Maria,

Your letter was late. You did not follow the Magistrate's Order.

Please let us know when you can talk. If we can resolve it telephonically among ourselves, we will.

Once again, you are forgetting or ignoring the Magistrate's request to us. He asked us to work together to list the items that really are in dispute. You have made no attempt to provide to us your position on this. All you did was list every question that he did not answer, and many that he did. You left it up to David to address every single instance, including those that we know you don't dispute or that you know were answered. David has carefully done that and set forth our position. This was time consuming but we had to do it to comply with the Magistrate's request. It was more time consuming than it needed to be because you didn't narrow it.

Now, twenty-one minutes after you received David's letter, you want to immediately call the Magistrate even though you haven't responded to David's letter. We need to confer on this and narrow the issues.

I know you ordered the transcript of the hearing. Please read the section on this issue and follow the Magistrate's request.

Hi David,

Thanks for your letter. What time are you available for a conference call to Magistrate Walsh today? We need to do one before we break for the holiday.

Lisa,

Per Magistrate Walsh's order, attached is our response to your letter re: unanswered deposition questions.

For purposes of clarity and ease of reference, I have attached a copy of your letter to this email as well.

Have a good holiday weekend.
