IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE DISTRICT OF ARIZONA

James Lynn Styers,
Petitioner,
v.
Charles L. Ryan, et al.,
Respondents.

No. CV-12-02332-PHX-JAT
ORDER
DEATH PENALTY CASE

Before the Court is Styers’s Motion to Alter or Amend Judgment. (Doc. 34.) Pursuant to Rule 59(e) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, Styers asks the Court to alter or amend its order and judgment denying his habeas petition. (Docs. 32, 33.) Also before the Court is Styers’s motion for a certificate of appealability. (Doc. 35.) For the reasons set forth below, the motions are denied.

1. Motion to Alter/Amend

A Rule 59(e) motion is an “extraordinary remedy, to be used sparingly in the interests of finality and conservation of judicial resources.” Wood v. Ryan, 759 F.3d 1117, 1121 (9th Cir. 2014) (quoting Kona Enters., Inc. v. Estate of Bishop, 229 F.3d 877, 890 (9th Cir. 2000)). A motion brought under Rule 59(e) should be granted only in “highly unusual circumstances.” Kona, 229 F.3d at 890. It may not be used to raise arguments or present evidence for the first time that reasonably could have been raised earlier, id., nor is it the time “to ask the court to rethink what it has already thought through—rightly or wrongly,” United States v. Rezzonico, 32 F. Supp.2d 1112, 1116 (D.

1 Ariz. 1998) (quotation omitted). A district court may grant a Rule 59(e) motion if it “is
2 presented with newly discovered evidence, committed clear error, or if there is an
3 intervening change in the controlling law.” McDowell v. Calderon, 197 F.3d 1253, 1255
4 (9th Cir. 1999) (en banc) (quoting 389 Orange St. Partners v. Arnold, 179 F.3d 656, 665
5 (9th Cir. 1999)).

6 The Court found that Claims 3, 5, 7, and 8 of Styers’s habeas petition were 7 rendered moot by the Ninth Circuit’s decision in Styers v. Ryan, 811 F.3d 292 (9th Cir.
8 2015) (“Styers IV”). Styers now contends that the Ninth Circuit did not consider the 9 Eighth Amendment aspects of his allegation that the Arizona Supreme Court, in its 10 second independent review of his death sentence, State v. Styers, 227 Ariz. 186, 254 P.3d
11 1132 (2011) (“Styers III”), failed to consider all of his mitigation evidence, including 12 “non-PTSD” evidence. (Doc. 34 at 4.) This argument remains unpersuasive.

13 The Ninth Circuit remanded the case and ordered this Court to grant a conditional
14 writ on the grounds that the state courts did not consider and give effect to Styers’s PTSD
15 as mitigating evidence. Styers v. Schriro, 547 F.3d 1026, 1035 (9th Cir. 2008) (“Styers
16 II”). The appellate court did not “express [ ]or imply any opinion as to the appropriate
17 sentence in this case,” explaining that the proper sentence “is a matter for the state courts,
18 so long as the constitutional obligations under Eddings and Clemons are honored.” Id. at 19 1036. This Court granted the conditional writ. In response, the Arizona Supreme Court
20 conducted a new independent sentencing review and reaffirmed the trial court’s original
21 capital sentence. Styers III, 227 Ariz. 186, 254 P.3d 1132.

22 In Styers IV, the Ninth Circuit upheld the Arizona Supreme Court’s determination
23 that a jury resentencing was not required under Ring and found that the state supreme 24 court corrected its Eddings error by properly considering the mitigating evidence that 25 Styers suffers from PTSD. 811 F.3d at 297–99. Contrary to Styers’s principal argument, 26 the Arizona Supreme Court “consider[ed] whether Styers’s PTSD, in combination with 27 the other mitigating evidence, provides mitigation sufficiently substantial to warrant 28 leniency.” Styers III, 227 Ariz. at 189, 254 P.3d at 1135 (emphasis added). Additionally, in finding that the Arizona Supreme Court had corrected the Eddings error, Styers IV, 811

1 F.3d at 298–99, the Ninth Circuit necessarily rejected Styers’s Eighth Amendment
2 claims.

3 This Court did not err in finding Claims 3, 5, 7, and 8 without merit. Styers’s
4 Motion to Alter or Amend is denied.

5 2. Certificate of Appealability

6 Styers seeks a certificate of appealability with respect to the Court’s rulings on 7 each of his habeas claims. Rule 11(a) of the Rules Governing Section 2254 Cases
8 provides that the district judge must either issue or deny
9 a certificate of appealability when it enters a final order adverse to the applicant. If a 10 certificate is issued, the court must state the specific issue or issues that satisfy 28 U.S.C.
11 § 2253(c)(2). Under § 2253(c)(2), a certificate of appealability may issue only when the 12 petitioner “has made a substantial showing of the denial of a constitutional right.” This 13 showing can be established by demonstrating that “reasonable jurists could debate
14 whether (or, for that matter, agree that) the petition should have been resolved in a
15 different manner” or that the issues were “adequate to deserve encouragement to proceed
16 further.” Slack v. McDaniel, 529 U.S. 473, 484 (2000) (quoting Barefoot v. Estelle, 463
17 U.S. 880, 893 & n. 4 (1983)).

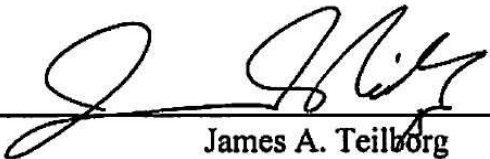

18 For the reasons already discussed, with respect to Claims 3, 5, 7, and 8, no
19 reasonable jurist could disagree that the claims are moot based on the Ninth Circuit’s
20 ruling in Styers IV. This Court previously found that Claims 1, 2, 4, and 6 constituted a 21 second or successive petition. (Doc. 19 at 6–7.) Styers’s counterargument is that a full 22 mitigation investigation would reveal additional evidence to support the claims. The 23 Court has already rejected this argument. (Doc. 32 at 5–7.) An assertion that additional 24 evidence exists does not change the fact that the claims themselves were or could have 25 been raised in Styers’s first petition. Reasonable jurists could not disagree that the claims
26 must be dismissed under 28 U.S.C. § 2244(b).

27 Accordingly,

28 IT IS ORDERED denying Styers’s Motion to Alter or Amend Judgment. (Doc.

1           IT IS FURTHER ORDERED denying Styers’s Motion for a Certificate of 2 Appealability (Doc. 35.)

3           Dated this 24th day of October, 2017.
