Are you a victim of defamation?

Are you the type of person who prefers action and negotiating from a position of strength? If you answered yes, you are. This organization takes direct action by protesting against those who defame others on the Internet and believe that they have impunity..

We have proven that results are in the power of numbers. The answer is constant protest and complaining to ISPs and putting pressure on those who feel they have the right to trash others reputations.

We protest the people who defame others and host defaming websites. We work to shut their hosting companies and making repeated requests for information by phone, email and chat. In short we make it hard on these people any way we can remove the offending material.

252 requests to change, sandbox or remove defaming material have been made. 248 have complied. 4 protests are in progress.
