ORDER AND RECOMMENDATION OF THE MAGISTRATE JUDGE

On November 20, 2012, Plaintiff, an inmate incarcerated at the Easterling Correctional Facility located in Clio, Alabama, filed the instant civil rights action. He requests leave to proceed in this action in forma pauperis. See 28 U.S.C. § 1915(a).

Pursuant to the directives of 28 U.S.C. § 1915(g), a prisoner is not allowed to bring a civil action or proceed on appeal in forma pauperis if he “has, on 3 or more occasions, while incarcerated or detained in any facility, brought an action or appeal in a court of the United States that was dismissed on the grounds that it is frivolous, malicious, or fails to state a claim upon which relief may be granted, unless the prisoner is under imminent danger of serious physical injury.”¹

¹ In Rivera v. Allin, 144 F.3d 719, 731 (11th Cir. 1998), the court determined that the “three strikes” provision of 28 U.S.C. § 1915(g), which requires frequent filer prisoner indigents to prepay the entire filing fee before federal courts may consider their cases and appeals, “does not violate the First Amendment right to access the courts; the separation of judicial and legislative powers; the Fifth Amendment right to due process of law; or the Fourteenth Amendment right to equal protection, as incorporated through the Fifth Amendment.”

I. DISCUSSION

The undersigned takes judicial notice of federal court records,² which establish that Plaintiff, while incarcerated or detained, has had on at least three occasions civil actions and/or appeals dismissed as frivolous, malicious, for failure to state a claim and/or for asserting claims against defendants who were immune from suit pursuant to the provisions of 28 U.S.C. § 1915. The cases on which this court relies in finding a violation of § 1915(g) include (1) Johnson v. Reno, et al., Civil Action No. 2:95cv1107-ID (M.D. Ala. 1995); (complaint frivolous); (2) Johnson v. Giles, et al., Civil Action No. 2:09cv339-WKW (M.D. Ala. 2009) (complaint frivolous); and (3) Johnson v. State of Alabama, et al., Civil Action No. 1:10cv401-TMH (M.D. Ala. 2010) (complaint and appeal frivolous).³

Plaintiff brings this civil rights action against the United States Postal Service and various officers and employees for the destruction of his property placed in the mail in September 2011 while he was incarcerated at the Ventress Correctional Facility in Clayton, Alabama. Plaintiff requests trial by jury and seeks monetary damages. Doc. No. 1.

This court has carefully reviewed the claims presented in the instant action. Even construing all allegations in favor of Plaintiff, the claims in his complaint do not entitle him to avoid the bar of 28 U.S.C. § 1915(g), because they do not allege or in any way indicate that he was “under imminent danger of serious physical injury” at the time he filed this cause of action, as is required to meet the imminent-danger exception to application of § 1915(g). Medberry v. Butler, 185 F.3d 1189 (11th Cir. 1999); see Abdul-Akbar v. McKelvie, 239 F.3d 307, 315 (3rd Cir. 2001) (“By using the term ‘imminent,’ Congress indicated that it wanted to include a safety valve for the ‘three strikes’ rule to prevent impending harms, not those harms that had already occurred.”).

² In evaluating whether Plaintiff has three strikes, the court may properly take judicial notice of pleadings and orders in a previous case when the orders are public records and are “not subject to reasonable dispute because they [are] capable of accurate and ready determination by resort to sources whose accuracy could not reasonably be questioned.” Horne v. Potter, 392 Fed. App’x 800, 802 (11th Cir. 2010).

Based on the foregoing, the court concludes that Plaintiff’s motion for leave to proceed in forma pauperis should be denied and this case dismissed without prejudice for Plaintiff’s failure to pay the requisite $350.00 filing fee upon the initiation of this cause of action. Dupree v. Palmer, 284 F.3d 1234, 1236 (11th Cir. 2002) (emphasis in original) (“[T]he proper procedure is for the district court to dismiss the complaint without prejudice when it denies the prisoner leave to proceed in forma pauperis pursuant to the provisions of § 1915(g)” because the prisoner “must pay the filing fee at the time he initiates the suit.”).

II. CONCLUSION

In light of the foregoing, it is ORDERED that the motion for leave to proceed in forma pauperis filed by Plaintiff on November 20, 2012 (Doc. No. 2), is DENIED.

It is the RECOMMENDATION of the Magistrate Judge that this case be DISMISSED without prejudice for Plaintiff’s failure to pay the full filing fee upon the initiation of this case.

It is further

ORDERED that Plaintiff may file an objection to the Recommendation on or before August 22, 2013. Any objection filed must specifically identify the findings in the Magistrate Judge's Recommendation to which Plaintiff objects. Frivolous, conclusive or general objections will not be considered by the District Court. Plaintiff is advised that this Recommendation is not a final order of the court and, therefore, it is not appealable.

Failure to file a written objection to the proposed findings and advisements in the Magistrate Judge's Recommendation shall bar the party from a de novo determination by the District Court of issues covered in the Recommendation and shall bar the party from attacking on appeal factual findings in the Recommendation accepted or adopted by the District Court except upon grounds of plain error or manifest injustice. Nettles v. Wainwright, 677 F.2d 404 (5th Cir. 1982). See Stein v. Reynolds Securities, Inc., 667 F.2d 33 (11th Cir. 1982). See also Bonner v. City of Prichard, 661 F.2d 1206 (11th Cir. 1981) (en banc), adopting as binding precedent all of the decisions of the former Fifth Circuit handed down prior to the close of business on September 30, 1981.

Done this 9th day of August, 2013.
