Sorry.

THE WITNESS: AEI been, it was wrecked and it was parked until, I mean, today. It's just, it's a wrecked organization. It's, it's practically gave its life away.

MR. BLACKERT: On that note, are you finished answering?

THE WITNESS: Yes, I am.

MR. BLACKERT: Can we break for ten minutes because --

MR. GINGRAS: I think the witness is in charge of breaks. And I'll ask you.

MR. BLACKERT: I can ask for a break at any time.

MR. GINGRAS: Yeah, you can of course.

MS. BORODKIN: I'm just going to place an objection on the record under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 30(c)(2). And I'm just going to state it simply and non argumentatively.

I don't think there's anything wrong with asking for your authority about the fact that you are telling us you get to choose which of client's counsel can speak at the deposition. And I'm going to request that you provide that authority to us or we can meet and confer on

1           that, as we've already agreed to do, next
2           Tuesday, May 11th, at 3:00 P.M.

3           MR. GINGRAS: So noted. Break?

4           THE WITNESS: It's up to you.

5           MR. GINGRAS: Let's take, let's take five.
6           That's good. That's good.

7           THE VIDEOGRAPHER: The time is 3:01, and
8           we're going off the record.

9           (Off the record.)

10          THE VIDEOGRAPHER: The time is 3:25, and
11          we're back on the record.

12         BY MR. GINGRAS:

13                 Q     Okay. Mr. Mobrez, before the break I
14                 think we were talking about Exhibit 18, which is an 15                 e-mail that you sent on July 24th, 2009, to 16                 Mr. Magedson, probably following up I guess to your 17                 conversation back in May. And I was asking you the 18                 last, near the second-to-last sentence of your
19                 e-mail talks about the situation harming your good
20                 name and you wanting to rectify the situation as 21                 soon as possible.

22                         And I wanted to know, you told me that AEI
23                 was out of business in June of '09. And yet it
24                 appears as though you were trying to revive it as 25                 late as July 24th, 2009. Is that what you were
