

1 defendant pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 24(a) and (b).¹ As grounds
2 therefor, Senator Pearce states as follows:

4 MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

5 I. Introduction

6 In this case, Plaintiff, the United States of America, requests that this Court
7 declare invalid and preliminarily and permanently enjoin enforcement of Senate Bill
8 1070, as amended, on grounds that it is preempted by federal law and therefore violates 9 the Supremacy Clause of the United States Constitution (“SB 1070”).

10 Proposed Intervenor/Defendant Russell Pearce is an Arizona State Senator and the 11 sole legislative author and chief sponsor of the SB 1070. Senator Pearce seeks to enter 12 this lawsuit on the side of the Defendants in order to defend SB 1070 as enacted by the 13 Arizona Legislature. Intervention by Senator Pearce will ensure his interests, as the 14 author and chief sponsor of SB 1070 as well as a member of the Arizona Senate, are 15 presented and argued in the record for consideration before this Court.
16

17 II. Background

18 On April 23, 2010, Defendant Janice K. Brewer, Governor of the State of Arizona, 19 signed SB 1070 into law. On April 30, 2010, Governor Brewer signed House Bill (“HB

24 this motion as contemplated in Rule 24(c). If this motion is granted, Senator Pearce
25 intends to file a motion to dismiss or answer at the appropriate time.

1 2162”), which amended various provisions of SB 1070. SB 1070, as amended, is 2 scheduled to take effect on July 29, 2010.

3 Plaintiff, the United States of America, filed its Complaint on July 6, 2010, less
4 than three weeks before SB 1070 is to take effect, and more than two months after the bill
5 was signed into law. In the Complaint, Plaintiff asserts that SB 1070 violates the 6 Supremacy Clause of the United States Constitution, is preempted by federal law, and 7 violates the Commerce Clause of the United States Constitution. Also on July 6, 2010,
8 Plaintiff filed a Motion for Preliminary Injunction, requesting that the Court preliminarily
9 enjoin enforcement of SB 1070 to preserve the status quo until this matter can be 10 adjudicated.
12

13 The defendants in this lawsuit are the State of Arizona and Janice K. Brewer, 14 Governor of the State of Arizona, in her official capacity. By order dated July 7, 2010,
15 the Court ordered Defendants to file their response to Plaintiff’s Motion for Preliminary 16 Injunction by July 20, 2010. Plaintiff waived its right to a reply, and the hearing on the 17 Motion for Preliminary Injunction is scheduled for July 22, 2010.
18

19 III. Proposed Intervenor

20 Russell Pearce is the State Senator for the 18th Legislative District of Arizona and 21 has been in the legislature since 2001. During his years in the Arizona Senate, Senator
22 Pearce has authored numerous legislative bills and propositions similar to SB 1070.
23 Several examples of Senator Pearce’s initiatives are: Arizona’s Fair and Legal 24 Employment Act and Arizona’s Employer Sanctions legislation, which protect jobs for 25 citizens of Arizona from persons unlawfully present in the United States; Proposition

1 100, which is a Constitutional Amendment to refuse bond to any person unlawfully
2 present in the United States who commits a serious crime in Arizona; Proposition 102,
3 which requires that a person unlawfully present in the United States who sues an 4 American citizen cannot receive punitive damages; and Proposition 200, the “Arizona
5 Taxpayers and Citizens Protection Act.”

7 Besides authoring, sponsoring and voting for SB 1070, Senator Pearce also was an 8 officer of the Maricopa County Sheriff’s Office for twenty-three years and rose to the 9 rank of Chief Deputy Sheriff. As a former law enforcement official, Senator Pearce 10 understands what is necessary to protect the safety of all Arizonians. Based on his 11 experience, Senator Pearce authored SB 1070 to provide local law enforcement with 12 additional tools to protect the citizens of Arizona.
13

14 To further the interests of his legislative district and all citizens of Arizona,
15 Senator Pearce authored SB 1070. On January 13, 2010, Senator Pearce introduced SB 16 1070 into the Arizona Senate. Over several months, Senator Pearce worked with his 17 colleagues to enact a statutory scheme that made SB 1070 the public policy of all state
18 and local government agencies in Arizona. Senator Pearce was the chief sponsor of SB 19 1070 and voted in favor of its passage. Senator Pearce’s efforts came to fruition when 20 Governor Brewer signed SB 1070 and HB 2762 into law.
21

22 IV. SENATOR PEARCE IS ENTITLED TO INTERVENE AS A MATTER OF 23 RIGHT.

24 Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 24(a)(2) provides that:

25 On timely motion, the court must permit anyone to intervene who: (1) is given an unconditional right to intervene by

1 federal statute; or (2) claims an interest relating to the 2 property or transaction that is the subject of the action, and is 3 so situated that disposing of the action may as a practical 4 matter impair or impede the movant's ability to protect its interest, unless existing parties adequately represent that

5 The Ninth Circuit has stated the test for intervention of right as follows:

6 (1) the intervention must be timely; (2) the applicant has a 7 significant protectable interest relating to the property or 8 transaction that is the subject matter of the action; (3) the 9 disposition of the action may, as a practical matter, impair or 10 impede the applicant's ability to protect its interest; and (4)
the existing parties may not adequately represent the applicant's interest.

11 Prete v. Bradbury, 438 F.3d 949, 954 (9th Cir. 2006). This intervention test is to be 12 "broadly construed in favor of applicants for intervention." United States ex rel.

13 McGough v. Covington Technologies Co., 967 F.2d 1391, 1394 (9th Cir. 1992).

14 A. Intervention is timely.

15 Plaintiff filed its Complaint and its Motion for Preliminary Injunction on July 6, 16 2010. Defendants have until July 20 to respond. This motion is submitted just over one 17 week after the Complaint and motion were filed, and nearly one week prior to when 18 Defendant's response is due. See Prete, 438 F.3d at 954 (motion to intervene filed six
19 days after plaintiff brought action was timely); Kozak v. Wells, 278 F.2d 104, 109 (8th 20 Cir. 1960) (a filing for intervention that occurs before the case is truly at issue is 21 considered timely). Moreover, Senator Pearce should not be penalized because Plaintiff 22 waited more than two months before filing suit.
23
25

1 B. Senator Pearce Has a Direct and Protectable Interest.

2 As the sole legislative author and driving force behind the enactment of SB 1070,
3 Senator Pearce has the right to defend it. It is not unusual for a court to allow legislators
4 to intervene in defense of a statute. See Karcher v. May, 479 U.S. 72, 82 (1987)
5 (legislators could intervene to defend an act passed by the New Jersey legislature);
6 Coleman v. Miller, 307 U.S. 433, 438 (1939); Yniguez v. State of Arizona, 939 F.2d 727,
7 732 (9th Cir. 1991) (“[T]he Supreme Court held that state legislators who intervened in 8 their official capacities to defend a lawsuit challenging the constitutionality of a statute”
9 only lacked standing after they left office); Flores v. State of Arizona, Case No. CV-92-10 596-TUC-RCC (D. Ariz.) (Order of March 15, 2006 (Dkt. Entry No. 390)) (granting 11 legislators’ motion for permissive intervention); Powell v. Ridge, 247 F.3d 520, 522 (3rd 12 Cir. 2001) (granting leaders of the legislature motion to intervene as defendants to 13 “articulate to the Court the unique perspective of the legislative branch of the 14 Pennsylvania government.”); Clairton Sportsmen’s Club v. Pennsylvania Turnpike
15 Comm., 882 F. Supp. 455, 462-463 (W.D. Pa. 1995) (permitting intervention of state
16 legislators to submit briefs and make arguments concerning the decision to build a 17 highway system); see also Sagebrush Rebellion, Inc. v. Watt, 713 F.2d 525, 528 (9th Cir.
18 1983) (a public interest group that merely supported a ballot initiative has a “significant 19 protectable interest” in defending legality of the measure). Based on the long-standing
20 Supreme Court precedent as well as the precedent of this circuit, Senator Pearce has a 21 right to intervene as a defendant on account of his role not just as a legislator who voted 22 in favor of the bill, but in particular as the author and chief sponsor of SB 1070. Senator
23
25

1 Pearce has worked exhaustively in seeing SB 1070 become law. He has a direct interest
2 in seeing that the law, including all provisions of SB 1070, as amended, are defended
3 consistent with his objectives as the author and chief sponsor of the law.

5 Plaintiff has acknowledged the vital role Senator Pearce has played in the 6 enactment of SB 1070. In its memorandum in support of its motion for preliminary 7 injunction, Plaintiff singles out Senator Pearce as instrumental in authoring the 8 legislation. See “Plaintiff’s Motion for Preliminary Injunction and Memorandum of Law 9 in Support Thereof” at 38, fn. 34. In fact, Senator Pearce is the only state legislator in 10 which Plaintiff singles out in its fifty-four page memorandum. Senator Pearce, as author
11 of the legislation, has experience and knowledge different from Defendants and any other 12 interested party. It is because Senator Pearce was author and chief sponsor of SB 13 1070 that it is necessary for him to appear in this action.
14

15 C. The Disposition in This Case Will Directly Affect Senator Pearce.

16 An unfavorable disposition in this action will directly affect Senator Pearce, as the 17 author and chief sponsor of SB 1070. Senator Pearce’s significant efforts, in authoring
18 and shepherding SB 1070 to enactment, will be for naught if the Court rules in favor of 19 Plaintiff. See Natural Resources Defense Council, Inc. v. U.S. Nuclear Regulatory 20 Comm’n, 578 F.2d 1341, 1345 (10th Cir. 1978) (“[a] question of impairment is not 21 separate from the question of existence of an interest.”).
22

23 D. Adequacy of Representation

24 The burden under this prong has been described as “minimal,” as a party seeking 25 to intervene needs to show only that representation of his interest “may be inadequate.”

1 Natural Resources Defense Council, 578 F.2d at 1345; Trbovich v. UMW, 404 U.S. 528,
2 538 n.10 (1972). As the Sixth Circuit has held:

3 [T]he applicant [for intervention] should be treated as the best
4 judge of whether the existing parties adequately represent his 5 or her interests, and that any doubt regarding adequacy of 6 representation should be resolved in favor of the proposed 7 intervenors.

7 Stupak-Thrall v. Glickman, 226 F.3d 467, 482 (6th Cir. 2000).

8 In this case, Senator Pearce is concerned that defendants may not adequately
9 represent his interests, both as a member of the legislature, and in particular as the author
10 and chief sponsor of SB 1070. First, this case is unusual as the law is being defended not 11 by the Arizona Attorney General, but by a private law firm retained by the Governor. At 12 a minimum, this raises questions as to whether the law will be defended consistent with 13 the views of the legislature, and in particular Senator Pearce, who authored SB 1070 and 14 shepherded it through to enactment.

15 Moreover, Senator Pearce has noted that the Governor's likely legal defense of SB 16 1070 does not address certain aspects of the law that Senator Pearce views as critical.
17 For instance, the pleadings submitted by the Governor in other cases (Friendly House v.
18 Whiting, No. 10-1061-PHX-JWS (D. Az.) (Dkt Entry 208 filed June 18, 2010, 19 Intervenor-Defendant Governor Brewer); Salgado v. Brewer, No. 10-951-PHX-ROS (D.
20 Az.) (Dkt Entry 39 filed June 11, 2010, Governor Brewer's Motion to Dismiss), do not 21 address the key issue of severability. Plaintiffs in these other cases are seeking to have 22 SB 1070 struck down in its entirety for various constitutional reasons. To date, however,
23 the Governor has not addressed the significance of the severability clause included in SB

1 1070 by Senator Pearce, which provides that any provision found to be unconstitutional
2 should be severed from the remainder of SB 1070. This provision of the legislation,
3 which is of particular significance to Senator Pearce, is just one example of how this
4 intervention in defense of SB 1070 is important to ensure that his interests are adequately
5 defended.

7 As the author and chief sponsor of SB 1070, Senator Pearce has unique interest in 8 and perspective on SB 1070, and he is entitled to assist in its defense.

9 V. Permissive Intervention Should Be Granted.

10 Fed. R. Civ. P. 24(b)(1) governs permissive intervention and provides:

11
12 On timely motion, the Court may permit anyone to intervene
13 who: (A) is given a conditional right to intervene by a federal 14 statute; or (B) has a claim or defense that shares with the main action a common question of law or fact.

15 This test is met here. As shown above, Senator Pearce, from his unique position as 16 author and chief sponsor of SB 1070, has a defense to the main action that shares both 17 common questions of law and fact, albeit with a different perspective as described above.
18 The Court will need to examine the same law and the same facts to adjudicate these 19 claims.

20 Rule 24(b)(3) requires the Court to consider whether permissive intervention 21 would cause undue delay or prejudice the adjudication of the rights of the existing 22 parties. In this instance, as described above, there will be neither prejudice or delay.
23 Senator Pearce intends to comply with briefing schedule already in place in this matter,

1 and his addition as a defendant will not affect the scheduling of this case in any way.

2 Thus, at a minimum, Senator Pearce should be granted permissive intervention.

3 VI. Senator Pearce Requests that the Court Expedite its Consideration of the 4 Motion for Permissive Intervention.

5 Senator Pearce respectfully seeks a ruling on his Motion for Intervention in 6 advance of July 20, 2010. While Senator Pearce recognizes the limited time remaining
7 before this date, he submits that this accelerated schedule was necessitated by Plaintiff's
8 decision in this case not to file its motion for preliminary relief until less than three weeks
9 before SB 1070 takes effect.
10

11 As the author and chief sponsor of SB 1070, Senator Pearce seeks to ensure his 12 interests are presented and argued in the record for consideration before this Court. To 13 that end, Senator Pearce seeks to file a response to Plaintiff's Motion for Preliminary 14 Injunction by July 20, 2010 and be permitted to participate in oral argument on July 22, 15 2010.

1 VII. Conclusion

2 For the forgoing reasons, Senator Pearce respectfully requests that this Court grant
3 leave to Senator Pearce to intervene as a Defendant in this action.
