SOILWORKS, LLC'S RESPONSE TO MIDWEST INDUSTRIAL SUPPLY,
 INC.'S MOTION IN LIMINE (DOC.
 #103) TO BAR EVIDENCE
 CONCERNING SOILWORKS, LLC'S COSTS

(Before the Honorable David G. Campbell)

17 Midwest's Motion in Limine to Bar Evidence Concerning Soilworks, LLC's Costs
 18 ("Motion") is disingenuous and must be denied. Midwest's Motion, on its face, along with 19 the Exhibit attached thereto, demonstrates why its Motion must be denied. The discovery
 20 requests attached to Midwest's Motion are clearly overbroad, overreaching and improper
 21 under the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. Midwest sought information with respect to 22 Soilworks' business that went far beyond the scope of the dispute between the two parties
 23 inasmuch as Midwest never even attempted to limit its discovery requests to the Soilworks'
 24 products which are at issue in this case, namely Durasoil, Soiltac, and Gorilla Snot.

25 Soilworks properly interposed objections to these discovery requests and Midwest did
 26 not challenge those objections.

27 Further, and perhaps more importantly, Midwest was granted access to, and 28 photocopied, virtually every piece of paper maintained by Soilworks in all of its files at its

1    only office in Gilbert, Arizona. In addition, Soilworks computed its sales and costs of good
2    sold for its Soiltac and Gorilla Snot products for the years 2003 through 2007, and this
3    information has been provided to Midwest.

4        For reasons set forth in Soilworks' own Motions in Limine, none of Soilworks' sales
5    information is relevant to any of the remaining issues in this case, and should not be offered
6    into evidence in any event. If, however, Soilworks' sale information is admitted, its costs
7    and expenses related to such sales must also be admitted.

8        Dated this 24th day of September, 2008.
