6	Junior, et al.
7	Counsel, please make your appearances.
8	MR. PINK: Good morning, your Honor. Jonathan Pink
9	on behalf moving parties.
L O	THE COURT: Good morning. Have you heard from
L1	Plaintiff's counsel?
L2	MR. PINK: I have not, your Honor.
L3	THE COURT: Do you have any reason to believe he is
L4	not going to be here?
L5	MR. PINK: No, your Honor. I believe he's coming
L6	from Orange County, and I suspect that the traffic may be
L7	holding him up.
L8	THE COURT: All right. Why don't we call this again.
L9	MR. PINK: Thank you, your Honor.

- 8 MR. HAMPTON: Good morning, your Honor. George
 9 Hampton of Hampton Holley, local counsel for Plaintiff, Bryan
 10 Pringle.
- 11 THE COURT: Good morning.
- 12 MR. VERNON: Good morning, your Honor. Joseph Vernon 13 also for the same parties as Mr. Hampton.
- 14 THE COURT: Who's going to speak for the Plaintiff?
- 15 MR. HAMPTON: I believe I am, your Honor, but Mr.
- 16 | Vernon may have specific knowledge on specific issues.
- 17 THE COURT: All right. Well, we have a lot of 18 interrogatories. I'm not sure it makes any sense to argue over 19 them. The papers are pretty full. I'm prepared to rule. Is
- 20 | there something that somebody feels compelled to say?
- George Hampton -- I think the one thing that's missing from the context of this argument is the fact that shortly -- I believe

MR. HAMPTON: Yes, your Honor, I would. I think --

- 24 a couple days before this motion was filed, a Motion for
- 25 Summary Judgment was filed by one of the other group of

Defendants. And the issues that are currently before Judge Tucker specifically relating to the sample claim as well as this spoliation claim, which Mr. Pink talked about in his supplemental memorandum, are currently before Judge Tucker.

So to the extent that this is akin to playing one parent off the other, I think it would be improper to do that because some of these issues are currently before Judge Tucker in connection with a Motion for Summary Judgment that's currently set to be heard a week from today.

THE COURT: All right. Mr. Pink?

MR. PINK: Well, with respect to that, your Honor, it is true that Judge Tucker has a Motion for Summary Judgment that's been fully briefed. There is a -- there's an oral argument date set, which may be moved.

I don't see that it is playing one parent off of the other, your Honor. The same points remain. We -- the same spoliation arguments exist here as there. That's true. We're asking for a complete dismissal of the case there. I don't suspect that your Honor is going to go that far here, although --

THE COURT: I don't think I have the authority to dismiss a case.

MR. PINK: Fair enough. I think that the -- there's a recent case that we cited in our supplemental reply that may give that to you. But in any event, I don't suspect that we're

- 1 going there today.
- THE COURT: No. Where we're going today is ruling on
- 3 the specific interrogatory seriatim.
- 4 MR. PINK: Okay. Well, I have nothing else to add,
- 5 | your Honor.
- 6 THE COURT: Okay.
- 7 MR. PINK: I would just ask if I could reserve the
- 8 | right to comment following the ruling or the -- I don't know if
- 9 | it's going to be a tentative or if it's --
- 10 THE COURT: No, it's not going to be a tentative.
- 11 | There's nothing tentative.
- MR. PINK: Well, then --
- 13 THE COURT: It's going to be a ruling. So if you
- 14 | want to argue, now is the time to do it. I'm not advising it
- 15 | because you know, when you get these motions where you have 15,
- 16 | 20, 30, 50 requests to produce or interrogatories, I mean, all
- 17 | really one can do is say granted, denied, granted, denied and
- 18 here are some reasons. Unless every now and then there is an
- 19 | interrogatory or a request that sticks out and deserves special
- 20 attention.
- 21 MR. PINK: Your Honor, I mean, absent a question
- 22 about a specific one, which I am more than happy to address, I
- 23 | think I would be wasting the Court's time to simply seriatim go
- 24 | through and make my arguments for each.
- 25 THE COURT: All right.

- 1 MR. PINK: If the other side wishes to argue, I would 2 just ask to -- the right to reply.
- THE COURT: Well, I just gave them the chance, and I think they declined except to tell me about the fact that there's a Summary Judgment motion in front of Judge Tucker.

- 6 Right, Mr. Hampton?

- 7 MR. HAMPTON: Yes, your Honor. Mr. Vernon, though, 8 just reminded me of additional small point.
- 9 THE COURT: Go ahead.
- 10 MR. HAMPTON: Go ahead, Mr. Vernon.
- 11 MR. VERNON: Thank you.
 - Thank you, your Honor. There was a point raised and a line of authority raised in Defendants' Reply in Support of the Motion for Summary Judgment that I think is especially relevant here, and that's there's no obligation to provide supplemental or corrective information that has otherwise been made to known to parties in writing or during discovery. And we set forth in our Joint Stipulation and Supplemental Brief why we think the objections are improper here and why we think we've answered the precise questions that were posed.

To the extent that the Defendants require additional information or more detail, that has been provided in declarations and in deposition testimony and, as I know the Court is aware, it's kind of set forth at length in our Joint Stipulation. But they have all of this information, your

1 Honor, and, your Honor, we feel that it's inappropriate for
2 them to continue this motion in light of that fact.

THE COURT: All right.

4 MR. VERNON: Thank you.

THE COURT: All right. I'm -- as I said, I'm going to go seriatim and in the same order that they're listed in the Joint Stipulation, which is not always the order of the interrogatories.

All right. So Interrogatory Number 1, which asks Plaintiff to identify each song of the Black Eyed Peas that Plaintiff has sampled, the objections of over breadth and burdensomeness are silly, particularly given Plaintiff's further response of none. If none truly is the answer, it cannot be burdensome to say so nor is the question overly broad, nor is there any plausible argument as to relevance, nor is there any basis for saying that investigation continues.
Plaintiff knows whether he sampled any songs and he does not need any further investigation to answer. Motion is granted as to Interrogatory Number 1.

Number 2, the objections have no merit. But

Plaintiff has answered the interrogatory, except he has left himself some wiggle room by saying that investigation continues. Time for investigation has ended. So Plaintiff shall serve an amended answer without objection. If there is supplemental information to be provided as a result of

- 1 investigation that continued, that information shall be 2 provided also.
- Number 3, the objections have no merit. Plaintiff's answer is evasive and not responsive to the interrogatory.

 Responsive answers shall be served.
- 6 Number 4, the answer is sufficient.

Number 16, the objections have no merit. In his argument, but not in his answer to the interrogatory, Plaintiff says that the matter he identified is the only document that is responsive to the interrogatory, so it should be a simple matter to say so in response to the interrogatory. Plaintiff shall serve an amended answer.

- Number 17, the answer is sufficient.
- Number 18, the answer is sufficient.
- 15 Number 19, the objections do not have merit.
- Plaintiff has provided only a partial answer indicating when the file was created and when it was last modified but not when
- 18 | it was otherwise accessed or modified. Plaintiff shall serve
- 19 | an amended answer.

answer.

Number 21, it is unclear whether Plaintiff is saying that in fact he accessed the file only twice in 2010. If that is his answer, then he needs to say so explicitly. If he accessed the file other times in 2010, then he needs to identify those as well. Plaintiff shall serve an amended

Number 22, the answer is sufficient.

Now, there's a Number 18 that's on Page 37 of the Joint Stipulation, which is different from a prior Interrogatory 18. So what I'm about to say refers to the one that's on Page 37 of the Joint Stipulation. And that answer is evasive, even as amended. Plaintiff can state all the facts that he knows that any Defendant physically appropriated "Take a Dance." Plaintiff cannot reserve any rights here. The purpose of discovery is to get the facts. If Plaintiff knows no facts that are responsive, then Plaintiff should say that. If he knows facts that are responsive, he should identify them. So Plaintiff shall serve a further amended response.

Interrogatory Number 5, the interrogatory would be overly broad except that in his argument, Plaintiff states that he has provided all the information that he has. The answer to the interrogatory itself, however, does not say that. So Plaintiff shall serve an amended response stating that the information he has provided is the only information that he has.

Interrogatory Number 6, Plaintiff shall serve an amended response without objections stating what he states here, that he had no communications with Defendant Pineda. The attempt to grasp at some straw by using the word "direct" is silly lawyerese. The same is true as to Interrogatories Number 7 as to Defendant Gomez and Interrogatory Number 8 as to

- 1 Defendant Ferguson.
- 2 Interrogatory Number 12, motion is granted as to this
- 3 | interrogatory. Plaintiff's answer is completely evasive. The
- 4 | Defendants have asked a contention interrogatory, which is
- 5 perfectly appropriate, but Plaintiff never answers the
- 6 contention. If he answers no, that is the end of the matter.
- 7 If he answers yes, then there is further information that is
- 8 required. Reference to answers to other interrogatories is not
- 9 an answer. Plaintiff shall serve an amended response.
- 10 As to Interrogatory Number 13, Plaintiff has answered
- 11 | the contention here but the factual basis for his answer. He
- 12 | needs to provide that in an amended response.
- 13 Interrogatory Number 14, if Plaintiff has any further
- 14 | support for his answer to the contention in this interrogatory,
- 15 he shall provide it in an amended response.
- 16 Interrogatory Number 15 and Number 25, the answers
- 17 | are sufficient.
- 18 The request for sanctions, in the discretion of the
- 19 | Court, is denied.
- 20 Let's get the amended responses served within -- do
- 21 | you have a discovery cutoff? I'm sorry.
- 22 MR. HAMPTON: It is past, your Honor.
- 23 THE COURT: It's past. Let's get those served within
- 24 | 10 days.
- 25 | MR. PINK: Your Honor, if I may just ask for

1 clarification. A number of the interrogatories, which you 2 instructed that supplemental responses should -- or amended responses should be served, the existing responses say 3 investigation continues. You addressed that with respect to 4 5 one interrogatory, but can we get a clear ruling that --THE COURT: That's clear, I mean, especially if 6 7 discovery is closed. 8 MR. PINK: Okay. 9 THE COURT: Investigation is over. So --10 MR. PINK: Right. 11 THE COURT: We need answers. 12 MR. PINK: Okay. 13 THE COURT: Or you need answers. 14 MR. PINK: Okay. So just so it is clear, they may 15 not say investigation continues in any amended answer, correct? 16 THE COURT: You know, I've never thought that was 17 appropriate even if discovery was beginning. You're asked an 18 interrogatory; you have to give an answer. If supplemental 19 information arises, the rules provide for supplementing 20 responses. So I don't think it's a valid response at any time. 21 MR. PINK: Okay. Thank you, your Honor. 22 THE COURT: Anything further, Mr. Hampton? 23 MR. HAMPTON: Yes, your Honor. Would you happen to 24 have a written ruling about going through each one ad seriatim? 25

No, that's it.

THE COURT:

1	MR. HAMPTON: Okay. Then can I ask for clarification
2	on Number 13 because I was writing furiously and I skipped over
3	Number 13?
4	THE COURT: Number 13, what I said is Plaintiff has
5	answered the contention here but not the factual basis for his
6	answer. The interrogatory said, "Do you contend X," and you
7	gave an answer to what you contend. And then the interrogatory
8	says, "If you contend X, provide the factual basis."
9	MR. HAMPTON: Thank you, your Honor.
10	THE COURT: All right.
11	MR. VERNON: Thank you, your Honor.
12	MR. PINK: And you said supplemental responses will
13	be due when, your Honor?
14	THE COURT: Well, I said 10 days.
15	MR. PINK: Oh, I must have missed that.
16	THE COURT: All right. Those are to be served not
17	filed, obviously.
18	MR. HAMPTON: Thank you, your Honor.
19	THE COURT: All right.
20	MR. VERNON: Thank you.
21	THE COURT: Thank you, gentlemen.
22	Any other matters, Ilene?
23	THE CLERK: No, that's the one.
24	THE COURT: All right. We'll be in recess.
25	(This proceeding was adjourned at 10:41 a.m.)
