

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
WESTERN DISTRICT OF ARKANSAS
HARRISON DIVISION

RICHARD A. JENSEN

PLAINTIFF

v.

CIVIL NO. 11-3006

MICHAEL J. ASTRUE, Commissioner
Social Security Administration

DEFENDANT

ORDER ON MOTION FOR ATTORNEY'S FEES

Plaintiff, Richard A. Jensen, appealed the Commissioner's denial of benefits to this court. ECF No. 1. On November 2, 2011, a judgment was entered remanding Plaintiff's case to the Commissioner pursuant to sentence four of 42 U.S.C. § 405(g). ECF No. 14. Plaintiff now moves for a total of $2648.29 in attorney's fees and costs under 28 U.S.C. § 2412, the Equal Access to Justice Act ("EAJA"), requesting compensation for 15.10 attorney hours at a rate of $169.66 for work performed in 2010 and $175.50 for work performed in 2011 and 2012. ECF Nos. 15, 16. Defendant filed a response objecting to the hourly rate requested for work performed in 2011. ECF No. 17, at 2-3.

Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2412(d)(1)(A), the court must award attorney's fees to a prevailing social security claimant unless the Commissioner's position in denying benefits was substantially justified. The burden is on the Commissioner to show substantial justification for the government's denial of benefits. Jackson v. Bowen, 807 F.2d 127, 128 (8th Cir. 1986). After reviewing the file, we find Plaintiff is a prevailing party in this matter. Under Shalala v. Schaefer, 509 U.S. 292, 302 (1993), a social security claimant who obtains a sentence-four judgment reversing the Commissioner's denial of benefits and remanding the case for further proceedings is a prevailing party.

An award of attorney's fees under the EAJA is appropriate even though at the conclusion of the case, Plaintiff's attorney may be authorized to charge and collect a fee pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 406(b)(1). Recovery of attorney's fees under both the EAJA and 42 U.S.C. § 406(b)(1) was specifically allowed when Congress amended the EAJA in 1985. Gisbrecht v. Barnhart, 535 U.S. 789, 796, 122 S.Ct. 1817, 1822, 152 L.Ed.2d 996 (2002), citing Pub.L. 99-80, § 3, 99 Stat. 186 (1985).

To permit a fee award under the EAJA, assuming, of course, that the necessary standard is met, in addition to that allowed by the district court out of a claimant's past-due benefits does no more than reimburse the claimant for his or her expenses and results in no windfall for the attorney.

Meyers v. Heckler, 625 F.Supp. 228, 231 (S.D.Ohio 1985). Furthermore, awarding fees under both acts facilitates the purpose of the EAJA, which is to shift to the United States the prevailing party's litigation expenses incurred while contesting unreasonable government action. Id. See also Cornella v. Schweiker, 728 F.2d 978 (8th Cir.1984).

The EAJA further requires an attorney seeking fees to submit "an itemized statement...stating the actual time expended and the rate at which fees and other expenses were computed." 28 U.S.C. § 2412(d)(1)(B). Attorneys seeking fees under federal fee-shifting statutes such as the EAJA are required to present fee applications with "contemporaneous time records of hours worked and rates claimed, plus a detailed description of the subject matter of the work." Id. Where documentation is inadequate, the court may reduce the award accordingly. Hensley v. Eckerhart, 461 U.S. 424, 433 (1983).

In determining a reasonable attorney's fee, the court will in each case consider the following factors: time and labor required; the difficulty of questions involved; the skill required to handle the problems presented; the attorney's experience, ability, and reputation; the benefits resulting to the client from the services; the customary fee for similar services; the contingency or certainty of compensation; the results obtained; and the amount involved. Allen v. Heckler, 588 F.Supp. 1247 (W.D.N.Y. 1984).

However, the EAJA is not designed to reimburse without limit. Pierce v. Underwood, 487 U.S. 552, 573 (1988). The district court is "in the best position to evaluate counsel's services and fee request, particularly when the court has had the opportunity to observe firsthand counsel's representation on the substantive aspects of the disability claim." Hickey v. Secretary of HHS, 923 F.2d 585, 586 (8th Cir. 1991) (quoting Cotter v. Bowen, 879 F.2d 359, 361 (8th Cir. 1989)). The court can determine the reasonableness and accuracy of a fee request, even in the absence of an objection by the Commissioner. See Decker v. Sullivan, 976 F.2d 456, 459 (8th Cir. 1992) ("Although the issue was not raised on appeal, fairness to the parties requires an accurately calculated attorney's fee award.").

The Contract with America Advancement Act of 1996, passed on March 29, 1996, amended the EAJA and increased the statutory ceiling for the EAJA fee awards from $75.00 to $125.00 per hour. See 28 U.S.C. § 2412(d)(2)(A). Attorney's fees may not be awarded in excess of $125.00 per hour, the maximum statutory rate under § 2412(d)(2)(A), unless the court finds that an increase in the cost of living or a special factor such as the limited availability of qualified attorneys justifies a higher fee. 28 U.S.C. § 2412(d)(2)(A). The decision to increase the hourly rate is not automatic and remains at the discretion of the district court. McNulty v.

Sullivan, 886 F.2d 1074 (8th Cir. 1989). In Johnson v. Sullivan, 919 F.2d 503 (8th Cir. 1990), the court stated that the hourly rate may be increased when there is “uncontested proof of an increase in the cost of living sufficient to justify hourly attorney’s fees of more than $75.00 an hour,” such as a copy of the Consumer Price Index (“CPI”). In this instance, counsel requests attorney’s fees at an hourly rate of $169.66 for work performed in 2010 and $175.50 for work performed in 2011 and 2012. ECF No. 16, Ex. 2. He attached a summary of the CPI-South as evidence of an increase in the cost of living. ECF No. 16, Ex. 4.

While an increased hourly rate is authorized as long as the CPI is submitted, this court will not approve the hourly rate requested for 2011. See 28 U.S.C. § 2412(d)(2)(A); Johnson, 919 F.2d at 504. The court has previously approved rates of $173.00 for work performed in 2010 and $174.00 for performed in 2011. On January 6, 2012, Honorable Jimm Larry Hendren signed Amended General Order No. 39, which governs attorney’s fees under the EAJA. Beginning on January 2, 2012, the CPI-South index for December of the preceding year shall constitute the maximum hourly rate of EAJA fees which may be awarded for the following year. The court has adopted the following formula for calculating cost of living increases:

$$\frac{(\text{December CPI of preceding year}) \times $125 (\text{Maximum Statutory Rate})}{152.4 (\text{March 1996 CPI})} = \text{Adjusted rate}$$

Applying this formula and rounding to the nearest whole number, the 2012 hourly rate is calculated as follows:

$$\frac{219.469 (\text{Dec. 2011 CPI}) \times $125 (\text{Maximum Statutory Rate})}{152.4 (\text{March 1996 CPI})} = $180.00$$

Thus, counsel is entitled to his requested rate of $175.50 for work performed in 2012. However, his requested rate of $175.50 for work performed in 2011 exceeds the maximum fee allowable and will be reduced to $174.00.

Attorney Hours

The court next addresses the number of hours Plaintiff's counsel claims he spent working on this case. Counsel requests a total of .30 hours for work performed in 2010, 13.80 hours of work performed in 2011, and 1.00 hour of work performed in 2012. ECF No. 16, Ex. 3. The court finds that counsel's requested time is reasonable, and Defendant does not object. As such, will award the full 15.10 hours. Accordingly, the court finds that counsel is entitled to .30 hours at an hourly rate of $169.66 for work performed in 2010, 13.80 hours at an hourly rate of $174.00 for work performed in 2011, and 1.00 hour at an hourly rate of $175.50 for work performed in 2012.

Finally, counsel seeks reimbursement of $17.13 for expenses incurred with regard to postage. ECF No. 15, at 1. Such expenses are recoverable under the EAJA and the undersigned finds $17.13 to be a reasonable award. See Kelly v. Bowen, 862 F.2d 1333, 1335 (8th Cir. 1988).

Based on the above, the court awards Plaintiff's attorney fees under the EAJA for .30 hours at an hourly rate of $169.66 for work performed in 2010, 13.80 hours at an hourly rate of $174.00 for work performed in 2011, and 1.00 hour at an hourly rate of $175.50 for work performed in 2012, for a total attorney's fee award of $2627.60, plus $17.13 in expenses. This amount should be paid in addition to, and not out of, any past due benefits which Plaintiff may be awarded in the future. Further, this award should be made payable directly to Plaintiff, but may be properly mailed to Plaintiff's attorney.<sup>1</sup> The parties are reminded that the award under Astrue*, 540 F.3d 800, 802 (8th Cir. 2008), and held that an EAJA fee award is payable to the prevailing litigant, not the prevailing litigant's attorney. *Astrue v. the EAJA will be taken into account at such time as a reasonable fee is determined pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 406, in order to prevent double recovery by counsel for the Plaintiff.
