IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE DISTRICT OF ARIZONA

Dana Lee Pearson,	)	No. CV 12-2212-PHX-DGC (LOA)
Plaintiff,	)	ORDER
vs.	)
Joseph Arpaio, et al.,	)
Defendants.	)

Plaintiff Dana Pearson brought this civil rights action under 42 U.S.C. § 1983 against Maricopa County Sheriff Joseph Arpaio and the Maricopa County Board of Supervisors (Doc. 1). Defendants move to dismiss on the ground that Plaintiff failed to exhaust his administrative remedies (Doc. 14). The Court will grant the motion and dismiss this action without prejudice.<sup>1</sup>

I. Background

Plaintiff’s claims stem from his incarceration in Maricopa County Jails. Plaintiff presents three claims and seeks injunctive, compensatory, and punitive relief. In his first claim, Plaintiff asserts that the intake system is overcrowded, which results in physical combat between pretrial detainees and uninhabitable conditions of confinement. In his second claim, Plaintiff contends that inmates receive spoiled and insufficient nutrition. In <sup>1</sup>The Court issued the Notice required under Wyatt v. Terhune, 315 F.3d 1108, 1120 n. 14 (9th Cir. 2003), which informed Plaintiff of his obligation to respond and the evidence necessary to successfully rebut Defendants’ contentions (Doc. 18).

1 his last claim, Plaintiff alleges that Defendants fail to provide the minimum standards of 2 constitutional shelter in the Maricopa County Jails because the cells are rusty, moldy, lack
3 proper ventilation, filthy, and contain rodents and insects. The Court ordered Defendants to 4 answer the Complaint (Doc. 7) and they move to dismiss all three of Plaintiff's claims
5 (Doc. 14).

6 II. Exhaustion Governing Standard

7 The Prison Litigation Reform Act (PLRA) provides that a prisoner may not bring a 8 lawsuit with respect to prison conditions under § 1983 unless all available administrative 9 remedies have been exhausted. See 42 U.S.C. § 1997e(a); Vaden v. Summerhill, 449 F.3d
10 1047, 1050 (9th Cir. 2006); Brown v. Valoff, 422 F.3d 926, 934-35 (9th Cir. 2005). He must 11 complete the administrative review process in accordance with the applicable rules. See
12 Woodford v. Ngo, 548 U.S. 81, 92 (2006). Exhaustion is required for all suits about prison
13 life, Porter v. Nussle, 534 U.S. 516, 523 (2002), regardless of the type of relief offered
14 through the administrative process, Booth v. Churner, 532 U.S. 731, 741 (2001).

15 Exhaustion is an affirmative defense. Jones v. Bock, 549 U.S. 199, 216 (2007).
16 Defendant bears the burden of raising and proving the absence of exhaustion. Wyatt, 315
17 F.3d at 1119. Because exhaustion is a matter of abatement in an unenumerated Rule 12(b)
18 motion, a court may look beyond the pleadings to decide disputed issues of fact. Id. at 1119-
19 20. Further, a court has broad discretion as to the method to be used in resolving the factual
20 dispute. Ritza v. Int'l Longshoremen's & Warehousemen's Union, 837 F.2d 365, 369 (9th 21 Cir. 1988) (quotation omitted).

22 III. Analysis

23 As articulated above, Defendants have the burden of proving lack of exhaustion and 24 therefore must demonstrate that there were remedies available to Plaintiff. See Wyatt, 315
25 F.3d at 1119; Brown, 422 F.3d at 936-37. It is undisputed that a grievance procedure existed
26 at the jail (Doc 15, Ex. 1; Doc. 19 at 2) and that Plaintiff did not file any grievances during 27 his incarceration (Doc. 15, Hernandez Decl. ¶ 8).
28

1 Plaintiff's primary argument opposing Defendants' motion is that the grievance
2 procedure does not provide the type of relief Plaintiff is seeking and, as a result, forcing him
3 to exhaust "futile formalities" serves no purpose. But futility is not an exception to the 4 exhaustion requirement; Porter squarely held that exhaustion is required for all suits about 5 prison life regardless of the ultimate remedy sought or the type of relief offered through the
6 administrative process. 534 U.S. at 523. This holding ensures that inmates provide prison
7 officials time and opportunity to address complaints internally, which filters out frivolous
8 claims and develops an administrative record. McKinney v. Carey, 311 F.3d 1198, 1200-01
9 (9th Cir. 2002). As a result, Plaintiff's belief that utilizing the grievance procedure would 10 have been futile does not excuse his failure to exhaust.

11 It is true that if Plaintiff was unable to file grievance forms or if he was reliably
12 informed that administrative remedies were not available, exhaustion is not required.
13 Marella v. Terhune, 568 F.3d 1024, 1027 (9th Cir. 2009); Brown v. Valoff, 422 F.3d 926,
14 936 (9th Cir. 2005). But despite Plaintiff's reference to jail policies being "non-grievable," 15 he does not recount a single specific instance where he was denied a grievance form or was 16 prevented from utilizing the grievance procedure for any of his claims. Plaintiff's argument
17 is also contradicted by Defendants' evidence that grievances concerning conditions of 18 confinement are expressly permitted (Doc. 15, Hernandez Decl. ¶ 5).

19 Finally, Defendants disprove Plaintiff's claim that he never received a copy of the 20 jail's grievance procedure by providing a copy of Plaintiff's signature demonstrating receipt
21 of the MCSO Rules and Regulations for Inmates, which includes the jail's grievance
22 procedure (Doc. 21, Ex. 1).

23 In short, none of Plaintiff's arguments presents a valid excuse for failure to exhaust,
24 and his concession to nonexhaustion (Doc. 1 at 3, 4, 5) is dispositive of the issue. Holcomb
25 v. Fleeman, 2007 WL 3231588, at *2 (E.D. Cal. 2007) (inmate's concession that he did not 26 obtain a Director's level decision until after the lawsuit was filed "is fatal to his action")
27 (citing Woodford, 126 S. Ct. at 2383; McKinney, 311 F.3d at 1199-1201). Plaintiff simply 28 failed to utilize the jail's grievance procedure as to the claims presented in his Complaint.

1 Defendants' motion to dismiss will be granted.

2 IT IS ORDERED:

3 (1) The reference to the Magistrate Judge is withdrawn as to Defendants' Motion
4 to Dismiss (Doc. 14).

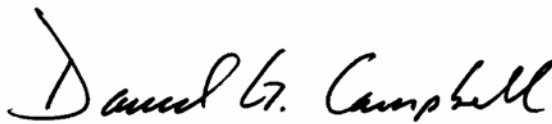

5 (2) Defendants' Motion to Dismiss (Doc. 14) is granted.

6 (3) This action is dismissed without prejudice for failure to exhaust. The Clerk of 7 Court is directed to enter judgment accordingly.

8 (4) For the reasons set forth herein, pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915(a)(3), an appeal
9 from the judgment in this action would not be taken in good faith.
