ORDER

Simmons has sued Witt and Harper in their official capacities for injunctive relief. No. 41. They move to dismiss. Nos 43 & 46. Accepting all Simmons's factual allegations as true, the Court holds that he has failed to plead a plausible claim. Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678 (2009). Nowhere has Simmons alleged that Witt or Harper violated his constitutional rights pursuant to a governmental policy or custom, or that they wielded final decision-making authority against him in an unconstitutional manner. Nix v. Norman, 879 F.2d 429, 433 (8th Cir. 1989). The Court therefore dismisses Simmons's official-capacity claims against Witt and Harper without prejudice. Motions, Nos 43 & 46, granted.

So Ordered.
