I was considering starting a position at this company after having an interview with Raymond. I was put off when I spoke to him previously on the phone and he didn't give his last name or his company name. I had an in-person interview today and found out his last name. During the interview I had a gut feeling that he was operating a very shady business, and the fact that I disagreed with the majority of his viewpoints on the real estate market did not help. I then came home and googled his name, and found all these bad reports. He told me to come into the office tomorrow at 11am to start work, but as a result of these reports I am going to blow him off. I am looking for work, but am not that desperate to get involved in a shady situation that will ultimately lead to disaster. I know it is hard to find a position in today's market, but this should not stand. In today's internet world, Raymond's tactics will not work!!!! Everyone knows that you can't escape your reputation, and the likelihood that all these strangers with nothing in common would jointly agree that he is a lunatic without ever knowing one another is minuscule.

Raymond, get a life, stop taking advantage of people.

These people are EXCELLENT talkers! Yes, don't get me wrong, I do mean that in a POSITIVE manner. When my colleague and I interviewed with the company Raymond would start talking about his career highlights, travels, Asia Connections, etc. and that of Iliana's and it did indeed sound impressive, but quite BORING. We think it was his soft feminine voice with a hint of an accent that lost us within the first 6 minutes. We were dying to get out of there so that we could be put out of our misery. Had we known he had a passive and soft, feminine voice, we would have gotten a few drinks before the interview so that our senses would be dulled and the boredom would not be so intense.

The most entertaining part of the whole interview process was when Iliana would interrupt Raymond and interject additional information. She wanted to impress us and to sound intelligent at the same time but it was a real turn-off. She presented herself not to be intelligent, but a complete idiotic fool, a buffoon if you may. But in her defense, when she did interjected, what she contributed to the conversation was utterly ridiculous and it did make us laugh inside (at her and at Raymond too as he just sat there probably thinking how can I stifle her).

Raymond and Iliana do make the PERFECT co-worker team in this company. He seems passive and she seems aggressive; he has a passive voice and she has a strong voice; he seems to be smart (but not that much smarter than her, don't let the Dr. title fool you) and she seems to be not as smart; you get the picture.

In reality they are not that bad. They are just trying to survive in this recessionary world like everyone of us. If they are trying to rip-off employees, vendors, etc. as one of the remarks seem to point then Capitalism is still alive; however, what comes around goes around.

I am not sure what their business operations are but they can't be doing too bad as they are in a nice building in a nice neighborhood. If they are losing money then they must be doing something horribly wrong or they are unaware of what each other is doing. It would be ironic if one of them was pulling the wool over the others eyes. This way we can test our hypothesis to see which is the clever of the two to get away with it. Wouldn't it also be ironic if Dr. Raymond was not the clever one of the two; i.e., he is a PhD of some sort.

Ok, I am becoming just as BORING as Dr. Raymond and I appologize for that.

If anyone has interviewed with them, worked for them, or is owed any money from them, please post it here so we can have a discussion about these two wonderful human beings, Raymond Mobarez and Iliana Llaneras.
