6	The Court has reviewed the Complaint, records on file, and
7	Report and Recommendation of U.S. Magistrate Judge. See 28
8	U.S.C. § 636. On August 22, 2016, Plaintiff filed objections to 9	the R. & R., in which he argues, at length, that his Complaint is 0	not barred by Heck v. Humphrey , 512 U.S. 477 (1994), as the
1	Magistrate Judge concluded. But saying that does not make it so.

convict him.

It makes no difference if, for example, the warrant he alleges was forged bore the purported signature of a judge other than the one who presided over his trial (see Objs. at 15-16) because the DNA and other evidence collected from it were nonetheless used to filled with allegations concerning the alleged falsity of the

Both the Complaint and Plaintiff's objections are

1	evidence used to convict him of murder. $^1$ Thus, Plaintiff is not
2	convincing when he states that he "by no means" intends the
3	Complaint to imply the invalidity of his conviction or sentence.
4	( Id. at 18-19.) Indeed, he later acknowledges that his success
5	in this lawsuit "in the future may be helpful" in getting 6	his convictions "invalidated." ( Id. at 19.) But Plaintiff has
7	the order wrong: he must first get his convictions invalidated
8	and then he may bring the challenges outlined in the Complaint.
9	The Court accepts the findings and recommendations of the 10	Magistrate Judge. IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that judgment be
11	entered dismissing this action without prejudice. <sup>2</sup>
