

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
WESTERN DISTRICT OF ARKANSAS
FORT SMITH DIVISION

DONNA LYNN HENRY

PLAINTIFF

v.

Case No. 2:12-CV-02282

CAROLYN W. COLVIN, Commissioner
Social Security Administration

DEFENDANT

ORDER

Currently before the Court is the Report and Recommendation (Doc. 17) filed on December 3, 2013, by the Honorable Erin L. Setser, United States Magistrate Judge for the Western District of Arkansas. Also before the Court are Plaintiff's objections (Doc. 18).

Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 72(b)(2) allows a party to file objections to the proposed findings and recommendations of a magistrate judge. That rule requires the objections to be "specific." In this case, Plaintiff's objections to the Magistrate's 22-page report, are not set forth with any minimal level of specificity so as to enable the Court to engage in an appropriate de novo review of the voluminous record in this case. See Belk v. Purkett, 15 F.3d 803 (8th Cir. 1994) (while emphasizing the necessity of de novo review, indicating that lack of specificity may be an appropriate basis for denying de novo review in cases involving extensive records, which would make it difficult to focus upon any alleged errors if insufficiently directed by the parties); Fed. R. Civ. P. 72(b)(3) ("The district judge must determine de novo any part of the magistrate judge's disposition that has been properly objected to." (emphasis added)). Rather, Plaintiff's objections are general restatements of the subheadings of Plaintiff's arguments contained in her original appeal brief, with no reference to any portions of the magistrate's report to which Plaintiff specifically objects.

Because Plaintiff's objections are so general as to not trigger de novo review, the Court has instead reviewed the Magistrate's report for clear error. See Grinder v. Gammon, 73 F.3d 793, 795 (8th Cir. 1996) (noting that when no objections are filed and the time for filing objections has expired, the district court should review findings of the magistrate for clear error). Having conducted such review, the Court finds that the magistrate's findings contain no clear error and the recommendation should be accepted.

The Court therefore concludes that the findings and recommendations should be, and hereby are, approved and adopted as this Court's findings in all respects in their entirety. Judgment will be entered accordingly.

IT IS SO ORDERED this 13th day of January, 2014.
