, there's nothing in that proposal, though,
23 that would tell an individual creditor or an individual
24 retiree exactly what their proportionate share of the $2
25 billion note would be; correct?

1 A I thought you already asked that, but yes.

2 Q Well, but we were -- okay. So that's good. So we don't
3 know what we're getting on our annual pension benefit
4 anymore, and we don't know what our claim is going to be
5 worth as we read the June 14 proposal for creditors; correct?

6 A Yes.

7 Q Okay. In addition to that, as we sit here today, is it
8 your understanding that the individual retiree asserts a
9 claim for the underfunding portion, or is it, as the city
10 contends, only the Retirement System that asserts that claim?

11 A That would be a legal question that I'd leave to the --

12 Q So a retired person who is coming to the June 14 meeting
13 doesn't know what their annual pension benefit is going to be
14 reduced to, doesn't know what their pro rata share of this $2
15 billion note is going to be, and doesn't even know if they're 16 going to be allowed to assert a claim to share in the $2
17 billion note; is that correct?

18 A If you're speaking in the present tense, I believe one of 19 the first things that was requested by the city during the 20 bankruptcy process was to have someone represent the 21 creditors so they would have a voice at the table, so I view
22 that as one of the constructive issues that I looked at that 23 retirees weren't having the kind of representation I thought
24 they deserved until we got into this process.

25 Q Okay. But I'm going to ask my question again. On June

1 14, if you're a retiree and you're reading this proposal --
2 okay -- you cannot tell -- it's correct that you can't tell
3 what your -- and I'm using a hypothetical -- $18,000 a year
4 is going to be reduced to, you can't tell what your pro rata
5 share of the $2 billion note is going to be in real
6 quantifiable dollars, and you don't know even if you're going
7 to be allowed to assert that claim or whether that claim only
8 gets asserted by the pensions themselves; isn't that correct?

9 A The first two statements I would say yes. The third one
10 is a legal question that I don't know the answer to.

11 Q But, Governor, if you don't understand it, how does the 12 86-year-old retiree understand it?

13 A Again, that's --

14 MR. SCHNEIDER: Objection. Speculation.

15 THE COURT: Overruled. Can you answer the question?

16 THE WITNESS: That would have been the part of the 17 negotiate process because I believe Mr. Orr was trying to 18 have meetings with various union and other representatives to 19 potentially represent the retirees. My understanding is in 20 many cases they would not take up that interest in 21 representing the retirees.

22 BY MS. LEVINE:

23 Q Governor, are you aware that AFSCME wrote several letters
24 to Jones Day and Miller Buckfire requesting meetings prior to 25 the filing of the bankruptcy case on July 17 requesting

1 meetings with regard to negotiations?

2 A No.

3 Q Were you aware that those requests were declined?

4 A No.

5 Q In response to earlier questioning, you said if the Court
6 ordered you -- sorry. In response to prior questioning with 7 regard to not diminishing or impairing vested pension
8 benefits, I believe you testified, and I quote, here today,
9 if the court ordered you had to pay them, you would pay them.
10 Is that a true statement?

11 A I will follow a lawful order of a court every time.

12 Q So if this Court finds --

13 A That's my goals as governor.

14 Q So if this Court finds that it's unconstitutional or 15 unconstitutional as applied to impair or diminish vested
16 pension benefits, are you, as the governor of the State of 17 Michigan, saying that the state will pay those pension
18 benefits?

19 A I think you're asking a broader question in that context
20 because the case is with the City of Detroit, not the State
21 of Michigan.

22 Q Your comment was if the court ordered you had to pay
23 them, you would pay them.

24 A If the court through this process -- if I have a valid
25 judicial order that's been reviewed and gone through the

1 judicial system ordering me to take an action, I'm going to
2 follow the action of the court.

3 Q As we sit here today, have you or has anyone on behalf of 4 the state offered to Detroit or Kevyn Orr state funding to 5 avoid impairing or diminishing pension benefits?

6 A Those discussions would have been with attorneys present.

7 Q I'm not asking you what the discussions were. I'm not
8 asking what you said or what they said. I'm asking as we sit 9 here today, have you or has anyone on your behalf or on 10 behalf of the state offered Detroit or Kevyn Orr state
11 funding to avoid impairing or diminishing vested pension
12 benefits?

13 THE COURT: I'm going to ask you to answer that 14 question but with one further limitation, which is I don't 15 want you to disclose any conversations that you have had or 16 that you are aware has been had in the context of the 17 District Court's mediation here.

18 MS. LEVINE: And we weren't looking for that, your
19 Honor.

20 THE COURT: So with that limitation, would you
21 answer the question?

22 THE WITNESS: Could you walk through that one more
23 time for me? Sorry.

24 BY MS. LEVINE:

25 Q As we sit here today --

1 THE COURT: That's all right. That's all right.

2 BY MS. LEVINE:

3 Q -- have you or has anyone on your behalf or on behalf of 4 the state offered Detroit or Kevyn Orr state funding to avoid
5 impairing or diminishing vested pension benefits?

6 A No.

7 MS. LEVINE: No further questions, your Honor.

8 DIRECT EXAMINATION

9 BY MR. KING:

10 Q Good afternoon, Governor.

11 A Good afternoon.

12 Q My name is Ron King, and I represent the two Detroit
13 Retirement Systems. If I understood your testimony
14 correctly, leading up to the June 18th authorization, you'd 15 indicated that this was a two-and-a-half-year-in-the-making
16 process. Is that accurate?

17 A I had been involved with serious discussions on Detroit's
18 financial condition over the last two and a half years, yes.

19 Q And as part of those discussions, is it safe to assume 20 that there was substantial review of financial information,
21 compilation of multiple reports, in-depth analysis of cash
22 flow, and other factors that would go into evaluating the 23 financial condition of the city?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And, additionally, even dating back to 2012, the city had

1 professionals on board, consultants on board, that were
2 engaged in the process of conducting and compiling this
3 information and performing those types of reviews, to your 4 knowledge; correct?

5 A Yes.

6 Q So this has been a very lengthy ongoing process leading 7 up to your authorization on July 18th. Is that accurate?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And you indicated that you were familiar with the June
10 14th proposal to creditors; correct?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And I believe you agreed that that June 14 proposal
13 actually used the language that there would be significant
14 cuts to pension benefits. Is that accurate?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And I think you also stated just a moment ago -- and I
17 know you also did in your deposition -- that one of your
18 concerns understandably was that retirees would have a voice
19 in this process. Is that accurate?

20 A Yes.

21 Q If the city were to put forth a proposal that didn't
22 contemplate an impairment or diminishment of pension
23 benefits, then there wouldn't be a need for the retirees to 24 have a voice, would there be?

25 MR. SCHNEIDER: Objection. Calls for speculation.

1 THE COURT: Sustained.

2 BY MR. KING:

3 Q Do you know if the city has set forth any other proposals
4 to creditors other than the June 14 proposal?

5 A I wasn't present for the follow-up negotiations, the 6 meetings that would have taken place in terms of I wasn't
7 present in those meetings with all those various creditors.

8 Q And do you know whether or not the city contemplated a
9 proposal that would not impair or diminish pension benefits?

10 A I don't recall.

11 Q Have you and Mr. Orr had any discussions that would 12 contemplate a proposal that would not include the impairment
13 or diminishment of pension benefits, and that's subject to 14 Judge Rhodes' caveat that obviously you can't include
15 anything that was done in the context of the mediation?

16 A I'm trying to recall.

17 Q And I can -- let me -- you want me to repeat the question
18 for you? Have you or Mr. Orr had any discussions prior to 19 your June 18 -- your July 18th authorization about putting 20 forth a proposal to creditors that does not contemplate the 21 diminishment or impairment of pension benefits?

22 MR. SCHNEIDER: Objection if the question is calling
23 for attorney-client privileged information.

24 MR. SHUMAKER: Same objection.

25 THE COURT: You can answer that question if it does

1 not involve communication with counsel.

2 THE WITNESS: It did involve counsel.

3 THE COURT: All right.

4 BY MR. KING:

5 Q Thank you, Governor.

6 MR. KING: Can we see Exhibit 615, please?

7 BY MR. KING:

8 Q And, Governor Snyder, if I could just focus your 9 attention to the last sentence of the first paragraph, and 10 this is the e-mail from then Treasurer Dillon to you, and 11 that sentence says, "Because pensions have such a long life, 12 there are a lot of creative options we can explore." Have 13 you explored any of these creative options that Treasurer
14 Dillon set forth in this e-mail to you?

15 A In terms of this particular e-mail, what would have
16 happened is -- what happened is I believe there was a phone
17 conversation that he called me that evening and had a general
18 discussion on that. I listened to what he had to say. I
19 appreciated what he had to say. And then I passed it on to 20 discussions with Kevyn Orr and the city in meetings that 21 attorneys were present at and giving advice on.

22 Q Did any of these creative options contemplate a scenario
23 where pension benefits were not diminished or impaired?

24 A I don't recall that specifically.

25 Q And let me -- if we could put up -- oh, one more question

1 on this.

2 MR. KING: Could we go back to the full text of the 3 e-mail, please?

4 BY MR. KING:

5 Q In this e-mail, there's also a reference to at least
6 Governor -- or excuse me -- Treasurer Dillon's statement that 7 it's early in the process, and this is still in the 8 informational stage. As of July 9th of 2013, did you believe
9 that statement to be true?

10 A Which part? I'm sorry.

11 Q The part that's now --

12 THE COURT: Would you just rephrase the question?

13 MR. KING: Sure.

14 BY MR. KING:

15 Q In this e-mail Treasurer Dillon says, "In my view, it's 16 too early in the process to respond to hypothetical
17 questions. We remain in many ways at the information stage,"
18 and my question was as of July 9th, do you agree with that 19 statement?

20 A That's what he shared with me, so I took that as 21 accurate.

22 Q Do you agree that that's the case even today, as we sit
23 here today?

24 A There's more work that's been done on the subject matter,
25 and I believe people are still analyzing data on this

1 question.

2 Q Thank you.

3 MR. KING: Can you put up UAW 625, please? And can
4 you scroll down to the second full paragraph where it starts
5 "I favor"? Thank you.

6 BY MR. KING:

7 Q Now, this was an e-mail from your counsel to you, and --

8 A Actually, it was not to me. This e-mail wasn't -- you're 9 quoting the part from Mike Gadola to a number of people that 10 Mike Gadola -- that Dennis Muchmore then forwarded to me.

11 Q Fair enough. Did you see this statement here?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And did Mr. Gadola ever share with you his opinion that 14 you should exercise your ability under PA 436 to put 15 contingencies on the bankruptcy filing?

16 A Yeah. I don't want to be difficult here. I just need
17 some help --

18 Q Sure.

19 A -- in the sense that it's in this document that's now an
20 exhibit, but Mike Gadola is my counsel, so he shared
21 information on this topic, but that's where I just need help
22 to know is that subject to privilege or because it's here
23 it's not anymore?

24 MR. KING: Your Honor, I'm not familiar with the 25 agreement that Mr. Wertheimer entered into with the city, but

1 it's my understanding that there was a waiver of privilege at 2 least with respect to this document.

3 MR. SCHNEIDER: Your Honor, the waiver is only as to 4 this document, nothing else.

5 MR. WERTHEIMER: The waiver is as to this and other
6 documents but nothing beyond the documents.

7 MR. KING: Let me move on, your Honor.

8 THE COURT: All right.

9 BY MR. KING:

10 Q At some point, you elected not to include any
11 contingencies with the authorization that you sent to Mr. Orr
12 on July 18th; correct?

13 A Correct.

14 Q And at the time that you sent that authorization to 15 Mr. Orr, you were aware of his public position and, of 16 course, the position set forth in the June 14 proposal that 17 he believed pension benefits needed to be significantly
18 reduced; is that correct?

19 A Again, I didn't take the June 14th proposal as 20 conclusive. Again, that was part of the mutual negotiation
21 process to avoid the bankruptcy. Now that we're in 22 bankruptcy, it's really contingent on waiting for a plan on 23 bankruptcy to be presented to the judge.

24 Q But at your deposition you indicated that you were aware
25 at the time that you executed the July 18th letter that it

1 was Mr. Orr's position that there had to be significant cuts
2 in accrued pension benefits?

3 A It was what he presented in the proposal to creditors.

4 Q And why is it that you chose not to put a contingency in
5 the July 18th authorization related to accrued pension
6 benefits?

7 A I made a decision not to put a contingency with respect
8 to any conditions because my concern was is this is an 9 extremely difficult process; that we're in a crisis mode; and 10 that we have serious issues here. And I felt it could be an 11 issue causing more delays, concern, complexity to a very 12 complex case to begin with; that I have confidence in the 13 judicial process, and that's why I actually asked that 14 additional statement to be added in that paragraph that any 15 plan that comes out of this has to be a legal plan. I
16 thought it was a good opportunity to get people that are the 17 appropriate people to make decisions that then I can help
18 support the city in the implementation.

19 Q But ultimately you decided that the July 18th
20 authorization should not have any contingencies?

21 A Yes. I made that decision.

22 Q And I'm going to finish up, I think, where you started,
23 which was -- I think you testified very, very early on that
24 you believe that the issue affecting the Detroit bankruptcy
25 is one of I think national importance.

1 A Not national importance. It could be viewed that way.
2 My concern is with the citizens of Michigan and the City of
3 Detroit, including the retirees. To the degree it affects
4 things nationally, that's a national issue. What I was 5 putting in is if you look at difficult problems around our
6 country, this is a problem that's been accumulating for 60
7 years and had not been solved before, and there are not many 8 problems of this magnitude in our country.

9 Q So you certainly would agree that the situation in 10 Detroit impacts the citizens of the State of Michigan?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And do you agree with me that until such time that the 13 people of the State of Michigan, through a lawful amendment
14 to the Constitution, choose to modify Article IX, Section 24,
15 that the state should otherwise honor that obligation?

16 A I believe I'm following Michigan's Constitution and the 17 Constitution of the United States, and the article says
18 accrued financial benefits shall be treated as a contractual
19 obligation.

20 MR. KING: Thank you, Governor. Appreciate your
21 time.

22 DIRECT EXAMINATION

23 BY MS. PATEK:

24 Q Good afternoon, Governor. Barbara Patek. I represent 25 the four public safety unions that represent the police and

1 fire fighters of the City of Detroit, and I have just a
2 handful of questions for you. I want to start with Public
3 Act 436. Obviously you're the chief executive of our state,
4 and you're not a legislature, but Public Act 436 was an act
5 that you favored; is that right?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And you favored it because it provided a number of tools
8 that could be used in circumstances like that facing the City
9 of Detroit; correct?

10 A That was very general. I'd be happy to give you more
11 specific reasons.

12 Q And I'm going to ask you about --

13 A Okay.

14 Q -- some of the -- I mean I'm not suggesting that there
15 aren't reasons --

16 A Okay.

17 Q -- but I'm going to ask you about some of those reasons.
18 Among those tools, it did allow, upon a finding of a
19 financial emergency, for the appointment of an emergency
20 manager like Mr. Orr; right?

21 A Public Act 436 actually gives options to communities
22 about one of four courses to follow, which --

23 Q Correct.

24 A -- was an improvement on Public Act 4.

25 Q I think you and I are talking about the same thing, but

1 I'm just asking about specific --

2 A Okay.

3 Q -- aspects of that. So among those options is, under the 4 appropriate circumstances, an emergency manager like Mr. Orr
5 can be appointed.

6 A A city may select that.

7 Q And that occurred in this particular case; correct?

8 A What happened in this particular case is Kevyn Orr
9 came -- originally this process was under Public Act 72; that 10 then he transitioned to Public Act 436.

11 Q But at the time Kevyn Orr became first the emergency
12 financial manager under Public Act 72 or former Public Act
13 72, everyone knew that a few days hence that he would become 14 the emergency manager under Public Act 436; isn't that right?

15 A He became -- it was under Public Act 72 that he would be 16 transitioning to 436, yes.

17 Q And when that happened, you knew and the others involved
18 with the City of Detroit knew that within a few days after 19 that appointment because Public Act 436 would become 20 effective on March 28th of this year, that he would then --
21 Kevyn Orr would then become the emergency manager under 22 Public Act 436.

23 A He would transition from one act to the other.

24 Q And one of the -- one of the things that Public Act 436
25 also does is it allows an emergency manager to seek your

1 authorization to file for Chapter 9; correct?

2 A Correct.

3 Q And as we know, that, indeed, occurred in this case?

4 A Correct.

5 Q And we've talked a lot about -- well, strike that.

6 Another thing that Public Act 436 does is it is designed to 7 in a financial emergency situation reduce or eliminate under 8 certain circumstances the collective bargaining rights of 9 public employees.

10 A It allows contracts to be changed in some fashion, yes.

11 Q Including collective bargaining agreements, and it has --

12 A There is a process, though, that has to be followed.

13 It's not simply a decision of the manager.

14 Q And if that process is followed, those -- the right to 15 bargain collectively can be suspended?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And we talked about the June 14th proposal, and as I'm 18 hearing your testimony sitting here this afternoon, one of 19 the things that I hear you saying is it was the expectation
20 that there would be some kind of more robust give-and-take 21 negotiating process once that proposal was made that would 22 potentially result in a solution to one or more of the 23 problems facing the City of Detroit?

24 A I'm not sure I follow you. Could you --

25 Q The June 14th proposal, I think you've indicated a number

1 of times you expect -- you expected that proposal to trigger
2 negotiations between the various interested parties.

3 A Yes.

4 Q And was it your expectation that that negotiating process
5 would take some time?

6 A Given that it's an environment of crisis, it would -- it
7 could take some time, but hopefully it would be done promptly
8 and thoughtfully given the urgency.

9 Q And one of the difficulties, as Ms. Levine went over with 10 you a few moments ago, with respect to the impairment of the 11 accrued vested pension benefits was the fact that there were 12 a lot of numbers missing from the equation; that is, exactly
13 what that impairment meant wasn't quite clear as of the time
14 of the June 14th proposal. You would agree with that?

15 A In the proposal itself there were open issues, but that 16 was the point of it being a proposal that needed further
17 negotiation.

18 Q And I think you also told us when you made the decision
19 in response to Mr. Orr's July 16th letter to authorize the 20 Chapter 9 filing, you really went back over your term as 21 governor and reviewed for yourself the process of -- you
22 know, everything sort of that the City of Detroit had gone
23 through and the milestones that perhaps had not been met
24 and -- before you granted the authorization.

25 A Yes.

1 Q You are familiar, as the governor of the state, with Act
2 312?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And you know that that provides a mechanism that includes
5 mediation and arbitration of disputes between public safety
6 employees like police and fire with their various 7 municipalities?

8 MR. SCHNEIDER: Objection as to the relevance.

9 THE COURT: Overruled. Go ahead.

10 THE WITNESS: Yes.

11 MS. PATEK: Can we have 720? Hopefully this will 12 work. You can go to the second page, please.

13 BY MS. PATEK:

14 Q Were you monitoring or following closely the activities
15 in terms of what was going on with the financial emergency in 16 the City of Detroit after Mr. Orr's appointment on March
17 28th?

18 A Well, I'm not sure how you define "following closely." I
19 followed it.

20 Q Were you aware that there were a number of collective 21 bargaining agreements among the public safety unions that 22 were due to expire as of June 30th of 2013?

23 A I believe there were some.

24 Q And would you agree with me -- well, strike that. Are 25 you aware or did you play any role in the city's decision to

1 block the Act 312 proceedings associated with those efforts
2 to negotiate and extend those collective bargaining
3 agreements?

4 A No.

5 Q Would you agree with me that if the city were, in fact,
6 looking to negotiate and address the problem of the accrued
7 vested pension benefits, that, first of all, as a general
8 matter, there was at least some question as to whether 9 outside of bankruptcy those benefits could be impaired
10 because of the state Constitution? Would you agree with
11 that?

12 A I don't think I have enough knowledge to answer that
13 question.

14 Q Would you agree that in the context of a negotiation and 15 perhaps as a quid pro quo for an extension of the term of the 16 contract, that that might be a place for the city to begin to 17 address on a relatively expeditious basis the accrued vested
18 benefits, at least of the active public safety employees
19 involved in those negotiations?

20 MR. SCHNEIDER: Objection. Calls for speculation.

21 THE COURT: Overruled. Excuse me. Overruled.

22 Please answer.

23 THE WITNESS: Again, I don't have enough knowledge
24 of the specifics of the situation that I would just be 25 speculating.

1 THE COURT: Okay.

2 BY MS. PATEK:

3 Q Do you know whether or not pursuant to Public Act 436 in 4 this case the collective bargaining rights of the public
5 safety employees were at least in some cases suspended by the
6 emergency manager?

7 A I believe they had been suspended for some time under the 8 prior emergency manager laws.

9 Q And that allowed the state to impose terms?

10 A Again, it's not the state. It would be the City of
11 Detroit.

12 Q I'm sorry. That allowed the city to impose terms.

13 A Yes.

14 Q Well, by the time the emergency manager took his role
15 under Public Act 436, if we focus on March 28th, 2013,
16 whether -- without getting into the specifics, would it be
17 fair to say that the legacy costs facing the City of Detroit
18 were in issue?

19 A They had been an issue for some time.

20 Q And having the opportunity to have a negotiation with the 21 public safety unions could provide a venue in which that 22 issue could be addressed?

23 A That would be possible.

24 Q Now, in terms of the proposed significant impairments to 25 pension benefits that we've been talking about, do you

1 understand that included in those accrued vested pension
2 benefits are the benefits belonging to the active public
3 safety -- that is, police and fire fighters -- who are
4 working today for the City of Detroit?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And do you understand that in addition to -- well, strike
7 that. Are you aware that the police and fire fighters in the 8 City of Detroit do not have the benefit of Social Security?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And am I correct that in order for the City of Detroit to 11 be exempted from paying Social Security on behalf of those 12 fire fighters and police officers, it has to have a Section
13 218 agreement with the federal agreement?

14 A I'm not aware of that.

15 Q Are you aware that there has to be some sort of agreement
16 with the federal government under which the federal 17 government has to be satisfied that there is a qualified
18 pension plan to provide pension and disability benefits to 19 the affected employees?

20 A No. I'm not familiar with those federal statutes.

21 Q And if I were to ask you whether or not you were aware of 22 the requirement that such a pension plan provide any minimum
23 level of benefits, I take it you're unaware of that?

24 A With regard to federal law.

25 Q And would it be fair to say that you were unaware of that

1 at the time you authorized the bankruptcy filing on July
2 18th, 2013?

3 A Yes.

4 MS. PATEK: I think that's all I have.

5 THE COURT: Any other questions for the witnesses?

6 MS. BRIMER: Good afternoon, your Honor. Lynn M.
7 Brimer.

8 DIRECT EXAMINATION

9 BY MS. BRIMER:

10 Q Good afternoon, Governor. My name is Lynn Brimer. We've 11 not met. I represent an association, the Retired Detroit
12 Police Members Association, in this matter. Your Honor,
13 my -- Governor, my line of questioning will probably be a bit
14 different, and if you don't mind to indulge me, I'd like to 15 ask just a few questions to get a little bit of the lay of 16 the land. Treasurer Dillon is an appointee that you
17 appointed; correct?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And Treasurer Dillon and his staff ultimately would be 20 responsible for reporting to you in connection with their 21 activities on behalf of the State of Michigan. Is that a
22 fair assumption?

23 A Yes.

24 Q Now, Richard Baird, do you mind explaining to me who 25 Richard Baird is?

1 A Yeah. He works as part of the executive office in terms
2 of his title is transformation manager with his primary
3 responsibilities involving human relations, HR functions, in 4 terms of sourcing people, finding people, counseling people.

5 Q And does he report directly to you, or does he report to 6 some other representative in the executive office?

7 A No. He reports to me.

8 Q Now, at some point in 2011, Public Act 4 was referred -- 9 a petition was circulated, and the matter was referred for 10 being placed on the 2011 ballot for a referendum; is that
11 correct?

12 A I believe it was the 2012 ballot.

13 Q You know, your Honor -- Judge -- Governor, yes, you are 14 right. It was in early 2012.

15 A It was suspended and then went on the ballot in November
16 of two thousand --

17 Q Do you recall when PA 4 was suspended?

18 A I don't recall the specific date, but it would have been 19 in the earlier part of 2012.

20 Q And do you have an understanding of what the implications
21 were of PA 4 being suspended?

22 A It meant that PA 72 came back, and that somewhat changed
23 the rules. PA 72 has been around since 1990. It provided
24 for emergency managers.

25 Q So once it was suspended, you were no longer authorized

1 to appoint an emergency manager under PA 4; is that correct?

2 A That's correct.

3 Q And when PA 4 was placed on the ballot for referendum, it
4 became a concern to the state that it may be rejected; is
5 that correct?

6 A It became a concern that I think it had some value. I
7 wouldn't say to the state necessarily. People had different
8 opinions of it.

9 Q Did it become a concern to you personally that PA 4 may 10 ultimately be rejected?

11 A Yes.

12 Q So at some point in time, the state began drafting a new 13 law to replace PA 4. Do you recall when that took place?

14 A It was after PA 4 was eliminated.

15 Q Are you aware of any discussions prior to the repeal of 16 PA 4 regarding the drafting of a law to replace PA 4 in the 17 event it was rejected?

18 A There were many discussions about alternatives and issues
19 relating to PA 4's potential replacement because there were 20 actually issues with PA 4 in terms of approval, so as soon
21 as PA 4 was passed, through that entire process, there was 22 issues talking about how PA 4 could be improved, and they
23 were talking about different options and ideas should PA 4 be 24 eliminated.

25 Q Now, some --

1 A But the actual process, the main process didn't take
2 place until after it was eliminated, as I recall.

3 Q Sometime in approximately March of 2012, Miller Buckfire
4 was retained by the State of Michigan to perform a financial 5 review of the City of Detroit. Are you familiar with that 6 engagement?

7 A No. I don't recall them being hired by the state.

8 Q You are familiar that during the early months of 2012,
9 Miller Buckfire was, in fact, involved with a review of the 10 City of Detroit?

11 A They could have been. That could have been hired by the 12 city or -- again, they were doing work on the project
13 relating to the city.

14 Q Are you aware of the law firm of Jones Day being retained
15 by the State of Michigan at any point in time in connection
16 with the City of Detroit?

17 A No.

18 Q Are you aware that representatives of Miller Buckfire and 19 Jones Day were involved with the Department of Treasury and 20 Mr. Dillon specifically in connection with negotiating the 21 consent agreement that was -- or drafting the consent
22 agreement, rather, that was presented to the City of Detroit?

23 A Yeah. I don't recall that.

24 Q So if those activities were taking place, Miller Buckfire
25 was hired by the State of Michigan to perform a financial

1 review and Miller Buckfire and Jones Day were engaged in
2 drafting or working with Andy Dillon in connection with 3 drafting a consent agreement, you were not apprised of that?

4 A Again, I would have been working with the treasurer on
5 the consent agreement. They have lots of consultants that 6 they work with on a multitude of projects.

7 Q So were you involved in the drafting of the law that was
8 ultimately passed and became PA 436?

9 A Yeah. Switching subject -- yes.

10 Q And what was your involvement?

11 A Well, as governor of the state, I am involved in the 12 legislative process, so I was involved in helping define some 13 of the key parts of Public Act 436 that I viewed as 14 improvements over Public Act 4 listening to what our citizens
15 said, and then ultimately I signed the bill into law.

16 Q So one of those key provisions would have been, I think 17 you testified a few moments ago, that cities have the 18 opportunity to request that an emergency manager be 19 appointed; is that correct?

20 A That would have been one of the improvements.

21 Q In the case of the appointment of Mr. Orr, he had 22 actually, though, been appointed under PA 72; correct?

23 A Correct.

24 Q And he automatically became the emergency manager when PA
25 436 was effective; is that correct?

1 A Correct.

2 Q So the City of Detroit did not have the opportunity to
3 exercise any of the options that were presented in PA 436; is
4 that correct?

5 A Yes. PA 436 didn't apply. They had opportunities to 6 speak and comment under --

7 Q But, yes --

8 A -- the PA 72 process.

9 Q Governor, I just -- that was a "yes" or "no" question.
10 The City of Detroit did not have the opportunity to exercise
11 any of the options that were presented in PA 436, and you --

12 A Correct.

13 Q Correct. Okay. So PA 436 contains a spending provision.
14 Are you familiar with that?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Are you familiar with Article II, Section 9, of the 17 Michigan Constitution?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And is it true that Article II, Section 9, of the 20 Constitution reserves to the people the right of referendum;
21 is that correct?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Other than those provisions, Governor, that contain a
24 spending provision; is that correct?

25 A Correct.

1 Q Are you familiar with the provision of Article II,
2 Section 9, which provides that -- and I'll read it to you.
3 "No law as to which the power of referendum properly has been
4 evoked shall be effective thereafter unless approved by a
5 majority of the electors thereon at the next general
6 election." Are you familiar with that provision?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And did you discuss that provision -- I'm just asking if 9 you discussed, not the content -- that provision with your 10 counsel prior to passing PA 436?

11 A PA 436 was a different act.

12 Q I just asked -- Governor --

13 A Yes.

14 Q -- "yes" or "no"? Did you discuss this provision with 15 your counsel prior to passing PA 436, this provision?

16 A This provision?

17 Q Yeah.

18 A Yes.

19 Q Now, PA 4 was rejected on appeal on November 6, 2012;
20 correct?

21 A I believe that's the date.

22 Q Do you know the date that the law that was ultimately 23 signed as PA 436 was presented to Congress, the State of 24 Michigan's legislators, and ultimately passed by both Houses?

25 A I believe it would have been in December.

1 Q Do you know what date in December?

2 A No, not without looking.

3 Q You ultimately signed it on December 26th; is that
4 correct?

5 A I believe so.

6 Q Okay. So less than 60 days a new law was drafted,
7 presented. I believe there was even a bill that was the 8 combined bill of the two Houses, made its way through both
9 Houses, and you signed it; is that correct?

10 A We work much more efficiently than Congress.

11 Q Now, the spending provisions, those are Sections 34 and 12 35 of the bill. Section 34 provides for $780,000 to cover
13 the salaries of the emergency managers and their staff. Do
14 you know whether or not anyone -- let me step back. Did you
15 analyze whether or not $780,000 was a sufficient
16 appropriation for the then appointed emergency managers or 17 those emergency managers that you anticipated appointing
18 under PA 436?

19 A I relied on the Treasury Department to make those 20 calculations.

21 Q Are you aware of whether or not Treasury made those 22 calculations?

23 A I believe so.

24 Q Did you review those calculations?

25 A No.

1 Q There were, though -- there were at the time a number of
2 emergency managers in place in the State of Michigan; is that
3 correct?

4 A I believe it was approximately seven or eight in both
5 cities and school districts.

6 Q And the $780,000 was to cover their salaries. Do you
7 know what the salary for the emergency manager that was 8 appointed to the Detroit Public School system was?

9 A I would just be speculating.

10 Q Then there's a second provision for $5 million for the 11 financial consultants.

12 A Yes.

13 Q Okay. Do you know whether or not any financial analysis
14 had been performed, I assume, then again, by Treasury, in 15 order to determine whether or not that was a sufficient
16 spending provision?

17 A Treasury did make some analysis of that.

18 Q Did you review that analysis?

19 A No.

20 Q Was the analysis presented to you?

21 A No.

22 Q Did you ever discuss the analysis with the treasurer?

23 A I don't recall.

24 Q Would it be common for you to review the analysis of a
25 spending provision in a law that you are signing?

1 A Quite often I do.

2 Q In which instances do you determine that it's not
3 necessary for you -- I understand your background -- for you
4 to review the financial analysis of a spending provision?

5 A The State of Michigan's budget is approximately $40
6 billion, so it's quite significant. So in terms of going
7 through every line item, that's the point of having a
8 treasurer and a budget office that are very good at what they 9 do, so in many respects I count on the work of Treasury.
10 Quite often they're checked by DTMB, the Department of 11 Technology, Management & Budget.

12 Q So in light of an approximate $40 billion budget,
13 $5,780,000 as a spending provision is not significant, is it,
14 Governor?

15 A It is significant. Every taxpayer dollar is significant.
16 In terms of the numbers, the $5 million, we had quite a bit
17 of experience, having been through emergency managers going
18 back to my predecessor, in understanding the cost from 2011
19 and 2012. The number -- the 700,000-and-some thousand
20 dollars for emergency managers, you may wonder why it's that 21 number. If you look at -- it's probably a half-year number
22 because -- or less than a full-year number because it's 23 during the middle of a year, and for us to follow through to 24 implement the legislation, we needed legislative
25 authorization to have the dollars to pay them, which was one

1 of the improvements of 436 over 4.

2 Q So the prior laws didn't require a spending provision,
3 did they?

4 A The prior laws -- we were expending money on consultants
5 and resources to help cities because we really do care about
6 these cities and their citizens, so we thought it appropriate
7 to provide additional resources so we could carry some of 8 those opportunities and burdens through state resources.
9 With the emergency manager, that was specifically done in 10 response to concerns that were raised through the ballot
11 initiative on PA 4. Previously emergency managers were paid
12 by the city. In looking at it in retrospect, that wasn't 13 appropriate, so we thought we should pay for them through the 14 state.

15 Q Okay. You were aware, though, that by adding a spending
16 provision, PA 436 would not be subject to the referendum;
17 isn't that true?

18 A Yes. That would be one of the consequences with my 19 reasoning being we needed the dollars to pay the consulting
20 and the --

21 Q I just asked. You were fully aware that by adding a
22 spending provision, PA 436, which is replacing a law that had 23 just within weeks been repealed or rejected by the citizens
24 of the State of Michigan, would not be subject to referendum?

25 A Yes.

1 Q Are you aware of any discussions between Mr. Dillon and
2 the Jones Day attorneys in early 2012 with respect to the 3 inclusion of a spending provision on a revised law in the 4 event PA 4 was rejected?

5 A No.

6 Q So if he had such discussions, he kept -- he did not
7 share them with you?

8 A Not that I recall.

9 Q Now, I'd just like to -- if I could look at 44,
10 Retirement Systems 44, you looked at this exhibit with 11 Mr. Wertheimer in connection with the second page. Do you
12 recall that? And he pointed out a memo in connection with 13 the constitutionality of the pension provisions.

14 A Yes.

15 Q Okay. But if you'll see on the very top line of the 16 attachments, "Memo Re. Public Act 4 and Chapter 9" -- do you
17 see that?

18 A Yes.

19 Q So if Mr. Dillon received a copy of a memo regarding 20 Public Act 4 from the Jones Day attorneys, he did not share
21 that with you?

22 A I don't recall.

23 Q And this e-mail, if you can go up just a bit in the 24 paragraph, it's dated June 5th, 2012. Do you see that?

25 A Yes.

1 Q So is it fair to conclude that Mr. Dillon, at a minimum,
2 on behalf of the state, is addressing issues with respect to
3 the repeal of PA 4 at least in June of 2012?

4 MR. SCHNEIDER: Objection, your Honor. Calls for
5 speculation.

6 THE COURT: Any response?

7 MS. PATEK: I'll withdraw the question.

8 THE COURT: Okay.

9 BY MS. PATEK:

10 Q Do you have regular meetings with Mr. Dillon?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And during 2012, did you have regular meetings with Mr.
13 Dillon?

14 A Yes.

15 Q In your experience, does Mr. Dillon conduct business on 16 behalf of the State of Michigan without informing you as his 17 executive, chief executive?

18 A He has to make decisions as to what he thinks is most 19 important to bring to my attention.

20 Q Now, Mr. Orr sits at your pleasure; correct? You could 21 terminate him with or without cause?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Now, Mr. Baird -- you testified a few moments ago he 24 reports directly to you. Are you aware of that? That was 25 your testimony; correct?

1 A Yes.

2 Q Are you aware that in early January 2013 that Mr. Baird
3 was conducting a review of the law firms that were
4 presenting -- making presentations to the City of Detroit?

5 A I believe the city had asked him to help them in that
6 process.

7 Q Are you aware that one of his concerns was the bankruptcy
8 background of those law firms?

9 A I don't recall.

10 Q When do you recall the state first discussing the filing
11 of a Chapter 9 by the City of Detroit?

12 A There was a lot of people that brought information to us
13 about Chapter 9. In terms of discussions, in terms of the 14 serious part, we had that discussion earlier. It literally
15 was the week before because we were working through it as a
16 last resort to the fact that the negotiations were not being 17 successful. There were contingency plans put in place going
18 back some time to say in the event things don't work, you
19 needed to be thoughtful about it, but the serious discussion
20 of getting the recommendation was really in that week before.

21 Q So if Mr. Dillon was having discussions with the 22 attorneys at Jones Day regarding a filing of a Chapter 9 on 23 behalf of the city in April of 2012, you were not a party or 24 aware of those discussions?

25 A Again, I don't recall.

1 Q Were you at all involved or did you have any discussions
2 with Mayor Bing regarding his selection of Miller Buckfire as
3 financial consultants to the City of Detroit?

4 A I don't recall any specific discussions.

5 Q Did you have general discussions with the mayor regarding 6 the selection of a financial consultant in late December of 7 2012 or early January?

8 A Again, I don't recall.

9 Q Did you have any discussions with the mayor regarding the 10 selection of counsel, specifically ultimately Jones Day, and 11 the selection process? Did you have --

12 A I don't recall. Those were city decisions.

13 Q Did you ever advise the mayor that the State of Michigan
14 had retained Miller Buckfire to perform a 60-day financial 15 review of the City of Detroit in March of 2012?

16 A I did not.

17 Q Did you ever advise the mayor or the City Council that 18 Jones Day had been discussing the repeal of PA 4 with the 19 Department of Treasury and its implication?

20 A I did not.

21 Q Did you ever discuss with the mayor or the City Council
22 the fact that the Jones Day attorneys had been discussing
23 with the treasurer the potential of filing a Chapter 9 on 24 behalf of the city as early as April of 2012?

25 A No.

1 MS. BRIMER: May I have one moment, your Honor?

2 THE COURT: Yes.

3 MS. BRIMER: Thank you, your Honor. Thank you,
4 Governor.

5 THE COURT: Any other questions for the governor?

6 MR. MONTGOMERY: None from the Retiree Committee,
7 your Honor.

8 MR. WERTHEIMER: Your Honor, I know I'm out of turn,
9 but I have one follow-up to Ms. Brimer's question. I
10 promise, two minutes.

11 THE COURT: Well, let me see if there's any 12 examination of the governor by either the state or the city,
13 and then we'll get back to redirect.

14 MR. SCHNEIDER: Yes, your Honor. Could we have just 15 one moment?

16 THE COURT: Yes.

17 CROSS-EXAMINATION

18 BY MR. SCHNEIDER:

19 Q Good afternoon, Governor. Governor, what did you do
20 prior to becoming governor?

21 A I was a venture capitalist and entrepreneur. Prior to 22 that, I was an executive at a computer company running that,
23 and prior to that, I was in public accounting as a CPA.

24 Q So is it safe to say that your background involves the 25 review of financial statements, financial documents; is that

1 correct?

2 A I have extensive experience in those matters.

3 Q And do you have extensive experience in reading and
4 understanding balance sheets as well?

5 A Yes.

6 Q How long in your career have you been working in issues
7 of finance of accounting?

8 A Since 1982.

9 Q Does your educational background also involve finance and 10 accounting?

11 A It does. I have an MBA from the University of Michigan
12 and basically a number of accounting classes in my 13 undergraduate plus a law degree.

14 Q You're also a CPA; is that correct?

15 A That's correct. That's where the nerd thing came from.

16 Q Your Honor -- or, Governor -- a reoccurring problem in 17 this courtroom apparently. After you --

18 THE COURT: I'm wondering if there's some interest
19 in a judicial position that you haven't disclosed to us.

20 THE WITNESS: I'm not that qualified, your Honor.

21 BY MR. SCHNEIDER:

22 Q Your Honor, you -- Governor, you testified -- you
23 testified regarding your review of financial reports after 24 you became governor related to the City of Detroit. Do you
25 remember that testimony?

1 A Yes.

2 Q Did you review reports regarding cash flow for the city?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And through this process, were you able to determine
5 whether or not there was a cash flow problem with the City of
6 Detroit?

7 A There's a serious cash flow problem.

8 Q And is it safe to say that the longer you stayed in 9 office as governor, the cash flow problems worsened; is that
10 correct?

11 A Yes. The most nonaccounting description I would use is 12 the word hemorrhaging.

13 Q Okay. In fact, you received some reports from the 14 financial review teams calling it a cash crisis; is that
15 correct?

16 A Yes, including statements by the mayor going back to, I
17 believe, 2011 talking about the city even at that point
18 potentially running out of cash.

19 Q Okay. So the dialogue of -- and the discussion of 20 running out of cash had been continual; correct?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And things were getting worse and not better. Is that
23 accurate?

24 MR. DECHIARA: Objection.

25 THE WITNESS: Yes.

1 MR. DECHIARA: That was leading.

2 THE COURT: Yes. Please don't ask leading
3 questions. The objection is sustained.

4 BY MR. SCHNEIDER:

5 Q Ultimately, however, Mr. Orr was appointed as emergency
6 manager; correct?

7 A Yes.

8 THE COURT: Yes, that was another leading question.

9 MR. SCHNEIDER: I'm sorry, your Honor.

10 BY MR. SCHNEIDER:

11 Q Governor, there's been a lot of talk here about Chapter 9
12 filing, and I want to ask you during this process about cash 13 flow discussions and your review of the reports, where was 14 Chapter 9 in your mind?

15 A It was a last resort. When you looked at the entire 16 process, I tried to be very diligent about this in a very 17 difficult situation. If you go back to the time I took 18 office, first it involved working with the mayor. I actually 19 attended the State of the City address to show support for 20 the mayor in a public fashion to help work in a collaborative
21 fashion through that process. Then it became clear -- he 22 made the statement, for example, that they were going to run
23 out of cash, and there were other issues, so we started
24 the -- the Treasury began a preliminary review of the city's
25 finances, I believe, in late 2011. That's an objective

1 process. That's not a subjective process. They came out
2 with their findings that then led to a financial review team
3 that did an objective process again under Public Act 4
4 finding there's severe financial distress. There was a
5 series of options given to me at that point in time that 6 include there's no distress, there's a consent agreement, or 7 there's a need for an emergency manager. We worked very hard
8 and very diligently to do a consent agreement, and we finally 9 got a consent agreement done that included an appendix that 10 had 20-some items, I believe 23 different items to follow
11 through on, again, to avoid more serious consequences, so
12 there was a lot of work done through the summer on the 13 consent agreement. Unfortunately, by fall it appeared that 14 most of the items in that consent agreement were not being 15 implemented. Again, people worked hard on doing those 16 things, but they didn't happen. So another review took place
17 along with continuing cash crises, so another review cycle
18 was begun under Public Act 72 because this is a crisis. It
19 still is a crisis today. And so we went through that 20 exercise, and then they found that the consent agreement was 21 not going to end up in a satisfactory plan that led to the 22 emergency manager situation, and so, again, we went through a
23 hearing process there. I appointed an emergency manager.
24 The emergency manager went through a process of negotiation
25 proposing something to creditors to work out. He came to me

1 then and said that was not successful. I authorized
2 bankruptcy, and now that's where we're at. One of the things
3 that doesn't come across very often is an overriding concern
4 for the citizens of Detroit. That is, while all this is
5 taking place, all we've seen is more blight, more lights
6 going out, challenges on the police force. These things have
7 to get resolved. It's an unacceptable situation.

8 Q So is it correct to say that you -- when you were 9 reviewing these reports, you did not do so with the intention
10 to authorize or seek a filing?

11 A I worked very diligently to avoid this process in good
12 faith and to go through this process to say what are all the 13 other steps possible and, again, avoid subjectivity and do it
14 as objectively understanding that the subjective piece is 15 people are suffering, the 700,000 citizens of Detroit.

16 Q Let me ask you some questions regarding PA 436. You
17 testified that it gives options to communities. Can you
18 explain just a little bit about what you meant by that?

19 A Yeah. One of the issues with Public Act 4 is it really
20 had those three choices that I mentioned. What now happens
21 is there's an opportunity for four different choices that the 22 community has. They can do a consent agreement. There's an 23 option for an emergency manager. There's an option for 24 looking at a negotiated settlement to try to go to creditors
25 to work things out, and then there's potentially bankruptcy.

1 Q Let me ask you more specifically about PA 436. You were
2 asked regarding the appropriations provisions. For you what
3 was the point of those appropriations, the purpose?

4 A Yeah. We were in the course of the middle of a fiscal
5 year, and under Michigan's Constitution, I can't -- we cannot
6 expend funds without an appropriation. Part of Public Act
7 436 is saying we were going to relieve the cities of the 8 burden of paying for the emergency manager because that is a
9 burden on them, so we needed an appropriation to do that, and 10 it was the simplest best way to do it, in my view, along with 11 the fact significant dollars were being spent on consultants
12 in some capacity, whether it be the city or the state, and 13 for us to continue to do consulting work to help cities out
14 across our state is by having that additional appropriation
15 we'd have those resources available. That was done to get us
16 through that budget year with a view that I would include
17 similar numbers for the following budget year, which was 18 proposed in February, and that took effect this October 1.

19 Q Well, you signed the bill, so was your purpose to make it
20 referendum-proof?

21 A No. It was to deal with this issue of paying for 22 emergency managers and having financial resources in a crisis
23 available.

24 Q Can the state make an expenditure without an 25 appropriation?

1 A No.

2 Q So in order to pay for these salaries, an appropriation
3 was required; is that correct?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And was the most efficient or best way to do this by 6 putting the appropriation in the bill?

7 MR. WERTHEIMER: Object. I think we're back to the 8 leading.

9 THE COURT: Yes. That was a leading question.

10 MR. SCHNEIDER: Okay.

11 THE COURT: The objection is sustained.

12 BY MR. SCHNEIDER:

13 Q Did either PA 4 or PA 72 require the state to pay for 14 emergency managers' salaries?

15 A No.

16 Q So after the bill took effect, after PA 436 takes effect, 17 was there ever a later appropriation in a budget bill to 18 handle this type of issue?

19 A For ongoing expenses, I proposed it in the February
20 budget message that I put forward. That would have been 21 included in the budget adopted in the June time frame that 22 began this October 1.

23 Q What was the purpose of that?

24 A Again, for ongoing, to help pay for the ongoing costs of 25 emergency managers and consultants.

1 MR. SCHNEIDER: Thank you, your Honor.

2 THE COURT: Questions from the city?

3 MR. SHUMAKER: Your Honor, the city has no questions
4 for the governor.

5 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Wertheimer, do you have
6 questions?

7 MR. WERTHEIMER: Yes, I do.

8 MS. LEVINE: Your Honor, a point of process, so that 9 there's time for all the objectors who want to redirect, can 10 we talk about perhaps time limits?

11 MR. WERTHEIMER: I'll be two, three minutes.

12 THE COURT: Well, of course, your redirect of the 13 governor should be limited to what was covered on his cross-
14 examination, which wasn't much.

15 MS. LEVINE: Yeah. No, no. I'm going to be brief,
16 your Honor, but I --

17 THE COURT: I don't mean to minimize his testimony,
18 but it didn't take very long.

19 MS. LEVINE: Plan to be brief, your Honor, but I am
20 third in the queue, so I just want to make sure third doesn't 21 show up at five.

22 THE COURT: All right. Let me just see a show of 23 hands. How many of you propose to ask redirect examination
24 at this point? Just the three of you? All right. I think 25 we'll be all right then.

1 REDIRECT EXAMINATION

2 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

3 Q Governor, would you agree with me that the fact that
4 these problems that Detroit has that we all recognize, that
5 they have to be resolved and have to be resolved
6 expeditiously, does not mean that they have to be resolved on 7 the backs of retirees making one or $2,000 a month?

8 MR. SCHNEIDER: Objection. Relevance.

9 MR. WERTHEIMER: Your Honor, the governor made a
10 long statement in response to a question that implied that 11 all he was doing was dealing with the problem expeditiously,
12 and I'm simply attempting to make the point that I'm 13 attempting to make that seems obvious to me.

14 THE COURT: I'll permit it. Go ahead, sir. Can you
15 answer the question?

16 THE WITNESS: Again, I have concerns about the 17 retirees also. I'm concerned about the 700,000 citizens of 18 Detroit, the citizens of Michigan, which include these
19 retirees.

20 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

21 Q Governor, I did not ask you whether you had concerns.
22 Again, I'll ask you the same question again, and try to just 23 answer that, please. Would you agree with me that the fact
24 that the problems that you've identified that have to be 25 resolved and have to be resolved quickly, that that does not

1 mean that they have to be resolved on the backs of the city
2 retirees?

3 A I think you're asking me to speculate because we're still 4 in this process where there isn't even a plan on the table to 5 say how to resolve this issue.

6 Q All right. I'll let it go. Ms. Brimer asked you a
7 question about you having the ability to fire Mr. Orr. Do
8 you recall that?

9 A Yes.

10 Q You were also the person who recommended that he be 11 hired, were you not?

12 A Yes.

13 MR. WERTHEIMER: That's all I have. Thank you.

14 REDIRECT EXAMINATION

15 BY MS. LEVINE:

16 Q Good afternoon again, Governor. Sharon Levine,
17 Lowenstein Sandler, for AFSCME. In response to your 18 counsel's questions, you went through your education, your 19 CPA, your law degree, and some other financial experience
20 that you've had; correct?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And that you also discussed the fact that going back to 23 even 2011 you were having discussions with the mayor of 24 Detroit about the fact that the mayor of Detroit was running
25 out of cash; correct?

1 A It was a public statement. I was quoting a public
2 statement the mayor made back, I believe, in November of 2011
3 where he publicly came out and said there was a concern about
4 running out of cash.

5 Q So you were aware -- you were watching Detroit and its 6 cash position going back as far as 2011; correct?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Okay. Does that refresh your recollection with regard to 9 why the state stopped the implementation of the tentative
10 agreement in February of 2012, which was ratified by a
11 coalition of 30 unions and provided for substantial cash
12 savings for the City of Detroit?

13 A No.

14 Q You also testified that Chapter 9 was a last resort and 15 that you were looking to try to resolve it some other way in 16 good faith; is that correct?

17 A Yes.

18 Q So then I'm going to go back to the June 14 proposal to 19 creditors, and with your CPA and all of your financial 20 background, if you didn't understand exactly what was being 21 offered in dollars and cents to the retirees, how is it good
22 faith if the retirees couldn't understand that either?

23 A What I would say is is if you looked at that package, it
24 was described as preliminary, that there are many pieces
25 needed to be fleshed out, including there's a section in

1 there about there had been no real evaluation of the assets
2 of the city, so it was an open question as to where it would
3 go. And the way I viewed it is in a situation like this, you
4 had to start the discussion at some starting point, and this
5 was something to get out on the table to say now people can
6 have informed discussions, have dialogue, have questions,
7 have answers, and then hopefully move towards a conclusion.
8 In the case of retirees, in particular, though, in 9 retrospect, I think there was a real challenge to say who was 10 going to step up to represent them. And I felt that was one
11 of the problems in that whole process that I thought could 12 get resolved by authorizing the bankruptcy; that then
13 somebody could be appointed to represent them.

14 Q So this is not a proposal for creditors or an offer for 15 creditors. All it is is an invitation to start a process?

16 A No. I hope -- I believe it was a good faith negotiation,
17 put something on the table based on the facts that were 18 available. Again, you know, I --

19 Q I'm just trying to clarify. Is it a -- is it an 20 invitation to negotiate, or is it an actual proposal to
21 creditors?

22 A I believe it was a proposal, but then you start a
23 dialogue because, again, it needed to be mutually agreed to.

24 Q Okay. So as a proposal --

25 A I don't think those two comments are mutually exclusive.

1 Q As a proposal to creditors, is it your testimony that it
2 actually clarified how those creditors were going to be
3 treated, including specifically how the retirees were going
4 to be treated?

5 A I think it helped clearly clarify the financial situation
6 of Detroit saying here are the resources available, here's 7 where dollars need to go, and have a discussion as to what's
8 possible.

9 MS. LEVINE: Thank you, Governor.

10 REDIRECT EXAMINATION

11 BY MS. BRIMER:

12 Q Just a very brief follow-up, Governor.

13 MS. BRIMER: And I'd like to ask him if he's ever
14 seen this e-mail. It's Retirement Systems Number 46. No. I
15 want to ask if he's ever seen it first. If he's not seen it,
16 then I have no questions on it. I'd like to ask the governor
17 if he's seen an e-mail that has been presented as an exhibit.
18 He's not a part of it, but I may have questions if he's seen
19 it. May I approach?

20 THE COURT: You may. What exhibit is it?

21 MS. BRIMER: It is the Retirement Systems Number
22 846.

23 THE COURT: You may ask the witness if he has seen
24 it.

25 BY MS. BRIMER:

1 Q Have you --

2 MR. SCHNEIDER: Your Honor, before we go any
3 further, I object because this is outside the scope of my
4 examination.

5 MR. SHUMAKER: The city joins the objection.

6 MS. BRIMER: I believe -- I believe I will be able
7 to tie it to his examination, your Honor.

8 THE COURT: All right. Have you seen this before,
9 sir?

10 THE WITNESS: I don't recall.

11 MS. BRIMER: And if he's not recall -- does not 12 recall seeing it, your Honor, I'll take it back from him, ask
13 him a few questions --

14 THE COURT: Okay.

15 MS. BRIMER: -- not on it, but --

16 BY MS. BRIMER:

17 Q Governor, do you recall who suggested that the 18 appropriation provisions in PA 436 should be included in the 19 act?

20 A I don't recall.

21 Q Were you the one who suggested if -- that they should be 22 included?

23 A Again, I said I don't recall --

24 Q Okay.

25 A -- because, again, that's an interactive process on

1 legislation, and clearly I do several hundred bills a year.

2 MS. BRIMER: I have nothing else, your Honor.

3 THE COURT: All right.

4 MR. KING: Your Honor, I just have a few questions.

5 REDIRECT EXAMINATION

6 BY MR. KING:

7 Q Governor, you indicated that you had reviewed a host of 8 financial information and other documentation in the course
9 of your review of Detroit's financial situation. I think
10 that was what you just testified to with Mr. Schneider. Did
11 you ever have an opportunity to review any information
12 regarding funding levels of other Retirement Systems in the 13 state relative to the two pension systems in Detroit?

14 A No.

15 Q So you wouldn't know one way or the other whether or not
16 the Detroit systems, for example, are significantly better
17 funded than either the Michigan State Employees Retirement
18 System or the Michigan Public School Employees Retirement
19 System? You wouldn't know one way or the other whether the 20 Detroit systems are better funded than either -- better
21 funded than either of those two state systems?

22 A Correct.

23 MR. KING: Thank you.

24 THE COURT: All right. We have concluded the 25 witness' testimony. Sir, you are excused. Thank you very

1 much for coming today. Appreciate it.

2 (Witness excused at 4:08 p.m.)

3 THE COURT: We will remain in place while the 4 governor takes his leave. Mr. Ciantra, I had indicated we 5 would take up your issue tomorrow morning, but since we have
6 time yet today, is it okay with you if we take up your issue
7 today? All right.

8 MR. SHUMAKER: Your Honor, the attorneys that have 9 been dealing with that issue are not present for the city.

10 THE COURT: Oh.

11 MR. SHUMAKER: I'm sorry about that.

12 THE COURT: Okay. Well, that's a problem. Remind 13 me who that -- remind me who that was.

14 MR. SHUMAKER: It was Mr. Stewart.

15 THE COURT: Of course; of course. All right. Well,
16 we'll deal with it first thing tomorrow morning then. Is 17 there anything else we can do today? All right. We'll be in 18 recess till tomorrow morning.

19 MR. SHUMAKER: Thank you, your Honor.

20 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is adjourned.

(Court in Session)

THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in session. Please be seated. Case number 13-53846, City of Detroit, Michigan.

THE COURT: Good morning. Everyone appears to be here. Sir.

MR. CIANTRA: Good morning, Your Honor. If I may proceed.

THE COURT: Yes.

MR. CIANTRA: Thank you. Thomas Ciantra, Cohen, Weiss, and Simon, LLP for the UAW.

And I rise with respect to the motion I made during the examination of Mr. Moore to exclude one part of his testimony. And that is the portion of his testimony where he related a conversation in the presence of counsel with respect to the calculation of the unfunded liability of the Detroit City Retirement Plans.

And I'm going to make a -- a brief argument with respect to that. Cited a couple of cases. And relied on some deposition excerpts that I'll read to the Court that I've shared with counsel for the city earlier this morning.

We start with some of the basics. Obviously under the federal rules, discovery should be open and robust. It's intended to get at both the facts, to develop a factual record, to present to the Trier of Fact. And as well to

1 enable the parties to learn and understand the positions and
2 contentions of the other side. That's -- that's what
3 discovery is supposed to get at.

4 And the case law as it is developed, is clear, at least
5 with respect to one thing which is that if a party asserts a
6 privilege, whether it be attorney/client, the Fifth Amendment,
7 spousal or something else, it cannot be both used as a shield
8 against disclosure to the adversary. And then effectively as 9 a sword through selective later disclosure.

10 And that is -- is really a matter of fundamental --
11 fundamental fairness in the -- in the adversarial process.
12 And the case law as I said has applied this principal in --
13 with respect to the attorney/client privilege. It's applied
14 it with respect to the Fifth Amendment privilege against self
15 incrimination which obviously carries with it other
16 constitutional values that aren't -- aren't present with 17 respect to the attorney/client privilege.

18 But -- and the basic principle that I think that 19 developed in that case law is that if a party is -- is going
20 to assert privilege with respect to a particular subject
21 matter, it has to be prepared to accept the consequence that 22 the -- the universe of proof that may -- it may introduce with 23 respect to that is going to be -- is going to be limited by 24 the -- by the extent to which is has asserted the privilege.

1 that case law has developed most clearly in cases involving
2 the Fifth Amendment privilege and I would point the Court to
3 -- to -- two District Court decisions. One by Judge Gadola,
4 it's a forfeiture case, U.S. v $60,000. That is reported at 5 763 F Supp 909. And a franchise case, a decision by Judge
6 Rosen, Dunkin Doughnuts v Taseski. That's 47 F Supp 2d 867.

7 And in both of those cases we had parties who asserted
8 privilege in discovery to limit inquiry and then were 9 precluded once discovery had closed and summary judgment and 10 trial from then selectively waiving privilege to -- to either
11 try to defeat summary judgment or -- or defeat the claims of 12 -- of the -- their adversary.

13 In the -- in the Dunkin Doughnuts case it was evidence
14 with respect to sales levels under a franchise agreement and 15 the -- the franchisee took the Fifth Amendment apparently
16 because of the fraud allegations. In the -- the forfeiture
17 case, it was someone whose property was seized at the airport
18 after a, you know, dog identified it as positive for drugs.

19 In both of those cases discovery had closed. And -- and 20 the Court precluded the party that had asserted privilege from 21 then asserting by way of affidavit or other discovery
22 material, evidence to try to defeat summary judgment on the 23 principle that once the privilege had been asserted and 24 discovery had closed, the -- the adversary was precluded from 25 effectively from -- from rebutting it and the -- the party

1 that had asserted privilege had to accept the -- the
2 consequences of that assertion.

3 Now here, the city largely shielded almost entirely from 4 disclosure, the deliberations of the pension task force that 5 there's been testimony about. That task force worked with 6 actuaries at the Milliman firm that the -- the city had 7 retained and it had the -- those actuaries undertake various
8 analyses with respect to the -- the funded status of the plan
9 and various alternatives and issues related to the plans that 10 the -- that the city was investigating.

11 And Mr. Moore's testimony with respect to that concerned
12 some of the work of that task force with respect to its -- the 13 -- the actuary's calculation based on the -- the retirement
14 system's actuary's work of what the unfunded liability of the 15 plan was.

16 But the -- the city did not in discovery permit the 17 objecting parties to take -- permit inquiry with respect to 18 the deliberations of the task force. And in addition to the 19 excerpt that -- from Mr. Moore's deposition that we recited on 20 Thursday, which I will concede was not the crispest assertion
21 of privilege.

22 That issue -- that tactic was clearly pursued in the 23 deposition of the -- the actuary himself, Mr. Bowen. And I
24 would point to two instances during my deposition of Mr. Bowen

1 retiree committee.

2 Let's talk about the -- the first one. There is an
3 issue, Your Honor, with respect to remedies that the emergency
4 manager has under Public Act 436. In the event that there is 5 a certain level of under funding in the pension system, the 6 emergency manager can take certain remedies with respect to 7 the governance of the system.

8 And the actuaries were asked -- tasked to compute the 9 under funding of the system lining up the provisions of this 10 statute. The one question that became obvious was if the 11 actuaries and the emergency manager believed that the under 12 funding of the system permitted them to take remedies with 13 respect to the governance of the system, essentially replacing
14 the trustees, why had they not done so. And what does that 15 tell us with respect to their confidence in the -- in the 16 calculation of the under funding.

17 So with respect to that issue, I questioned the actuary
18 with respect to the discussions of the task force where that 19 assignment was discussed, the assignment to calculate the --
20 the liabilities of the -- unfunded liabilities of the pension
21 plans in light of the -- the statutory provisions.

22 And this appears beginning at Page 53 of Mr. Bowen's
23 deposition. And I'm -- I'm using the manuscript version of 24 the transcript. And it continues a bit further. And I'll --
25 let me read from that -- from that transcript.

1 This is my question. The pension task force conference
2 call that you -- that you discussed where this assignment was
3 given to you, who participated in that? Was there an attorney
4 on the line that participated in that call? Answer, yes,
5 there was.

6 Okay, who was that? That would have been Evan Miller
7 from Jones, Day.

8 All right. Did Mr. Miller give you the instruction with 9 respect to this particular assignment? I don't recall which 10 particular party on the pension task force asked the direct
11 question to do this now.

12 Next question. Okay. Was there a reason given for why
13 you were being asked to do this? An objection is raised at 14 that point. Mr. Miller, and again, to the extent that any 15 discussion that you had with members of the task force
16 relating to this assignment involved counsel for the city, I
17 would instruct you not to respond on the grounds of 18 attorney/client privilege.

19 And then I -- then I questioned. So you can respond to 20 that question consistent with your counsel's direction or the 21 city -- the city counsel -- city's counsel's direction.
22 Answer -- or the witness, I have no response.

23 Question, yes. But for Mr. Miller's instruction would 24 you answer the question? Answer, I'm not going to disobey the 25 attorney for my client.

1 Continue. So I assume the answer to that is yes, other
2 than his instruction you would answer the question. The
3 witness, answer, yes. That's -- that's a very difficult
4 hypothetical because that instruction exists and I plan to 5 follow the advice -- the instruction of my client's attorney.
6 And then I respond, I think that's clear.

7 So at that point our inquiry with respect to the reasons
8 for that calculation and that subject matter were clearly --
9 were clearly cut off. Similarly, we sought to question the 10 witness with respect to the -- their analysis of the costs of 11 a defined contribution plan that they were proposing to 12 implement as a follow on to the -- the defined benefit plan
13 that the city contends it will no longer fund.

14 And there again at Page 77 of the transcript, I sought to 15 question them with respect to where that 10% number -- how 16 that 10% number was derived. And I asked beginning at Lines
17 19 on Page 77.

18 And where -- how was that 10% number arrived at? Answer,
19 it was provided to us by the pension task force.

20 Was there or were there discussions of using different --
21 a different percentage of pay? Mr. Miller, wait. To the 22 extent that those discussions if any involved counsel for the 23 City of Detroit, I would instruct the witness not to answer
24 those on the grounds of attorney/client privilege.

1 witness, no answer. Because of the direction of the city
2 counsel -- the city's counsel? Answer, that's correct.

3 So at that point, Your Honor, it was pretty clear at 4 least to me, that there was -- the city was not going to 5 permit the actuary to testify with respect to any of the 6 deliberations of the task force with respect to the 7 calculations that he had made.

8 And as a result, those areas were effectively blocked off
9 from our inquiry, both by deposition and -- and as well with 10 respect to -- to documents. So at this point the city of 11 course has not -- did not call the actuary to testify. They 12 didn't put in an -- an expert report with respect to these 13 calculations.

14 And the -- the evidence with respect to the Milliman
15 actuary's calculations has come in through the report of Mr.
16 Moore. That was privileged. It was made in the presence of 17 an attorney as to which we would submit that subject was not 18 permitted on account of their assertion of privilege, our 19 ability to take discovery with respect to that.

20 So we would ask that just that question and answer,
21 that's the only remedy that we are asking, be stricken from 22 the record because it's -- it is selective use of the 23 privilege that is simply inconsistent with notions of 24 fundamental fairness.

1 Mr. Moore's testimony and can you identify the pages and lines
2 that you want stricken?

3 MR. CIANTRA: I do not at this point have the
4 official transcript. You know, I have the unofficial daily,
5 but certainly I could provide that, Your Honor. Once -- well,
6 I don't believe that it -- I don't believe that's been made
7 available to us as of yet.

8 THE COURT: Okay. So what was the precise question
9 and answer that you want stricken?

10 MR. CIANTRA: The precise question and answer that I
11 would -- would ask that the Court strike, is the question
12 where he report -- he was asked to report on the -- the 13 calculation by the actuary of the -- the under funding of the 14 city's retirement system. And he testified that the actuary
15 had taken the calculations of the systems actuaries, revised a
16 earnings assumption --

17 THE COURT: Right.

18 MR. CIANTRA: -- and instead of using the actuarial
19 value of the assets, had used a market value and that that 20 sort of in total gave the --

21 THE COURT: He adjusted the discount rate.

22 MR. CIANTRA: He adjusted -- well, there are two
23 things. He adjusted the discount rate and then he used a 24 market valuation of the assets --

25 THE COURT: Right.

1 MR. CIANTRA: -- as of the date and time rather than
2 the actuarial value.

3 THE COURT: All right. Thank you, sir.

4 MR. STEWART: Geoffrey -- Geoffrey Stewart of Jones,
5 Day for the city, Your Honor.

6 A couple of things. First of all, just to put things in
7 perspective, the testimony we're talking about Mr. Ciantra
8 just described, and let me make a couple of points.

9 First of all, in his deposition Mr. Moore answered every 10 single question he was asked but one. And the one was, what 11 did you discuss with your lawyer in preparing for your 12 deposition. So there was no instruction to Mr. Moore to not 13 answer any substantive question.

14 Moreover, he was asked about and he did testify about at 15 no short length, this 3.5 billion dollar number. And I guess
16 -- I think it was by Mr. Ciantra himself -- no, it was by Mr.
17 Ruegger. And it's -- that questioning starts on Page 62 of 18 his deposition and runs for at least five more pages.

19 So this is a matter that he was not instructed on. He 20 was asked -- he was asked about and he did testify about. So
21 this is not a matter where any inquiry was blocked. And I
22 think I said the pages but if not, I'll repeat myself. It's 23 62 through 67 of Mr. Moore's deposition.

24 So there is no sword/shield issue going on with respect

1 one question was he instructed to not answer and it was one
2 that no one I think would challenge. It's certainly an
3 instruction objectors have given when their depositions were 4 taken. And as I just said, he was allowed to answer questions
5 on this very subject.

6 Mr. Ciantra then goes to a different witness, one who has 7 not been called to testify here today, Mr. Bowen who is an 8 actuary. And he did -- Mr. Ciantra kindly gave me the 9 deposition cites in the hall this morning so I did have a
10 chance to look at them.

11 There were two different topics and I agree, and I think
12 he -- Mr. Ciantra has accurately described them of what Mr.
13 Bowen was asked about that drew instructions. The first had 14 do with a possibility under PA436 that if pension assets fell
15 below 80%, the emergency manager might have the right to 16 replace the pension plan trustees with trustees of his own
17 choosing.

18 The question there wasn't -- and that question, that 19 topic was certainly raised. The instruction had to do with 20 how the subject came up in a meeting.

21 There was no instructions against and there were -- there
22 was, I ought to say, fairly significant testimony by Mr. Bowen
23 about Milliman, that's his firm. Of Milliman's calculations
24 of whether or not the plan was under funded at the 80%
25 threshold.

1 Now let me grab the pages on his deposition and we can
2 provide that as well to the Court. That -- after the 3 instruction, counsel then asked the question, well, sir, what
4 did you do? And there were no instructions. That starts on 5 Page 55 and goes at least to Page 62 of Bowen's deposition.

6 So once again I'd submit two things. One is this is not 7 even the same subject as the testimony they would like to 8 strike. It's not the same witness. And the witness they did
9 question did answer all of their questions about the threshold
10 funding and what he did among other things is to say actually
11 if I look at your own actuary, you're so far below 80%, it's 12 -- it's not even a real issue. And in the event by the way as 13 we all know, the emergency manager has not replaced any 14 trustees of the pension plan.

15 So the second one is -- is this. Milliman was asked to 16 prepare a series of scenarios of what numbers would look like
17 if the plans were changed to define contribution from defined
18 benefit. And then there were various assumptions.

19 That under this assumption the numbers came out this way,
20 and under that assumption, they came out a different way. Mr.
21 Bowen was -- and once again obviously this is not the subject
22 Mr. Moore testified about, this is a different subject.

23 Mr. Bowen was asked about one of these scenarios called 24 scenario 2 where one of the assumptions came from, namely an 25 assumption of 10% of pay as the defined contribution. And

1 counsel said, to the extent those discussions involve counsel
2 for the city, I'd instruct you not to answer.

3 And as Mr. Ciantra quoted, the witness did not answer.
4 However, when they went to what the scenarios were, how things
5 were calculated, and what was done, the witness testified
6 quite fully. His testimony started on Page 79 and continued
7 for several pages thereafter where he described how the 8 scenarios were run, how he used the numbers, and what results
9 they came up with.

10 It is not the case that at that point anyone thought that 11 there was going to be total blocking of testimony about the 12 pension task force. And in fact Mr. Ciantra on Page 83 asked
13 a question. Other than these, the several letters that we've 14 gone through has Milliman analyzed any other scenarios on 15 behalf of the pension task force? And there was an answer to
16 that.

17 So, just to be clear, our position is there were no --
18 there has not been a sword or shield issue. The instructions
19 given are two in the Bowen deposition, none in the Moore
20 deposition.

21 They do not involve the subject of Mr. Moore's testimony
22 on the 3.5 billion dollars. And in fact he was questioned
23 about that at his deposition and he did answer those
24 questions.

1 inquiry into the pension task force. Two instances and only
2 two, was there an instruction. And in that case, in both
3 cases, counsel then proceeded with his questioning and got
4 answers to the substantive questions and in fact went on for a
5 number of pages in asking questions and getting answers.

6 And finally as I've said, these subjects do not relate to 7 the 3.5 million. Anyway, they're extraneous. And so I don't 8 think there has been any sword or shield used at all, Your 9 Honor. Thank you.

10 THE COURT: All right. May I have the Moore and 11 Bowen deposition transcripts, please?

12 MR. STEWART: Your Honor, I could pass you my copy
13 now or have a clean copy delivered later today.

14 MR. CIANTRA: I have clean --

15 THE COURT: Do you have them?

16 MR. CIANTRA: I have clean copies, Your Honor.

17 THE COURT: All right. May I -- may I have your 18 copies then? Thank you.

19 MR. CIANTRA: Yes, the whole transcript. I'll just 20 double check to make sure, I didn't write on it. May I
21 approach, Your Honor?

22 THE COURT: Please.

23 MR. CIANTRA: Thank you.

24 THE COURT: Now can you direct me to the page number

1 privileges are asserted?

2 MR. CIANTRA: Yes, Your Honor. Page 53, beginning
3 on Line 12. And then continuing to Page 55, Line 8.

4 THE COURT: Thank you. Stand by, please.

5 MR. CIANTRA: Oh, I'm sorry. And then Page 77, Line
6 19, through Page 78, Line 14. Those are the excerpts that I
7 read to the Court.

8 THE COURT: Okay.

9 MR. CIANTRA: Thank you, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: One second. All right. Anything
11 further, counsel?

12 MR. STEWART: I do have one thing. All right. Your 13 Honor, I had not known until Mr. Ciantra raised it that the 14 relevance he was urging for this was that this point about 15 PA436 and the assumption of power over the pension systems.

16 Leafing through this, I see that Mr. Moore was also asked
17 about this. Pardon me. Pages 132 and following of his 18 deposition and he answered all of those questions and there
19 were no instructions to not answer.

20 MR. CIANTRA: I have nothing further, to add, Your
21 Honor.

22 THE COURT: Well, before I resolve this, I want to 23 have a conversation with Mr. Miller. Is there a Mr. Miller
24 here?

25 MR. STEWART: He is not here. Pardon me, Your
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1312
of 2386

1 Honor, he has been in Court, but he's not here today. He's a
2 Jones, Day partner in the pension area.

3 THE COURT: All right. Well, communicate to him on 4 my behalf then, please.

5 MR. STEWART: Yes, I will do so.

6 THE COURT: In the few pages of these transcripts
7 that I have read, especially the transcript of Mr. Moore, it
8 appears that Mr. Miller objects to virtually every question
9 stating, "object to form". Tell him that from now on he has a
10 standing objection on the grounds of form and he is not to 11 interrupt the flow of depositions with that objection.

12 MR. STEWART: Pardon me. Of course, Your Honor.

13 THE COURT: All right. After reviewing these --
14 these transcripts and reviewing the testimony that is sought
15 to be stricken here, the Court concludes that there is no
16 unfairness in permitting this testimony to be offered here, or 17 received here despite the earlier claim of attorney/client
18 privilege.

19 The Court so concludes because there was nothing about 20 the isolated and specific claims of privilege that were 21 asserted in the Bowen deposition that precluded a full
22 opportunity for discovery on all factual matters that directly
23 related to the subject of Mr. Moore's testimony now sought to 24 be stricken. So the motion to strike is denied and I will 25 return the transcripts to counsel.

1 MR. CIANTRA: Thank you, Your Honor.

2 THE COURT: Okay. Anything further before we resume
3 with Mr. Orr? All right. Can we arrange for him to be 4 brought back into the courtroom, please?

5 Mr. Orr, you may be seated. You understand that you are 6 still under oath.

7 THE WITNESS: Yes, Your Honor.

8 (WITNESS KEVYN ORR WAS PREVIOUSLY SWORN)

9 THE COURT: Thank you. And you may proceed, sir.

10 MR. ULLMAN: Good morning, Your Honor. Anthony
11 Ullman for the retiree committee.

12 CROSS EXAMINATION

13 BY MR. ULLMAN:

14 Q Good morning, Mr. Orr.

15 A Good morning, Mr. Ullman.

16 Q And you may recall when we broke yesterday, I had been 17 asking you about the -- your knowledge as to the size of the 18 unfunded pension liability. And I think we had just finished
19 discussing the May 2013 plan that was Exhibit 407. Do you
20 recall that in general?

21 A Yes, I do.

22 Q Okay. Now the size of the unfunded pension liability was 23 also mentioned in the June 14 proposal which is number --
24 Exhibit 408, is that right? Do you want to just put the cover
25 on the screen?

1 A Yes. It was mentioned in the June 14th presentation.

2 Q And does what's written in Exhibit 408, the June 14
3 proposal, accurately reflect your knowledge about the size of 4 the unfunded pension liability as you understood it as of June
5 14th, 2013?

6 A Yes. It accurately reflects the size of the unfunded
7 pension liability to the extent -- to the best of our 8 knowledge, yes.

9 Q Okay. So if we look at Page 23 of this document, and 10 what we see there's a -- a bullet point there. Yeah, thank 11 you. We can pull out. And it says, that further analysis by 12 the city using more realistic assumptions (including by 13 reducing the discount rate by one percentage point) suggests 14 that the pension UAAL will be approximately 3.5 billion as of 15 June 30, 2013. Do you see that?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Okay. And that reflects the state of things as you
18 understood it as of June 13, 2013? I'm sorry, June 14, 2013?

19 A Yes, I believe so.

20 Q Okay. And at that point in time it was characterized as 21 a suggestion, correct?

22 A It was characterized as a proposal based upon our best
23 analysis at that time.

24 Q I'm focusing on the bullet point that we have

25 highlighted. This is -- this is what the analysis regarding
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1315
of 2386

1 the unfunded pension liability suggests. Did I read that
2 correctly?

3 A Yes. The document speaks for itself, that's what it
4 says.

5 Q Okay. And is it fair to say that what you knew about the 6 size of the unfunded pension liability in June 2013 was 7 fresher in your mind in June 2013 than it is today?

8 A I think I've been aware of the unfunded -- the amount of 9 the unfunded pension liability from then until now. I think
10 it's been fairly consistent.

11 MR. ULLMAN: Okay. I'll move to strike as 12 non-responsive, Your Honor.

13 THE COURT: Motion denied.

14 MR. ULLMAN: Okay. Thank you.

15 Q My question, Mr. Orr, was actually a different -- well, 16 let me rephrase the question. Would you agree that the 17 information that you had about the size of the unfunded
18 pension liability as of June 14, 2013 was fresher in your mind
19 in June of 2013 than it is today?

20 A No.

21 Q And Mr. Orr, I previously asked you about the retiree
22 health benefits and how those were to be treated under the 23 June 14th proposal. Do you remember that?

24 A Yes

25 Q Okay. And just for clarity, the health benefits that we
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1316
of 2386

1 were talking about are what is referred to in the June 14
2 proposal as OPEB, is that right?

3 A Yes. Other employee benefits.

4 Q Okay. And is it correct that according to -- in the 5 analysis that you had as of June 14, 2013, the unfunded OPEB
6 liabilities were reported as 5.7 billion dollars?

7 A Yes. I believe that's correct.

8 Q Okay. And that's set out in your June 14 proposal, isn't
9 it?

10 A Yes, I believe so.

11 Q Okay. Now staying in the June 2013 time frame, and 12 putting aside the possibility of a consensual resolution,
13 okay. Have you come up with what you considered a viable
14 course of action that allowed the city to cut pension benefits
15 that did not involve a Chapter 9 filing?

16 A I'm just trying to -- that's a long question, so I'm 17 making sure that I understand it. Putting aside a potential
18 consensual resolution, had we come up with a viable option to 19 cut pension benefits without filing Chapter 9.

20 Q That's the question, sir.

21 A Okay. There were other options. I don't know if they 22 were viable or not. I think between June 14 and until a few
23 months later, it became clear that there were no other viable
24 options.

25 Q Okay. Thank you. Now you in fact did file the Chapter 9
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1317
of 2386

1 petition obviously, right?

2 A I instructed my attorneys to file the Chapter 9 petition
3 after receiving authority from the Governor.

4 Q Okay. And in fact it is the City of Detroit that is the 5 debtor, not the emergency manager as such, right?

6 A Yes. Under 436 I act for the city.

7 Q All right. Okay. And to be clear at the time the city
8 filed for bankruptcy, is it correct that it was your position
9 that there had to be significant cuts in accrued pension
10 rights for both active employees and retirees?

11 A Well, I don't know if active employees receive pensions,
12 but I think the gist of your question is, would there have to 13 be cuts in the accrued actuarial liability and the answer is
14 yes.

15 Q Okay. I was asking specifically about cuts in accrued
16 pension benefits for both actives and retired persons.

17 A Well, they're vested pension benefits that active
18 employees if they vest, have them. And then there's accrued
19 actuarial liabilities. Let's just assume that we're talking 20 about both in your question, is that fair?

21 Q Yes.

22 A Okay. Then yes, there would have to be cuts.

23 Q Okay. And is it correct that as part of the proceedings
24 in this -- in this action after the Chapter 9 filing was made,

25 that the city has in fact agreed and admitted that -- that it
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1318
of 2386

1 in fact intends to cut vested pension benefits for actives and
2 retired persons?

3 A I think you're referring to a request for admissions.

4 Q Yes.

5 A Yes, I believe so.

6 Q Thank you. Now I understand it's your position that the 7 Chapter 9 filing was done under the authority of PA436, is
8 that right?

9 A Yes.

10 Q Okay. And of course you're generally familiar with that 11 law?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Okay. And you're also generally familiar with PA4, the 14 predecessor statute?

15 A Not quite as familiar. Yes.

16 Q Are you aware of it?

17 A I'm aware of it.

18 Q And you were aware that it was repealed by a referendum?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Okay. And then PA436 was enacted with an appropriated
21 measure that was tacked on that avoided the possibility of 22 another referendum for PA436, correct?

23 A I'm aware that an appropriation measure was tacked on. I
24 have read that that was to resolve the possibility of another
25 referendum, yes.

1 Q Okay. And I believe that prior to your appointment as
2 emergency manager, you yourself looked at the history of PA4
3 and PA436 at least to some degree, is that right?

4 A If you're talking about the first day between January 30th
5 to 31st, I looked at it initially then. And then I looked at 6 it in more depth later.

7 Q Okay. So let's put on the screen Exhibit 403. Okay.
8 This is an email that you wrote from January 13, 2003 (sic).
9 Is this what you were referring to?

10 A Yeah, I think that's the email we discussed during my 11 deposition.

12 Q Okay. And if we focus on the -- it talks about a number
13 of things. What it does as you said, go over some of your 14 understanding of the legislative history. And if we look at 15 the first paragraph, it's talking about the new EM law which 16 is PA436, correct?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And if you focus in particularly on the second to last
19 sentence it says, by contrast Michigan's new EM law is a clear
20 end run around the prior initiative that was rejected by the 21 voters in November, correct?

22 A What day is this dated?

23 Q I'm sorry?

24 A Is this dated the 31st?

25 Q January -- I think I may have said the 13th, but thank
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1320
of 2386

1 you, it is the 31st.

2 A Okay. Thank you. Yes, I see that.

3 Q Okay. And that was what you wrote in this email of 4 January 31st?

5 A Yes. That's what I wrote one day after being approached
6 about becoming the EM.

7 Q And then if we skip two paragraphs down, there is --
8 right. In the last paragraph we see the -- the phrase you
9 wrote. It says, so although the new law provides the thin
10 veneer of a revision, it is essentially a redo of the prior 11 rejected law and appears to merely adopt the conditions
12 necessary for a Chapter 9 filing. Do you see that?

13 A Yes, I see it.

14 Q Okay. And that's what you wrote and concluded when you
15 created this email in January of 2013?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And subsequent to then, to that time, have you done any 18 further investigation as to how PA436 came about and the --
19 the origin of the appropriations measure? It's really a yes
20 or no question.

21 A Well, no, I want to be complete in my answer so it's not 22 misinterpreted either by people in the courtroom or the 23 public. But have I done further investigation --

24 Q I'm sorry, Mr. Orr, but the question is simply whether 25 you did investigation, sir.

1 THE COURT: And as I've indicated to you before, if 2 you can't answer a question with a yes or a no answer, just
3 say that.

4 A Okay. I can't answer that question with a yes or no
5 answer.

6 Q You cannot tell me yes or no whether you did any further
7 investigation subsequent to January of 2013?

8 A It would be misleading for you to give just -- for me to 9 give you just a yes or no answer.

10 Q Okay. Did you ask any of your colleagues at Jones, Day
11 whether they had any information about the circumstances
12 surrounding the repeal of PA4 or the creation and enactment of 13 PA436?

14 A I don't think I asked anyone at Jones, Day. I think I
15 did my own analysis.

16 Q Well, were you aware that Jones, Day was in discussions
17 with the State of Michigan in March of 2012 concerning the 18 challenge to PA4?

19 A No.

20 Q Okay. Well, let's put 845 on the screen. This is 21 Exhibit 845. This is a March 24th, 2012 email. Do you -- do
22 you need -- I think we have a hard copy in the binders there
23 if it's easier for you to look --

24 A No, that's okay with my reading glasses, I can -- I can 25 keep up.

1 Q Okay. And why don't you take a moment to read it because
2 I don't want to just, you know, spring the paragraph on you.

3 A All I have on the screen is the two's.

4 Q Okay. Can you just put the -- the document on the screen
5 so Mr. Orr can read it?

6 A Well, I can't read that. You want me to read the whole
7 email or just --

8 Q You can look at the second page too and then I'll ask you
9 a few questions.

10 A Okay.

11 Q And then we'll move on. Have you had a chance to look
12 through that, Mr. Orr?

13 A I haven't read it all, but I -- I get the gist of the 14 email.

15 Q Okay. And this is as I said it's a May -- it's a March
16 24, 2012 email. You are not on it. I'm not suggest that you 17 are.

18 A No.

19 Q It's talking about a meeting that took place with Braum
20 Stibitz. That's a person from the -- of the Treasury
21 Department of the state, is that right?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And if you look at the paragraph numbered 1 with the 24 Arabic number 1, giving the context it says the state and the 25 city were concerned that PA4 may not survive the petition

1 challenge. Do you see that?

2 A Yeah, that's what it -- that's what it says, yes.

3 Q Yeah, okay. And then if you go on to the next page, you
4 go through some more discussion. It goes to the next page and 5 there is a -- a paragraph that says based on that conclusion,
6 it said the state quickly began evaluating the alternatives.
7 And go through one, could a consent agreement be achieved to 8 an artful solution such as the DEP was intended.

9 And then it goes to number three, thus, the state was 10 looking at declaring an emergency and appointing an EFM with a 11 likely subsequent step of a Chapter 9. Do you see that?

12 A Yes, I see that.

13 Q Then in the next paragraph it goes on to say, the state
14 believes it needs PA4 or worse case PA72 to file a Chapter 9
15 case based on law. And as such state legal counsel and Jones,
16 Day provided guidance on whether a Chapter 9 filing in April
17 could be upheld if PA 4 is pulled back at the end of April.
18 And does that refresh your recollection, Mr. Orr, as to 19 whether Jones, Day was involved in discussions in -- in -- or 20 in the spring of 2012 with the state concerning PA4 and 21 potential challenges to it?

22 A No. I have no -- I have -- did not have then and I just 23 learned now that Jones, Day had involvement in March 2012.

24 Q Okay. Well, were you aware, or are you aware I should

25 say, that Jones, Day itself was involved in suggesting the 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1324
of 2386

1 addition of an appropriation measure to PA436?

2 MR. STEWART: Objection, Your Honor, foundation.

3 THE COURT: I'll permit it. Go ahead, sir.

4 A No.

5 Q You've never heard that? You don't recall ever hearing
6 that from anyone at Jones, Day?

7 A I just heard it from you.

8 Q That wasn't my question. You don't recall ever hearing
9 that from anyone at --

10 A I never heard it from anyone at Jones, Day, no.

11 Q Okay. I'm going to show you a document and see if this
12 refreshes your recollection. The document I'm going to show
13 the witness is not in evidence, so I will not put it on the 14 screen. With permission, I'll just direct --

15 THE COURT: Well, the -- the witness did not 16 indicate a lack of recollection. He said -- the answer was 17 no. He was not aware of that.

18 MR. ULLMAN: Well, he said he -- I thought I asked
19 him whether he recalled ever hearing it and he said no.

20 THE COURT: That he wasn't aware of it. Is that 21 right, sir?

22 A Yes, Your Honor.

23 MR. ULLMAN: Well, Your Honor, if -- if he saw
24 something that refreshed his recollection that he had heard
25 of, then he would have been aware. It's a little --

1 THE COURT: But that's a question of impeachment,
2 not refreshing recollection.

3 MR. ULLMAN: Okay, Your Honor.

4 Q Mr. Orr, prior to the Chapter 9 filing, were you aware of 5 any legal precedent specifically allowing a city or an
6 emergency manager to use Chapter 9 as a means to trump a
7 provision of the State Constitution that protects vested
8 pension rights?

9 A I cannot answer that in a yes or no fashion. I'll give 10 you an explanation.

11 I -- as I had said before in my background, I handle
12 cases for federal preemption over state law in a number of 13 different roles. And so I generally was aware and -- and as 14 you've said before with my oath, that federal law takes over
15 state law.

16 Was I aware of any specific cases regarding an emergency
17 manager authorizing a Chapter 9 to trump state filings. I
18 don't think there were any specific cases of State
19 Constitution regarding vested pension rights. I don't think 20 there were any specific cases that I was aware of in that 21 regard, but I was aware of federal preemption, yes.

22 Q Okay. And were you at the time that you filed, were you
23 aware of any legal precedent allowing a city or an emergency
24 manager to use Chapter 9 as a means to trump a state

1 vested pension rights?

2 A Here again broadly, federal supremacy takes over state
3 constitutional law. I don't recall any specific cases in that
4 regard.

5 Q Okay. No specific cases regarding federal law trumping
6 the State Constitution, is that correct?

7 A No. I think I am aware of specific cases of federal law
8 trumping state constitutional law. What I was saying to you,
9 I was not aware of specific cases of federal law trumping
10 state constitutional law regarding vested pension rights.

11 Q Okay. Do you recall being deposed before right around
12 September 16th?

13 A Yes, I was deposed.

14 Q And I think you indicated that you were testifying
15 truthfully when you --

16 A I was testifying truthfully.

17 Q Okay. Let's show the -- the clip beginning at Page 192,
18 Line 2. I'd like to know, Mr. Orr, whether this was testimony
19 that you gave during that deposition?

20 MR. STEWART: Objection, Your Honor. I don't think 21 that this is a proper use of -- of deposition testimony. And 22 I would -- if Mr. Ullman has a question.

23 THE COURT: What -- what do you assert is improper
24 about it?

1 inconsistent with the deposition.

2 THE COURT: Well, then the impeachment will be
3 ineffective. But I'll permit counsel to -- to try.

4 Q Okay. The question is, do you recall giving this 5 testimony that we're about to play and you can answer yes or 6 no once you get --

7 A Yes, I recall September 16 deposition.

8 Q Okay. Why don't I just play the testimony?

9 (Video Being Playing at 9:56 a.m.; Concluded at 9:56
10 a.m.)

11 Q Now, Mr. Orr, is it correct that you've been told by the 12 State Attorney General that in his view the Michigan
13 Constitution protects the pensions that you're seeking to cut?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Is it correct that prior to the Chapter 9 filing there
16 were State Court proceedings that had been filed alleging
17 among other things that PA436 was unconstitutional inasmuch as 18 it purported to allow you to file for Chapter 9 without 19 insuring that the vested pension payments were protected?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Okay. And those were pending as of July 2013, correct?

22 A I believe they began July 3rd and there was another one
23 the following week and then one on July 15th, but yes.

24 Q Okay. And that litigation was pending in Ingham County
25 before Judge Aquiline?

1 A Yes. There was one case prior to the July cases
2 challenging the constitutionality of 436. But the cases
3 you're talking about Flowers, Webster, and GRS, I think were 4 all pending in Ingham County.

5 Q Yeah, in Ingham County. And is it correct that at -- at 6 least at some point in July the date for the bankruptcy filing
7 had been planned for July 19?

8 A No. I think I said before that I wanted to file as soon
9 as I got the authority. There wasn't a planning date. But I
10 was going to file as soon as I asked for the authority to do
11 so.

12 Q Okay. Isn't it correct that there was a plan that had 13 been -- a written plan that had been put in place and that had 14 been created at least that showed the filing date of July 19?

15 A I don't know if there was, I'm trying to recall. I don't 16 know if there was a plan. I think we had had discussions
17 about timing, yes.

18 Q Okay. And why don't we put on the screen Exhibit 831,
19 please. Or, yeah, I'm sorry, or we can use 452, I think
20 that's easier.

21 Okay. And what I'm putting before you is an email with 22 various attachments that comes from a Bill Nowling dated July
23 8th, 2013.

24 A Yes.

25 Q And it indicates at the bottom that Mr. Nowling works for 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1329
of 2386

1 the office of the emergency manager, you?

2 A Yes, he's my communications director.

3 Q Okay. And this is a document that was created by Mr.

4 Nowling, is that right?

5 A I assume it was. I haven't seen this document before.

6 Q Okay.

7 A But I assume it was.

8 Q Okay. And as you look at the attachments, it says

9 Chapter 9, COMS, which I assume is communications document,

10 Chapter 9 messages, Chapter 9 communications roll out from 11 July 4, 2013. Do you see that?

12 A Yes, that's what it says.

13 Q Okay. And Mr. Nowling in his ordinary course of duties

14 communicates with other people as to the state of things and 15 what the current schedule looks like, is that right?

16 A Yes. Mr. Nowling is the communications director and he

17 does a number of different things.

18 Q Okay. And if we turn to Page 7 of this document. Okay.

19 This is what we see, it looks like the roll out schedule which 20 was referred to in the attachment.

21 And if we look at the first entry, under the middle

22 column, event. It says Friday, July 19th, 2013 FILING DAY in 23 capital letters. Do you see that?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And then if you look at the second box below there is an

1 item for 10:00 a.m., file necessary paperwork with Court
2 system?

3 A Yes, that's what it says.

4 Q Okay. And this is all referring to the Chapter 9 filing,
5 isn't it?

6 A I believe so.

7 Q Okay. Now do you recall, and I think you indicated
8 previously that in -- in early to mid-July you were aware that
9 there was -- there had been a hearing in the State Court
10 litigation for a TRO that had been scheduled for July 22nd, is 11 that right?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Okay. And is it correct that the TRO hearing was then 14 moved up to July 18 in the late afternoon?

15 A I believe so.

16 Q Okay. And is it correct that the bankruptcy filing was 17 in fact done on July 18, not on the 19th?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And is it correct that it was around 4:06 in the 20 afternoon of the 18th that it was filed shortly before the 21 State Court TRO hearing was scheduled to start?

22 A If -- if that's the time it shows on the documents then
23 yeah, that's correct.

24 Q Okay. Now why don't we put up the -- do we have the 25 petition here? And this is just from the Court files. This

1 is a copy from the petition.

2 And if we look at the bottom, we see the filing date and
3 we see the filing time which is 4:06 in the afternoon. And if 4 you look at the date, there was a date that was handwritten to 5 July 18th. And I believe you've indicated previously that you
6 hand wrote the date to change it from July 19 to July 18, is
7 that right?

8 A Yes, I did that.

9 Q Okay. Now, you of course know Kenneth Buckfire, is that
10 right?

11 A Yes, I know Ken Buckfire.

12 Q Okay. And do you recall telling Mr. Buckfire that one of 13 the reasons that the bankruptcy filing was moved from the 19th
14 to the 18th, was to avoid the impact of a decision in the State
15 Court litigation that might have prevented you from filing the 16 bankruptcy petition?

17 A I don't recall specifically saying that, but I may have 18 said it.

19 Q Okay. So if Mr. Buckfire testified to that, would you
20 have any reason to challenge that testimony?

21 A Like I said, I don't specifically recall it, but I have 22 no reason -- I have no reason to say I did not say it.

23 Q Okay. And are you aware of any particular reason why the 24 Chapter 9 filing was filed when it was other than to get a
25 jump on a decision by the State Court?

1 A Yeah. I think I said before that once I sent the letter
2 to the Governor, I was prepared to file the case immediately.
3 I had said before that we were going to give it a month to try
4 to reach some sort of consensual resolution through the 5 process that we had outlined on June 14th and that wasn't
6 forthcoming.

7 I had said before that things were beginning to spiral
8 out of control. We had sat by for the better part of three
9 weeks being sued on a regular basis. We had the Syncora
10 litigation. And the -- TRO, temporary restraining order that 11 was due to expire at the end of that week. There were a
12 number of reasons besides the implication of your question
13 which was to try to get a jump. That we were concerned about 14 filing as soon as we could.

15 Q Okay. Mr. Orr, again, you remember testifying on 16 September --

17 A Yes.

18 Q Of September?

19 A Uh-huh.

20 Q I'm sorry, September of -- of this year.

21 A Yeah.

22 Q And again you indicated you were testifying truthfully?

23 A Yes, I was testifying truthfully.

24 Q Okay. And can you tell me did you give the following
25 testimony that we're about to play?

1 A Sure.

2 (Video Being Played at 10:03 a.m.; Concluded at 10:04
3 a.m.)

4 Q Okay. That was your testimony, Mr. Orr?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Okay. Now isn't it the case that subsequently the State
7 Court ruled that PA436 was unconstitutional to the extent that
8 it allowed a filing for Chapter 9 without protecting vested
9 pensions?

10 A I'm aware that there was a State Court ruling. I'm not
11 aware of the details. But I think I -- I think I have heard
12 that. I didn't -- I may have read the ruling, but I don't --
13 I think that's the gist of the ruling, yes.

14 Q You're aware of that in substance?

15 A I'm aware of that in substance.

16 Q Okay. And you didn't withdraw the bankruptcy petition in 17 response to the State Court ruling, did you?

18 A No. You asked me that on September 16th. No.

19 Q Now in connection with the bankruptcy filing, you filed
20 -- you yourself submitted a declaration, is that right?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Okay. And in it among other things you gave figures as 23 to the city's liability in cash flow?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Okay. And on the liability side, I believe you said that
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1334
of 2386

1 the total liabilities are over $18,000,000,000, is that right?

2 A Yes.

3 Q Okay. And I think you also broke that $18,000,000,000
4 figure down in a couple of ways. And we can -- I can show
5 you. Okay. So why don't we put -- let's put Exhibit 414 on 6 the screen. This is your declaration that you filed, isn't
7 it?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Okay. And if we can go to Paragraph 9 which is on --
10 starts on Page 5 and then continues. So okay, I guess we have 11 it all pieced together here. So we see here that you wrote in 12 Paragraph 9 that the city has over 18,000,000,000 in accrued
13 obligations, right?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And then you go on further to say, that there is over 16 6,000,000,000 -- a little further down, over 6,000,000,000 in 17 obligations backed by enterprise revenue -- enterprise
18 revenues or that are otherwise secured?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Okay. And then you elaborate that a little more in 21 Footnote 4. Will you put Footnote 4 on the screen? Okay.
22 And there is a phrase in there exactly where you say -- you're 23 elaborating on what that 6.4 billion dollar figure is. And 24 among other things you say that that consists of 5.85 billion
25 in enterprise fund debt. Do you see that?

1 A Yes.

2 Q Okay. And is it correct that that is basically referring
3 to bonds that are issued by the Detroit Water and Sewer
4 Department and state loans that are also made to the 5 Department of Water and Sewer?

6 A Yes. That's generally -- yeah, 6,000,000,000 of it
7 belongs to DWSD, yes.

8 Q And the DWSD, that's department of -- that's the Detroit
9 Water and Sewer Department?

10 A Detroit Water and Sewer Department.

11 Q Okay.

12 A We call it DWSD.

13 Q And the DWSD is operated as a separate authority in 14 Detroit, is that right?

15 A It's a department of the City of Detroit, but it is 16 operated as a -- not as -- necessarily as an authority. It's 17 operated with some autonomy, both operationally and as a
18 result of Judge Cox's ruling in the Clean Water Act case.

19 Q Okay. And it keeps its own books and records?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And the DWSD is responsible for the payment of these 22 bonds, isn't it?

23 A Yeah. There's a mechanism but generally, yes.

24 Q Okay. So the payment of these bonds, this about

1 fund, is it?

2 A Six billion.

3 Q Six billion. Did I say million?

4 A Yeah, you did.

5 Q Thank you.

6 A Okay. Six billion.

7 Q And that's -- the payment -- the responsibility for the 8 6,000,000,000 in the DWSD related bonds and -- and loans is 9 not allocable to the general fund, is it?

10 A No. No, it's not part of the general fund debt, but it
11 is an obligation of the city.

12 Q Okay. And the DWSD has the financial wherewithal to make 13 the payments on its bonds as they come due, doesn't it?

14 A Yes. And it is doing so.

15 Q Okay. Now if we look a little further in your 16 declaration, staying with Paragraph 9. You talk about where 17 is the 11. -- no, it's the top part. 11.9 billion in 18 unsecured obligations to lenders and retirees.

19 A Yes.

20 Q And we go back down this time to Footnote 3. And we see
21 in -- in little letter (a), we see the 5.7 billion -- billion
22 dollar figure in the OPEB liabilities, right?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And then in little (b) we see that number again, 3.5
25 billion in under funding pension liabilities, correct?

1 A Yes.

2 Q Okay. And that's a reference to the state of things as
3 you believe them to exist or saying they existed as of June
4 14, 2013, correct?

5 A Well, I -- I think my affidavit also includes a state of 6 play that we believe them to exist at the time of filing.

7 Q Well, I'm looking right now at Footnote 3 which says on 8 June 14, it says we met and these were the obligations. And 9 it says see proposal for creditors as of June 14, correct?

10 A Yeah. I'm not taking issue with what is said in there,
11 I'm just saying that I didn't see any change in those numbers,
12 yes.

13 Q Okay.

14 A But the answer to your question is yes.

15 Q Okay. Now is it correct that as of June 14 -- and you
16 had not been aware of any -- was there any substantial
17 revision to the work that had been done regarding the size of 18 the unfunded pension liability as you recall between June 14
19 and the time of the bankruptcy filing?

20 A There -- there -- there is ongoing work on these issues
21 through from June 14th until the bankruptcy filing. But there
22 were no, to the best of my knowledge, there were no
23 substantial changes in the amount of the debt represented by 24 these figures.

25 Q Okay. And is it correct then that as of June 14, the 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1338
of 2386

1 work that had been done by Milliman was in fact preliminary
2 work?

3 A I don't remember the exact date, but I believe June 14th
4 is correct and that Milliman's first work was done off of 5 Gabrielle Roeder, yes.

6 Q Okay. So the June 14 preliminary.

7 A Yeah.

8 Q Was it still preliminary as you understood it as of the 9 date of the bankruptcy filing, July 18?

10 A I don't know if it's -- if it's -- it's preliminary until 11 we reach agreement as to what the numbers are. So the work is 12 consistently estimates. When you say preliminary, I assume 13 you mean that we haven't reached a final conclusion as to the 14 amount. But this represents our best analysis of what those 15 numbers are.

16 Q Yes. Preliminary in the sense that the Milliman firm had 17 not reached a final conclusion as to what the right number was 18 for the pension liability.

19 A I -- I think that's fair.

20 Q Okay. And I think you testified earlier that during this 21 time frame, Milliman was doing an analysis of the Gabrielle
22 Roeder work, correct?

23 A The --

24 Q Well, I'm not saying that's all, I'm just taking this 25 piecemeal.

1 A Yeah. Well, so I don't -- without -- without looking at 2 the actual documents, I want to be sure I'm not misleading.
3 Milliman -- the sequence was Milliman was doing analysis of 4 Gabrielle Roeder. Milliman then began doing its own analysis.
5 I don't remember the exact dates, so I don't want to say June
6 14th and it turns out it was June 15th. But generally that's 7 the sequence and that's the approximate time.

8 Q Okay. So there are two aspects to what -- so we're
9 clear, what Milliman was doing one, was doing an analysis
10 based on the Gabrielle Roeder work, right?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And so we're clear Gabrielle Roeder is the actuary
13 retained by the retirement systems, correct?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Okay. And it was also, I think you had said earlier, in 16 the process of creating its own valuation?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Okay. And is it correct that as late as September 18,
19 2013, Milliman had not in fact yet completed its work and the 20 city was not in a position to know the actual size of the 21 pension under funding?

22 A I think it's correct that as of the 18th, Milliman may 23 have not -- here again I'm trying not to be specific with 24 dates if they're different and are proven to be different,

25 that's fine. But that's approximately the time. I don't know
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1340
of 2386

1 if it's fair to say that the actual valuations hadn't been
2 concluded. Our valuations have been fairly consistent based
3 upon the assumptions used.

4 Q Okay. And you know Charles Moore, correct?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Okay. And he is on the pension task force?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Okay. And he was tied in with the Milliman work and the 9 status of it at various points in time?

10 A Yes.

11 Q Okay. Why don't we put on the screen some deposition
12 transcript excerpts. Do you know what I'm -- okay.

13 This is from the deposition of Mr. Moore on September 18th
14 of this year.

15 MR. STEWART: Objection, Your Honor.

16 MR. ULLMAN: I'm not sure what the objection is,
17 Your Honor. I want to ask him some questions about some 18 specific things, made -- statements made by Mr. Moore. This 19 document has not been objected to, or rather this -- this 20 deposition testimony has not been objected to.

21 THE COURT: It's really not appropriate to ask one
22 witness about the testimony of another witness, or to confront
23 one witness with the testimony of another witness. The 24 objection is sustained.

25 Q Okay. Is it correct, Mr. Orr, that so far as you were 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1341
of 2386

1 aware that as late as September 18th, 2013, the city and its
2 actuary Milliman, had not completed the analysis on the 3 unfunded pension liability?

4 A As I said, I think that's the approximate date. I don't
5 recall independent the exact date. But I think it's around
6 that time.

7 Q What are you saying, it's around that time that they
8 complete -- I'm not sure when you say -- what's around that
9 time?

10 A No, at some point Milliman completed its analysis. I
11 don't remember the exact date that that was done.

12 Q Okay. But at -- you would agree that at least as of 13 September 18th, 2013, that Milliman had not completed its 14 analysis, correct?

15 A I'll agree that it was around that date. I don't want to 16 say yes and then it turns out that they had and I was wrong
17 because I just don't recall the date.

18 Q Okay. So that your best knowledge is around that date,
19 around September 18th.

20 A Sometime in September.

21 Q Okay. And is it correct that as recently as September
22 18, Milliman and the city were still in the process of trying 23 to create their own valuation model?

24 A That -- here again, it may be around that time. I mean
25 we continually do work on -- on valuations and analysis, but

1 that may have been the approximate time.

2 Q Okay. And to the extent that they were still working on
3 it as of around the July -- I'm sorry, the September 18 time
4 frame, do you have any personal knowledge as to when if ever
5 the Milliman valuation work was completed?

6 A Do I have personal knowledge of -- of when? I believe it
7 was completed. I don't know the exact time it was.

8 Q In any event it -- to the extent it was, it would have
9 been sometime on or after September 18th, is that true?

10 A Yeah, if your supposition is correct, that September 18th
11 it was still a work in progress, then it would have flowed
12 that it would follow sometime after that.

13 Q Now I think you also made reference in your June 14
14 proposal to the investment rate of return that had been used
15 by the retirement systems actuary, do you recall that? A 7.9
16 figure?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Okay. And do you want me to show that to you, or do you
19 agree that you made some reference to that as being what you
20 considered an inappropriate assumption?

21 A To move along, I will agree that we made a reference to 22 in our anticipated rate of return. And if you say it was 7.9,
23 I have no reason to -- to disagree with you.

24 Q Okay. And as it correct that as -- as late as September

1 whether the investment rate of return that was used by the 2 retirement systems actuary was inconsistent with actuarial
3 standards of practice?

4 A Here again I'm -- I'm going to defer to the documents and
5 -- and the actual timing of when those reports were produced.
6 But I think there was one report that had a range of 7 assumptions as far as what was reasonably anticipated to be 8 the expected rate of return.

9 Q My question is a little -- is really quite specific. Are 10 you aware -- they called actuarial standards of practice?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Okay. And is it correct that at least as late as 13 September 24, 2013, the Milliman firm had not opined, had not 14 given an opinion --

15 A Right.

16 Q -- that the investment rate of return used by the 17 retirement systems actuaries was inconsistent with actuarial
18 standards of practice?

19 A Yeah, without seeing the report, I don't recall if 20 Milliman ever opined. They may have, I just don't recall it.
21 If you say that there was some time after September 24th is 22 what you said, without getting caught up in the dates because 23 I don't have the document, and that document speaks for 24 itself, I have no reason to disagree with it.

25 Q Okay.

1 THE COURT: What's the relevance of all of this to
2 whether the city was eligible to file two months earlier?

3 MR. ULLMAN: This has to go to what the city knew
4 and what it's the city, not Mr. Orr necessarily personally,
5 but the city and its state of mind in making the 6 representation that the number for the unfunded pension
7 liability was indeed 3.5 billion when we believe the evidence
8 will show and shows that no one had come to that conclusion
9 yet and in fact work was still ongoing.

10 THE COURT: All right. I'll permit some brief
11 further inquiry into this and then ask you to move on.

12 MR. ULLMAN: Thank you, Your Honor.

13 Q Is it correct that as of September -- at least September
14 24, 2003 (sic), the work done by Milliman, the city's actuary,
15 had not in fact progressed to the point where it was even able 16 to replicate the valuation model that had been used by the 17 retirement systems actuaries?

18 A Mr. Ullman here again, I don't know what your dates are.
19 And I don't recall at what point --

20 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Orr --

21 A I don't know.

22 THE COURT: If you don't know, just say --

23 A I don't know.

24 THE COURT: -- I don't know.

25 A I don't know. I'm sorry, Your Honor. I don't know.
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1345
of 2386

1 Q Is it correct, Mr. Orr, that the last actuarial valuation
2 for the pension liability as a whole was done as of June 2011,
3 that's for both systems, the GRS and the police and fire?

4 A I don't know if that's the date.

5 Q Okay. Well, you recall that there was an actuarial
6 evaluation for June 2011 that showed a total unfunded
7 liability of about 643.8 million dollars?

8 A I don't recall if that was the date. I recall during a
9 deposition us discussing that number. I think that number was 10 based off the Gabrielle Roeder report as part of their annual 11 valuation.

12 Q Yeah. And that number, the 643.8 million is referenced
13 in the June 14 proposal, isn't it?

14 A I think it is, yeah.

15 Q Okay. And that would be for June 11, 2000 -- I'm sorry,
16 June 2011, right?

17 A I -- I -- I think that's when the report dates back to.

18 Q Okay.

19 A The end of the calendar -- I mean fiscal year.

20 Q Now for that -- didn't mean to interrupt you. Now,
21 taking that number, the total liability number for the 22 unfunded pension liability of the reported figure of 643.8
23 million, not all of that is allocable to the general fund, is
24 it?

25 A No. I think we discussed this on September 16th. There's 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1346
of 2386

1 a mechanism for some allocation to DWSD, but Gabrielle Roeder
2 doesn't break that out between general fund and DWSD.

3 Q Okay. And the fact is that a substantial portion of the 4 unfunded pension liability, the reported one, the 643.8
5 million, was allocable to DWSD, correct?

6 A Well, I think you and I discussed on September 16th that
7 the math, and I thought I said let's be careful. The math
8 works out to about 38%. I -- I think that figure does not -- 9 I think that figure focuses on what was actually paid as 10 focusing on what was obligated. That 38% might go down if you
11 include the deferrals that we made. But generally somewhere
12 between a third to 40% is DWSD.

13 Q Of the unfunded pension liability --

14 A Of the unfunded --

15 Q -- is allocable -- I'm sorry, I didn't mean to --

16 A I didn't mean to interrupt you, I'm sorry.

17 Q Okay. To be clear though about you said 38 to 40% of the 18 unfunded pension liability is allocable to DWSD.

19 A What I -- what I said was, depending upon if you're 20 looking at just what was paid for that year, or what was paid
21 and deferred that that percentage probably ranges, because 22 Gabrielle Roeder doesn't break out the difference between the 23 general fund and DWSD obligations. Probably ranges between 30
24 to 38%. I think that 38% is what we discussed during my

25 September 16th deposition.

1 Q Okay. Just so I'm clear, the 38% that we discussed was
2 -- was allocable to the -- that we're talking about the 3 unfunded pension liability. And you're getting a little
4 confused is your answer?

5 A Yeah. Let me -- yeah. I'm going to try to clarify as 6 best I can because I want to be responsive.

7 If you calculated in the total amount the city had due
8 for instance in 2013 of about $130,000,000, then DWSD's
9 responsibility would be about 30% of that number. If you
10 calculated in just the amount that was actually paid and other 11 deferrals in other years, then the DWSD component would 12 probably be about 38% of that number because it's -- it's a
13 larger component of what was actually paid as opposed to what 14 was obligated but a portion of which was deferred.

15 Q Okay.

16 A So the range depending upon whether it's -- it's all that 17 should be paid but was deferred, or whether it's just what was 18 actually paid, is somewhere between 30 to 38%.

19 Q Isn't it correct that the unfunded pension, just the 20 unfunded amount allocable to DWSD is about 39 to 40%, that 21 range?

22 A That's the figure we discussed on September 16th. And --
23 and that -- that is correct for the amount that's actually
24 paid. That percentage goes down if you include the deferral
25 amount. But yes, that's correct.

1 Q Okay. Just so we're real clear, can we put up the City's
2 Exhibit 68? Look at Page 1 first. Okay. This is the
3 Gabrielle Roeder. It's a -- a report from July 2012. Do you
4 see that?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And if we go to Page B3. Okay. If we can blow that up.
7 Do you see here Gabrielle Roeder actually breaks down the --
8 the actuarial accrued liability as of June 30, 2011?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And at the very bottom there's unfunded actuarial accrued
11 liabilities?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Okay. You see there's a -- a total column at the far
14 right?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Okay. And in the middle it's Department of Water and 17 Sewage -- or Sewage?

18 A Yes, the middle column.

19 Q The two forty-seven --

20 A Yes.

21 Q And I believe if you do the math, if you divide the two
22 forty-seven six two four figure into the total unfunded
23 accrued liabilities, it comes out to just about 38.6%. Do you
24 see that?

25 A Yeah, that's the discussion we had on September 16th.

1 Q Okay. And this is -- so this is talking about the
2 unfunded liabilities only, correct?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Okay. And in the -- going back now to our discussion
5 September 16th, do you remember that there was some -- there
6 was some confusion over how to do the math to get the right
7 number?

8 A Yes, I do.

9 Q And remember we first did it the wrong way and we ended
10 up with 38%. And then we went back and tried it again and you
11 ended up saying yes, the right number is 61 -- it was 12 something like 61%.

13 A Well, I said if you -- I think what I said was, and I'm 14 sorry because we were both going back and forth on the math.
15 I think what I said is, the math is the math, but be very 16 careful with the numbers because you'd actually have to do
17 down. So just -- just to clarify that whole discussion --

18 Q I -- I agree.

19 A We're -- we're talking about 38%.

20 Q Right. And at the deposition I think we ended up with 21 61, but we see now that the right number is more at -- at 22 38.6?

23 A Yes, that's right. Attorneys doing math.

24 Q Thank you. Okay. And now with respect to the unfunded
25 pension liability that is allocable to DWSD, that is -- DWSD

1 bears financial responsibility for that, doesn't it?

2 A Yes.

3 Q Okay. And so again that's not allocable to the general
4 fund, is it?

5 A No. It's accounted for in DWSD, but the general fund
6 makes the payment. So whether or not, I don't want to get 7 confused with a legal conclusion as to whether or not there's 8 an obligation by the city to fund that, but DWSD makes a
9 contribution for that amount.

10 Q So ultimately it's borne that the unfund -- the pension
11 amounts including the unfunded would ultimately be borne by 12 DWSD, correct?

13 A Ultimately the -- the portion of that obligation due for 14 employees at DWSD is borne by DWSD, but is still a city
15 obligation because they're a department of the city.

16 Q Okay. But ultimately not an obligation that's payable at 17 the end out of the general fund?

18 A It's not taken out of the general fund.

19 Q Okay. Now, is it correct -- what we've been talking
20 about now is the 643,000,000 or so liability as of June 2011.
21 And then we saw that there's an amount about 38 -- it was 38
22 to 39% that's allocable to DWSD. Is it correct that with 23 respect to the unfunded pension liability, that if it were 24 concluded subsequently that the correct amount of the unfunded

1 as 3.5 billion, that a substantial portion of that would still
2 remain allocable to DWSD?

3 A I -- I think I cautioned on September 16th with being
4 careful about doing a straight line analysis. And I think I
5 said then that you'd have to go back and do analysis of 6 deferrals and payments and so on and so forth. So I'm going
7 to say that again today. But if you're relying on the math, a
8 portion of that obligation is due from DWSD.

9 Q And I was not suggesting that it was necessarily a
10 straight line relationship, but simply that there would be a 11 substantial portion of the unfunded liability that would 12 remain allocable to DWSD, correct?

13 A Yeah. I'm just going to -- I'm going to caution a little 14 bit about substantial. There will be a portion substantial if 15 we go back and do an analysis that of the deferrals, different
16 proportion than other things. Let's just be a little careful.
17 But generally speaking, there are obligations due from DWSD.

18 Q Yeah. And as you sit here now you don't know what that 19 portion that's allocable to DWSD would be, do you?

20 A No. We'd have to do an analysis.

21 Q Is it correct that the City of Detroit owns certain 22 pieces of art that are maintained at the Detroit Institute of 23 Arts?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Okay. And this is art that the -- we're talking about
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1352
of 2386

1 art that the city owns itself, right, not art that's subject
2 to any kind of public trust?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Okay. And that art is very valuable, is it not?

5 A We're currently going through a valuation, but I believe
6 it's very valuable, yes.

7 Q Okay. And Christie's has been retained, correct?

8 A Christie's has been retained, correct.

9 Q And they were retained in August, is that right?

10 A I believe -- well, let's -- let's get by the sequence. I
11 believe they were initially requested to come out. I told
12 them go away. We were taken actually --

13 THE COURT: Mr. Orr, please, just answer the 14 question. Were they retained in August?

15 A I don't recall a specific date. I think it was August.

16 Q Okay. So you were appointed the emergency manager at the 17 end of March and Christie's was not retained until August.

18 Was that in the beginning or the end of August, do you recall?

19 A I don't know.

20 Q Okay. Now the art is a potential source of cash for the 21 city, is it not?

22 A I don't know.

23 Q Okay. Well, isn't it potentially a very large source of 24 cash for the city?

25 A It is valuable. I don't know if it's a large source of 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1353
of 2386

1 cash for the city.

2 Q Okay. Have you received any estimates or preliminary
3 views of its total value from Christie's?

4 A No.

5 Q You're aware of course of reports in the press that the 6 art that's own by the city could be worth billions?

7 A Yes, I'm aware of press reports, yes.

8 Q Okay. And billions in cash flow would certainly help the 9 city's financial position, would it not?

10 A I think it would.

11 Q And in fact an influx of cash of that magnitude would 12 provide funds to at least pay pension contributions for the 13 next several years, isn't that right?

14 A It might.

15 Q And is there -- there -- let me ask it this way. There's 16 nothing in the June 14 proposal that recognizes the potential
17 cash influx from the sale of art as a means to pay vested
18 pensions, is there?

19 A June 14th proposal speaks to DIA, but we did not speak to 20 any sale of art.

21 Q Okay. We've also talked about the Department of Water
22 and Sewer. That's another potential cash source for the city,
23 isn't it?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Okay. And I think you've indicated previously that
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1354
of 2386

1 you've been looking at ways to monetize that?

2 A Well, yes.

3 Q And at this point do you have any understanding as to 4 the, at least a preliminary valuation of what the -- the 5 amount of cash the Department of Water and Sewer might be able 6 to generate for the city?

7 A No.

8 Q And I take it nothing in the June 14 proposal shows any 9 funds generated by DW -- excuse me, DWSD being used to pay
10 retirees pension benefits, does it?

11 A Well, to the extent the June 14th report speaks to trying 12 to monetize some value out of DWSD and that monetization would 13 go into in some form the $2,000,000,000 note, to the extent
14 pensions are unsecured, they would receive a benefit from that
15 process.

16 Q Okay. So the answer to my question is, I was correct,
17 wasn't I, that nothing in the June 14 proposal shows any funds
18 that might be received through DWSD is going to pay vested
19 pension benefits?

20 A No, I don't think that's correct. I think the June 14th
21 proposal speaks about a -- a process by which we would provide 22 benefits through the monetization of certain city assets to 23 the unsecured creditor class, so consequently they would 24 benefit.

25 Q You're saying that if -- that under the June 14 proposal,
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1355
of 2386

1 the pension holders would be treated as any other unsecured
2 creditor and the value of their bonds might go up a little,
3 correct?

4 A Yes.

5 Q But there's nothing in the June 14 proposal that says if 6 we're able to get cash out DWSD, we'll use that cash to 7 preserve pension benefits and not have to cut them or not have 8 to cut them so significantly, is there?

9 A There is nothing that treats pension benefits differently
10 than any other unsecured creditor.

11 Q Okay. Going back now -- just a few more questions.

12 A Okay.

13 Q To the June 14 meeting. Do you recall being there?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Okay. There were no negotiations that took place at the 16 June 14 meeting, were there?

17 A No. I wouldn't call those negotiations.

18 Q Okay. Now subsequent to the June 14 proposal and the 19 meeting on June 14, there -- there were series of 20 presentations and discussions concerning the terms of the 21 proposal with respect to various persons and entities that 22 would be affected under it, correct?

23 A Yes.

24 Q Okay. And is it correct that you yourself did not attend

25 all of the presentations and discussions that took place

1 concerning that subsequent to June 14?

2 A Yes, that's correct.

3 Q Okay. And you didn't attend the June 20 meetings, did
4 you?

5 A No. I think I did attend the June 20th meeting.

6 Q Okay. Well, I'd just like to, if we can pull up Exhibit
7 414. This is your declaration, Mr. Orr?

8 A Yes.

9 Q I just want to ask you if you can -- if we can turn to 10 Paragraphs 91 and 92. Well, I'll just do it. Do you see in 11 Paragraph 91 and 92 it's both talking about the June 20
12 meeting?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Okay. And we can also show you the preceding paragraph
15 where it's talking about advisors.

16 A Right.

17 Q But if we focus on 91 and 92, it says on June 20, 2013,
18 certain of these advisors met in Detroit with representatives
19 of the city's unions and retiree associations. And then in 20 Paragraph 92, it again in the first sentence talks about the 21 city's advisors answering as many questions as were asked. Do
22 you see that?

23 A Uh-huh.

24 Q Okay. And there's no reference to you personally being 25 there at the June 20 meetings, is there?

1 A No, but I remember attending because I bought lunch.

2 Q Okay.

3 A Out of my pocket.

4 Q Okay. So if Mr. Malhotra testified that you were not
5 present at either of the June 20 meetings, would you have any
6 particular basis to disagree with him?

7 A No. But Mr. -- the way the meetings were designed, I
8 think there was a session in the morning, there was a session
9 in the afternoon. And I may have been at one session that he
10 was not at. But I remember being at the meeting.

11 Q Okay. And there were also meetings on July 10th and 11th,
12 correct?

13 A I believe so.

14 Q Okay. And you -- I think you indicated previously that 15 you have no recollection of being present at those meetings,
16 is that correct?

17 A No, I wasn't at those meetings.

18 Q Okay. Now on July 16th, you sent a letter to the 19 Governor, is that right?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Okay. And why don't we put the July 16th letter, that's 22 Exhibit 409 on the screen? Okay. And this is a letter on 23 which you asked authorization to file the Chapter 9 filing, is 24 that right?

25 A Yes.

1 Q Okay. And in this letter you went through a variety of 2 things reviewing what you represented to be the facts for the 3 Governor in which the Governor was to base his decision, is
4 that right?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And among other things you discussed the substance of 7 what happened at the various creditor meetings that took place
8 after June 14th, is that right?

9 A Yes.

10 Q Okay. And if we look at page -- look at Pages 8 to 9 of 11 this document, we see there is a heading entitled individual
12 follow up meetings?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And that goes on to the next page?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Okay. So just going through this briefly, the first one
17 talks about June 20. And it says again, the city's advisors
18 conducted meetings with unions and retiree associations. Do
19 you see that?

20 A Uh-huh, yes.

21 Q Okay. On the 25th it says the advisors met with various 22 persons and among them is the GRS and PFRS? Do you see that?

23 A Yes, that's what the document says.

24 Q And that that's -- the GRS and PFRS, that's the 25 retirement systems, right?

1 A General retirement system, police and fire retirement
2 system, yes.

3 Q Okay. Then the next bullet on the next page talks about
4 July 9th and 10th and it talks about due diligence with persons
5 including GRS, PFRS. Do you see that?

6 A Yes.

7 Q Okay. And then on July 10th, it talks about follow up
8 diligence sessions again GRS and PFRS were mentioned and the 9 unions?

10 A Yes, I see what it says.

11 Q Okay. And then on July 11th, it again talks about 12 sessions with business people and advisors for the unions,
13 right?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And then finally on the last bullet it talks about 16 negotiations with counter parties to the pension related swap
17 contracts?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Okay. And on the -- the counter parties to the swap
20 contracts though, they don't have anything to do, they're not 21 the unions or retiree association or the retirement system,
22 are they?

23 A No.

24 Q Okay. Now in this final bullet paragraph, you say the 25 city's negotiations. Do you see that? You refer to the

1 city's negotiations?

2 A Yes.

3 Q Okay. In any of the preceding bullet paragraphs that we
4 have talked about, did you use the word negotiations in 5 describing what took place?

6 A The document speaks for itself, but I -- I don't see the 7 word negotiations, no.

8 MR. ULLMAN: I have nothing further.

9 THE COURT: All right. We'll take out break now and 10 resume at 10:55, please.

11 (WITNESS KEVYN ORR WAS TEMPORARILY EXCUSED AT 10:38 A.M.)

12 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in recess.

13 (Court in Recess at 10:38 a.m.; Resume at 10:55 a.m.)

14 THE CLERK: Court is in session. Please be seated.

15 MR. DECHIARA: Good morning, Your Honor. Peter
16 Dechiara from the law firm of Cohen, Weiss, and Simon, LLP for
17 the UAW International Union.

18 CROSS EXAMINATION

19 BY MR. DECHIARA:

20 Q Good morning, Mr. Orr.

21 A Good morning, Mr. Dechiara.

22 THE COURT: You may proceed, but please no redundant
23 questioning.

24 MR. DECHIARA: I will try my best, Your Honor, to 25 avoid redundant questions.

1 Q Mr. Orr, you testified at the beginning of your direct
2 fairly extensively about your background. I just want to ask
3 you a few questions about that.

4 A Sure.

5 Q You testified you were born and raised in the State of 6 Florida, is that correct?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Okay. Prior to --

9 THE COURT: Excuse me, the first question you asked
10 was a redundant question.

11 MR. DECHIARA: I was just saying the framework for 12 my next question, Your Honor. I apologize. I'll try my best
13 to keep it focused.

14 Q Before you became emergency manager, had you ever lived
15 in the City of Detroit?

16 A No.

17 Q Do you currently maintain a permanent residence in the 18 Washington, D.C. area?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And I believe you -- and does your wife -- do your wife
21 and kids live in the Washington, D.C. area?

22 MR. STEWART: Objection, relevance, Your Honor.

23 MR. DECHIARA: Your Honor --

24 THE COURT: The objection is sustained.

25 Q Okay. Since becoming emergency manager, do you commute
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1362
of 2386

1 back and forth between Detroit and Washington, D.C.?

2 A Yes.

3 Q And you don't maintain a permanent residence in Detroit,
4 is that correct?

5 A No.

6 Q And since you've been emergency manager you've been --

7 THE COURT: Fine. Counsel said, is that correct and 8 you said no. So you do or you don't maintain a permanent 9 residence here?

10 A I do not maintain a permanent residence here.

11 Q Since you've become emergency manager you -- while in 12 Detroit you've been living out of a hotel, is that correct?

13 A Yes.

14 Q You testified -- you were asked on -- on direct whether 15 you took the emergency manager job for the money. Do you
16 recall that question?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And your answer on direct was no, correct?

19 A I did not take the job for the money.

20 Q Okay. How much money do you earn as emergency manager?

21 A As stated by -- stated in my contract $275,000 a year.

22 Q Okay. And do I take it from your answer that you didn't
23 take the job for the money to mean that when you were a 24 partner at Jones, Day you were earning much much more than 25 that?

1 A Yes.

2 Q And apart from your $275,000 a year salary, do you
3 receive any other compensation for your services as emergency
4 manager?

5 A I do not receive directly any other compensation. If 6 you're -- if you're trying to talk about the expenses of the 7 hotel, I've since understood that those are paid from a fund.

8 Q What fund?

9 A I believe it was the NERD fund.

10 Q Okay. And do you know who contributes to that fund?

11 A I know nothing about that fund. I know nothing about how 12 it's paid. I've never seen my lease.

13 Q Do you know that -- that fund, the NERD fund is the 14 Governor's fund?

15 A I know that. I know it's related to the Governor. I
16 don't know what you mean by the Governor's fund, but yes, I
17 know that.

18 Q Okay. You know Richard Baird, do you not?

19 A Yes, I do.

20 Q Okay. And he is a consultant to the Governor?

21 A He is now a state employee.

22 Q As of the time that -- as of January and February of 23 2013, was he a consultant to the Governor?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And in that period of time he worked closely with the 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1364
of 2386

1 Governor?

2 A I don't know about his -- I assume he did. He -- I think
3 his title was transformation manager to the Governor.

4 Q Okay. To the best of your knowledge based on your 5 dealings with him, was it your understanding that he worked
6 closely with the Governor?

7 A To the best of my knowledge based on my dealings with 8 him, yes.

9 Q The meeting, and there's been a lot of testimony about 10 this, the meeting at which Jones, Day made a pitch to become 11 restructuring counsel for the City of Detroit was on January
12 29th, 2013, correct?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Okay. And the very next day Mr. Baird called up the 15 managing partner of Jones, Day, Steven Brogan to inquire about 16 whether he could speak to you about becoming a candidate for 17 emergency manager, is that correct?

18 A I believe that's correct.

19 Q And then the very next day after that you spoke to Mr.
20 Baird, correct?

21 A I may have spoken to him that day, or the day after that,
22 but it was closely after that, yes.

23 Q Okay. So it was either January 30th or January 31st that 24 you spoke to Mr. Baird?

25 A I believe so.

1 Q Okay. Just to make the record clear, if I could ask you
2 to turn your attention to Exhibit 401. Can -- can you blow
3 that up a bit? Do you have that on your screen, Mr. Orr?

4 A Yes, I do.

5 Q Okay. And is that an email from -- from you to others
6 dated January 31st, 2013?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And it says in the first sentence, I had a good
9 conversation with -- with Rich Baird this morning? Do you see
10 that?

11 A Yes, I do.

12 Q Does that refresh your recollection about whether it was 13 on the 30th or the 31st that you spoke to Mr. Baird?

14 A I -- I may have spoken with him both on the afternoon of 15 the 30th and again on the 31st. But this says I clearly spoke 16 with him on the 31st, so I certainly spoke with him on the 31st.

17 Q You interviewed with the Governor to become emergency
18 manager, correct?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And you interviewed with Mr. Dillon?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And you interviewed with Mr. Baird?

23 A Mr. Baird was at the meeting that I had with the 24 Governor.

25 Q Okay. Now I believe you testified on direct that you
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1366
of 2386

1 didn't want your decision about whether or not to become --
2 whether or not you wanted to become emergency manager to have
3 any impact on whether or not Jones, Day would be chosen as 4 restructuring counsel for the city, is that -- am I getting
5 that right?

6 A Yes. I think I testified that whether or not I was 7 interested in becoming the emergency manager, I did not want
8 it to either help or hurt Jones, Day.

9 Q Okay. And in fact on direct you testified that you told
10 the Governor, and the Treasurer, and Mr. Baird that you did
11 not want your decision about whether to become emergency
12 manager to have any impact on whether or not Jones, Day was 13 chosen as restructuring counsel for the city. Am I -- am I
14 correct that that's what you testified on direct?

15 A Yes. I think I told both the Governor, and Mr. Baird,
16 and Treasurer Dillon as well.

17 Q Okay. And the reason you told the Governor that, and the 18 reason you told Mr. Dillon that, was because you understood
19 that they would be in a position to have influence or impact
20 on whether or not Jones, Day was chosen for -- as 21 restructuring counsel, correct?

22 A I told Mr. Dillon and Mr. Baird that because they were on 23 the review team that we pitched to. I think I told the 24 Governor that just to reinforce what I told Mr. Baird and Mr.
25 Dillon.

1 I assumed that Mr. Baird and Mr. Dillon would have some 2 influence on the selection process since they were on the
3 team. I don't think I said that just because I assumed the 4 Governor would have that influence.

5 Q Did the Governor say anything to you in response when you
6 said that to him?

7 A I think the Governor agreed that it went one way or the 8 other.

9 Q Okay. I'd like to show you a document that's UAW 619.
10 It's --

11 MR. DECHIARA: Your Honor, it's not yet admitted
12 into evidence. I would just ask the witness to -- it's in the 13 UAW binders which were provided to the Court and the witness
14 and -- and city counsel this morning.

15 Q Mr. Baird, if I could ask you to turn to -- behind Tab
16 619.

17 A Mr. Orr?

18 Q I'm sorry, whatever I said, excuse me. Mr. Orr. Are you
19 at -- do you see this exhibit?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Okay. Am I correct that this is -- these -- this 22 exhibit, and I'm just referring to the first page, the first
23 page of this exhibit is a chain of emails. The first one --
24 or the middle one is from Mr. Baird to you dated February 20th, 25 2013?

1 A Yes.

2 (UAW Exhibit 619 was identified)

3 Q Okay. Did you receive that email?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And do you recall what the -- let me just read it. It
6 says, FYI --

7 THE COURT: Not in evidence yet.

8 MR. DECHIARA: Okay. Your Honor, I -- I would move
9 this document at this point into evidence.

10 MR. STEWART: The objection is relevance, Your
11 Honor.

12 MR. DECHIARA: Your Honor, a major theme of -- of 13 our case, and I believe some of the other objectors' cases, is 14 that the state was working hand and glove with the firm of 15 Jones, Day to implement this effort, this scheme, this
16 strategy to end run the Michigan Constitution in order to cut
17 the pensions of Detroit retirees.

18 And this is one data point, if I -- if I could, that
19 shows the intimate relationship between the state and Jones,
20 Day. This is an email from the Governor's right hand man, Mr.
21 Baird before Mr. Orr was emergency manager, but while he was a
22 partner at Jones, Day saying what it says in this email which 23 if I may refer to it --

24 THE COURT: No, that's all right I'm satisfied that 25 the document is relevant and that objection is overruled.

1 What -- what number was it again, sir?

2 MR. DECHIARA: Six nineteen.

3 THE COURT: Okay.

4 (UAW Exhibit 619 was admitted)

5 Q Could you blow up the -- okay. Do you recall Mr. Orr,
6 what this email was about? What the general subject matter of 7 this exchange was?

8 A Yes.

9 Q What was it?

10 A This was discussion of a proposed partnership agreement
11 between the Mayor and myself if I were to become emergency
12 manager.

13 Q Okay. I'd like to refer you to second sentence. It's --
14 Mr. Baird writes, told him that there were certain things I
15 would not think we could agree to without your review,
16 assessment, and determination. And then the sentence goes on 17 and you can read it, but I'll stop reading out loud there. Do
18 you know who -- I know you didn't write the sentence, but did
19 you have an understanding of who the we was, that last word on 20 the -- on the second line on the -- on the right?

21 A Yes. I think he was talking about the Mayor.

22 MR. WERTHEIMER: Pardon me. I can't hear him and I
23 apologize.

24 THE COURT: Would you repeat your answer, please?

25 A Yes, Your Honor. Yes, I think he was talking about the 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1370
of 2386

1 Mayor.

2 Q Okay. Mr. Baird was talking about himself and the Mayor?

3 A You know, I don't -- I don't know.

4 Q Okay. I don't want you to guess if you don't know.

5 A I don't know.

6 Q Okay. All right. But nonetheless, Mr. Baird was saying
7 to you that he did not think that we, whoever we were, could 8 agree to something without your review, assessment, and 9 determination.

10 A Mr. Dechiara, let me clarify my answer. I think this 11 email is Mr. Baird talking about an outline that he gave the 12 Mayor. And I think the we is referring to me and Mr. Baird.

13 Q Okay. Did Mr. Baird ever explain to you apart from 14 what's written in this email, why your agreement -- your 15 review assessment and determination were necessary at this
16 point in time?

17 A You know, as I read this email, Mr. Dechiara, let me
18 further clarify.

19 THE COURT: I think I just need you to answer that 20 question, please.

21 A Oh, I'm sorry, Your Honor. Please --

22 Q Did -- did Mr. Baird apart from what's written in this
23 email, ever explain to you why in his view your review,
24 assessment, and determination were necessary?

25 A I don't recall.

1 Q Okay. But just to be clear, you were a partner at Jones,
2 Day at the time of this email, correct?

3 A Yes.

4 THE COURT: Excuse me one second. Now, witness, you
5 say there's some testimony you'd like to clarify?

6 A Yes, Your Honor.

7 THE COURT: You can do that.

8 A I think the we that's circled here at the end of the 9 second line is referring to both the -- the -- to Mr. Baird,
10 to myself, and the Mayor, the royal we if you will.

11 Q And did Mr. Baird ever explain to you apart from what's 12 written here what -- what the we was, or are you just --

13 A I don't recall. I'm just reading the context of the 14 email.

15 Q Okay, okay. Let me refer you now to UAW Exhibit 620.
16 It's the next tab in the book. And do you have it in front of 17 you, Mr. Orr?

18 A Yes, I do.

19 Q Okay. Let me refer you to the -- the middle email, the 20 one that is from Richard -- which appears to be from Richard 21 Baird to you dated February 22nd, 2013. Do you see that?

22 A Yes, I do.

23 Q And is that in fact an email that Richard Baird sent to 24 you on February 22nd, 2013?

25 A Yes, I believe so.

1 (UAW Exhibit 620 was identified)

2 MR. DECHIARA: Move the admission of UAW 620, Your
3 Honor.

4 MR. STEWART: Same objection, Your Honor.

5 MR. DECHIARA: Same argument, Your Honor. It's --
6 it's just part of the same -- and it's not like I have a lot
7 of these. This is the only other one on this line.

8 THE COURT: All right. It is admitted. The 9 objection on relevance grounds is overruled.

10 (UAW Exhibit 620 was admitted)

11 Q Let me if -- thank you. Let me refer to the email from 12 Richard Baird it says, Kevyn, about to be in a car for several 13 hours so thought I would send this to you prior to hearing
14 back from the G a final time. Did -- did you have an 15 understanding of who the G was? That was the Governor, wasn't
16 it?

17 A I -- I think it's referring to the Governor, yes.

18 Q And then the -- and then the email goes on, if you agree
19 with what I have done to the doc, based on everyone's input
20 and agree that you should be the one to provide it to the 21 Mayor as fully endorsed by the Governor, and the Treasurer,
22 and you, then I think that clearly established that you are 23 already behaving as an agent of the state committed to getting
24 Detroit back on track.

1 you agree to the things that he refers to in that sentence
2 that you were already behaving as an agent of the state?

3 A No.

4 Q Did you disabuse Mr. Baird of that notion and -- and --
5 and tell him that he was wrong about that?

6 A I don't recall.

7 Q You did respond to the email, didn't you in the -- in the 8 email that is at the top of the exhibit?

9 A Yes.

10 Q If -- if you could blow that up. And am I correct that 11 nowhere in that response do you say anything to Mr. Baird that 12 his statement in his email was incorrect, am I reading that 13 email accurately?

14 A I think the email speaks for itself, yes.

15 Q Okay. Thank you. Is it your understanding that you
16 serve at the pleasure of the Governor?

17 A Yes, provided I'm acting under 436. I think the Governor
18 has certain authority to remove me as well as the city council
19 and the Mayor at the end of 18 months.

20 Q Are you aware of any limits on -- are you -- can the 21 Governor remove you at will?

22 A I think that may be a legal conclusion under the statute.

23 Q I'm not asking for your legal conclusion. I'm asking for 24 your understanding.

25 A I don't know.

1 Q Okay. Since you've become emergency manager, you've met
2 frequently -- frequently with the Governor, have you not?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Both in formal group settings with staff and -- and
5 advisors present as well as one on one?

6 A I meet with the Governor --

7 Q It's a yes or no question.

8 A No.

9 Q You have not met with the Governor both in formal
10 settings with others present as well as one on one since
11 you've become emergency manager?

12 A Yes. I have met with the Governor in formal settings and 13 with one on one. The difference in my answer was your use of 14 frequently. I meet with the Governor less frequently in the 15 one on one sessions.

16 Q Okay. But the totality of your meetings with the 17 Governor, are frequent, correct?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Okay. And in your meetings with the Governor, have you
20 discussed the -- prior to the bankruptcy filing, did you
21 discuss plans for the filing of Detroit's bankruptcy petition?

22 A Outside of implicating any privilege discussions?

23 Q I'm just asking you the question.

24 MR. STEWART: I would state an objection to the

1 attorney/client information.

2 A We had discussions.

3 Q And what were your -- what was discussed? But let me --
4 let me -- let me -- let me ask you, on how many occasions did
5 you have those discussions?

6 A The Governor and I and the Detroit --

7 Q But do you have a number?

8 A Weekly.

9 THE COURT: That's not a number, but okay.

10 A I don't -- I don't know the number, Your Honor.

11 Q Okay. Just so I understand -- understand your testimony,
12 testimony, Mr. Orr, you discussed with the Governor on a 13 weekly basis plans for the filing of the -- the bankruptcy
14 petition?

15 A No.

16 Q Okay. So my question is, how often did you meet with the 17 Governor or speak to the Governor if it was by phone, about 18 plans for Detroit's bankruptcy filing?

19 A Somewhere between two and four or five, maybe.

20 Q And do you have a recollection of what was said in those
21 discussions between you and the Governor?

22 MR. STEWART: Same objection, Your Honor, to the 23 extent it's calling for the witness to reveal privileged 24 attorney/client communications. I would ask that he not

1 present.

2 MR. DECHIARA: I think the objection is premature,
3 Your Honor. I simply asked whether he recalls what was said.
4 I didn't ask I didn't yet ask him to reveal it.

5 Q Do you recall what was said in those meetings?

6 A I recall some of what was said, yes.

7 Q Okay. Now I would ask you to -- to testify as to what 8 was said.

9 MR. STEWART: Same objection.

10 A Those meetings were held with attorneys acting as 11 attorneys, Your Honor, and I'm remembering the admonition from 12 the Court about my follow on deposition. So I -- I'd like to 13 say that the Governor has a J.D., and I believe the Treasurer
14 has a J.D., so I'm not talking about them. I'm talking about 15 attorneys acting as attorneys.

16 THE COURT: So is it your testimony to the Court
17 that none of the meetings at which the filing of this case was 18 discussed, was held outside of the presence of lawyers?

19 A To the best of my recollection, none were held outside
20 the presence of lawyers acting as lawyers.

21 Q What lawyers?

22 A I believe it was -- there were -- there were a lot of 23 meetings with lawyers. The Governor's staff lawyers --

24 THE COURT: Fine, Mr. Orr. The question was, what

1 was discussed.

2 A Yes, Your Honor.

3 THE COURT: The two to five that you said. Was it
4 five?

5 MR. DECHIARA: He said -- I think he said two to 6 four or five.

7 A Two to four or five.

8 THE COURT: Two to four or five.

9 A Two to four or five.

10 THE COURT: Those meetings. What lawyers?

11 A There were lawyers on the Governor's staff, Valerie
12 Brader and Mike Gadola. There were lawyers from Jones, Day at 13 some of those meetings sometimes on the phone. There would be 14 lawyers perhaps on the city's staff. From Jones, Day it could 15 include David Heiman, could include Heather Lennox. I'm 16 trying to think of other lawyers. But generally lawyers both
17 on the Governor's staff and lawyers at the city's counsel,
18 Jones, Day.

19 MR. DECHIARA: Your Honor, it's the UAW's position
20 that the -- the attorney/client privilege should not apply
21 here. That these attorneys either for the state or Jones, Day
22 were being -- were working for the city or the state, public
23 entities of this -- of this state, paid for by the city or the 24 state. And their presence at these meetings should not shield
25 from disclosure what was said at these critical meetings.

1 THE COURT: Well, how do I reconcile that with your
2 relevance offer just a little while ago where you talked about
3 the common, I think the word you used was scheme.

4 MR. DECHIARA: I don't see any tension between the 5 two, Your Honor.

6 THE COURT: All right. Response, please.

7 MR. STEWART: Your Honor, there's no -- the 8 attorney/client privilege maintained applies to government --
9 government officials just like it will apply to private 10 parties and because of the fact that the lawyers were there in 11 connection with the rendition of legal advice and in 12 conjunction with the common interest agreement, we would 13 submit that they're privileged.

14 THE COURT: Is there any reason for a different 15 ruling on the common interest issue here than there was 16 earlier?

17 MR. DECHIARA: Your Honor, it's -- the UA -- UAW
18 took issue with Your Honor's ruling on that. We moved for 19 reconsideration. Your Honor, we're obviously not going to --
20 we're obviously going to comply with whatever ruling you make 21 on this issue. I've stated our argument.

22 THE COURT: And I appreciate that. I appreciate
23 that, but my -- my question to you was in this specific
24 context, is there -- is there a reason to have a different
25 ruling --

1 MR. DECHIARA: No, I think -- I think this specific
2 context --

3 THE COURT: Is there a distinction to be made here?

4 MR. DECHIARA: Yeah, this specific context is not
5 unique, it's part of a larger effort by the city and the state
6 to cloak under the attorney/client privilege these critical
7 discussions that bear -- that have such importance to the 8 people of this city and state.

9 THE COURT: All right. The Court will sustain the 10 claim of privilege and to the extent there was a motion to 11 compel, the Court will deny that. But I do want to clarify
12 there was no one on one conversation between you and the 13 Governor with no one else present where the filing of this 14 case by the city was discussed, is that your testimony to this 15 Court?

16 A Not that I recall, Your Honor. The Governor and I have 17 one on ones. Okay.

18 MR. DECHIARA: Your Honor, if I may. Your Honor --

19 THE COURT: One second. You need to be near a 20 microphone, sir.

21 MR. DECHIARA: Your Honor, I don't want to burden
22 the record or take the Court's time necessarily. I did -- I
23 was planning on asking the witness a series of questions about
24 what discussions he may have had with the Governor on issues
25 central to this case, including the timing of the bankruptcy

1 filing, the reasons for the bankruptcy filing.

2 If the Court's ruling is going to be if there were state
3 and city attorneys present, that the attorney/client privilege
4 applies, I would just like to note for the record that the UAW
5 would take exception to that ruling and preserve our position
6 for any possible subsequent proceedings.

7 THE COURT: Well, I -- I appreciate your interest in 8 -- in saving time, but let's just clarify that the subjects
9 you were going to ask the witness about included matters
10 relating to the filing of the case, yes?

11 MR. DECHIARA: Yes.

12 THE COURT: Okay. And your testimony, Mr. Orr, is 13 that every time you discuss matters relating to the filing of 14 the case with the Governor there were counsel -- counsel and 15 attorneys present.

16 A Yes, Your Honor.

17 THE COURT: All right. You may have that objection.

18 MR. DECHIARA: Thank you, Your Honor. I will yield
19 to Mr. Wertheimer. I believe he had something to say.

20 MS. LEVINE: Your Honor, can all of the objectors
21 join in that reservation of rights so we don't have to do it
22 again?

23 THE COURT: Yes, absolutely.

24 MS. LEVINE: Thanks.

25 THE COURT: Absolutely.

1 MR. WERTHEIMER: William Wertheimer, Your Honor, on
2 behalf of the Flowers plaintiffs. I just wanted to do a
3 couple of things. First, join in that objection so that I
4 didn't have --

5 THE COURT: Okay. I appreciate that.

6 MR. WERTHEIMER: -- to do it. But second, Your 7 Honor, I would also add to the point made by counsel for the 8 UAW, that my objection is also based on the fact that the 9 Court consistent with its rulings yesterday relative to the 10 Governor, has acknowledged the attorney/client privilege and 11 says that it should apply with no more evidence than that an 12 attorney was present at a discussion.

13 And I just want the record to reflect that it's -- our 14 argument -- or the Flowers plaintiffs' argument is not just 15 that these are government attorneys, but that more of a 16 showing needs to be made for the privilege to apply, than that 17 an attorney was present.

18 THE COURT: Well, since you've challenged that, sir,
19 I will state for the record that my ruling is based on more
20 than the fact that -- more than merely the fact that an 21 attorney was present. When you're talking about as we are 22 here, the filing of a bankruptcy case, those conversations
23 relating to the filing of a bankruptcy case are in relation to 24 a legal matter and not what would otherwise be an unprivileged
25 matter.

1 MR. WERTHEIMER: I did not mean to imply that the
2 Court was not making that ruling in that context.

3 THE COURT: All right.

4 MR. WERTHEIMER: I would add just one other point.
5 And that is I think consistent with your rulings yesterday
6 that the privilege would also be asserted were any questions
7 to be asked relative to communications between the Governor
8 and Mr. Orr relating to Section 924 of the State Constitution,
9 the constitutional pension provision, and what its impact
10 could be on the bankruptcy. I would assume the privilege
11 would be asserted as to that and that the Court's ruling would 12 be the same.

13 Again for purposes of the record, I think that was the 14 position taken by the Governor yesterday. I think it's 15 consistent with the Court's ruling yesterday. But I want to 16 make sure that it's included as to this testimony also.

17 THE COURT: All I can say as to that is, it sounds
18 like it would, but if in the context of a specific area of 19 inquiry you think that this ruling should be different because 20 of particular facts or circumstances, I certainly invite you
21 to draw my attention to any distinction that you think should 22 require a different result.

23 MR. WERTHEIMER: I -- I understand that, Your Honor.
24 I -- my last point was just to make clear that it's my

1 to conversations between --

2 THE COURT: All right. I think we've gone as far as
3 we can with this. So I'm going to ask that we resume with our 4 cross examination at this time.

5 MR. WERTHEIMER: Thank you, Your Honor.

6 Q Mr. Orr, did you send a draft of your June 14th proposal
7 to creditors, to the Governor to review? And when I say you,
8 I mean you or your staff?

9 A I'm -- I'm trying to -- I don't recall.

10 Q Do you recall whether you received feedback from the 11 Governor or comments of any sort on a draft of the June 14th
12 proposal to creditors? And when I say you, I mean you or 13 people in your office. And when I say the Governor, I mean
14 the Governor or his staff.

15 A I don't think we received feedback.

16 Q Did you receive any comments from the Governor or his 17 office on the proposal before it was made public?

18 A No, I'm not aware of any comments.

19 Q If the Governor had made comments or been given feedback,
20 is that something you would have been made aware of?

21 A I might have been. It might have been done at a
22 different level, at the drafting level.

23 Q But if the Governor of the state had comments about the 24 June 14th proposal of the -- the key document in this case,

25 it's your testimony that you would not have been aware of his 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1384
of 2386

1 comments?

2 A One of the key documents. And it's my testimony that
3 those comments could have been communicated through attorneys
4 or through a staff level that would not have gotten to me
5 during the drafting stage.

6 Q Would they have gotten to you at some point before the 7 document was made public?

8 THE COURT: Okay. So counsel on this question, when 9 you say Governor, you don't mean the Governor or his staff,
10 you mean the Governor personally?

11 MR. DECHIARA: No, I mean the Governor and his 12 staff. Well, let me break it down to be clear. Thank you,
13 Your Honor. I appreciate the clarification.

14 Q So let me start with the Governor. Is it your testimony
15 that the Governor and the state had comments on the June 14th
16 creditors' proposal, you before the document became public,
17 would not have known about those comments?

18 A It is my testimony that I don't recall the Governor
19 providing any comments and that if he had, they may not have 20 made their way to me.

21 Q You -- you are aware, are you not, that part of your June
22 14th proposal, where that stated that there must be significant
23 cuts to accrued pension liabilities?

24 A Yes. I think we said that in the June 14th proposal.

25 Q And was the June 14th proposal negotiable? Were you
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1385
of 2386

1 prepared to negotiate on it?

2 A Yes. That's why we called it a proposal.

3 Q And were you prepared to negotiate on every -- every 4 element of it?

5 A Yes. I think we said that.

6 Q And were you prepared to negotiate a -- an agreement that
7 would not have had any cuts to accrued pension liabilities?

8 A I'm not sure that's accurate. I think the amount of 9 unaccrued pension liabilities was so significant that we may
10 not --

11 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Orr, again, I have to 12 ask you please, just answer the question. We're going to be 13 here a really long time if you insist on going on and on.

14 A And -- and I don't want that, Your Honor. I'll try to 15 answer just the question. Please, Mr. Dechiara.

16 Q I'll -- I'll repeat the question.

17 A Uh-huh.

18 Q Were you prepared in response to your proposal, your June
19 14th proposal, to accept any counter proposal that had as part
20 of the counter proposal, an element that would have spared,
21 that would have not had -- would not have impaired at all
22 accrued pension liabilities?

23 A We were prepared to accept any counter proposal.

24 Q Including a counter proposal that would have had no cuts

25 at all in accrued pension liabilities, is that your testimony?
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1386
of 2386

1 A Yes.

2 Q Okay. And are you prepared to do that today?

3 A If there's a counter proposal, yes. When you say accept,
4 Mr. Dechaira, we'll accept counter proposals, that's not 5 agreed to.

6 Q Okay. Thank you for that clarification. That's what I'm
7 getting at. Okay. So let me -- let me try it again because I
8 think that's an important point. At the time you made the 9 June --

10 THE COURT: While we're clarifying here, I'm going 11 to strike the last question and answer about what he's willing 12 to do today.

13 MR. DECHIARA: Thank you, Your Honor. I -- I -- I
14 will not go there.

15 Q At the time you made the June 14th proposal, until the 16 time you filed for bankruptcy, were you prepared to agree to 17 an agreement with the stakeholders that would have spared the 18 pension -- accrued pension liabilities from any cuts?

19 A Probably not.

20 Q Is it -- am I correct that the procedure at the June 14th
21 meeting was that for an attendee, in other words someone who 22 was invited to attend, for an attendee to make a comment or 23 ask -- ask a question, they had to fill out a card and have 24 that card brought up to the front of the room and read -- read
25 by someone else?

1 A Yes, I believe so.

2 Q You -- is your testimony here today on direct -- I mean,
3 not on direct, but on cross by -- by the retiree committee
4 that you did attend the June 20th meeting?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Okay. Do you recall giving a deposition in this
7 proceeding on September 16th?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Okay. And did you testify truthfully in that deposition?

10 A Yes.

11 Q I'd like to read for you, from Page 261 of your 12 deposition. I'm at Line 16.

13 Question, okay. So do you recall whether you attended
14 June 20th? Answer, I think I did, but I don't recall.

15 A Yes.

16 Q Is it true that as of June 16th you could not recall with 17 certainty whether you had attended the June 20th meeting?

18 A As of September 16th?

19 THE COURT: You mean September 16th?

20 MR. DECHIARA: Yes, I'm sorry.

21 A Okay.

22 Q Thank you. As of September 16th?

23 A I -- I think my answer was, I think I did, but I didn't
24 recall with specificity. I now recall that I did.

25 Q Was there something that happened between September 16th
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1388
of 2386

1 and today that caused your recollection to improve on that
2 point?

3 A Yes.

4 Q What happened?

5 A I went over my old American Express bills.

6 Q Fair enough. Was the same procedure that you -- that you
7 -- I asked you about -- about using the cards, did that apply
8 to the June 20th meeting as well?

9 A I don't recall.

10 Q I'd like to show you what's been admitted into evidence,
11 it's in your UAW binder as Exhibit 623. Do you -- do you
12 recognize this -- is this -- it's a two page document. If you
13 can look at both pages. Putting aside this particular 14 document, is this the form of the question cards that were 15 used at these meetings?

16 A I don't recall.

17 Q Okay. Do you recall this particular document?

18 A I do not.

19 Q Do you agree that the June 20th meeting was an 20 informational meeting?

21 A Yes. I would agree in part it was informational.

22 Q Are you familiar with the term OPEB, other post
23 employment benefits?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Okay. Did anyone at Jones, Day ever communicate to you
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1389
of 2386

1 that the UAW was interested in setting up a process for
2 negotiating over OPEB benefits?

3 A I don't recall.

4 Q Let me now refer you to your July 16th letter requesting 5 permission from -- requesting authorization to file for 6 bankruptcy. Do you recall that letter?

7 A Yes, I do.

8 Q Did you or your staff show a draft of that letter to the 9 Governor or his staff at any time before July 16th?

10 A No, I don't think so.

11 Q Did you or your staff show a draft of the July 16th letter
12 to the Treasurer or his staff at any time before July 16th?

13 A No, I don't think so.

14 Q I'd like to show you -- well, first, I'd like to call
15 your attention to the July 16th letter which is Exhibit 409.
16 Could you please call up Exhibit 409? Mr. Orr, could you
17 please turn to Exhibit 626 in the UAW binder?

18 A Yes, I have it.

19 Q And this appears to be a July 10th email from Andy Dillon
20 to certain individuals, none of whom appear to be you? Do you
21 see that?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Okay. Did you -- have you ever seen this document
24 before?

25 A I have not.

1 Q Okay. Let me refer you, and I'm not going to read it
2 because it's not in evidence. But let me just refer you to 3 the -- do you see the numbered paragraphs on the bottom of 4 page -- the first page?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Okay. Let me refer you to the first one. If you could 7 just read that to yourself.

8 A Yes.

9 Q Okay.

10 THE COURT: What's the purpose of this, counsel?

11 MR. DECHIARA: Your Honor, the purpose of this is to 12 show, to clearly show, we believe, that the Treasurer, not
13 only was shown a draft of the July 16th letter in contradiction
14 to the witness' testimony, but that the -- the Treasurer's
15 comments on the draft were incorporated into the final letter.

16 THE COURT: Is the document in evidence?

17 MR. DECHIARA: No, it's not, Your Honor, but --

18 THE COURT: Okay. So, you can't confront him with 19 it until it is.

20 MR. DECHIARA: I'm trying to refresh -- Your Honor,
21 we -- we do intend to put it into -- into evidence, but I'm 22 trying to establish to essentially impeach this witness'
23 testimony that a draft was not provided to the Treasurer by 24 pointing out to him what I just said.

25 THE COURT: Well, why don't you just point it out to 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1391
of 2386

1 me after the document is in evidence.

2 MR. DECHIARA: I will, Your Honor.

3 Q Let me ask if Exhibit 44 can be called to the screen.

4 And while that's being done, Mr. Orr, let me ask you, when did
5 you begin to -- you didn't write the July 16th letter on July
6 16th, correct? The preparation for that letter became -- began
7 earlier?

8 A Yes. There were drafts of that letter being made earlier
9 than July 16th.

10 Q Okay. Can we turn to Page 61 of Exhibit 44? And if you
11 could blow that up, please. And by the way, Mr. Orr, Exhibit
12 44 is the executive summary of the June 14th proposal, correct?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Okay. And that was presented at the June 14th meeting?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And on Page 61, third bullet point, it says that there
17 would be -- it says as part of the calendar, there would be an 18 evaluation period from July 15th to July 19th, 2013. Do you see 19 that?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Okay. And you told the attendees at the June 14th
22 meeting, and I think I'm quoting you accurately from your 23 direct, but tell me if I'm not, "that that was a schedule that 24 you were sticking to".

25 A Yes.

1 Q Did you say that?

2 A Yes.

3 Q Okay. And in fact you did not stick to that schedule,
4 isn't that a fact?

5 A We substantially stuck to it, yes, but no, not exactly on
6 the 19th.

7 Q Well, in fact you filed for bankruptcy on the 18th,
8 correct?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And in fact before July 15th, you were already writing
11 your July -- what became your July 16th letter, correct?

12 A I or members --

13 Q Just answer the question.

14 A I wasn't writing it.

15 Q It was -- the letter was being prepared, is that correct?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Did you tell -- did you contact the stakeholders or the 18 creditors who were at the June 14th meeting and tell them that 19 you were not going to be sticking to the schedule the way you
20 had told them you would? Did you do that?

21 A No.

22 Q You testified, I believe on direct, that as a result of 23 the Flowers, Webster and -- lawsuits and the lawsuit by the 24 pension funds, that the situation, and I think I'm quoting you
25 correctly on direct, but -- but tell me if I'm not. Was

1 becoming out of control? Was -- was that your direct
2 testimony?

3 A I think that's -- yes. I think that's substantially my
4 testimony.

5 Q Okay. Is it fair to say that the plaintiffs in the -- in 6 those three lawsuits were exercising their lawful right to go
7 to the state judiciary to obtain a determination on a
8 important issue of law?

9 A I think the plaintiffs were doing whatever they thought
10 was in their best interest.

11 Q That may be, but that doesn't answer my question.

12 A But your question were they exercising their judicial 13 rights. I -- I don't know what they were doing. I know that 14 they were not keeping with the schedule and not coming forward
15 with counter proposals, that's what I know.

16 Q Well, they were filing lawsuits with the state judiciary,
17 correct?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And you consider that to be behavior that was out of 20 control?

21 A No. I consider that to be behavior that was calculated
22 to undermine my ability to discharge my obligations under the 23 statute.

24 Q It was calculated to prevent you from filing for 25 bankruptcy, wasn't that what it was about?

1 A No. I -- I didn't say that.

2 Q Could it -- could you not have waited a few days to see
3 how the Courts would have -- the State Courts would have 4 resolved important issues involving the statute and the
5 Constitution?

6 A Mr. Dechaira, we'd waited almost a month.

7 Q Okay. Have you ever spoken to the Governor about having 8 the state assume some or all of the city's pension
9 liabilities?

10 A I don't recall.

11 Q You don't recall ever having done that?

12 A No, I don't.

13 Q Okay. So you -- you may have done it, and you just don't 14 recall?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Did you ever undertake or cause to --

17 THE COURT: One second. I want to make sure I
18 understand that answer.

19 A Yes.

20 THE COURT: You do not remember asking the Governor
21 to write a check for 3.5 billion dollars?

22 A This is the problem with a yes or no. The number may not 23 have been 3.5 billion. The -- the question may have come in 24 in terms of some assistance. But I don't recall asking it in 25 that context, Your Honor. There are things I can testify to,

1 it's just that question I don't recall.

2 Q Just so the record is clear, let me ask it again. Do you
3 recall ever making a request to the Governor in any context
4 seeking assistance, financial assistance from the state for 5 some or all, any -- any amount of the state's pension
6 liabilities -- of the city's pension liabilities?

7 A I don't recall asking for assistance in that form.

8 Q Do you recall asking in any form?

9 A I recall having discussions about whether the state would
10 be in a position to make any assistance to the city to deal
11 with its problems and I think I said this publicly before.
12 And that it was made clear that the city's obligated to 13 resolve its own problems.

14 Q When -- when did you make that request?

15 A I don't recall.

16 Q Was it before you filed for bankruptcy?

17 A Probably.

18 Q You don't remember when?

19 A I do not remember when.

20 Q Was it a request in writing?

21 A I don't think so.

22 Q Was it -- was it a request face to face with the 23 Governor?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Was -- do you recall where the meeting took place?

1 A No, our meetings either take place in Lansing or here in
2 -- in -- in Cadillac Place, but I don't recall which -- which 3 location.

4 Q Do you recall who was present other than you and the
5 Governor?

6 A There were -- it was -- it would have been in the Detroit
7 team meeting.

8 Q What does that mean? Who -- who would have been present
9 at the meeting?

10 A In -- in those meetings, sometimes it's me and the 11 Governor, Treasurer Dillon, Tom Saxon on behalf of the state,
12 Braum Stibitz occasionally, Rich Baird, Valerie Brader, Mike
13 Gadola. There may be attorneys on the line, my state liaison
14 Greg Tedder. There may be other attendees at those meetings.

15 Q What to the best of your recollection was said at that 16 meeting on the subject that I've just asked you about?

17 MR. SCHNEIDER: Objection, Your Honor, on behalf of 18 the state. I object to any conversation--

19 THE COURT: Go ahead and approach the podium and --
20 and -- and speak, sir.

21 MR. SCHNEIDER: Objection to the -- on behalf of the 22 state to any content of this that might implicate the
23 attorney/client privilege.

24 THE COURT: How is the state providing help to the

1 protected by attorney/client privilege?

2 MR. SCHNEIDER: The reason why I'm stating this is
3 because I believe the witness --

4 THE COURT: I just need an answer to my question.

5 MR. SCHNEIDER: Could you state it again, please?

6 THE COURT: How is a conversation between Mr. Orr
7 and the Governor about whether the state can or is willing to 8 help the city with its fiscal problems, protected by
9 attorney/client privilege?

10 MR. SCHNEIDER: Well, to the extent that attorneys
11 were present and attorney discussion was relevant -- relevant
12 to that, and that these conversations did take place if that 13 is what happened with attorneys advising and being there for 14 the purpose of that, I believe that that would be 15 attorney/client privilege information.

16 THE COURT: Well, but how is -- how is it a
17 discussion about a legal matter?

18 MR. SCHNEIDER: I don't know what the witness is 19 going to testify to. The reason why I objected is because the 20 statement was made that attorneys were present. And that's -- 21 that's the --

22 THE COURT: Well, but you certainly agree with the 23 proposition that just because attorneys were present doesn't 24 make every conversation protected by the attorney/client
25 privilege, don't you?

1 MR. SCHNEIDER: I believe in this situation --

2 THE COURT: Don't you, sir?

3 MR. SCHNEIDER: I think when the attorneys are
4 present, Your Honor, my position is, is that they are there
5 for the purposes of providing legal advice.

6 THE COURT: So there's like a presumption. Any law
7 in support of that?

8 MR. SCHNEIDER: Well, Your Honor, I'm willing to 9 yield back to the city. I just wanted my objection noted to 10 the extent that attorney/client privilege is --

11 THE COURT: Well, counsel, we don't make objections
12 for the sake of making objections for the record. We make 13 objections because you don't want the testimony to come in and 14 you have to be prepared to argue that.

15 MR. SCHNEIDER: That's true. And I don't know what
16 the testimony is and that's why I was objecting.

17 THE COURT: All right. I'm going to hold that -- 18 that this question does not relate to a legal matter and 19 therefore is not protected by the attorney/client privilege
20 even though there may have been attorneys who were either
21 listening in to the conversation, or participating in it. So,
22 please answer the question.

23 Q Okay. What was said at that meeting on the subject I
24 asked you about?

25 A I don't recall the specifics, but the subject was 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1399
of 2386

1 generally discussed that there was no ability for the state to
2 provide direct financial assistance to the city and that we
3 had to find a way to resolve our problems based upon what we 4 could work with.

5 Q The words that you just said, were you saying those
6 words, or was -- was the Governor saying those words?

7 A It -- it was an exchange. I don't recall verbatim what
8 was said during the exchange.

9 Q Did the Governor in any forum deny the request that you
10 were making?

11 A I guess you could call that -- I don't know one, if it
12 was a request, or one if you call it denial. I know there was 13 a dialogue and it became clear that there would be no
14 assistance coming from the state.

15 Q Were you in that meeting seeking assistance from the 16 state?

17 A I don't know if we were just seeking assistance for the 18 state, Mr. Dechaira. As I said, it was part of a dialogue and 19 -- over a number of different things.

20 Q Well, Mr. Orr, I wasn't at the meeting. I'm asking you,
21 do you -- do you know what you were doing in that meeting on 22 this subject?

23 A As I've said, we have weekly meetings. We discussed a 24 number of things. In those meetings there was an exchange in

1 city.

2 It became clear as a part of that discussion that the 3 state would not be forthcoming with any assistance from the 4 city. The exact exchange and the exact dialogue, I do not
5 recall, but that is the gist of the discussion.

6 Q Okay. And I'm not going to ask you to recollect
7 verbatim, I wouldn't expect that what was said. But I want to 8 just get some basic information.

9 A Uh-huh.

10 Q Were you in what you said seeking in one form or another,
11 aid from the state for this -- to pay for -- to help pay for 12 the city's pension liabilities?

13 A I don't recall.

14 Q Okay. And do you recall whether the Governor responded
15 in any way to what was said on that subject, other than what 16 you've already said?

17 A I don't recall.

18 Q Have you ever undertaken or caused to be undertaken any 19 analysis of whether it would be possible to craft a legal 20 claim by the city against the state to try to hold the state
21 responsible for some or all of the city's pension liabilities?
22 Have you ever caused any analysis to be undertaken on that
23 point?

24 A No, not that I'm aware of.

25 Q Have you ever looked into the issue of whether or not
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1401
of 2386

1 there might be a conflict of interest between the existence of
2 such a claim and your position being paid by the state and
3 being housed by the Governor's NERD fund? Have you ever
4 looked -- done any analysis to look into whether or not there
5 might be a conflict of interest?

6 A No.

7 Q Are you familiar with the concept of deferred
8 compensation?

9 A Yes, I'm familiar with it.

10 Q And is it your understanding that when an employee works
11 in exchange for his or her labor, the employee receives
12 current wages but also in certain circumstances part of that 13 compensation for the worker's labor is deferred until 14 retirement. Is that your understanding of what deferred
15 compensation is?

16 A It can mean that, yes.

17 Q Okay. And in that context if you have deferred
18 compensation such as a pension, is it your understanding that 19 that pension even though it's collected in retirement, has 20 already been earned through years of labor by the employee?

21 A Mr. Dechiara, I believe that implicates a legal 22 conclusion. It might be true.

23 Q Well, I'm not asking a legal conclusion, unless you have 24 one. But I'm -- I'm looking for your understanding apart from 25 any legal conclusion.

1 A My understanding of your concept that pensions are a form
2 of deferred compensation, I'm aware of that. My understanding
3 in this situation as to whether or not the pension fund is 4 adequately protected, that responsibility is a different
5 understanding.

6 Q My question is, has the pension already been earned
7 through the employee's years of labor for the City of Detroit?
8 That's my question. Do you have an understanding of that --
9 that, one way or another?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And what's your understanding?

12 A My understanding is that the concept you're trying to 13 discuss is one where the employee's pension is earned through 14 the labor.

15 Q Okay. Is -- would you agree with me in your position as 16 emergency manager that to revitalize the City of Detroit
17 requires capable and committed employees working for the city?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Have you done any analysis as to whether proposing -- or 20 strike that. Have you done any analysis as to whether cutting
21 accrued retiree benefits for active employees would negatively
22 impact their morale?

23 A No.

24 Q Have you done any analysis such as speaking to a labor
25 economist as to whether or not cutting accrued retiree

1 benefits for active employees of the city would diminish the 2 city's ability to attract and retain committed and capable
3 employees? Have you ever undertaken any analysis on that
4 point?

5 A I'm thinking it through because we recently held a job
6 fair and we received over 1,700 applications, so it doesn't 7 appear that the current situation is impairing our ability to 8 attract workers.

9 Q That was not my question, Mr. Orr.

10 A That's -- have I done analysis? Yes.

11 Q I'm sorry?

12 A Yes.

13 Q You have done analysis?

14 A In my mind that's an analysis.

15 Q You -- so you have done your own analysis, is that what 16 you're testifying?

17 A Yes. Unless you want to define some other term, yes.

18 Q So, tell me what your analysis is?

19 A My analysis is that during the course of the job fair,
20 we've seen another employees come in. My analysis is that 21 we've spoken with several uniform unions who have said that 22 their morale is increasing even under the current 23 circumstances.

24 My analysis is, that I've spoken with city employees that 25 say despite the current circumstances, they continue to work

1 hard at their jobs and they're committed to assist this city
2 going forward.

3 Q You testified on direct, I believe, that your June 14th
4 proposal was in the best interests of the citizens of Detroit.
5 Do you recall that?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And -- and when you say the best interests of the 8 citizens of Detroit, are you including the retirees of the 9 City of Detroit?

10 A Not all the retirees are citizens of Detroit, Mr.
11 Dechiara.

12 Q The ones that are, are you including among the citizens
13 of Detroit for whom you think your proposal would be in the 14 best interest?

15 A I'm including the -- I'm sorry.

16 Q Are you including retirees?

17 A I'm including all of the 700,000 residents of the citizen
18 of Detroit and if that includes retirees, yes, I'm including
19 them.

20 Q Do you have any doubt that some of the retirees of the 21 City of Detroit live in the City of Detroit?

22 A No, I do not.

23 Q Okay. Have you done any analysis in coming to the 24 conclusion that your proposal is in the best interests of the 25 city -- of the citizens of the City of Detroit including the

1 retirees? Have you done any analysis of the amount that
2 Detroit retirees receive on average annually in pension?

3 A Have I done?

4 Q Yes.

5 A No.

6 Q Have you taken any steps to inform yourself as to that
7 question, what's the average annual pension of a Detroit
8 retiree?

9 A Yes.

10 Q Have you? Okay. And did you come -- did you learn the
11 answer?

12 A I've seen ranges, but yes.

13 Q Okay. And what's the range?

14 A The ranges have gone from 19,000, approximately 24,000,
15 to 35,000 or more.

16 Q And do you know whether there's any federal or other
17 insurance that would cover retirees to which -- strike that.
18 Are you aware of whether there's any federal or other
19 insurance that would provide benefits to retirees in the event
20 that their accrued pension liabilities were impaired?

21 A Yes.

22 Q What -- there -- is it your belief there is insurance?

23 A No, you asked me if I were aware.

24 Q Okay. And is there such insurance?

25 A No.

1 Q Okay. Have you done any analysis to determine whether if 2 retirees, whether they're earning $18,000 a year in
3 retirement, or $24,000 a year, have you done any analysis
4 whether under your proposal to significantly cut their 5 pensions, have you done any analysis to determine whether 6 those retirees would be able to make ends meet in terms of 7 paying their mortgage, paying their rent, putting food on the 8 table, buying their medications, et cetera? Have you done any 9 analysis?

10 MR. STEWART: Objection. Objection, Your Honor,
11 relevance.

12 MR. DECHIARA: We think it --

13 THE COURT: Objection is -- the objection is 14 sustained.

15 MR. DECHIARA: I have nothing further, Your Honor.

16 CROSS EXAMINATION

17 BY MS. LEVINE:

18 Q For two more minutes. Good morning, Mr. Orr.

19 A Good morning, Ms. Levine.

20 MS. LEVINE: Your Honor, Sharon Levine, Lowenstein,
21 Sandler for AFSCME.

22 Q Mr. Orr, do you receive -- do you recall receiving a
23 request from Ed McNeil on behalf of AFSCME's Council 25 on -- 24 actually let me go back. You were -- your -- you first day of 25 work if you will as the emergency manager, was March 25?

1 A Yes.

2 Q Do you recall receiving a request from Ed McNeil on 3 behalf of AFSCME Council 25 on March 25 to meet with you on 4 behalf of not only himself, but -- but a coalition of 30 city
5 unions who had previously worked together with regard to 6 concessionary bargaining and wanted to work together with you?

7 A Are you talking about proposed two year collective 8 bargaining agreement that was presented to me on the --

9 Q No, no. I guess I've already -- a question. Did you get 10 a request?

11 A That was presented to me on the 26th.

12 Q Did you get a request? Do you recall getting a request
13 from Ed McNeil on March -- on your first day of work, on March 14 25th asking you and inviting you to meet with him and the 15 coalition of unions to work together with regard to the -- to 16 solving Detroit's problems?

17 A Are you talking about the request of Mr. McNeil said he 18 taped to the door?

19 Q That's the one.

20 A The one. I recall that that was sent to someone on my 21 staff. I recall the next day I also got another request.

22 Q And did you respond by offering to set up a meeting?

23 A I think I said I was willing to meet with anyone going
24 forward.

25 Q No, no. But they specifically asked you to schedule a
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1408
of 2386

1 meeting with them and it's -- actually let me rephrase it.

2 Isn't it true that you actually never met with the coalition
3 of unions separate -- separate and apart from the meetings
4 that we've been -- or the presentations that we've previously
5 been discussing that occurred on the 4th, the big 4th, what
6 we'll call the big 4th?

7 A Me personally?

8 Q Yes.

9 A Yeah, I believe that's true.

10 Q All right. Is it your position that you directed
11 somebody on your behalf to meet with the coalition separate
12 and apart from the June 14, June 20, July 10, and July 11
13 meetings with the coalition of unions?

14 A Are we still talking about the request?

15 Q The -- the question is, did you direct somebody on your 16 behalf to meet with the coalition of unions separate and apart
17 from the June 14, June 20, July 10, and July 11 presentations
18 prior to the filing of the bankruptcy petition on July 18th?

19 A There were meetings with other CDA's. I don't know
20 specifically the coalition. The request that you're talking 21 about was a request to enter into collective bargaining which 22 has been suspended by 436.

23 Q I'm going to try again.

24 THE COURT: No. We're going to take our lunch break

1 having the witness answer questions. So I'm going to instruct
2 you to counsel with your client over this lunch break about
3 the absolute criticality of just answering the question. Will 4 you do that, please?

5 MR. SHUMAKER: I will do that, Your Honor.

6 A I apologize, Your Honor.

7 THE COURT: Mr. Orr, I will accept your apology, if 8 you accept my advice and your attorney's advice.

9 A Yes, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: All right. 1:30.

11 (WITNESS KEVYN ORR WAS TEMPORARILY EXCUSED AT 12:00 P.M.)

12 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in recess.

13 (Court in Recess at 12:00 p.m.; Resume at 1:30 p.m.)

14 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in session. Please
15 be seated. Recalling case number 13-53846, the City of 16 Detroit, Michigan.

17 THE COURT: It appears everyone's here. You may 18 proceed.

19 BY MS. LEVINE:

20 Q Good afternoon, Your Honor. Mr. Orr.

21 A Good afternoon, Ms. Levine.

22 Q Going back to where we were right before we broke for 23 lunch. So on March 25, 2013, you received a request from Ed
24 McNeil from AFSCME Michigan Council 25 to meet, correct?

25 A Yes.

1 Q And that request was on behalf of not only himself, but a
2 coalition of approximately 30 unions, correct?

3 A I believe so.

4 Q And in that request he indicated that the coalition of 5 unions had met previously including with Ernst and Young and
6 were -- had agreed to concessions that hadn't been imposed,
7 but they -- they wanted to continue that dialogue with you,
8 correct?

9 A I don't recall the specifics of the request.

10 Q Well, you received a copy of a letter which I believe you
11 described as being taped to your door?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And you gave that letter to somebody who worked for you
14 in order to respond, is that correct?

15 A Yes. I or a member of my staff.

16 Q Okay. And do you recall who you gave the letter to?

17 A I do not.

18 Q Did you meet with that coalition of unions?

19 A Not to the best of my knowledge.

20 Q Did anybody -- did you direct anybody to meet with that 21 coalition of unions prior to the time that you filed the 22 bankruptcy?

23 A I don't recall.

24 Q Well, isn't it true that there was no meeting between

1 of unions prior to the filing of the bankruptcy case?

2 A I don't know.

3 Q If you personally attended a meeting with the coalition
4 of unions, is that something you believe you would recall?

5 A I might.

6 Q Okay. Besides the June 14 proposal, presentation,
7 between March 25 and June 18 -- I'm sorry, and June 13, you
8 were never personally in a room with anybody from AFSCME where 9 the topic of concessions, labor, pension, or health benefits
10 was discussed, correct?

11 A I don't think so.

12 Q And between March 25 and June 13th you had no telephone
13 calls with anybody from AFSCME where the topic of concessions,
14 labor, pension, or health benefits was discussed, correct?

15 A I don't recall.

16 Q Do you recall having those types of conversations by 17 telephone?

18 A I don't recall.

19 Q Between June 14 and July 18, other than attending the 20 presentation on June -- on June 14, you were never in the same
21 room with anybody from AFSCME where the proposal for creditors
22 was discussed, correct?

23 A I don't recall.

24 Q Between June 14 and July 18th, you did not participate in 25 any telephone calls with anybody from AFSCME where the

1 proposal for creditors was discussed, correct?

2 A Not to the best of my recollection.

3 Q At the June 14 presentation of the so-called proposal to 4 creditors, your team perhaps through counsel announced that
5 these were not negotiations, correct?

6 A I believe so.

7 Q Is it true that -- that your team also announced that
8 these were not negotiations at the June 20, July 9, and July
9 10 presentations?

10 A I don't know.

11 Q Okay. So going back to when you were still at Jones, Day
12 and even before your -- your practice was primarily 13 bankruptcy, is that correct?

14 A Yes, I think that's fair.

15 Q So you're generally -- generally familiar with the 16 process for achieving labor concessions under 1113 of the 17 Bankruptcy Code?

18 A Generally, yes.

19 Q And it's your understanding that under 1113 there are 20 certain protections that are afforded unions that don't exist
21 for example, under Bankruptcy Code Section 365, is that
22 correct?

23 A Generally, yes.

24 Q And are you generally familiar with the process for 25 achieving concessions to retiree health benefits under

1 Bankruptcy Code Section 1114?

2 A I'm -- I'm familiar with Section 1113 generally, yes.

3 THE COURT: The last question was about Section
4 1114.

5 A 1114, yes, I am.

6 Q And are you generally familiar with the process for
7 seeking a distressed termination of a single employer defined
8 benefit pension plan in the corporate context under Chapter
9 11?

10 A Generally, yes.

11 Q So generally under Bankruptcy Code, Section 1113 and 12 1114, in order to modify or get concessions with regard to 13 CVA's or retiree health, there are certain elements that the 14 case law deciphering 1113 has come up with, correct?

15 A I believe so.

16 Q And that would include presenting a proposal explaining 17 the concessions that are being requested, correct?

18 A I believe there's a process under 1113. I don't know if 19 it's that specific but generally, yes.

20 Q And does that process also include having the proposal be 21 based on complete reliable information?

22 MR. STEWART: Objection, Your Honor, it calls for a
23 legal conclusion.

24 Q Is it your understanding that under 1113 and 1114 the 25 process for seeking concessions under -- under collective

1 bargaining agreements and retiree health requires that the
2 proposal be based on complete and reliable information?

3 A I think the statute speaks for itself.

4 Q I'm asking your understanding, Mr. Orr.

5 A I don't know.

6 Q Is it your understanding that under 1113 and 1114 the 7 proposal needs to be fair and equitable?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And is it your understanding that under 1114 and 1113
10 there have to be good faith negotiations?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Are you aware that AFSCME made information requests both 13 through Ed McMahon (sic) and Steve Kreisberg requesting 14 additional information following the June 14 proposal?

15 A No.

16 Q Do you know whether or not all of the information
17 requests made from various constituencies were responded to in 18 the ordinary course between June 14, but prior to the filing
19 of the bankruptcy case?

20 A No.

21 Q Okay. During the time that you were at Jones, Day,
22 Jones, Day was debtor's counsel in Chrysler, correct?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And isn't it true in Chrysler that vested pension
25 benefits survived even though creditors were adjusted?

1 A Yes.

2 Q And isn't it true that Jones, Day represent -- was
3 conflicts counsel in AbitiBowater and vested -- vested pension
4 benefits survived even though creditor claims were -- were 5 compromised?

6 A I don't know.

7 Q And isn't it true that in AES Eastern Energy, Jones, Day
8 represented a committee of certificate holders where the 9 pension, vested pension benefits survived, but the claims of 10 creditors were adjusted?

11 A I don't know.

12 Q And isn't it true that Jones, Day represented the debtor
13 in Dana where the pension, vested pension benefits survived
14 and the claims of creditors were adjusted?

15 MR. STEWART: Objection, relevance.

16 MS. LEVINE: Your Honor, it goes to good faith
17 negotiations with regard to whether or not we can actually
18 have a situation where vested pension benefits survive and you
19 can adjust the claims of creditors to successfully go through 20 a bankruptcy process.

21 THE COURT: Well, the problem is that not only is 22 every case different, but of course Chapter 11 is different
23 from Chapter 9. So the objection is sustained.

24 Q Well, Mr. Orr, unlike Chapter 11, in all of those cases

25 where if the pensions had been terminated the retirees would
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1416
of 2386

1 have had the benefit of a PBGC. Isn't it true that under
2 Chapter 9 there is no similar insurance protection?

3 A It is true that under Chapter 9 there's no protection by 4 PBGC.

5 Q And isn't it true that the current protection provided by 6 the PBGC now is over $57,000 a year?

7 A I don't know.

8 Q Well, assuming for the moment that it is over $57,000 a
9 year. Isn't it true that all of the retirees who received
10 pension benefits in -- from Detroit would fall within the PBGC
11 protections if that protection existed in municipal 12 situations?

13 MR. STEWART: Objection, calls for speculation.

14 THE COURT: That objection is overruled. Please
15 answer if you can.

16 A I don't know.

17 Q Mr. Orr, is it your understanding that to the extent
18 pension benefits are cut, the individual retirees will become 19 unsecured creditors?

20 A Yes.

21 Q So then is it your understanding that to the extent
22 retiree pension benefits are cut, the individual retirees
23 would share in the $2,000,000,000 note that's -- that exists
24 under the currently existing proposal for creditors?

25 A Yes.

1 Q So is it your understanding then that the individual
2 retirees would have to file proofs of claim in order to assert
3 their claims in this bankruptcy case?

4 A I don't know.

5 Q Well, how would they -- how would you know the dollar
6 amount of the claims of the individual retirees in order to 7 determine what their pro rata share is under the 8 $2,000,000,000 note?

9 A I don't know how to answer your question.

10 Q Prior to the time that Detroit filed for bankruptcy, did
11 the retirement system discontinue paying pension benefits?

12 A Prior to the time?

13 Q Uh-huh.

14 A No, I don't think so.

15 Q And in fact as we sit here today, they continue to make 16 the pension benefits payments, correct?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Anywhere in the proposal for creditors, Exhibit 43 or 19 Exhibit 44, is there a chart or explanation that an individual 20 retiree can look at to know exactly what their benefit would 21 be if in fact the proposal for creditors were implemented?

22 A No, I don't think so.

23 Q Mr. Orr, there was some press coverage that seemed to 24 imply that you were considering or would consider a

1 freezing pension benefits. Is that under consideration by
2 you?

3 THE COURT: Excuse me, are you talking about now?

4 MS. LEVINE: I'm talking about now.

5 MR. STEWART: Objection, relevance, Your Honor.

6 MS. LEVINE: Well, then I'm going to ask the next
7 question.

8 THE COURT: I'm sorry then what?

9 MS. LEVINE: Then I'm going to ask him whether he
10 considered it before July 19th, Your Honor.

11 THE COURT: You may ask that question.

12 Q Are -- are you considering it now?

13 THE COURT: Well, I'm sorry, my ruling was you can 14 ask about his intent as of July, but --

15 MS. LEVINE: Your Honor --

16 THE COURT: But what's the relevance of that now?

17 MS. LEVINE: Your Honor, it goes in part to the -- 18 to the discussion that we've been having or the arguments that 19 we've been making with regard to good faith. We had a month
20 and three days in order to negotiate prior to the bankruptcy.
21 If all we had were no real negotiations just presentations,
22 and no opportunity to have a dialogue with regard to some of 23 these issues and they are in fact being considered now, then
24 why weren't they considered then.

1 Q Mr. Orr, did you consider freezing the pensions prior to
2 July 19th?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And in connection with that consideration, did you talk
5 at all to the -- with the Governor about the state providing 6 support to the extent it was necessary in order to fund any 7 shortfall to effectuate a freezing?

8 A I don't recall.

9 Q In the Governor's testimony before this Court, with 10 regard to being questioned on vested pension benefits, he 11 responded, if the Court ordered you had to pay them, you would 12 pay them.

13 So in other words it appeared that the Governor was 14 saying that if in fact the Court directed that he pay whatever
15 was necessary in order to keep the vested pension benefits
16 from being impaired or diminished he would pay that. Have you
17 had conversations with the Governor prior to July 19th in that 18 regard?

19 A No.

20 Q From January 2012, but prior to being retained by the 21 city, did your firm -- did your prior firm provide services to 22 the Governor?

23 A I don't know.

24 Q Did they provide services to the state?

25 A I don't know.

1 Q Did they provide services to anybody affiliated with the
2 Governor or the state?

3 A I don't know.

4 Q Did you run a conflict search before you took the 5 position as emergency manager?

6 A No, I resigned from my firm.

7 Q And do you know whether or not your firm ran a conflict
8 search before being retained as counsel to the city in these
9 proceedings?

10 A I recused myself from the retention process, I don't
11 know.

12 Q Prior to July 19, did you or did anybody on your behalf
13 if you didn't do it personally, or on behalf of the City of 14 Detroit, ask the Governor or anybody associated with the 15 Governor, for funding to avoid impairing or diminishing vested
16 pension benefits?

17 MR. STEWART: Objection, foundation.

18 THE COURT: What foundation is missing?

19 MR. STEWART: Well, she asked for whether Mr. Orr,
20 any of his staff, or anyone else asked the Governor. This 21 witness can only testify as to what he knew.

22 MS. LEVINE: I'll -- I'll rephrase, Your Honor.
23 There was a on his behalf in there, but it may have gotten 24 lost for the record.

25 Q As we sit here today, have you or has anybody on your
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1421
of 2386

1 behalf, or anybody on behalf of the City of Detroit who -- who
2 responds to you, ask the Governor, or anybody affiliated with
3 the state, for funding to avoid impairing or diminishing
4 vested pension benefits, outside of any request that may have 5 been made through mediation?

6 A I don't know.

7 Q Well, we've heard the Governor testify and we've seen in 8 the press that the Governor's view seems to be that Detroit
9 has to handle Detroit's own problems. Are you familiar with 10 that press?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Is that consistent with your conversations with the 13 Governor?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And we've heard both you and the Governor speak about the 16 fact that you serve at the pleasure of the Governor, correct?

17 A Yes.

18 Q At any time between July 15th and -- or July 14th and July 19 18th, did you ever feel that your job was in jeopardy?

20 A Not at all.

21 MS. LEVINE: No further questions. Thank you.

22 A Thank you.

23 THE COURT: Who is next?

24 CROSS EXAMINATION

1 Q Good afternoon, Mr. Orr. Jennifer Green on behalf of the 2 retirement systems for the City of Detroit.

3 A Good afternoon, Ms. Green.

4 Q We've met on a few occasions at your prior deposition.

5 A Yes, we have.

6 Q I want to follow up on a question, something you stated a
7 second ago. Why did you tell Christie's to go away in May of 8 2013?

9 A We were immediately trying to assess a number of 10 different things and I felt that that wasn't as high a 11 priority as getting a real view of the financial condition of 12 the city. And I didn't think it was ready to be assessed yet.

13 Q And you changed your mind as of August 5th when I believe
14 they were retained, correct?

15 A Approximately around that time.

16 Q I'd like to draw your attention to Exhibit 865 if I may.
17 Do you have the appropriate witness binder or would you like
18 to see it on the screen?

19 A I'll find it.

20 MR. STEWART: State exhibit, retirees? The exhibit
21 retiree committee.

22 Q If you're okay with the screen, we can do the screen as 23 you have been. I just wanted to verify.

24 A I'll do the screen.

25 Q Okay. Do you recognize that email, Mr. Orr?

1 A Yes.

2 Q And it's dated February 11th, 2013?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And you were still a Jones, Day partner at this time?

5 A Yes.

6 Q When exactly did you resign from Jones, Day?

7 A I resigned effective Friday, March 15th.

8 Q If I may draw your attention to the first paragraph. It
9 -- it talks about preparation -- well, I assume that's what 10 the abbreviation prep stands for, correct?

11 A Uh-huh.

12 Q Prep for EM appointment is important. Ideally we would 13 like to plan for orderly transition to EM, whoever it is, not
14 a splash landing. Does that -- do you remember getting this 15 email?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And the second paragraph talks about I am not sure the 18 state, Dillon, Baird, Governor, are really thinking on an 19 operational and practical level. Do you see that part?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Further down there's a paragraph that states, it would be 22 a better process if the firm is on the ground working,
23 preparing and coming up with a well thought out game plan
24 before EM is appointed. Do you see that portion?

25 A Yes.

1 Q At this time you were not yet appointed emergency
2 manager, correct?

3 A Correct.

4 Q At the bottom of the page, there is discussion about J.B.
5 should be there to make sure EM and process works. Question,
6 maybe how does state get city and us six to eight weeks before
7 appointment if possible. So my question for you is, was 8 Jones, Day already working on this case before your official
9 appointment six weeks later?

10 A Not to the best of my knowledge.

11 Q As of your appointment in March your public contract
12 states that your salary is $275,000, correct?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Are there any supplements or bonus payments associated 15 with that contract?

16 A No.

17 Q I'd like to direct your attention to Exhibit 807. Do you
18 recognize this email, Mr. Orr?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Bullet point 2 talks about your contract period not to 21 exceed 18 months with incentives if job is completed sooner
22 based on mutually agreed milestones. The next bullet point
23 talks about an intent to raise private funding for performance
24 measure outcome bonus. And this is before -- this is a month
25 before you were appointed?

1 A Yes.

2 Q Was there ever an incentive bonus included in your
3 compensation package?

4 A No.

5 Q After you were appointed, was there any change to your 6 contract?

7 A No.

8 Q Was there ever a request made from a state fund to have a
9 performance bonus included with your contract?

10 A No. This is the only time it was mentioned, I let it
11 drop.

12 Q You were never sent a letter in April of 2013 relating to 13 a -- a performance bonus?

14 A I don't recall.

15 Q You are familiar with the NERD fund, I think we've talked
16 about it a few times?

17 A I have heard what I read in the paper.

18 Q This is not in our witness binder. I will give you a 19 copy.

20 THE COURT: Not in the exhibit binder.

21 MS. GREEN: It is not in the exhibit binder, Your 22 Honor. We received it on Friday afternoon with the latest
23 production from the city and the state. So I apologize it's 24 not in our binder.

25 THE COURT: Yes, is there an exhibit number on it?

1 MS. GREEN: It will be 869.

2 THE COURT: Okay.

3 Q Do you recognize the letter dated April 12th, 2013?

4 A No.

5 Q You were never sent a letter discussing an early out
6 provision incentive payment in addition to your regular 7 compensation?

8 A No.

9 Q And there has been no discussion or contract -- contract
10 executed where you would get an early payment bonus if you
11 completed your emergency manager goals before the 18 months is 12 completed?

13 A No.

14 Q I'd like to draw your attention now to Exhibit 853. For 15 starters Mr. Orr, do you -- do you recognize this email dated
16 January 28th, 2013?

17 A I don't recall specifically but I see that I was one of 18 the addressees.

19 Q For starters, what is Detroit News?

20 A I think that's a -- I don't know.

21 Q Have you ever heard the phrase project Detroit used
22 internally at Jones, Day?

23 A Yes.

24 Q Is it -- is it perhaps a play on the French pronunciation
25 of Detroit?

1 A It might well be, I don't know for sure.

2 Q So this email is relating to the City of Detroit. At the
3 bottom I'd like to draw your attention to Paragraph 4. June
4 -- I'm sorry, January 28th was the day before you pitched your
5 services to the State of Michigan and the City of Detroit,
6 correct?

7 A Yes.

8 Q At the bottom there, the discussion about avoiding 9 pitfalls of alienating the state, e.g. if something happens to 10 city's pension, state will probably step up to deal with, but 11 thus far has failed to concede this point at all. Do you
12 recall any discussion about trying to side step this issue in 13 your pitch to the state and city officials?

14 A No.

15 Q In your pitch to the state and to the city, was this
16 issue of seeking contributions from the State of Michigan ever
17 raised?

18 A Not that I recall.

19 Q And when was the first time that after you became 20 emergency manager the issue of potentially seeking
21 contributions from the State of Michigan was -- was raised?

22 A I don't recall.

23 Q Yesterday you were asked to answer whether under PA436
24 you believed you had the authority to impair pensions. Do you
25 recall that question?

1 A Yes.

2 Q I believe your response was, that you felt it called for
3 a legal conclusion?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Do you recall being asked the same question following
6 your June 14th meeting where you laid out the proposal for
7 creditors?

8 A Generally, yes.

9 Q Do you recall what your response was?

10 A No, I don't.

11 Q Can you pull up the part number 1? I'm going to ask you
12 if you've -- if this refreshes your recollection.

13 A Uh-huh.

14 Q To what your response was at the time.

15 (Video Being Played at 1:57 p.m.; Concluded at 1:58 p.m.)

16 Q Do you recall answering the question in that manner on 17 June 14th?

18 A That was a press event after the meeting. I might well
19 have said that, I don't recall specifically.

20 Q Assuming that's what you said --

21 A Uh-huh.

22 Q By legislative relief, did you mean a constitutional
23 amendment?

24 A I don't recall.

25 Q Did you mean legislative relief in the form of

1 contributions from the State of Michigan?

2 A No, I don't recall.

3 Q You don't recall one way or the other what you meant?

4 A I -- I don't recall one way or the other.

5 Q You would agree with me though that this response is 6 different than the response you gave yesterday?

7 A No.

8 Q How so?

9 A Well, I think this response I was saying that you can
10 negotiate which is what I think I said yesterday. Read it
11 back. I think this one said legislation. I think yesterday I
12 also said that discussion was in the context of federal 13 supremacy. And I'll stand by those statements.

14 Q Was there any discussion following this statement as to 15 whether you should continue to make such statements regarding 16 the need for legislative relief in the face of the pensions
17 clause?

18 A No.

19 Q Were you ever advised that you should not state in the 20 future that legislative relief would be necessary if there was 21 not a consensual agreement?

22 A No.

23 Q Mr. Orr, did you have any involvement in the creation of 24 the pension task force?

25 A Yes.

1 Q How so?

2 A Everything that's done under the aegis of 436 and the 3 efforts that we're making in the city is done under my
4 authority, so I suppose I had some involvement.

5 Q And am I understanding it correctly that the pension task
6 force consists of attorneys from Miller, Canfield, attorneys
7 from Jones, Day, and then certain other financial advisors,
8 correct?

9 A Financial and operational advisors, yes.

10 Q Okay. And when was it created?

11 A I don't know.

12 Q Was it in place before you became emergency manager?

13 A Not to the best of my knowledge.

14 Q Okay. And -- and who created it specifically? Was it
15 you under PA436?

16 A I don't recall.

17 Q Who else, if I may ask, would have the authority to 18 create a pension task force if it wasn't you?

19 A As part of the financial stability agreement and the 20 memorandum of understanding, both of which were entered into 21 in 2012, there were certain tasks that were to be undertaken
22 at that point. The task force itself as you're referencing
23 may have begun at that process.

24 Since Jones, Day got involved further in 2013, there may 25 have been other attorneys added to that task force, but the 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1431

of 2386

1 MOU of November 2012 speaks to certain tasks that Milliman,
2 Miller -- Miller, Canfield, Conway, MacKenzie, E & Y, are
3 supposed to undertake.

4 Q And what was the purpose of the pension task force?

5 A I don't know.

6 Q Well, who does it report to?

7 A Well, it now reports to me.

8 Q But you don't know the purpose of it?

9 A Well, the purpose as spelled out in the MOU was to 10 examine certain pension issues. But you asked me what was the 11 purpose of the task force as far as I understand it. It's 12 what it does for me now.

13 Q Okay. So what does it do for you now?

14 A It -- it analyzes and reports to me different issues
15 regarding the city's pension obligations.

16 Q Have there been any findings, written reports,
17 memorandums, anything like that --

18 A Yes.

19 Q -- created by the pension task force?

20 A The task force or members of the task force.

21 Q Have those documents been produced in this litigation?

22 A I don't know.

23 Q And no one from either of the two retirement systems was 24 asked to participate in the pension task force, correct?

25 A I don't know.

1 Q Well, did you personally ask anyone from any of the 2 retirement systems to participate in the task force?

3 A No.

4 Q And no one from any of the retiree associations or active
5 employee associations were asked to join this pension task
6 force, correct?

7 A I don't know.

8 Q And no one from the unions were asked to join the pension
9 task force?

10 A I don't know.

11 Q But you don't know, or you did not do it?

12 A I did not ask them.

13 Q Okay. Would anyone else have authority to be asking
14 people to join the pension task force?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Who would that be?

17 A The people that were tasked, I think, under the MOU in 18 2012 and members of my staff whether they joined it or asked
19 them to participate would be authorized to solicit information
20 from other parties.

21 Q But to your knowledge none of those people reached out to 22 any of the people I just listed, the retirement systems active
23 employees, retirees, or unions to join the pension task force,
24 correct?

25 A I don't know.

1 Q And this task force was not -- the existence of the task
2 force was not made public until the bankruptcy filing,
3 correct?

4 A I don't know if that's true.

5 Q Did the pension task force ever approach the retirement
6 systems to discuss any creative options relating to the design
7 of the pension plans or any cash flow changes that could be
8 made to resolve under funding problems?

9 A I don't know.

10 Q Yesterday I believe you stated that with respect to your
11 -- or I'm going to call them commercial creditors. You said
12 that you followed all the notice provisions in the loan
13 documents and you sent notices of the June 14th meeting,
14 correct?

15 A Yeah. I said that we followed -- followed notice 16 provisions, sent notices to all record holders or their 17 agents, and also received telephone calls and other requests.

18 Q Did you do the same thing with any active employees or
19 retirees?

20 A I believe we reached out to -- I -- I don't know for 21 sure.

22 Q Okay. Let's talk about what attempts if any you made to 23 mobilize the actives or the retirees.

24 A Uh-huh.

25 Q Did you or anyone on your team make phone calls to each
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1434
of 2386

1 individual?

2 A To each individual active employee?

3 Q Or retiree.

4 A No, not that I know of.

5 Q Did you reach out by mail, write letters, things of that 6 nature?

7 A To the actives I believe we reached out. There certainly 8 -- there are actives on my staff so they would have been 9 aware. There are actives that are working with the 10 consultants, so they would have been aware. To the retirees,
11 we asked certain bargaining units, unions to represent them
12 and they declined.

13 Q My question was, did you reach out directly to any of the 14 retirees before the June 10th or June 14th meetings?

15 A I don't know. I don't recall.

16 Q Did you post any public notices in newspapers or 17 advertise on television that there were these meetings coming
18 up?

19 A I don't recall.

20 Q Did you set up a web site where you could communicate
21 directly with any of the retirees or actives?

22 A We have a web site in the city. Whether or not that's of 23 the type you're talking about to communicate directly, you
24 have to examine the web site.

25 Q I have.

1 A Okay.

2 Q I did not see anything. It's your web site. Do you have 3 anything on that web site that you believe enabled you to 4 directly communicate with actives or retirees?

5 A Yes, I think I do, yeah.

6 Q Okay. Did you use anything on your web site before the 7 June 14th and June 10th meetings to reach out directly to any of 8 the actives or retirees?

9 A Not that I recall.

10 Q Okay. Did you mail a copy of your proposal for creditors
11 to all of the -- or any of the actives or the retirees?

12 A I don't know.

13 Q You -- you do have a list of all those names though,
14 don't you?

15 A We believe we have a list of all active employees. I
16 would think that we would have a list of all retirees. I know
17 we asked for some help in compiling that list, but they're our 18 list.

19 Q And if you needed those identities there were places you
20 could look and people you could ask for that information,
21 correct?

22 A We did ask.

23 Q And you -- you never attempted to develop sub groups of 24 these retirees so that you could negotiate with them directly,
25 correct before the bankruptcy?

1 A I don't know.

2 Q Are you familiar with anyone else on your staff being
3 tasked with breaking up the group of retirees into smaller
4 groups to be able to negotiate with smaller groups directly?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Okay. Who on your staff was responsible for that?

7 A There are members both on the legal team and on the 8 actuarial as well as the -- well, principally that would have 9 been -- probably members on the legal team.

10 Q And who would those individuals be that were tasked with 11 breaking the retiree groups into smaller sub sections?

12 A That would have been led by the -- probably Evan Miller
13 at Jones, Day.

14 Q And when did these smaller sub group negotiations, or 15 alleged negotiations take place?

16 A I don't know.

17 Q Are there any documents that actually reflect that 18 smaller sub groups were created for the purpose of 19 negotiating?

20 A I -- I don't know.

21 Q Have any documents been -- been produced in this case
22 that show that actual sub groups had been developed?

23 A A lot of documents have been produced. There may well
24 have been. I don't know for sure.

25 Q Are you familiar with any such documents?

1 A I wasn't involved in the document production, no.

2 Q Are you familiar with testimony on Friday that there was
3 no attempt made to create smaller sub groups of retirees?

4 A No, I'm not familiar with that testimony.

5 Q If it was from Mr. Buckfire who was your lead negotiator
6 for your financial advisory team, would it surprise you to 7 hear him saying that there had been no group, smaller sub
8 group developed?

9 A No. Mr. Buckfire may have not have been involved in all
10 aspects of it.

11 Q Okay. So it's your testimony the Jones, Day lawyer was 12 tasked with breaking out smaller sub sections and negotiating
13 directly?

14 A It's my testimony that they could have been. I don't 15 recall specifically the timing or the sub groups as you're 16 characterizing it.

17 Q Okay. So if we ask the retirees that are testifying next 18 week if anyone contacted them for the purpose of breaking into 19 smaller sections so that they could be negotiated with 20 directly, we're going to expect to hear that yes, Evan Miller
21 contacted me to negotiate?

22 MR. STEWART: Objection, Your Honor, calls for
23 speculation.

24 THE COURT: Sustained.

25 Q What specific strategies other than this apparent sub
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1438
of 2386

1 group that you've formulated, did you come up with to overcome
2 what was the perceived impractical nature of directly dealing
3 with large groups of people?

4 A Can you impact that question a little bit?

5 Q What specific strategies did you come up with to try to 6 overcome any perceived difficulty with negotiating with large
7 numbers of people, list them?

8 A Related to retirees?

9 Q Yes.

10 A Okay. Because your question said, as you did, we asked
11 for a retiree committee in bankruptcy. You're talking about 12 before?

13 Q Before bankruptcy.

14 A Before bankruptcy. We had made requests from certain of 15 the bargaining units to represent retirees. I have certainly 16 met with I believe the Police and Fire Retiree Association.

17 Q Okay. Would that be the sum total of what you did?

18 A It may not be. Many of my consultants meet with 19 different groups all the time. And sometimes I'm not aware of 20 all meetings.

21 Q We talked a little bit about the pension task force. Was 22 there a negotiations task force that was put together by your 23 team?

24 A By my team?

25 Q Yes.

1 A I would think the entire effort was a negotiations task
2 force.

3 Q But there was no specific committee on your team dealing 4 with how to tackle the problem of the retirees that needed to 5 be negotiated with, correct?

6 A My team and consultants worked together collaboratively.
7 Whether or not that's called a task force as a proper noun, is 8 a different question.

9 Q Well you had names for your teams. I'm asking was there
10 an official team dedicated to negotiating with retirees? Yes
11 or no?

12 A Not -- I don't know. Not that I'm aware of.

13 Q The June 10th, June 14th, and June 20th presentations, I
14 believe we're all in agreement now were purely informational.
15 I believe that's what you've said between yesterday and today,
16 correct?

17 A Generally, yes.

18 Q In the June 10th time frame, you held the -- the public
19 meeting at Wayne State, correct?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And that was as I believe you testified kind of the 22 ground work and you were laying the foundation for the 23 negotiations that you expected to occur in the following
24 weeks?

25 A No. I think what I testified to was that the June 10th
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1440
of 2386

1 meeting was required as a public meeting within 30 days of my
2 May 12th report.

3 Q You may have said that. At some point you agree with me
4 that that was your first public meeting and you were trying to 5 set the foundation for what was to occur? Maybe I'm 6 mischaracterizing slightly, but it's the gist of what I got 7 from what you said yesterday.

8 A Well, I -- I can't be responsible for the gist of what
9 you got. What I said was, the June 10th meeting was required
10 by 436 within 30 days of the May 12th report. There were many 11 things that were done at that meeting, but what I was trying 12 to relay yesterday was I was meeting my statutory obligations
13 under 436.

14 Q Okay. Do you remember at that June 10th meeting that it
15 was video taped?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And in fact you've posted these videos on your emergency
18 manager web site, correct?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Do you recall being asked a question by a retiree at the 21 June 10th meeting about what to expect to happen to their 22 pension funds?

23 A I don't recall a specific question, but you're welcome to 24 show it to me.

25 Q I will do that.

1 (Video Being Played at 2:12 p.m.; Concluded at 2:14 p.m.)

2 Q So on June 10th when asked by a retiree what was to happen
3 to their pension benefits, you said they were sacrosanct and 4 they could not be touched, correct?

5 A I think there was more to that clip.

6 Q I'm only asking about that part. I -- we can keep 7 playing it. You say except OPEB's are different. Is that --
8 did that refresh your recollection of what you followed
9 that --

10 A No. I mean the entire clip. I think there were multiple 11 questions, but that clip speaks for itself, yes.

12 Q Okay. So on June 10th you told retirees at the June 10th
13 meeting that their pensions were sacrosanct and they couldn't 14 be touched. And four days later you held the proposal for 15 creditors meeting.

16 And at that time you produced a 135 page proposal and I
17 believe we've shown it up on the screen a few times Page 109
18 where you say significant cuts will have to be taken. Did you
19 invite all the same retirees to the second meeting and then
20 explain to them that what they may have heard at the June 10th
21 meeting was now being changed?

22 A I don't know.

23 Q Well, did you correct any misunderstanding out there
24 where retirees thought their pension obligations were indeed
25 sacrosanct and safe?

1 A I may well have.

2 Q So you told them no cuts. Four days later you said cuts.
3 And that was on June 14th. And the time line that you laid out
4 on your proposal for creditors slated June 17th through July
5 12th as the initial discussion round, correct?

6 A It is whatever it is in the document, yes.

7 Q We've looked at it a few times. I won't bother pulling
8 it up again. So on the 14th you -- you did state there had to 9 be cuts. And three days later the negotiations were to 10 commence, correct?

11 A Yes, generally.

12 Q Okay. And the data room wasn't live until June 20th,
13 right?

14 A I don't know.

15 Q If other people have testified June 20th, does that sound
16 about correct?

17 A That -- that would not surprise me. I don't know the 18 exact date.

19 Q And as of the 20th the data room was not fully populated
20 with the -- with the data, right?

21 A I don't know. I wasn't populating the data room.

22 Q And if other people testified that it was not fully 23 populated would that --

24 A That would not surprise me.

25 Q Okay. So three days into the initial round of 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1443
of 2386

1 discussions with all the stakeholders, the documents were
2 still not up? You gave a proposal for creditors that changed
3 information that you had said at the public meeting on the 4 10th. And you did not give a copy of this proposal for 5 creditors to all of the retirees, correct?

6 A Not necessarily, Ms. Green.

7 Q Okay. When was the first time that you realized Chapter
8 9 was going to be necessary to cut the pension benefits?

9 A I don't know if I realized Chapter 9 was going to be 10 necessary just to cut the pension benefits.

11 Q Did you know it before you said on the 10th that pension
12 benefits could not be touched?

13 A I think you're taking that quote out of context, but let 14 me respond this way. The 10th and 14th, we were negotiating
15 with Bammel. We thought that was going to spur other
16 settlements and other negotiations. I had made no conclusion
17 regarding Chapter 9 at that point.

18 Q Well, isn't it true you were being advised by your 19 financial advisors that Chapter 9 was necessary?

20 A Chapter 9 had been discussed since 2005, Ms. Green.

21 Q Can we look at Exhibit 870, please? You were in contact
22 with your financial advisors continuously throughout this
23 period, correct, Mr. Orr?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And Chuck Moore is one of your financial advisors?

1 A Yes.

2 Q And he's on the pension task force?

3 A Yes.

4 MR. STEWART: Counsel, could I get a copy of that
5 document? I don't think we have it.

6 MS. GREEN: Oh, this was just -- I'm sorry, Your 7 Honor. This was produced on Friday as well. And we do have 8 extra copies for the Court today.

9 Q Do you recognize this email?

10 A Is it in here?

11 Q It should be on the screen.

12 A Okay. Okay. Thank you.

13 Q Do you recognize this email dated June 7th, 2013?

14 THE COURT: Do you have a number for this?

15 MS. GREEN: It's 870, Your Honor.

16 THE COURT: Thank you.

17 A Yes.

18 Q And at the bottom of that email it's -- it's a whole
19 string and there's an email from Chuck Moore at Conway,
20 MacKenzie dated 6-5-2013?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And it's an email to you, correct?

23 A Yes.

24 Q Discussing a lengthy call with Milliman this afternoon?

25 A Yes.

1 Q And you received this -- this email, right?

2 A Yes, I believe so.

3 Q On the second page there are numbered paragraphs. I'd
4 like to call your attention to Paragraph 3. Just above it
5 it's talking about under funding liability.

6 And it states, we anticipate a significant reduction and
7 already accrued benefits will be required in order to get
8 required contributions to the level of available cash to 9 service the UAAL. It appears this may only be possible in a
10 Chapter 9 proceeding.

11 A Yes.

12 Q Do you -- do you recall receiving that portion of the 13 email?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And this was on June 5th?

16 A It's dated June 5th, so I assume I received it around
17 then, yes.

18 Q But on the meeting of June 10th you responded to questions
19 regarding the pension benefits and you stated that they could 20 not be touched?

21 A In the clip that you showed, yes.

22 Q So did you knowingly give misinformation to the retirees
23 that were asking questions on the 10th?

24 A No.

25 Q I believe that you testified earlier that Ernst and
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1446
of 2386

1 Young, Miller, Buckfire, and Conway, MacKenzie had all been
2 engaged by the city prior to your arrival, correct?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And they were working since 2012 putting all the 5 financial data together, correct?

6 A I believe Ernst and Young was engaged in 2012. The 7 others may have begun work either at the end of December 2012,
8 or the beginning of 2013.

9 Q And all of their work culminated with this proposal for 10 creditors that you laid out in the middle of June?

11 A Yes.

12 Q So that took your team of three financial advisor firms,
13 yourself, and whomever else you had working on it, several 14 months, five, six months all together, maybe longer?

15 A I believe they met in 2013 and began to come up with 16 concepts and it culminated in this document. But if that's 17 your supposition, yes.

18 Q Okay. And yet the time frame that you laid out for the 19 initial rounds of discussions with the relevant stakeholders
20 lasted from June 17th to July 12th, right, just a three week
21 period?

22 A July 19th, but yes.

23 Q And the evaluation period that you set forth in your 24 proposal for creditors was July 15th through the 19th, right?

25 A Yes.

1 Q I think you stated earlier that the pre-petition lawsuits
2 helped force the bankruptcy filing, correct?

3 A I think I said either on September 16th, or yesterday, or 4 the day before, that we were getting ready to lose control,
5 that those lawsuits were creating concerns, yes.

6 Q Okay. And I believe you said that at first you ignored
7 the -- the lawsuits that were filed?

8 A Yes.

9 Q How long did you ignore them for?

10 A Almost three weeks.

11 Q Okay. You were asked yesterday if you were aware of any 12 hearings that were scheduled in State Court lawsuits as of the 13 time that you sent your letter on the 16th?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And you stated that at time you were unaware of any
16 hearings in the State Court litigation? The 16th.

17 A I don't -- yeah. I don't know if as of the 16th. I don't
18 -- I don't recall when I became aware. There were hearings
19 scheduled for the following week. I may not have known as of 20 the 16th.

21 Q What about the 18th when you filed the petition?

22 A I think by the 18th, I knew there were hearings scheduled
23 for the following week.

24 Q You said earlier that you were concerned that one of 25 these lawsuits could impact your ability or would undermine

13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1448
of 2386

1 your authority under PA436 to get your job done, something to
2 that effect. Do you recall that from this morning?

3 A Yes.

4 Q What authority under PA -- PA436 did you think was going
5 to be undermined?

6 A All of my authority.

7 Q And in fact you expected these lawsuits, didn't you?
8 Let's call up Exhibit 403. Do you recognize this email from 9 January of 2013?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And isn't it true that at that time you were observing
12 that there were already reports that "opponents of the prior 13 law are already lining up to challenge this law"?

14 A Yes.

15 Q So as of January before you even were appointed emergency
16 manager, you expected a legal battle forthcoming, correct?

17 A Not of the nature you're talking about, but yes, I
18 expected that there were challenges because that's what I
19 read.

20 Q Well, and to be clear the State Court lawsuits were 21 challenges to PA436 and your authority thereunder, correct?

22 A Yes. But I don't want to mislead you. This is talking
23 about lawsuits to PA436. I wasn't expecting injunctions, I
24 was expecting more lawsuits in the nature of declaratory
25 judgments and the like.

1 So the specifics of the lawsuit, I wasn't talking about
2 in here. But I was expecting challenges because that's what
3 was being talked about in the news reports.

4 Q Well, and there were in fact declaratory judgments sought
5 in those pre-petition lawsuits, weren't there?

6 A I believe so.

7 Q Okay. And the retirement systems didn't file their 8 lawsuit until July 16th, correct?

9 A Yes. I believe GRS filed July 15th.

10 Q Well, either way it was -- it was after the week, after 11 in your own time line, it was after the period where you had 12 set aside for discussions to take place with your 13 stakeholders?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Okay. So there were no -- there wasn't a lawsuit
16 vis-a-vis the retirement systems during the week that you were 17 meeting with the retirement systems, correct?

18 A I don't think so.

19 Q And I believe you said yesterday the TRO from the Syncora
20 litigation was set to expire within 14 days?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And that would take you to July 19th?

23 A I believe so.

24 Q But the July 19th date was set forth on your proposal for 25 creditors as the end date unrelated to the Syncora litigation,

1 correct?

2 A I think it was set forth related to everything.

3 Q Yesterday you talked a lot about the swap transactions
4 and that negotiation. At your deposition you testified that 5 they were extraordinarily complex. I presume that your 6 testimony would be the same today?

7 A The swap transactions.

8 Q Yes.

9 A Yes.

10 Q And those negotiations started in earnest on June 4th,
11 right?

12 A I don't recall the exact date, but that sounds about
13 right.

14 Q Okay. And the general terms of that negotiation were 15 agreed upon around June 11th?

16 A Generally, yes. Generally about those days, yeah.

17 Q And then between June 11th, and July 15th through the 17th, 18 the paperwork was drafted and the forbearance agreement was 19 executed, correct?

20 A Yes, forbearance and optional termination agreement, yes.

21 Q Okay. So even though the transactions were extremely 22 complex, and I believe you testified that the negotiations
23 were -- there was a lot of back and forth?

24 A Uh-huh, yes.

25 Q Even with all of that, the whole thing was wrapped up in 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1451
of 2386

1 about four weeks, right?

2 A Yes, I believe so.

3 Q And that freed up the casino revenue?

4 A Yes.

5 Q That you thought was critical to the city's liquidity?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And yet having successfully negotiated that complex deal,
8 you didn't continue down the path of negotiating. Two days
9 after you executed the forbearance agreement you actually
10 filed your bankruptcy petition, correct?

11 A That's correct. Forbearance agreement is dated July 15th
12 and we filed on July 18th.

13 Q In three days?

14 A Whatever that is, yeah.

15 Q Okay. We talked a lot about negotiations. Isn't it true
16 though that if negotiations do not -- if there's -- I'm sorry,
17 let me restate that. It was a terribly started question.

18 A I understand.

19 Q We talked about negotiations, but isn't it true that if a
20 consensual deal is not worked out, the city will use the cram
21 down provisions of the Bankruptcy Code to force a resolution?

22 A The city would propose a resolution, but the cram down
23 provisions are available in Bankruptcy Code.

24 Q So the answer is yes?

25 A We hope to reach a negotiated solution even now.

1 Q But if you don't, the answer is yes, correct?

2 A If I don't we will address that situation then, but
3 certainly cram down is an opportunity available to us.

4 Q And the $2,000,000,000 note that was proposed, there's no
5 recourse if the city fails to pay that note back, correct?

6 A It is a non-recourse note.

7 Q And in fact as of June 14th the proposal for creditors
8 does not actually identify anywhere in that document the 9 amount that an individual -- an individual's benefits would be 10 impacted, correct?

11 MR. STEWART: Objection, asked and answered before,
12 Your Honor.

13 THE COURT: Sustained.

14 Q If an individual retiree was looking to find how much
15 their individual pension benefits would be impacted prior to 16 the bankruptcy filing, where would they look?

17 MR. STEWART: Same objection, Your Honor.

18 MS. GREEN: A different question.

19 THE COURT: Well, it's slightly different. What's 20 the answer, please?

21 A I don't know, Your Honor.

22 Q Mr. Orr, earlier we looked at Exhibit 831. If we could 23 see that again, please. This is the time line from July 8th.
24 Bill Nowling or Nowling is your press secretary?

25 A He's my communications director, yes.

1 Q Okay. I would draw your attention to about three pages
2 in. There is a list of bullet points relating to a
3 communications plan. There we have it. And as of July 8th
4 your communications plan was that you believe the Court
5 supervised restructuring is the best and most efficient way to 6 secure a viable strong future for Detroit, correct?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And further down on the page, there is a bullet point
9 that states, we negotiated in good faith with all of Detroit's
10 creditors and we will continue to work cooperatively with them
11 in the Federal Bankruptcy Court process, correct?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And it states that at this point it would be impractical
14 to continue discussions out of Court, correct?

15 A Yes, it says that.

16 Q And it states that the State of Michigan has authorized
17 the emergency manager to take this step?

18 A Yes.

19 Q As of July 8th, you had not yet even conducted several of 20 the meetings with the relevant stakeholders, correct?

21 A July 8th?

22 Q Right.

23 A I think we had meetings beginning on June 17th, so we had 24 conducted a number of meetings.

25 Q What about the ones on the 10th and the 11th? Those had 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1454
of 2386

1 not even taken place, correct?

2 A Of July.

3 Q Right.

4 A Yes. No, they hadn't taken place.

5 Q And I think we established earlier that all the 6 presentations on the 10th, 14th, and 20th were merely
7 informational and presentational, correct?

8 A Of July?

9 Q Of June.

10 A Of June, yes.

11 Q Okay. And this same document has the filing date of the 12 19th, right?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Okay. Was there another document that set forth some 15 sort of contingency plan if negotiations actually were 16 fruitful?

17 A It looks like this is one of them.

18 Q Where on here does it say what your steps are if the 19 negotiations, the meetings that took place July 10th and 11th 20 where --

21 A Did you say that they were fruitful, or unfruitful?

22 Q If they were fruitful.

23 A Oh, they were fruitful.

24 Q Where is your plan for if the negotiations on the 10th and 25 11th worked out?

1 A Rephrase your question because I'm not sure I'm
2 understanding it.

3 Q This document lays out a time line as of July 8th.

4 A Contingency plan, yes.

5 Q Okay. Where on the document does this say it's a
6 contingency plan?

7 A No. I'm just saying that you do contingency planning.
8 It doesn't have to be called a contingency plan. You plan for 9 contingencies before the last minute, Ms. Green, I'm sure
10 you're aware of that.

11 Q Okay. So where is the contingency plan for if 12 negotiations were fruitful?

13 A I don't know.

14 Q In the 200,000 pages of documents the city has produced,
15 is there a single contingency plan relating to negotiations
16 with creditors?

17 MR. STEWART: Objection, Your Honor, foundation.

18 THE COURT: Overruled. Answer the question if you
19 know.

20 A I don't know.

21 MS. GREEN: Your Honor, I'm sorry. I'm just going
22 through my notes. I want to make sure I got everything.

23 Q I have one more question. At the June 10th proposal, or 24 I'm sorry, public meeting.

25 A Uh-huh.

1 Q Do you recall talking about your authority under PA436?

2 A Yes.

3 Q Do you recall making a statement about how powerful your
4 authority was under PA436?

5 A Yes, I do remember that.

6 Q Do you remember saying, and I don't want to misquote you,
7 so I'm going to have to play the clip, but do remember saying
8 that the statute itself was powerful, but you had a much more
9 powerful Chapter 9?

10 A Yes. I remember saying that I have a very powerful
11 statute, 436 is even a more powerful statute, Chapter 9, but I
12 don't want to use it.

13 Q And didn't you end with but -- let's just play the clip
14 from what you actually said before --

15 MR. STEWART: Your Honor, objection. The -- the 16 witness has stated his memory. There's no reason to -- to 17 show a -- a clip.

18 THE COURT: I'll permit it, go ahead. Go ahead.

19 MS. GREEN: The clip says something different.

20 THE COURT: Go ahead.

21 (Video Being Played at 2:35 p.m.; Concluded at 2:35 p.m.)

22 Q Do you also recall just prior to that June 10th meeting
23 the -- the email we looked at earlier from Chuck Moore stating 24 that Chapter 9 would be necessary to deal with the pension
25 obligations?

1 A I recall receiving that email.

2 Q When you were discussing to the public this issue with
3 respect to Chapter 9, were you aware of the fact that your
4 financial advisors had already set on a course for Chapter 9
5 proceedings?

6 A I'm not sure we'd set on a course for Chapter 9
7 proceedings. We were trying very hard to get some consensual
8 resolutions and had one in hand.

9 Q Last question. Do you remember being asked by a precinct
10 delegate for the Democratic party after you made that 11 statement about Chapter 9. Do you remember a woman standing 12 up and asking you -- stating that she felt as though she was 13 threatened by your Chapter 9 comments?

14 A No, I don't remember. Somebody may have said that, I
15 don't remember.

16 Q Do you believe that when you stated that you had a very 17 powerful Chapter 9, that you were trying to set the tone for 18 the negotiations that were to take place over the following
19 weeks?

20 A No, not necessarily. I was just speaking.

21 MS. GREEN: I have nothing further, Your Honor.

22 CROSS EXAMINATION

23 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

24 Q Good afternoon, Mr. Orr. My name is Bill Wertheimer and

25 I represent the Flowers plaintiffs, the plaintiffs in that
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1458
of 2386

1 lawsuit --

2 A Good afternoon, Mr. Wertheimer.

3 Q We have not met, have we?

4 A No, we have not.

5 Q I'd like to clear up, if I can, the timing related to 6 these hearings in the State Court. You testified that the 7 suits were filed on July 3rd, correct? The Flowers and the 8 Webster suits were filed on July 3rd, correct?

9 A Yes, I believe so.

10 THE COURT: Counsel, I have to caution you not to 11 ask any redundant questions.

12 MR. WERTHEIMER: That was -- I will not further.

13 Q Did you also learn at the same time you learned about the 14 lawsuits that along with the lawsuits the same day the 15 lawsuits were filed, the Judge in that case entered an order
16 to show cause scheduling a hearing for preliminary injunctions
17 on the Websters and Flowers case for July 22nd?

18 A No.

19 Q When in time did you learn that hearings were scheduled
20 for July 22nd in front of Judge Aquiline?

21 A I'm not aware if I ever knew in front of which Judge. I
22 think I learned that a few days or weeks later.

23 Q Okay. Have you ever in your meetings or communications
24 with the Governor, or any of his staff people in any way

25 communicated to him that it was your intention as the

1 representative of the people of the City of Detroit to make a
2 legal claim against the state, that the state would be
3 obligated to pay any pension monies that the city could not
4 pay because of Article 9, Section 24 of the Constitution?

5 A No, I don't think so.

6 Q In any of your conversations with the Governor, beginning
7 at the time you became emergency manager in March, did you
8 ever communicate to the Governor what you communicated to that 9 retiree at a public meeting, that is that because of the state
10 law in Michigan pensions are sacrosanct?

11 A I don't recall.

12 Q You don't recall? Are you testifying under an oath you
13 -- oath you don't recall one way or another whether you used
14 the term sacrosanct in your discussions with the Governor
15 relative to this issue?

16 MR. STEWART: Objection, asked and answered.

17 THE COURT: The objection is sustained.

18 Q In your -- these conversations with the Governor, any of 19 them from the time you became emergency manager, have you had 20 discussions with the Governor about your claim that federal 21 law trumps state law on this pension issue?

22 MR. STEWART: Objection, Your Honor. To the extent
23 that the question calls for the witness to reveal privileged 24 attorney/client communications. If there were lawyers in the

1 advice, I would object.

2 MR. WERTHEIMER: Can I follow up a question?

3 THE COURT: Uh-huh, sure.

4 Q First of all, have you had any discussions with the
5 Governor where the issue of the impact of the filing of a
6 federal bankruptcy would have on this state constitutional
7 right outside the presence of attorneys?

8 A No.

9 Q How many meetings have you had with the Governor either
10 personally or over the telephone since you became emergency
11 manager approximately?

12 MR. STEWART: Objection, asked and answered.

13 THE COURT: Sustained.

14 Q It was two to four or five, right?

15 A No, I have weekly meetings but two to four or five with 16 the Governor.

17 Q Okay. Thank you.

18 A Uh-huh.

19 Q And in your meetings were there ever occasions where 20 attorneys were present and in your view of things you were not 21 seeking legal advice, they just happened to be either on the 22 line or in the meeting?

23 A With the Governor?

24 Q Yes.

25 A Yes.

1 Q In those meetings, were there occasions where you and the
2 Governor discussed the issue of federal law trumping or in
3 some way allowing you to adversely impact pension benefits?

4 MR. STEWART: Renew my earlier objection, Your
5 Honor.

6 THE COURT: Which objection, sir?

7 MR. STEWART: The -- the -- to the extent that the 8 -- the question asks for the witness to reveal attorney/client
9 communications, we'd object.

10 MR. WERTHEIMER: I'm only now asking about meetings
11 where he's acknowledged the attorneys were not there giving
12 legal advice. He says there were such meetings.

13 MR. STEWART: The question of -- I'm sorry. The 14 question of whether federal law trumps, or trumps the Michigan
15 Constitution is clearly a request for legal advice.

16 MR. WERTHEIMER: He's now testifying. That's not
17 what Mr. Orr said. Mr. Orr said --

18 THE COURT: The problem is your question was 19 misleading, sir. Because you asked --

20 MR. WERTHEIMER: With all due respect, Your Honor, I
21 don't believe it was.

22 THE COURT: Excuse me, you -- you asked were there
23 such meetings and there may have been. But that doesn't mean
24 that every subject that was covered in such meeting was --

25 were subjects that did not involve legal advice.

1 MR. WERTHEIMER: Well, then may I ask the question?

2 Q At these -- these one or more meetings where there were 3 attorneys present, either on the telephone or in person, but 4 where you're not talking about legal advice or seeking legal
5 advice from those attorneys, in any of those contexts, did you
6 and the Governor talk about what the impact of your filing a
7 Chapter 9 proceeding might be on the pension rights of
8 citizens of the State of Michigan?

9 MR. STEWART: Same objection, Your Honor. That 10 issue is by definition one of a legal character.

11 THE COURT: It seems to me, but I'll permit the 12 witness to answer.

13 A No.

14 MR. WERTHEIMER: Thank you.

15 THE COURT: Any other questions for the witness?
16 Any redirect? Oh, this I assume had all been worked out. I'm
17 sorry.

18 MS. BRIMER: I'm standing, Your Honor. I'll --

19 THE COURT: How many more?

20 MS. BRIMER: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Lynn M.
21 Brimer appearing on behalf of the Retired Detroit Police
22 Officers Association.

23 CROSS EXAMINATION

24 BY MS. BRIMER:

25 Q Mr. Orr, my name is Lynn Brimer.

1 A Good afternoon, Ms. Brimer.

2 Q We have never met before?

3 A No, we have not.

4 Q Mr. Orr, I'd like to go back to some discussion prior to 5 your appointment as the -- as the emergency manager. Do you
6 recall when you first learned that Jones, Day would be 7 involved in preparing or presenting a pitch to the City of 8 Detroit for engagement?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And when was that?

11 A Two weeks or so prior to the pitch.

12 Q So about --

13 A Mid-January.

14 Q About mid-January?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And at that point in time did the topic of a Chapter 9
17 filing come up in your discussions?

18 A No, not initially, no.

19 Q Could we have Exhibit 866, please? Do you -- do you see
20 that Exhibit 866?

21 A Yes.

22 Q All right. Now that's an email from Ms. Ball and you're 23 listed on there at the end of the carbon copies, is that
24 correct?

25 A Yes.

1 Q What is Ms. Ball's role in connection with the City of 2 Detroit project at Jones, Day?

3 A Ms. Ball is one of the attorneys at Jones, Day in the 4 restructuring practice that was at the pitch -- pitch
5 presentation.

6 Q Okay. So if you'd go down midway through the page you'll 7 see there is a paragraph that says Kevyn.

8 A Uh-huh.

9 Q I assume that's you, Mr. Orr?

10 A Uh-huh.

11 Q There are diversity related issues. You have to be the 12 star on this stuff and be able to discuss what we can provide.
13 (We do submit reports to the Bar Association). Also, can you
14 check with Dan Moss where he is on updating our Chapter 9
15 paper with new decisions like the ones in California, PA, and 16 Alabama among others.

17 A Yes.

18 Q All right. Who is Mr. Moss?

19 A Mr. Dan Moss is an attorney at Jones, Day seated at 20 counsel's table.

21 Q And he was involved in the project to pitch to the City
22 of Detroit, correct?

23 A Yes.

24 Q All right. Now already at least as early as January 15,

1 Jones, Day attorneys, is that correct?

2 A Yes, it appears to be so.

3 Q So now you spent the -- the pitch was actually made on 4 January 29th, is that correct?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And who attended that pitch?

7 MR. STEWART: Objection, Your Honor, asked and
8 answered.

9 THE COURT: Sustained.

10 Q There were attorneys from various offices of Jones, Day
11 at that pitch, is that correct?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And in that two week period were there discussions among 14 the attorneys of the role each would play in the pitch with 15 the city?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And during any of those discussions, did Ms. Ball ever
18 discuss any prior involvement with the State of Michigan?

19 A Not with me.

20 Q Was Ms. Lennox also involved in the pitch?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And did Ms. Lennox ever discuss in any of the meetings or 23 conversations preparing for the pitch, her role or Jones,
24 Day's role in connection with prior advice rendered to the 25 State of Michigan?

1 A Not that I recall.

2 Q Now shortly after the pitch you were approached in
3 connection with becoming the emergency manager?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And there were discussions internally with respect to 6 what Jones, Day may be able to do to generate funding for the 7 project and to nationalize the project, is that correct?

8 A I think there was an email, yes.

9 MS. BRIMER: Could we have 605? It's 805, I
10 apologize. And, Your Honor, I'm using exhibits that have been
11 admitted.

12 THE COURT: Thank you.

13 Q This is an email chain between you and Mr. Moore -- Moss,
14 is that correct?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Do you see that? Okay. Now if you go down to the second
17 page, it begins with an email to you from Ms. Ball, the last 18 sentence -- well, actually we'll go all the way down to the 19 first food for thought. For your conversation with Baird and 20 us, I understand Bloomberg Foundation has a keen interest in 21 this area. Do you know what area she is referring to?

22 A I do not.

23 Q Well, and the subject is D. Do you know what that D is 24 referring to?

25 A I think it's referring to Detroit.

1 Q Okay. I was thinking about whether we should talk to
2 Baird about financial support for this project and in
3 particular the EM. So the issue is discussions with respect
4 to whether or not you can generate additional funding for it,
5 is that correct?

6 A I believe so.

7 Q The last sentence is, I can ask Harry, I believe that's
8 Harry Wilson from the auto task force, for contact
9 information. This kind of support and weighs -- nationalizes
10 the issue and the project. What project is that she's 11 referring to, do you know?

12 A I assume she's referring to something related to Detroit.

13 Q So she related to the -- does the project relate to the 14 representation of the City of Detroit by the Jones, Day
15 attorneys?

16 A I don't know.

17 Q All right. So then if you go up from that, there is an 18 email from Mr. Moss to you that begins, making this a national 19 issue is not a bad idea. It provides political cover for the 20 state politicians. Indeed this gives them an even greater 21 incentive to do this right because if it succeeds, there will 22 be more than enough patronage to allow either Bing or Snyder
23 to look for higher callings whether cabinet, Senate, or 24 corporate. Further, this would give you, I assume you means
25 you, Mr. Orr.

1 A Uh-huh.

2 Q Would give you cover and options on the back end, I
3 assume that's when you're finished with your appointment as 4 the EM, to make up for lost time here.

5 A Yeah.

6 Q Is the perception at Jones, Day that your appointment as 7 the emergency manager for the City of Detroit is lost time?

8 A No.

9 Q Then why would Mr. Moss have included that sentence in an 10 email, if you know?

11 A I don't know.

12 Q Was it important to move forward with this project in a 13 fashion that provided political cover for those who are 14 involved?

15 A No. I think I say that in one of the following emails.

16 Q Now when did you first learn that the Mayor -- I mean
17 that the Governor would be supporting your candidacy as the 18 emergency manager?

19 A Sometime after we met in mid-February.

20 Q Could we have 807? So 807 is an email chain between 21 yourself and Mr. Baird, is that correct?

22 A Yes.

23 Q The Re line is tribute to my dad, Reverend Dr. Allen E.

24 Orr.

25 A Senior.

1 Q If we could go to the email midway down from Mr. Baird to
2 you dated February 12, 2013. Do you recall receiving this
3 email?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And I think we've discussed part of this email with Ms.
6 Green. But the paragraph that begins a little further down,
7 Kevyn, I know you have work -- you have to work logistics on 8 your end, but I do want you to know our folks are already
9 behaving if you have -- as if you accepted the job. I guess
10 that's human nature since the chemistry envisioned was so
11 aligned with our own.

12 The last sentence in that paragraph reads, anyway, I need
13 to clue -- I need you to clue me in. Are you feeling
14 differently because the boss and his team are already
15 arranging for the church and pastor and I need to talk them
16 off the ledge if you tell me we are misreading the 17 relationship.

18 So already by February 12th you understood that the 19 Governor was seriously supporting your candidacy, is that
20 correct?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Did you at that point in time do anything to advise the 23 Governor that you would not be taking the position?

24 A No. I think I still was taking it under consideration.

25 Q Let's see here. All right. I'd like to -- I do have an 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1470
of 2386

1 exhibit here --

2 THE COURT: Actually, Ms. Brimer, I'm -- I'm going
3 to conclude Court now. We do have some housekeeping matters
4 that I need to review with everyone. How much longer will 5 your cross examination be?

6 MS. BRIMER: Probably only about 15 minutes, Your
7 Honor.

8 THE COURT: And the other cross examination, sir?

9 MR. WILKINS: About 10 to 15 minutes.

10 THE COURT: Ms. Patek?

11 MS. PATEK: It will be less than that, Your Honor.

12 THE COURT: All right. So we'll reconvene next
13 Monday morning at 9:00 a.m.

14 Now I have been advised regarding exhibits and your other 15 property that your choices are a little more constrained at 16 this point. You can either leave them in the jury room where 17 they will be locked, or you can take them with you. But we 18 can't leave them in place between now and Monday. I think
19 Judge Cook will be using this courtroom for other purposes.
20 Who else is the city intending to call, please?

21 MR. STEWART: This is our last witness, Your Honor.

22 THE COURT: All right. Monday morning when we meet,
23 I would like some good faith estimate from the objecting
24 parties as to how long your case will take. We need that

25 because if it's going to go beyond Thursday of that week, we
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1471
of 2386

1 need to arrange for -- for courtrooms after that.

2 All right. Any other further housekeeping matters? Yes,
3 Ma'am.

4 MS. LEVINE: Your Honor, just a question. Assuming
5 the witnesses conclude maybe even Monday or Tuesday, can
6 closings be after we submit our briefs on 11-13 on Wednesday,
7 or are you going to want closings to be --

8 THE COURT: No, I want closings immediately after 9 the conclusion of the proofs.

10 MS. LEVINE: Thank you.

11 MR. DECHIARA: One question in that regard, Your 12 Honor. Is it your expectation that if we are not finished for 13 whatever reason Tuesday afternoon that we will go Wednesday
14 despite the current mediation order that's in place?

15 THE COURT: I had not taken that into account. Is 16 this something you need to know now, or can I get back to you
17 on Monday on that?

18 MR. DECHIARA: No, you can get back to us on Monday,
19 Your Honor.

20 THE COURT: All right. If -- if -- if I don't,
21 please remind me of this question. Anything further, anyone?
22 All right. We'll stand in place while Mr. Orr takes his exit.
23 And my apologies to you for blasting out of here at lunch
24 without giving you that opportunity, sir.

25 A Thank you. Thank you.

1 THE COURT: But go ahead and we'll just wait here.

2 (WITNESS KEVYN ORR WAS EXCUSED AT 2:59 P.M.)

3 THE COURT: Jim, you'll let us know when we can go.

4 Ready?

5 THE CLERK: All rise.

6 THE COURT: All right.

7 THE CLERK: Court is adjourned.

1 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in session. Please
2 be seated. Case Number 13-53846, City of Detroit, Michigan.

3 THE COURT: Good morning.

4 MR. MONTGOMERY: Good morning.

5 THE COURT: It appears that everyone is here.
6 Before we continue with the trial, Mr. Montgomery, may I have 7 your attention for a moment, please?

8 MR. MONTGOMERY: Yes, sir.

9 THE COURT: As you know, the city has filed a motion
10 to adjourn the preliminary injunction hearing that we had 11 tentatively set for Friday. Is it okay with you if we have a 12 hearing on that motion to adjourn tomorrow morning before the 13 trial?

14 MR. MONTGOMERY: I think that would be fine, your 15 Honor. I think the debtor had proposed that we file
16 objection papers today, and so I believe that is our 17 intention to file --

18 THE COURT: If you feel the need to do that, that's 19 fine. Otherwise we can just have a conversation about it
20 tomorrow morning.

21 MR. MONTGOMERY: In any case, we will be here
22 tomorrow morning, your Honor.

23 THE COURT: All right.

24 MR. MONTGOMERY: Thank you.

25 THE COURT: We'll notice that for hearing then. All

1 right. We will continue with Mr. Orr's testimony.

2 MS. BRIMER: Good morning, your Honor. Lynn M.
3 Brimer appearing on behalf of the Retired Detroit Police
4 Members Association.

5 KEVYN ORR, DEBTOR'S WITNESS, PREVIOUSLY SWORN

6 CROSS-EXAMINATION

7 BY MS. BRIMER:

8 Q Good morning, Mr. Orr.

9 A Good morning, Ms. Brimer.

10 Q Mr. Orr, I'd like to just go back over without 11 duplicating any of the testimony a couple of items just to be 12 sure I have everything clear. When you were present at the 13 January 29 presentation by the Jones Day attorneys, were 14 you -- did you leave the room at any time during the Jones
15 Day presentation?

16 A No.

17 Q During the presentation, did you hear any of the members
18 of the Jones Day team advise the city, the mayor, or the City
19 Council that they had been involved with Treasurer Dillon and 20 other members of the state in connection with the drafting of 21 the consent agreement?

22 A The mayor and the City Council weren't there, no.

23 Q Did they advise anyone on behalf of the city that they 24 had been involved in drafting the consent agreement?

25 A Not that I recall.

1 Q To your knowledge, did they advise anyone on behalf of
2 the city that they had been involved in the redrafting or the 3 drafting of Public Act 436?

4 MR. SHUMAKER: Objection, your Honor. It states --
5 misstates facts not in evidence.

6 THE COURT: Overruled. Please answer the question.

7 THE WITNESS: Not that I recall.

8 BY MS. BRIMER:

9 Q When did you first learn that members of Jones Day had,
10 in fact, been involved with the drafting of the consent
11 agreement, if at all?

12 A I don't know that.

13 Q Okay. You are aware that members of the Jones Day team
14 gave advice to Treasurer Dillon in connection with drafting a
15 law to replace PA 4 in the event PA 4 was repealed; correct?

16 A No.

17 Q I'd like to direct your attention to Exhibit 866. In 18 January of 2013, you were with the bankruptcy department at 19 Jones Day; correct?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And you were in the Washington office?

22 A Yes.

23 Q What office was Mr. Moss in in January of 2013?

24 A Washington.

25 Q We've already talked about this exhibit, and that is you,

1 Kevyn, that is referred to a few paragraphs into the e-mail;
2 correct?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And I believe this e-mail is in evidence. I did not ask
5 you -- it refers to, "Check with Mr. Moss regarding updating 6 our Chapter 9 paper." What Chapter 9 paper, if you know, is 7 Ms. Ball referring to in that paragraph?

8 A I don't recall.

9 Q Are you familiar with a paper that was drafted by members
10 of Jones Day in connection with Chapter 9 and the treatment
11 of pensions?

12 A At this time?

13 Q At any time.

14 A Yes.

15 Q Do you recall the name of that article?

16 A No.

17 MS. BRIMER: Your Honor, may I, just to refresh his 18 memory?

19 THE COURT: Yes. So the question is whether what 20 Ms. Brimer just handed you refreshes your recollection on the 21 name of that article.

22 THE WITNESS: No.

23 BY MS. BRIMER:

24 Q Have you ever seen the article before, Mr. Orr?

25 A I don't think so.

1 Q What office was Mr. Ellman in in January of 2013?

2 A Atlanta.

3 Q Was Mr. Ellman a member of the bankruptcy department at
4 Jones Day?

5 A Business restructuring and reorganization group.

6 Q Is that different than the bankruptcy department, or is 7 that the department you were in as well?

8 A It's the same one I was in. It just has a broader 9 connotation.

10 Q All right. Now, I'd like to refer your attention to 11 Exhibit 860. This is an e-mail from Ms. Ball, and as you'll 12 see, you'll note that you're one of the -- you are a 13 recipient of this. Do you see that?

14 A Yes.

15 Q It's dated 1-28. That's the day before the presentation
16 by Jones Day; is that correct?

17 A Yes, I believe so.

18 Q And do you recall reviewing this e-mail?

19 A I suspect I did.

20 Q You have no reason to believe you didn't review it at the 21 time?

22 A That's correct.

23 Q You'll notice the first sentence, "Just heard from 24 Buckfire." Do you believe that is Ken Buckfire from Miller
25 Buckfire?

1 A Yes. Well, strike that. I'm not sure.

2 Q But it would be a representative of Miller Buckfire?

3 A It could be, yes.

4 Q Could it be anyone else?

5 A I think it would be somebody affiliated with Miller
6 Buckfire.

7 Q And you'll see a little bit further down "questions that 8 Miller Buckfire has drafted for interview." See that?

9 A Yes.

10 Q So the Jones Day team had the interview questions prior 11 to the interview. Is that what we can interpret from this?

12 A I don't know that. You could interpret that.

13 Q Okay. And then you'll see much further down how can the 14 costs, especially legal costs, be controlled, strong advice,
15 not to mention a thousand hours except to say we don't have 16 major learning curve. Do you know what that thousand hours
17 is referring to?

18 A No.

19 Q Is that thousand hours referring perhaps to the thousand
20 hours that members of the Jones Day team already has in this
21 project?

22 A I don't know.

23 Q Did you ever discuss with any of the members of Jones Day
24 what they had done in order to prepare for the presentation?

25 A Yes.

1 Q And what were you advised by the other members of the 2 presentation team regarding the Jones Day preparation for the
3 project?

4 A I get the gist of your question. Nothing regarding 5 anything related to prior orders -- hours. Anything we 6 discussed concerned putting on the presentation.

7 Q Were any other members of the team that made the 8 presentation also in the Washington, D.C., office of Jones
9 Day?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And who was that?

12 A Steve Brogan.

13 Q That's the managing partner?

14 A Yes.

15 Q So your managing partner never discussed with you any of 16 the prior involvement that Jones Day had with the State of 17 Michigan relative to the City of Detroit's finances?

18 A No, not that I recall.

19 Q You indicated you had recused yourself from the Jones Day
20 RFP. Do you recall when you did that?

21 A I believe it was sometime in February.

22 Q Was it early February, late February?

23 A I don't recall a specific date.

24 Q Was it before you submitted your application -- at some 25 point you submitted an application on line for the EM

1 position; is that correct?

2 A Oh, yes. It was before that.

3 Q So do you recall when you submitted that application?

4 A That would have been late February or March.

5 Q Could it have been as early as February 15th?

6 A It might.

7 MS. BRIMER: I'd like to show him something else,
8 your Honor, to refresh his recollection. The date is 9 important to my cross-examination.

10 THE COURT: Refresh his recollection regarding the 11 date?

12 MS. BRIMER: Regarding the date.

13 THE COURT: Yes, you may.

14 BY MS. BRIMER:

15 Q I don't believe that this is in evidence. I'd just like 16 you to take a look at the paragraph in the middle of that 17 first page. Does that refresh your recollection with respect
18 to the date that you submitted your application?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And so what date was that?

21 A That says February --

22 THE COURT: Well, the question is not what the 23 document says. The question is what do you remember after 24 having reviewed the document.

25 THE WITNESS: I thought it was later than this. The

1 document has a date up here, but I'm not sure it's affiliated
2 with this e-mail. It might well be.

3 BY MS. BRIMER:

4 Q So was it about mid-February that you submitted your 5 application on line?

6 A This appears to say so.

7 Q I'd like to direct your attention to Exhibit 865, and 8 this exhibit is in evidence as well. This is an e-mail from 9 Ms. Ball directly to you. Do you see that?

10 A Yes.

11 Q It's dated February 11th --

12 A Yes.

13 Q -- correct?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Do you recall reviewing this e-mail?

16 A I have no independent recollection, but I have no reason
17 to believe that I did not review it.

18 Q So if we could move down -- the third paragraph from the 19 bottom, do you see that paragraph? "Given an alternative, I
20 am not sure that an immediate Chapter 9 is superior. If we 21 can get time, it would be better. The city is not ready for 22 a Chapter 9, hyphen, at least not the one we would like. It
23 would be better to negotiate with creditors and assess city
24 management, et cetera." Do you know who Ms. Ball is 25 referring to when she says "not the one we would like"?

1 A No.

2 Q If you look back up at the parties that this e-mail has
3 been addressed to, is there anyone other than Jones Day --

4 A No.

5 Q -- attorneys on that?

6 A No.

7 Q So other than Jones Day attorneys, you believe that the 8 "we" could have been referring to anyone other than the Jones
9 Day personnel?

10 A It could have been; it could not have been.

11 Q So at least as early as February 11th, the Jones Day
12 attorneys were contemplating and believed a Chapter 9 was 13 appropriate for the City of Detroit; is that correct?

14 A No.

15 Q What do you interpret from this paragraph that Ms. Ball
16 has sent out to the Jones Day attorneys?

17 A It says it might be appropriate, it might be appropriate
18 to negotiate with creditors and assess city management.

19 Q So other than the fact that an immediate -- "I'm not sure
20 an immediate Chapter 9 is superior, at a minimum, not the one
21 we would like," must be referring to Jones Day personnel, is 22 it -- does it not, because there's no one else on the e-mail?

23 MR. SHUMAKER: Objection. Asked and answered.

24 MS. BRIMER: I'll withdraw it.

25 THE COURT: All right. The question is withdrawn.

1 BY MS. BRIMER:

2 Q And we can also interpret this that at least in January
3 11th you're still involved with the Jones Day process;
4 correct? I mean February 11th you're still involved with the 5 Jones Day application for appointment as counsel for the 6 city; correct?

7 A I might have been. I don't recall independently.

8 Q Well, it is directed -- we'll go back up to who this is 9 directed to. It's only directed to you, and the other
10 parties on it are carbon copies, not direct recipients;
11 correct?

12 A Yes.

13 Q So I'd like to direct your attention to Exhibit 8 -- 808.
14 This is a series of e-mails between yourself and the governor
15 and Mr. Baird; correct?

16 A The one in the middle?

17 Q Well, it starts -- if you go to page 2, it starts with an 18 e-mail from --

19 THE COURT: Would you like the paper copy, sir?

20 THE WITNESS: It would be helpful if counselor would 21 like me to read the whole e-mail.

22 MS. BRIMER: I can hand him a paper copy, your
23 Honor.

24 BY MS. BRIMER:

25 Q So it begins with an e-mail from Governor Snyder to you;

1 correct?

2 A Yes.

3 Q And then it continues with some other e-mails between 4 yourself and other representatives of the state, correct,
5 Richard Baird?

6 A Yes. There's e-mails copied to Mr. Baird.

7 Q And the date of the -- then the final e-mail is dated
8 February 15.

9 A Yes.

10 Q It's an e-mail from you to Ms. Ball and other members of 11 the Jones Day team; correct?

12 A Yes.

13 Q So on February 15 at about the time you were applying --
14 submitting your application, you're still keeping the Jones
15 Day team -- in fact, it says, "They're pretty good at keeping 16 me in the loop," so you're still keeping your Jones Day team
17 in the loop on what's going on between yourself and the 18 representatives of the state; is that correct?

19 A Yes. That's what this e-mail says.

20 Q This e-mail was three days after -- if you will recall,
21 three days after the governor had indicated that you were the 22 candidate he intended on supporting; is that correct?

23 A I don't recall that.

24 Q All right. Well, then we can go back to an e-mail we 25 discussed, which is 807. We discussed this e-mail, and I'm

1 trying not to duplicate testimony we've already had, but at a
2 minimum, on February 12th, if you'll scroll down, you'll see
3 that Mr. Baird has indicated to you -- and we discussed this
4 on Friday -- that you were the candidate that the governor
5 intended on supporting. In fact, they were arranging for the 6 church and pastor is the language that Mr. Baird used,
7 correct, on the -- if you --

8 MS. BRIMER: And I'll hand him a hard copy, your
9 Honor.

10 THE COURT: Okay.

11 THE WITNESS: Okay. Thank you. Okay.

12 BY MS. BRIMER:

13 Q So at what point would you have thought it appropriate to 14 withdraw yourself from the Jones Day team that was 15 negotiating and dealing with the city and the state for its 16 engagement after you were already aware that the governor was 17 supporting your application for the appointment as --

18 A I recused --

19 Q -- emergency manager? Okay. Go ahead.

20 A I recused myself at some point during the process. I
21 believe there are two e-mails speaking to that recusal. If 22 you have them to refresh my recollection, that would be 23 helpful. I don't recall the specific date.

24 Q So at what point did you become aware that the Jones Day
25 personnel were interested in filing a Chapter 9 for the City

1 of Detroit?

2 A The documents speak to it and the presentation, but the
3 implication is that they were interested in filing it, and I
4 don't know if that's true. The document you showed me said
5 that we should first negotiate.

6 Q How about if we take a look at Exhibit 853? This is an
7 e-mail the day prior to the Jones Day presentation dated 1-
8 28, 2013. Do you see that?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And it is from Mr. Ellman to various members of the Jones
11 Day team. You're included in that.

12 A Yes.

13 Q You recall reviewing this e-mail, Mr. Orr?

14 A I have no independent recollection, but there's no reason
15 for me to believe I would not have reviewed it.

16 Q So the first paragraph from Mr. Ellman, "The RFP process
17 will inevitably lead to some internal issues about the 18 various certifications and commitments that the city may 19 require and that Jones Day may not want to give," do you know
20 what certifications and commitments Mr. Ellman is referring 21 to?

22 A No.

23 Q Did you ever inquire with Mr. Ellman of the 24 certifications and commitments that he was referring to?

25 A Not that I recall.

1 Q You didn't think it was important prior to giving a
2 presentation for this engagement to understand what
3 commitments and commitments -- what certifications and
4 commitments may cause a problem for Jones Day?

5 A Not prior to the presentation, no.

6 Q Then if you'll look a little further down, there's an e-
7 mail from an Amy Ferber also at Jones Day. It's to various 8 members of Jones Day, including yourself. Do you see that?

9 A Yes.

10 Q I believe Debtwa News we've established is the Detroit
11 bankruptcy -- the Detroit engagement; correct?

12 A I believe so.

13 Q So just in paragraph 1, the last sentence, this is 14 discussing the other -- some of the other firms that would be 15 interviewing, one of them being Foley & Lardner, and they 16 would be taking Ken Klee with them. Mr. Klee this indicates 17 is involved in the Jefferson County bankruptcy, and you'll 18 see the last paragraph. "It should also prove interesting
19 that MB" -- MB must be Miller Buckfire -- "has said that no
20 one wants this bankruptcy to go the way of Jeff County,"
21 Jefferson County, which, of course, Ken is running, so no one
22 wants this bankruptcy. It's already predetermined from this
23 e-mail, isn't it, Mr. Orr, that there will be a bankruptcy
24 for the City of Detroit?

25 A No.

1 Q Then I'll direct your attention down to paragraph 4. "We
2 are to be as detailed as possible in our discussions of 3 specific issues facing the city, OPEB, but avoid pitfalls of 4 alienating the state. If something happens to the city's 5 pensions, state will probably step up to deal with this but 6 thus far has failed to concede this point," so at least as
7 early as January 28th, you were aware and the Jones Day team
8 was aware that covering the unpaid pensions was a possibility
9 from the state; correct?

10 A Was a possibility?

11 Q Yes.

12 A Anything is possible, yes.

13 Q Have you requested that the state cover any shortfall for 14 the pensions as of today?

15 A Not directly, no.

16 Q So based on this e-mail, it's a foregone conclusion as of 17 January 28th that Detroit will be filing a bankruptcy, isn't
18 it?

19 A No.

20 MS. BRIMER: Your Honor, I'd like to move for the 21 admission of this exhibit. It was not one of the stipulated
22 exhibits.

23 THE COURT: What number is that?

24 MS. BRIMER: 853, your Honor.

25 THE COURT: Any objections to 853?

1 MR. SHUMAKER: I believe it's already in evidence,
2 your Honor.

3 THE COURT: Ah, let's just check. It wasn't on the 4 original list. Kelli, do we show it in the meantime? All
5 right. Well, if it hasn't been admitted, we'll admit it now.

6 (Exhibit 853 received at 9:29 a.m.)

7 MS. BRIMER: Thank you, your Honor.

8 BY MS. BRIMER:

9 Q Were you at all involved in the preparation of the RFP by 10 Jones Day?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And what was your involvement?

13 A Generally speaking, reviewing drafts, perhaps preparing
14 comments, things along those lines.

15 Q Do you know when that process took place?

16 A I believe it took place sometime in mid to late January.
17 That was my involvement.

18 Q 809. Well, again, this isn't the e-mail that I had 19 marked as 809.

20 MS. BRIMER: Your Honor, if I may approach the 21 witness. I don't even need this in. I was going to refresh
22 his memory.

23 THE COURT: Okay.

24 BY MS. BRIMER:

25 Q So from that e-mail it's clear that the RFP was not even

1 issued to the firms until February 27th; is that correct?

2 A This e-mail?

3 Q Well, see, that's an e-mail to you.

4 A I think we are talking about different documents.

5 Q A different RFP?

6 MR. SHUMAKER: Objection, your Honor. The issue is 7 whether it refreshed the witness' recollection, I believe.

8 THE WITNESS: Yeah. I have no knowledge of --

9 THE COURT: Don't testify about the content of the 10 document. The only issue is what you remember after having 11 read it.

12 THE WITNESS: Nothing related to this document, your
13 Honor.

14 BY MS. BRIMER:

15 Q Were you involved with the Jones Day RFP that was 16 submitted in early March?

17 A No.

18 Q So to this day you're still unaware that the members of 19 the Jones Day team have been involved with the City of 20 Detroit since March of -- at least March of 2012?

21 A No. I became aware of it as part of this process.

22 Q And when was that?

23 A At some point last week or week before.

24 Q Do you know when Jones Day's engagement agreement with 25 the city was executed?

1 A No.

2 Q Do you know if it was after you were appointed as the
3 emergency manager?

4 A It might have been.

5 MS. BRIMER: I have nothing further, your Honor.

6 MR. PLECHA: Good morning, your Honor. Ryan Plecha
7 on behalf of the Retiree Association parties.

8 CROSS-EXAMINATION

9 BY MR. PLECHA:

10 Q Good morning, Mr. Orr.

11 A Good morning, Mr. Plecha.

12 Q I just have a couple of quick questions for you. Prior 13 to the June 14th proposal for creditors, had you at that 14 point advised retirees that the city intended to cut accrued
15 vested pension rights?

16 A I don't think so.

17 THE COURT: Excuse me, sir. Could you point that 18 microphone more at you? Just turn it. There you go. Thank
19 you.

20 MR. PLECHA: Thank you.

21 BY MR. PLECHA:

22 Q Then isn't it also correct that the retirees would not 23 have had two years to prepare for those cuts?

24 A No.

25 Q It's not true?

1 A No.

2 Q How would the retirees have known that cuts were coming?

3 A Issues regarding pensions and potential reductions were 4 discussed in this city for a number of years prior to my
5 appointment.

6 Q Okay. When do you know or when was the first time you
7 were aware of that?

8 A When I was doing --

9 THE COURT: Excuse me. Is the question when did he 10 become aware of it, or when does he understand they were --
11 that these issues were first discussed?

12 MR. PLECHA: When does he believe they were first
13 discussed? Thank you, your Honor.

14 THE WITNESS: I don't know a specific date, but I
15 know that in doing some research for the position, I recall
16 discussions in late 2011 and 2012 regarding OPEB and 17 pensions.

18 BY MR. PLECHA:

19 Q And did that involve cutting vested pension rights?

20 A I don't recall.

21 Q Okay. You or someone on your staff has requested answers
22 from the union on whether they would represent retirees;
23 correct?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Did anyone on your staff contact the Detroit Retired City

1 Employees Association to ask if they would represent
2 retirees?

3 A I don't know.

4 Q Did you ask anyone on the DRCEA?

5 A Not personally, no.

6 Q Okay. Did you ask the Retired Detroit Police and Fire
7 Fighters Association if they would represent retirees?

8 A Personally?

9 Q Correct.

10 A I don't think so.

11 Q Did anyone on your staff?

12 A I don't know.

13 Q Upon taking office, did you have conversations with City
14 Council members?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Did you ask them if there were any retiree
17 representatives you should speak with?

18 A I don't recall.

19 Q Isn't it true that retiree representatives are entitled 20 under the city charter to attend budget hearings and 21 legislative proceedings of the city?

22 A I believe citizens -- yeah. I believe citizens are 23 entitled to attend those meetings, yes.

24 Q Isn't it true that the DRCEA has been formally invited
25 and participated in budget hearings before City Council?

1 A They may well have.

2 Q Isn't it true that the RDPFFA has been formally invited
3 and participated in budget hearings before the council?

4 A They, too, may well have.

5 Q But you're not aware?

6 A Not with specificity, counsel.

7 Q To your knowledge, is the RDPFFA a plaintiff or co-
8 plaintiff in any of the July 2013 litigation?

9 A I don't recall.

10 Q Do you know if the DRCEA was a plaintiff or co-plaintiff
11 in any of the July 2013 litigation?

12 A I don't recall.

13 Q Did you ask either of those groups if they were going to 14 file a lawsuit?

15 A Not that I recall.

16 Q Then isn't it true that the RDPFFA and the DRCEA were not 17 being litigious?

18 A If they weren't filing suits?

19 Q "Yes" or "no" is okay.

20 A I don't know.

21 Q So how would they be litigious if they weren't filing
22 lawsuits?

23 A They may have been. Sitting here today, I don't know if 24 they joined suits or were involved or if they were working
25 together behind the scenes. I don't know.

1 Q Did you ever ask them?

2 A No, I don't think I have.

3 Q Did anyone on your staff ask them?

4 A I don't know.

5 Q Mr. Orr, you testified that you never turned down a
6 request for a meeting; is that correct?

7 A Me or my staff, yes.

8 Q Okay. Do you recall receiving a letter from Ms. Shirley
9 Lightsey on May 4th requesting a meeting?

10 A No.

11 MR. PLECHA: If we could please show Exhibit 309,
12 which has been admitted into evidence.

13 BY MR. PLECHA:

14 Q Do you recall receiving this letter?

15 A No.

16 Q Do you see that it clearly requests a meeting?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And that meeting never happened?

19 A Not that I recall with me.

20 Q Did you or anyone on your staff schedule a meeting
21 specifically with the DRCEA?

22 A I don't recall.

23 Q And do you see that it says that the DRCEA has been the 24 eyes and ears of the GRS system retirees, now nearly 12,000,
25 since 1960?

1 A I see what it says on the document.

2 Q At any of the meetings you attended relating to
3 restructuring, you testified that you answered all questions;
4 correct?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Did you ask the individuals asking those questions if 7 you, in fact, answered their questions?

8 A I don't recall.

9 Q So it's possible that you responded without actually
10 answering the heart of the question?

11 A I don't know.

12 Q Is it possible?

13 A Anything is possible.

14 Q But you didn't ask them if their answer -- if their 15 questions were answered; correct?

16 A I just said I don't --

17 Q Did you ask them --

18 A I just said I don't recall.

19 Q Okay. Okay. Do you have any agreement with Jones Day to 20 rejoin the firm after your EM term expires?

21 A No.

22 Q Did you have any discussions with Jones Day about
23 rejoining the firm?

24 A No.

25 MR. PLECHA: No further questions.

1 MS. PATEK: Good morning, your Honor. Barbara Patek
2 on behalf of the Detroit public safety unions.

3 CROSS-EXAMINATION

4 BY MS. PATEK:

5 Q Good morning, Mr. Orr.

6 A Good morning, Ms. Patek.

7 Q Mr. Orr, I want to start with the idea of metrics and 8 milestones, which you talked about in your testimony last
9 week. When you became the emergency manager, did you seek 10 out or ask the state, the treasurer, the governor, any 11 representative of the state about establishing milestones or 12 metrics with regard to your going forward as the emergency
13 manager?

14 A In what respect?

15 Q In terms of -- well, you told us last week that, for 16 example, there were certain milestones or metrics that were 17 set forth in past consent agreements with the city that the 18 city did not meet.

19 A Yes.

20 Q Did you make any effort when you became the emergency
21 manager to attempt to negotiate with the state additional 22 milestones and metrics that might have facilitated your 23 performance?

24 A Not that I recall.

25 Q And you were asked by Ms. Brimer with regard to whether

1 you had sought any additional support from the state since
2 becoming appointed emergency manager, and you said not
3 directly. Have you indirectly sought such support from the 4 state? And I want to focus my question on from the time
5 period that you were appointed the emergency manager until 6 the date of the filing of the bankruptcy petition.

7 A Yes.

8 Q And can you tell us what support you've sought and how?

9 A The Belle Isle lease relieves the city of tens if not 10 hundreds of millions of dollars in liability over 30 years.
11 MMSA assisting the city with rolling out the benefit plan
12 relieves the city of several million dollars of obligation.
13 For instance, also having the state assist us with tax
14 collection provides the city with enhanced revenue collection
15 and milestones, things of those nature -- things of that 16 nature, which are operational.

17 Q Have you indirectly or otherwise asked the state for any 18 assistance with the anticipated unfunded pension liability?

19 A You mean cash assistance?

20 Q Yes.

21 A Not directly.

22 Q And what about indirectly?

23 A Not that I recall.

24 Q At the time you took the job as emergency manager for the 25 City of Detroit, you were a very experienced bankruptcy and

1 restructuring professional. Is that fair?

2 A I had practiced in the area of bankruptcy and
3 restructuring for a long period of time, yes.

4 Q And you had extensive experience in Chapter 11 with 5 corporate or business reorganizations?

6 A Yes.

7 Q Did you also have experience with municipal
8 reorganizations either inside or outside of court?

9 A Municipal reorganizations?

10 Q Yes. Municipal restructuring.

11 A Not in the sense that you mean, no.

12 Q You had not before participated as counsel in a Chapter
13 9?

14 A That is correct.

15 Q And you had not, I take it from your testimony,
16 participated in -- on behalf of a municipality in a
17 restructuring or reorganization in an effort to address
18 municipal debt?

19 A I think in my days in Florida I did land use and other
20 types of practices, but I don't think it's the nature of what 21 you're inquiring about.

22 Q And had you ever been involved in a restructuring or 23 insolvency proceeding where public safety was an issue in the 24 case? And so I'm clear, I'm talking about municipal 25 provision of public safety.

1 A Do you mean like police, fire, and EMS --

2 Q Yes.

3 A -- as opposed to public safety at large?

4 Q Yes.

5 A I get the gist of your question. There are cases I'm
6 involved with that certainly had public safety implications,
7 but the nature of your question is of this character, and I
8 think it's fair to say not in the sense that you mean.

9 Q And you have an impressive resume, but I take it you,
10 before your appointment as an emergency manager, never worked
11 as a police officer or a fire fighter?

12 A I never worked as a police officer or fire fighter.

13 Q And I take it upon undertaking your responsibilities as 14 emergency manager, you undertook to educate yourself about 15 the jobs that the police and fire do in the City of Detroit?

16 A Yeah. I'd like to think I had done some of that before
17 becoming emergency manager, but, yes, specifically with 18 regard to police and fire in the City of Detroit.

19 Q And you would agree with me that the ability of the City
20 of Detroit to provide effective public safety services is at 21 the core of what's essential to Detroit's survival?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And would you agree with me that at the time you assumed
24 the role of emergency manager, that the working conditions
25 for fire and police in the City of Detroit were, in fact,

1 deplorable?

2 A The working conditions were substandard.

3 Q Would you agree that at the time you assumed the position
4 of emergency manager, that the police department was, in 5 terms of its ability to provide effective public safety,
6 undermanned?

7 A The reason I'm hesitating, I've seen studies that address
8 deployment, so on and so forth, and whether it's a manpower
9 issue and the number of people that are doing clerical jobs
10 as opposed to the 30 percent that should be on the street, so
11 I don't know how to answer your question. I don't know.

12 Q You don't know the answer to that?

13 A I don't know the answer, no.

14 Q With respect to its ability to provide adequate fire
15 protection for the citizens, businesses, and visitors to the 16 City of Detroit, would you agree that the Detroit Fire
17 Department was, at the time you assumed the position of 18 emergency manager, undermanned?

19 A I would agree that it was substandard, yes.

20 Q And would you agree that one of your most important
21 obligations in the course of this city's restructuring is to 22 ensure that at the end of the day that the City of Detroit
23 has enough qualified, committed, well-trained, and well-
24 equipped police and fire fighters to provide effective public
25 safety for its residents, businesses, and visitors?

1 A Yes.

2 Q At the time you were involved in the Jones Day pitch
3 proposal to the City of Detroit in late January and perhaps
4 into early February of this year, did you have any
5 understanding with regard to whether or not, as a general
6 matter, public safety officers -- that is, police and fire --
7 were participants in the federal Social Security program?

8 A As of the pitch?

9 Q Yes.

10 A I don't recall.

11 Q At the time you assumed the position of emergency manager
12 in March of 2013, did you have an understanding as to whether 13 or not police and fire in the City of Detroit were 14 participants in the federal Social Security program?

15 A I don't recall.

16 Q Do you know whether or not by the time you issued your 17 financial operating plan for the City of Detroit in May of 18 2013 whether you were aware at that time that police and fire
19 fighters for the City of Detroit were not participants in 20 Social Security?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And I take it then certainly at the time of the June 14th
23 proposal you were also aware that they were not participants
24 in Social Security?

25 A Yes.

1 Q And did you also have an understanding that for police or 2 fire fighters hired before March 31st of 1986 those
3 individuals also were not participants or did not have 4 access, at least through their employment with the City of 5 Detroit, to the Medicare program?

6 A No.

7 Q Do you understand that sitting here today?

8 A Yes.

9 Q At the time you took the position of the emergency
10 manager, you indicated that you went back and you looked back
11 at the relationship between the various unions, including
12 public safety unions, and the City of Detroit. Is that fair?

13 A I think I did some of that prior to me becoming emergency
14 manager, but I think your statement is fair.

15 Q So you had reviewed at least what would have been the 16 existing collective bargaining agreements at the time you
17 became the emergency manager?

18 A I don't recall.

19 Q Was it your impression that the city, as of the time that 20 you became the emergency manager, had made great strides
21 under the consent agreement in reducing costs imposed by the 22 active and expired collective bargaining agreements that 23 affected the city's relationship with the various unions?

24 A No.

25 Q Was it your impression that some of the cost savings that

1 the city had achieved prior to your assuming the role of
2 emergency manager had actually been achieved through interest
3 arbitration awards under Act 312?

4 A I think it's fair to say there were cost savings achieved
5 associated with police and fire, but there were also
6 arbitration awards that restored some of those savings.

7 Q You would agree that some of the cost savings, however,
8 that had been achieved had been achieved through the --
9 through Act 312 interest arbitration awards?

10 A Yes, some.

11 Q At the time -- well, strike that. Did you ever review
12 any of the concessionary agreements that had been negotiated
13 between the city and some of the public safety unions prior 14 to your assuming the role of emergency manager?

15 A I don't recall.

16 Q Are you aware sitting here today that such agreements, in 17 fact, existed?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And is it your understanding that those agreements were 20 never, in fact, implemented by the City of Detroit?

21 A To be fair, there are aspects that may have been
22 implemented through CET's and through give-backs of costs,
23 but the agreements in toto I'm unaware of.

24 Q So stated another way, there were, in fact, negotiated
25 agreements that included cost savings that were not made

1 effective or were not implemented in toto; correct?

2 A Yes.

3 Q And instead what happened was the city implemented the 4 aspects of those agreement that the city liked and imposed
5 them on the various unions?

6 A I don't know the city liked or not. I know that the city
7 implemented certain aspects of those agreements.

8 Q And would it be fair to say that those -- they would --
9 well, strike that. You were appointed -- or you assumed the 10 role of emergency financial manager on March 25th, 2013;
11 correct?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And that was three days before Public Act 436 became 14 effective?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And is it true that by virtue of your appointment on 17 March 25th, the city -- well, strike that. Let me withdraw
18 that. Were you or did you become aware of an Act 312 award
19 issued on or about March 25th, 2013, that involved the city
20 and the Detroit Police Officers Association?

21 A Talking about the arbitrator, Mr. Roumell, DPOA award?

22 Q Yes, I am.

23 A Yes. I think I became aware of that on or about the
24 25th.

25 Q And did you review that award?

1 A I don't recall, but I think I did.

2 Q And do you recall -- did you play any role as the 3 emergency manager in any decision to appeal any portion of 4 the -- I'm going to call it the Roumell arbitration award?

5 A I believe I was consulted and advised as to the reasons
6 why, so to that extent, yes.

7 Q Okay. And was it your understanding that the only
8 portion of the Roumell award that was appealed by the City of 9 Detroit was the portion of the award that would have given
10 back to the DPOA's members part of the ten-percent pay cut
11 that had been imposed on them?

12 A Yeah. If you're talking about the five-percent give-
13 back, that's -- there may have been other provisions, but I
14 recall that.

15 Q And is it your understanding that the terms of that Act
16 312 award form now the basis of the contractual relationship
17 between the city and the Detroit Police Officers Association?

18 A Without straying into a legal conclusion, I'm aware that 19 there's an Act 312 award. I'm aware that there's an appeal
20 of the award. I'm aware that it gave back five percent.

21 Q And are you -- do you have an understanding here today as 22 to whether or not that Act 312 award, leaving aside the 23 appeal of the five-percent give-back, governs the 24 relationship between the City of Detroit and the Detroit
25 Police Officers Association and its members as we sit here

1 today?

2 MR. SHUMAKER: Objection, your Honor. Relevance.

3 MS. PATEK: Your Honor, I think it's absolutely
4 relevant. I think the -- I think to date the city has not
5 directly acknowledged that there is a contract between the 6 Detroit Police Officers Association and the city, and it's 7 our position that there is.

8 THE COURT: How is that relevant to eligibility?

9 MS. PATEK: I think it's relevant to eligibility
10 from the standpoint of the city's obligations with respect to 11 negotiating. It's a city's ability to impose terms in that
12 regard.

13 THE COURT: All right. It's arguable. I'll permit
14 it.

15 THE WITNESS: I don't know if it forms a contractual
16 relationship.

17 MS. PATEK: Can I have City's Exhibit 75? And I'm 18 looking at page 13.

19 BY MS. PATEK:

20 Q Mr. Orr, I'm going to ask you to take a look at City
21 Exhibit 75 and look at the first few lines of -- under 22 "Bargaining Unit Overview." And I'm going to ask you if 23 the -- reading that -- well, strike that. This is a document
24 that you authored; correct?

25 A Can we just verify which document you're talking about?

1 This is the report?

2 Q Yes. This is City Exhibit 75 --

3 A The May 12th report.

4 Q -- the financial May -- yes.

5 A Okay. That's the financial and operating plan. Okay.

6 Q And you authored this document?

7 A I and my team authored this document. I didn't write it
8 out longhand.

9 Q And this is the document that you told us was not a
10 plebescite. This is just the fact of the way it is for the 11 City of Detroit as of May 12th, 2013.

12 A Yes. This is the document caught up in that interview
13 and all that statement.

14 Q And --

15 A Can we go back?

16 Q Looking at the first sentence under "Labor Initiatives,
17 Bargaining Unit Overview, and Collective Bargaining Agreement
18 Consolidation," does that refresh your recollection as to 19 whether, in fact, the city had made great strides under the 20 consent agreement in reducing costs imposed by its numerous
21 active and expired collective bargaining agreements?

22 A Yes, for all 48 CBA's.

23 Q And some of those cost savings, as we've already 24 established, included the cost savings received by -- through 25 interest arbitration awards?

1 A Yes. I think we just talked about that.

2 MS. PATEK: Can I have 720? And if we can go to the 3 second page --

4 BY MS. PATEK:

5 Q One of the things that Public Act 436 did was to allow 6 you, at your option, to suspend collective bargaining with 7 the various unions who had collective bargaining
8 relationships with the city; is that right?

9 A Well, here again, without straying into legal
10 conclusions, I think the act does that by itself, but, yes,
11 it suspends collective bargaining for five years.

12 Q You were not -- you could have at your option chose to 13 bargain collectively with the various unions. Is that fair?

14 A I'm not sure.

15 Q Well, and, in fact, you did choose to do so with respect
16 to some of the transportation unions; isn't that right?

17 A No.

18 Q You did not continue to bargain collectively with the --
19 any of the transportation unions?

20 A No. I think I've instructed my team to make it very 21 clear that any discussions or negotiations we are engaged in 22 are not collective bargaining or waiving that provision under 23 the statute.

24 MS. PATEK: I'm going to ask you to flip back to 75
25 for a moment, and I'd like page 14.

1 BY MS. PATEK:

2 Q And if you look at the first sentence, Mr. Orr, when you
3 issued your March 12, 2013, report, was it accurate that the 4 city was currently bargaining with transportation employees
5 covered under Section 13(c) of the Federal Mass Transit Act?

6 A Yes, but they have an exemption from other provisions,
7 which I think we validated at some point prior to this.

8 Q So, in fact, the city was bargaining with the 9 transportation employees?

10 A Transportation is separate under 13(c) of the Federal 11 Transportation Act. They have an exemption which supersedes
12 the state provision of 436.

13 Q Was it your understanding that you could not, even if you
14 wanted or chose to do so, bargain collectively with any of 15 the public safety unions after March 28th, 2013?

16 A I'm not sure. That may draw for -- call for a legal 17 conclusion.

18 Q You don't know one way or the other?

19 A Yeah. I think that's correct. I'd consult counsel.

20 MS. PATEK: We can go back to page 2 of the 21 timeline.

22 BY MS. PATEK:

23 Q Did you at some point in time shortly after your 24 appointment as emergency manager authorize city
25 representatives to file a motion in an effort to block Act

1 312 proceedings that had been filed by, among others, the
2 Detroit Police Command Officers Association and Detroit
3 Police Lieutenants and Sergeants Association?

4 MR. SHUMAKER: Objection, your Honor. Relevance.

5 MS. PATEK: Again, your Honor, this goes to 6 negotiating in good faith. I mean if --

7 THE COURT: I'll permit it. Go ahead.

8 THE WITNESS: Yes, I believe so.

9 BY MS. PATEK:

10 Q And do you know if you were aware at the time you
11 authorized the filing of that motion that the Detroit Police
12 Command Officers Association did not have a collective 13 bargaining agreement with the city?

14 A DPCOA?

15 Q Yes.

16 A I don't recall.

17 Q Were you aware that there were a number of collective
18 bargaining agreements, including the Detroit Police
19 Lieutenants and Sergeants Association's, which was scheduled
20 to expire on June 30th of 2013 at the time you authorized
21 that motion?

22 A I believe a number of CBA's were due to expire on the 23 30th. I don't recall with specificity if DPLSA's was one of 24 them. I have no reason to believe that it was not.

25 Q And are you aware that ultimately there was an order that

1 came out of the Michigan Employee Relations Commission, in
2 fact, on June 14th which blocked those Act 312 proceedings
3 from going forward?

4 A I don't recall the date, but I remember an order.

5 Q You knew before you assumed the role of emergency manager
6 that one of the issues you would have to find a way to 7 address was -- were the pension issues and the legacy costs
8 that faced the City of Detroit?

9 A Yes, I believe so.

10 Q And you certainly knew that that might entail having to 11 address the accrued vested pension rights of Detroit public
12 safety employees?

13 A Yes, I believe so.

14 Q And in terms of your ability to address those issues, you
15 had the benefit of multiple advisors, including Ernst &
16 Young, Conway MacKenzie, Miller Buckfire, Jones Day, Miller
17 Canfield, and the city legal department to help you get your 18 arms around what needed to be done to address those issues?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And all of those various advisors, I take it, assisted 21 you in preparing the first financial operating report that 22 was issued on -- or operating plan that was issued on May 12,
23 2013?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And Public Act 436, in fact, I think you testified

1 earlier, gave you 45 days to put together that financial
2 operating plan; correct?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And with the assistance of those advisors, you needed
5 every bit of those 45 days to do so?

6 A We used 45 days, but there are analyses that were already
7 in the works.

8 Q And we can agree that the financial operating plan was 9 not rolled out early, but it was rolled out in a timely
10 fashion?

11 A Yes. It was rolled out on time.

12 Q And then you had -- I think we've talked about earlier on 13 June 10th you had your first public meeting at Wayne State
14 University to discuss that financial and operating plan?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And your first proposal with respect to what would happen
17 with the accrued vested pension benefits was rolled out four
18 days later on June 14th of 2013, about 75 days or two and a
19 half months after you took office?

20 MR. SHUMAKER: Objection, your Honor. Asked and 21 answered.

22 THE COURT: Sustained.

23 BY MS. PATEK:

24 Q And I don't want to go back over the time line of the 25 various meetings. I want to jump ahead. You know, we've

1 talked about the June 14th meetings, and I believe you
2 testified to some meetings June 20th, July 10th and 11th held
3 with the various unions, including the public safety unions.

4 MS. PATEK: I'd like to bring up -- I think it's 5 704, and this is in evidence.

6 BY MS. PATEK:

7 Q Mr. Orr, have you seen this letter before? It's a letter
8 on Detroit Fire Fighters Association letterhead dated July
9 12th, 2013.

10 A I believe so.

11 Q And wasn't one of your goals in terms of when you rolled
12 out the proposal on June 14th to -- in addition to addressing 13 the legacy costs, to establish some uniformity among the 14 contracts between the city and its various unions?

15 A I think that's fair, yes.

16 Q And this June 12th letter went to Mr. Miller and Mr.
17 Heiman, who were two of the contact people to whom people
18 were directed at the June 14th meeting and at the later
19 benefits meeting?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And if we scroll down to the bottom, this letter came
22 from the presidents of each of the four public safety unions;
23 that is, the fire fighters, the Detroit Police Command
24 Officers Association, the Detroit Police Lieutenants and 25 Sergeants Association, and the Detroit Police Officers

1 Association?

2 A Yes. I see their initials behind their signatures, but I
3 assume there was authority for them to sign it, so the answer
4 is yes.

5 Q And would you agree with me that at this point in time
6 that it may have been beneficial for the city in terms of its 7 effort to get uniform contracts to be able to negotiate with 8 these four public safety unions as a coalition?

9 A It may or may not have been either as a coalition or 10 either individually.

11 Q You don't have an opinion one way or the other?

12 A No.

13 Q Do you know whether or not historically these unions had 14 negotiated individually as opposed to as a coalition with the 15 City of Detroit?

16 A I don't recall.

17 Q And during this letter, the individuals who sent the 18 letter were requesting specific restructuring proposals from 19 the city. Do you see that in the third full paragraph?

20 A Yes. I see what it says.

21 Q And we've covered this earlier. You can agree that while
22 there was a statement that accrued vested pension benefits
23 would have to be significantly impaired, there was no
24 specific proposal as to by how much?

25 A On June 14?

1 Q Yes.

2 A Yes.

3 Q And I take it that would also have been true as of the 4 date of this letter as of July 12th?

5 A I don't recall.

6 Q Do you have any information sitting here today that there
7 was a more specific proposal provided to any of the Detroit
8 Fire Fighters Association, the Detroit Police Command
9 Officers Association, the Detroit Police Lieutenants and
10 Sergeants Association, or the Detroit Police Officers
11 Association as of July 12th, 2013?

12 A Do I have any specific information that more detailed 13 information was provided? Is that your question?

14 Q That specific proposal --

15 A Oh, okay.

16 Q -- a more specific proposal was provided.

17 A I don't recall.

18 Q Do you know whether or not you received a copy of this
19 letter from anyone at or around July 12th, 2013?

20 A I received it at some point. I don't recall if it was at 21 or around the 13th, but somewhere in that time frame.

22 Q Do you know whether or not you, as the emergency manager,
23 played any role in directing the city's response to this
24 communication from the four public safety unions?

25 A There were a lot of discussions about reaching out to the

1 public safety unions, and that may have included this time or
2 later more information, so I don't recall with specificity if
3 it was at or around this time.

4 Q And I want to skip down to the next paragraph in that
5 letter and actually the next two paragraphs. The letter
6 states that the four public safety unions were reviewing and 7 will provide the city with specific proposals, but it would
8 be productive if the city could provide us with its specific 9 proposals on pension benefit restructuring as soon as 10 possible. Do you see that?

11 A Yes.

12 Q This was six days before the city filed its bankruptcy
13 petition; correct?

14 A I believe so.

15 Q Do you know whether or not anybody either from Jones Day
16 or from your office made any effort to contact any of these 17 four individuals with regard to providing them with 18 counterproposals?

19 A I know there were a lot of discussions with certain 20 groups here. I don't know if they were provided with 21 specific proposals.

22 Q I want to jump ahead to Exhibit 705. And we know in 23 terms of our timeline that on July 16th you had already 24 written the governor to ask for authorization to file for 25 Chapter 9 protection; correct?

1 A Yes.

2 Q And have you seen this letter before, that being Exhibit
3 705, which is a July 17th, 2013, letter on Jones Day
4 stationery?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And the letter is addressed to the four presidents of the 7 four Detroit public safety unions, is it not?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And the letter itself does not indicate whether it was 10 transmitted by e-mail, regular mail, or some other means?

11 A That's correct. I don't see it.

12 Q The letter starts out, "Thank you for your letter of July
13 12th, and thank you for further continuing to discuss in good
14 faith the difficult issue of pension restructuring. The 15 office of the emergency manager appreciates your strong 16 cooperation." Do you know if you directly authorized the 17 sending of this letter?

18 A I instructed my team to continue cooperating and reaching
19 out to the various stakeholders. I don't recall if I
20 directly authorized this particular letter.

21 Q Was it your impression and understanding that as of July
22 17th, 2003 (sic), that the four public safety unions were 23 cooperating and, in fact, providing strong cooperation in 24 terms of being willing to discuss and negotiate and address
25 the difficult legacy cost issues that were facing the city?

1 A It was my understanding that there were ongoing
2 discussions without characterizing the level of cooperation.

3 Q You certainly would not have authorized the lawyers at
4 Jones Day to put something that was not true in a letter
5 going out to the public safety officers?

6 A I certainly would hope not.

7 Q Is it your position prior to the filing of the 8 bankruptcy -- well, strike that. As a bankruptcy
9 practitioner, you've been involved in, I take it, many 10 difficult negotiations.

11 A Yes. I think that's fair.

12 Q And we can all agree that -- even those of us who are 13 litigators, that a consensual solution is generally
14 preferable to a litigated solution?

15 A Yes. We can agree with that.

16 Q Because it gives both parties input into and control --
17 at least some control over the outcome?

18 A There are a number of reasons, but those are part of 19 them, yes.

20 Q And it also gives the participating parties some 21 ownership of whatever that decision turns out to be?

22 A There are a number of reasons. Among them may be those 23 reasons as well.

24 Q You are certainly aware of the give and take that's 25 necessary in such negotiations for them to be successful?

1 A Yes.

2 Q And you're also aware that sometimes, especially when the
3 issues are complicated and long-standing, that they can take
4 an extended period of time?

5 A Sometimes they can; sometimes they can't.

6 Q Did you ever consider upon assuming the role of emergency
7 manager at any time prior to the filing of the bankruptcy
8 petition using the opportunity to potentially extend the 9 contracts of the four Detroit public safety unions as a
10 bargaining tool to address the difficult legacy and pension
11 issues facing the city? And that's a "yes" or --

12 A I may have. I don't recall with specificity.

13 Q You elected not to do so, however?

14 A We may have with regard to some of the bargaining units.
15 I just don't recall.

16 Q Did you consider, based upon your prior experience as a
17 bankruptcy practitioner, whether it might chill your ability
18 to negotiate these difficult pension restructuring issues
19 with the public safety employees to tell the unions that you
20 were exercising your right not to bargain collectively with 21 them?

22 A No.

23 Q With respect to -- well, strike that. The June 14th
24 proposal that was put out at the airport, did that proposal
25 contain terms that could be accepted or rejected within the

1 time frame between June 14th and July 18th?

2 A It might have.

3 Q You can't say one way or the other?

4 A No. I'm saying people may have been willing to accept
5 terms in the proposal. It might have.

6 Q Well, there was no -- I think we've already established
7 there was no specific proposal with respect to how the 8 accrued vested pension benefits were going to be impaired by 9 that proposal.

10 A I think that's correct.

11 Q And so even if the public safety unions or one of the 12 other unions had been willing to accept, there really was not 13 a proposal with enough -- let's call it meat on it for them
14 to accept at that time?

15 A I don't know what they would have required to accept, so
16 there might have been.

17 Q Was it your -- well, in terms of the active employees,
18 you certainly understood by the time of the June 14th
19 proposal that for the police and -- active police and fire
20 employees that if their pension benefits were significantly
21 impaired by the restructuring, that they would not have 22 through their employment at the City of Detroit the benefit
23 of falling back on Social Security?

24 A I think that's fair.

25 Q And you also understood -- strike that. Did you have an

1 understanding in terms of the pension restructuring as to how
2 that restructuring would affect their ability to receive duty
3 disability; that is, for police and fire fighters who were 4 disabled as a result of on-the-job injuries, whether and how 5 they would be impacted by the restructuring proposal?

6 A Did I have an understanding when?

7 Q As of June 14th when you made -- when you put the 8 restructuring proposal out at the airport --

9 A Right.

10 Q -- did you have an understanding as to how significant 11 impairments of accrued vested pension benefits would affect 12 disabled police and fire fighters?

13 A I think sometime around this time, I had a general
14 understanding, including disability and physical therapy. I
15 don't recall if it was with the level of specificity you seem 16 to be implying.

17 Q Can you tell me generally what your understanding was?

18 A Well, my understanding was that there would have been 19 impacts to some of their coverage, and we were discussing 20 perhaps ways of addressing that.

21 Q As rolled out, the June 14th proposal did not address
22 those issues, though; correct?

23 A I don't think the proposal itself did.

24 MS. PATEK: I think that's all I have, Mr. Orr.

25 THE WITNESS: Thank you.

1 THE COURT: Any other questions for the witness?

2 All right, sir. You are excused.

3 MR. SHUMAKER: Your Honor, I do have a few redirect
4 if I could.

5 THE COURT: Oh, you do?

6 MR. SHUMAKER: Yes, if I may.

7 THE COURT: I didn't hear you reply.

8 MR. SHUMAKER: I'm sorry. I thought you were asking
9 the objectors.

10 THE COURT: Go for it.

11 MR. SHUMAKER: Sorry about that, your Honor. For 12 the record, Gregory Shumaker of Jones Day for the city.

13 REDIRECT EXAMINATION

14 BY MR. SHUMAKER:

15 Q Good morning, Mr. Orr.

16 A Good morning, Mr. Shumaker.

17 Q I'm going to jump around here a little bit, but I'd like 18 to ask you a few questions about some of the questions you've 19 been asked over the last three days of cross-examination.

20 I'd like to show you Exhibit 418, and I believe Mr. Ullman,
21 if you can recall back that far, asked you a few questions
22 about this document, and this is the Jones Day pitch book;
23 correct?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Mr. Ullman showed you a page where Jones Day discussed

1 filing a Chapter 9 case if one was warranted. Do you recall
2 that?

3 A Yes.

4 Q I want to show you a page that Mr. Ullman did not show
5 you.

6 MR. SHUMAKER: Go to page 13. Thank you. And could
7 you blow up the top there, Laurie?

8 BY MR. SHUMAKER:

9 Q Mr. Orr, you just testified in response to some of Ms.
10 Patek's questions that out-of-court solutions are preferred.
11 Was this -- first of all, was this slide shown to the 12 participants of the January 29th --

13 A Yes.

14 Q -- meeting? And did you agree with this slide when it
15 was shown?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Why would out-of-court solutions be preferred?

18 A For a number of reasons listed here but also because, as 19 I think I testified during my cross with Mr. Ullman, the 20 issues that are being discussed in this deck had been 21 examined by the city over a number of years.

22 Q And the benefits listed are the ones that you're 23 referring to down below?

24 A Yes.

25 Q When you became emergency manager, did you agree that an

1 out-of-court solution was preferable?

2 A Yes.

3 Q Is that what you were aiming for in the months from March
4 25th through July 18th?

5 A Yes.

6 MR. MONTGOMERY: Objection. Leading, your Honor.

7 THE COURT: No. That question is not leading. I'll
8 permit it. Go ahead.

9 THE WITNESS: Yes, your Honor.

10 BY MR. SHUMAKER:

11 Q Mr. Orr, at the bottom of that slide, there's a point
12 that says "extremely difficult to achieve in practice." Do 13 you see that?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Do you have any understanding as to why Jones Day would 16 share that message with the city?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And why is that?

19 A Typically out-of-court solutions require parties to agree
20 to significant concessions in some cases to deal with legacy
21 issues that have been under discussion and under review for a
22 long period of time. Oftentime parties are unwilling for a
23 number of reasons to do that.

24 Q Is there anything in your subsequent experience as 25 emergency manager that has made you believe in any way that

1 Jones Day was wrong in that assessment?

2 A No.

3 Q Mr. DeChiara showed you Exhibit 44.

4 MR. SHUMAKER: If we could put that up, please.

5 BY MR. SHUMAKER:

6 Q And he showed you page 61 of that document.

7 MR. SHUMAKER: If you could blow that up, please.

8 BY MR. SHUMAKER:

9 Q Mr. DeChiara asked you a number of questions and 10 suggested that you had not stuck to the schedule because you
11 had filed on July 18th instead of July 19th. Do you recall
12 that?

13 A Yes.

14 Q He also indicated that someone had started drafting your 15 letter requesting authorization to file a Chapter 9 filing
16 earlier that week or later in the prior week. Do you recall
17 that testimony?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Did you believe that having someone start drafting up
20 your request for authorization was inconsistent with what you
21 had told the June 14 meeting participants?

22 A No, not at all.

23 Q Why was that?

24 A We had said at the meeting that we had to make some very 25 difficult decisions. If we were getting proposals in in the

1 nature of term sheets or agreement in principles, we might
2 extend it for another 30 days, but if we were not within that
3 time frame, that we were going to have to make a hard call.
4 I think I said the same thing at the June 10th meeting for --
5 public meeting and that, in fact, we were not getting
6 progress along those lines within this time frame.

7 Q So you mentioned the fact of possibly having to file a
8 Chapter 9 at both the June 10th and the June 14th meetings?

9 A Yes.

10 Q Were you keeping that fact, that there might have to be a
11 Chapter 9 filing, from those meeting attendees?

12 A No.

13 Q Mr. DeChiara also showed you another document. It was
14 Exhibit 620.

15 MR. SHUMAKER: If you could put that up, please.

16 BY MR. SHUMAKER:

17 Q I'm looking -- he was asking you about the second e-mail
18 down. It starts out "Kevyn."

19 MR. SHUMAKER: Yes. Thank you.

20 BY MR. SHUMAKER:

21 Q And Mr. DeChiara focused your attention on, I believe,
22 the last sentence there. Do you see that? It starts with 23 "if you agree."

24 A Yes.

25 Q Okay. My question is -- and he referred you, if you

1 recall, to the last clause of that sentence that talked
2 about, "Then I think that clearly establishes that you are 3 already behaving as an agent of the state committed to 4 getting Detroit back on track." Do you recall that?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And this e-mail was dated February 22nd, 2013; correct?

7 A Yes. That's what it says.

8 Q On that date, did you believe you were acting as an agent
9 of the state?

10 A No. I believe Mr. Baird was just salesmanship and 11 puffing, no legal conclusion.

12 Q Had you been offered the job of emergency manager at that
13 time?

14 A I don't think so.

15 Q Had you accepted the job of emergency manager at that 16 time?

17 A No.

18 Q Ms. Levine asked you a number of questions. If you
19 recall, she asked you about a note that Ed McNeil had taped
20 to your door. Do you recall that?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And she asked you a series of questions about whether you
23 had any meetings or phone calls with anybody from AFSCME
24 between March 25th and June 13th. Do you recall that?

25 A Yes.

1 Q She even asked you if you'd ever been in the same room
2 with AFSCME officials?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And you couldn't recall; correct?

5 A What are the dates?

6 Q March 25th through June 13th.

7 A Yes.

8 Q You couldn't recall?

9 A I couldn't recall.

10 Q And Ms. Patek just asked you some questions about -- 11 related questions about this, but was there anyone on your 12 team responsible for contacting the unions?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Including AFSCME?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Who were those team members?

17 A We had a number. Brian Easley of Jones Day would be 18 involved with the unions as well as Evan Miller. Lamont
19 Satchel had contacts with the unions. In fact, in the second
20 day, I believe AFSCME submitted a new two-year CBA, I think,
21 on the 27th, on the eve of the 28th. There would have been 22 other members of the legal team involved whose names escape
23 me right now.

24 Q I'm sorry. Did you say Mr. Miller?

25 A Yeah, Evan Miller, Brian Easley. Another is Lamont

1 Satchel, who is the city's labor negotiator, and others.

2 Q Do you know whether they ever made any contact with the
3 unions --

4 A I believe so.

5 Q -- during this time frame from March 25th through June
6 13th?

7 A Yes.

8 Q How about with AFSCME?

9 A I believe so.

10 Q Do you know whether they ever met with those officials?

11 A I believe they did, but I don't know with which 12 officials.

13 Q Do you know whether they sent them letters?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Did you instruct the team to contact the unions?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Including AFSCME?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Are you aware of communications between this team that 20 you just described and the unions?

21 A Yes.

22 Q I'd like to refer you to a document that is not in
23 evidence.

24 MR. SHUMAKER: I do not know -- this document is 25 Exhibit 32, your Honor. It's a composite exhibit, and it's a

1 lengthy one. It's about 148 pages. It is the -- provides
2 the underpinnings of Exhibit 32, which has been admitted into
3 evidence. 32 is the big chart.

4 THE COURT: You mentioned 32 twice now.

5 MR. SHUMAKER: Oh, I'm sorry. Did I? 36. I think
6 it's 36.

7 THE COURT: 36 is the one you're talking about?

8 MR. SHUMAKER: Yes, your Honor. Can you put up 36
9 now, please?

10 THE COURT: 36 is admitted.

11 MR. SHUMAKER: Yes, your Honor. And the question --
12 this document is not in evidence now. We'd like to move into 13 evidence. This is not 36. I'm referring to --

14 THE COURT: Which is the one you're moving now?

15 MR. SHUMAKER: Exhibit 32.

16 THE COURT: All right. So you're making that motion
17 now?

18 MR. SHUMAKER: Yes, your Honor.

19 THE COURT: Is there any objection to the admission
20 into evidence of Exhibit 32? All right. It is admitted.

21 (Debtor's Exhibit 32 received at 10:33 a.m.)

22 MR. SHUMAKER: Okay. If you could put up City
23 Exhibit 32.

24 BY MR. SHUMAKER:

25 Q Mr. Orr, do you have the -- could I refer you to the

1 binder of the exhibits that should be right in front of you?

2 A Yes.

3 Q There's a number of pages there, I know. I'd like to 4 direct your attention first, if you will, to the following
5 Bates number. For the record, it's DTM100084885. And for 6 convenience, Mr. Orr, if I could, I'll just refer to the last
7 three numbers of the Bates number from now on if that's okay
8 with you.

9 A Yes. That's fine.

10 Q Mr. Orr, do you see on the next page that you're cc'd on 11 this letter?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Will you take a look at that letter? Do you recognize 14 this letter?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And was it sent at your direction?

17 A Yes. I instructed my team generally to correspond and 18 reach out to all interested parties.

19 Q And who was this letter sent to?

20 A Mr. Garrett, who's president of AFSCME Council 25.

21 Q Now, I'd like you to take a look --

22 MR. SHUMAKER: If you could blow that up, Laurie,
23 just the -- no, just the address.

24 BY MR. SHUMAKER:

25 Q I'm sorry. When you say president of a local, what do

1 you mean by that?

2 A I think he's president of the council for the state,
3 AFSCME's Council 25, which includes the local here in
4 Detroit.

5 Q So this letter was sent to AFSCME on May 20th, 2013?

6 A Yes. That's what it says.

7 Q I ask you to take a look at the next several pages behind
8 this one, specifically to pages 889 through 924. And I know
9 that's a number of pages, but if you could take a look at 10 that, and if you will, I'd like to direct your particular 11 attention to the addressees of those letters.

12 A Yes.

13 Q First of all, could you count the number of letters that 14 I've referred you to, including the one to Mr. Garrett?

15 A One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine,
16 ten, eleven, twelve, thirteen, fourteen, fifteen, sixteen,
17 seventeen, eighteen, twenty -- I believe it comes in at 18 twenty.

19 Q And the addressees of those letters, who are they to?

20 A I believe the one to Mr. Garrett, as I said, is the 21 president of the council, and I believe the others are to the 22 presidents of the locals in various units.

23 Q So is it fair to say that your team that was dealing with 24 the unions sent out 20 letters to the presidents of AFSCME
25 locals?

1 A Yes. Well, 19 to the locals and 1 to the council
2 president.

3 Q Now, I'd like to -- do you know whether the unions ever
4 responded to these letters?

5 A I never received a response. I don't know if they 6 responded to someone else.

7 Q Did any of your team members ever share with you that 8 some of those letters had been responded to?

9 A No.

10 Q I'm going to refer you to page 811 through 812.

11 A Yes.

12 Q Are you there, Mr. Orr? Okay. And what's the date of 13 this letter?

14 A May 24th.

15 Q I'd ask you who signed this letter.

16 A Mr. Edward McNeil.

17 Q Is Mr. McNeil the person who taped the message on your 18 door?

19 A Yes, at least to the best of my knowledge. I didn't see 20 him do it.

21 Q I'd like to direct your attention to the first paragraph,
22 if you will. Would you take a look at the second sentence of 23 that paragraph, please, sir?

24 A Yes.

25 Q It says, "Please be advised that in accordance with

1 Michigan law we have no authority in which to renegotiate the
2 pension or medical benefits that members of our union
3 currently receive." Do you see that?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Is this -- was this sentiment shared by Mr. Easley and 6 others on your team that was dealing with the unions to you
7 during this time frame?

8 A Yes. I'd asked them to reach out and see if they would 9 represent retirees as well, and it came back to me that they 10 declined to do so.

11 Q Do you know whether other unions responded in this
12 fashion?

13 A As far as I knew, that was the general response, that no
14 one wanted to represent the retirees at this time.

15 Q Let me direct you to page 790, if you would.

16 A Yes.

17 Q And what is that, Mr. Orr?

18 A This appears to be a May 22nd, 2013, letter to Mr. Brian
19 Easley from John Cunningham, the international representative
20 of UAW Region Number 1.

21 MR. SHUMAKER: I'd ask if you could blow up the 22 first paragraph, please, Laurie.

23 BY MR. SHUMAKER:

24 Q Mr. Orr, could you read the third sentence there?

25 A "These locals do not, however, represent current retirees

1 and have no authority to negotiate on their behalf."

2 Q Is this consistent with the feedback you were receiving
3 from your team dealing with the unions regarding other unions
4 as well?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Your team kept you apprised of its dealings with the 7 unions during this time; is that correct?

8 A Yes, they did.

9 Q Did that include between June 14th and July 18th?

10 A Yes.

11 Q Was the position that's set forth in the UAW letter 12 consistent with what you were hearing from that team during 13 that time?

14 A Yes. I was informed that no one wanted to represent the
15 retirees.

16 Q Did the positions of the unions ever change during that
17 time?

18 A Not that I'm aware of.

19 Q Mr. Orr, Ms. Green asked you a few questions, and she 20 asked you a number of questions regarding your efforts to 21 negotiate with the swap counterparties. Do you recall that?

22 A Yes.

23 Q She referred to the swap transactions as extraordinarily
24 complex. Do you recall that testimony?

25 A Yes, I believe so.

1 Q That was Ms. Green's words.

2 A Yes, I remember.

3 Q My question is why during this time frame -- and I'm
4 focusing now on the June, July time frame -- why were you
5 able to negotiate with the swap counterparties?

6 A Well, I think we were able to negotiate with the swap
7 counterparties because we had laid out sort of the broad
8 sketch of what we needed and the urgency with which we needed
9 it and that the concessions were essential for the city to 10 receive the cash flow that it needed to operate, and also the 11 city was in somewhat of a crisis because starting in mid-June
12 the city would have, at best, on a billion dollar budget 13 about four to $7 million of free cash and was at some risk of 14 going below the line.

15 Q You were able to reach an agreement with the swap
16 counterparties; correct?

17 A Yes.

18 Q How long did it take you to reach an agreement regarding 19 this extraordinarily complex transaction?

20 A I think it took from the end of May until it was 21 announced on June 14th. I believe we actually reached an 22 agreement in principle on June 12th or 13th.

23 Q Based upon what you were hearing from the team dealing
24 with the unions, did you think you were able to achieve
25 similar results in negotiations with them?

1 A Yes. I thought their issues had been talked about both
2 in the 2012 MOU and the 2012 consent agreement.

3 Q And you negotiated with those unions in the same way that
4 you negotiated with the swap counterparties?

5 A Yes. I thought the issues that we were going to be 6 discussing had been discussed for many years.

7 Q I just have a couple more questions, Mr. Orr.

8 A Um-hmm.

9 Q One is Ms. Green showed you a couple of video clips from 10 the June 10th, 2013, meeting. Do you recall those?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And one of those clips you were quoted as saying
13 something about vested pension rights being sacrosanct, that 14 they couldn't be touched.

15 A Yes.

16 Q Do you recall that?

17 A Yes, I do.

18 Q When you made that statement to the June 10th meeting,
19 what were you attempting to convey with your words?

20 A Despite the implication, I wasn't attempting to mislead
21 anyone. I was simply trying to say we understood that there
22 were these issues regarding pensions. I believe at that time
23 they had been discussed before, but they were going to have 24 to be addressed, and we were going to address them coming on 25 in the following part of the week.

1 Q Were you attempting to mislead that gentleman who asked
2 the question?

3 A No, not at all.

4 Q Were you trying to give him misinformation?

5 A No.

6 Q Ms. Green showed you another video snippet.

7 THE COURT: Excuse me one second. What would you
8 say to that retiree now?

9 THE WITNESS: About what, your Honor?

10 THE COURT: Okay. What would you say to him --

11 THE WITNESS: You know, I mean what I said then 12 or --

13 THE COURT: What would you say to that retiree now
14 about his rights?

15 THE WITNESS: I would say that his rights are in 16 bankruptcy now. I would say that his rights are subject to 17 the supremacy clause of the U.S. Constitution.

18 THE COURT: That's a bit different than sacrosanct,
19 isn't it?

20 THE WITNESS: No. What I was trying to convey, your 21 Honor, without being misleading, is to say that I understood
22 there were these issues, but I also think I said during that 23 meeting that they would have to be resolved by a federal 24 court. I believe I also said at June 14th -- June 14th and 25 June 10th that I had been involved in other cases. I think I

1 said it June 14th, as a matter of fact, and June 10th that I
2 had been involved in other cases where the supremacy clause
3 had been employed in other contexts.

4 BY MR. SHUMAKER:

5 Q Ms. Green showed you another snippet from the June 10th
6 meeting. Do you recall that?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And the one that I'd like to refer you to is that you --
9 she showed the part where you were talking about there being
10 a caveat regarding PA 436 and Chapter 9 being powerful
11 statutes. Do you recall? You said that there was a caveat,
12 and 436 and Chapter 9 were powerful statutes? Do you recall
13 that?

14 A Yeah. I think I said we have a powerful tool in 436,
15 even more powerful one in Chapter 9.

16 Q What I want to show you is what she didn't show you was 17 the lead-up to that statement, if I could --

18 A Um-hmm.

19 Q -- show you that quickly.

20 (Videotape played at 10:46 a.m. as follows:)

21 "MR. ORR: But I need your help because the way I'm 22 trying to do this collaboratively, cooperatively is the way I
23 think is appropriate because, quite frankly, I think the city
24 has suffered through enough errors of strife and pain and 25 anguish and finger pointing and vitriol and bile. To what

1 end? Where's it got us? What have we achieved? What's the
2 end result? More of the same. Now, I'll say that with this
3 caveat."

4 (Videotape concluded at 10:47 a.m.)

5 BY MR. SHUMAKER:

6 Q Was that an important part of the message you were giving
7 to the meeting on June 10th, Mr. Orr?

8 A Yes. I was trying to say it's time for us to put beyond
9 conflict and continued strife and let's try to reach a
10 consensual resolution.

11 MR. SHUMAKER: That's all I have, your Honor. Thank
12 you, Mr. Orr.

13 THE COURT: Any other questions for the witness?

14 MS. LEVINE: Short redirect, your Honor.

15 RECROSS-EXAMINATION

16 BY MS. LEVINE:

17 Q Good morning, Mr. Orr. Sharon Levine, Lowenstein
18 Sandler, for AFSCME.

19 A Good morning, Ms. Levine.

20 Q Very briefly, so Ed McNeil on behalf of the coalition of 21 unions requests a meeting of you on the day you're appointed,
22 which is March 25; correct?

23 A As far as I know, yes.

24 Q And you wait until May 20 to send a response basically
25 asking for meetings which were the exact meetings that Mr.

1 McNeil asked you for on March 25; is that correct?

2 A I don't know if that's correct, Ms. Levine.

3 Q And then on March 24, your counsel just pointed out to 4 you a letter that said that the unions were taking the 5 position that they couldn't negotiate retiree benefits; is
6 that correct?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And you're saying that based upon that letter, you
9 assumed that there was no ability to negotiate with the 10 unions over retiree benefits; is that correct?

11 A No. I don't think it was just on the basis of that 12 letter.

13 Q Well, after that letter, you invited AFSCME along with 14 the other unions to the June 14, June 20, July 10, and July 15 11 meetings; correct?

16 A Yes. I think there were representatives at the June 10th
17 meeting, yes.

18 Q I'm asking if you invited them.

19 A I know we did at the 14th, and I know we did at the other
20 ones. I'm not as sure about the June 10th meeting, but I
21 believe we did.

22 Q Well, you invited them -- would it refresh your
23 recollection as to whether or not you invited them to know
24 that they actually came to those meetings?

25 A Yeah. The only reason -- Ms. Levine, I get your measure,

1 but the only reason I say the June 10th, because it was a
2 public meeting, and we -- it may not have been as formal as
3 the 14th and the other --

4 Q Did you invite them to the June 11 meeting?

5 A Well, I'm finishing. It was a public meeting, and it may 6 not have been as formal as the other ones, but they were 7 generally invited.

8 Q Did you invite them to the June 11 meeting -- sorry --
9 the July 11 meeting?

10 A Okay. I believe so. I don't recall with --

11 Q And that meeting was specifically to discuss pension
12 issues; correct?

13 A I believe so.

14 Q And they attended all four of those meetings; correct?

15 A To the best of my knowledge.

16 Q And they made information requests with regard to the 17 cost savings you were requesting, the benefit changes you
18 were requesting, and the pension changes you were requesting;
19 correct?

20 A I think the information requests were going both ways,
21 but I think information requests were made.

22 Q I'm just asking what AFSCME requested of you, and they
23 requested information of you either through Jones Day or 24 through Miller Buckfire or to you directly with regard to 25 cost savings, benefits, and pensions; correct?

1 A I don't recall if they made any to me directly. I do
2 think they made them to my representatives.

3 Q And they also signed the confidentiality agreement you
4 requested; correct?

5 A The nondisclosure agreement, yes.

6 Q And they were in the data room; correct?

7 A I believe they were in the data room.

8 Q And you provided some information in response to those 9 information requests that were populated into the data room;
10 correct?

11 A Yes, I believe we did.

12 Q But not all of the information that was requested was 13 provided prior to July 18, 2013; correct?

14 A I don't know that.

15 Q I believe you testified that the team to talk to AFSCME
16 were two lawyers from Jones Day and Lamont Satchel; correct?

17 A No. I believe that I recall with specificity Brian 18 Easley, Evan Miller, and Lamont Satchel, and there might have 19 been others.

20 Q Did any of those three or others at any time meet with 21 anybody from AFSCME --

22 A I don't recall.

23 Q -- between March 25 and June 13?

24 A I don't recall.

25 Q Do you recall running into -- do you recall you

1 personally running into Ed McNeil at events in the city at 2 any time between March 25 and July 18?

3 A You asked me about a meeting. Now you're just asking
4 about run-ins?

5 Q You can -- we can do it both ways. First I'm asking if 6 you ran into him at other events, and, second of all, I'll
7 ask you if you ran into him -- if you actually had a meeting
8 with him.

9 A I believe I've run into him in other events from time to
10 time.

11 Q And isn't it true that every time he's seen you during 12 that period of time he asked you to schedule a meeting with 13 AFSCME to discuss these issues?

14 A No. I don't think that's true.

15 Q Did you -- you were starting to talk about the fact that 16 you had a meeting with Ed McNeil. Did you meet one on one
17 with Ed McNeil at any point in time between March 25 and July 18 18?

19 A I don't think so.

20 Q Did you have a meeting with him with others between March
21 25 and July 18th?

22 A I may have, but I don't recall.

23 Q Do you recall whether or not you discussed with him
24 specifically the proposal other than just the presentations
25 made at the four meetings that were public presentation

1 meetings?

2 A I don't think I personally discussed it with him, no.

3 MS. LEVINE: No further questions, your Honor.

4 MR. MONTGOMERY: Your Honor -- excuse me.

5 RECROSS-EXAMINATION

6 BY MR. MONTGOMERY:

7 Q Mr. Orr, Mr. Ullman is not here today, so I have the 8 honor of talking to you. One quick clarification. I believe
9 you just testified in response to a question by Mr. Shumaker
10 that your negotiations with the swap counterparties started
11 in May of 2013; is that correct?

12 A They may have started towards the end of May 2013 or 13 June. I believe I said it could have been May through June,
14 but it was in that time frame.

15 Q Now, isn't it true, sir, that those negotiations began in 16 2012?

17 A Not to my knowledge.

18 Q Isn't that what you told the governor in your letter of 19 recommendation, sir?

20 A Those specific negotiations regarding the swap deal, to 21 my knowledge, the specific ones we're talking about, began in 22 May and June.

23 MR. MONTGOMERY: Could I have Exhibit 409 shown on 24 the screen, specifically page 8? Could you go to the fourth
25 bullet and amplify that for the witness, please?

1 BY MR. MONTGOMERY:

2 Q Now, sir, isn't it true that you told the governor that
3 negotiation with the pension-related swap contracts had been 4 going on since 2012?

5 A Yes, Mr. Montgomery. This document speaks for itself,
6 but the question I was asked was the specific ones regarding 7 the counterparty agreement that's since been reached.

8 Q Now, your Honor -- sir, negotiations had been going on 9 since 2012, not May of 2013; is that not correct?

10 A As I said, the specific ones regarding the deal we 11 eventually reached began sometime in late May and went on 12 until June 12th or 13th. This letter speaks about ongoing
13 negotiations which may have occurred. I was speaking about 14 the specific ones that yielded the agreement we now have.

15 Q And the negotiations which yielded the agreement which 16 you now have, your words, actually commenced in 2012; is that 17 not correct?

18 MR. SHUMAKER: Objection, your Honor. Asked and
19 answered.

20 MR. MONTGOMERY: He did not, in fact, answer the
21 question.

22 THE COURT: No. Overruled. Please answer the
23 question.

24 THE WITNESS: To the best of my knowledge, the 25 negotiations regarding the swap, as this statement has said,

1 have been ongoing since 2012, but --

2 MR. MONTGOMERY: Thank you.

3 THE WITNESS: -- the specific ones related to the 4 agreement were in May to June just like labor negotiations.

5 MR. MONTGOMERY: No further questions, your Honor.

6 MR. PLECHA: Ryan Plecha for the Retiree Association
7 parties.

8 RE-CROSS-EXAMINATION

9 BY MR. PLECHA:

10 Q Mr. Orr, did Mr. Easley or Mr. Miller send letters to the 11 DRCEA or the RDPFFA to request whether they would represent
12 retirees?

13 A I don't recall with specificity. If you have a document
14 to refresh my recollection, I'm happy to look at it.

15 Q All right. The answer is fine. Did you instruct Mr.
16 Miller or Mr. Easley to contact anyone that was not a union
17 to see if they would represent retirees?

18 A Generally we instructed them to reach out to anyone who 19 was willing to represent unions who appeared to have the 20 authority to do so.

21 Q And in your answer I believe I heard you use the word
22 "union." Anyone besides unions?

23 A You got to reach out to all parties, interested parties,
24 is what I said --

25 Q Okay.

1 A -- not just in my testimony, but that's what I said then.

2 Q Okay. Is it not true that the DRCEA informed the city
3 that it was willing to represent general retirees?

4 A I don't recall.

5 MR. PLECHA: Could I have Exhibit 309, please? Just 6 blow up the middle paragraph, please.

7 BY MR. PLECHA:

8 Q Did you receive this letter, Mr. Orr?

9 A I believe so.

10 Q And did you instruct Mr. Easley or Mr. Miller to send a
11 letter to the DRCEA to see if they would represent retirees?

12 A I don't recall.

13 Q Isn't it true that you received -- or that the city was 14 informed that the RDPFFA informed the city that it was 15 willing to represent uniformed retirees?

16 A I don't recall that.

17 Q Isn't it true that neither of the retiree association
18 denied the request to represent retirees?

19 A I don't know. I don't recall receiving a letter. If you
20 have something to refresh my recollection, I'd be happy to 21 see it.

22 Q In all of those letters that Mr. Shumaker had you review
23 the addressees on, did any of those letters come from either
24 retiree association party saying that they did not want to 25 represent retirees?

1 A None of the ones I reviewed today.

2 Q And to your knowledge, are those all of the letters?

3 A I don't know. There are a lot of letters.

4 MR. PLECHA: No further questions.

5 RECROSS-EXAMINATION

6 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

7 Q Good morning, Mr. Orr.

8 A Good morning.

9 Q I just have a follow-up on a question that Lynn Brimer
10 asked you.

11 MR. WERTHEIMER: Could you put 866 up, please?

12 MR. SHUMAKER: Your Honor, I'm going to object to 13 the extent that this is outside the scope of the redirect.

14 MR. WERTHEIMER: It is, your Honor, and I'd request
15 permission. There was a -- seemed to me an obvious follow-up
16 to a question Ms. Brimer asked.

17 THE COURT: All right. One question I'll permit.

18 MR. WERTHEIMER: Thanks. Could you highlight the 19 paragraph that begins "Kevyn"?

20 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

21 Q Mr. Orr, did you check in with Dan Moss regarding the 22 Chapter 9 paper that Jones Day was putting together as 23 Corrine Ball suggested you should?

24 A I don't recall, but I have no reason to believe that I
25 did not.

1 Q Is that another way of saying you probably did?

2 A I just don't recall.

3 MR. WERTHEIMER: Okay. Fair enough. Thank you.

4 RECROSS-EXAMINATION

5 BY MS. PATEK:

6 Q Two quick things, Mr. Orr. Barbara Patek again on behalf
7 of the Detroit public safety unions. I believe you told Mr.
8 Shumaker that you negotiated with the unions in the same way
9 that you negotiated with the swap counterparts on his 10 redirect. Is that your testimony?

11 A Generally, that's the gist of it, yes.

12 Q But, in fact, that's not accurate, is it?

13 A Why not?

14 Q Well, in fact, didn't you rely under Public Act 436 on 15 the -- what you talked about as the suspension of your duty
16 to bargain to not engage in the kind of robust hard give-and-
17 take negotiations that presumably occurred with the swap
18 counterparties?

19 A No. I wouldn't agree with that as a characterization of 20 what I said.

21 Q You would not agree with that, that that's -- well,
22 strike that. Are you testifying now that you did engage in 23 give-and-take hard negotiations with the public safety
24 unions?

25 A Ms. Patek, you're using your characterization. When I

1 said that I engaged with the unions in the same way we did
2 with the creditors, it was to mean that we reached out to
3 them. We expected responses, and we would have responded in 4 kind.

5 Q But it was not to suggest that you were engaging in the 6 kind of hard give-and-take negotiations with the unions that 7 you engaged in with the swap counterparts?

8 A I don't know how to answer your characterization.

9 Q I want to talk just for a minute about the supremacy
10 clause because I think you told us that that's -- you told 11 the Court that that was what made -- you know, took 12 sacrosanct sort of out of play once we got into bankruptcy.

13 THE COURT: I think we've had enough testimony
14 regarding the supremacy clause, and besides it's not really
15 within the scope of this trial.

16 MS. PATEK: Okay. Thank you, your Honor.

17 THE COURT: Any other questions? You are excused 18 this time, sir.

19 THE WITNESS: Thank you, your Honor. The young
20 woman --

21 MS. BRIMER: I'll take the compliment.

22 THE WITNESS: Thank you, your Honor.

23 (Witness excused at 11:02 a.m.)

24 THE COURT: And we will take a recess until 11:20,
25 please.

1 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in recess.

2 (Recess at 11:02 a.m. until 11:20 a.m.)

3 THE CLERK: Court is in session. Please be seated.

4 THE COURT: It appears that everyone is here. Sir.

5 MR. IRWIN: Good morning, your Honor. Geoff Irwin,
6 Jones Day, on behalf of the city. I wanted to advise the 7 Court that that concludes the city's case in chief. We don't 8 intend to call additional witnesses as part of our case in 9 chief. We do reserve the right, of course, to introduce new 10 evidence and call witnesses as part of our rebuttal case, but 11 we'll have that determination after we see the objectors'
12 proofs.

13 I also wanted to advise the Court and come back to 14 something that we had talked about in connection with or at 15 the pretrial conference. The only other exception to the 16 city's case in chief relates to deposition designations. We 17 have been working with objectors pretty cooperatively on 18 this, and we're trying to put something together that would 19 be the easiest for the Court to deal with in that regard. We 20 are designating and counter-designating and talking about a
21 system whereby we would have a single transcript if the Court
22 would like, and it would be color-coded with objections and 23 keyed with testimony from each side. There are also some 24 videotape depositions that I think the objectors would like
25 the Court to consider, and we are, again, working with them

1 to submit those all together. I think we would be in a
2 position to do that shortly, but I just wanted to advise the
3 Court that we are continuing to work on that, and that is 4 part of the city's affirmative case.

5 THE COURT: Thank you. The city rests. Who'd like
6 to call a witness?

7 MR. IRWIN: I'm sorry. I thought Mr. Ruegger was 8 going to address that as well. I have one other --

9 THE COURT: Oh, I'm sorry.

10 MR. IRWIN: -- administrative issue to --

11 MR. RUEGGER: Good morning, your Honor. Arthur
12 Ruegger from Dentons on behalf of the Retiree Committee.
13 Yes. I'd just like to agree with Mr. Irwin's comments. We 14 do have some videotape depositions that we'd like your Honor
15 to review. We can present them in two different formats,
16 though. One is a PowerPoint, which your Honor could review
17 on a computer. Another would be a DVD that obviously you
18 could read on a DVD player. The latter format would take us
19 some hours to prepare, but whatever your Honor --

20 THE COURT: Whatever is easiest for you is fine with 21 me.

22 MR. RUEGGER: Very well, your Honor. We should have 23 the videotapes and the hard copies at least for the 24 depositions that I've discussed with Mr. Irwin ready no later
25 than tomorrow for your Honor.

1 THE COURT: All right.

2 MR. RUEGGER: Thank you.

3 MR. IRWIN: Just one other administrative matter,
4 your Honor. We have been coordinating with objectors in 5 terms of trying to get a preview of their witness lists and 6 estimates, nonbinding, but estimates on their direct
7 examinations and trying to budget accordingly. We are all, I
8 think, looking forward and looking ahead to closing
9 arguments. We don't know entirely when that will happen, but 10 we're all starting to prepare for those. The city -- and 11 we've reached out to objectors yesterday. We were wondering
12 if the Court had direction to the parties in terms of any 13 time limits or allocations of time between and among the 14 parties along the lines of what the Court did at the legal 15 argument stage of the eligibility proceeding, and we would 16 obviously take our direction from the Court in that regard.

17 THE COURT: Frankly, I had decided, in light of the 18 importance of these issues, not to set any specific time
19 limits. Having said that, I will assume counsel will be 20 responsible about this latitude that I am allowing to them,
21 and so that's my conclusion on it. Is it your -- are you
22 trying to tell me that you think there should be time limits?
23 I didn't quite hear that.

24 MR. IRWIN: I'm not -- I am not suggesting that 25 there need be time limits. I'm looking -- we were wondering

1 if the Court was expecting something from us either
2 because --

3 THE COURT: No.

4 MR. IRWIN: -- we should work something out between 5 us or the Court had some expectation that we needed to know
6 about.

7 THE COURT: No, no.

8 MR. IRWIN: All right. Thank you, your Honor.

9 THE COURT: All right. Are we ready to begin the 10 objectors' case now?

11 MR. PLECHA: Good morning, your Honor. Ryan Plecha

21 MR. PLECHA: Thank you.

22 BY MR. PLECHA:

23 Q Ms. Lightsey, could you please read Article 2 for me,

22 Q Do you represent general city retirees?

23 A Yes.

24 Q Does the association provide all services to members and

1 A Yes.

2 Q Okay. Has the DRCEA ever had the occasion to appear
3 before the City Council in budget-related matters?

4 A Yes.

5 MR. PLECHA: If I could, your Honor, I would like to 6 have the Court judicially notice Section 9-601 of the city
7 charter that's entitled "Retirees Representation," which 8 states, "Retired general city employees are entitled to be 9 represented in the city legislative and budgetary proceedings
10 on issues affecting their interest by persons elected by
11 them."

12 THE COURT: Thank you. Any objections?

13 MR. IRWIN: I have no notice of this. If it's being 14 read accurately, I have no objection, your Honor.

15 THE COURT: All right. Well, have a look at it, and 16 at some point when you're ready let me know if you have any 17 objection to this.

18 MR. IRWIN: Thank you, your Honor.

19 BY MR. PLECHA:

17 Q Approximately how many members does the DRCEA currently
18 have?

19 A Members? Approximately 70 -- between 76 and 7,800. I
20 don't have the exact number.

10 BY MR. PLECHA:

11 Q Do you recognize this document, Ms. Lightsey?

12 A Yes.

13 Q If I could have you page -- turn to page 7 -- I'm 14 sorry -- page 5. Could you read the bottom paragraph in the 15 lower right-hand corner? It's on the screen if that's easier
16 for you, Ms. Lightsey.

17 A Pardon?

18 Q It's on the screen if that's easier for you.

19 A "The watchdog for city retirees. DRCEA maintains a year-
20 round watch on the city administration, mayor, City Council,

14 four times a year. We have a website. We have e-mails for 15 some of our members.

16 Q What type of information is posted on your website,
17 Ms. Lightsey?

18 A News articles. Every now and then I write a letter to 19 them, coming events, and anything we deem informational for 20 our retirees.

21 Q Is the contact information listed on the website?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Are there benefit resources on the website?

6 A Yes.

7 Q -- or a response?

8 A Um-hmm.

9 Q Okay. Could you tell me about that?

10 A Well, recently, the most recent one, we sent out the 11 consent form. We had recommended eight of our members for 12 the -- to the trustees -- to the Justice Department trustees
13 for the Retiree Committee.

14 Q Okay. And did you receive feedback from those 15 communications? Did you receive responses back?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Do you know approximately how many?

18 A There were thousands. I don't know because I wasn't -- I
19 haven't been brought up to date on that.

20 Q Okay. And do you know approximately how long it took to 21 get these thousands of responses back?

22 A I would say the first couple of thousand came in within 23 seven days. After that, I'm -- they came in in batches.

1 A I'm sorry. Repeat that.

8 A Pardon?

9 Q They recognize you and stop you in public to ask you
10 questions?

13 relates to retiree matters in public?

14 A Our members, yes.

15 Q Does anyone on behalf of the association read those 16 letters that are sent in?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Does the board generally respond to those letters?

19 A We respond to some. Others are just information that

22 Q Have you received expressions of concern from general
23 retirees regarding their pensions and benefits?

24 A Recently, yes.

25 Q Have any of your members told you that they've already

1 made financial planning changes based on the potential cuts
2 to their pensions?

3 A Yes.

4 MR. IRWIN: Your Honor, I object to the relevance of 5 this line of questioning. I also find the questions fairly
6 leading.

7 MR. PLECHA: I believe they're relevant as ripeness
8 has been contested in this matter, and it goes to the present
9 impact of the proposed cuts that they're already taking 10 measures directly related to those proposed cuts.

11 THE COURT: This is arguable. I'll permit it. Go
12 ahead, sir.

13 BY MR. PLECHA:

14 Q Ms. Lightsey, has any of the members let you know that 15 they've made financial planning changes based on the proposed 16 cuts to pensions?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Okay. I'm going to switch topics a little bit. Did you

21 A Yes.

22 Q Have you ever met Mr. Orr?

23 A Yes.

24 Q When did you first meet Mr. Orr?

25 A I attend pension board meetings throughout the year, and

1 Mr. Orr was at a meet-and-greet pension board meeting the end
2 of April. I think it was the last Wednesday in April. I'm 3 not sure. I think that's when it was.

4 Q Do you recall how you were introduced to Mr. Orr?

5 A I was introduced to Mr. Orr as the president of the GRS
6 retirees.

7 Q After meeting Mr. Orr, did you ever contact him?

8 A Only by letter.

9 MR. PLECHA: If I could have Exhibit 309 displayed,
10 please.

11 BY MR. PLECHA:

12 Q Do you recognize this document?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Is this the letter you, in fact, sent to Mr. Orr?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And why did you send this letter to Mr. Orr?

17 A To have a meeting to understand what it was that the 18 retirees were expected to discuss or --

19 Q Did you ever receive a response to this letter?

20 A No.

21 Q Did you ever receive a meeting response for this letter?

22 A No.

23 Q Did you ever receive a letter from the city or its 24 professionals requesting information about who the DRCEA
25 represents?

1 A Yes.

2 Q Did you respond to that letter?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Did you inform them that you were willing to represent
5 retirees?

6 A If that was what was on the letter. I don't remember the 7 questions, but I'd have to see my response. I responded to 8 whatever the questions were.

9 MR. IRWIN: I have a best evidence objection to the 10 witness testifying as to the contents of a letter that is not 11 in evidence and that I'm not aware of.

12 THE COURT: The objection is sustained.

13 BY MR. PLECHA:

14 Q Did you happen to attend a meeting on June 14, 2013?

15 A No.

16 Q Why not?

17 A I wasn't invited.

18 Q Did you ever learn that other retiree associations
19 attended this meeting?

21 Q When did you learn this?

22 A I really don't remember. I just remember that I didn't
23 receive an invitation --

24 Q How did you learn this?

25 A -- for the DRCEA. Pardon?

1 Q How did you learn this?

2 A How did I what?

3 Q How did you learn that other associations attended?

5 wasn't anything official. It was probably through a member
6 or it may have been the news. I don't know. I don't 7 remember.

21 A Not that I recall.

22 Q Who was there on behalf of the city?

23 A Ms. Lennox, Mr. Heiman. I can't think of the other 24 gentleman's name, but there were about five or six that were 25 there that day.

1 Q Was Mr. Orr there?

2 A No.

3 Q Did anyone ask you to present the DRCEA's position at 4 this meeting?

5 A No.

6 Q Were you permitted to submit questions at this meeting?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Did you ask any questions?

9 A No.

10 Q Why not?

11 A Others had asked questions. I didn't see any need to 12 repeat the same questions.

13 Q Were you comfortable with asking retiree-specific
14 questions in this meeting setting?

15 A I'm sorry. I don't understand that.

16 Q Were you comfortable asking retiree-specific questions in 17 this meeting setting?

18 A Not really.

19 Q Was there an opportunity at this meeting to break out in 20 smaller groups to discuss retiree-specific issues?

21 A No.

1 A Pardon?

5 A In response to what was, I guess, discussed at the
6 meeting.

7 Q Did you ask him how the DRCEA should proceed?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Did anyone from the city ever respond to your letter?

23 retiree-specific issues?

24 A No.

2 Q Were you invited to that meeting?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Was your invitation limited?

5 A Two people.

6 Q Did you ask any questions at this meeting?

7 A Yes.

8 Q What questions did you ask?

9 A I asked if the city proposed to offer vision and dental
10 to retirees in 2014.

11 Q And was your question answered?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Did that answer cause you to do anything following the 14 meeting?

15 A Yes.

16 Q What did it cause you to do?

17 A Inform our board and immediately start to look for vision
18 and eye care possibilities for our members.

19 Q So you started to look for alternatives?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Did you have enough time between July 11th and July 18th
22 to prepare counterproposals as it relates to dental and eye

2 copy of the June 14th proposal to creditors?

4 Q Prior to filing the bankruptcy by the city, did you ever
5 consider general retirees as creditors of the city?

6 A What was the date that you said?

7 Q July 18th before they filed for bankruptcy.

8 A I had heard it enough that we were now looked at as 9 creditors, so that would have been prior to July 18th through 10 the media and other areas.

11 Q Did anyone on behalf of the city at any of these meetings
12 specifically request counterproposals from the DRCEA?

13 A I didn't receive it that way, no.

14 Q Did anyone on behalf of the city say that if

21 Q Has the DRCEA ever advocated for benefit enhancements to 22 retirees that was applied to all general city retirees?

23 A Yes.

24 Q How did the DRCEA do that?

25 A Through the budget process.

1 Q Is that with City Council?

2 A That would be through the mayor first and then the City
3 Council, yes.

4 Q That applied to all general retirees regardless of 5 membership?

6 A Yes.

7 Q In this current bankruptcy case, has the DRCEA ever
8 claimed to be able to legally bind its members?

9 A No.

10 Q Is the DRCEA a collective bargaining unit?

11 A No.

12 Q Following each of the meetings you had with the city, did
13 you discuss those meetings with your board of directors?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Did the city ever provide you with a proposal to take
16 back to the board of the DRCEA as it relates to retiree
17 issues?

18 A No.

19 Q Would the board have been able to accept and consider a
20 proposal?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Could the board have then communicated that information
23 to the general city retirees?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Was negotiation with the DRCEA as it relates to retiree

1 issues possible?

2 A Yes.

3 MR. PLECHA: No further questions.

4 THE COURT: Any cross-examination?

5 MR. IRWIN: Yes, your Honor.

6 CROSS-EXAMINATION

7 BY MR. IRWIN:

8 Q Good morning, Ms. Lightsey.

9 A Good morning.

10 Q I believe I heard you testify that your organization has 11 been around for more than 50 years; is that right?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And you consider yourself and the organization to be 14 advocates of retirees; is that right?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And I think we heard some examples in that regard. I
17 think you talked about how you advocated for enhancements
18 before the City Council. Do you recall that?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And I heard you testify in connection with the articles
21 of incorporation of your organization that your mission is to 22 promote rights of retirees; is that right?

23 A Correct.

24 Q And you've also described the mission of the organization
25 to be a conduit for information. You have the ability to 1 pass along information to your members; is that right?

2 A Yes.

3 Q And you have, in fact, lobbied on behalf of your
4 organization; is that right?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And you've been granted legal standing in courts on 7 behalf of your organization; is that right?

8 A Repeat that again.

9 Q You've been granted legal -- you've been involved in 10 lawsuits, is that right, the organization?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Okay. One of the things that I don't believe you've 13 mentioned yet is whether your organization -- or you haven't
14 mentioned an instance in which the DRCEA has with binding
15 effect negotiated health or pension reductions on behalf of 16 your membership; is that right?

17 A We cannot do binding.

18 Q That's right. The organization doesn't have the 19 authority or the power to enter into any binding agreements
20 with regard to health or pension benefits on behalf of its 21 members; is that right?

22 A Correct.

23 Q Okay. And that was true at all points in time leading up
24 through the bankruptcy filing in this case on July 18th; is
25 that right?

1 A Well, that depends on how far you go back as all time.

2 Q Are you --

3 A Are you going back to 1960, or are you going back to last
4 year?

5 Q I'll go back to information that's within your personal
6 knowledge, so as long as you've been involved with the 7 organization, the organization has not entered into binding
8 agreements to reduce pension or health benefits on behalf of 9 the membership?

10 A No. I can't make that statement because I've been on the 11 board for 27 years, but I can't make that statement. I was 12 not always the president, so I don't remember.

13 Q But you're not -- is it fair to say that you're not aware
14 of a situation in which the organization has entered into a
15 binding agreement to reduce pension or healthcare benefits
16 for its membership?

17 A I'm not aware.

18 Q All right. Let's turn -- Ms. Lightsey, do you recall a 19 point in time in this proceeding when the DRCEA was in 20 receipt of written questions or interrogatories, and it was 21 incumbent upon the organization to respond to those?

22 A I don't remember.

23 Q Okay. Maybe I'll -- we can take a look at them, and it
24 may refresh your recollection.

25 MR. IRWIN: Can we put up Exhibit -- can we put up

1 Exhibit -- city 83, please?

2 BY MR. IRWIN:

3 Q Ms. Lightsey, there's an exhibit on your screen in front
4 of you. Do you see that?

5 A Yes, yes.

6 Q Does this exhibit refresh your recollection at all in 7 terms of questions that were put to the organization that 8 needed to be answered?

9 A Yes.

10 Q Okay. And you personally participated in this exercise;
11 is that right?

12 A I turned this document over to my attorneys.

13 Q Yes, but you also provided and verified the responses
14 that were given to the city; isn't that right?

15 A I would have to see the responses.

16 Q Okay.

17 MR. IRWIN: Well, let's turn to the -- I think it's 18 page 16 of the document, please, and if we could blow up the 19 signature block in the lower right corner.

20 BY MR. IRWIN:

21 Q Ms. Lightsey, is that, in fact, your signature on this
22 document?

23 A Yes, it is.

24 Q Okay. Does that refresh your recollection that you
25 participated in the responses that were delivered in

1 connection with these questions?

2 A Yes. Now I understand your question.

3 Q Okay. And did you review these answers before you signed
4 your name to the end of this document?

5 A I reviewed -- I'm pretty sure I reviewed most of them,
6 yes.

7 Q And that's a fair point. There are questions that relate
8 to a different organization, and there are questions that 9 relate to the DRCEA. It's a combined set of questions and 10 answers; is that right?

11 A Right.

12 Q And you responded on behalf of the DRCEA; is that right?

13 A I would imagine so. I'm not sure. I'd have to look at 14 them again, but I'm pretty sure I did.

15 Q Okay. Well, let's look at some of the specific questions
16 if we could. If you could please turn to --

17 A I'm not reading this well on this screen, so --

18 Q And we're going to -- we're going to publish the pages
19 for you so that you can --

20 A Okay.

21 Q -- follow along. We're going to look at page 8 of the 22 document, which is Interrogatory Number 6. Do you see that,
23 Ms. Lightsey?

24 A Yes.

25 Q We're going to -- we're going to read it, so you can --

1 we can read along together, but the interrogatory to the 2 DRCEA reads as follows, "Identify any person or persons who
3 have knowledge of any agreement entered into by the DRCEA and 4 the City of Detroit in which the DRCEA agreed to reduce,
5 limit, or abridge the health benefits provided by the City of 6 Detroit to existing DRCEA member retirees." Did I read that
7 right?

8 A Yes. Is that --

9 Q This is Number 6, ma'am.

10 A Oh, Number 6. Yes.

11 Q And did you understand -- and this is one of the 12 interrogatories that's directed to the DRCEA, so am I correct
13 in assuming that this was a question and response that you 14 participated in drafting the answer to?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Okay. And the question asks for -- the question asks for 17 the DRCEA to identify anyone who has knowledge of a prior
18 agreement between the DRCEA and the city where health
19 benefits were reduced. You understood that?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Okay. And let's look at the response. The answer
22 below -- there are some objections that are posed in the 23 first couple lines, but if you look about halfway down, the 24 answer reads, "However, without waiving said objections and 25 in the spirit of cooperation, the DRCEA states that it is not

1 aware of any individual with knowledge responsive to this
2 interrogatory." Do you see that?

3 A Yes, I see it.

4 Q All right. And it continues, and it says, "By way of 5 further statement, the purpose of the DRCEA has always been 6 and remains to protect and preserve benefits of retirees, not 7 to reduce such benefits." Do you see that?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And so am I correct in interpreting this response that 10 there has never been, to the best of your knowledge, any 11 agreement between the DRCEA and the city where the DRCEA has 12 agreed to reduce health benefits?

13 A I would imagine not.

14 Q And that has --

15 A Not that I can recall, no.

16 Q And that has never happened?

17 A I can't say that it's never happened. I don't know.

18 Q Best of your knowledge, it has never happened?

19 MR. PLECHA: Objection. Asked and answered.

20 THE COURT: Objection sustained.

21 BY MR. IRWIN:

22 Q And, Ms. Lightsey, let's look at the very next question
23 because it's a little bit different. Do you see Number 7?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Okay. I'm going to read Number 7. "Identify any person

1 or persons who have knowledge of any attempt prior to July
2 19th, 2013, by the DRCEA to obtain any form of legal
3 authority from its members to appoint DRCEA their 4 representative in connection with negotiations" --

5 MR. PLECHA: Objection, your Honor. I think this 6 exceeds the scope of direct.

7 THE COURT: The objection is overruled. Go ahead,
8 sir.

9 BY MR. IRWIN:

10 Q Any form of legal authority from its members to appoint
11 DRCEA their representative in connection with negotiations to 12 reduce, limit, or abridge health benefits provided by the 13 City of Detroit to retirees. Do you see that?

14 A Yes, I see it.

15 Q So it's a similar question, but it's asking if there's 16 ever even been an attempt to get authority from the 17 membership to negotiate to reduce health benefits; is that
18 right?

19 A Right.

20 Q Yes. And let's look at the answer, which is on the next
21 page.

22 MR. IRWIN: I'd like to pull the answer up, please.

23 BY MR. IRWIN:

24 Q And the answer -- I'm skipping to the middle paragraph
25 again, but it's the same answer. However, without waiving

1 said objections and in the spirit of cooperation, the DRCEA
2 states that it is not aware of any individual with knowledge
3 responsive to this interrogatory. Do you see that?

4 A Yes.

5 Q It further states that the purpose of the DRCEA has 6 always been and remains to protect and preserve benefits of 7 retirees, not to reduce such benefits. Do you see that?

8 A Yes.

9 Q So, to your knowledge, never in the history of the DRCEA
10 has it ever sought approval from its membership to reach an 11 agreement to reduce health benefits; is that right?

12 A In the history of the DRCEA?

13 Q Yes, according to this response.

14 A I didn't construe it as meaning the full history of the 15 DRCEA back --

16 Q Well, how about to the history of the --

17 A -- to 1960.

18 Q How about to the history of the DRCEA to your knowledge?

19 A DRCEA, to my knowledge, I could -- I could agree, I
20 guess, on that.

21 Q All right. Now, let's look at one more, which is the 22 next interrogatory. It's Number 8. It's the very next one.
23 Now, we're shifting gears a little bit because this question
24 relates to pension benefits. The two that we were talking 25 about before were health benefits.

1 A Um-hmm.

2 Q So here's Number 8. "Identify any person or persons who
3 have knowledge of any attempt prior to July 19th, 2013, by 4 the DRCEA to obtain any form of legal authority from its 5 members to appoint DRCEA as their representative in 6 connection with DRCEA negotiations to reduce, limit, or 7 abridge pension benefits on a prospective basis only provided
8 by the GRS." Do you see that?

9 MS. LEVINE: Your Honor, objection. Isn't the 10 purpose of the interrogatory to refresh recollection after 11 the witness answers? There hasn't been any --

12 THE COURT: It's not limited to that purpose. The 13 objection, if there was one, is overruled.

14 THE WITNESS: Now, question again.

15 BY MR. IRWIN:

16 Q Did I read that correctly?

17 A You're reading it correctly.

18 Q Okay. And did you understand it to -- did you understand
19 the question to be asking for if, to your knowledge, the 20 organization had ever sought authority from its membership to 21 negotiate to reduce pension benefits?

22 A Not to my knowledge.

23 Q I understand that. You understood -- you understand 24 that's what the question is asking for.

25 A Right.

1 Q Right. Okay. Let's look at the answer. Again, about
2 halfway through the answer -- and this is an answer -- this
3 is a document which you have affixed your signature -- the 4 DRCEA states that it is not aware of any individual with 5 knowledge responsive to this interrogatory. Do you see that?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And so it is your understanding and your testimony that 8 the DRCEA has never even attempted to get authority from its 9 members to reduce pension benefits?

10 A Not that I can recall.

11 Q Right. And, in fact, there's a new -- there's a new 12 sentence here at the end of this response which I would like
13 to direct your attention to, and it says the DRCEA would not
14 take any action to obtain or solicit authority from its
15 members to do something prohibited by the Michigan
16 Constitution. Do you see that?

17 A Yes, I see that.

18 Q Okay. You understand that your attorneys have filed
19 papers in this case, and you understand the position that 20 you've taken in this case is that pension benefits are 21 protected by the Michigan Constitution, do you not?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Okay. And is this sentence in this interrogatory
24 response when it says "something prohibited by the Michigan
25 Constitution," you are referring to the pension protection in

1 the Constitution; right?

2 A Yes.

3 Q Okay. And so what you're saying here is that the DRCEA
4 would not take any action to solicit authority from its 5 membership to reduce pension benefits because they're
6 protected by the Michigan Constitution; is that right?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Okay. And did you make that plain to anyone from the 9 city in connection with any of the meetings you attended?

10 A No.

11 Q You did attend meetings; right?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Yes. I think we heard about some of those on direct.
14 And you did not make any counterproposals to the city either
15 at or after any of the meetings you attended; is that right?

16 A No.

17 Q And that is because you did not have the authority from 18 your membership to make those counterproposals; is that
19 right?

20 A No.

21 Q No, you did not have that authority; right?

22 A No. That's not true.

23 Q Okay. Did you have authority from your members to make a
24 counterproposal to the city at or after any of these meetings
25 to reduce healthcare or pension benefits?

1 A I never understood any of those meetings as being
2 meetings that they were presenting proposals for me to even
3 do what you just asked.

4 Q Okay. But I'm asking a slightly different question. I'm 5 asking whether you had authority from your membership to make 6 a binding counterproposal to either reduce healthcare or 7 pension benefits at the meetings?

8 A I've never had the authority to make a binding, and I've 9 never asked for that from the membership.

10 MR. IRWIN: Okay. Thank you. That's all I have,
11 your Honor.

12 THE COURT: Any more questions for the witness?

13 MR. PLECHA: I have some redirect, your Honor.

14 THE COURT: Yes, sir.

15 REDIRECT EXAMINATION

16 BY MR. PLECHA:

17 Q Ms. Lightsey, has the City of Detroit ever filed Chapter
18 9 bankruptcy before?

19 A No, not that I --

20 THE COURT: Seriously?

21 MR. PLECHA: I think that goes directly to --

22 THE COURT: Ask your next question.

23 MR. PLECHA: Okay.

24 BY MR. PLECHA:

25 Q To your knowledge, Ms. Lightsey, has the city ever

1 requested a reduction in benefits from the DRCEA?

2 A I'm not sure. I can't answer that "yes" or "no."

3 Q So you don't recall if they ever asked the DRCEA to 4 negotiate reductions?

5 A Not that I can recall.

6 Q In all of the meetings you attended before City Council,
7 were you advocating for enhancements to benefits?

8 A Yes.

9 Q So there would be no need to seek authority to reduce 10 benefits in that situation?

11 A No.

12 Q And Mr. Shumaker asked you some questions from the 13 requests for interrogatories, one of which related to the 14 answer addressing the Michigan Constitution or the 15 protections of pensions; correct?

16 A Correct.

17 Q And that was asking for any attempt prior to July 19th;
18 correct?

19 A Correct.

20 Q And that was prior to the filing of the bankruptcy?

21 A Correct.

22 MR. PLECHA: No further questions.

23 THE COURT: Any more questions for the witness? You
24 are excused, ma'am. Thank you very much for your testimony
25 today.

1 THE WITNESS: All right.

2 (Witness excused at 12:16 p.m.)

3 THE COURT: Let's take our lunch break now and
4 reconvene at 1:45, please.

5 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in recess.

6 (Recess at 12:16 p.m. until 1:45 p.m.)

7 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in session. Please
8 be seated. Recalling Case Number 13-53846, City of Detroit,
9 Michigan.

10 THE COURT: Sir.

11 MR. MORRIS: Good afternoon, your Honor. Thomas
12 Morris on behalf of the Retiree Association parties. I 13 believe it's our turn to call the next witness, and the 14 Retiree Association parties call Donald Taylor.

15 DONALD TAYLOR, OBJECTOR'S WITNESS, SWORN

16 THE COURT: All right. You may sit down.

17 DIRECT EXAMINATION

18 BY MR. MORRIS:

19 Q Good afternoon, Mr. Taylor. Would you please state your 20 full name for the record?

21 A Donald Taylor.

22 Q Mr. Taylor, you're a retired Detroit police officer; is
23 that correct?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And do you receive a pension from the city?

1 A Yes, I do.

2 Q And post-employment benefits as well; is that correct?

3 A Yes.

4 Q How long did you work for the city?

5 A Twenty-six years.

6 Q And during your employment with the city, did you ever
7 hold a position with any labor organization?

8 A Yes, I did.

9 Q And what position was that?

10 A It was a union steward, chief steward, and executive
11 board member with the Detroit Police Officers Association.

12 Q Are you familiar with an organization known as the 13 RDPFFA?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And what do those initials stand for?

16 A Retired Detroit Police and Fire Fighters Association.

17 Q And what position do you hold with that organization?

18 A President.

19 Q And how long have you been president?

20 A Seven years.

21 Q Were you elected to that position?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And how long have you been a member of the RDPFFA?

24 A Fifteen years.

25 Q Did you hold any prior elected position prior to being

1 president?

2 A Vice president.

3 Q Do you hold any positions with any other organizations at
4 this time?

5 A By virtue of my position as president of the Retired
6 Detroit Police and Fire Fighters Association, I'm also a
7 member of the board of trustees of the C.O.P.S. Trust.
8 That's Coalition of Public Safety. It's an organization that 9 provides healthcare benefits to public safety officers.

10 Q Is that a statewide organization?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Would you please summarize for the Court your duties as 13 president of the association?

14 A Day-to-day operation. We have a full-time office open
15 five days a week, and I manage the day-to-day operations,
16 also conduct the meetings, chair the meetings at our board
17 meetings, general membership meetings. I'm also the 18 representative for the association in hearings with the state
19 or city level and whatever else is necessary in signing,
20 counter-signing checks, things of that nature.

21 Q Is the association governed by a board of directors?

22 A Yes, it is.

23 Q How often are board meetings conducted?

24 A Once a month.

25 Q And how many persons serve on the board?

1 A Right now there's ten.

2 Q Can you tell me, please, when the association was formed?

3 A It was originally formed, I believe, back in the 1950s.
4 At that time, it was an organization of just retired police
5 officers, and in the '70s it merged with fire and became
6 known as the name that it operates under now.

7 Q Would you please take a look at the document that's been
8 labeled as Exhibit 304? I'm sorry. Is there an exhibit book
9 up there for you?

10 A No.

11 THE COURT: On the table there to your right.

12 THE WITNESS: That could be it.

13 MR. MORRIS: Yes, please. Can you display 304,
14 please?

15 THE WITNESS: Okay.

16 BY MR. MORRIS:

17 Q Can you tell me, please, if you can identify this
18 document?

19 A It's the restated by-laws for the association.

20 Q And would you take a look, please, at page 6, page 6 by 21 paper? It's the numbered page 1.

22 A Okay.

23 Q And look at Article II, Section 1, and can you tell me,
24 please -- tell the Court what that states?

25 A It's to provide the members with information concerning

1 the status of pensions, hospitalization, and insurances and
2 to keep the members informed on all matters relative to the 3 best interest of the association and its members.

4 Q And is this stated in the by-laws as the purpose of the 5 organization?

6 A Yes, sir.

7 Q And is that an accurate statement of the association's 8 objectives and purpose, as far as you understand it?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And does the association, in fact, provide its members
11 with information concerning the status of pensions,
12 hospitalization, and insurances?

13 A Yes, it does.

14 Q How does it provide that information?

15 A A number of different ways. Like I mentioned earlier, we 16 have a full-time office where the members have access to the 17 office. We have a website which the information is posted on 18 our website. We regularly send out e-mails. We have 3,000
19 of our members on e-mail. We have regular general monthly
20 membership meetings, and we inform the members at those 21 meetings also.

22 Q Does the association also provide information to 23 nonmember retirees?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And how does it do that?

1 A It's available on our website. Our website is not
2 password protected, and all of our information is displayed
3 on that website. Also, on an annual basis we send out a copy
4 of our monthly Unity magazine to all members, nonmembers and
5 the like, and whenever it's necessary when very important
6 issues come up, we notify by mail all retired police officers
7 and fire fighters, and we've done that on a number of 8 occasions.

9 Q Do you have the capacity to communicate by e-mail as 10 well?

11 A Yes. Like I said, we have about 3,000 members on e-mail.

12 Q And are regular membership meetings conducted?

13 A Yes, once a month.

14 Q Is there information on the website relating to the 15 bankruptcy case?

16 A Yes, there is.

17 Q Do police and fire retirees communicate with the 18 association?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And how do they communicate with the association?

21 A By phone, by e-mail, at the general membership meeting,
22 by letters.

23 Q Have you noticed an increase in the number of letters
24 since the bankruptcy has been filed?

25 A Yes. I think we received around 900 letters in the last

1 couple months from the members.

2 Q And how many members does the association have?

3 A Right around 6,500.

4 Q How many total police and fire retirees are there?

5 A I believe it's right around 8,000.

6 Q Do the members pay dues?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Is membership in the association automatic when you
9 retire from police or fire service?

10 A No. It used to be automatic for the fire fighters
11 because the Fireman's Fund used to provide the first year's 12 membership, but they don't do that. They quit this year.

13 Q Has the association in the past been a party to any 14 lawsuit regarding benefit for police and fire -- benefits for 15 police and fire retirees?

16 A A number of lawsuits.

17 Q Has the association ever been a party to any compromise
18 regarding healthcare benefits?

19 A Yes, they have.

20 Q And can you please tell me about that?

21 A Yeah. The latest would be referred to as the Weiler
22 settlement agreement. I think that was reached in 2009; had 23 to do with reductions in healthcare benefits to retired
24 police officers and fire fighters.

25 Q And did the association participate in that settlement --

1 A Yes, they did.

2 Q -- or that reduction, I should say?

3 A Yes, they did.

4 Q How did that occur?

5 A Once the benefits were changed, we initiated a lawsuit
6 against the City of Detroit, and during the hearings on that,
7 there were some negotiations started to take place with our
8 attorneys and with Judge Torres, and we were able to come up
9 with what we felt was a compromise. And we addressed that to 10 our memberships in advance, and we told the -- advised our 11 attorney to go ahead with the settlement agreement.

12 Q And was that settlement, in fact, implemented?

13 A Yes, it was.

14 Q Has the association ever lobbied the state legislature on 15 behalf of police and fire retirees?

16 A Yeah, on a number of occasions.

17 Q Can you tell me about one of those occasions --

18 A Well, we --

19 Q -- for example?

20 A We had three different pieces of legislation that we 21 assisted in drafting, had to do with the composition of the 22 police and fire pension board in the City of Detroit.

23 Q As president of the association, have you ever been 24 consulted by elected officials to discuss proposed
25 legislation at the state level?

1 A At the state, yes, I have.

2 Q Can you give me an example of that?

3 A Andy Dillon has contacted me as the president of the 4 association to discuss legislation up there, and also the 5 mayor of the City of Detroit contacted me to discuss 6 legislation on the city.

7 Q Have you ever served on a committee regarding benefits
8 legislation?

9 A Yes, I have. When Andy Dillon -- when he was the Speaker
10 of the House -- I think it was about four years ago -- he 11 proposed legislation that would establish a statewide
12 healthcare program for public employees within a committee
13 that he chaired, and there was a breakout committee for 14 retirees, and I was asked to serve on that breakout committee
15 representing retirees.

16 Q Mr. Taylor, are you registered as a lobbying agent?

17 A As a lobbying agent for the retired Detroit Police and 18 Fire Fighters Association.

19 Q Has the association ever expressed a position before the 20 City Council on behalf of retirees?

21 A A number of occasions.

22 Q Was the association involved with the Detroit City
23 Charter Revision Committee --

24 A Yes, it was.

25 Q -- or Commission, I should say?

1 A Commission.

2 Q Was it the Detroit --

3 A Yeah, to revise.

4 Q -- City Charter Revision Commission?

5 A Revise the charter, yes.

6 Q And when was the Charter Revision Commission active?

7 A I believe the election was in 2011, so 2010, 2011.

8 Q What was the purpose of your association participating in 9 the commission?

10 A As the president of the association, I was invited to 11 participate in the portion of the charter revision that 12 referred to the pensions, and I was -- took part in the 13 board, questions from the public and from the board.

14 Q Have you met with state officials on behalf of the 15 association?

16 A Yes, a number of them.

17 Q Did you meet this spring with State Treasurer Dillon?

18 A Yes, I did.

19 Q And did you request that meeting?

20 A Yes, I did.

21 Q Why did you want to meet with Mr. Dillon?

22 A It was shortly after the new emergency manager
23 legislation had been passed, and I notified him that I wanted
24 to meet with him to discuss any possible effect that it could 25 have on retired police officers and fire fighters.

1 Q Did you advise Mr. Dillon of any concern for payment of 2 pensions and benefits?

3 A At that meeting?

4 Q Yes.

5 A Yes. We discussed a number of issues at the meeting.

6 Q Did you ask Mr. Dillon about the effect the legislation
7 might have on police and fire retirees?

8 A Yes. During the discussion, I brought up what proposals
9 or what possible changes that he could see on a number of 10 issues. One of those included the composition of the police
11 and fire retirement board, and he indicated that there may be 12 some changes on that board, but it would not affect retirees'
13 positions. I then asked him if there was anything that he 14 would see as possible changes on the pensions or anything of 15 that nature, and he informed me that there would be no
16 changes because the current retirees' pensions were 17 guaranteed by the state Constitution, but they were looking 18 at possible changes for future retirees on the way in which 19 their pensions may be calculated in the future. And I also 20 asked him about our healthcare settlement, the Weiler
21 settlement agreement, if he's seen any possibility that that 22 would be affected during these hearings, and --

23 Q Did you receive a response to that question?

24 A Yes. He informed me it was the State of Michigan's
25 intention to attempt to set aside that agreement or overturn

1 that agreement.

2 MR. IRWIN: Your Honor, I have an objection to the 3 testimony as hearsay.

4 THE COURT: This was -- these were statements that
5 Mr. Dillon made to you?

6 THE WITNESS: Directly to me, yes, sir.

7 THE COURT: The objection is overruled. You may
8 proceed.

9 BY MR. MORRIS:

10 Q Mr. Taylor, did you become aware this spring of the 11 appointment of Mr. Orr as emergency manager for the City of 12 Detroit?

13 A Yes, I did.

14 Q And following his appointment, did you contact Mr. Orr?

15 A Yes. I sent a letter and requested a meeting.

16 Q Did you receive any response?

17 A Yes, I did. His office contacted me by phone and set up
18 a date for a meeting.

19 Q And did you eventually meet with Mr. Orr?

20 A Yes, I did.

21 Q And do you recall when that meeting occurred?

22 A It was towards the end of April. I think it was April
23 18th.

24 Q And who was at that meeting?

25 A It was the secretary treasurer of our association, Allan

1 Grant; the vice president of our association, Greg Trozack;
2 Mr. Orr; and myself.

3 Q And what was discussed at the meeting?

4 A There was a number of issues. We had a 45-minute
5 meeting, and, first of all, I introduced who we were and what
6 our organization does, and I asked him some of the same
7 questions I had spoke with with Mr. Dillon. I asked him if 8 he seen changes in the composition of the pension board, and 9 he said he hadn't made any decisions on that yet. I asked
10 him if he was -- about the pensions of retirees. He said
11 that he was fully aware that the pensions were protected by 12 the state Constitution, and he had no intention of trying to 13 modify or set aside it or change the state Constitution, and 14 I went on. I asked him if he was familiar with the Weiler
15 settlement agreement. He indicated that he was, and he 16 indicated to me that he was -- assured me that under the 17 Emergency Manager Act, he had no authority to set aside that 18 agreement or modify that agreement. After he made that 19 statement, I told him that I'd had a meeting with Andy
20 Dillon, and Andy Dillon had indicated that the state's 21 intention was to attempt to overturn that settlement
22 agreement. He indicated that he doesn't speak for the state,
23 but that was not his intention, and he had no intention of 24 trying to set aside that agreement.

25 Q Was there any discussion at that meeting about the

1 possibility of having future meetings with Mr. Orr?

2 A Yeah. Following the meeting, Mr. Orr indicated to me as
3 he was just starting to proceed and there was more
4 information that he was gathering, and as the process moved
5 along, he would contact our association for further meetings.

6 Q After this meeting, did you communicate the results to 7 the board of directors of the association?

8 A Yes, I did, and also to the membership. I sent out an e-
9 mail regarding our meeting.

10 Q Was an e-mail sent to the membership?

11 A Yes.

12 Q To the e-mail list?

13 A Yes.

14 Q After your meeting with Mr. Orr, did you receive a 15 communication from the city asking who the association
16 represents?

17 A Yes, I did.

18 Q And did you respond to that?

19 A Yes, I did, that we represent all police and fire
20 retirees.

21 Q After meeting with Mr. Orr, did you hear again from Mr.
22 Dillon's office?

23 A Yes. I received an e-mail from Mr. Dillon's office -- I
24 think it would be towards the end of May, maybe the first
25 part of June -- advising me that I should contact

1 Mr. Buckfire's -- Ken Buckfire and one other member of his
2 team regarding things that may affect police and fire in the
3 bankruptcy proceedings.

4 Q Did you contact Mr. Buckfire?

5 A Yeah. I sent e-mails to Mr. Buckfire, and I don't recall
6 the other representative's name. And I also called 7 Mr. Buckfire by phone and left a message with his secretary.

8 Q Did you receive --

9 A I assume it was his secretary.

10 Q Did you receive a response?

11 A Yes, I did, in both occasions, by e-mail and by phone.

12 Q And what was the response?

13 A Mr. Buckfire indicated to me by phone that they would be 14 in touch and they would be setting up meetings and would get 15 back with me at a later time, and that was pretty much --
16 both e-mails came back from both representatives saying
17 basically the same thing, that they would be in touch and 18 meetings would be set up in the future.

19 Q And were further meetings set up?

20 A Not with our organization.

21 Q But did you attend a meeting on June 14th at the Metro
22 Airport?

23 A Yes, I did.

24 Q And were you invited to attend that meeting?

25 A Yes, I was.

1 Q Who invited the association to attend the meeting?

2 A It was done by e-mail. It was from representatives from
3 Jones Day. I don't recall the name.

4 Q Who attended on behalf of the association?

5 A We were limited to two, and it was the secretary-
6 treasurer, Allan Grant, and myself.

7 Q Do you recall how many persons were in the audience at 8 that meeting?

9 A It was maybe at least a couple hundred.

10 Q Do you know what groups were represented at that meeting?

11 A There was -- pretty much every group was represented
12 there, the active associations, the pension board, the 13 bondholders, every --

14 Q Was the proposal for creditors document that's been 15 referred to circulated at that meeting?

16 A Yes, it was.

17 Q Did you receive a copy?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Did you furnish a copy to the association's attorneys?

20 A Yes, I did.

21 Q At that meeting, were you or other representatives of the 22 association given an opportunity to discuss your position?

23 A No, not to discuss the position.

24 Q Was there an opportunity to submit questions?

25 A You could submit written questions.

1 Q Did you submit a question?

2 A No.

3 Q And was there a reason why you didn't submit a question?

4 A At that point, I had met with the state treasurer and
5 Mr. Orr, and I was under the impression that the members of 6 the Retired Police Officers and Fire Fighters benefits were
7 not at that great a risk at that point, and I was informed
8 that Mr. Orr would notify me and would set up future meetings
9 with our association if it became necessary.

10 Q And following that meeting, did you report back to the 11 board of directors?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Did you attend another meeting on June 20?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And do you recall where that meeting occurred, where that 16 was held?

17 A I think that was the one in the auditorium at City County
18 Building.

19 Q And was there someone that invited you to attend?

20 A Yes, same way, by e-mail.

21 Q And who attended on behalf of the association?

22 A Once again, it was restricted to -- I was -- myself and 23 our attorney, Brian O'Keefe.

24 Q And this -- you said it was restricted. What do you mean
25 by --

1 A We had two positions, yes.

2 Q You were allowed to have two people attend?

3 A Yeah.

4 Q Do you recall how many persons were in the audience?

5 A I'm going to guess 50, 60.

6 Q And what groups were represented?

7 A All the active labor organizations were there, and I
8 think there was probably representatives from the pension
9 board and some that I'm not familiar with who they were, but 10 there was a number of people there.

11 Q Did the city at this meeting tell you what it intended to 12 do with police and fire pensions?

13 A No, they didn't.

14 Q Were you asked your position?

15 A No.

16 Q Did you submit any questions at this meeting?

17 A No.

18 Q And why not?

19 A Once again, I had no reason to submit. I was still under 20 the impression -- I wasn't sure what they were referring to 21 and --

22 Q How many different retiree groups were represented at 23 that meeting?

24 A One.

25 Q Basically two people there on behalf of your association?

1 A Yeah. I was the only retiree and an attorney, as far as
2 I know. There may have been some individual retirees with 3 him, but there was no retiree association.

4 Q Now, did you attend another meeting with the city?

5 A Yes.

6 Q In July?

7 A Yeah.

8 Q Do you recall the date of that meeting?

9 A There was two in a row. I think they were the 10th and
10 11th.

11 Q And were you invited to attend that meeting?

12 A Not initially, no.

13 Q Did you hear about it somewhere?

14 A Yeah. One of our board members is -- he also is a member
15 of the Police Officers Association of Michigan, and he was 16 invited as a representative for the EMS. And once he was 17 invited, he sent me a copy of his e-mail, and once I received
18 his e-mail that these meetings were set up, I contacted the 19 phone number at the bottom of his and asked if we would be 20 allowed to attend to represent the interest of retirees, and 21 I don't recall the name of the person, but they was from 22 Jones Day, and they indicated that they would run it up the 23 chain and get back with me.

24 Q And did you receive a response? Did you receive a --

25 A No. I also forwarded that e-mail to our attorney, and he

1 indicated he also called and requested a meeting, and a few
2 hours later that day he notified me that they were going to
3 give us one position.

4 Q Now, are EMS part of the police and fire?

5 A No.

6 Q Was there also a limit on the number of persons permitted
7 to attend this meeting on behalf of the --

8 A Yeah. Initially it was just going to be one, and then 9 the attorney indicated to me that he called them back, and 10 they were allowed -- I was allowed to bring an attorney.

11 THE COURT: Allowed to bring what, sir?

12 THE WITNESS: The attorney.

13 BY MR. MORRIS:

14 Q And who was in attendance at this meeting? Who was in 15 the audience?

16 A Once again, it was all the public safety unions and 17 different labor organizations and I think probably the 18 pension board and pension trustees, the actuaries, and 19 depends on what you --

20 Q Did the city make a proposal at that meeting with respect
21 to police and fire retirees?

22 A No. Well, which meeting are you referring to?

23 Q July --

24 A I assume the pension meeting was first, right, the 25 pension -- that was the 10th?

1 Q July 10 I'm referring --

2 A Yeah.

3 Q -- to, the first of the two meetings.

4 A Yeah.

5 Q Was there a discussion at this meeting regarding active
6 employees?

7 A Yes. There was a lot of discussion because it was pretty
8 much all active members there with the exception of myself,
9 and there was some discussion over modifications on how their 10 pensions were going to be altered or administered in the 11 future, so most of the meeting geared around the active
12 members.

13 Q Are those issues that concern your association?

14 A No.

15 Q Was there discussion regarding retiree issues?

16 A Not that I recall.

17 Q At this meeting, were you asked your position on any 18 issues?

19 A No.

20 Q Did you have any questions at this meeting?

21 A No.

22 Q Did the city at this meeting state that it intended to 23 reduce or impair police and fire pensions for current
24 retirees?

25 A Not for current retirees.

1 Q Now, you also said there was another meeting --

2 A The next day.

3 Q -- the next day?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And was that -- did that meeting regard --

6 A Healthcare.

7 Q -- healthcare?

8 A Yeah.

9 Q And were you invited to this meeting?

10 A In the same method as the previous one. It was done at 11 the same time.

12 Q Two meetings go together.

13 A Yeah. They were published at the same -- together as 14 joint meetings.

15 Q And was the audience similar to the July 10 meeting?

16 A Yes. There may have been a little -- I'm not sure at the 17 second meeting if the actuaries from the pension board was 18 there or not.

19 Q Did the city at this meeting make a proposal regarding 20 police and fire retirement benefits?

21 A They passed out a -- I guess you could call it a
22 proposal. It was a four-line -- just one paragraph that had 23 four options for healthcare benefits for retirees.

24 Q Like the names of healthcare plans?

25 A There was two options from Blue Cross and two options

1 from HAP.

2 Q Did you ask any questions at this meeting?

3 A Yes. I asked one question regarding whether their
4 intention was to modify or to include those that were covered
5 by the Weiler settlement agreement in this healthcare
6 proposal.

7 Q Did you receive an answer to your question?

8 A Not a direct -- at that point, once I asked that
9 question, the attorney who represented us in the -- Mr.
10 Legghio, Mr. Chris Legghio, was present, and he kind of took 11 over once I brought up the question, and then there was an 12 exchange of legal back and forward between that attorney and 13 the Jones Day attorneys. And they indicated that there was 14 some legal questions regarding whether they would be able to 15 enforce that, and that was still being looked into by the 16 attorneys.

17 Q The attorney you referred to, Mr. Legghio, had he been 18 involved in the Weiler litigation?

19 A Yeah. He was the -- he was the attorney that handled the 20 class action.

21 Q Following this meeting, did you have the opportunity to 22 ask for a separate meeting with the emergency manager's
23 representatives?

24 A Yeah. I don't recall the exact procedure. It was either 25 after that meeting or the previous one. As I was leaving the

1 meeting with our attorney, Brian O'Keefe ran into one of the 2 Jones Day senior attorneys. Once again, I'm not good with 3 names, you know, but we -- they had a brief discussion in the 4 hallway. At that time, I indicated to him that we would like
5 to have a meeting on our own, a breakout meeting just 6 affecting retired Detroit police and fire fighters.

7 Q Did that meeting ever occur?

8 A No. He indicated to our attorney that -- asked that the 9 attorney, you know, put that in writing, forward it to him,
10 and forward the request to him.

11 Q Following this meeting or these meetings on July 10 and 12 July 11, did you meet with any of the other persons in the 13 audience to discuss issues?

14 A Following the meeting? After the second meeting, the 15 active unions, we all met out in the hallway for a short 16 time, you know, right outside the meeting, and then we 17 decided to all go over to the office of the Detroit Police
18 Officers Association and discuss what had just transpired.

19 Q And did you attend that meeting at the --

20 A Yes, I did --

21 Q -- DPOA headquarters?

22 A -- along with our attorney. We all went to the offices
23 of the Detroit Police Officers Association.

24 Q Did you hear testimony previously regarding a letter sent 25 by the public safety unions to the city manager?

1 A Yes.

2 Q Do you recall that letter that was being discussed?

3 A Not at that particular -- what we discussed at that
4 meeting when we all got in, we decided that as a group we
5 would select like a lead organization to represent us as a
6 group and request further meetings, and at that meeting we
7 decided that the lead would be the Detroit Police Officer --
8 the president of the Detroit Police Officers Association, and 9 he asked that we all submit questions to him so that he could 10 forward this information or request on to the city's
11 representatives.

12 Q So is it fair to state that you participated in 13 discussions that led up to a letter being sent?

14 A Yeah. I was involved in a meeting with the Detroit
15 Police Officers Association.

16 Q Did the association -- after the bankruptcy was filed,
17 did the association send out a mailing to police and fire
18 retirees?

19 A Yeah. That's what we considered -- referred to as a 20 consent agreement where we sent letters out to all the 21 retired police officers and fire fighters asking if they 22 wanted to -- us to represent them in the bankruptcy
23 proceedings.

24 Q Was this sent immediately after the bankruptcy was filed?

25 A Yes.

1 Q And who was this sent to?

2 A All retired police officers and fire fighters.

3 Q And what responses were received?

4 A We got back at this point I think a little over 5,300.

5 Q Did you receive any responses from nonmembers?

6 A Yes.

7 Q Did you receive any responses that indicate that the 8 association should not represent the retirees?

9 A Yes, we did.

10 Q How many of those did you receive?

11 A One.

12 Q Did you receive any responses that indicated that the 13 retirees wanted the association to represent the retirees?

14 A Yes, as I said, 5,300, over 5,300.

15 Q Did you receive feedback from police and fire retirees
16 regarding the city's bankruptcy petition?

17 A You're going to have to repeat that.

18 Q Did you receive feedback? Did the association receive 19 feedback from police and fire retirees regarding the city's
20 bankruptcy petition?

21 A Oh, yeah. As I said, we have a full-time office, and the 22 phones have -- basically, like I say, ringing off the hook.
23 We were constantly receiving phone calls, e-mails, and 24 letters asking what's going to happen, are they going to --
25 many times before the first of the month we got calls to ask

1 if they're going to get their pension check, is our pension
2 check still coming, what's going to happen on January 1st.
3 We -- it's hundreds of inquiries.

4 Q Was the board of directors of the association in a
5 position to receive a proposal from the city regarding police
6 and fire retirees?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Was it in a position to consider such a proposal?

9 A Yes.

10 Q Was the board in a position to transmit any such proposal
11 or other information to the membership?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Was the board in a position to transmit that information
14 to the retirees, the police and fire retirees who were not 15 members?

16 A Yes.

17 MR. IRWIN: Objection. This is very leading, your
18 Honor.

19 THE COURT: No. I'll permit this. Go ahead, sir.

20 BY MR. MORRIS:

21 Q Did the city ever make a proposal specifically to police
22 and fire retirees?

23 A No, not that I'm aware of, not to our organization.

24 Q Did you ever inform Mr. Orr that the RDPFFA did not want
25 to represent police and fire retirees?

1 A No.

2 Q Did negotiations occur with the RDPFFA?

3 A No.

4 Q Was it possible for the city to negotiate with the
5 RDPFFA?

6 A Yes.

7 Q Has the uncertainty regarding future pensions -- pension
8 and benefit payments affected your members?

9 A Yes.

10 Q Has it affected you personally?

11 A Yes. Everything affects everybody. You're not sure
12 what's going to happen, whether on January 1st -- my personal
13 thing, my daughter has asked me to loan her money for a down-
14 payment on a house, and I told her we're going to have to 15 wait a few months, see what happens. My car currently has 16 250,000 miles on it. It's still running, but it's got 250,
17 so I'm holding off any big expenditures until I get a better
18 picture of what's going to -- the future is going to hold.

19 MR. MORRIS: Thank you, Mr. Taylor. I have no
20 further questions.

21 CROSS-EXAMINATION

22 BY MR. IRWIN:

23 Q Good afternoon, Mr. Taylor.

24 A Good afternoon.

25 Q I just want to revisit briefly something that you

1 described in connection with your background and the 2 background of the organization, the --

3 A Okay.

4 Q -- RDPFFA. We saw earlier in connection with the by-laws
5 of the organization that there are actually two missions, if 6 you will, for the organization. One was to provide
7 information. Do you recall that?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And the other was to promote goodwill among the 10 membership; is that right?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And did the organization start or did it have roots as a 13 social organization of some sort?

14 A Oh, yes. Yes.

15 Q And it was formed over 50 years ago?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And you consider the organization to be advocates for the 18 membership; is that right?

19 A Yeah, advocates for all retired police officers and fire
20 fighters.

21 Q Correct. And I believe that you have indicated that the 22 organization has been involved in lawsuits before; is that
23 right?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And is it a true statement that the only time that the

1 organization has been able to bind the members in connection
2 with a reduction in benefits has been by court order or by
3 consent of all the retirees; is that right?

4 A Yeah. It was either by court order or consent. There
5 was a time when we used consent on the 13th check agreement.

6 Q And in connection with the settlement agreement that you
7 were talking about, that was done with the consent of the 8 members; is that right?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And -- well, I'll return to that in just a moment. The 11 Weiler settlement agreement that you were talking about 12 previously, do you recall that --

13 A Yes.

14 Q -- testimony? And that was a topic that had actually 15 come up at a number of the meetings that you had with the 16 city; is that right?

17 A Yes, with the city and the state.

18 Q And I think you mentioned that at your first meeting with 19 Mr. Orr -- I think you said that was late April; is that
20 right?

21 A Yes. April 18th I think was the date.

22 Q And you said that that was -- that particular consent
23 decree was important enough to you that you wanted to make 24 sure that there was some discussion about that at the 25 meeting; is that right?

1 A Yes.

2 Q Okay. Did you at that meeting indicate to Mr. Orr that
3 you had any authority from the membership of the organization
4 to renegotiate the Weiler consent decree?

5 A No. I wouldn't seek that in advance. Why would I seek 6 that in advance?

7 Q Did you ever -- did you ever in the -- did you ever,
8 prior to the time that the bankruptcy was filed, seek 9 authority from the membership of your organization to reduce 10 the benefits that were memorialized in the Weiler consent
11 decree?

12 A No. I don't see that as part of the negotiating process.
13 I was a member of the Detroit Police Officers Association
14 from 20 years as an executive there, and we never sought in 15 advance permission from the members to reduce benefits then 16 either. That's not something -- I don't see that as part of 17 the bargaining process.

18 Q Is that a "no"? Is it a fair statement to say that you
19 did not, in fact, get authorization from the membership at 20 any time prior to the bankruptcy filing to renegotiate the 21 Weiler consent decree?

22 A I didn't feel it was necessary at that point.

23 Q Okay. And did you ever indicate -- I assume then you
24 never indicated to Mr. Orr or any city officials at your 25 meetings that you were prepared to renegotiate the Weiler

1 consent decree?

2 A No. Mr. Orr --

3 MR. MORRIS: Objection. Asked and answered.

4 THE COURT: It's a slightly different question. You
5 may answer it, sir.

6 THE WITNESS: Mr. Orr never indicated to me at our 7 meeting -- I think I said that -- that he intended to reduce 8 our benefits, so I wasn't going to suggest that he reduce our
9 benefits.

10 BY MR. IRWIN:

11 Q Did you ever indicate -- or the discussion that you
12 described at one of the meetings -- I think it was the -- one
13 of the July meetings, and you said there was an attorney
14 there for the class in the Weiler consent decree. He was 15 present at the meeting.

16 A Yeah. Chris Legghio.

17 Q And do you recall observing the communications or the 18 dialogue back and forth between Mr. Legghio and the Jones Day
19 attorneys?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Okay. Did you observe -- in what you saw and heard, did 22 you observe Mr. Legghio at any time make an offer to 23 renegotiate the terms of Weiler?

24 A No.

25 Q And did anyone at that meeting indicate to anyone at the

1 city that they had authority from the members of your
2 organization to renegotiate Weiler?

3 A Once again, I think you're putting things ahead of time.
4 Why would we negotiate something before anything is offered?

5 THE COURT: Is the answer "no"?

6 THE WITNESS: No. The answer is "no."

7 BY MR. IRWIN:

8 Q Did you believe that the city had the right to 9 renegotiate the terms of Weiler at that meeting?

10 A Through consent, yes.

11 Q And have you at any point in time, even after the 12 bankruptcy filing, approached your membership and asked for 13 consent or authorization to renegotiate Weiler?

14 A Once again, I repeat the same thing. I don't have -- it
15 would be premature.

16 Q Is that a "no"?

17 A That's a "no."

18 Q Okay. And is it also true, Mr. Taylor, that your 19 organization, the RDPFFA, has not negotiated in a binding way
20 a reduction in healthcare costs -- or sorry -- healthcare
21 benefits for its membership?

22 A No, that's not true. We did do -- we did negotiate a
23 reduction in healthcare benefits.

24 Q Are you talking about the Weiler --

25 A Yes.

1 Q -- consent decree? Setting Weiler aside, which was a
2 class action lawsuit --

3 A Yeah.

4 Q -- has there ever been any other instance where the 5 organization has had the authority and has negotiated with 6 binding effect to reduce healthcare benefits to the members?

7 A No. It was never necessary.

8 Q Okay. And has there ever been any other attempt by the 9 organization to get authority from its members to reduce 10 healthcare benefits in a binding way?

11 A No. It was never necessary.

12 Q So the way the process would need to work then, if I
13 understand it, is that the organization would, if invited,
14 participate in negotiations with the city; is that right?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Okay. And then what would happen -- if the city were to 17 make a proposal to the RDPFFA, that is a proposal that the 18 RDPFFA (sic) could consider; is that right?

19 A That's right.

20 Q And it could negotiate -- it could pass along that 21 information to the members; is that right?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And it could even perhaps recommend that the membership
24 accept that proposal; is that right?

25 A That's what we've done in the past, yes.

1 Q But ultimately is it not true that it would be up to the
2 individual members of the association to decide if they would
3 accept or reject that offer?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Okay. And so it could be the case certainly that the 6 city could negotiate with your organization and make a
7 proposal and, in fact, reach an agreement in principle only
8 to find that the vast majority if not all of the members
9 rejected it?

10 A And that would be true with the actives the same. They 11 vote on their contracts.

12 Q And in that case, the city would have to negotiate with 13 the individual members themselves if they wanted to reach an 14 agreement to reduce benefits?

15 A No. I believe we could follow the same procedure that we 16 followed with the Weiler. We'd bring in the assistance of 17 attorneys and a court.

18 Q But in terms of a straightforward negotiation, though,
19 the city would have to negotiate with members individually in 20 that case; is that right?

21 A Not necessarily. I just said we did it with the Weiler
22 through a class action. I believe they could follow the same
23 proceeding.

24 Q Outside of a class action setting where the members are 25 suing the city, if we're just talking about a negotiation

1 where the city is attempting to reduce healthcare benefits,
2 if the city made a proposal, it would ultimately have to
3 negotiate with the individual members; is that right?

4 A Yeah. I believe they could put it out --

5 MR. MORRIS: Objection, your Honor.

6 THE WITNESS: -- for a vote, and the members --

7 MR. MORRIS: Calls -- I'm sorry.

8 THE COURT: What is your objection, sir?

9 MR. MORRIS: Calls for a legal conclusion.

10 THE COURT: Well, the witness can give us his 11 understanding if he feels comfortable doing that.

12 THE WITNESS: Yes, sir. I'll give an answer. I
13 believe that the city could propose that to the retired
14 police officers and fire fighters, and they could vote on the 15 proposal.

16 BY MR. IRWIN:

17 Q They would decide for themselves if they wanted to accept
18 the proposal; is that right?

19 A Yes, they would.

20 Q All right. We've been talking about healthcare benefits;
21 right? We've been talking about the Weiler settlement and --

22 A Yes.

23 Q -- healthcare benefits. Let's talk about pension issues
24 for a moment, if we could.

25 A Okay.

1 Q It is your position, is it not, Mr. Taylor, that the
2 organization -- your organization is not empowered to enter
3 into binding agreements with the city in order to reduce
4 pension benefits? Is that a true statement?

5 A Not on our own, and it would have to be done in the same
6 method, and it would have to -- obviously that one would have
7 to be a consent, and that is a more legal question than I
8 could answer.

9 MR. IRWIN: Well, let's put -- why don't we put 10 up -- let's put up Exhibit 302, if we could.

11 BY MR. IRWIN:

12 Q Do you see Exhibit 302 in front of you, Mr. Taylor?

13 A Yes, I do.

14 Q Do you recall -- do you recall providing a declaration in 15 connection with the legal proceedings in this case?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And is this a true and accurate copy, to the best you can 18 tell, of that declaration?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And did you sign it on or around August 19th of this
21 year?

22 A If that's the date, yeah. It would be around then.

23 Q We can confirm it.

24 A Yeah.

25 Q It's on the last page of the document.

1 A Okay. Yeah.

2 Q Is that your signature on the last page?

3 A Yes, sir.

4 Q Okay. If I could direct your attention, please, to 5 paragraph 6 of that document -- it's on the second page at 6 the bottom.

7 A Okay.

8 Q Have you had a chance just to read that paragraph?

9 A Yes.

10 Q I'd like to direct your attention to the second line
11 where you state, "The RDPFFA is not empowered to enter into a 12 binding agreement with the city regarding pension benefits."

13 A Yes.

14 Q Do you see that?

15 A I stated that, not without outside assistance.

16 Q Not without outside assistance. You mean the consent of 17 the members?

18 A Yes, or through the legal process through a court.

19 Q Right. So the organization does not have the authority
20 absent the consent --

21 A Consent, yes.

22 Q -- of the members who you would purport to bind --

23 A Right.

24 Q -- in order to reduce pension benefits?

25 A Right, yeah.

1 Q Which means that if the city were to wish to negotiate a
2 reduction in pension benefits, ultimately it would need to
3 negotiate with the individual members; correct?

4 A Not the individual members. They could put a proposal
5 and present it for their vote, yes.

6 MR. IRWIN: And if we could -- while we're on the 7 subject of pension benefits, if we could also put up --
8 Laurie, if you could put up Exhibit 83.

9 BY MR. IRWIN:

10 Q Do you see Exhibit 83 in front of you, Mr. Taylor?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Do you recall participating in responding to written
13 questions that were posed to your organization in connection
14 with this proceeding?

15 A Yes.

16 MR. IRWIN: And could we go to the last page of 17 document, Laurie, the signature page? If you could blow up
18 that bottom left section --

19 THE WITNESS: Yeah. I can see it.

20 BY MR. IRWIN:

21 Q Can you see it okay?

22 A Yeah.

23 Q Okay. Is that your signature, Mr. Taylor?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Does that indicate that you personally participated in

1 the preparation of the responses to these questions?

2 A Yes. I reviewed them, yeah.

3 Q To the extent they applied to your organization.

4 A Yeah.

5 Q This was a composite set of questions and answers, some 6 of which applied to your organization and some to another; is
7 that right?

8 A That's right.

9 Q And to the extent that there are questions and answers
10 that relate to your organization, may I presume that you were 11 the person who provided the substantive responses and 12 verified them; is that right?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Okay. And you signed this believing that these answers
15 were truthful and accurate?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Okay.

18 MR. IRWIN: Could we then turn to -- let's look at 19 response Number 3 -- sorry -- response Number 5 is the one I
20 wanted to focus on, the question and answer Number 5. I
21 think it's one more page. There we go. Could you blow that 22 up?

23 BY MR. IRWIN:

24 Q All right. This is a question, and I'll read it -- and 25 I'd like you to make sure I've read it right -- where we

1 ask -- the city asks to identify any person or persons who
2 have knowledge of any attempt prior to July 19th, 2013, by
3 the RDPFFA to obtain any form of legal authority from its 4 members to appoint RDPFFA as their representative in
5 connection with negotiations to reduce, limit, or abridge
6 pension rights or benefits on a prospective basis only
7 provided by the PFRS. Do you see that?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And did you understand the question at the time you were 10 responding to it?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And is it a fair summary to say that the question is 13 asking for individuals with knowledge of any prior attempt to 14 get authority to negotiate a reduction in pension benefits on 15 behalf of the membership?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Okay.

18 A Like I said, it would be premature.

19 Q Yes. But you answered this question, did you not?

20 A Yes, I did.

21 Q Okay. And let's look at your answer. It actually 22 extends onto the next page of the document. There are 23 several lines where there are some objections that are 24 stated, and then there's a response that begins on the next
25 page. Do you see that?

1 A Yes.

2 Q Okay. And the answer provides -- there's a sentence that
3 begins, "However," and it says, "without waiving said
4 objections and in the spirit of cooperation, the RDPFFA
5 states that it is not aware of any individual with knowledge
6 responsive to this interrogatory." Do you see that?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And may I interpret that to mean that there is no --

9 THE COURT: Excuse me. What answer were you reading 10 from?

11 MR. IRWIN: The response to Number 5. Maybe we 12 didn't have it pulled up the right away.

13 THE COURT: Yeah. Let's get this --

14 MR. IRWIN: Yeah.

15 THE COURT: -- set up properly here.

16 MR. IRWIN: Yeah. I think it was just a problem
17 with the screen. I was reading from Number 5, and I'll do it
18 again.

19 THE COURT: Here we go, yes. It was the second page
20 on the screen that wasn't the correct second page, so --

21 MR. IRWIN: Yeah.

22 THE COURT: -- let's just hold on.

23 MR. IRWIN: We'll blow it up.

24 THE COURT: Hold on.

25 MR. IRWIN: Yeah.

1 THE COURT: Yeah. Hold on one second.

2 MR. IRWIN: Right.

3 THE COURT: Okay. Now you may proceed.

4 BY MR. IRWIN:

5 Q I apologize, Mr. Taylor. I think we've got this right
6 now.

7 A All right. I was confused anyway.

8 Q Sorry? We have it. Okay. I think we've got it right
9 now.

10 A Okay.

11 Q Okay. And I'll read it. I'll read from the answer.

12 A Yeah.

13 Q It says, "However, without waiving said objections and in 14 the spirit of cooperation, the RDPFFA states that it is not
15 aware of any individual with knowledge responsive to this 16 interrogatory." Do you see that?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And do I correctly interpret that to mean that you are 19 not aware of any prior instance where the organization has 20 asked for authority from the membership to negotiate a
21 reduction in pension benefits?

22 A In advance, no, we haven't.

23 Q We have not. And it is true that you did not ask for 24 permission in advance in this case here to negotiate with --

25 A No.

1 Q -- the city.

2 A No.

3 Q "No," that's correct?

4 A Yes, that's correct.

5 Q Okay. Then I want to skip down to the end of the answer.

6 There's a sentence here that reads, "The RDPFFA would not

7 take any action to obtain or solicit authority from its

8 members to do something prohibited by the Michigan

9 Constitution." Do you see that?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And you're aware that your organization has advanced a

12 claim in this case that pension benefits are protected by the 13 Michigan Constitution?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And is that the reference that you're making in this

16 answer?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Yes. And the answer states that the organization would,

19 in fact, not ever seek authority from its members to reduce

20 those pension benefits because they're protected by the

21 Constitution?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Am I reading that right?

24 A Yes, not without their consent.

25 Q And did you make that plain to officials from the city at

1 any of the meetings that you attended?

2 A No.

3 Q Okay. But it was your belief at the time that you would 4 not seek authority to negotiate a reduction in pension
5 benefits?

6 A At the meetings I was at, it wasn't only my belief, it
7 was that of Mr. Orr and Mr. Dillon, so, once again, I'm not
8 sure why I would make such a statement.

9 Q And at no point prior to the filing of the bankruptcy did
10 you make it plain to anyone at the city that you would not be 11 willing to negotiate pension benefits?

12 A No. What --

13 MR. MORRIS: Objection. Asked and answered.

14 THE COURT: Well, I'll permit it. I'll permit it
15 one more time. Go ahead.

16 THE WITNESS: Rephrase it again.

17 BY MR. IRWIN:

18 Q Sure. At any point in time prior to the filing of the 19 bankruptcy, did you come to understand that pension benefits
20 might, in fact, need to be renegotiated?

21 A No, not the filing, not as it related to police and fire
22 pensions.

23 Q And so, therefore, you did not indicate that you were 24 unwilling to negotiate reductions in pension benefits to 25 anyone at the city?

1 A No, because I was told all along this process that the
2 pensions for police and fire were protected by the state
3 Constitution by Mr. Orr and by Mr. Dillon.

4 Q And in connection with the meetings that you did attend,
5 you were provided -- you received either presentation
6 materials or you saw things that were presented to you; is
7 that right?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And did you at any point in time -- did you at any point
10 in time seek guidance from any advisors outside of counsel in 11 terms of how to interpret those presentations?

12 A No, because I was -- at that point, I was still waiting
13 for a call back from Mr. Orr, and he had notified me when I
14 met with him if it came to the point where we were affected,
15 he would notify me, and we would be invited back to meet with 16 him, and that, I assumed, would be the time we would discuss
17 things that affected police and fire retirees.

18 Q And if Mr. Orr at one such meeting had indicated to you
19 that he, in fact, did intend to impair pension benefits, it
20 was your belief at the time that that could not be done under 21 the Constitution?

22 A He didn't indicate that to me.

23 Q I understand that.

24 A Yeah.

25 Q But it was your belief that that could not be done?

1 A Yes.

2 Q Okay.

3 MR. IRWIN: That's all I have, your Honor.

4 MR. MORRIS: Could I have -- I'm sorry. Go ahead.

5 MS. PATEK: Good afternoon, Mr. Taylor. Barbara
6 Patek, your Honor, again, on behalf of the Detroit public
7 safety unions.

8 CROSS-EXAMINATION

9 BY MS. PATEK:

10 Q In your testimony talking about the July 11th meeting,
11 you mentioned an attorney by the name of Chris Legghio, who 12 represented you in the Weiler litigation.

13 A Yes, ma'am.

14 Q To your knowledge, do you know whether or not Mr. Legghio
15 also represents the Detroit Fire Fighters from time to time
16 in their labor relations with the City of Detroit?

17 A Yeah. I believe that's why he was at that meeting as 18 their representative.

19 Q And you also mentioned going over to the Detroit Police
20 Officers Association offices after that meeting on the 11th?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And there was some discussion that the president of the 23 DPOA would be sort of taking the lead on moving this process
24 forward?

25 A Yes.

1 Q Can you tell us who that individual was?

2 A Mark Diaz.

3 MS. PATEK: That's all I have.

4 THE COURT: Redirect.

5 MR. MORRIS: Could I have Exhibit 302 on the screen,
6 please, specifically paragraph 6 we were looking at before?

7 REDIRECT EXAMINATION

8 BY MR. MORRIS:

9 Q Mr. Taylor, do you have that there? I'm looking at 10 paragraph 6 of Exhibit 302.

12 Q Yes, it is, page 2.

13 A Yes.

14 Q Page 2 to page 3, yes. Mr. Taylor, would you please read
15 that paragraph? Now, on cross-examination you were asked to 16 read a part of this. Would you please read the complete
17 paragraph 6 for the Court?

18 A Although like a committee of retirees to like the -- 19 although like a committee of retirees to -- appointed by the 20 United States Trustee in this case, the RDPFFA is not
21 empowered to enter into binding agreement with the city
22 regarding pension benefits. The RDPFA (sic) is a
23 representative of the interest of its members and other 24 police and fire retirees and was at all times relevant to 25 this matter in a position to negotiate on their behalf, to

1 communicate and comment upon proposals made by the city and
2 to recommend to its members and to all police and fire
3 retirees an acceptable proposal. The RDPFFA retained counsel
4 to assist in the discussions with the city.

5 Q Thank you. Mr. Taylor, is that an accurate statement?

6 A Yes.

7 MR. MORRIS: No further questions.

8 THE COURT: All right, sir. You may step down.
9 Thank you very much for your testimony today. You're 10 excused.

11 (Witness excused at 2:37 p.m.)

12 MS. LEVINE: Your Honor, we just have to find
13 Mr. Kreisberg. He's been sequestered.

14 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

15 STEVEN KREISBERG, OBJECTOR'S WITNESS, SWORN

16 THE COURT: Please sit down.

17 DIRECT EXAMINATION

18 BY MS. LEVINE:

19 Q Good afternoon, Mr. Kreisberg.

20 A Good afternoon.

21 Q Can you state your name and spell your last name for the 22 record, please?

23 A My name is Steven with the "V." Last name is 24 K-r-e-i-s-b-e-r-g.

25 Q And by whom are you employed?

1 A The American Federation of State, County and Municipal
2 Employees, AFSCME.

3 Q Is that the International?

4 A Yes, it is.

5 Q And what's your title?

6 A I'm the director of collective bargaining and healthcare
7 policy.

8 Q And how long have you held that position?

9 A In different titles about 17 years.

10 Q In your role as director of collective bargaining and 11 healthcare policy, do you provide assistance to AFSCME locals
12 such as AFSCME Michigan Council 25 in their collective 13 bargaining efforts?

14 A I do.

15 Q Do you or does your department in the ordinary course
16 retain copies of the various collective bargaining agreements
17 negotiated and ratified by the various AFSCME locals?

18 A Yes.

19 THE COURT: Ms. Levine, could you slow down a little 20 bit for me, please?

21 MS. LEVINE: This is slow.

22 THE COURT: Slow? Well --

23 MS. LEVINE: Yes, your Honor.

24 THE COURT: -- okay. Slow down a little bit more
25 then.

1 BY MS. LEVINE:

2 Q About how many collective bargaining agreements do you
3 have access to in your capacity as the AFSCME director of 4 collective bargaining and healthcare policy?

5 A Approximately 8,000.

6 Q Does the AFSCME constitution require that the AFSCME
7 locals share a copy of all of their negotiated agreements
8 with the AFSCME International?

9 A Yes.

10 Q As part of the -- as part of the CBA negotiation process,
11 does AFSCME and its locals negotiate CBA's that provide 12 health plan and pension benefits?

13 A Yes.

14 Q As part of the CBA negotiation process, does AFSCME and 15 its locals negotiate CBA provisions requiring employee
16 contributions to health plan and pension benefits?

17 A Employee and employer contributions.

18 Q Prior to July 18 -- and I'm not suggesting anything
19 changed after July 18. It just happens to be the date that 20 the city filed its bankruptcy petition. Prior to July 18th,
21 in Detroit before the consent decree and before the CET's,
22 the city employment terms, on retirement, did a retired
23 AFSCME employee continue to receive health plan and pension
24 benefits on the terms that were in effect under their 25 collective bargaining agreement on their retirement?

1 A Yes.

2 Q And prior to July 18, in Detroit after the consent decree
3 and after the CET's, on retirement, did a retired AFSCME
4 employee continue to receive health and pension benefits on 5 the same terms as those in effect under the CET's on their 6 retirement?

7 A Yes.

8 MS. LEVINE: Can we have AFSCME Exhibit 505, please?

9 BY MS. LEVINE:

10 Q Mr. Kreisberg, I'm going to show you what's been marked
11 as Exhibit 505. It's a -- it's what we've been referring to 12 as the February 1, 2012, tentative agreement. Do you see
13 that document?

14 A Yes, I do.

15 Q Is this one of the 8,000 CBA documents you have access to 16 in your role as the director of collective bargaining and 17 healthcare policy for AFSCME?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Can you identify this tentative agreement from your own
20 personal knowledge or from your review of the records kept in 21 AFSCME's ordinary course of business?

22 A Yes.

23 MS. LEVINE: Your Honor, we'd like to move this 24 document into evidence, please.

25 THE COURT: Any objections?

1 MR. STEWART: Yes, your Honor. What's the relevance
2 of it?

3 THE COURT: The Court overrules the relevance
4 objection. The document is admitted into evidence.

5 (Exhibit 505 received at 2:42 p.m.)

6 MS. LEVINE: Thank you, your Honor.

7 BY MS. LEVINE:

8 Q Did this agreement cover certain AFSCME locals here in
9 Detroit?

10 A It did.

11 Q Did the agreement also cover certain other local unions
12 representing various other Detroit city employees?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Was this agreement negotiated by a coalition of local 15 Detroit unions working together?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Is this a concessionary agreement?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And by "concessionary agreement," does that mean that 20 this agreement reflects reductions in the terms and 21 conditions of employment that were previously in effect?

22 A Yes, specifically compensation levels.

23 Q Was this agreement ratified or approved by the unions who 24 were parties to this agreement?

25 A It was.

1 Q Does that mean that the city represented employees
2 actually voted "yes"?

3 A Yes, it does.

4 Q Was this agreement ever put in effect?

5 A No, it was not.

6 Q What's your understanding as to why it wasn't put in 7 effect?

8 A The City Council had never voted to approve the agreement
9 based on instructions it had received from state officials.

10 Q Under this agreement, would retiree benefits have been 11 affected?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And it was a concessionary agreement, so there would have 14 been -- there would have been concessions to those retiree
15 benefits; correct?

16 A That is correct.

17 Q And would that have affected active as well as retired
18 employees?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Okay. Turning now to --

21 THE COURT: Excuse me one second, please. What 22 state officials did you understand directed the City Council
23 not to approve Exhibit 505?

24 THE WITNESS: My understanding that it was Treasurer
25 Dillon and perhaps Mr. Baird.

1 MS. LEVINE: That was for tomorrow, your Honor.

2 THE COURT: Oh, I jumped the gun. My apologies.

3 MS. LEVINE: No. That's fine. I just -- I wasn't
4 sure he had personal knowledge.

5 BY MS. LEVINE:

6 Q Turning now to the good faith negotiations or the lack of 7 good faith negotiations, did you attend the June 14
8 presentation with the city with regard to the so-called 9 proposal to creditors?

10 A Yes.

11 Q About how long did the presentation last?

12 A The entire meeting lasted a little less than two hours.

13 Q Did the city present certain slides at that meeting?

14 A They did.

15 Q What was the title?

16 A "Proposal to Creditors, City of Detroit."

17 Q Do you recall about how many slides were presented?

18 A The slide presentation was approximately 50 slides out of 19 a fuller deck that was made available to us at the end of the
20 meeting.

21 Q The fuller deck was the full -- there was an executive 22 summary that was presented at the meeting. Is that your 23 understanding?

24 A Yeah, a shortened version of the full proposal.

25 Q Were questions permitted during the slide presentation?

1 A No.

2 Q Were questions permitted after the slide presentation?

3 A Yes, in written form.

4 Q Were you told one way or the other at that meeting
5 whether or not it was a negotiation?

6 A We were told it was not a negotiation.

7 Q Who made that comment?

8 A The leaders of the meeting.

9 Q Was that --

10 A City officials and their attorneys.

11 Q Was Mr. Orr present at that meeting?

12 A He was.

13 Q As the director of collective bargaining and healthcare
14 policy for AFSCME, have you participated with AFSCME locals
15 in collective bargaining sessions?

16 A Yes.

17 Q About how many CBA negotiations have you attended?

18 A Hundreds, thousand, I mean if you're talking about 19 individual discrete sessions.

20 Q In your experience, was the June 14 presentation a
21 negotiation?

22 A No.

23 Q Did you attend the June 20 presentation with the city?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And did you also attend the July 10 and the July 11

1 presentations?

2 A I did, yes.

3 Q To try and shortcut them, I'm going to sort of ask these 4 questions together. Did the city make presentations at all
5 three of those meetings as well?

6 A Yes, they did.

7 Q Was Mr. Orr present at any of those meetings?

8 A No, he was not.

9 Q Did they permit questioning during the presentations?

10 A Not during the June 20th meeting. Again, it was written
11 questions at the end of the presentation.

12 Q And what about during the July 10 and July 11 meeting?

13 A July 10 and 11 meetings, questions were permitted in a
14 less formal and structured manner.

15 Q How long did the June 20 meeting last?

16 A Approximately two hours, maybe a bit less.

17 Q And what about the July 10 presentation?

18 A The same.

19 Q And what about the July 11 presentation?

20 A The same as well.

21 Q What was the topic of the June 20 presentation?

22 A Legacy costs.

23 Q And what about the July 10?

24 A July 10th meeting pertained to pensions.

25 Q And what about the July 11 meeting?

1 A Retiree healthcare.

2 Q Were you told whether or not any of these meetings were
3 negotiations?

4 A We were expressly told they were not negotiations.

5 Q At each meeting that announcement was made?

6 A Yes.

7 Q In your mind, were these negotiations?

8 A No, they were not.

9 Q Was Mayor Bing at any of these meetings?

10 A No, he was not.

11 Q Between June 14 and July 18, were you or AFSCME invited
12 to any other presentations by the city?

13 A No.

14 Q Between June 14 and July 18th, was AFSCME invited to any 15 meeting you would consider a negotiation or where there was a
16 discussion, a give-and-take about the June 14 proposal?

17 A Other than the ones we described, no.

18 Q Did you request any financial or other information from 19 the city between June 14 and July 18 to better understand the 20 information provided at those meetings?

21 A Yes, we did.

22 Q Did you request information about the city's financial 23 condition?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Did you request information to better understand the

1 health benefits?

2 A Not directly. Understand the retiree healthcare?

3 Q All right. Did you request information to better
4 understand retiree health benefits?

5 MR. STEWART: Objection, your Honor. We've had a
6 series of leading questions. Could we perhaps not have so
7 many leading questions?

8 THE COURT: No. The Court does not consider these 9 leading, so you may continue.

10 MS. LEVINE: Thank you, your Honor.

11 BY MS. LEVINE:

12 Q Did you request information to better understand the 13 pension portion of the June 14 proposal and the discussions
14 that were had on June 20, July 10, and July 11?

15 A Yes. I requested information regarding the funding
16 levels of the pension.

17 Q Did you personally sign a NDA or confidentiality
18 agreement to access the city's data room?

19 A I did.

20 Q Did you access the city's data room?

21 A Yes, I did.

22 Q Was certain information in response to your request
23 posted to the data room?

24 A Yes, it was.

25 Q Was all of the information you requested posted to the

1 data room?

2 A No.

3 Q Did you consider any of the information you requested
4 inconsistent with the type of information you would normally
5 request in the context of a CBA negotiation?

6 A No, I did not.

7 Q Prior to the July -- prior to July 18, did the city ever
8 ask you to agree to or to sign a document waiving the right
9 to assert that the city had waived any of its rights under PA
10 436 to facilitate discussions or a give-and-take with regard
11 to the city's proposal?

12 A The city never sought such a waiver from me.

13 Q Prior to July 18th, was the June 14th proposal ever 14 modified or revised with regard to the retiree health or 15 pension benefits?

16 A No.

17 Q The average AFSCME retiree has what level -- collects
18 what level of pension benefit?

19 A In the City of Detroit, it's approximately 18 to $19,000
20 a year.

21 Q In your position as director of collective bargaining and 22 healthcare policy, do you have an opportunity to review from 23 time to time what the poverty level is?

24 A I do.

25 Q What is the poverty level for a family of three?

1 A Family of three, approximately $19,500 annually.

2 Q And what's the poverty level for an individual?

3 A Approximately $11,500.

4 Q Based upon the proposal to creditors provided here, can
5 you tell whether or not AFSCME retirees will be reduced below
6 the poverty level as a result of this proposal as it
7 currently sits?

8 A It's hard to say. The proposal was not to pay into the 9 pensions, and it was -- the representatives of the city
10 declared that there would be no funding of the pensions in 11 terms of the unfunded obligations. It has been not described 12 to this date that I'm aware of what impact would be and what 13 the effect would be on particular benefits, and, of course,
14 the benefits for individuals vary based on their years of 15 service and their salary levels at the time of retirement.

16 Q There was a letter that was written by Ed McNeil in May 17 where he indicates that he's not negotiating on -- or is not 18 going to negotiate pensions or retiree benefits. Are you
19 familiar with that letter?

20 A I am.

21 Q And so the questioning seems to indicate that the city is 22 concluding that as a result of that letter, AFSCME was either
23 refusing to negotiate on behalf of its retirees or couldn't
24 negotiate on behalf of its retirees.

25 MR. STEWART: Objection, your Honor.

1 Characterization of another witness' testimony and also
2 hearsay since she's speaking about the substance of a
3 document that's not before the witness or in front of us but 4 I should add asking the witness to speculate about the 5 contents of that document.

6 THE COURT: I need you to just ask a question.

7 BY MS. LEVINE:

8 Q Is it your understanding that AFSCME has from time to 9 time taken the position that it can't negotiate retiree
10 health or pension benefits?

11 A Yes, we have.

12 Q But in the February tentative agreement that we were 13 discussing earlier, February 2012, did that agreement affect 14 retiree health benefits?

15 A It did affect retiree health benefits.

16 Q And are there other recent examples where AFSCME has 17 worked around the issue of both protecting its members' right
18 to retiree health and pension benefits but also come up with 19 a work-around to effectively negotiate a businesslike
20 solution to an economic problem like this one?

21 MR. STEWART: Objection to form.

22 THE COURT: Overruled. Please answer, sir.

23 THE WITNESS: Well, across the nation, you know --
24 it's a diverse country, as we all know, and we've -- we enter
25 into all sorts of agreements.

1 THE COURT: Well, let me interrupt you.

2 MS. LEVINE: Well, let me -- actually, let me try --

3 THE COURT: You're talking about --

4 MS. LEVINE: Let me do -- let me go narrower, your
5 Honor.

6 THE COURT: -- here in the city?

7 MS. LEVINE: Actually, I have a specific --

8 BY MS. LEVINE:

9 Q What are you guys doing right now in Illinois?

10 A Okay.

11 THE COURT: By "you guys," you mean AFSCME?

12 MS. LEVINE: AFSCME.

13 THE WITNESS: Yeah, the union. The State of 14 Illinois passed legislation in the recent past which would
15 impair our retiree healthcare benefits. Traditionally, state
16 employees, upon retirement, would enjoy health benefits
17 without being assessed any premium charge for the healthcare.
18 The state enacted a statute requiring that retirees now pay
19 for some cost of their retiree healthcare but did not specify
20 a rate, and instead the legislation required that the state
21 negotiate the rate that would be charged to the retirees with 22 the active employees' union, which is an AFSCME affiliate,
23 Council 31, so at the collective bargaining table over their 24 most recent state agreement, those negotiations took place.
25 However, our position -- the union's position is that that

1 particular statute is unconstitutional under Illinois'
2 Constitution, which also has a nonimpairment very similar to
3 the one here in Michigan. And based on that, the 4 understanding we've reached with the state was we are not
5 waiving our rights to challenge the statute and the 6 requirement for payment, so by entering into that agreement,
7 it was very clear that we were not prejudicing our rights.
8 We were not waiving our rights to eventually -- and we are 9 right now in court challenging the legality of imposing the 10 premium payments on the retirees.

11 BY MS. LEVINE:

12 Q So you both negotiated a good faith solution on the 13 assumption that you would -- you might lose in court, and you
14 continued to preserve your rights with regard to your -- what 15 you believe to be your constitutional rights in court;
16 correct?

17 A Correct. We thought that was -- yeah.

18 MS. LEVINE: Your Honor, I have no further questions
19 for Mr. Kreisberg.

20 THE COURT: I do need to stop at three. Do you want 21 to start now, or do you want to just pick it up in the 22 morning?

23 MR. STEWART: May be better in the morning. I'll 24 have to break it up otherwise, your Honor.

25 THE COURT: All right. In the meantime, is someone

1 willing to volunteer me from the -- volunteer for me on the
2 objectors' side how long the case might take for our planning
3 purposes?

4 MR. MONTGOMERY: Your Honor, we have shared with the
5 city estimated times for witnesses. I would say it's fair
6 that the sum of direct and cross for the two witnesses have
7 started -- has gone beyond the time estimates. I would say
8 on current projections we would finish sometime Thursday
9 morning, so in theory Thursday afternoon is available for the 10 start of closing. Again, if all changes are simply additive
11 and not plowed earth.

12 THE COURT: Right. Okay. So our closings would 13 then be on Thursday, perhaps into Friday.

14 MR. MONTGOMERY: Yes, sir.

15 THE COURT: All right. And I've been asked to 16 remind you that we are back in this room tomorrow. We are 17 not going to Room 100. We're back in this room. And I think 18 that's it for today, so we'll be in recess.

19 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is adjourned.

1 (Court in Session)

2 THE CLERK: Case number 13-53846, City of Detroit,
3 Michigan.

4 MR. ALBERTS: Your Honor, may we be excused?

5 THE COURT: Yes.

6 MR. ALBERTS: Thank you.

7 MR. SCHNEIDER: Your Honor, Matthew Schneider on
8 behalf of the State of Michigan. Before we begin, because 9 we're discussing witnesses here and the order of witnesses,
10 Ms. Brimer and I have been talking about one of the witnesses
11 that the objectors wish to have, Howard Ryan.

12 And Ms. Brimer and I are in agreement that instead of 13 having to have him called, that his 30(b)(6) deposition tape
14 could be a part of the record instead. And Ms. Brimer and I
15 wanted to make sure that you were okay with that.

16 THE COURT: Uh-huh, absolutely. If that works for 17 you, it works for me.

18 MR. SCHNEIDER: We also wanted to make sure that 19 nobody else objects to that.

20 THE COURT: Any other objections to using the video
21 tape?

22 MR. SHUMAKER: The city is in agreement with that,
23 Your Honor.

24 MS. BRIMER: Thank you, Your Honor.

25 MR. SCHNEIDER: Thank you, Your Honor.

1 THE COURT: Are you ready, sir?

2 CROSS EXAMINATION

3 BY MR. STEWART:

4 Q Geoffrey Stewart for Jones, Day. Good morning, Mr.
5 Kreisberg. I don't think we've met.

6 A No.

7 Q My name is Geoffrey Stewart. I'm a lawyer for Jones, Day
8 representing the city. Let me collect my papers for a minute.

9 You, I think, testified that you attended the June 14
10 meeting?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Okay. Can we put up Exhibit 43, Page 109? While that's 13 being done, Mr. Kreisberg, that was the big meeting if you --
14 are you looking for your glasses as I look for mine all the 15 time?

16 A Yeah, well -- I wasn't sure.

17 Q I have a spare pair if you need them.

18 A I'll be able to see. If I have trouble, I'll --

19 Q Okay. I do -- I actually do have a spare pair.

20 A Thank you.

21 Q Okay. And you remember that day attending a meeting for 22 I think you said that lasted a little less than two and a half
23 hours?

24 A Yes, yes.

25 Q And various slides were shown at the meeting, I think you
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1674
of 2386

1 testified?

2 A That's correct.

3 Q Do you remember this slide and we're on Page 109 of 4 Exhibit 43. Do you remember this slide being shown -- shown
5 that day?

6 A It's -- it's possible the content was shown. I don't 7 think it would have been slide 109 because the slide deck that 8 was shown had less slides than 100 slides.

9 Q Okay. I think we may have had slide deck inflation here.
10 Let me just put it this way. Do you remember the subject
11 coming up at the meeting about what the city's intentions were 12 when it came to claims for unfunded OPEB liabilities?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And just for the record OPEB is short for other post
15 employment benefits?

16 A That's right.

17 Q And usually that's retiree benefits for health or 18 something else?

19 A Correct.

20 Q Okay. I'm going to use OPEB unless that is going to be 21 confusing for you if I do.

22 A It's fine with me.

23 Q Okay. Do you remember what the city said on June 14
24 about its intentions with respect to OPEB benefits?

25 A I do.

1 Q And what do you remember the city telling you?

2 A Essentially that they would cease providing the current
3 benefit offerings and in lieu therefore they would provide
4 distinct benefits for pre-Medicare retirees and post-Medicare
5 retirees that would cost in -- in a pay range of approximately 6 100.00 to $130.00 per month for each of those categories with 7 a -- a separate category for retirees who may not be eligible
8 for Medicare.

9 Q How extensive did you consider that proposal in a way of 10 changes to what the retirees currently enjoyed?

11 A Well, the proposal lacked detail. But the structure that 12 was described was very extensive.

13 Q Okay. And then the next bullet point on this slide has 14 to do with claims for unfunded pension liabilities. Now, I
15 understand you may not remember this slide. So if it helps
16 you, fine, but if not, you don't need to look at it.

17 Do you remember what it was the city said that day about 18 its intentions when it came to unfunded pension liabilities?

19 A The city essentially said it would -- it would not be 20 paying into the fund for those unfunded liabilities other than 21 some of the contingency note that they talked about which 22 frankly at the time I didn't quite fully understand.

23 Q Did you consider -- let's put it this way. How extensive 24 or major did you consider the city's planned changes to its 25 pension liabilities?

1 A Again the -- the city's proposal lacked any detail. But
2 the structural changes described were very extensive.

3 Q Okay. Now is it not the case that your union AFSCME,
4 represents about half of all the city employees?

5 A That's correct.

6 Q Okay. And is it also not the case that your union lacked
7 the authority to negotiate with respect to either pension
8 liabilities or OPEB with respect to retirees?

9 A That's not the case.

10 Q Okay. Well, let me go to your deposition then. Can we 11 put up Page 29, starting with Line 17. And while we're doing
12 that, you remember giving a deposition in this case, do you
13 not, Mr. Kreisberg?

14 A I do, I remember.

15 Q That was just a few weeks ago. And you were examined for 16 a couple of hours?

17 A It seems like more than a couple of hours.

18 Q Okay. Let me start, I'm just going to read a part to 19 you. And I'm going to read these questions and answers. And 20 again I'm going to ask you whether this is -- these are the 21 questions you were asked and these were the answers you gave.

22 Question, by Mr. Miller, let me ask a clarifying
23 question. Is it your understanding that under Michigan law
24 unions would be able to waive the rights of existing retirees
25 to their existing health benefits? And then Mr. Sherman

1 interposes an objection. And I'm jumping down to your answer.
2 The witness, again, that is a matter of law that I haven't
3 fully researched.

4 Question, so you would have no opinion about that? Then
5 Mr. Sherwood interposes an objection. And Mr. Miller says,
6 you can answer. And you say, I may have opinions, but I have 7 no legal conclusion.

8 Question, what is your personal opinion? My opinion
9 would be that the union can engage in such bargaining and 10 could possibly extensively or not extensively, you know, make 11 reasonable adjustments to retiree health care benefits.

12 Question, without the retirees' approval? Answer,
13 without the retirees' approval.

14 Question, what about extensive changes to retirees health
15 benefits? Could they make that without the retirees'
16 approval? There's an objection. You answer, I do not think
17 so.

18 Question, so the ability of the union to make changes to 19 the retirees benefits without the retirees' approval hinges on 20 the nature of the change? Answer, yes.

21 And the more extensive the change at some point the union
22 does not have the ability to bind the retirees? Answer, that 23 would be my opinion.

24 Were you asked those questions and did you give those
25 answers in your deposition?

1 A Yes, sir.

2 Q And were your answers truthful?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Now you were asked yesterday -- take that down and put up
5 Exhibit 505. You were asked yesterday about the tentative
6 agreement. Do you remember questions you were asked and this 7 Exhibit 505 was put up on the screen for you back then?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Okay. It was the case, was it not -- first of all, that 10 was negotiated by a coalition of city unions, correct?

11 A Correct.

12 Q That did not include the uniform unions, right?

13 A That is correct.

14 Q It also did not include the water and sewer employees?

15 A Again correct.

16 Q Now is it also not the case that in those negotiations
17 the coalition did not represent retirees?

18 A That's correct.

19 Q Instead what the coalition did was agree that if the city
20 after this happened cut retiree benefits, the unions would not 21 help those retired employees in any grievance they might file
22 against the city?

23 A I disagree with that characterization.

24 Q Let's go to the last page of the exhibit then. I think

25 that's -- there it is. There's one more. Should be another
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1679
of 2386

1 page back there. And you want to go to Page 21 or what would
2 be 21 if it were numbered. There. Do you have that page
3 before you?

4 A I do.

5 Q And can you tell us what it is?

6 A If you make that piece larger like we did the others.

7 Q Go ahead, can you make the text larger for the witness,
8 please?

9 MS. LEVINE: Reading glasses, is that what you're 10 using?

11 MR. STEWART: You can have mine. I actually do have 12 a second pair. May -- may I approach the witness, Judge?

13 THE COURT: Do you want to borrow some reading
14 glasses, sir?

15 A I think we're going to be fine.

16 THE COURT: Okay. All right. He's going to be 17 fine.

18 MR. STEWART: I buy them by the box literally at 19 this age. I have very -- very poor eyesight.

20 A Where do you get them? I could use them.

21 MR. STEWART: Actually I get them on line and I will 22 after the break I will give you the web address.

23 THE COURT: All right. Let's proceed.

24 MR. STEWART: I'm sorry, Your Honor. Anyhow --

25 THE COURT: Okay.

1 Q Do you have this before you?

2 A I do, yes. Thank you.

3 Q Okay. And it says -- and first of all, who signed all of 4 this just in general?

5 A These are the coalition union representatives.

6 Q Okay. Is your signature here by the way?

7 A No, it is not.

8 Q Okay. And it says it is hereby agreed between the 9 parties that the coalition of unions waive their rights to 10 grieve and arbitrate, participate as a party, or sponsor legal 11 action brought by retirees concerning the changes in their 12 health care which may arise in 2012. Is that -- did I read
13 that correctly?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And that was the coalition agreeing that if a retiree was 16 aggrieved by changes to health care benefits, the unions would 17 not support that grievance, right?

18 A That's correct.

19 Q Okay. Now -- you can take that down. There were a
20 series of meetings that counsel asked you about and I'll go
21 through them very quickly.

22 We talked about the one on the 14th already. Then there
23 are meetings on June 20th, correct?

24 A Correct.

25 Q And you attended those?

1 A Yes.

2 Q And July 10?

3 A I attended that meeting.

4 Q And July 11th?

5 A I attended that meeting.

6 Q And there was a data room which was available to you and 7 you or people working with you accessed the data room?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Okay. And during that period of time am I correct that 10 the city said to you that they were willing to talk with you
11 and share information with you and wanted to have discussions
12 with you?

13 A The city had indicated it would share data.

14 Q Uh-huh. And they did?

15 A Through the data room.

16 Q Okay. Well, they -- they also gave you data, did they 17 not, during various meetings that you attended with them?

18 A The data consisted of the proposal for creditors which 19 was provided both in the shortened version and made available
20 in the longer version at the conclusion of the meeting on June
21 14th.

22 Q Uh-huh.

23 A And then approximately 20 or 25 page slide deck.

24 Q Right.

25 A On legacy costs on June 20th.

1 Q Uh-huh.

2 A And then a single page describing the bare outlines of
3 the OPEB proposal on July 11th.

4 Q Uh-huh.

5 A Most of those I would not characterize as data other than 6 the June 14th. I would consider that a presentation which 7 included some data. But it was not completely responsive to 8 all the data.

9 Q I see.

10 A That we would need.

11 Q That all having been said, did the city not ask your 12 union more than once to make a counter proposal to them?

13 A That was not a term that was used.

14 Q And what term did you use?

15 A They -- they were fond of the term feedback.

16 Q I see. But did the day come when your union actually did
17 prepare a counter proposal?

18 A We never provided a counter proposal to the city.

19 Q That wasn't my question. My question was whether you
20 prepared one.

21 A I did not prepare a proposal.

22 Q Did your union prepare a proposal?

23 A If I could -- could I ask a clarifying question of you?
24 Is that permitted?

25 Q I'm sorry?

1 A Is it permitted for me to ask a clarifying question?

2 Q You can ask me whatever you want.

3 A On what subject?

4 Q Health care benefit, retiree health.

5 A No.

6 Q Did you prepare a counter proposal on anything?

7 A We had on a post-petition -- post-petition we prepared a
8 counter proposal on active employee health care.

9 Q Uh-huh. Let's go to your deposition Page 82, Line 16.

10 MS. LEVINE: Your Honor, I apologize. Before we ask
11 a question, I just want to caution the witness to stay before
12 July 18th and not to discuss anything going on in the 13 mediations.

14 THE COURT: That's good advice, sir.

15 Q Page 82, Line 16. And once again, Mr. Kreisberg, I'm 16 going to read the questions and answers and at the end I'm 17 going to ask you whether this was your testimony. All right?

18 Question, did AFSCME make any formal counter proposal
19 subsequent to the June 20th meeting respecting retiree health?
20 Answer, we had proposed that we negotiate and suggested a date
21 for negotiations.

22 Question, but a labeled proposal to negotiate is not
23 itself a counter proposal, correct? Answer, the counter
24 proposal would have been provided at the negotiating session.

25 Question, so you were prepared at a negotiating session
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1684
of 2386

1 in July to provide a counter proposal? Answer, we had
2 suggested having a meeting on July 10 to do such.

3 Question, but you just testified that you were prepared
4 if there were to be a negotiating session in July to make a
5 counter proposal, correct? Answer, yes.

6 Question, okay. Did you make any counter proposals at 7 the meetings in July 10 or July 11? Answer, no.

8 Question, did you have at that time the counter proposal
9 to make? Answer, can I consult with counsel? Question, no,
10 it's a pending question. I would like you to answer it first.
11 Mr. Sherwood says, I would just -- if it involves privileged 12 communications. Witness, that is the point. I discussed such 13 a proposal with counsel. Question, I'm sorry, it involved
14 discussions with counsel. And you go on.

15 And now let's go to Page 84, 19.

16 A Excuse me?

17 Q Were you asked those questions and did you give those 18 answers?

19 A Yes.

20 Q Okay. Now go to Page 84, Line 19. Question, did you
21 have a counter proposal to make? Answer, yes.

22 Question, but you did not make the counter proposal,
23 correct? Answer, correct.

24 Were you asked those questions and did you give those
25 answers?

1 A Yes.

2 Q Now, let me -- you can take that down. I believe you
3 were asked by counsel about the provisions of the Michigan
4 Constitution which at sometimes has been called the pension
5 clause. Do you -- do you know of something called a pension
6 clause?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Okay. And it's -- I think it's Article -- Article 9, 9 Section 24 if I recall correctly. Is it the position of 10 AFSCME that the accrued pensions, investment pensions of city
11 retirees can never be cut back?

12 MS. LEVINE: Objection, Your Honor. Calls for a
13 legal conclusion.

14 THE COURT: Overruled. Please answer.

15 Q Is that the union's position?

16 A I'm not a lawyer but that's our position, yes.

17 Q Okay. And that's something you believed back in June?

18 A It is.

19 Q And in July?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And today?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Have you advised any of your employees to waive their 24 constitutional rights?

25 A I have not.

1 Q Is the union prepared to advise people to waive -- waive
2 their constitutional rights?

3 THE COURT: Don't answer that question.

4 MR. STEWART: I'm sorry? Okay. You said not to
5 answer the question.

6 THE COURT: Yeah, I -- I don't want the witness to 7 answer that question. You can ask him that question as it
8 pertained to pre-petition.

9 MR. STEWART: Yes.

10 THE COURT: But not Monday.

11 Q Limiting us to all days before and -- and including July 12 18 of this year, was -- excuse me, was your union prepared to 13 advise its members to waive their constitutional rights?

14 A No.

15 MR. STEWART: Thank you. That's all I have.

16 MS. LEVINE: Your Honor, brief redirect.

17 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

18 REDIRECT EXAMINATION

19 BY MS. LEVINE:

20 Q Just a couple of questions, Mr. Kreisberg. With regard
21 to the deposition testimony that you were just read with 22 regard to retiree health. It -- it sounded like you actually
23 had a written proposal sitting in your desk drawer that you
24 just didn't give to anybody. Did you have thoughts about a 25 proposal, or did you actually have a physical written fully

1 blown proposal?

2 A I had thoughts about a proposal that I discussed with
3 counsel.

4 Q And did you want to have those discussions with the city
5 to see whether or not some of your thoughts would make sense
6 in a counter proposal?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Same question with regard to the pension issues. Did you
9 have some thoughts about the pension proposal that was made by 10 the city that you wanted to discuss with the city to see if it
11 made sense?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And in addition to that did you also require additional 14 information to make those thoughts more formal into what might 15 be deemed to be an actual written formal counter proposal?

16 A Yes.

17 Q You were asked by counsel if -- if AFSCME was willing to 18 advise its members to waive its constitutional rights. Do you
19 recall that testimony?

20 A I do.

21 Q Under the -- under the February 12th collective bargaining
22 agreement on a go forward basis, were there changes to pension
23 benefits?

24 A Yes. The TA reduced post effectively the pension
25 accruals of active employees.

1 Q And did it also permit for certain pensions for new hires
2 to get a defined contribution plan?

3 A It gave the -- the city the authority to establish a
4 defined contribution plan.

5 Q And did you think that making those changes violated the 6 pension clause?

7 A I did not.

8 Q In addition to that, in -- in the example we were 9 discussing yesterday in Illinois, where the -- there was a
10 concern that the proposed changes violated a constitutional
11 right. Do you recall that discussion?

12 A I do.

13 Q Did you along with the AFSCME locals involved there
14 negotiate revisions to retiree benefits consistent with the 15 current form of the statute?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And were those changes implemented?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And -- and was there also a reservation of right that 20 allowed the local there to continue to preserve its 21 constitutional rights? Continue to litigate over the issue of 22 whether or not their constitutional rights were abridged?

23 A Yes. The agreement was without prejudice to a right to 24 continue the litigation challenging the constitutionality of 25 the law.

1 Q You were showed a page in the tentative agreement where
2 the unions agreed not to support the retirees in connection
3 with any grievance or other claims. Do you recall that?

4 A I do.

5 Q In Illinois, isn't it true that the named plaintiff there
6 is an individual retiree?

7 A I believe so, yes.

8 Q And who is paying for the cost of that litigation?

9 A The union is, the AFSCME and as well as other unions are 10 challenging it as well.

11 Q One more follow up question. How long did the 12 negotiations take for the tentative agreement, recognizing 13 that it was Thanksgiving and Christmas and we weren't in a
14 pre-bankruptcy filing regime. But actual days of negotiation,
15 about how long did it take to negotiate that coalition
16 agreement?

17 A Yeah, I really don't know the number of days the parties
18 met. But it -- it occurred over a period of a few months, the 19 negotiations. But there's -- in those negotiations like many 20 others there's a period of intense activity which is probably 21 about 60 to 90 days.

22 MS. LEVINE: Thank you. No further questions, Your
23 Honor.

24 MR. STEWART: If I might, Judge, just a few raised
25 by the questions.

1 THE COURT: Yes, sir.

2 RE CROSS EXAMINATION

3 BY MR. STEWART:

4 Q How long did the negotiations in Illinois take?

5 A The negotiations in Illinois over the retiree health
6 care?

7 Q What you just talked about.

8 A They were part of a master agreement involving many many
9 issues.

10 Q And how long did they take?

11 A I believe they lasted over a year.

12 Q Okay. And you were asked about the tentative agreement.
13 Were vested pension rights reduced under the tentative
14 agreement?

15 A Not at all.

16 Q Were vested pension rights reduced under the tentative
17 agreement?

18 A Maybe I didn't understand the last question. Did you
19 just repeat the question twice?

20 Q And maybe I just repeated myself. Were any vested rights
21 to be reduced under the tentative agreement?

22 A Not that I'm aware of, no.

23 Q And is that why in your opinion there is no violation of 24 the pension clause?

25 A Yes.

1 MR. STEWART: Thanks. That's all I have.

2 THE COURT: In one of your answers, or maybe more
3 than one, you used the phrase TA. Is that tentative
4 agreement?

5 A Yes, sir.

6 THE COURT: All right. Any more questions for the 7 witness? You may step down, sir, and you are excused.

8 A Thank you.

9 (WITNESS STEVEN KREISBERG WAS EXCUSED AT 9:40 A.M.)

10 THE COURT: Thank you for your testimony.

11 MR. DECHIARA: Good morning, Your Honor. Peter
12 Dechiara from the law firm of Cohen, Weiss, and Simon, LLP for 13 the United Auto Workers International Union. The UAW for its 14 first witness calls Michael Nicholson who is out in the hall
15 and I will go get him.

16 THE COURT: Thank you.

17 THE WITNESS: Good morning, Your Honor.

18 THE COURT: Step forward, please. Raise your right
19 hand.

20 (WITNESS MICHAEL NICHOLSON WAS SWORN)

21 THE COURT: Please sit down.

22 MR. DECHIARA: Your Honor, before we begin, I'm 23 going to be referring with the witness to a couple of exhibits
24 in the UAW exhibit book. If I could ask the witness to please
25 locate the UAW exhibit book that's on the table there. And if

1 I may, I'll --

2 THE COURT: Yes, please.

3 DIRECT EXAMINATION

4 BY MR. DECHIARA:

5 Q Good morning.

6 A Good morning.

7 Q Would you please state your full name for the record?

8 A Michael Brendan Nicholson.

9 Q By whom are you employed?

10 A International Union, UAW.

11 Q And in what position?

12 A General counsel.

13 Q Does the UAW have any members who may be affected by this
14 proceeding?

15 A Yes. We have members who are not employees of the City
16 of Detroit, but are employees and retirees of the Detroit
17 Public Library which is a separate municipal corporation but 18 whose employees and retirees participate in the Detroit
19 general retirement system.

20 In addition, we have employees and retiree -- employee --
21 employee and retiree members who work for the City of Detroit
22 Law Department as lawyers, some Detroit Water and Sewer
23 Department employees, some civilian police investigators, some 24 paralegals, and I may be missing something, but I think that's 25 about the -- the size of the list.

1 Q So about?

2 A You know, less than 200 employees. Less than 200
3 retirees. I don't have an exact count, but to give you an 4 idea of the magnitude, Your Honor.

5 THE COURT: Okay. Can you point that microphone
6 more right at you? You can adjust the --

7 A Like this?

8 THE COURT: Yes. That's better.

9 A Okay.

10 THE COURT: Don't -- don't speak too close to it,
11 but it needs to be pointed right at you.

12 A All right. I'll look for your reaction to see if I'm 13 talking too loud.

14 THE COURT: Okay.

15 Q Where and when did you go to law school?

16 A I attended the University of Michigan Law School and I
17 graduated with an honors J.D. degree in 1977.

18 Q And can you recount for us briefly your professional
19 career since law school?

20 A Having left law school, I -- my first job was with the 21 appellate court branch of the National Labor Relations Board
22 at their headquarters in Washington, D.C. I argued cases in 23 the various United States Courts of Appeals around the 24 country.

25 I also, while I was there, took up an interest in 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1694
of 2386

1 bankruptcy law. They were looking for people in a branch
2 called the -- the special litigation branch to help on 3 bankruptcy matters. And so I did that. That was actually my 4 first involvement with bankruptcy as a lawyer for the labor
5 board. I worked for the labor board until March 1980.

6 Q And what did you do next?

7 A I was hired as a lawyer by International Union, UAW. I
8 had clerked there during law school.

9 Q And how long did you stay at the UAW?

10 A That time I stayed from 1980 until 2000, I believe. 2000
11 or 2001. And --

12 Q And during that period what -- what kind of work did you
13 do at the UAW?

14 A The first -- continuing my theme of -- I did a lot of 15 different kinds of work, but one of the first things I
16 remember when I went there was I got in on the tail end of the 17 Chrysler, I won't call it a bankruptcy because it wasn't in 18 Bankruptcy Court, but it was a restructuring through Congress.

19 Learned about retiree insurance issues there for the 20 first time before there was an OPEB, before that term existed.
21 I worked on that. We went into a severe financial crisis in 22 the auto industry almost with my starting.

23 The UAW when I hired in had a million and a half members
24 and that started a decline, mostly in the parts industry, but

25 also otherwise in a lot of business failures, a lot of 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1695
of 2386

1 bankruptcies. And I dealt with those issues and the impacts
2 on employees and retirees.

3 Q Were you involved in any legislative activities while you
4 were at the UAW in that period?

5 A I was. I was basically -- because I was the lead
6 bankruptcy lawyer in the eighties for the UAW, I was involved
7 in a number of high profile cases, one of which was LTV. Your 8 Honor may remember that. It wasn't in this Court, it was in 9 the Southern District of New York.

10 And the case began by the debtor which was a conglomerate
11 and had steel mills where the steel workers were the union,
12 but also had an aerospace division in Texas where we were the 13 union. The debtor stopped paying retiree health care
14 immediately upon filing and there was immediate reaction in 15 Congress. An emergency piece of legislation was passed
16 reversing that decision essentially.

17 And then longer term legislation was considered and 18 enacted. I was at work directly with Senator Metzenbaum's
19 staff who was the sponsor of the bill that included among 20 other things Section 1114 of the Act and I actually drafted
21 significant portions of 1114 as well as the Senate report that 22 accompanied it.

23 Q What did you do after 2000?

24 A I retired from the UAW. I went to work for the office of 25 the election administrator of -- for the International

1 Brotherhood of Teamsters. That takes a little bit of 2 explanation, but not much.

3 So the Justice Department had sued the Teamsters under 4 the Racketeering and Corrupt Organizations Act back in the 5 late eighties I think. And to -- in an effort to remove the 6 influence of organized crime in the Teamsters union.

7 And that was settled with a consent decree that was
8 administered and still is administered. It's still alive
9 today by the Justice Department. And one of the pieces of the 10 consent decree was that Justice Department and Court approved
11 monitors would monitor the International officer elections of 12 the Teamsters and issue decisions.

13 So I ran with Mr. Wertheimer who was the election
14 administrator appointed directly by Justice. I was the 15 general counsel of that. I ran a team of lawyers and 16 investigators around the country dealing with issues from as 17 mundane as, you know, whether an election was run properly, a
18 local union delegate election to issues of alleged -- alleged 19 corruption. And I investigated, I deposed, and I ran a team
20 of about 30 or 40 people all around the U.S. Who were mostly 21 lawyers, but some Justice -- or some labor department
22 investigator types as well.

23 Q And how long did that job last?

24 A About -- I did that until -- I think I must have started
25 there, I must have started there in 2001, so it was about

1 three years. So I ended that in 2004. The election was held,
2 we certified the results, finished our forensic accounting and
3 all -- all the work that went with this, a lot of work. And 4 the UAW asked me to come back and I did. I returned to the 5 UAW.

6 Q And how long did you remain at the UAW?

7 A Not long. I was there about 19 months as I recall and 8 then I was offered a tenured professorship at Indiana
9 University which I accepted.

10 Q And while you were at -- while you were at Indiana
11 University did you also perform legal work?

12 A I was allowed to do some work on the side under my 13 contract and I started out in a full time position. I worked 14 also part time for a while when I got involved in some very 15 interesting legal work and they allowed me to work part time
16 in addition to teaching the courses that I taught.

17 Q What is the -- the legal work that you did?

18 A The legal work I did was pretty much the same kinds of 19 things that I had specialized in. So I -- I was there until 20 2010. So it's about a six year period part full time, part
21 part time. And I worked on retiree insurance litigation. I
22 worked on the Dana Chapter 11 which worked on with people at 23 Jones, Day. I know a couple of the people sitting in the 24 courtroom from that. And we had a successful resolution of 25 that Chapter 11.

1 We recovered -- we recovered $723,000,000 that went into
2 a VEBA fund for retiree health care. And that VEBA actually
3 was in some ways, if you looked at it at that point in time at 4 the onset, better funded than the VEBA's that were eventually
5 -- came out of the General Motors, and Chrysler, and Ford
6 situations. I was very proud of that.

7 Q And then when did you return to the UAW again?

8 A I returned to the UAW in 2010. I finished up my -- my
9 courses and I was offered a job by the newly elected President
10 of the UAW, Bob King to come and be his general counsel.

11 One of the -- I had gotten to know Bob from working on 12 the Rouge Steel bankruptcy which is local. But it was filed
13 in Bloomington, Delaware and also a successful, very 14 successful result. That steel mill is still operating and the 15 retirees are still getting their retiree insurance.

16 And Bob got to know me through working on that and asked
17 me to come back and be his general counsel and I accepted.
18 Gave up my tenure and left Indiana University.

19 Q Over the years that you've been at the UAW, have you
20 engaged in any types of negotiations?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Can you tell us what types of negotiations you've been
23 involved in?

24 A Many kinds. First of all, collective bargaining

1 bargaining agreements which typically run in cycles. They
2 could be three years, they could be four, they could be five.
3 The law doesn't set a -- a fixed term.

4 So that's the most typical kind of collective bargaining.
5 A person in my position did not do collective bargaining of 6 that type except for major companies. And my predominant
7 assignment for that kind of collective bargaining over the 8 years, really over the 20 year span I was there was for Ford
9 Motor Company. I worked with the UAW's lawyer at the Ford
10 Motor Company negotiations.

11 Q Were you involved in any other types of negotiations in 12 your years at the UAW?

13 A Many. We had plant closing negotiations which are a type
14 of collective bargaining under the National Labor Relations
15 Act dealing with plants that are closing or relocating. There
16 may be benefits issues. There's all kinds of issues that have 17 come up, transfer rights. I did that kind of negotiations.

18 Also there's a whole another branch of negotiations that 19 aren't collective bargaining negotiations per say but are 20 negotiations in relationship to litigation. I did much of 21 that. Much -- I'd say more of that than collective bargaining
22 negotiations.

23 And then bankruptcy itself is a sort of a sub -- a subset
24 of that. Bankruptcy is a kind of litigation in a way. And

1 lead up to regular litigation. There's differences too, but
2 bankruptcy insolvent -- let's -- let's use the term insolvency
3 negotiations. I did a lot of insolvency negotiations over the 4 years. That was my predominant area of expertise over the 5 years.

6 Q Have you been involved on behalf of the UAW in 7 negotiations regarding employee benefits?

8 A Yes, I have.

9 Q Can you give us any examples?

10 A I -- two come to mind. One reminds in -- me in some ways
11 of this case. It was one of my first ones. That was the 12 first case in which I was a co-chair of a creditors'
13 committee. I'd served on -- served on a number of creditors'
14 committees over the years.

15 I was co-chair of the -- the UAW was co-chair, I was the 16 person sitting. It was an institutional appointment on that 17 committee. And it was a -- a heavy -- heavy earth moving
18 equipment division of General Motors. It was spun off.

19 And a few years after it was spun off, with the 20 management in place that was there under General Motors went 21 bankrupt, filed -- filed for bankruptcy. And the UAW and the 22 other creditors, none of them labor, we were the only labor --
23 labor creditor, determined through our experts and our lawyers
24 and our own knowledge of the business, that the business was

25 under capitalized by General Motors. That the current

1 management had a conflict of interest and they were reluctant
2 or would refuse to sue -- the debtor, would refuse to sue
3 General Motors.

4 And so the creditors' committee authorized and our
5 lawyers filed a lawsuit, an equitable subordination lawsuit
6 attacking the -- the setting up of this company as an under
7 capitalized company. We -- that resulted in a recovery, a
8 settlement, and a recovery that funded a plan that treated
9 creditors very well.

10 And we -- had we not acted, because the debtor refused to 11 act against somebody who was jointly responsible, the debtors
12 would have -- or the creditors would have received virtually 13 nothing.

14 And the other case is -- and also bears some similarities
15 to this. It's important. It's actually -- I'm very proud of 16 this too. This is the first VEBA that I know of that was ever
17 set up.

18 Allis Chalmers. Allis Chalmers was a company that at one
19 point had tens of thousands of workers and minimal number of 20 retirees. And over time the balance shifted, the company
21 shrank, they sold off one product line after another.

22 And at the time I got involved they had 12,000 retirees
23 and less than 1,000 workers, the bulk of which on the hourly
24 side were UAW. They hired Joe Califano who was LBJ's

1 so a friend of ours.

2 And told us -- they told us they couldn't afford retiree
3 health care on a cash flow basis, it was going to kill them.
4 And we talked about it and it was my advice that we asked them
5 to pay for an investment banker. We at that point, really had 6 no dealings with investment bankers because I had thought that 7 the best deal for our members active and retired, would be if 8 the company was sold as a going concern.

9 What was left was a viable company. And that the 10 proceeds would be used at that point to fund retiree health
11 care, pay out the creditors a premium as well. And we 12 accomplished that and funded a VEBA for those retirees. Most 13 of them have died off now, but there's still some left and the 14 VEBA is still alive and paying retiree health care. That was 15 in -- around 1985, '86 that that started.

16 So that -- that is a case that in the Chapter 11 side, is 17 -- is instructive and in fact was a paradigm in many ways for 18 subsequent events. Many VEBA's have been negotiated. OPEB
19 still wasn't a term of art at that time.

20 It became a term of art when the Financial Accounting
21 Standards Board passed FAS 106 which required companies to 22 book unfunded retiree health care liability and then the flood
23 gates were open in terms of this becoming a live issue in the 24 private sector side, not on the public side.

25 We don't have a lot of public members, we have some.

1 Obviously Detroit and State of Michigan and some others around
2 the country. But that in -- in many ways that case was a -- a
3 paradigm for what was to come in the following decades.

4 Q Has the UAW to your knowledge ever been involved in 5 settling retiree benefit disputes outside of bankruptcy?

6 A Yes, we have.

7 Q And can you explain how that works?

8 A Yes. So we often, very often in ongoing bargaining
9 relationships with companies, are met with bargaining demands
10 to -- in collective bargaining negotiations, to reduce retiree
11 health care benefits for retirees who are already retired.

12 And we have -- our union has historically taken the 13 position based on a very to us, where this shows how much
14 inside base of all this is, I guess, but a very significant
15 and important footnote in, whose number I remember Footnote
16 20, in Allied Chemical Workers v Pittsburgh Plate Glass. I
17 think it's in Volume 414 of the U.S. Report.

18 And that footnote says that it's about whether retiree
19 benefits for those already retired or what are called
20 mandatory bargaining subjects under the National Labor
21 Relations Act. And it says they are not.

22 And in this Footnote 20 even more significant in some 23 ways to us, is a statement that with respect to already vested
24 benefits as a matter of law, federal labor law, retirees have 25 to individually consent to have their vested benefits reduced.

1 Unions or anybody else, their neighbor, the retiree
2 association, nobody has the right to do it for them unless
3 they give them that right. They have to agree themselves.

4 So we have taken the position historically when employers
5 address us, come to us with this, at the onset especially in 6 collective bargaining negotiations, that those are things that 7 we can't bargain about. The Supreme Court says they're 8 protected.

9 However, we live in a real world. And if we are -- if we 10 are convinced, and I know this from countless cases that I've 11 been involved in, if we are convinced that there are risks
12 inherent in the situation, and that those risks require a
13 consideration of making a deal, some sort of compromise that 14 would put our retirees in a better position long run -- in the 15 long run, then we are open to negotiations. But always with 16 the caveat that the results because of Pittsburgh Plate Glass
17 have to be accomplished through a class action approval
18 process always.

19 And all the settlements that we've reached in -- in that 20 kind of litigation, and even sometimes pre-litigation talks
21 are -- are couched in that -- with that condition, very 22 important condition to us. You'll note as an analog, Judge,
23 1114 has a provision in it, I remember at the table being the 24 scribe of this sentence that says in 1114 unions are the

1 quote, but can -- they can negotiation the reductions.

2 It was our idea to put that in there so that 1114 as a
3 process, Chapter 11 as a process could, you know, it's kind of 4 a quick moving -- can be quick moving process, especially 1113
5 and 1114. And they're comparative to each other in some ways.

6 And we wanted to -- we -- we thought it should be clear
7 and we convinced our friends on capitol hill and I think the 8 lobbyists for the other side as well that that was a good
9 idea.

10 But outside of Chapter 11, you have to have this class
11 action process. And what we do is, so you can understand our 12 thinking, we look at the types of risks that are involved.
13 And there are two basic kinds of risks.

14 There's insolvency risk and there's litigation risk.
15 Litigation risk is the risk that the employer either has sued
16 or will sue and sue the retirees, sue the union, and ask for a
17 reduction in benefits because the benefits aren't vested. Ask
18 the Court to say the benefits aren't vested. That's a 19 litigation risk.

20 Insolvency risk is a risk of collection. That's what we 21 were facing in Allis Chalmers by the way. It was insolvency
22 risk. They never even -- they admitted they owed them
23 lifetime retiree health care benefits that they couldn't 24 change.

1 could deal them now or face a company that was going to, we
2 thought, increasingly shrink in terms of its asset value. And
3 at the end of the day the cash would run out and we wouldn't 4 be able to pay.

5 So we -- we were the ones who initiated that process. We 6 suggested Chapter 11 to them and they ultimately agreed. And 7 -- and so those are the kinds of -- that's the kind of 8 thinking that -- and I'm sorry about running on, but that's --
9 it's a complex area. That's the kind of thinking we engage in 10 in deciding whether to negotiate about retiree health care.

11 But you got to understand what negotiation means. It --
12 it -- the caveat about class action approval is critical and 13 it's driven in our view by the requirement of Footnote 20 in 14 Pittsburgh Plate Glass.

15 No one has ever really quarreled with us on the -- in the 16 settlement fund on that. That's how when we settle we always 17 do it on a class action basis.

18 Q You've testified about various negotiations regarding
19 insolvency that the UAW has been engaged in. Do you know
20 whether the Jones, Day law firm has ever been on the other
21 side of those negotiations?

22 A Yes, yes. They weren't, you know, a lot of -- there's a
23 lot of law firms that do this. Jones, Day does it. And with 24 us there were two cases that I can think of, Dana first of 25 all.

1 They were the lead counsel, Corrine Ball was the -- the
2 lead counsel of the lead counsel firm, Jones, Day. Andy
3 Cramer was the sort of co-lead counsel. He's a person we at 4 the UAW greatly respect. He's unfortunately passed away a
5 little bit ago. He's a deal maker par excellence and we miss
6 him.

7 And the other -- and that resulted as I said in a -- in a
8 very well funded VEBA. Also all the plants really kept open.
9 We have a good collective bargaining relationship with this 10 company, Dana. It's a -- it's a real positive. So that's 11 one.

12 And then on the tail end of the General Motors, I was 13 gone -- I was not at the UAW for the GM and Chrysler 11's.
14 But there has been some spillover on litigation in -- from 15 General Motors that some of it in the Bankruptcy Court, some 16 of it is now pending in this Court. And although Jones, Day
17 was not the lead counsel, was not counsel according to the 18 appearance sheet that I looked at in the out of Court VEBA
19 -- sorry I'm confusing two things.

20 Let me start over. There -- General Motors filed Chapter
21 11 as everyone in this city knows. A deal was reached. The 22 company survived under new ownership.

23 Following on from that, there was a dispute between the 24 UAW and General Motors about whether 450,000,000 additional 25 dollars was owed to the GM VEBA. Litigation was had,

1 commenced in both the Bankruptcy Court here in the Eastern
2 District of Michigan. The Bankruptcy Court ruled that the
3 litigation should proceed here, it's pending in front of Judge
4 Cohn. To this day we're waiting -- pending on dispositive
5 motions.

6 And Jones, Day was involved, but our primary -- my 7 primary dealing with Jones, Day on that was -- was trying to 8 see if a settlement could be negotiated and talk to the other
9 side, and talk to Mr. Cramer and we determined we were too far
10 apart. And so -- and we haven't really pursued that.

11 So Dana and General Motors but not really the -- the 12 heart of the bankruptcy, but a follow -- follow on piece of 13 litigation. That's -- that's my knowledge about Jones, Day.

14 There are other Jones, Day matters that I have been
15 personally involved in. Continental Tire and some other ones
16 I'm probably missing, but that is -- we do have some dealings
17 with Jones, Day, yes.

18 And we were -- and I'll say this. When -- when the --
19 because of our positive relationship with Mr. Cramer,
20 particularly we didn't know for sure when this process started
21 at Detroit before the filing, the sort of lead up to the 22 process until the filing. We -- we wondered whether that, you
23 know, positive relationship would -- would continue or not.

24 Q Did you attend the June 14th, 2013 meeting where Mr. Orr
25 presented his document called proposal to creditors?

1 A I did.

2 Q What's your recollection of that meeting?

3 A Well, there was a book that was passed. My guess is,
4 it's in evidence. And they walked through the book and
5 described the various pages and the explanation passed back
6 and forth between various people.

7 Up on a dais, it was held in a room out at the airport.
8 There was a dais and -- and a number of representatives from 9 Jones, Day and some of the other professional firms that are 10 in the case today, where they were talking and they made a
11 presentation. People listened. And then at the end of the 12 listening they -- there were cards that were passed out if 13 people wanted to ask questions and people filled in cards.

14 Q Were --

15 A And they were read out, not by the questioners, but by 16 the people on the dais and -- and answered.

17 Q Were the people who were invited to attend the meeting
18 allowed to speak freely during the meeting?

19 A They weren't allowed to speak at all.

20 Q In any of your prior experiences in negotiations, had you
21 ever attended or participated in negotiations where one side
22 wasn't allowed to speak freely?

23 A With respect to all the various kinds of negotiations, I
24 have testified to just now, and if there's any others I've

1 in negotiations where only one side speaks.

2 Q At the June 14th meeting, was Mr. Orr asked about Article
3 9, Section 24, of the Michigan Constitution?

4 A He was.

5 Q Do you recall whether he gave a response and if so what 6 it was?

7 A It -- it was something to the effect that -- that, you
8 know, the question was something like does that -- how does
9 that affect what you want to do. Because the book they passed
10 out said they wanted to cut pension benefits.

11 And he said well, it might take legislative action or 12 agreement. And that was the extent of it, it was a very short
13 answer.

14 Q After the June 14th meeting, did you report back to the 15 UAW leadership about Mr. Orr's proposal?

16 A I did.

17 Q And what was -- can you describe that interaction that 18 you had with the UAW leadership?

19 A Yes. I talked to our President Bob King directly one on 20 one. I reported what happened. He asked me to be -- 21 personally lead our effort despite the small number of 22 retirees we had because we care deeply about what happens to 23 the City of Detroit, and its citizens, and its retirees, and 24 its employees. And it's our home. And he said, let's do

1 play a constructive role in trying to bring a resolution of 2 this.

3 Q Did you attend a June 20th meeting regarding the proposal
4 that the emergency manager had made?

5 A I did.

6 Q And was the same procedure that you testified about
7 concerning the June 14th meeting in place at the June 20th
8 meeting, i.e. that attendees were not allowed to speak freely,
9 but had to submit cards? Was that same procedure in place?

10 A It was. The dynamics of the meeting were just a little 11 different. I just thought of this sitting here now. In the 12 airport meeting the -- the city professionals were up -- up on 13 the dais overlooking us. And this meeting happened to be in 14 an amphitheater in the 13th floor of the city county building
15 and everybody was looking down on them like an operating room
16 where the surgeons all look -- the surgeon students look down
17 at the operating table. So it was a little different.

18 But the card thing was exactly the same. If you had a
19 question -- Mr. Orr wasn't there. So it was led by Heather
20 Lennox and some other Jones, Day and other professional
21 people. But the same process was there, they passed out
22 cards.

23 Q And did you submit any question cards at that meeting on 24 June 20th?

25 A I -- I submitted two question cards.

1 Q Okay. I'd like to draw your attention to Exhibit 623.
2 It's -- it should be in the book behind you. And if we can
3 have it on the screen as well.

4 A This.

5 Q The image on the screen is in black and white and it's 6 hard to read.

7 A That's kind of blacked out in the corner, so --

8 Q Right. But the book, the hard copy book has it in color.

9 MR. DECHIARA: And, Your Honor, I -- the -- the 10 Court has been submitted copies in color that are legible.

11 A Are you ready, Your Honor? You've got it?

12 Q Since -- Mr. Nicholson, since legibility of the -- of the 13 image on the screen is -- is limited and since -- since it's 14 in handwriting, I would just ask you to -- to read into the 15 record the -- the question that you submitted and Exhibit 23
16 is a two page document.

17 So let me first ask you to read the -- the first one.
18 It's -- it's stamped at the bottom UAW 0302. Can you read
19 what your question was on that page?

20 A That's actually two questions on that one card. And the 21 first -- and as you can see, there's a little cut off at the 22 bottom, but I can help piece that together.

23 So question one is, how does the emergency manager
24 propose to compromise the rights to pension payments which are 25 protected by the Michigan Constitution?

1 Question number two was, how could Governor Snyder
2 authorize a Chapter 9 filing by the city without violating
3 Article 9, Section 24 of the Michigan Constitution given the
4 announced intention and then I believe the words are of the EM
5 to impair and diminish pension benefits.

6 You can see the ish and the D in front of -- in front of 7 pension. That's diminish and you can see the R and the 8 capital I and so on on impair before the -- it's not a
9 preposition, whatever the word is sorry, but -- but that --
10 that's basically what it says.

11 Q Do you recall whether you received a response to those 12 questions that you posed at that meeting?

13 A Heather Lennox responded to that.

14 Q Do you recall what she said?

15 A Yeah. I -- I will tell you. And I'm going to take it
16 one question at a time here.

17 Basically the response on the first one was kind of a
18 non-response. I didn't really understand --

19 THE COURT: Just tell us what she said, sir.

20 A Okay, I will. I will. Let me think.

21 Q Well, let me ask you, do you have a verbatim recollection
22 of what she said?

23 A I don't have a verbatim recollection.

24 Q What's your best recollection of what she said?

25 A My best recollection is she said something like, well,
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1714
of 2386

1 we're just -- that's something we're just going to have to
2 deal with. Something like that. And that is not verbatim.

3 And then on the second question, I had a more specific
4 recollection about Governor's Snyder's authorization. And
5 with respect to that, Ms. Lennox said, it's a two -- and again
6 this is not verbatim, but it's very close.

7 It's really a two part process. The Governor authorized
8 this bankruptcy and then what happens to the pensions just --
9 is just something that happens in the Chapter 9 proceeding.
10 So they don't happen together, it's a two part process. I
11 remember that phrase. And I -- I heard that.

12 Q Let me now turn you to the second question card, the one
13 that's stamped at the bottom UAW 0303. Can you read into the 14 record what the questions are on that card?

15 A Yes. This is a -- sorry about the complexity of this,
16 but there is a -- three questions with a sub part in the first
17 one. So we'll take it in terms of reading one sentence at a
18 time.

19 The first sentence is, does the emergency manager law
20 under which Mr. Orr was appointed, grant my union, and it's 21 the UAW, the authority to A, negotiate over, and B, compromise
22 either X, OPEB for present retirees or Y, pension benefits
23 already accrued by present and/or future retirees.

24 The second sentence says, please explain and cite me to 25 the basis for any such authority.

1 And the third sentence says, if the answer to either of 2 the above is no, who does Mr. Orr propose to negotiate with.

3 Q And do you recall whether there was a response given to 4 those questions?

5 A The response was, in -- in so many words, that they
6 didn't have any doubt about the -- the ability of the -- Mr.
7 Orr to negotiate. It was up to the other side to figure out
8 what to do. It was our problem in other words.

9 And that's not what I was asking. I wasn't asking
10 whether it was our problem. I was asking legally what --

11 THE COURT: You've answered the question, sir.

12 A Okay. Thank you.

13 MR. DECHIARA: Your Honor, Exhibit 623 is already in 14 evidence, I won't move it into evidence.

15 Q Mr. Nicholson, was the UAW willing to negotiate with the 16 emergency manager over reduction in accrued pension benefits
17 for its members?

18 A No.

19 Q Why not?

20 A At the meeting that we just -- the June 20th meeting, I
21 spoke after -- and I said -- I said our position on this. So
22 you didn't ask me that, but I'll tell the Court.

23 THE COURT: No, the simple question was, why not?
24 Please answer that question.

25 A Okay, I will. The Michigan Constitution, Article 9,
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1716
of 2386

1 Section 24 which we believe is binding on the UAW and binding
2 on all citizens of Michigan including the Governor, precludes
3 impairment or diminishment of pension benefits.

4 And in our view it would be a violation of law for us to 5 do that. And I also believe that only the citizens of the 6 State of Michigan through the amendment process with respect
7 to their Constitution, have the authority to change that legal
8 fact. And that has not happened. And the Governor can't 9 amend the Constitution, nor can Mr. Orr. They're not 10 authorized to do so under our law, our basic law in this
11 state.

12 Q You testified earlier about OPEB, other post employment
13 benefits. Do you recall using that phrase?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Was the UAW willing to participate in the resolution of 16 OPEB issues with the emergency manager?

17 A Yes.

18 Q What was the UAW prepared to do?

19 A While the pre-bankruptcy -- let's talk about the 20 pre-bankruptcy period. I think -- and -- and limit it to 21 that. And if you want --

22 Q Right. That's all I'm asking about, pre -- pre-July 18.

23 A Right. I previously told you, Your Honor, about this 24 process that we go through in figuring out whether we have an 25 employer who is --

1 THE COURT: The question was, what are you -- what
2 were you willing to do?

3 A Okay. Well, we went through this process that I
4 described and evaluated the city. And we -- and we looked at 5 the -- the -- we didn't have access to the data room. And I
6 think you'll remember that.

7 THE COURT: Again sir, you're going beyond the
8 question.

9 A Okay. We --

10 THE COURT: What were you willing to do?

11 A Based on our analysis of the situation, I told lawyers
12 for Jones, Day at a meeting on July 11th that the UAW was 13 willing to engage in a class action process to deal with and 14 try to resolve the OPEB issue and take leadership in that role
15 since we, more than any other union in the country, have dealt
16 -- had to -- had to deal with that issue. And I asked Mr.
17 Miller, Evan Miller, I -- I said you know, there's a process
18 Evan, to deal with this --

19 Q Who is Evan Miller?

20 THE COURT: And again -- again you're going beyond
21 the question.

22 A All right. I'll let my counsel fill in. Trying to move
23 -- move this along, Your Honor.

24 MR. DECHIARA: Your Honor, I'm going to refer the

1 evidence. I've spoken to counsel for the city. I understand
2 they have no objection, so I would now move Exhibit 624 into
3 evidence.

4 THE COURT: Any objections?

5 MR. STEWART: Hold on a minute. Oh, no, no
6 objection.

7 THE COURT: It is admitted.

8 (UAW Exhibit 624 was admitted)

9 Q Mr. Nicholson, can you either look on the screen or turn
10 in your book to Exhibit 624? And I would first ask you, it's 11 a three -- it's a three page document. Can you identify what 12 each of the pages are?

13 A It's actually a four page document.

14 Q Thank you.

15 A And it's -- it's an affidavit that I swore to on July 16 18th, 2013 with two exhibits that are identified in the text of 17 the affidavit.

18 (UAW Exhibit 624 was identified)

19 Q Okay. Can you identify the third page? The page that 20 says Exhibit A on it.

21 A Yes. That's an email from David Birnbaum of Jones, Day
22 to me dated June 28th, 2013.

23 Q Okay. And now I'd like you to turn the page to the last 24 page of the exhibit and ask you to identify what that document
25 is. The one that says Exhibit B on it.

1 A That's an email I sent to Mr. Merrett and Mr. Birnbaum at 2 Jones, Day on July 9, 2013 in advance of the meetings that
3 were scheduled and that we were planning to attend with 4 representatives of the city on July 10 and 11, 2013.

5 Q Okay. I'd like to direct your attention to the first
6 paragraph of that email that's marked as Exhibit B. It
7 states, UAW has requested access to the City of Detroit data
8 room maintained by your firm. You have responded by 9 proffering a proposed non-disclosure agreement and release and 10 have made UAW's execution of such documents a condition of our 11 access to the data room. Do you see that language that I just 12 read, Mr. Nicholson?

13 A I do.

14 Q And what was the UAW's position in regard to the 15 requested non-disclosure agreement?

16 A Well, we had -- to that point not agreed to sign it. Our 17 counsel, Cohen, Weiss, and Simon, had thought we should. But 18 I said no, this is a public -- said to them, no, this is a
19 public proceeding involving a public entity and it should be 20 transparent and open and there should not be some secret data
21 room. I can accept that in a Chapter 11 proceeding with a
22 private entity, but not with a public entity.

23 So but the second paragraph asked them -- you asked our
24 position at this time, but we asked them to explain the basis
25 for that condition of signing confidentiality.

1 Q Right. And let me --

2 A We asked them to explain.

3 Q Let me just direct your attention to the last sentence of 4 the second paragraph. It says, "I would like to understand
5 the basis for withholding data room information with respect
6 to the City of Detroit based on claims of confidentiality".
7 Do you see -- do you see that sentence there, I just read, Mr.
8 Nicholson?

9 A I do.

10 Q Did you get a response to that statement?

11 A Never.

12 Q Was the UAW allowed access to the data room prior to the 13 bankruptcy filing?

14 A Unless we refused -- unless we agree to sign the 15 confidentiality agreement and release, we were not allowed
16 access and we did not sign the confidentiality agreement and 17 release. And this Court, as Your Honor knows, subsequently -- 18 it was subsequently removed as a condition for access.

19 Q Okay. And just to be clear on your answer, before the 20 bankruptcy filing, did the UAW -- was the UAW given access to 21 the data room?

22 A No.

23 Q In your experience, how important is it in negotiations
24 over retiree benefits to have access to relevant information?

25 A It is absolutely essential.

1 Q Let me now refer --

2 A Good faith negotiations cannot occur without access to
3 information. As a matter of fact, under the National Labor
4 Relations Act that's a basic tenant of the national labor law.
5 And -- and especially when an employer is claiming inability
6 to pay. That's a condition precedent to any good faith
7 negotiations. And we were denied access here.

8 THE COURT: Okay. I think you've answered the 9 question, sir.

10 A Thank you, Your Honor.

11 Q Let me now refer you to Paragraph 4 of Exhibit 624. If I
12 -- if I could have that exhibit on the screen. It's the big 13 paragraph in the middle.

14 A Yes.

15 Q Do you see that paragraph, Mr. Nicholson?

16 A I do.

17 Q Okay. I'm going to refer you to the sixth line that on 18 the right side of the line there's a sentence that begins,
19 please tell me what. Do you see that?

20 A Are you going to highlight it? I see it. Give me a 21 second.

22 Q Sure.

23 A It actually helps a lot if you highlight it because it's 24 kind of squeezed.

25 Q Okay, yeah. If the -- the rest of the paragraph could be
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1722
of 2386

1 highlighted.

2 A Well, you want to ask me about the first sentence that
3 you've highlighted?

4 Q Yes.

5 A Please tell me what authority your firm and/or Mr. Orr
6 gives the UAW the right to compromise vested benefits --
7 benefits, sorry, despite the contrary provisions of Article 9,
8 Section 24. It's very similar to the question I asked at the 9 June 20 meeting.

10 Q And I'm not going to read them out loud into the record.
11 It's in print, and it's highlighted on the screen. And -- and 12 Mr. Nicholson you could read those questions yourself.

13 And my -- my question is, did you ever receive a response
14 from Jones, Day or the emergency manager to the questions that 15 are set forth in that paragraph?

16 A Never.

17 Q Let me now refer to the last paragraph of the -- the 18 exhibit and the last sentence of the last paragraph. It says,
19 your full answers to the questions posed in the foregoing
20 paragraphs of this message will help the UAW determine the 21 scope of any such negotiations and the UAW's decision
22 regarding it's representative capacity in them about which 23 your firm has inquired. Do you see that sentence?

24 A I see it.

25 Q What did you mean when you wrote that?

1 A I wrote it and I meant that. We were trying to 2 understand their point of view with respect to the ability to
3 conduct negotiations and our ability to compromise.

4 And we were trying to make decisions, we were -- I -- I
5 was the lead person here for the UAW. And I personally was 6 trying to make decisions about whether we had a bargaining
7 partner here or not.

8 And this was part of my inquiry and thought process which 9 continued -- which I intended to continue put it that way. At 10 that point at the July 10th and 11th meetings, key to 11 understanding the -- my motivation in asking that question and 12 saying what you've got highlighted there, your full questions,
13 et cetera, that sentence, is the fact that this was the day
14 before the July 10th and the 11th meetings. We were going to 15 talk about pensions on the 10th and OPEB on the 11th.

16 So I sought that inquiry. I -- I posed that inquiry but 17 never really got a response. Never got a response at all to 18 anything in this email. It went unresponded to. My sworn 19 affidavit that was filed in the State of Michigan, Circuit
20 Court for the County of Ingham was un -- un -- unopposed.
21 Nobody said it was untrue. It is true. So, the next thing
22 that happened was, we showed up for the meeting on July 10th.

23 Q Okay. You anticipated my next question. You attended
24 the July 10th meeting?

25 A I went to the city -- I went to the City of Detroit city
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1724
of 2386

1 county building to attend it and was in the room for a brief
2 period of time, also talked to Mr. Miller for a short period
3 of time out in the hall before.

4 Q Who is Mr. Miller?

5 A Mr. Miller is a partner at Jones, Day who is an ERISA
6 partner.

7 Q And what happened at the July 10th meeting during the time
8 you were there.

9 A Well, out in the hall -- out in the hall before the 10 meeting, this will not take long because I basically had to 11 leave the meeting. Out in the hall before the meeting Mr.
12 Miller asked me if I -- if he could engage in an off the 13 record discussion with me and I said, Evan, I don't think this 14 is the time for that.

15 We have to do what we have to do here. And so I don't 16 think this is the time, but I appreciate that. Then we walked
17 into the meeting.

18 I saw Ed Hammond, a partner at Clark, Hill. They're, I
19 presume, representing the retirement systems. Ed and I know
20 each other. We were -- worked together very closely to 21 resolve the Rouge Steel bankruptcy. And especially on pension
22 issues and retiree health care issues.

23 And I exchanged pleasantries with Ed and he said to me,
24 you know, Mike, you should check out the legislative history

25 of ERISA which I know a fair amount -- amount about. And --
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1725
of 2386

1 but I wasn't aware of this piece.

2 And he said, Congress made clear in that legislative
3 history that the reason it didn't extend the pension guarantee
4 system to state and city employees was because it believed
5 that states and cities would stand behind their pension
6 promises. And I said thank -- thank you for that. I
7 appreciate that. Then we sat down.

8 THE COURT: Excuse me one second. Is there
9 something you want to say, sir?

10 MR. STEWART: Your Honor, I think -- I think maybe a
11 question and answer approach might work better here. So I
12 would actually move to strike Mr. Nicholson's last testimony
13 and maybe we can move things along more quickly if we did it
14 that way.

15 A I'll try to stick with question and answer, Your Honor.

16 THE COURT: A good idea. The Court will strike the 17 last answer, it was hearsay.

18 MR. DECHIARA: Well, Your Honor, the witness was 19 just recounting what the conversation was he had with this 20 individual. I don't believe that -- we're not submitting it
21 for the truth of what the other individual --

22 THE COURT: What's the relevance of it then? The 23 evidence is stricken.

24 MR. DECHIARA: It's --

25 THE COURT: Please proceed in question and answer

1 format.

2 Q What else do you recollect from that meeting?

3 A The meeting began -- the meeting was conducted by well,
4 such as it was. I was there for a short period of time.

5 David Heiman, a partner at Jones, Day began the meeting by 6 saying, if you're -- and this is not verbatim, but this is --
7 this is the nub of it.

8 If you want to attend this meeting you have to agree that 9 this is a Rule 408 meeting, protected by Rule 408 of the 10 Federal Rules of Evidence.

11 Q And what was your understanding of what that meant?

12 A He meant that what happened in the meeting could not go
13 here, or perhaps elsewhere in terms of evidence or perhaps 14 other things, I don't know. I responded and told him that the 15 UAW was not willing to accept that condition as a condition of 16 participation in the meeting because we believed again that 17 this should be an open process. We're dealing with public
18 employees and we have to be able to tell our members what 19 we're doing. We don't want to have secret meetings.

20 And we want -- and we also thought it was relevant for 21 what might happen down the road. So I -- it was all very 22 polite, but I said I'm sorry, I can't accept those conditions
23 and I left.

24 Q Did you attend the July 11th meeting the next day?

25 A I did.

1 Q Do you recall what the subject of that meeting was?

2 A It was announced to be a meeting about retiree health
3 care OPEB.

4 Q Okay. Was Mr. Orr present at the July 11th meeting?

5 A He was not present at the July 10 or 11 meetings when I
6 was in the room. And I was in the room for all of the July 11
7 meeting.

8 Q Do you recall a presentation by the Jones, Day attorneys
9 at the July 11th meeting?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And what's your recollection of the substance of that
12 presentation?

13 A Evan Miller walked through their proposal on OPEB
14 benefits. On -- and on health care benefits.

15 Q Did you speak at the meeting?

16 A I did.

17 Q And do you recall what you said?

18 A I spoke several times. I asked some questions. But at 19 the beginning before we got into the substance of OPEB in 20 response to Mr. -- Mr. Heiman said we're not going to impose a
21 408 condition on participation in the meeting. And I said
22 that's good because I thought of a -- another reason why it
23 would be inappropriate because if this was evidence -- if -- 24 it would be evidence -- it would important to look at what 25 happened because of Bildisco. I said that.

1 Q But --

2 A And then I spoke later in the meeting as well.

3 Q What -- what are you referring to, by the word Bildisco?

4 A Bildisco is a Supreme Court decision about rejection of 5 agreements pre 1113 of the Bankruptcy Code and it talks about 6 how a Court should look at what happened in dealings between 7 the parties in negotiations so to speak.

8 Q I'm sorry, I interrupted you. You were -- you were 9 recounting what you said at the July 11th meeting.

10 A I spoke again after we were well into the discussion of 11 retiree health care benefits and health benefits in general.

12 Q And --

13 A Do you want me to say what I said or --

14 Q Yes, recount what you said.

15 A I'm trying to stick to the Q and A, so -- I -- several 16 questions. And my first question as I recall was to Mr.
17 Miller because he was really the presenter. Was could the 18 city having if this -- if this were to be, this program that 19 they were proposing were imposed in any way by agreement or 20 otherwise, would the city be free in the city's eyes to 21 eliminate the reduced benefits at any time and he said yes, it
22 would. That was -- and then I spoke again shortly thereafter.

23 Q What did you say then?

24 A Okay. I said, what recovery would there be for lost
25 benefits. In other words the difference between a reduced

1 benefit level and the benefits that were in place at the time
2 the chapter -- at the time -- we weren't in Chapter 9. We
3 were trying to avoid Chapter 9.

4 But under a deal what would -- what would happen to that
5 differential between the benefits as they were and the 6 benefits at the reduced level. Would there be a recovery for 7 workers. And Mr. Miller said, no.

8 Q Do you recall having any other interchanges --

9 A I said, and I responded, that's very unusual. That's 10 certainly not the way it works in 1114 which I know a little 11 bit about.

12 Q Did you have any other interchanges with Jones, Day
13 attorneys on July 11th?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Can you tell us what those were?

16 A At the -- near the conclusion of the meeting, I spoke up.
17 I started to talk about this earlier, but near the conclusion
18 of the meeting, I having thought about this issue going into 19 the meeting, looked at Mr. Miller and said, Evan, I want you
20 to go back and tell Mr. Orr that the UAW -- well, let me stop.

21 I -- I said Evan, there's a way to deal with this despite 22 the fact that we have this issue of being able to bargain or 23 not bargain for retirees. You know what it is. And he said
24 yes, class action.

25 And I said, that's right. And I said, you should go back
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1730
of 2386

1 and tell Mr. Orr that the UAW which has a lot of experience in
2 doing that, is willing to engage and lead in that process with
3 you in order to avoid a bankruptcy proceeding. And please go
4 back and present that to Mr. Orr and get back to me because we 5 are serious about that.

6 Q And between July 11 when you made that statement to Mr.
7 Miller, and July 18th when the bankruptcy was filed, did you
8 receive any response from the emergency manager or from Jones,
9 Day regarding the UAW's proposal to have a class action
10 process put in place?

11 A Never.

12 Q To what extent were there what you would consider, given
13 your experience, to -- to what extent were there what you
14 would consider negotiations over pension benefits at the June
15 14th, the June 20th, and the July 11th meetings?

16 A There were two significant deficits that precluded
17 negotiations but each of which could have been taken out of 18 the way. The first was access to information unimpeded by 19 secrecy. That was not taken away.

20 The second was a process because --

21 THE COURT: I think your lawyer wants to say
22 something to you.

23 MR. DECHIARA: Thank you, Your Honor.

24 A I'm sorry, I apologize.

1 extent do you believe there were negotiations over accrued
2 pension benefits?

3 A Did I -- if I misunderstood you about pension, I'm sorry.
4 I -- I must not have heard --

5 Q That's fine. But now that I've clarified the question,
6 can you answer it?

7 A The question is, were there discussions about pension
8 benefits.

9 THE COURT: No, that's not the question.

10 Q The question is, to what extent in your experience, given
11 your experience --

12 A Yes.

13 Q Were there what you would consider to have been
14 negotiations over accrued pension benefits at the meetings
15 that you attended?

16 A As far as the UAW was concerned, no. And in our view
17 there could not have been because it would have been contrary
18 to Michigan's basic law, the Constitution.

19 Q And now let me ask you the same question, but instead of 20 limiting it or instead of referring to accrued pension
21 benefits, let me ask you to what extent do you believe there
22 were negotiations over OPEB?

23 A And this is what I started to answer before and I
24 apologize to the Court for mishearing the question. We tried
25 to start negotiations. There could have been -- there were

1 impediments.

2 THE COURT: That's not the question.

3 A Were there negotiations?

4 THE COURT: To what extent were there negotiations.

5 A We asked to be involved in negotiations. We invited the 6 city to --

7 THE COURT: And this is not a question about your 8 attitude or your intent.

9 A But it's about --

10 THE COURT: The question is to what extent were 11 there negotiations?

12 A The first step in negotiations --

13 THE COURT: I want to tell you, sir --

14 A Okay.

15 THE COURT: This question and the last question are 16 probably the most important questions you are asked here this 17 morning.

18 A I understand.

19 THE COURT: To what extent were there negotiations.

20 A There were. And in our view the first step --

21 THE COURT: Were what?

22 A There were negotiations that we tried to initiate with 23 the city over OPEB. We invited them to negotiate through a 24 class action process. The first step in negotiations is to

1 will lead to a resolution.

2 We asked. We asked that be taken back to Mr. Orr and Mr.
3 Orr never responded to us, nor did his lawyers ever. That's 4 my answer.

5 Q And given the lack of response by Mr. Orr, was what
6 occurred -- what actually occurred, were those negotiations?

7 A In my view the first step in negotiations is to ask, but 8 following --

9 THE COURT: Again you're not answering -- you're not 10 answering the questions.

11 A Okay. All right.

12 THE COURT: Given your --

13 A They never took us up on it, put it that way.

14 THE COURT: Given your perception of what actually
15 happened, and your understanding of what negotiation means,
16 that phrase, that term means, to what extent was what happened
17 negotiation in your opinion?

18 A I have to explain what I mean by negotiations to answer
19 that, Your Honor.

20 THE COURT: No, you don't. You just have to tell me
21 the extent to which it was negotiation.

22 A The first step in negotiations --

23 THE COURT: Okay. This -- this answer you've 24 already given me. If that's your answer, we'll move on.

25 Q Mr. Nicholson, are you familiar with the Flowers
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1734
of 2386

1 litigation?

2 A One second.

3 THE COURT: What's the matter, sir, do you need a
4 minute?

5 A I do.

6 THE COURT: All right. We'll take a recess until 7 10:55.

8 (WITNESS MICHAEL NICHOLSON WAS TEMPORARILY EXCUSED AT 9 10:55 A.M.)

10 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in recess.

11 (Court in Recess at 10:39 a.m.; Resume at 10:56 a.m.)

12 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in session. Please
13 be seated.

14 (WITNESS MICHAEL NICHOLSON RESUMED THE STAND AT 10:56
15 A.M.)

16 THE WITNESS: Your Honor --

17 THE COURT: One second. It looks like everyone is 18 here. Sir.

19 THE WITNESS: There's two things I need to tell you
20 about my testimony if you'll give me permission.

21 THE COURT: Any objection?

22 MR. STEWART: No. No objection, Your Honor.

23 THE WITNESS: First of all, Your Honor, I just -- I
24 want to make the Court aware that my -- I'm trying to stay

25 focused on this, but I just learned this morning -- this
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1735
of 2386

1 morning that my brother is in the hospital with end stage
2 liver cancer. And I want to be with him. So I'm trying to 3 stay on task here, okay?

4 THE COURT: Okay.

5 THE WITNESS: And -- but I think you should know
6 that because you have to judge my credibility and my frame of 7 mind.

8 THE COURT: Right.

9 THE WITNESS: The -- the second thing I want you to 10 know if there's something -- an additional thing I remembered
11 about I should have responded to it about the July 11th
12 meeting. And with your permission, I'll tell you so you have 13 a complete story, but it's up to you.

14 THE COURT: Go ahead.

15 THE WITNESS: So, after I asked Mr. Miller to go
16 back to Mr. Orr and tell him the UAW was willing to engage in 17 a class action type process, something would culminate that to 18 resolve retiree health care out of bankruptcy.

19 Mr. Heiman -- Heiman, I'm sorry, said there isn't time
20 for that. And I said, there is time, we got this resolved
21 very quickly in a number of cases including Ford, and GM, and 22 Chrysler.

23 That was the last discussion we had. So the negotiations
24 such as they were, there was nothing beyond that point. There
25 was an ask, an invitation, but no acceptance.

1 BY MR. DECHIARA:

2 Q The last topic, Mr. Nicholson. I'm going to ask you
3 about July 18th. But let me first ask you some questions to 4 set the stage. Are you familiar with the Flowers litigation?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And what was -- what was or is the UAW's role in the 7 Flowers litigation?

8 A First of all, I conceived of the idea of the basic 9 premise and theory behind the litigation. That's the first 10 part of the role.

11 Second, the UAW funds the attorney for the Flowers
12 plaintiffs.

13 Third, the UAW cooperates and lends assistance to those 14 attorneys. However, those attorneys make their own mind up
15 with respect to representing their clients. So that's the 16 answer.

17 Q And do you know Bill Wertheimer, counsel to the Flowers
18 plaintiffs?

19 A I've known Bill for decades.

20 Q Okay. Are you aware that the Flower plaintiffs moved for 21 a preliminary injunction?

22 A Yes, I am aware of that.

23 Q And are you aware of the date that the preliminary
24 injunction was scheduled to be held?

25 A Yes. It was scheduled by the Ingham County Circuit Court
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1737
of 2386

1 to be heard on July 22nd.

2 Q Okay. And do you recall working with Mr. Wertheimer on 3 reply papers for that preliminary injunction motion?

4 A Yes. Bill came to my office at UAW solidarity house on 5 July 18th and we worked on finalizing a reply brief and I also 6 signed the affidavit which is -- which was notarized and is in 7 the record as Exhibit 624 that day.

8 Q Now on that day, did you become aware that the retiree
9 system in its -- its lawsuit had filed papers for an ex parte
10 TRO?

11 A We received a call. Bill and I were in my office along
12 with our law clerk, great law clerk at the time, Kristin
13 White, working busily away on the reply brief which had to be 14 filed that day, July 18th. So that was why we were there,
15 because it had to be driven up to Lansing as I understand it.

16 And we had a call during that day to that effect, that 17 they were going to Court and seek an ex parte restraining
18 order restraining the city from filing a Chapter 9 petition
19 because they had heard --

20 THE COURT: All right. Sir, you've answered the
21 question.

22 A I'm sorry.

23 Q Did you and Mr. Wertheimer that afternoon have a
24 discussion about the retiree systems seeking a ex parte TRO?

25 A Yes.

1 Q And can you recount the conversation that you and Mr.
2 Wertheimer had on that subject?

3 A Yes.

4 MR. STEWART: I just -- it's a proper question,
5 however, there's going to be a waiver here.

6 MR. DECHIARA: Your Honor, first of all, Mr.
7 Wertheimer is counsel for the Flowers plaintiffs, Mr.
8 Nicholson is counsel for the UAW. But I'm not asking for any 9 -- any discussion of any legal issues, just a discussion of 10 this event in a -- in a separate lawsuit. And -- and it's 11 foundational, Your Honor. It's -- it's -- it's --

12 THE COURT: Then proceed.

13 MR. DECHIARA: Thank you.

14 A The question, can you repeat it?

15 Q Can you recount your conversation with Mr. Wertheimer on 16 the subject of the retiree systems seeking the ex parte TRO
17 that you had been informed of?

18 A We were told they were going to Court that afternoon in 19 front of Judge Aquiline. Bill and I decided that since we had 20 to go to Lansing anyway and since that Court hearing was 21 probably going to be pretty important, that we ought to finish
22 the reply brief in the car and drive it up -- drive up there
23 right now so we got there in time for the hearing and that's 24 what we did.

25 Q And did you have any discussion with Mr. Wertheimer about
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1739
of 2386

1 whether the state should be notified of the ex parte TRO?

2 A Yes.

3 Q What -- can you recount that discussion?

4 A We finished the brief on the -- I was sitting in the back
5 seat typing away on my laptop. We finished the brief.

6 Q This is in the car to Lansing?

7 A The car on the way to Lansing. And Bill asked me Mike,
8 do you think we should notify the state. And I took it as an 9 ethical question, a practical -- what I would call in my 10 terms, practical ethics. What's the right thing to do.

11 And I said yeah, Bill, I think we have to, it's not in 12 our interest, but I think we have to do that, that's the right
13 thing to do and he agreed. And he proceeded to call the state
14 Attorney General's office and tell them that we were going to 15 be there even though it wasn't our motion and that there was 16 an ex parte motion being brought.

17 We didn't know ahead of time what was going to happen in 18 Court. Bill ended up asking for relief because we had just 19 filed the reply brief and it was now a fully briefed
20 preliminary injunction motion.

21 Q How do you know -- how do you know Mr. Wertheimer called 22 the state attorneys?

23 A I heard him talking to them while I was in the car. And 24 then -- and he actually had two calls with them and we

25 discussed it in the interim. I also know because I talked to 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1740
of 2386

1 the state Attorney General, the lawyer for the state, not Mr.
2 Schuette, but the lawyer for the state Attorney General, Mr.
3 Canzano. And he told me Bill called and I told him and he
4 told me how much he appreciated Bill's ethical behavior.

5 And I said well, I was part of that and I was part of 6 that decision too. And he said well, I appreciate you doing
7 that as well.

8 Q Do you know what time on July 18th Mr. Wertheimer called 9 the state to notify them of the TRO hearing?

10 A I can put it within about a ten minute window because I
11 know --

12 Q What time?

13 A Around 3:35.

14 Q P.M.?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And how can you put it in such a tight window?

17 A Because I remember a sequence of events, one of which is 18 -- is an email I sent that nails down the time. It was 19 between the first and the second conversation Mr. Wertheimer
20 had with the Attorney General's office.

21 I've also seen Mr. Wertheimer's cell phone records that 22 confirm that. But that -- but I have my own memory of it as 23 well. And I also know from talking to Mr. Canzano because he 24 is of the same view as to the time.

1 A I talked to Mr. Canzano about that this morning.

2 MR. DECHIARA: No further questions on direct.

3 CROSS EXAMINATION

4 BY MR. STEWART:

5 Q Good morning, Mr. Nicholson.

6 A Good morning.

7 Q Could we first put up Exhibit 105? Mr. Nicholson, are 8 these notes that you took at the July 11 meeting?

9 A They're notes I typed, yes.

10 (City Exhibit 105 was identified)

11 Q You typed them at the time?

12 A During the meeting.

13 Q And why did you prepare them?

14 A I prepared them because I was -- it turns out -- I
15 thought I wasn't -- didn't take notes at that meeting. When I
16 found this document, I recalled that I did. And I prepared
17 them to record some of what happened. It's very much
18 shorthand about what happened.

19 MR. STEWART: I'd move -- I move the admission of
20 Exhibit 105.

21 THE COURT: Any objections?

22 MR. DECHIARA: No objection.

23 THE COURT: 105 is admitted.

24 (City Exhibit 105 was admitted)

25 Q Mr. Nicholson, just a couple of things. First of all,
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1742
of 2386

1 just the chronology so that I understand it. You attended the
2 June 14 meeting, correct?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And the June 20th meeting, correct?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Your union funded and you said you were a participant in 7 the thinking about the Flowers litigation?

8 A Yes.

9 Q That was brought July 3rd?

10 A I believe that's right.

11 Q And you began thinking of that before July 3rd, correct?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Probably about a week before July 3rd?

14 A I -- what led me to start thinking about it --

15 Q Well, just when -- when did you --

16 THE COURT: The question was when did you start
17 thinking it?

18 A I -- when I -- I can't think of the exact date, but I
19 know the event.

20 THE COURT: Approximately.

21 A I'll have it just a minute, I'm just lining up a
22 sequence.

23 THE COURT: While he's thinking, can we have a copy
24 of Exhibit 105 which was just admitted?

25 MR. STEWART: Yes, Your Honor.

1 THE COURT: If not at this moment, then at some
2 point, please.

3 MR. STEWART: I believe we have extras, Your Honor.
4 Let me get it from our -- may I approach, Your Honor?

5 THE COURT: Yes. Do you have an answer, sir?

6 A Yes. Within a few days after the June 14th meeting is 7 about the best I can put it -- put it to, Your Honor.

8 Q Okay. So let me go back. You were at the June 14
9 meeting.

10 A Yes.

11 Q Within a few days you began thinking of a lawsuit,
12 correct?

13 A Yes.

14 Q You went to the June 20th meeting?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Lawsuit was filed July 3rd?

17 A I think that's the date it was filed, yes.

18 Q You were involved in the thinking behind and the work of 19 the lawsuit?

20 A Yes.

21 Q The UAW paid the lawyers for the lawsuit?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Mr. Flowers was a UAW member?

24 A A proud UAW member.

25 Q And didn't -- you did not at any point tell the city its 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1744
of 2386

1 lawyers that the UAW was behind this lawsuit, did you, until
2 your deposition when I asked you that question?

3 A I don't think I was asked, but no, I think that's right.
4 The first time I told them was when you asked me the question
5 in the deposition, I said yes.

6 Q And then on -- on July 10 there were two meetings. One
7 in the morning, one in the afternoon.

8 A I was not invited to a meeting in the afternoon. I heard
9 there was one for police and fire workers.

10 Q And at the beginning of the July 10 meeting Mr. Heiman of 11 Jones, Day invoked Rule 408 of the Federal Rules of Evidence,
12 correct?

13 A Uh-huh.

14 Q And you understand that that rule is a rule designed to 15 insure the privilege that attend to settlement negotiations,
16 correct?

17 A Yes.

18 Q You would not agree to that, so you did not attend the 19 meeting, right?

20 A I would not agree to accepting that as a condition of 21 attending and therefore I excused myself because they were 22 free to impose whatever conditions they want, I suppose.

23 Q So you decided to not accept the conditions and not 24 attend the meeting?

25 A That's right.

1 Q Okay. And by the way you mentioned the data room. There
2 was a non-disclosure agreement that had to be executed before
3 the filing of the petition in this case, before one could 4 access the data room. Do you remember your testimony about
5 that?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And you decided not to sign that non-disclosure
8 agreement, correct?

9 A That's right.

10 Q And as a result you did not have access to the data room,
11 correct?

12 A Correct.

13 Q Other unions did sign the non-disclosure agreement.

14 A I don't know that for a fact.

15 Q You don't know --

16 A I would not be surprised if they did, but I don't know
17 that for a fact.

18 Q Don't speculate. If you don't know, just tell me.

19 A I don't know that for a fact, I know what we did.

20 Q On the -- on the morning of July 10 did other unions
21 proceed to attend that meeting?

22 A When I left the room, there was Mr. Kreisberg for AFSCME.
23 He may have had somebody with him. And at that point I wasn't 24 sure who on the police and, you know, July 10th. I was in that

1 parties other than the debtor's representatives that I --
2 sorry, the city's representatives that I remember being there
3 were Clark, Hill people and Mr. Kreisberg. I'm sure -- I know
4 there were others in the room, but I -- I didn't know a lot of 5 these people at that point in time.

6 Q Okay. All right. And then you mentioned a meeting on 7 July 11, correct?

8 A That's correct.

9 Q You attended and those are your notes, right?

10 A That's correct.

11 Q Okay. Now so our chronology from the time of that first 12 meeting from June 14th to July 11th is what, four weeks?

13 A Whatever the calendar says. It's about 28 days maybe.

14 Q Uh-huh. Now you mentioned various discussions you had 15 with lawyers for the city and in particular lawyers from 16 Jones, Day. Do you remember your testimony on that?

17 A I think I remember what I testified to this morning, yes.

18 Q Okay. That was Mr. Heiman?

19 A I remember saying what Mr. Heiman said at the July 11th
20 meeting. I think I just said that part of it when I just --
21 we just came back from break and -- and a little bit before
22 about David saying at the beginning of the meeting that he
23 wasn't imposing a Rule 408 condition for attendance.

24 Q Well, you also -- and Mr. Miller. You testified you
25 talked to Mr. Miller?

1 A Well --

2 Q Yes, sir, yes or no, did you --

3 A On the 11th?

4 Q At any time before the filing -- between the 14th and the 5 filing of the petition, did you or did you not talk to Mr.
6 Miller?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Okay. And he -- did at any time did Mr. Miller tell you
9 he was not willing to talk with you some more?

10 A He didn't utter those words.

11 Q Did Mr. Heiman utter those words?

12 A No.

13 Q Now you testified about -- put up 38, please. You
14 testified about something called a VEBA?

15 A That is correct.

16 Q That is a Voluntary Employee Beneficiary Association?

17 A That's what the acronym stands for.

18 Q And those are -- that's the class action mechanism that 19 you proposed?

20 A A VEBA is --

21 Q Sir, yes or no?

22 A No, it is not per say limited to class actions, it's 23 often the result of a class action retiree insurance
24 settlement.

25 Q Okay. And when you --

1 A It can also result from a bankruptcy resolution through 2 1114.

3 Q Uh-huh.

4 A In Chapter 11's.

5 Q Uh-huh. And at the time you'd had these discussions, was 6 the city in bankruptcy?

7 A The city filed bankruptcy --

8 Q Sir, yes or no. At the time of your discussions before
9 July 18, was the city in bankruptcy, or was the city not in 10 bankruptcy?

11 A The city was not in bankruptcy until --

12 Q Thank you.

13 A -- 4:06 p.m. on July -- on July 18th, 2013.

14 Q Now, these class action resolutions that you told us
15 about. You mentioned the one in Dana.

16 A That's right. That was not a class action resolution,
17 that was a Chapter 11 resolution reached through 1114.

18 Q And how long --

19 A Dana was a Chapter 11. Your firm worked on it with us.

20 Q Uh-huh. And it took about a year?

21 THE COURT: Excuse me one second. Again, Mr.
22 Nicholson, I have to ask you please just answer the question.

23 A Well, he said Dana was a -- a class action and it's not
24 right. So I want to make sure you understand what the facts

25 are, Your Honor. That's why I'm answering the way I am.

1 THE COURT: I appreciate that very much, but your
2 job is just to answer the question.

3 A All right.

4 MR. DECHIARA: Your Honor, I think what the witness
5 is trying to say is, the question assumed a fact that was 6 contrary to fact. So he was trying to explain.

7 THE COURT: And I -- and I appreciate that. But his 8 job is just to answer the question. If he can't answer the 9 question, he should say that. All right. So let's try to 10 proceed on that basis.

11 A I know it's not my job to object to the form of the 12 question, Your Honor. But -- and I hear what you're saying
13 and I will comply.

14 THE COURT: Go ahead, sir.

15 Q Dana took about one year to resolve?

16 A It depends on when you start counting.

17 Q Uh-huh. From the time negotiations began until the time
18 you were done in Dana was about one year, isn't that true?

19 A That is not my recollection sitting here today, but I
20 don't -- I did not refresh myself on that particular question.

21 Q Now you mentioned the VEBA that was done in General
22 Motors? That took over one year, did it not?

23 A There were three VEBA settlements in General Motors, Your 24 Honor, which one?

25 THE COURT: Please answer the question.

1 A I -- you have to tell me which VEBA settlement you mean.

2 Q The one that this Court approved on March 2006. That was
3 after a one year negotiation process, wasn't it?

4 A This Court never approved a VEBA settlement in 2006.

5 Q The Eastern District of Michigan did not?

6 A This is a -- the Bankruptcy Court, not the District
7 Court.

8 Q All right.

9 THE COURT: Apart from that distinction --

10 A Yes.

11 THE COURT: Perfectly valid. Did it take a year, or 12 over a year?

13 A I was not involved in that case.

14 THE COURT: You don't know? Just say I don't know.

15 A No, I don't know.

16 Q And you're aware of the VEBA in Goodyear. Do you know
17 about that?

18 A I heard -- read about it in the newspapers, that's all.

19 Q Do you know that took 22 months?

20 A I don't know.

21 Q So I have up on the screen Exhibit 38. And that I'd 22 represent to you is a chart showing the cash forecast the city
23 had through the end of its 2014 fiscal year. Starting in July 24 of 2013, what is the city's cash -- cash -- cash position
25 after one year?

1 MR. DECHIARA: Objection, Your Honor, it's beyond
2 the scope of direct. There's no foundation that this witness
3 can testify about the city's cash flow position.

4 THE COURT: The objection is sustained. You can 5 represent to the witness what the exhibit says if you want to.

6 MR. STEWART: Well, I think I made my point. I'm
7 going to sit down. Thank you, Mr. Nicholson. That's all I
8 have.

9 THE COURT: Any more questions for the witness?

10 MR. DECHIARA: No redirect.

11 THE COURT: All right. Sir, you're excused. Thank 12 you very much for your testimony.

13 A Thank you.

14 (WITNESS MICHAEL NICHOLSON WAS EXCUSED AT 11:16 A.M.)

15 MR. WERTHEIMER: Your Honor, I have to go get our 16 next witness. It will take me just a few minutes.

17 THE COURT: Okay. Please raise your right hand.

18 (WITNESS JANET WHITSON WAS SWORN)

19 THE COURT: Please sit down.

20 DIRECT EXAMINATION

21 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

22 Q Would you state your name and address, please?

23 A Janet Whitson, 25260 East Deborah, Redford, Michigan.

24 Q You are one of the plaintiffs in what we've been calling
25 the Flowers litigation?

1 A I am.

2 Q How old are you, Ms. Whitson?

3 A Sixty-six.

9 A 2002.

10 Q How old are you now?

11 A Sixty-six.

12 Q Could you briefly tell the Court how you came to be a
13 plaintiff in the Flowers litigation?

14 A On the Local 2200 list serve there was a query, asking if 15 someone would be interested in volunteering to be on the part
16 of the lawsuit and I volunteered.

17 Q And Local 2200 is the UAW local that represents the 18 active librarians?

19 A Yes.

20 Q When did you begin working at the public library?

21 A May of 1969.

22 Q At that point what education did you have beyond high
23 school?

24 A I had a Bachelor's Degree in history from the University
25 of Detroit.

1 Q And when did you obtain that Bachelor's Degree?

2 A May 3rd of 1969.

3 Q So you started right in at the library right out of 4 college?

5 A Yes.

6 Q What did you hire in as?

7 A A pre-professional librarian.

8 Q When you hired in as a pre-professional librarian, did
9 you make any kind of commitment to the library as to education
10 you would have to undergo?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And what was that commitment?

13 A That I would complete my library degree in six years.

14 Q And did you do that?

15 A Yes, I did.

16 Q What degree did you obtain?

17 A A Master's in library science.

18 Q And where did you obtain it from?

19 A At the University of Michigan.

20 Q And when did you obtain your Master's?

21 A In 1972.

22 Q And you're working all this time at the library?

23 A Yes, I was.

24 Q Did you receive any other education beyond that during 25 your years at the library? That is beyond the Master's?

1 A Yes, I did.

2 Q Briefly tell us what that is.

3 A I have a post-Master's specialist in archival
4 administration from Wayne State University.

5 Q And when did you obtain that?

6 A In 1987, I believe.

7 Q Now I'd like to ask you just a couple of questions about 8 your work at the library. When you first started work in 9 1969, did you work in one or -- one of the branches?

10 A Yes, I did.

11 Q And for how long a period did you work in the branches?

12 A Initially from 1969 to 1980.

13 Q And how many different branches did you work in in that 14 11 year period? Just approximately.

15 A Five.

16 Q What did you do at that point? Or where did you work
17 from that point forward, from 1980?

18 A I was at the main library.

19 Q And what were you doing -- let -- let me back up. Just 20 generally tell us what you did at the branches, what kind of 21 library work?

22 A I initially was a young adult librarian. I specialized
23 and worked with teenagers, but I did reference work and book
24 selection. And really that's it, book selection, reference

1 type of work.

2 Q Okay. When you went down to the main library in 1980,
3 and that's the library on Woodward?

4 A Yes.

5 Q How long did you remain at the main library the first
6 time you were working there?

7 A Five years.

8 Q And just briefly tell us what you did there.

9 A I again was -- there I was an adult librarian. Worked in 10 with -- those were special collections. So working with the 11 subject matter and those collections. General information was 12 sports, cooking, gardening, and biography. And the Burton
13 historical collection was local history and genealogy.

14 Q What was your position relative to the Burton historical 15 collection?

16 A At that point I was a librarian too in that department.

17 Q Did you then go back out into the branches for a few
18 years?

19 A Yes. I was promoted and went out to the branches. I
20 went out to Franklin branch.

21 Q And how long did you stay out in Franklin or in another
22 branch?

23 A Three years.

24 Q Did you then come back to the main library?

25 A I was promoted to manager of the rare books collection.

1 Q Would you tell the Court what that -- what that means or
2 what that entails?

3 A Well, I had received that special collections training,
4 so I went to the Burton historical collection -- I went to the 5 rare books collection as manager and that was really the 6 greatest job in the State of Michigan. And I had --

7 Q For a librarian?

8 A For a librarian. I handled rare materials. George
9 Washington's diary incunabula. Books from the first 50 years
10 of printing, illuminated manuscripts, papyrus fragments,
11 Babylonian clay tablets.

12 Q Okay.

13 A It was extraordinary. It was great, great materials to 14 handle.

15 Q And then you retired in 2002?

16 A Yes.

17 Q About how old were you at the time you retired?

18 A Fifty-five.

19 Q Did you have any physical problems that led to your
20 retirement?

21 A I went out on a medical disability.

22 Q And just briefly tell us what that physical problem was.

23 A Two failed back surgeries.

24 Q You have, I take it, remained retired since -- since '02?

25 A Disabled since '02.

1 Q Do you receive a pension from the library?

2 A Yes.

3 Q Approximately how much do you receive a month?

4 A Twenty-five hundred dollars.

5 Q Do you also receive Social Security?

6 A Yes, I do.

7 Q Approximately how much do you receive Social Security?

8 A Just about 2,000.

9 Q Do you have any other sources of income?

10 A No, I don't.

11 Q Do you have an IRA?

12 A No.

13 Q Do you have any substantial monies in the bank?

14 A No.

15 Q Do you have any equity in your home? Let me ask you, do
16 you own your home?

17 A Yes. It has a mortgage, but --

18 Q Do you have any equity in your home such that you could 19 do a reverse mortgage or get money out of it?

20 A No.

21 Q What is your marital status?

22 A I'm divorced.

23 Q Do you have children?

24 A Two sons.

25 Q Are they grown?

1 A Yes.

2 Q Do they have their own families?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Do they provide you with any financial support?

5 A No, they don't.

6 Q Are you able to go back out into the work force now?

7 A No.

8 Q Why not?

9 A I have a difficult time walking and standing.

10 Q Do you have health insurance now?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Do you have Medicare?

13 A Yes.

14 Q Do you pay for Part B of Medicare?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Okay. And that's about $100.00 a month?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Do you currently have health care through the city?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And are there co-pays for that? That is do you pay

21 something for that?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Approximately how much do you pay?

24 A Right now it's $85.00 a month out of my check.

1 relevance of this line of questioning. It doesn't seem to
2 have anything to do with the city's eligibility.

3 MR. WERTHEIMER: Your Honor, I'm done with this line
4 of questioning. The -- the relevance is, I think that we are 5 entitled to put a face on the retirees who were litigious thus
6 forcing the emergency manager to file bankruptcy.

7 THE COURT: I'll permit it to stand. Go ahead.

8 MR. WERTHEIMER: Thank you.

9 Q During the time you worked at the library, did you hold
10 any office with the -- the local union?

11 A Yes.

12 Q What offices did you hold and approximately when?

13 A In the early eighties, I was unit secretary for the -- 14 what we refer to as the POOL unit, but is the professional 15 organization of librarians. And I was Vice President of the 16 amalgamated Local 2200 and then I was President for nine
17 years.

18 Q What were the approximate nine years that you were 19 President?

20 A 1993 to 2002.

21 Q And finally I asked you how you came to be a plaintiff in 22 the Flowers litigation. Why did you agree to become a
23 plaintiff in the Flowers litigation?

24 A Well, I had always understood that my pension was

1 state law. And suddenly it seemed to be in jeopardy when I
2 was reading the paper over the summer. So I felt I better get
3 involved.

4 Q Are you a litigious person?

5 A No, not really.

6 Q Have you ever sued anyone?

7 A I had to in my divorce.

8 MS. KOVSKY-APAP: Objection, relevance.

9 THE COURT: The objection is sustained.

10 MR. WERTHEIMER: I have nothing further. Thank you,
11 Your Honor. Thank you, Ms. Whitson.

12 A Uh-huh.

13 CROSS EXAMINATION

14 BY MS. KOVSKY-APAP:

15 Q Ms. Whitson, my name is Deb Kovsky-Apap. I'm one of the 16 lawyers for the city.

17 THE COURT: I'm sorry, would you repeat your name,
18 please?

19 MS. KOVSKY-APAP: Sorry, Deborah Kovsky-Apap.

20 Q Ms. Whitson, you testified that you were a librarian with 21 the Detroit Public Library for approximately 32 years, is that
22 correct?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And it's your understanding that the Detroit Public

1 that right?

2 A Yes.

3 Q But employees of the Detroit Public Library are eligible
4 for pensions under the city's general retirement system,
5 correct?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And you said that when you were actively employed you
8 were a member of UAW Local number 2200?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And that's a collective bargaining unit?

11 A Yes.

12 THE COURT: Could you speak more into the mike for 13 me? There you go.

14 Q Can you tell me who does Local 2200 represent?

15 A Right now?

16 Q Or at the time that you were a member?

17 A The time that I was a member, it -- it changes. It's an 18 amalgamated local. But at the time that I was a member, it
19 had the librarians 1, 2, and 3 in a unit that was called the 20 Professional Organization of Librarians. It had the librarian
21 managers and coordinators in a unit that was called the 22 Association of Professional Librarians. It had the skilled 23 trades at the -- at the Detroit Public Library. It had a
24 health and safety unit sometimes that was called SEMCOSH. And 25 it represented some of the doctors from the City of Detroit.

1 Q Local 2200 represented only active employees, correct?

2 A Correct.

3 Q To your understanding, as a former President of Local 4 2200, was the union authorized to enter into agreements to 5 bind retirees without their consent?

6 A I didn't hear all of your question.

7 Q To your understanding, was Local 2200 authorized to enter
8 into agreements to bind retirees without their consent?

9 A No.

10 MR. WERTHEIMER: Your Honor, I think this is asking
11 her for a legal opinion, or at a minimum an -- an opinion that 12 may be outside any area she dealt with at the local. There's 13 no evidence that she ever had to deal with this issue during 14 the time that she was --

15 THE COURT: Well, she -- she was President.

16 MR. WERTHEIMER: Yes.

17 THE COURT: If she doesn't know, she can say so.

18 MR. WERTHEIMER: That's fine.

19 THE COURT: Please answer the question.

20 A I don't know.

21 Q You mentioned that when you were at the Detroit Public
22 Library you served as the manager of the rare books
23 collection. Do you recall that?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And that's part of the Burton historical collection?

1 A Yes.

2 Q That's an important resource for scholars and
3 researchers, isn't it?

4 A It is.

5 Q And since your retirement, you continue to be involved in 6 organizations related to books and libraries, correct?

7 A Yes.

8 Q You're the immediate past President and librarian of the 9 Irish Genealogical Society of Michigan?

10 A That's true.

11 Q And that's an organization that focuses on research,
12 genealogical research?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And the Detroit Public Library is one of the resources
15 that may be used by organizations such the Irish Genealogical 16 Society?

17 A Yes.

18 Q You were also the Vice President of the Book Club of 19 Detroit, is that correct?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And is it fair to say that the Book Club of Detroit is a
22 non-profit association of Detroit area biblio files who 23 assembly periodically for the purpose of stimulating a mutual
24 interest in books, manuscripts, and prints?

25 A Yes.

1 Q And the book club frequently co-sponsors events with
2 libraries and collections such as the Burton historical
3 collection, is that right?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And you said that's part of the Detroit Public Library,
6 correct?

7 A Wait a minute. Go back and ask me that question again.

8 Q Sure. The book club frequently co-sponsors events with 9 libraries and collections such as the Burton historical
10 collection?

11 A Yes, it does.

12 Q And you said that the Burton historical collection is 13 part of the Detroit Public Library, correct?

14 A Yes.

15 Q So it's fair to say that you are currently a user of 16 Detroit Public Library services, is that right?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And you believe in the importance of libraries to a
19 community, correct?

20 A I do.

21 Q As a librarian in Detroit, were you aware that for some 22 Detroiters the public library is their only source of books
23 and internet access?

24 A Yes.

25 Q As a former employee and current user of the Detroit
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1765

1 Public Library, are you aware that -- of how the Detroit
2 Public Library is funded?

3 A How it's currently funded?

4 Q Or how it has been funded in the past.

5 A I'm generally aware of how it's been funded in the past.

6 Q Are you aware that the Detroit -- is it -- is it your
7 understanding that the Detroit Public Library has been funded
8 through property taxes?

9 A That's one of its sources of funding, yes.

10 Q Are you -- I'm sorry, I didn't mean to cut you off.

11 A I'm aware that property taxes are one of its sources of 12 funding.

13 Q Are you aware that the property taxes funding the library
14 have decreased significantly in recent years?

15 A I think that's possible. I'm not aware of to what extent
16 that's true.

17 Q Did you become aware around March 2011 that the Detroit
18 Public Library laid off approximately 20% of its staff?

19 A I'm not aware on the figure of 20%.

20 Q Were you aware of any lay offs around that time period?

21 A Only what I might have heard from fellow retirees. I
22 have been retired since 2002.

23 Q As a current user of Detroit Public Library services, did
24 you become aware in late 2011 that four branches of the 25 Detroit Public Library were closed due to a budget shortfall?

1 A No.

2 Q As a user of Detroit Public Library services are you
3 aware that certain branches of the Detroit Public -- Public
4 Library are currently operating on reduced hours?

5 A Not aware of the extent of the reduced hours at four
6 particular branches, no.

7 Q Is it your understanding that the City of Detroit's
8 financial problems have affected its ability to deliver
9 library services to the residents of Detroit and other users
10 of the Detroit Public Library?

11 A The library runs on a mileage. And I'm not sure how much
12 the -- the city's finances have influenced the library so no,
13 I'm not aware of that.

14 Q No one has yet made a proposal to you regarding a
15 specific amount by which any retiree pension or other benefits
16 would be reduced, have they?

17 A No.

18 MS. KOVSKY-APAP: Thank you. I have no further
19 questions.

20 MR. WERTHEIMER: Nothing further, Your Honor.

21 THE COURT: You are excused, Ma'am. Thank you very 22 much for your testimony.

23 A Thank you.

24 (WITNESS JANET WHITSON WAS EXCUSED AT 11:38 A.M.)

25 THE COURT: Who is your next witness, sir?

1 MR. WERTHEIMER: I call Andy Dillon.

2 THE COURT: Please raise your right hand, sir.

3 (WITNESS ANDY DILLON WAS SWORN)

4 THE COURT: Please sit down behind you.

5 MR. WERTHEIMER: Your Honor, William Wertheimer on 6 behalf of the Flowers plaintiffs and also the UAW as to 7 examining this witness.

8 Before I begin, I would request permission from the Court
9 to examine Mr. Dillon pursuant to Federal Rule of Evidence
10 611(c)(2).

11 THE COURT: Any objections?

12 MS. NELSON: No objections, Your Honor.

13 THE COURT: For the city?

14 MR. SHUMAKER: We have no objection, Your Honor.

15 THE COURT: All right. Your motion is granted.

16 MR. WERTHEIMER: Thank you.

17 DIRECT EXAMINATION

18 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

19 Q Good morning, Mr. Dillon.

20 A Good morning.

21 Q You are appearing here pursuant to subpoena, are you not?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And you have been the state Treasurer of the State of 24 Michigan for a period of time?

25 A Yes.

1 Q When did you become state Treasurer?

2 A I believe January 1 of 2011.

3 Q And what was your last day as state Treasurer?

4 A October 31 of '13.

5 Q So just last week?

6 A Right.

7 Q Okay. Would it be fair to say that you have been -- that 8 as state Treasurer, you were involved in the problems of the 9 state dealing with the city's financial situation from your --
10 the beginning of your -- of being state Treasurer?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Okay. Could you generally characterize for us what that 13 involvement has been from the beginning?

14 A The city was in emergency. We inherited some that were 15 in emergency, our school district. We worked closely with the 16 manager in those instances. For those that were finding 17 themselves getting in financial trouble, we tried to work with 18 them to keep them out of financial trouble. So it would vary
19 depending on the condition that you found in the various 20 school district or city.

21 Q All right. Did you stay involved in -- in issues
22 relating to the City of Detroit from the beginning of your 23 tenure as state Treasurer until your end last week?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Okay. I want to direct your attention to a few discreet
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1769
of 2386

1 periods of time and ask you some questions about that. And
2 the first period is around March of 2012. Do you recall
3 generally what was going on at that point in time?

4 A I believe we had completed a review and were working on
5 negotiating a consent agreement with the City of Detroit.

6 Q Okay. And what were the results of those negotiations?

7 A We ultimately reached agreement on something called a
8 financial stability agreement.

9 Q When was that?

10 A I believe the final day was around April 4 of 2012.

11 Q So the negotiations would have been ongoing in March of 12 2012?

13 A I believe so, yes.

14 Q And your part of the negotiating team for the state,
15 negotiating with the city?

16 A Correct.

17 Q And it was an arm's length negotiations that is 18 adversarial not in the bad sense of the word? They had their 19 position, you had yours?

20 A That's right.

21 Q Would that be fair?

22 A Yeah.

23 Q Okay. And you were using the Jones, Day law firm to 24 represent the state at that point in time, were you not?

25 A I actually don't think so, although they were involved.

1 We had a relationship with Miller, Buckfire. And I believe
2 that Miller, Buckfire reached out to Jones, Day for legal
3 advice. So there was a role, but they were not, to my memory
4 -- I -- I don't recall a contractual relationship between the 5 state and Jones, Day.

6 Q When you say you don't recall a contractual relationship,
7 is that another way of saying you weren't paying them?

8 A I believe that's correct.

9 Q Okay. But they were providing work for you on a pro bono
10 or some other kind of basis, were they not?

11 A I believe that to be true.

12 Q They were putting together drafts of the consent
13 agreement, were they not? That is Jones, Day.

14 A Yeah. But we did have counsel, Michigan based counsel
15 that was in the room negotiating the document. But we were 16 getting input and advice from Jones, Day, yes.

17 Q Did that advice include actual drafts of the consent
18 agreement from Jones, Day as opposed to your in house people
19 in March of 2012?

20 A I believe so.

21 Q And you indicated Buckfire. They were also assisting the 22 state in those negotiations with the city, correct?

23 A Correct.

24 Q Did you ever talk or did you have any understanding as to 25 why Jones, Day was doing what they were doing? That is

1 providing legal services for you and not billing you whatever
2 their hourly rate was at the time?

3 A We were working with Ken Buckfire at the time to make a
4 consent agreement that would work and function for the city.
5 And he had a relationship with Jones, Day and -- and would 6 seek their advice.

7 Q Didn't you understand that let's start with Mr. Buckfire.
8 That Mr. Buckfire, was he being paid by the state?

9 A I think there's a brief window of time where he had a --
10 a short term contract.

11 Q Did you assume that Mr. Buckfire and his -- on behalf of 12 his firm when he was helping you out in March of 2012, was 13 looking for more work in the future relative to the City of
14 Detroit?

15 A I think he was very interested in having a role with 16 Detroit going forward, yes.

17 Q And didn't you assume the same with Jones, Day?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Did you have discussions in March of 2012 about the 20 possibility of a Chapter 9 filing at that time?

21 A I don't recall and -- I don't recall.

22 Q Can you put up 852? And can you go to the second --
23 well, let's start.

24 MR. SHUMAKER: Objection, Your Honor. We have a
25 hearsay objection.

1 THE COURT: We don't have -- we don't quite have a
2 question yet, so let's get a question and then I'll take your
3 objection.

4 Q Let me -- let me do it a different way based on the 5 objection and -- and what I'm saying here. I'm going to show
6 you -- forget what's on the screen, Mr. Dillon, if you would.
7 I'm going to show you what's been marked for identification
8 purposes --

9 THE COURT: I need you to be by the microphone.

10 MR. WERTHEIMER: I'm sorry.

11 Q I'm going to show you what's been marked for 12 identification purposes as Exhibit 852. And ask you to take a
13 look at the second page of it in the middle. And -- and read
14 it to yourself. And my question is going to be whether that 15 refreshes your memory as to whether there might not have been 16 discussions involving Jones, Day people and others about the 17 possibility of filing Chapter 9 in March of 2012?

18 MS. NELSON: May I see it, please before it's handed
19 to the witness?

20 THE COURT: You can see it after it's handed to the 21 witness.

22 Q Take a look at whatever you need to put it in context.

23 THE COURT: Mr. Wertheimer, I have to insist that 24 anything you say to the witness be from the lectern so that 25 it's on the record.

1 MR. WERTHEIMER: Sorry.

2 Q I was just telling you, Mr. Dillon, take a look at any of
3 it that you need to put it in context. But the part I'm 4 asking you to take a look at to see if it refreshes your 5 recollection as to what was going on then is in the middle of 6 the second page of the document.

7 THE COURT: And did you represent that that is
8 exhibit what, I'm sorry?

9 MR. WERTHEIMER: 852.

10 THE COURT: Do you have that exhibit, Ma'am?

11 MS. NELSON: Oh, yes, I do, Your Honor. I didn't 12 realize that's what he was referring to.

13 THE COURT: All right, then we're all set.

14 A This refreshes my memory. I didn't read Page 2. Do you
15 want me to?

16 Q Yeah. Yeah, go ahead and read Page 2.

17 A Okay.

18 Q Mr. Dillon, does having read the proposed Exhibit 852
19 refresh your memory on the issue that I was asking about?

20 A It does.

21 Q Okay. And what is your memory now as to Chapter 9 filing
22 -- a Chapter 9 filing being discussed by you, other people for 23 the state, and lawyers from Jones, Day in March of 2012?

24 A I mean it was a topic of conversation, but the -- you
25 know, even the thought at that time was that we did want to

1 get to a consent agreement. We didn't want to declare an
2 emergency. And Chapter 9 was always out there as an issue but
3 it wasn't front and center.

4 Q And Jones, Day was involved in those discussions?

5 A I don't recall if they were physically present, but I
6 believe that yes, in the background they were looking at 7 versions of agreements that were being drafted and obviously
8 from reading that they were looking at the options for a
9 Chapter 9.

10 Q Okay. Let me -- can you put up 851, please? And I
11 believe it has been admitted. Mr. Dillon, this is a -- the 12 first page is an email from Corrine Ball to L. Marcero at 13 Huron Consulting. Can you tell us, first of all, who Corrine
14 Ball is?

15 A She's an attorney at Jones, Day.

16 Q And who is L. Marcero?

17 A She works for Huron Consulting. She's a -- she lives in 18 the Detroit area and was advising us on working through these 19 issues with the City of Detroit.

20 Q And -- and Huron Consulting is a separate entity from 21 Miller, Buckfire?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Any relationship between the two as far as you know?

24 A Not as far as I know.

25 Q Okay. If you could put up the second page of 851. If 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1775
of 2386

1 you look at the top, Mr. Dillon, this is a email from Corrine
2 Ball at Jones, Day to L. Marcero. Am I pronouncing it right?

3 A I think it's Laura Marcero.

4 Q Laura Marcero. And in the email Laura is saying to 5 Corrine, if at all possible, can you call me. I need to link
6 you into a Chapter 9 conversation with Andy very quickly. Do
7 you recall ever being linked in to such a conversation?

8 A I don't have a specific memory of that.

9 Q Do you have a general memory of it?

10 A No. I mean to me I think from reading that memo and 11 refreshing my memory a little bit, it was about whether or not 12 the city would be eligible if in fact a Chapter 9 became 13 something that had to happen in the view of -- of the folks at 14 the table.

15 Q Okay.

16 A But it wasn't our priority, it was always a last resort
17 option for us.

18 Q I want to direct your attention now to December 2012 and 19 January 2013. In other words nine months later or so. Were 20 you involved in the hiring of Kevyn Orr as emergency manager?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And Kevyn Orr up to then had been a partner at Jones,
23 Day, had he not?

24 A To my knowledge.

25 Q And would you tell the Court generally what your

1 involvement was?

2 A The first time I believe I ever met Kevyn Orr was around
3 the January 29th date where we interviewed, I believe, five or 4 six different law firms as potential restructuring firms for 5 the City of Detroit. He was one of the members on the team
6 from Jones, Day.

7 We did all of those interviews in one day, so I think
8 give or take each interview with each firm lasted around an 9 hour, it could have been a little more for each firm. That 10 was the first time I met him.

11 Q Okay. Did you recommend that he be hired?

12 A I got a phone call from Richard Baird who asked me what I
13 thought about Kevyn. I thought he was impressive in the 14 meeting and should be someone that we considered.

15 Q Were you concerned at the time that he was with Jones,
16 Day and that Jones, Day had been advising the state for up to 17 a year on this issue of how the state was going to deal with 18 the Detroit financial situation?

19 MS. NELSON: Objection, assumes facts not in 20 evidence. There's no indication that Jones, Day had been 21 providing advice to the state for up to a year.

22 THE COURT: Well, the objection is overruled.
23 Please answer the question if you can.

24 A Not terribly. There was a -- a review team that was

25 involved in interviewing all the firms. It wasn't just my 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1777
of 2386

1 decision to make, so I thought they would have to stand on
2 their own as the -- as the law firm of choice.

3 Q Well, does -- does the beginning of your answer being not
4 terribly mean that there was some concern?

5 A It could have an appearance of impropriety which I
6 recognized and -- and gave consideration to. And in fact
7 because when ultimately they were hired, I believe there were
8 six to eight people on the panel. I actually held my vote
9 back to let the group move on their own because I was one of 10 two people that even knew that they were being considered.

11 Q Okay.

12 A Or that Kevyn was being considered.

13 Q What -- did you recognize the same or even more extreme
14 propriety issues when in March or April of 2013 with Kevyn Orr
15 in place, there was a consideration as to hiring the Jones,
16 Day law firm now as counsel for the city through the emergency
17 manager as opposed to being counsel for the state as it had 18 been in the past?

19 A I thought the sequence was that Jones, Day was hired
20 before Kevyn was announced in my memory.

21 Q Whatever the sequence was, did you have the same concerns
22 with propriety relative to the hiring of Jones, Day as you did
23 as to the potential hiring of Kevyn Orr?

24 A No. Because there was -- there was quite a few people

25 that were on the hiring team. And -- and I didn't cast -- it
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1778
of 2386

1 was unanimous vote for Jones, Day and I withheld my vote and I
2 was careful not to kind of push any particular firm that day
3 because I knew that Kevyn was a possible EM candidate. And I
4 -- I was also informed that Kevyn withdrew from pushing Jones,
5 Day to get the contract in Detroit.

6 Q So that it was -- it was done without the help of Kevyn
7 Orr as far as you knew?

8 A I was advised that the firm was hired that -- or was 9 advised by Rich Baird that the hiring of Kevyn Orr would 10 neither help or hinder their efforts to become the 11 restructuring counsel for the City of Detroit.

12 Q Who is Braum Stibitz?

13 A He works for me in treasury.

14 Q Or past tense?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Worked. Sorry. What was his position in April of 2013?

17 A And I forget the exact title, but he was my right hand
18 guy. He didn't have the title of Chief of Staff, but he 19 functioned that way.

20 Q Okay. And what about Terry Stanton?

21 A Terry is a public information officer for the Department
22 of Treasury.

23 Q Were you aware that in April of 2013, Terry Stanton
24 authored an email to Braum Stibitz that took issue with Jones,
25 Day being hired as the attorneys for the city?

1 A I don't recall that.

2 Q Let me put --

3 THE COURT: Excuse me, Mr. Wertheimer. How much
4 longer will you be on your direct examination of the witness?

5 MR. WERTHEIMER: Half hour.

6 THE COURT: All right. In that event, we'll take
7 our lunch break now and reconvene at 1:30. Everyone please
8 stand by for me for one second while I consult.

9 All right. Everyone please stand by while Mr. Dillon
10 makes his exit.

11 (WITNESS ANDY DILLON WAS TEMPORARILY EXCUSED AT 12:02
12 P.M.)

13 THE COURT: And we'll be in recess until 1:30.

14 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in recess.

15 (Court in Recess at 12:02 p.m.; Resume at 1:30 p.m.)

16 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in session. Please
17 be seated. Recalling case number 13-53846, City of Detroit,
18 Michigan.

19 THE COURT: It appears that everyone is here. Sir,
20 you may proceed.

21 MR. WERTHEIMER: Thank you, Your Honor.

22 (WITNESS ANDY DILLON RESUMED THE STAND AT 1:30 P.M.)

23 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

24 Q Can you put 835 on the screen? Mr. Dillon, as I recall

25 it when we left I was asking you some questions about who
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1780
of 2386

1 Braum Stibitz was and Terry Stanton. And you had answered
2 those questions. Do you recall that?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Would you take a look at what's on your screen and on the
5 big screen? It's an email from Braum Stibitz who I think you
6 identified -- or I'm sorry, to him from Terry Stanton from 7 April of 2013.

8 MR. STEWART: Objection, Your Honor, hearsay.

9 MS. NELSON: Same objection, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: Again let's -- let's wait until we have 11 an actual question and then I'll take your objection.

12 Q Have you seen that document before, Mr. Dillon?

13 A I don't believe I have.

14 Q Do you recall -- would you -- well, let me ask it this
15 way. Do you recall Terry Stanton or anyone else at treasury
16 raising the issue of the appearance of impropriety in the city
17 hiring Jones, Day to be its lawyer at around this time, March
18 or April of 2013?

19 A I don't recall that.

20 Q You don't recall any internal discussions relative to it?

21 A No.

22 Q Mr. --

23 THE COURT: Can we take this document down, please?

24 MR. WERTHEIMER: Yes, we can take it down.

25 Q Mr. Stibitz never raised it with you?

1 A I don't recall that.

2 Q Again, I want to make sure we're on the same wave length.
3 Leaving aside the email, do you recall ever Mr. Stibitz
4 raising with you generally the issue of the appearances of 5 Jones, Day being hired as the city's attorney in the spring of 6 2013?

7 A I don't specifically recall that, no.

8 Q Do you generally recall it?

9 A No.

10 Q Do you recall being concerned about that issue yourself
11 at that point in time?

12 A It was an issue that I gave some consideration to, yes.

13 Q And did -- I was unclear on your testimony from -- from 14 this morning, did -- was that the reason that you abstained
15 from a particular vote?

16 A I just held my vote back and it ended up being a
17 unanimous vote. But yeah, I intentionally tried not to lead
18 the outcome of that vote, so I held my opinion back.

19 Q And this was a vote on Jones, Day being selected as the 20 city's attorneys?

21 A Right.

22 Q It would have occurred sometime in the spring of 2013?

23 A Right.

24 Q Did you have any discussions with your staff before you
25 decided to do that about that issue? That is the issue of

1 abstaining or in some way not voting as a -- for -- for the 2 reason you stated?

3 A I did not. I kept that to myself.

4 Q Okay. Would you put 858 up, please? Mr. Dillon, this is
5 an email that you sent to the Governor, July 8, 2013. Do you
6 recall you were questioned about this at your deposition?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And I'm not going to go over the entire email, but I just 9 have a question or two on it. Would I be correct in recalling 10 that you testified that the recent suits against you and me in 11 that last sentence in the first paragraph would have been a
12 reference to the Flowers and Webster lawsuits?

13 A It was logical to conclude that based on reading it and 14 putting it in the time frame, yes.

15 Q All right. And part of the logic being you did know
16 about those lawsuits at that time, correct?

17 A I believe so.

18 Q And you also knew that a hearing was scheduled for a
19 preliminary injunction in those cases, did you not?

20 A At that time I can't say that I did.

21 Q All right. By a couple of days thereafter you did?

22 A I don't have specific memory of that. But I knew at some 23 point there was a hearing scheduled.

24 Q Okay. Before the date of the hearing?

25 A Yes.

1 Q In other words you knew that there was a hearing
2 scheduled in the future?

3 A Right.

4 Q In the Flowers and Webster cases, correct?

5 A Correct.

6 Q If you'd take a look -- now if you would put up 834,
7 please. Let me -- I -- I apologize, Mr. Dillon. Let me just 8 go back a second.

9 Would it also be correct that by July 15th you knew that 10 there was a schedule in place and per that schedule the 11 bankruptcy would be filed on July 19th, is that correct?

12 A I don't have a specific memory of the date of the filing,
13 but I do remember prior to that filing date that was in the 14 schedule that we were presented with, a pretty detailed 15 schedule about what a Chapter 9 would look like and all the 16 events that would have to transpire.

17 Q All right. And do you recall that whatever the details
18 of that schedule that you don't recall, do you recall that in 19 fact the bankruptcy was filed a day before the dates in that
20 document?

21 A I believe that to be true, yes.

22 Q Okay. Now if you'll take a look. This is an email that 23 you sent the next day, that is after the July 8 email to the 24 Governor, is it not?

25 A I believe so, yes.

1 Q And by the way just for the record, that the email from
2 the 8th is an email from you to the Governor?

3 A Correct.

4 Q Okay. In this email on the 9th, you indicate -- I'm --
5 I'm looking at the last paragraph. The second of the three 6 sentences. You say to the Governor on July 9, we remain in 7 many ways at the informational stage. That was a true
8 statement when you made it, was it not?

9 A I believe so, yes.

10 Q Did anything happen that you knew of between July 9th and 11 July 18th to take it out of the informational stage?

12 A We were getting more information and the numbers kept 13 getting worse for the funding level of the pension fund. As 14 we learned new facts, the -- the health of the pension funds
15 seemed to be getting worse.

16 Q Are you suggesting that you learned these facts after
17 July 9?

18 A I don't have specific memories, but in reading these 19 emails they refresh my memory that information was flowing in 20 as I was sending them to him.

21 Q Well, how about you didn't get that information in the 22 next day, did you, by the 10th?

23 A I -- I'd want to go back and read the one from the 8th. I
24 think you're --

25 Q I'm sorry, go ahead. Will you put up that one which is 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1785
of 2386

1 -- I'm sorry, 858. Go ahead. You say you wanted to read that
2 one?

3 A The day I sent this I believed I was going to learn more
4 information. I don't recall now if it actually happened on 5 that date or not.

6 Q Okay. Do you recall communicating to the Governor's
7 office just before July 12th that a more deliberative approach
8 should be taken at the Governor's end relative to authorizing
9 a bankruptcy?

10 A I don't have a specific memory of that, no.

11 Q Would you put up 625, please? Mr. Dillon, I'm going to 12 -- this has been introduced as Exhibit 625. I'm going to 13 direct your attention to the -- the second email there, not 14 the top one, but the second one that goes on for three 15 paragraphs.

16 To the first paragraph about halfway down. And by the 17 way, this is July 12. And this is from Mike Gadola. And he's 18 saying, I spoke to Rich this morning and he informed me that 19 last night he had a discussion with Andy and the LG about the 20 exchange of letters. Rich now favors as I do, a more
21 deliberative approach at the Governor's end. He indicates 22 Andy and the LG are on board with that approach. Does that 23 refresh your memory on that issue?

24 A I have a vague recollection of this email.

25 Q All right.

1 A Or that --

2 Q But my question is as to the broader issue. Do you
3 recall communicating in one way, shape, or form, whether
4 through Baird much more directly with Snyder -- excuse me,
5 with Governor Snyder, do you recall communicating to the 6 Governor's office at around this time your view as the state
7 Treasurer that a more deliberative approach at the Governor's
8 end was in order as of July 12?

9 A From reading this, it's -- I don't have a clear
10 recollection of this conversation, but I have no reason to 11 believe that this is not an accurate description of a call I
12 had with Rich Baird and the LG.

13 Q Okay. Fair enough. If you look down in the next
14 paragraph, and again this is from Mike Gadola to Mr. Muchmore
15 and John Roberts.

16 He supplies some additional reasons for this approach
17 including, I'm about halfway down, the conditions could also 18 include such items as pre-approval for anything having to do
19 with vested pension benefits. Do you recall Mr. Gadola taking 20 that position at around this time?

21 A I believe I had conversations with Mike Gadola in this
22 time frame that I believe is subject to the lawyer client
23 privilege, attorney/client.

24 Q Well, I -- I will indicate to you, Mr. Dillon, that this

1 privilege has been waived as to this document.

2 A I don't know if I was copied on it.

3 MS. NELSON: If I may respond. If I may respond,
4 Your Honor. This is not a communication from the attorney to 5 Mr. Dillon. This was to Mr. Muchmore and then to Baird. So,
6 Mr. Dillon is testifying about separate conversations in
7 response to Mr. Wertheimer's question that were separately
8 attorney/client privilege.

9 MR. WERTHEIMER: I think that's correct actually.

10 THE COURT: Okay.

11 Q Do you recall having discussions with -- may I back up?

12 MR. WERTHEIMER: For the record, I would take an 13 exception based on the arguments we've previously made as to 14 the applicability of the attorney/client privilege to 15 communications involving public officials, et cetera.

16 Q Do you recall having discussions at around this time with 17 the Jones, Day law firm relative to contingencies being placed
18 on the bankruptcy?

19 A Yes.

20 MS. NELSON: Same objection, Your Honor,
21 attorney/client privilege as to their content.

22 MR. SHUMAKER: The city joins in the objection.

23 MR. WERTHEIMER: I'm not going to go any further
24 than -- than his yes response.

25 THE COURT: All right.

1 Q I'm going to show you a document, Mr. Dillon that has
2 been marked for identification purposes as UAW 626. And ask
3 you if you can identify it as an email that you sent to Braum
4 Stibitz who you've already identified and others on July 10,
5 2013?

6 A Yes, I recall this.

7 (UAW Exhibit 626 was identified)

8 MR. WERTHEIMER: Move for its admission.

9 THE COURT: What was the number again, sir?

10 MR. WERTHEIMER: 626.

11 THE COURT: Any objections?

12 MS. NELSON: No objections.

13 MR. SHUMAKER: No objection, Your Honor.

14 THE COURT: It is admitted.

15 (UAW Exhibit 626 was admitted)

16 Q Put it up. I want to direct your attention -- I'm -- I'm 17 going to go through it to some extent with you, Mr. Dillon.
18 It begins -- or you begin by saying, I would like to get a
19 response to the proposed Orr letter out tomorrow about noon.
20 Would I be correct in understanding that the proposed Orr
21 letter is his letter seeking authorization to file bankruptcy
22 to you and the Governor?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And this is dated July 10, correct?

25 A Yes.

1 Q Do you recall when you received the draft of the proposed
2 Orr letter that you would have been working from when you
3 created 626?

4 A Not specifically, no.

5 Q That day, a day before? I mean was it a tight --

6 A Yes.

7 Q Fairly tight time frame?

8 A Yes.

9 Q How did you come to receive it?

10 A I believe it came in via email.

11 Q From whom?

12 A I don't recall.

13 Q From someone at the emergency manager's end, or was it
14 already being distributed at the state if you recall?

15 A I don't recall.

16 Q Do you recall the context at all of how you received it?

17 A No. I -- I had been briefed on the schedule. I was 18 aware things were going to be in motion.

19 Q To your knowledge, were other people at the state end
20 being provided with a copy of the draft authorization?

21 A Not to my knowledge.

22 Q As far as you knew it was only you?

23 A Well, treasury.

24 Q Did you think there was anything untoward with Orr asking
25 for your input into his request to you for something that you

1 and the Governor would need to act on?

2 A No. I thought it was a courtesy.

3 Q You thought it was a courtesy, is that right?

4 A Yes.

5 Q You felt free, did you not, to suggest changes both
6 typographical if you will, and substantive, did you not?

7 A Apparently, yes.

8 Q Okay. Fair enough. And in fact Mr. Orr if you -- I
9 don't know if we can get two on the screen at once, but if we 10 take a look at Mr. Orr's authorization of July 16 which is 11 Exhibit 28 for example. Your point number one back to 626 is 12 that you think initiatives should be initiatives. That is that 13 it was just a mistake in the word choice, correct?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And if you look at Exhibit 28, he agreed and changed the 16 word to initiatives near the end of the second full paragraph 17 on Page 2, did he --

18 MS. NELSON: Your Honor, I'm going to object. First 19 of all, it calls for hearsay. There's no foundation that this 20 was even communicated to Mr. Orr ultimately or even back to 21 anyone who prepared Exhibit 28 for what Mr. Orr accepted or 22 didn't accept.

23 THE COURT: The objection is overruled. You may
24 proceed.

25 MR. WERTHEIMER: Thank you.

1 Q Let me ask you, however, you did communicate your changes
2 to Stibitz. We know who he is, correct?

3 A Correct.

4 Q Who is Saxton, Tom Saxton?

5 A He works for treasury as well.

6 Q And what does he do there?

7 A He's the Deputy Treasurer.

8 Q And Mr. Headen? Who is Mr. Headen?

9 A He's the lawyer that works within Treasury Department.

10 Q Okay. Did you in one way or another assume that your 11 people would have got your input back to Mr. Orr? In other
12 words you weren't doing some academic exercise, were you?

13 A At this point I thought that this would be transformed
14 into a letter written by Fred Headen which never transpired.

15 Q Okay. And so you thought at this point Headen was going
16 to write a letter back to Orr?

17 A I thought we would send a letter back to whoever sent 18 this to us.

19 Q And which you would point out the things that you thought
20 should be changed?

21 A I shared with them my views and expected that they might 22 have some of their own thoughts as well.

23 Q Okay. What did happen to the changes that you were 24 suggesting? Did -- tell -- tell us what your knowledge is as

25 to how if at all these suggestions were communicated back to 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1792
of 2386

1 Mr. Orr?

2 A There was a phone call, but not to Mr. Orr. Excuse me.

3 Q Who -- who called who?

4 A There was a conference call with a few people from my
5 staff as well as the Jones, Day lawyers.

6 Q So you get on to a conference call with you, your staff
7 people, and Jones, Day lawyers and during that conference
8 call, you communicate the contents of this email which is now
9 626 back to Orr through the Jones, Day lawyers, do I
10 understand that correctly?

11 MS. NELSON: Objection, attorney/client privilege.

12 MR. SHUMAKER: Same objection, Your Honor.

13 MR. WERTHEIMER: Your Honor, the privilege has been 14 waged -- waived as to this document.

15 THE COURT: The question merely summarized what the 16 witness previously said, so I'll permit it. Please answer the 17 question, sir.

18 A I spoke to some lawyers over the phone with Jones, Day.
19 What they communicated to Kevyn, I don't know.

20 Q Fair enough. But what you -- you had -- I assume you had 21 in front of you the contents of your email?

22 A I believe I did.

23 Q And you communicated those contents to the Jones, Day
24 lawyers?

25 A I did.

1 Q And you communicated them for the purpose of getting back
2 to Orr your comments relative to his request for an
3 authorization?

4 A I don't know that I made that leap but, sure. They were
5 obviously involved in this issue for Mr. Orr.

6 Q All right.

7 A And how they communicated with him, I have no personal
8 knowledge.

9 Q All right. They're competent counsel and you assumed
10 that they would have communicated back to the client what the 11 treasury secretary was suggesting. Would that be fair?

12 A That would be fair.

13 Q Okay. Thank you. And if you look at 626, your third
14 point is no mention of GRS. And then your question is why.

15 Am I reading that right?

16 A Yes.

17 Q What is GRS?

18 A General employee retirement system.

19 Q Okay and that got put into the authorization request, did 20 it not?

21 A I believe it did.

22 Q And it's just to be clear for the record, if you -- if we 23 look at the authorization letter, Page 4, the third full 24 paragraph, there's now a paragraph relating to GRS and other
25 things, correct?

1 A I didn't read it right now, but that's my memory.

2 Q Okay. And that was not in your memory, I would -- is 3 your memory that that was not in the draft that you were 4 looking at?

5 A Yes. That's my memory.

6 Q Okay. Now I won't match up all the other things, but --
7 but let me just ask kind of a summary question that I think
8 will -- we can then figure it out from the record.

9 Would it be fair to say that all the suggestions you made
10 in your July 10 -- or that are recorded in your July 10 email,
11 are things that were not in the version that you were looking 12 at? In other words you're suggesting additions or changes to 13 what was in the Orr draft at the time you were looking at it,
14 would that be fair?

15 A I think it's an overly broad description. I read a 16 document, here's my thoughts.

17 Q Okay.

18 A Sometimes it was an omission, sometimes it was a failure
19 to hit on a theme.

20 Q All right, fair enough. I want to direct your attention
21 now to the second page of your Exhibit 626, number 10. You
22 say here I, Andy Dillon, don't think we are making the case
23 why we are giving up so soon to reach an out of Court
24 settlement. That was a true statement of yours at the time
25 you made it, was it not?

1 A That's what I believed at the time.

2 Q And you then said, looks premeditated, did you not?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Period, a two word sentence. You believed that to be 5 true when you wrote it -- when you typed it down on to your 6 computer on the 10th, did you not?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Then you go on to say, I think we need to say facts got 9 worse as we dug into the numbers. And I believe there is a
10 State Court option to get retirees into a class (we don't 11 acknowledge that) and why is that impractical? That was a 12 correct statement of your thinking at the time, was it not?

13 A Yes.

14 Q You believed that there was a State Court option to get 15 retirees into a class and that it was not impractical?

16 A That's what I believed at the time. I was never apprised
17 to know if that was ultimately the case.

18 Q All right. Then you say, we don't even say they rejected
19 the city's proposal. That was true as far as you knew it at 20 the time. That is that was not being said in Orr's
21 authorization request, correct?

22 A Correct.

23 Q Then you say, I think we may want to take it or -- I'm 24 sorry. I think we may want a take it or leave it demand

1 Chapter 9 filing?

2 A Yes.

3 Q And did you mean by take it or leave it demand that the
4 -- that Orr or somebody on his behalf should make such a
5 demand before the Chapter 9 was filed?

6 A I thought that might have been beneficial.

7 Q Then you say, I agree with the recommendation. Are you
8 referring now to the recommendation to proceed to bankruptcy?

9 A Yes.

10 Q But I don't think we make the case. Was that true on 11 July 10? You did not think that Orr had made the case?

12 A In the document that I read.

13 Q Now and I -- would I be correct in assuming that the 14 information that's included here under your number 10 on Page
15 2 of 626, that you communicated that in this conference call
16 you had with Jones, Day shortly either on July 10, or shortly
17 thereafter?

18 A I believe that's true.

19 Q You didn't leave any of it out?

20 A I don't know if I went into as much detail here, but I
21 think I would have made the point.

22 Q Then finally down at the bottom, you say after this 23 letter is revised, let's work on Governor's response. By 24 Governor's response you meant the response that the Governor

1 to Mr. Orr's letter, did you not?

2 A That's what I meant, yes.

3 Q So you were of the view at that point -- let me -- sorry.

4 And you then indicated at end just for completion, that these
5 were just your initial thoughts, correct?

6 A Correct.

7 Q Did you have any further input into the Orr authorization
8 request beyond what's on this document between July 10 and 9 July 16 when he submitted it to the Governor?

10 A I don't believe so.

11 Q Now back to the Governor's response. You're saying we're 12 going to revise this letter and then we're going to work on a 13 response to it, correct?

14 A Correct.

15 Q And as I understand it based on what you say you talked
16 to Mr. Gadola about, the response -- well, you tell me. What 17 was the response going to be at that point?

18 A I wanted to finish this before we got to that.

19 Q One step at a time?

20 A That's right.

21 Q All right. But one step at a time. But you're on both 22 sides of each of the steps, would that be fair?

23 A Actually not.

24 Q Well, you're helping to create the authorization request,
25 correct?

1 A I shared comments about it.

2 Q And you're -- oh, okay. You're hoping to be involved in
3 what the Governor's response will be, correct?

4 A I don't know if I agree with the word hoping or thought.
5 It may fall on to my duty list.

6 Q Fair enough. All right. But do I take your answer to 7 mean, or can I conclude from it that in fact you were not
8 involved in what became the Governor's response, the July 18
9 document?

10 A That's correct, I was not.

11 Q Is that correct? You were not? You were out of the loop
12 on that?

13 A Yes.

14 MR. WERTHEIMER: Okay. Can I have just one minute,
15 Your Honor?

16 THE COURT: Yes, sir.

17 Q Back with just one clean up question, Mr. Dillon. Back
18 to questions and your answers relative to your not
19 participating in the vote where Jones, Day was hired. Do you
20 recall that?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Did you -- first of all, what board was this that was 23 deciding that ostensibly at least deciding that issue?

24 A I don't remember all the attendees, but there were people
25 from the City of Detroit there, there was people from treasury

1 there. There might have even been some members of the 2 financial advisory board there.

3 Q Was that what it was? Was that the body voting,
4 financial advisory board?

5 A It was not a formal entity. It was --

6 Q Oh, okay. It was just an informal group of people?

7 A Right.

8 Q At the point that you decided not to vote, did you
9 communicate to the other people who were voting that Jones,
10 Day had been actively involved in providing legal assistance
11 to the state in March of 2012 or any other time? In other
12 words that they had previously done work on this case for a 13 client different than the City of Detroit and a rather big 14 client?

15 A Well, this case I don't understand that. Can you explain
16 that?

17 Q I'm sorry. I kind of loaded it up. I apologize. Did
18 you communicate to the other members of the board at the time
19 that you were deciding not to vote, based at least in part on 20 your concern about the appearance of things, did you
21 communicate to the other members of -- of the people voting,
22 that Jones, Day had been actively representing the state in
23 March of 2012?

24 MS. NELSON: I'm going to object again, Your Honor.

1 Treasurer's testimony.

2 MR. WERTHEIMER: It certainly was and it's all over
3 the --

4 THE COURT: Objection is overruled.

5 MR. WERTHEIMER: Sorry.

6 A I didn't reference that they played a role in the 7 negotiation of the consent agreement.

8 Q You just abstained? Silently, you didn't --

9 A Yeah.

10 MR. WERTHEIMER: Yeah, okay. That's all I have, Mr.
11 Dillon. Thank you very much.

12 DIRECT EXAMINATION

13 BY MS. LEVINE:

14 Q Good afternoon, Mr. Dillon. Sharon Levine, Lowenstein,
15 Sandler for AFSCME. Just a couple of questions.

16 During the period of time that you were Treasurer, did
17 you report to the Governor?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And did there come a point in time, actually either
20 before or after you became Treasurer that you began to think 21 that Detroit was insolvent or to avoid the need for a legal 22 conclusion financially distressed?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And when was that?

25 A Well, pretty much from day one, but it continued to get
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1801
of 2386

1 worse over the two year window.

2 Q And what were some of the indicators that caused you to
3 think that Detroit was financially in distress? Did it
4 include the blight?

5 A Sure.

6 Q Conditions with regard to the police and fire services?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Did you -- did you review any financial documentation in 9 that regard?

10 A In what regard?

11 Q Numbers relating to Detroit's cash flow?

12 A Yes.

13 Q What did you review?

14 A Cash flow forecast that we requested to be developed.

15 Q By whom?

16 A By the city.

17 Q By whom for the city?

18 A Well, we had invited Ernst and Young to participate and 19 help the city develop its cash flow forecast.

20 Q When did you retain -- when was Ernst and Young retained?

21 A I don't recall specifically.

22 Q Were they retained by the city, or by the state, or by 23 somebody else?

24 A I'd have to guess, but I believe the city.

25 Q Did there come a point in time also when Miller, Buckfire
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1802
of 2386

1 was retained?

2 A By the city?

3 Q Well, by anybody in connection with the Detroit
4 situation.

5 A Yes.

6 Q And when was that?

7 A There was a short period of time, I don't know when it
8 began, but in the early part of 2012 they were hired for a
9 specific project. And then --

10 Q By the -- by the state?

11 A I believe by the state, yes.

12 Q And at the conclusion of that project, were they then
13 retained at some point in time by the city?

14 A About a year after.

15 Q But in 2012, E & Y, or Ernst and Young was just retained
16 by the state and continued to be retained by the -- I'm sorry, 17 just retained by the city and continued to be retained by the 18 city, correct?

19 A I believe that's right.

20 Q Did there come a point in time when Conway, MacKenzie was 21 retained?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And when was that?

24 A I don't recall the specific date. It would have been 25 early 2013, I believe.

1 Q And by whom were they retained?

2 A The city.

3 Q Did any of these professionals, E & Y, Miller, Buckfire
4 or Conway, MacKenzie during 2012, and I guess it wouldn't be
5 Conway, MacKenzie because they hadn't been retained yet, do
6 what's known as a bottom's up analysis?

7 A I don't recall that term of art.

8 Q Do you have an understanding of what a bottom's up
9 analysis is as opposed to a top down analysis?

10 A Why don't you describe it to me, that would be safer.

11 Q Did any of these professionals actually instead of 12 relying on numbers provided to them by city officials or 13 others, actually go in and stress test the numbers?

14 A I believe so.

15 Q And who was that?

16 A I think it would have been a combination of E & Y and 17 Conway.

18 Q And when did Ernst and Young prepare this bottom's up
19 analysis?

20 A We didn't use that term, so their engagement grew over
21 time as the situation got worse and -- and as they were there
22 longer they started to get better -- better numbers and 23 understand the environment better. And then let's say from 24 January of '13, you know, through May or June, there was a lot
25 of effort to put together a ten year forecast for the city

1 that was based on a lot of effort to dig under and understand
2 the numbers.

3 Q And that took place starting in January of 2013, but not
4 earlier?

5 A I believe earlier. I think as E & Y was there, the 6 longer they were there, the better comfort they got. So we --
7 we always relied and looked at the cash flow forecast and some
8 understanding of the city's profit and loss statement. So I
9 mean it was -- started from day one really. But the numbers
10 got more refined as we learned more.

11 Q Did anybody look behind -- did anybody look behind the 12 numbers in terms of finding other sources of revenue for the 13 city? For example we've heard a lot of talk about uncollected
14 taxes. Did E & Y or any of the professionals actually go in 15 and dig into those numbers directly?

16 A Conway -- I mean everyone in treasury did. And we had --
17 we were working on a partnership with the city where the state
18 would help them collect their taxes. We did go look at their 19 outstanding receivables to see if there's monies that could be 20 collected there.

21 That probably was 2011, maybe 2012 when that happened.

22 Conway, MacKenzie did a study of all the cash collection

23 operations. I don't recall when that project happened. And

24 then E & I was -- E & Y was on the ground for pretty much the

25 entire time. And I wasn't on the ground with them, so I don't

1 know all the areas that they paid attention to.

2 Q But you were concerned about the revenue stream from the
3 City of Detroit going back all the way to the time you took 4 office in 2011?

5 A Yes.

6 Q State shared revenue. For every year that you were in 7 office, did the state share revenue provided to Detroit
8 diminish?

9 A I believe it actually grew.

10 Q The state shared revenue?

11 A Maybe the first year. The first year might have been a 12 cut and then after that I think it grew every year from that.

13 Q Do you recall what the number was the first year?

14 A I do not.

15 Q Do you recall what the number was that -- the second or 16 third year?

17 A No.

18 Q What makes you think it grew?

19 A I just remember the state's economy began turning around
20 and -- and the initial cuts from the first year the Snyder
21 administration was kind of the bottom. And the revenues with 22 the state started to increase from that point forward.

23 Q But isn't the state shared revenue also tied to the city
24 population and wasn't Detroit losing population?

25 A I'm not totally familiar with the state shared statutory
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1806
of 2386

1 formulation. But I do believe it's tied to revenue. And when
2 Detroit fell below a million, that was a relevant number for
3 the city. I don't know in that sense this number took place
4 and when the new numbers were relied upon.

5 Q So would it be fair to say then that you're not really
6 sure whether or not the state shared revenue to Detroit grew,
7 or shrank, or stayed the same?

8 A I would rather see the numbers, yes.

9 Q Were you involved in the selection of E & Y on behalf of 10 the city back in 2012?

11 A Well, I think they were brought in before '12.

12 Q Were you involved in the selection of Miller, Buckfire on 13 behalf of the state in 2012?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And were you involved in the selection of Miller,
16 Buckfire on behalf of the city about a year later?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And were you involved in the selection of Conway,
19 MacKenzie for the city in 2013?

20 A Yes.

21 Q How long did the interview process last with Miller,
22 Buckfire before they were actually retained by the city?

23 A I don't recall.

24 Q Do you recall how long the interview process took with

1 city?

2 A Not specifically, but it was hours.

3 Q You met them and hired them on the spot?

4 A No, no. It was hours and it took several meetings.

5 Q Over what time frame, do you know?

6 A The process -- I don't recall specifically, but it was 7 not a matter of days. It was several -- it was a competitive
8 process and there was a lot of meetings. And a lot of time
9 was spent on that.

10 Q Same thing with choosing Miller, Buckfire, several 11 meetings, competitive process, a lot of days?

12 A Not quite the same with Miller, Buckfire.

13 Q How many -- how many investment bankers were interviewed
14 during the process that resulted in Miller, Buckfire being 15 retained by the city?

16 A I don't recall.

17 Q More than two?

18 A I don't recall a formal interview process like we had 19 with the law firms, or the accounting firms, or the 20 restructuring firms.

21 Q So it's possible it was just Miller, Buckfire that was 22 considered and ultimately retained?

23 A I don't recall if no one else was considered, but it's 24 possible.

25 Q Now were you involved in the selection of Jones, Day?

1 A Yes.

2 Q And there were several law firms that were considered
3 along with Jones, Day?

4 A Correct.

5 Q And the interview took place on January 29?

6 MS. NELSON: Your Honor, asked and answered.

7 THE COURT: Many times.

8 MS. LEVINE: I'll move on.

9 Q When did you personally become first aware of Jones,
10 Day's interest in serving as counsel for the city?

11 A For what purpose?

12 Q For any purpose.

13 A Well, they had some role during the efforts to negotiate
14 a consent agreement. So that suggested to me that they had an 15 interest in this case.

16 Q Back in 2012?

17 A Right.

18 Q Was it earlier than 2012?

19 A Could have been December even, but I don't recall
20 specifically when it started.

21 Q Now I don't want to go through again the entire interview
22 process with -- with Kevyn Orr, but Kevyn Orr first became 23 considered on 1-29-13, is that correct?

24 A By me it would have been later. It would have been after

1 candidate.

2 Q But the state was considering him effective as of the 3 interview date with Jones, Day, correct?

4 A After the -- that date. I don't recall the day I got a
5 phone call.

6 Q And he was formally retained on March 25?

7 A That sounds right.

8 Q And there was an interview process and negotiation back
9 and forth between January 29 and March 25, correct?

10 A Correct.

11 Q There was some discussion earlier with regard to Jones,
12 Day working on the consent decree and some other Miller,
13 Buckfire working perhaps for the state and then for the city.
14 Did the state or any entity affiliated with the state or any 15 of its officers fund any of the professionals currently 16 involved in this case, Jones, Day, Conway, MacKenzie, Miller,
17 Buckfire, or E & Y?

18 A Could you restate the question?

19 Q Did the state or any entity affiliated with the state, or 20 its officers, at any time fund any of the professionals
21 retained by the city in this case, Jones, Day, Conway,
22 MacKenzie, Miller, Buckfire, E & Y?

23 A Yes. For those units we contributed to the city's cost
24 of retaining them.

25 Q So the state itself?

1 A Yes.

2 Q Anybody on behalf of the state or affiliated with the 3 state or any of its officers?

4 A I don't know if I understand the question, but treasury
5 was -- appropriated some money from the legislature for me to 6 assist local units of government retain professionals that can 7 help them navigate financial difficulties.

8 Q Well, there -- there was some testimony earlier that the 9 NERD fund for example, contributed to defray some of Kevyn
10 Orr's expenses. Were there any other entities affiliated with 11 the state or any officer of the state that helped defray the 12 costs of the professionals retained by the city in this case?

13 A I'm not aware of any other funds.

14 Q Okay. Are you familiar with the June 14 proposal to 15 creditors made by the EM in this -- the emergency manager in 16 this case?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Did you -- and by EM I mean emergency manager as we have 19 a shorthand. Did you review that proposal for creditors
20 before it was made on June 14?

21 A I don't believe so.

22 Q When was the first time that you saw it?

23 A I believe when I attended it.

24 Q When you attended the June 14 meeting?

25 A Right.

1 Q Did you see that there was a time line at the back of
2 that proposal that concluded on July 19?

3 A I don't recall that.

4 Q Does a -- does a time line running from the June 14
5 meeting through July 19 ring a bell?

6 A I believe I recall a time line that was scheduled for the 7 process and that sounds about right.

8 Q And was it your understanding that there were to be 9 negotiations with various stakeholders between June 14 and 10 July 19 as a precursor to the Chapter 9 filing?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And what's your understanding of the total debt in
13 Detroit?

14 A About 18,000,000,000.

15 Q Did you think it was reasonable to schedule negotiations
16 with the various stakeholders of $18,000,000,000 of debt for 17 one month and three or four days?

18 A I don't think I passed judgment on that. I knew it was 19 an aggressive schedule.

20 Q Okay. You've previously testified that you were 21 concerned about Detroit's finances virtually from the time you
22 took office back in 2011, correct?

23 A Correct.

24 Q And that there were various restructuring professionals

25 in and around the Detroit situation. Some dating back to even
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1812
of 2386

1 as far as December 2011, but coming through straightforward
2 till the filing of the bankruptcy in -- in July of 2013,
3 correct?

4 A Correct.

5 Q And in response to some questions by Mr. Wertheimer, you
6 testified to the fact that Chapter 9, while not necessarily
7 being considered, was in the background at least since April
8 of 2012, correct?

9 A I believe I testified to that, sure.

10 Q So knowing what one of the precursors to a Chapter 9 is 11 to try and negotiate with your various stakeholders prior to a 12 filing, why didn't negotiations start with these various 13 stakeholders back in April of 2012?

14 A Of '12?

15 Q Uh-huh.

16 A Our hope was to avoid emergency and to get to a consent
17 agreement back in '12.

18 Q Were you negotiating with municipal bond holders and 19 others with regard to -- the consent decree didn't solve the 20 debt problem?

21 A No.

22 Q Were you negotiating with the stakeholders back in 2012?

23 A No. We were negotiating with the city to see if we could 24 reach an agreement that would give them a chance to 25 restructure the city.

1 Q Did you encourage the city during the period of time that
2 you were negotiating with the city to be also negotiating with 3 their stakeholders?

4 A I don't have a specific memory about that.

5 Q There were negotiations in late 2011, early 2012 with a
6 coalition of unions for Detroit with regard to a concessionary
7 agreement. Are you familiar with that?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And there were about 30 unions that participated in those 10 concessionary negotiations, is that your understanding?

11 A I'm aware that the city was negotiating something that I
12 think were described as TSA's. Who was involved, I don't 13 remember each name of each union.

14 Q But it was a coalition of unions?

15 A Yes.

16 Q It wasn't just one union. And on the other side of the 17 table was city, correct?

18 A Correct.

19 Q And involved in that on behalf of the city was E & Y,
20 correct?

21 A Yes, they were there.

22 Q Do you recall who the person was at E & Y who was 23 involved in that?

24 A I believe Gaurav Malhotra.

25 Q And as a result of those negotiations, there was a
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1814
of 2386

1 consensual agreement that was actually reached, isn't that
2 correct?

3 A Between the city and the unions, yes.

4 Q And the unions ratified the agreement so approximately 5 4,000 plus city employees voted in favor of the agreement, is
6 that correct?

7 A I don't believe every union ratified.

8 Q To your knowledge did most of the unions ratify?

9 A I don't recall.

10 Q Would you be surprised if I told you that the unions
11 actually ratified?

12 A Yeah, because my memory was that not all of them
13 ratified.

14 Q Was the -- was the agreement brought before the city
15 council for ratification?

16 A I don't remember.

17 Q Well, did you tell the city, you personally tell the city
18 not to ratify this agreement and not to agree to the terms and 19 conditions of this collective bargaining agreement?

20 A I didn't think that those agreements would work for the 21 city, so I was not supportive of them.

22 Q Why is that?

23 A Because I didn't think -- well, I sought expert advice on 24 and had them reviewed. And there was several issues that

1 won't work for the city.

2 Q And was one of the pieces of that advice that it would be
3 bad for the city to enter into a three year collective 4 bargaining agreement if it wanted to file Chapter 9 to 5 jettison the pensions?

6 A No. I mean --

7 Q Who did you seek advice from?

8 A Huron was involved looking at them. I believe they had 9 some --

10 Q But so Huron, a financial consulting firm, took a look at 11 these and said they were bad while E & Y, a consulting firm
12 that you were also involved with took a look at these and said
13 that they were good, is that what was happening?

14 A I can't tell you what E & Y's professional opinion was on 15 those agreements. The mere fact that he was there with the 16 city doesn't mean that E & Y was putting their seal of 17 approval on those TSA's.

18 Q What were they advising the city in the room, if not how 19 to get to a consensual agreement that made sense for the city?

20 A I -- I don't -- I wasn't a part of the relationship 21 between the Mayor, and the COO, and E & Y. Maybe they were 22 there just to provide numbers, or -- I wasn't there, I can't 23 tell you.

24 Q When did it first come to your attention -- or when did
25 you first -- well, let me ask the question a different way.

1 Are you of the belief right now that the pensions are under
2 funded?

3 A I believe they are.

4 Q And do you believe that's part of the reason why you
5 would view Detroit as insolvent?

6 A It's a contributing factor.

7 Q And when did you first reach the conclusions that the 8 pensions were under funded and that was a contributing factor?

9 A It would have been the spring probably of '13.

10 Q At no time prior to the spring of '13 did you have a 11 concern about the vested pension benefits and the cost of 12 maintaining the vested pension benefits?

13 A I don't recall when that first became an issue for me.
14 From day one, it was the unfunded health care liability that 15 to me was really the big challenge for the city.

16 Q And --

17 A And the level of the pensions, the numbers seemed to move
18 quite a bit, but the funds themselves were advertising
19 themselves at over 90 and over 80% funded. If that was true,
20 that would not have been alarming to me. It's not perfect,
21 but not bad. There's a lot of pension funds worse funded than
22 that.

23 Q When did you first reach the conclusion that the health
24 benefits were under funded?

25 A Early on. We knew it was a big number from --

1 Q 2011?

2 A -- the first day I started, yeah.

3 Q Did you start talking to the city about negotiating with 4 the unions or others with regard to solving that problem back
5 in 2011?

6 A We had discussions dating from the very beginning about
7 that issue, yes.

8 Q Did you have discussions with anybody besides the city?
9 In other words with the actual stakeholders with regard to 10 that issue?

11 A With lawyers and some of the consultants working with the 12 city, we had those discussions. But that's --

13 Q Did you talk to the unions? Did you talk to any 14 retirees? Did you talk to anybody who was actually receiving 15 health benefits with regard to those issues?

16 A I did. I met with various union officials throughout
17 this two and a half year window.

18 Q Did you participate in the negotiations that led to the 19 concessionary agreement in February of 2012?

20 A No.

21 Q Why not?

22 A I don't recall being invited.

23 Q If the issue was health care, did you pick up the phone
24 and call anybody about that and suggest that maybe you should 25 be involved in that?

1 A I didn't ask to be at the table.

2 Q After the proposal for creditors disseminated, there was
3 a time frame from June 13th, 14th, to July 19th to negotiate
4 with all of these stakeholders. Do you recall that?

5 A I do.

6 Q Do you believe it was practical to believe that there
7 could be resolutions reached with all of these stakeholders
8 during that short period of time?

9 A Can you rephrase it? Or just repeat it. Just --

10 Q Do you believe it was possible to reach an agreement with 11 all of the city's stakeholders between June 14th, and July 19th?

12 A Possible, yes.

13 Q Okay. As you -- as the deadline approached and there was 14 a lot of testimony that you gave earlier with regard to back
15 and forth over the authorization letter to Kevyn Orr to file
16 Chapter 9 and it looked more likely that a Chapter 9 was going
17 to be filed. Was there any thought given to the city funding
18 a period of time for Detroit to engage in more meaningful,
19 more productive negotiations for another 60, 30, 90 days in 20 order to allow the stakeholders a real opportunity to engage 21 in a back and forth negotiation to try and solve these 22 problems before rushing into Chapter 9?

23 A I'll tell you the thing that troubled me the most was 24 when they put together the ten year plan that talked about

1 eventually. That the recovery for the unsecured creditors was
2 so low I didn't know how anyone practically could cut a deal
3 and walk out of the settlement room accepting something based 4 on those numbers. I became very skeptical that an out of 5 Court solution could happen.

6 Q Did you ever suggest that perhaps there should be some 7 funding to provide a limited further longer period of time to 8 better develop a proposal that could actually form the basis
9 of a successful out of Court plan of adjustment?

10 A I was not optimistic that you could reach it out of Court
11 after the numbers kept getting worse and when you saw the 12 potential recovery, I just don't know practically how the 13 unsecured creditors could accept that practically. And that's 14 probably the biggest influence on me.

15 Q So then at no point from 2011 through the filing of the 16 Chapter 9 did you actually sit down and participate in and 17 engage in negotiations with the stakeholders of the City of 18 Detroit, personally?

19 A It's overly broad. I mean I had various meetings with 20 some union -- union representatives during those windows of 21 time where we discussed various matters. I think I'd need a
22 little more definition to the question.

23 Q Well, there was a proposal for creditors that came out on 24 June 14th. What you're saying was a proposal that nobody could 25 possibly agree to, so you viewed it as impractical. But

1 Detroit's financial condition had been deteriorating for the 2 whole time that you'd been in office if I'm understanding your
3 testimony correctly. So at any point in time did you suggest
4 to anybody now is the time for us to get in front of this
5 situation, make a proposal, and start negotiating?

6 A I don't believe so.

7 MS. LEVINE: Thank you. No further questions.

8 THE COURT: Other questions for Mr. Dillon?

9 DIRECT EXAMINATION

10 BY MS. GREEN:

11 Q Good afternoon, Mr. Dillon. Jennifer Green on behalf of 12 the general and the police and fire retirement systems.

13 I'd like to follow up on some questions that Ms. Levine
14 just asked. Can we pull up UAW Exhibit 626? The second page.
15 Paragraph 10 -- no, 11, Paragraph 11. At the bottom these are 16 your comments, correct, to the authorization letter -- or I'm
17 sorry, the recommendation letter by Kevyn Orr?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And you note here you think it should say there's a
20 fundamental reality that after fully estimating the city's 21 liabilities, the pennies on the dollar outcome for unsecured
22 creditors make it practically impossible for them to accept 23 KO's offer. Is that the sentiment that you were referring to 24 just a moment ago when you said that you thought that

1 for anyone to accept it?

2 A Yes.

3 Q Do you know if anyone else in -- in the state or city
4 shared your view that a pennies on the dollar offer was really
5 a non-starter?

6 A I don't have a specific memory on that.

7 Q The paragraph just prior to this, Paragraph 10, you had
8 made a statement, I believe there's a State Court option to 9 get retirees into a class. We don't acknowledge that and why
10 is that impractical?

11 I believe your testimony was that you were never 12 ultimately briefed on why that was the case. But did you ever
13 ask about this particular option on the conference call that 14 you had just later on July 10th?

15 A I don't recall.

16 Q So you never got an explanation to your question as to 17 why that State Court class action option was impractical?

18 A I don't recall having that conversation in that call.

19 Q Do you know if anyone else shared your view with the 20 State Court option that no one had fully explained why that 21 was not a practical option? Anyone at the state or city?

22 A I don't recall any discussions on it.

23 Q At the bottom of the letter, it says after this letter is 24 revised, let's work on the Governor's response. And you knew

1 9 filing was going to be filed on July 19th, correct?

2 A I don't think I acknowledged that the exact date, but I
3 remember seeing a time schedule that that date was likely in 4 that schedule.

5 Q And the time line that you're referring to, do you -- do
6 you recall who you got that from?

7 A Who was that? Whenever our weekly Monday meetings, I
8 believe, with the Governor and Kevyn and miscellaneous people
9 from the Governor's office and treasury. And possibly some of 10 the consultants.

11 Q Do you recall if the time line was given to you from 12 someone by the city, or someone from the state?

13 A From the city.

14 Q Do you recall if it was a time line prepared by Bill
15 Nowling? Does that name ring a bell?

16 A It does. I don't believe it came from him.

17 Q I'm sorry, what?

18 A I don't recall it coming from Bill.

19 Q Do you know if it came from Sarah Wurfel, the Governor's
20 press secretary?

21 A It -- I don't recall that it came from her.

22 Q Okay. If I showed you a copy of the time line would you
23 recognize the time line or --

24 A Yeah, I mean there's some press and media coverage tied
25 to this -- the time line. But the relevant time line to me

1 was the actual if there's going to be a filing, a filing and
2 all the steps that follow a filing. I do recall the 3 conversations about doing media issues, but that wasn't
4 relevant to me.

5 Q You stated though after this, after let's get to work on 6 the Governor's response, that you were then left out of the 7 loop. Why was that?

8 A I never had a discussion, but I think the Governor
9 decided he was going to do it himself.

10 Q Was there ever a version of Kevyn Orr's recommendation
11 letter with a contingency placed in it?

12 A I don't know. I don't recall it in the version that I
13 read.

14 Q In -- in any subsequent version?

15 A I'm sorry?

16 Q Was there a subsequent version that may have contained
17 the contingency?

18 A I don't recall that.

19 Q Do you ever recall seeing a version of the Governor's
20 letter that had a contingency placed in it?

21 A No.

22 Q In the July 8th email to the Governor, you mentioned that 23 there was financial information forthcoming from certain
24 financial consultants regarding the pension under funding.

25 Who were the consultants that you were referring to?

1 A Milliman and probably Conway, MacKenzie.

2 Q And that would be Chuck Moore from Conway, MacKenzie?

3 A Right.

4 Q Were you at all involved in the pension task force with 5 Chuck Moore?

6 A No.

7 Q Were you aware of that group?

8 A I don't recall.

9 Q Do you know if anyone from the state had anything to do
10 with the formation of the pension task force?

11 A I don't recall.

12 Q Did they -- did that task force in any way report to 13 anyone at the State of Michigan?

14 A I don't believe so.

15 Q When was the first time that you recall a financial 16 advisor telling you that the pensions would have to be cut
17 significantly?

18 A I don't recall specifically.

19 Q Do you recall who that would have been?

20 A I believe it would have been in the spring and we would 21 have Friday meetings before Kevyn was on board with Chris
22 Andrews and Jack Martin and the various consultants. It was 23 probably the first time it came up that the pension fund
24 numbers were not what they thought they were.

25 Q Can you put a finer point at all? Would it have been 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1825
of 2386

1 May, April?

2 A I'd be guessing.

3 Q Do you know if it was before Kevyn Orr came on board as
4 emergency manager?

5 A I don't recall.

6 Q Do you remember in June of 2013 receiving advice that the 7 pensions would have to be reduced and that the only way to do
8 that would be in a Chapter 9 proceeding?

9 A I received advice on that date?

10 Q Do you recall receiving advice in June of 2013 that the 11 pensions would have to be cut significantly and that a way to 12 do that would be a Chapter 9 filing?

13 A I'm sorry, I don't mean to be difficult, but did I
14 receive advice or information --

15 Q Do you recall receiving that advice?

16 A No, not specifically.

17 Q Can we pull up Exhibit 870, please? I'd like to draw
18 your attention to the middle of the page. There's an email
19 that says from Kevyn Orr to Andy Dillon on June 7th, 2013. Do
20 you recollect getting this email?

21 (Retirement Systems' Exhibit 870 was identified)

22 A It might be helpful if I could read more of it.

23 Q Yup, no problem. The next page contains the substance of 24 the email.

25 A Can I see a hard copy? It might be easier.

1 MS. GREEN: Your Honor, can I approach?

2 THE COURT: Yes.

3 A Okay. Can we restate the question?

4 Q Do you recall getting an email on June 7th from Kevyn Orr?

5 A I don't have specific memory of this email.

6 Q On the second page of the email there is a bullet point 3
7 under GRS. And it says based on this, we anticipate a -- a
8 significant reduction in already accrued benefits will be 9 required in order to get required contributions to the level
10 of available cash to service the UAAL. It appears that this 11 may only be possible in a Chapter 9 proceeding.

12 Do you recall receiving at least this portion of the 13 email in June of 2013?

14 A I don't recall seeing this language, no. And it's 15 possible I did, I just don't have a specific memory of it.

16 Q But suffice it to say that by July you were -- you had 17 advised the Governor that you -- some financial consultant had 18 told you that there would have to be significant cuts to the 19 pensions, correct?

20 A The numbers for the pension funds were very volatile. I
21 remember just not having a lot of confidence in -- in really
22 what was the number. And so I was worried about them, but I
23 never felt like we had a number that we could rely upon.

24 MS. GREEN: And, Your Honor, just a matter of

1 been formally moved for admission, so I'd seek to move for its 2 admission.

3 THE COURT: Any objections to 870?

4 MS. LEVINE: Well, Your Honor, I don't believe an
5 appropriate foundation has been laid through this witness. He
6 doesn't recall this email at all. And I don't believe it
7 would be appropriate to admit it through his testimony.

8 MS. GREEN: Can I respond? He did say he recalled
9 receiving it. I don't -- he didn't recall the exact sentence
10 that was -- that I drew his attention to. And Kevyn Orr
11 testified that he recalled receiving it and we had established
12 foundation through that way.

13 THE COURT: Do you recall receiving this email, sir?

14 A Well, I see my name on here. I don't have a specific 15 memory of this document.

16 THE COURT: Is there some doubt about it's
17 authenticity, Ma'am?

18 MS. LEVINE: I have nothing -- no, Your Honor, at 19 this point.

20 MR. SHUMAKER: It is hearsay, Your Honor.

21 MS. GREEN: Your Honor, if I may respond to that.

22 At least a portion of the email, it is an email directly from 23 Kevyn Orr and we've already established through other emails
24 that that is a party admission, so I'm not exactly sure what 25 the hearsay argument is based on.

1 THE COURT: May I see it, please? I don't want the
2 one with all your markings on it. Is there a -- is there a
3 clean one?

4 MS. GREEN: There is a clean one.

5 THE COURT: What number is it again?

6 MS. LEVINE: Take Mr. Dillon's.

7 THE COURT: Oh, yes, let me just have Mr. Dillon's,
8 that will work.

9 MS. GREEN: And, Your Honor, if I may add one more
10 thing. We've argued in other situations including the city
11 that statements by the financial advisors are being considered
12 party admissions and this is an email from Chuck Moore of 13 Conway, MacKenzie, clearly a party admission.

14 THE COURT: The Court will admit 870 into evidence.
15 Hold on one second, please. Can we keep this one? We don't 16 appear to have it. Okay. Can you put the number on there so
17 it will have a number? Okay.

18 (Retirement Systems' Exhibit 870 was admitted)

19 Q And if we may pull up Exhibit 834. You were already 20 questioned a little bit about this email. I believe that you
21 testified at your deposition the reason you were telling the 22 Governor that you were still in the informational stage was 23 because as you explained the building block is what the funded
24 status was and that issue was fluid, correct?

1 to reach a settlement with your creditors, it's important to
2 understand what's the funding level. From there you can start
3 to figure out how do you solve the equation going forward. Do
4 you recall that?

5 A Yes.

6 Q And yet you admit that at this time in July 9th there was 7 no clear understanding of what that level of under funding
8 was, correct?

9 A For me personally.

10 Q Do you know anyone else that had a clear understanding at 11 the city or state?

12 A Well, I believe Chuck Moore was working closely with 13 Milliman and I think he had a pretty clear understanding of 14 where he thought the funding was. I think he and Kevyn
15 were --

16 Q But you personally were not convinced?

17 A I hadn't seen what I thought were final numbers that gave 18 me a good sense of really what was the funding status of the 19 pension plans.

20 Q And at this time on the email it says that the -- the 21 actual number was not going to be shared as far as the amount
22 and how that would impact the creditors, is that right? I'm 23 not reading it verbatim. It doesn't say that, I'm 24 summarizing.

25 A My understanding that if Kevyn were to meet with them is 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1830
of 2386

1 really just get to what was the funded level. What's --
2 what's the status. And from there you can start to translate
3 what may or may not need to happen to get the pension fund to 4 be solvent going forward.

5 Q But you're -- what you were saying in this email was he 6 was not going to be translating that into an impact on 7 retirees or employees vested rights, correct?

8 A I thought it best that they come to an agreement.
9 There's a lot of different ways to measure the funding status,
10 the number of years that you're smooth, and what's your 11 amortization rate, and I thought it best to at least see if 12 there's common ground on what the funding level is based on 13 some agreed upon criteria. But from there then you -- the 14 math kind of falls in place.

15 Q But at this time there was no number agreed upon as to 16 what the impact would be on the individual retirees, correct?

17 A Not that I was aware.

18 Q And that number was thus not going to be shared with 19 anyone at the meeting the following day, correct?

20 A That was my understanding.

21 Q You also note at the bottom of the -- the last sentence
22 of the first paragraph. Because pensions have such a long
23 life, there are lots of creative options we can explore to 24 address how they will be treated on restructuring. Did you

1 systems?

2 A No.

3 Q Did you ever explore any of these creative options with 4 any of the unions or the retirees?

5 A No.

6 Q Did you ever prepare a proposal with any of these
7 creative options and then share that proposal with the 8 retirement systems or the unions?

9 A No.

10 Q Now this email also says that you expect to get better
11 financials on Thursday which I believe is the middle
12 paragraph. Who were you expecting to receive better
13 financials from on Thursday?

14 A I don't specifically recall from the city.

15 Q You were also asked just a moment ago about whether or 16 not you thought anything changed between the date of this 17 email on July 9th and the filing on the 18th. Because in this 18 email you stated you thought were in the informational stage.
19 Do you recall that testimony?

20 A Let's rephrase the question if we can.

21 Q You were asked by Mister, I think it was Mr. Wertheimer
22 asked you what changed between July 9th and July 18th to take 23 you out of the informational stage. Do you recall that
24 question?

25 A I do.

1 Q And -- and I believe you said something different today
2 than you said in your deposition. Today you -- do you recall
3 what you said exactly?

4 A I think it had something to do with that the pensions to 5 me weren't the major driver in the decision whether or not to 6 file. That, you know, out of 18,000,000,000 this was 7 somewhere, depending on what the union's position was versus
8 the city's, that number was relevant but not a driving factor
9 for whether or not 9 was necessary.

10 Q So it sounds like your answer has less to do with what my 11 question was. My question was, do you admit that nothing
12 changed between July 9th and the 18th to take out -- take you
13 out of what you were referring to as the informational stage.

14 A As it related to the pension?

15 Q Yes.

16 A Yes, nothing -- I don't recall having new numbers that 17 came in that made me want to call the Governor and say hey,
18 things are better or things are worse.

19 Q So nothing changed and you were still in the 20 informational stage the following week, right?

21 A I believe so.

22 Q You've testified before that you believed there was a
23 "general understanding" that there was a constitutional
24 protection of pensions that was understood by folks from day

1 correct?

2 A Correct.

3 Q And you also testified that the Governor and Kevyn Orr
4 both understood that this constitutional protection existed,
5 correct?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And I think you even explained that this presumption was 8 discussed early on and it was understood by people that there
9 was this provision that you had to grapple with, correct?

10 A The conversation that I had dealt with that the state
11 wasn't liable for pension liabilities of a particular city.
12 That was discussed. There was also the general understanding
13 that this provision existed in the Constitution.

14 Q Okay. I'll get to both. The first question is, when was 15 the first time that you recall learning of this constitutional
16 protection?

17 A I don't recall.

18 Q Do you know if it was during your time as Treasurer, or 19 would it have been something that you knew from your 20 background when you were in the legislature?

21 A I think it predated my time at the treasury.

22 Q Okay. And in fact do you recall citing this
23 constitutional protection to any of the unions or retirees
24 that you met with prior to the bankruptcy filing?

25 A I don't recall that.

1 Q And then you also just said that there was a component of 2 your discussions related to whether the state had to provide
3 funding, correct?

4 A That was a concern early on and because we have other
5 cities and units that are beyond just Detroit. So it was a
6 concern did the state have any credit exposure to failed
7 pensions at the local level.

8 Q And in any of these meetings or conversations, do you
9 recall Kevyn Orr ever asking the state to contribute money
10 toward the pension under funding for the City of Detroit?

11 A I don't recall that.

12 Q Do you recall if anyone else from his team asked the 13 state if it would contribute funding for the City of Detroit's
14 pension under funding?

15 A I believe the question was asked.

16 Q And who asked the question?

17 A I don't recall.

18 Q Do you recall what the answer was?

19 A I think -- well, I recall saying that I don't think A,
20 the state can't lend credit to local units of government. So
21 constitutionally we're prohibited from doing that. And then
22 my comment was, I don't ever see the situation where the state
23 legislature would appropriate money to shore up liabilities of 24 the city.

25 Q So you're constitutionally prohibited from what?

1 A Lending credit from the state to local units.

2 Q And that was a constitutional prohibition that you
3 thought was appropriate to enforce even in the case of the 4 Chapter 9 proceeding?

5 A I was responding to a question from someone that said
6 will the state contribute money. And I gave them two reasons
7 why I didn't think that would ever happen.

8 Q Did you think that the state's constitutional prohibition
9 against lending credit was more important than the state
10 constitutional prohibition against impairing or diminishing
11 pension benefits?

12 A I don't think it's appropriate to compare them in terms
13 of importance. I think the Courts will ultimately decide what 14 they want as it relates to pensions meanings and what their 15 rights are. But I was pretty clear as Treasurer that I
16 couldn't lend credit to local units of government, that I was 17 prohibited from doing that.

18 Q But the Courts could have decided if you did lend credit
19 perhaps the Court could also decide that issue, correct?

20 A I swear an oath to uphold the Michigan Constitution when 21 I took this position and I intend to follow that rule, or I
22 did.

23 Q So if there was a prohibition in the Michigan
24 Constitution that you think directly constrained your actions,
25 you would find that to be a violation of your oath of office?

1 A If I lend -- as Treasurer lend credit to local government
2 when the Michigan Constitution says that I can't do that, then
3 I would feel that yes, I violated my constitutional
4 obligations.

5 Q But you don't feel the same way about Article 9, Section
6 24 of the Michigan Constitution?

7 MS. LEVINE: Objection, Your Honor, argumentative
8 and vague.

9 THE COURT: I'll permit it. What's your answer,
10 sir?

11 A I don't know that that provision influenced any way
12 whether the Governor was -- I don't think it blocks him or 13 prevent him from authorizing a Chapter 9. We had it in 14 Article 72. We had it in Public Act 4. We had it in Public
15 Act 436. That's always been out there.

16 Q You mean the power to permit a Chapter 9?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And there's also the power to place a contingency on a
19 Chapter 9, correct?

20 A I believe that's in 436.

21 Q And we looked at an email earlier where it was discussed
22 whether or not such a condition should be placed on this
23 filing, correct?

24 A I believe that.

25 Q It was an email dated July 12th. Do you know ultimately
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 1837
of 2386

1 why no contingencies were placed on the Chapter 9 filing?

2 A Just from what I read in the Governor's letter.

3 Q You were never briefed afterward?

4 A No.

5 Q As for the bankruptcy timing, the July 19th date that was 6 picked, it was your understanding that that date was picked
7 because in part the Governor had a desire that if you're going
8 to do a Chapter 9, he wanted it to be fast and efficient,
9 correct?

10 A Uh-huh.

11 Q So was that the primary driver of the July 19th date and 12 why it was ultimately decided upon?

13 A Well, I -- I can't speak to why that specific date was 14 picked. I -- I was aware that it was being considered, the 15 filing was being considered. And I do know that there was a 16 sequence of events, dates that followed months after the 17 actual filing. And there was a briefing to the Governor if -- 18 you know, all these events have to transpire the filing and 19 how that landed on that particular date, I don't -- I was 20 never briefed specifically on why that date.

21 Q But your understanding was in general it was supposed to 22 be fast and efficient?

23 A That's what the Governor wanted.

24 Q Was that in part driven by trying to get it done within 25 the 18 months of the emergency manager's appointment?

1 A You'd have to ask the Governor that, but it would make
2 sense to me.

3 Q Were you ever privy to any conversations where that time
4 line was discussed for that reason?

5 A I don't recall that.

6 Q The time line that we've discussed, you said that you had
7 meetings and you were briefed on the time line?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Was there ever a back up time line that you saw a copy
10 of?

11 A There was a understanding that these dates could slip or 12 move.

13 Q And it did, right?

14 A But I didn't see an alternative schedule. This was the 15 one that was mapped out.

16 Q Okay. But it did move by one day? The bankruptcy filing
17 was delayed by one day.

18 A I don't dispute that. I don't have specific memory of 19 the date that it was supposed to be filed and the original
20 time line. But I have a vague memory that -- that might have 21 been pulled up.

22 Q Okay. Did you attend a meeting in June of 2012 with the 23 Governor and Ken Buckfire of Miller, Buckfire and any 24 attorneys from Jones, Day?

25 A In June of '13?

1 Q 2012.

2 A '12. June of 2012, Miller, Buckfire, Jones, Day, the 3 Governor and I?

4 Q Yes.

5 A I don't recall.

6 THE COURT: All right. We have to stop now. How 7 much longer will you be?

8 MS. GREEN: I actually had just like one more
9 question. If you want, I can finish it or I can go --

10 THE COURT: Okay. One more question.

11 Q With respect to the meeting that we just discussed, do
12 you recall receiving memos from Jones, Day relating to the 13 pension obligations back in 2012?

14 A I don't have a specific memory of it.

15 Q Do you recall --

16 A And actually let's be clear. What pension obligation
17 certificates, or what?

18 Q The constitutional protections of pension obligations in 19 Michigan.

20 A I don't recall.

21 Q Do you recall receiving any memos relating to Chapter 9
22 filings for the City of Detroit? Memos on that topic?

23 A Not specifically.

24 THE COURT: All right. We have to stop now. We do
25 not have Court tomorrow. We'll reconvene Thursday morning at

1 9:00. At that time if I could get a representation from the
2 objectors group as to how long you think your closing
3 arguments will be, that will help me a lot. We are still
4 researching the issue of courtrooms for next week, so I hope
5 to have some further information for you about that. And 6 we'll be in recess.

7 (WITNESS ANDY DILLON WAS EXCUSED AT 3:00 P.M.)

8 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is adjourned.

1 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in session. Please
2 be seated. Case Number 13-53846, City of Detroit, Michigan.

3 THE COURT: Is everyone here? Well, first, good
4 morning.

5 ATTORNEYS: Good morning (collectively).

6 THE COURT: Is everyone here, or are there people we 7 need to wait for? All right. No response, so I'll assume we 8 are all here. Ms. Green.

9 ANDY DILLON, WITNESS, SWORN

10 DIRECT EXAMINATION (CONTINUING)

11 BY MS. GREEN:

12 Q Good morning, Mr. Dillon.

13 A Good morning.

14 Q Jennifer Green on behalf of the Retirement Systems for 15 the City of Detroit. I just have a few more small lines of 16 questioning.

17 A Who is Brom Stibitz, and what is his position within the 18 Treasury Department?

19 MS. NELSON: Asked and answered, your Honor.

20 MS. GREEN: Maybe it's foundational. I just really 21 don't recall what his position was.

22 THE COURT: I'll ask it. I'll permit it. Go ahead.

23 THE WITNESS: He works for the Department of 24 Treasury. He serves without the same title but basically as 25 my chief of staff.

1 BY MS. GREEN:

2 Q And Tom Saxton?

3 A Tom is a chief deputy.

4 Q And Terry Stanton?

5 A Terry Stanton is the public information officer.

6 Q Okay. And so they all reported directly to you?

7 A Yes.

8 Q Do you recall questions in late June of 2013 from 9 reporters in the media regarding how general obligation bonds
10 would be handled with the City of Detroit?

11 A With the Bond Buyer?

12 Q Yes.

13 A From the last deposition, I think I saw a story on that 14 interview --

15 Q Okay.

16 A -- if that's the one we're referring to.

17 Q It is. Who is R.W. Baird, and how is that company
18 involved with the Detroit matter?

19 A R.W. Baird is a financial consultant. They advise the 20 state. They may have been involved with helping Detroit
21 issue some debt as well.

22 Q And is Wayne Workman a financial advisor at R.W. Baird?

23 A He was at the time.

24 Q Okay. And did he report to you in any way?

25 A He worked directly with Tom Saxton.

1 Q Okay. And did you communicate with Mr. Workman about the
2 City of Detroit's financial condition?

3 A When?

4 Q In that time period, June of 2013.

5 A I don't recall that.

6 Q Do you recall when you would have communicated with him
7 about the situation?

8 A We worked with him during my entire tenure on various
9 bond matters. I don't recall having a specific discussion
10 with him about Detroit. We did a bond deal in 2012 for the 11 city. They may or may not have been engaged. I suspect they 12 might have been.

13 Q So would he have been privy to any of the timelines or 14 any of the dates that were planned for the bankruptcy filing?

15 A I doubt it.

16 Q Pardon me?

17 A I doubt that he would have been.

18 Q If there was e-mail correspondence between Brom Stibitz,
19 Tom Saxton, and Wayne Workman, would you have been aware of 20 those communications?

21 A Not necessarily.

22 Q Do you recall at any point Brom Stibitz, Mr. Stanton, or 23 Mr. Saxton asking you about the inquiry from Bond Buyer
24 magazine regarding the general obligation bonds?

25 A I remember an incident. I don't know if it was the one

1 you're referring to.

2 MS. GREEN: Can we bring up Exhibit 848, please?

3 BY MS. GREEN:

4 Q Does this document look familiar to you? Is this the 5 incident that you were referring to?

6 A I don't recall seeing this specific e-mail.

7 Q Do you recall questions within the Treasury Department
8 about how to handle this issue?

9 THE COURT: Excuse me one second, please. Who's 10 ever in charge of getting this monitor going, I need help
11 because it's not running. Feel free to come right on up here
12 and work your magic. Excellent. Thank you, sir.

13 MS. NELSON: Your Honor, I don't believe this e-mail
14 is in evidence, and I think it's inappropriate to display it
15 until it is.

16 MS. GREEN: I was ask -- he mentioned an incident
17 with this exact situation. I thought that he would be able 18 to testify or I was asking if he could testify is this the 19 incident that he was referring to a moment ago. If you would 20 prefer, I can refresh his recollection with it instead if --

21 THE COURT: I didn't quite hear the witness say that 22 there was something he didn't recall.

23 MS. GREEN: He said there was an incident with Bond
24 Buyer magazine. I believe this is the incident he was 25 referring to, so I had asked him if he recognized the

1 document, if this was the incident.

2 THE COURT: Well, you can certainly ask the witness
3 if he has seen the e-mail before. Otherwise, it's not
4 appropriate to show it to him.

5 MS. GREEN: That was the -- I believe my question to 6 him was, "Do you recognize the document? Is this the 7 incident you referred to?"

8 MS. NELSON: And his answer was he did not recall
9 seeing it, so it's been asked and answered.

10 THE COURT: Is that right, sir? You don't recall
11 that specific e-mail?

12 THE WITNESS: I do not.

13 THE COURT: All right. The objection is sustained.

14 BY MS. GREEN:

15 Q Do you know why Mr. Workman would have been privy to 16 discussions relating to the court option with respect to the
17 City of Detroit?

18 A The court option?

19 Q Court option versus out-of-court option.

20 A He was a consultant to Treasury. He handles a lot of our 21 debt issuances. I'm certain Mr. Saxton relies on his advice
22 regularly.

23 Q Do you know if Mr. Saxton would have shared with him some 24 of the planning that was going on with respect to the City of 25 Detroit bankruptcy?

1 A I can't answer that.

2 Q Do you know if Mr. Stibitz or Mr. Saxton or Mr. Stanton
3 would have been involved with R.W. Baird relating to the 4 timing of the City of Detroit bankruptcy filing?

5 A Can you rephrase that or restate it?

6 Q Would any three of the individuals that worked at 7 Treasury that we just spoke of, Terry Stanton, Thomas Saxton,
8 or Brom Stibitz, have been in contact with R.W. Baird and Mr.
9 Workman relating to the City of Detroit bankruptcy filing?

10 A I would highly doubt that Stibitz or Stanton would. I
11 can't speak to what Mr. Saxton spoke to him about.

12 Q If Mr. Workman was of the understanding that court seemed 13 like a foregone conclusion, would you have any reason to 14 believe that it was based on conversations with people from 15 the Treasury Department?

16 MS. NELSON: Objection, your Honor. Inappropriate
17 hypothetical. Assumes facts not in evidence. Lacks
18 foundation.

19 THE COURT: The objection is sustained.

20 BY MS. GREEN:

21 Q In March of 2013, do you recall planning for the 22 emergency manager's appointment and the topics that you
23 wanted him to handle when he was appointed?

24 A I don't recall. We had a lunch. We met with him. Tom 25 Saxton, Brom Stibitz, and I met for lunch with Kevyn and just

1 gave him our experience of working with emergency managers
2 and what the experience would be like. It was a lunch. It
3 was fairly informal. I don't recall much more than that.

4 Q And do you recall compiling a list of key items that you
5 wanted him to focus on as soon as he was appointed?

6 A We may have done that. I don't have a specific memory of
7 it.

8 MS. GREEN: Can we pull up Exhibit 836, please?

9 MR. SHUMAKER: Your Honor, this exhibit is not in 10 evidence either. I don't think it's appropriate to display.

11 MS. GREEN: Your Honor, I can ask him if he 12 recognizes it and then move for its admission if he does.

13 THE COURT: You can do that. You can put it back on 14 the screen for that purpose.

15 BY MS. GREEN:

16 Q Mr. Dillon, do you recognize this e-mail? Do you
17 recognize your name in the "To" --

18 A Yes.

19 Q -- column? Do you recall receiving this e-mail in March
20 of 2013?

21 A Can I read it?

22 Q Sure.

23 UNIDENTIFIED SPEAKER: I'm sorry. Could you tell us
24 what number this is, please?

25 MS. GREEN: 836.

1 UNIDENTIFIED SPEAKER: 836.

2 THE WITNESS: I'm sure I saw it at the time. I
3 don't have a specific memory today of it.

4 BY MS. GREEN:

5 Q In the middle -- well, almost to the end paragraph, it
6 begins with March 28th. It states, "There may be a narrow 7 window for taking action before lawsuits are filed." What 8 type of lawsuits were you expecting?

9 A We get sued all the time, and in our experience with 10 working with other cities where there were emergency
11 managers, there's all kinds of litigation that follows.

12 Q So would it be safe to assume that you were relating 13 to -- or you were referring to PA 436 lawsuits?

14 A Most likely, yes.

15 Q Okay. Do you recall if there were topics relating to --
16 or I'm sorry -- discussions relating to lawsuits relating to 17 Article IX, Section 24, of the Michigan Constitution?

18 A I'm sorry. Could you restate that?

19 Q Would there have been discussions relating to lawsuits
20 involving Article IX, Section 24, of the Michigan
21 Constitution?

22 A I don't have any memory of that.

23 Q So would this be limited to the PA 436 lawsuits you were 24 expecting?

25 A We got sued on open meetings acts. All kinds of theories

1 were surfacing, and I literally believe there's over a
2 hundred lawsuits. I mean there's a substantial number, so
3 every theory I don't recall.

4 Q So they were certainly expected and somewhat planned for?

5 A Apparently.

6 Q The next paragraph just below that says "status and 7 timing of the ongoing 312 arbitration." Do you recall what 8 that's referring to?

9 A I know there was an arbitration between the city and 10 maybe DPD. There might have been some other uniform
11 arbitrations that were ongoing, and I believe, yes, there was 12 an ongoing arbitration at the time.

13 Q And so when you say "timing of the ongoing arbitration," 14 what specifically were you referring to?

15 MS. NELSON: Well, I'm going to object, your Honor.
16 That mischaracterizes. This is an e-mail to Mr. Dillon.
17 This is not Mr. Dillon's e-mail.

18 MS. GREEN: He said they had a meeting where they 19 were discussing the topics. I'll rephrase the question to 20 make it more clear.

21 BY MS. GREEN:

22 Q Was this one of the topics that you discussed at your
23 meeting when you said that you were talking about the items
24 that you wanted Kevyn Orr to focus on when he took over as
25 emergency manager?

1 A I described the meeting as a lunch where we just shared
2 with him generally what an experience of being an EM is.
3 That topic I highly doubt came up at that lunch.

4 Q Okay. Did this topic come up at any other time in your
5 discussions relating to the emergency manager?

6 A Me personally? I don't recall it.

7 MS. GREEN: Your Honor, I'd move for the admission
8 of Exhibit 836.

9 THE COURT: Any objections?

10 MS. NELSON: No objection.

11 MR. SHUMAKER: Hearsay, your Honor.

12 MS. GREEN: Your Honor, it's an e-mail to him. He's 13 the recipient of it. It's a business record under 803(6),
14 and he spoke about the communications and was able to respond
15 to the substance of what was referred to in the e-mail.

16 THE COURT: Well, do you remember receiving this e-
17 mail or not?

18 THE WITNESS: I don't have a specific memory of it,
19 no.

20 THE COURT: All right. The objection is sustained.

21 MS. GREEN: Your Honor, if I may, there have been 22 several e-mails that were -- where people did not have a
23 specific recollection of that we have all permitted to be --

24 THE COURT: If there's an objection as opposed to by 25 stipulation, I have to deal with it. If the witness can't

1 authenticate it, then it's not admissible.

2 BY MS. GREEN:

3 Q When we last spoke, Mr. Dillon, you referred to a section
4 of the Michigan Constitution that you thought prohibited the
5 state from reimbursing the City of Detroit for the pension
6 underfunding. Do you recall that?

7 A I don't recall the topic, but I think you've 8 mischaracterized my testimony.

9 Q Do you recall saying that you thought that you were 10 prohibited from lending credit --

11 A Yes.

12 Q -- to the City of Detroit? What provision of the 13 Constitution were you referring to?

14 A I don't know. It's just the general understanding I had 15 serving in the role as treasurer.

16 Q Were you referring to a prohibition against the state
17 guaranteeing obligations of the city?

18 A It's my understanding that the interpretation of that 19 lending of credit is fairly broadly construed, so my 20 understanding would be a guarantee would be contrary to 21 what's permissible under the Constitution.

22 Q But if there was legislation enacted that gave an 23 appropriation to a particular municipality, that would not be 24 prohibited; correct?

25 A That's my understanding, yes.

1 MS. GREEN: I have nothing further, your Honor.

2 THE COURT: Any further questions for the witness?

3 MS. BRIMER: Good morning, your Honor. Lynn M.
4 Brimer appearing on behalf of the Retired Detroit Police
5 Members Association.

6 DIRECT EXAMINATION

7 BY MS. BRIMER:

8 Q Good morning, Mr. Dillon. My name is Lynn Brimer.

9 A Good morning.

10 Q I represent an association of retired police personnel.
11 We've not met before, have we?

12 A I don't believe so.

13 Q One thing that no one has asked you yet is regarding your 14 background. You hold a law degree, do you not?

15 A I do.

16 Q And when did you obtain your law degree?

17 A 1988.

18 Q All right. And you are admitted to practice law?

19 A I am.

20 Q And is that in the State of Michigan?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And when were you admitted to practice?

23 A I believe '89.

24 Q All right. And you have continuously been admitted to 25 the Michigan State Bar since 1989, approximately?

1 A Yes.

2 Q All right. Now, I'm going to go back to early 2012, and
3 without hopefully duplicating any of the answers you've 4 already given or questions you've already asked, I'd like to 5 go over some of the early dealings between the state and the 6 consultants, so in early 2012 Miller Buckfire and Huron
7 Consulting were hired to perform a 60-day review of the City
8 of Detroit; is that correct?

9 A I believe so.

10 Q And were you involved in the retention of either Huron
11 Consulting or Miller Buckfire?

12 MS. NELSON: Objection --

13 THE WITNESS: Yes.

14 MS. NELSON: -- your Honor. This line has already 15 been asked and answered.

16 THE COURT: It has.

17 MS. BRIMER: Your Honor, I believe I will ask some 18 questions that have not been asked of Mr. Dillon, and I will 19 try very hard not to be duplicative. I understand the Court
20 and counsel's concern.

21 BY MS. BRIMER:

22 Q So at the end of that 60-day review, was a report
23 produced by Miller Buckfire or Huron Consulting?

24 A I don't specifically recall.

25 Q All right. So you don't specifically recall reviewing a

1 report then either?

2 A I assume we got some financial data from Miller Buckfire.
3 I know we got some information on other matters from Huron,
4 but specifically I don't have a memory of reading a binder or 5 document that was put together that summarized everything.

6 Q Now, at some point you testified that Miller Buckfire
7 brought in Jones Day in connection with the consent
8 agreement. Do you recall when that happened?

9 A Not specifically.

10 Q Are you aware that in 2011 Jones Day had submitted a 11 response to an RFP in connection with the appointment of 12 emergency managers by the State of Michigan?

13 A I didn't recall that recently. That happens under my 14 department. I don't -- I'm not involved in the specifics of 15 those, so I wasn't part of the decision group to put them on 16 the list, but I knew we did an RFP to assist with troubled
17 units.

18 Q So you were aware that at least as early as March 2nd of 19 2011, multiple attorneys from Jones Day were working with 20 Miller Buckfire and Huron Consulting on the consent agreement
21 with Department of Treasury; correct?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Were you aware of the number of attorneys from Jones Day
24 that were working with Miller Buckfire?

25 A No.

1 MS. BRIMER: Exhibit 202, please.

2 UNIDENTIFIED SPEAKER: I don't have 202.

3 MS. BRIMER: Oh, I'll give you --

4 MS. NELSON: Oh, wait. There it is.

5 MS. BRIMER: Oh, there you go.

6 BY MS. BRIMER:

7 Q That's an e-mail dated March 3rd, 2012; is that correct?

8 MS. NELSON: Your Honor, I don't believe this has --
9 objection. This hasn't been admitted, and it would be 10 inappropriate to ask questions on the substance. If she's 11 laying foundation, I don't have an objection, but to question
12 on the substance of the e-mail would be inappropriate at this
13 point.

14 MS. BRIMER: Well, preliminarily, your Honor, last 15 evening the city and the RDPMA agreed to the admission of 16 this exhibit.

17 THE COURT: Any objections to its admission?

18 MR. SHUMAKER: No, your Honor.

19 THE COURT: All right. So that's 202, did you say?

20 MS. BRIMER: Yes. For the record, your Honor, we've 21 also stipulated to the admission of Exhibit 201.

22 THE COURT: Is that right?

23 MR. SHUMAKER: That's correct, your Honor.

24 THE COURT: All right. Exhibits 201 and 202 are
25 admitted.

1 (Exhibits 201 and 202 received at 9:25 a.m.)

2 THE COURT: You may proceed.

3 MS. BRIMER: Thank you, your Honor.

4 BY MS. BRIMER:

5 Q So that's an e-mail dated March 3rd, 2012, from Ms.
6 Lennox; correct?

7 A Correct.

8 Q And it's addressed to you; correct?

9 A Correct.

10 Q Do you recall reviewing that e-mail?

11 A I recall during my deposition having my memory refreshed
12 about it.

13 Q So as you'll note -- I'd actually like to go back up to 14 the caption -- it's from Ms. Lennox, who's an attorney at 15 Jones Day, and in the carbon copy there's Ms. Ball, Jeffrey
16 Ellman, David Kates and Thomas Wilson, so we have five
17 attorneys from Jones Day involved in the Detroit consent
18 agreement; correct?

19 MS. NELSON: I'm going to object. I don't believe 20 there's a foundation for those attorneys' specific 21 involvement with the consent decree.

22 THE COURT: It's a question, so the objection is 23 overruled. If you can answer, sir.

24 THE WITNESS: What's the question again?

25 BY MS. BRIMER:

1 Q Well, there's five attorneys from Jones Day that are
2 being copied in connection with the involvement of Jones Day
3 on the drafting of the consent agreement for the City of 4 Detroit; correct?

5 A I only know what this document shows me.

6 Q And it shows us five attorneys involved or at least
7 copied on this e-mail; correct?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And then there's a number of consultants both from Huron
10 Consulting and Miller Buckfire; correct?

11 A Yes.

12 Q All right. Now, if we go down to the body of the e-mail,
13 it's an e-mail addressed directly to you from Ms. Lennox;
14 correct?

15 A Yes.

16 Q So you were dealing directly with Ms. Lennox in drafting
17 the consent agreement for the city; correct?

18 A A very limited basis.

19 Q And it indicates that, "Attached for your consideration
20 is a consent agreement reviewed by Miller Buckfire and 21 Huron," meaning Huron Consulting; correct?

22 A Correct.

23 Q All right. So you're aware that these three consulting
24 firms, which at this point in time you've testified were not
25 hired by the city in connection with the consent agreement,

1 were working on the consent agreement; correct?

2 A They were providing advice, but we had -- the state had
3 its own counsel in negotiations of the consent agreement.

4 Q And who was that?

5 A There's probably an AG and Steve Liedel from Dykema
6 Gossett.

7 Q So was Dykema Gossett aware that Jones Day was working
8 with you on drafting a consent agreement?

9 A They were providing input that I'm certain certain items
10 were shared with them. They may have reviewed the documents.
11 I don't recall.

12 Q Would they have reviewed the documents directly from 13 Jones Day, or would they have been provided to Dykema from 14 someone at Treasury?

15 A I can't answer that.

16 Q And at this time, none of these consulting or lawyers are 17 charging Department of Treasury for the services they're 18 providing in connection with the consent agreement; correct?

19 A Not correct. I think we testified that we did retain 20 Miller Buckfire for a brief period of time.

21 Q In connection with the 60-day review -- financial review
22 of the city?

23 A That's right.

24 Q And were their duties expanded to include the consent
25 agreement?

1 A We engaged them as we were going through the review and
2 in preparation of the consent agreement. We were working
3 closely with Huron Consulting as well as Miller Buckfire.

4 Q Okay.

5 A Those firms reached out to lawyers and provided advice we
6 didn't -- generally we asked for, but they, I think, were 7 supplementing their efforts to help us out.

8 Q And the drafting of the consent agreement took a fairly
9 lengthy period of time, at least 30 days; correct?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And Jones Day, Miller Buckfire, and Huron Consulting were 12 involved during that entire 30-day process; correct?

13 A There's a negotiation. We met probably five or more
14 times with the City of Detroit and their lawyers. It was an 15 arm's length bargain negotiated aggressively, and I don't 16 recall any of them being in the room during those
17 negotiations.

18 Q But they did continue to review the consent agreement and 19 its multiple revisions; correct?

20 A I don't specifically recall when their input ended or 21 necessarily even began, but --

22 MS. BRIMER: Can we see Exhibit 841, please?

23 BY MS. BRIMER:

24 Q You'll notice about midway down there is an e-mail that 25 is addressed to you; correct?

1 A Can we grow the font size here? Okay. I'm sorry. Could
2 you restate the question?

3 Q So that's an e-mail to you. That's from someone at 4 Miller Canfield, also a law firm the city works with;
5 correct?

6 A Correct.

7 Q And it's regarding the --

8 MS. NELSON: Objection, your Honor. This has not 9 been admitted into evidence. It would be inappropriate to 10 ask substantive questions regarding this e-mail.

11 BY MS. BRIMER:

12 Q So the e-mail is addressed to you; correct?

13 A I see my name there, yes.

14 Q Do you recall reviewing this e-mail?

15 A I bet we turned that document six to ten times, so I
16 remember these incidents where we would get versions from the 17 city, and they would get them from us, so generally I
18 remember these types of e-mails.

19 Q Do you have any reason to believe that you did not review
20 this e-mail from Mr. McGee dated March 29th addressed to you?

21 A No. I would think I seen it, yeah.

22 MS. BRIMER: Your Honor, I'd move for the admission
23 of this Exhibit 841.

24 THE COURT: I'm sorry. Was your answer you have 25 seen this or --

1 THE WITNESS: I believe I saw it at the time, yes.

2 THE COURT: You do. All right. Any objections?

3 MR. SHUMAKER: Yes, your Honor. It's hearsay.

4 THE COURT: Hold on one second. Well, are you
5 offering the -- I'm sorry --

6 MS. BRIMER: Thanks.

7 THE COURT: -- offering the entire document or just 8 the e-mail that Mr. Dillon received?

9 MS. BRIMER: Well, I'd actually like to offer the 10 entire document, your Honor, because I think it establishes
11 what Treasury has done with it.

12 THE COURT: The issue isn't relevance. The issue is 13 hearsay.

14 MS. BRIMER: But it is forwarded, your Honor, by a
15 member of the State of Michigan who works -- and Mr. Dillon
16 indicated that Mr. Stibitz works directly for him, so that 17 would become an exception as a party --

18 THE COURT: May I see the paper copy of this,
19 please?

20 MS. BRIMER: If I may, your Honor, it has only 21 highlighting similar --

22 THE COURT: Okay. All right. I will return this to 23 you. The Court will admit so much of the document as begins
24 from McGee, comma, Michael P., but not the part above it.

25 (Exhibit 841 excerpt received at 9:34 a.m.)

1 MS. BRIMER: Thank you, your Honor.

2 THE COURT: And that was Exhibit -- what number
3 again?

4 MS. BRIMER: 841, your Honor.

5 BY MS. BRIMER:

6 Q So, Mr. Dillon, do you know when the consent agreement
7 was executed by the city?

8 A I think on or around April 4. That might have been the 9 date City Council voted on it. I'm not sure.

10 Q So is it in the ordinary course for the Department of 11 Treasury to receive that type of consulting from outside law
12 firms that have not yet been retained by the Department of 13 Treasury or any other agency for the state?

14 A I can't say that it hasn't happened in another unit of 15 government. On occasion some will provide some pro bono
16 services if we have an urgent need. I know that happened
17 with DPS and a little bit with Flint, a little bit with 18 Highland Park, so it's not unusual.

19 Q Were Jones Day providing any other consulting services in 20 connection with any other matters before the Department of 21 Treasury?

22 A Not to my memory.

23 Q So at some point in time Jones Day became involved with 24 the -- with Public Act 4 and a concern with respect to 25 whether or not that might be repealed; is that -- or rejected

1 on the referendum; is that correct?

2 MS. NELSON: Objection. Lacks foundation and is 3 vague.

4 THE COURT: Overruled. You may answer the question.

5 THE WITNESS: Could you restate that?

6 BY MS. BRIMER:

7 Q At some point Jones Day also became involved with the 8 Department of Treasury and concerns regarding the rejection
9 of PA 4 on referendum; correct?

10 A I wouldn't characterize it that way. What we were 11 working on was a consent agreement that we wanted to survive
12 even if PA 4 was repealed, so there's other provisions of 13 state law that would allow for the consent agreement to have 14 legal standing and substance, so I believe they looked at 15 those other provisions of the law to make certain the 16 agreement we worked so hard to develop would survive a repeal
17 of PA 4.

18 Q Did anyone at Jones Day give either you or anyone at the 19 Department of Treasury any advice in connection with how to 20 react or an approach to take in the event PA 4 was, in fact,
21 repealed?

22 A Only what would be in that document, but it wasn't -- you
23 know, Steve Liedel is an expert on this at Dykema. Actually,
24 I think we relied on him more than Jones Day on that issue.

25 MS. BRIMER: So I'd like Exhibit 201, please. No.

1 I think that's 202. 201.

2 THE COURT: It says 201.

3 MS. BRIMER: Oh, it's possible this is the second
4 page. Is there a first page? Okay. It's also marked as an
5 Exhibit 8 -- 846, so 846 would be, your Honor, admitted since
6 it's the same document as 8 -- as 201, which the city has 7 stipulated to.

8 THE COURT: Is that all right?

9 MR. SHUMAKER: That's correct, your Honor.

10 THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

11 BY MS. BRIMER:

12 Q So this is an e-mail dated March 2nd, 2013. Do you see
13 that?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And it's just addressed from Mr. Ellman to other
16 attorneys at Jones Day.

17 MS. NELSON: I would just like to correct the 18 record. I think Ms. Brimer indicated this was dated March 2, 19 2013, and it's 2012.

20 MS. BRIMER: Oh, '12, 2012.

21 MS. NELSON: Thank you.

22 THE COURT: Thank you.

23 BY MS. BRIMER:

24 Q You're not copied on that e-mail; correct?

25 A I don't see my name.

1 Q Have you ever seen this e-mail before?

2 A I believe in preparation for deposition and this
3 testimony, I may have seen it.

4 Q All right. So it indicates in the first paragraph that,
5 "We spoke to a person from Andy's office." That Andy, that 6 would be you?

7 A I suspect that.

8 Q So when you prepared for your deposition, did you read
9 this e-mail all the way through?

10 A I glanced through it.

11 Q Okay. It further indicates, "I thought MB was also going 12 to try to follow up with Andy directly about the process for 13 getting this to the governor." Do you recall anyone from 14 Miller Buckfire discussing with you, if you've read this, the 15 content of this e-mail?

16 A I'd like to read the whole document before I answer. I
17 don't --

18 Q Take your time.

19 A Okay. Could you restate the question?

20 Q Do you recall at about this time someone from Miller
21 Buckfire discussing the content of this e-mail with you
22 directly?

23 A We were having daily conversations at this time. I'm 24 certain we discussed items in this e-mail.

25 Q So you'll see about midway down if PA 4 is repealed or

1 suspended, there may be an argument that some or all of this
2 does not work, so there was a concern by Treasury, Miller
3 Buckfire, Jones Day that what was being put in place in 4 connection with the consent agreement might be in jeopardy in 5 the event PA 4 was repealed; correct?

6 A That's what it says, yes.

7 Q Then if you go a little further down, "The cleanest way
8 to do all of this is probably new legislation that 9 establishes the board" -- I assume that's the Financial 10 Review Board -- "and its powers and" -- and the "and" is in 11 capital letters -- "includes an appropriation for a state
12 institution. If an appropriation is attached to and included
13 in the statute to fund a state institution, which is broadly
14 defined, then the statute is not subject to repeal by the 15 referendum process." Do you see that?

16 A I do.

17 Q So is it -- it's correct that by March of 2012 the 18 consultants that were working with Treasury and Treasury are 19 already contemplating new legislation that would include a 20 spending provision in order to avoid a referendum in the 21 event PA 4 was rejected?

22 A I think you're overstating the case here.

23 Q Okay.

24 A Even if PA 4 stayed in law, the advice and recommendation
25 we were getting was to have something like -- the model we

1 were following is the MAC that was put into existence in the 2 late '70s in New York City. The advice we were getting is 3 that the state should have some statute that defines what the 4 role -- in this case it became the FAB, the Financial 5 Advisory Board -- what its powers and duties may be, so this 6 is, I guess, related in some way to PA 4 or PA 72, but their 7 advice was and remains today that the state should have some 8 statutory construction around what is the role of a Financial 9 Advisory Board.

10 Q And so at least as early as March of 2012, that advice is 11 coming to Department of Treasury from the Jones Day
12 attorneys; correct?

13 A The person lobbying me or recommending and pushing me to 14 do this even before this date was Miller Buckfire.

15 Q And it was Miller Buckfire that brought in Jones Day?

16 A Yes.

17 Q So the concern was just how much control the state would 18 have over a city that was subject to the appointment of a
19 financial emergency manager; correct?

20 A Can you restate that question?

21 Q The concern that you just indicated that was being raised
22 was the level of control that the state would have over a
23 city in the event an emergency manager was appointed?

24 A There's other provisions in state law that give us the 25 ability to negotiate a consent agreement, so we examined what

1 those other ones were in case PA 4 was resolved. And you go
2 through all this effort of creating the consent agreement,
3 and if PA 4 was repealed and it didn't rely on those other
4 provisions of state law, then there would have been an issue,
5 and a lot of that work and effort to have a viable working
6 consent agreement would have been lost.

7 MS. BRIMER: So if we could see Exhibit 840.

8 BY MS. BRIMER:

9 Q You'll see about a third of the way down an e-mail from 10 Laura Marcero -- Marcero -- and it's addressed to you;
11 correct?

12 A Correct.

13 Q It's dated March 25th, 2012; correct?

14 A Correct.

15 Q Do you recall seeing this e-mail?

16 A Yeah. I have a memory of this.

17 Q You have a memory of this?

18 MS. BRIMER: Just to be clear, your Honor, I'd like 19 to move for the admission of the e-mail -- the portion of 20 this exhibit that is an e-mail addressed to Mr. Dillon.

21 THE COURT: And what number again is that?

22 MS. BRIMER: 840, your Honor.

23 THE COURT: Any objections?

24 MR. SHUMAKER: Yes, your Honor. It's hearsay.

25 THE COURT: All right. That objection is overruled.

1 MS. BRIMER: Thank you, your Honor.

2 THE COURT: The document is admitted or this much of
3 the document is admitted.

4 (Exhibit 840 excerpt received at 9:48 a.m.)

5 BY MS. BRIMER:

6 Q And if you'll go down to paragraph 4, the first sentence,
7 this e-mail is regarding concerns, you would agree, over a
8 draft of the consent agreement that the city had sent back to 9 Treasury; correct?

10 A I'm sorry. I was reading it when you were asking -- let 11 me -- can I read it --

12 Q Go right ahead.

13 A -- over again? Okay.

14 Q So the content of the e-mail regards a revised draft of 15 the consent agreement that had been forwarded to Treasury
16 from the city; correct?

17 A Correct.

18 Q Okay. And you'll see paragraph 4, the first sentence,
19 "The ability to call defaults on projects and diminish the 20 mayor's authority seems to have limitations now," so the 21 concern was drafting an agreement that would allow the state
22 to take control and authority from the mayor; correct?

23 A I believe that this was in conjunction with the financing
24 we did, and money was in escrow. And there were certain
25 milestones the city had to meet to achieve a consent

1 agreement, which we wanted to achieve as well. We didn't
2 want to go to emergency status, so when we negotiate a
3 consent agreement, whether it be with Detroit or any other
4 unit, there's certain expectations that we have, and these 5 units have to hit certain milestones or benchmarks to stay in 6 a consent agreement relationship where they have their 7 authority, so, yeah, there's certain requirements that we 8 had, and with Detroit being such a significant operation, we 9 had expectations that they would meet during the consent
10 agreement so that they could stay in it.

11 Q So was the milestone agreement executed before the 12 consent agreement?

13 A It became part of it.

14 Q Was it executed before, though, or after?

15 A Actually, the milestones were pretty much universally
16 agreed between the city and the state. By that I mean there
17 wasn't a lot of dispute about what should be in there.

18 Q So even after the consent agreement was drafted, Miller
19 Buckfire, Huron Consulting, and Jones Day continued to advise 20 Treasury and you yourself individually in connection with the 21 situation in the City of Detroit; correct?

22 A I don't believe so.

23 MS. BRIMER: Your Honor, I'd like to show an exhibit
24 that I believe has not yet been admitted. 842 has not been 25 admitted, has it? I'll show Ms. Nelson. If I may approach,

1 your Honor --

2 THE COURT: I'm sorry. I can't permit you to have a
3 private conversation with the witness. If there's something
4 you'd like to say to him, you can feel free to say it at --

5 MS. BRIMER: I directed him to look, your Honor --

6 THE COURT: I'm sorry. You can feel free to say it
7 at the microphone so that it is on the record.

8 MS. BRIMER: For the record, your Honor, I directed
9 him to the paragraph that I identified for Ms. Nelson that I
10 believe may refresh his recollection.

11 THE WITNESS: Okay. Could you restate the question?

12 BY MS. BRIMER:

13 Q Does that refresh your recollection with respect to the 14 continued advice and consulting that Treasury and you
15 individually were receiving from Jones Day, Miller Buckfire,
16 and Huron Consulting even after the consent agreement was 17 finalized?

18 A Yeah. After the -- before the consent agreement was 19 finalized, there was very, very frequent, if not daily,
20 conversations with Hugh Sawyer and Laura and Miller Buckfire
21 to maybe a lesser extent, very little dialogue with us and 22 Jones Day other than for a few of these e-mails and some of 23 their comments on the drafts. After the consent agreement
24 was in place, we stayed in touch but on a much less frequent
25 basis.

1 Q And after the consent agreement, what matters did you
2 remain in touch with the -- Jones Day and other -- Miller
3 Buckfire and Huron Consulting individuals in connection with?

4 A I don't recall any contacts with Jones Day after it until 5 2013 let's say, and then -- I mean throughout -- there could
6 be various issues that came up, and we may pick up the phone
7 and ask for advice from Hugh or Laura, and I think there was 8 similar infrequent contact with Miller Buckfire.

9 Q So I believe Ms. Green asked you whether or not you were 10 aware of a meeting in June between Ms. Lennox, Mr. Buckfire,
11 and the governor, and I don't recall your answer to that.

12 A I think I said I didn't remember.

13 Q So it's possible that the governor's office continued to 14 remain in contact with the Jones Day attorneys without your 15 being aware of that?

16 MS. NELSON: I'm going to object. Inappropriate
17 hypothetical and lacks foundation.

18 THE COURT: The objection is sustained.

19 BY MS. BRIMER:

20 Q Now, at some point Public Act 4 was, in fact, repealed;
21 correct?

22 A Correct.

23 Q And a new law was enacted, what we've referred to as 24 Public Act 436; correct?

25 A Correct.

1 Q Who was responsible for drafting PA 436?

2 A Right after the election, there was -- I probably
3 attended two or three meetings with the governor and Brom
4 Stibitz from my staff and maybe a few folks from the 5 Governor's Office to discuss, you know, what about PA 4 could 6 be improved. There were some items that we just learned by 7 working with PA 4 that we wanted in a new law, and then some
8 of the criticisms of PA 4 we genuinely sought to address,
9 giving locals more control, different options than just going
10 into emergency, so I attended -- I don't know -- two to four 11 maybe meetings during mid- to late November through early
12 December. The governor drew up -- kind of put a little chart
13 together that showed what the new law could look like. From 14 that point forward, it was folks on my staff and the 15 Governor's Office that moved the legislation through the 16 legislature.

17 Q Now, to be clear, the appointment of Kevyn Orr was under 18 PA 72; correct?

19 A I believe so, for three days.

20 Q And he automatically became the emergency manager under
21 PA 436; correct?

22 A That's my understanding, yes.

23 Q So the city did not have any of the other options that 24 were added into PA 436 to avoid the appointment of an 25 emergency manager; correct?

1 A Correct.

2 Q Okay. Now, one of the things PA 436 included were some 3 spending provisions. Do you recall those?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Who drafted those provisions? Do you know?

6 A I don't.

7 Q Have you reviewed those spending provisions?

8 A Yeah. I know that my office did the calculation of how 9 much money -- one of the new requirements of 436 was that 10 Treasury would have to pay emergency managers. That was one
11 of the criticisms of PA 4, that you put someone in place and 12 then you make them pay for them, so I know my office did the 13 calculations to identify how much we would need to pay the 14 salaries of the EM's that were in place throughout the state,
15 and I believe that number was about 780,000.

16 Q So when you performed your calculation, did you only 17 address those emergency managers that were in place at the 18 time, or did you address the potential emergency managers
19 that the state was aware it intended on or hoped to put in 20 place?

21 A Someone on my staff did that calculation. I can't speak
22 to what the components of it were.

23 Q Did you ever review the financial analysis that was 24 performed by your staff?

25 A No. I think they just shared the number with me, that

1 that's what we would need to get through the fiscal year.

2 Q And there was then a second spending provision; correct?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And that provided for funds to cover consultants;
5 correct?

6 A Correct.

7 Q And that was approximately $5 million?

8 A Right.

9 Q Do you believe those spending provisions were adequate to 10 cover both the salaries for the emergency managers and the 11 professionals that emergency managers may retain?

12 A I'm pretty certain they were -- the emergency manager
13 number was probably quite close because it was very 14 predictable. The consultant costs, you know, those 15 consultants, you never can trust them. They get really 16 expensive.

17 Q Well, let's just talk about the consultants for a moment.
18 As time went on, was that, in fact, sufficient to cover the 19 fees of the consultants in connection, for example, with the
20 City of Detroit?

21 A Well, so far we haven't had to go back to the legislature
22 to ask for additional money, so I -- so far it's been 23 adequate.

24 Q So the $5 million has covered the Jones Day attorneys'
25 fees, the Miller Buckfire, the Conway MacKenzie, and the

1 Ernst & Young fees in connection with the City of Detroit
2 from -- I believe it would have just been from the effective
3 date, March 28th, through September?

4 A You'd have to ask -- I go to Brom Stibitz when I want to 5 know how we're doing on resources to hire consultants, and he
6 just tells me we're fine or we're not fine. I can't speak to 7 the specifics.

8 Q Well, at some point you did become concerned, did you
9 not?

10 A I worry about a lot of things.

11 MS. BRIMER: Your Honor, I'd like to show the 12 witness an exhibit, an e-mail that is, in fact, from him. I
13 shared it with Ms. Nelson.

14 THE COURT: What are you showing him? Is it an 15 exhibit number?

16 MS. BRIMER: Well, we can mark it as Exhibit 206,
17 your Honor.

18 THE COURT: Okay.

19 (Exhibit 206 marked at 10:02 a.m.)

20 MR. SHUMAKER: Your Honor, we would state an 21 objection. This is not -- this document was not a mystery
22 and wasn't placed on their exhibit list at the beginning of 23 trial.

24 THE COURT: Well, let's see if it's offered into 25 evidence, and then I'll hear your objection. Are you asking

1 the witness to have a look at it?

2 BY MS. BRIMER:

3 Q Have you had a chance to review that?

4 A Yes.

5 Q That's an e-mail from you --

6 A Yes.

7 Q -- dated June 11, 2013?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Do you recall sending this e-mail?

10 A Very much so.

11 MS. BRIMER: Your Honor, it was not offered at the 12 time the pretrial was prepared. I believe this runs directly 13 to the issue of whether or not the spending provision was, in 14 fact, ever properly evaluated.

15 THE COURT: Isn't relevance. It's why wasn't it on 16 the original exhibit list.

17 MS. BRIMER: I think I can explain, your Honor.
18 Your Honor only on the day -- the day before the pretrial was 19 finalized suggested that your Honor would take evidence
20 regarding the intent on the referendum, and this exhibit,
21 your Honor, was produced by the city. It was used in Mr.
22 Dillon's deposition. It is certainly not a shock and 23 surprise to the parties.

24 THE COURT: It certainly would not have surprised
25 you that I would be willing to take evidence on that point

1 since you advocated that. You didn't think you were going to
2 lose, did you?

3 MS. BRIMER: No, your Honor, but your Honor had 4 suggested that it was a legal issue. I think I can ask the 5 witness a few questions then if -- I believe it's relevant.
6 I believe it should be admitted.

7 THE COURT: The issue is not relevance.

8 MS. BRIMER: I understand that, your Honor.

9 THE COURT: In light of the failure to list it and 10 the lack of cause for that, the Court sustains the objection.

11 BY MS. BRIMER:

12 Q So isn't it true, Mr. Dillon, that by June 11 of 2013,
13 the state was already running out of money in connection with 14 the fees of the consultants?

15 A What I was referring to here was a forecast of what --

16 THE COURT: Mr. Dillon, the document has not been 17 admitted into evidence, so don't tell us what's in it. Just 18 answer the question.

19 THE WITNESS: All right. Going forward, sure, the 20 money would not have been adequate.

21 BY MS. BRIMER:

22 Q Now, you testified to Ms. Levine -- when she asked you
23 why Jones Day was involved with the state in March of 2012,
24 you indicated that you knew that they were always interested
25 in this case, so you knew as early as March of 2012 that

1 Jones Day was interested in a Chapter 9 for the City of
2 Detroit; correct?

3 MR. SHUMAKER: Objection. Asked and answered.

4 MS. NELSON: Same objection, your Honor.

5 THE COURT: Sustained.

6 BY MS. BRIMER:

7 Q So then you were involved in the March -- excuse me --
8 the interview process for the preliminary interview in 9 January of 20 -- January 29th, 2013, for the attorneys;
10 correct?

11 A Correct.

12 MS. NELSON: Objection. Asked and answered.

13 BY MS. BRIMER:

14 Q And that initial interview on January 29th was merely to 15 narrow down the firms that would then be invited to submit a
16 response to the RFP that would later be issued; correct?

17 MS. NELSON: Objection, your Honor. This whole line
18 has been asked and answered on Tuesday.

19 MS. BRIMER: I have two or three questions that have 20 not been asked. That question was not asked.

21 THE COURT: I don't think that specific one was, so
22 you may answer that, sir.

23 THE WITNESS: There's very specific procurement
24 rules, so I hesitate to say "yes," but I did participate in a
25 day of meetings at the airport where several law firms were

1 interviewed. Now, legally, what follows from that to
2 actually make them eligible to be hired, I won't -- I'm not
3 an expert on the procurement practices of the city or the 4 state.

5 BY MS. BRIMER:

6 Q Were you aware that Miller Buckfire had provided the 7 interview questions to the Jones Day attorneys prior to the 8 interview?

9 A I don't think I ever saw the questions myself, so I don't
10 know that, no.

11 Q Okay. So after the interview process, who drafted the 12 RFP? Do you know?

13 A I do not.

14 Q Could it have been Miller Buckfire?

15 A Is it possible that they did? I mean is that the 16 question?

17 Q Yes.

18 MS. NELSON: I'm going to object. Calls for 19 speculation. He's already indicated he doesn't know.

20 BY MS. BRIMER:

21 Q Was it someone on the staff of Treasury that drafted the 22 RFP?

23 MS. NELSON: Same objection, your Honor. That's 24 been asked and answered. He indicated he doesn't know. This 25 would call for speculation.

1 THE COURT: Do you know the answer to that question?

2 THE WITNESS: I don't know who drafted it.

3 BY MS. BRIMER:

4 Q Do you recall asking Brom Stibitz to put together a
5 stable of bankruptcy attorneys for future Chapter 9's?

6 A It doesn't sound unlikely. I knew that we would probably
7 need some in case these things --

8 THE COURT: The question is do you remember doing
9 that?

10 THE WITNESS: Generally, yes.

11 BY MS. BRIMER:

12 Q And did Mr. Stibitz provide you with a list of potential
13 bankruptcy attorneys?

14 A I think we did an RFP. We've done two RFP's, I believe,
15 at Treasury to get people on a list that we can tap if we 16 need.

17 Q And was Jones Day one of the firms that responded to 18 either of those RFP's?

19 A I don't have a memory, but apparently they did because I
20 think I've seen something during this process where their 21 name is on the state list as well.

22 Q Okay. Did you ever disclose to anyone with the City of 23 Detroit that Miller Buckfire had performed a 60-day review
24 for the city -- for the state of the city's finances in early 25 2012?

1 A I think they were very familiar that they were doing
2 that, yes, because they worked with the city. They were
3 present in City Hall.

4 Q Did you advise the city that -- prior to the engagement
5 of Jones Day that Jones Day had been working with the state
6 on the consent agreement?

7 A I don't believe I did.

8 Q Did Jones Day have any involvement in the drafting of PA
9 436?

10 A Not to my knowledge.

11 Q Do you know whether or not anyone on your staff provided
12 Jones Day with copies of drafts of PA 436?

13 A I don't recall that.

14 Q Have you ever heard of the hundred day plan?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And what was that?

17 A It can be a term of art, but generally when you come in,
18 you -- if you're in a turnaround situation, you have a goal
19 to accomplish certain things within a hundred days.

20 Q And in the event those goals aren't accomplished, a 21 bankruptcy would then be filed? Is that --

22 A Not necessarily, no.

23 Q Did the state institute a 100-day plan in connection with
24 the City of Detroit?

25 A I believe we had one during the -- for the consent

1 agreement, and then I believe -- under 436 there's certain
2 reports that have to come in with a certain number of days,
3 and I don't think any of those reports line up to a hundred
4 days. I think there's 45 days and six months, what's in the 5 law.

6 Q And isn't it true that at least as early as March of 2012
7 Treasury personnel who worked directly for you were
8 discussing a Chapter 9 on behalf of the city with the Jones
9 Day attorneys?

10 A I don't know what you mean by "discussing." Chapter 9
11 was always an option, but it was the last resort. We 12 obviously were fighting to get to a consent agreement with 13 the city and wanted to avoid even emergency, so if we were 14 thinking of Chapter 9, then we would not have gone consent
15 agreement because you couldn't get into 9 that way.

16 Q But under the then existing law, the consent agreement
17 was the way to proceed; correct?

18 A No. Under a consent agreement, you can't enter Chapter 19 9.

20 Q Okay.

21 MS. BRIMER: I have nothing else, your Honor.

22 THE COURT: Thank you. Any other questions for the 23 witness?

24 MS. PATEK: Your Honor, Barbara Patek on behalf of 25 the Detroit public safety unions.

BY MS. PATEK:

Q Mr. Dillon, I represent the Detroit public safety unions. Good morning. I have a handful of questions for you. At or about the time of Mr. Orr's appointment -- well, strike that. Going back to your involvement with the situation in the City of Detroit even from the time you became state treasurer, were you aware that the police and fire fighters for the City of Detroit were not eligible through their employment at the City of Detroit for Social Security?

A It was a -- we were aware that that was very likely the case. I never saw a report that said who was and who wasn't, but we knew that was a real issue.

Q And was that an important issue to you?

A Yes.

Q And at any time before Mr. Orr's appointment, did you take it upon yourself to confirm whether or not, in fact, the City of Detroit fire fighters and police were eligible for Social Security?

A We asked quite often -- my memory is that there may be some that were eligible at some point, but I couldn't tell you what percentage are eligible versus not.

Q Do you know whether or not police officers and fire fighters hired before March 31st, 1986, are eligible for Medicare?

1 MS. NELSON: I'm going to object to this line of
2 questioning, your Honor, as irrelevant. I don't know how
3 this has any relevance to the eligibility issues or Mr.
4 Dillon's testimony.

5 THE COURT: No. I see the relevance. I'll permit
6 it. Go ahead.

7 THE WITNESS: I was aware of the issue. It was 8 important to me, but the specific dates and numbers I
9 didn't -- I wasn't familiar with.

10 BY MS. PATEK:

11 Q Did you ever determine whether or not for those officers
12 not covered by Social Security they had to, as a matter of 13 federal law, be provided a certain minimum level of 14 retirement benefits by the state?

15 A I'm not familiar with that.

16 Q And you're not aware of that sitting here today?

17 A No.

18 Q You would agree with me in these Chapter 9 proceedings
19 that one of the things that cannot happen is that the City of 20 Detroit cannot be liquidated?

21 A I don't know if it's a legal impossibility, but it's not 22 something that we ever envisioned. I think the City of 23 Detroit will need to carry on and move forward.

24 Q And among the City of Detroit's obligations in carrying 25 on and moving forward is providing effective police and fire

1 services. Would you agree with that?

2 A Very much so.

3 Q And that would be absolutely essential to any
4 restructuring?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Do you believe that -- well, strike that. I want to -- I
7 want to go back to an issue that came up earlier with Ms.
8 Green. You were asked some questions about an Act 312
9 arbitration. Do you know what Act 312 is?

10 A I do.

11 Q And that's a procedure or a statute that provides for a
12 mechanism, including mediation and arbitration, by which the 13 public safety unions resolve their employment disputes with 14 the particular municipality; is that right?

15 A That's right.

16 Q And isn't it true that at or near the time Mr. Orr was 17 about to be appointed as the emergency manager of the City of 18 Detroit, that there was a pending Act 312 arbitration
19 proceeding involving the Detroit Police Officers Association
20 and the City of Detroit?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Was there a concern on the part of Treasury that if --
23 well, strike that. Do you understand that when an Act 312
24 award is issued following the conclusion of those 25 proceedings, that the results of that award become part of

1 the collective bargaining agreement between the union and the 2 municipality?

3 A That's my general understanding.

4 Q And did you have an understanding that if, in fact, an
5 Act 312 award were to issue in connection with the ongoing
6 proceedings between the city and the Detroit Police Officers
7 Association, that that would potentially extend the length of 8 the collective bargaining agreement between the Detroit
9 Police Officers Association and the City of Detroit?

10 A I assume it could do a lot of things.

11 Q And would that be one of them, to extend the length of 12 the agreement?

13 A I'm not an expert on 312. I can't say that it was not
14 one of the things that could have happened, but I do recall
15 that he had -- I don't recall extending the CBA is an item,
16 but it very may well have been.

17 Q Were you concerned about the Act 312 award providing 18 certain terms to the Detroit police officers that would be 19 contrary to what the state was thinking would be an 20 appropriate restructuring plan?

21 A I had concerns about an award that could -- that the city
22 couldn't afford, that it was a possibility.

23 Q Were you looking for a mechanism to prevent those Act 312
24 proceedings involving the city and the Detroit Police
25 Officers Association from coming to a conclusion?

1 A Mechanisms to prevent? I can tell you I was concerned
2 about whipsawing the police and fire and having something
3 come out that wasn't sustainable and may have to be adjusted
4 in an emergency status, so I had concerns, yes.

5 Q You didn't want them, for example, to get some wage cuts
6 reinstated only to have those reimposed again by an emergency
7 manager?

8 A It was a concern of mine.

9 Q Do you believe -- or did you believe as state treasurer
10 that the morale of the Detroit public safety unions,
11 including the Detroit Police Officers Association, was 12 important to their ability to provide the public safety
13 services required by the City of Detroit?

14 A Yes. And I also believe that they, unfortunately, are 15 underpaid. If you look at them compared to comparable
16 cities, they're not overpaid, and it's just unfortunate the 17 city didn't have the resources to pay more.

18 Q And would you also agree that as a general matter, based 19 upon your knowledge as state treasurer at the time, that they 20 were undermanned; this is, that there were not enough of them
21 out there to really provide effective public safety?

22 A That's a tougher question because a lot of the 23 information we had is that two-thirds of the police, for 24 example, worked behind desks rather than on the street, so I
25 don't know if it was a lack of personnel or just they could

1 be better utilized. As it relates to the fire, I don't have 2 that similar information.

3 Q And with respect to the police, let me reframe the 4 question. With respect to police officers on the street, was 5 your understanding that there was an inadequate number of 6 those?

7 A I believe there may have been.

8 Q Was there -- well, strike that. Was it part of the 9 restructuring plan, at least as it was envisioned by the 10 state, to have all of the collective bargaining agreements
11 for the public safety unions expire sometime in the summer of 12 2013?

13 A I don't know if I understand the question.

14 Q Was there -- was part of the goal of the restructuring to 15 put the -- either the state, through an emergency manager, or 16 the city in a position to impose terms without having to 17 bargain or negotiate with its public safety employees?

18 A In what time frame?

19 Q In the time frame leading up to and after the appointment
20 of Mr. Orr as the emergency manager.

21 A In 2013, I think that was less of a consideration because 22 the emergency manager has that power if he needs to do it.

23 Q Are you aware whether or not the Act 312 -- an Act 312
24 award ever issued in the arbitration between the City of 25 Detroit and the Detroit Police Officers Association?

1 A My memory is that one did.

2 Q And is it your understanding in that regard that that
3 agreement then became part or that award then became part of 4 the collective bargaining agreement between the city and the 5 Detroit Police Officers Association?

6 A That's my memory.

7 Q You told me earlier that the issue of whether or not
8 police and fire received Social Security benefits was an
9 important issue to you, and let me step back from that as a
10 moment -- your understanding is if they don't -- if the city
11 doesn't contribute and they don't participate in Social
12 Security, they are also not eligible through their city
13 employment for Social Security Disability benefits; is that
14 right?

15 A I don't think my understanding related to disability.

16 Q You didn't have any understanding one way or the other as 17 to whether or not these fire fighters and police officers
18 would be eligible for Social Security Disability whether or 19 not the city participated in the Social Security program?

20 A Yeah. I don't recall the aspect of Social Security as it
21 relates to disability being discussed in any of the meetings
22 I attended.

23 Q Do you think disability is a significant issue for police
24 and fire fighters?

25 A I understand it may well be.

1 Q Do you think it would be an important part of the 2 equation in terms of the city's ability to provide the 3 essential services of public safety?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And is that why the Social Security issue was, in part,
6 important to you?

7 A I'm not -- I viewed it more in terms of retirement. I'm 8 not certain -- and I'm not a benefits experts -- about if 9 you're an active employee and you are injured on the job
10 site, is it your employment insurance or Social Security 11 Disability? I'm not an expert to have an opinion on that.

12 Q Would it trouble you to know that police officers
13 currently who do not have from some other source access to 14 Social Security are not entitled to Social Security
15 Disability given what has been proposed by the emergency
16 manager in terms of impairing their pension benefits?

17 MS. NELSON: Objection. Relevance.

18 THE COURT: Sustained.

19 BY MS. PATEK:

20 Q You told us, based upon your experience as treasurer,
21 that you did not see any scenario where the Michigan
22 legislature would be willing to help the City of Detroit with 23 its pension funding problem; is that correct?

24 A I was asked the question about would the funds come from 25 the state, and I answered it with, I think, I thought it

1 might be difficult to get the Michigan legislature to
2 appropriate funds for that.

3 Q Would it be fair to say that it's your impression that
4 the Michigan legislature lacks the political will to provide
5 such assistance?

6 MS. NELSON: Objection. Relevance and speculation.

7 MS. PATEK: Your Honor, I think this is entirely
8 relevant to the issue of bad faith and eligibility in terms
9 of the purpose for which these Chapter 9 proceedings are 10 being used.

11 MS. NELSON: If I may address that, your Honor,
12 she's clearly asking a political question, which is outside
13 the scope of not only the Court's jurisdiction but the 14 eligibility factors that are to be considered for purposes of 15 this case.

16 MS. PATEK: If I may respond, your Honor, I would 17 think that if these Chapter 9 proceedings were, in fact,
18 being used for a political purpose, which I think is not
19 unfathomable given the record --

20 THE COURT: My only problem with the question is the 21 phrase "political will." I'm not sure what that means. You
22 can ask him why he has this belief, but --

23 MS. PATEK: I think --

24 THE COURT: -- I think a more direct question there
25 would be appropriate.

1 BY MS. PATEK:

2 Q I'll take the Court's question, Mr. Dillon. Why do you
3 have the belief that there would be no set of circumstances
4 that you can envision in which the Michigan legislature would
5 provide support to the City of Detroit for its pension
6 problem?

7 A I don't know if I described the situation that way, but 8 having served in the legislature for six years and 9 understanding a lot of the mentality of people that don't 10 come from the Detroit area, I think it would be very 11 difficult to get them to subsidize or fund or support Detroit
12 with an appropriation.

13 THE COURT: Excuse me one second. Would you just 14 slide back a little bit from the microphone? Thank you.

15 BY MS. PATEK:

16 Q You're saying it would be difficult to get the Michigan
17 legislature to support Detroit with an appropriation for any 18 purpose?

19 A I didn't say that, but I think if it was funding
20 something about a historical liability, I think that would be 21 much more difficult.

22 Q In terms of revitalizing the city, providing blight
23 relief, is that something that you believe they might fund?

24 A I think it would have a much better chance.

25 Q You were asked a couple questions about -- or by Ms.

1 Green and then later Ms. Brimer about the timing of the
2 appointment of Mr. Orr as the emergency manager, and it's
3 true, is it not, that by appointing Mr. Orr on March 25th
4 three days before the effective date of Public Act 436, that
5 that removed from the City of Detroit the right to choose
6 some of the new options available under Public Act 436?

7 MS. NELSON: Asked and answered, your Honor.

8 MS. PATEK: This is foundational, and I can go to 9 my --

10 THE COURT: Please.

11 BY MS. PATEK:

12 Q One of those options was a negotiated -- or a period of 13 negotiations to attempt to do an out-of-court workout; is
14 that right?

15 A Can you start from the beginning?

16 Q Yeah, yeah. Are you generally familiar with Public Act
17 436 and those four options it gave to a municipality?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And among those options were a consent agreement, which 20 the City of Detroit had already done; correct?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And the consent agreement itself, did that provide if the 23 City of Detroit didn't make its metrics that an emergency
24 manager would be put into place?

25 A You can have a default of a consent agreement that then

1 leads to a different option.

2 Q I'm asking you, though, in this particular case, the
3 April 4th, 2012, consent agreement, that did not have as a
4 default option the appointment of an emergency manager, did
5 it?

6 A I'd have to review the document.

7 Q With respect to Public Act 436 --

8 MS. PATEK: Can you put up -- I think it's 721.
9 This is just actually the act itself, and I want Section 25.

10 MR. SHUMAKER: Your Honor, 721 is not on the exhibit
11 list.

12 MS. PATEK: And I'm just going to ask the -- I'm
13 just putting up the text of Public Act 436 --

14 THE COURT: I'll permit that.

15 MS. PATEK: -- which is --

16 BY MS. PATEK:

17 Q Mr. Dillon, you see the text of Section 25 of Public Act
18 436 in front of you there?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And one of the options given to a community or a
21 municipality under Public Act 436 was a neutral evaluation
22 process; isn't that right?

23 A Right.

24 Q And that neutral evaluation process provided by Public
25 Act 436 is not unlike the mediation process now ongoing in

1 these Chapter 9 proceedings; isn't that right?

2 MS. NELSON: Objection. Calls for a legal
3 conclusion and speculation. He's not participating in that
4 process.

5 MS. PATEK: Well, I believe the state has been 6 ordered into the process.

7 THE COURT: You can ask the witness his
8 understanding.

9 BY MS. PATEK:

10 Q Are you aware that there is in these Chapter 9
11 proceedings confidential mediation proceedings supervised by 12 the Court?

13 A I'm aware that they're ongoing.

14 Q And is the neutral evaluation process provided by Public
15 Act 436 similar to the mediation process in these 16 proceedings, to your knowledge and understanding?

17 A We've never had one in Michigan, so -- and I'm not part
18 of these here, so I can't answer that.

19 Q We can agree, however, by appointing Mr. Orr three days
20 before the effective day of Public Act 436 this neutral
21 evaluation option was taken away from the City of Detroit?

22 A I don't recall what triggered the emergency, whether 23 if -- I don't recall the date the governor decided that he 24 was going to declare an emergency in Detroit.

25 Q So you can't answer -- you don't know the answer to that

1 question?

2 A I don't know if it's triggered by the date Kevyn Orr
3 started or by the governor's declaration of emergency. I
4 don't recall the -- what the statute says on that point, but 5 I would guess it's the date the governor declares the 6 emergency is what would answer your question, not the date
7 that the manager is hired.

8 Q Well, isn't it accurate that one of the things that 9 Public Act 436 did was to make sure that actions that had
10 been taken under former Public Act 4 or former Public Act 72
11 would be sustained and continue on?

12 A Right.

13 Q And that included an appointment, for example, of an 14 emergency manager under Public Act 72?

15 A Right.

16 MS. PATEK: That's all I have.

17 DIRECT EXAMINATION

18 BY MR. MONTGOMERY:

19 Q Good morning, Mr. Dillon.

20 A Good morning.

21 Q Claude Montgomery. Real simple line of inquiry regarding 22 one topic. You were very much involved in trying to 23 understand the pension questions for the state, were you not,
24 for the City of Detroit?

25 A I wouldn't say very much involved.

1 Q You would not say you were very much involved?

2 A Well, there was -- the consultants on the ground were
3 very focused on it, and a professional firm was hired to do
4 evaluation, so I was aware that those were going on, but I
5 was not in day-to-day work groups working through those 6 numbers.

7 Q But you were trying to follow the issue as best you could
8 as treasurer, were you not?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And from time to time you would inform the governor of 11 your views with respect to pension issues, did you not?

12 A I did, yeah.

13 Q And focusing on the time period on or about July 9, 2013,
14 do you remember having formed the conclusion that from your 15 perspective you were still in the informational stage with 16 respect to pensions?

17 A Yes.

18 Q And do you recall telling the governor that on or about
19 July 9?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And did you do so by e-mail?

22 A Yes.

23 MR. MONTGOMERY: Could you put on the screen,
24 please, common Exhibit 438? If you could expand the "to" and 25 "from" line, please, first.

1 BY MR. MONTGOMERY:

2 Q Did you, in fact, send this e-mail on or about July 9,
3 2013?

4 MS. NELSON: Your Honor, this has been asked and
5 answered and was admitted as an exhibit on Tuesday through
6 the treasurer's testimony, and he testified about this e-mail
7 and specifically the "to" and the "from."

8 MR. MONTGOMERY: Well, that's interesting because my 9 notes still had objected to hearsay, so I was going to move
10 its admission to make sure it was part of the record.

11 THE COURT: What number is it?

12 MR. MONTGOMERY: 438.

13 MR. SHUMAKER: The city does object because it's 14 hearsay, your Honor.

15 MR. MONTGOMERY: There we go.

16 THE COURT: Kelli, do we show it admitted? Can you
17 open up the exhibit for me to see the whole thing? Thank 18 you. And do you recognize this exhibit, sir?

19 MR. MONTGOMERY: Yes.

20 THE COURT: It's admitted.

21 (Exhibit 438 received at 10:35 a.m.)

22 MR. MONTGOMERY: Thank you.

23 BY MR. MONTGOMERY:

24 Q And so just to conclude, sir, on or about July 9, you
25 shared with the governor your opinion that you were still in

1 the informational stage with respect to pensions, did you
2 not?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Okay. And --

5 THE COURT: Sir, I'm advised that you need to be 6 closer to the microphone or have it pointed more at you
7 because the other room is having trouble hearing you.

8 MR. MONTGOMERY: Is that better, your Honor?
9 Better?

10 THE COURT: There you go.

11 MR. MONTGOMERY: Okay.

12 THE COURT: Try that.

13 BY MR. MONTGOMERY:

14 Q So, again, I believe my question was on or about July 9,
15 you informed the governor of your opinion that with respect
16 to pensions you were still very much in the informational
17 stage?

18 A Yes.

19 MR. MONTGOMERY: All right. Thank you. No further
20 questions, your Honor.

21 THE COURT: Any other questions from counsel on 22 this? Cross-examination.

23 MS. NELSON: No questions, your Honor.

24 MR. SHUMAKER: The city has no questions, your
25 Honor.

1 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Dillon, thank you very
2 much for your testimony. You're excused.

3 THE WITNESS: Thank you, Judge.

4 (Witness excused at 10:36 a.m.)

5 THE COURT: And let's take our morning break now and 6 reconvene in 15 minutes at 10:50, please.

7 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in recess.

8 (Recess at 10:36 a.m. until 10:50 a.m.)

9 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in session. Please
10 be seated.

11 MR. WERTHEIMER: William Wertheimer, your Honor, on 12 behalf of the Flowers plaintiffs and the UAW for this 13 witness, and we will call Richard Baird. I would indicate
14 that -- or request that the Court give permission to allow 15 the examination pursuant to Rule 611(c).

16 THE COURT: Thank you. Any objections to that?

17 MR. SHUMAKER: No objection, your Honor.

18 THE COURT: You may.

19 MR. ELLSWORTH: Your Honor, I'm Peter Ellsworth on 20 behalf of the state.

21 THE COURT: Welcome, sir. Step forward, please,
22 sir. Just step over here, and then I will administer the 23 oath to you.

24 RICHARD BAIRD, WITNESS, SWORN

25 THE COURT: Please sit down.

BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

Q Would you state your name for the record, please?

A Richard L. Baird.

Q Mr. Baird, you are appearing here pursuant to subpoena;
is that correct?

A Yes.

Q And are you currently a state employee?

A Yes.

Q When did you become a state employee?

A October 16th.

Q Of this year?

A Yes.

Q You were involved with working indirectly for the governor from the time he took office, were you not?

A Yes.

Q I'd like to ask you just a couple of questions about what your relationship was at that -- at the time from your beginning with the governor up until you became a state employee a couple of weeks ago. Okay?

A Sure.

Q Are you familiar with an organization called MI Partners,
LLC?

A Yes.

Q And what is it?

1 A It is a limited liability corporation incorporated in the
2 State of Michigan, and it does organization development and 3 consulting.

4 Q And are you an employee -- or were you an employee during 5 that time period -- that is, from 2011 up until a couple of 6 weeks ago -- of MI Partners, LLC?

7 A I was the founder and the only employee.

8 Q And you're the owner of it?

9 A Yes.

10 Q No other owners?

11 A No.

12 Q And what business does it -- is it in or was it in during 13 the time period we're talking?

14 A Predominantly organizational consulting, team
15 development, talent selection.

16 Q And how --

17 THE COURT: One second, please. Can you either pull 18 the microphone a few inches closer to you or sit closer to
19 it?

20 THE WITNESS: Is this better?

21 THE COURT: Yes, but not too close. Thank you, sir.

22 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

23 Q During the period from the beginning of 2011 up until a 24 couple of weeks ago, how many clients did this entity have?

25 A One client.

1 Q And who was that client?

2 A It was the New Energy to Reinvent and Diversify Fund.

3 Q And tell us what that fund was.

4 A That fund was a 501(c)(4) that was formed to further good
5 government at nontaxpayer expense.

6 Q And has it sometimes in the public gone by an acronym
7 NERD?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Would you generally describe for the Court what role you
10 played vis-a-vis the state and particularly the governor from 11 the time the governor came in in January of 2011?

12 A I was involved in helping source and select members of 13 the governor's team and also critical positions for other
14 departments or for state oversight operations such as failing
15 school districts or municipalities.

16 Q Did you play any particular role relative to the issues
17 that were in place from when the governor first came in 18 relative to the financial problems of the City of Detroit?

19 A I'm sorry. Did I play a role relative to --

20 Q The work the Governor's Office was doing on that problem.

21 A Yes.

22 Q And what role did you play?

23 A My role was predominantly focused on assessing talent for 24 potential positions that may come as a result of a failing
25 school district or municipality.

1 Q Did you play a particular role relative to the ultimate
2 hiring of an emergency manager for the City of Detroit?

3 A I played a role in the identification, sourcing, and
4 recommendation to the governor, who then made recommendations
5 to the Emergency Loan Board, which made the selection of the 6 emergency manager.

7 Q Okay. Would it be fair to say that you worked intimately
8 with the governor on this issue?

9 A I worked intimately with the governor on the planning for 10 contingency, but my degree of interaction with him didn't
11 become what I would call intimate until I had live candidates
12 for his consideration.

13 Q All right. And were you the person who made the at least
14 tentative decision to move forward relative to Kevyn Orr
15 becoming emergency manager?

16 A I was the person that made a recommendation to both the 17 governor and the treasurer that Kevyn Orr had the 18 qualifications and capabilities that led me to believe he 19 should be a candidate for consideration should a
20 recommendation to the ELB be made.

21 Q And were you -- did you attend the pitch meeting in late
22 January of this year?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And was it the day after that meeting that you made an
25 initial outreach to the Jones Day law firm to talk to someone

1 there about the possibility of Kevyn Orr being considered for
2 that position?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And who is the person that you made that outreach to at
5 Jones Day?

6 A I called Steve Brogan, a managing partner.

7 Q By the way, at this point, did you have any knowledge
8 that Jones Day had been working for the state on the problems
9 it was having with the city, in fact, was helping it in the 10 negotiations over a consent agreement in March of 2012; that 11 is, about nine or ten months before the initial consideration
12 of Mr. Orr?

13 A I don't believe so.

14 Q And in your conversation with Mr. Brogan -- this initial 15 conversation would have been on January 30th?

16 A Yes. That's correct.

17 Q The pitch meeting having been on the 29th?

18 A You call it a pitch meeting.

19 Q I'm sorry. Go ahead.

20 A I did not view the 29th meeting as a pitch meeting. It
21 was bringing in several highly competent restructuring
22 oriented legal advisors to help the city in the preparation
23 for its RFP.

24 Q When you talked to Mr. Brogan on the 30th, did you make
25 it a point to tell him at that point in this initial contact

1 that Jones Day would be neither hurt nor helped if you went
2 further relative to recruiting Mr. Orr for the emergency
3 manager position?

4 A I'll tell you what I recall that I said in that
5 conversation.

6 Q Can you answer my question?

7 A Those exact words, no.

8 Q Go ahead. Tell me what you recall.

9 A I said -- I asked for the managing partner's permission
10 to speak with Kevyn Orr. I said if it was -- whether it was 11 granted or not and further discussions took place, that 12 should not help or hurt Jones Day in any potential bid for 13 work with the city or the state.

14 Q And you were speaking as a representative of the state to 15 the Jones Day managing partner at that time, were you not?

16 A No. I was never a representative of the state.

17 Q Who did you hold yourself out as in your discussions with 18 Mr. Brogan?

19 A An independent consultant to the governor and his team
20 involved in talent sourcing.

21 Q But you were working for the governor. He would have 22 understood that.

23 A Well, I was working with the governor.

24 Q You weren't working for the City of Detroit, were you?

25 A No.

1 Q If you were working for anybody, it would have been the
2 governor?

3 A I was working for the NERD Fund.

4 Q Okay. Which is the -- which is a fund that -- set up
5 either directly or indirectly by the government -- or the 6 governor. You understood that, did you not?

7 A No, I don't understand that.

8 Q Okay. Had you talked to anyone -- had you talked to 9 anyone with the state to get the approval for the 10 representation you made to Mr. Brogan; that is, that Jones
11 Day would neither be hurt nor helped if you went forward
12 relative to Orr?

13 A No, and I've testified in my deposition that upon
14 recollection of that, I did not have the right to make that 15 assertion.

16 Q You never withdrew that assertion from Mr. Brogan or 17 anyone else at Jones Day, did you not?

18 A Not that I recall.

19 Q And you always acted consistent with it, did you not?

20 A I believe I did.

21 Q In fact, you pushed for Jones Day to be hired by the 22 city, did you not?

23 A Define "push," sir.

24 Q You spoke in their favor, talked to people, suggested
25 that Jones Day would be a good choice, something like that?

1 A I said any of those five firms that presented that day
2 would be a good choice.

3 Q Did you tell Kevyn Orr on January 31st that you were --
4 at the time you were soliciting him, that you were also going
5 to be pulling for Jones Day?

6 A I believe I did.

7 Q And you told him that because, in fact, you were going to 8 be pulling for Jones Day; correct?

9 A I hoped that they would be successful, yes, sir.

10 Q What did you mean by the term "pulling" when you used it
11 in your conversations with Mr. Orr?

12 A That I hoped they would be successful.

13 Q It's like a wish?

14 A It's a hope.

15 Q "Pulling" implies a little bit more than a hope, does it
16 not?

17 A Not in my view, sir.

18 Q You're the governor's right-hand man at the time, are you
19 not?

20 A There's nothing in my job description or my contractual
21 agreement that puts that label on me, sir.

22 Q Is there anybody you know of who was closer to the 23 governor in terms of this operation relative to who's going 24 to be hired as emergency manager and who's going to do the 25 legal work than you?

1 A My job was to source talent.

2 Q Anybody that you knew from your involvement in the 3 process had any more in a role of it than you?

4 A I don't have a perspective to tell you. My job was to 5 source talent. There were a lot of people involved in the 6 City of Detroit issues.

7 Q But you were the one that was involved to source talent;
8 correct?

9 A Correct.

10 Q And part of sourcing talent was your determination that 11 Orr would be good talent for the emergency manager's job;
12 correct?

13 A My job was to assess his experience and qualifications
14 for that job, yes.

15 Q Okay. And part of your role in assessing talent would be 16 to assess that the Jones Day law firm would also be a good
17 choice for the City of Detroit, would it not?

18 A No, sir. That was not my role.

19 Q I thought you said your role was in talent
20 identification.

21 A Well, there's a difference between talent identification
22 for an emergency manager possibility and recommending a law
23 firm to a city that has to make its own decision.

24 Q What did Kevyn Orr say to you when you told him on 25 January 31st that you'd be pulling for Jones Day?

1 A I don't recall what he said at that time.

2 Q Do you recall a conversation a couple weeks later with
3 Kevyn Orr where you talked both about his retention and the 4 retention of Jones Day?

5 A I'm sorry. Ask the question again.

6 Q Do you recall having a conversation with Kevyn Orr around
7 the middle of February of this year in which you talked to 8 Mr. Orr both about the possibility of his being retained and 9 in that same conversation him bringing up the possibility of 10 Jones Day being retained?

11 A I don't recall explicitly, but I would have said probably 12 the same thing to Kevyn Orr that I said to Steve Brogan,
13 which is in my -- which I've already testified I probably had 14 no right to say, but my issue was I wanted permission to talk
15 to Kevyn Orr about the prospects for this opportunity, and I
16 did not want it to have a positive or a negative impact on 17 anything occurring between Kevyn Orr's firm and the City of 18 Detroit.

19 Q Mr. Baird, isn't pulling for Jones Day a little bit
20 stronger than not having it hurt Jones Day? Don't you
21 recognize a difference between those two phrases?

22 A No, sir, I don't. I know it's --

23 Q You've answered my question. Thank you.

24 MR. WERTHEIMER: Would you put 807 up, please?

25 BY MR. WERTHEIMER:

1 Q I'm going to ask you, Mr. Baird, if this refreshes your
2 memory as to the specifics between you and Mr. Orr around
3 February 13th. This is an e-mail he's sending to you
4 February 13th, and I'm directing your attention down to he's
5 saying to you, "In the interim" -- you with me --

6 A Yes.

7 Q -- "when you have time, I'd like to speak with you about
8 the timing and process for both the retention of the EM" --
9 i.e., him -- "and legal counsel" -- i.e., Jones Day. Do you
10 recall Mr. Orr e-mailing you asking you if you could have --
11 he could have that conversation with you?

12 A Well, I recall this e-mail, but I didn't specifically
13 recall this part about the request and process for timing of 14 the EM and legal counsel.

15 Q Do you recall it now?

16 A Well, I see it's here, so -- and I read the rest of the 17 e-mail, so I now agree that it's part of the same e-mail.

18 Q Okay. And you agree that Kevyn Orr wants to communicate
19 that information to you; correct?

20 A Well, I mean I agree that he says, "In the interim, when 21 you have time, I'd like to speak with you about the timing
22 and process for both the retention of the EM and legal 23 counsel." That's what this memo says.

24 Q And didn't you understand when you received it that what 25 Orr was doing was continuing the pitch, this time both for

1 himself and for Jones Day, to make sure that both things
2 would be accomplished?

3 A No, sir.

4 Q No? Do you recall talking to Mr. Orr after receiving
5 this e-mail about this per his request?

6 A I spoke with Mr. Orr several times over this period of 7 time, and I don't recall talking about this request.

8 MR. WERTHEIMER: That's all I have, Mr. Baird.
9 Thank you.

10 DIRECT EXAMINATION

11 BY MS. LEVINE:

12 Q Good morning, Mr. Baird.

13 A Good morning.

14 Q Sharon Levine, Lowenstein Sandler, for AFSCME. Just a
15 couple of questions if you would. You testified that when 16 you were with your consulting firm before you were retained
17 by the state, your client was the NERD Fund; correct?

18 A Correct.

19 Q And in that capacity, the NERD Fund paid you, but you
20 provided services benefitting the state; correct?

21 A Yes.

22 Q Do you know if the NERD Fund paid for any other
23 consultants that provided services benefitting the state or
24 the City of Detroit?

25 A I don't know.

1 Q Do you know if there are any other funds or affiliations
2 that paid for the services of consultants that provided
3 services to the city in connection with Detroit?

4 A No.

5 Q No, there aren't any, or, no, you don't know?

6 A I don't know.

7 Q I apologize. It was my -- it was my question that was 8 off. Okay. So when did you start providing services to the 9 governor, again?

10 A In January of 2011.

11 Q And at the point in time that you started providing those 12 services, was it your understanding that the governor's view
13 was that Detroit was already financially distressed?

14 A It was my understanding that the governor was concerned
15 about Detroit's financial condition, yes.

16 Q In addition to the assistance you provided the governor
17 in connection with the selection of Jones Day and the 18 emergency manager, did you have any involvement in the 19 selection or retention of Ernst & Young, Miller Buckfire, or 20 Conway MacKenzie?

21 A Not in the selection or retention, no.

22 Q During the course of the time that you provided services
23 for the governor, did you interact with Ernst & Young?

24 A Yes.

25 Q Did you interact with them in 2002?

1 A I'm sorry. Two thousand --

2 Q Two. I'm sorry. 2012. Sorry. I'm tired.

3 A I would have to check that.

4 THE COURT: Ms. Levine, could you pull the 5 microphone a little closer to you, please?

6 MS. LEVINE: Yes, your Honor. I'm sorry.

7 THE COURT: Thank you.

8 BY MS. LEVINE:

9 Q Were you involved at all with the -- providing services
10 to the governor -- actually, let me start a different way.
11 Are you aware that in late 2011, early 2012, there were 12 negotiations with a coalition of unions and the City of 13 Detroit with regard to some concessionary bargaining?

14 A I believe I was, yes.

15 Q And that Ernst & Young was involved in those or attended
16 those negotiations as a consultant for the city?

17 A I don't know that or at least I don't recall that.

18 Q How did you become aware of those negotiations?

19 A I believe through the newspapers.

20 Q Did you have any involvement or discussions about those 21 negotiations other than through learning about them through 22 the press?

23 A Not that I recall, no.

24 Q Did you have any discussions with the governor about 25 those negotiations?

1 A No.

2 Q Did you have any discussions with Mr. Dillon about those
3 negotiations?

4 A Not that I recall.

5 MS. LEVINE: I have no further questions. Thank
6 you.

7 DIRECT EXAMINATION

8 BY MS. GREEN:

9 Q Good morning, Mr. Baird. Jennifer Green on behalf of the 10 General Retirement System and the Police and Fire Retirement
11 Systems for the City of Detroit.

12 A Good morning.

13 Q Who is Dennis Muchmore?

14 A He's the governor's chief of staff.

15 Q And do you interface with him on a regular basis?

16 A Yes.

17 Q Do you recall discussing the issue of the governor's
18 authorization letter for the Chapter 9 filing in or about 19 July of 2013 with Mr. Muchmore?

20 A Not the authorization letter, no.

21 Q How about the request letter from Kevyn Orr?

22 A No.

23 Q Do you remember a meeting in or around July 12th relating 24 to the governor's authorization of the Chapter 9 filing?

25 A I'm sorry. A meeting -- say that again.

1 Q Do you recall a meeting in or around July -- on or around
2 July 12th relating to the governor's authorization for the
3 Chapter 9 filing?

4 A There were several meetings, and they were subject to 5 attorney-client privilege. And I was in some of them and not 6 in others, but I don't recall the specific one that you're 7 asking about.

8 Q When you say the "attorney-client privilege," which 9 attorney do you recall being at the meeting?

10 A Well, it wasn't always the same one, but it would be
11 usually Mike Gadola or someone in Mike Gadola's shop.

12 MS. GREEN: Your Honor, I believe that the privilege
13 has been waived with respect to that meeting. There's a
14 document that was admitted into evidence. It's UAW Exhibit
15 625, and I believe that all privilege assertions have been 16 waived with respect to that meeting. We discussed this 17 meeting yesterday.

18 THE COURT: Well, I suggest you ask your questions,
19 and we'll see what objections, if any, we get on this ground,
20 and we'll deal with it on a question-by-question basis.

21 MS. GREEN: I will certainly do so. I was trying to 22 head off an objection that I felt was coming, so --

23 BY MS. GREEN:

24 Q You do recall a meeting with Mike Gadola the week of July
25 12th?

1 A Counselor, we have a lot of meetings, and so I'd have to
2 go back and check that specific one and look for triggers to
3 help my recollection.

4 Q Sounds like an invitation for me.

5 MS. GREEN: Can we pull up Exhibit 625, please?

6 BY MS. GREEN:

7 Q The top part of that e-mail discusses a Monday meeting
8 the week of July 12th, which actually it would have placed 9 the meeting earlier in the week. Does that refresh your 10 recollection as to whether you had a meeting with certain
11 state officials relating to the governor's authorization?

12 A Well, I don't recall a specific meeting, but it says here
13 that Mr. Gadola spoke to me, Rich, this morning, and so I
14 would have no reason to think that's not accurate.

15 Q Do you recall discussing and taking the position that the 16 governor should take a more deliberative approach to his 17 authorization of the Chapter 9 filing?

18 MR. ELLSWORTH: Your Honor, I object. The privilege
19 has been waived with respect to the document but not the 20 discussions.

21 THE COURT: The objection is overruled. Please
22 answer the question.

23 THE WITNESS: Would you repeat the question?

24 BY MS. GREEN:

25 Q Can I repeat the question? I don't remember the exact

1 wording, but my question was do you recall discussing the
2 issue of the governor's authorization and whether or not a
3 more deliberative approach should be taken with respect to 4 that authorization?

5 A I don't recall "more deliberative" ever being part of a
6 conversation between Mike and I. I do recall perhaps what 7 he's referring to.

8 Q Okay. Can you explain what that would be?

9 A We had had conversations about whether it might be
10 advisable to have contingencies around this process, and I
11 had provided the opinion that I thought a contingency would 12 be appropriate, and that contingency would be in the form of 13 a control that the governor would have to approve certain 14 areas of concern.

15 Q And what were these certain areas of concern?

16 A I don't recall specifically, but it would have covered
17 any of the entire spectrum of liabilities or claims by
18 creditors.

19 Q Was one of those areas of concern the pension benefits?

20 A Well, certainly the pension liabilities were a
21 significant component.

22 Q So you agreed with other state officials that a more
23 deliberative approach should be taken due to this contingency
24 issue?

25 A I'm not sure I would have termed it as "a more

1 deliberative approach." What my particular opinion was --
2 and I come from a long time with a large public accounting
3 firm -- that I thought it would be advisable to have an 4 internal control or a check and balance relative to the 5 governor's approval of certain things that might go into a
6 plan of adjustment.

7 Q And others shared your view; correct?

8 A I didn't have conversations with anyone other than Mike
9 Gadola on this.

10 Q Did you have a discussion with Treasurer -- you did not
11 have a discussion with Treasurer Dillon then?

12 A I don't believe so.

13 Q Do you recall a discussion with Lieutenant Governor Brian
14 Calley on this issue?

15 A I don't recall talking to either of those individuals.
16 From this memorandum, it would appear that Mike Gadola did,
17 though.

18 Q Do you know ultimately why such a contingency was not
19 included with the authorization of the Chapter 9 filing?

20 A I would have to speculate. I mean I know that the 21 governor did not agree, but I'd have to speculate as to what 22 the reason might be.

23 Q Outside of Lieutenant Governor Calley, Attorney General
24 Mike Gadola, Treasurer Dillon, and yourself, were there
25 others that also shared the belief that a contingency was

1 appropriate?

2 A I don't know that.

3 Q Do you know if there were people within the city that
4 believed that a contingency was appropriate?

5 A I don't know that.

6 Q Do you recall communicating with Dennis Muchmore via e-
7 mail the week of July 12th relating to this issue separate
8 and apart from this e-mail?

9 A No, I don't. I don't believe I did, but I don't recall
10 if I did.

11 MS. GREEN: Your Honor, I have a new e-mail that was 12 produced by the state after the pretrial order was already 13 entered, so it is not on the pretrial list, but I believe 14 because it was produced on the 25th of October it is 15 appropriate to be able to use the document, and I have copies
16 for counsel.

17 THE COURT: Okay. One second. Do you have a number
18 for it?

19 MS. GREEN: It's 872.

20 THE COURT: 872.

21 MS. GREEN: May I approach?

22 THE COURT: Are you going to ask the witness to 23 identify it? Is that your plan? Okay. And I guess we'll 24 need copies, too, at some point. Thank you, sir.

25 BY MS. GREEN:

1 Q Do you recognize the document that I just handed to you,
2 sir?

3 A I'd like to read it, please.

4 Q Absolutely.

5 A Yes. I recall this.

6 Q Okay. And do you agree that the vast majority of the e-
7 mail is the same as Exhibit 625 that I just showed you with 8 the exception of a slight modification to the top of the 9 document, which is a new portion of an e-mail?

10 A I'm not sure I follow your question, but I believe that 11 it was -- that I was not copied on any of this e-mail until 12 Dennis Muchmore sent me what you've just provided me.

13 Q My question was just that the -- 75 percent of this e-
14 mail is the exact same e-mail chain that we just discussed.
15 That was Exhibit 625. Do you recognize that they are the 16 same document largely?

17 A I'm still confused.

18 Q We can move on. I was just asking if you recall that we 19 just discussed the same e-mail, which is a slightly
20 different --

21 A May I add to my testimony because this has jogged my 22 recollection?

23 Q Okay.

24 A I did not recall a specific meeting with lieutenant
25 governor and Treasurer Dillon, and the reason I didn't recall

1 it is because we had dinner together as part of a -- of 2 something another staff person who lectures at University of
3 Michigan had arranged for some of his students, and so we did
4 have a few moments before that dinner began, and I remember
5 we did talk about contingencies.

6 Q Okay.

7 A So I'd like to amend my testimony. I recall that.

8 Q Is there anything else that you recall relating to that
9 conversation regarding contingencies specifically?

10 A No.

11 Q Okay. The top of the e-mail to you, you wrote "left a 12 voicemail for you," and that is a voicemail to Dennis
13 Muchmore, correct, the chief of staff?

14 A Correct.

15 Q He wrote back to you --

16 MS. GREEN: And if we could pull up Exhibit 872.
17 It's a July 12th, 2013, e-mail.

18 BY MS. GREEN:

19 Q "Thanks. This La Costa" --

20 THE COURT: You have not offered this yet.

21 MS. GREEN: Oh, I'm sorry. I actually wanted to 22 make sure that he recognized the top part before I offered
23 it. I was going to ask him --

24 THE COURT: Well, you can just ask that question.

25 MS. GREEN: Okay.

1 THE COURT: Sure.

2 BY MS. GREEN:

3 Q Mr. Baird, do you recognize the top half of the e-mail?
4 That's the new portion.

5 A I now know what he's referring to, but I don't recognize
6 the e-mail. I'm not even sure I read it.

7 Q So you know what he's referring to, but you don't know if
8 you read the e-mail?

9 A Well, what I'm saying is he refers to this "La Costa is 10 not all it's cracked up to be," and I recall --

11 THE COURT: Don't tell us what's in it until we 12 admit it into evidence.

13 THE WITNESS: I'm sorry, your Honor.

14 THE COURT: The only question before you now is do
15 you recognize the top portion of the e-mail? Have you seen
16 it before?

17 THE WITNESS: I don't recall having seen this e-mail
18 before.

19 THE COURT: All right.

20 BY MS. GREEN:

21 Q Do you deny that you would have received the e-mail? You
22 just don't specifically remember it?

23 MR. SHUMAKER: Objection. Asked and answered.

24 MS. GREEN: Well, I think the -- I thought it was a
25 different question. I mean --

1 THE COURT: It is a different question, but it's not
2 a particularly relevant question.

3 MS. GREEN: Okay.

4 BY MS. GREEN:

5 Q What was the reference to -- that you remembered?

6 THE COURT: I'm sorry. What? Could you rephrase
7 that?

8 MS. GREEN: He said that he had -- it referred him
9 to something, and he remembered. I'm asking --

10 THE WITNESS: The Judge just admonished me. I don't 11 care to be admonished again.

12 MS. GREEN: Your Honor, I guess I'm asking can I
13 refresh his recollection with it? Is that okay? Can I
14 refresh his recollection as to what his reference was? I
15 believe even if it's not admitted I can refresh his 16 recollection as to what he was -- what this meant.

17 THE COURT: It sounds like you're asking him what's 18 in the document, and I can't permit that. If you have a 19 different question, we can try it.

20 MS. GREEN: Okay.

21 BY MS. GREEN:

22 Q Do you recall having conversations with Dennis Muchmore
23 the week of July 12th regarding the process related to 24 Chapter 9?

25 A No.

1 Q Do you recall communicating with Dennis Muchmore via e-
2 mail relating to the process of Chapter 9?

3 A I do not recall, no, while he was away.

4 Q If there is a -- was there a shared understanding that
5 the process was becoming long?

6 A I don't know that.

7 Q Would there have been some sort of shared sentiment that 8 the process was becoming worn or lengthy?

9 A I don't know that. I mean --

10 MS. GREEN: Your Honor, if I might try it this way,
11 I believe that this document is a party admission. We've 12 been admitting e-mails from state officials throughout the 13 proceeding as an admission of a party, and this is another e-
14 mail nearly identical to Exhibit 625 that was admitted as a 15 party admission.

16 THE COURT: Any objection?

17 MR. ELLSWORTH: Well, I object. He says that he
18 doesn't recognize the document. He can't identify it, so it
19 shouldn't be admitted.

20 THE COURT: It can only be a party admission if it's 21 authenticated, and the witness can't authenticate it.

22 MS. GREEN: I believe there's a difference between 23 not specifically remember reading an e-mail and being able to 24 authenticate it. Yes, this is to me. I recognize the date.
25 I recognize the people on it. I recognize this is an e-mail

1 that I would have received but for perhaps I don't
2 specifically recall reading e-mails from several months ago.
3 I think the authentication bar is much lower than being able
4 to substantively testify to it.

5 THE COURT: As low as it is, still the witness has 6 to be able to testify that he has seen it before, and he does
7 not remember seeing it before. Am I right about that, sir?

8 THE WITNESS: That's correct.

9 THE COURT: All right. So the objection is
10 sustained.

11 MS. GREEN: My last attempt is it was produced via 12 subpoena by the State of Michigan specifically by a request
13 from the parties on October 25th. I believe the 14 authentication bar is very low in the fact that they produced 15 it and that --

16 THE COURT: Did the state produce this e-mail, sir?

17 MR. ELLSWORTH: Yes.

18 THE COURT: Doesn't that establish its 19 authentication?

20 MR. ELLSWORTH: Well, I don't think that establishes
21 the authentication. You can't admit a --

22 THE COURT: Why wouldn't it? The state wouldn't --

23 MR. ELLSWORTH: Because this witness --

24 THE COURT: The state wouldn't produce an
25 inauthentic e-mail, would it?

1 MR. ELLSWORTH: No, your Honor, but this witness
2 doesn't recognize the document and doesn't recall receiving
3 it.

4 THE COURT: Right, but you just admitted the 5 document is authentic.

6 MR. ELLSWORTH: The state produced the document,
7 yes, your Honor.

8 THE COURT: All right. And what is the document
9 offered for? And we're talking about the top part of it,
10 right --

11 MS. GREEN: Yes. He had a --

12 THE COURT: -- because the rest of it was already
13 admitted?

14 MS. GREEN: It sparked his recollection about he
15 knew what this reference was to, and he -- when I showed him
16 the e-mail he remembered, and he said he had testimony he 17 knew what this meant, so the question is what is this 18 reference to and what does it mean to you and --

19 THE COURT: All right. The Court will reverse its 20 prior ruling and admit the document into evidence. What 21 number was it again?

22 MS. GREEN: Exhibit 872.

23 THE COURT: All right.

24 (Exhibit 872 received at 11:30 a.m.)

25 BY MS. GREEN:

1 Q Mr. Baird, you've read the e-mail now. At the top of the 2 e-mail you stated earlier that this sparked your recollection
3 of either a conversation or an incident or something of that
4 nature. Can you explain that, please?

5 A I recollect that members of the governor's team had
6 discussed contingencies as a recommendation to the governor
7 and that the chief of staff said it's time to take this to 8 the governor and get a decision.

9 Q What did you understand to be meant by the "kind of worn"
10 phrase?

11 A He's talking about the resort where that particular
12 conference was being held.

13 Q Oh, okay.

14 A That's what sparked my recollection.

15 Q Recollection of -- okay.

16 MS. GREEN: Your Honor, I don't have any further
17 questions. However, Exhibit 836 was also produced by the 18 state. I don't know if that would mean that the -- your 19 ruling that it's authentic because it was produced by the 20 state would also apply equally to that. It was an Andy
21 Dillon e-mail produced by the State of Michigan.

22 MR. SHUMAKER: Your Honor, that was a hearsay
23 objection. It was not an authentication objection.

24 THE COURT: Let's just pause for just a second. Can 25 you produce that for me again?

1 MS. GREEN: 836?

2 THE COURT: Please.

3 MS. GREEN: Yes.

4 THE COURT: I remember seeing it, but I need to see
5 it again. Okay. Ms. Green, we have it here, so we're all
6 set. Thank you, Kelli. So stand by one second, please.
7 Counsel, did the state produce Exhibit 836 in discovery?

8 MR. ELLSWORTH: Yes, your Honor.

9 THE COURT: All right. Then the Court will reverse
10 its earlier denial of the admission of this document and 11 admit it into evidence.

12 (Exhibit 836 received at 11:33 a.m.)

13 MS. GREEN: Thank you, your Honor. I have nothing
14 further for Mr. Baird.

15 MR. RUEGGER: Good morning, your Honor.

16 DIRECT EXAMINATION

17 BY MR. RUEGGER:

18 Q Good morning, Mr. Baird.

19 A Good morning.

20 Q You probably don't remember me. I appeared at your 21 deposition but didn't ask you any questions. My name is 22 Arthur Ruegger from the Dentons firm. We represent the 23 Retirees' Committee. I have a couple of issues I'd like to 24 talk to you about this morning. Shouldn't be too long,
25 though. The first is the date when Mr. Orr accepted your

1 invitation or the state's invitation to become emergency
2 manager. Do you remember the specific date he said yes?

3 A No.

4 Q You'll recall Mr. Wertheimer showed you an exhibit. It
5 was 807. I think it was an e-mail dated February 13th, and 6 that, if I read it correctly, seems to indicate he had not 7 yet made his mind up. Is that consistent with your 8 recollection?

9 A Yes.

10 Q I'm going to ask to show you a document that may refresh
11 your recollection about the timing of his acceptance. I have 12 a document marked for identification RC Exhibit 460.

13 MR. RUEGGER: With your Honor's permission, I'll 14 present it to the witness.

15 THE COURT: Yes, sir.

16 MR. RUEGGER: It's not on the list, gentlemen. It's 17 just marked for identification. I haven't offered it yet.

18 THE WITNESS: All right. I've completed my review.

19 BY MR. RUEGGER:

20 Q Does that refresh your recollection, sir, about the date
21 that Mr. Orr accepted the position as emergency manager?

22 A No, sir.

23 Q Do you recognize that document?

24 A I believe I have seen this document, yes.

25 Q Can you tell us what it is?

1 A It is a --

2 MR. SHUMAKER: Your Honor, we would object before
3 the witness gets into the exhibit that this exhibit was not
4 on the pretrial exhibit list.

5 MR. RUEGGER: It was only recently produced, and I
6 only found it within the last day or so, so I don't believe
7 it was produced before the date of the pretrial order.

8 MR. SHUMAKER: This is a document produced in the 9 Davis litigation.

10 MR. RUEGGER: I don't have any basis to question
11 your --

12 THE COURT: Counsel, I have to ask you to address
13 your comments to the Court, not to each other.

14 MR. RUEGGER: Sorry, your Honor.

15 THE COURT: So the question is when was this 16 document produced or how?

17 MR. SHUMAKER: Your Honor, again, this was not on 18 the pretrial exhibit list, and the indications are that it
19 was a document produced in the Robert Davis litigation, which 20 predated the deadline of the pretrial order.

21 THE COURT: And just so we're clear, what number
22 exhibit are we talking about?

23 MR. RUEGGER: It's Exhibit Number 460, your Honor.

24 THE COURT: Okay.

25 MR. RUEGGER: We've only marked it today. It's not

1 on the pretrial list. Mr. Shumaker is correct about that.
2 And I believe there's an objection to my question as to
3 whether the witness can identify the document.

4 MR. SHUMAKER: You were asking him questions about
5 the document's contents. That's why I objected.

6 MR. RUEGGER: Well, I believe my question was 7 whether he could identify the document.

8 THE COURT: No. He said he could recall it. Then
9 you asked him --

10 MR. SHUMAKER: What is it?

11 THE COURT: -- what is it?

12 MR. SHUMAKER: Another objection --

13 THE COURT: I'll allow it to be identified for the 14 record, but if you offer it in evidence, we're going to have 15 to deal with this issue of it not being on the list. Can you
16 just tell us generally what the document is without telling
17 us the contents?

18 THE WITNESS: The document is a -- is the forwarding
19 of a prospective timetable of communications and 20 announcements predicated upon Kevyn final decision, which at 21 the time of this document had not been made.

22 BY MR. RUEGGER:

23 Q So is it your testimony, sir, that as of the date of this
24 document, Mr. Orr had not made any final decision?

25 A Yes.

1 Q But I believe your testimony was that you were forwarding
2 to him a proposed timetable on the contingency that he would
3 make a final decision?

4 A I can't answer your question without the judge's
5 permission because there's a key part of this that I believe
6 you're ignoring.

7 Q Apart from the document, sir, did you forward to Mr. Orr
8 a proposed timetable related to his potential acceptance of 9 the emergency manager position and the events that would 10 follow from that acceptance?

11 A Pursuant to his decision, yes.

12 Q And which decision was that?

13 A The decision of whether he would accept this nomination
14 if recommended.

15 Q And you forwarded that timetable before he gave you his 16 decision?

17 A Yes.

18 Q Do you recall how far in advance of his decision you
19 forwarded that timetable?

20 A I don't remember his exact date.

21 Q So even before his decision, the state had a proposed 22 timetable for events that were to follow from receipt of his 23 decision?

24 A It was a -- it was a tentative plan, yes.

25 Q Okay. And can you tell us what dates or events were part

1 of that timetable?

2 A Well, that would be giving the content of the memorandum.

3 Q Without -- sorry, your Honor. Without basing your 4 testimony on the document in front of you, from your
5 recollection, can you recall those events?

6 A No, I cannot.

7 MR. RUEGGER: Okay. I would offer Exhibit 460 in
8 evidence.

9 MR. SHUMAKER: Same objection, your Honor, and
10 hearsay.

11 THE COURT: Well, what do you have to suggest that 12 you only recently got this document, for example, after the 13 final pretrial?

14 MR. RUEGGER: Your Honor, the Retirees' Committee
15 was not part of the Davis litigation. We did not serve a
16 subpoena on Jones Day in any litigation. We've learned about 17 some of these productions in the course of the depositions
18 leading up to this trial, but we were behind the eight ball,
19 if you will, in terms of learning about this. We tried to 20 follow up when we could. It was a hectic schedule. We only 21 got these documents in the last 48 hours, to the best of my
22 knowledge.

23 MR. SHUMAKER: Your Honor, the Retiree Committee has 24 multiple documents that are based -- are documents produced
25 in the Davis litigation, specifically Exhibits 400, 401, 402,

1 403, so clearly Retirees' Committee had time in advance of
2 the joint pretrial order to submit this document.

3 THE COURT: May I see a copy, please?

4 MR. SHUMAKER: May I approach?

5 MR. RUEGGER: Your Honor --

6 THE COURT: The Court concludes -- I'm sorry.

7 MR. RUEGGER: I'm sorry, your Honor. In response to 8 Mr. Shumaker's objection that we had documents from the Davis
9 litigation, we attended the Orr deposition. Someone
10 marked -- was it -- I don't know if it was ours -- some 11 documents from certain of these litigations, but, to the best
12 of my knowledge, we were behind the eight ball trying to get 13 these documents. I don't have a personal knowledge as to 14 exactly when we did get these.

15 THE COURT: The Court concludes that the record does 16 establish cause for the late addition of this document to the 17 exhibit list. The other objection is overruled. Exhibit 460
18 is admitted.

19 (Exhibit 460 received at 11:43 a.m.)

20 MR. RUEGGER: Thank you, your Honor. May I proceed?

21 THE COURT: Yes. Did we give you your document
22 back?

23 MR. RUEGGER: Do you want an extra copy? You're
24 okay.

25 THE COURT: Oh, yes. I need a copy. So that's our

1 copy that we have? Okay.

2 BY MR. RUEGGER:

3 Q Mr. Baird, can you tell us now what Exhibit 460 is?

4 A Exhibit 460 is my forwarding a tentative communications
5 timetable that was given to me by the governor's press
6 secretary to Kevyn Orr on February 21st, 2013.

7 Q And that timetable contemplates a date where the governor
8 would announce his recommendation of Mr. Orr as emergency
9 financial manager; correct?

10 THE WITNESS: May I read from the document, your
11 Honor?

12 THE COURT: Yes.

13 THE WITNESS: "A Thursday, March 14th, date for 14 governor to confirm the emergency post-hearing as required
15 legally and recommend ELB candidate and for the ELB to 16 confirm and make the emergency financial manager
17 appointment."

18 BY MR. RUEGGER:

19 Q And if you turn to the last page of that document, the 20 timetable also contemplated that Mr. Orr would start in his 21 official capacity as of March 25th; correct?

22 A That was the working timetable, yes, sir.

23 Q And would this timetable have slipped at all if Mr. Orr
24 had not accepted the position on or about the date you sent 25 this timetable?

1 A For Mr. Orr, yes.

2 Q So there were other candidates that the governor might
3 have recommended to comply with this timetable?

4 A I'm sorry. Say that again.

5 Q If I understood your testimony correctly, you said that
6 if Mr. Orr had not accepted promptly on or about the date you
7 sent the timetable, the timetable would have slipped for
8 Mr. Orr.

9 A Mr. Orr had not made his decision at the time of this,
10 and it was predicated on something needing to happen that had 11 not yet happened, and so this was all very tentative.

12 Q You state in the first paragraph on the first page that,
13 "We would like you here physically for announcement,
14 stakeholder meetings, and media on March 15 and as much of 15 the following week as you could manage before the start date
16 of March 25th."

17 THE COURT: What is your question?

18 BY MR. RUEGGER:

19 Q My question is did Mr. Orr say he could be physically
20 available on those dates?

21 A I don't recall him saying because it was contingent upon
22 something else happening.

23 Q Do you recall approximately -- or specifically when after 24 you sent this e-mail Mr. Orr accepted the position?

25 A Well, Mr. Orr never accepted the position. He only

1 accepted the nomination of the governor to the Emergency Loan
2 Board, so there was no acceptance of position until that
3 action had occurred.

4 Q I stand corrected. When did Mr. Orr indicate to you he 5 accepted whatever positions or contingencies you were 6 offering?

7 A I don't remember the exact date, but I know it was after 8 this memo.

9 Q Thank you, sir. I'd like to switch time and subject
10 slightly to July of this year. Do you recall whether you had 11 any role in the structuring of the city's advisors' fees in 12 the upcoming Chapter 9 proceeding?

13 A I'm sorry. Say that again, please.

14 Q In July of this year, as everyone in this courtroom
15 knows, there was a petition for Chapter 9 relief on behalf of 16 the city. Leading up to that petition, did you have any role
17 in the structuring of the fees for the city's various 18 advisors in that Chapter 9 proceeding?

19 A Not structuring of the fees, no, sir.

20 Q What role, if any, did you have?

21 A I was requested by the emergency manager to go back to 22 members of the restructuring team and discuss putting a finer
23 point on their fees, which the original estimates were higher
24 than what the emergency manager believed were affordable.

25 Q Do you recall compiling proposed fees for each of the 1 advisors to the city in that connection?

2 A Compiling fees?

3 Q Did you determine any approximate fees for those advisors
4 going forward?

5 A I had conversations with the principals of those entities
6 about reducing the estimates that they had previously
7 provided.

8 Q So if I understand you correctly, the advisors had given
9 estimates for their fees in the Chapter 9 proceeding, and you
10 were tasked with engaging with them about whether those fees
11 could be reduced?

12 A Yes.

13 Q Do you recall communications with Mr. Saxton and Mr.
14 Dillon at Treasury on this subject?

15 A Yes, I do.

16 Q What did you tell them?

17 A When?

18 Q On or about July 16th, 2013.

19 A I don't recall the exact -- can you tell me is that 20 before or after I had the conversations with the 21 restructuring team principals?

22 Q Well, I'm not allowed to tell you that, sir, but if I
23 can --

24 A Then I don't recall.

25 MR. RUEGGER: Can I approach the witness with an

1 exhibit that I believe will help refresh his recollection?

2 THE COURT: You may.

3 THE WITNESS: Yes. This is consistent with my prior 4 testimony and does help me recollect.

5 THE COURT: Excuse me, sir. The only question was 6 does that document refresh your recollection on this point.

7 THE WITNESS: Yes, it does.

8 BY MR. RUEGGER:

9 Q Thank you. Do you recall on or about that date giving 10 Mr. Saxton and Mr. Dillon estimated fees for the advisors to 11 the city in Chapter 9?

12 A Well, estimated reductions, which netted to estimated
13 fees, yes, sir.

14 Q Okay. Can you tell us without discussing the content
15 what the document that's been marked as 458 is?

16 A Well, yes. It's hard to -- the content is all numbers,
17 so -- but effectively it is -- as I said before, it is a
18 communication to Tom Saxton from -- to Tom Saxton and Andy
19 Dillon from me that deals with conversations that I had had 20 with Ernst & Young, Miller Buckfire, Jones Day, and Conway
21 MacKenzie dealing with a reduction in fee estimates.

22 MR. RUEGGER: Your Honor, we offer 458 in evidence.

23 MR. SHUMAKER: Objection, your Honor. It's another
24 brand new one. Also, it's hearsay.

25 MR. RUEGGER: Your Honor, it was produced by the

1 State of Michigan. Again, as with the earlier document, we
2 were behind the eight ball in terms of receipt of these
3 documents. We did not subpoena them ourselves. The other
4 parties did, but I only received this document in the last 24
5 hours.

6 THE COURT: All right. For the same reason, the 7 Court will overrule the objection and admit it into evidence.

8 (Exhibit 458 received at 11:52 a.m.)

9 MR. RUEGGER: Thank you, your Honor.

10 BY MR. RUEGGER:

11 Q So, Mr. Baird --

12 THE COURT: Before we proceed, however, I will ask 13 you over the lunch break, which we will take here shortly, to 14 advise counsel for the city and the state if there are any 15 other exhibits that you intend to offer into evidence on the 16 same grounds. All right? Will you do that?

17 MR. RUEGGER: I can certainly do it. I can state
18 now that are no such documents related to this witness, your 19 Honor, but I will ask my colleagues related to any other
20 witnesses.

21 THE COURT: And we need a copy of Exhibit 458. Can 22 you provide that for us, please? Thank you, sir.

23 BY MR. RUEGGER:

24 Q Mr. Baird, in the e-mail that's at the middle of the page
25 going to the bottom, which is, I believe, addressed from you

1 to Messrs. Saxton and Dillon, are those, as you testified
2 earlier, your determination of the fee reductions you believe
3 are achievable in the Chapter 9 case?

4 A I would testify that these are an accurate summary of my
5 conversations with each of those parties.

6 Q And you believe that the total fees from the four
7 advisory firms were approximately $75.2 million; is that
8 correct?

9 A Well, that's the mathematical exercise, yes. That's what 10 the memo says.

11 Q So what's the -- can you explain the difference between 12 the breakout of the four sets of fees that's in the beginning 13 of that e-mail and then the four sets of fees that's at the 14 bottom of that e-mail?

15 THE COURT: Excuse me, sir. I'm going to interrupt
16 your answer to that question. What's the relevance of all of 17 this?

18 MR. RUEGGER: Your Honor, there's several pieces of 19 relevance, one of which is whether the advisors had an 20 incentive to rush to Chapter 9 vis-a-vis the cap that might 21 have been on their fees before the Chapter 9, and that's one.
22 Another is the reasonableness of the $5 million advisory cap
23 that is stated in the appropriations part of PA 436. I'm not 24 going to spend a lot of time on this, Judge.

25 THE COURT: Yeah. I don't think any of those --

1 either of those is reasonably arguable, so I'm going to ask
2 you to move on.

3 MR. RUEGGER: Very well. I have no further
4 questions of this witness. Thank you. Thank you, Mr. Baird.

5 DIRECT EXAMINATION

6 BY MS. BRIMER:

7 Q Good morning, Mr. Baird. My name is Lynn Brimer. I
8 represent the Retired Detroit Police Members Association. I
9 only have a handful of questions for you. You indicated you
10 participated in the January 29 interview process for the law
11 firms. Were you aware that Miller Buckfire had shared the 12 interview questions with the Jones Day team?

13 A No.

14 Q Would you have considered it appropriate to have shared 15 the interview questions with the teams in advance of the
16 meeting?

17 A Well, you've characterized this as an interview. It was 18 not an interview.

19 Q So if it wasn't an interview, what was the meeting -- the 20 January 29 meeting intended to be?

21 A It was bringing together credentialed firms to address
22 various considerations to assist the city in creating a
23 request for proposal which would have had to go out
24 subsequent to that time.

25 Q You're aware that Jones Day put together what they

1 considered to be a pitch book for that meeting; correct?

2 A I'm aware that all of those firms invited would have
3 hoped to have been candidates for any future successful RFP.

4 Q Were you aware that Miller Buckfire had presented or 5 brought in Jones Day in the -- to Treasury in the process of 6 drafting the consent agreement?

7 A I don't believe so I was.

8 Q Okay. Were you aware that Miller Buckfire -- I mean that 9 Jones Day had provided advice in connection with revising
10 Public Act 4 to members of Treasury?

11 A No.

12 Q Do you know who drafted the RFP that was ultimately 13 issued in connection with the retention of counsel?

14 A I don't know who specifically drafted it.

15 Q Do you know whether or not Miller Buckfire participated
16 in the drafting of the RFP?

17 A I do not.

18 Q Now, you indicated you were not aware of when Mr. Orr
19 actually accepted his nomination by the governor. Do you
20 know when it was that the governor had finally -- or had 21 determined that Mr. Orr would be the candidate he nominated?

22 A I was asked about the exact date, and I did not recall
23 the exact date. And I would say that I don't recall the 24 exact date where the governor was involved in saying this is 25 my person either.

1 MS. BRIMER: Could we see Exhibit 807?

2 BY MS. BRIMER:

3 Q And I believe, Mr. Baird, this exhibit has already been
4 admitted into evidence. You'll see midway down there's an e-
5 mail from you to Mr. Orr. Do you see that?

6 A Yes.

7 Q That's dated February 12th; correct?

8 A February 12th, yes.

9 Q All right. And if you look at the second page or 10 perhaps -- yeah. We'll look at the second page. There's a 11 sentence in that very top paragraph, "Anyway, I need you to 12 clue me in" -- "to clue me in you are" -- if -- I believe 13 you're missing the word "if" -- "if you are feeling 14 differently because the boss" -- does the boss refer to the 15 governor --

16 A In this context, I think it did.

17 Q -- all right -- "and his team are already arranging for 18 the church and pastor, and I need to talk them off the ledge
19 if you tell me we are misreading the relationship." So was 20 it by at least -- was it by February 12th that the governor
21 had determined -- can you interpret from this that the 22 governor had determined that Mr. Orr would be the candidate
23 he nominated?

24 A I think the governor had determined by this point that 25 subject to further due diligence and research that he would

1 be very comfortable with this individual as his nomination.

2 Q Were you aware that after February 12 Mr. Orr continued
3 to share the e-mails that you and the governor had shared
4 with him with members of his team at Jones Day?

5 A Not at the time.

6 Q Have you since learned that?

7 A I believe I've seen some e-mails since then, yes.

8 Q Was Mr. Orr the only candidate that the governor
9 nominated in connection with this -- the EM position?

10 A Nominated to the ELB?

11 Q Yes.

12 A Yes.

13 MS. BRIMER: I have nothing further, your Honor.

14 THE COURT: Thank you. We'll stop for lunch now and 15 reconvene at 1:30, please.

16 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in recess.

17 (Recess at 12:01 p.m. until 1:30 p.m.)

18 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in session. Please
19 be seated. Recalling Case Number 13-53846, City of Detroit,
20 Michigan.

21 THE COURT: It appears everyone is here. You may 22 proceed.

23 MS. PATEK: Good afternoon, your Honor. Barbara
24 Patek on behalf of the Detroit public safety unions.

25 DIRECT EXAMINATION

1 BY MS. PATEK:

2 Q Good afternoon, Mr. Baird.

3 A Good afternoon.

4 Q Just a couple questions for you. You indicated in your 5 testimony this morning that you had advised the governor to 6 perhaps have some internal controls about what could go into
7 the plan. Can you tell me what those internal controls that 8 you advised were?

9 A There was really only one that was on my mind.

10 Q And what was that?

11 A That the governor reserved the right to approve decisions
12 taken of a particular magnitude before they were executed.

13 Q When you say "decisions of a particular magnitude," can 14 you explain what you mean by that?

15 A Proposed plan of adjustment kind of conditions of a
16 material nature.

17 Q Are you talking about diminishment or impairment of 18 certain obligations of the city?

19 A It could have been diminishment or impairment, but 20 specifically I didn't have monetary notion in mind. I had an 21 internal control of a secondary approval in mind. I can't 22 speak for the others relative to their notion of 23 contingencies.

24 Q So I take it those internal controls or contingencies
25 were not directly related to the pension issues in the case?

1 A Not in my mind, no.

2 Q Last series of questions. You indicated also that at 3 some point -- I think it was in June of 2003 (sic) -- the 4 emergency manager had raised some concerns about the fees of 5 the various professionals, and he consulted with you in that
6 regard.

7 A I don't recall if it was -- if it was the emergency
8 manager and the treasurer or just the emergency manager, but 9 I do recall the conversation with the emergency manager was 10 that he had not had an opportunity to talk with the members
11 of the restructuring team, the external lenders, the 12 professional firms, about their fee estimates, and that was 13 something that really needed to be done prior to any 14 potential filing.

15 Q And you said you put together some figures for him?

16 A I did. I put together some -- I put together an approach
17 that suggested here are two different approaches that we 18 might take in conversations with those individuals.

19 Q And who -- and for whom were you working at the time you
20 put those figures together?

21 A Well, I was doing this at the request of Emergency
22 Manager Kevyn Orr.

23 Q And did you see yourself as working at that point on 24 behalf of the state or on behalf of the city?

25 A I actually saw that I continued to work on behalf of my

1 own company, but I'd been asked to take on a task, and I
2 agreed to do that.

3 Q Okay. And did you see any conflict in that regard?

4 A No.

5 MS. PATEK: That's all I have. Thank you.

6 THE COURT: Anybody next? Questions from the state
7 or the city?

8 MR. ELLSWORTH: No, your Honor.

9 MR. SHUMAKER: The city has no questions, your
10 Honor.

11 THE COURT: Mr. Baird, you are excused. Thank you
12 very much for your testimony today.

13 THE WITNESS: Thank you, your Honor.

14 (Witness excused at 1:33 p.m.)

15 MR. KING: Good afternoon, your Honor. Ron King
16 with Clark Hill on behalf of the Retirement Systems. The 17 next witness we're going to call is Brad Robins.

18 THE COURT: Step forward, please, sir, and before
19 you sit down, please raise your right hand.

20 BRADLEY ROBINS, WITNESS, SWORN

21 THE COURT: Please sit down.

22 DIRECT EXAMINATION

23 BY MR. KING:

24 Q Good afternoon, Mr. Robins.

25 A Good afternoon.

1 Q For the record, will you please state your name and
2 business address, please?

3 A Yes. My name is Bradley A. Robins. I'm a managing 4 director at Greenhill & Company, 300 Park Avenue, New York,
5 New York.

6 Q And, Mr. Robins, could you briefly describe for the Court
7 your educational background?

8 A Sure. I have a BA in economics from Middlebury College
9 in Middlebury, Vermont. I have a law degree from the 10 University of Pennsylvania.

11 Q And where did you graduate from Middlebury College?

12 A 1986.

13 Q And when did you attend law school?

14 A University of Pennsylvania.

15 Q And when did you graduate from law school?

16 A 1990.

17 Q And for the benefit of the Court, we'd like to just go
18 through your professional background and experience. After 19 you graduated from law school, were you employed?

20 A Yes. My first job was as a law clerk to Judge Walter
21 Stapleton on the Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit, U.S.
22 Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit, and after --

23 Q And how long were you clerking?

24 A That was a one-year job. After that I was an attorney at 25 Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz in New York in the creditors'

1 rights department.

2 Q How long were you employed at Wachtell?

3 A I was employed there about six or so years, little more
4 than six years.

5 Q And what types of work did you do as an attorney at 6 Wachtell?

7 A As an attorney at Wachtell, I did restructurings,
8 bankruptcies, and financings along with leveraged buyouts.

9 Q When did you leave Wachtell?

10 A I left Wachtell in late 1998 or sometime in 1998,
11 thereabouts.

12 Q And did you take another position at that point?

13 A I did. I went to the investment banking firm of 14 Houlihan, Lokey, Howard & Zukin, and I joined the financial 15 restructuring group there.

16 Q And what type of work did you do at Houlihan Lokey?

17 A There again it was on the banking side rather than legal,
18 but I did restructurings, distressed M&A transactions,
19 assignments like that.

20 Q Can you give us some examples of the types of assignments
21 that you performed?

22 A We advised United Artists, the movie theater chain, when 23 they went through bankruptcy, worked with some oil and gas
24 companies doing out-of-court restructurings as well as 25 bankruptcies.

1 Q And what type of work were you specifically doing?

2 A Well, I was a vice president -- a senior vice president,
3 so I was kind of leading the execution team and overseeing
4 the associates and analysts on the assignments.

5 Q When you say "execution team," for my benefit, what does
6 that mean exactly?

7 A It means doing the day-to-day work on the assignments.

8 Q And how long were you at Houlihan Lokey?

9 A About two years, a little over two years.

10 Q And after you left Houlihan Lokey, where were you
11 employed?

12 A At Greenhill & Company.

13 Q And that is your present employer?

14 A Yes, it is.

15 Q And what year did you start with Greenhill?

16 A I began in late 2000 or the beginning of 2001.

17 Q And generally what types of work were you performing at 18 Greenhill?

19 A Very similar to Houlihan Lokey, so advising companies,
20 investors, stakeholders in companies that were distressed, in 21 and outside of court restructurings or companies looking to 22 invest in distressed companies.

23 Q And can you give us a little more specific understanding
24 of the types of work or the types of engagements that you're 25 undertaking?

1 A Sure. A lot of the clients are companies, so advising
2 companies who are recognizing or thinking about needing to
3 restructure. Those have included Loral, for example, AT&T
4 Canada, Refco, which was a commodities broker. We also
5 worked with creditors. And another significant client over
6 the years has been the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation,
7 which is the sort of quasi governmental entity that
8 guarantees -- insures private company pensions, and for them
9 I advise them in connection with a number of big 10 bankruptcies, American Airlines most recently, also --

11 Q Let me --

12 A Sorry.

13 Q Well, let me stop you there.

14 A Yep.

15 Q About how many engagements do you believe you've
16 undertaken for the PBGC?

17 A The PBGC, maybe six, six or so.

18 Q And for my benefit, can you explain exactly what the PBGC
19 does?

20 A Sure. I mean their role is to insure corporate pensions.
21 In bankruptcy cases, if a company terminates the pension
22 plan, the PBGC has to take on that -- take on the plan, so
23 the role for the PBGC in a bankruptcy is to really --
24 particularly in cases where companies are thinking about
25 terminating the plans, work to due diligence, negotiate

1 pushbacks so they keep the plans if possible and, if they
2 don't, figure out whether they can at least keep some, and
3 then negotiate the treatment they would receive in the 4 bankruptcy case if a plan is terminated.

5 Q Can you give us a specific example of where you were
6 performing those types of services?

7 A Yeah. I mean the most recent is American Airlines, and 8 American Airlines filed for bankruptcy a couple years ago,
9 you know. And when they did, they announced pretty quickly
10 they intended to terminate all the pension plans, so that was 11 a pretty good example of working with PBGC both as a member
12 of the creditors' committee but also to really diligence and 13 negotiate over that, the treatment of the pensions in the 14 plans.

15 Q Well, let me stop you there. Describe what you mean by 16 "diligence and negotiate" with respect to the pension
17 benefits.

18 A Okay. Well, you know, the question when American
19 Airlines -- American said they couldn't afford the pensions
20 anymore. They weren't affordable. One of the things that 21 happens early on in a restructuring discussion usually is a
22 company puts out a proposed business plan, so a big part of 23 the early work is reviewing that business plan, diligencing
24 that business plan, spending time with the leaders at the 25 airline who run the different parts of the business that

1 generate those revenues, understand it, really ask questions
2 and probe. Usually what ends up happening is changes are 3 made to a company's business plan during that process, so,
4 you know, that was the initial stage at American Airlines.
5 Also negotiating and talking to other creditors about what
6 the effect would be if the company did successfully terminate
7 the plans and together make the case that they couldn't 8 successfully do it if they tried and they --

9 Q I'm sorry. They could not successfully do it if they 10 tried?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And why was that?

13 A Because we were working to make the case and show that 14 they did have sufficient cash flows to afford the pension
15 plans in that case.

16 Q And what was the ultimate outcome in the American
17 Airlines matter?

18 A Ultimately, the plan that was confirmed keeps all the 19 pensions. It hasn't consummated yet because they're awaiting 20 the anti-trust trial with U.S. Airways, but the plan that's 21 been confirmed has all the pension plans still in place.

22 Q And what was your specific role in that engagement?

23 A I led the Greenhill team that advised PBGC. We, you
24 know, engaged in the negotiations on behalf of the business
25 folks at PBGC and deeply involved in the financial diligence

1 of American's business plan.

2 Q Is it possible for you to quantify the number of 3 restructurings that you'd been involved in in let's say the 4 last five years?

5 A Not specifically, but it would be dozens I would say.

6 Q It would be enough so that if I asked you if you could
7 define what your understanding of a proposal is that you
8 could do it; is that right?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And how would you define a proposal in the context of the 11 restructuring work that you performed?

12 A Well, a proposal would be a company or a debtor coming
13 forward with some pretty specific changes it wanted to make 14 to either debt or other obligations and laying out both the 15 specific changes it wants and the reasons for that.

16 Q Along those same lines, in your experience, how would you
17 define negotiations in the context of the restructuring work
18 you performed?

19 MR. CULLEN: Objection, your Honor. Is there a
20 point to having a lay witness define a common term?

21 MR. KING: This is his understanding of these terms,
22 your Honor, in the context of his experience and his work in 23 this industry.

24 THE COURT: I agree. I'll permit it.

25 THE WITNESS: Can you repeat the question?

1 BY MR. KING:

2 Q Sure. In your experience in the context of the 3 restructuring work you've done, what's your definition or how 4 would you define negotiations?

5 A Typically it would involve the initial proposal from the 6 party in a restructuring who wants to make changes to the 7 debt or other obligations it has, and then the creditors and 8 other stakeholders reviewing that proposal, coming back with 9 alternatives saying yes, no, or providing some other
10 alternative, and then there's a back and forth. It's based 11 on a combination of, you know, information that's available
12 and business leverage and negotiations.

13 Q In your professional experience, have you developed
14 proposals -- excuse me -- developed proposals addressing the 15 affordability of pension benefits?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And so that would be similar to the work that you did for 18 American, for example?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And in that same context, have you personally been 21 involved in negotiations regarding the treatment of pension
22 benefits?

23 A In a Chapter 11, yes.

24 Q So that's a good point. Have you ever had an engagement
25 involving a Chapter 9 proceeding?

1 A I have not.

2 Q Your experience is limited to Chapter 11?

3 A Yes.

4 Q Now, by virtue of the fact that you're sitting here
5 today, at some point you have been engaged in some capacity
6 to participate in the bankruptcy proceeding or the Detroit
7 restructuring matter?

8 A Correct.

9 Q Can you explain for the Court how you became involved in 10 this matter?

11 A Yes. I was contacted this spring by an attorney, Bob 12 Gordon, one of your partners, to ask if we'd be interested in 13 pitching for the role of financial advisor to the Retirement
14 Systems in contemplation of a potential restructuring of
15 Detroit.

16 Q And when you were initially contacted, what was your 17 understanding of the scope of that engagement?

18 A Well, my understanding -- it was certainly from the press
19 clear there were issues financially in Detroit. I was also 20 aware that they hadn't made some of the recent pension
21 payments that they were obligated to make, so, you know, it
22 was unclear exactly what the scope would be, but we expected
23 it would involve a fair amount of diligence on the city's 24 financial situation, and we expected there'd be negotiations
25 with the city over the treatment at least of the payments

1 that hadn't been made and maybe other items and also maybe
2 just advising the pensions' interest in the context of an
3 overall restructuring, including potentially a Chapter 9.

4 Q But initially it was really to assist in what -- if I
5 understand it correctly, was it to assist in what the 6 Retirement Systems believed would be a restructuring
7 negotiation on a going forward basis?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And you're aware that at least conceptually a Chapter 9
10 had been discussed either in the media or elsewhere?

11 A Yes.

12 Q Was it your understanding that you -- that Greenhill was 13 retained specifically to advise the Retirement Systems with 14 respect to a Chapter 9 filing?

15 A No.

16 Q And what is your understanding of the scope of the 17 testimony that you've been asked to provide today?

18 A My understanding is that I'm being asked to testify about 19 whether there were negotiations that took place between the 20 city and the Retirement Systems in advance of the Chapter 9
21 filing.

22 Q And in your judgment, had any negotiation -- did any
23 negotiations take place between the city and the Retirement
24 Systems prior to the Chapter 9 filing?

25 A No.

1 Q You're familiar with the June 14, 2013, proposal for
2 creditors?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And you're aware that there was a meeting that was
5 conducted at the Detroit airport with respect to that
6 proposal?

7 A Yes.

8 Q And did you attend that meeting?

9 A I did not.

10 Q Have you subsequently come to an understanding of what 11 occurred at that meeting?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And what's your understanding?

14 A My understanding is that Kevyn Orr and others took the 15 people who were there through a 120-page deck, and I'm not 16 sure exactly in what detail, but really starting to make the 17 case that the city was in serious financial issues and would 18 want to engage in restructuring discussions with the 19 creditors who were there.

20 Q And the deck you're referring to is the document that's 21 titled "Proposal for Creditors"?

22 A Correct.

23 Q And have you personally reviewed that document?

24 A I have.

25 Q And have members of your team reviewed that document?

1 A Yes.

2 Q Is it possible to characterize how many hours you or your
3 team may have spent analyzing the materials that were
4 presented in that deck, as you described it?

5 A I mean the deck itself I'm sure we've each spent at least
6 a few hours on it and then more diligence to the items behind
7 it.

8 MR. KING: Can we look at Exhibit 43, page 109,
9 please?

10 BY MR. KING:

11 Q And if I can turn your attention to the paragraph almost 12 at the bottom referring to claims for unfunded pension
13 liabilities.

14 A Yes.

15 Q See where I'm referring?

16 A Yes.

17 Q And you're familiar with that paragraph; correct?

18 A I am.

19 Q And would you consider this to be a proposal with respect
20 to the unfunded pension liabilities?

21 A It may be a proposal for the unfunded liabilities, but I
22 didn't consider it a proposal in terms of how to treat the 23 pension plans overall.

24 Q There's a note in there that discusses underfunding of 25 approximately $3.5 billion.

1 A Yes.

2 Q Do you know what -- do you know what that is referring
3 to?

4 A Yes. That's referring to the city's estimate of the 5 underfunded actuarial accrued liability for -- combined for 6 the two pension funds.

7 Q And do you know how that number was derived?

8 A I believe it was derived by Milliman running the math
9 based on assumptions that representatives of the city gave
10 it.

11 Q And do you have an understanding of how the pension
12 liability is proposed to be treated as set forth in this 13 proposal or in this document?

14 A Yes.

15 Q And what's that understanding?

16 A The understanding is that in this document it proposes 17 that underfunding would be treated ratably with the other
18 unsecured creditors, although, again, I think that's what it
19 says. It's not entirely clear. The other groups on that 20 page you see there's a bullet treatment, and it says what the 21 treatment is. It doesn't say that here. But I think this is 22 probably what it's trying to do. And it would propose that 23 those groups share ratably in this note that is laid out in 24 the proposal here.

25 Q Let me refer you back to the reference to the treatment

1 under the other bullet points. Your testimony is that there
2 isn't, you know, a, quote, unquote, bullet point for 3 treatment under the unfunded pension liabilities; correct?

4 A Correct.

5 Q And I'm sorry. What did you -- you thought there might 6 be some significance with respect to that omission?

7 A No. I just note that although this may be a proposal for 8 how to treat the underfunding, you know, it's not a hundred
9 percent clear, and I'm just noting that, for example, it
10 identifies treatment for all the other classes. It doesn't
11 do so for the unfunded pension liabilities.

12 Q And your testimony was that the unfunded pension
13 liability would be treated ratably. Can you explain what 14 that means?

15 A Yeah. What it looks like, each line lists -- each
16 category on this page 109 lists out an aggregate estimated
17 claim amount for these different groups, and I believe this 18 proposal suggests that those claims would each get their pro
19 rata share of the new $2 billion note that is proposed in 20 this deck.

21 Q And what's your understanding of the $2 billion note?

22 A You know, I guess it's sort of the city's opening shot.
23 I mean I viewed it more as just a shot across the bow that 24 they're looking to negotiate, which is why there's a hundred
25 pages of information leading up to this. The note itself I

1 thought was not really a serious proposal but may be a
2 placeholder.

3 Q Why didn't you think it was serious?

4 A You know, essentially, although it says it's a $2 billion
5 note, there's no maturity. It's really promising to pay $30
6 million a year for 20 years, but they're calling it a $2
7 billion note, and I just -- I didn't view that as a serious
8 proposal.

9 Q When you say there's no maturity, there's no obligation
10 for the city to pay?

11 A Correct.

12 Q And is there any income stream or security that would 13 guarantee payment of the note?

14 A No. It does provide for annual interest at one and a
15 half percent, and it has provisions for the note to collect
16 on extra revenue that gets collected from asset sales or fund
17 for blight removal, but there's no obligation for the city to 18 pursue any of that or, you know, any incentive for the city
19 to pursue any of that to pay the note.

20 Q Did you take that as a serious proposal for the
21 creditors?

22 A No. I took it as the city sending -- putting the 23 creditors on notice that it wanted to begin the process of 24 having a discussion about a restructuring.

25 Q And did you attend a June 20th, 2014 (sic), meeting with

1 the city and its financial advisors?

2 A I did.

3 Q And who -- I'm sorry. Where was that meeting?

4 A It was in the Coleman Young Building.

5 Q And who attended that meeting?

6 A There were two meetings that I attended that day, one in
7 the morning and one in the afternoon. One of the meetings
8 was -- and the city was the host of both. Representatives of 9 the city presented to the uniformed retirees in one and the 10 nonuniformed retirees in the other meeting, and it was meant
11 to, I believe, provide that group specifically more
12 information on the healthcare proposal that had been made and 13 to start to address, you know, their concerns the city had 14 about the pension funds as they currently existed.

15 Q Did you attend both meetings?

16 A I did.

17 Q And were there any materials handed out at that meeting?

18 A There were.

19 MR. KING: Can we look at Exhibit 49, please? And 20 we'll refer to page 21.

21 BY MR. KING:

22 Q Mr. Robins, do you recall seeing page 21 of the materials
23 that were passed out at the June 20th meeting?

24 A Yes.

25 Q And what's your understanding of what's set forth in this

1 page?

2 A What is set forth -- this page followed a number of pages
3 where the city kind of summarized some financial information
4 to explain -- start to really explain its view that it needed
5 to change the pension plans as they currently exist, and then
6 what it stated is it concluded -- or near concluded with this 7 saying that these are its objectives for restructuring in 8 this case of the PFRS pension fund.

9 Q Would you characterize these objectives as a proposal?

10 A No.

11 Q And did you ever provide any feedback to the city or any 12 of its professionals with respect to these objectives?

13 A The feedback really was, you know, when will the data
14 room be open so we can start to do the work and do the 15 information gathering we need to engage in a negotiation with 16 you.

17 Q At the June 20th meeting, were there any negotiations
18 between the Retirement Systems and the city or its 19 professionals?

20 A No.

21 Q And there's been some prior testimony with respect to the 22 data room, but can you explain to the Court your 23 understanding of the data room and its function in the 24 capacity of the Detroit restructuring?

25 A Sure. It's an electronic data room where the city has

1 loaded onto, you know, a virtual data room, as they call it,
2 financial legal information about the city, its assets, its
3 historical finances, you know, the business plan going
4 forward and the back-up and build-up to that business plan.

5 Q Is the use of a data room a fairly common practice in the 6 context of the restructuring engagements that you've been 7 involved in?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And what's the benefit or the value of populating a data
10 room with financial information?

11 A Well, it lets a debtor or in this case the city provide
12 information to all of its creditors or the creditors it wants
13 to -- needs to negotiate with in a pretty efficient manner
14 and makes sure all the creditors are getting the same
15 information at the same time.

16 Q Did you or anyone on your team -- let me back up. When 17 did the Greenhill term first obtain access to the data room?

18 A I believe it was June 21st. I think it was just after 19 these meetings.

20 Q And in the context of gaining access, Greenhill had to 21 execute certain nondisclosure agreements and confidentiality
22 agreements. Is that accurate?

23 A That is true.

24 Q And have you or members of your team accessed the 25 information that's contained in the data room?

1 A Yes.

2 Q And when you accessed that information, did you come to
3 an understanding of whether or not the information that was 4 in the data room as of June 21st was complete?

5 A Yes, I did.

6 Q And what was that understanding?

7 A It was not complete.

8 Q And what did you find to be lacking?

9 A Lots of information on values of assets, different
10 projections and build-ups, and it really is typical. A data
11 room is loaded. People start looking. They ask questions.
12 That leads to more requests for additional information, and 13 that's a typical -- it's an iterative process, which is 14 typical, and that's what's happened here and is ongoing.

15 Q In the data room, were there any proposals with respect
16 to pension benefits?

17 A No.

18 Q You described an iterative process that would involve
19 asking questions. Did you or anyone on your team at 20 Greenhill subsequently ask the city or its professionals for 21 additional information following your review of the 22 information in the data room?

23 A Yes.

24 Q And which professionals particularly have you had contact
25 with?

1 A At Greenhill or at --

2 Q At the city.

3 A At the city? The diligence questions mostly go through
4 Miller Buckfire, the formal questions. The request is that 5 formal lists be made and sent around. A lot of the 6 conversations, though, also take place with Conway MacKenzie
7 and, in addition, professionals from Ernst & Young.

8 Q Since June 21st, how often would you say that Greenhill
9 has requested information from the city or its professionals?

10 A I would say formerly -- formerly -- sorry -- formally in 11 writing maybe a half dozen times, but there's a lot of, you
12 know, conversation that goes on pretty regularly as we try to 13 work through that.

14 Q And by a conversation, I'm assuming that's your team
15 picks up the phone and contacts someone from, say, Miller
16 Buckfire, for example?

17 A Correct; correct.

18 Q And is that happening on a regular basis?

19 A Yes.

20 Q And for the most part, have the professionals of the city
21 been responsive to your requests?

22 A They've been responsive. I think they had struggled at 23 times to get information that we have asked them for, but 24 they have been responsive in acknowledging the receipts
25 and -- the receipt of our requests and trying to track it

1 down, I believe.

2 Q When you say that they've been frustrated, what do you
3 mean by that?

4 A I think some of the information that's been requested --
5 MR. CULLEN: Objection, your Honor. He's 6 characterizing somebody else's state of mind.

7 MR. KING: I'm just asking the witness whether --
8 what his understanding was of the discussions that he's 9 having with the professionals from the city, your Honor.

10 THE COURT: He can testify to what they said.

11 MR. KING: That's fair.

12 BY MR. KING:

13 Q What did they say, Mr. Robins?

14 A They have at times expressed -- I won't say frustration,
15 but that they are having difficulty getting the information
16 that we've asked them for.

17 Q Do you believe that prior to July 18th Greenhill was 18 furnished complete information to fully evaluate what was 19 laid out in the June 14 proposal to creditors?

20 A No.

21 Q Can you give a couple of examples of the type of 22 information that you requested but did not receive prior to
23 July 18th?

24 A I mean a major category is the value of assets. I mean,
25 you know, there's two main sources of recovery for creditors

1 here. One is from cash flows, and one is from assets. And
2 there's been very little information available on the value
3 of assets, for example.

4 Q And did you attend diligence meetings on July 9th?

5 A I did.

6 Q And what were the nature of those meetings?

7 A Those meetings were conducted primarily by Conway
8 MacKenzie and Ernst & Young, and it was to provide an 9 opportunity for creditors and creditors' advisors -- you
10 know, the audience was primarily the financial advisors for 11 some of the different creditor groups -- opportunity for them
12 to ask questions and engage in some discussion about how the 13 ten-year projections were constructed and put together.

14 Q Where was that meeting conducted?

15 A That was held -- I believe it's called Cadillac Plaza in 16 midtown here in Detroit.

17 Q And were there any proposals set forth at that meeting?

18 A No.

19 Q Were there any negotiations that occurred at that
20 meeting?

21 A No.

22 Q Did you attend a meeting on July 10th with the city and 23 its advisors?

24 A Yeah, several. The diligence meeting of July 9th carried
25 over to July 10th, so that -- I was there till about one

1 o'clock, and then in the afternoon certain city advisors met
2 with I guess the representatives of the retirees again, one
3 meeting with the uniform, one nonuniform, but a smaller
4 group.

5 Q And who was there on behalf of the city?

6 A At which meeting?

7 Q The smaller meetings that you're describing that occurred
8 on the afternoon of July 10th.

9 A It was David Heiman and Evan Miller from Jones Day, Chuck
10 Moore from Conway MacKenzie, and I think Gaurav Malhotra from 11 E&Y was there as well.

12 Q At any of the meetings that you attended on July 10th,
13 were there any proposals presented to you or your team?

14 A There were no proposals for treatment of the pensions.
15 There was discussion about setting up a structure really to 16 diligence -- I thought of it as to continue the diligence on 17 pension issues.

18 Q Were there any negotiations at any of those meetings?

19 A No.

20 Q Do you think that prior to July 18th that the city had 21 thought it presented a proposal to you to consider?

22 A No.

23 Q Why is that?

24 A There were at least two occasions, meetings I was at,
25 where there was discussion specifically of OPEB and the

1 treatment of healthcare, and financial advisors to other
2 creditors asked the city advisors, "Have you made a proposal
3 as to pensions?" and the answer was no.

4 Q Just a couple more questions. Prior to July 18th, did
5 the city or any of its professionals ever present to you or 6 your team any scenario which did not contemplate the 7 impairment or diminishment of pension benefits?

8 A No.

9 Q Could they have done so?

10 MR. CULLEN: Objection. Foundation, your Honor.

11 THE COURT: I'm not sure what the question means,
12 could they have done so.

13 BY MR. KING:

14 Q Was there sufficient data prior to July 18th to come up
15 with a proposal that didn't contemplate impairment or 16 diminishment of pension benefits, in your judgment?

17 A I hadn't seen it. I don't know if they had it or not.

18 Q In your experience, do you believe that the 35 days
19 between the June 14th meeting and the July 18th bankruptcy
20 filing was a reasonable period of time for your team to 21 evaluate data, perform the analysis that you deemed 22 appropriate, and come up with solutions or proposals for the 23 city's consideration?

24 A No.

25 Q And I assume the same answer is true for the 28-day

1 period that elapsed between the time Greenhill was provided
2 access to the data room on June 21st and the filing of the 3 bankruptcy on June 18th -- July 18th? Excuse me.

4 A That is correct.

5 Q So last question and important question. Throughout your 6 entire experience in the process of working with the city and 7 its advisors, were there ever any negotiations with respect
8 to pension benefits?

9 A Ever or pre-petition?

10 Q Pre-petition.

11 A Pre-petition, no.

12 MR. KING: Thank you.

13 THE COURT: Thank you. Other questions for the 14 witness?

15 MR. CULLEN: If I may, your Honor --

16 THE COURT: One second. We have Ms. Levine who 17 wants to ask some questions.

18 MR. CULLEN: Oh, I'm sorry.

19 DIRECT EXAMINATION

20 BY MS. LEVINE:

21 Q Sharon Levine, Lowenstein Sandler, for AFSCME. Good
22 afternoon.

23 A Hello.

24 Q You just testified that you didn't think the month and
25 three or four days was sufficient time to negotiate a

1 proposal and come up with a consensual resolution; correct?

2 A Correct.

3 Q Do you believe it was -- one of the things the city seems
4 to be contending is that it was impractical and it couldn't
5 have been done no matter how much time you had. Do you
6 believe, given a reasonable period of time, you could have
7 come up with a proposal or a solution or a consensual
8 arrangement with the city?

9 A Yes.

10 MS. LEVINE: Thank you.

11 MR. CULLEN: Good afternoon, your Honor.

12 CROSS-EXAMINATION

13 BY MR. CULLEN:

14 Q Good afternoon, Mr. Robins. I'm Thomas Cullen of Jones
15 Day representing the city.

16 A Good afternoon.

17 Q I believe we met briefly in one of those big rooms a
18 couple weeks ago.

19 A I believe that's right.

20 Q All right. A few questions for you.

21 MR. CULLEN: If I could have Exhibit 48, which is 22 one of the document -- which is the other document from the 23 June 20th meeting, the presentation with regard to the 24 nonuniform retirees.

25 BY MR. CULLEN:

1 Q Do you see that, sir? Do you see it in front of you?

2 A I do, yeah.

3 Q Remember this document?

4 A Yes, I do.

5 Q Okay. And I'm going to direct you to -- my basic 6 question is going to be with respect to this document, was 7 the city presenting ideas for the restructuring that it
8 wanted a response from you on in this document?

9 A Unclear. I mean this document clearly presents a
10 proposal on healthcare. When it comes to pensions, it talks
11 about objectives, and I think is this one possible ideas, so,
12 you know, again, I viewed this, I think I said before, as 13 part of the city wanting to kick off discussions, you know.
14 Our reaction was when is the data room open because we need
15 to start digging and understanding your position.

16 Q So let's flip through it just quickly.

17 A Sure.

18 Q Let's look at page 8. Eight. Here we go. That's what 19 you talked about in terms of objectives for retiree
20 healthcare restructuring; is that right?

21 A No.

22 Q That wasn't in the document?

23 A That's not what I was referring to.

24 Q Okay. But it is part of the document that was presented
25 to you on this date; right?

1 A It is, yes.

2 Q Okay. And it set forth some objectives for the city for 3 this process of restructuring, did it not?

4 A It does.

5 Q All right. And did you discuss those objectives?

6 A I did not.

7 Q Okay. And did you offer any ideas for different ways to 8 address those objectives?

9 A No.

10 Q Okay. Let's look at the next page, page 9, for Medicare
11 eligible retirees, proposed design solution. Do you see 12 that, sir?

13 A I do.

14 Q And was that discussed at this meeting?

15 A It was discussed at the meeting, yes.

16 Q And what was your part of that discussion? What did you
17 say?

18 A I listened.

19 Q You didn't say anything?

20 A I said nothing.

21 Q Okay. Did you understand the page?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Let's look at page 10 where it presents the rationale for 24 that structure. Did you discuss with the city the rationale
25 for that structure as presented in that meeting?

1 A I did not.

2 Q Okay. Let's look at page 11 where it says "proposed
3 design solution." Was that presented at the meeting?

4 A It was.

5 Q Okay. And what was your response -- did you discuss it?

6 A No.

7 Q You just listened?

8 A Yes, I did.

9 Q Okay. And on page 12 where we talk about the rationale,
10 did you discuss the rationale or take issue on the rationale?

11 A I did not.

12 Q Did you understand -- you understood what was being 13 presented in those --

14 A I did. I understood a healthcare restructuring proposal
15 was being made.

16 Q Okay. All right. So when we look at page 14 and --
17 well, it's 13 and 14 for both. You understood that there was 18 a proposed design solution being suggested for healthcare.

19 A Yes.

20 Q And you understood that in the course of this meeting as 21 a whole, the city was conveying to you the message that it
22 wanted to work cooperatively with the creditors on these 23 issues; correct?

24 A Yes.

25 Q All right. And by "work cooperatively on those issues,"

1 it wanted you to engage in discussion of these ideas so that
2 progress could be made; correct?

3 A I don't know. I'd be speculating.

4 Q Was that your understanding?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Okay. And as a matter of fact, on page 15 under the 7 heading "Key Message," that's exactly what the city was 8 telling you; correct?

9 A Correct.

10 Q Now, let's move on through the document to page 20, if we 11 could, please. Twenty. Once had a trial where in the middle 12 the whole system went down. The woman running it nearly had 13 a heart attack, and there was mad copying going on in the 14 halls. She nearly had to be sedated. You see this, plan
15 freeze contributions, GRS --

16 A I do.

17 Q -- right?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And this was proposal of an idea with respect to -- and 20 the impact of an idea or scenario on pension benefits;
21 correct?

22 A I'm not sure if it was a proposal of an idea or an 23 illustration of a scenario, but --

24 Q It was one or the other?

25 A I viewed it as an illustration of a scenario as they're

1 laying out their case.

2 Q And, again, this is something you just listened, you had
3 nothing to say about.

4 A Correct.

5 Q All right. And if you look on the next page where it
6 gets to possible GSR restructuring ideas -- no, no. Let's go
7 to 22. Possible GRS restructuring ideas. You see that?

8 A I do.

9 Q Is that right?

10 A Yep.

11 Q And these were ideas that the city was putting forward --

12 A That is right.

13 Q -- restructuring the plan?

14 A Correct.

15 Q And we can agree that they're ideas and they're 16 discussable ideas?

17 A Yes, we can.

18 Q And from your field, you understand these ideas and how 19 you could discuss them; correct?

20 A Correct.

21 Q Because you had already had some exposure to the data
22 here because you had full access to the systems actuary,
23 Gabriel, Roeder; correct?

24 A Correct.

25 Q And so in order to get information about how the system

1 was actually being run and the actual liabilities of the 2 system, you had firsthand knowledge of that; correct?

3 A Correct.

4 Q And there were no restrictions placed upon your access to 5 Gabriel, Roeder?

6 A No.

7 Q Now, but again with respect to -- going back to 21 now
8 for just a second, in terms of the objectives for the GRS
9 restructuring, was there any discussion of those objectives?

10 A I don't recall specifically. I mean we were in a very 11 large conference room. Questions were only accepted in 12 writing on note cards. So I think, you know, it was really a 13 presentation by the city, so it was not a small back-and-
14 forth discussion.

15 Q And, again, you just listened?

16 A I did.

17 Q And after the meeting, with respect to all of these 18 things that you just listened to --

19 A Yes.

20 Q -- at the meeting, with respect to the scenarios and the 21 ideas of the structures and the rationale --

22 A Yep.

23 Q -- presented at this meeting --

24 A Yep.

25 Q -- did you pick up the phone and say, "Explain this to me

1 better"?

2 A I did not say that. I said, "When will the data room be
3 open?" is what I said.

4 Q Okay. And even after the data room was open, as you
5 indicated, this would be an iterative process --

6 A Absolutely.

7 Q -- by which you mean that more production yields more
8 questions --

9 A Yes.

10 Q -- and so on and so on; correct?

11 A Yes.

12 Q All right. And, again, page 23 here, work cooperatively
13 to equitably restructure GRS pensions consistent with the 14 city's severe financial limitations, do you see that?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Did you understand again here consistent with your
17 understanding of what was being attempted by the city on June
18 14th that the city was trying to coax a response or ideas out
19 of you; correct?

20 A Not clear to me at all really since, again, the data room
21 wasn't even open. I viewed this as an opening salvo where we 22 don't want to work with you, but the first step of that is 23 getting the data room open, so --

24 Q Do you have your deposition there available? Do you have 25 your deposition available?

1 A No.

2 Q Please.

3 MR. CULLEN: May I approach, your Honor?

4 THE COURT: Yes.

5 BY MR. CULLEN:

6 Q And if you look at page 46, items -- lines 2 through 6,
7 where you were asked, "What did you understand the city's
8 request for cooperation to mean?" and the answer was, "Well,
9 I understood that they were looking to have negotiations at 10 some point over the OPEB and the pension obligations."

11 MR. KING: Your Honor, objection. To the extent --
12 to the best of my knowledge, all we have is a rough draft,
13 uncertified copy of the deposition transcript today. As long
14 as the witness doesn't mind answering or can answer the 15 questions, I don't have a problem with proceeding. I just 16 want to, you know, bring that to the Court's attention
17 because I know the Court is sensitive to having the official
18 record available.

19 THE COURT: Thank you, sir.

20 MR. CULLEN: Is it all right if I proceed, your
21 Honor?

22 THE COURT: Yes.

23 MR. CULLEN: All right.

24 BY MR. CULLEN:

25 Q Would you agree that the Jones Day's generally --

1 attorneys in this meeting generally took an approach that,
2 look, we think there is this problem, here's some possible
3 ideas that we thought of, but we're going to want to get you
4 to see or work cooperatively to equitably restructure these 5 pensions consistent with the city's severe financial
6 limitations? Do you agree with that, sir?

7 A I'm sorry. Were you just reading from the --

8 Q If you take a look at 46, 7 through 17.

9 A 46, 7 -- yeah. You're reading my answer there?

10 Q Yes.

11 A Yeah, I do agree with that.

12 Q Okay. All right. Now, as of this time and at no time in 13 terms of the ideas that the city was coming up with and 14 bouncing off you in this meeting, did you ever have any 15 substantive response to any of these ideas?

16 A No, other than we really need to dig in to do the work on 17 the diligence.

18 Q Okay. All right. Now, let's -- in terms of your
19 relationship with your client throughout this period, did you
20 ever have authority to negotiate any diminution or impairment
21 of vested pension rights?

22 A No. I mean there was no specific proposal that I took 23 back to them, so there's no reason they would have given me
24 that.

25 Q Did you take these ideas back to them, the ideas we've

1 talked about in the January 20th proposal?

2 A Yes. We told them about the meeting, and some of the 3 trustees were there, so they were aware of those ideas.

4 Q And did you ask for authority to discuss any of these 5 ideas?

6 A No.

7 Q Did they ever give you authority to discuss any of these 8 ideas?

9 A No.

10 Q These, I take it, are all ideas in which you have 11 competence, training, and the expertise to address and 12 discuss; correct?

13 A With sufficient information, yes.

14 Q Okay. And it's true, is it not, that with respect to 15 vested pension benefits, it was your understanding that there
16 would be no retreat or compromise beyond a hundred cents on 17 the dollar unless and until there was no alternative
18 whatsoever? Is that true, sir?

19 A I know it would be our starting point that the vested
20 benefits should be unaffected for sure.

21 Q Did you ever indicate any willingness to move beyond that 22 starting point?

23 A Probably not.

24 Q And did you, in fact, indicate affirmatively that you had 25 no authority nor any intention of moving beyond that starting

1 point?

2 A I don't believe so.

3 Q Okay. Did members of your client in meetings before the 4 date of filing indicate that position either to you or to 5 representatives of the city?

6 A I don't know.

7 Q If I'll take you forward to the meeting on -- the small
8 group meeting on July the 10th, I believe it was --

9 A Yes.

10 Q -- with representatives of Jones Day --

11 A Yes.

12 Q -- and I believe at that meeting the Jones Day lawyers
13 were trying to set up a process to deal with your diligence
14 problem, correct, among other things?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And they were trying to set up a four-step process;
17 correct?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Do you remember the four steps?

20 A I believe so.

21 Q Do you?

22 A I believe I do, yes.

23 Q Could you tell us?

24 A I will try.

25 Q Okay.

1 A The proposed four steps were to first have the actuaries
2 spend time together to see if they could agree on what the
3 underfunded liability is. The second step was to have the 4 financial advisors spend time working with each other to see
5 if they could agree on how much cash was available to fund
6 pension funds. The third step would be, in light of the 7 results of the diligence on those first two, to see if 8 parties could agree on whether or not any changes needed to 9 be made to the pensions. And the last step would be if 10 changes were required, what mechanisms could be put in place
11 to restore benefits if things turned out better later on. I
12 believe that is what they proposed.

13 Q And at that meeting, there was at least discussion in 14 which you participated of the merits of that four-step
15 process; correct?

16 A Correct.

17 Q And you took the viewpoint that deciding what was 18 available in terms of assets or funding should precede
19 looking at the amount of the underfunding; correct?

20 A Correct.

21 Q And you and representatives of the city argued the merits
22 of the two different positions; correct?

23 A Correct.

24 Q And you didn't come to a conclusion at that meeting?

25 A That is correct.

1 Q Okay. Was it in your view that whether step one came
2 first or step two came first, was that a deal breaker for you
3 or your client?

4 A No.

5 Q All right. But, nonetheless, you had to go back to your 6 client to get authority even for that; correct?

7 A Correct.

8 Q And the authority you were going to get from your client
9 was in a meeting some eight days later?

10 A About --

11 Q Was to be --

12 A Yes.

13 Q -- in a meeting some eight days later?

14 A Yes.

15 Q Okay. And sometime during that eight-day period, were 16 you feeling any sense of urgency about these negotiations at 17 this time?

18 A No.

19 Q Okay. And during this eight-day period, your client
20 decided to file a suit against the city, the state, the 21 governor, and the financial manager; correct?

22 A I believe that's right, but --

23 Q Yeah. When did you know that they were going to file a
24 suit with the stated objective in the suit filed July 17th
25 that neither the governor nor the emergency manager either

1 inside or outside bankruptcy had any authority to impair any
2 vested pension rights? That was the point of the suit, as 3 you recall it; right?

4 A I believe that's correct, yeah.

5 Q All right. When did you know that they were preparing 6 that suit?

7 A I don't know.

8 Q Was it before or after July the 10th?

9 A I believe it was after, but I'm not sure of that.

10 Q All right. Were you working out of the same offices as 11 Clark Hill at some times during this engagement?

12 A At some times, yes.

13 Q Yeah. Did you ever become aware that they were preparing 14 for this litigation while you were in their offices?

15 A No.

16 Q Did you ever discuss it with the lawyers for Clark Hill?

17 A After it was filed I think I did.

18 Q All right. So with respect to this lawsuit, was it your 19 understanding that by virtue of either negotiations or to the 20 law -- or through the lawsuit, that the -- that your client,
21 the Retirement Systems, would exhaust every legal remedy
22 before they would negotiate any diminution in vested pension
23 rights? Was that your understanding?

24 A No.

25 Q All right. Tell me what you have that's inconsistent

1 with that understanding. What authority did you have pre-
2 petition to address those issues, even to address ideas?

3 A Again, I don't know that I had any specific authorities.
4 I didn't request it. The advice to my client was we need a
5 lot more information before we're ready to engage on this.

6 Q Well, let's just take a for instance. This is a defined
7 benefit -- the current plan is a defined benefit plan, is it
8 not?

9 A It is.

10 Q And the city was proposing a defined contribution plan,
11 was it not?

12 A Correct.

13 Q Were you ever asked to your -- by your client or did you
14 suggest to your client that you could address a hybrid plan
15 which maintained elements of both? Does that make sense to 16 you as a concept, sir?

17 A It does, yes.

18 Q Okay. Within the range of your gifts and expertise to 19 put together such a plan; correct?

20 A With some help from the actuaries, yes.

21 Q All right. And it was also within the range of your 22 expertise to address the fourth point on the four-point
23 program, which would be how to get back some of the lost
24 pension funding that might have been lost in the early years
25 of the reinvestment; correct?

1 A Correct.

2 Q All right. And prior to the petition date, did you ever
3 address that in detail? Did you ever propose anything?

4 A Look, as I told you, where I wanted to start is 5 affordability. All right. So the primary issue for us was 6 getting together with the city, understanding the business
7 plan, and seeing whether we agreed with their view they could 8 afford it or not. We were nowhere on that, so the rest of 9 this you're just -- you're getting ahead of yourselves.

10 Q Okay. Ms. Levine asked you how long you thought a proper
11 negotiation process would take for this set of obligations
12 for the city. Do you remember that question?

13 A I don't think that's what she asked, but --

14 Q Well, I'll ask you. How long do you think it would take?

15 A It's really a function of a lot of things, including
16 information availability, so I don't know. I don't know.

17 Q Did you ever make a representation to the city that if I
18 get "X" information, that I can -- we can clear this up in 19 some finite amount of time?

20 A No.

21 Q So you at no point offered the city any finite
22 negotiation path; correct?

23 A That's correct.

24 Q All right.

25 MR. CULLEN: That's all I have, your Honor.

1 THE COURT: Any other questions for the witness?

2 MR. KING: Just a couple, your Honor.

3 THE COURT: Go ahead, sir.

4 REDIRECT EXAMINATION

5 BY MR. KING:

6 Q Mr. Robins, in your engagement with the Retirement
7 Systems, have you been asked to take a direct role in 8 evaluating healthcare benefits for retirees?

9 A No.

10 MR. CULLEN: I was just going to direct him to pre-
11 petition, so -- but if it's no, it's no.

12 THE WITNESS: No.

13 BY MR. KING:

14 Q You're not -- you haven't been asked to evaluate OPEB at 15 all with respect to retiree benefits?

16 A Correct.

17 THE COURT: The questions were focusing on pre-
18 petition, please.

19 MR. KING: Pre-petition.

20 THE WITNESS: Understand.

21 BY MR. KING:

22 Q And your testimony was that you believe Greenhill first
23 had access to the data room on June 21st?

24 A Correct.

25 Q And at any time prior to the filing of the petition, did

1 you feel you had sufficient information to make any
2 meaningful proposal to your client?

3 A No.

4 Q And on the July 10th meeting you just testified regarding 5 the four-step process, do you recall that testimony?

6 A Yes.

7 Q As of July 10th, did you believe that you had sufficient
8 data or information to meaningfully respond to that four-step
9 process?

10 A Well, I viewed the process -- and I think the question
11 from Jones Day characterized it this way, I agree -- as a 12 process really to address the diligence issues around -- the 13 diligence issues around pension issues.

14 Q At that July 10th meeting, did you have or gain an 15 understanding of what the city's position was relative to the 16 treatment of pension benefits going forward?

17 A Not specifically, no.

18 Q Did you understand their position to be that in all
19 circumstances there had to be an impairment or diminishment
20 of those pension benefits, at least as presented as of July
21 10th?

22 A Well, I think they made it clear that they needed some 23 sorts of changes, and, you know, consistent with the 24 materials from June 20th, they had some different ideas they 25 had in mind, but they didn't have a specific proposal.

1 Q Can you engage in meaningful negotiations in a
2 restructuring setting without an overall asset picture of the 3 restructuring entity, the City of Detroit in this case?

4 A Not very effectively, no.

5 Q At any time prior to the pension systems filing its
6 lawsuit on July 17th, did anyone from the pension systems
7 ever tell Greenhill to cease and desist discussions, phone
8 calls, e-mails, with the city or any of the city's 9 representatives?

10 A No.

11 MR. KING: Nothing further, your Honor.

12 THE COURT: Any further questions?

13 MR. CULLEN: No redirect, your Honor.

14 THE COURT: Thank you, sir. You may step down, and 15 you are excused.

16 THE WITNESS: Thank you.

17 MS. LEVINE: Your Honor, sorry.

18 THE COURT: I'm sorry.

19 MS. LEVINE: Just a couple.

20 THE COURT: Oh, I'm sorry. Yes. You're not 21 excused.

22 REDIRECT EXAMINATION

23 BY MS. LEVINE:

24 Q Just going back to the colloquy with regard to what was a
25 reasonable period of time --

1 A Yes.

2 Q -- in the American Airlines case, for example, that was a
3 complex pension issue; correct?

4 A Yes.

5 Q And at the time that the company filed, the debtor's
6 position was that the pensions were going to be terminated;
7 correct?

8 A Correct.

9 Q And within the time period -- it took, in fact, less than 10 the time period it took for that company to run through its 11 1113 process, you had -- the PBGC already negotiated and 12 resolved and entered into a settlement agreement to resolve
13 the pension issues; is that correct?

14 A I believe that is correct, yep.

15 Q Okay. Going back to United Airlines, Greenhill was also 16 a financial advisor in that case as well; correct?

17 A Correct.

18 Q And the pension issues were resolved also within a
19 relatively -- one-, two-, maybe three-month period of time;
20 correct?

21 A I honestly don't recall the timing on that, Sharon.

22 Sorry.

23 Q All right. Thank you.

24 A Okay.

25 THE COURT: All right, sir. You are excused. Thank

1 you.

2 THE WITNESS: Thank you.

3 (Witness excused at 2:34 p.m.)

4 MS. PATEK: Good afternoon, your Honor. Barbara
5 Patek on behalf of the public safety unions, and at this time
6 the public safety unions call Mary Ellen Gurewitz. And can I
7 just check to make sure our exhibit book is up here?

8 THE COURT: Yes.

9 MARY ELLEN GUREWITZ, WITNESS, SWORN

10 THE COURT: Please sit down over there.

11 MS. PATEK: Your Honor, if I might approach again,
12 it doesn't look like the book --

13 THE COURT: Yes.

14 DIRECT EXAMINATION

15 BY MS. PATEK:

16 Q Good afternoon. Can you state your name, please?

17 A Mary Ellen Gurewitz.

18 Q And can you briefly tell the Court what it is you do for 19 a living?

20 A I'm sorry. What?

21 Q What it is you do for a living.

22 A Oh, I'm an attorney with Sachs Waldman.

23 Q And what kind of law do you practice?

24 A Union side labor law and political and election law.

25 Q And how long have you been an attorney?

1 A Since 1974.

2 Q Can you give us a very brief overview of your education
3 and professional background?

4 A I graduated from the University of Michigan in 1965 and
5 from Wayne Law School in 1974. I then clerked for Judge
6 James Churchill in the Eastern District of Michigan, and then
7 from 1975 through 1979 I was an attorney with the National 8 Labor Relations Board. And then I joined the law firm that 9 I'm with now.

10 Q And in that capacity, do you represent the Detroit Police
11 Command Officers Association?

12 A Yes, I do.

13 Q And what is the Detroit Police Command Officers
14 Association?

15 A It's a bargaining unit consisting of the commanders and 16 captains in the Detroit Police Department.

17 Q And for how long have you represented the Detroit Police
18 Command Officers --

19 A My office has represented them since about 1995, and I
20 have been their principal attorney since, I believe, 2003.

21 Q And what kind of matters do you handle for the DPCOA?

22 A The whole gamut of representation of a labor union, and 23 that has included grievance arbitration, negotiation. I did
24 an Act 312 for the DPCOA, so whatever arises where they need
25 representation.

1 Q I want to talk for a moment about Act 312. What are Act
2 312 proceedings?

3 A Act 312 is the statute called compulsory arbitration for 4 police and fire disputes, compulsory labor arbitration, so it
5 is a supplement to the Public Employment Relations Act. And 6 when parties are unable to resolve their contract to reach
7 agreement on a collective bargaining agreement, they can 8 submit the dispute for compulsory arbitration. It is 9 available only to police and fire.

10 Q And to your understanding, is there a reason for that?

11 A Because of the importance of public safety and because 12 they have no right to strike, it is a way to resolve their 13 disputes.

14 Q And how are Act 312 proceedings triggered?

15 A They are triggered when either the employer or the union
16 files a request for Act 312 with the Michigan Employment
17 Relations Commission.

18 Q And is there a state agency that oversees Act 312
19 proceedings?

20 A Right. It is the Michigan Employment Relations
21 Commission. We call it MERC.

22 Q Ms. Gurewitz, I'd like you to take a look at in the 23 exhibit book that I handed you at the start of your testimony
24 Exhibit 718 and 719. We'll start with 718.

25 A All right.

1 Q Okay. Can you identify for the record what 718 is,
2 please?

3 A Yeah. 718 is a MERC decision which issued in June of 4 this year. Do you want to know the substance of it?

5 Q Not yet. Are MERC opinions such as Exhibit 718 public
6 records?

7 A Yes, they are.

8 Q And are they matters on which the Michigan Employment
9 Relations Commission has a legal duty to report?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And as far as you know, are they maintained as public
12 records by the State of Michigan and by the Michigan
13 Employment Relations Commission?

14 A Yes, they are.

15 Q And are they available to anyone who wants to access them
16 on the state website?

17 A Yes, they are.

18 MS. PATEK: Your Honor, at this time I would move
19 for the admission of Exhibit 718.

20 MS. KOVSKY-APAP: Your Honor, we object on the 21 grounds of relevance and hearsay.

22 THE COURT: The objections are overruled. The 23 document is admitted. What was the number again, please?

24 MS. PATEK: 718.

25 (Exhibit 718 received at 2:40 p.m.)

1 BY MS. PATEK:

2 Q And, Ms. Gurewitz, if you could take a look at Exhibit
3 719.

4 A Yes.

5 Q Is that also a MERC opinion?

6 A Yes, it is.

7 Q And if I were to ask you the same series of questions
8 about its status as a public record, would your answers be 9 the same?

10 A Yes.

11 MS. PATEK: Your Honor, at this time we'd move for 12 the admission of Exhibit 719.

13 MS. KOVSKY-APAP: Your Honor, the same objections.

14 THE COURT: All right. The objections are
15 overruled. Exhibit 719 is admitted.

16 (Exhibit 719 received at 2:41 p.m.)

17 BY MS. PATEK:

18 Q I want to ask you some general questions regarding your 19 knowledge and understanding with respect to issues related to 20 the DPCOA that they've had during the time you've been 21 representing them. First of all, have you represented the 22 DPCOA with regard to negotiations related to pension and 23 healthcare?

24 A Pension and healthcare are always subjects for collective 25 bargaining, so in negotiations we have certainly addressed

1 those issues.

2 Q And as a result of your representation of the DPCOA in 3 that capacity, do you know whether or not through their 4 employment with the city DPCOA members are entitled to Social 5 Security?

6 A They are not.

7 Q And do you know whether or not they are entitled to 8 Medicare?

9 A People became entitled to Medicare or it became mandatory
10 for contributions to be made for Medicare in 1986, so anyone
11 hired before 1986 is not Medicare eligible.

12 Q And what impact does that have on DPCOA members upon
13 their retirement?

14 A Well, they are -- assuming that they were hired before
15 1986, they are not eligible at the time they retire and they 16 will never be eligible for Medicare, and Social Security is 17 also unavailable to them, so their entire retirement income
18 comes from the pension system.

19 Q And in the event that a DPCOA member suffers a either
20 duty- or nonduty-related disability, can you tell the Court
21 whether or not such individuals are eligible for Social 22 Security Disability?

23 A They are not.

24 Q And do you have an understanding as to the basis on 25 which -- well, strike that. Do you know whether or not the

1 same rules with regard to Social Security and Medicare apply
2 to the other Detroit public safety unions; that is, the fire
3 fighters, the Police Officers Association, and the Police
4 Lieutenants and Sergeants Association?

5 A Yes. Exclusion from Social Security is for police and 6 fire employees.

7 Q Do you have an understanding as to the rationale for 8 excluding police and fire from Social Security?

9 A I think early on Social Security did not -- was not 10 available or did not cover employees of state and municipal 11 governments at all, and then gradually there were amendments
12 to the statute so that more people were brought under its 13 coverage. It is -- there are certainly statements in the 14 legislative history and in the legislation itself that says
15 that the exclusion from Social Security is based upon the 16 fact -- or occurs only -- can only occur when the employees
17 are covered by a public retirement system which meets certain
18 standards established by the IRS.

19 MS. KOVSKY-APAP: Your Honor, we object to this 20 testimony. The witness is giving legal opinions. She was 21 not called as an expert witness, and to the extent she's able 22 to give facts testimony, this isn't within her personal
23 knowledge. She's reciting the law.

24 THE COURT: No. The Court will permit it, but, Ms.
25 Kovsky, I caution you that if you object to testimony, it's

1 better to do it before.

2 BY MS. PATEK:

3 Q Moving on, Ms. Gurewitz, do you recall the last Act 312
4 proceeding in which you were involved on behalf of the DPCOA?

5 A Yes. We had hearings in 2009, and we got an Act 312
6 award in January 2010.

7 Q And can you tell the Court when the last collective 8 bargaining agreement with the City of Detroit applicable to 9 the DPCOA expired?

10 A It actually expired in June 2009 so that the Act 312
11 award that we got had already expired by the time that we got 12 it, so it was for a period from 2005 through 2009.

13 MS. PATEK: Your Honor, at this time, I'd like to 14 bring up Exhibit 717, which previously was identified by Mr.
15 Malhotra has an agreement that was negotiated between the 16 city and the DPCOA back in 2011, 2012. He identified the 17 city's signature on the agreement. And I'd like to move for 18 its admission.

19 MS. KOVSKY-APAP: Your Honor, we object on hearsay
20 and relevance.

21 THE COURT: One second, please. Oh, can you put it
22 back on the screen for me, sir? Thank you. The objection
23 is overruled. The document 717 is admitted.

24 (Exhibit 717 received at 2:46 p.m.)

25 BY MS. PATEK:

1 Q Ms. Gurewitz, are you familiar with Exhibit 717?

2 THE COURT: Give me one second before you proceed.
3 Ms. Gurewitz, could you do us a favor and sit back a couple
4 of inches from the microphone? There you go. Thank you.
5 Now you may proceed.

6 BY MS. PATEK:

7 Q Ms. Gurewitz, do you recognize Exhibit 717?

8 A Yes, I do.

9 Q And what is that?

10 A It is a tentative agreement that was reached between the 11 DPCOA and the City of Detroit in about -- well, it's signed
12 February 2012.

13 Q Do you know whether Exhibit 717 included -- was a
14 concessionary agreement?

15 A Yes, it was.

16 Q And do you know whether those concessions included
17 changes to pension?

18 A You know, quite frankly, I'm not sure.

19 Q Do you know whether Exhibit 717, while ratified by both 20 parties, was ever implemented?

21 A It was not.

22 Q And why is that?

23 A It was rejected, as I understood it, by the State of
24 Michigan.

25 Q And in that regard, between the negotiation of this

1 concessionary agreement and the appointment of the emergency
2 manager on March 25th, 2013, did the DPCOA make any further
3 effort to engage the city in collective bargaining?

4 A We did. After the rejection of the tentative agreement,
5 we periodically sought to further negotiate an agreement
6 because we had not had one for such a long time. In July
7 2012 the city imposed new terms and conditions of employment.
8 It was called the CET.

9 Q The city employment terms?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And as part of those city employment terms, was the 12 DPCOA -- was one of the things that was eliminated was their 13 right to just cause on termination?

14 A That's correct.

15 Q And that was under Public Act 4, is that correct, former
16 Public Act 4 that the CET --

17 A Public Act 4 was in effect, and the CET was imposed. The 18 city had no -- took the position that it had no obligation to 19 bargain and that it could impose terms without negotiation.

20 Q And did there come a time when Public Act 4 was 21 subsequently suspended?

22 A It was suspended in August of 2012.

23 Q And at the time of its suspension, did you or the DPCOA
24 make any further effort to engage the city in negotiations
25 with regard to terms and conditions of employment for the

1 DPCOA members?

2 A We did. The city, prior to the imposition of the CET,
3 had actually itself initiated 312 proceedings, so when PA 4
4 was suspended, we tried to resuscitate those proceedings.
5 The city withdrew its request, and we then filed our own
6 request for Act 312.

7 Q And did the process for Act 312 begin at that point in
8 time?

9 A It did, and MERC appointed an arbitrator.

10 Q And can you tell us just very briefly what happened in 11 those proceedings?

12 A We had a number of hearing days scheduled in March of 13 2013, and prior to those hearings, the city approached us to 14 negotiate. It was really the first time that they had 15 negotiated with us in several years. And we had some fairly 16 productive negotiations in March of 2013, and, in fact, we 17 did postpone the hearings that had been scheduled. We were 18 not able to reach an agreement, a complete agreement, and 19 then the emergency manager was appointed.

20 Q And what happened once the emergency manager was 21 appointed?

22 A Then our negotiations ceased.

23 Q And did the city take any action in regard to ensure that
24 there were no further negotiations?

25 A Yeah. The city filed a motion to dismiss the Act 312

1 proceedings that the DPOA had -- excuse me -- the DPCOA had
2 pending, and there were also -- there were motions that were
3 heard by MERC to dismiss both the DPCOA Act 312, an Act 312
4 that was pending for the Detroit Police Lieutenants and
5 Sergeants Association, and an Act 312 that was pending for 6 the Police Officers Association of Michigan, which 7 represented the emergency services.

8 Q And was the result of that motion by the city the opinion
9 that we previously identified as Exhibit 718?

10 A Yes, it is.

11 Q And that opinion was issued on June 14th, 2013?

12 A Yes, it did.

13 Q You were not involved in the meetings between the DPCOA
14 and the city that began with the meeting of creditors at the 15 airport on June 14th, 2013; is that correct?

16 A I was not.

17 Q And were you involved in any of the subsequent meetings
18 with the city that took place on -- the record has 19 established June 20th, July 11th, and July 10th of 2013?

20 A No, not prior to the bankruptcy.

21 Q Did you become involved at some point prior to the 22 bankruptcy in advising the DPCOA with regard to the issues
23 that were facing it as to the City of Detroit?

24 A Right. I recommended to the DCPOA and helped organize a
25 coalition of the Detroit public safety unions -- that would

1 be the lieutenant and sergeants and the commanders and the
2 DPOA and the fire fighters -- to retain bankruptcy counsel.

3 MS. PATEK: I don't have anything further, your
4 Honor.

5 THE COURT: Thank you.

6 MS. KOVSKY-APAP: Deborah Kovsky-Apap on behalf of
7 the city.

8 CROSS-EXAMINATION

9 BY MS. KOVSKY-APAP:

10 Q Ms. Gurewitz, it's nice to see you again. We met at your 11 deposition. The DPCOA does not represent current retirees;
12 is that correct?

13 A That's correct.

14 Q So the DPCOA would not be empowered to negotiate on 15 behalf of current retirees; correct?

16 A That is correct.

17 Q And the DPCOA would not be authorized to enter into 18 binding agreements on behalf of current retirees; correct?

19 A Correct.

20 MS. KOVSKY-APAP: Thank you. I have no further
21 questions.

22 THE COURT: Any further questions of the witness?

23 MS. PATEK: One question.

24 THE COURT: Yes.

25 REDIRECT EXAMINATION

1 BY MS. PATEK:

2 Q Why is it that the DPCOA cannot bargain on behalf of 3 current retirees?

4 A The statute provides that a union is authorized to 5 represent employees for purposes of negotiating over wages,
6 hours, and terms and conditions of employment, and retirees
7 are not employees.

8 MS. PATEK: Thank you.

9 THE COURT: All right. You may step down. You're 10 excused. Thank you very much.

11 (Witness excused at 2:53 p.m.)

12 MS. PATEK: Your Honor, at this time, the Detroit
13 public safety unions call Mark Diaz.

14 MARK DIAZ, WITNESS, SWORN

15 THE COURT: All right. Please sit down. Before we 16 proceed with questioning the witness, may I ask how many more
17 witnesses?

18 MS. PATEK: I think this is it, your Honor. I don't
19 want to speak out of turn, but I'm pretty --

20 THE COURT: Anyone else have any other witnesses?
21 Any rebuttals for the city that you foresee?

22 MR. SHUMAKER: No, your Honor.

23 THE COURT: Or the state for that matter? All
24 right.

25 DIRECT EXAMINATION

1 BY MS. PATEK:

2 Q Sir, can you state your name for the record?

3 A Mark Diaz.

4 Q By whom are you employed?

5 A The Detroit Police Department.

6 Q And are you employed by anybody else?

7 A Yes, I am.

8 Q And who is that?

9 A I am employed by the Detroit Police Officers Association
10 as well as the Township of Holly.

11 Q And with respect to the Township of Holly, what do you do
12 there?

13 A I'm a planning commissioner.

14 Q And with respect to -- well, first of all, what is the 15 Detroit Police Officers Association?

16 A It's the collective bargaining unit that represents the 17 police officers of the Detroit Police Department.

18 Q How long have you been employed by the DPOA?

19 A I've been employed by the DPOA since January 1st of 2013.

20 Q And how was it that you became employed by the DPOA on 21 January 1st of 2013?

22 A I was elected by the members of the Detroit Police
23 Officers Association.

24 Q To what office?

25 A To the position as president.

1 Q And how long have you been employed by the Detroit Police
2 Department?

3 A Just under 20 years, since March 21st of 1994.

4 Q Can you tell me a little bit just briefly about your work
5 historically with the Detroit Police Department?

6 A As a new police officer, I worked various positions,
7 including patrol. I worked undercover operations. I worked
8 in community relations. I worked in special operations,
9 which essentially is the booster crew going after -- my main 10 role was to investigate part one crimes and -- which is 11 essentially major felonies, as well as apprehending suspects
12 associated with those crimes. I've also been an instructor
13 at the Detroit Police Academy for -- since -- well, for seven
14 years.

15 Q And what do you teach, or what have you taught at the 16 Detroit Police Academy?

17 A As an instructor at the Academy, I have taught the state
18 computer systems. I was an administrator for that. I taught
19 first-aid, CPR, AED. I taught officers to operate and use
20 the department motorcycles as well as I taught cultural 21 diversity and advanced police ethics.

22 Q And tell us a little bit about your educational
23 background.

24 A Well, out of high school I began attending Schoolcraft
25 College until I was hired by the Detroit Police Department

1 shortly thereafter. Since then I've attended Oakland
2 Community College, Wayne County Community College, and I've 3 been enrolled studying accounting with the University of 4 Phoenix for the last two years.

5 Q And in addition to that course -- well, first, let me ask
6 you this. Do you have any affiliation besides the fact that
7 you're a beneficiary with the Police and Fire Retirement
8 System of the City of Detroit?

9 A Yes. I'm an elected trustee on the Police and Fire
10 Retirement System board.

11 Q And how long have you held that position?

12 A Since July 1st of 2011.

13 Q And have you taken any kind of continuing education in 14 that capacity?

15 A Yes, I have.

16 Q And can you tell us what that was?

17 A It ranges but specifically executive portfolio
18 management. I've taken that course at the Wharton University
19 twice.

20 Q And what is executive portfolio management?

21 A Essentially, it gives the -- it's a very rigorous course
22 that gives a trustee a basic foundation of the fundamentals
23 of running a pension system and the -- again, a basic 24 foundation for the various investments.

25 Q You are not a finance expert, are you?

1 A By no stretch, no, I'm not.

2 Q And you are also not an actuary?

3 A No, I'm not.

4 Q As a member of the Detroit -- well, as a member of the 5 Detroit Police Department, does the city contribute to Social
6 Security on your behalf?

7 A No.

8 Q If you become disabled, are you entitled to receive
9 Social Security Disability?

10 A No.

11 Q And is -- do you have an understanding as to whether or 12 not your members are entitled to receive Social Security
13 Disability?

14 A Not through the Detroit Police Department they are not.

15 Q And can you tell the Court how the issue of disability is 16 addressed for DPOA members?

17 A With respect to officers who are injured in the line of 18 duty?

19 Q Yes.

20 A Well, officers who are injured in the line of duty
21 ultimately are -- at this point in time, they are carried in 22 a disabled status and -- well, in essence, they receive a
23 portion of their base pay, and, again, at this time they are 24 also receiving medical benefits as well.

25 Q And how is that funded, to your knowledge and

1 understanding?

2 A Through the pension system.

3 Q I want to focus your attention on the time period
4 beginning in late 2012, early 2013, and ask you this
5 question. When was the election held that resulted in your 6 being elected the president of the DPOA?

7 A As I recall, that was in September. It was either
8 September or November of 2012.

9 Q And at the time of your election, were there ongoing Act
10 312 proceedings relative to the DPOA?

11 A Yes.

12 Q And were those -- you became the president on January
13 1st, 2013?

14 A That's correct.

15 Q Upon your election, did you do anything to familiarize
16 yourselves with the ongoing Act 312 proceedings?

17 A As president elect, I began attending the 312
18 proceedings.

19 Q And did you continue when you became the president in 20 January of 2013 to attend and participate in those 21 proceedings?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And what was the result of those proceedings?

24 A Ultimately the result was an arbitration award for the 25 Detroit Police Officers Association.

1 Q And do you recall approximately when that award was
2 issued?

3 A I believe it was March 25th or 26th of 2013.

4 Q Okay. I'm going to ask you -- there's a notebook of 5 exhibits there, and if you look at -- I believe it is 706,
6 707, and 708.

7 MS. PATEK: May I approach the witness for just a
8 moment?

9 THE COURT: Yes.

10 BY MS. PATEK:

11 Q We'll start with Exhibit 706, and I know that's a rather 12 voluminous exhibit, but if you can turn towards the back,
13 you'll see on the last several pages -- come to the signature
14 pages --

15 A Okay.

16 Q Okay. Can you identify -- well, strike that. First of 17 all, is Exhibit 706 part of the arbitration award that was 18 issued by the arbitrator in the DPOA's Act 312 proceedings?

19 A It appears to be, yes.

20 Q And with respect to the signature pages, do you recognize 21 the signatures on those pages?

22 A If I'm looking at the correct pages here, there are 23 several.

24 Q Okay.

25 A And the --

1 Q Is one of them the signature of the arbitrator, George
2 Roumell?

3 A Yes, it is.

4 Q And is one of them the signature of the city's
5 representative? I believe it was a Mr. Schafer.

6 A Craig Schwartz.

7 Q Schwartz? And is one of them the DPOA's representative?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And that would be Mr. Iorio, I-o-r-i-o?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And if you could move forward to 707 and 708, and I'd ask
12 you to take a look at those signature pages as well. And if 13 you don't mind doing them both together, we can try for a
14 twofer here.

15 A Okay. For 707 I see the same three signatures for Mr.
16 Roumell, Mr. Schwartz, as well as Mr. Iorio. However, on 708
17 I only see the signature for Mr. Roumell.

18 Q Okay.

19 MS. PATEK: Your Honor, at this time we would move
20 for the admission of 706 and 707, which are the arbitration
21 awards issued to the DPOA.

22 MR. STEWART: Your Honor, no objection other than 23 we -- I assume if we ask the witness he would establish 24 there's a public record foundation for these to deal with 25 hearsay objections as you did with the previous witness, or

1 if you can represent that to the Court, that'll be fine.

2 BY MS. PATEK:

3 Q Is this record, Mr. Diaz, publicly available on the DPOA
4 website?

5 MR. STEWART: Well, I think the actual issue is is 6 it issued by a government agency pursuant to its charter.

7 MS. PATEK: I'm not sure it's --

8 MR. STEWART: That's the exception in the rule of 9 evidence for it, not whether it's publicly available. Is it
10 issued by a public body?

11 THE COURT: Okay. Counsel, again, I have to ask you
12 to address the Court rather than each other.

13 MR. STEWART: All right.

14 MS. PATEK: Your Honor, this is signed by a private 15 arbitrator. It is overseen and administered by MERC, as Ms.
16 Gurewitz previously testified, and I believe it is a public
17 record available to anybody, but I will --

18 THE COURT: Well, but it wasn't issued by a public
19 body.

20 MS. PATEK: Well, it also, however, is part of a
21 proceeding in which the City of Detroit, in fact,
22 participated, had a representative sign off on and, as we
23 heard Mr. Dillon testify earlier today, to his understanding,
24 becomes part of the collective bargaining agreement between 25 the City of Detroit and the DPOA, and I think that's an

1 additional basis on which it ought to be admitted.

2 MR. STEWART: Perhaps, your Honor, we'd have no
3 dispute if we agree it's being introduced only for what it
4 purports to say as opposed for any internal hearsay that it
5 might contain.

6 MS. PATEK: I have no problem with that, your Honor.

7 MR. STEWART: In other words, its rulings --

8 THE COURT: All right.

9 MR. STEWART: -- holdings, or award. If that's 10 acceptable, then we would not object to it.

11 THE COURT: With that limitation, 706 and 707 are
12 admitted.

13 (Exhibits 706 and 707 received at 3:06 p.m.)

14 BY MS. PATEK:

15 Q To your knowledge, Mr. Diaz, did the city take any action
16 with regard to the Act 312 award that we've been talking
17 about?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Did it appeal a portion of the award?

20 A Yes.

21 Q And can you tell us about that?

22 A The city appealed a portion of the 312 award that spoke 23 to a five-percent restoration for DPOA members which was to 24 take effect January 1st of 2014.

25 Q And does that appeal remain pending?

1 A Yes.

2 Q And is it your understanding it's stayed by these
3 bankruptcy proceedings?

4 A Yes.

5 Q I want to focus on the time period now after Mr. Orr's
6 appointment as emergency manager. First of all, at or around
7 that time, did you become aware that the City of Detroit was 8 searching for a new police chief?

9 A Yes.

10 Q And can you tell the Court what, if anything, you did and 11 in what time frame on behalf of the DPOA with regard to that 12 search?

13 A In around March or April of 2013, I had learned of 14 several individuals who had applied or shown interest in 15 becoming the chief of police for the City of Detroit. One of 16 the individuals I was not familiar with, I learned that he
17 was the chief of police in Cincinnati. I then began, I
18 guess, sporadically or no real method to the madness but 19 contacting different police officers in Cincinnati and asking
20 them questions about their chief.

21 Q Was that Chief Craig?

22 A Yes.

23 Q And what did you find out as a result?

24 MR. STEWART: Objection. Asks for hearsay.

25 BY MS. PATEK:

1 Q Well, let me ask you this. Did there come a point in
2 time when you actually reached out to Chief Craig?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And did that happen prior to him assuming the job as 5 chief of the City of Detroit Police Department?

6 A Yes.

7 Q And since he has become the chief of the City of Detroit
8 Police Department, have you and your members reached out to 9 him?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And to your knowledge, have the members of the other
12 police unions done the same?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And in terms of -- I'm not talking about collective 15 bargaining issues, but I'm talking about issues related to 16 the management and restructuring of the Detroit Police
17 Department. Have you participated actively in those efforts?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And do you consider that there has been a give and take 20 and a sharing of ideas and exchanging of proposals in that 21 regard?

22 A Yes.

23 Q Do you think that you are making progress in that regard?

24 A I do.

25 Q With regard -- and the next series of questions I'm going

1 to ask you are going to be going only up through the date the
2 bankruptcy petition was filed on July 18th. With respect to 3 that time frame and since the Act 312 arbitration award was 4 issued by the city, has the city engaged the DPOA in any
5 further negotiations with regard to terms of employment,
6 healthcare benefits, anything of the like?

7 A You're referring to the time pre-petition?

8 Q Yes.

9 A No.

10 Q Did you -- we've heard a lot in this courtroom, and I
11 know you, as the DPOA's representative, have sat through this 12 part of -- part of the trial, but let me ask you this, first
13 of all. With regard to your membership, are you -- since
14 assuming the job of president -- and let's just take up
15 through the date of the filing of the bankruptcy petition,
16 have you been generally in touch with them on a day-to-day
17 basis?

18 A Yes.

19 Q Do you have regular communications?

20 A Yes.

21 Q Do you have a sense as to -- as their president as to 22 their morale?

23 A Yes.

24 Q Do you have a sense of the issues that are of concern to 25 them?

1 A Yes.

2 Q And is the issue of pension and disability an issue of 3 significant concern?

4 A Yes, it is.

5 Q Now, with regard to those issues, did you attend a
6 meeting at the airport on June 14th, 2013, regarding the 7 city's unveiling of a proposal for creditors?

8 A Yes, I did.

9 MS. PATEK: And if you could -- could I have Exhibit
10 43, page 109?

11 BY MS. PATEK:

12 Q First of all, Mr. Diaz, with regard to the June 14th
13 meeting for creditors, was there any statement by the city or 14 its representatives as to whether or not that meeting was a
15 negotiation?

16 A No.

17 Q And in terms of -- in terms of your particular interests,
18 looking at page 109, I take it of particular significance is 19 the claim for unfunded pension liabilities that we see on 20 109?

21 A Yes.

22 Q And when you were at that meeting, first of all, were
23 people allowed to ask questions verbally; that is, was there
24 any back-and-forth discussion?

25 A No, not that I recall.

1 Q Do you recall at that particular meeting submitting any
2 questions?

3 A I did not.

4 Q Did you review this document; that is, the proposal for 5 creditors, and, in particular, page 109?

6 A Yes, I did.

7 Q Did you view what you saw on page 109 as a proposal to 8 the DPOA?

9 A I did not.

10 Q And did you -- well, strike that. Did you attend
11 subsequent meetings on June 20th, July 10th, and July 11th on 12 behalf of the DPOA?

13 A I believe those were the dates, yes.

14 Q And were any of the -- at any of those meetings was there
15 any statement by the city with regard to whether or not 16 negotiations would take place at those meetings?

17 A I'm not entirely sure I can answer that question with a
18 "yes" or "no."

19 Q Okay. Why not?

20 A With respect to whether at any of those meetings --
21 excuse me -- it was portrayed to me as a union representative
22 that these meetings were negotiations, at one of the meetings
23 it was definitely portrayed to me that it was -- these were 24 not negotiations.

25 Q And tell me how you came to understand that.

1 A I asked a question if, in fact, these meeting -- this
2 meeting was a negotiation, and I was informed that it was
3 not.

4 Q Subsequent -- or, well, as these meetings were 5 proceeding, were you taking any action with regard to the 6 restructuring issues facing the City of Detroit as the 7 president of the DPOA?

8 A Yes.

9 Q Did there come a point in time when you began
10 communicating with members of the other public safety unions
11 and their executive boards?

12 A Yes.

13 Q And can you tell the Court approximately when that was?

14 A It was shortly after -- as memory serves, shortly after 15 the June 14th meeting.

16 Q And did there come a point in time when you and the 17 presidents of the other three public safety unions -- that 18 is, the Detroit Fire Fighters, the Police Lieutenants and 19 Sergeants Association, and the Detroit Police Command
20 Officers Association -- decided as a group to reach out to 21 the city?

22 A Yes.

23 MS. PATEK: And if I could have -- I believe it is 24 704, and this is in evidence.

25 BY MS. PATEK:

1 Q Mr. Diaz, do you recognize Exhibit 704?

2 A I do.

3 Q And before we talk about this, I wanted -- I'm sorry to 4 do this to you, but I want to step back to one point I just 5 forgot to cover. In approximately May of 2013 and before the 6 meeting of creditors, do you recall receiving correspondence
7 from an attorney at Jones Day regarding pension issues?

8 A As I recall, yes.

9 Q And did that -- was it an inquiry to ask if you would
10 represent the retirees who were former DPOA members?

11 A That's exactly what I remember, and I --

12 Q Did you respond promptly to that request?

13 A I did, yes.

14 Q And can you tell the Court what your response was?

15 A That I do not represent retirees. I represent active
16 DPOA members and their future retirement benefits.

17 Q And is there anything unique with regard to your active
18 employees with regard to some of them actually receiving, at 19 least in an escrow account, retirement benefits while they're 20 still active?

21 A Yes. There is a -- I don't want to use the word
22 "hybrid," but there is an element of active employees who 23 are, in fact, having a portion of their retirement set aside
24 in an escrow account, and for all intents and purposes, in 25 the view of the pension system, they are, in fact, receiving

1 a pension benefit under a form of a retirement status which
2 is referred to as the deferred retirement option plan.

3 Q And as I understand it, that means that once they elect
4 to DROP, D-R-O-P --

5 A Correct.

6 Q -- their retirement benefit is frozen at that level?

7 A That is correct.

8 Q And they cannot access it until they actually retire?

9 A Correct.

10 Q Going back to this letter on July 12th, this was sent to 11 Jones Day on behalf of the four public safety unions; is that
12 correct?

13 A Yes.

14 Q And you were indicating -- well, strike -- what was the 15 purpose of this letter?

16 A Well, as pointed out in the first paragraph, the purpose
17 was -- is a follow-up to the July 10th meeting with the city
18 to discuss pension restructuring proposals.

19 Q And were the four public safety union presidents willing 20 to attempt to engage the city in some kind of counterproposal
21 or proposal with regard to pension benefits?

22 A I'm sorry. You're asking if we were prepared to do so?

23 Q I'm asking not whether you were prepared to do so but 24 whether you were willing to do so at that time.

25 A Yes.

1 Q And you made a request to the city in that regard for
2 some additional information?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And do you recall receiving a response from the city?

5 A I have not, no.

6 MS. PATEK: If we could put up 705.

7 BY MS. PATEK:

8 Q Mr. Diaz, does this -- looking at 705, does that refresh
9 your recollection as to whether or not you ever received a 10 response?

11 A I do not personally recall receiving this response.

12 Q That response is, however, from Jones Day?

13 A Yes, it is.

14 Q Thanking you for your strong cooperation?

15 A Yes.

16 Q Dated the day before the bankruptcy petition was filed?

17 A That's correct.

18 Q During the time period from -- you sent your letter on 19 July 12th until July 18th, the date the bankruptcy petition
20 was filed, did anyone from either the emergency manager's 21 office or Jones Day reach out to you with regard to providing 22 further information or talking more about restructuring
23 proposals?

24 A For the sake of clarity, I personally did not send the 25 letter to Jones Day on July 12th, but to follow up with the

1 remainder of that question, the answer is no.

2 Q Mr. Diaz, do you consider the services your members
3 provide essential to the City of Detroit?

4 A They are.

5 Q Are you and your members committed to the City of 6 Detroit's restructuring?

7 A Yes, we are.

8 Q And do you want to be a positive force in that process?

9 A Yes.

10 Q With respect to the Act 312 arbitration award -- well,
11 strike that.

12 MS. PATEK: That's all I have.

13 THE COURT: All right. We'll take our afternoon
14 recess now until 3:40, please. Before we do that, can I get 15 an estimate on the length of closing arguments, please, on 16 each side?

17 MR. BENNETT: Your Honor, I'm planning my opening
18 statement to be about an hour and a half, and I don't know
19 how much I will need on the back end. It will depend partly 20 on how much time the objectors do so.

21 MR. SCHNEIDER: Probably 20 to 30 minutes for me.

22 THE COURT: Thank you, sir.

23 MR. MONTGOMERY: Your Honor, we've undertaken to 24 sort of collect the estimates, and I think we're running
25 about three hours for the objectors as a whole.

1 THE COURT: All right. In light of those estimates,
2 it would be my intent to conclude court after the balance of
3 the examination of this witness and start with our closing
4 arguments tomorrow morning. And what did I say? 3:40,
5 please.

6 MR. STEWART: Your Honor, my cross-examination is 7 going to be extremely brief with this witness if you wanted
8 me to just get it out of the way before the break and perhaps 9 dispense with the need for a break and then return as the 10 Court wishes.

11 THE COURT: Okay. Go for it.

12 CROSS-EXAMINATION

13 BY MR. STEWART:

14 Q Good afternoon, Mr. Diaz. I'm Geoffrey Stewart of Jones
15 Day.

16 A Good afternoon.

17 Q Just a few questions for you. You testified that with 18 the exception of those active employees who had the -- I
19 guess you called it the DROP or DROP's escrow arrangement for 20 their pensions, your union does not represent retirees?

21 A That's correct.

22 Q You don't negotiate on their behalf?

23 A No.

24 Q You cannot bind them either?

25 A No.

1 Q Okay. Then one other thing.

2 MR. STEWART: Can you put up Exhibit 60, please?

3 BY MR. STEWART:

4 Q You, I think, were asked about various meetings that you
5 attended. Do you remember a meeting that you attended on 6 July 11 on the subject of healthcare?

7 A To narrow that down, there were two meetings we had on 8 healthcare. There was one at the Coleman A. Young Municipal 9 Building. Well, actually, they were both there.

10 Q Right.

11 A One was in the auditorium. One was in a smaller room.
12 Could you narrow it down as to which room we're talking
13 about?

14 Q You know, I can't.

15 A Okay.

16 Q Do you remember attending a meeting on the 11th where 17 specific healthcare proposals were made to you?

18 A Yeah. With the specific date, I can't. I do not -- I
19 can't give you that answer.

20 Q Could you look at Exhibit 60 and tell me if you've seen
21 it before?

22 A I believe I have, yes.

23 Q Does it refresh your recollection as to the date of a
24 meeting and what happened at the meeting?

25 A This document in and of itself does not refresh my

1 recollection as to which meeting we're referring to.

2 Q Do you remember a meeting, though, at which these 3 healthcare options were presented to you as proposals by the
4 city?

5 A As I recall, yes.

6 MR. STEWART: Thank you very much. That's all I
7 have.

8 THE COURT: Any other questions for the witness?

9 MR. KING: I'm sorry, your Honor. This will take 10 two minutes.

11 CROSS-EXAMINATION

12 BY MR. KING:

13 Q Ron King on behalf of the Retirement Systems. Good
14 afternoon, Mr. Diaz.

15 A Good afternoon.

16 Q You testified that you also serve as a trustee of the 17 Police and Fire Retirement System?

18 A Correct.

19 Q And in your capacity as a trustee, are you familiar with 20 the operations generally of the Retirement Systems staff and 21 the systems themselves?

22 A Vaguely, yes.

23 Q And do you have interaction with the staff members at the 24 Retirement System?

25 A I do.

1 Q Are you aware of whether the Retirement System keeps a
2 database of all the retirees of the City of Detroit?

3 A Yes.

4 Q And does the Retirement System maintain a website?

5 A Yes.

6 Q Does the Retirement System have the capabilities of 7 reaching out to the Retirement Systems either through its 8 database or by way of its website?

9 A Very easily, yes, it does.

10 Q Are you aware of any effort on the part of the city to 11 ask the Retirement Systems to use its resources to contact
12 retirees in the context of restructuring proposals?

13 A Not at all.

14 MR. KING: Thank you. Nothing further.

15 MR. STEWART: Just one question unless -- other
16 questions?

17 RECROSS-EXAMINATION

18 BY MR. STEWART:

19 Q Did the city impede your ability to reach out to those
20 retirees?

21 A For the purpose of --

22 Q Anything at all.

23 A Not to my knowledge, no.

24 MR. STEWART: Thank you.

25 THE COURT: Is that it then? All right. Sir, you

1 may step down. You are excused. Thank you for your
2 testimony.

3 (Witness excused at 3:26 p.m.)

4 THE COURT: And we'll be in recess for the day, and 5 we'll reconvene for our closing arguments tomorrow morning at 6 nine o'clock.

7 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is adjourned.

8 (Proceedings concluded at 3:26 p.m.)

1 (Court in Session)

2 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in session. Please
3 be seated. Case number 13-53846, City of Detroit, Michigan.

4 MR. IRWIN: Good morning, Your Honor. For the 5 record, Geoff Irwin, Jones, Day on behalf of the city.

6 Just one housekeeping matter. I think we've -- we've 7 talked about this a couple of times. Both objectors and the 8 city have deposition designations that we wish to submit in 9 hard copy and I think in a few instances, by video as well.
10 So I have them here if you'd like me to hand them up.

11 THE COURT: Okay, please.

12 MR. IRWIN: And we will be submitting a revised
13 pre-trial order which will conform to dep designations in a
14 pre-trial order too while we are handing up.

15 THE COURT: Okay.

16 MR. RUEGGER: Your Honor, for the record Arthur
17 Ruegger from Dentons on behalf of the retirees committee. We 18 have four copies of the Moore deposition which is marked as 19 Exhibit 456 with everyone's designations, and cross
20 designations, and the Bowen deposition marked as 455 equally
21 with cross designations.

22 We also have, Your Honor, the video deposition of Mr. Orr
23 on September 16th and October 4th marked as Exhibit 446. And 24 the Bing deposition marked as 447. There are only two copies

1 we'll hand up two more later on.

2 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

3 MR. RUEGGER: One -- one final issue, Your Honor.

4 And we don't need a ruling on this yet.

5 The pre-trial order that Mr. Irwin submitted contains 6 only the exhibits that were a part of the original pre-trial
7 order. As everyone here knows, a number of exhibits have been 8 offered and some accepted since that list went in. We'd like 9 to help the Court as best we can with a list of those 10 supplemental exhibits which have been discussed, whether 11 they've been accepted or -- or rejected during the course of 12 the trial if that will help the Court. And we would -- could 13 submit that next week. But if Your Honor has any other
14 procedure we're happy to oblige.

15 THE COURT: We've maintained a list of the admitted
16 exhibits that were not admitted pre-trial that were admitted
17 during the course of the trial. And so at lunch time I would 18 propose to just give you that list and ask you if we have it
19 right.

20 Are there exhibits on the list that shouldn't be on the 21 list, or are there exhibits that aren't on the list that 22 should be. And ask you all to review that over the lunch
23 hour, compare it to your own notes regarding admitted
24 exhibits, and then we'll discuss that further this afternoon.

25 MR. RUEGGER: Very well.

1 THE COURT: That's -- that's the help I need. And 2 then of course what we'll do, is go through our copies of the 3 exhibit books that we have here and just remove the exhibits
4 that are in there that were not admitted into evidence and --
5 and not consider them.

6 MR. RUEGGER: Thank you, Your Honor.

7 THE COURT: Okay. Are we ready to proceed with the 8 closing arguments now? Okay, let's do that.

9 MR. SCHNEIDER: Good morning, Your Honor. Matthew
10 Schneider on behalf of the State of Michigan.

11 May it please the Court. Years ago the people of 12 Michigan and the citizens of this city started to learn that a
13 tremendous and terrible storm was headed toward the City of 14 Detroit. And this was no secret.

15 The people of Michigan, the citizens of Detroit, and the 16 city could see what was headed their way. And throughout this 17 trial we've heard the evidence that this storm was coming.

18 Exhibit 21, please. In the City of Detroit's preliminary 19 review findings, it indicates that since 2006, the city has 20 been experiencing significant financial problems caused by the 21 loss of residence, the financial challenges of the automobile
22 industry, the destructions in the financial markets, and the 23 overall economic issues faced by the country. You can take 24 that down.

1 takes office. And he begins to read these weather reports.

2 The weather reports in this case are cash flow reports. And
3 they are forecasting the storm.

4 And the Governor realizes as he testifies that there is a
5 serious cash flow problem. And the Treasury Department is
6 also reviewing these weather reports. And in December 2011
7 they conduct a preliminary review of the city's finances. And 8 the conclusion is, significant cash flow shortages, long term
9 debt liabilities, $12,000,000,000 not including almost 10 5,000,000,000 in interest owed.

11 The long term bond rating, the city is in junk status.
12 And the city has no adequate plan to fix the deficit. There
13 is probable financial stress and there is need of a financial 14 review team.

15 Exhibit 21, second page. And the preliminary review
16 indicates that the inability of the city to avoid fund
17 deficits, recurrent accumulated deficit spending, severe
18 projected cash flow shortages resulting in an improper
19 reliance on inter fund and external borrowing, the lack of 20 funding of the city's other post-retirement benefits, and 21 increasing debt of the city calls for a financial review team.
22 You can take that down.

23 So in December 2011, the Governor appoints a financial 24 review team. And this review team produces another weather

1 the City of Detroit is in a condition of severe financial
2 distress.

3 The conclusions are that the general fund deficit is
4 increasing. Moody's is downgrading approximately two five --
5 2.5 billion of the city's debt. Some of it five to six levels
6 below investment grade. The city is facing a significant
7 depletion of its cash and the forecast is a negative cash
8 balance.

9 Exhibit 22. Because this conclusion is that the City of 10 Detroit is in a condition of severe financial stress, the next 11 step is that a consent agreement between the city and the 12 state is attempted. You can take it down.

13 The Governor testified that he worked very hard to get 14 this done but by the fall the city was not living up to -- to 15 its part of the obligations. And so, Your Honor, the 16 impending storm here is not getting better, it is getting 17 worse. And in February of 2013, another financial review is 18 done. And what does this weather report show us, Exhibit 25?
19 There is a cash crisis.

20 The city continues to experience a significant depletion
21 of its cash. Projections have estimated accumulative cash
22 deficit in excess of $100,000,000 by June 30, 2013 absent
23 implementation of financial counter measures which aren't on 24 the horizon.

1 and the city has no workable plan. And what does the Governor
2 call this? He says that the city is hemorrhaging cash.

3 What else is going on with the city at this time? The 4 evidence in this case shows a lot else is going on. The 5 streetlights aren't working. Forty percent of them are out in 6 the first quarter of 2013.

7 Ambulances aren't responding in time. Detroiters are 8 waiting 58 minutes for police to respond to calls. There is 9 78,000 abandoned buildings. The evidence shows that the 10 health, safety, and the welfare of the citizens of Detroit are 11 at risk.

12 And this is what caused the appointment of the emergency
13 manager. Throughout this whole process, the state and the 14 city are working together. They are working together in a
15 partnership to survive this storm.

16 And also throughout this whole process, the state and 17 city are receiving financial advice. And some of this is 18 unsolicited. Miller, Buckfire is offering advice, Jones, Day,
19 Miller, Canfield, Dykema, Huron Consulting, Ernst and Young,
20 Conway, MacKenzie. Some of this is unsolicited advice, pro
21 bono, for free.

22 Mr. Dillon testified, this is not unusual. Ultimately 23 the storm arrives and the Governor says, this is the last
24 resort. Because people are suffering. The 700,000 citizens

1 citizens. And because of that, he authorized -- authorizes to
2 file for Chapter 9 protection.

3 So what is the objectors' theory of this case? Their
4 theory appears to be don't go speaking with weather experts
5 too early or consultants because that must mean you want the 6 storm to come. Their theory is apparently that the state or 7 the city shouldn't consider the last resort and don't be
8 prepared. Don't even ask whether you need a raincoat.

9 Because if you buy a raincoat, or you ask someone whether you
10 need a raincoat, then you want the storm to come.

11 This makes no logical sense. Doesn't it make sense that 12 when you have a storm of this magnitude coming toward you, you
13 want all the help you can get? So was the state working with 14 the city? Were consultants involved? Of course they were for 15 the benefit of the citizens of Detroit.

16 If you saw this storm coming toward you, isn't this what
17 you'd expect out of your government? You would expect
18 planning, you'd expect cooperation, you'd expect your 19 government leaders to prepare and plan and be ready for 20 anything. And that is just responsible government. Like any 21 good government, it would be foolish to go alone. It would be 22 irresponsible to fail to prepare.

23 The evidence in this case shows that the city and the 24 state prepared for the worst, but they hoped for the best.

1 war.

2 The objectors apparently want to punish the Governor or
3 the Treasurer for contingency planning, for doing their jobs
4 to protect the people of Detroit. But working together was 5 the right thing to do.

6 The evidence in this case shows that this was never about
7 pre-determining a Chapter 9 filing. This was only about
8 careful consideration.

9 So then it begs the question, what is this trial about?
10 It's about eligibility. It's about whether the City of 11 Detroit is eligible for bankruptcy, that's it. It is not 12 about when Jones, Day and Miller, Buckfire became involved to 13 give advice on how to weather this storm. It is not about 14 whether Kevyn Orr has a background as a bankruptcy lawyer. It
15 is not about whether a Judge in Ingham County had set a 16 hearing. It's not about whether the Governor decided to 17 authorize a filing a day before than his communications staff
18 had planned. And it's definitely not about all the other
19 confirmation arguments that the objectors have raised.

20 It is about eligibility and the facts and the evidence
21 show that the city is eligible for bankruptcy protection. So
22 let's look at the law.

23 To be eligible for bankruptcy, we have to look at Section
24 109(c)(2) of the Bankruptcy Code which states that an entity

1 be a debtor by a governmental officer empowered by state law
2 to authorize a filing. That process is governed by state law.

3 So determine -- to determine who is the governmental
4 officer empowered by state law, we have to look at the state
5 law PA436. And Section 18(1) describes this process. It
6 effectively states that the process is that the emergency
7 manager recommends a filing to the Governor and the Treasurer.

8 Second, if the Governor approves, he informs the 9 emergency manager and Treasurer in writing.

10 Third, the Governor may place contingencies on the filing
11 but he does not have to.

12 And fourth, upon receipt of the written approval, the 13 emergency manager may file.

14 Well, Your Honor, that's what happened in this case.
15 There is really no serious dispute that that happened.
16 Exhibit 28, which is Mr. Orr's letter and Exhibit 29, which is 17 the Governor's letter, comply with PA436.

18 The statutory process was followed in this case to the 19 letter. And the objectors cannot refute that. They can't 20 argue that the authorization process failed to follow that
21 statute. And they can't seriously refute that the city is out
22 of cash. So they have to refute everything else, even things
23 that have nothing to do with eligibility. And that is truly
24 the theory of their case.

1 arguments. And I'd like to go through five separate issues.

2 Number one, the objectors say that the purpose of the
3 appropriation provision in PA436 was to make it referendum
4 proof. And therefore that violates the referendum clause.

5 Well, first of all, as been -- as it has been argued in 6 this Court, it is improper to speculate on the motives of the 7 legislature. And the MUCC v Secretary of State case tells us
8 that.

9 Now Howard Ryan did indicate that one of the motives was 10 for proofing it. Okay. But who did the objectors really cite
11 to for the motive to make this referendum proof? They present
12 emails from March 2 and 3. They're talking about Jones, Day
13 lawyers talking about this.

14 Well, that's all very interesting, but those Jones, Day
15 lawyers are not legislators. And they are not the Governor.
16 The Governor signed the bill and he testified no, that was not 17 his purpose.

18 The Governor testified that the purpose was to pay the 19 emergency managers. And the Treasurer indicated as much as 20 well. To pay for emergency managers -- managers not just for 21 Detroit. Because there were seven or eight emergency
22 managers. This is a statewide problem, not just a situation
23 in this city. And it's to pay consultants to get through the 24 fiscal year.

1 the statute to find out exactly what those appropriation
2 provisions said. But the testimony from the Governor and the 3 Treasurer was that the purpose really was to respond to the 4 criticism from cities because you had put an EM in place and
5 then you would make the city pay for it. And the improvement
6 in this was, that's not appropriate. Let's have the state pay
7 for the EM so that we don't put that burden on the city, or 8 the school district.

9 But most significantly as the Governor testified, after 10 PA436 was done, he later signed another appropriations bill.
11 And in that appropriations bill, he funded emergency managers.
12 So the appropriation was put back in later.

13 So if the purpose of the appropriation was to proof it
14 from referendum, why would they put in an appropriation again
15 in a later bill? That's why this doesn't -- their theory
16 makes no logical sense.

17 The second point I'd like to make is that the objectors
18 argue that the Governor acted with bad faith effectively by 19 rushing this filing. But the facts and the evidence just 20 don't support that.

21 We look at the evidence, we look at what the Treasurer
22 said, and we look at what the Governor said. He testified
23 that he went back literally since the time he became Governor,
24 he reviewed the financial review team reports. He reviewed
25 the 45 day report. He reviewed other items. And he worked

1 diligently to go through this process in good faith and that
2 is what he said.

3 He said that he reviewed this file himself. The evidence
4 shows that the Governor took careful, and thoughtful, and 5 deliberate consideration about this.

6 Point number three, the objectors argue that the 7 Governor's failure to place a contingency in his authorization
8 excluding pensions was either sinister, or unconstitutional,
9 or both. Well, we know why the Governor did this. The 10 evidence is what he said.

11 He testified, we're in a crisis mode. We have serious
12 issues here. And contingencies could cause more delays, more
13 concern, more complexities to an already complex case. The 14 Governor said that he has confidence in the judicial process
15 and he himself asked that the statement be added that any plan
16 has to be a legal plan.

17 To get into the legal system so the appropriate people
18 can decide. And that is what he said. It doesn't matter
19 whether the Governor's legal counsel, Mr. Gadola, thought
20 contingency should be included because the statute provides 21 that the Governor makes that decision. The Governor, himself,
22 after careful thought, chose not to place contingencies. And 23 this was allowed and appropriate under the law.

24 Point number four. The objectors argue that the state

1 Constitution, the pension clause, in order to cut the pensions
2 of retirees.

3 Well, again, let's look at the facts. The facts are both
4 the Governor and the Treasurer explained, even if you take out
5 this 3.5 billion dollars in pension fund liability, the city
6 is still 14,000,000,000 or $15,000,000,000 in debt. It is 7 inconceivable that the purpose of seeking a Chapter 9 filing
8 is to get the pensions.

9 Even Mr. Dillon testified that the problem that the 10 pensions was underfunded, the health care liability was in an 11 even bigger problem. So the pensions can't be the target.

12 Point number five. The objectors want this Court to 13 believe that there was some sort of alliance between the 14 consultants, and the state, and the city to drive the city
15 into Chapter 9.

16 And we've seen these emails from the consultants and the 17 lawyers talking about a Chapter 9 filing. You know, these 18 consultants and the lawyers, they can talk all they want and 19 if we had a nickel for every time a lawyer gave free advice,
20 we'd all be wealthy.

21 But ultimately it's not those consultants' decision to 22 authorize the filing, it is the Governor's decision. So the 23 best evidence is the Governor's testimony. He said that lots
24 of people were talking about Chapter 9. There were

1 have contingency plans? It's because it's a contingency.

2 It's not our goal.

3 The Governor said, you needed to be thoughtful about
4 this. And he said that the serious discussion of Chapter 9
5 was the week before the authorization. The Treasurer also 6 presented evidence why this argument is meritless.

7 In Ms. Brimer's last question, her last few questions of 8 Mr. Dillon really spelled this out. And this goes to the 9 heart of what the objectors' theory is. The question was,
10 about as early as March 2012 were people at the state and 11 consultants speaking about the filing for Chapter 9? Well, 12 let's remember what the Treasurer said. He said, it was 13 always a last resort.

14 If we were thinking of Chapter 9, we wouldn't have gone
15 into a consent agreement. Because you can't get into Chapter 16 9 through the consent agreement route. And that's what the 17 statute says.

18 So to agree with this conspiracy theory, then you must 19 conclude that the entire consent agreement process was just a
20 charade. The problem for the objectors is there is no
21 evidence of that. In fact the evidence proves otherwise.

22 The evidence proves that the state didn't want to rush
23 into Chapter 9. The state even wanted to avoid a declaration
24 of financial emergency because the state wanted the locals to 25 work it out. That's what the testimony in this case was.

1 That was the purpose of the consent agreement. And both the
2 Governor and the Treasurer explained that.

3 The objectors argue much more. And the city will address
4 those points and Mr. Bennett will be up here in just a moment
5 to do so.

6 So let me conclude by saying this, Your Honor. This 7 world is full of critics. The objectors can criticize the 8 Governor, and the state, and the Treasurer, and the emergency
9 manager because they don't like where they think this case is 10 heading.

11 But this eligibility case isn't about their critiques.
12 The witness testimony shows that it's about leadership. By 13 authorizing a Chapter 9 filing, the Governor took on an 14 enormous task. He saw that the problem was getting worse and 15 no one was solving it.

16 He showed leadership by making the hard decision to 17 authorize the filing. That's not a showing of bad faith,
18 that's good faith. It's good faith to step up and do what 19 needed to be done to protect the health and the safety of the 20 citizens of Detroit.

21 The evidence in this case shows that Chapter 9 was always
22 a last resort. Unfortunately the deplorable financial facts
23 of this case required that it come to that. This city is 24 eligible for bankruptcy.

1 MR. BENNETT: Good morning, Your Honor. I think --
2 while I will be using the screen, I will be talking a lot
3 about Exhibit 43, so if the -- if you want to get that handy,
4 it might --

5 THE COURT: Okay.

6 MR. BENNETT: It might make some sense.

7 THE COURT: One second, please.

8 MR. BENNETT: Okay.

9 THE COURT: Okay.

10 MR. BENNETT: All right. First of all, I'm going to 11 try really hard not to repeat any --

12 THE COURT: Would you point the mike right at you?

13 MR. BENNETT: I'm going to try really hard not to 14 repeat any of the things that we've just heard or cover any of 15 the same subjects. Frankly the city is in exactly the same
16 place as the state in those points.

17 I will add one comment which is that in the careful
18 exegesis of all of the emails about what was going on around
19 the Governor at various points in time, it's been pointed out
20 that there have been lots of different opinions expressed by 21 different actors. And I frankly take that as comforting.
22 Internal debate, free internal debate is a good thing.

23 I would be much more concerned and frankly with this
24 administration, surprised if everybody wouldn't say a thing

1 said okay. So, I think we have in the -- in all of the 2 internal debate where people are talking about suggestions
3 that may or may not have been adopted along the way, we're 4 seeing an additional sign of a healthy process and an
5 additional reflection of good faith.

6 I want to begin by finding our way through the math
7 because while the testimony has been quite wide ranging and
8 some of the points are a little bit open ended, there is a
9 certain amount of business that we have to do. And that 10 business is to work our way through 109(c) and determine
11 whether the City of Detroit is authorized to be a debtor under 12 Chapter 9. I think just to check the box, I don't think
13 there's any dispute with respect to (c)(1) that it is a
14 municipality. The city is a municipality.

15 Number two, second requirement, we've heard about 16 specific authorization from the state this morning. It was 17 also of course a subject touched on extensively during the 18 arguments concerning legal issues. I am not going to repeat
19 any of those arguments today. I don't think Your Honor wants
20 me to. Of course I'd be happy to answer any questions you may 21 have.

22 We then reach 109(c)(3) which is whether or not the city
23 was insolvent. I'm going to have some very brief comments on 24 that question. But I do want to point out that only one

1 They -- this was AFSCME.

2 They made certain promises about what they would prove in
3 the context of their trial brief and opening statement. And I
4 didn't see them prove anything. But it is our burden, we will 5 cover -- we will demonstrate that we have met our burden, but
6 it may be that we can do this in a relatively condensed way
7 because I'm not sure there's a dispute anymore. And -- and --
8 and perhaps we'll get some help about that when the AFSCME
9 representative reaches the podium.

10 The fourth issue is whether or not the city desires to 11 effect a plan to adjust its debts.

12 And then the fifth issue is the disjunctive tests
13 concerning practicability of negotiations and good faith.

14 Those are the specific things we need to do to move from 15 here to the next phase of the case. Now woven through some of 16 the objections was an argument that Section 921, good faith
17 was also an issue which of course opened up a few additional 18 doors for testimony.

19 I'm going to try to cover 921 good faith in the context
20 of the discussions relating to 109(c)(5)(B) because I think 21 the overlap is so great that to try to do it separately would 22 just take too much time.

23 So let's begin with the issue of whether or not Detroit
24 is insolvent. At the opening I promised that our witnesses

1 Detroit was insolvent and it wasn't pretty, but it turns out
2 that we did in fact do that. I will take through very -- take
3 us through a little bit of it in a minute.

4 As I said before, this evidence was not rebutted by any
5 evidence introduced by anybody else. So let's just cover a
6 few of the very very key points that are suggested by the 7 statute and we'll cover a little more later.

8 First of all, Mr. Buckfire testified that when he took a 9 hard look at -- at -- at liquidity in May, he found that the 10 city's position was on a razor's edge. And that was at a time
11 when vendors were not being paid on schedule. That there was 12 involuntary deferral of vendor payments.

13 Then Mr. Malhotra got a lot more technical but just to 14 get one glimpse of his testimony, Exhibit 38, please. I'm 15 sure everybody remembers this chart, the two different lines,
16 the light blue line which is if you were paying all of your 17 debts how much cash you would have left. And of course that's 18 below the break even line at every point on the chart.

19 And then there's the darker line which shows the cash
20 flow situation given the cash conservation steps that the city
21 took. And by those cash conservation steps, they weren't
22 saving money so that you had more money to pay creditors, it
23 was testified that the cash conservation steps were not paying
24 debts as they become due. And -- and most prominent of course

1 was due on the weekend, June 15th payment on the -- of 2 principal on the COPs.

3 But at the same point -- point in time, as not only Mr.
4 Buckfire, but I think Mr. Malhotra testified there was also
5 deferrals in the trade payment area. And there is now other
6 problems that may well occupy some time later in the case that
7 the city's cash position was -- was calculated based upon a
8 past commingling of certain other -- money from certain other
9 accounts. So there was roughly 103,000,000, the number sticks
10 in my head, could be off by a little bit of cash that was 11 really from other funds that could be called back at -- or 12 could conceivably be called back at any point in time.

13 But it's not technically right to say that that money
14 should be regarded as part of the city's cash balance. That's 15 another form of borrowing. And so to make it, to -- to 16 actually not hit the wall, the city was not paying its debts
17 as they become due.

18 Now, let's not be content with this horrifying snapshot.
19 Let's take a look at Mr. Orr's budget for fiscal '14 to see 20 what the situation looked going out from the vantage point of 21 June of this year.

22 This exhibit was displayed during Mr. Orr's testimony.
23 Again, in the interest of time, I'm just going to zero in on 24 the numbers at the bottom, but you can blow them off as fine.

1 That's the kind of general fund deficit, the $379,000,000
2 number that the city was facing if nothing changed for the --
3 the 2014 fiscal year.

4 That's a big number. It's not -- you're not going to get
5 there by the way with contract changes that the unions may be 6 proud of that they negotiated pre-petition and weren't
7 implemented. The highest savings number, multi year savings
8 number, I ever heard attached to those was a little over 9 $100,000,000. And that was over the entire term of the 10 contract.

11 So this is a number that -- that there was no non-debt
12 adjustment mechanism to address. And no evidence was adduced
13 concerning any conceivable non-debt adjustment approach to 14 creating some form of balance on a cash flow basis to the 15 city's financial affairs in '14.

16 But the sterile numbers only understate the problem. We 17 also proved what this means, what this -- what the reality is 18 faced by citizens because of the fact the city's budget is so
19 stressed. And some of that was covered in the state's 20 opening, not going to repeat it. I'm of course referring to 21 Chief Craig's testimony and I'm going to skip over the 22 different points and just say the cases actually look at the 23 things that -- that Chief Craig talked about as reflective of 24 something called service insolvency.

1 it's relevant? Well, that's kind of for the cases where the
2 -- the municipality is somehow managing to pay its debts and
3 maybe not having deferrals, but is not providing adequate
4 services. So it means that the money it should be spending
5 would render it insolvent.

6 In our case, it tells us that even the numbers that get 7 to the three seventy-nine negative are not generating an 8 adequate result for citizens. So the inference is, is that 9 the $379,000,000 number actually understates the extent of the 10 problem.

11 Detroit is one of those situations where the insolvency
12 tests are made without regard to the fact that the services
13 being provided are not adequate by any measure. And when you
14 consider that making them adequate will cost more money, it
15 only means the situation is far worse.

16 My first reference to the proposal for creditors is a
17 chart -- is a chart on Page 34. This is the chart that 18 quantifies what Chief Craig is talking about, or says the same
19 thing from a different perspective. And I want to just zero
20 in on the bottom line.

21 And -- and one thing I'm going to say over and over
22 again, Your Honor's going to be tired of hearing it by the 23 time I'm done, but it's important for emphasis. This chart's
24 in evidence. No one said a word, no evidence was adduced that 25 there's anything inaccurate, incomplete, or misleading about

1 this chart.

2 And the bottom line shows the percentage of revenues in
3 the general fund that are devoted to paying legacy liabilities
4 in the general fund. And what it means in the 2013 fiscal
5 year just ended, is that when the city walks up to a taxpayer
6 and collects a dollar of taxes, there is only 57 1/2 cents
7 that's going to be spent on services for that resident. That 8 that residence is going to get today.

9 And I'm going to use Chapter 11 analogies a lot during 10 this case, but if we had a situation where -- where we had a
11 store that was in bankruptcy and the -- the reality was was 12 that -- that the dollar in that store was only going to give 13 the customer 57 1/2 cents worth of goods, and there's a store
14 down the street where the customer is going to get 84 or 85
15 cents, just turns out to be about what the average is for well
16 managed cities, out of the dollar they spend in the store, we 17 have a reorganization problem in our store that needs to be 18 fixed.

19 That's bad enough. But because of increases in pension
20 contributions that would be required if things aren't fixed,
21 and escalation of other numbers over time like OPEB's, this
22 problem gets worse, and worse, and worse, and worse in future
23 years. This has to be addressed. This cannot be ignored.

24 Finally, there's one more dimension to this -- to the

1 close in problems that the city was confronting in and around
2 June.

3 We already talked about the fact that the city had its 4 first payment default on borrowed money indebtedness by 5 foregoing the principal payment with respect to the COPs. The 6 full repercussions of that were not yet known, but they were 7 dealing with that and the clock was ticking on it.

8 It was known that that was an additional default that 9 might give additional rights to the swap counter parties. And 10 as Your Honor knows, there was testimony that there was a 11 series of negotiations started, actually a little before the 12 June 14th presentation. This is the 60 days of negotiations
13 that Mr. Orr was testifying about and other people criticized
14 him for not including prior negotiations that were actually
15 triggered by something different.

16 And a settlement was reached with the swap counter
17 parties right about the, you know, kind of in and around the 18 same time. But Syncora was initiating a campaign initially
19 letter writing, ultimately in litigation to seize the casino
20 revenues, notwithstanding the swap counter parties' agreement
21 to leave them available to the city.

22 And of course that -- Syncora's campaign wasn't actually
23 stopped until this Court decided that the automatic stay
24 applied. So that campaign actually lasted even into the

1 appeal.

2 So when we evaluate as we're going to have to in a few
3 minutes, the reasonableness of the city's position concerning
4 what a negotiation period should be and what we should try to 5 accomplish out of Court. There are three things that were 6 clearly on the city's mind and have to be on the mind of 7 anyone evaluating that.

8 One is, the 15th, June 15th was the first payment default
9 on public debt. Second is, that created additional covenant
10 defaults under the swap. Third is, that Syncora, at least,
11 even though a deal was getting done with respect to the swap
12 banks, Syncora was seeking to cut off the casino cash.

13 I'm going to stop here because again only AFSCME
14 contended that the city was not insolvent. And neither it nor 15 the others who have joined it on some questioning on this 16 question -- on this issues, has adduced any evidence that 17 counters anything that the city introduced.

18 And so if I have to review -- cover -- cover this topic
19 more, I'll cover it on reply. Suffice it to say we don't --
20 we don't think there is fair ground to dispute that the city
21 is insolvent within the meanings -- within the relevant
22 definition of the statute.

23 The next place, staying in order, is whether the city
24 desires to affect a plan to adjust its debts. Again, proposal
25 for creditors, Exhibit 43 is in evidence. At the opening I

1 said that the plan proposal speaks for itself. I said it was
2 reasonably detailed. I said it contained the classification
3 scheme. I said it included a term sheet for notes to be 4 distributed to creditors, and I said it defines treatment for 5 all classes.

6 And the objectors seem to disagree with that. They
7 contend that there isn't a specific proposal on reduction of 8 pension benefits. And sometimes this argument or this 9 statement is accompanied by just a citation of half of one
10 sentence that's in the document. But other times the -- even 11 looking at the entire paragraph that seems to be the 12 contention.

13 So let's do a little work ourselves and see if we can 14 figure out what the treatment that is proposed in the plan is.
15 Because I think we can do it with Exhibit 43 in a couple of 16 minutes. So if I could have Exhibit 43, Page 109, please.
17 And if you would do me a favor and leave it open for now. But 18 -- but later we're going to block just a part on pension,
19 unfunded pension liabilities.

20 One of the points Mr. Robbins made, and his testimony on 21 this was a little bit -- it moved around a little bit during 22 the testimony. Was he said well, other -- treatments of other
23 classes, there's a specific treatment provision, but there
24 isn't in the section of claims for unfunded pension
25 liabilities.

1 So let's try to figure out if we can figure out what he's
2 talking about. So going up to the top, claims under unsecured
3 general obligation bonds and notes, the treatment says and I
4 quote, "exchange for a pro rata (relative to all unsecured
5 claims) principal amount of new notes".

6 All right. Let's go to the next paragraph. Another
7 class of unsecured creditors. This is claims of service
8 corporations.

9 And by the way, note here that we don't say this is the 10 treatment of the COPs. Now why don't we do that? Well,
11 because the COPs are obligations of trusts. Trusts in turn
12 are beneficiaries of contracts between the city and service
13 corporations. So from the perspective of the city, these 14 technical details have a tendency to matter, from the 15 perspective of the city, the counter party is the service
16 corporations, the relevant -- relevant obligation is the 17 city's obligation to the service corporations.

18 So we focus on that and we say treatment. Exchange for a
19 pro rata (relative to all unsecured claims) principal amount
20 of new notes.

21 By the way the next paragraph says the same thing, we'll 22 skip it just for time purposes. Now could we blow up the 23 section, claims for unfunded pension liabilities? And 24 skipping to the middle paragraph it says, claims for the

1 familiar, for a pro rata relative to all unsecured claims
2 principal amount of new notes.

3 So first of all, if Mr. Robbins found the other
4 discussions sufficiently informative and in a specification --
5 specification of treatment, I am having a hard time
6 understanding how he did not find the specification of 7 treatment with respect to unfunded pension liabilities hard to 8 understand.

9 Well, let's stay here because I think we can learn a
10 little more if we read words and take a look at other parts of 11 the document. First of all, very much like the situation with 12 service corporations, when we reach unfunded pension
13 liabilities, we have to pause and think about what exactly is 14 the city's remaining liability with respect to pensions.
15 Because the pension funds are not funded at zero. There is 16 funding in both pension funds.

17 I thought there was going to be a big dispute over it,
18 how much the underfunding was. Of course that dispute didn't
19 show up in this courtroom.

20 So let's look at the first paragraph, or excuse me, the 21 first bullet point, it's not quite a paragraph. The first 22 sentence says as set forth above and is material earlier in 23 the presentation that we won't bother visiting, preliminary 24 analysis indicates that the underfunding in GRS and PFRS is

1 minute.

2 At this level of underfunding, the city would have to
3 contribute approximately 200,000,000 to 350,000,000 annually
4 to fully fund current accrued vested benefits. Again, more
5 information about how the city views its obligation relative
6 to pension. That's what we're focusing on, the city's
7 obligation.

8 And then the statement which was hard for everyone to 9 make but is driven by math, we'll come to that soon. Such 10 contributions will not be made under the plan. Okay. So the 11 city has obligations to make contributions. Note, that's what 12 we're talking about.

13 We're not talking about the individual pension benefits
14 yet because to the city that's not the problem. The city's 15 problem is, obligations to make contributions on account of 16 underfunding.

17 So next sentence. Claims for the underfunding will be 18 exchanged for a pro rata relative to all unsecured claims
19 principal amount of new notes.

20 Okay. First of all, this sentence talks about claims for 21 underfunding. Those familiar with the pension system, and Mr.
22 Robbins surely must be assumed to be familiar with the pension
23 system knows, this is part of the formula. There is existing 24 funding which is another part of the formula.

1 mysterious about what we're talking about when we say a pro
2 rata relative to all unsecured claims, principal amount of the 3 new notes. Well, we know that the principal amount of the new 4 notes is capped at 2,000,000,000. That's something that's 5 also in the exhibit.

6 But let's just take a quick look at Page 98. Because the 7 fact of the matter is, no one expected the creditors to guess
8 what we were talking about when we said pro rata portion of 9 unsecured claims. And there's a box at the lower left corner
10 of the page. And all in one place is the estimated claim
11 amounts for every single class of unsecured claims.

12 In a way some of these numbers have a little bit of a
13 false precision because with respect to OPEB liability as 14 disclosed in other parts, it's an estimate. With respect to 15 pension unfunded liability, it's an estimate. Under the 16 pension unfunded liability, it's an estimate.

17 But Mr. Robbins is a bankruptcy professional. And this 18 Court is a bankruptcy professional. And we've seen plans that 19 say we think claims in all of the different categories are 20 these. And creditors and the debtor are going to have to deal
21 with some uncertainty about what's in each of the categories.
22 But it's normal to spell out the different categories so
23 people have some visibility as to what's in a broad pool. And 24 then it's just as normal to specify here is what is going to 25 be distributed to that pool of creditors.

1 So what have we shown? We demonstrated that we've
2 specified what's going to be given to the pool of creditors.
3 They don't like it, we'll come to that in a second. And we
4 specified what the pool of creditors look like, its goal
5 there.

6 So to the extent that one of the objections is there was 7 no proposal, therefore that the county doesn't intend to 8 affect a plan of a judge -- a plan to adjust its debts, I
9 submit that the Exhibit 43 in fact contains a proposal and 10 it's quite precise with respect to the city's obligation to 11 provide funding in respect to pensions.

12 Now, let's return to Page 109 because we have one more
13 sentence we have to deal with. It's everyone's favorite
14 sentence, or half of it's everyone's favorite sentence. But 15 it turns out it's not the sentence about treatment.

16 This sentence is about consequences. This sentence says
17 again, it should be completely obvious to Mr. Robbins, it's 18 completely obvious to me, I think it's completely obvious to 19 the Court, but we weren't only talking to Mr. Robbins, we were 20 talking to other people that might have a lower degree of 21 sophistication.

22 And so we explained because the amounts realized on the 23 underfunding claims, part of the equation, not the whole
24 equation, will be substantially less than the underfunding

1 pension amounts for both active and currently retired persons.

2 So what are we saying there? We're saying a consequence
3 of the fact that the city's distribution on account of this
4 claim is going to be less than the amount that the pension
5 funds were expecting to receive by the city, something has to 6 give. And that is pension amounts.

7 We didn't say which and when. And there's two reasons
8 why one might expect that you wouldn't. One, it's 9 presumptuous. This is an issue as to which in a lot of ways
10 the city's indifferent. Legally indifferent, not necessarily 11 emotionally indifferent, but legally indifferent.

12 And there's all kinds of reasons why the pension
13 adjustments, and in fact it's kind of traditional, why the 14 pension adjustments wouldn't meet standards like uniform
15 treatment for all persons in a class. Because there might be 16 very legitimate social reasons for inflicting relatively less
17 impairment on older people and more impairment on younger
18 people. And in fact that pattern is -- persists all the time,
19 but it might or might not be legal.

20 Viewing the world this way, which is correct as a matter
21 of law, also creates flexibility for the parties to deal with 22 the consequences of the distribution on the claims asserted
23 against the city in ways that might make more sense than those 24 that could be required by law if you looked at it a different

1 as I'm concerned. And I actually think that the funding --
2 pension funds' counsel agrees with this analysis, but maybe
3 we'll hear.

4 Okay. So the summary with respect to this point, the 5 pension claims themselves will have to be adjusted, but the 6 city saw no reason to unilaterally decide that. The city's
7 issue is not about that. The city's issue is about much it
8 will have to pay and the distribution, proposed distribution
9 on account of the pension underfunding claim is very 10 specifically laid out.

11 Last couple of points on the issue of the city's desire
12 to adjust its debts or to effect a plan to adjust its debts.
13 There -- I think there is the assertion, it's covered in our 14 briefs very briefly here, that the -- that there's a -- a --
15 that the plan as proposed can't be confirmed, so it's a plan
16 that doesn't count.

17 And I think I covered this in oral argument, the plan
18 clearly, we believe, can be confirmed. We understand there
19 are legal disputes. We -- we understand that there is an
20 assertion that the pensions clause of the Michigan
21 Constitution precludes impairment. Your Honor knows our 22 position on that. The subject of bankruptcies includes
23 clearly priorities of claims, rights to distributions,
24 consequences -- bless you, consequences of when there's not
25 enough to go around and discharges.

1 This is at the core of things that are the subject of
2 bankruptcies. A declaration that a claim is not impaired is 3 inconsistent with that. That is a part of federal law that is 4 not limited by -- by powers reserved to the states.

5 It was also asserted in papers, again no testimony, that
6 because there was a dispute as to the amount of the pension
7 claim, pension underfunding claim, and if that wasn't settled,
8 the plan could not be confirmed. Of course that's not the 9 case. The Bankruptcy Code is specifically structured to allow 10 subsequent determination of claims even after a plan is 11 confirmed. But that was all premised on the idea that Your 12 Honor was going to hear some proof that the city's estimate
13 was wrong.

14 You heard no such proof. So for purposes of today, there
15 actually isn't a dispute of the amount of the underfunding
16 claim. And I think it's worth pointing out that when the city
17 says the underfunding claim is 3.5 billion dollars and it's 18 making a distribution based upon 3.5 billion dollars, it's 19 strange for the pension funds to be saying it's really less.
20 Because the consequences are that you would get a lower 21 distribution if the underfunding amount was less than the 22 estimate that the city believes is right.

23 But nevertheless we found ourselves clearly as a 24 historical matter in that strange place. I'm not sure based

1 anymore.

2 So with respect to this part, the city's demonstrated the
3 desires to effect the plan. The plan is a -- is an outline --
4 that's all that's required, but it's actually more fleshed out
5 than that. An outline of a plan that can be confirmed. We do
6 think it's confirmable. I've also said before, that it will 7 change, that's -- that's also clear.

8 And -- and I'm not going to come back to this point, but 9 there's a -- there's -- there's an argument actually supported
10 by the cases that when considering the requirements for good
11 faith negotiations under -- under Bankruptcy Code Section
12 109(c)(5), that you also have to demonstrate that the plan you
13 started with is a plan of adjustment that could conceivably be 14 confirmed under Chapter 9. I think I've dealt with that 15 issue, I'm not going to return to it in the interest of time.

16 But this brings us to an important aside. And -- and I'm 17 not again going to repeat, but I endorse the state's argument
18 that from the very beginning of this case, or from the very 19 beginning of the -- of the Governor's administration when they 20 focused on the situation in Detroit, that it was prudent as a 21 matter of common sense, sensible planning, and because 22 everyone else in the world was talking about it, to look at 23 Chapter 9 as -- as something that might some day, if 24 circumstances didn't get better, have to be considered for the 25 City of Detroit.

1 The aside is to -- to basically inform the Court that
2 actually the law that we just talked about, the law pressed by 3 the opposition that the plan, that the -- that the city has to 4 start with, is a plan that is a plan of adjustment, or an
5 outline of a plan of adjustment that could be confirmed.

6 That's actually a legal command that when you're confronting a
7 municipality that has financial difficulties you have to start
8 with Chapter 9.

9 Because if you don't understand what the rights, and
10 powers, and obligations of a municipality are under Chapter 9,
11 and what a plan adjustment would have to look like in the case
12 of a Chapter 9 case, you can't start. So in addition to all
13 of the, you know, very practical observations, and the fact
14 that it's very sensible to pay attention to the same law that 15 frankly your creditors are paying attention to when they're 16 thinking about what they might have to do in an out of Court
17 scenario, in this one circumstance the law actually commands
18 an early look at the statute. So I think that if the law
19 commands an early look at the statute, an early look at the 20 statute cannot constitute evidence of a lack of good faith by 21 anybody.

22 THE COURT: Before you go on, this question. So is 23 it the city's position that with regard to the pension
24 liability underfunding, the creditors -- the only creditors

25 were the two plans and not the retirees themselves?

1 MR. BENNETT: Your Honor, I think that's -- at the
2 end of the day, I think that's probably right. We expect it
3 to be disputed, we understand it will be disputed. I think
4 you will find that the -- the -- the -- I think you should ask
5 them when they reach the podium.

6 We think that's right. That by the way, is the reason
7 that the first people we asked about whether they could 8 represent retirees in discussions that would ultimately affect 9 their pensions was them. And they basically told us that we 10 can fight to preserve our claims, but we can't compromise
11 them.

12 THE COURT: Well, all right. I will -- I will look
13 forward to your discussion of how this impacts your argument
14 regarding impracticality.

15 MR. BENNETT: We'll get there. Okay. Well, we're
16 there. Impracticality.

17 You know, back to the -- coming back to the opening
18 argument, we started with, and we'd start with again, the 19 number of bond issues that the city has. The fact that bond
20 holders have the right, each individually, to consent to any 21 impairment of their principal amount or of their interest.

22 And the -- the -- the one -- one place where you can
23 find, I said this at opening also, a list of all the different
24 issues, and demonstrate how numerous they are, are in the

1 list.

2 There's also -- it also reveals that many are insured,
3 but some are not which is an additional complication. Mr.
4 Buckfire testified that although talking to the insurers was a
5 place to start, his -- his view was, because it's also the 6 law, that they could just make recommendations and there were 7 some issues as to which, according to this book, it's true,
8 there were no -- there -- there are no insurers.

9 And so ultimately if an insurer is going to recommend 10 something and you're going to send it out to a vote, you're 11 going to get some yes votes and that's great but there's 12 nothing you can do with respect to the no votes under 13 applicable non-bankruptcy law.

14 And so with respect to the bond holders, while there was 15 someone to talk to to get started, there was no way to get all
16 the way home. And no one has suggested that there was a way
17 to go all the way home.

18 So -- but the -- and the second part we said at opening,
19 and again I'm -- I'm not going to repeat it here, is that 20 frankly that's the end of the inquiry. Because 21 impracticability with any one class means that out of Court
22 negotiations are impracticable.

23 There are cases that say this, they're cited in our
24 papers. I also spent some time thinking with the Court about 25 the problem about, you know, how you would go about it if you

1 thought that you still had to conduct good faith negotiations
2 with a group you could negotiate with, but you have another
3 group that you couldn't negotiate with and where it leads you
4 is delay for no purpose.

5 Ultimately you wind up having to be in a Chapter 9 case
6 anyway. And whenever we talk about delay as -- as a -- as an
7 answer, let's go back to the undisputed fact that we had a
8 very severe insolvent situation that was also unstable. The 9 instability being the recent default, the Syncora activities,
10 and the other things that -- and the delayed trade payments.

11 So the -- so delay isn't an answer for anything. In the 12 context where there is actual near term prechter, there --
13 there is a serious problem that has to be addressed.

14 So the next step is were negotiations -- excuse me, there
15 should be no next step, but the next step in the event that 16 the Court decides, and I think this would be wrong, and 17 against the cases, that impracticability of one class is not 18 determinative. That it -- that it has to be impractical with 19 every class which would mean that you have to conduct good 20 faith negotiations with classes where it is practicable. We 21 then deal with the assertion by the -- the different retiree
22 groups that somehow negotiations in this case were practicable.

23 And I think there's -- there's a -- a -- three different
24 reasons why negotiations with the -- with the different

1 also apply to the retiree the -- excuse me, the two funds, is
2 the -- is the testimony of Mr. Taylor. I think best
3 represented by the testimony of Mr. Taylor, but represented by 4 the testimony of other witnesses.

5 He said a couple of things that are relevant to the 6 subject of impracticability, we'll cover more of them. But 7 right now I want to zero in on -- on what he said after he 8 acknowledged that he did not have the authority to bind any
9 retirees.

10 He said, he was nevertheless willing to conduct
11 negotiations. Let's put aside for a second what negotiations
12 really mean with someone who's not authorized to bind anyone.
13 But he's ready to conduct negotiations and if he actually got 14 to the point with the city that there was a proposal for 15 modification of benefits that he -- that he was okay with, he 16 would recommend it to retirees.

17 And -- and -- and I don't remember if he was asked or he 18 volunteered, that what would have -- have to happen next, he 19 said there'd be a vote. So what does a vote mean in this 20 context? Again, out of Court.

21 It means that those who vote yes, I suppose, supposed to 22 be some form of solicitation materials, would be bound. And 23 that would be a partial solution to the problem. That would 24 be progress. But everyone who voted no wouldn't be bound.

25 Well, what happens then?

1 THE COURT: Well, but -- but this assumes that your
2 negotiation is with the retirees because they're creditors.

3 MR. BENNETT: I -- I -- I understand.

4 THE COURT: A point you weren't willing to --

5 MR. BENNETT: I'm going to get to that.

6 THE COURT: -- a moment ago.

7 MR. BENNETT: Okay. I'm not going to forget the 8 issue. I'm talking about the people who stepped forward and 9 said, you should have talked to us. Okay.

10 And Your Honor, this is exactly the situation we faced
11 with the bond holders. That if -- if this is -- if -- if we 12 ultimately at the end of the day have to negotiate with 13 retirees and there is ultimately a retiree vote on some basis,
14 the fact that you could have a vote at some point out of Court
15 doesn't solve your problem. You need to get the centers as 16 well.

17 Let's get to the retiree funds. They said, they told us,
18 I think -- can we skip to the chart? And I need a blow up the 19 top so I can find them. Oh, there they are.

20 The police and fire retiree systems. They're all --
21 they're all the way --

22 THE COURT: I see it, sir.

23 MR. BENNETT: Okay. And --

24 THE COURT: And I see the other one too.

25 MR. BENNETT: Okay. All right.

1 THE COURT: The General Retirement Systems is the
2 other one you were looking for?

3 MR. BENNETT: Right.

4 THE COURT: Okay.

5 MR. BENNETT: Okay. I can't -- I'm -- the fire is 6 covered. They either didn't respond or said no. They 7 verbally responded. You can ask them what their response was,
8 that they don't have the power to bind retirees.

9 Okay. We'll talk about, by the way, what they did
10 because that may be important too. Okay. So with respect to 11 the first point, that every -- that even the people who -- who 12 stood up here and said, you should talk to me even though I
13 don't have authority. At the end of the day, they led to a
14 place that did not give you retiree votes.

15 Again, we could stop here. This is impracticability, the 16 same kind of impracticability as the bonds demonstrated also 17 with respect to the holders of retiree claims if we have to 18 talk to them. And -- and if our -- if the objectors say we 19 don't have to talk to them, we'll get to that in a second.

20 Second, I was going to talk about this chart, so we can 21 leave it up. The responses that -- that the city actually 22 received to the basic inquiry concerning whether the unions or 23 pension funds were actually in a position to represent 24 retirees, also demonstrates impracticability. That alone.

1 they didn't say if -- we can talk and recommend. That's not
2 actually what they said. What they actually said, and you
3 have a big exhibit of the letters is, not us, we don't 4 represent them. That's what they said to the city when they
5 were asked the question.

6 They didn't say to the city, we can't represent them as a
7 formal matter, but we have found ways to get around that which 8 I think was the testimony of some of the witnesses. What they 9 said was, no, we don't represent them. What you heard
10 testimony from -- from one of the -- the next to the last 11 witness yesterday, was that maybe as a matter of law they 12 couldn't have even represented retirees.

13 But I -- I submit that the actual letters which are in 14 evidence demonstrate that confronted with a broad statement,
15 we do not represent retirees or cannot represent retirees, is 16 another indication of impracticability, again, assuming for 17 the moment that retirees are even needed which they say they 18 are. But --

19 And then finally, the third reason why I think in this 20 case you can find impracticability by the unions are the 21 numerous statements kind of throughout the record, starting
22 with the -- the briefs filed by the UAW, which I pointed out
23 at opening argument. The briefs filed by the retiree
24 committee, the brief retiree committee proclaims that it's bad
25 faith even to ask for a impairment of the underfunding claims.

1 The UAW said in their briefs they would never agree to an
2 impairment of the underfunding claims because of the 3 non-impairment provision with respect to contracts. And then
4 others at the trial, Ms. Lightsey, Mr. Taylor, Mr. Nicholson,
5 these are persons who said they would have represented
6 retirees but would have never agreed to a plan that modified
7 vested pension benefits.

8 And, Your Honor, in some instances, they actually said
9 that from the witness stand. In other instances, it's found
10 in the interrogatory responses that they filed in discovery.
11 Some of them were projected here and this is a good time to 12 come -- to start coming back to the retiree funds because we 13 have their interrogatory responses that I think covers Your 14 Honor's question.

15 This is -- this is -- Exhibit 79. Okay. And I want to 16 go to Page 10. Is that the first page? Yes, Page 10 is the 17 first page. Okay. Paragraph 3, if you could blow it up.

18 Please describe any authority delegated to or otherwise
19 possessed by the trustees of GRS. And -- and, Your Honor,
20 I'll take you through the GRS section. There's an exactly
21 parallel set of questions for the uniformed pension fund the 22 PFRS. So I'll do it once as opposed to twice to save time.

23 To eliminate or reduce on a prospective basis only, the 24 benefits, rights, and features of the pensions provided to GRS
25 participants who were already retired or terminated from the

1 City of Detroit.

2 And their response. If you'd go -- I think we have to
3 read most of it. Because first of all, GRS doesn't think this
4 is a direct enough question and so they object. Because it's
5 incomprehensible. Because the phrase is they don't understand
6 what any authority delegated to, otherwise possessed,
7 eliminated or reduced. They don't know what any of those 8 words mean. That's the first response. So if we're going to 9 gauge constructive, you know, negotiations, this is part of 10 what we were dealing with.

11 Due to this imprecision, it is difficult to ascertain
12 what information is sought by the interrogatory. And the GRS
13 is effectively asked to speculate as to its meaning which may 14 or may not include requests for legal conclusions. The GRS
15 objects to this inquiry. Okay, skip the rest of this.

16 Now let's move over to when they finally say the answer
17 is on the top of Page 11. Well, let's go up to the last 18 objection to it, I'm sorry. The last objection to the 19 interrogatory, GRS also objects to this interrogatory because 20 it assumes the existence of authority to act in contravention 21 of Article 9, Section 24 of the Michigan Constitution of 1963,
22 the pension clause that prevents any impairment or 23 diminishment of accrued financial benefits which authority
24 does not exist.

1 -- I -- I hope Your Honor is keeping track. The -- the
2 interrogatory started on Page 10. And we got to the answer
3 kind of in the middle of Page 11.

4 Subject to and without waiving the foregoing objections,
5 GRS states at no time from 2004 to the present have the 6 trustees of GRS had or been delegated authority to eliminate
7 or reduce on a prospective basis, the basis the benefits,
8 rights, and features including but not limited to the elements
9 of the pension formula of the pensions provided to GRS
10 participants who are already retired or terminated from the 11 city because the pension clause prohibits the elimination or 12 reduction of approved financial benefits of GRS participants 13 who are already retired, terminated from employment with the 14 city.

15 So what we have from the retiree committee, Your Honor,
16 is an admission that they aren't going to do anything that 17 they interpret as impairing or modifying pensions. And so I
18 think frankly the third reason why Your Honor can find that 19 negotiations were impracticable as to retiree groups if that's 20 the question, and we don't even think you reach that question,
21 is that all of the different places you would think to go if 22 you think it's the funds, and frankly initially we did, you
23 would say to the funds, try to talk about something. I think
24 we know they won't talk.

1 have explained that number one, we got a whole bunch of
2 letters that said we're not the right persons to talk to you.
3 And secondly, we got a -- even those people who said
4 notwithstanding our lack of authority, we would still like to 5 talk to you, they have all said we are working to a
6 recommendation. The next step would be a vote. And that 7 still would not give the -- the city any means to deal with 8 persons who choose to vote no, or actually more importantly,
9 persons who don't vote at all.

10 Now there's one exception to this, I guess. And -- and 11 that is, it was asserted that there is a class action
12 mechanism that would conceivably have resolved the problems
13 with respect to the unions. I actually want to hear exactly
14 what that mechanism is that was proposed. And so while I am
15 prepared to discuss why a class action mechanism was not 16 practicable at all, particularly in light of the fact -- the 17 financial pressures that the city was confronting, I think
18 it's best if I hear exactly what the objectors had in mind
19 before responding.

20 Take a sip of water before turning to good faith. It's 21 warmer in here than it was yesterday. Okay.

22 THE COURT: Excuse me one second. Is that someone's
23 electronic device? Is it off now? Yes? Okay.

24 MR. BENNETT: Okay. As I said before, and I think
25 it's important, at least as far as eligibility is concerned,

1 perhaps not with respect to 921, Your Honor's opinion can stop
2 here because the -- as Your Honor knows, the requirements in 3 109(c)(5) are disjunctive if negotiations are impracticable,
4 whether or not negotiations proceeded or whether negotiations
5 were in good faith are just not issues for the Court to be 6 concerned with.

7 And of course the legislative history of -- of the 8 impracticability prong is that it was designed for big cities.
9 New York was actually the pragmatic example that everyone was 10 concerned about at the time. Where it was just understood
11 that when dealing with a situation as large as this one, as 12 large as New York which by the way was smaller than, at least
13 in nominal terms, than this is now, is a -- is a -- is enough
14 of a reason to recognize that in a lot of large city cases,
15 the negotiation prong is not going to be terribly relevant
16 because impracticability is the reality as it is here for all
17 the reasons we've described.

18 But nevertheless -- well, I should start with there's two 19 clauses actually to 109(c)(5)(B). The first is, it deals with 20 negotiations in good faith. And the second is, creditors
21 holding at least the majority in amount of the claims of each
22 class that such entity intends to impair under a plan in a
23 case under such chapter, well, I think it's stipulated that we 24 didn't get a majority in any class. And we certainly didn't

1 we met the second half, and -- and I think there's no dispute
2 about that.

3 The -- the -- now we have to talk about whether the city
4 has negotiated in good faith with creditors. And I think Your 5 Honor, the city's good faith in the negotiations and in this
6 whole process is demonstrated by what it did.

7 And I'm actually going to start with the process of 8 generating the proposal for creditors.

9 THE COURT: Again, I have to ask you to pause here.
10 It -- it strikes me as factually impossible for it to be
11 impracticable for that party to negotiate with other parties
12 in any circumstance, and to negotiate with them in good faith.

13 MR. BENNETT: You know, I -- I think the -- I -- I
14 disagree. I think that the -- the -- the -- the view of the 15 professionals, and can we put up for just a second, Exhibit
16 413, Page 13.

17 THE COURT: I'm sorry, page what?

18 MR. BENNETT: Exhibit 413 -- 418, Page 13. I'm -- 19 I'm more using this to kind of organize the topic than -- than 20 for the evidentiary value which will come later. But I think
21 anyone who looked at the situation back at the beginning
22 thought this, that's on this chart.

23 They -- everyone understands that if you can have an out
24 of Court solution, it's a great thing for all the reasons

1 say to yourself or to anybody else given all of the potential
2 advantages of an out of Court solution of saying, it's 3 impossible.

4 So look at the next part. The -- you know, it's also a
5 recognition like -- I guess I want to say it this way. The 6 first part benefits of well planned out of Court restructuring
7 in that list, that's all the stuff you know in your heart.

8 The next section, consensus or near consensus is 9 necessary for a successful out of Court restructuring. And 10 then the thing in Italics is really an understatement. It's 11 extremely difficult to achieve and practice.

12 In your head you know it's nearly impossible. But you
13 hate to say it's impossible. And so even in circumstances
14 where this is how you evaluate the situation, and I believe
15 that -- that -- that -- that Page 13 of Exhibit 418 is how 16 every really qualified insolvency professional who knows
17 anything about Chapter 9 would look at this situation. You
18 get to the end and you say okay, I'm going to try anyway.

19 But you could -- you could have given the circumstances 20 of this city, you could easily have written this page that 21 said out of Court situations are preferred and unfortunately 22 it will not be possible here. And that would have been true
23 too.

24 So I think the -- the -- the -- what the city did was

1 going to try anyway. So I think you absolutely can believe in
2 your head that this is never going to work, but try anyway.
3 And that's what I think the situation is in this case.

4 So let's talk about what the city did. And let's see
5 whether it's reflective of a good faith attempt,
6 notwithstanding what may well have been insurmountable odds.

7 What you heard testimony about from multiple witnesses
8 from Mr. Moore, from Mr. Malhotra, from -- from -- from Mr.
9 Buckfire, and a little bit from the outside looking in from 10 Mr. Dillon, was that there was a lot of effort, probably 11 beginning a long time ago, but really intensifying at the 12 beginning of '13 by professionals as they were hired to study
13 the situation carefully and get up to speed.

14 And one of the things that you also heard several times
15 in testimony of several witnesses, that many of the people
16 involved at one point or another, were surprised at what they
17 found. And none of the surprises were positive. You heard
18 that with Mr. Buckfire when he got the liquidity numbers in 19 May, you heard Mr. Dillon talk about the numbers kept getting 20 worse. You talked about -- Mr. Malhotra said it in a number
21 of different ways.

22 And -- and that is a theme that I think Your Honor has to 23 also keep coming back to which is this situation, the economic 24 situation. Whatever people thought it was going to be it

25 ultimately looked worse than everyone's initial impressions.

1 So they determined what they thought the situation was,
2 and then they developed the June 14th proposal. Now, the June
3 14th proposal is really important because number one, it's in 4 evidence. And number two, when we go through not every page,
5 but I'm going to go through the sections and explain their 6 significance.

7 It's important to remember that with one exception that 8 I'll get to and discuss having to deal with the section on 9 assets, throughout all of the testimony of all of the 10 witnesses that came here, no one objected to any of the 11 findings, conclusions, and data that is contained in this 12 report. And as importantly, no one objected to the math.

13 And so I think this proposal stands frankly as a monument
14 to the city's good faith in this process. And I'm going to 15 show you why.

16 The book is divided into sections and frankly the 17 sections are a progression. The first 40 pages is about the 18 current financial condition of the city with some emphasis on 19 the services that are being provided to the residents. It
20 covers the economic service -- the economic circumstances, the 21 tax base, legacy liabilities, deficiencies of service
22 delivery.

23 As I said before, no one adduced any evidence that 24 anything contained in these pages is incorrect in any respect,

1 at it.

2 But now let's look at Page 41. Page 41 is a statement of
3 key objectives. It's what the city is trying to accomplish.
4 Nobody even mentioned it. But it's really important when
5 assessing the good faith of the city. Let's look at what it
6 says. If we can blow it up a little bit.

7 It starts with to the fullest extent possible under all
8 the circumstances. All the circumstances recognizing that 9 things aren't so good.

10 The first item, provide incentives and eliminate
11 disincentives for businesses and residents to locate and/or 12 remain in the city. The city cannot stabilize or pay
13 creditors meaningful recoveries if it continues to shrink.
14 Achieving this goal requires improvements in city services,
15 particularly the area of public policies. Public safety and 16 tax reform to reduce the cost of living in the city and to 17 more closely approximate costs of living in nearby areas.

18 No one took issue with this. That a fundamental problem
19 for the city is fixing delivery of services and -- and 20 actually reforming taxes. Neither one of these things are 21 good for creditors because both of them cost money.

22 And going back, I said I was going to use a Chapter 11
23 analog. We know that there are some cases that come to Court
24 and they advertise the business is just fine, we just have a

1 that's been true, but there are cases that are portrayed that
2 way.

3 This is not one of them. This is a case that requires a
4 rehabilitation and a debt restructuring at the same time. And 5 we're saying it right there and we're saying it's going to 6 cost money. No one walked into this Court and said that's 7 wrong.

8 Next point. Maximize recoveries for creditors. But 9 there's a recognition. Since the city will not generate 10 sufficient cash to pay all liabilities, alternatives have to 11 be considered. No one walked into this Court and said that 12 was wrong.

13 Go to the next section. We recognized that it's 14 important to provide affordable pension and health insurance
15 benefits, affordable, what the city can afford in restructured
16 governance of pension arrangements. It didn't come up here,
17 but it's in the book. There's been some problems there.

18 Next, eliminate blight to assist in stabilizing and 19 revitalizing neighborhoods and communities within the city.
20 No one objected. No one says this is wrong.

21 Next, reform city government operations to improve
22 efficiency and reduce costs. In many areas longer term
23 benefits will require immediate increases in capital
24 investments. No one said this is wrong.

1 imposed. We've heard complaints that there's insufficient
2 attention to this, but no one noted it's in the key objectives
3 that it is part of the plan.

4 And lastly, generate value from city assets where it's 5 appropriate to do so. And we're going to talk more about 6 that. We've been up front about that from day one.

7 So, with all of the contentions that the city is acting
8 in bad faith, there hasn't been and there can't be a
9 contention that the city understands what the objectives of 10 this exercise is, and has identified the correct ones because 11 there is no evidence to the contrary.

12 Pages 43 to 50, we're not going to look at them because 13 we've talked about the city, but it's a review of the city
14 budget for the past several years. Again, less important with 15 this -- this section, but there's no evidence in the record
16 that anything contained in these pages is wrong in any 17 respects.

18 But now let's do pause and take a look at Page 51.
19 Fifty-one is one of those pages that I'm sure, although I
20 don't know, the Governor's office looked at and was horrified.
21 What this page does is it looks at -- at five years of fiscal 22 actuals and we can blow it up for Your Honor if you don't have 23 it in front of you. But I wasn't planning to.

24 And then -- then forecast going forward for the next five
25 years based on nothing changing. No debt restructuring. Keep

1 things the way they are. And you have progressively building
2 budgets -- budget deficits in every single year. No one
3 introduced any evidence that there's anything inaccurate about 4 this page.

5 Pages 53 to 60 then go and say well, what has it already
6 done to address these problems? And there's a discussion
7 about the consent agreement, the appointment of the emergency
8 manager, and many things. There's another part to pages -- in 9 Pages 53 and 60 that are worth dwelling on because they're 10 partly relevant to what's going on here.

11 Which is there's a summary of things that emergency
12 managers have been trying to do in other jurisdictions that 13 were precipitated litigation, some of which have the effect of 14 imposing limitations on emergency managers' powers and 15 affecting their ability to accomplish things that would have 16 to be accomplished in the City of Detroit. Suggesting, of 17 course, that there were true limitations to what could be 18 accomplished out of Court as we've discussed in the context of 19 the impracticability section. No evidence introduced that 20 anything contained in that section is inaccurate in any way.

21 Pages 61 to 78 talk about what has to be done to address
22 the rehabilitation part of the program. And again in a
23 Chapter 11 example, everybody recognizes that you have to keep 24 the business going and keep the customers coming in the door
25 and to continue to keep your customers happy.

1 It's not any different in a city, particularly one that
2 has confronted declining population for as long as everyone
3 can remember. Pages 61 to 78 is a proposal for addressing
4 those things. And no evidence was adduced at this hearing
5 that anything contained in Pages 61 to 78 is incorrect,
6 unreasonable, imprudent, unnecessary, in any way.

7 Pages 79 to 82 only bear a short mention because this is 8 one area where there is no specific proposal. There is the 9 general recognition that taxes have to go down rather than up.
10 And of course the only thing -- there's -- there's no specific
11 proposal with respect to that. They will have to be some day,
12 but the point here is, is that in many cases it is asserted
13 that a debtor is not eligible because it can go solve its 14 problems by raising taxes.

15 And of course not a single witness has presented himself
16 or herself to Your Honor and suggested that that is a solution
17 to the problems of the City of Detroit for reasons described 18 elsewhere in the report, it is not.

19 And finally -- well, not finally, but we've now reached 20 the section where there's been some controversy which is the 21 -- which is realization of value of assets on Pages 83 to 89.
22 And first, I want to talk about complaints that weren't made.

23 There was no complaint that an asset is missing. The -- 24 the -- the report covers the -- the assets that people at the

1 value might be extracted to help out with the creditor
2 situation. And no one testified that one was missing or 3 hidden.

4 There's also no testimony by anyone that the information
5 presented with respect to the various assets is inaccurate or 6 incomplete in any way. The specific complaint from Mr.
7 Robbins, and frankly it was -- we'll come to this in more
8 detail later, but Mr. Robbins had lots of complaints about 9 there wasn't enough information, or at least the -- the -- the 10 testimony was elicited from him that he needed more
11 information.

12 Then he qualified that by saying, well, we needed more
13 information because any time you look at information more
14 questions come up and we have to ask for more. And then he 15 was asked well, what additional information did you really 16 need. And the only specific category he could think of was 17 values of assets -- values of the assets.

18 So I want to cover this in two different ways. First of 19 all, it's worth asking would creditors have credited a city
20 value on any of those assets if they had offered one at that 21 stage in the case.

22 I have been doing this for a really long time. I am
23 waiting to see a case where a debtor puts a value on assets
24 and the creditors immediately respond, gee, those are great,

1 Honor hasn't seen that case yet either.

2 But in any event, the -- the -- Mr. Buckfire's testimony
3 demonstrated that there were really only two of the listed
4 assets that can contribute material value to resolving
5 creditor -- creditor problems in this case or the city's 6 problems in this case. And the reality is, is that both of 7 those involve publicly known circumstances is the best way I
8 can put it, the cloud value.

9 So even if you create theoretical valuations, or 10 appraisals, or -- or -- or try to, you know, kind of come to 11 values of assets that turn out to be very difficult to value
12 to begin with, there are what I'll call other issues.

13 First, with respect to DWSD as is explained in the 14 proposal for creditors, realizing value from DWSD for the 15 benefit of creditors involves a very complex transaction with 16 -- with surrounding governmental units. A topic by the way
17 that I think has been a subject of discussion for more than 18 five years. And it involves a lot of competing concerns of 19 the other municipalities and desires to pay less when the city
20 would want more.

21 And secondly, as we pointed out in oral argument, the 22 second category is the art, the Detroit Institute of Art and 23 the collection contained therein. And as I pointed out there,
24 we are currently operating under an Attorney General opinion
25 that says the city can't realize any value from it. And that

1 is probably not the only, but it's a significant issue with
2 respect to the asset, but it's probably not the only issue
3 that is relevant for consideration.

4 So the reality is with these assets as with so many more
5 in so many other cases that we've all been a part of, there
6 are tremendous uncertainties as to what the true value
7 realization potential is. It's in a really big range.

8 And it may well be and in fact we can -- we should in a
9 second, cross reference to another part of the presentation,
10 recognize that these things might not be resolved in -- during 11 the pendency of any Chapter 9 case, and there might have to be 12 an agreement that deals with allocations of values as if and 13 when realized on a sensible basis. Not exactly an unheard of 14 plan term.

15 In our own way, maybe not artfully enough, we signaled
16 that. And so if Your Honor goes to the book, and I didn't
17 prepare the pages to be presented, but I'll just give people
18 references so that they can go to the right place if they need
19 to. In a description of the note that is -- was intended to 20 be distributed pro rata to unsecured creditors, there are a
21 couple of terms that deal with these uncertainties.

22 In particular there are two kinds of participation
23 payments that are prescribed by the note. One deals with 24 revenues, and one deals with designated assets which weren't
25 defined, but that was something that people could talk about.

1 And the idea was that if as and when monies were
2 received, 70% would be devoted to creditor recoveries and 30%
3 would be retained by the city. Which also by the way answers
4 one of Mr. Robbins' complaints about there wasn't an incentive
5 for the city actually to realize value. Thirty percent was 6 part of that.

7 But another part of that, of course, is the possibility
8 that exists in many cases for post effective date supervision
9 by Courts. It will surprise some people, but believe it or 10 not, the Orange County Chapter 9 case was open for about a
11 decade after the plan was confirmed and it was reopened last 12 year because some loose end developed that had to be closed.

13 So in any event, we -- in its own way the proposal
14 anticipates the reality that many had to have recognized that 15 asset values at this point in time were really hard to 16 deliver, would not be precise, and in any event would not
17 necessarily represent a number that would effectively result
18 in a distribution. That that information might come much much
19 later.

20 THE COURT: What page was that on?

21 MR. BENNETT: It's asset distribution proceeds, Page
22 108, about one-third from the top.

23 THE COURT: Thank you.

24 MR. BENNETT: And the -- and the provision relating 25 to sharing of -- of improvement in gross revenues is -- is on

1 the prior page. It's 107 on the bottom.

2 Okay. So after the description of assets we come to the 3 ten year projections. And here again no evidence at all was 4 introduced that says anything about the assumptions on which 5 the projections were based, or the number crunching and the 6 math that actually generates the results are wrong in any way.
7 And -- and really in this section the assumptions are 8 summarized and then math takes over.

9 We should -- let's take a look at Page 98, just very very 10 briefly once again. Page 98 where there is the -- the box of 11 estimated claim amounts, is also the place where we show
12 available cash under the first ten years that is generated by 13 the model and the assumptions that are listed in that section.

14 And if you'll -- if you could blow -- blow up the box
15 above the box we saw last time. So the one that goes all the 16 way across the page. Okay.

17 So the first line is funds available for unsecured
18 creditors based upon city operations and city tax collections.
19 Further demonstrating that nobody was hiding the ball about 20 the importance of asset sales as -- or asset monetization as a
21 potential source of recovery in the case, there's a line that 22 shows that there -- there may or may not be something. TBD of 23 course means to be determined.

24 And then the bottom line, funds that we know are 25 available for unsecured claims. And then notice the last two

1 words, with opportunities, recognizing that it's hoped that
2 things will be better. That's why there's the revenue sharing
3 provision in the other sections.

4 But as I said before, at this point the math has taken
5 over. And it is these numbers, the numbers we know we're 6 going to have that drive the next section which is treatment.
7 We've already discussed the plan. I don't think there's any 8 more reason to discuss it. As I said before, it's driven by 9 the numbers, it is complete, covers all the contingencies
10 people are concerned about. It may not cover them the way
11 they want, and we'll come to that in a second, but no one is 12 hiding the ball. Every issue that anyone has ever talked 13 about in this Court that has to be dealt with in this case, is 14 highlighted here, a reflection of good faith, not bad faith.

15 On -- there's another section on post -- post plan
16 governance recognizing that that's another subject that has to 17 be addressed, it got no attention here. So the proposal
18 itself shows that the city's professionals did a lot of work.
19 It shows that the results were driven by math that no one
20 challenges, and at this point, and I can skip it now because 21 we went there already, I wanted to make the point that 22 everyone involved understood that the negotiations were likely 23 to fail because it was impracticable to expect that you could 24 achieve a negotiated solution in this case.

1 but of course the evidence doesn't show directly, that
2 everybody else also understood, which is as the numbers got 3 worse, everyone testified in varying ways that the numbers got
4 worse and the negative surprises. The chances that a deal
5 could be worked out out of Court actually decreased because
6 it's harder to get a deal done when there's low recoveries
7 than a deal done when there's relatively higher recoveries.

8 And I don't think at any time people thought the 9 recoveries could be great. But I think that when you look at 10 the recoveries that are -- are projected and the plan
11 provisions that are included in the June 14th proposal, what
12 you're seeing is the lowest situation, or the worst situation
13 anyone envisioned at any point in the process.

14 So to the extent that back on January 29th, there is 15 optimism in the Jones, Day report that, you know, all these 16 great things can happen if you can get something done out of 17 Court, and it's very difficult, because the numbers went down
18 from there, I think people felt even worse about the 19 prospects. But as I said before, they tried anyway and they 20 tried hard.

21 Okay. Well, notwithstanding the reservations that this 22 was going to be very hard if not impossible, a meeting was 23 scheduled, presentation was finalized, a meeting was 24 scheduled. Many many people were invited to that meeting. I
25 think the testimony is uniform on that.

1 Some people managed not to get an invitation. I frankly
2 think that the -- that the broad array of people who weren't
3 invited was a reflection of good faith as opposed to bad faith
4 and the fact that a few -- we missed a few, I don't think
5 reflects any -- any lack of good faith.

6 There was a big room at the first meeting, very clearly
7 no negotiations were intended there. And so all the testimony
8 about how there were no negotiations at the first meeting, I
9 stipulate to that.

10 I will point out that everyone testified that all
11 questions were answered. Some people testified they didn't
12 ask questions. Some people testified that there was a card
13 system used because of -- frankly because of the size of the 14 room, it was a pretty reasonable thing to do.

15 But the fact that some people were discouraged from 16 asking questions frankly is not evidence of the city's bad
17 faith. That certain professionals might have decided not to 18 ask questions for whatever reasons, certainly is not a 19 reflection of the city's bad faith, but that obviously could 20 have impeded progress to a degree.

21 At the end of the initial presentation the city discussed
22 what it was going to do next. And if we can have Exhibit 44,
23 Page 61. Your Honor's seen it before, I'm not going to read
24 it.

1 discussions with stakeholders. No one ever said we're going
2 to negotiate a plan in four weeks or else. But what is said
3 is, we're going to have an initial round of discussions with 4 stakeholders. And then we're going to evaluate where we are.

5 So now you've got a city that said, I've got a really bad
6 situation, the numbers clearly show that. No one denies that.
7 We're going to make a shot because in -- because in our hearts
8 we would love to have an out of Court deal even if in our 9 heads we think it's impossible.

10 So let's see what the initial reactions are to what we 11 are proposing. And we are proposing something by the way
12 backed with a huge amount of information and backed with a
13 progression that explains exactly how we got to the place
14 where we got.

15 I'm going to ignore for the time being and hold for 16 reply, the whole potential confusion over the subject of 17 whether there were negotiations or not at different stages.
18 But I think the testimony showed that everyone understood, or 19 that many, not everyone, many understood -- actually the most 20 important people understood that the city representatives were 21 looking for feedback. No one denies that.

22 And in fact a list of some of the witnesses. Nicholson
23 acknowledges this, Kreisberg acknowledged this. By the way,
24 they were actually the most professional negotiators involved

1 to in a second.

2 And -- and Kreisberg is a person who understood that a
3 counter proposal was kind of the right next step. Because 4 Kreisberg testified that he actually had worked out a counter
5 proposal of some sort, he just decided not to present it. I
6 don't know if he would have presented it, it would have 7 changed anything, but it would have been more information for 8 the evaluation that the city said was going to follow.

9 Robbins testified that the proposal itself with all of 10 the flaws that he asserted are in it, signaled that the city
11 wanted to negotiate and have discussions. He used both of 12 those words, although I don't have the official transcript, it
13 was just yesterday.

14 But he also volunteered that he didn't think the city's 15 proposal was serious. And he said -- and the reasons when he 16 asked about that he said well, there was no incentive to 17 actually realize monetization with respect to assets. Your 18 Honor can create your own judgment on that. And that there
19 was no requirement in the -- in the notes to pay on maturity
20 if asset sales and if the distributions didn't happen.

21 Well, again, that's a function of the math. There are 22 projections that shows how much cash is available. It's 23 already being used for interest on the note. There's a 24 separate provision saying some of it's going to be used for

1 money. But again, those were thoughts he kept to himself. He
2 didn't ask questions or discuss.

3 As I said before, at this evaluation period what was
4 going to happen. Well, a lot of things could have happened.
5 It might have been unlikely, but one thing could have happened
6 is, the germ of an idea, or the possibility of agreement might 7 have emerged and it would have been pursued.

8 The other thing that could have happened is, is that
9 there was no prospect of an agreement and the objective
10 judgment that things were -- were impracticable would be 11 confirmed. But one thing should not be surprising, is that 12 work on both contingencies proceeded at all times. Because 13 remember, the backdrop was an insolvent city with a number of 14 recent events that created instability. And no one could 15 ignore that.

16 And Mr. Nowling's schedule is part of normal
17 pre-bankruptcy planning, nothing more, nothing less. And 18 pre-bankruptcy planning is not a reflection of a lack of good
19 faith, it's a reflection of sensibly managing your affairs in 20 circumstances where you're under extreme financial pressure
21 and you know that the only proposal that you can afford isn't 22 so great.

23 There was testimony about other large group meetings.
24 There was testimony about in the hall meetings. There was a

1 meetings that were happening on the bond holder side. And
2 there too, there was big meetings and small meetings, and
3 individual meetings. There were lots and lots and lots of 4 meetings during the four week period of time.

5 Again, whether or not negotiations occurred, discussions
6 did occur. And multiple requests for feedback were made,
7 they're in the record.

8 Robbins actually says the same thing a little bit
9 differently. You know, he -- he -- he doesn't say that
10 feedback was attracted, I think I mentioned before he said it
11 was implicit in the proposal.

12 But what I think for these purposes, I want to go back to 13 that testimony that -- that these three experienced
14 negotiators at a minimum two on the labor side, one an 15 investment banker representing labor side, they knew that a
16 negotiation that the city was trying to start negotiation.
17 And they just didn't accept the invitation.

18 So I -- I think again we ask ourselves two questions.
19 One, how does a dialogue get started. And two, what is the --
20 the city supposed to do, what is a good faith city supposed to 21 do when the dialogue doesn't get started? Well, I think it's 22 incredibly obvious that the way a dialogue has to -- has to 23 get started, is that when -- when you get a proposal from 24 someone and you don't like it, but you want to or need to make 25 a deal with that person, you make a counter proposal.

1 I -- I -- very short digression, we're in Motor City. So
2 let's talk about how people go about buying cars which should 3 be familiar to everyone in this room except a couple of New
4 Yorkers who may never have owned one.

5 You go to a dealer. There's a sticker on the car. And 6 let's say you like the car. You don't want to pay the sticker
7 price ever. What do you have to do to find out what the real
8 price of the car is going to be and if you're going to be able 9 to buy it.

10 The dealer, the sales person, or the manager says, how 11 much are you willing to pay for the car. And you have to tell 12 them, you have to make an offer, otherwise you're not going to 13 buy the car. That's how a dialogue gets started.

14 No one ever answered the question which Robbins
15 understood was on the table, which Kreisberg understood was on 16 the table, which Nicholson understood was on the table, and 17 many other people may have understood on the table as well.
18 Which is okay, in light of all this data, the progression, the 19 argument, the presentation about what the problems are, which 20 is not contested at all in this hearing. It had five months
21 to decide that there was something wrong with this.

22 Propose something else that you like better that works.
23 That never happened. And actually what did happen, the 24 evidence shows, the interrogatory responses told, is that to

1 response is from the -- the -- the two funds, any one of the 2 retiree representatives who say we should have negotiated with
3 them, the response was, I'll pay zero because their statement
4 was, no impairment at all.

5 I don't think this is that hard. Other city creditors
6 knew how to respond. From Mr. Orr we have the testimony about 7 the negotiations with the swap banks and the 60 days, the 8 roughly 60 day period beginning from the time when everyone
9 started to understand there was going to be a default on the 10 COPs.

11 Buckfire testified, and it's in the record, that some of 12 the GO insurers actually did submit a written out offer, a
13 competing framework. It wasn't acceptable but they submitted
14 something.

15 He also testified that someone else had half a proposal.
16 I think he called it half a proposal. It was -- it was -- it
17 was verbal. But other professionals who Mr. Robbins would say
18 he is as qualified as, or in the same league with, knew what 19 to do if there was any hope at all of starting a dialogue.

20 So now we get to the next -- the next part of the 21 question. What is a good faith city supposed to do when 22 confronted with counter parties that said to the city, you
23 have miscalculated the pension underfunding claim, said it's 24 too high as opposed to too low. But no impairment will be

1 zero.

2 And some of them they say they don't -- they don't even
3 really represent the employees as reflected by the 4 interrogatory responses which are admissions. This is really
5 important. There is no answer to that question in the 6 evidence, none.

7 The answer that well, spend more time. There's two 8 responses to spend more time. One is the city didn't have 9 more time. There were other pressures. This wasn't just 10 about a negotiation however long it could be. It was a
11 constant tension between spending more time in negotiations
12 and incurring more financial instability risk.

13 But the second part is, what would more time have led to.
14 There was no evidence of any overt indication that the city
15 could have looked at and said, there's a path to a deal.

16 With respect to UAW, there's an additional complication
17 we now know, didn't know then, that the UAW was secretly
18 financing a lawsuit, the Flowers case. By the way, the UAW is 19 the one that in their brief, their trial brief for this 20 proceeding says, they were never going to make a deal because 21 they would never ever ever compromise on pension claims.

22 Three times in their trial briefs they say that. There is no
23 answer to the question as to what a good faith city is 24 supposed to do in response to that position. That works, that 25 makes things better.

1 And then we have Mr. Robbins and his client the funds.
2 Now remember how those discussions ended. Robbins has a
3 meeting with city representatives and they are talking about a
4 process for trying to reach agreement. What steps are we
5 going to take? What things are we going to try to talk about?
6 Really due diligence points. They actually weren't even
7 talking about an agreement.

8 I'm going to call those things the shape of the table.
9 So Mr. Robbins says -- is trying to talk about the shape of 10 the table. And he says back, I need eight days to discuss 11 with my client my authority and my recommendations concerning
12 the shape of the table.

13 Mr. Robbins knows the city has already defaulted on some 14 of its debt. Mr. Robbins may or may not know, or maybe didn't 15 ask about what was going on with Syncora. I don't know. But 16 Mr. Robbins knows that there's an emergency and Mr. Robbins
17 knows a valuation is starting soon. But he says, I'll get 18 back to you in eight days.

19 And what happens during those eight days? Well, with or 20 without Mr. Robbins' knowledge, don't know what was going on 21 inside the funds as to what they were really talking to each
22 other, his client initiates litigation against the city. I
23 don't understand why Mr. Robbins was surprised by the timing
24 of the filing. In fact I don't know how anyone could have 25 been under all the circumstances.

1 On some -- some other points that I'm going to do a
2 little anticipating now, but only a little. About the kinds
3 of objections that we expect to see to the good faith of the 4 city. But I don't think I have a vivid enough imagination to 5 figure out all of them.

6 One is, not enough information was provided. We talked
7 about that already in a number of places we've talked about
8 it. Robbins is so far as I can tell, the only specific
9 testimony about information that was missing. There is no
10 doubt that more can always be provided, more is always 11 provided, and another thing I've never had happen to me yet in 12 my professional career, is where an adverse party has said,
13 enough, I have enough information. Just never happened to me
14 yet. I don't expect it to happen for the rest of the case.

15 But the fact that there is more information that is 16 always available does not mean negotiations aren't supposed to 17 start. Enough information will never be available.

18 By the way, the only person who was really asked about 19 the operation of the data room was Mr. Robbins and he 20 testified that Miller, Buckfire had been responsive and he was 21 generally satisfied with the way it was working, although 22 admittedly he said, and it's true, the city was having 23 problems coming up with some of the information he was 24 requesting.

1 County -- it's one thing about the Ingham County forum that I
2 think everyone would have to stipulate to. There is nothing
3 about what was going on in the Ingham County forum that was 4 going to solve the city's problems. It was only going to make 5 the situation worse.

6 To me that's the -- an example of the beginning of 7 uncoordinated creditor action that bankruptcy laws are 8 designed to supplant. And bankruptcy laws do supplant. And 9 so by filing this case here, when the city was already facing
10 time pressure, already had been through the period of time it
11 told everyone it was going to have discussions based on which 12 it would conduct an evaluation, and where everything that it
13 heard confirmed the fears that -- that things were as 14 impractical as their heads told them, it was not only in good
15 faith, but it was sensible to engage a forum that not only had 16 exclusive jurisdiction to decide all the questions that 17 someone was trying to raise in Ingham County, but could 18 actually and did actually have the power to solve -- help
19 solve the city's problems. That can't possibly be in bad
20 faith.

21 I expect to hear that the city did not negotiate in good
22 faith because it took at face value the retiree
23 representatives' disclaimer of authority to negotiate.
24 Because what you've heard here, is that while they can't

1 sent which said we can't negotiate, don't have authority, have
2 never sought authority.

3 They appear to contend that the city should have figured
4 out that they didn't mean it. I think you've heard testimony
5 that we thought they did mean it. But let's assume that there
6 was a misunderstanding.

7 If there was a misunderstanding, it was a
8 misunderstanding created by the written letters which don't 9 admit an exception to the statements that were made, or don't 10 admit to the existence of a work around to the statements that 11 are made. I don't think it was a misunderstanding, but if 12 there was a misunderstanding, that does not reflect bad faith.

13 Another point that I -- I think we will hear was that the 14 proposal that was made was not acceptable. You've already 15 heard the retiree committee, any proposal that involves any 16 impairment to pension benefits was not going to be acceptable.

17 To Mr. Montgomery's cross examination of Mr. Buckfire and 18 he wasn't here of course at the very beginning, but drawing
19 inferences from his cross examination, it sounds like the 20 retiree representatives didn't like the interest rate. It
21 sounds like the retirement on the note. It sounds like the 22 retiree representatives didn't like that the principal amount
23 was 2,000,000,000 as opposed to a different number. It sounds
24 like the retiree representatives didn't like the Dutch auction
25 mechanism.

1 Those things are good to hear. They would have been
2 better to hear if there was any chance of -- of having a
3 consensual solution back at the time when the proposal was 4 made and a discussion -- period for discussion with creditors
5 was going on. There is no evidence that any creditor stood up
6 and made any of the points that Mr. Montgomery made in his --
7 or tried to make in his cross examination of -- of Mr.
8 Buckfire at any time during the negotiation period.

9 Again, perhaps they were under no obligation. Your
10 Honor, once observed to me that the good faith requirement
11 points to the city and it does. But the question is, in the 12 absence of the kind of feedback that I guess the retiree
13 committee is now effectively admitting, is the kind of things
14 people talk about when they receive a proposal, speaks volumes
15 to the question of what a good faith city is supposed to do
16 when it doesn't get that feedback.

17 City representatives at meetings were not "authorized to 18 negotiate". And -- and I think the testimony from the 19 witnesses was a little clear when that question was sprung --
20 unclear when the question was sprung at them. Some said, you
21 know, well, I work for Mr. Orr, he wasn't there. But the 22 reality is, is that the representatives of the city were there
23 to collect feedback and figure out what to do about it.

24 And they have the ability to make a recommendation to a
25 single person who yea or nay and sometimes with government

1 approval depending upon the amounts of money at stake, could
2 actually instantly or very promptly respond. That Mr. Orr was
3 not in the room is -- does not make a difference. He sent
4 people to collect feedback to figure out what the next step
5 should be. That should be sufficient.

6 No one proved, Your Honor, and -- and I'm going to be 7 slightly going over matters that the state covered, so I'll be
8 very brief. No one proved that the filing of the Chapter 9
9 case was preordained, or planned, or implemented without 10 considering approvals.

11 I said before the fact that state -- the state, the 12 professionals who ultimately represent the city looked at 13 Chapter 9, realized that the city might be headed there, and 14 thought about that, doesn't show a lack of good faith, it
15 shows two things. It shows a lack of prudent and practical
16 planning, and as I pointed out, it may also show due regard
17 for the law.

18 I think this is a -- I think -- while there will be, I'm 19 sure, other assertions of indicia of lack of good faith that 20 arose at different points in the process, I think I will save
21 that for reply, because I think I'm also a little bit
22 overstaying the time I reserved for myself.

23 For a very short summary. First of all, I want to harken
24 back to where I started. That there's a list of five things.

1 decisions on to demonstrate to find that the city is eligible.

2 I think the evidence overwhelmingly demonstrates that the 3 city is eligible, that there's been no effective rebutting of 4 the -- of the city's prima facie case on any of the points.

5 And this Court could clearly find in the alternative that it
6 was impracticable and the city tried anyway. And everything
7 they did in that process was in good faith and did not exhibit
8 any lack of good faith. And I think for the same reason,
9 there is no basis for dismissing the case under 921.

10 I think it is important in -- in listening to the 11 argument you're about to hear, whether any of the complaints
12 about the process are followed with, and if this particular 13 thing was done differently, the city's problems would be 14 solved as follows.

15 The second half has never been a part of the dialogue.
16 If you scour through all of the pre-trial briefs that were 17 filed, AFSCME recognizes that it's something they have to say,
18 or a topic they have to address. And then they address it by 19 saying well, there were lots of ways that the city could have 20 avoided bankruptcy if they just talked some more.

21 Well, lots of unspecified ways don't cut it anymore. If 22 there is a assertion that there was a fork at the road where 23 the city acted in any way lacking complete good faith, and 24 could have acted differently, they should specify what the

1 that act would have made this proceeding unnecessary and
2 redundant.

3 That question has never been answered. And that's the 4 most important question before you. I think the facts are
5 overwhelming, the city should -- the Court should determine
6 the city is eligible and the case should not be dismissed
7 under 921. I'm happy to answer any questions Your Honor might 8 have.

9 THE COURT: Thank you, sir. And who is going first
10 on the objectors side?

11 MS. LEVINE: We are, Your Honor.

12 THE COURT: So I'll ask you your preference. Would 13 you like to take an hour and a half now for what would be an 14 early lunch break, or do you want to plow ahead after a 20
15 minute recess?

16 MR. MONTGOMERY: Your Honor, if I may make an 17 inquiry of the Court. Which is initially when would you
18 otherwise plan to take the lunch break for today?

19 THE COURT: Probably after the first of the 20 arguments. That's why I was leaving it up to Ms. Levine.

21 MR. MONTGOMERY: Your Honor, whatever Ms. Levine
22 wants to do, we'll follow. If she wants to take a break now.

23 THE COURT: I agree, it's all on you.

24 MS. LEVINE: Okay. We'll start.

25 THE COURT: Okay. Well, I would like to take a 20
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 2125
of 2386

1 minute break at this point. Is that okay?

2 MS. LEVINE: If we -- if we take lunch then does
3 that obviate the 20 minute break and maybe gets out a little a
4 bit earlier on Friday?

5 THE COURT: It would.

6 MS. LEVINE: Then we will eat lunch.

7 THE COURT: All right. It's 11:15. We'll reconvene
8 at 12:45, please.

9 MS. LEVINE: Thank you.

10 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in recess.

11 (Court in Recess at 11:14 a.m.; Resume at 12:48 p.m.)

12 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in session. Please
13 be seated. Recalling case number 13-53846, City of Detroit,
14 Michigan.

15 MS. LEVINE: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Sharon
16 Levine, Lowenstein, Sandler for AFSCME.

17 THE COURT: You may proceed.

18 MS. LEVINE: Thank you, Your Honor. Your Honor,
19 based on these facts, Detroit is not eligible to be a debtor
20 under Chapter 9 of the Bankruptcy Code.

21 Under the Bankruptcy Code, in Chapter 11, it works
22 because of transparency and because there's value creation for 23 all of the constituents. There's an exchange for the 24 automatic stay. There is a fish bowl.

1 how bankruptcy works. The bonds get equity or get
2 restructured debt, vendors get equity and they get to keep a
3 customer. And even if you're part of the cadre of -- of costs
4 that have to get kicked to the curb, like -- like the 5 pensioners or the retirees, there's safety nets in the private 6 sector that -- that protect against that.

7 There's the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corp which provides
8 federal insurance. The is multi employer pension plans.
9 There are VEBA's. There's COBRA. It's not as if you're --
10 you're left there with no pension and no Social Security.

11 Here, Your Honor, in Detroit, there is no such safety
12 net. And while we heard you ask Mr. Orr whether or not he had 13 asked the Governor for that help and we certainly heard the 14 Governor say that he doesn't have to provide that help because 15 the bankruptcy process will take care of it. As we sit here
16 today, there is no -- there is no visibility on that issue.

17 We'd respectfully submit that operating outside of a fish
18 bowl but under a cloak of secrecy, leaves folks with a limited
19 understanding of what's happening, why it's happening, and why
20 it's happening now. And particularly troubling here, Your 21 Honor, is -- and we've heard the testimony and then we just 22 heard the state and the city acknowledged in their closings,
23 when the Governor took office, when the Treasurer took office
24 in 2011, they were -- they already had their eye on Detroit,
25 they already believed it to be financially distressed.

1 There was a slow decline that the state believed was
2 occurring, that the Governor believed was occurring at that
3 time which didn't result in an emergency or a crisis on June
4 14 when the proposal for creditors was made and an emergency
5 that necessitated a July 19 or a July 18 filing. There was a
6 multi year decline where the Governor chose to do nothing and 7 Detroit suffered the consequences. That is not -- that's not
8 impractical and that's not good faith.

9 Turning first, Your Honor, to insolvency. You know,
10 there's a little bit of tongue in cheek when we talk about the 11 fact that the city needs to prove insolvency because we're not 12 -- you know, we're not immune to the fact that there clearly 13 is blight and no lights. And we'd like to see more from the 14 police and from the fire. And we'd like to help them be able 15 to do more to -- to make the -- to make this city safer.

16 But under Bankruptcy Code Section 109, only one type of 17 debtor has to prove insolvency at the beginning of the case
18 and that's a municipality. And we would respectfully submit 19 that that makes sense because of how unusual this is and how 20 scary this is for its citizens.

21 So for the city to say, sort of tongue in cheek that of 22 course we wouldn't expect them to offer evidence of value at 23 the start of the case, you need to negotiate those values and 24 do that at the end of the case. That works. We've done that,
25 that works in a Chapter 11.

1 But that doesn't work in the Chapter 9 context, Your
2 Honor. So if I owe a dollar and I choose not to pay it, even
3 if I have it, that doesn't make me insolvent. If I have an
4 asset and I choose not to pay that dollar because the Governor
5 through the Attorney General has told me not to sell or 6 dollarize that asset, that doesn't make me insolvent.

7 And if the police chief gets on the stand and despite the 8 fact that the testimony is compelling, and it is compelling,
9 how much he wants to improve the city. Or even frankly I
10 found particularly compelling, Your Honor, the retired
11 librarian who -- who loved the library and who -- and who was 12 very compelling in the sadness that she felt that some of the 13 libraries were being closed. That's not proof of insolvency,
14 that's anecdotal.

15 And what -- and what -- and if you listen to what Captain
16 Craig said on cross examination, he has not given the city a
17 budget. We don't know what the hole is. We don't know what 18 the path is to fix it and we don't know how much it's going to 19 cost.

20 We know they're going to take from the retirees. We know
21 they're going to take from the active employees. We know
22 they're going to take, but we don't know what -- whether or 23 not it's going to fix anything, and how it's going to be used,
24 and what that taking is going to mean.

1 fact that we can't collect taxes. And that therefore we -- we
2 don't know what our revenue stream.

3 My co-counsel Richard Macks lives in the city and he pays
4 his taxes. And we went through this thing, this 109 pages
5 together. We don't understand who is not paying, and why
6 they're not paying, and whether or not that's valid.

7 Now it may be, Your Honor, that, you know, we see the 8 blight and we see the problems. And we're not saying that 9 those aren't real issues. And we're not saying that -- that 10 Detroit doesn't have, you know, issues with tax collection.
11 But what we are saying is, a municipality for a very important
12 and compelling reason has the burden of proof and they haven't 13 proved it here.

14 We don't see valuations. We don't see appraisals. We 15 don't see actuarial reports. We don't see any expert reports
16 with regard to the shortfall -- alleged shortfall in the 17 vested pension benefits or otherwise. And we have heard that 18 that's for strategic reasons.

19 But let's assume -- but -- but even if that is, Your
20 Honor, we still have a Chapter 9 municipality and a Chapter 9
21 municipality to be eligible must -- must prove solvency. And 22 even if Your Honor disagrees with us that we need expert
23 testimony on that which we believe you do, then we need to 24 take a look at what factual evidence they've given us. Okay.

1 they say we haven't refuted them, but that's not true, Judge.
2 We absolutely have. They've -- they've offered the testimony
3 particularly of Ernst and Young, of E & Y. And those -- and 4 E & Y has been involved with the city according to Mr. Dillon
5 in 2012 and maybe even as early as 2011 because E & Y
6 participated in the concessionary bargaining negotiations with 7 labor. Okay.

8 So E & Y is the guy that everybody is telling us has 9 really gotten underneath the numbers. We didn't agree that 10 the terminology was a bottoms up terminology, but we did agree
11 that E & Y was the guy that got underneath the numbers.

12 So why when E & Y took the stand, are they relying on 13 audited financial statements from non-testifying CPA's? Or 14 even more confusing, if the theory is that we need an 15 emergency manager because the -- because the city is being
16 mismanaged by itself, why is E & Y relying on untestifying,
17 untested city employees to provide the information that 18 they're relying on.

19 Either -- either they're a fact witness and they're doing
20 their own fact checking, bottoms up, true digging in and 21 understanding the numbers, or they're an expert and they're 22 really offering expert testimony. We have neither. We have 23 neither, Your Honor. They haven't demonstrated insolvency.
24 Okay.

1 involved in this process for at least since the middle of
2 2012. And it's frankly baffling to the stakeholders that they
3 want to cut claims, that they want to cut jobs, that they want
4 to cut retiree health, that they want to cut pensions, but 5 they don't have an indication for us yet as to what is that
6 hole that they need to fill.

7 And frankly, Your Honor, unlike some cities that find
8 themselves distressed, Detroit is in a solvent state. So if 9 we have a Governor who is starving the city and then delaying
10 taking action with regard to the stakeholders, that is not, we 11 would respectfully submit, proof of insolvency.

12 We were -- we heard colloquy on the stand actually, Your 13 Honor, and I think Your Honor actually questioned Mr. Orr with 14 regard to why he didn't ask the Governor specifically for the 15 3.5 -- or why he didn't remember whether or not he asked the 16 Governor for the 3.6 billion to fill the pension hole. Your 17 Honor, I have kids, they know when not to ask.

18 Your Honor, with regard to good faith and with regard to 19 the negotiations. AFSCME and others sought to meet with the 20 emergency manager on the day, the very day he was appointed.
21 Ed McNeil went to his office and when he couldn't get into the 22 office, he posted a letter to the door requesting a meeting
23 with the coalition of unions that wanted to meet with him.

24 AFSCME and others, including Mr. Kreisberg went to all

1 others signed a confidentiality agreement to access the data
2 room to get access to information. AFSCME sent information
3 requests requesting reasonable financial, cost, health
4 benefit, retiree health, pension information.

5 Mr. Kreisberg testified that despite the fact that there
6 was some colloquy during his deposition that may have 7 indicated otherwise, he did want to meet and he was trying to 8 get information from the city with regard to what might 9 constitute the underpinnings of a successful proposal, or a
10 successful counter proposal. And that was not forthcoming.

11 There were no meetings. There were no responses to those 12 inquiries. And in addition to that, there was not sufficient
13 information in the data room as of the filing date to make a
14 reasonable counter proposal.

15 In fact we're not sure, Your Honor, and we would 16 respectfully submit that Your Honor find, that this proposal
17 isn't a proposal. We saw some of the pages that the city
18 pointed us to during their opening, but if you look at this
19 proposal, and you're a retiree counting on health benefits,
20 you don't know what your new benefits are going to be. You
21 don't know what benefits are going to be cut. And you don't 22 know how much the city is saving because they're making those 23 changes. So you can't really counter or offer something
24 different or potentially less devastating to you.

1 benefits. You don't know what's going to be cut, you don't
2 know what your pension benefit is going to be. And you don't
3 know what the savings are as a result of those cuts. In fact
4 with regard to the pensioners, you don't even know if you're 5 considered a creditor.

6 With regard to jobs, Your Honor, you don't know if you're 7 going to have one. And you don't know what they're going to 8 save by outsourcing your job or by eliminating it. How can 9 you make a counter proposal without these very basic simple
10 facts?

11 And equally telling, equally telling is that we've seen a
12 plethora of information and evidence with regard to the fact
13 that people were reviewing and looking at whether or not you
14 could terminate the pensions through the use of Chapter 9 way
15 back into 2012.

16 Not one shred of evidence, Your Honor, not one shred of 17 evidence on how you conduct the good faith negotiations you
18 need to conduct to be a Chapter 9 debtor consistently with 19 whatever rights you want to reserve under PA436. Not one 20 shred of evidence on how they could actually facilitate those 21 discussions.

22 We would respectfully submit that the arguments with 23 regard to impractical also go to bad faith and a -- and a lack 24 of -- and a lack of authority. They've admitted financial

1 2011, yet the state created a situation where there was only
2 one month and four days that we could do these negotiations.
3 They did not, the Governor did not before June 14th, encourage 4 negotiations with stakeholders.

5 We heard testimony from the bevy of consultants that
6 there were no discussions with the bonds before the -- before
7 the -- before the EM was appointed. There were no discussions
8 with vendors. There were no discussions on the pensions.
9 There were no discussions with the retirees.

10 And when there were discussions, with a coalition of 11 unions led by Ed McNeil and others that resulted in a 12 concessionary agreement where the city sat in the room and 13 worked hard for several months and frankly it could have been 14 done shorter, if it needed to be done shorter as a precursor
15 to Chapter 9 and where E & Y, the one -- the one consultant
16 that the -- the state has testified is the guy that knows the 17 numbers, sat in the room and participated in those 18 discussions. When that negotiation concluded, the state said
19 no.

20 And not only were there no negotiations with retirees,
21 Your Honor, but you heard testimony from at least two of the 22 -- two of the witnesses that you can do settlements with 23 retirees. You can do settlements through class actions, you
24 can do settlements as Mr. Kreisberg testified actually

1 the concessionary bargain, which by the way dealt with retiree
2 health and dealt with pensions. Also have the unions agree
3 not to fund retiree litigation.

4 There's no retiree with 18,000 or $19,000 in pensions
5 undertaking a Supreme Court challenge to -- to litigation.
6 And for the city to say they're surprised to learn that in
7 like -- like with AFSCME in Illinois, or with the Flowers
8 litigation that that wasn't being funded by the retiree, is --
9 is just -- is frankly disingenuous. Not only -- not only do
10 they know it, Your Honor, they participated in the settlement
11 negotiations that resulted in how to stop it.

12 Your Honor, as you approach Chapter 9, one of the 13 criteria under Chapter 9 is that you enter into an agreement
14 that is approved by a majority of your creditors. That is 15 completely consistent with the concept of a pre-packaged
16 bankruptcy in a Chapter 11 context. And it's a good thing to 17 do because it vests people like the labor negotiation vested
18 people in the making better of the problem.

19 They're owning, they're owning the resurgence of Detroit
20 as opposed to being discarded by the Governor's view of what 21 that resurgence should look like. But instead of that, Your 22 Honor, we're doing things where we're kicking people off to 23 the side and disenfranchising them. And that's not the proper
24 way to be using Chapter 9.

1 consent because the indentures or the loan documents require
2 100% consent, then you get to one-half in number and
3 two-thirds in dollar amount. You don't even have to do that
4 in Chapter 9. In Chapter 9, you only need a majority.

5 If you say that the insurance carriers, that the bond
6 insurers aren't getting to consent, same thing, Your Honor.
7 You only need a majority. You don't even need the high bar
8 that you have in Chapter 11 for a pre-package. In a Chapter 9
9 it's only a majority of the creditors.

10 They didn't get to a majority of the creditors because 11 they didn't spend sufficient time with those creditors to do
12 those negotiations. And by sufficient time we don't mean two 13 years, we just mean more than a month and five days. They 14 took more time, Your Honor, the Governor took more time to 15 interview the consultants that were hired to help the city
16 with its restructuring than they took to negotiation the 17 restructuring itself. That's absurd.

18 Your Honor, you're being asked today here to set a very,
19 very dangerous precedent, not only for Detroit, but if the 20 Governor is allowed to create a self -- a slow decline with no
21 real emergency and just wait until we're at the precipice and 22 then say oh, we have to do something, and now with that self
23 created emergency, be able to use Chapter 9 to further what 24 might be because we're under this -- this cloak of -- of lack 25 of transparency, an agenda that is not truly a financial

1 agenda, but a political agenda, a bi-partisan agenda, a
2 socioeconomic agenda, a racial agenda, Your Honor, you're
3 going to be put in a situation where this will allow the 4 Governor to do this to any city in -- in Michigan and it will
5 be a road map for Governors across the country to use Chapter
6 9 by creating a self created emergency to deal with issues
7 that are unrelated to really truly solving the financial woes
8 of particular cities.

9 And the facts in Detroit are particularly egregious.
10 Because in addition to not doing anything, trying to negotiate
11 with the stakeholders all during 2012, they actually stopped
12 the one stakeholder that begged the city to negotiate with 13 them which was labor. We had concessionary agreements by 30
14 unions that were approved with the city with E & Y in the room
15 and the state said no. And then they went one step further.
16 They negotiated a consent decree.

17 And the only substantive right other than technical
18 assistance that they're giving to themselves in that consent
19 decree, is the right to veto labor agreements. And the only 20 reference to the Constitution in that consent decree, Your 21 Honor, is not to the pension clause, it's to the fact that the 22 Constitution limits funding. We can't help the city
23 financially, it's silent on the pension clause.

24 And what happens after the consent decree? The -- the --
25 the Governor enacts 436. What's the only thing that 436 does

1 here? Is it stops negotiations. So now we have the 2 consultants in a pretzel trying to figure out how they can
3 conduct good faith negotiations as required as a precursor to 4 Chapter 9 while simultaneously not waiving rights under PA436.

5 Now I would respectfully submit that had they spent one
6 scintilla of time working on the problem the way they did on 7 getting rid of the pensions, they could have come up with a
8 creative solution. But that road block was put there by the 9 state and blocks the ability of Detroit to reasonably be here.

10 We understand, Your Honor, that this is a hard situation.
11 We --

12 THE COURT: What -- what was the Governor's
13 motivation in your view?

14 MS. LEVINE: Your Honor, I don't -- I'm not -- I'm 15 speculating. I've heard -- I've heard from our constituents.

16 THE COURT: The evidence to suggest what his 17 motivation was other than to help the city, is there?

18 MS. LEVINE: Your Honor, the -- the -- actually we 19 think the evidence is to the contrary. We think that there's 20 accumulation of evidence that says that starting back in 2011
21 he was aware of this financial condition and has not done
22 anything other than create this emergency here. And what was 23 in his mind?

24 THE COURT: For what purpose though?

25 MS. LEVINE: I'd be speculating. But I -- but I'd
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 2139
of 2386

1 be speculating also to say it was just out of altruism with
2 regard to the financial situation of Detroit.

3 And, Your Honor, I would also respectfully submit that 4 regardless of that motivation, if this really is all you have 5 to do to prove impractical -- to prove it's impractical, just 6 to wait for the time period to pass till you get to a
7 precipice, it couldn't possibly be surprising to all of these 8 financial consultants that we were reaching the point in time
9 when the bond holders were going to call a default, or where 10 the bond insurers were going to call a default. That just 11 makes no sense. Okay.

12 And while it might -- the EM might not have been
13 appointed until March, all these consultants were involved
14 since 2012. If what we're saying here, Your Honor, is that we 15 can use Chapter 9, potentially just to get rid of the pensions
16 and the retirees, who aren't like -- who are not going to 17 share in the upside, or potentially get rid of some of the 18 bond debt or other debt who aren't going to share in the 19 upside, that's an -- that's an improper use under this factual
20 setting.

21 It's unconstitutional to use -- to apply Chapter 9 in
22 this way, Your Honor. It's unconstitutional under the state
23 constitution to get rid of the pensions in this way. It's 24 unconstitutional to apply Chapter 9 as a work around for

1 We would respectfully submit it's an unconstitutional
2 application to use Chapter 9 to jettison legacy liabilities
3 without any safety net for those recipients. And we would 4 respectfully submit, Your Honor, it's a terrifying use of 5 Chapter 9. Thank you.

6 MR. GORDON: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Robert
7 Gordon of Clark, Hill on behalf of the Detroit Retirement
8 Systems.

9 Your Honor, similar to when we had oral argument back on 10 October 15th, if I may, I just want to give a little bit of a
11 road map if I may as to the sequencing of -- of closing
12 arguments following Ms. Levine at this point.

13 Consistent with the opening arguments, Your Honor, will 14 recall, Ms. Green from our office was sort of cast by all of 15 the objectors on behalf of all of the objectors because of her
16 singular facility with all of the volume of -- of evidence,
17 and facts, and documents, to construct and -- and present to 18 the Court a timeline of the evidence that was intended to be 19 introduced and that had been adduced in discovery.

20 Consistent with that, she has been essentially asked to 21 again provide to the Court an enhanced form of her timeline to 22 review with the Court succinctly to review what evidence has 23 indeed been introduced in this trial with highlighting, and 24 this is the enhanced part of it, highlighting the specific

1 trial that weren't in the original timeline.

2 So with that, Your Honor, the -- the suggestion is that
3 Ms. Green would provide the enhanced timeline on behalf of all
4 of the objectors. I would then provide some limited comments,
5 legal arguments on behalf of the retirement systems, and then
6 it would be followed by a -- a number of the other objectors
7 including in a particular order. If the Court wants to know,
8 I can give you that as well.

9 THE COURT: That's fine.

10 MR. GORDON: Okay. As I understand it --

11 THE COURT: On one condition.

12 MR. GORDON: Yes, Your Honor.

13 THE COURT: Ms. Green, succinct doesn't mean talk
14 fast.

15 MS. GREEN: I have the word slow written on the 16 cover.

17 THE COURT: Because I want to -- I want to 18 comprehend what you're saying.

19 MS. GREEN: I can't talk as fast as Ms. Levine
20 either, so I won't.

21 THE COURT: Okay, fair enough.

22 MR. GORDON: Duly noted for everyone. If I misstate
23 the -- the order of objectors, I will apologize. But for the 24 Court's assistance, my understanding is that after the

1 Association would be next, and then the UAW, then the Flowers
2 plaintiffs, then the public safety unions, then uniform and
3 non-uniform retiree associations, including Ms. Lightsey and 4 Mr. Taylor, and then the retiree committee. If I got that 5 correct. Thank you, Your Honor.

6 THE COURT: That's fine. Thank you. Thank you for 7 your work in organizing that.

8 MS. GREEN: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Jennifer
9 Green on behalf of the retirement systems.

10 The objecting parties began trial on the 23rd of October
11 by showing a similar timeline of what we believed the evidence
12 would show at trial. And we believed that evidence would show
13 that there was never an intent to actually negotiate prior to 14 the bankruptcy filing and that it was a foregone conclusion
15 before any of those negotiations or alleged negotiations took 16 place that the end game would be Chapter 9.

17 And we believe that timeline that now includes more
18 evidence that was adduced at trial, in addition to new 19 documents that were produced during trial, will indeed show
20 that. And I will look quickly through some portions that I'm 21 sure are undisputed by this point, but they are included for 22 your reference.

23 At trial the Governor testified that this process has 24 been a two and a half year effort which was consistent with

1 was signed into law. In February of 2012, as Ms. Levine just
2 stated, the coalition of 30 unions ratified a concessionary
3 agreement that was later blocked by the state. And in 4 February of 2012, Stand Up for Democracy filed a petition to 5 invoke a referendum on PA4. Within just days of that, Stand
6 Up for Democracy's petition, there were already discussions
7 about how to insulate PA -- what became PA436 later from 8 referendums.

9 At about the same time, Jones, Day and the State of 10 Michigan began to work together on issues relating to the 11 possible repeal of PA4 and the consent agreement. And we have 12 exhibit number 849 here that discusses that.

13 On March 23rd, Treasurer Dillon admitted at trial that a
14 possible Chapter 9 for the city was discussed as far back as 15 the spring of 2012. And at that time Huron Consulting,
16 Miller, Buckfire, and Jones, Day lawyers were also discussing
17 a potential Chapter 9.

18 THE COURT: Something you'd like to say, sir?

19 MR. IRWIN: Your Honor, I -- I am extremely 20 reluctant to interrupt during summation, but I don't believe
21 that Exhibit 852 is in evidence.

22 THE COURT: Oh.

23 MR. IRWIN: It is not on the Court's list of 24 documents provided to us during the break. We have tracked

1 the record. We believe it was discussed with a witness but
2 never offered. And we have an objection to it in the 3 pre-trial order.

4 MS. GREEN: I believe --

5 MR. MONTGOMERY: I believe, Your Honor, on our list
6 has 852 which is also Bowen deposition exhibit number 14 as 7 having been admitted --

8 MS. GREEN: Uh-huh.

9 MR. MONTGOMERY: -- in the trial. That's on our 10 master list.

11 MS. GREEN: I will say, Your Honor, when putting 12 this together we double checked every exhibit we included in 13 closing as having been admitted.

14 THE COURT: Do you have a date for the admission?

15 MR. MONTGOMERY: Yellow highlight means what?

16 MS. GREEN: Either day six or day seven.

17 THE COURT: Six or seven was the response? Well, I
18 think rather than take the time to try to dig into the record
19 to see if it was admitted or not, we'll let Ms. Green continue
20 with the understanding that any references to it will be 21 stricken if it was not admitted into evidence.

22 MR. IRWIN: Your Honor, if there are additional 23 documents with this issue, I -- I would feel the need to in 24 fact raise the same objection.

25 THE COURT: Absolutely you should, absolutely.

1 MS. GREEN: I believe this was admitted into
2 evidence during Treasurer Dillon's testimony.

3 THE COURT: Okay, that helps.

4 MS. GREEN: That date, I think is the right day.
5 Later that same day Huron Consulting emailed Jones, Day
6 discussing a Chapter 9, stating I need to link you into a
7 Chapter 9 conversation with Andy very quickly, referring to
8 Andy Dillon.

9 On April 4th, 2012, the city entered into the consent
10 agreement which Jones, Day had helped craft with the State of 11 Michigan.

12 In June of 2006 -- or 2012, Heather Lennox of Jones, Day
13 and Ken Buckfire met with Governor Snyder and they pulled 14 together some memos that they had prepared for Andy Dillon,
15 including some of the topics that are relevant to these 16 proceedings, including a comparison of PA4 in Chapter 9, a
17 memorandum on constitutional protections and pension, and an 18 analysis of filing requirements of Section 109(c)(5) of the 19 Bankruptcy Code regarding impracticability and negotiating in 20 good faith.

21 And we raise these, Your Honor, not to -- this isn't a
22 Jones, Day led conspiracy argument. The fact of the matter
23 is, that we think things like this relate to whether or not it 24 was good faith to wait until 34 days before filing when these

1 just argued as well.

2 In July of 2012, Miller, Buckfire was hired by the state
3 to perform a 60 day review of the city's financial condition.
4 And at that time Miller, Buckfire, Ken Buckfire from Miller,
5 Buckfire testified that he was approached by Jones, Day and 6 that one of the partners had wanted to meet -- or that she
7 wanted to introduce one of her partners who was the lead
8 bankruptcy partner for Orange County which was a successful
9 Chapter 9.

10 In October 2012, before PA4 was rejected by the voters,
11 the Treasury Department and the Governor's office began
12 discussing creation of a new emergency manager statute in case
13 the referendum passed. This testimony comes from the 14 deposition of Howard Ryan that has been submitted to Your 15 Honor. He did not testify live.

16 In 2012 December, PA436 was introduced in the Michigan
17 legislature and passed shortly thereafter. PA436 was 18 insulated from a public referendum because it had an 19 appropriation in the amount of 5,000,000 -- just over 20 $5,000,000. And as you heard Treasurer Dillon testify, that 21 covered a small portion of the budget for only the City of 22 Detroit's consultants. This was not enough money to even 23 cover other emergency manager situations across the State of 24 Michigan.

1 candidly that the reason that the appropriation language was
2 put in there was so that it would not be defeated by a
3 referendum.

4 In January of 2013, Miller, Buckfire was re-engaged and
5 at this time Miller, Buckfire discovered that the DIA art
6 collection was a potential asset capable of monetization.
7 However, there were no actions taken on the DIA artwork until 8 August 5th. At the same time Miller, Buckfire was asked by 9 Treasurer Dillon to make arrangements for the city and state
10 officials to interview Jones, Day and seven other law firms
11 that were interested in serving as restructuring counsel.

12 At the end of the month an internal email at Jones, Day
13 shows as though they were acting like a Chapter 9 was already 14 the plan. There is an email from that date that states, it
15 should also prove interesting that Miller, Buckfire has said
16 no one wants this bankruptcy to go the way of JEFFCO. And 17 there's also a caution at the bottom, that when they do their 18 pitch to avoid alienating the state and not to mention that if 19 something were to happen with the city's pensions, that the 20 state would probably step up to deal with but thus far has 21 failed to concede this point.

22 At the pitch, and we've all seen the presentation, so I
23 will skip through these very quickly. The strategy was laid 24 out. Negotiating in the shadow of a Chapter 9 and attempting

1 proceeding by establishing a good faith record of seeking
2 creditor consensus, was one thing that was laid out.

3 And these are the speaker notes from the pitch
4 presentation and it states, this will deflect any eligibility
5 complaints based on alleged failure to negotiate or bad faith.
6 Further it blatantly says, if needed Chapter 9 could be used
7 as a means to further cut back or compromise accrued financial
8 benefits otherwise protected by the Michigan Constitution.

9 Shortly thereafter, Richard Baird reaches out to Jones,
10 Day to inquire about hiring Kevyn Orr as the emergency
11 manager. On January 31st, Orr calls PA436 a clear end run
12 around the prior initiative that was rejected by the voters.
13 And although the new law provides a thin veneer of a revision,
14 it is essentially a redo of the prior rejected law.

15 That same day Jones, Day opines that it seems the ideal
16 scenario would be that Snyder and Bing both agree that the 17 best option is simply to go through an orderly Chapter 9. In 18 February, Mayor Bing was -- Mayor Bing was approached by 19 Richard Baird regarding Kevyn Orr as a candidate for the EM
20 position. And Mayor Bing recalls that the only qualification
21 -- qualification he was offered about Orr was his bankruptcy
22 experience.

23 In March, the Governor declared a local emergency, a
24 local financial emergency. Kevyn Orr was appointed emergency

1 for the city.

2 On April 18th, Don Taylor has a face to face meeting with
3 Kevyn Orr and several other members of the Retired Detroit
4 Police Officers and Fire Fighters Association. And Kevyn Orr
5 told Mr. Taylor at that time that pension benefits are 6 protected under the Michigan Constitution.

7 Mr. Taylor testified at trial, I asked him about the 8 pensions of retirees. He said that he was fully aware that 9 the pensions were protected by the state constitution and he
10 had no intention of trying to modify, or set aside, or change
11 the state constitution.

12 A month later the emergency manager was quoted as saying,
13 the public can comment on the city's financial and operating
14 plan, but this isn't -- we all heard this in Court a thousand
15 times, but this isn't a plebocite, we are not like negotiating
16 the terms of the plan.

17 In May, the city met with Christie's, but Kevyn Orr
18 testified that he told them to go away. Buckfire met with 19 Christie's in May and again failed to retain them until after 20 the bankruptcy filing. He retained them on August 5th.

21 At trial Buckfire denied telling the DIA board members
22 about an imminent bankruptcy filing, although Buckfire was 23 later impeached on that point with an email recounting a
24 meeting between himself and board member David Meador.

1 stating that the pension underfunding is so large that Chapter
2 9 is the only way to deal with it. Thus, the city knew at 3 least as of June 5th that "a significant reduction was 4 necessary". And two days after this email, Kevyn Orr
5 forwarded that email to Treasurer Dillon alerting him of the 6 situation.

7 On June 10th, Kevyn Orr held his first public meeting
8 pursuant to his statutory duties under PA436. And when asked
9 a question from an audience member regarding pension benefits,
10 Orr told the public that the benefits are sacrosanct and 11 cannot be touched.

12 (Video Being Played at 1:24 p.m.; Concluded at 1:25 p.m.)

13 On June 10th, Orr's assertion that accrued benefits are 14 sacrosanct is consistent with what he told Don Taylor, the 15 President of the RDPFFA in their meeting in April. But it is 16 inconsistent with what Orr proposes at the proposal for 17 creditors meeting that occurs just four days later.

18 Orr admitted on the stand that he never corrected this 19 misinformation. So at best the city mistakenly gave 20 misinformation to the very class of creditors it was supposed
21 to be negotiating with, or at worse, the city outrightness led 22 the retirees into thinking that their pensions were safe.

23 Three days after telling the retirees at the public
24 meeting that their pensions could not be touched, Mr. Orr gave

1 intention to evade the pension clause through a federal
2 Chapter 9 bankruptcy proceeding.

3 The following day the emergency manager held the meeting
4 at the Detroit Metropolitan Airport and presented the proposal
5 for creditors. Attendees at this meeting all testified that
6 it was announced that this was not a negotiation. And I
7 believe Mr. Orr also admitted during trial that indeed the 8 meetings on the 10th, and the 14th, and the 20th were not
9 negotiations, they were merely presentational.

10 And this is when the city admitted for the first time
11 that it fully intended to impair and diminish accrued
12 financial benefits. However, this was buried 109 pages into 13 the proposal.

14 At the end of the proposal the city laid out a timeline.
15 It gave 34 days for the informational stage as well as the 16 negotiations to take place. It is the objecting parties'
17 position that a four week time frame was inadequate. Buckfire
18 testified they'd been working around the clock for months on 19 the proposal for creditors, but the state quotas were given
20 just three weeks to review the data and then negotiation
21 within that compressed time frame.

22 As Ms. Levine mentioned earlier, the city could have been 23 negotiating since 2012. Chapter 9 had been contemplated since 24 2012.

1 preparing for the storm and -- and buying a raincoat and
2 umbrella and all of that. But it's as though they knew the 3 storm was coming for two years, but then only gave 34 days for 4 people to get ready which we think was unfair because to argue
5 that it was impracticable when they knew all along that they
6 had this time, was not good faith.

7 In June 17th the initial rounds of stakeholder
8 negotiations were set to start. And somehow the pension
9 people that were involved were supposed to know that the city
10 was expecting them to negotiate even though Orr had told Don 11 Taylor of the RDPFFA that pensions would not be cut. And he 12 later asserted on June 10th again, that pensions would not be 13 touched.

14 The vast majority of the retirees were not even aware of 15 the creditor proposal because the city admitted, Mr. Orr
16 admitted, that it did not mail them each a copy of it. The 17 city had also informed people that attended the meeting on the 18 14th that it was not a negotiation and the city and state
19 witnesses all admitted that the proposal did not identify the 20 amount to which the pensions would be reduced. And in fact to 21 date the city has never put an exact dollar amount on the 22 level of intended cuts.

23 On June 20th, the data room was opened, but as witnesses
24 testified, it was not fully populated. Brad Robbins testified

1 city's assets. And he also testified that the first step in 2 any restructuring negotiation is investigating the
3 affordability issue and reviewing the relevant data.

4 He referenced the American Airlines case where the debtor
5 had claimed the pensions could not be afforded, but he and his 6 team were able to restructure the pensions and keep the 7 benefits intact. This morning I believe Mr. Bennett said that
8 was the only example, the asset information, but Mr. Robbins
9 did testify several times that financial data relating to 10 whether or not the pensions were indeed incapable of moving
11 forward, is the information he was looking for.

12 On June 27th the city sent a letter to the UAW thanking
13 them for their time. And in that letter even the city
14 acknowledged that the unions would need more information. Mr.
15 Bennett said this morning that no one except Mr. Robbins had 16 asked for more information and that is not true as the city
17 admits in this letter that the UAW had asked for more
18 information. And the date is interesting because it's June 19 27th which is already outside of the one week time period the 20 city had given for an informational swap.

21 In June of 2013, Orr testified that he had authorized his 22 team to start preparing a potential Chapter 9 filing, in late
23 June or early July. Malhotra admitted at trial that his 24 declaration was being drafted by late -- by late June. On

1 commenced their lawsuits.

2 And while Orr testified at trial that these lawsuits made
3 clear to him that the parties are not interested in 4 negotiating, this testimony is undermined by the fact that
5 several witness testified that the city was expecting lawsuits
6 and expecting challenges to PA436. Exhibit 403 noted that
7 opponents were lining up to challenge PA436. Dillon testified
8 that they not only expected these lawsuits, they had planned
9 for them in advance.

10 Further, Orr admitted that he ignored these lawsuits for 11 three weeks. In other words he ignored them during the time
12 period that the city had given for the alleged negotiations.
13 Therefore I don't know how these lawsuits could have impacted
14 the negotiations. Further, there were only a handful of 15 plaintiffs at issue and there were plenty of other parties the 16 city could still be negotiating with.

17 And lastly, the retirement systems lawsuit was filed
18 after the time period the city dedicated to negotiations, so
19 their lawsuit also could not have impacted any of the 20 so-called negotiations.

21 Therefore, we believe the evidence adduced at trial
22 showed that the city had no intention of ever negotiating with 23 creditors. You saw a timeline dated July 8, 2013, where the 24 city had already determined its Chapter 9 petition would be 25 filed on July 19th. The timeline created had a filing date

1 despite the fact that creditor meetings had not even yet
2 occurred. Therefore, we believe that shows that it was a
3 foregone conclusion before the creditor meetings ever took
4 place that the end game was a Chapter 9 filing on the 19th.

5 This is a copy of the communications roll out that was
6 admitted into evidence. And as of July 8, the city's position
7 is, that we negotiated in good faith, we presented a
8 comprehensive restructuring plan, but at this point it would 9 be impractical to continue discussions out of Court because it
10 is clear that we will be able to reach -- we'll be able to 11 reach agreement with some of our creditors only through a
12 Court supervised process. However, the creditor negotiations
13 had -- the meetings had not even taken place and this was 14 already their position. And further as of July 8th, July 19th
15 was clearly the date already set forth as the filing date.

16 THE COURT: Well, how do you deal with the city's 17 argument that this timeline was merely a contingency?

18 MS. GREEN: The slide.

19 THE COURT: Okay.

20 MS. GREEN: Orr and Buckfire both characterize this 21 timeline as a contingency, however, on cross exam they were 22 forced to admit that nowhere on the face of the timeline does
23 it say contingency plan. Further, there were no other
24 contingency plans produced or admitted that he knew of no

1 documents that were produced by the city.

2 And when asked about the timeline, Treasurer Dillon said,
3 I didn't see an alternative schedule. This was the one that 4 was mapped out.

5 On July 8th, as set forth in Exhibit 452, they had already
6 mapped out the communications message that it would be
7 impractical to continue discussions. But the only meetings
8 that had taken place at that time were the June 10th, 14th, and 9 20th meetings which Mr. Orr testified were merely informational
10 and presentational. That is direct evidence that there was no
11 intention of actually negotiating at the upcoming stakeholder
12 meetings being held on July 9th, 10th, and 11th because the 13 decision to file had been made regardless.

14 The key filing messages also took the position that 15 before any creditor meetings, the negotiations would be 16 impracticable. But this ignores these facts.

17 The city carries the burden of proof. It actually has to 18 prove that it was impracticable to negotiate which it cannot 19 do because the city did nothing to reach out to active or 20 retired employees. Orr admitted the city did not mail
21 letters, did not mail informational materials to retirees or 22 active employees.

23 He admitted the city did not create a special web site to 24 communicate with these stakeholders. He admitted they didn't

1 notices, they didn't use the media to communicate with these
2 stakeholders.

3 The city also did not break the retirees into smaller sub
4 groups that could be negotiated with directly. Mr. Orr
5 testified that he thought perhaps Ed Miller at his firm had
6 done so, however, none of the witnesses at trial confirmed
7 this. And Ken Buckfire testified that while this idea was 8 raised, he was told by David Heiman and Heather Lennox at 9 Jones, Day that this would be impracticable to do and so no
10 one bothered to try.

11 The city has repeatedly said that negotiations were 12 impracticable because no one would represent retirees. But 13 the city had several viable options that they could have taken
14 advantage of. Namely, the DRCEA, the RDPFFA, the retirement
15 systems, and the pension task force.

16 Shirley Lightsey testified on behalf of the DRCEA. She 17 told the Court that she introduced herself to Kevyn Orr as the 18 President of the DRCEA at a meet and greet in April. That 19 organization represents between 7,600 and 7,800 of the 12,000
20 retired general employees, roughly 63 to 65%.

21 She testified that her organization has the power to 22 appoint committees and call special meetings. It has a web
23 site, its members can be communicated with via telephone,
24 email, and in writing. She also testified that her

1 Thus the DRCEA could have been utilized to mobilize the
2 general retirees. And while the DRCEA could not itself bond
3 the members, its infrastructure could have been used to 4 communicate with those people and then the members themselves
5 could vote.

6 But the city never utilized the DRCEA. And in fact
7 Shirley Lightsey was not even invited to the June 14th proposal
8 for creditors meeting as she testified.

9 The RDFPPA, it should be RDPFFA, represents 6,500 out of 10 the 8,000 retired police and fire fighters which is over 80%
11 of the retired police and fire fighters. That organization
12 has a web site, holds monthly meetings, circulates a monthly
13 magazine, and has lines of communication to all of its 14 members.

15 Mr. Taylor, the President, testified that his group has 16 negotiated reductions in benefits in the past. And he 17 explained in detail a prior situation where his group came up
18 with a compromise, the members voted, and a settlement was 19 reached. But this organization was also not utilized by the 20 city and in fact its President was misinformed by both Andy
21 Dillon the state Treasurer, and the emergency manager that 22 their pensions would not be touched.

23 Mr. Taylor testified that he passed this information on 24 to his membership who were then lulled into inaction. You may

1 didn't ask questions at the meeting. And he said because I
2 was told that our pensions were not going to be touched.

3 The city also could have used the pension task force
4 which is currently comprised of representatives from Milliman,
5 the actuarial firm, Conway, MacKenzie, and Jones, Day. There
6 are no representatives from the retirement systems, Gabriel
7 Roeder, Greenhill, the unions, or any of the retiree groups
8 that I just mentioned. They were never asked to join the task
9 force. And if they were, if the city was serious about 10 restructuring efforts, or implementing new cash flow
11 strategies to avoid having to impair, these different groups
12 of people could have been reached out to as a way to 13 negotiate.

14 Treasurer Dillon himself admitted there are lots of 15 creative options given the long life of a pension fund. But 16 he also admitted that none of these creative options were ever
17 raised with the unions, the retirees, or with the retirement
18 systems themselves.

19 In addition Mark Diaz, a trustee of the retirement
20 systems testified yesterday that the systems themselves could 21 have been used as a partner to communicate to the retirees.
22 The systems have a data base of all the retirees, they have a
23 web site, and they can "very easily communicate with all of 24 the individual people". But when Mr. Diaz was asked if the

1 this manner he said no, not at all.

2 And lastly with respect to the bond holders, Mr. Buckfire
3 admitted that with respect to those negotiations, he knew all
4 of the bond trustees and their insurers, those parties were 5 "organized" and that they could be relied on to speak for, if 6 not actually vote the interest of the underlying bond holders.

7 Similar to what Ms. Levine just argued, the position is,
8 that the city should not be permitted to have created an 9 environment of impracticability and then use that 10 impracticability as its excuse for refusing to negotiate. And 11 the point is, if they knew back in 2012 that Chapter 9 was 12 being contemplated, then why did we wait till 34 days before
13 the filing to begin.

14 And if that is the way that 109(c)(5) works, then in 15 essence good faith negotiations and impracticability
16 provisions may as well be read out of the Code if all we have 17 to do is make a conclusory statement that negotiations are 18 impracticable without actually proving that those negotiations
19 were in fact an impracticability.

20 On July 9th, Treasurer Dillon wrote to the Governor of the 21 State of Michigan and as you know it's used a lot at trial.
22 But it highlights that as of July 9th, the Treasurer believed 23 that we were still in the informational mode, not in the 24 decision making mode. And yet when he was asked what changed

25 between July 9th and July 18th, he said that nothing changed to 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 2161
of 2386

1 take them out of the mere informational stage. It obviously
2 -- key decisions were being made just a week later because the 3 filing was on July 18th.

4 On July 9th, as Mr. Dillon said, they were in the 5 informational mode. The level of underfunding in the pension
6 systems was still being debated and Mr. Dillon testified to 7 that. And how much the actual reduction would be for the 8 retirees was still unknown. Dillon and Orr both admitted that 9 it would be impossible to negotiate when these numbers were 10 not known.

11 Mr. Dillon admitted if you're going to reach a settlement
12 with your creditors, it's important to understand what's the 13 level, what's the funding level. He also admitted that they 14 did not know these numbers during the week of the alleged 15 creditor negotiations which took place on July 10th and 11th.
16 And to date they still don't know the exact numbers he
17 admitted.

18 On July 10th, the same day that the creditor negotiations
19 were allegedly taking place, the recommendation letter by 20 Kevyn Orr is already being authored by Treasurer Dillon and 21 others. Dillon admitted that the July 19th filing date had 22 already been decided as of this date on July 10th when they
23 were writing the recommendation letter. And he testified
24 about a detailed timeline and schedule that had been 25 circulated.

1 However, that same week Dillon was very skeptical about
2 whether the city had adequately made the case for a Chapter 9
3 and he raised his concerns with Kevyn Orr's team on a
4 conference call and he laid them out in an email. He stated,
5 I don't think we are making the case. Why are we giving --
6 why we are giving up so soon to reach an out of Court
7 settlement. Looks premeditated.

8 He also says, I believe there is a State Court option to 9 get retirees into a class. We don't acknowledge that and why
10 is that unpractical.

11 That I believe is the State Court class action option
12 that was testified to by Michael Nicholson of the UAW. And 13 Treasurer Dillon said that no one ever explained to him why
14 that option was not practical. He also states, I think we may 15 want a take it or leave it demand before we pull this trigger.
16 I agree with the recommendation, but I still don't think we 17 make the case.

18 And at the end he said, the pennies on the dollar outcome
19 for unsecured creditors make it practically impossible for 20 them to accept KO, Kevyn Orr's offer. And Treasurer Dillon
21 also testified that the recoveries were so low that it seemed 22 to be that negotiations were expected to be unfruitful.

23 On July 10th and 11th, the creditor meetings took place.
24 The retirement systems met with attorneys from Jones, Day

1 Robbins did attend and he testified yesterday that he did not
2 observe or participate in any negotiations regarding the 3 city's financing and that the meetings were purely 4 informational.

5 And this is consistent with Treasurer Dillon's report to 6 the Governor that as of this time frame, he considered
7 themselves to be still in the informational mode. It is also
8 consistent with the city and state's communications roll out
9 which had already adopted the excuse that negotiations were 10 going to be impractical.

11 On July 12th the Governor's legal counsel, Mike Gadola of 12 the Attorney General's office, Treasurer Dillon, Lieutenant
13 Governor Brian Calley, and Richard Baird were all urging that 14 a more deliberative approach be taken with respect to the 15 Chapter 9 filing. They specifically urged that a condition be 16 placed on the bankruptcy filing. And they even more
17 specifically urged that a condition be placed on the 18 bankruptcy filing with respect to the vested pension benefits.

19 On July 12th, the Detroit Firefighters Association sent a 20 letter to the emergency manager asking for more specific 21 information on pension benefit restructuring as soon as 22 possible. They noted that they have had two meetings with the 23 city where pension benefits were addressed and still have only
24 a general observation that pension benefits must be reduced.

1 ever given.

2 On July 15th, just a few days before the bankruptcy
3 petition was filed, the Webster defendants filed a response
4 brief in the State Court action. There was a hearing
5 scheduled for -- it should be July 22nd which was the following
6 Monday. The State Court -- or the state asserted in its 7 response that a bankruptcy filing was still only a
8 possibility, that the plaintiffs' claims were unripe, and 9 premature, and based on a speculative threat of future injury.
10 However, as we all know, there was already a recommendation
11 letter and an authorization letter being worked on and the 12 decision had actually been made to allow the filing.

13 On July 16th, Mr. Orr submitted the bankruptcy
14 recommendation letter to Governor Snyder and Treasurer Dillon.
15 And it stated in that letter that dramatic but necessary
16 benefit modifications would be needed.

17 Governor Snyder acknowledged when he testified that he 18 read the letter before authorizing the filing. And he 19 admitted that he knew that the city's request for an
20 authorization included that dramatic cuts to accrued benefits
21 would be part of any Chapter 9.

22 On July 17th, the day before the bankruptcy filing, the 23 DPSU received correspondence from the city thanking them on 24 behalf of the emergency manager for their strong cooperation

1 issue of pension restructuring.

2 On July 17th the retirement systems filed their lawsuit
3 against the Governor and the emergency manager. The complaint
4 was served on the Governor's office and the EM's office in 5 Detroit. And that night the exhibit that you saw was the 6 Sarah Wurfel timeline circulated throughout the state without
7 -- throughout the state officials. And at 6:23 on July 17th,
8 the plan was still to file on Friday, July 19th.

9 However, the following day, as you heard Mr. Nicholson
10 from the UAW testify, the retirement systems went to Ingham
11 County Court seeking a TRO. The AG's office received a phone
12 call stating that the retirement systems were in the State
13 Court seeking a TRO, 3:47 the Governor emailed the 14 authorization letter, and at 4:06, Orr changed the date on the 15 filing papers, hand wrote in an 18, and filed the petition.
16 And at 4:10 the Attorney General appeared at the TRO hearing.
17 Orr admitted that he had been counsel, it would be 18 irresponsible not to file sooner rather than later given all
19 of the lawsuits.

20 In authorizing the bankruptcy with no conditions. The 21 Governor ignored the advice of his own counsel at the AG's
22 office to further probe the conclusions in Orr's letter,
23 undertake due -- due diligence to confirm the eligibility
24 requirements had been met, and to place a condition on the

1 Exhibit 625 that we just looked at.

2 But the Governor testified he chose not to impose any of
3 these conditions because he did not want to create more
4 delays. As Treasurer Dillon testified, the reason the July
5 19th filing date was originally chosen was because the Governor
6 wanted the process to be "fast and efficient". However, due
7 to the desire for the Chapter 9 case to be fast and efficient,
8 adequate time was not given for the negotiation process to be 9 undertaken.

10 The Chapter 9 case was filed despite the fact that as 11 Chuck Moore testified, the actuarial numbers were still being 12 refined. Mr. Buckfire cautioned that the Milliman reports,
13 which the city relied upon to state the 3.5 billion dollar
14 underfunding number, cautioned on their face that a "more 15 robust projection model could vary the results". And 16 Treasurer Dillon stated that he also was not confident in the 17 pension underfunding numbers and that they were a moving
18 target.

19 In addition to the primary assets were still an unknown,
20 the Water and Sewage Department, and the city owned artwork at 21 the DIA which the objecting parties would submit is in large 22 part due to the fact that knowing the process was going to 23 take several months, the city waited until after the petition
24 date to even begin that process.

1 good faith, did not prove that the negotiations were in fact
2 impracticable, and instead filed this bankruptcy in bad faith
3 to evade the pensions clause, this case must be dismissed, or 4 the city must be forced to cure its bad faith by seeking new 5 authorization with a proper contingency under PA436 for the 6 pension benefits. Thank you.

7 THE COURT: I want to get back to that Exhibit 852
8 issue. Is it possible that that exhibit was the same document
9 as an exhibit with a different number that was admitted?

10 MS. GREEN: It could be 202, 2, 0 -- that is very 11 possible. We had several that were --

12 THE COURT: Can you check that out and let us know?

13 MS. GREEN: Yes, I will.

14 MR. IRWIN: Can I briefly be heard on that, Your 15 Honor? We -- we -- it's hard to do this on the fly, so I have 16 a little bit more information at this time.

17 It is true 852 was used by Mr. Wertheimer. It was used
18 during the Dillon examination. It was an attempt to refresh
19 his recollection.

20 THE COURT: Right.

21 MR. IRWIN: It was not refreshed, and it was not 22 offered, and it was not admitted. That is on November 5th and 23 the lines are Page 126, Line 25, to Page 129, Line 5. It was 24 not offered, it was not accepted.

1 another -- if it -- if the document itself is another exhibit
2 that was admitted and let us know. 202 is in, but the
3 question is, is it the same as 852.

4 Okay. And -- and before we go to the next argument, are 5 there any other exhibit discrepancies?

6 MR. IRWIN: There is one, Your Honor. Exhibit
7 number 452.

8 THE COURT: Yes.

9 MR. IRWIN: This was the email from Mr. Nowling that 10 attached the timeline. And -- and Ms. Green referred to it.
11 There was examination on that exhibit during the hearing,
12 however, again, and this was a -- a pattern to some degree,
13 was discussed, there was an objection to it in the pre-trial
14 order, and it was moved on before that objection -- before the 15 exhibit was offered, so that the objection could be ruled on.
16 And it is therefore not in the record. It is not on the 17 Court's for that reason, we believe, indication of the 18 exhibits that are in evidence.

19 THE COURT: Uh-huh. Was 452 one of the exhibits in 20 Ms. Green's --

21 MR. IRWIN: It was.

22 THE COURT: -- slide show?

23 MR. IRWIN: Those were the only two that I saw, Your 24 Honor, 852 and 452.

1 It's also the same as 831 which -- it's just hard because
2 other people have different numbers for the same exhibit.

3 THE COURT: Right.

4 MS. GREEN: But I believe it's the same as 831 which 5 is in evidence.

6 MR. IRWIN: 831, I have not in evidence, Your Honor,
7 according to your list for the same reasons.

8 THE COURT: And it's not in the pre-trial order?

9 MR. IRWIN: It is not. It is in the pre-trial order
10 with an objection.

11 THE COURT: Okay.

12 MR. WERTHEIMER: Your Honor, for the record --

13 THE COURT: In order for you to be on the record,
14 you need to be near a microphone.

15 MR. WERTHEIMER: For the record William Wertheimer
16 for the Flowers plaintiffs. Your Honor, my memory is 17 consistent in part with counsel's relative to 852.

18 THE COURT: Well, memory doesn't matter. What
19 matters is what's on the record. Have you checked --

20 MR. WERTHEIMER: I understand and it --

21 THE COURT: Have you checked the record?

22 MR. WERTHEIMER: I have not checked the record. But
23 I believe the representation that his memory was not refreshed
24 is incomplete. My memory is, he admitted the facts that Ms.

25 Green pointed to on the exhibit.

1 THE COURT: All right. Well, let me just ask, are
2 there any other exhibits that are not on the list that we had
3 passed around at lunch that anyone thinks was admitted into
4 evidence?

5 MR. RUEGGER: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Arthur
6 Ruegger from Dentons on behalf of the retiree committee.

7 I have been provided a list of several exhibits that the 8 notes of our team that they indicate that they were admitted.
9 I'd like to verify that before I bother the Court with it.
10 I'd also like to --

11 THE COURT: How will you verify it?

12 MR. RUEGGER: I'd like to check what transcript,
13 informal transcript references we have, Judge.

14 THE COURT: Okay, fair enough.

15 MR. RUEGGER: Thank you.

16 THE COURT: Any others? Okay. Are there any 17 exhibits on -- that were on our list that you don't think were 18 admitted into evidence anyone?

19 MR. IRWIN: Not from the city, Your Honor. The --
20 the Court's list virtually tracks ours verbatim.

21 MR. RUEGGER: We have no problem with the exhibits
22 on your list, Your Honor.

23 MR. IRWIN: All right.

24 THE COURT: All right. Who's next? Mr. Gordon,
25 yes, of course. Go ahead.

1 MR. GORDON: Thank you, Your Honor. Robert Gordon
2 on behalf of the Detroit Retirement Systems. I will do my
3 very best to not repeat any of what Ms. Green has provided.

4 THE COURT: Oh, before -- on that subject before you
5 actually launch here, we need to have a hard copy of that 6 slide presentation marked as an exhibit, not for purposes of 7 admission, but just for purposes of identification so that it
8 can be included in the record of the case for -- for 9 completeness purposes. So what -- do you have an exhibit
10 number that you would use for that?

11 MS. GREEN: I believe it would be 873.

12 THE COURT: Okay. Go ahead, sir.

13 MR. GORDON: Thank you, Your Honor. I know that 14 others will want to make a number of -- of comments about the 15 -- the evidence. I'm going to try to keep my comments fairly 16 limited as a result to allow others to express their -- their 17 points of view as well.

18 As a sort of I guess a housekeeping matter, if I may,
19 Your Honor, to begin with, I thought I had heard in the 20 presentation by counsel for the city, essentially a suggestion
21 that there has been no objection made to the asserted
22 underfunding liability in a particular document of -- prepared
23 at one time by Milliman.

24 I would like to make clear for the record that it is not 25 our impression that this is an evidentiary hearing about what

1 the underfunding level is, or was at the time of the petition,
2 or is or was today. That document was not introduced for that
3 purpose. There has been no expert testimony on that point and 4 we reserve all rights as to that.

5 Indeed, it is impossible we would submit to determine
6 what the underfunding level is unless you know what treatment
7 is going to be made of the pension systems, whether they're
8 going to be frozen and closed, or whether the defined benefit
9 plans are going to be continued, and that has yet to be 10 determined. So we reserve all rights on that, Your Honor.

11 In fact, the document that was submitted from Milliman,
12 had a caveat in it by Milliman that if they had more robust
13 data to work with their calculations may vary. So in -- in 14 itself it -- it indicates that it's not a very reliable
15 document. But again for all the other reasons I just stated,
16 we submit that there has not been any -- that there shouldn't
17 be any interpretation that -- that any of the parties here,
18 and particularly the retirement systems, agree to the 19 underfunding level asserted in that one document, Your Honor.

20 Your Honor, we don't dispute that prior to the city
21 filing its bankruptcy petition the city was experiencing
22 financial distress. And whether or not that financial 23 distress constitutes insolvency for purposes of Section
24 109(c)(3) of Bankruptcy Code, is -- is only one issue. And I

1 that issue, since we did not specifically raise the insolvency
2 issue.

3 But there is another issue here under 109(c)(5) which is 4 how did the state and the city proceed to address the
5 situation. And this is very important because the Bankruptcy
6 Code does require specifically that a municipality proceed in 7 a specific fashion before it takes the extraordinary step of 8 filing for bankruptcy. And these are important requirements,
9 they are not merely pro forma.

10 And this is where we submit that the city's argument
11 really breaks down. Because if you pull back from the -- the 12 -- the -- the huge amount of evidence that's been introduced
13 here, as Ms. Green has -- has shown through her slides, the 14 fact of the matter is, that the city and the state over many 15 many months analyzed the financial and operational situation
16 of the City of Detroit, a very complex undertaking when you're 17 talking about a city of 700,000 residents. It devoted 18 significant resources in analyzing those issues.

19 And then they made a proposal on June 14th and within 34
20 days it filed a bankruptcy. If you just pull back and look at 21 those simple facts, there simply was not time for good faith
22 negotiations.

23 Now, there was testimony by the retirement systems
24 through Mr. Robbins about the inability to have good faith

1 reference to that this morning by the city's counsel. And I
2 want to make sure that the characterization of the testimony
3 is accurate.

4 There was some suggestion that financial advisors are 5 never satisfied with the amount of information that they have
6 and things of that nature. Mr. Robbins did not testify that 7 he had adequate information but not optimal amounts of 8 information. Mr. Robbins testified clearly and unequivocally
9 that he did not have adequate information with which to begin
10 negotiations. And that the proposal such as it was on June
11 14th, and I say such as it was because it did not even include
12 a proposal for how the pension systems, the pension plans
13 would be treated on a go forward basis, was not really a -- a
14 serious proposal and that information was needed.

15 Now counsel for the city has also suggested that no one
16 disputed the facts in the proposal and no one asked any 17 questions. That simply isn't true. Now, maybe at the airport
18 on June 14th in a room of 200 people, when people were provided 19 for the first time with 120 page document, not a lot of 20 questions were asked.

21 But the evidence is clear, there were due diligence
22 sessions on June 25th, and on July 9th, and July 10th with 23 financial advisors. And I am sure lots of questions were 24 being asked. I was in those rooms as well. There were lots
25 of questions being asked about the financials.

1 Mr. Robbins testified among other things that there was
2 not information in the proposal or in the data room regarding
3 significant assets. One of those assets is the cash flows
4 from the Detroit Water and Sewage Department.

5 Counsel for the city indicates that seeking information
6 regarding the cash flows from a potential transaction from the 7 water authority is really not a fair ask because that's 8 something that's been discussed for many years and it may or 9 may not come to fruition. We want to be clear here. That's 10 not the information that was missing from the June 14th
11 forecasts.

12 What was missing from those forecasts were the actual 13 existing cash flows from the DWSD to the city that exist as of 14 today. Very substantial cash flows. They're not in the 15 projections. That was also testified to by Mr. Buckfire
16 himself. Mr. Buckfire also testified that there were no fair
17 market value analyses of any of the assets.

18 THE COURT: I thought the evidence was that the 19 DWSP provided -- or DWSD provided no net cash flow to the 20 city. Am I wrong about that?

21 MR. GORDON: That's not correct, Your Honor. It
22 depends on how you look at the cash flows. There -- there is,
23 if I understand it correctly, and I may get this number wrong,
24 but I think there's approximately $80,000,000 that flows from

1 obligations. And there may be additional amounts that come to
2 the city but I'm not exactly sure how much that is. But there
3 definitely are cash flows from DWSD to the city and/or the 4 pension systems that are not in the cash flows at all.

5 THE COURT: So what you're referring to is what the 6 city paid -- excuse me, what the department pays to the city
7 for retirement funding.

8 MR. GORDON: That's correct, Your Honor. The 9 proposal does not propose those cash flows to continue --

10 THE COURT: I do recall that.

11 MR. GORDON: -- to the pension systems, nor do they 12 come to the general fund in the cash flow forecasts.

13 THE COURT: But I don't recall any evidence that the 14 water department provided funding to the city for any other
15 purpose. Have I missed something?

16 MR. GORDON: I'm not -- I'm not certain whether the 17 evidence did provide that, Your Honor.

18 THE COURT: All right.

19 MR. GORDON: I can't comment on that. But there --

20 THE COURT: All right.

21 MR. GORDON: As I said, there is a -- is a
22 substantial amount that comes to the pension systems that in 23 the proposal from June 14th there is no discussion of those 24 amounts coming to the pensions any further, nor do they come
25 into the -- the forecasts in any way, shape, or form.

1 Your Honor, if I may, I just want to comment on a couple
2 of other items that I think particularly pertain to the 3 retirement systems. Mr. Dillon, who as we know was the state
4 Treasurer at all times relevant to this matter, indicated in
5 an email dated July 9, 2013, I think it's marked as Exhibit
6 834, that and I quote, "because pensions have such a long
7 life, there are a lot of creative options we can explore to 8 address how they will be treated in a restructuring".

9 And in that same email he further indicates a desire to 10 explore ways to avoid negatively impacting pensions. In 11 counter point to Mr. Dillon's views, we have the pension task
12 force. And the pension task force as we understand it
13 consists of two personnel from the Milliman firm, Mr. Moore
14 from Conway, MacKenzie, and several other non-actuarial
15 professionals.

16 Now, there is a document Exhibit 870 that is in evidence
17 that reflects some of the activities of the pension task
18 force. And it indicates that scenarios were run by Milliman
19 based on assumptions provided to them by Conway, MacKenzie
20 and/or others on behalf of the city.

21 The exhibit shows that an assumption is being
22 unilaterally made by the pension task force that the General
23 Retirement System Plan ought to be frozen, which by the way,
24 would drive up the underfunding level of that plan

1 significant reduction in accrued pension benefits is required
2 and that I quote, "it appears this may only be possible in a
3 Chapter 9 proceeding".

4 THE COURT: And what are those two exhibits again?

5 MR. GORDON: That would be Exhibit 870, Your Honor.

6 THE COURT: That's the task force document?

7 MR. GORDON: That's correct. And the quote from Mr.
8 Dillon is Exhibit 834.

9 What is remarkable about this, Your Honor, I would 10 submit, is that the pension task force simply assumed that 11 accrued benefits must be impaired without ever asking the 12 people who would know. The retirement systems and their 13 actuaries Gabriel Roeder. They never asked the retirement
14 systems and Gabriel Roeder about this. They never came to the 15 retirement systems and Gabriel Roeder with a business plan and 16 said, here's our proposal, here are the needs of the city in 17 terms of diverting cash flows to reinvesting in the city and 18 so forth and is there a way that we can do this and perhaps 19 restructure or reschedule employer contributions in a way that 20 will not impair or diminish the -- the -- the pension
21 benefits, but will accommodate our business plan.

22 That discussion was never had. Nor was there any such 23 discussion in conjunction with Greenhill and Mr. Robbins whose 24 experience in preserving pensions in American Airlines and

1 here.

2 Counsel for the city suggests this morning that there's 3 no evidence in the record that having such discussions would
4 have led to a solution. And the problem is we'll never know.
5 They never tried. The suggestion is that impracticability is 6 a completely subjective determination to be made by the 7 municipality alone. We suggest that that's inappropriate.

8 Now based on the city's purely internal conclusion that
9 the city -- purely internal conclusion that -- that accrued
10 benefits must be impaired, the city further concludes that 11 negotiation with the retirement systems is impracticable
12 because the retirement systems are constrained by the pensions
13 clause of the state constitution to not negotiate any 14 impairment or diminishment of the accrued benefits.

15 As I just indicated, there were other discussions that 16 could have been had about how to perhaps modify employer
17 contribution schedules, or do something that didn't 18 necessarily involve impairing and diminishing the -- the 19 benefits over the long term, but there was no such discussion.

20 So the city uses an untested internally created premise
21 that benefits must be impaired to then make a further, I would 22 submit, infirm conclusion that negotiations with the 23 retirement systems are futile and impracticable. While this 24 exercise is convenient for the city, it does not stand up to

1 of Section 109(c)(5)(C) of the Bankruptcy Code.

2 Your Honor, what is also particularly remarkable in this
3 regard we would submit is that the evidence shows that the 4 state and the city were aware of the pensions clause, but 5 instead of trying to determine if they could accommodate the 6 pensions clause in their restructuring plan, they essentially
7 just assumed that they could not without speaking to the 8 retirement systems and their professionals and instead decided 9 to just take their chances on being able to run roughshod over
10 the pensions clause and the state constitution in this Chapter
11 9 case.

12 Now this argument ends up being rooted very much in the 13 arguments that we made on October 15 that in order to have 14 valid state authorization for the bankruptcy, that there must 15 be a condition that -- that respects and upholds the pensions
16 clause.

17 THE COURT: We need not repeat here which -- but I
18 do want to ask you this question. What inference do I draw
19 here in -- in the context of this trial from the fact that 20 your client submitted no evidence that there was a viable way
21 for the city to propose a restructuring of its retirement
22 program?

23 MR. GORDON: Well, Your Honor, I think that that's 24 -- if I may say so, sort of putting the shoe on the wrong

1 conversation we would have been happy to have that
2 conversation with them.

3 There never was an opportunity to. As we said, there was 4 34 days from the date that a proposal was put on the table at 5 the airport to the day that the bankruptcy was filed. In 6 fact, I -- I hesitate to mention this because this is an
7 evidentiary hearing, but I -- the general counsel for the 8 General Retirement Systems actually reached out to the 9 emergency manager earlier than that to try to have a meeting
10 and was rebuffed because it didn't fit the timeline that the 11 emergency manager was on or his schedule. So there really 12 wasn't an opportunity for us to -- to ever have that
13 discussion.

14 THE COURT: Well, but whether there was an
15 opportunity to have the discussion or not, my question wasn't
16 that so much as what do I do with the fact that there is no
17 evidence that there was a viable alternative plan?

18 I don't know whether there is or not. All I know is 19 what's here in the evidence. And you didn't submit any 20 evidence that there was a viable alternative plan. What 21 inference do I draw from that, that's the question.

22 MR. GORDON: Excuse me. I think what you -- what 23 the testimony was of Mr. Robbins was that -- and this -- and 24 this highlights the problem which is not a problem that we 25 have created. The problem is that we don't have enough

1 information.

2 And -- and I'm not casting aspersions on the city or its
3 professionals in that regard. It's a difficult process. It's 4 a complicated process. But the process needed to play out and 5 it didn't.

6 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

7 MR. GORDON: So there was never enough information
8 there. But what Mr. Robbins, I believe indicated, was that 9 based upon the information that he had and has, it is not 10 clear that there needs to be an impairment and diminishment of 11 the pension -- accrued pension benefits in order to 12 restructure here.

13 But beyond that, we can't go further than that yet
14 because we don't have all of the information, Your Honor. I
15 don't know if I'm answering the question.

16 THE COURT: No, but isn't -- isn't -- yeah. No,
17 that -- that's good. But isn't it -- isn't -- isn't the 18 underfunding, underfunded liability here according to the 19 retirement systems own experts at least a billion and 20 something?

21 MR. GORDON: That's a difficult question. You know,
22 it depends again on whether the pension systems, the defined
23 benefit plans are kept open or are frozen and closed. I think 24 it is --

25 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

1 MR. GORDON: I wouldn't want to -- I wouldn't want
2 to speculate on that. But let's assume that it's -- it's over
3 a $1,000,000,000. Okay. It's a, as -- as Mr. Dillon himself
4 said, it's a long term issue.

5 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

6 MR. GORDON: The liabilities can rise and fall. The 7 performance of the investments can rise and fall. There are 8 -- and again, I think because it's a long term issue there can
9 be flexibility in the way it's approached. And it -- and a 10 $1,000,000,000 sounds like a lot money, but it's --

11 THE COURT: All fair enough, but what -- what 12 prevented your client from making a proposal based on its view
13 of what the reasonable assumptions were as necessary to create
14 a proposal, given that there is some level of underfunding
15 that its own experts have found.

16 MR. GORDON: Right. But if you don't know what the 17 true cash flows are, and you don't know what the opportunities
18 for monetization of assets are --

19 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

20 MR. GORDON: -- to try to negotiate against yourself
21 as to how much you should be deferring, what you should be 22 getting paid, is really negotiating against yourself. It's 23 impossible to do. You need to have the full picture or at 24 least a reasonably full picture.

1 financial advisors never have enough information. This is not
2 that situation. The -- there were major pieces of information
3 that were missing here that made it impossible quite frankly,
4 to have that discussion at this stage.

5 THE COURT: All right.

6 MR. GORDON: Your Honor, I -- I don't want to -- and 7 I'm sure you don't want me to repeat arguments relative to 8 109(c)(2) that really are the same types of arguments that
9 support in our opinion a finding that the petition was filed
10 in bad faith under 921(c) because it seeks to impermissibly
11 abrogate the protections of the pensions clause. So with 12 that, Your Honor, I have no further comments.

13 THE COURT: All right.

14 MR. GORDON: Thank you.

15 THE COURT: Who is next?

16 MR. GORDON: Your Honor, if I may, I just wanted to 17 make one more comment.

18 THE COURT: Oh, okay.

19 MR. GORDON: Mr. King apprised me that I should make 20 this point and I agree. I just want to make the record clear
21 that prior to June 14th, before we saw that proposal, there was 22 no information or indication from the city or the state to the 23 retirement systems that there would be a -- a seeking of an 24 impairment or diminishment of the accrued pension benefits of 25 the pension plans. Thank you.

1 MS. BRIMER: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Lynn M.
2 Brimer appearing on behalf of the Retired Detroit Police
3 Members Association.

4 Your Honor, I'd like to address three points with the 5 Court this afternoon. The first, the spending provision that
6 was added to PA436, the evidence has established was in fact
7 meaningless and was adopted in order to disregard the will of 8 the electorate with the intent of avoiding the people's right
9 of referendum.

10 The second, even if the spending provision is deemed by 11 this Court to have been appropriate, PA436 nonetheless
12 violates Article 2, Section 9 of the Michigan Constitution as 13 a re-enactment of a law previously properly referred to the 14 referendum process and defeated by the -- on referendum that 15 was then not re-subjected to the people.

16 THE COURT: Okay. Ms. Brimer, you've already argued
17 that one, right?

18 MS. BRIMER: There is though one piece of evidence
19 that has not been -- that has not been objected to, that has 20 not been presented to the Court that I would like to review
21 with the Court very briefly, Your Honor.

22 THE COURT: Okay.

23 MS. BRIMER: Okay.

24 THE COURT: I'll let you argue the evidence, but I
25 don't want to re-argue the point of law.

1 MS. BRIMER: I -- I understand that, Your Honor.

2 THE COURT: Okay.

3 MS. BRIMER: And then finally, that the evidence
4 does in fact establish a lack of good faith and a
5 pre-determination by the EM's advisors that a Chapter 9 was in 6 fact inevitable.

7 Your Honor, this morning we heard from Mr. Schneider that
8 there was an impending storm heading for the City of Detroit.
9 And that a review of the weather reports indicated that the 10 city's cash flow was in despair. In fact I would probably 11 argue that those of us in the courtroom who live in and near 12 the City of Detroit would probably not disagree that the 13 weather reports for the City of Detroit sadly have in fact
14 deteriorated over the past few years.

15 However, an impending storm and poor weather reports are 16 simply not a basis for the state, the Governor, and the 17 Treasurer to disregard the constitutional rights of the 18 citizens of the State of Michigan.

19 Despite the fact that Mr. Schneider discussed some case
20 law, I will, Your Honor, disregard it, because we have, I
21 believe, all briefed and properly briefed all of those issues.

22 With respect to the spending provision, Your Honor, we do
23 have a few critical facts that are worth reviewing with the 24 Court. First we know that on February 29, 2012, PA4 was

1 has reviewed numerous times, so I will not bring up again,
2 that within three days of that referral, the attorneys at
3 Jones, Day were counseling Treasury and the State of Michigan
4 with respect to the passage of new legislation with a tacked
5 on spending provision in order to render the new law
6 referendum proof.

7 Eventually on November 6, 2012, PA4 was in fact rejected
8 by the people of the State of Michigan. Within 39 days, the 9 new bill was approved by the Senate and within 50 days of 10 rejection, the new law PA436 was signed by the Governor.

11 Now we've discussed that that new law contains two 12 spending provisions. One for $5,000,000 to cover the 13 consultants and one for $780,000 to cover the salaries of the 14 EM's.

15 We also know from Mr. Buckfire who testified that a 16 $7,000,000 cushion was almost nothing for the City of 17 Detroit's budget. The Governor testified that the state's 18 budget is $40,000,000 rendering this appropriation .014% of 19 the state's budget.

20 We also know that both the Governor and the Treasurer
21 testified that they did nothing to review any of the financial 22 analysis associated with these spending provisions. In fact
23 they were more interested, Your Honor, in pushing this piece
24 of legislation through than insuring that the appropriation
25 was sufficient to cover the spending provisions.

1 Mr. Schneider this morning in fact indicated and told us
2 that the state was in fact forced to seek additional 3 appropriations for the fiscal year 9-30-13 in connection with 4 PA436.

5 Mr. Dillon testified that by June 11, he was seeking
6 re-negotiation of the professionals' contract in connection
7 with the consultants and their $5,000,000 appropriation.

8 And Mr. Baird testified in Exhibit 458 which has been 9 admitted into evidence, demonstrates that he determined that 10 the professionals would need approximately 75.2 million
11 dollars for this case. A far cry, Your Honor, from the 12 $5,000,000 spending provision that was tacked on to PA436.

13 In fact, on cross examination by Mr. Ullman, Mr. Orr in 14 fact testified that he understood that the spending provisions
15 were added to PA436 to resolve the possibility of another
16 referendum.

17 Finally, Your Honor, Mr. Howard Ryan, the state's own
18 30(b)(6) witness, the witness they selected to appear at 19 deposition and testify on behalf of the state, testified at 20 Page 46 of his deposition which has in fact been admitted into 21 evidence, that the spending provision was added to PA436
22 specifically to avoid a new referendum.

23 There's no evidence and Mr. Dillon testified that even 24 the provision relative to the salaries of the EM's was only 25 for those EM's that were then appointed. No projections, no

1 analysis of whether or not it would cover the EM's and at that
2 point in time they knew they were going to be hiring certainly 3 an emergency manager for the City of Detroit.

4 This simply was a spending provision that in the short
5 period of time that the state had to get this law passed, that 6 they put into play in order to avoid a referendum.

7 THE COURT: One second, please. Does someone have 8 Mr. Ryan's deposition I can look at? Apparently ours has 9 already gone back to our office.

10 MS. BRIMER: I do, Your Honor, and I have pulled out
11 the relevant page. But I can put this back in and give the 12 Court my entire copy.

13 THE COURT: Okay. I'll give it right back to you.
14 I just want to see it.

15 MS. BRIMER: Would you just like Page 436, Your
16 Honor -- 46?

17 THE COURT: Page 46, yes, please.

18 MS. BRIMER: Yes, if I may.

19 THE COURT: Stand by. Thank you. I will return
20 this to you now.

21 MS. BRIMER: Your Honor, given the speed with which 22 the new law was passed, the lack of any financial analysis by 23 either the Governor or the Treasurer, it's clear that those 24 spending provisions were added on simply to insure that the

1 emergency manager who would have the authority to file this
2 Chapter 9.

3 Even assuming, Your Honor, that those spending provisions
4 are deemed by the Court to be appropriate, the law is 5 nonetheless unconstitutional under the second paragraph of 6 Article 2, Section 9 which provides that no law that has been
7 properly referred on the referendum can be then enacted
8 without being referred to the people.

9 And if I may refer the Court to Exhibit 205. There are 10 two reasons why, Your Honor, we believe that even if the 11 spending provisions are appropriate, it's still nonetheless --
12 if -- if we could go to Page 20.

13 MR. SCHNEIDER: Your Honor, if I could. I -- I -- I
14 don't recall that this was entered into evidence.

15 MS. BRIMER: This was not objected to, Your Honor,
16 at pre-trial and I understood the exhibits not objected to 17 were accepted into evidence.

18 MR. SCHNEIDER: I'm sorry, Mr. Irwin indicates that 19 it may be.

20 MS. BRIMER: Page --

21 MR. SCHNEIDER: Yeah.

22 THE COURT: Hold on. I'll check.

23 MR. IRWIN: There was no objection pre-trial, Your 24 Honor, to 205.

25 THE COURT: It has been admitted.

1 MS. BRIMER: Thank you, Your Honor.

2 THE COURT: So go ahead.

3 MS. BRIMER: Section 23, Page 19, I think it is. So
4 the relevant provision in this instance, Your Honor, are the 5 provisions relative to the filing of a bankruptcy and this is 6 a red line version of PA4 and a comparison with PA436. And it
7 may well just be -- we're taking that down.

8 And you'll notice, Your Honor, it's two sections. And 9 put the other page next to it. Well, no, just the next page.
10 There's only one change and it's a meaningless change in the 11 Chapter 9 filing provisions from PA4 to PA436. That's the 12 entire provision.

13 There's one change. And it provides that the Governor
14 may place contingencies on a local government in order to 15 proceed under Chapter 9. And the reason I would express to 16 the Court that I believe this is a meaningless addition and 17 does not do any more than reenact the prior law, because 18 there's no prohibition in PA4 from placing contingencies. So 19 this is just a redo with a minor change with an attempt to 20 remove this from the people's right of referendum or their 21 right to review a law that has been referred to referendum.

22 We did hear some testimony, Your Honor, from the Governor
23 that there were changes, new options in PA436 for the cities.
24 However, as applied in this case, Your Honor, the state took

1 available to the city and the citizens of Detroit.

2 PA436 became effective on March 29th. The state announced
3 the selection of Mr. Orr as the emergency manager who would be
4 appointed over the city. He entered a contract on March 25th,
5 a Friday. In order to insure that he was enacted as an
6 emergency manager under PA72 which did not afford these 7 options to the city, and would automatically become the 8 emergency manager with this broad authority to file a Chapter
9 9 under PA436 without affording the city any opportunity to 10 take advantage of the purported changes and options in the new 11 enacted law, a clear attempt, Your Honor, to disregard the 12 will of the people.

13 If all it takes, Your Honor, is the inclusion of a minor
14 change or the tacking on of a spending provision, then we have 15 simply read the second paragraph of Article 2, Section 9 out
16 of the Michigan Constitution.

17 Now with respect to the history of this filing, and the 18 fact that I would assert that there has been bad faith on the 19 part of the emergency manager's consultants, and a 20 pre-determination that a Chapter 9 would be filed, I think the 21 record is replete with that evidence.

22 We have numerous emails dating back at least until March
23 of 2012 where Jones, Day and Miller, Buckfire are gratuitously
24 offering their services to the state, advising the state on

1 a Chapter 9 would be -- that the city would be able to file a
2 Chapter 9 without any push back from the citizens. We know
3 that Jones, Day invested at least 1,000 hours on this project.

4 And we do have Mr. Dillon telling us that from time to 5 time other counsel and consultants may have provided pro bono
6 services and I can understand that. However, what we don't
7 have, Your Honor, despite the numerous emails from the Jones,
8 Day attorneys, the law firm that the emergency manager was a
9 partner at, the law firm that the emergency manager continued
10 to provide communications between Mr. Baird, the Governor, and 11 himself, with his partners even after he was aware that he was 12 the preferred candidate, we have no email in the record from 13 any other consultants recommending a Chapter 9.

14 Mr. Dillon advised us that at this very same period in 15 time he was working with Steve Liedel from Dykema. And we 16 also know that Miller, Canfield was advising the city. We 17 have no emails, no information to suggest that any other 18 consultants were recommending that the city drive -- that the 19 state drive the city into this Chapter 9.

20 We know from Mr. Dillon that Mr. Buckfire is the 21 individual or the party that brought Jones, Day to the state.
22 We know from the email communications that Mr. Buckfire
23 provided Jones, Day with the interview questions, drafted the 24 RFP that Jones, Day would be responding to, and was hired

25 prior to Jones, Day's involvement so he had some influence

1 over the process.

2 We can conclude, Your Honor, that from day one of the 3 involvement of the -- the consultants, they have been
4 advocating for the filing of a Chapter 9. It became a
5 foredrawn conclusion from the day they were retained as the 6 city's restructuring counsel and the Court should also take
7 into consideration that Mr. Buckfire and Mr. Dillon both
8 testified that at no point in time did anyone advise the city,
9 and it was the city who initially engaged Jones, Day, that 10 Jones, Day had been working with Miller, Buckfire and/or the 11 state in drafting the consent resolution.

12 So in conclusion, Your Honor, not only do we have an
13 authorization from the Governor based on an unconstitutional
14 law, we have no evidence that the emergency manager and his 15 consultants have met the burden of demonstrating that they 16 have been engaged in good faith negotiations intending -- and 17 that they were intending anything other than the filing of 18 this Chapter 9.

19 The Chapter 9, Your Honor, that the Jones, Day attorneys
20 communicated with the emergency manager was the Chapter 9 that 21 we, the Jones, Day personnel would like to see. Thank you.

22 THE COURT: Thank you. We'll take a recess now
23 until 2:55, please.

24 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in recess.

1 THE CLERK: Court is in session. Please be seated.

2 THE COURT: One second, please. We have -- we have
3 determined that Exhibit 452 was not admitted into evidence
4 even under another number. So in the circumstances, I will 5 strike from the slide show which has been marked for 6 identification purposes as Exhibit 873, the one slide that 7 does refer to 452. Ms. Green, can you arrange for that,
8 please?

9 MS. GREEN: Yes, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: All right. Now let me ask counsel for 11 the city, with that slide stricken, do you have any objection
12 to the Court using during its deliberations, Ms. Green's slide
13 show?

14 MR. IRWIN: No, Your Honor.

15 THE COURT: All right. Will you make that available
16 to the Court, please with that change.

17 MR. IRWIN: There was 852 as well. Would that -- 18 would the same investigation be conducted with regard to that
19 exhibit?

20 THE COURT: We have determined that that was not 21 admitted either.

22 MR. IRWIN: Right. So with -- could -- both of 23 those two slides then the city has no objection.

24 THE COURT: That's right. There was a slide on that 25 one too.

1 MS. GREEN: If I may respond, Your Honor. 852 is a
2 duplicate of 845. We just pulled some of the transcripts.
3 There is a reference to Exhibit 845, Ms. Brimer used it, Your 4 Honor. I think this exhibit is in evidence. I believe it's 5 845. That was --

6 THE COURT: You think 845 was admitted?

7 MS. GREEN: I thought so. It says it was already in 8 evidence as of the date of her line of questioning. And 9 that's a duplicate --

10 THE COURT: Is that on -- is that on the Court's
11 list?

12 MR. IRWIN: It's not, Your Honor. Just because Ms.
13 Brimer says and represents that it's in evidence does not mean
14 it's in evidence. And 845 on our list again is consistent 15 with what counsel is saying, was in fact used, but it was 16 never offered and our objection was never heard.

17 MS. GREEN: If I could continue. The Judge -- or 18 Your Honor had asked that the retiree committee and the city
19 get together one weekend to come up with -- there were some 20 issues with all the different exhibits.

21 And my understanding was that there was a meeting over
22 the weekend in the courthouse and I was given a list of 23 exhibits marked at trial after that meeting. My understanding
24 was that this was the agreed upon list of exhibits.

1 that was not his understanding, however, many objecting
2 parties all believed that this was the list of exhibits marked
3 at trial. And I checked every slide against what I believed 4 to be was the agreed upon --

5 THE COURT: Well, but -- but the fact that there was 6 an agreement on what exhibits were marked with what numbers
7 doesn't mean that there was an agreement on their admission
8 into evidence.

9 MS. GREEN: My understanding was that this was the 10 list agreed upon as used at trial, admitted into evidence.
11 But Mr. Irwin said that that is not the case.

12 There were several of us that were of that understanding,
13 that that's what the agreed upon list was supposed to be. And 14 I also thought, and I have not looked yet through the record,
15 that the Bill Nowling timeline was used and admitted as a
16 party admission because it was Kevyn Orr's press secretary. I
17 have not yet looked through the transcript, I just received
18 some of the transcripts.

19 THE COURT: What exhibit is that?

20 MS. GREEN: Well, it's a duplicate. It's 452 and 21 there's also 831. And it may be others. It may be a UAW
22 exhibit as well because we all had a lot of the same exhibits.

23 THE COURT: Well, if you can show me that any of 24 those was admitted, we're all set. Otherwise we look for what 25 we look for. As to what your understanding was, unless it's

1 on the record as an agreement, I -- I can't really give it
2 much weight. So, I'll ask you to submit the slide show of 3 your closing argument without the two slides that address
4 these -- these two exhibits which were not admitted into
5 evidence.

6 MS. GREEN: Okay. Thank you, Your Honor.

7 MR. IRWIN: Your Honor, may I briefly be -- be heard
8 on that? We -- we were in fact in Court, or one of the 9 lawyers from the Dentons firm was here that weekend. And we
10 were stuffing exhibit binders, updating the Court's collection
11 of exhibits to make sure those binders were accurate.

12 We have never exchanged a list of exhibits where there
13 was some agreement in terms of what is in evidence or not.
14 And I am not impugning Ms. Green's intent. Whether she relied 15 on that document that objectors have been circulating is not 16 my issue. I am simply making the observation that it is not 17 in evidence.

18 THE COURT: All right.

19 MR. IRWIN: And may I make a -- a related point,
20 Your Honor? And I'm not asking the Court to -- to rule on 21 this. I just want to correct something.

22 I understood Ms. Brimer to make the point with respect to 23 the -- the Howard Ryan deposition testimony. I think she said
24 it's in evidence and that is right. It is one of the

1 between the state and Ms. Brimer to avoid the need for Mr.
2 Ryan to testify live.

3 We did make very limited objections to the testimony that
4 she has referred to and those have not been waived. Again I'm 5 not asking the Court to rule on them, I just don't want there
6 to be any mistake in terms of what has been stipulated into 7 the record or not.

8 THE COURT: Where do I find those objections?

9 MR. IRWIN: They were in the pre-trial order.

10 THE COURT: In the pre-trial order.

11 MR. IRWIN: Yes.

12 THE COURT: All right. Thank you, I'll consider
13 that. Okay, sir.

14 MR. CIANTRA: Thank you and good afternoon, Your 15 Honor. Thomas Ciantra, Cohen, Weiss, and Simon, LLP for the 16 International Union UAW.

17 Let me start, Your Honor, by thanking the Court for its 18 consideration and courtesy during the past few weeks of this
19 trial. It has been most appreciated.

20 Begin, Your Honor, by noting the interest and role of the 21 UAW in these proceedings as Mr. Nicholson, the union's general
22 counsel testified. The UAW represents a relatively small
23 number of employees of the City of Detroit. It has obviously 24 taken an outside interest in these proceedings.

1 directed that -- that the union's resources and its expertise
2 in the restructuring area in particular, be brought to bear to 3 assist in and provide a catalyst for hopefully a consensual
4 resolution of a number of the issues that have been raised in 5 these proceedings and have been the subject of discussion and 6 concern up -- up to and -- up to the date of the filing and to 7 the present day.

8 And there are a couple of reasons for that, Your Honor.
9 The first is of course the obvious reason that Detroit is home
10 for the UAW and it has an obvious interest in the 11 revitalization and rebirth of -- of -- of the city.

12 The second interest is -- is also, I think, obvious. And 13 that is in the protection of the rights of Detroit's active 14 and retired employees in their post-retirement benefits, in 15 their medical benefits that are obviously critical, and in 16 their pension benefits that are constitutionally protected
17 here in Michigan under Article 9, Section 24 of the
18 Constitution.

19 And it is those rights that the UAW is most vigorous in 20 seeking to have vindicated here. Because they are at threat.
21 And with respect to that, and in response to observations by 22 the city, the city's apparent surprise that the UAW is 23 supporting the Flowers litigation to assert and protect the 24 rights of those -- of those retirees, we do not shy from and

1 those retirees and employees in these -- in this extremely
2 critical area.

3 The record, we would submit of this trial, has 4 demonstrated that the approach of the present state
5 administration towards Detroit's fiscal crisis is based upon
6 it seems three elements. One, is taking the position that 7 there will be no financial support by the state for the city's 8 reorganization.

9 The second is of course the use of the extraordinary
10 powers provided by PA436 to displace local elected leadership.

11 And the third component is through the working of the 12 emergency manager selected by the Governor under that law to 13 use Chapter 9 to vitiate the constitutional protection of 14 pension benefits so that in effect the financially vulnerable
15 retirees and employees of the city may be made to finance a
16 rather extensive restructuring plan that the emergency manager
17 has promulgated. No one, I think, can deny that there is a
18 fiscal problem here. No one can deny that there is a need for 19 reinvestment. The question is, who is going to pay for that.

20 And as we have submitted, Your Honor, the option of 21 forcing the retirees to pay for that through a decision to 22 cease funding their pension benefits, is -- is a null set. It
23 is inconsistent with the protections provided by the state
24 constitution and as we have argued is a legal matter. The 25 Chapter 9 authorization is invalid for that reason alone.

1 The -- the trial evidence has made it clear obviously
2 that the Governor was well aware of the intent of the 3 emergency manager. In the filing he was provided with a copy
4 of the June 14 creditors' proposal and was familiar with its 5 terms beforehand.

6 In short, we submit that the Governor and the state
7 cannot use bankruptcy to take away the pension benefits. He 8 -- the state -- the state's executive leadership and its
9 legislature cannot change the Constitution. Only the people
10 of the State of Michigan can do that.

11 The strategy that the city has -- the city acting through 12 the emergency manager has taken in this respect, was 13 foreshadowed quite extensively in the January 29th -- what's 14 been referred to the pitch book that the Jones, Day law firm
15 made in support of its candidacy to be hired as restructuring
16 counsel.

17 And if I could have Exhibit 600 which is I guess the -- 18 the UAW's admission of that. And if we could go to Page 57 of 19 that. And there we see that the -- a discussion of the -- the 20 Chapter 9 process and the intent here.

21 Counsel notes, plans of adjustment address narrow range
22 of economic compromises. That's what a plan of adjustment is.
23 It's an effort to compromise outstanding debt obligations.
24 And then it goes on to note that other fundamental changes
25 must occur outside of the plan context.

1 The -- the -- the -- the presentation goes on to note,
2 final bullet point, the city should take advantage of its
3 opportunity for long term comprehensive solutions. And it
4 should do so by using the force of Chapter 9 to negotiate with 5 creditors. It should use the tools of Chapter 9 to develop
6 and fund a large scale revitalization program.

7 THE COURT: What does the language negotiating in 8 Chapter 9 or its shadow mean?

9 MR. CIANTRA: It means that either you negotiate in 10 Chapter 9, or with the threat of it to try to extract
11 concessions from creditors that can -- that can fund something
12 that a large scale revitalization plan that goes beyond a
13 narrow adjustment of creditor relations. That's what the city
14 is looking at. That's what the city proposed --

15 THE COURT: So are you being critical of the city
16 for its plan, or critical of Jones, Day for suggesting to the 17 city a plan to threaten Chapter 9 to negotiate retirement
18 benefit concessions?

19 MR. CIANTRA: Yes, Your Honor. Because the -- the 20 -- the pension benefits are protected by the Constitution,
21 they cannot be reduced. That -- that should have been a third
22 rail in this -- in this process.

23 What they have done is used the Chapter 9 process, used
24 the threat of Chapter 9, to -- to put the pension benefits at

25 play --

1 THE COURT: So it would have been impracticable for
2 the city to negotiate with retirees regarding pension
3 benefits?

4 MR. CIANTRA: It -- it may have -- it may have been
5 difficult, Your Honor, and as -- as I -- I will go on to point
6 out, obviously with respect to the unions, the unions are not
7 in a position as a matter of law to negotiate for retirees.
8 That is clear. That was clear to Jones, Day at the outset of 9 that process.

10 THE COURT: Well, but apart from that, what I'm 11 hearing you say, is that it would not have been good faith for 12 the city to even attempt to negotiate with retirees directly 13 on -- on impairing their benefits.

14 MR. CIANTRA: Yes, Your Honor, from the outset.
15 That was bad faith. They should not have been looking to 16 reduce those accrued pension liabilities. They should not 17 have been looking to use Chapter 9 as leverage for that.

18 THE COURT: Or even the shadow of Chapter 9.

19 MR. CIANTRA: Yes. Or even the shadow of Chapter 9.
20 That's -- those were -- those are inviolate.

21 THE COURT: And that's true even -- and that's true
22 even though Chapter 9 requires as a condition of eligibility,
23 good faith negotiations or its impracticability --
24 impracticability.

1 the filing be specifically authorized. And we have maintained
2 as a matter of law --

3 THE COURT: Well, but that -- that -- that's not my
4 question.

5 MR. CIANTRA: That cannot happen --

6 THE COURT: My question was, in order to file they 7 have to -- they have to either negotiate in good faith, or 8 show that that would have been impracticable.

9 MR. CIANTRA: And what would have been --

10 THE COURT: You say they could do neither one in 11 regard to this specific obligation because of the Michigan
12 Constitution.

13 MR. CIANTRA: Correct, correct. They could have 14 negotiated about a lot of things and -- and so we'll go on, I
15 think there -- there were openings for negotiations about for 16 example other post-employment benefits that were not taken up.
17 But the pensions -- the pensions were the third rail.

18 THE COURT: So they could have negotiated regarding 19 health -- health benefits?

20 MR. CIANTRA: Yes. And -- and --

21 THE COURT: Okay.

22 MR. CIANTRA: Yes. So as -- as the process
23 developed obviously the emergency manager was selected by the 24 emergency loan -- the emergency loan board which is comprised
25 of an appointee of the Governor, the Treasurer, and two of his

1 deputies.

2 The emergency manager's vision and chemistry according to
3 Mr. Baird, and this is from Exhibit 807 were obviously seen as
4 aligned with those of the state administration. Obviously
5 during this process the Governor and Mr. Orr conferred very 6 frequently, both in formal meetings and in one on one
7 discussions. And they had obviously multiple discussions
8 ahead of time with respect to the Detroit bankruptcy filing.

9 Throughout this process, however, the city and the state
10 have pretty consistently sought to limit access, limit public
11 access to those deliberations and to relevant information.
12 The city sought to limit access to its data room on the 13 execution of a -- a non-disclosure agreement. The state
14 initially stated an aggressive position with respect to 15 executive privilege concerning its role in this process.
16 There is of course the common interest agreement that has been 17 the subject of litigation and repeated assertions of the 18 attorney/client privilege during these proceedings to shield
19 from -- from public scrutiny questions of the state support or 20 its willingness to support the restructuring as well as 21 discussions of the protection of the pension benefits.

22 The -- the -- as -- as I mentioned, the -- the -- the 23 Governor was well aware in advance of Mr. Orr's demand that 24 accrued pension benefits be cut in the proposal to creditors.

1 in fact as shown in Exhibit 814, Treasurer Dillon had played a
2 fairly extensive role with respect to editing and revising the
3 very request for authorization for the filing that Mr. Orr
4 subsequently made.

5 So, the -- the -- the creditors' plan that was submitted,
6 this extensive and -- proposal, a hundred and some odd page
7 proposal, was not as I said, focused on a narrow range of 8 economic compromises with -- with creditors. But it is 9 instead a -- a ten year comprehensive restructuring plan for
10 the city.

11 And it is as discussed on that -- in that pitch book.
12 And -- and -- and an effort to take advantage of the 13 opportunity for long term comprehensive solutions that is 14 presented by the finance -- by this financial crisis and by 15 this Chapter 9 filing.

16 Now the -- the -- the plan's details of course as we --
17 we heard, involved the spending of over one and a quarter
18 billion dollars over ten years in various reinvestment and 19 renewal projects. And where is the money coming from for 20 that? Well, that was -- came out pretty clearly in the 21 testimony of Mr. Moore.

22 The city has taken the position that it cannot 23 effectively raise taxes, that the share of revenue that is 24 received from the state is declining, and that as a

1 come from impairing the -- the city's existing debt, its bond
2 debt, and the -- its obligation to fund pension benefits and
3 other post-employment benefits.

4 The Governor has made clear and in fact I think that is 5 reflected in the -- the creditor proposal, that the city must
6 solve its own problems. And that -- that state aid would not 7 be forthcoming with respect to the city's legacy obligations.

8 THE COURT: And -- and what's the UAW's position on 9 where any pension underfunding liability should be paid from?

10 MR. CIANTRA: Well, it -- it -- it remains to be 11 seen, Your Honor, frankly whether the -- whether the city has 12 claims against the state with respect to those obligations.

13 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

14 MR. CIANTRA: I think that is something that has to 15 be pursued. It has to be investigated, it has to be 16 discussed.

17 So under the proposal, contributions to the retirement
18 plan would cease and as a result there would have to be cuts
19 unspecified in the proposal.

20 THE COURT: Of course there's nothing about a 21 finding of eligibility that would preclude the city from that 22 investigation and/or litigation if appropriate, is there?

23 MR. CIANTRA: That -- I suppose strictly speaking as 24 a matter of law, not. But under the circumstances of how the

1 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

2 MR. CIANTRA: I think there's -- there's a question
3 there.

4 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

5 MR. CIANTRA: A question of -- of interests of whose 6 interests are being served by that.

7 THE COURT: Conflict of interest?

8 MR. CIANTRA: Yeah. So what --

9 THE COURT: And any other source other than a claim
10 against the estate?

11 MR. CIANTRA: I'm sorry, Your Honor, did not hear
12 that.

13 THE COURT: Yeah, any other source for funding the 14 underfunded liability, pension liability, than a potential
15 claim against the State of Michigan?

16 MR. CIANTRA: Well, presumably as has been 17 discussed, there are various assets that the city has that 18 could be monetized that -- that could be used to pay its 19 obligations. But certainly a potential claim against the 20 state has to be something that has to be considered.

21 THE COURT: Okay, thank you.

22 MR. CIANTRA: Now with respect to the particular 23 proposal that was being made to creditors, the -- we would 24 submit that the position of retirees or employees with respect
25 to that is quite a bit different than the perspective or

1 position of bond holders or their insurers.

2 For the -- for the bond holders or the insurers, their
3 insurers, it's a cents on the dollar question. It's how much
4 -- how much of that note is going to be theirs and how much of 5 their debt is that note going to cover. That is what their
6 issue is, it is dollars and cents. It's a -- it's a bean
7 cutting exercise for them.

8 For the employees it's quite a bit different. For the 9 employees, it's a matter of unpacking a proposal that 10 discusses underfunding of the pensions, but does not in -- in 11 fact at the time could not translate into any meaningful
12 numbers in terms of what that would mean on a day to day basis
13 in terms of reduction of benefits.

14 It is as -- as -- as we submit, in effect a -- a -- a
15 plan to use in part the pension underfunding claims, to not 16 pay them, and to use those funds to -- to fund the 17 revitalization of the city under this plan. And so what --
18 what are these pensions that are at issue?

19 As the Governor testified, he estimated --

20 THE COURT: Let me -- let me ask you to pause there
21 and answer the city's assertion that its revitalization is 22 necessary for it to get back into a position where it doesn't
23 continue to underfund pension liabilities?

24 MR. CIANTRA: Well, as I said at the outset, Your

1 it's a bankruptcy that's -- it's like doughnut there's always
2 a hole, right. It has to be filled.

3 THE COURT: True.

4 MR. CIANTRA: Okay. The question is, where is it
5 going to be filled? Who is going to be paying for it and 6 where is it going to come from, all right.

7 And it's our position that the -- the pensions are a
8 third rail, that's -- that's a piggy bank that they cannot 9 touch. There are other sources that they have both with 10 respect to their existing creditors and elsewhere that they 11 can use.

12 THE COURT: For -- for revitalization --

13 MR. CIANTRA: Yes.

14 THE COURT: In addition to plugging this doughnut
15 hole?

16 MR. CIANTRA: Right.

17 THE COURT: Okay.

18 MR. CIANTRA: The -- the position and -- and there
19 was some testimony I think from -- from Mr. Buckfire with 20 respect to this. That the -- the pensioners find themselves
21 -- that the -- that the city is -- is -- is treating everyone
22 the same. We're treating all unsecured creditors the same.

23 It -- frankly it ignores social reality. Obviously the 24 bond -- bond holders are relatively sophisticated financial 25 investors. They are paid for taking on risk. And that I

1 think is pretty well reflected in the interest rates that
2 you'll see at the back of the creditor proposal with respect
3 to the bond rates. It's a market.

4 As the city's bond rating has fallen as Mr. Bennett
5 outlined in his -- in his opening, the rates that the city has 6 had to pay have -- have risen. And investors have taken on 7 that risk knowingly.

8 THE COURT: Well, but isn't this kind of equitable
9 argument, one that's more appropriately focused at plan
10 confirmation when and if cram down becomes necessary and the 11 issue is whether the plan is fair and equitable?

12 MR. CIANTRA: I -- it certainly -- it certainly is 13 relevant there, Your Honor. I also, however, think it's 14 relevant here in terms of the good faith of proposing a
15 proposal that treats these folks the same.

16 THE COURT: Okay.

17 MR. CIANTRA: Because as a practical matter, Ms.
18 Whitson who testified, or Mr. Taylor who testified, were not
19 in the same position as some bond holder who could diversify
20 these investments. They're stuck. And they don't have a
21 backstop.

22 This is not like a -- the airline case that Mr. Robbins
23 testified to where the Federal Government has provided an 24 insurance safety net for single employer defined benefit

1 And unlike -- unlike the bond holders. As Mr. Buckfire
2 testified, a substantial number of those bond issues are
3 insured. They are the -- they are the economic party that's 4 at risk. Those insurers. That's why he was negotiating with
5 them.

6 It's not a matter of having as a practical matter, to 7 negotiate with thousands of -- of little old ladies in 8 Pasadena, or thousands of mutual funds. It's a matter of 9 dealing with the insurers who are taking on the economic risk
10 of default.

11 Let me turn to the -- the question of good faith in the 12 negotiations. The city and the state we submit, created 13 conditions under which a consensual resolution became all but 14 impossible. And we think the evidence supports the conclusion
15 that the reason for that is that the emergency manager had 16 determined that he wanted to obtain the tools that were 17 provided by Chapter 9 to -- to -- to push through the -- the 18 -- the plan of restructuring that is set out in the creditor
19 proposal.

20 You can't simply create circumstances that make a
21 consensual resolution impossible and then complain that you
22 didn't have a consensual resolution. All right. As Mr.
23 Buckfire testified, the June 14th creditor proposal was a
24 bombshell. That's his word, not mine.

1 spoken in a public meeting here and stated in response to a
2 retiree's direct question, that pension benefits were
3 sacrosanct. Yet on the 14th obviously the proposal was quite a
4 bit different.

5 And there was a -- a -- an extensive, a -- a very
6 abbreviated rather, schedule for discussions that was set out
7 in that proposal. And it's been discussed by -- by many and 8 I'm not going to go -- go through the details. But the 9 obvious fact is that the -- the emergency manager set a
10 abbreviated period, a little over a month for discussions with 11 stakeholders to take place before an -- before his evaluation
12 period and then a -- an expected conclusion of this process on 13 the -- the 19th of July.

14 So despite the fact that obviously as the testimony was,
15 that months of work went into the production of the financial 16 reports and the creditor proposal, the discussion period was 17 very short indeed. And there were very few meetings that were 18 held to -- where that proposal could be discussed and 19 digested, much less actually negotiated.

20 That has been the subject of much discussion previously
21 in Ms. Green's timeline with respect to those meetings and the 22 conditions under which they were taken -- had taken place. I
23 think they are well known to the Court and I'm not going to --
24 to dwell on them here.

1 all the meetings and did not send anyone who could actually
2 negotiate an agreement is, I think, telling. Now the city
3 contends well, it wasn't any big deal, someone could have gone
4 back to the emergency manager and relayed whatever proposal
5 might have been made and -- and there could have been further
6 discussions and progress could have been made.

7 But the fact of the matter is that of course the city was 8 -- and the emergency manager were insisting on a highly 9 abbreviated time schedule. So if you want work to get done on 10 that type of a schedule, it's important to send people to 11 meetings who can actually get work done rather than just carry 12 information back to home base as it were.

13 There were -- the -- the -- the process of discussion
14 limited by information issues as was previously noted and as 15 seen on Exhibit 814, the city even acknowledged to my client,
16 the UAW, that it needed time and information to review the 17 proposal. That was on June 27th. That's already almost two 18 weeks into this process. As noted the city conditioned access
19 to the data room on -- on the execution of a non-disclosure
20 agreement which we believe it improper given the -- the public
21 nature of what's at issue here. And even the Treasurer, Mr.
22 Dillon, in his email of July 9th, that's Exhibit 834, noted
23 that in many ways we were still in the "informational" stage.

24 So there are a lot of obstacles that existed to getting a
25 consensual agreement done here. The time frame, and the

1 information issues being two notable -- two notable issues.

2 The city also in this connection did not address the 3 legitimate concerns that the unions raised with respect to 4 their ability to negotiate at least with respect to the 5 pension obligations. The basis of that concern really was 6 obvious as Mr. Nicholson and Ms. Gurewitz testified. Just as 7 a matter of pretty simply labor law, unions collective 8 bargaining responsibilities extend to units of active
9 employees. The city was well aware of that.

10 And -- and the UAW demanded that the city provide the 11 basis for its contention that the union could lawfully
12 negotiate over those benefits, especially given their 13 constitutional protection. That -- that's in Exhibit 624, the 14 affidavit that Mr. Nicholson presented in the Flowers case in 15 Exhibit B.

16 Yet the city provided no response. It provided no -- no
17 explanation of its contention that it could legitimately seek 18 to have the unions negotiate over those benefits. And of 19 course it -- it never modified its proposal. Indeed Mr. Orr 20 testified that he probably -- "probably would not have 21 accepted a counter proposal that left pension benefits intact
22 in any event".

23 When Mr. Dillon testified the other day, he noted that in 24 his view the OPEB liability was more of a concern. That it

1 Because it was not funded at all.

2 And if we recall the -- the chart that counsel for the 3 city showed of the outstanding unsecured claims, obviously
4 that OPEB number is -- is bigger even than the pension
5 underfunding number that the -- that the city had claimed. All
6 right.

7 Mr. Nicholson testified that on the 11th of July, the 8 meeting attended by city representatives, that he spoke with 9 Evan Miller of Jones, Day. Mr. Miller is one of the leading 10 bankruptcy practitioners in the United States, a benefits
11 practitioners in the United States. A person of substantial
12 knowledge in this area.

13 And as Mr. Nicholson testified, he told Mr. Miller,
14 there's a way, you know, that we can get at solving the OPEB
15 issue. And as Mr. Nicholson testified, Mr. Miller answered --
16 finished his sentence, yeah. He said the class action method.

17 As Mr. Nicholson testified, that was the way or has been 18 the -- the tool that has been used by UAW and another -- a
19 number of other unions to reach comprises over retiree health
20 obligations in different circumstances. And it provided
21 frankly a framework for negotiation of that issue that could 22 work to a conclusion, that could get you to a conclusion.

23 As Mr. Nicholson testified, the first step in any 24 negotiation is to invite the -- the other side to participate
25 in a process that can be expected to lead to a resolution.

1 That's what he was doing with Mr. Miller.

2 The city didn't take him up on that. And in fact the
3 Treasurer, Mr. Dillon, in Exhibit 626, just -- just a couple
4 days before Mr. Nicholson's meeting with Mr. Miller, he
5 acknowledges that that structure coming up with a class action
6 as a way to deal with retiree benefit obligations, is an -- an
7 option. And it appears at point ten, I think it's the next
8 page if you -- if you would of that exhibit.

9 All right. I knew that was too fancy for me, Your Honor.
10 Let me -- I can just talk about the exhibit the old fashioned
11 way. He acknowledged --

12 THE COURT: Mr. Wertheimer seems to have it for you,
13 sir.

14 MR. CIANTRA: Well, I -- no, I have the document.

15 MR. WERTHEIMER: Okay.

16 THE COURT: What does it say?

17 MR. CIANTRA: He says well, I'll just read it. It's 18 point -- it's point ten and he's talking about the -- the 19 draft letter to -- that Mr. Orr has circulated requesting
20 authorization.

21 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

22 MR. CIANTRA: He says, I don't think we are making
23 the case why we are giving up so soon to reach an out of Court
24 settlement. Looks premeditated.

1 dug into the numbers and I believe there is a State Court
2 option to get retirees into a class. We don't acknowledge
3 that. And why is that impractical? Then he goes on, we don't 4 say they even rejected the --

5 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

6 MR. CIANTRA: -- city's proposal, et cetera.

7 Mr. Dillon was aware of that option. Jones, Day lawyers
8 were certainly aware of that option. Mr. Miller finished Mr.
9 Nicholson's sentence. That was a structure that would have 10 provided a way to get to an agreement on that issue. And an 11 issue that obviously was a -- a $5,000,000,000 issue, at least 12 as reflected in the -- the city's proposal.

13 As Mr. Nicholson said, you need to create as a first step
14 in a negotiation, an understanding, the other side, as to what 15 the process is that's going to be followed and an agreement
16 that that process is something that's going to lead to a
17 resolution.

18 Contrast this in fact with the process that the city
19 asked parties to undertake with respect to negotiation of the 20 pension issue, all right. The city through the cross
21 examination of Mr. Robbins just the other day, indicated
22 essentially that it was following that same approach. It
23 wanted to get Mr. Robbins to agree to a process for 24 discussion.

1 by getting the actuaries for both sides, for all these parties
2 to agree on what the underfunding number actually is. Then we
3 get financial advisors to agree on how much the city can pay
4 and then we go from there. We figure out what can we pay for,
5 what can be afforded, what cannot.

6 And there was discussion between Mr. Robbins and -- and 7 counsel for the city because Mr. Robbins thought gee, step two 8 should be what -- what we focus on first rather than getting
9 the actuaries involved. But the same idea. Here's a process,
10 here's how you begin to constructively deal with that issue.

11 But here with respect to the pension issue, all right,
12 the city was at no point in this process able to get to step
13 one because its actuaries had not finished the work. So there
14 -- there was no way to undertake that process here, all right.

15 You know, as Mr. Dillon said in -- in the email that I
16 quoted from before, Exhibit 434, we remain in many ways at the 17 informational stage with respect to the pensions. And as the 18 deposition excerpts from Mr. Moore, I think made quite clear,
19 this is at really page -- Pages 149 through 151. The city's 20 actuaries hadn't completed their work.

21 They didn't know what the underfunding number was. And 22 so again, how -- how even under the city's construct for --
23 for these negotiations to take place, could you have had it
24 meaningfully take place.

1 was no good faith negotiation here. It was impossible. The 2 city created the impossibility that it's complaining of.

3 Now were they impractical? Well, I don't -- I don't
4 believe so. The Detroit financial crisis was well known for a
5 period of years. There is no reason why these issues could
6 not have been addressed beforehand to have permitted the type
7 of -- these type of processes that Mr. Nicholson talked about
8 and that Mr. Robbins talked about to -- to take place.

9 And indeed here the -- the unions had -- had a history of 10 coalition bargaining over concessions. There was a lot of 11 testimony with respect to the 2011, late 2011 early 2012
12 concessionary agreement that was negotiated by a coalition of 13 30 -- 30 labor organizations including the UAW Locals. There
14 is the possibility as I mentioned of a potential class action
15 resolution with respect to the OPEB issues. And as we 16 discussed, obviously the -- the city could have -- could well
17 have undertaken negotiation with the bond holders who -- who 18 hold the fundamental economic interest here as -- as Mr.
19 Buckfire testified substantially all of the bond -- bond
20 holders were insured by -- by one of six insurance companies
21 that are identified in the -- in the June 14th proposal.

22 They obviously hold the economic interest. They 23 obviously were the parties, the discreet parties to negotiate
24 with.

1 manager intended to impair pensions as part of any Chapter 9
2 filing. And he also knew that under PA436 he could have 3 conditioned his approval of that on protection of those
4 constitutionally protected benefits. And in fact his counsel
5 advised him to place conditions on the filing. And 6 specifically identified potential conditions with respect to 7 anything having to do with vested pension benefits. That's in
8 Exhibit 625.

9 But the Governor rejected that advice and he in effect
10 turned that issue over to this Court. He did not consider the 11 requirements of state law in authorizing the filing. And he 12 left it to the Federal Bankruptcy Court to sort out whether 13 those accrued pension obligations could be reduced.

14 And we submit, Your Honor, that that is not appropriate
15 authorization under the statute. The Governor's statement in 16 his July 18th letter that the plan of adjustment must be
17 legally executable under Section 943(b)(4), was insufficient
18 because of course the Governor knew that the emergency manager
19 was pursuing the pension proposal as part of the -- of the 20 filing.

21 And 943(b)(4) which applies to confirmation of the plan
22 of adjustment does not provide the requisite gatekeeping
23 authorization that is required, we submit, under 109(c)(2).
24 Effectively an evasion of responsibility with respect to the 25 obligation to support the Michigan State Constitution.

1 Finally, Your Honor, I just want to reiterate where I
2 started. And that is that the UAW is committed to playing a
3 constructive role here, no matter what the result is in this
4 -- on this issue. And it is fully prepared to bring to bear
5 the restructuring expertise that it has developed in the 6 assistance of this Court and to hopefully serve as a catalyst
7 for consensual resolution. Thank you.

8 THE COURT: Thank you, sir. Before we continue,
9 let's do a -- a head count of how many more final closing
10 arguments we have. One, two, three, four. We're running over 11 time here, so I'm going to ask you to keep them as concise as 12 possible because we also have rebuttal arguments.

13 MR. WERTHEIMER: William Wertheimer, Your Honor, on
14 behalf of the Flowers plaintiffs and I will keep it brief.
15 And particularly not -- try not to repeat anything that 16 counsel for the UAW just said, either directly or indirectly.

17 But -- but one point I think does need to be made and 18 that is from the beginning the position of the Flowers
19 plaintiffs has been that the Governor and the Treasurer were 20 attempting to use Chapter 9 to avoid the requirements of 21 Article 9, Section 24.

22 And that that legally constituted a tort. And that that 23 made their -- that -- that impacted on the eligibility issue
24 under 109(c)(2). Simply put, and consistent with what counsel

1 by the Attorney General, the tort claim is that the Governor
2 has allowed his political position to influence his legal
3 position. And has done that from the beginning. And that 4 that constitutes a tort.

5 We're not saying that the Governor did anything evil,
6 we're not saying that the Governor conspired with Treasurer
7 Dillon. What we are saying is, that from the beginning, the 8 Governor has taken the position that his political position
9 has been no financial support from the state. And that has 10 driven everything that has happened here.

11 I'll just go over briefly the points that the state made
12 this morning relative to those -- that claim. The state made
13 five points. The first had to do with referendum and Ms.
14 Brimer dealt with that, I won't speak to it at all.

15 The second had to do with the allegation that there was a 16 bad faith rush to file. I won't repeat anything that's been 17 put up on the board. I think we all kind of know what 18 happened when. I would just add two things relative to that 19 rush to file.

20 One, not only is it clear that the move from the 19th to 21 the 18th was because we were in Court on the 18th, it's also 22 clear that scheduling the bankruptcy for the 19th was done
23 because we filed on the 3rd and had a hearing scheduled for the 24 following Monday. There is all kinds of evidence to support
25 that.

1 Second point, there is no --

2 THE COURT: Let me ask you to pause there.

3 MR. WERTHEIMER: Yes.

4 THE COURT: I think in my experience it's fair to 5 say that many many bankruptcy filings, maybe even most 6 bankruptcy filings are precipitated by creditor action. And 7 so even if this one was, why is that evidence of bad faith?

8 MR. WERTHEIMER: Because this is different, Your 9 Honor. I made that point before and I recognize it as being 10 true.

11 This is a Governor who is taking action when he's taking
12 action in order to avoid a State Court Judge coming out with a
13 decision which will require him to do something that he
14 doesn't want to do. We now know --

15 THE COURT: Well, why is that different than every 16 other bankruptcy? I mean people file Chapter 13 to --

17 MR. WERTHEIMER: Because the Governor took an 18 oath --

19 THE COURT: Because they don't want their --

20 MR. WERTHEIMER: I'm sorry.

21 THE COURT: -- homes foreclosed, or they don't want
22 their cars repossessed, or -- or they file Chapter 7 because 23 they're tired of the phone calls, all of which are perfectly
24 legal actions by those creditors to be taking regarding debts
25 that -- that debtors promised to repay.

1 MR. WERTHEIMER: We think it is different when it is
2 a Governor rushing to Court in order to avoid a State Court
3 decision that he believes will be politically damaging to him
4 and will make it more difficult for him to maintain his 5 political position that -- that there should be no financial
6 support from the state and that this bankruptcy should go
7 forward without condition.

8 THE COURT: Okay.

9 MR. WERTHEIMER: We think it's qualitatively
10 different.

11 Let me move on to the third point that the state made.
12 And that had to do with our claim that -- that the Governor at 13 a minimum had an obligation to put contingencies on. What do
14 we know now we didn't know at the start of this case relative
15 to that?

16 We know that all of the Governor's advisors agreed with 17 us. Because we now have the document that was being withheld
18 based on the attorney/client privilege.

19 The fourth point they made, or the AG made this morning,
20 was to characterize what we're claiming is -- is some kind of 21 a -- essentially they're saying, we're claiming that this is 22 some kind of scheme to end run 924 to save three and a half
23 billion dollars when there's $18,000,000,000 at stake, that 24 doesn't make any sense. That's not what we're claiming.

1 process. We're not suggesting that the Governor is not in
2 good faith generally in attempting to deal with the Detroit
3 problem. We've never claimed that. That's just a false
4 issue.

5 All we have claimed is that as to 924 and that pension
6 obligation, the Governor -- Governor from day one has acted in 7 his own interests and not in the interests of the citizens of 8 the State of Michigan, pure and simple.

9 The fifth point they make is that they try to 10 characterize what we're claiming as some sort of crazy
11 conspiracy among Jones, Day, Miller, Buckfire, the state, the 12 city. No. It's very simple. And it goes back to what we 13 claim the Governor has been doing from the beginning.

14 And if we take a look just at a couple of documents which 15 haven't been referenced at different points in time, if you go
16 to June of 2012, document 844, you have Heather Lennox of 17 Jones, Day saying I'm going with Ken Buckfire, Miller,
18 Buckfire, to talk to the Governor Richard Snyder in Michigan
19 tomorrow.

20 And what's the attachment that she's bringing with her
21 per somebody's request? Among others, a memo on Michigan
22 constitutional pension plan protections. Everybody in this
23 courtroom knows what that memo said.

24 That's June of 2012, Jones, Day is providing pro bono,

1 pro bono work to the -- to the State of Michigan at this point
2 and that's what they're doing in June of 2012.

3 Now move forward to February of 2013, this year. Richard
4 Baird, Exhibit 810. He's communicating with Kevyn Orr. And 5 he says, that clearly establishes that you are already
6 behaving as an agent of the state.

7 That's not a slip of the tongue. That's part of the 8 whole game plan. Orr is from Jones, Day, Jones, Day has been 9 on board from the beginning. Even little pieces, and I'll 10 stop with this, Judge, in terms of these other exhibits. Even 11 little pieces, in the opening briefs I think both AFSCME and 12 the UAW talked about a Jones, Day partner's article that was 13 circulating in the bankruptcy world that I knew nothing about 14 at that point relative to how municipalities and states could 15 get out from under pension obligations.

16 And the claim was made by the UAW, by AFSCME, by others
17 ah, ha. Well, there's an exhibit in evidence in which Kevyn
18 Orr is provided with a copy of that as part of this whole
19 process. It all fits. It is what happened. This totally 20 innocent explanation is not consistent with reality.

21 And then finally let me bring you to just about two or 22 three weeks ago. We're all in Court and the Court asked Mr.
23 Bennett a question relative to -- and I don't want to 24 characterize it because I'm not sure exactly what it was, but

1 be making a claim against the state. Something similar to
2 what counsel for the UAW was talking about just a few minutes
3 ago.

4 If you will recall, Mr. Bennett did not answer the 5 Court's question as to his client, the city. He said, he gave 6 you Jones, Day's opinion. And guess what? Jones, Day's
7 opinion is, the state isn't liable. There's a serious
8 conflict related to that, an obvious conflict.

9 The AG concluded by saying that the Governor had 10 expressed leadership and made a hard decision. He has done
11 exactly the opposite.

12 He has made no decision. He hasn't even made a decision
13 under state law. He hasn't said -- at least the Attorney
14 General, Mr. Schuette or Attorney General Schuette has taken a
15 legal position -- taken a position, not Governor Snyder.

16 Why? Because it's not in his political interest to do
17 so. And therefore he says, I have no position, I defer to Mr.
18 Orr, and I know what he's going to do. He's going to take it
19 to Bankruptcy Court and it's going to be trumped and guess
20 what? You then can make the decision instead of the Governor
21 of the State of Michigan. That's not right. Thank you.

22 THE COURT: Thank you, sir.

23 MS. PATEK: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Barbara
24 Patek on behalf of the Detroit Public Safety Unions.

1 this issue that's come up about the exhibits. I'm not going
2 to put any exhibits up, but I do have my timeline and I have
3 in that I moved for the admission of both 714 and 717
4 yesterday based upon Mr. Malhotra's identification of the 5 city's. And I thought they were both admitted. They're not 6 on the -- on the list, only 717 is.

7 So I'm going to proceed as if it's only 717, the point if
8 there's one concessionary agreement. And the record will bear
9 out, you know, as to whether they're both in.

10 With that, may I ask if you can put up -- and we will 11 mark this as -- as 723 and provide the Court with a -- with a
12 hard copy as well.

13 THE COURT: Is this different from the timeline you
14 used in your opening?

15 MS. PATEK: It is very similar. We've just filled
16 in some of the --

17 THE COURT: Okay.

18 MS. PATEK: -- evidence. And there's a couple
19 additional facts. And -- and for the Court's convenience,
20 what's in blue is what's added. So that you can easily see 21 what's --

22 THE COURT: Oh, okay. Thank you. 723 you say?

23 MS. PATEK: Yes. As the Court is aware, you know,
24 at the time of the first day hearings, the Detroit Public

1 request for the benefit of the automatic and the extension of
2 the automatic stay. In fact attempting as they have tried to 3 be for the last several years, a willing partner in the city's
4 effort to restructure itself.

5 However, at that time we reserved our rights on 6 eligibility and -- and we're here today to address that issue.
7 And I want to start with the debtor that the Court raised with
8 -- I'm trying to remember who it was now, but you asked a
9 question about why would the Governor have done that, what 10 would have been his purpose in sort of delaying and let the 11 city continue to deteriorate.

12 And I'm going to try to propose an answer to that 13 question. And -- and --

14 THE COURT: I put Ms. Levine on -- Levine on the 15 spot.

16 MS. PATEK: -- so I don't know if this bails her out
17 or not, but I'm going to take -- take a stab at it. First of 18 all, it goes without saying that we're in Chapter 9 so
19 inherently people get here one way or the other through 20 politicians.

21 Second, I think that there is a -- a very human instinct
22 to try to control the process and whether it's Governor
23 Snyder, or Treasurer Dillon, or the emergency manager, or 24 Mayor Bing, when you are in a position of having public

1 so that it comes out consistent with your view of what the 2 public interest is.

3 Which brings me to my first point which is, first of all,
4 I think the constitutional issues hovering above us here
5 today, again it shows the -- the wisdom of the checks and 6 balances built into our federal system and the states' rights
7 and the -- and the Federal Government's rights.

8 But the second, it also shows the wisdom and perhaps the 9 constitutional necessity of Section 109 and in particular
10 109(c) which provides a number of transparent and consensual
11 ways for people to attempt to work out their -- the adjustment
12 issues outside of Chapter 9.

13 I -- I have a couple of points to make and I will try to 14 be quick and -- and go through my timeline here. And they are 15 as follows.

16 First, the active members of the Detroit Public Safety
17 Unions are both the providers as we've heard many times and 18 from many witnesses in this Court, of the indispensable
19 essential fire and police services that are necessary for the 20 city to continue on. And they are also holders of a
21 potentially significant portion of what the city claims is a
22 3.5 billion dollar underfunded pension liability.

23 We believe that the 35 day window that the city gave is 24 inadequate. I will also show based on our timeline, that it's

1 with this important stakeholder as its condition was
2 deteriorating, but it used every tool in its legal and 3 political tool kit to in fact prevent such negotiations.

4 Treasurer Dillon told us yesterday that there were a lot
5 of creative ways that these problems could be solved and I
6 will talk about those in a few moments. But I will say that
7 we believe that in order to solve this problem, and knowing
8 what it knew, and obviously doing the careful planning that it
9 was doing, that the city had an obligation to begin
10 negotiations much much sooner.

11 Why didn't they? I'm not certain. Part of it may be 12 that this -- that this is a political process. Part of it is 13 perhaps there was a perceived mistrust in the case of labor
14 with their negotiating partner.

15 But I'm going to suggest to the Court that they passed up
16 an opportunity to begin to solve a significant portion of the 17 -- this process in the very way that I suggested to the Court
18 when we came here on the first day of the trial, that made it
19 inevitable that they would be able to come before the Court
20 and tell it that it was impractical for -- for this problem to 21 be solved outside of bankruptcy.

22 When on June 14th the city at that first meeting of 23 creditors outside of bankruptcy dropped the claimed 3.5
24 billion dollar elephant on the active employees, the retirees,
25 and the pension systems, and -- and gave it 35 days to sort of

1 swallow it whole or else, I think they -- they set any
2 possible negotiations up for failure.

3 And with respect to the active public safety unions, I
4 want to go back on my timeline to the negotiation of the 5 concessionary agreements in December of 2011 and January of 6 2012 when by which time it was clear that there were serious
7 financial issues in the City of Detroit. Those exhibits were 8 negotiated. Mr. Malhotra indicates he was there when they 9 were negotiated. Ms. Gurewitz talked about the negotiation of 10 the agreements in advising her clients.

11 And the state elected not to have those agreements become 12 effective. And the -- and the reasons were several fold, but 13 I -- I believe one of the suggestions was that they wanted to 14 maintain flexibility. That is if they extended the length of 15 the -- the collective bargaining agreements it would somehow
16 restrict their ability to restructure.

17 I'm going to suggest to the Court given what Public Act 4
18 said, given what Public Act 436 says, and given Section 365
19 and the tools available in Chapter 9, if that became an 20 inevitability that that is a false construct. There were 21 tools that allowed them to modify and/or reject those 22 agreements and for them to suggest and leave savings on the 23 table so that they could proceed in a certain way, I -- I -- I
24 think is some early evidence of a potential lack of good faith
25 negotiations in this case.

1 I then want to fast forward into the time period before
2 the emergency manager took --

3 THE COURT: Before you change slides --

4 MS. PATEK: Yes.

5 THE COURT: If you were about to, our notes do show
6 that Exhibit 714 was not admitted.

7 MS. PATEK: Correct. That's the one I mentioned
8 when we first started as the housekeeping matter. So I --
9 I --

10 THE COURT: But I just want to --

11 MS. PATEK: -- it's perfectly possible that I
12 misspoke and my notes are incorrect and I'm -- I'm not going
13 to put it up.

14 THE COURT: I want to confirm that for you. So I
15 will have to ask you to change that slide before you submit it
16 to the Court.

17 MS. PATEK: We -- we will. With respect to March
18 25th, that's the date, and Mr. Diaz testified about this, Mr.
19 Dillon testified about his efforts to prevent any Act 312
20 awards from being issued. The award itself is in evidence
21 pursuant to the agreement reached with Jones, Day that we're 22 looking at the contractual terms, not any comments made by the 23 arbitrator unrelated to that.

24 That agreement was reached on March 25th. And that's also 25 the day that Kevyn Orr assumed the role of the emergency

1 financial manager under former Act -- Public Act 72.

2 As Mr. Dillon conceded when he was on the witness stand
3 yesterday, that timing eliminated the city's right to elect
4 the neutral evaluation process, or the negotiated solution
5 that is provided for under Public Act 436 by instead
6 triggering the provision that would make Mr. Orr automatically
7 the emergency manager of the City of Detroit when Public Act
8 436 became effective a few days later.

9 I would suggest given the careful planning that -- that 10 has been demonstrated through the evidence that the Court has 11 seen, that -- that that timing was not an accident.

12 I want to go now to the next slide. And the next date we 13 have is that effective date of Public Act 436, March 28th.
14 Both Mr. Diaz, the President of the Detroit Police Officers
15 Association, and Ms. Gurewitz told the Court that as of that 16 date all negotiations with the Public Safety Unions ceased.

17 And in fact Ms. Gurewitz testified that her clients, the 18 Command Officers Association in fact had Act 312 hearings
19 scheduled but put them off because the city was negotiating in 20 what she believed were productive negotiations. I will leave
21 it to the Court to decide whether or not that was again
22 perhaps some lack of good faith in terms of trying to get to a
23 certain time period where they could suspend their obligation
24 to negotiate.

1 half weeks later, the city filed its emergency motion seeking
2 to dismiss the pending Act 312 proceedings for two of the 3 public safety unions, the Command Officers Association, and 4 the Police Lieutenants and Sergeants Association. That the 5 opinion upholding that dismissal and the dissenting opinion
6 are Exhibit 718, which is in evidence. Ms. Gurewitz testified
7 about that. And that opinion came down on June 14th, the very 8 same day that the meeting of creditors took place at the 9 airport.

10 I don't want to go over what happened at the individual
11 creditor's meetings, but instead I want to focus on the Public
12 Safety Unions, so if we can go ahead to the next slide.

13 My June 25th date in fact by virtue of some agreements, we 14 don't have that evidence, but I think that June 30th covers it.
15 We had reached some stipulations with the city to shorten our 16 proofs. That the existing -- is collective bargaining
17 agreements between the city and the DFFA and the city and the 18 Lieutenants and Sergeants expired. As Ms. Gurewitz testified
19 the command officers have not had a collective bargaining
20 agreement since 2010 and were in fact essentially at will 21 employees at that time.

22 The very next day Chief Craig assumed his job as Detroit
23 Police Chief. And I think on the issue of whether or not the 24 Detroit Public Safety Unions, and we don't have specific

1 that the evidence on the police unions is -- is sufficient to
2 cover the waterfront here.

3 Every witness who was asked testified that the Detroit
4 Police Officers Association, the various bargaining units,
5 first of all, that -- that the membership were under paid.
6 That their working conditions were deplorable. And
7 nevertheless Chief Craig testified that the Detroit Police
8 Officers Association and the other bargaining units had in 9 fact reached out to him and that there were negotiations. And 10 there was a lot of flexibility demonstrated.

11 And in fact in terms of issues on the restructuring that 12 did not involve dollars going into the pockets of these 13 Detroit Public Safety Union members, they were working
14 diligently in the restructuring and as we heard from Mr. Diaz
15 yesterday, even before Chief Craig came on board, the Detroit
16 Police Officers Association was reaching out to him to try to 17 find out what they -- they could do.

18 So to suggest that the city did not have a willing 19 partner here, I think, and to suggest that it did not have an 20 opportunity, particularly with, and I believe it was Mr.
21 Buckfire who -- who I -- I questioned about this, where they 22 had these collective bargaining agreements that were expiring,
23 to try to obtain some concessions.

24 There are creative ways perhaps without impairing

1 this puzzle so that people wouldn't on June 14th be faced with
2 having to swallow the elephant whole. And in that regard as I
3 think the Court has heard, the active Detroit Public Safety
4 Unions have the folks who are out there working in the street
5 who have accruing, but not vested and therefore not 6 constitutionally protected pension benefits. They have
7 members who have vested and constitutionally protected accrued
8 pension benefits. And there are those who have dropped. That 9 is who are actually receiving what amounts to a pension
10 payment into a separate account that they'll -- they can't 11 touch until they get to retirement.

12 For -- for whatever reason the city elected not to engage 13 these folks, and if we can go now to the next slide. We have,
14 and I don't want to belabor this because I know this has been 15 up a number of times. But there was the letter that was sent 16 on July 12th and I think we can all agree by now that -- that 17 -- that July 12th was likely too late given what the rest of 18 the evidence shows.

19 But the four public safety unions got together and the 20 Court heard Ms. Gurewitz testify yesterday that she was part 21 of advising them in terms of obtaining bankruptcy counsel, in 22 terms of trying to form a coalition. And sent a letter
23 together to -- to the city asking and indicating a desire to 24 make a counter proposal, to -- asking for some more concrete
25 information.

1 And the response by the city was a letter dated July 17th,
2 after Mr. Orr had sought his authorization to file, and only a
3 day before the bankruptcy petition was filed, thanking them
4 for their strong cooperation in the city's restructuring
5 efforts.

6 I would suggest to the Court on the issues of -- of good
7 faith and impracticability that here the city for whatever
8 reason passed up an opportunity to begin to address this 9 problem in a constructive way, more than a year before the --
10 the June 14th meeting of creditors. Actively refused to engage 11 one of its most important partners in the restructuring. And 12 instead rather than treating them as I think somebody in my 13 office suggested, you know, we're like the landlord. They 14 really need us and -- and -- and should be engaging us.

15 They -- they were treated like general unsecured debt and 16 were repeatedly told, we don't have to negotiate with you and 17 we don't have to bargain with you. And I think that -- that 18 timeline and that series of events together with the other
19 legal questions that have to be resolved, should help inform 20 this Court's decision as to whether or not the city in fact
21 engaged in good faith negotiations or has successfully shown
22 impracticability when they had opportunity when it was clearly 23 not impractical to engage certainly one of -- certainly the 24 Public Safety Unions and probably the other unions based upon

1 to solve the -- the problem that we're now all facing in the 2 Court today. Thank you.

3 THE COURT: Thank you.

4 MR. IRWIN: Your Honor, briefly. The city would 5 simply request a copy of -- of the timeline with -- with the 6 removal of the reference to Exhibit 714. The city has no
7 objection.

8 There's one other correction that the city would request,
9 however, on the -- on the second page of the timeline there
10 was a reference to an Exhibit 869. I think it's just an 11 administrative problem. 869 is not in the record. It's an 12 email and I believe it was -- it was in reference to a -- a
13 Kevin Orr video clip that just needs to be fixed.

14 MS. PATEK: Okay.

15 MR. IRWIN: So it's just a question of fixing the 16 reference to 869.

17 THE COURT: I'll ask the two of you to work on that 18 and -- and then provide a copy to city's counsel and the 19 Court, please.

20 MR. IRWIN: Thank you, Your Honor.

21 THE COURT: Sir.

22 MR. PLECHA: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Ryan
23 Plecha on behalf of the retiree association parties.

24 Your Honor, with my time today, I would like to spend it

1 retirees. No one in this case has disputed the city's
2 pre-petition intent to impair the class of retirees under a
3 plan of adjustment.

4 Therefore under Section 109, it is clear that the city
5 must either obtain agreement from a majority of the retirees,
6 negotiate with the retirees in good faith, or prove that
7 negotiations with retirees was impracticable. The city cannot 8 prove or meet any of these burdens.

9 It is clear that the city in fact did not reach an 10 agreement with the majority of retirees. The city did not,
11 nor does it claim that it negotiated in good faith with 12 retirees. And finally, the city has failed to satisfy its 13 burden of proving that negotiations were in fact
14 impracticable.

15 Your Honor, the testimony presented throughout the trial
16 is clear that the city did not negotiate with retirees. Ms.
17 Lightsey and Mr. Taylor unequivocally testified that the city
18 did not negotiate with the DRCEA or the RDPFFA. The city did
19 not respond to the DRCEA's request for retiree specific 20 meetings. It did not even invite the DRCEA to the June 14th
21 meeting and in fact has never provided a copy of the June 14th
22 proposal to creditors directly to the DRCEA.

23 As others have said today, Mr. Taylor did request and in 24 fact had a meeting with Mr. Orr regarding retiree issues. In

1 RDPFFA, that the retirees on the police and fire side's
2 benefits and health care were not at risk. He essentially
3 told the police and fire retirees that they had protection
4 from the oncoming financial storm or had protection from the 5 upcoming war and need not worry.

6 After making this inaccurate statement to Mr. Taylor, the 7 city ignored multiple requests from the retirees belonging to 8 the RDPFFA for specific meetings.

9 THE COURT: Can you remind the Court when that 10 meeting was with Mr. Taylor?

11 MR. PLECHA: I believe it was April 18th.

12 THE COURT: Thank you, sir.

13 MR. PLECHA: You're welcome, Your Honor. Therefore 14 the only individual meeting that was held specifically with 15 retirees was based solely on this information. This in no way
16 can constitute negotiations, let alone good faith
17 negotiations.

18 Therefore, Your Honor, the city did not introduce any 19 evidence to support a claim that the city actually negotiated
20 with retirees or their representatives. Your Honor,
21 negotiations with the retirees was practicable through the 22 DRCEA and the RDPFFA. However, Your Honor, instead of 23 attempting to negotiate with retirees in good faith, the city
24 instead attempted to create a paper case of impracticability.

1 herring argument that because there was no negotiating partner
2 that could unilaterally -- unilaterally bind the retirees,
3 negotiations were impracticable. This is not the appropriate
4 legal standard for determining whether negotiations were
5 impracticable.

6 The city documented this alleged impracticability by 7 requesting various union representatives represent retirees,
8 all the while knowing they were not the appropriate parties to 9 do so. The city's purpose of this campaign was to add to the 10 paper record in case of impracticability.

11 The city has presented to Your Honor multiple times, a
12 chart alleging impracticability on these grounds representing 13 whether various groups would represent retirees with checks,
14 X's, and dashes. Further, the city beat the drum of 15 impracticability through repetitive testimony of Mr. Orr that 16 no unions would represent the retirees.

17 Well, Your Honor, the city was asking the wrong person.
18 It may be true that they knocked on many doors. Not only did
19 they not knock on the correct door, representatives from the 20 DRCEA and the RDPFFA in fact requested to be that party that 21 they were looking for to represent and negotiate on behalf of 22 the retirees.

23 Both Ms. Lightsey and Mr. Taylor testified that they 24 responded to the very same letters that the city sent to the

1 negotiations with the city. Both associations requests for 2 those meetings were denied or never followed through on.

3 THE COURT: Okay. But legally speaking, why are 4 those organizations in a better position to negotiate as 5 partners with the city than any other potential partner that 6 the city did seek out?

7 MR. PLECHA: Your Honor, these associations each
8 have been in existence for over 50 years. They have lines of 9 communication open to provide information to their members,
10 get information back from their members. They have a 11 mechanism in place to get the appropriate votes and 12 information necessary to provide that to the Court to show
13 that there is an agreement or there is not an agreement.

14 Under 109 the requirement is that a majority of a class
15 agrees to it. That's solely for the purpose of eligibility,
16 that's not for plan confirmation. We could have sent out
17 through the associations these requests for votes on a plan
18 that was negotiated by the associations, they could be sent
19 back to the Court or the associations to show whether there
20 was in fact an agreement possible.

21 The city's plan to create its own impracticability fails
22 because of the association's presence, history, and desire to 23 represent retirees. As been shown through the evidence and 24 testimony, and I just said, the retirees associations, the

1 served as the watchdogs and sole voice of general retirees.
2 They have obtained the benefit enhancements applicable to all
3 general city retirees through the city council budget
4 proceedings which it was formally invited to and participated
5 in.

6 That attendance was set forth in the city charter. The 7 DRCEA has over 7,600 members and represents all general city
8 retirees regardless of membership.

9 The evidence is very similar as it relates to the RDPFFA.
10 They as well have been in existence for over 50 years. They 11 have served as the united voice of police and fire retirees.

12 The RDPFFA in fact has engaged in concessionary
13 negotiations which were implemented and impacted all police
14 and fire retirees within a particular class. The RDPFFA has 15 also bound retirees in an agreement through consent of the 16 police and fire retirees.

17 They as well have the similar invitation to, and in fact
18 participated in city council proceedings. They also have 19 frequent communications with their retirees.

20 Despite all this, Mr. Orr and his team at the city chose
21 not to inform themselves of the associations or take any steps 22 to acknowledge the existence of any group that could foil its 23 impracticability scheme. This impracticability scheme was 24 coupled with an extraordinarily aggressive timetable that has 25 been discussed by other objectors which I will not get into.

1 Therefore, the city cannot now claim impracticability
2 based on its own self imposed timeline. It's also important
3 to note that Ms. Lightsey's letter to Mr. Orr still remains
4 unanswered as to the time of filing.

5 Each of the associations were capable of negotiations.
6 As testified to by Ms. Lightsey, the DRCEA's board includes a
7 former city budget director, a former city personnel manager,
8 a former director of labor relations who is also in charge of 9 benefits, and a former trustee of the pension funds. These 10 are the people that would be negotiating on behalf of the city
11 had there not been an emergency manager and had those 12 individuals not retired from the city.

13 The associations in fact are the eyes and ears of 14 retirees. The associations are trusted by their members who 15 have turned to them for decades to receive benefit assistance,
16 and information. The majority of all retirees of either the 17 DRCEA or the RDPFFA are members of the representative
18 associations. And two-thirds of all retirees are a member of 19 one association or the other.

20 As I said previously, Your Honor, 109 does not envision
21 unanimous consent. 109(c)(5)(A) would be satisfied with only 22 agreement of a majority of retirees. Given that the 23 associations together represent two-thirds of all retirees,
24 they were in fact in a position to solicit and obtain
25 agreement of a majority of the retirees.

1 That would have not been impracticable if the city had
2 negotiated in good faith. Therefore, Your Honor, the evidence
3 does show that negotiation with retirees through the 4 associations was practicable.

5 Your Honor, the requirements of 109(c)(5) cannot be met
6 by clearly just the city acknowledging that it was difficult
7 in deciding not to engage or attempt to engage in any
8 negotiations. 109 was intended by Congress to require that a
9 municipality seeking to reorganize under Chapter 9 exhaust the 10 possibility of a negotiated resolution with each class of 11 creditors.

12 As for retirees who merit recognition as a class due to 13 the constitutional protections of their pensions, the evidence
14 has showed that the timeline, the avoidance of the city, of 15 the retiree associations, was not in good faith and that 16 negotiations were practicable.

17 Further, Your Honor, the discovery responses cited to by 18 the city were in fact post-petition. Mr. Taylor testified
19 that he never provided his position to the city as did Ms.
20 Lightsey. So the city at the time of filing its petition had 21 no knowledge of these alleged positions. They may be true,
22 but the city did not know. The city did not ask. Quite 23 frankly the city did not care because it did not comply with 24 its plan. Thank you, Your Honor.

1 everyone's best interest to take a brief break, ten minutes
2 and we'll reconvene at 4:35 please.

3 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in recess.

4 (Court in Recess at 4:34 p.m.; Resume at 4:35 p.m.)

5 THE CLERK: Court is in session. Please be seated.

6 THE COURT: It looks like there are some people who
7 aren't here. Should we wait, or should we plow on ahead?

8 MR. MONTGOMERY: Your Honor, I think it may be a
9 function of my simply being the last man standing.

10 THE COURT: All right. All right. You may proceed,
11 sir.

12 MR. MONTGOMERY: Thank you, Your Honor. I'm going
13 to try in my time this afternoon to try to tie the evidence
14 that came through in seven days of testimony to our specific 15 theories of the case, not in the -- necessarily in the -- in 16 the broadest sense, but with -- to the specific points we are 17 trying to make, mentioned first in our opening and then that 18 we think are important here.

19 Now we know of course that the backdrop for point one in 20 this whole discussion is the authorization question. Now the 21 legal question on whether or not --

22 THE COURT: Can I ask you not to repeat the 23 arguments of your --

24 MR. MONTGOMERY: Yes, exactly. We're not going
25 there, we're not going there.

1 THE COURT: Okay.

2 MR. MONTGOMERY: This is just nothing but context
3 and there's no dispute as to the existence of authorization
4 letters.

5 There is a dispute as to whether or not that 6 authorization violates that, that's argued legally, but we 7 also argue specifically that there was an -- an intent to 8 violate the pending clause, Your Honor. And so the question
9 is, is there proof of intent, all right.

10 Now, the first step --

11 THE COURT: The theory being that would go to good
12 faith?

13 MR. MONTGOMERY: Yes, Your Honor. And it would go
14 to whether or not -- if there was an -- an intention to 15 violate a state law, specifically the Constitution, does that 16 somehow affect or infect the actual grant of authorization
17 itself. Meaning that if there were no intent to violate a
18 law, it's a pure legal issue.

19 If there is an intent to violate -- violate the law, does 20 that render the act void ab initio. That's something we've 21 argued. We think you need to know the facts before you can 22 actually apply that issue.

23 THE COURT: So there's a different consequence if 24 there's intent versus no intent?

25 MR. MONTGOMERY: We believe there is, Your Honor.

1 Because --

2 THE COURT: Okay.

3 MR. MONTGOMERY: -- the question. We do.

4 THE COURT: Go for it.

5 MR. MONTGOMERY: And so whether we're right or we're 6 wrong, we need to have the facts in front of you.

7 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

8 MR. MONTGOMERY: All right. Now where do we start?
9 Of course the city admitted to you in oral argument and it
10 admitted in its admissions that it intended to diminish or 11 impair accrued financial benefits of the participants and
12 the --

13 MR. GORDON: Retirement system objection, please.
14 If you're going to make that statement at least read it
15 correctly.

16 MR. MONTGOMERY: Fair enough, sir. The admission of 17 the city was that --

18 THE COURT: Hold on. Sir, is that your electronic 19 device?

20 A VOICE: Yes, I apologize, Your Honor.

21 THE COURT: Please turn it off. Is everyone's
22 electronic device off? All right. I'll assume from silence
23 that the answer is yes. You may proceed.

24 MR. MONTGOMERY: What did the city admit? Admit
25 that the city intends to seek to diminish or impair the

1 accrued financial benefits of the participants in the 2 retirement systems through this Chapter 9 case, response
3 admitted.

4 Now, that is the beginning of the process. The city
5 knows it's trying to do something that on its face appears to 6 violate the constitutional provision. Now we think intent can 7 be shown not just by the statement that they intend to do so
8 here, but that they had intended to do so for time. And it
9 was part of the planning process leading up to the Chapter 9.

10 Now we also have to show you various other topics which 11 we -- I will touch on. There's a rightness question that Your 12 Honor needed to hear from us on. We think the evidence on 13 rightness is in and we'll explain how.

14 Second, is we have an alternative explanation for the 15 specific timeline that has appeared. We think that the 16 financial information, and we will show you how, that is in 17 evidence shows that July or early August at the latest, was 18 the right time for the city to file a Chapter 9 if it was 19 going to. And we think the evidence will support the debtor
20 understand that. And it -- and it must have understood it
21 long ago.

22 The next thing we have to show you, and we think we do,
23 is that there is in fact no plan of adjustment. You may 24 recall that Mr. Bennett said he was going to prove that there
25 was a plan of adjustment in his opening. We said we were

1 going to prove there was no plan of adjustment in our opening.
2 We think the evidence supports our view of it. We're going to
3 try to show you how today.

4 We're also going to try to show you that related to that
5 question that there were insufficient disclosures. We're 6 going to show you that what -- some disclosures were
7 misleading. We're going to show you that there was a general
8 desire to avoid asset sales. That is both intentional and 9 accidental. We believe the evidence will support that.

10 We're going to show you that the proposal was not fair
11 and even handed. We think that is part of the good faith
12 standard.

13 We're going to show you that part of this whole drama is 14 that the person who was chosen to lead this march towards 15 Chapter 9 really could only do that. The qualifications of 16 this very talented individual, Mr. Orr, related to nothing
17 other than leading a march to Chapter 9.

18 We'll also try to show you some credibility challenges
19 which we think relates to the question of whether or not the 20 debtor has been exercising good faith, not just vis-a-vis the 21 creditors in general, but with respect to retirees
22 specifically. And then we will conclude.

23 Now, Mr. Orr again, a well educated, legal degree
24 individual, made a statement on June 10 in response to a

1 that vested pension rights are sacrosanct, they can't be
2 touched. Now why do I think that's of interest to the Court
3 with respect to the question of intent?

4 First, it is a statement of importance. The use of the 5 word sacrosanct suggests it cannot be touched. It's too
6 important or too respected. One might turn to a dictionary,
7 Webster's on line dictionary or something like that, and find
8 a definition like too important and respected to be changed or 9 criticized. That's from Webster's on line.

10 You will also see that he purports to have an 11 understanding of law, perfectly logical for a lawyer to have 12 an understanding of law. So he knows what the law is, he 13 knows what the Constitution is. And he knows that vested
14 pension rights are part of that constitutional protection and 15 he knows that it's so important that he uses the word
16 sacrosanct. And then he adds the practical statement that in 17 the environment he found himself in on June 10, they couldn't 18 be touched.

19 However, the proposal he made in fact on June 14th, has as 20 is demonstrated in Exhibit 408, Page 109 which is the June 14
21 proposal, with respect to pensions is the clause that has been 22 cited to Your Honor before, but it simply says of importance,
23 because the amounts realized on the underfunding claims will 24 be substantially less than the underfunding amount, there must

1 active and currently retired employees. The people that my 2 committee represents.

3 Now, this proposal, June 14 is four days after Mr. Orr
4 made the video tape statement. It's impossible for me, and I
5 suggest for the Court to infer, that Mr. Orr changed his mind
6 between June 10 and --

7 THE COURT: Just a question about the record. Is 8 the video tape of June 10th in the record or a transcript of
9 it?

10 MR. MONTGOMERY: I believe it is, Your Honor.

11 THE COURT: Do you have a number, or does anyone
12 have a number?

13 MR. MONTGOMERY: Hang on. The --

14 MS. GREEN: It is in the record a transcription and 15 a video. I believe it is 871. I have copies of the CD with 16 me today to update it in the binder so you have a video clip
17 and the transcription if you --

18 THE COURT: I'm sorry, the video clip is what?

19 MS. GREEN: 871.

20 THE COURT: It's part of 871?

21 MS. GREEN: The video clips are all on a CD with --

22 THE COURT: Or, they're on a CD.

23 MS. GREEN: Yes.

24 THE COURT: Is that one of the ones that was given

25 to me today, or where is -- where is the CD?

1 MS. GREEN: I have the CD's. The transcriptions
2 were already in the binder. But I have the CD's themselves
3 today.

4 THE COURT: Okay.

5 MS. GREEN: To update the binder.

6 THE COURT: So are we going to get those?

7 MS. GREEN: I have them with me today to give to the 8 Court.

9 THE COURT: Okay. Good, thank you. You may
10 proceed, sir.

11 MR. MONTGOMERY: Thank you.

12 THE COURT: Something you wanted to say, sir?

13 MR. IRWIN: Well, there were -- there were 14 completeness designations from the city as well. I believe
15 they were in the transcript, I just wanted to confirm that 16 they were on the video as well.

17 THE COURT: Is that right, Ms. Green?

18 MR. IRWIN: The city's completeness designations
19 that were on the transcript on the -- on the video too.

20 MS. GREEN: Yes. There was a counter designation by
21 the --

22 MR. IRWIN: Yeah, they're all there.

23 THE COURT: So they are on the CD or the DVD also?

24 MS. GREEN: Yes.

25 THE COURT: Okay.

1 MR. MONTGOMERY: Thank you, Your Honor. The
2 inference I was suggesting the Court might draw from the
3 timing of this statement and the timing of the June 14th
4 proposal, is that Mr. Orr already knew that the June 14th
5 proposal was going to have either language like this, or the 6 intention expressed by this document which is of course the
7 June 14th proposal.

8 Now, we further suggest that it was the June 10 statement
9 that meant little to Mr. Orr despite the fact that he was 10 talking about the Constitution as someone who had a legal 11 education, despite the fact that as the emergency manager he 12 had taken an oath to uphold that Constitution, and despite the 13 fact that he was trying to answer a question posed by an 14 ordinary human being. What are you doing to me? Pensions
15 aren't going to be touched is effectively what he said. A 16 lie, he knew better. I think that that's only one example of 17 the lack of good faith in the process of dealing with 18 creditors associated with the city of Michigan.

19 Now we also believe that in the process of the request
20 for authorization, you will find the key to the prior intent
21 to violate the state constitution with respect to pensions.
22 You will notice that the very first sentence on Page 6 of 23 Exhibit 28, and we use this two page because we'll come back
24 to it and there is no point in repeating it, it says as a

1 develop a financial and operating plan for the city, the
2 financial and operating plan, which placed the city's
3 challenges in context and defined a series of key
4 restructuring goals and initiatives. All right.

5 Now, this is Exhibit 28 at Page 6. Now the same document
6 may appear as Exhibit 407. Now, 407, Page 21 is the same as 7 the operating and financial plan.

8 This plan put forward on May 12, 2013, recognizes, and 9 here I've highlighted language of interest to me, although the 10 entire sentences are there, recognizes that legacy liabilities
11 must be evaluated as part of the city's comprehensive 12 restructuring. Significant and fundamental debt relief must 13 be obtained to allow the city's revitalization to continue and 14 succeed.

15 Okay. So what. Well, the -- first, this is the same
16 plan that was not a plebocite. This is the same plan that was 17 not negotiable. And we say to you that this is the same plan
18 that thinks that the pension number is only $646,000,000.

19 A statement from Exhibit 407, Page 37 says, as of June 20 30, 2011, the most recent actuarial reports provided to the 21 city by the pension funds showed the pension UAAL, unfunded
22 actuarial accrued liability, at $646,000,000. But the 23 emergency manager then speculated that with utilizing more
24 current assumptions -- excuse me, more current data and/or

1 into the billions of dollars.

2 So he's thinking about this at the time of the May 12th,
3 again before June 10, and certainly before June 14. And he's
4 thinking this problem is temporarily defined as a $646,000,000
5 problem, but it could rise to $1,000,000,000 or more problem.

6 And so he says to all of us, or to those who were given
7 access, annual payment on accounts of these legacy liabilities
8 are expected to increase in the future if no action is taken
9 to modify them. If no action is taken to modify them, he 10 thinks the problem gets worse.

11 Now, in his cross with Mr. Ullman on October 28 --

12 MR. BENNETT: Excuse me, Your Honor. If you're 13 reading, I don't need to object, but he misread this sentence
14 again. But if you're reading, I won't object.

15 THE COURT: I am it says mitigate. Go ahead.

16 MR. MONTGOMERY: Thank you, Your Honor. The -- the 17 testimony by Mr. Orr in response to cross examination, is that 18 pensions and pension benefits had to be cut back and that he 19 had made that conclusion on or before May 12. Why do I say
20 that?

21 So this is cross by Mr. Ullman. At trial we don't have 22 the formal, so we think this is what your transcript will show
23 when you get it, that on -- on October 28th. So he was asked
24 the following question by Mr. Ullman.

1 that's referring to May 12th, you had made the determination
2 that in your view vested pension benefits of Detroit's
3 retirees had to be cut back, is that right? Answer by Mr.
4 Orr, I think that's a fair characterization of what we --
5 we're saying -- we are saying.

6 Now, Your Honor, now we have Mr. Orr saying on June 14th
7 they must be cut. We having had concluded on May 12th that 8 they must be cut, but on June 10th he told somebody who was 9 relying on the state appointed official to tell him the truth
10 about what was happening in the world, they were sacrosanct,
11 couldn't be touched.

12 Now in addition to this particular -- let me just skip
13 right back. In addition to which we've already done this,
14 that all makes sense now from -- from May 12, June 14, Mr. Orr
15 had made the decision, his counsel admitted it for him in the 16 admissions. So that part of the -- the record is clear, they 17 intended to do something to the Constitution, violate it.

18 Now, the same information was sent to the Governor,
19 meaning Mr. Dillon said that he told the Governor on July 8th
20 by email that the view of the consultants is that current 21 pensions have to be cut significantly. I believe that the 22 only logical inference there is that he was talking about the 23 consultants for the City of Detroit.

24 So that the Governor understood that this is where the 25 city's advisors were going. That intention is reflected in

1 the June 14 proposal. And therefore when the Governor issues
2 his recommendation in response to -- issues his authorization
3 in response to the recommendation that references the May 12
4 plan, that there is no doubt that cutting pensions benefits is 5 part of the scenario.

6 Now, everybody understood this and in fact Mr. -- some of 7 the advisors for the Governor are suggesting they place
8 conditions because they know this is coming. Specifically
9 conditions could also include such items as preapproval for 10 anything having to do with vested pension benefits.

11 Well, the only reason to even contemplate doing that is 12 because it might be a politically sensitive issue, I suggest 13 to the Court, or it might be unconstitutional for the -- for 14 the Governor to support such an effort. And so his advisors
15 are saying, give yourself a way out, put conditions on it,
16 make sure the emergency manager doesn't do anything that 17 you're uncomfortable with.

18 But he doesn't do that. He gives an unconditional
19 authorization knowing that the emergency manager of the 20 biggest municipal bankruptcy in the history of the country and 21 certainly the largest in the State of Michigan, wanted to 22 violate the state's constitution and he said okay.

23 Now, this notion that the Governor understood and that it
24 -- from at least May 12 it was fixed, is merely reflective, we

1 thought process by those who are talking directly to, or
2 indirectly to the Governor. Of course I start my reference in 3 that regard with -- with respect to the Jones, Day pitch book.

4 Now, the significance of the pitch book is not that
5 Jones, Day had reached the conclusion as appears on Page 418
6 -- Page 41, Exhibit 418 if needed Chapter 9 could be used as a
7 means to further cut back, compromise accrued financial
8 benefits otherwise protected by the Michigan Constitution.
9 The fact that they reached that legal conclusion is not what I
10 say to you is important.

11 It's the fact that that view was shared with all of the 12 other actors in the drama. This was available and part of the 13 process at the interview. Mr. Orr himself was part of this 14 process. He knew this was the going in game plan.

15 We know from other -- other testimony and the timeline
16 that Miller, Buckfire was aware of this kind of information.
17 In fact Miller, Buckfire had even told them what kinds of 18 questions to answer if I recall the timeline correctly.

19 Now, so we have advisors saying that if you really want
20 to cut pension benefits you can only do that in Chapter 9
21 because of the Michigan Constitution. We've got an emergency
22 manager who understands that both legally, because he's a
23 lawyer, and practically because he says he needs to do it.

24 When are you going to take this on? What -- what makes a
25 logical time to do this? Well, let's look at the City of

1 Detroit as if it was an ordinary debtor. What do you do with 2 an ordinary debtor? You say well, gee, what -- what are its 3 cash flows, what are its assets, what might make a sense of 4 good timing.

5 Well, Mr. Buckfire on direct told us that the city relies
6 on four primary streams of revenue, gaming tax revenue, state
7 revenue share, property tax, and income tax. He then told us
8 property tax income in particular comes in on a quarterly
9 basis because that's when assessments are made and income
10 taxes come in likewise in a fairly irregular fashion.

11 So that to me says that a bankruptcy plan is going to try
12 to figure out well, when does cash peak and when does it
13 trough. When are liabilities high, when are they trough.
14 Well, we think, Your Honor, that the answer is, July and 15 August is when cash rises.

16 So all of a sudden it dawned on me as it probably did the 17 Jones, Day advisors when they were thinking about this whole
18 process, as I'm sure instinctively it's true for you as an
19 observer of the bankruptcy process, Your Honor, that June -- 20 July or August was the logical time for a Chapter 9 filing to 21 occur. And that whoever was looking at the cash flows of the 22 city would know that.

23 And E & Y had been looking at the cash flows of the city
24 for over a year prior to the appointment of Mr. Orr as

1 before the appointment of the emergency manager. The 2 financial people all understood the cash flow timing question.
3 They may not have liked the curve, but they knew the bumps.
4 And so if you're going to file at the right time you do it
5 when cash is king.

6 So when is cash king? Well, according to Exhibit 75,
7 which was the short term cash flow associated with the May 12
8 report, you will see that July cash is $142,000,000 of 9 operating receipts. And August there's $254,000,000 of 10 operating receipts. And then it drops back down
11 significantly.

12 Well, what does that tell me? Well, that sometime
13 between July and August all things being equal, that's when 14 you want to file because that's when the greatest amount of 15 cash is going to come in.

16 So this notion that a July filing appeared out of thin
17 air in late June, early July of 2013 is wrong. Whoever was 18 looking at these issues knew that this was the only logical
19 time if you were going to do it in the 12 months of 2013 to do
20 it. And I suggest to Your Honor that's exactly what you will 21 see when you look at the evidence, the inference you will make 22 that July or August is the logical time. Come back to that in 23 a moment.

24 Let me just quickly get out of the way the rightness

1 and Ms. Whitson about their reliance -- or excuse me, their
2 participation in the pension systems, their receiving health
3 care benefits and that each of them has had some measurable or 4 demonstrable impact already.

5 Now, the other thing I want to suggest to you with 6 respect to rightness is that the city's testimony is 7 unequivocal that but for water and sewer, the city had made no
8 pension contribution since 2011. So it's already violating
9 the second clause of the pension constitution when Mr. Orr
10 takes office and that doesn't change.

11 Now, I want to skip that. I'm going to ignore that last 12 one. Here we go.

13 On the question of whether or not the Jones, Day and Andy
14 Dillon discussion is theoretical with respect to Chapter 9,
15 I'd point the Court's attention to Exhibit 851 which is a
16 March 23 email from Corrine Ball to Laura Marcero of Huron
17 Consulting. One of the people that was helping the Treasurer
18 in this time frame. And this is a full year before the 19 appointment of Mr. Orr, a full year.

20 In which they say in response to a question, "however, we 21 point out that you will need executives in place in the -- in 22 the Chapter 9 case. You need a practical as well as legal 23 response. We think having the CRO structure with CFO, COO in 24 place from the first day of a Chapter 9 would enhance the 25 position of continuing the case".

1 All right. So a year in advance of any possible filing
2 they're telling the consultants to make sure you have people
3 in place who can actually run a filing. Well, why would you
4 say that if it was in response to a purely theoretical
5 question. I submit that they're actually thinking about a
6 Detroit bankruptcy. It doesn't happen for well over another
7 year, but they're already thinking about it for real.

8 Now, Mr. Orr is clearly part of this process because 9 before -- let's roll forward nine months. His -- his people
10 are talking about Chapter 9 and talking about it perhaps 11 theoretically, perhaps practically. There is no in fact
12 filing happening.

13 But Mr. Orr is asked where is he up -- on updating our 14 Chapter 9 paper with new decisions. That tells us, we ask the 15 Court to infer, that one, Mr. Orr was personally familiar with 16 the Chapter 9 studies that Jones, Day was doing, and that in 17 fact he was part of the process because he was being asked by 18 one of his partners where are they on updating it. And how 19 could he possibly know that if he wasn't involved directly.

20 So now what's happening? So we know that Jones, Day is 21 -- and Mr. Orr are discussing Chapter 9 before their pitch.
22 We know it's going to -- we've seen the pitch book. It's been 23 referenced by other people, so I don't need to repeat that.

24 So then they go and tell again a consultant with respect
25 to 870, roll forward another six months, the same conclusion.

1 Based on this we anticipate a significant reduction and
2 already accrued benefits will be required in order to get
3 contributions to the level of available cash to service the 4 UAAL. It appears this may only be possible in a Chapter 9
5 proceeding.

6 Now this is June 5. This is again before the June 10
7 statement, it's before the June 14 proposal, but it's after 8 the May 12 financial and operating plan.

9 I'll turn back to the request for authorization, Your
10 Honor. The last bullet which was -- which appears there, it
11 says the city's negotiations with the counter parties to its 12 pension related swap contracts which have been ongoing since 13 2012, intensified in recent weeks and included, and then he 14 goes on to describe what actually happens.

15 But for our purposes, Your Honor, the importance is that 16 they are talking with serious creditors owed a lot of money by 17 the City of Detroit back in 2012 and the discussions are now
18 accelerating. They're accelerating because they want this 19 issue out of the way when they file. They know they're going
20 to file.

21 Now, you -- you may recall I just suggested that July or 22 August was the only logical time frame. That people had been 23 making the decisions on how to get there, managing the 24 process, and that when they put out the executive summary of

1 not here at the time, they're telling us that July 19 is the
2 deadline. They give themselves three weeks to honor requests
3 -- excuse me, seven days to honor requests for additional 4 information. They give themselves a month more or less to 5 engage in negotiations.

6 Again one of the parties they've been negotiating with 7 since 2012 by the time this was coming up. And they say
8 evaluate July 19. July 19 happens to correspond with 9 testimony that that was the roll out date. All right.

10 So the only thing that really happens to knock this plan
11 schedule off of a July or August filing, we submit that if 12 it's July, is the fact that the Flowers and retirement system
13 filed litigation. And what did that -- what impact did that 14 have? It moved it up by a day.

15 So all this great tamise about oh, the world came to an 16 end when we got sued, no. It had one 24 hour day's impact on 17 what the city had already been planning, the Chapter 9.

18 Now, switching topics. Is there a plan of adjustment?
19 We know that -- oh, sorry, Your Honor. Let me back up for 20 half a second. I forgot that the acceleration was due only to 21 the TRO litigation and that Mr. Orr conceded that in his 22 deposition which is part of the record and it says in response
23 to Mr. Ullman again asking questions.

24 Is there a particular reason that the bankruptcy filing

1 being heard in the State Court other than to get a jump on the
2 State Court ruling? Mr. Shumaker objected as to form. Mr.
3 Orr however answered, not to the best of my knowledge. And he 4 would know better than anyone else because he was the man in 5 charge.

6 Now Mr. Bennett told us that we had to look at, you know,
7 what boxes did we need to check off -- check off. And one of 8 them is, we believe, is there a plan of adjustment. And the 9 reason there needs to be a plan of adjustment is of course
10 109(c)(4) mentions it. But 109(c)(5)(A) says, impair under a
11 plan. We submit that's a plan of adjustment.

12 109(c)(5)(B) says, intends to impair under a plan. We 13 submit that's a plan of adjustment. And then impracticality
14 or fraudulent transfer. There's no issue with respect to 15 somebody gaining a fraudulent transfer. That's come up in the 16 evidence, but all the others have been disputed.

17 Now, Mr. Orr in his deposition testimony again designated
18 for the record says, and this is a summary but precise quote
19 from the deposition, "we never called this a plan. We never 20 called this a deal. We always called it a proposal because we 21 were open for discussion".

22 Well, that doesn't sound like a plan of adjustment, but 23 maybe we can turn it into one if we do enough of the other 24 things. The Governor, who authorized the filing, said on

1 think that is what the transcript is going to say. This is
2 our understanding of what it will show.

3 Well, no plan of adjustment has been presented so that
4 would be speculative. No plan of adjustment. So the most
5 important officer in the State of Michigan said there's not a
6 plan adjustment in connection with approving the filing of a
7 Chapter 9 proceeding by the City of Detroit.

8 Now, maybe that's a so what because with the right amount
9 of negotiations you can turn it into something. Well,
10 Treasurer Dillon testified on November 5 in response to 11 questions by Ms. Levine, again this is what we think the --
12 the final transcript will say. This -- I'll tell you the 13 thing that troubled me the most was when they put together the 14 ten year plan to talk about investing in the city which is 15 important for it to turn around eventually. That the recovery
16 for unsecured creditors was so low I didn't know how anyone
17 practically could cut a deal and walk out of the settlement
18 room accepting something based on those numbers. DOA is 19 another way of saying it.

20 It wasn't supposed to be acceptable. It couldn't be 21 acceptable. It -- in fact the Treasurer again, a man deeply
22 emeshed in financial issues for the State of Michigan,
23 absolutely understanding how to negotiate, financial number
24 says, he doesn't know how anybody could do it.

1 plan side of the question, it's irrelevant to the good faith
2 negotiation side. If you put something on the table that 3 nobody can accept, where is the good faith in the -- in the 4 offer? Where is the good faith in the proposal? Where is the 5 fair disclosures that make it possible or reasonable for the 6 person to accept it?

7 Now in order to sort of get into this posture they needed
8 to have numbers bigger than the $15,000,000,000 that shows up
9 in the May 12 report. Well, what grew between May 12 and June
10 14? Well, the pension number grew between May 12 and June 14.

11 You may recall, I showed you slide earlier, there was 12 $646,000,000 on May 12. It's three and a half billion dollars
13 by the time Mr. Orr files his declaration on July 18th.

14 This is Footnote 3 to Mr. Orr's declaration in which he
15 identifies his proposal and says that he has identified
16 obligations consisting of and he points out 3.5 billion in 17 underfunding pension liabilities. That's 3,000,000,000 higher
18 than appeared in the May 12 proposal. That's how he gets to 19 $18,000,000,000.

20 Now is that a hard number? No, it's a preliminary 21 number. How do we know it's a preliminary number? Because 22 the June 14 proposal tells us it's a preliminary number.
23 Claims for unfunded pension liabilities appearing at 109, as 24 set forth above, preliminary analyses indicates that the

1 billion dollars.

2 The rest of the sentence everybody has quoted many times.
3 That is, at this level of underfunding, the city would have to
4 contribute approximately 200,000,000 to 350,000,000 annually
5 to fund currently accrued vested benefits. Such contributions
6 will not be made under this plan. Just in case there was any 7 doubt they -- they aren't doing anything to contribute to the 8 historically accrued vested pension benefits, nothing in the 9 plan other than a share of a note ends up dealing with that
10 issue.

11 Now, Mr. Moore confirmed in his deposition on September
12 18, again this is designated in the record, that the city, I'm 13 going to paraphrase before I quote, city's actuaries had not 14 completed their work.

15 He actually said, "the city and most importantly its 16 actuary has not completed its analysis on the unfunded pension
17 -- unfunded position". All right.

18 Now, so that's preliminary. So for some reason it was 19 important to make that number bigger on June 14th than it had 20 been on May 12, even though no completed analyses have doing.
21 Well, why? Because it's part of the process of making the 22 problem look as bad as it can. It may be that bad, Your 23 Honor. I don't know the answer to that question.

24 But why did they have to jump? The reason they had to 25 jump is they had to justify the position that they were going

1 to cut vested pension benefits.

2 Again Mr. Bowen from Milliman confirms that they hadn't
3 done their work. He says on 9-24 in response to a question
4 that was, has Milliman done yet a -- a plan valuation of the 5 assets and liabilities of the -- either the police and fire
6 fund or the general pension fund? He starts to answer, the 7 actual -- Mr. Miller objects to form. And the witness says
8 yeah, the actuary typically doesn't value the assets, we are 9 provided information from the system and we report the assets
10 in conjunction with liabilities. As I said, we are in process
11 of doing a replication of each of the two systems. You can't 12 reach a conclusion until you know what your starting point is 13 and the actuary hadn't finished his work on what the starting 14 point was.

15 Now, the -- there's a second question that sort of comes 16 up in the question of whether or not the information in the 17 June 14 proposal is misleading in any way with respect to 18 pensions. Now, Exhibit 419 which is the legacy proposal if I
19 am not mistaken, which is put out after the June 14 proposal
20 is put forward, if I've got my timing right. It says
21 approximately 650,000,000 of unfunded liability as of fiscal 22 year 2012 of which only 250,000,000 relates to the general
23 fund.

24 Well, what's the significance of that? Well, this is

1 $250,000,000 divided by the $650,000,000 is the 38.5% that
2 Your Honor may remember was bandied about with respect to Mr.
3 Moore's testimony -- Mr. Orr's testimony, I'm sorry.

4 Just in case Your Honor has a question as to where this 5 number might have come from, well, if you look at the 6 actuarial liabilities as of June 11 which is Exhibit 68
7 admitted by the city at Page B3, you'll see that unfunded
8 accrued -- actuarially accrued liabilities for the water and 9 sewage are $247,000,624. And the total for the GRS of the 10 liabilities, unfunded actuarial accrued liabilities is 11 $639,871,000. And it just so happens that if you do the math
12 you again end up with a 38 plus percent number.

13 So Mr. Bing in his document, the actuaries all sort of 14 agree that 38% is the right share on a smaller number. And 15 you may recall that Mr. Orr said it would slide. He -- there
16 was some confusion as to whether it was six fifty, or 60%.
17 But the bottom line was, it moves with the size of the number
18 and 38% is what both Mr. Bing thought as in his proposal, and 19 what the actuaries thought when they made their assessment in 20 2011. Those are consistent. So whether they're right or 21 they're wrong, they had a consistent world view.

22 It's misleading to suggest that DWSD contributions -- or 23 excuse me, that the GRS participants who worked for, or worked
24 now, or worked in the past for Detroit Water and Sewer

1 fund. They were in fact coming from the DWSD itself. And 2 DWSD itself was making money. So we say that is a misleading
3 observation.

4 Again, the suggestion here is that tax dollars are what's
5 servicing the legacy debt. The city has over 18,000,000,000
6 in accrued obligations. We've shown that the number rose from 7 fifteen to eighteen. They said over 6.4 billion in 8 obligations are backed by enterprise revenues, but that
9 doesn't count the legacy obligations, so again the implication
10 is that -- is that those obligations come to the city through 11 the general fund and that tax dollars are paying for it.

12 Now, one of the things that is missing throughout all of 13 this again, we say adversely affecting whether or not this is 14 a plan of adjustment, whether or not it's submitted in good
15 faith, is there was a hole that Mr. Buckfire confirmed during 16 his cross examination with respect to the absence of 17 appraisals, the absence of valuations, the absence of 18 historical cost information in the June 14 proposal, and that 19 it wasn't provided in the data room.

20 And so what does this mean? Because you know the book
21 had a listing of assets that were non-core, I believe was the 22 answer, but no valuations were given. So the Detroit Water
23 and Sewer Department, no values of potentially realizable
24 nature or otherwise are actually described in the June 14
25 proposal.

1 The Coleman A. Young airport, again no values associated
2 with that described. The same with the Detroit Windsor
3 tunnel. The same for Belle Isle park. Same for the Detroit
4 Institute of Arts. No numbers given with respect to what 5 might be -- might be the largest single asset owned by the
6 City of Detroit.

7 City owned land, again no values. Parking operations, no
8 values. The Joe Louis Arena, no values. And, you know, I
9 don't know all the assets of the city, so I said have -- is 10 there anything they might have missed. I don't know.

11 Well, no values. Not even the Detroit Zoo, again, I
12 don't even know what it's worth. I don't know if it's worth a
13 dime, or a lot. But there was no effort by the city to be 14 exhaustive with respect to assets that might form a basis of 15 recovery.

16 Now you may recall that Mr. Bennett said he was going to 17 show that a trust owned the art. There was no testimony that 18 came in reflecting a trust owning the art. In fact Mr. Orr on 19 cross said in response to the following question, is correct,
20 the word it is missing, is correct that the City of Detroit
21 owns certain pieces of art that are maintained at the Detroit
22 Institute of Arts? Mr. Orr's answer, yes.

23 Question, and this is art talking about the art that the 24 city owns itself, right? Not art that is subject to any kind

1 the things that Mr. Bennett said he was going to show simply 2 disappeared.

3 Now art again might be a huge issue. In response -- on 4 direct Mr. Buckfire says, that before his engagement in 5 January he had no knowledge despite his prior visits to the 6 City of Detroit about art.

7 He says well, back in January when we first began our
8 engagement, we discovered and we had not known this before,
9 that the City of Detroit actually does own the building and 10 the art collection of the Detroit Institute of Arts which is 11 operated on the city's behalf by the DIA corp which is the 12 founder society as a contractor to the city.

13 So two witnesses established that this is city owned art.
14 Efforts to appraise, value, get a handle on. Mr. Orr says in 15 response to questioning he says, yes, he ultimately retained,
16 I'm not reading now, he retained Christie's in August. So how 17 did he answer that question?

18 Question, and Christie's has been retained, correct?
19 Answer, Christie's has been retained, correct. And they were 20 retained in August, is that right? Answer, I believe -- well,
21 let's get the sequence. I believe they were initially
22 requested to come out and I told them to go away. We retained
23 them.

24 The Court, Mr. Orr, please just answer the question.

1 I think it was August.

2 So two things we think the Court should infer from this.

3 One, that August is in fact the date they were hired, and two,
4 Mr. Orr consciously told a potential appraiser of value to go
5 away. Why would you do that?

6 THE COURT: I have to interrupt you here and ask you
7 how much longer you'll be.

8 MR. MONTGOMERY: I have a few more minutes, Your
9 Honor.

10 THE COURT: A few, sure.

11 MR. MONTGOMERY: But actually, Your Honor, just tell
12 me how much time you want me to take and I will take that 13 amount of time.

14 THE COURT: Well, I want to be fair to Mr. Bennett's
15 rebuttal and --

16 MR. MONTGOMERY: Okay. So let me rocket through to 17 my last couple of slides.

18 THE COURT: All right.

19 MR. MONTGOMERY: All right. The reason for asking
20 the question about why would you delay is because again the 21 advisors had said that is Jones, Day, and Exhibit 418, Page 31
22 in their speaking notes, make sure that the listeners learn
23 that asset monetization outside of a bankruptcy may implicate
24 eligibility requirement that the city be insolvent, e.g.

25 measured by short term cash.

1 How could that be? Well, if you sell assets you have
2 cash. You can pay your debts when they come due, you're not
3 insolvent. I guess you don't want to sell valuable assets.

4 Again, with respect to the negotiating point. It's
5 important, highlighted by others, that the word negotiations
6 applies only to the swap counter parties, it doesn't apply to 7 GRS, PFRS and debt insurers. It doesn't apply to GRS, PFRS,
8 and unions. And it doesn't apply to business people and 9 unions in general on those three dates July 10, July -- three 10 sets of meetings on July 10 and July 11.

11 Seen that before. Again, the city has wanted to design
12 and restructure. They sometimes use different words for cuts.
13 They twice in the discussions talk about restructure and 14 redesign of benefits to a level the city can afford. Again,
15 what did that mean in the context of the June 14 proposal?
16 How do you deal with the underfunding?

17 Well, they said they had $803,000,000 available. Total
18 estimated unsecured claims 11,000,000,000, so there's a
19 fraction there. You would multiply that fraction times the 20 pensions and come up with an assessment.

21 Well, what's the math on that? All right. Eight hundred
22 and three million divided by 11,000,000,000 is 7.2% -- 7.02%.
23 Divide -- times it -- times the unsecured creditor side of 24 that world that relates to pensions and OPEB, you come up with 25 $645,000,000 total based on the -- the cash flows -- as rather

1 obligations.

2 What is the total for pensions against 7%, two hundred
3 and forty-three. Two hundred and forty-three is obviously 4 less than three and a half billion. Hard not to have an 5 impairment.

6 Okay. I'm going to skip the further math. I want to 7 just point out with respect to negotiations that with respect
8 to the bond holder question on the water and sewer side that 9 it was impractical to negotiate with them. There were four 10 insurers of the sewage disposal system. There were three 11 insurers of the water system. Combined they had five insurers
12 total for 6.4 billion dollars of debt. Doesn't sound like an 13 impossible group to have a conversation with.

14 The note we said was not fair. We identified on cross
15 and we'd point out to Your Honor here that how could it be 16 fair that percent and a half, there's no support for it as a
17 market rate. No obligation to pay any amounts other than 18 revenue participation payments, no obligation to go sell any 19 assets.

20 A division if as and -- if as and when there were 21 proceeds. And here's the one that bothers me the most about 22 the proposal worse than the interest rate, worse than the 23 note. This concept that the retirees should fight each other
24 for the cash which is what the Dutch auction means. It's a

1 in their debt in order to receive a pile of cash.

2 Well, a guy or the person who bids the lowest -- the 3 highest amount of debt for the lowest amount of cash, he gets 4 the cash without getting the retirees that are 80% of the 5 obligations to fight among themselves for cash proceeds. How 6 is that fair and even handed as a starting point?

7 Talked about Mr. Dillon. Now here's an important point.
8 And I suggested to you earlier that this was all about a
9 bankruptcy case from the beginning. Mr. Orr, a very talented
10 and well educated man, was supposed to fit in the requirements
11 of 436, Section 9. Shall have a minimum of five years
12 experience and demonstrable expertise in business, financial 13 from local or state budgetary matters.

14 This is his qualifications we say the evidence suggests
15 that he was litigation and a bankruptcy restructuring lawyer
16 practicing with Jones, Day. He never worked for a
17 corporation. He once oversaw the sale of a -- a country club.
18 Worked for the office of the U.S. Trustee.

19 With respect to financial matters, he's not a CPA, an 20 MBA, or an investment banker. And we suggest to you that 21 other than being a bankruptcy and restructuring lawyer, no
22 particular expertise in finance. And with respect to local or 23 state budgetary matters, never ran a city or had budgeting
24 responsibility for either state or city.

1 he knew how to take the case into bankruptcy with a very
2 skilled and excellent team to go with him. And he was from
3 the beginning committed to working with the Governor's office
4 in lock step, point to Exhibit 401.

5 On the 22nd, he acknowledged that he was being looked at,
6 he was being looked at, who knows what he thought, but he was 7 being looked at as an agent of the state. They weren't going 8 to do things without his consent, Exhibit 619 suggests that.
9 And by the way they wanted to hide it because they were going
10 to we'll broker a meeting via note between you and the Mayor's
11 personal assistant who was not foiable, F-o-i-a, ble, foiable
12 meaning not subject to discovery.

13 Same man thought it was an indirect -- the -- the prior 14 initiative was an end around of an initiative that was 15 rejected by the voters in November. That the new law was a
16 thin veneer. This is all going to what this man's 17 understandings are.

18 During his deposition he recalled telling the Governor
19 and his staff in general that one of the purposes, I'm not 20 saying the only purpose, one of the purposes or intentions of 21 Chapter 9 filing would be to allow you to cut back pension
22 benefits. We probably had that discussion. I don't recall
23 anything specific, he probably did. That appears.

24 And we know he said trump. This is one of the places

1 said, question, you said this -- in this report, referring to
2 the June 14 proposal that you don't believe there is an
3 obligation under our state constitution to pay pensions if the 4 city can't afford it.

5 That's not what he said on June 10. Answer, the reason
6 we said it that way is to quantify the bankruptcy question.
7 We think federal supremacy trumps state law. Answer, yes.
8 You don't deny making that statement? No. I think I've said
9 it several times.

10 THE COURT: All right. Let me ask you to wrap up,
11 please.

12 MR. MONTGOMERY: Okay. This is the same man, of 13 course, who said on June 10 that it couldn't be trumped. We 14 -- we think that -- that was an accident, that last one. The 15 -- we think that the conclusion that Your Honor -- we think 16 the logical inferences to be drawn by the Court are that the 17 players, in particular the emergency manager lacks the 18 requisite intent to be a good faith actor in this drama, and 19 that therefore you must find that the city is not eligible.
20 Thank you.

21 THE COURT: Rebuttal.

22 MR. SCHNEIDER: Your Honor, both the city and the 23 state have rebuttal.

24 MR. BENNETT: About how much time are you
25 contemplating, Your Honor?

1 THE COURT: As little as you think is necessary for
2 your rebuttal purposes.

3 MR. BENNETT: Well, I'm going to look around and
4 make an estimate. I think it's under an hour, but I'm sure
5 it's more than a half an hour. And I will say that that last
6 presentation was rather spectacular and I ordinarily wouldn't 7 spend much time on it, but inasmuch as it accuses the 8 Governor, the Treasurer, and Mr. Baird, and Mr. Orr even more
9 explicitly of lying in this courtroom, I think I should go
10 through it with some care.

11 So I think what I would propose at this point, unless you
12 really want to do it tonight, it's a close call for you, I'll 13 come back. But if you want me to go forward, I'll go forward.

14 THE COURT: Mr. Schneider, how long are you going to 15 be?

16 MR. SCHNEIDER: I would probably add 10 to 15
17 minutes on top of that.

18 THE COURT: What do the attorneys on the objecting
19 side prefer on this issue? Stay or come back on Tuesday?

20 MR. MONTGOMERY: Your Honor, the objectors have all
21 suggested that notwithstanding the fact that I will miss the 22 last flight back out of the city, we'd rather finish.

23 THE COURT: Okay. That -- that's my preference as 24 well. It's now 5:35, I want to give the two of you a hard
25 deadline arbitrarily of 6:30.

1 MR. BENNETT: Okay. I'll figure out the best way to 2 do this.

3 Your Honor, will forgive me if this is not quite as
4 organized as I was -- would ordinarily like to be. Let's
5 start with the last presentation first.

6 I want to start with the premise. I think the purpose
7 was it was said to prove that there was an intent to impair
8 pensions. And if there was an intent -- excuse me, intent to 9 seek to impair pensions. That's an important difference.

10 And if there was an intent to seek to impair pensions,
11 that that somehow was different than if a Chapter 9 case was 12 commenced and then it had to impair pensions. I'm not sure
13 that makes any sense at all. And I think the premise has to 14 be wrong.

15 In any event, I apologize that we are going back to the 16 constitutional argument, but it's necessary to do so. As Your 17 Honor will remember, it is the city's position and it is 18 correct that the pensions clause is the same in all functional
19 respects to the contracts clause. And so all contracts,
20 pension contracts and -- and other contracts are protected by 21 state constitutions and in fact by the federal constitution
22 from amendment and -- and from -- from impairment, excuse me,
23 by the state.

24 When an entity resorts to Chapter 9 following Justice

1 Deacons, and following the practice in Chapter 9 cases for as
2 long as there have been Chapter 9 cases, the Bankruptcy Court
3 acts to impair contracts. That's how it impairs bonds.

4 The ascending antecedent as I think Justice Cardozo put 5 it, or all of the prefatory steps are not relevant. When 6 you're in trouble you can ask for help. So if as we have
7 demonstrated, the numbers showed that the City of Detroit
8 could not pay its debts as they become due and going forward
9 could not pay its debts as it's become due on the pension and 10 OPEB side even if it didn't have any bond indebtedness it was 11 in a position where it needs help.

12 That the state authorizes Detroit to get help from the 13 Federal Government. So that the Federal Government can assist
14 with the problem or address the knot in the words of Cardozo.
15 Whether they intend to do it, or don't intend to do it,
16 doesn't matter.

17 The relevant actor if in fact pensions are to be impaired
18 in this case, if in fact the underfunded amount is not to be 19 paid in full in this Chapter 9 case, and we've said both are 20 very likely results and were within the contemplation of the 21 people who put together the June 14th presentation and the 22 filing, it makes no difference at all.

23 Neither Mr. Orr, Governor Snyder, nor I, nor David
24 Heiman, my partner, are going to be impairing pensions.

1 reviewing Courts that are going to come later.

2 So the entire -- the entire --

3 THE COURT: I have to stop you there. What do I do
4 about the representation that Mr. Orr made at the June 10th
5 meeting to the retiree in response to his question that 6 pensions are sacrosanct and not to be touched. And his 7 further representation that there was a 50/50 chance of filing
8 bankruptcy?

9 MR. BENNETT: Okay.

10 THE COURT: Were those statements misleading?

11 MR. BENNETT: Can you please put up the actual 12 statement that Mr. Orr made that was utilized in the 13 presentation just now? Your Honor, that statement -- no, I
14 want the quote, not the clip.

15 Your Honor, that statement may well have been 16 inappropriately timed. I don't have the words around it, it
17 would be one of the things I would do before Tuesday --
18 Tuesday morning.

19 Technically inelegant but also true. He says the state
20 constitution and state law, case law says that vested pension
21 rights are sacrosanct, they can't be touched. That is what 22 the state constitution and state case law says in a very 23 non-technical and actually slightly imprecise sense.

24 He doesn't talk about the Constitution. Now, would I --
25 so would I have liked him to say --

1 THE COURT: Well, but the -- but the retiree wanted
2 to know what was going to happen to his pension benefits,
3 right?

4 MR. BENNETT: Your Honor, I -- I am absolutely --
5 Mr. Orr, during the many many past months has probably been 6 one of the most carefully monitored actors in this entire
7 case. I am sure there are quotes of endless, endless, endless
8 things that he has said.

9 This may not be the moment where he used the best words.
10 I don't remember enough of the context on both ends. I know
11 that if there was a -- if Your Honor believes that this 12 statement without more was misleading, it was corrected three 13 days later by their own exhibits. And it was certainly 14 corrected four -- four days later when the proposal for 15 creditors dated on the 14th, the moment the meeting was over
16 was put on the worldwide web. So I -- I --

17 THE COURT: I'm sorry, what happened the moment the 18 meeting was closed?

19 MR. BENNETT: The entire proposal was put on the 20 web.

21 THE COURT: Not after this meeting, after the next
22 meeting.

23 MR. BENNETT: After -- on the 14th.

24 THE COURT: But not on the 10th.

25 MR. BENNETT: Not on the 10th. So there is a --
13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 2289
of 2386

1 there is a, at maximum, a three or four day period where there
2 was misinformation or frankly a accurate but potentially not
3 complete statement was in the -- was in the record.

4 And that meeting had 200 people in it. So it's bad but 5 there are 685,000 residents of the City of Detroit. There are 6 23,000 retirees. Mistakes happen, I can't do anything about
7 this one. I don't --

8 THE COURT: What about the comment that there was a
9 50/50 chance of filing bankruptcy?

10 MR. BENNETT: I think that -- I don't know if Mr.
11 Orr was questioned about that comment. I think that was a
12 very optimistic view of the situation, but he is absolutely
13 entitled to be optimistic.

14 THE COURT: Well, but doesn't it raise a question
15 about whether that's what he really thought?

16 MR. BENNETT: Does what raise a question as to 17 whether that's what he really --

18 THE COURT: That statement.

19 MR. BENNETT: He was -- he was hoping that the 20 negotiations would succeed.

21 THE COURT: Well, but the question is that on June 22 10th, did he really believe there was a 50% chance that they 23 would succeed?

24 MR. BENNETT: Your Honor, I'm the wrong person to 25 ask that question. You would have to ask him. This was --

1 THE COURT: You're his lawyer.

2 MR. BENNETT: At this point in time, it is -- it is
3 before --

4 THE COURT: You're his lawyer.

5 MR. BENNETT: Yeah, but this is -- but this is a
6 judgment everybody gets to make based upon really what they 7 think about the people that they know and don't know. And 8 this is before the presentation is made and before there's 9 been any feedback by anybody.

10 So I -- I -- and certainly it's inappropriate for me to 11 add to the record as to whether or not the 50/50 statement was 12 anything but his belief --

13 THE COURT: No, I understand that. And perhaps my 14 question is a little imprecise and inelegant. But the -- what 15 I'm really asking is, what evidence is there in the record
16 that that is what he genuinely believed as opposed to 17 knowingly misled --

18 MR. BENNETT: I -- I'm not aware that there's --

19 THE COURT: -- a crowd.

20 MR. BENNETT: I'm not aware that there's any 21 evidence either way about that.

22 THE COURT: All right.

23 MR. BENNETT: But given that the assertion is that
24 that was bad faith, I would think that's not our problem,

25 that's the objectors' problem, that there's no evidence in the 13-53846-swr Doc 2243-15 Filed 12/19/13 Entered 12/19/13 13:44:15 Page 2291
of 2386

1 record on that point.

2 THE COURT: Well, all right. Let me just ask the --
3 the next question. Which is, assuming that both of those 4 questions were misleading, what impact does that have, or
5 should that have on the Court's analysis of good faith here?
6 Because that's ultimately the point, the -- the element.

7 MR. BENNETT: Your Honor, it should have no impact
8 at all. The -- you have seen a mountain of evidence of a
9 careful deliberative process to pull together the very best
10 reorganization proposal for the City of Detroit that anyone
11 could put together. You saw it, it was presented to a wide
12 variety of -- of representatives of retirees. By the way,
13 acting in capacities with respect to the OPEB's and acting in 14 capacities with respect to the pensions.

15 And you have found that notwithstanding after there was 16 no confusion about what the plan was all about and 17 notwithstanding prior statements, you will have found that 18 everybody responded either, I cannot represent retirees, or I
19 cannot represent retirees, and I would never represent them to 20 impair pension benefits because they are -- they are not to be 21 impaired.

22 So, against that factual background, was there anything
23 that the city did in negotiations that means it did not
24 negotiate in good faith. Is there anything about a statement

1 to the subsequent negotiations?

2 How could it? Because any conceivable misunderstanding
3 was completely and totally vitiated either three days later or 4 four days later, depending upon which set of statements you
5 want to pick. And in all events, everything else happened
6 afterwards.

7 I just can't get there from here. I think that the --
8 that -- that number one, mistakes happen. They happened all
9 over the place. And more will.

10 But in this instance nothing that happened before the 11 negotiations even started can inform whether or not the city
12 conducted negotiations in good faith. And nothing about those 13 statements affected the course of the negotiations. And 14 there's no evidence at all that suggested that they did. It
15 was a good effort to try to -- to try to impeach or impair Mr.
16 Orr, but it was not -- did not address anything about the 17 negotiations that followed.

18 I think the other points with respect to the presentation
19 you just saw is that there is massive amounts of testimony in 20 the record that go directly contrary to all of the -- to all 21 of the inferences you were asked to accept. This is going to 22 be an incomplete list.

23 But as to the timing of the filing and the motivations
24 from the filing from a financial perspective you have the

1 supported to some extent by testimony of Dillon and testimony
2 of Orr.

3 With respect to the absence of -- of a scheme to march
4 toward a Chapter 9 filing with specific intent to impair
5 pensions from 2012, you have the testimony of the Governor,
6 the testimony of Dillon, the testimony of Baird, the testimony
7 of Orr, the testimony of Buckfire. And in addition, probably 8 the most compelling piece of -- piece of evidence because it
9 exists from way back when, and no one can change it, is the 10 entry into the consent agreement itself.

11 As was pointed out by Mr. Dillon in -- in his testimony,
12 but also appears from the face of the consent agreement if you
13 read it, under the consent agreement, there is no conceivable
14 way that the city could file a Chapter 9 case. The consent
15 agreement is -- and it represents directions or agreed
16 directions toward an alternative path.

17 As the testimony revealed there were a long list of 18 things the city had to accomplish which the authors of the 19 consent agreement thought would solve the city's financial 20 problems. Unfortunately nearly none and maybe none of those 21 things were actually accomplished.

22 But when the state entered into that agreement they were 23 clearly hoping that it were -- was. And if anything the entry
24 of a consent agreement was a huge delay of addressing a

1 said it was viewed as a reason for avoiding a Chapter 9.

2 Swap negotiations since 2002. I think there's testimony
3 in the record that the --

4 THE COURT: 2012?

5 MR. BENNETT: I'm sorry, 2012. That there was a
6 downgrade that triggered the early negotiations with the swap
7 counter parties at the beginning of 2012. Because the -- the 8 restructuring in twenty -- in 2009 included a default under 9 the swaps in the event that there was a downgrade in the 10 city's credit rating.

11 That downgrade happened in -- in 2012. I do not remember
12 the month. I don't know if it's in the record. So the 13 reference in the -- in the -- to negotiations since 2012, had 14 nothing to do with an anticipated filing and nothing to do
15 with the additional COPs payment default that was resulting in 16 another covenant default. It is not an advanced negotiation
17 with respect to a potential Chapter 9 case.

18 As was testified by Mr. Buckfire, actually both on cross
19 and on redirect, insurers do not control consent of the debt
20 instruments and if you look a little more closely at the 21 charts, not all debt issues are insured. The insurers are 22 sitting exactly in the same place as I will get to in the case
23 of the -- some of the other presentations, they're in exactly
24 the same place as the retiree associations. They're in a
25 position to communicate. They may be in a condition to make a

1 recommendation. They don't vote. They can't deliver votes.
2 They can't do anything about non-consenting voters.

3 Eligibility in asset sales. I actually thought that the 4 record fleshed out quite clearly where that whole thing came
5 about. It was a question by Miller, Buckfire I think to all
6 of the people presenting to address whether assets sales have 7 anything to do with eligibility.

8 I think Mr. Malhotra gave the best testimony on this. I
9 will tell you, Your Honor, what I -- my response would have 10 been which is only in a courtroom with a Judge who doesn't
11 understand economics. And so I wouldn't be worried about it
12 for a minute.

13 But we know that the question was a question that wanted
14 to be addressed. The -- the showing of speaker notes without 15 a witness ever having said that the speaker said the things
16 that were in the speaker notes, I think goes beyond the 17 record. The speaker notes were not passed out. The 18 presentation was passed out. There was no reference to this 19 issue at all.

20 I am told by my colleague Mr. Schneider that the Detroit
21 Zoo isn't in Detroit. The other point with respect to that 22 because it was kind of funny at the time, there was some 23 discussion -- I think in a newspaper or something someone
24 talked about the Detroit Zoo. I remember someone making a

1 was an asset didn't recognize that animals eat. And
2 accordingly it was a liability, not an asset which I suspect
3 is -- so if that's the asset that we -- that -- that we missed
4 on the list of assets, even if it is in Detroit, I'm pretty
5 sure it belongs on the liability side and not in the asset
6 side.

7 You know, whether it's a plan or not a plan, I think
8 there's been lots of comments that I think each and every one
9 was taken out of context about whether the plan was not a
10 plan. Again, if I had the time, I'd go find the context for 11 all those comments. I think -- I think frankly Your Honor is 12 perfectly well suited to figure out whether -- and by the way
13 the cases require an outline of a plan of adjustment that can 14 be confirmed.

15 They're actually pretty clear by that like -- in that 16 way. They don't require a fully fleshed out plan of 17 adjustment. That argument has been made before and rejected
18 before by every single Court that considered the question.

19 Your Honor, has seen enough plans. Your Honor has seen
20 enough plans and the summaries and disclosure statements.
21 Your Honor will be able to tell whether or not the proposal
22 that was made on June 14th is a sufficiently detailed outline
23 of a plan of -- of adjustment that is appropriate under 24 Chapter 9 and frankly I think that's an issue for you, not for 25 anybody else.

1 I'm going to move to some of the comments that were made
2 by Mr. Ciantra. And first of all, the -- there was a -- there
3 was a criticism that he made about the fact that in the 4 pre-filing negotiation environment a non-disclosure agreement
5 was required as condition to access for the data room.

6 Whether or not it was appropriate to continue to require
7 that after the filing of the Chapter 9 case as the proposal to 8 creditors appendix reveals, there were -- I want to do the 9 math, including water and sewer because I think it would be 10 appropriate to include it for these purposes, a little less
11 than $10,000,000,000 of publicly traded debt securities out
12 there in the universe.

13 If you're going to -- to make a data room available to 14 anyone without publishing the whole thing on the internet, I
15 think it's appropriate to have confidentiality agreements in 16 place. Yes, it turns out some of the bonds are held by widows
17 and orphans too.

18 The social reality as a method of classification and 19 treatment. That was fascinating. You know, we're going to 20 have to read the bankruptcy -- bankruptcy law very carefully
21 for purposes of determining who is entitled to what as 22 distribution in this case.

23 And it's going to turn out that there are going to be 24 lots of arguments that -- that debts other than pension claims

1 not accord them.

2 While we were here today, I read an email report that a
3 declaratory judgment action has been filed on behalf of the 4 UTGO, the unsecured UTGO's that we classified as unsecured,
5 claiming since they almost have a security interest they 6 should be regarded as secured and their distributions should 7 come off the top. That will -- if that lawsuit succeeds, the 8 $830,000,000 number that was misused in the distribution
9 example, I'll come back to that in a second, will be reduced
10 by a number that's roughly $500,000,000.

11 And so there are going to be collisions everywhere over
12 this. I have not yet seen a basis for distinguishing 13 classification claims based on social reality. I mention that 14 as a reason why the city perhaps does not want to be in the 15 business of unilaterally dealing with the consequences of a
16 reduction of the -- excuse me, of the change in unfunded
17 amount based upon the distribution contemplated under the 18 plan. If I missed it in the Bankruptcy Code, someone should 19 give me the reference.

20 Dillon's remarks concerning that he was still in the 21 information gathering stage, on several occasions in Mr.
22 Dillon's testimony he recognized that that was a description
23 as to him. He fully understood others closer to the situation
24 knew more.

1 discussions from the -- from the United Auto Workers were very
2 interesting. Because Exhibit 32 includes the United Auto
3 Workers letter which states, and just let me grab it a second.
4 I have -- I have it here.

5 The union does, however, represent current retirees and 6 has no authority to negotiate on their behalf. Not bind, not 7 -- just we have no authority to negotiate on behalf.

8 So it's first of all, extraordinarily interesting that a
9 person who writes that letter with no qualification, it's part
10 of Exhibit 32, how they can complain about anything that 11 happened in negotiations. One of the things they complain
12 about many other people do, is the -- is the fact that the 13 so-called concessionary bargain back at the beginning of -- of 14 2012 was not put into effect.

15 For some reason the unions believe that that entire 16 episode represents a great success. I think we know in 17 retrospect that that entire episode was a great failure. Huge
18 amounts of time and effort was devoted in an attempt to have a 19 concessionary bargain with a wide variety of unions and at the 20 end of the day the economic results were a drop in the bucket,
21 certainly by comparison to the extent of Detroit's problems
22 however you choose to measure them.

23 That is not a success. That the -- that the Governor's 24 office had not analyzed it and that others analyzed it and

1 just doesn't work for the City of Detroit. It is not a bad
2 thing, it is probably a good thing.

3 The other assertion that was made that I have to spend
4 just a little bit of time on, is the class action device. The 5 class action device has been proposed as the perfect way to 6 resolve the problem with retirees.

7 Now by the way, again this is asserted as -- as a counter
8 to the argument on the issue of -- of impracticality and --
9 and Your Honor, actually missed additional points, the ones
10 that I said this morning were probably enough relating to your 11 question of you know, what are the consequences if it turns
12 out that the -- that the pension funds or the two people you
13 have to deal with in the pension context.

14 Well, first of all, no one stood up and said you were 15 right. Everyone still talked about themselves as being 16 relevant actors. And that's because that's consistent with 17 the pre-filing atmosphere.

18 But the second part is, is the retirees still become
19 relevant with respect to OPEB's and with respect to OPEB's
20 there is no intervening structure. And as we've revealed many 21 times before, and it's not our favorite fact, those are 22 essentially completely unfunded.

23 So -- so when they talk about a class action approval
24 also they're only talking about the -- the OPEB side of the

1 to ever be part of an out of Court deal that -- that impairs
2 pension claims. But maybe it applies to both.

3 The fact of the matter is, if you page through the cases
4 and we can give -- send you a list of citations if you want
5 them. If you don't, it's okay.

6 It turns out that these things take a year to 22 months
7 for the examples that we were able to find when we looked in 8 the cases and we were able to use the dates in the cases to 9 figure out how long it is -- it takes to get a class action
10 settlement approved in these contexts where it's a mandatory
11 non-opt out class.

12 I was given a list of the things that have to happen in 13 order to get from here to there, or from an agreement to 14 there. First of all, the union, in this case I guess, more
15 unions and the city negotiate to reach a tentative agreement.
16 We have no idea how long that would happen, no one has ever
17 put on any evidence to say that we were two or three weeks
18 away back then in -- in July.

19 I think the evidence seems to suggest we were at best
20 months away. And I say at best because I don't think we were 21 anywhere.

22 Second, you need an independent counsel for the retirees
23 because the people who actually negotiate the deal, their view
24 isn't enough. The retirees' independent counsel has to 25 investigate the settlement.

1 THE COURT: I think I have to cut you off here
2 because there was really no evidence on either side of any of 3 this.

4 MR. BENNETT: This is actually law. This is just
5 what the -- the -- the legal requirements in order to get a
6 settlement done. I don't -- I think that Your Honor, if I had
7 -- if I had -- if I was going to brief it, I'd just take it
8 right out of cases. I would not call a fact witness for any 9 of this. But if you want me to stop, I'll stop. This is -- 10 this is not -- these are not -- this is just right out of 11 cases.

12 THE COURT: All right. I will accept it from you on 13 that premise.

14 MR. BENNETT: Okay.

15 THE COURT: But with the understanding that we have 16 no evidence on the specifics of what's required or how long it
17 would take.

18 MR. BENNETT: Okay.

19 THE COURT: Any of these steps.

20 MR. BENNETT: I'm happy to just -- just not go
21 further and -- and submit a list of cases with no commentary
22 if that would make you more comfortable.

23 THE COURT: I don't want any post-hearing briefing.
24 Because that will add a month to our process here.

1 down -- let me just run the list of the procedures that have
2 to be followed. These are just procedures that have to be 3 followed.

4 At -- at that point you can bring a non-opt out class
5 action lawsuit against the city in order to get this created.
6 This -- the -- that's the next thing you file in Court after 7 you've got independent counsel and you're at that stage.

8 Then you have a class certification proceeding. Then you
9 have preliminary approval of the agreement. Then you have a
10 notice process.

11 MR. CIANTRA: Your Honor, I'm going to object at 12 this point. You know, this is -- really should have been a
13 rebuttal case. If they wanted to put on someone that had -- 14 had knowledge as to how these proceed -- proceeds, this should 15 have been done on rebuttal.

16 THE COURT: Well, I'm not sure I can sustain that 17 because none of this was put in evidence as part of the 18 objectors' case.

19 MR. CIANTRA: Mr. Nicholson testified that he 20 offered this opportunity, this structure, to Mr. Bennett's
21 partner, Mr. Miller. That it was discussed. It was a -- a 22 way that he testified they had settled these issues in the 23 past. If they wanted to make an argument that this was 24 impractical, they should have called rebuttal testimony.

1 except that Mr. Nicholson did not testify as to what the
2 various steps were and how they would work in this context.

3 MR. CIANTRA: They could have asked him.

4 THE COURT: Well, but so could you. It was -- it
5 was part of your defense to this case.

6 MR. CIANTRA: Well, I -- I made a -- we -- we 7 presented evidence that this proposal was presented to the 8 city, but they did not respond to it. They did not take us up
9 on that.

10 THE COURT: I'll permit this with the understanding
11 that we're just talking about how this would work legally.

12 MR. BENNETT: Okay. I think all the following by 13 the way is in the Federal Rule of Civil Procedure that governs
14 class actions. But one of my partners will give us the rule
15 citation and -- and I will demonstrate that I'm not testifying
16 from the lectern.

17 THE COURT: You mean Rule 23?

18 MR. BENNETT: No. Your Honor, I think that what I
19 will do is just say, peruse Rule 23 and then we'll move on.
20 All of -- all of these things are in there. All the rest of 21 them are. The others are from the cases.

22 Okay. I'm now going to turn to the -- to Mr. Gordon's
23 argument. I think that -- that may make the most sense.

24 Okay. First of all, again the -- the -- I think we

1 funds from their interrogatory responses said that they could
2 not negotiate impairment and would not negotiate impairment.

3 I think that Mr. Gordon misstated the position that I
4 think I very -- very clearly stated this morning. We fully 5 understand that there are many people who may object to the 6 3.5 billion dollar number. My point was, was there was no
7 evidence in the record suggesting any other number this
8 morning -- excuse me, during the trial. And that remains
9 true.

10 So for purposes of this hearing, the only number in 11 evidence is the 3.5 billion dollar number split in the two 12 ways as -- split in two as described in the June 14th
13 presentation. And that's the number we're working with.

14 We -- we also indicated it is in the record that the 15 retirees committee have a different and lower number as of the 16 end of the school year of 2012.

17 MR. MONTGOMERY: Objection, Your Honor. I'm sorry,
18 you are definitely -- we never offered a different number in 19 any evidence or any written submission to this Court. This 20 goes right to the thing you told me not to ask Mr. Buckfire
21 about.

22 MR. BENNETT: It was in the slides that he
23 projected.

24 THE COURT: All right. The record will reflect what 25 it does. Let's move on.

1 MR. BENNETT: Okay. And again the point with
2 respect to the -- to -- to the exhibit, Exhibit 43. Was that
3 if -- if there was anybody in the objectors' group who thought
4 that the premises of the proposal were false, misleading, or 5 wrong, the -- the -- the -- we expected evidence suggesting
6 the same. That of course didn't happen.

7 And finally, I don't remember if was on -- on this point,
8 I don't remember whether it was Mr. Gordon, but Your Honor
9 engaged one of the objectors on the whole subject of well, if 10 you didn't think that the city's premises that were behind its 11 plan were correct, why didn't you propose a plan, or I think
12 you actually said what inference am I to draw from the fact
13 that you didn't produce an alternative scenario.

14 And the answer, it's not a matter of inference, it's 15 decisive. The fact that they didn't means there isn't another
16 alternative that Your Honor can lawfully consider.

17 By the way, it should not be surprising that a way to --
18 to object to eligibility when you think that the city's plan
19 isn't a good plan, or isn't an accurate plan, is to actually
20 generate a different one. In the early ages of -- the early
21 stages of the Stockton proceedings, one of the objectors
22 actually did object to the Stockton business plan, or -- or 23 projections and they generated their own.

24 Valeo was all about alternative projections based upon,
25 you know, correcting erroneous business decisions, or

1 erroneous municipal decisions made two years in the past. So
2 if you go read the cases and -- and watch how other people
3 have successfully or unsuccessfully objected to eligibility,
4 if the reason you're objecting is because the premises were 5 wrong, you should bring different premises to the Court and 6 prove them.

7 As to Mr. Robbins, we were very careful. Mr. Robbins
8 certainly did say he didn't have enough information. But when 9 he was pressed on the point, he said only -- he identified
10 only one specific area where he didn't have adequate
11 information and that was asset sales.

12 All of the rest of the testimony was about generalized
13 complaints of lack of information. And frankly that testimony
14 was significantly blunted by Mr. Robbins' own admissions that 15 as if and when they asked for more data, Miller, Buckfire was 16 pretty receptive in getting it to them and that a lot of the 17 additional things that were requested were things that -- that 18 came about because as you read information, additional 19 questions are raised and there's nothing about that that is 20 unusual.

21 You know, the -- the -- the -- also the assertion by the 22 retiree committee that we didn't negotiate with them with 23 enough. Mr. Robbins was their agent. He --

24 MR. MONTGOMERY: Excuse me, Mr. Bennett. I think
25 you meant retirement system, not retiree committee.

1 MR. BENNETT: I'm sorry, I apologize. The
2 retirement systems. Mr. Robbins was their agent, okay. He
3 knows what the -- what the projections mean. He testified
4 that we -- that the city was pretty clearly starting to --
5 trying to start negotiations.

6 And his response was, I need eight days to figure out
7 what my authority is to negotiate what we're going to be 8 talking about. What I called the shape of the table. So at 9 this point in time given that we -- we have not only with 10 respect to the -- the two retirement funds, we have actual 11 evidence that number one, they weren't confused about whether 12 negotiations were sought. Number two, talks about certain 13 things actually started. Number three, at the end what had 14 happened was there was a discussion about what we're going to 15 talk about next and the actor says, I need eight days to find
16 out what my client is going to authorize me to do and in that 17 period there was a lawsuit.

18 So of all of the places to be standing up here and 19 saying, there were no negotiations, the city discovers 20 negotiations. The last that should be heard from is the 21 retiree -- is the retiree funds -- excuse me, the retirement
22 funds.

23 They had perhaps one of the most qualified advisors who 24 admitted that he understood exactly what's going on. We 25 understand exactly what he did. And then we come to the

1 question which I foreshadowed this morning should be answered
2 with evidence and isn't. Which is exactly what is it that a
3 good faith city has to do more than what it did in response to 4 the fact pattern it was presented with with the retirement
5 funds.

6 This is in the negotiations. This isn't before the 7 negotiations. This is at a time where everybody knows the 8 city's looking for feedback over a four week period and then 9 figuring out what it's going to do during a time the 10 undisputed evidence demonstrates the city was under financial 11 distress.

12 It was the retiree funds that said -- that you asked what 13 inference should be drawn. Okay. Given -- given the -- the 14 -- given that Mr. Robbins of all people was about the most 15 qualified actor from the financial side on -- on the retiree
16 side of the equation, that -- and that he's not only had the 17 negotiation period, but till now to decide whether or not
18 there was anything wrong with the -- with the June 14th
19 presentation and that the financial data should be looked at 20 differently. The fact that nothing was presented by him or 21 anybody else is decisive, not just the basis of an inference.

22 A couple more things. It was more than four hours, Your 23 Honor. I -- I -- I have to spend some time because you're 24 going to take them away with you, with -- with what is going

1 were shown on -- that were -- that were shown by -- by Ms.
2 Green. And if they're still available -- are those slides
3 still available? The slides that -- that you -- that Ms.
4 Green put up?

5 THE COURT: You mean -- you mean to be projected?

6 MR. BENNETT: Yeah, to be projected.

7 THE COURT: Are they available to be projected?

8 MS. GREEN: Yes.

9 THE COURT: Apparently so.

10 MR. BENNETT: Well, I'm just going to skip to a --
11 to -- to -- to a -- to a few. I'm going to skip the 12 evidentiary issue because that's been dealt with. Okay. I
13 would like to go to 13.

14 THE COURT: Slide number 13?

15 MR. BENNETT: Slide -- page number -- it has -- they 16 have page numbers at the bottom.

17 THE COURT: Page number 13?

18 MR. BENNETT: Slide number 13, at page number 13.
19 Why don't I start and I hope he catches up with me.

20 The slide number 13 is the -- is the testimony of Howard
21 Ryan which Your Honor asked about and -- and putting the 22 objections aside for the second -- for a second, this 23 testimony is completely irrelevant.

24 Because in the -- in the unlikely event that we actually

1 the intent of the legislature in adding the appropriation
2 provisions, the -- the -- the way you find out is asking the
3 legislators who voted for it. And so it's a huge evidentiary
4 problem but frankly it's the objectors' evidentiary problem.

5 And I can't imagine that you could make the decision as 6 to what the intent of the legislature was in adding the 7 appropriation provisions until you elicited testimony from at 8 least a majority of the majority of each house that voted for
9 it.

10 There may be an argument, you've got to talk to all of 11 them. But the bottom line is, is that the -- that someone 12 from outside the process, an advisor, I have no idea how he 13 knows, but it seems to me that it's the worst kind of hearsay
14 or speculation as to what -- why the legislature passed a law
15 with -- with certain provisions as opposed to didn't -- passed
16 it with others.

17 THE COURT: Well, but how do I deal with the fact
18 that this witness, Mr. Ryan --

19 MR. BENNETT: Yes.

20 THE COURT: -- was the state's 30(b)(6) witness? He 21 was the representative of the state to answer these questions.

22 MR. BENNETT: Your Honor, I think he's --

23 THE COURT: I mean he could have said, I don't know,
24 but he didn't.

1 30(b)(6) witness. I don't think and I -- and I think this is
2 something that Mr. Snyder should deal with. I don't think --

3 THE COURT: Oh, all right, that's fine.

4 MR. BENNETT: And -- and the executive of course
5 testified himself as to what -- that's -- that's the Governor.
6 But the law doesn't become law until the legislature passes it
7 both houses and the Governor signs it. So there's a lot of 8 empty boxes in terms of intent that we have no idea what their
9 intent was. And you're being asked to presume that the intent
10 was to do something unconstitutional which we pointed out it
11 isn't even really a constitutional question.

12 As to -- as opposed to do something absolutely legitimate
13 which is to allocate funds to the municipalities who are 14 subjected to it at the jurisdiction of an emergency manager
15 don't have to pay for it by themselves.

16 The next slide I'd like you go to is 15. That's 16.
17 That's still 16. The one that's -- that one.

18 This was the slide that -- that -- that Ms. Green said
19 demonstrated that it was part of the drive, the -- the -- the 20 preordained drive to Chapter 9. But she forgot to read the -- 21 the -- the first three line highlighted block.

22 Questions that Miller, Buckfire has drafted for review.
23 First one, given the issues that Detroit faces, how can they 24 address them outside of Chapter 9? I don't think I have to 25 say more.

1 Slide 22, please. Moved a little quicker when Ms. Green
2 was asking. May 12, the May 12, we are not like negotiating
3 the terms of the plan. Once again, it was not anchored to the 4 place where the testimony has anchored it which is this is not
5 referring to the June 14th plan. The testimony is perfectly
6 clear and actually the statement in context was perfectly
7 clear. It was -- it was relating to the 45 day report under 8 the law.

9 Next page, Page 23, please. I'm not sure I'm pronouncing
10 his name right, David Meador. The record actually doesn't say
11 and the email certainly doesn't say where David Meador came up
12 with the idea that there might be a filing coming in July.

13 As I indicated to -- to -- to Your Honor before, there
14 was rampant speculation everywhere where this was headed.

15 THE COURT: This is 23, were you looking for 22?

16 MR. BENNETT: This is 23, this is the one I'm -- I'm 17 sorry, this is 21.

18 THE COURT: Twenty-three, okay.

19 MR. BENNETT: I'm sorry. This is the -- the email.
20 I'm sorry, this is the right one.

21 THE COURT: Okay.

22 MR. BENNETT: Okay. So there is -- the evidence
23 does not actually say that -- that Mr. Meador got this from 24 Mr. Buckfire. We actually don't know where he got it.

1 only point here is that whatever -- whatever
2 misrepresentations or inadequate disclosures Mr. Orr gave on 3 June 10th, it was corrected three or four days later.

4 Moving on to 29, please. This is about the last point
5 the city could have been negotiating since 2012 when it knew
6 there was a financial crisis. Your Honor, this is the Valeo
7 decision, or another version of the Valeo decision.

8 If Your Honor will recall, the objecting parties in Valeo
9 said that -- that if Valeo had done things differently two 10 years before their budgeting process they really wouldn't be 11 in trouble. And the Valeo Judge ultimately decides what I
12 think Your Honor knows, which is there not a bankruptcy case
13 in the world that doesn't start with some mistakes at some 14 period of time.

15 And they decide that no, you do not disqualify yourself
16 for Chapter 9 relief forever if you make a -- if you budget
17 too much or spend too much in a particular year. I think 18 frankly Judge Klein in Stockton is even stronger on this
19 point.

20 The idea that in 2012 the -- the state should have
21 commenced negotiations that had to be fashioned on a Chapter 9
22 plan because that's the law according to your objectors,
23 instead signed the consent agreement which gave the city the 24 ability to work out its problems away from a courthouse cannot

1 Chapter 9 when the consent agreement process failed. We've
2 got at least two cases that say that, there are probably more.

3 Page 30. I don't know how to -- how to reconcile items
4 1, and 2, and 3. One and 2 of this chart with the idea that 5 Your Honor's been presented that the right thing by the 6 objectors that the right thing for the city to do was talk to 7 the unions and talk to the retiree groups.

8 They -- the -- the -- I'm sorry, the introductory 9 language. The initial rounds of stakeholders negotiations are 10 set to start. Somehow the pensioners were supposed to know
11 the city was expecting them to negotiate over the pensions
12 even though, and then number two, the vast majority of 13 retirees were not aware of the proposal as the city admitted
14 it did not mail each of them a copy.

15 Well, they've got to decide which way it is. If the 16 reality is that the retirees themselves were the actual 17 players who had to be involved and had to be informed, then 18 they've admitted impracticability. And if it's not the 19 retirees who have to be involved and someone else, they have 20 to own up to their letters that said it's not us. We don't 21 have authority, we're not going to negotiate.

22 And this constant straddling between the two is another
23 demonstration that we are dealing with an impracticability
24 situation. In any event as I said earlier, the proposal went

1 was over.

2 THE COURT: Mr. Schneider is concerned that you're
3 eating now into his time.

4 MR. SCHNEIDER: I probably am.

5 MR. BENNETT: Would you give me five minutes?

6 THE COURT: He wants five minutes.

7 MR. BENNETT: Your Honor, I ask that you be
8 exceptionally careful in reading the -- these slides. Because 9 they themselves reveal more information if they're read
10 carefully and they -- and if you look at the record in many 11 cases, inferences drawn from them are misleading in light of 12 the overall record. If Your Honor has any questions, I'll be 13 happy to deal with, otherwise I'm not done, but I guess I've 14 got to be.

15 THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

16 MR. SCHNEIDER: Your Honor, most revealing about 17 what the objectors have said in their closing arguments, in 18 order to rebut their arguments I think is what they didn't 19 say. Because the objectors argued in their closing that the 20 pensions have been impaired.

21 So tell us which witness actually testified in this case
22 that his or her pension was actually impaired. None, because 23 that witness does not exist. Impairment means actual 24 impairment and not a single pension has been impaired.

1 saying that the good faith of the Governor, or the Treasurer,
2 or any state actor is even relevant. Good faith is about the
3 good faith of the debtor. And even if it is about the 4 Governor, there's plenty of evidence in the record to support
5 his good faith.

6 The objectors also didn't explain what Mr. Dillon really
7 said. Can we have 626 up on -- on the projector? In 8 Paragraph 10 of 626, this is -- go to the next page. Bring up
9 Paragraph 10.

10 First of all, this isn't a communication from Dillon to 11 Orr, okay. It's -- it's Mr. Dillon's suggestions basically
12 through his legal counsel. He says, looks premeditated. That 13 doesn't mean that it is. Looks premeditated. In fact the 14 evidence in this case shows that the opposite is true, it's 15 not premeditated. So don't make it look that way.

16 But look at this last sentence. I want to -- if you can
17 highlight that last sentence. This is the -- the sentence
18 that Ms. Green in her testimony didn't highlight. I agree
19 with the recommendation, but I don't think we make the case.

20 Translation, this case has been made. The city is 21 eligible, so say so. Okay. I agree. Now just -- would you
22 just say so because it's been made.

23 And this is also shown in Mr. Dillon's testimony. Mr.
24 Wertheimer asked Mr. Dillon, was it true on July 10 you didn't
25 think that Orr had made the case? And what is his response?

1 In the document that I read.

2 So Dillon is just -- Mr. Dillon is just saying yeah, in
3 this particular document, the case wasn't made. But that's 4 not to say that the case wasn't made.

5 Next, Mr. Bennett talked a little bit about the 6 appropriations provisions. If the objectors here are arguing
7 that it's a bad faith filing due to some alleged improper
8 motive, there is no evidence that these appropriations were 9 added to allow the Governor to authorize this particular
10 bankruptcy. So this particular filing couldn't have been done
11 in good faith.

12 Now as to Howard Ryan, well, he is the legislative 13 liaison for the Department of Treasury. And 30(b)(6) is 14 really a discovery tool. That's -- but this trial depends on 15 witnesses, not a 30(b)(6) discovery tool.

16 And you -- you can effectively override that testimony,
17 or basically you'd be using it to impeach him, with the 18 Governor's testimony. Now, Howard Ryan, legislative liaison,
19 never a member of the House, never a member of the Senate and 20 definitely didn't sign this bill. And the Governor did sign
21 the bill and he would know.

22 And he testifies, and his motives are clear, it was done
23 through the appropriation to pay for the emergency managers
24 because cities were upset that they were stuck with these

1 million dollar appropriation meaningless. What does the
2 Governor testify to? And that's what we have to look at in 3 this case. The testimony, the evidence.

4 He says, of course that appropriation provision is
5 significant. Every taxpayer dollar is significant. And what
6 Mr. Dillon and the Governor said, is we needed that money in 7 this -- we're halfway through the fiscal year, so we needed to 8 appropriate that money. Do you have any questions about that,
9 Your Honor?

10 THE COURT: Yes. How -- how do I reconcile just 11 from a credibility perspective, Mr. Ryan's testimony and the 12 Governor's testimony?

13 MR. SCHNEIDER: Well, the live witness here, the 14 Governor, was asked under oath, in front of you and explained
15 his provisions. They're his -- his viewpoint.

16 If you're trying to reconcile this who had -- who would
17 really know better. Who has the most experience in signing
18 the bill? Who made the appropriation happen? And also who 19 signed the later bill to have another appropriation so that we 20 could pay for these emergency managers? That was the 21 Governor. And he's the one who did that.

22 THE COURT: Well, but doesn't that later bill raise 23 or even amplify the question about why it was necessary to put 24 an appropriation in the first bill?

1 halfway through the fiscal year and they had to pay for these
2 emergency managers. That was the --

3 THE COURT: But why not have a separate
4 appropriations bill so that the people's right to a referendum
5 could be preserved? Why not do that?

6 MR. SCHNEIDER: Because the legislative process in 7 Lansing, it's not -- the Governor testified this is the most
8 efficient way to go on to this, to do it. And I can -- you
9 know, it's not in the record --

10 THE COURT: Efficiency trumping the people's right
11 to referendum, is that -- is that your answer?

12 MR. SCHNEIDER: No, Your Honor. It's not --

13 THE COURT: You just said --

14 MR. SCHNEIDER: What's the most efficient way to get 15 a bill made into law? Get the appropriation put in the bill
16 and pass it.

17 THE COURT: No, I understand the efficiency of it.
18 But -- but what I'm hearing you say, is that the efficiency of 19 it was more important than allowing the people their right to 20 referendum, especially considering that just a month before
21 they had expressed a will on this subject.

22 MR. SCHNEIDER: Well, and that's not what I'm 23 saying. They did express a will on that subject and that's 24 why there were different changes put into the bill to fix it.

1 were plenty of other fixes in that bill.

2 THE COURT: Granted, but -- but my question is a
3 different one. What -- why as a matter of law does the need
4 for efficiency, which is what you assert is the grounds for 5 including the appropriation in -- in PA436. What -- what
6 justifies that in trumping the people's right to a referendum,
7 especially given that they had just expressed a will on the 8 subject. There were differences, but they had just expressed
9 a will on the subject.

10 MR. SCHNEIDER: The basis of that question assumes
11 that if you don't have a separate bill, then that's a
12 trumping. But that's not the case. You -- you don't trump
13 the people's will --

14 THE COURT: Am I missing something? Doesn't the 15 Constitution say that there's the right of referendum unless 16 there's an appropriation in the bill?

17 MR. SCHNEIDER: Yes.

18 THE COURT: So putting an appropriation in the bill
19 has the effect of denying the right of what would otherwise be 20 a right of referendum, right?

21 MR. SCHNEIDER: But plenty of bills have 22 appropriations.

23 THE COURT: Do they?

24 MR. SCHNEIDER: Yes.

25 THE COURT: There's no evidence of that, is there?

1 MR. SCHNEIDER: Well, I think the Court can take
2 judicial notice of that.

3 THE COURT: Well, all right. Let's assume that's
4 true. Does that prove anything more than the legislature
5 often violates the right of referendum?

6 MR. SCHNEIDER: You do not violate the right of 7 referendum by putting an appropriation in a bill. MUCC v
8 Secretary of State indicates as such. It's -- if you put --
9 Your Honor, if you violated the Constitution every time you
10 put an appropriation in a bill, we'd never have any money to 11 run this government. Because then --

12 THE COURT: But you could have appropriations bills
13 which you actually did here.

14 MR. SCHNEIDER: That's true. And we could spend --
15 the legislature in Lansing could spend all its time passing
16 appropriations bills and not passing other bills. So let's 17 not put appropriations in here, we have to wait and put it in 18 a different appropriations bill.

19 This bill, the evidence is, was at the middle of the 20 fiscal year. So if they didn't put this appropriation --

21 THE COURT: Well, but so was the later one.

22 MR. SCHNEIDER: If they didn't put this
23 appropriation bill in this bill then --

24 THE COURT: Uh-huh.

1 out. They wouldn't have been able to get through to this.

2 THE COURT: But that assumes the wouldn't pass PA437
3 which had an appropriation for PA436.

4 MR. SCHNEIDER: What I'm saying is --

5 THE COURT: Why not do that given the will that the 6 people of this state had just expressed a month earlier? Why
7 not?

8 MR. SCHNEIDER: Because it's not unconstitutional or 9 improper to put -- let me explain. It's not improper to put 10 an appropriation in a bill.

11 THE COURT: Apart from misuse of propriety and 12 constitutionality, why not do that?

13 MR. SCHNEIDER: Why not do what, Your Honor? Put it
14 in a separate bill and --

15 THE COURT: Put it in PA437 and bump the -- the 16 other ones down the line one number.

17 MR. SCHNEIDER: Because I think the evidence is, is 18 by that time that would -- the legislature wouldn't have been 19 able to do that until the spring time. And whether the --

20 THE COURT: I didn't hear that.

21 MR. SCHNEIDER: Whether that's in the record or
22 not --

23 THE COURT: Can't the legislature pass an
24 appropriations bill mid term any time it likes? It did that.

25 MR. SCHNEIDER: Not when they're in recess.

1 THE COURT: Well, but -- but the next vote after it
2 took the vote on PA436 could be on PA437 appropriating money
3 for PA436. Why not?

4 MR. SCHNEIDER: I think you're --

5 THE COURT: The people had just spoken a month
6 before.

7 MR. SCHNEIDER: And yes, they had spoken. And 8 that's why there were changes put into this bill.

9 THE COURT: All right. I think we're going in 10 circles at this point. Anything further?

11 MR. SCHNEIDER: Yes, hold on. There was some 12 testimony about why the Treasurer stopped the tentative
13 agreement in February 2012. Mr. Dillon testified to that. He 14 explained that he received expert advice on the agreements.
15 There were several issues raised. He didn't think the 16 agreements would work for the city, so he wasn't supportive.
17 And it's really as simple as that.

18 Finally, this whole issue about as Mr. Dechiara explained
19 in his theory in his cross of Mr. Orr about kind of this --
20 this theory of the state conspiring with the city in bad faith
21 and kind of to drive in the city into Chapter 9.

22 I think, Judge Rhodes, you asked the correct question.
23 To what end? I mean why? What does the Governor or the 24 Treasurer gain by this? By kind of engineering a bankruptcy.

1 explained that. And this is my last point.

2 Mr. Wertheimer says, it's a political motive. What
3 political juice does the Governor get out of doing this? I
4 mean that makes no logical sense. He testified -- testified
5 about his motive.

6 THE COURT: And I really do have to ask for silence
7 from those who are watching these proceedings. Thank you.

8 MR. SCHNEIDER: I think that's an indication, Your 9 Honor, if somebody mentions -- or rumblings in the courtroom
10 that it's not a popular move. In other words, why would this 11 be like a politically popular thing to do? That's not why it
12 was done.

13 The Governor testified about his motive, to help the 14 citizens of Detroit. And that's the evidence in this record.
15 Now the political theories and arguments of the counsel,
16 they're not evidence. And no witness testified otherwise.

17 So although Mr. Montgomery urges you to make inferences
18 of what should be about bad faith. Mr. Wertheimer does the 19 same. I don't want you to do that, Your Honor. You don't 20 have to make those inferences, just look at the evidence and 21 the testimony and the Governor's testimony refutes that. I
22 think I've run out of time.

23 THE COURT: Yes. And -- and more. Okay. So we'll 24 be in recess. I'm going to take this matter under advisement.

1 me the documents that have been marked with numbers that are
2 the slide shows from this afternoon. When -- when can we 3 expect those?

4 MS. GREEN: You wanted an updated slide deck and I
5 presume the Court is closed on Monday?

6 THE COURT: We are -- we are closed on Monday.

7 MS. GREEN: Okay.

8 THE COURT: Okay. All right. Please try to get
9 them to me as promptly as possible.

10 MR. MONTGOMERY: Your Honor, does that include
11 non-commonly placed slides --

12 THE COURT: Yeah, I want all -- all of the ones
13 marked for identification purposes and submitted to me. But 14 to the extent they need to be corrected because of the 15 inaccuracies we've pointed out, or -- or to the extent they 16 mention exhibits not in evidence, they need to be corrected.

17 And just for the record, technically the matter isn't
18 under advisement until the time for you to submit the briefs
19 that I earlier allowed has expired which I think is Wednesday,
20 right?

21 MS. PATEK: Your Honor, Mr. Irwin and I have already 22 taken care of -- mine are corrected. I -- we will have a hard
23 copy here on Tuesday and we can also email them if that's 24 better.

1 this purpose, so a hard copy, please. Anything further from
2 anyone? We're in recess. Thank you all very much.

3 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is adjourned.

5 THE COURT: The Court decided to provide this
6 summary of its written opinion, which it will issue shortly,
7 because it is important to give the people of the City of 8 Detroit the best opportunity to understand what the Court is 9 ruling and why. I would not call this a brief summary. It's
10 a bit extended, so settle in, please. The written opinion
11 will be over 140 pages, and it will address in more detail
12 and with more legal and factual support all of the arguments
13 that have been made regarding eligibility. I thought this 14 summary would be more accessible. It is critical to the 15 process, indeed, to any judicial process, that those who are 16 impacted by the Court's ruling have confidence that they were 17 heard and that their arguments and concerns were fully and 18 fairly considered.

19 The matter is before the Court on the parties'
20 objections to the eligibility of the city to be a debtor in 21 this Chapter 9 case under Section 109(c) of the Bankruptcy
22 Code. The City of Detroit was once a hard-working, diverse,
23 vital city, the home of the automobile industry, proud of its 24 nickname, The Motor City. It was rightfully known as the 25 birthplace of the American automobile industry. In 1952, at

1 the height of its prosperity and prestige, it had a
2 population of 1,850,000 residents. It was building half of 3 the world's cars.

4 The evidence establishes, however, that for decades
5 the City of Detroit has experienced dwindling population,
6 employment, and revenues. This has led to decaying
7 infrastructure, excessive borrowing, mounting crime rates,
8 spreading blight, and a deteriorating quality of life. The 9 city no longer has the resources to provide its residents
10 with basic police, fire, and emergency medical services that 11 its residents need for their basic health and safety. To 12 reverse this decline in basic services and to attract new 13 residents and businesses and to revitalize and reinvigorate
14 itself, the city needs help.

15 The city estimates that its debt is $18 billion.
16 This consists of 11.9 billion in unsecured debt and 6.4
17 billion in secured debt. It has more than 100,000 creditors.
18 According to the city, this unsecured debt includes $5.7
19 billion for other post-employment benefits through June of 20 2011, which is the most recent actuarial data available; 3.5
21 billion in unfunded pension obligations; $650 million in 22 general bond obligations; $1.43 billion for certificates of 23 participation related to the pensions; $346.6 million for 24 swap contracts, liabilities related to the certificates of 25 participation; and $300 million of other liabilities. Except

1 for the unfunded pension liability, the parties -- the 2 objecting parties do not seriously challenge the city's
3 estimates of this debt. The pension plans and others have 4 suggested a much lower pension underfunding amount, perhaps
5 even below $1 billion. However, the Court concludes that it
6 is not necessary to resolve this issue at this time.
7 Otherwise, the Court is satisfied that the city's estimates
8 of its other liabilities are accurate enough for purposes of 9 determining eligibility, and the Court so finds.

10 For the five years ending with fiscal year 2012,
11 pension payments exceeded contributions and investment income
12 by approximately $1.7 billion for the General Retirement
13 Systems and $1.6 billion for the Police and Fire Retirement
14 Systems. This, of course, resulted in the liquidation of 15 pension trust principal.

16 Using current actuarial assumptions, the city's
17 required pension contributions as a percentage of eligible
18 payroll expenses are projected to grow from 25 percent for 19 the GRS and 30 percent for the PFRS in 2012 to 30 percent for 20 the GRS and 60 percent for the PFRS by 2017. Changes in 21 actuarial assumptions would further increase the city's 22 required pension contributions. During 2012, 39 percent of 23 the city's revenue was used to service legacy liabilities.
24 The forecasts for subsequent years, assuming no
25 restructuring, are 43 percent for 2013 going up to 65 percent

1 for 2017.

2 The Court will now address the transactions referred
3 to as the certificates of participation, often called the 4 COP's, and the swaps associated with them. These 5 transactions are complex and confusing, and so is the 6 resulting litigation. The Court will provide only the 7 briefest summary of them at this time.

8 In 2005 and 2006, the city decided to raise $1.4
9 billion for its underfunded pension funds. A substantial
10 part of this funding was at an interest rate that would float
11 with the market. If the market interest rate went up, so did
12 the rate on the COP's and vice versa. As part of the 13 transaction, therefore, the city decided to try to protect
14 itself against interest rates going up, so it entered into a
15 wager. The more common name for this is a swap, but it's 16 nothing more than a common bet. If the rate went up, someone
17 would pay the city to help cover the increased interest
18 expense. If the rate went down, the city would have to pay.
19 In 2008 interest rates dropped dramatically. As a result,
20 the city lost on the swaps bet. Actually, it lost
21 catastrophically on the swaps bet. The city estimates that 22 the damage will be approximately $45 million per year for the 23 next ten years. The result has been complex and expensive
24 litigation. In any event, the city estimates that as of June
25 30, 2013, it may owe $480 million from the 2005 COP's and

1 $949 million on the 2006 COP's. It also has a potential
2 liability in excess of $300 million on the swaps, although
3 the city has serious and substantial challenges to those 4 amounts.

5 Debt service from the city's general fund related to 6 limited tax and unlimited general obligation debt and the 7 COP's was $225 million for fiscal year 2012 and is projected
8 to exceed $247 million in 2013. The city estimates that 38
9 percent of tax revenues go to debt service rather than city
10 services. It further estimates that without changes, this 11 will increase to 65 percent within five years. At the same
12 time, however, tax revenues are going down. State revenue
13 sharing is also going down. It has decreased by $161
14 million, 48 percent, since 2002 and by $67 million, 31
15 percent, since 2008.

16 The city has experienced large operating deficits
17 for each of the past seven years. Through 2013, it has an 18 accumulated general fund deficit of $237 million. However,
19 this includes the effect of recent debt issuances. The city
20 borrowed $75 million in 2008, $250 million in 2010, and $129
21 million in 2013. If the city had not borrowed these amounts,
22 the city's accumulated general fund deficit would have been
23 $700 million through 2013. In 2012, the city had a negative
24 cash flow of $115 million excluding the proceeds from 25 borrowings. In March of 2012, to avoid running out of cash,

1 the city borrowed $80 million. In 2013, the city deferred
2 payments on certain of its obligations totaling $120 million
3 for current and prior year pension contributions and other
4 payments.

5 Absent restructuring, the city projects it will have 6 negative cash flows of $190 million for 2014 increasing to 7 $346 million for 2017. The city further estimates that by 8 2017 its accumulated deficit will grow to approximately $1.3
9 billion. The city is not making its pension contributions as 10 they become due. As of May 2013, the city had deferred
11 approximately $54 million in pension contributions and 12 approximately $50 million on June 30th, 2013, for current 13 year pension contributions.

14 Also, the city did not make the scheduled $39.7
15 million payment on its COP's that were due on June 14, 2013.
16 If the city had not deferred these payments, it would have 17 run out of cash by June 30th, 2013. Let me repeat that. If 18 the city had not deferred these payments, it would have run
19 out of cash by June 30th, 2013. It filed for bankruptcy 18
20 days later.

21 The city will -- the Court will now review the 22 causes and consequences of this. These are discussed
23 together because it can be hard to tell which is a cause and 24 which is a consequence. Detroit's population declined to 25 684,800 in December of 2012. This is a 63-percent decline in

1 population from its peak in 1950. In June 2000, Detroit's
2 unemployment rate was 6.3 percent. In June 2010, it was 23.4
3 percent. In June 2012, it was 18.3 percent. The number of 4 employed Detroit residents fell from approximately 353,000 in 5 2000 to 280,000 in 2012.

6 The city's credit ratings are below investment
7 grade. In calendar year 2012, 136,00 crimes were reported in 8 the city. Of these, 15,200 were violent crimes. The city's 9 case clearance rate for violent crimes is 18.6 percent. The 10 clearance rate for all crimes is 8.7 percent. These rates
11 are substantially below those of comparable municipalities
12 nationally and surrounding local communities.

13 As of April 2013, about 40 percent of the city's 14 88,000 streetlights were not working. There are 15 approximately 78,000 abandoned and blighted structures in the 16 city. Of these, 38,000 are considered dangerous buildings.
17 The city experiences 11 to 12,000 fires each year for the 18 past decade. Approximately 60 percent of these were in 19 blighted or unoccupied buildings. In 2012 the average
20 priority one response time for the police department was 30
21 minutes. In 2013 it was 58 minutes. The national average is 22 11 minutes. The police department staffing has been reduced
23 by approximately 40 percent over the last ten years. It has 24 not invested in or maintained its facility infrastructure for 25 many years and has closed or consolidated many precincts. It

1 operates with a fleet of 1,291 vehicles, most of which have
2 reached the replacement age of three years and lack modern
3 information technology. The average age of the city's 35
4 fire stations is 80 years. The fire department's fleet has 5 many mechanical issues, contains no reserve vehicles, and 6 lacks equipment ordinarily considered standard. During the 7 first quarter of 2013, frequently only ten to fourteen of the 8 city's 36 ambulances were in service. The city's information
9 technology infrastructure and software is obsolete and is not 10 integrated between departments or even within departments.
11 The city has reduced the number of its employees by about 12 2,700 since 2011. As of May 31st, 2013, it has approximately 13 9,560 employees.

14 The city's union employees are represented by 47 or 15 48 discrete bargaining units. The collective bargaining
16 agreements covering all of these bargaining units expired
17 before the case was filed. The city has implemented revised
18 employment terms called City Employment Terms for 19 nonunionized employees and for unionized employees under 20 expired collective bargaining agreements.

21 It has also increased revenues and reduced expenses
22 in other ways. It estimates that these measures have 23 resulted in annual savings of $200 million. The city cannot 24 legally increase its tax revenues nor can it reduce its 25 employee expenses without further endangering public health

1 and safety.

2 Before reviewing the events leading to the filing of 3 this case, a brief review of the winding history of the 4 Michigan statutes on point is necessary. In 1990 the 5 Michigan legislature enacted Public Act 72 of 1990, the Local 6 Government Fiscal Responsibility Act. This act empowered the 7 state to intervene with respect to municipalities that faced
8 financial crisis through the appointment of an emergency
9 financial manager, who would assume many of the powers
10 ordinarily held by local public officials. Effective March
11 16, 2011, PA 72 was repealed and replaced with Public Act 4
12 of 2011, the Local Government and School District Fiscal 13 Accountability Act. On November 5th, 2012, however, the 14 Michigan voters rejected PA 4 by referendum. In Davis v.
15 Roberts, the Michigan Court of Appeals held that this 16 rejection revived Public Act 72. Public Act 72 remained in 17 effect until March 28, 2013, when Public Act 436, the Local 18 Financial Stability and Choice Act, became effective. The 19 legislature had enacted that law on December 13, 2012, and 20 the governor had signed it on December 26, 2012.

21 On February 19, 2013, a financial review team
22 appointed by the governor submitted its report regarding the 23 city. That report concluded that a local government
24 financial emergency exists within the City of Detroit because 25 no satisfactory plan exists to resolve a serious financial

1 problem. On March 1st, 2013, after receiving that report,
2 the governor announced his determination that a financial
3 emergency existed within the city. On March 12, 2013,
4 Governor Snyder conducted a public hearing to consider the
5 City Council's appeal of his determination. On March 14,
6 2013, the governor confirmed his determination of a financial
7 emergency within the city and requested that the Local 8 Emergency Financial Assistance Loan Board appoint an
9 emergency financial manager under PA 72. On March 15, 2013,
10 the Loan Board appointed Kevyn Orr as the emergency financial 11 manager for the City of Detroit. On March 15, Mr. Orr took 12 office formally. On March 18, which was the effective date
13 of PA 436, PA 72 was repealed, and Mr. Orr became the 14 emergency manager of the city under PA 436.

15 Under law, the emergency manager acts for and in the 16 place and stead of the governing body and the office of the 17 chief administrator -- administrative officer of the local
18 government. He has broad powers in receivership to rectify
19 the financial emergency and to assure the fiscal 20 accountability of the local government and the local
21 government's capacity to provide or cause to be provided
22 necessary government services essential to the public health,
23 safety, and welfare.

24 On June 14, 2013, Mr. Orr organized a meeting with 25 approximately 150 representatives of the city's creditors.

1 Mr. Orr presented the June 14 creditor proposal, Exhibit 43,
2 and answered questions. At the conclusion of the meeting,
3 Mr. Orr invited creditor representatives to provide feedback
4 to the city regarding the proposal. This proposal described
5 the economic circumstances that resulted in Detroit's
6 financial condition. It also offered a restructuring of the 7 city's operations, financing, and capital structure. It also 8 offered recoveries for each creditor group.

9 Regarding creditor recoveries, the city proposed,
10 (a) treatment of secured debt adequate to the value of the 11 collateral; (b) the pro rata distribution of $2 billion in 12 principal amount of interest only limited recourse
13 participation notes to holders of unsecured claims -- that 14 is, the unsecured bondholders, the COP's, the pension
15 systems, retirees, and other unsecured claims -- and (c) a 16 Dutch auction process for the city to purchase or pay the 17 notes.

18 Following the June 14, 2013, meeting at which the 19 proposal to creditors was presented, Mr. Orr and his staff
20 had several other meetings. On June 3, 2013, two lawsuits
21 were filed against the governor and the treasurer in state
22 court. These suits sought a declaratory judgment that PA 436
23 violated the Michigan Constitution to the extent that the law
24 purported to authorize bankruptcy proceedings in which vested
25 pension benefits might be impaired. The suits also sought an

1 injunction preventing the governor from authorizing a
2 bankruptcy proceeding for the City of Detroit in which
3 pension -- vested pension benefits might be impaired. The 4 two cases were Flowers v. Snyder and Webster v. Snyder. On 5 July 17, 2013, the GRS commenced a similar lawsuit, General
6 Retirement System of the City of Detroit v. Orr. On the day
7 before, July 16, 2013, Mr. Orr had recommended to the 8 governor and the treasurer that the city file for Chapter 9
9 relief. On July 18, Governor Snyder authorized the City of 10 Detroit to file a Chapter 9 bankruptcy case. At 4:06 p.m. on 11 July 18, 2013, the City of Detroit filed this Chapter 9
12 bankruptcy case.

13 Before turning to the filed objections in this case,
14 it is necessary to point out that the city bears the burden
15 to establish by a preponderance of the evidence each of the 16 elements of eligibility under Section 109(c). As the Court
17 commented at the conclusion of the hearing on September 19,
18 2013, the individuals' presentations on that day were moving,
19 passionate, thoughtful, compelling, and well-articulated.
20 These presentations demonstrated an extraordinary depth of 21 concern for the City of Detroit, for the adequate level of 22 services that their city government provides, and for the 23 personal hardships that that creates, and most clearly for 24 the pensions of the city retirees and employees. These 25 individuals expressed another deeply held concern and even

1 anger that became a major theme of the hearing, the concern
2 and anger that the state's appointment of an emergency
3 manager over the City of Detroit violated their fundamental 4 democratic right to self-governance.

5 The Court's role here is to evaluate how these 6 concerns might impact the city's eligibility for bankruptcy.
7 In making that evaluation, of course, the Court can only
8 consider the specific requirements of applicable law. The 9 popularity of the decision to appoint an emergency manager is 10 not a matter of eligibility under the federal bankruptcy
11 laws. The Court has carefully considered the concerns of the 12 individuals that filed eligibility objections, including
13 those that addressed the Court on September 19 of this year.
14 Those concerns are addressed throughout the Court's opinion
15 but are primarily addressed in the context of whether this 16 case was filed in good faith.

17 The Court will now begin its findings and 18 conclusions. The City of Detroit is a municipality as 19 defined in the Bankruptcy Code. The parties agree to that.
20 Several objecting parties challenge the constitutionality of 21 Chapter 9 of the Bankruptcy Code under the United States
22 Constitution. Citing the United States Supreme Court's
23 decision in Stern versus Marshall, these parties also assert
24 that this Court does not have the authority to determine the 25 constitutionality of Chapter 9. Several objecting parties

1 also challenge the constitutionality of Public Act 436 under
2 the Michigan Constitution. Some of these parties also assert
3 that this Court does not have the authority to determine the
4 constitutionality of PA 436.

5 The Official Committee of Retirees previously filed
6 a motion to withdraw the reference to the District Court on 7 the grounds that this Court does not have the authority to 8 determine the constitutionality of either Chapter 9 or PA
9 436. It also filed a motion for stay of the eligibility
10 proceedings pending the District Court's resolution of that 11 motion. In this Court's denial of the stay motion, it
12 concluded that the committee was unlikely to succeed on its 13 arguments regarding this Court's lack of authority under 14 Stern. For the reasons stated in that opinion, the Court
15 concludes that it has the authority to determine the 16 constitutionality of Chapter 9 and PA 436.

17 The objecting parties argue that Chapter 9 of the 18 Bankruptcy Code violates several provisions of the United 19 States Constitution both on its face and as applied in this 20 bankruptcy case. Article I, Section 8, of the United States
21 Constitution provides the Congress shall have the power to 22 establish uniform laws on the subject of bankruptcies
23 throughout the United States. The objecting parties assert
24 that Chapter 9 violates the uniformity requirement of the 25 United States Constitution because Chapter 9 cedes to each

1 state the ability to define its own qualifications for a
2 municipality to declare bankruptcy, and, therefore, Chapter 9
3 permits the promulgation of nonuniform bankruptcies within
4 the states. The Supreme Court has addressed the uniformity
5 requirement in several cases. Most notably, in Hanover
6 National Bank v. Moyses in 1902 the Supreme Court held that 7 the incorporation into the bankruptcy law of state laws that
8 relate to exemptions did not violate the uniformity
9 requirement of the Constitution. The Court stated, "The 10 general operation of the law is uniform although it may 11 result in certain peculiarities differently in different
12 States" -- I'm sorry -- "certain particulars differently in 13 different States."

14 The Court concludes that Chapter 9 does exactly what
15 the Supreme Court cases require to meet the uniformity
16 requirement. The defined class of debtors to which Chapter 9
17 applies is the class of entities that meet the eligibility
18 requirements. One such class qualification is that the 19 entity is specifically authorized to be a debtor under 20 Chapter 9 by state law. As Moyes held, it is of no
21 consequence in the uniformity analysis that this requirement
22 of state authorization to file a Chapter 9 case may lead to 23 different results in different states. Accordingly, the 24 Court concludes that Chapter 9 satisfies the uniformity
25 requirement of the bankruptcy clause of the United States

1 Constitution.

2 The contracts clause of the United States
3 Constitution provides, quote, "No State shall pass any law
4 impairing the Obligation of Contracts," close quote. It is 5 argued that Chapter 9 violates the contracts clause. This
6 argument is rejected. Chapter 9 is a federal law, not a
7 state law. Article I, Section 10, does not prohibit Congress
8 from enacting a law impairing the obligation of contracts.

9 The Tenth Amendment challenge to Chapter 9 is the 10 most strenuously argued here. That amendment provides,
11 quote, "The powers not delegated to the United States by the 12 Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States are reserved
13 to the States respectively, or to the people," close quote.
14 The objecting parties argue that Chapter 9 of the Bankruptcy
15 Code violates the principles of federalism that are reflected 16 in this amendment. The argument is that through Chapter 9,
17 Congress has established rules that control state fiscal 18 self-management, which is an area of exclusive state
19 sovereignty. This argument is a facial challenge to the 20 constitutionality of Chapter 9. The as applied challenge is 21 that if the State of Michigan can properly authorize the City
22 of Detroit to file for Chapter 9 relief without the explicit
23 protection of pension rights for retired city employees, then
24 Chapter 9 is unconstitutional because that would violate
25 Michigan's sovereignty.

1 Before addressing the merits of these arguments,
2 however, the Court must first address two preliminary issues
3 that the United States raised, standing and ripeness. First,
4 the Court concludes that the objecting parties do have
5 standing. Section 1109(b) of the Bankruptcy Code provides,
6 quote, "A party in interest, including a creditor, may raise 7 and appear and be heard on any issue in a case under this
8 chapter," close quote. Section 901(a) makes this provision
9 applicable in a Chapter 9 case. Accordingly, the objecting
10 parties who are creditors with pension claims against the 11 city have standing to assert their constitutional challenges
12 as part of their objections to this bankruptcy case.

13 The United States further argues that the issue of 14 whether Chapter 9 is constitutional as applied in this case
15 is not ripe for determination at this time. The city joins 16 in this argument. Early on in this case, the Court expressed 17 its own doubts about this thinking that the issue of whether 18 pension rights can be impaired in bankruptcy applied more to 19 confirmation than to eligibility. The Court finds now that 20 these issues are ripe for decision. At the request of the 21 objecting parties, the Court, therefore -- excuse me --
22 reconsidered that position and now agrees that the issue is 23 ripe at this point.

24 The premise of the argument that the United States
25 makes is that the filing of the case did not result in the

1 impairment of any pensions, thus the United States argues
2 that this issue will be ripe only when the city proposes a
3 plan that would impair pensions if it were confirmed. Until 4 then, it argues their injury is speculative. Although the 5 argument of the United States has some appeal, as the Court
6 itself initially concluded, the Court must now reject it.

7 The ultimate issue before the Court at this time is 8 whether the city is eligible to be a debtor in Chapter 9.
9 This dispute arises in the concrete factual context of the 10 City of Detroit's filing this bankruptcy case under Chapter 9
11 of the Bankruptcy Code and the objecting parties challenging
12 the constitutionality of that very law. This dispute is not 13 an abstract disagreement that is ungrounded in the here and 14 now. It is here, and it is now. The Court further concludes 15 that as a matter of judicial prudence resolving this issue
16 now will likely expedite the resolution of this bankruptcy
17 case. The parties have fully briefed and argued the merits.
18 Further, if the Tenth Amendment challenge to Chapter 9 is 19 resolved now, the parties and the Court can then focus on 20 whether the Court -- whether the city's plan will meet the 21 confirmation requirements of the Bankruptcy Code.
22 Accordingly, the Court concludes that the objecting parties'
23 challenge to Chapter 9 of the Bankruptcy Code as applied in 24 this case is ripe for determination at this time.

25 The Court concludes that the United States Supreme

1 Court has already decided the question of whether a federal
2 municipal bankruptcy act can be administered consistent with
3 the principles of federalism reflected in the Tenth
4 Amendment. In United States versus Bekins, the Supreme Court
5 specifically upheld the Municipal Corporation Bankruptcy Act
6 of 1937 over the objections that the statute violated the 7 Tenth Amendment. It is well-settled that this Court is bound
8 by the decisions of the United States Supreme Court.

9 Nevertheless, the objecting parties assert that 10 Bekins is no longer good law because of amendments to the 11 municipal bankruptcy statute after Bekins was decided and 12 because of two more recent Supreme Court decisions regarding 13 the Tenth Amendment. However, the Court concludes first that 14 changes to the municipal bankruptcy law since 1937 have been
15 minor and do not undermine the continuing validity of Bekins.
16 Second, changes to the Supreme Court's Tenth Amendment law do
17 not undermine the continuing validity of Bekins. In its 18 recent cases deciding issues under the Tenth Amendment, New 19 York versus United States and Printz versus United States,
20 the Supreme Court has upheld laws that encourage states to 21 regulate according to federal policies so long as the states
22 consent. On the other hand, laws that compel or commandeer
23 state resources do violate the Tenth Amendment. The key is 24 state consent. Chapter 9 simply does not raise a consent
25 issue. As the Supreme Court emphasized in Bekins, Chapter 9

1 is limited to voluntary proceedings. The federal government
2 cannot and does not compel states to authorize municipalities
3 to file for Chapter 9 relief, and municipalities are not
4 permitted to seek Chapter 9 relief without specific state
5 authorization. There is simply no commandeering or 6 compulsion involved. Therefore, the Court concludes that
7 Chapter 9 is not facially unconstitutional under the Tenth
8 Amendment of the United States Constitution.

9 Several of the objecting parties also raise as 10 applied challenges to the constitutionality of Chapter 9
11 under the Tenth Amendment. The primary point of these 12 arguments is that if Chapter 9 permits the State of Michigan
13 to authorize a city to file a petition for Chapter 9 relief 14 without explicitly providing for protection of 15 constitutionally protected pension rights, then the Tenth
16 Amendment is violated. The State of Michigan itself cannot 17 legally provide for the adjustment of pension debts or any 18 debts of the City of Detroit. That is so because the United 19 States Constitution and the Michigan Constitution both
20 prohibit the State of Michigan from impairing contracts. It
21 is also because the Michigan Constitution prohibits the 22 impairing of the -- of accrued pension benefits. These 23 prohibitions, however, do not apply in the federal Bankruptcy
24 Court. As the Bankruptcy Court in the City of Stockton
25 Chapter 9 case said, the bankruptcy clause of the United

1 States Constitution necessarily authorizes Congress to make
2 laws that would impair contracts, so it has long been
3 understood that bankruptcy law entails impairment of 4 contracts. For purposes of the Tenth Amendment and state
5 sovereignty, nothing distinguishes pension debt in a
6 municipal bankruptcy case from any other debt. If the Tenth
7 Amendment prohibits the impairment of pension benefits in 8 this case, then it would also prohibit the adjustment of any 9 other debt in the case like bond debt. Bekins makes it
10 clear, however, that with state consent the adjustment of 11 municipal debts does not impermissibly intrude on state
12 sovereignty. This Court is bound to follow that Supreme 13 Court holding.

14 The plans and other objecting parties counter that 15 result by asserting that under the Michigan Constitution
16 pension debt has greater protection than ordinary contract
17 debt. The argument is premised on the slim read that in the 18 Michigan Constitution the pension clause provides that 19 pension rights may not be, quote, "impaired or diminished"
20 whereas the contracts clause in the Michigan Constitution
21 only prohibits impairing contract rights. There are several 22 reasons why the slight difference between the language that 23 protects contracts, no impairment, and the language that 24 protects pensions, no impairment or diminishment, does not
25 demonstrate that pensions are entitled to any extraordinary

1 protection. At common law, before the adoption of the
2 Michigan Constitution in 1963, public pensions in Michigan
3 were viewed as gratuitous allowances that could be revoked at 4 will because a retiree lacked any vested right in their 5 continuation. In 1963, this new provision enhancing the 6 protection for pensions was included, quote, "The accrued
7 financial benefits of each pension plan and retirement system
8 of the state and its political subdivisions shall be a
9 contractual obligation thereof which shall not be diminished
10 or impaired thereby," close quote. That's Article IX,
11 Section 24, of the Michigan Constitution of 1963.

12 So here are the reasons why pension rights are 13 contract rights under the Michigan Constitution. First, as 14 noted, the language of Article IX, Section 24, gives pension
15 benefits the status of a, quote, "contractual obligation,"
16 close quote. That's the language that it uses.

17 Second, if the Michigan Constitution were meant to 18 give the kind of higher or even absolute protection for which 19 the plans argue here, that language simply would not have 20 referred to pension benefits as a, quote, "contractual 21 obligation," close quote.

22 Third, linguistically there is no functional
23 difference in meaning between "impair" and "impair or 24 diminish." Now, there certainly is a preference, if not a 25 mandate, to give every -- to give meaning to every word in

1 written law. At the same time, however, we give undefined
2 statutory terms their plain and ordinary meanings. If this
3 Court gives these terms, "diminish" and "impair," their plain
4 and ordinary meanings, those meanings would not be
5 substantially different from each other. The terms are not
6 synonyms, but they cannot honestly be given meanings so
7 different as to compel the result that the plans now seek,
8 the protection of pension rights in bankruptcy. "Diminish"
9 adds nothing material to "impair." All diminishment is 10 impairment, and "impair" includes "diminish."

11 Fourth, the argument for a greater protection is 12 inconsistent with the Michigan Supreme Court's interpretation
13 of this constitutional language in two cases, Kosa versus 14 Treasury -- Treasurer of the State of Michigan and In re.
15 Constitutionality of 2011 PA 38. In Kosa in 1980 the 16 Michigan Supreme Court quoted the history from the 17 Constitutional Convention regarding Article IX, Section 24.
18 Several times that history refers to pension rights as 19 contractual rights. The Court in Kosa also itself used
20 contractual language when referring to pension rights. More
21 recently in In re. Constitutionality of 2011 PA 38 in 2011,
22 the Michigan Supreme Court stated, quote, "The obvious intent
23 of Section 24, however, was to ensure that public pensions be 24 treated as contractual obligations that, once earned, could 25 not be diminished," close quote.

1 Fifth, an even greater narrative must be considered
2 here focusing on 1963. At that time, Michigan law allowed
3 municipalities to file a bankruptcy, and Bekins had long
4 since held that that was constitutional, so when the new 5 Michigan Constitution was negotiated and proposed and
6 ratified in 1963, it explicitly gave accrued pension benefits
7 only the status of contractual obligations. That new 8 Constitution could have given pensions protection from 9 impairment in bankruptcy in several ways, but it did not. It
10 could have simply prohibited Michigan municipalities from 11 filing bankruptcy. It could have somehow created a property
12 interest that bankruptcy would be required to respect, or it
13 could have established some sort of a secured interest in the 14 municipality's property. It could have even required the 15 state to guarantee pension benefits, but it did none of 16 those. Instead, both the history from the Constitutional
17 Convention and the very language of the pension provision
18 itself, it is made clear municipal pension rights are 19 contract rights. Because under the Michigan Constitution
20 pension rights are contractual rights, they are subject to 21 impairment in a federal bankruptcy proceeding. Moreover,
22 where, as here, the state consents, that impairment does not
23 violate the Tenth Amendment. Therefore, as applied in this 24 case, Chapter 9 is Constitutional.

25 Nevertheless, the Court is compelled to comment. No

1 one should interpret this holding that pension rights are
2 contract rights and subject to impairment in this bankruptcy
3 case to mean that this Court necessarily will confirm any
4 plan of adjustment that impairs pensions. The Court
5 emphasizes that it will not lightly or casually exercise the 6 power under federal bankruptcy law to impair pensions.
7 Before the Court confirms any plan that the city submits, the 8 Court must find that the plan fully meets the requirements of 9 Section 943(b) of the Bankruptcy Code and the other
10 applicable provisions of the Bankruptcy Code. Together these 11 provisions of law demand this Court's judicious, legal, and 12 equitable consideration of the interests of the city and the 13 interests of all of its creditors, including retirees, as 14 well as the laws of the State of Michigan.

15 Section 109(c) (2) of the Bankruptcy Code requires
16 that a municipality be specifically authorized to be a debtor
17 under such chapter. The evidence establishes that the city
18 was authorized to file this case. The issue is whether that 19 authorization was proper under the Michigan Constitution.
20 Several objectors argue that the authorization is not valid
21 because Public Act 436, the statute establishing the 22 underlying procedure for a municipality to obtain
23 authorization, is unconstitutional. The validity of Public
24 Act 436 under the Michigan Constitution is a question of 25 state law. The Michigan Supreme Court has not ruled on the

1 validity of Public Act 436. As a result, this Court must
2 attempt to ascertain how that Court would rule if it were
3 faced with this issue.

4 As discussed earlier, on March 16th, 2011, the 5 governor signed Public Act 4 into law, but Public Act 4 was 6 repealed by Public Act 72. However, the voters rejected
7 Public Act 4 by referendum in the November 6, 2012, election.
8 Shortly after that election on December 26th, 2012, the 9 governor signed PA 436 into law, and it took effect on March 10 28th, 2013. It is argued here that Public Act 436 is 11 unconstitutional because it is essentially a reenactment of 12 the rejected Public Act 4 in violation of the people's 13 referendum rights. The city and the State of Michigan assert
14 that there are several differences between Public Act 436 and 15 Public Act 4 such that they are not the same law. In 16 Reynolds versus Bureau of State Lottery in 2000, the Michigan
17 Court of Appeals held that nothing in the Michigan
18 Constitution suggests that a referendum has any broader 19 effect than the nullification of the rejected act. This 20 Michigan Court of Appeals decision strongly suggests that the 21 referendum rejection of Public Act 4 did not prohibit the 22 Michigan legislature from enacting Public Act 436 even though
23 Public Act 436 addressed the same subject matter as Public
24 Act 4 and did contain very few changes. Accordingly, the 25 challenge on this ground must be rejected.

1 It is also contended that Public Act 436 is
2 unconstitutional because the Michigan legislature included
3 appropriations provisions in Public Act 436 for the sole
4 purpose of shielding the act from referendum. There
5 certainly was some credible evidence in support of the 6 assertion that the appropriations provision in Public Act 436
7 were intended to immunize it from referendum. For example,
8 Howard Ryan, the legislative assistant in the Michigan
9 Department of Treasury, so testified in his deposition. The 10 Court must conclude, however, that if faced with this issue,
11 the Michigan Supreme Court would not hold Public Act 436
12 unconstitutional on this grounds. In Michigan United 13 Conservation Clubs versus Secretary of State in 2001, the 14 Court concisely held that a public act with an appropriations
15 provision is not subject to referendum regardless of the 16 motive of the appropriation. To the same effect was Houston
17 v. Governor decided by the Michigan Supreme Court in 2012.
18 Accordingly, the Court concludes that PA 436 is not
19 unconstitutional on the grounds that the appropriations
20 provisions of it improperly shielded it from the people's 21 right of referendum.

22 Certain objectors also argue that Public Act 436
23 violates the home rule provision of the Michigan
24 Constitution, which recognizes the right of the electors to 25 adopt and amend the city charter and the city's right to

1 adopt ordinances. The argument is that the appointment of an
2 emergency manager for a municipality under PA 436 is
3 inconsistent with those rights. This argument fails for the 4 simple reason that this authority that the Michigan
5 Constitution grants to municipalities is subject to state
6 laws enacted by the legislature. The constitutional
7 provision specifically says so. It states, quote, "Each city
8 and village shall have the power to adopt resolutions and 9 ordinances relating to its municipal concerns, property and 10 government, subject to the constitution and law," close 11 quote. Indeed, Section 1-102 of the city -- excuse me -- of 12 the charter of the City of Detroit states, quote, "The City
13 has the comprehensive home rule power conferred upon it by 14 the Michigan Constitution, subject only to the limitations on 15 the exercise of that power contained in the Constitution or 16 this Charter or imposed by statute," close quote.
17 Accordingly, the Court finds that PA 436 does not violate the 18 home rule provisions of the Michigan Constitution.

19 Many objectors argue that the bankruptcy
20 authorization section of PA 436 itself does not comply with 21 the heightened requirements for protecting pensions in the 22 Michigan Constitution and, therefore, that PA 436 is 23 unconstitutional. Accordingly, the objectors argue that PA
24 436 cannot provide a valid basis for authorization to file a
25 bankruptcy. The Court has already explained that pension

1 benefits are a contractual obligation of the municipality and
2 not entitled to any heightened protection in bankruptcy. It
3 follows that if a state consents to a municipal bankruptcy,
4 no state law can protect pension rights that are merely
5 contractual rights from impairment in bankruptcy just as no
6 law could protect any other type of contract rights like
7 bonds. Accordingly, the failure of PA 436 to protect pension
8 rights in a municipal bankruptcy does not make that law
9 inconsistent with the pension clause of the Michigan
10 Constitution any more than the failure of PA 436 to protect,
11 for example, bond debt in bankruptcy is inconsistent with the 12 contracts clause of Michigan Constitution. For this purpose,
13 the parallel is perfect. For these reasons, the Court
14 concludes that PA 436 does not violate the pension clause of 15 the Michigan Constitution.

16 PA 436 permits the governor to place contingencies
17 on a local government in order to proceed under Chapter 9.
18 The governor chose not to impose a contingency requiring the 19 City of Detroit to protect pensions in bankruptcy. Several 20 objectors argue that the pension clause of the Michigan
21 Constitution obligated the governor to include such a
22 condition in his authorization. The Court concluded earlier
23 that any such condition in PA 436 itself would be ineffective
24 and potentially invalid under federal law. For the same
25 reason, any such contingency in the governor's authorization

1 letter would have been invalid and may have rendered the
2 authorization itself invalid under Section 109(c).
3 Accordingly, this objection is overruled. The Court
4 concludes that the governor's authorization to file this
5 bankruptcy case under PA 436 was valid under the Michigan
6 Constitution.

7 On July 3, 2013, Gracie Webster and Veronica Thomas
8 filed a complaint against the State of Michigan, Governor
9 Snyder, and Treasurer Dillon in the Ingham County Circuit
10 Court. They sought a declaratory judgment that PA 436 is 11 unconstitutional because it permits accrued pension benefits
12 to be diminished or impaired in violation of Article IX,
13 Section 24, of the Michigan Constitution. The complaint also 14 sought a preliminary and permanent injunction enjoining the 15 governor and the treasurer from authorizing the Detroit
16 emergency manager to commence proceedings under Chapter 9 of 17 the Bankruptcy Code.

18 On Thursday, July 18th, 2013, just minutes after the 19 city filed its bankruptcy petition, the state court held a
20 hearing. During that hearing, the state court confirmed that 21 the bankruptcy case had been filed. Nevertheless, the state
22 court granted the relief enjoining the governor and the 23 emergency manager -- excuse me -- enjoining the governor from 24 taking any further action in the bankruptcy proceeding.

25 A further hearing was held the next day on the

1 plaintiff's request to amend the order of the previous
2 afternoon. At the conclusion of that hearing, the judge then
3 stated her decision to grant the declaratory relief that the 4 plaintiffs had requested. Later that day on July 19th, 2013,
5 the court entered a declaratory -- an order of declaratory
6 relief. It states that PA 436 is unconstitutional and in 7 violation of Article IX, Section 24, of the Michigan
8 Constitution. It also states that PA 436 is to that extent
9 of no force and effect. In their objections in this case,
10 several of the objectors assert that this judgment precludes
11 or prevents the city from asserting that PA 436 is 12 constitutional or that the governor properly authorized this
13 bankruptcy filing.

14 There are, however, two main reasons why this Court
15 is not required to honor the Webster judgment in this
16 bankruptcy case. First, upon the city's bankruptcy filing,
17 federal law gave this Court exclusive jurisdiction to 18 determine all issues relating to the city's eligibility to be 19 a Chapter 9 debtor. At that moment, the state court no
20 longer had jurisdiction. Accordingly, the state court's 21 order of declaratory judgment on which the objectors rely is 22 void and of no effect. It does not preclude the city from 23 asserting its eligibility to file bankruptcy in this case.

24 Second, bankruptcy law provides that when a
25 bankruptcy petition is filed, it operates as a stay of any

1 act to exercise control over property of the estate. The
2 main objectives of the plaintiff's case in Webster v.
3 Michigan was to protect the plaintiff's pension rights by 4 prohibiting a bankruptcy case which might allow the city to 5 use its property in a way that might impair pensions. It
6 does not matter that neither the city nor its officers were
7 defendants. The suit was clearly an act to exercise control
8 over the city's property. Accordingly, it was stayed under 9 the bankruptcy law. The state court's order of declaratory
10 relief was entered in violation of the stay. For those two 11 reasons, the Court concludes that the judgment in Webster is 12 void, and this objection to the city's eligibility is 13 rejected.

14 To be eligible for relief under Chapter 9, the city
15 must establish that it is insolvent. A few objectors contest
16 this requirement of eligibility under Section 109(c)(3). For 17 a municipality, the Bankruptcy Code defines insolvent as,
18 quote, "a financial condition such that the municipality is:
19 (i) generally not paying its debts as they become due unless 20 such debts are the subject of a bona fide dispute; or (ii) is 21 unable to pay its debts as they become due." The Court finds
22 that the City of Detroit was and is insolvent under both
23 definitions. The Court has already detailed the enormous
24 financial distress that the city faced as of July 18th, 2013,
25 and will not repeat it here. The Court finds that the city

1 was generally not paying its debts as they became due.

2 In May 2013 the city deferred payments on $54
3 million in pension contributions. On July 30th it deferred
4 an additional $5 million fiscal year-end payment. The city
5 also did not make a scheduled $39.7 million payment on its
6 COP's on June 14th. It was also spending more money than it
7 was receiving and only making up the difference through
8 expensive and even catastrophic borrowings. These facts
9 establish that the city was generally not paying its debts as 10 they became due as of the time of filing.

11 The evidence also overwhelmingly establishes that 12 the city is unable to pay its debts as they become due. The 13 evidence established that as a result of the city's financial 14 state, there are many, many services in the city which do not 15 function properly. The facts found earlier firmly support
16 this conclusion.

17 Most powerfully, however, the testimony of Chief
18 Craig established that the city is in a state of service
19 delivery insolvency as of July 18th and will continue to be 20 for the foreseeable future. He testified that the conditions
21 in the local precincts were deplorable. He said, quote, "if 22 I just might summarize it in a very short way, that 23 everything is broken, deplorable conditions, crime is high --
24 extremely high, morale is low, the absence of leadership,"
25 close quote. He described the city as, quote, "extremely

1 violent," close quote, based on the high rate of violent
2 crime and the low rate of clearance of violent crimes. He
3 stated that their facilities, equipment, and vehicles were in 4 various states of disrepair and obsolescence. Service
5 delivery insolvency focuses on the municipality's inability
6 to pay for all costs of providing services at the level and 7 quality that are required for the health, safety, and welfare
8 of the community.

9 The objecting parties assert that the city could 10 have and should have monetized a number of its assets in 11 order to make up for its severe cash flow insolvency. Most 12 directly, this objection targets the city's valuable art
13 collection. However, the city's witnesses credibly
14 established that sales of city assets would not address the 15 long-term operational structural financial imbalance facing 16 the city, and this makes sense. When the expenses of an 17 enterprise exceed its revenue, a one-time infusion of cash,
18 whether from an asset sale or from a borrowing, only delays
19 the inevitable financial failure unless, in the meantime, the 20 enterprise sufficiently reduces its expenses or enhances its 21 income. The City of Detroit itself has proven the reality of 22 this many, many times. In any event, when considering 23 selling an asset, the enterprise must take extreme care that 24 the asset is truly unnecessary in pursuing its mission and 25 unnecessary in enhancing its operational revenue. For these

1 reasons, the Court finds that the city has established that
2 it is insolvent.

3 The city must also establish that it desires to 4 effect a plan to adjust its debts under Section 109(c)(4).
5 In the City of Stockton case, the Bankruptcy Court explained
6 the cases equate desire with intent and make clear that this 7 element is highly subjective. At the first level, the 8 question is whether the Chapter 9 case was filed for some 9 ulterior motive such as to buy time or to evade creditors
10 rather than to restructure the city's finances. Several 11 objectors assert that the city does not desire to effect a 12 plan to adjust its debts. The Court concludes that the 13 evidence overwhelmingly establishes that the city does desire
14 to effect a plan in this case. Mr. Orr so testified. More
15 importantly, before filing this case, Mr. Orr did submit to 16 creditors a plan to adjust the city's debts. Plainly, that 17 plan was not acceptable to any of the city's creditors. It
18 may not have even been confirmable under the Bankruptcy Code,
19 although that is not necessary to resolve at this time.
20 Still, it was evidence of the city's desire and intent to 21 effectuate a plan. There is simply no evidence that the city
22 has an ulterior motive in pursuing Chapter 9 such as to buy
23 time or to evade creditors. Indeed, the objecting creditors
24 do not really contend that there was any such ulterior
25 motive. Rather, their argument is that the plan that the

1 emergency manager has stated he intends to propose in this
2 case is not a confirmable plan. It is not confirmable, they
3 argue, because it will impair pensions in violation of the 4 Michigan Constitution. Certainly the evidence does
5 establish -- certainly the evidence does establish that the 6 emergency manager intends to propose a plan that impairs
7 pensions. The Court has already so found. Nevertheless, the 8 objectors' argument must be rejected. As established
9 earlier, a Chapter 9 plan may impair pension rights. The 10 emergency manager's stated intent to propose a plan that 11 impairs pensions is, therefore, not inconsistent with a 12 desire to effect a plan. Accordingly, the Court finds that 13 the city does desire to effect a plan.

14 The fifth element for eligibility is found in 15 Section 109(c)(5). Under that section an entity may be a
16 debtor under Chapter 9 if such entity has either negotiated
17 in good faith with creditors or is unable to negotiate with 18 creditors because such negotiation is impracticable. In the 19 present case, the City of Detroit argues that the June 14,
20 2013, proposal to creditors along with its follow-up meetings
21 was a good faith effort to begin negotiations to which 22 creditors refused to respond. The Court concludes, however,
23 that the June 14 proposal to creditors and the follow-up
24 meetings were not sufficient to satisfy the requirements of 25 good faith negotiations under law. The proposal to creditors

1 did not provide creditors with sufficient information to make
2 meaningful counterproposals, especially in the very short
3 amount of time that the city allowed for the, quote,
4 "discussion," close quote, period. Charitably stated, the 5 proposal is very summary in nature. There was simply not
6 enough information for creditors to start meaningful
7 negotiations. For example, Brad Robins of Greenhill &
8 Company, the financial advisor for the Retirement Systems,
9 testified, quote, "The note itself I thought was not really a
10 serious proposal but may be a placeholder, no maturity, no
11 obligation for the city to pay," close quote. The city
12 asserts that it provided supporting data in an electronic 13 data room. However, several witnesses testified that the 14 data room did not contain the necessary data to make a
15 meaningful evaluation of the proposal to creditors.
16 Moreover, the city conditioned access to the data room on the 17 signing of a confidentiality and release agreement. This 18 created an unnecessary hurdle for creditors. The creditors
19 simply cannot be faulted for failing to offer
20 counterproposals when they did not have the necessary
21 information to evaluate the city's vague initial proposal.
22 The proposal for creditors provided a calendar. It allotted
23 one week, June 17 to 24, for requests for additional 24 information. The initial rounds of discussions were 25 scheduled for July 17 -- sorry -- June 17 to July 12, and the

1 evaluation period was scheduled to be July 15 to July 19.
2 This calendar was very tight and did not request
3 counterproposals or even provide a deadline for submitting
4 them. The total time available under this schedule for 5 creditor negotiations was approximately 30 days. Given the 6 extraordinary complexities of the case and the 100,000
7 creditors, that amount of time is simply far too short to 8 conclude that such a vague proposal to creditors rises to the 9 level required to shift the burden to objectors to make
10 counterproposals.

11 In addition, the city affirmatively stated that the 12 meetings were not negotiations. The city asserts that this 13 was to clarify that the city was not waiving the suspension
14 of collective bargaining under Public Act 436, but the city
15 cannot announce to creditors that the meetings were not 16 negotiations and then assert to this Court that those same
17 meetings amounted to good faith negotiations.

18 Finally, the format of the meetings were primarily 19 presentational, informational, to different groups of 20 creditors with different issues and gave little opportunity
21 for creditor input or substantive discussion.

22 Accordingly, the Court concludes that the city has 23 not established by a preponderance of the evidence that it
24 has satisfied the requirements for good faith negotiations.

25 Congress adopted Section 109(c) (5) (C) specifically

1 to cover situations in which a very large body of creditors
2 would render pre-filing negotiations impracticable. Several
3 cases suggest that the impracticability requirement must be 4 satisfied based -- or excuse me -- may be satisfied based on 5 the sheer number of creditors involved. The list of 6 creditors of the City of Detroit is over 3,500 pages. It
7 lists over 100,000 creditors. The city estimates over 20,000
8 individual retirees are owed pension funds. The Court is 9 satisfied that when Congress enacted the impracticability
10 section, it foresaw precisely a situation like that which 11 faces the City of Detroit. The sheer size of the debt and 12 the number of individual creditors made pre-bankruptcy
13 negotiation impracticable, impossible really.

14 There are, however, several other circumstances that 15 also support a finding of impracticability. First, although 16 several unions have now come forward that they are the 17 natural representatives of the retirees, these same unions
18 asserted in response to the city's pre-filing inquiries that 19 they could not and did not represent retirees. These 20 responses sent a clear message to the city that the unions
21 would not negotiate on behalf of retirees.

22 Several voluntary associations of retirees also
23 assert that they are the natural representatives of retirees.
24 However, none assert that they can bind individual retirees
25 absent some sort of cumbersome class action litigation. As

1 Donald Taylor testified, ultimately it would be up to the
2 individual members of the association to decide if they would
3 accept or reject an offer.

4 Further, several witnesses who testified on behalf
5 of the retiree associations made their positions clear that
6 they would not have negotiated a reduction in accrued pension
7 benefits because they consider them to be fully protected by 8 state law. It is impracticable to negotiate with a group
9 that asserts that their position is immutable. As the Court
10 stated in Stockton, "It is impracticable to negotiate with a 11 stone wall."

12 Finally, the city has demonstrated that time was 13 quickly running out on its liquidity. Accordingly, the Court
14 finds that pre-filing negotiations were impracticable.

15 The last requirement for eligibility is set forth in 16 Bankruptcy Code Section 921(c). That section provides,
17 quote, "After any objection to the petition, the court, after 18 notice and a hearing, may dismiss the petition if the debtor
19 did not file the petition in bad faith -- excuse me -- in 20 good faith," close quote. The city's alleged bad faith in 21 filing its Chapter 9 petition was a central issue in the 22 eligibility trial. Indeed, in one form or another all of the 23 objecting parties have taken the position that the city did
24 not file its Chapter 9 petition in good faith and that this 25 Court should exercise its discretion to dismiss this case.

1 As will be explained, the Court finds that the totality of
2 circumstances coupled with the presumption of good faith
3 which arises because the city has proven each of the elements
4 of eligibility under Section 109(c) establishes that the city
5 filed its petition in good faith under 921(c).

6 In a moment, the Court will review the factors upon
7 which it relies in finding that the city filed this case in 8 bad -- in good faith. First, however, the Court considers it
9 crucial to this process to give voice to what it understands
10 is the narrative supporting the objecting parties' argument
11 that the City of Detroit did not file this case in good
12 faith. The Court will then explain why there is some support
13 in the record for this narrative. After that, the Court will 14 then explain why it still finds that the city filed this 15 petition in good faith. It must be recognized that the 16 narrative that the Court describes here is a composite of the 17 objecting parties' presentation on this issue. No single 18 objecting party neatly laid out this precise version with all
19 of its features described here. Moreover, it includes the 20 perceptions of not only several of the objecting parties 21 whose objections were filed by attorneys, but also many of 22 the individual objecting parties. This description does not 23 contain the Court's findings. It is only the Court's
24 perception of a compositive narrative -- excuse me --
25 composite narrative that appears to ground the objectors'

1 various bad faith arguments.

2 According to this composite narrative of the lead-up
3 to the bankruptcy filing on July 18, 2013, the City of 4 Detroit's bankruptcy was the intended consequence of a long-
5 term strategic plan. The goal of this bankruptcy, according 6 to this narrative, was the impairment of pension rights
7 through a bankruptcy filing by the city. Its genesis, the 8 narrative goes, was hatched in a Law Review article that two
9 Jones Day attorneys wrote. This is significant because Jones
10 Day later became not only the city's attorneys in the case
11 but the law firm from which the city's emergency manager was 12 hired. The article laid out in detail the legal road map for 13 using bankruptcy to impair municipal pensions. The objectors
14 believe that the plan was executed by the top officials of 15 the State of Michigan and the state's legal and financial 16 consultants. The goals of the plan included also lining the 17 professionals' pockets while extending the power of the state
18 government at the expense of the people of the City of 19 Detroit. In this narrative, there may even be a racial 20 element to the plan. The plan participants foresaw the 21 rejection of PA 4, according to this narrative, coming in the 22 November 2012 election, and so work began on PA 436 even
23 before that. As a result, it only took 14 days to enact PA
24 436 after it was introduced in the legislature's post-
25 election lame duck session. PA 436 was also enacted contrary

1 to the will of the people of the State of Michigan, as just
2 expressed in their rejection of PA 4. The plan included
3 inserting into PA 436 two very minor appropriations
4 provisions so that the law would not be subject to the 5 people's right of referendum and would not risk the same fate
6 as PA 4 had just experienced. The plan also saw the value in 7 enticing a bankruptcy attorney to become the emergency
8 manager even though he did not have the qualifications
9 required by PA 436. Another important part of the plan,
10 according to this narrative, was for the state government to 11 starve the city of cash by reducing its revenue sharing, by 12 refusing to pay the city millions of promised dollars, and by 13 imposing on the city a heavy financial burden of expensive
14 professionals. It also included suppressing information
15 about the value of the city's assets. The narrative
16 continues that this plan also required active concealment and 17 even deception. One purpose was to deny creditors,
18 especially those whose retirement benefits would be at risk
19 from such a filing, from effectively acting to protect those 20 interests. This concealment and deception were accomplished,
21 the narrative goes, through a public relations campaign that
22 deliberately misstated the ultimate objective of PA 436,
23 downplayed the likelihood of bankruptcy, asserted an unfunded
24 pension liability amount that was based on misleading and 25 incomplete data and analysis, understated the city's ability

1 to meet that liability, and obscured the vulnerability of 2 pensions in bankruptcy. It also included imposing an
3 improper requirement to sign a confidentiality and release
4 agreement as a condition of accessing financial information
5 in the data room. As the bankruptcy filing approached, the 6 narrative states that a necessary part of the plan became to 7 engage with creditors only the minimum necessary so that the 8 Court could later assert in -- so that the city could later
9 assert in Bankruptcy Court that it attempted to negotiate in 10 good faith. The plan, however, was not to engage in 11 meaningful pre-petition negotiations with the creditors
12 because successful negotiation might thwart the plan to file
13 a bankruptcy. "Check a box" was the phrase that some 14 objecting parties used for this.

15 The penultimate moment that represented the 16 successful culmination of the plan was the bankruptcy filing
17 itself. In this narrative, this was accomplished in secrecy
18 and a day before the planned date in order to prevent the 19 retirees who were at that moment in state court pursuing 20 their available state law remedies to protect their 21 constitutional pension rights. "In the dark of the night"
22 was the phrase used to describe the actual timing of the 23 filing. The phrase refers to the secrecy surrounding the 24 filing and captures in shorthand the assertion that the 25 petition was filed to avoid an imminent adverse ruling in the

1 Webster case in state court.

2 The oft repeated phrase that was important to the 3 objectors' theory of the city's bad faith was "foregone
4 conclusion." This was used in the assertion that Detroit's
5 bankruptcy case was a foregone conclusion perhaps as early as 6 January 2013, perhaps even earlier.

7 Finally, post-petition the plan also necessitated
8 the assertion of the common interest privilege to protect it
9 and its participants from disclosure. The Court must 10 emphasize again now that what the Court just summarized is 11 what it believes is the viewpoint of the objecting parties.
12 Those were not the Court's findings.

13 The Court will now, however, turn to its evaluation
14 of this viewpoint of bad faith on the city's part in filing
15 this case. The Court acknowledges that many people in 16 Detroit hold to this narrative or at least to substantial
17 parts of it. The Court further recognizes, on the other 18 hand, that state and city officials vehemently deny any such 19 improper motives or tactics as this theory attributes to 20 them. They contend that this case was filed for the proper
21 desire and necessary purpose of restructuring the city's 22 debts, including its pension debt, through a plan of 23 adjustment. Indeed, the Court has already found that the 24 city does desire to effect a plan of adjustment. The Court
25 finds, however, that in some particulars the record does

1 support the objectors' view of the reality that led to this
2 bankruptcy filing. It is, however, not nearly supported
3 enough -- in enough particulars for this Court to find that
4 the filing was in bad faith. For example, Howard Ryan
5 testified that the appropriations provision of PA 436 was 6 added to evade a referendum. An e-mail from Kevyn Orr was to 7 the same effect. The Jones Day pitch book from January 2013
8 laid out the scenario for this bankruptcy case, and Mr. Orr
9 was, after all, a bankruptcy lawyer, and his associates at 10 Jones Day did write the legal road map for this back in 2011.
11 And at the June 10 public meeting, Mr. Orr did mislead the 12 public about the status of pensions in bankruptcy as well as 13 about the chances of filing bankruptcy. The issue that such 14 evidence presents, however, is how to evaluate it in the 15 context of the good faith issue. One important question
16 raised, for example, is during the lead-up, was the City of 17 Detroit's bankruptcy filing a foregone conclusion as the 18 objecting parties assert. The answer is, yes, of course it
19 was, for a long time. Even if it was a foregone conclusion,
20 experience with both individuals and businesses in financial 21 distress establish that they often wait longer to file a
22 bankruptcy than is in their interests. Detroit was no
23 exception. Its financial crisis had been worsening for 24 decades, and it could have and should have filed bankruptcy
25 long before it did, perhaps even years before. Certainly the

1 Court must conclude that the bankruptcy -- that the
2 bankruptcy filing by the City of Detroit was a foregone
3 conclusion during all of 2013, but waiting too long does not
4 suggest bad faith.

5 Perhaps it would have been more consistent with our 6 democratic ideals and with the economic and social needs of 7 the city if its officials and state officials had openly and 8 forthrightly recognized the need for filing bankruptcy when 9 that need first arose. It is, after all, not bad faith to 10 file bankruptcy when it is needed, and city officials could 11 also avoided the appearances of pretext negotiations and the 12 resulting mistrust by simply announcing honestly that the 13 city is insolvent, that it needs to file bankruptcy, and that 14 negotiations would not even be attempted because it would be 15 impracticable. The law clearly permits that and for good
16 reason. It avoids the very delay and worse the very 17 suspicion and bad feeling that resulted here. The Court must 18 acknowledge some truth in the factual basis of the objectors'
19 claim that this case was not filed in good faith.

20 Nevertheless, for strong reasons that the Court will state
21 next, it finds that this case was filed in good faith and 22 should not be dismissed.

23 Number one, the Court finds that the city's 24 financial problems are of a type contemplated for Chapter 9
25 relief. The Court's finding here is based on its finding

1 that the city is insolvent and that the city was unable to
2 negotiate with creditors because that negotiation was
3 impracticable.

4 Number two, the city's filings are consistent with 5 the remedial purpose of Chapter 9. The Court's analysis on 6 this factor is based on its finding that the city desires to 7 effect a plan to adjust its debts. To show bad faith on this 8 factor, the evidence must establish that the purpose of the 9 filing of the Chapter 9 was not simply to buy time or --
10 excuse me -- to show good faith on this factor, the evidence
11 must establish that the purpose of the filing was not simply 12 to buy time or evade creditors. Notably, this argument was 13 not raised by the objectors in any pleadings or at trial, and 14 there's no evidence. The objectors do assert that the city
15 filed this petition to avoid a bad state court ruling in the 16 Webster litigation. They argue this is indicative of bad
17 faith. This argument is also rejected. It is quite common
18 for creditor lawsuits to precipitate bankruptcy filings.
19 That the lawsuits were in vindication of an important right
20 under the state Constitution does not change this result.
21 They were still suits to enforce creditors' claims against a
22 debtor that could not pay those claims. The objectors also 23 argue that the city filed the petition so that its pension
24 obligations could be impaired, and this is inconsistent with 25 the remedial purpose of bankruptcy. Again, discharging debt

1 is what motivates every debtor that files bankruptcy, and
2 that motivation does not suggest bad faith.

3 Three, the city made efforts to improve the state of 4 its finances prior to filing to no avail. Although the Court
5 finds that the city did not engage in good faith negotiations
6 with its creditors, the Court does find that the city did
7 make some efforts to improve its financial condition before
8 filing its Chapter 9 petition, which resulted in some 9 savings, as stated earlier. No objecting parties have 10 suggested any other measure that the city could have taken to 11 relieve its financial stress other than selling assets, but,
12 as stated earlier, that would not have solved any long-term
13 financial problems. The fact that the city did not consider 14 any alternatives to Chapter 9 in the period leading up to the 15 filing does not indicate bad faith either. By that time, all 16 of the measures that the city had attempted had largely 17 failed to resolve the problem of the city's cash flow
18 insolvency.

19 Four, the residents of the City of Detroit will be 20 severely prejudiced if this case is dismissed. The Court
21 concludes that this factor is of paramount importance in this 22 case. The city's debt and cash flow insolvency is causing 23 its nearly 700,000 residents to suffer hardship. As already 24 discussed at length, the city is service delivery insolvent.
25 Without the protection of Chapter 9, the city will be forced

1 to continue on the path that it was on until it filed this
2 case. In order to free up cash for day-to-day operations,
3 the city would have to continue to borrow money, defer
4 capital investments, and shrink its workforce. This solution
5 has proven unworkable. It is also dangerous for its 6 residents. This factor weighs heavily in favor of finding
7 good faith.

8 Accordingly, the Court concludes that the city's 9 petition was filed in good faith and the petition is not
10 subject to dismissal under Section 921(c). The Court
11 accordingly concludes that under Section 109(c) the City of 12 Detroit may be a debtor under Chapter 9 of the Bankruptcy
13 Code. The Court will enter an order for relief forthwith as 14 required by Section 921(d). The Court reminds all interested
15 parties that this eligibility determination is merely a
16 preliminary matter in this bankruptcy case. The city's 17 ultimate objective is the confirmation of a plan of 18 adjustment. It has stated on the record its intent to 19 achieve that objective with all deliberate speed and to file
20 a plan shortly. Accordingly, the Court strongly encourages
21 the parties to begin to negotiate or, if they have already 22 begun, to continue to negotiate with a view toward a
23 consensual plan.

24 The Court recognizes and understands, to the extent
25 it can, the widespread anguish and distress that this

1 decision to permit the city's bankruptcy to proceed may cause
2 to the city's employees and retirees as well as their
3 families. The Court, therefore, implores with all urgency
4 those who administer our social safety net, our governor who 5 authorized this case, our state government leaders, our civic 6 and business leaders, our religious and charitable
7 organizations, to focus yet greater attention on the real
8 human needs that will arise because of the city's bankruptcy.

9 The message of this bankruptcy is that the city does
10 not have enough money to properly care for its residents let 11 alone to pay its debts, and, unfortunately, that economic 12 fact would be true even if pensions did have the legal 13 protection that the city's employees and retirees seek here,
14 and that's the very wisdom of the bankruptcy law. It
15 recognizes that people, businesses, and even municipalities
16 can't print money, and it tries to provide an equitable and 17 hopeful solution.

18 It is, indeed, a momentous day. We have here a
19 judicial finding that this once proud and prosperous city
20 can't pay its debts. It's insolvent. It's eligible for 21 bankruptcy. At the same time, it also has an opportunity for 22 a fresh start. I hope that everyone associated with the city
23 will embrace that opportunity.

24 Under Section 921(e) of the Bankruptcy Code, there
25 is no stay of this finding. The Court understands that one

1 or more parties may seek an appeal of this directly to the 2 Court of Appeals. The Court would ask that any such request
3 be made promptly by motion.

4 Is it still the city's intent to file a plan by 5 year-end?

6 MR. HEIMAN: Your Honor, we're not quite certain.
7 I'm sorry. David Heiman for the city. We're still working
8 on our timeline but obviously mindful of your prior request
9 that we file before March 1, so we hope to be well within 10 that request.

11 THE COURT: All right. Thank you, sir.

12 MR. HEIMAN: Thank you.

13 THE COURT: Is there anything else that anyone would 14 like to raise at this time? No. We'll be in recess.

15 THE CLERK: All rise. Court is in recess.
