14 Plaintiff,

No. CV 13-1188-PHX-SMM

15 vs.

ORDER

16 Arizona Community Protection and 17 Treatment Center, et al.,
18 Defendants.
19

20 Plaintiff Dushan Stephan Nickolich, who is currently held in the Arizona
21 Community Protection and Treatment Center (ACPTC), a unit of the Arizona State
22 Hospital (ASH), in Phoenix, Arizona, filed a pro se civil rights Complaint pursuant to 42
23 U.S.C. § 1983¹ and paid the filing and administrative fees.² (Doc. 1, 6.) Plaintiff has

24
25 ¹ Plaintiff asserts that he brings this case under Bivens v. Six Unknown Federal 26 Agents, 403 U.S. 388 (1971). A Bivens action may only be brought against persons 27 acting under color of federal law. In this case, Plaintiff seeks relief against persons, or entities, acting under color of state law. Therefore, the case is properly treated as arising under 42 U.S.C. § 1983.

28 ² This action was opened as a “prisoner” civil rights case and referred to the Court’s staff for review pursuant to LRCiv. 72.1(b). A “prisoner” is statutorily defined as “any person incarcerated or detained in any facility who is accused of, convicted of,

1 filed two motions inquiring about the status of this case, which will be granted to the 2 extent set forth herein. (Doc. 5, 14.) Defendants have filed a motion to dismiss, or 3 alternatively, to stay this case pending Plaintiff's state court special action, which is fully 4 briefed. (Doc. 10.)³ The Court will grant Defendants' motion to dismiss the Complaint
5 for failure to state a claim, but will grant Plaintiff leave to file a first amended complaint
6 in which he attempts to cure the deficiencies in his Complaint.

7 I. Pleading Standard

8 A pleading must contain a "short and plain statement of the claim showing that the 9 pleader is entitled to relief." Fed. R. Civ. P. 8(a)(2) (emphasis added). While Rule 8 10 does not demand detailed factual allegations, "it demands more than an unadorned, the-11 defendant-unlawfully-harmed-me accusation." Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 12 (2009). "Threadbare recitals of the elements of a cause of action, supported by mere 13 conclusory statements, do not suffice." Id.

14 "[A] complaint must contain sufficient factual matter, accepted as true, to 'state a 15 claim to relief that is plausible on its face.'" Id. (quoting Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 16 550 U.S. 544, 570 (2007)). A claim is plausible "when the plaintiff pleads factual
17 content that allows the court to draw the reasonable inference that the defendant is liable
18 for the misconduct alleged." Id. "Determining whether a complaint states a plausible
19 claim for relief [is] . . . a context-specific task that requires the reviewing court to draw
20 on its judicial experience and common sense." Id. at 679. Thus, although a plaintiff's 21 specific factual allegations may be consistent with a constitutional claim, a court must

22
23 sentenced for, or adjudicated delinquent for, violations of criminal law or the terms and 24 conditions of parole, probation, pretrial release, or diversionary program." 28 U.S.C.
25 § 1915(h); 42 U.S.C. § 1997e(h). That is, a "prisoner" is a person who is "currently 26 detained as a result of accusation, conviction, or sentence for a criminal offense."
Agyeman v. INS, 296 F.3d 871, 885, 886 (9th Cir. 2002) (citing Page v. Torrey, 201 F.3d 1136, 1139-40 (9th Cir. 2000)).

27 ³ Plaintiff contends that he is not a prisoner seeking relief under 42 U.S.C. § 1983.
28 Defendants correctly argue that § 1983 is not limited to cases filed by prisoners. Because Plaintiff asserts a violation of his federal constitutional rights in his Complaint, the case is properly construed as being brought under § 1983 regardless of Plaintiff's non-prisoner status.

1 assess whether there are other “more likely explanations” for a defendant’s conduct. Id.
2 at 681.

3 But as the United States Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit has instructed,
4 courts must “continue to construe pro se filings liberally.” Hebbe v. Pliler, 627 F.3d 338,
5 342 (9th Cir. 2010). A “complaint [filed by a pro se prisoner] ‘must be held to less 6 stringent standards than formal pleadings drafted by lawyers.’” Id. (quoting Erickson v.
7 Pardus, 551 U.S. 89, 94 (2007) (per curiam)).

8 If the Court determines that a pleading could be cured by the allegation of other 9 facts, a pro se litigant is entitled to an opportunity to amend a complaint before dismissal
10 of the action. See Lopez v. Smith, 203 F.3d 1122, 1127-29 (9th Cir. 2000) (en banc).
11 Defendants’ motion to dismiss the Complaint for failure to state a claim will be granted,
12 but Plaintiff will be granted leave to file a first amended complaint in which he attempts 13 to cure the deficiencies of his Complaint.

14 II. Complaint

15 Plaintiff alleges four counts for relief for violation of his First, Fifth, Eighth, and 16 Fourteenth Amendment rights and state law violations. Plaintiff sues ACPTC; ASH;
17 Corey Nelson, acting Deputy Director of the Arizona Department of Human Services; Dr.
18 Gary Perrin, Psychology Administrator at ASH; Bruce McMorran, Director of ACPTC; 19 Dr. Bradley Johnson, an ACPTC psychiatrist; and Erick D. Pearson, an ACPTC therapist.
20 Plaintiff seeks compensatory and punitive relief.

21 Background

22 Plaintiff was convicted of sexual assault in Maricopa County Superior Court, 23 case# CR1993-09121, and served a sentence in the custody of the Arizona Department of 24 Corrections (ADC) from January 1996 until September 2009.⁴ Plaintiff was subsequently 25 civilly committed as a sexually violent predator (SVP) under Arizona Revised Statute 26 (ARS) § 36-3701. Under Arizona law, conviction of sexual assault is a sexually violent

1 offense under ARS § 36-3701(6) for which someone can be civilly committed. ARS
2 § 36-3704. Arizona’s SVP statute provides that a “court or jury shall determine beyond a 3 reasonable doubt” if the person named in a petition for civil commitment “is a sexually 4 violent person.” ARS § 36-3707(A). Thereafter:

6 If the court or jury determines that the person is a sexually violent person, the court shall either:

7 1. Commit the person to the custody of the department of health services 8 for placement in a licensed facility under the supervision of the 9 superintendent of the Arizona state hospital and shall receive care,
10 supervision or treatment until the person’s mental disorder has so changed 11 that the person would not be a threat to public safety if the person was conditionally released to a less restrictive alternative or was unconditionally discharged.

12 2. Order that the person be released to a less restrictive alternative if the conditions under §§ 36-3710 and 36-3711 are met.

13
14 ARS § 36-3707(B).

15 Plaintiff alleges the following facts in his Complaint: “Defendants” attempted to 16 have Plaintiff’s probation revoked in emails exchanged with Plaintiff’s adult probation
17 officer (APO), Brian Bednar. On July 28, 2011, Plaintiff was arrested on a probation
18 violation warrant. At a hearing on August 4, 2011 in Maricopa County Superior Court, 19 the prosecutor stated that “they will not take Plaintiff [sic] back. They do not want 20 Plaintiff [sic] back.” (Doc. 1 at 2.) On September 22, 2011, the violation charges were 21 dismissed and Plaintiff was “returned” to Defendants’ custody at ACPTC.⁵

23 ⁵ Plaintiff, through counsel, filed a special action, case# LC2013-000291, in 24 Maricopa County Superior Court, shortly before Plaintiff filed this case pro se, in which 25 he alleged that he remained at ACPTC throughout the revocation proceedings. (Doc. 1, 26 Ex. 1.) In the special action, a status hearing was held on July 11, 2014, 2014. See
27 <http://www.courtminutes.maricopa.gov/docs/Lower%20Court/072014/m6394646.pdf>
28 (last visited Aug. 27, 2014). At the hearing, the court set deadlines for expert discovery and continued the dispositive motion deadlines until December 18, 2014. Id. In addition to the special action, on April 14, 2014, Plaintiff filed a civil complaint through counsel in Maricopa County Superior Court, case# CV2014-006863. See [http://www.superior court.maricopa.gov/doc ket/CivilCourtCases/caseInfo.asp?caseNumber=CV2014-006863](http://www.superiorcourt.maricopa.gov/doc ket/CivilCourtCases/caseInfo.asp?caseNumber=CV2014-006863) (last visited Aug. 27, 2014). On July 23, 2014, the docket notes an intent to dismiss.
Id. On June 5, 2014, Plaintiff filed another case through counsel, CV2014-007334 with a motion for injunctive relief. See <http://www.superiorcourt.maricopa.gov/docket/Civil>

1 Plaintiff contends that the ACPTC treatment program is the same for all of its 2 residents and is “willfully inadequate, overly generalized,” and lacks clear direction in 3 attaining goals. (Id. at 3.) He contends that Defendants have breached their duty under 4 state law by failing to provide him individualized treatment necessary to eventually be 5 released from civil commitment. He contends that Defendants’ failure to provide him 6 individualized treatment renders his commitment punitive rather than therapeutic.

7 Plaintiff has previously filed a case in federal court concerning the alleged failure 8 of entities and persons to provide him an individualized treatment plan and asserted that 9 the failure to do so resulted in indefinite and perpetual civil commitment. See Nickolich
10 v. ACPTC, No. CV12-2312-PHX-SMM, doc. 6. In the complaint in that case, Plaintiff
11 alleged that: on August 4, 2011, the ACPTC, through counsel, stated that “. . . the State
12 Hospital does not want him back” and that “. . . the State Hospital will not take him
13 back.” (Id., doc. 1 at 3.) The Arizona Attorney General’s Office, on behalf of ACPTC, 14 asked to meet with Plaintiff to discuss future treatment. Plaintiff met with ACPTC and 15 the Attorney General’s representatives on August 1, 2012, but no treatment plan was 16 presented. On August 8, 2012, ACPTC generated an appointment schedule, which it
17 designated a treatment plan. On September 28, 2012, the ACPTC clinical team
18 ostensibly “granted,” or agreed to prepare, an individualized treatment plan, but no
19 treatment plan was actually provided. Plaintiff was designated as “non-status.” (Id.)
20 Plaintiff contended that ACPTC had a legal duty under the Constitution and other federal 21 law to provide him individualized treatment. He claimed that rather than provide him an 22 individualized treatment plan, ACPTC was merely civilly incarcerating and warehousing 23 him in violation of due process and equal protection and after he had already served his 24 criminal sentence. He asserted that indefinite civil commitment constituted duplicative 25 punishment in violation of the Fifth Amendment Double Jeopardy Clause. Because 26

27 CourtCases/caseInfo.asp?caseNumber=CV2014-007334 (last visited Aug. 27, 2014). On 28 June 13, 2014, the court granted defendants’ motion to dismiss the complaint and denied the motion for injunctive relief “under the current complaint.” See <http://www.courtminutes.maricopa.gov/docs/Civil/062014/m6362928.pdf> (last visited Aug. 27, 2013).

1 Plaintiff filed that action in forma pauperis, the Court screened the complaint under 28
2 U.S.C. §1915(e)(2) and dismissed the complaint for failure to state a claim with leave to 3 amend. The Court subsequently dismissed Plaintiff’s first amended complaint for failure 4 to state a claim and dismissed the action.

5 In this case, as discussed above, Plaintiff has paid the filing fee and he is not a 6 prisoner within the meaning of the PLRA. Defendants have moved for dismissal of the 7 Complaint for failure to state a claim or for a stay under Younger. The Court will grant
8 Defendants’ motion to dismiss the Complaint for failure to state a claim, but will grant 9 Plaintiff leave to file a first amended complaint.

10 III. Failure to State a Claim

11 To state a claim under § 1983, a plaintiff must allege facts supporting that (1) the 12 conduct about which he complains was committed by a person acting under the color of 13 state law and (2) the conduct deprived him of a federal constitutional or statutory right.
14 Wood v. Ostrander, 879 F.2d 583, 587 (9th Cir. 1989). In addition, a plaintiff must 15 allege that he suffered a specific injury as a result of the conduct of a particular defendant 16 and he must allege an affirmative link between the injury and the conduct of that 17 defendant. Rizzo v. Goode, 423 U.S. 362, 371-72, 377 (1976).

18 A. ACPTC and ASH

19 Plaintiff names ACPTC and ASH as Defendants, but neither is a proper defendant
20 under § 1983. Under the Eleventh Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, 21 neither a state nor a state agency may be sued in federal court without its consent.
22 Pennhurst St. Sch. & Hosp. v. Halderman, 465 U.S. 89, 100 (1984); Taylor v. List, 880
23 F.2d 1040, 1045 (9th Cir. 1989). Further, claims under § 1983 are directed at “persons.”
24 A detention facility is not a “person” amenable to suit under § 1983. See Allison v.
25 California Adult Auth., 419 F.2d 822, 823 (9th Cir.1969) (finding that California Adult 26 Authority and San Quentin Prison not “person[s]” subject to suit under § 1983); Jones v.
27 Lynchburg Adult Detention Ctr., No. 7:10-cv-0009, 2010 WL 227831 at *1 (W.D. Va.
28 Jan. 19, 2010) (detention center is not a person); Brooks v. Pembroke City Jail, 722

1 F.Supp. 1294, 1301 (E.D.N.C. 1989)). Similarly, a state hospital or health agency is not a
2 “person” for purposes of § 1983. See O’Haire v. Napa State Hosp., No. C07-0002-RMW
3 (PR), 2009 WL 2447752 at *1 (N.D. Cal. Aug. 7, 2009). Neither the State of Arizona nor 4 any State agency is a “person” within the meaning of § 1983. Will v. Michigan Dep’t of 5 State Police, 491 U.S. 58, 64 (1989) (holding that the term “person” as used in § 1983 did 6 not include a State or State agency). Accordingly, ACPTC and ASH will be dismissed as 7 Defendants.

8 B. Individual Defendants

9 Plaintiff also sues Nelson, Perrin, Johnson, McMorran, and Pearson. While these 10 persons may be sued, Plaintiff fails to state a claim against any of them.

11 To state a claim against a defendant, “[a] plaintiff must allege facts, not simply 12 conclusions [to] show that an individual was personally involved in the deprivation of his 13 civil rights.” Barren v. Harrington, 152 F.3d 1193, 1194 (9th Cir. 1998). For an 14 individual to be liable in his official capacity, a plaintiff must allege that the official acted 15 as a result of a policy, practice, or custom. See Cortez v. County of Los Angeles, 294 F.3d 16 1186, 1188 (9th Cir. 2001). Further, there is no respondeat superior liability under 17 § 1983, so a defendant’s position as the supervisor of someone who allegedly violated a 18 plaintiff’s constitutional rights does not make him liable. Monell v. Dep’t of Soc. Servs., 19 436 U.S. 658, 691 (1978); Taylor, 880 F.2d at 1045. A supervisor in his individual 20 capacity, “is only liable for constitutional violations of his subordinates if the supervisor 21 participated in or directed the violations, or knew of the violations and failed to act to 22 prevent them.” Taylor, 880 F.2d at 1045.

23 Plaintiff fails to allege specific facts to support that any individual Defendant 24 directly violated his constitutional rights. He also fails to allege facts to support that any 25 individual Defendant promulgated, endorsed, or enforced a policy, practice, or custom 26 resulting in a violation of Plaintiff’s constitutional rights. Plaintiff thus fails to state a 27 claim against any individual Defendant and they will be dismissed.

28 / / /

1 C. Double Jeopardy

2 Plaintiff asserts that he is and has been denied an individualized treatment plan
3 resulting in indefinite civil commitment in violation of various federal constitutional
4 rights. He in part contends that such confinement violates the Fifth Amendment’s
5 Double Jeopardy Clause.

6 In Kansas v. Hendricks, 521 U.S. 346 (1997), the United States Supreme Court
7 rejected Hendricks’ contention that the Kansas SVP Act violated Double Jeopardy. The 8 Court determined that the Kansas SVP Act did not violate double jeopardy because it did 9 not establish criminal proceedings and involuntary confinement under the Act was not 10 punitive; rather, the Act created a civil commitment procedure and permitted release 11 upon a showing that the confined person was no longer a danger to others. 521 U.S. at 12 361-65. It further noted that commitment under the Kansas Act was only potentially 13 indefinite and that if the State sought to continue detention beyond a year, a court had to 14 once again determine beyond a reasonable doubt that continued detention was 15 appropriate under the same standard as the initial detention. Id. at 364. The Court
16 rejected Hendricks’ contention that the Act’s alleged failure to offer “legitimate 17 treatment” rendered confinement under the Act little more than disguised punishment.
18 Id. at 365. It determined that under appropriate circumstances, and accompanied by 19 proper procedures, commitment was a legitimate end of the civil law. Id. at 365-66. The 20 Supreme Court further stated that while it had upheld state civil commitment statutes that 21 aimed to both incapacitate and treat, the Supreme Court had

22
23 never held that the Constitution prevents a State from civilly detaining 24 those for whom no treatment is available, but who nevertheless pose a 25 danger to others. A State could hardly be seen as furthering a “punitive”
26 purpose by involuntarily confining persons afflicted with an untreatable, 27 highly contagious disease. Accord, Compagnie Francaise de Navigation a 28 Vapeur v. Louisiana Bd. of Health, 186 U.S. 380, 22 S.Ct. 811, 46 L.Ed.
1209 (1902) (permitting involuntary quarantine of persons suffering from communicable diseases). Similarly, it would be of little value to require treatment as a precondition for civil confinement of the dangerously insane when no acceptable treatment existed. To conclude otherwise would

1 obligate a State to release certain confined individuals who were both 2 mentally ill and dangerous simply because they could not be successfully 3 treated for their afflictions. Cf. Greenwood v. United States, 350 U.S. 366,
4 375, 76 S.Ct. 410, 415, 100 L.Ed. 412 (1956) (“The fact that at present
5 there may be little likelihood of recovery does not defeat federal power to 6 make this initial commitment of the petitioner”); O’Connor v. Donaldson, 7 422 U.S. 563, 584, 95 S.Ct. 2486, 2498, 45 L.Ed.2d 396 (1975) (Burger, 8 C.J., concurring) (“[I]t remains a stubborn fact that there are many forms of 9 mental illness which are not understood, some which are untreatable in the 10 sense that no effective therapy has yet been discovered for them, and that 11 rates of ‘cure’ are generally low”).

12 Id. at 366. It noted that even if treatment was ancillary to the purpose of the Kansas SVP 13 Act, the Act required that care and treatment be provided to SVPs, not punishment. Id. at 14 367. The Supreme Court held that the Kansas SVP Act did not, therefore, violate double 15 jeopardy.

16 Arizona’s SVP Act provides in relevant part as follows:

17 A person who is committed . . . pursuant to this article shall receive 18 care, supervision or treatment. The superintendent of the state hospital 19 shall keep records detailing all medical, expert and professional care and 20 treatment that a committed person receives and shall keep copies of all 21 reports of periodic examinations that are made pursuant to this article.
22 These records and reports shall be made available on request only to any of 23 the following:

- 24 1. The committed person.
- 25 2. The committed person’s attorney.
- 26 3. The county attorney or the attorney general.
- 27 4. The court.
- 28 5. On proper showing, an expert or professional person who demonstrates a need for access to the records or reports.
6. Any mental health professional directly responsible or associated with the mental health professional who is directly responsible for the care, control, assessment or treatment of the committed person.

ARS § 36-3712(B) (emphasis added). Further, Arizona’s SVP Act provides for procedural protections analogous to those under the Kansas Act at issue in Hendricks.
Indeed, in Martin v. Reinstein, 987 P.2d 779, 786 (Ariz. Ct. App. 1999), the Arizona

1 Court of Appeals stated that Arizona’s SVP Act “was patterned after statutes in other
2 jurisdictions, many of which had been reviewed by their respective state appellate courts
3 and found to be constitutional,” and found Arizona’s SVP Act similar to the Kansas SVP
4 Act found constitutional by the United States Supreme Court. Id. at 787 (citing 5 Hendricks, 521 U.S. 346 (1997)). The Arizona Court of Appeals concluded that 6 Arizona’s SVP Act, like that at issue in Hendricks, was civil in nature and that 7 confinement under Arizona’s SVP Act “is for treatment and protection of the public, not 8 punishment. Id. at 793. The court observed that while detention under Arizona’s SVP
9 Act was of uncertain length, the Act was not retributive and did not contain a scienter 10 element, unlike to find criminal culpability. Id. at 792. Further, the court noted that the 11 Act’s purposes were non-punitive by protecting the public from SVPs and treating those 12 persons so that they may return to society. Id. The court concluded that the Act was not 13 excessive in relation to its non-punitive purposes where some treatment is contemplated, 14 as was the case in Hendricks, and where Arizona’s Act provided for alternatives less 15 restrictive than full custodial detention. Id. at 792-93.

16 Arizona’s SVP Act is analogous to the act at issue in Hendricks, which the 17 Supreme Court held did not violate double jeopardy. Further, Arizona’s SVP Act has 18 been held by the state appellate court as civil, rather than criminal, in nature. Plaintiff has 19 not alleged facts to support that his current civil commitment has been rendered punitive 20 by the alleged failure to provide individualized treatment. Nor does Plaintiff allege that 21 he has been denied care, supervision or treatment. Accordingly, Plaintiff fails to state a 22 claim for violation of double jeopardy under the Fifth Amendment and that claim will be 23 dismissed.

24 D. Failure to Provide Treatment

25 Plaintiff otherwise asserts that his Fourteenth Amendment due process and equal 26 protection rights have been violated by the denial of individualized treatment and that his 27 civil commitment violates the Eighth Amendment.

28 / / /

1 1. Due Process

2 Persons civilly committed as SVPs have a due process right to some treatment, but 3 what that treatment entails must be decided by mental health professionals. Lane v.
4 Williams, 689 F.3d 879, 882 (7th Cir. 2012) (citing Youngberg v. Romeo, 457 U.S. 307, 5 319-22 (1982), and Allison v. Snyder, 332 F.3d 1076, 1081 (7th Cir. 2003)); Deavers v.
6 Santiago, 243 Fed. Appx. 719, 722 (3d Cir. 2007); see Turay v. Selling, 108 F. Supp.2d 7 1148, 1151 (W.D. Wash. 2000) (citing Youngberg, 457 U.S. at 319-22 (1982)); cf.
8 Strutten v. Meade, 668 F.3d 549, 557 (8th Cir. 2012) (SVP did not have a fundamental 9 due process right to sex offender treatment). However, the state “enjoy[s] wide latitude
10 in developing treatment regimens” for sexual offenders. Hendricks, 521 U.S. at 368 n.4.
11 “Liability [on a claim for constitutional deprivation] may be imposed only when the 12 decision by the professional is such a substantial departure from accepted professional 13 judgment, practice, or standards as to demonstrate that the person responsible actually did 14 not base the decision on such a judgment.” Youngsberg, 457 U.S. at 323; Lane, 689 F.3d
15 at 882; Deavers, 243 Fed. Appx. at 722. But, as stated in Turay, “[t]he Hendricks Court 16 rejected a facial challenge to a Kansas statute modeled on Washington’s, noting that by 17 committing sex offenders ‘to an institution expressly designed to provide psychiatric care
18 and treatment’ the state ‘has doubtless satisfied its obligation to provide available 19 treatment.” 108 F.Supp.2d at 1151 (quoting Hendricks, 521 U.S. at 368 n.4).

20 Plaintiff is currently confined in a mental health facility, ACPTC. While Plaintiff 21 alleges that he has been denied individualized treatment, he does not allege that he has 22 been denied care, supervision, or treatment generally. Plaintiff also does not allege that 23 he is entitled to individualized treatment under state law such that the failure of the state 24 to provide individualized treatment violates his federal due process rights. Finally, as 25 discussed above, Plaintiff fails to connect any failure to provide individualized treatment
26 to any properly named Defendant. For all of these reasons, Plaintiff fails to state a claim 27 for violation of due process and that claim will be dismissed.

28 / / /

1 2. Equal Protection

2 Plaintiff also asserts that the failure to provide individualized treatment violates 3 equal protection. The Equal Protection Clause of the Fourteenth Amendment provides 4 that a state may not “deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the 5 laws,” which is essentially a direction that all persons similarly situated should be treated
6 alike. U.S. Const., amend. XIV; see City of Cleburne v. Cleburne Living Ctr., Inc., 473
7 U.S. 432, 439 (1985). A state practice that interferes with a fundamental right or that 8 discriminates against a suspect class of individuals is subject to strict scrutiny.
9 Massachusetts Bd. of Ret. v. Murgia, 427 U.S. 307, 312 (1976); City of Cleburne, 473
10 U.S. at 441. Absent allegations that he is a member of a suspect class, or that a 11 fundamental right has been violated, a plaintiff must allege facts to support that he has 12 been intentionally treated differently from others who are similarly situated without a 13 reasonable basis therefor. See Village of Willowbrook v. Olech, 528 U.S. 562, 564
14 (2000). Conclusory allegations do not suffice. See Village of Arlington Heights v.
15 Metropolitan Hous. Dev. Corp., 429 U.S. 252, 265 (1977).

16 Plaintiff does not allege that he is a member of a protected class or the violation of 17 a fundamental right; convicted sex offenders do not constitute a suspect class. See e.g.,
18 United States v. Juvenile Male, 670 F.3d 999, 1009 (9th Cir. 2012). Nor does Plaintiff 19 allege that he has been treated differently than similarly situated persons, absent a 20 reasonable basis therefor. Rather, Plaintiff only makes vague and conclusory allegations.
21 As discussed above, that is not sufficient to state an equal protection claim. Further, as 22 discussed above, Plaintiff fails to allege facts to connect any asserted violation to any 23 properly named Defendant. For these reasons, Plaintiff fails to state an equal protection 24 claim. Accordingly, that claim will be dismissed.

25 3. Eighth Amendment

26 Plaintiff also asserts that his civil commitment absent individualized treatment 27 violates his Eighth Amendment rights. Not every claim by a prisoner relating to 28 inadequate medical (or mental health) treatment states a violation of the Eighth or

1 Fourteenth Amendment. To state a § 1983 medical claim, a plaintiff must show that the 2 defendants acted with “deliberate indifference to serious medical needs.” Jett v. Penner,
3 439 F.3d 1091, 1096 (9th Cir. 2006) (quoting Estelle v. Gamble, 429 U.S. 97, 104
4 (1976)). A plaintiff must show (1) a “serious medical need” by demonstrating that failure 5 to treat the condition could result in further significant injury or the unnecessary and 6 wanton infliction of pain and (2) the defendant’s response was deliberately indifferent.
7 Jett, 439 F.3d at 1096 (quotations omitted).

8 “Deliberate indifference is a high legal standard.” Toguchi v. Chung, 391 F.3d 9 1051, 1060 (9th Cir. 2004). To act with deliberate indifference, a prison official must 10 both know of and disregard an excessive risk to inmate health; “the official must both be 11 aware of facts from which the inference could be drawn that a substantial risk of serious
12 harm exists, and he must also draw the inference.” Farmer v. Brennan, 511 U.S. 825, 13 837 (1994). Deliberate indifference in the medical context may be shown by a 14 purposeful act or failure to respond to a prisoner’s pain or possible medical need and 15 harm caused by the indifference. Jett, 439 F.3d at 1096. Deliberate indifference may 16 also be shown when a prison official intentionally denies, delays, or interferes with 17 medical treatment or by the way prison doctors respond to the prisoner’s medical needs.
18 Estelle, 429 U.S. at 104-05; Jett, 439 F.3d at 1096.

19 Deliberate indifference is a higher standard than negligence or lack of ordinary 20 due care for the prisoner’s safety. Farmer, 511 U.S. at 835. “Neither negligence nor 21 gross negligence will constitute deliberate indifference.” Clement v. California Dep’t of 22 Corr., 220 F. Supp. 2d 1098, 1105 (N.D. Cal. 2002); see also Broughton v. Cutter Labs., 23 622 F.2d 458, 460 (9th Cir. 1980) (mere claims of “indifference,” “negligence,” or 24 “medical malpractice” do not support a claim under § 1983). “A difference of opinion 25 does not amount to deliberate indifference to [a plaintiff’s] serious medical needs.”
26 Sanchez v. Vild, 891 F.2d 240, 242 (9th Cir. 1989). A mere delay in medical care, 27 without more, is insufficient to state a claim against prison officials for deliberate
28 indifference. See Shapley v. Nevada Bd. of State Prison Comm’rs, 766 F.2d 404, 407

1 (9th Cir. 1985). The indifference must be substantial. The action must rise to a level of 2 “unnecessary and wanton infliction of pain.” Estelle, 429 U.S. at 105.

3 Plaintiff fails to allege facts to support that he has a serious medical need,
4 including the symptoms and duration of such medical need. Plaintiff also has not alleged 5 facts to support that any properly-named Defendant, or anyone else, knew or should have 6 known of such need but nevertheless failed to provide or obtain treatment for that need.
7 Rather, Plaintiff appears merely to disagree with the treatment provided. That absent 8 more, does not support that anyone acted with deliberate indifference to a serious medical 9 need. Accordingly, Plaintiff fails to state a claim under the Eighth Amendment.

10 E. First Amendment

11 In Claim IV, Plaintiff asserts that Defendants knowingly or willingly denied him 12 access to the “facilities grievance process” as retaliation for exercising constitutionally 13 protected rights. A viable claim of First Amendment retaliation contains five basic 14 elements: (1) an assertion that a state actor took some adverse action against an inmate 15 (2) because of (3) that prisoner’s protected conduct, and that such action (4) chilled the 16 inmate’s exercise of his First Amendment rights (or that the inmate suffered more than 17 minimal harm) and (5) did not reasonably advance a legitimate correctional goal. Rhodes
18 v. Robinson, 408 F.3d 559, 567-68 (9th Cir. 2005); see also Hines v. Gomez, 108 F.3d 19 265, 267 (9th Cir. 1997) (retaliation claims requires a showing (1) that an official acted in 20 retaliation for the exercise of a constitutionally protected right, and (2) that the action 21 advanced no legitimate institutional interest). The plaintiff has the burden of 22 demonstrating that his exercise of his First Amendment rights was a substantial or 23 motivating factor behind the defendants’ conduct. Mt. Healthy City School Dist. Bd. of 24 Educ. v. Doyle, 429 U.S. 274, 287 (1977); Soranno’s Gasco, Inc. v. Morgan, 874 F.2d
25 1310, 1314 (9th Cir. 1989).

26 Plaintiff fails to describe the facility’s grievance process or to allege when, where, 27 how, and by whom he was denied access to the facility’s grievance process. Plaintiff also 28 fails to allege facts to support that any act by a Defendant was taken in retaliation for the

1 exercise of Plaintiff's constitutional rights. He fails to allege when, where, and how he 2 engaged in constitutionally protected conduct or facts to support when, where, how, and 3 by whom he was subject to retaliation. Accordingly, Plaintiff fails to state a claim and 4 these allegations will be dismissed.

5 IV. State Law Claims

6 Plaintiff also alleges violations of the Arizona Constitution and other state law.
7 Where a federal court has original jurisdiction over an action, such as a case asserting
8 constitutional violations pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983, the doctrine of pendent
9 jurisdiction allows a federal court to exercise "pendent" or "supplemental" jurisdiction
10 over closely related state law claims. Bahrampour v. Lampert, 356 F.3d 969, 978 (9th 11 Cir. 2004) (citing 28 U.S.C. § 1367(a)). As discussed herein, Defendants' motion to 12 dismiss will be granted based on Plaintiff's failure to state a federal claim against any 13 Defendant under § 1983. Because Plaintiff fails to state a federal claim in his Complaint, 14 the Court declines to exercise jurisdiction over his state law claims in the Complaint and 15 will dismiss those claims without prejudice. 28 U.S.C. § 1367(c).

16 V. Leave to Amend

17 For the foregoing reasons, the Court will grant Defendants' motion to dismiss the 18 Complaint for failure to state a claim. However, the Court will grant Plaintiff leave to 19 amend because it is not clear that Plaintiff could not amend to state a claim. See Lacey v.
20 Maricopa County, 693 F.3d 896, 927 (9th Cir.2012) (en banc) (citing Doe v. United 21 States, 58 F.3d 494, 497 (9th Cir.1995)). Within 30 days, Plaintiff may file a first 22 amended complaint to cure the deficiencies outlined above. The Clerk of Court will mail
23 Plaintiff a court-approved form to use for filing a first amended complaint. If Plaintiff 24 fails to use the court-approved form, the Court may strike the amended complaint and 25 dismiss this action without further notice to Plaintiff.

26 Plaintiff must clearly designate on the face of the document that it is the "First 27 Amended Complaint." The first amended complaint must be retyped or rewritten in its 28 entirety on the court-approved form and may not incorporate any part of the original

1 Complaint by reference. Plaintiff may include only one claim per count.

2 A first amended complaint supersedes the original complaint. Ferdik v. Bonzelet,
3 963 F.2d 1258, 1262 (9th Cir. 1992); Hal Roach Studios v. Richard Feiner & Co., 896
4 F.2d 1542, 1546 (9th Cir. 1990). After amendment, the Court will treat an original
5 complaint as nonexistent. Ferdik, 963 F.2d at 1262. Any cause of action that was raised 6 in the original complaint and that was voluntarily dismissed or was dismissed without 7 prejudice is waived if it is not alleged in a first amended complaint. Lacey, 693 F.3d at 8 928.

9 VI. Warnings

10 A. Address Changes

11 Plaintiff must file and serve a notice of a change of address in accordance with 12 Rule 83.3(d) of the Local Rules of Civil Procedure. Plaintiff must not include a motion 13 for other relief with a notice of change of address. Failure to comply may result in 14 dismissal of this action.

15 B. Copies

16 Plaintiff must submit an additional copy of every filing for use by the Court. See 17 LRCiv 5.4. Failure to comply may result in the filing being stricken without further 18 notice to Plaintiff.

19 C. Possible Dismissal

20 If Plaintiff fails to timely comply with every provision of this Order, including 21 these warnings, the Court may dismiss this action without further notice. See Ferdik, 963 22 F.2d at 1260-61 (a district court may dismiss an action for failure to comply with any 23 order of the Court).

24 IT IS ORDERED:

25 (1) Defendants' motion to dismiss the Complaint for failure to state a claim is 26 granted and the Complaint is dismissed. (Doc. 1, 10.)

27 (2) Plaintiff has 30 days from the date this Order is filed to file a first amended 28 complaint in compliance with this Order.

Senior United States District Judge

Instructions for a Prisoner Filing a Civil Rights Complaint in the United States District Court for the District of Arizona

1. Who May Use This Form. The civil rights complaint form is designed to help incarcerated persons prepare a complaint seeking relief for a violation of their federal civil rights. These complaints typically concern, but are not limited to, conditions of confinement. This form should not be used to challenge your conviction or sentence. If you want to challenge a state conviction or sentence, you should file a petition under 28 U.S.C. § 2254 for a writ of habeas corpus by a person in state custody. If you want to challenge a federal conviction or sentence, you should file a motion under 28 U.S.C. § 2255 to vacate sentence in the federal court that entered the judgment.

2. The Form. Local Rule of Civil Procedure (LRCiv) 3.4(a) provides that complaints by incarcerated persons must be filed on the court-approved form. The form must be typed or neatly handwritten. The form must be completely filled in to the extent applicable. All questions must be answered clearly and concisely in the appropriate space on the form. If needed, you may attach additional pages, but no more than fifteen additional pages, of standard letter-sized paper. You must identify which part of the complaint is being continued and number all pages. If you do not fill out the form properly, you will be asked to submit additional or corrected information, which may delay the processing of your action. You do not need to cite law.

3. Your Signature. You must tell the truth and sign the form. If you make a false statement of a material fact, you may be prosecuted for perjury.

4. The Filing Fee. The filing fee for this action is $350.00. If you are unable to immediately pay the filing fee, you may request leave to proceed in forma pauperis. Please review the “Information for Prisoners Seeking Leave to Proceed with a (Non-Habeas) Civil Action in Federal Court In Forma Pauperis Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915” for additional instructions.

5. Original and Judge’s Copy. You must send an original plus one copy of your complaint and of any other documents submitted to the Court. You must send one additional copy to the Court if you wish to have a file-stamped copy of the document returned to you. All copies must be identical to the original. Copies may be legibly handwritten.

6. Where to File. You should file your complaint in the division where you were confined when your rights were allegedly violated. See LRCiv 5.1(a) and 77.1(a). If you were confined in Maricopa, Pinal, Yuma, La Paz, or Gila County, file in the Phoenix Division. If you were confined in Apache, Navajo, Coconino, Mohave, or Yavapai County, file in the Prescott Division. If you were confined in Pima, Cochise, Santa Cruz, Graham, or Greenlee County, file in the Tucson Division. Mail the original and one copy of the complaint with the $350 filing fee or the application to proceed in forma pauperis to:

Phoenix & Prescott Divisions:
U.S. District Court Clerk
U.S. Courthouse, Suite 130
401 West Washington Street, SPC 10
Phoenix, Arizona 85003-2119

OR

Tucson Division:
U.S. District Court Clerk
U.S. Courthouse, Suite 1500
405 West Congress Street
Tucson, Arizona 85701-5010

7. Change of Address. You must immediately notify the Court and the defendants in writing of any change in your mailing address. Failure to notify the Court of any change in your mailing address may result in the dismissal of your case.

8. Certificate of Service. You must furnish the defendants with a copy of any document you submit to the Court (except the initial complaint and application to proceed in forma pauperis). Each original document (except the initial complaint and application to proceed in forma pauperis) must include a certificate of service on the last page of the document stating the date a copy of the document was mailed to the defendants and the address to which it was mailed. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 5(a), (d). Any document received by the Court that does not include a certificate of service may be stricken. A certificate of service should be in the following form:

I hereby certify that a copy of the foregoing document was mailed this _____ (month, day, year) to:

Name: _____

Address: _____

Attorney for Defendant(s)

(Signature)

9. Amended Complaint. If you need to change any of the information in the initial complaint, you must file an amended complaint. The amended complaint must be written on the court-approved civil rights complaint form. You may file one amended complaint without leave (permission) of Court before any defendant has answered your original complaint. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 15(a). After any defendant has filed an answer, you must file a motion for leave to amend and lodge (submit) a proposed amended complaint. LRCiv 15.1. In addition, an amended complaint may not incorporate by reference any part of your prior complaint. LRCiv 15.1(a)(2). Any allegations or defendants not included in the amended complaint are considered dismissed. All amended complaints are subject to screening under the Prison Litigation Reform Act; screening your amendment will take additional processing time.

10. Exhibits. You should not submit exhibits with the complaint or amended complaint. Instead, the relevant information should be paraphrased. You should keep the exhibits to use to support or oppose a motion to dismiss, a motion for summary judgment, or at trial.

11. Letters and Motions. It is generally inappropriate to write a letter to any judge or the staff of any judge. The only appropriate way to communicate with the Court is by filing a written pleading or motion.

12. Completing the Civil Rights Complaint Form.

HEADING:

1. Your Name. Print your name, prison or inmate number, and institutional mailing address on the lines provided.
2. Defendants. If there are four or fewer defendants, print the name of each. If you name more than four defendants, print the name of the first defendant on the first line, write the words “and others” on the second line, and attach an additional page listing the names of all of the defendants. Insert the additional page after page 1 and number it “1-A” at the bottom.
3. Jury Demand. If you want a jury trial, you must write “JURY TRIAL DEMANDED” in the space below “CIVIL RIGHTS COMPLAINT BY A PRISONER.” Failure to do so may result in the loss of the right to a jury trial. A jury trial is not available if you are seeking only injunctive relief.

Part A. JURISDICTION:

1. Nature of Suit. Mark whether you are filing the complaint pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983 for state, county, or city defendants; “Bivens v. Six Unknown Federal Narcotics Agents” for federal defendants; or “other.” If you mark “other,” identify the source of that authority.
2. Location. Identify the institution and city where the alleged violation of your rights occurred.
3. Defendants. Print all of the requested information about each of the defendants in the spaces provided. If you are naming more than four defendants, you must provide the necessary information about each additional defendant on separate pages labeled “2-A,” “2-B,” etc., at the bottom. Insert the additional page(s) immediately behind page 2.

Part B. PREVIOUS LAWSUITS:

You must identify any other lawsuit you have filed in either state or federal court while you were a prisoner. Print all of the requested information about each lawsuit in the spaces provided. If you have filed more than three lawsuits, you must provide the necessary information about each additional lawsuit on a separate page. Label the page(s) as “2-A,” “2-B,” etc., at the bottom of the page and insert the additional page(s) immediately behind page 2.

Part C. CAUSE OF ACTION:

You must identify what rights each defendant violated. The form provides space to allege three separate counts (one violation per count). If you are alleging more than three counts, you must provide the necessary information about each additional count on a separate page. Number the additional pages “5-A,” “5-B,” etc., and insert them immediately behind page 5. Remember that you are limited to a total of fifteen additional pages.

1. Counts. You must identify which civil right was violated. You may allege the violation of only one civil right per count.

2. Issue Involved. Check the box that most closely identifies the issue involved in your claim. You may check only one box per count. If you check the box marked “Other,” you must identify the specific issue involved.

3. Supporting Facts. After you have identified which civil right was violated, you must state the supporting facts. Be as specific as possible. You must state what each individual defendant did to violate your rights. If there is more than one defendant, you must identify which defendant did what act. You also should state the date(s) on which the act(s) occurred, if possible.

4. Injury. State precisely how you were injured by the alleged violation of your rights.

5. Administrative Remedies. You must exhaust any available administrative remedies before you file a civil rights complaint. See 42 U.S.C. § 1997e. Consequently, you should disclose whether you have exhausted the inmate grievance procedures or administrative appeals for each count in your complaint. If the grievance procedures were not available for any of your counts, fully explain why on the lines provided.

Part D. REQUEST FOR RELIEF:

Print the relief you are seeking in the space provided.

SIGNATURE:

You must sign your name and print the date you signed the complaint. Failure to sign the complaint will delay the processing of your action. Unless you are an attorney, you may not bring an action on behalf of anyone but yourself.

FINAL NOTE

You should follow these instructions carefully. Failure to do so may result in your complaint being stricken or dismissed. All questions must be answered concisely in the proper space on the form. If you need more space, you may attach no more than fifteen additional pages. But the form must be completely filled in to the extent applicable. If you attach additional pages, be sure to identify which section of the complaint is being continued and number the pages.
