7 RECITALS

8 2. Whereas, this Court has jurisdiction of the subject matter of the case and 9 of the parties pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1332;

10 3. Whereas, on September 7, 2012, Plaintiffs commenced this action by 11 filing its Complaint followed by a First Amended Complaint filed on March 11, 2013
12 and a Second Amended Complaint filed on August 7, 2013 and Defendants did not file
13 an Answer;

14 4. Whereas, the Second Amended Complaint states claims upon which relief
15 may be granted against the Defendants under breach of contract; RICO, 18 U.S.C. §
16 1962; California’s Unfair Competition Law, Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 17200 et seq.; 17 and breach of fiduciary duty;

18 5. Whereas, the activities of the Defendants as alleged in the Second 19 Amended Complaint are or were in or affecting interstate commerce. They used 20 instrumentalities of interstate commerce or the mail to purchase, sell or distribute the 21 goods of Plaintiffs;

22 6. Whereas, Defendants admit they committed breach of contract; violated
23 RICO, 18 U.S.C. § 1962; violated California’s Unfair Competition Law, Cal. Bus. &
24 Prof. Code § 17200 et seq.; and committed breach of fiduciary duty in that they (a) 25 did not pay Plaintiffs for all goods received, (b) did not fulfill their promises to make 26 Plaintiffs’ goods number one in North America, (c) sold a trailer containing Plaintiff’s 27 goods without compensating Plaintiffs, (d) accepted benefits from other parties while 28

1 serving as Plaintiffs’ agents, (e) cooperated with Plaintiff’s competitors who engaged 2 in unfair practices, (f) did not sufficiently inform Plaintiffs of their misconduct or 3 dealings with competitors, (g) collaborated with Deirdre Seeds, Erin Seeds (now 4 known as Erin Ray), Ernest “Nick” Collins, Michael Endicott, Rudolph Leone to the 5 detriment of Plaintiffs; and (h) gave unpaid Kingsland goods to Jill Humphrey, Erin 6 Seeds, and others to the detriment of Plaintiffs;

7       7.       Whereas, Ayora admits that he collaborated with Erin Seeds (now known 8 as Erin Ray) to move Plaintiffs’ goods into the garage of Deirdre Seeds; that Erin 9 Seeds lived in the home of Deirdre Seeds and was able to watch over the goods and 10 view them coming and going but did not take inventory of all of the goods that left;
11 that Erin Seeds assisted Juan Ayora in moving the goods into the garage and in selling
12 them; and that, when Plaintiffs sold their inventory to Deirdre Seeds, Ayora observed
13 that Erin Seeds withheld some of the inventory from the accounting by keeping boxes 14 of inventory in her room;

15       8.       Whereas, Ayora admits that he collaborated with Deirdre Seeds in moving 16 Plaintiffs’ merchandise into her garage; that her garage was not well-suited to hold 17 Plaintiffs’ merchandise; that Deirdre Seeds agreed to allow Ayora to move Plaintiffs’
18 goods into her garage; that Deirdre Seeds previously expressed her interest to Juan 19 Ayora in becoming a distributor of horse riding equipment; that Plaintiffs were not 20 aware of the transfer of goods to Deirdre Seeds’s garage at the time it occurred, nor did 21 they give their consent to the transfer; that Deirdre Seeds and Erin Seeds both 22 subsequently barred Ayora from entering the property or gaining access to the goods or 23 inventory; that the Seeds gained control over the inventory before they purchased it 24 from Plaintiffs; that Juan Ayora had previously travelled to the Netherlands on the 25 same flight with Erin Seeds to meet with Plaintiff Teun van Riel; and that the purpose
26 of the trip to the Netherlands was for Erin Seeds to learn more about the Kingsland 27 distribution business;
28

1           9.       Whereas, Juan Ayora admits that Rudolph Leone advised him to get out
2 of the business of selling and distributing Kingsland merchandise and advised him,
3 instead, to focus on a different business regarding the selling of boots; and that Ayora
4 subsequently employed a relative of Leone;

5           10.       Whereas, Ayora admits that the Kingsland goods inside the trailer sold by 6 Juan Ayora, with the knowledge and consent of Lisa Sweet, to other parties were 7 worth $199,000 or more in value; that those goods belonged to Plaintiffs; that Ayora
8 sold the trailer with goods to Michael Endicott and Ernest “Nick” Collins who were 9 business associates of Tal Goldstein for their common use and benefit;

10           11.       Whereas, Ayora admits that the profits that Plaintiffs could have attained
11 in North America, if Plaintiffs had not lost the distributorship of Kingsland products, 12 were in the millions of dollars; and that he and Ayora LLC owed Plaintiffs the amount 13 of $67,921 (converted from the figure of 43,694 Euros) in unpaid invoices;

14           12.       Whereas, Defendants enter into this Stipulated Judgment and Order freely
15 and without coercion. Defendants further acknowledge they have read the provisions

22           15.       Whereas, Plaintiffs agree to release all claims in the pending litigation, or 23 arising from the pending litigation, which do or may exist, against Juan Ayora and 24 Ayora LLC in exchange for Ayora and Ayora LLC’s compliance with the terms of this 25 Order;

15           24. In the event that any provision of this Order is held to be unenforceable 16 due to public policy or for any other reason, that provision shall be treated as a severed 17 provision and the remaining provisions in this Order shall remain enforceable in full.

18           25. Defendants are hereby required within the next three days, unless they
